BOSTON, June 19 — (AP) Two mid-western sailors—sole survivors of the sinking of the Coast Guard cutter Escanaba—tonight told graphic stories of their rescue after a violent explosion sent the ship down in the north Atlantic with a loss of 58 lives.

The first accounts from anyone in the cutter's crew since the sinking were given in an interview after they had been landed at an east coast port.

Boatswain's Mate Second Class Melvin A. Baldwin, 21, of Staples, Minn., was at the Escanaba's wheel and was "blown upward and hit the overhead of the wheelhouse."

"I staggered out the door and was washed overboard," he said. "I don't know how long it took."

Seaman First Class Raymond F. O'Malley, Jr., 23, of Chicago, was below.

"I reached the main deck and started for Number One gun and the ship went down from under me," he said.

Both clung to a strongback, a 38 foot log used to keep lifeboats from bumping against the ship's side.

They saw their skipper, Lieutenant Commander Carl U. Peterson of Newton, Mass., near them in the water and later he joined them on the log.

Baldwin and O'Malley lost consciousness as they clung to the strongback and were revived after they were taken onto the deck of the Coast Guard vessel Raritan.

They never knew what happened to the commander or to Ensign Daniel C. Davis and Seaman First Class George W. Gmeiner, who were clinging to the same strongback.

U. S. Urged to Pile Up Arms for 'The Next War'

Hotchkiss Tells Rensselaer Polytechnic Alumni of Plan

TROY, N. Y., June 19 (AP).—Americans should prepare immediately after this war to defend themselves in "the next war," William O. Hotchkiss, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, declared today.

"The only security for our country is that it be so strong and well prepared that it will be a long time before any other nation or combination of nations will be able to acquire the strength to attack us," he said in an address at the annual meeting of the R. P. I. Alumni Association.

Mr. Hotchkiss urged that the United States start immediately after the present war to accumulate adequate stock-piles of essential, non-deteriorating war materials. He suggested that these be accumulated in "periods of slack industrial demand and correspondingly low prices."

Such a plan, he conceded, "would give the government body in charge a powerful leverage, which, in the hands of men of unwise motives, coud be used for harmful purposes, or for favoritism. But the need is so urgent that the weight of argument seems overwhelmingly on the side of laying in the supplies."

Mr. Hotchkiss urged the alumni to help convince Americans of what he termed the "necessity of making ready to defend ourselves in the next war and of not being fooled again."

JUN 20 1943

Easy Life for Enemy Prisoners Fails to End All Their Complaints

By WILLARD YARBROUGH

CROSSVILLE, Tenn., June 19—(AP) Life inside the Crossville internment camp is an easy one for more than a thousand German and Italian prisoners of war.

High atop this potato-growing Cumberland plateau, Axis officers and enlisted men are confined to an extended stockade system which in itself provides the major bone of contention.

The Germans, who complained at home about the absence of lebensraum, want larger living space. The officers want enlarged quarters and recreational grounds and their underlings would like some woods to walk in.

Italians Happy

The Italians, who figure they won't be here very much longer anyway, don't seem to care particularly. They grin and talk and sing. Sometimes they play soccer or volleyball.

At the stockade post exchange prisoners may obtain virtually the same clothing, cigarettes, soft drinks, candies, do-dads and 3.2 beer as the 400 American guards on duty may purchase at their canteen.

The Italians buy all the 3.2 beer possible, but go in for hair oils and tonics in an eccentric sort of way. The Germans, who don't mix with their Italian comrades, buy sports clothing, 3.2 beer and cigarettes. The Italians think the American cigarette is too strong, prefer ersatz variety from back home. The Germans, or at least the officers, smoke German brands brought over by the Red Cross.

The food is the same for the Axis as the Americans. And it's good food, balanced, and containing meat menus that would make the American housewife's mouth water.

Italian Generals Held

The Italian generals—there are two dozen here—are more particular about their dress than the German officers. One Italian captain was attired in khaki coat and knee-length blue trousers, the same he wore on the North African desert. The Germans go about in most anything, sports wear, a towel draped about their loins, a pair of shorts.

The ranking German officer, a lieutenant-colonel, who came to the United States after his tank command days ended in Africa, was stretched out on his cot in the hot barracks. His feet were bandaged, suffering from athlete's foot contacted because he didn't have time to change his shoes once during his four weeks' retreat in Tunisia.

The colonel is reported to have complained to the camp commander, "we need a swimming pool here."

"American and British prisoners in Germany and Italy receive ideal treatment. They live in hotels and have swimming pools. British officers have an entire village near Berlin and live like kings.

"We want more living space and living quarters. The treatment by American officers here is perfect, but we don't have room to stretch out in."

Gets $40 Monthly

The colonel draws $40 a month from the U. S. government, paid in post exchange tickets—no cash. His executive officer, a Nazi captain, receives $30, as do others of his rank and majors. Lieutenants get $20.

German and Italian enlisted men receive $3 monthly and may work on camp roads and projects at 80 cents per day. A good many German enlisted men are growing vegetables in the camp's garden. But they'll consume most of the food on their own tables.

The officers don't turn their hands in the way of work and complain about the scarcity of valets—who somehow prefer to work at 80 cents a day rather than salute their confined superiors and take orders for nothing.

The Germans play soccer-football; dislike the American gridiron sport. They want to engage the Italians in a soccer game and the command officer, Col. F. T. Addington of the U. S. Army, said arrangements were being made to accommodate them.

Hitler's ex-supermen prefer the rugged type of sport. They bat a large oval ball, about the size of the American basketball, with their wrists in volley-ball games—and nurce sore arms for a week as a result. They practice on discus tossing, play solitaire, and study.

Germans More Serious

Considerably more serious and reserved than the Italians, the Germans are learning to master the English language.

Magazines and newspapers go like hot cakes at the P.X., but both Nazis and Fascists apparently don't like anything they read in them, and one prisoner is reported to have said, "The Americans print too much propaganda," adding that Goebbels was the best propagandist in the world today.

The Italians sing opera in open fields. The younger men of Il Duce laugh and jabber like a group of schoolboys. The officers stand about with scowls written on their faces.

The prisoners, who complain to the camp commander when things aren't just what they think they should be, will be treated to shows henceforth, their first movie being shown this week.

Col. Addington, who gripes because he said he trained a combat unit not long ago and got left behind when it went overseas, prescribes disciplinary action when necessary. This colonel's as tough as a General Sherman tank.

Action includes taking away post exchange rights for days and this is a blow to any prisoner, since each lives from day to day for his visit to the canteen to purchase American-made goods.

They write two letters and a postcard a week, complain because they don't receive any more mail. Some think America is a great and beautiful country; others can't wait to get back to German and Italy to reenter their armies.

The prisoners talk about the war. Those here longest are thought to believe it is a lost cause. Those just arrived think the Axis will win, but admit it will be a long war.

TEXANS LAUNCH SECOND HOUSTON

JUN 20 1943

New Cruiser Replaces Warship Lost in Java Sea Battle.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 19—(AP) Texans leaned over the platform rail and watched the cruiser Houston as she took to water today at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company plant. Above her bow, beautifully blistery with foamy champagne, billowed red, white and blue banners against a cloudless sky. The Navy band was playing "Anchors Aweigh."

"There she goes," someone said in a typical Texas drawl. He added: "God bless her."

The cruiser Houston not only received her name today as a naval ship which soon will be commissioned for fighting duty. The Houston received a faith to keep with the cruiser Houston which died in battle with the Japanese in the Java sea, with the men who died heroes serving her guns, and with the people of Texas who put up more than $12,000,000 to provide her. One thousand volunteers joined the Navy in a body at Houston to replace the crew of the lost ship.

Texans high in government circles came down from Washington to join the visiting Texas delegation, headed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

Tall, white-haired Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones, for all his years in Washington considered by Houstonians as their own, told the group on the launching platform that the first cruiser Houston made a good will trip to Japan.

"Houston No. Two will also make a good will tour—for the world. She will go to Japan and the Japs will remember her," Secretary Jones said.

He stood on the platform with Senator Tom Connally and Rep. Albert Thomas, both of Houston. Mrs. Claude B. Hammill, wife of an oil operator, who served as chairman of the Houston cruiser drive, was the sponsor who swung the bottle of champagne against the bow to start the vessel down the ways into the James river.

Namesake Welcomes Memphis Belle Home

Girl Greets Flying Fortress Back From Europe Raids

MEMPHIS, June 19 (AP).—A slim, hazel-eyed Memphis belle welcomed today her Flying Fortress namesake back from twenty-five bombing raids over Hitler's Europe — and received from her fiance-pilot a kiss.

"Hey, darling, gee," said Captain Robert K. Morgan to Margaret Polk, the girl he left behind nine months ago to fly twenty-five raids in the four-engined bomber that knocked eighty enemy fighters out of the sky, probably destroyed five more and damaged at least eight others.

Army and city dignitaries stood in the background as Captain Morgan grasped his sweetheart in a firm embrace and smothered her with one kiss after another. She blushed prettily under a healthy tan and smiled full approval.

Captain Morgan, of Asheville, N. C., led his crew to a hangar where Mayor Walter Chandler and other high officials welcomed them.

"She is an awfully good ship," Captain Morgan said of the plane which, the Army said, "has been hit by every type of anti-aircraft missile the Nazi had to offer" and yet came home with her ten-men crew intact.

It is the first combat bomber to be retired from active service and flown back to the United

Dies Hears Japs Got Dam Data

JUN 20 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Parker, Ariz., June 19—Testimony that Japanese engineers, shortly before Pearl Harbor, were given technical data on the $200,000,000 Colorado river aqueduct that furnishes water to Southern California, has been given to a Dies Subcommittee.

Ralph F. Stringfellow, specia agent for the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California who gave the testimony, also told the subcommittee that 350 pounds of dynamite and 100 caps, enough, he said, to blow up Parker dam at the aqueduct source, were stolen from the vicinity of the dam.

Visited Regularly

The special agent told the probers, who conducted a hearing yesterday during investigation of the nearby Poston (Ariz.) relocation center, where some 15,000 Japanese are located, that parties of Japanese engineers visited various parts of the aqueduct system regularly every few months up to shortly before Pearl Harbor and were given technical information.

He was asked if the 350 pounds of dynamite that was stolen was sufficient to destroy the dam.

"With proper placing of 350 pounds of dynamite I can blow Parker dam up. I could set it up and set if off with one cap."

Also Have Maps

Stringfellow testified that the Japanese have maps showing every part of the dam and aqueduct. "I saw the maps they had," he declared. "They were given maps and made maps of it all."

He added that shortly before Pearl Harbor Japanese were caught in a boat on Lake Havasu, at the intake of Parker Dam, measuring the depth of the water, speed of the current and width of the river.

He testified that six months before Pearl Harbor he apprehended a Japanese in a truck near the dam with seven cameras. He said the Japanese exposed all his film.

Lays Wreck To Japs

Stringfellow stated he believed the wreck of a train at Earp, Ariz., a year ago, which was carrying flyers from Phoenix, "was sabotage and came out of the Jap camp."

Acting Counsel James H. Stedman for the committee read some documents of the War Relocation Administration which, he declared, showed the intent of the WRA to relocate Japanese without publicity.

"Improper Subject"

One of the documents, dated October 23, 1942, stated: "Negotiations for individual employment of evacuees is not a proper subject of press releases or of public announcement and requests should be referred in all cases to the prospective employer for reply."

Stedman read another document, dated October 1 last, which stated: "It is the policy of WRA to reestablish as many of the evacuees as possible outside of relocation centers. Obviously, we shall have to proceed slowly and without fanfare or publicity for many months to come."

SURVIVORS FIGHT SHARKS FOR FOOD DROPPED BY PLANE

Two Ships Torpedoed by Jap Submarines in South Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—(AP) Survivors of a United States merchant vessel, one of two vessels torpedoed somewhere in the south Pacific by a Japanese submarine, today related how they had to fight sharks which attacked boxes of food dropped by rescuing planes.

Two men were killed and four were injured when the ship was attacked about 3:30 a. m.

George Pirie, 28, Oakland, Calif., a radio operator on one ship stuck to his key until the water floated him off the vessel.

Sighted by Planes

He said that rescue planes soon spotted the survivors in their three lifeboats and two liferafts.

"The planes dropped us boxes of food," he related. "But we had to bat the sharks over the heads with oars to keep them from chewing into the boxes."

Other crew members told how the first torpedo had dislodged the radio antenna, and how Pirie fixed the wires, although all lights were out, and flashed word for aid.

He was nearly up to his knees in water before he could give the ship's position. Then he had to swim for his life.

Survivors Picked Up

Airplanes arrived three hours later and finally an armed vessel reached the survivors nine hours after the torpedoing.

Paul Hetter, 31, San Francisco, second assistant engineer, was credited by the crew with saving many lives by rushing to the engine room and opening the door so the men could escape.

Crew members related how Pirie, after sending the radio message, suddenly remembered a large suitcase he had in his quarters.

In it he kept his seaman's papers and many odds and ends. He wanted the suitcase so he swam about 300 yards, tugging it along in the water.

When rescuers got Pirie aboard, they also dragged along the suitcase. The next day several members of the rescued crew got headaches.

"I'll fix you guys up," Pirie remarked. He opened the suitcase, took out a bottle of aspirin tablets and passed it around. When it finally was returned to him it was empty.

JUN 20 1943

WAVELL, HOWEVER, IS EXPECTED TO CONTINUE THE FIRM BRITISH POLICY WHICH HOLDS THAT THE WAR EFFORT COMES FIRST.

AN AUTHORITATIVE BRITISH COMMENTATOR DESCRIBED WAVELL AS "A LIBERAL IN THE HIGHEST SENSE OF THE WORD" WHO WOULD CONTINUE THE BRITISH INDIAN POLICY WITHOUT CHANGE.

THIS COMMENTATOR SAID "GANDHI CAN BE RELEASED AT ANY TIME IF HE PROMISES TO BEHAVE, AND IT WOULDN'T BE SURPRISING IF WAVELL RELEASED HIM ON THESE TERMS."

WAVELL'S NEW JOB OF RULING 400,000,000 INDIANS IS ONE THAT LORD LINLITHGOW HAS HELD FOR A RECORD SEVEN YEARS, A PERIOD IN WHICH GANDHI CARRIED ON A CEASELESS CAMPAIGN FOR INDIAN INDEPENDENCE.

WAVELL, A TOUGH 60-YEAR-OLD SOLDIER WHO WON THE FIRST ALLIED LAND VICTORY IN THIS WAR, IS RECKONED ONE OF THE FEW MEN WHO HAVE A GOOD CHANCE OF SMOOTHING OUT INDIA'S MANY DOMESTIC PROBLEMS. HE IS CREDITED WITH A THOROUGH KNOWLEDGE OF THAT LAND.

TALL, ERECT AND A FORCEFUL TALKER, HE IS A SOLDIER WHOSE CAREER DATES FROM 1901. HE WAS WOUNDED AND LOST THE SIGHT OF ONE EYE IN FRANCE DURING THE FIRST WORLD WAR.

WAVELL GAINED SUDDEN ACCLAIM AS A MILITARY STRATEGIST WHEN HE LED HIS VASTLY OUTNUMBERED BRITISH AND AUSTRALIAN TROOPS IN A BOLD INVASION OF ITALIAN CIRENAICA IN 1941 WHILE HE WAS MIDDLE EAST COMMANDER. IN 60 DAYS HIS ARMY OF THE NILE ROUTED THE ITALIANS THROUGH 500 MILES OF COUNTRY ALMOST DEVOID OF WATER AND FOOD.

JUN 20 1943

WHEN HE FINALLY CALLED A HALT, ITALY'S NORTH AFRICAN ARMY WAS CRUSHED AND 140,000 OF HER TROOPS WERE PRISONERS.

THE BRITISH FORCES, HOWEVER, WERE DEPLETED FOR THE GREEK CAMPAIGN, IN WHICH GREECE AND CRETE WERE LOST, AND THE AXIS STAGED A COMEBACK

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5185

30-24-5185

IN NORTH AFRICA AS WELL.

IN 1941, WAVELL WAS TRANSFERRED TO INDIA, EXCHANGING POSTS WITH AUCHINLECK. DURING THE JAPANESE CONQUESTS IN THE ORIENT, WAVELL WAS SUPREME COMMANDER OF ALLIED FORCES IN THE FAR PACIFIC.

AUCHINLECK, 59, WAS A MILITARY "TROUBLESHOOTER" AFTER THE FIRST WORLD WAR, SERVING IN THE 1930'S ON THE NORTHWEST FRONTIER OF INDIA. AFTER THE FALL OF FRANCE IN 1940 HE WAS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE SOUTHERN COMMAND IN ENGLAND, PREPARING DEFENSES AGAINST THE THREATENED GERMAN INVASION.

JUN 20 1943

LONDON--INSERT AFTER 13TH GRAF WAVELL BEGINNING "WAVELL, HOWEVER, ETC." AND ENDING X X X COMES FIRST.

THE FACT THAT A MILITARY MAN WAS NAMED VICEROY WAS SEIZED UPON BY AN ITALIAN COMMENTATOR. IN A ROME BROADCAST RECORDED BY REUTERS THIS COMMENTATOR SAID THE APPOINTMENT INDICATED "A SOLDIER VICEROY IS REGARDED AS ESSENTIAL" TO HOLD THE INDIAN NATIONALISTS IN CHECK.

ON THIS SAME SCORE, THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN DECLARED THAT "IN ORDINARY TIMES IT WOULD BE WRONG TO APPOINT A SOLDIER TO WHAT FOR MANY YEARS HAS BEEN THE MOST DIFFICULT POLITICAL OFFICE IN THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH." THE NEWSPAPER ADDED:

"IT IS ALMOST INEVITABLE THAT IN INDIA AND NOT THERE ALONE THIS APPOINTMENT SHOULD BE REGARDED AS MILITARY X X X. ONLY THE FIELD MARSHAL HIMSELF CAN DESTROY THIS DANGEROUS OPINION."

AN AUTHORITATIVE BRITISH, ETC. X X X 14TH GRAF.

THE REPORT OF ITALIAN PEACE ENVOYS RECALLED THE DICTUM OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL AT CASABLANCA IN JANUARY, IN WHICH THEY DECLARED THAT THE ONLY PEACE TERMS TO AXIS NATIONS WOULD BE UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

IN RECENT DAYS, PEACE FEELERS HAVE BEEN REPORTED--WITHOUT CONFIRMATION--FROM RUMANIA AND HUNGARY, BALKAN AXIS SATELLITES. AXIS SOURCES HAVE DENIED CONSISTENTLY ALL STORIES SUGGESTING ITS MEMBERS WERE SEEKING SEPARATE PEACE.

Insert LONDON--INSERT AFTER NINTH GRAF NIGHT LEAD ITALIAN BEGINNING "OBVIOUSLY, THE MOST" X X X LAST NIGHT.

(CBS ANNOUNCED THE RECORDING OF A BRITISH RADIO BROADCAST SAYING THAT ONE DECREE OF THE CABINET PROVIDED FOR REQUISITIONING OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS FOR HOUSING EVACUEES. IT SAID THAT "A PLAN FOR FINANCIAL AID TO SARDINIA, BECAUSE OF BOMB DEVASTATION, WAS ALSO APPROVED.")

A BERLIN BROADCAST ETC X X X TENTH GRAF.

ADD London trial

THE RAF WAS IDLE FRIDAY NIGHT AND THERE WERE ONLY LIGHT FORAYS THURSDAY NIGHT. THE LAST HEAVY BOMBING WAS COLOGNE'S 116TH RAID WEDNESDAY NIGHT DURING WHICH OTHER RHINELAND TARGETS WERE HIT.

THE AIR MINISTRY ANNOUNCED THAT FOUR MOSQUITO BOMBERS SHOT DOWN ONE JUNKERS-88 AND DAMAGED AT LEAST THREE OTHERS IN A CLASH OVER THE BAY OF BISCAY.

JUN 20 1943

JUN 20 1943

THE CAPITAL'S AIR RAID SIRENS SOUNDED SHORTLY BEFORE 1 A.M. (7 P.M. SATURDAY, EWT). ONLY A FEW PLANES WERE REPORTED OVER LONDON DURI THE BRIEF ALERT ALTHOUGH SOME BOMBS WERE DROPPED IN TWO OUTLYING AREAS.

THE MOSQUITOS CAUGHT THE GERMAN PLANES CIRCLING OVER A SHIP, THE AIR MINISTRY NEWS SERVICE SAID. ALTHOUGH THE GERMANS HAD A TWO-TO-ONE SUPERIORITY THEY FLED INTO THE CLOUDS.

IN OTHER OFFENSIVE OPERATIONS SATURDAY TYPHOONS BOMBED A FACTORY, FREIGHT TRAIN, AND SIDINGS IN FRANCE AND WRECKED A ROAD BRIDGE, THE NEWS SERVICE SAID. OTHER TYPHOONS AND SPITFIRES CONCENTRATED ON SHIPPING, BARGES, AND LOCOMOTIVES IN FRANCE AND HOLLAND. A NUMBER OF THEM WERE DAMAGED.

JUN 20 1943

THE AIR MINISTRY COMMUNIQUE SAID AUSTRALIAN FLYERS ATTACKED ENEMY SHIPPING YESTERDAY ALONG THE NORWEGIAN COAST, TORPEDOING ONE SUPPLY SHIP AND PROBABLY TWO OTHERS.

TWO BRITISH AIRCRAFT WERE REPORTED MISSING.

Insert Bochum also + Munster

BOCHUM AND OBERHAUSEN WERE TORN AND SHAKEN DURING THE FOLLOWING DAYS AND NIGHTS AND THE RAIDS REACHED THEIR CLIMAX WEDNESDAY NIGHT WHEN COLOGNE WAS RAIDED FOR THE 116TH TIME OF THE WAR.

ADD LONDON - Russian

THE MIDDAY BULLETIN ALSO SAID SOVIET TROOPS HAD ATTACKED NEAR LENINGRAD, KILLING 50 GERMANS, WHILE RUSSIAN AERIAL BLOWS AGAINST GERMAN BASES DESTROYED "A LARGE NUMBER OF GERMAN PLANES" ON THE GROUND, AND DOWNED 11 OTHERS IN COMBAT.

JUN 20 1943

THE BERLIN RADIO SAID SOME FIGHTING DEVELOPED FRIDAY NORTHEAST OF OREL AS THE RESULT OF "INTENSIFIED SOVIET RECONNOITERING ACTIVITY."

THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID THE PRINCIPAL ACTIVITY WAS IN THE CAUCASUS WHERE SOVIET TROOPS WERE SAID TO HAVE ATTACKED GERMAN POSITIONS IN THE KUBAN DISTRICT, DESPITE STRONG ARTILLERY PREPARATIONS AND THE USE OF LARGE FORMATIONS OF BATTLE PLANES, THE RUSSIANS FAILED TO BREAK INTO GERMAN DEFENSE POSITIONS, BERLIN SAID.

THE RUSSIAN MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE LISTED ONLY LOCAL SKIRMISHES AND MINOR ARTILLERY DUELS ON VARIOUS SECTORS OF THE LONG FRONT YESTERDAY.

ON THE CENTRAL FRONT WEST OF MOSCOW, SOVIET TROOPS WIPED OUT ABOUT A COMPANY OF GERMAN INFANTRY, THE BULLETIN SAID, AND IN THE UKRAINE RED ARMY GUNNERS DESTROYED TWO GERMAN DUGOUTS, A TANK AND AN ARTILLERY BATTERY NORTH OF CHUGUEV. IN ANOTHER AREA THEY DISPERSED AND PARTLY ANNIHILATED ABOUT A COMPANY OF INFANTRY.

RUSSIAN TROOPS ON THE VOLKHOV FRONT WERE SAID TO HAVE DISPERSED ABOUT A BATTALION OF ENEMY INFANTRY IN ADDITION TO KNOCKING OUT 18 BLOCKHOUSES, TWO DUGOUTS AND AN ARTILLERY BATTERY. ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE BROUGHT DOWN TWO ENEMY PLANES IN THAT SECTOR AND SNIPERS KILLED MORE THAN 80 GERMANS.

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5187

30.24-5187

LONDON, JUNE 19-(AP)-FLYING THROUGH HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE, AUSTRALIAN-MANNED HAMPDENS OF THE COASTAL COMMAND ATTACKED ENEMY SHIPPING ALONG THE NORWEGIAN COAST, TORPEDOING ONE SUPPLY SHIP AND PROBABLY TWO OTHERS, IT WAS AUTHORITATIVELY REPORTED TODAY.

BY LEO BRANHAM

A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 19-(AP)-THE FLYING FORTRESS "BLONDIE" HAS CLOSED HER SHORT CAREER. SHE IS A "HANGAR QUEEN" NOW--DAMAGED BEYOND REPAIR AND HER PARTS SALVAGED TO REBUILD OTHER SHIPS.

JUN 20 1943

BUT BEFORE SHE GOT HER DEATH WOUNDS IN THE GREAT AIR BATTLE OVER KIEL ON JUNE 13 "BLONDIE" PARTICIPATED IN AN EPISODE SO STRANGE IT HAS BECOME A CLASSIC AT THIS AMERICAN BASE.

AS "BLONDIE" STRUGGLED HOMEWARD BADLY DAMAGED FROM THE FURIOUS CONFLICT OVER KIEL, HER THREE REMAINING ENGINES KEEPING HER BARELY 900 FEET OFF THE NORTH SEA, A DOZEN MESSERSCHMITTS SUDDENLY DIVED OUT OF THE CLOUDS TO FINISH OFF THE STRAGGLER.

IT LOOKED LIKE A CINCH, FOR "BLONDIE'S" TAILGUN WAS JAMMED AND SHE WAS DEFENSELESS FROM THAT QUARTER. SERGEANT RAYMOND L.PROVOST OF PORT ARTHUR, TEX., STRUGGLED FRANTICALLY TO CLEAR THE WEAPON, BUT TO NO AVAIL.

SUDDENLY A MESSERSCHMITT PILOT, APPARENTLY SENSING PROVOST'S TRAGIC PREDICAMENT, DIVED IN POINTBLANK FOR THE KILL AND RAKED THE CRIPPLED FORTRESS FROM STEM TO STERN. IT WAS A FATAL ERROR. ONE OF HIS FINAL SHOTS STRUCK THE STUBBORN CHARGER ON PROVOST'S GUN, KNOCKING IT FORWARD AND MAKING IT READY FOR ACTION.

PROVOST PROMPTLY LET THE GERMAN HAVE IT AT 100 YARDS. HE FLOPPED OVER BACKWARD AND PLUMMETED INTO THE SEA. SERGT.THOMAS R.MCARTHUR OF SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, BALLTURRET GUNNER ON THE "BLONDIE," WAS OFFICIALLY CREDITED WITH A SHARE IN THE KILL.

GIVEN THAT RESPITE, CAPT.HARRY M.CONLEY OF SAN FRANCISCO, THE BOMBER'S PILOT, MANAGED TO COAX "BLONDIE" ON TO THE EDGE OF THE ENGLISH COAST, WHERE SHE BROKE IN TWO IN A CRASH LANDING IN A BARLEY FIELD.

JUN 20 1943

DESPITE THE ORDEAL, SERGEANT MCARTHUR AND SERGT.WILLIAM L.COCHRAN OF GALVESTON, TEX., WERE THE ONLY WOUNDED MEMBERS OF THE CREW, AND NEITHER WAS HURT SERIOUSLY.

"BLONDIE" AND HER COMPANIONS ON THE KIEL RAID WERE CHALLENGED BY MORE THAN 200 GERMAN FIGHTERS OVER KIEL, WHILE A COMPANION GROUP OF FORTRESSES WHICH ATTACKED BREMEN ON THE SAME DAY MET VERY LITTLE FIGHTER OPPOSITION. TWENTY OF THE KIEL RAIDERS WERE LOST, WHILE ONLY FOUR OF THE BREMEN GROUP ARE MISSING.

ENROUTE TO THE TARGET "BLONDIE" PLOUGHED STEADILY THROUGH SWARMS OF ATTACKING FIGHTERS. ONE OF HER ENGINES WAS SHOT OUT, GUSHING OIL ONTO A WING, AND HER ELEVATOR WAS SEVERELY DAMAGED ALMOST AT THE OUTSET.

OVER KIEL SERGT. EDGAR A.LAJOIE (CAP L AND J) OF PAWTUCKETT, R.I., THE LEFT WAISTGUNNER, SHOT DOWN A MESSERSCHMITT-210. THEN THE BIG SHIP TURNED FOR HOME.

AFTER THE ENEMY FIGHTERS BEGAN TO ABANDON THE CHASE SOME 20 MILES OFF THE GERMAN COAST, "BLONDIE" LOST SPEED AND ALTITUDE AND FELL BEHIND THE OTHER HOMING FORMATIONS.

FURTHER HAMPERING THE CRIPPLED PLANE'S PROGRESS WAS THE FACT THAT HER BOMB BAY DOORS HAD STUCK AND FIVE BOMBS HAD CAUGHT IN THE MECHANISM. FAR OUT OVER THE NORTH SEA BOMBARDIER FIRST LIEUT. W.R.

JUN 20 1943

FITZGERALD OF KALAMAZOO,MICH., MANAGED TO RMP THE BOMBS INTO THE OCEAN, BUT THE STUBBORN DOORS REMAINED OPEN.

THE BOMBER WAS DOWN TO 900 FEET AND ITS CREW WAS PREPARING FOR A CRASH LANDING ON THE WATER WHEN THE SURPRISE ENEMY ATTACK CAME. THEY STILL WERE 150 MILES FROM LAND.

JUN 20 1943

"THEY CAME AT US OUT OF A LAYER OF CLOUDS. THEIR CANNON AND MACHINEGUNS BLAZING," RELATED SERGT.HOWARD D.HEDFORD OF CARMEL,N.Y., TOPTURRET GUNNER. "CONLEY DIVED STEEPLY, THROWING US ALL AROUND THE SHIP, TRYING TO GET OUT OF THEIR LINE OF FIRE. BUT THIS ONE MESSERSCHMITT CAME RIGHT AFTER US--OUT THERE ALL ALONE.

"TWO OF HIS CANNON SHOTS EXPLODED IN THE WAIST RADIO SECTION. COCHRAN WAS HIT IN THE LEFT LEG BY SHRAPNEL AND MCARTHUR IN THE RIGHT KNEE. BUT WE GOT THE BABY WHO DID IT."

AFTER THE FIGHTERS WERE BEATEN OFF, "BLONDIE" FACED A NEW DANGER. HER GASOLINE WAS LOW, AND JUST AS THE ENGLISH COAST WAS REACHED ALL HER ENGINES DIED. BARELY MISSING A ROW OF TREES, CONLEY HEADED FOR A POPPY FIELD IN AN ATTEMPT TO MAKE A BELLY LANDING.

THE BOMBER CRASHED THROUGH A THICK HEDGE INTO A DITCH AND THEN REBOUNDED ONTO A BARLEY FIELD, SHEARING OFF TWO ENGINES AND BREAKING THE SHIP IN TWO AT THE MIDDLE. THE CREW, HOWEVER, EMERGED FROM THE CRASH WITH ONLY MINOR CUTS AND BRUISES.

JUST BEFORE THE CRASH THE CREW, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF CONLEY, HAD ASSEMBLED IN THE WAIST SECTION, WITH THE WOUNDED COCHRAN STRAPPED TO THE FLOOR. AFTER THE CRASH MCARTHUR AND SERGT.JOHN L. MACNEIL OF PASADENA,CALIF., THE LEFT WAISTGUNNER, FOUND THEMSELVES STANDING ON GRASS, AS THE BOTTOM OF THE SHIP HAD BEEN SHEARED OFF.

JUN 20 1943

MCARTHUR HAS RETURNED TO DUTY AND COCHRAN IS EXPECTED TO LEAVE THE HOSPITAL WITHIN A FEW DAYS. THE CREW HAS BEEN ASSIGNED A NEW SHIP, CHRISTENED "BLONDIE II." OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CREW ARE FIRST LIEUT. LESLIE B.PALMER OF MASON,MICH., THE COPILOT, AND FIRST LIEUT.ELIAS BACHA OF POTTSVILLE,PA., THE NAVIGATOR.

LONDON JUNE 19-(AP)-RUSSIAN TROOPS SUPPORTED BY ARTILLERY BLUDG-ED NAZI FORTIFICATIONS UNDER CONSTRUCTION ON THE LENINGRAD FRONT LAST NIGHT AND KILLED 1,000 GERMANS THE RUSSIAN MIDDAY COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY IN REPORTING THE STIFFEST GROUND ACTION IN SEVERAL DAYS.

JUN 20 1943

NORTHWEST OF MTSENSK, NEAR THE STRATEGIC OREL SECTOR WHERE THE GERMANS HAVE COUNTERATTACKED SEVERAL TIMES DURING THE PAST WEEK IN ATTEMPTS TO REGAIN LOST POSITIONS, THE RUSSIANS SAID THEY HAD ADVANCED AND OCCUPIED "A MORE ADVANTAGEOUS POSITION" AFTER KILLING ABOUT 100 GERMANS.

ACTIVITY ALSO WAS REPORTED ON THE DONETS RIVER FRONT BY THE COMMUNIQUE, WHICH WAS BROADCAST FROM MOSCOW AND RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR.

RUSSIAN SCOUTS WERE SAID TO HAVE ATTACKED DUGOUTS NEAR LISICHANSK ON THE DONETS, CAPTURING PRISONERS AND MATERIAL. A NEW GERMAN ATTEMPT TO CROSS THE DONETS SOUTH OF IZYUM WAS BEATEN BACK AND A NAZI RECONNAISSANCE PARTY WAS WIPED OUT, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

RED ARMY FLIERS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE STRUCK AGAIN AT GERMAN PLANE CONCENTRATIONS BEHIND THE LINES, DESTROYING "A LARGE NUMBER OF GERMAN PLANES" ON THE GROUND AND SHOOTING DOWN AN ADDITIONAL 11 IN AERIAL COMBATS.

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5189

30-24-5189

LONDON--FIRST ADD RUSSIAN X X X AERIAL COMBATS.

DESCRIBING ACTION IN THE MTSENSK AREA DURING THE WEEK, THE RUSSIAN MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE SAID MORE THAN 2,000 GERMAN TROOPS HAD BEEN KILLE THERE IN THE NAZIS' FUTILE ATTEMPTS TO RECAPTURE FOUR VILLAGES.

FRONT LINE DISPATCHES HAD REPORTED EARLIER THAT THE GERMANS WERE USING SEMI-TRAINED RESERVISTS AND REAR LINE UNITS IN THE MTSENSK FIGHTING, INDICATING THE RUSSIANS SAID, THE EXTENT OF THE CASUALTIES INFLICTED ON HITLER'S CRACK TROOPS.

A GERMAN BROADCAST LAST NIGHT ASSERTED THAT "MORE THAN 20 MILLION" RUSSIANS HAD BEEN KILLED, WOUNDED OR CAPTURED IN THE TWO YEARS OF WAR.

(THE MIDDAY RUSSIAN COMMUNIQUE WHICH WAS RECORDED BY THE SOVIET NITOR IN LONDON FROM A MOSCOW BROADCAST SAID THE RUSSIANS TOOK THE ENSIVE NORTHWEST OF MTSENSK LAST NIGHT, ADVANCING AND OCCUPYING "A MORE ADVANTAGEOUS POSITION" AFTER KILLING ABOUT 100 GERMANS.

JUN 20 1943

A58

(RED ARMY FORCES ALSO WERE SAID TO HAVE ATTACKED NEAR LENINGRAD, KILLING 50 GERMANS, AND RUSSIAN FLIERS RESUMED THEIR ATTACKS ON GERMAN AIRBASES BEHIND THE LINES, DESTROYING "A LARGE NUMBER OF GERMAN PLANES" ON THE GROUND AND SHOOTING DOWN AN ADDITIONAL 11 IN AERIAL BATTLES, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

(RECONNAISSANCE ACTIVITY ALSO WAS REPORTED ON THE DONETS FRONT, THE RUSSIANS ATTACKING NEAR LISICHANSK AND BEATING OFF AN ATTEMPT BY GERMAN SCOUTS TO CROSS THE RIVER SOUTH OF IZYUM.)

(THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND, IN A COMMUNIQUE BROADCAST FROM BERLIN AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID NAZI DEFENDERS OF THE KUBAN BRIDGEHEAD HAD REPULSED A NIGHT ATTACK BY TWO RED ARMY BRIGADES ON THE NORTHERN SECTOR.

JUN 20 1943

(THE GERMAN AIR FORCE WAS SAID TO HAVE SUNK TWO RUSSIAN FREIGHTERS AND DAMAGED TWO OTHERS IN THE VOLGA ESTUARY.)

BERN, JUNE 19-(AP)-AXIS FEARS THAT THE UNIFICATION OF ANTI-VICHY FRENCH FORCES IN ALGIERS WILL INSPIRE STRONGER RESISTANCE WITHIN FRANCE HAVE CAUSED NAZI OFFICIALS TO ADOPT STRICTER MEASURES IN HANDLING ANY SIGNS OF RESISTANCE ON THE PART OF THE FRENCH POPULATION, A PARIS DISPATCH TO THE LAUSANNE TRIBUNE REVEALED TODAY.

THE DISPATCH QUOTED THE CONTROLLED OFFICIAL FRENCH PRESS AS EXPRESSING FEAR THAT THE UNION OF THE DE GAULLIST AND GIRAUD FORCES WILL RESULT IN THE UNIFICATION OF VARIOUS MOVEMENTS OF RESISTANCE IN FRANCE WHICH UP TO NOW HAVE BEEN WORKING WITH A CERTAIN AMOUNT OF ACCORD BUT WITHOUT A COMMON DIRECTING FORCE FROM ABROAD.

THE GOVERNMENT'S AND AXIS FEARS ALREADY HAVE BEEN EXPRESSED IN RENEWED POLICE EFFORTS AGAINST RESISTANCE UNITS WHICH ARE EXPECTED TO ACCEPT THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE AFRICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF LIBERATION AS A "SIGNAL FOR MORE ENERGETIC ACTIVITIES."

ANOTHER PARIS DISPATCH DISCLOSED FRENCH FEARS THAT PIERRE LAVAL WOULD CALL 18-YEAR-OLD YOUTHS AS WELL AS THE 19-YEAR GROUP TO FULFILL HIS PROMISE TO THE NAZIS TO DELIVER ANOTHER 220,000 MEN TO GERMANY BY JULY 1.

JUN 20 1943

THE CORRESPONDENT SAID THAT THE FRENCH ARE NOW GENERALLY CONVINCED THAT THE NAZIS ARE NOT INTERESTED IN OBTAINING MANPOWER BUT WANT TO CLEAR OUT ALL AVAILABLE MEN "LEST AN ALLIED LANDING FIND A PATRIOT ARMY ON THE SPOT."

JUN 20 1943

bern, switzerland, june 19-(ap)-- a swiss telegraph agency dispatch from rome said today that sir francis d'arcy godolphin, ~~british~~ british minister to the holy see, had arrived at ~~x~~ vatican city by air after several weeks in england.

MADRID, JUNE 19-(AP)-A LA LINEA DISPATCH SAID TODAY 12 [illegible] LANDING BARGES OF A TYPE MUCH LARGER THAN THOSE PREVIOUSLY SEEN IN THE WESTERN MEDITERRANEAN HAD PASSED THROUGH GIBRALTAR STRAIT ENROUTE FROM ENGLAND TO NORTH AFRICA.

GUNS WERE MOUNTED ON BOTH THE BOWS AND STERNS OF THE CRAFT, THE DISPATCH SAID.

IT REPORTED AN 18-SHIP CONVOY HAD ENTERED THE MEDITERRANEAN FROM THE ATLANTIC AT NOON AND THAT AIR TRAFFIC IN THE GIBRALTAR REGION WAS HEAVIER THAN IN MANY WEEKS.

JUN 20 1943

ANKARA, JUNE 18-(DELAYED)-(AP)- REPORTS FROM THE BALKANS SAID TODAY THAT THE GREEK GUERRILLA ARMY FORMALLY HAS ~~XXXX~~ ELECTED GEN. DWIGHT EISENHOWER AND GEN. SIR BERNARD L. MONTGOMERY HONORARY PRESIDENTS OF THEIR FORCES.

THE REPORTS SAID THE GREEK ORGANIZATION~~XXXXXXX~~ KNOWN AS THE ~~XXXXXX~~ ANDARTS HELD A MEETING IN THE PINDUS REGION MONDAY TO DISCUSS STRATEGY AGAINST THE AXIS AND CLOSED

THE MEETING WITH THE ELECTION ~~X~~ OF THE TWO ALLIED GENERALS VICTORIOUS IN THE NORTH AFRICAN CAMPAIGN.

CAIRO JUNE 19-(AP)-RAF HEAVY BOMBERS SMASHED BACK AT COMISO, SICILY, IN A RAID THURSDAY NIGHT FOLLOWING UP A DAY ATTACK BY BOMBERS OF THE MIDDLE EAST AIR COMMAND ON THE CITY'S AIRDROME.

A HEADQUARTERS COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY THAT RAF LONG RANGE FIGHTERS KEPT UP THEIR ATTACKS ON AXIS SHIPPING OFF THE WEST COAST OF GREECE YESTERDAY AND ALSO ATTACKED RAILROAD INSTALLATIONS ON THE MAINLAND.

HANGARS AND WORKSHOPS AT THE COMISO AIRDROME WERE SET AFIRE IN THE THURSDAY NIGHT RAID, IT WAS DECLARED.

JUN 20 1943

BY RELMAN MORIN

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS

WITH THE KING'S PARTY IN TUNISIA, JUNE 17-(DELAYED)-(AP)-KING GEORGE VI FLEW WELL WITHIN THE RANGE OF AXIS FIGHTER-BOMBERS TODAY ON AN INSPECTION TRIP THAT CARRIED HIM ACROSS NORTHERN ALGERIA AND INTO THE FORWARD AREAS OF TUNIS.

HE HAS BEEN TOURING NORTH AFRICA, REVIEWING HIS TROOPS AND SEEING THE FORMER BATTLEFIELDS.

RIDING IN AN OPEN CAR ACROSS THE BLISTERED AFRICAN PLAIN, HE WAS SO BADLY SUNBURNED THIS MORNING THAT DOCTORS AT THE ARMY HEADQUARTERS WHERE HE STOPPED FOR LUNCH HAD TO ADMINISTER TREATMENT. THE KING WAS WEARING KHAKI SHORTS AND A SHORT-SLEEVED BUSH JACKET. BY EARLY AFTERNOON HIS FOREARMS HAD BEEN BURNED VERY RED. HE CHANGED TO A CLOSED CAR ON THE LAST LAP OF THE 120-MILE DRIVE.

IT WAS A DAY WITHOUT REST FOR HIM.

HIS AIRPLANE REACHED ONE OF THE RAF BASES EARLY IN THE MORNING.

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5191

THERE, AFTER INSPECTING TROOPS AND LONG LINES OF AIRMEN, HE ENTERED A TENT AND GAVE THE ACCOLADE WHICH FORMALLY KNIGHTED SIR HUGH LLOYD, AIR VICE-MARSHAL COMMANDING THE NORTH AFRICAN COASTAL AIRFORCE.

HE THEN ENTERED HIS CAR AND STARTED ACROSS COUNTRY, THROUGH FIELDS THAT ARE ALREADY PEACEFULLY UNDER CULTIVATION, ALTHOUGH DOTTED HERE

HE THEN ENTERED HIS CAR AND STARTED ACROSS COUNTRY, THROUGH FIELDS THAT ARE ALREADY PEACEFULLY UNDER CULTIVATION, ALTHOUGH DOTTED HERE AND THERE WITH THE TWISTED SKELETONS OF AXIS AIRCRAFT AND TRUCKS AND CARS.

JUN 20 1943

THOUSANDS OF FRENCH FARMERS HAD A LATE LUNCH, OR NONE AT ALL TODAY. THEIR WIVES AND DAUGHTERS LINED THE SUN-SCORCHED STREETS OF THE LITTLE TOWNS UNTIL THEY CAUGHT SIGHT OF HIM. MANY OF THEM STOOD FOR HOURS IN THE SHIMMERING HEAT. WHEN HIS CAR PASSED THEY APPLAUDED WILDLY AND PELTED IT WITH FLOWERS.

FOR ENDLESS MILES THE RAOD WAS LINED WITH TROOPS WHO STOOD RIGIDLY AT ATTENTION, DESPITE THE CRUSHING SUNSHINE, UNTIL THE KING APPEARED. THEN THEY BROKE INTO CHEERS. THE ROYAL CAR STOPPED FREQUENTLY. DOZENS OF TIMES THE KING GOT OUT TO TALK WITH THE OFFICERS AND RETURN THE SALUTES OF THE MEN.

HE MET ONE TANK UNIT THAT HAD OILED AND POLISHED THE GRIM, PONDEROUS MACHINES UNTIL THEY LITERALLY GLITTERED IN THE SUN. YOU SELDOM SEE A TANK THAT ISN'T COVERED WITH MUD AND DUST AND CLUTTERED ALL

30.24 - 5191

WITH A SPARE TRACK AND EVEN BAILING WIRE. BUT THESE TANKS LOOKED AS THOUGH THEY HAD JUST COME OUT OF A JEWELER'S WINDOW.

AS HE RODE PAST, THE KING INVITED THE COMMANDING OFFICER TO GET IN THE ROYAL CAR WITH HIM. THE OFFICER GULPED AND BLUSHED AND PUT HIS HAND ON THE SIDE, OBVIOUSLY PREPARED TO CLIMB RIGHT OVER THE REAR MUDGUARD.

JUN 20 1943

THE KING LAUGHED AND SNAPPING THE LATCH SAID, "WELL, THERE IS A DOOR."

HE HAD A COLD LUNCH AT A DIVISIONAL HEADQUARTERS. COLD ROAST CHICKEN AND ROAST LAMB, SALAD, A FRUIT SOUFFLE, OATCAKES, CHEESE AND COFFEE WERE SERVED. SOME SWALLOWS HAD NESTED IN THE OPEN EAVES BENEATH THE CEILING AND WITH SUBLIME DISREGARD FOR ROYALTY THEY FLUTTERED UP AND DOWN THE ROOM THROUGHOUT THE MEAL. THE KING SEEMED AMUSED.

RETURNING IN HIS AIRPLANE LATE IN THE AFTERNOON, AFTER MORE INSPECTION AND REVIEWING, HE FLEW ON INTO TUNISIA AND SPENT THE NIGHT AT A VILLA OCCUPIED BY BRITISH AND AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS OFFICERS. IT WAS THE SAME VILLA WHERE PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL STAYED OVERNIGHT DURING HIS VISIT SEVERAL WEEKS AGO.

AMONG THE KING'S COMPANIONS AT DINNER TONIGHT WERE A COLONEL OF RED BANK N.J., LIEUT.-COL.A.W.GILLETTE OF GILLETT, WIS., AND A COLONEL FROM WASHINGTON, D.C. THE COLONEL FROM WASHINGTON IS PROBABLY THE BEST KNOWN OFFICER OF HIS RANK IN THE WHOLE AMERICAN ARMY.

JUN 20 1943

BY RELMAN MORIN

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS

WITH THE KING'S PARTY IN TUNISIA, JUNE 17-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE KING OF ENGLAND IS THE KIND OF MAN YOU'D ENJOY MEETING, EVEN IF HE WEREN'T A KING.

WE HAVE MET HIM TWICE ON THIS TOUR.

THE FIRST TIME IT WAS FORMAL AND ALL YOU NOTICED WAS THAT HE IS TALL AND SLENDER WITH DEEP, BLUE EYES AND A HANDSOME, SENSITIVE FACE. HIS HAND SHAKE WAS FIRM AND PURPOSEFUL, AS THOUGH HE MEANT IT. HE HAS A PLEASANT VOICE.

JUN 20 1943

THE SECOND TIME IT WAS WHOLLY INFORMAL.

WE HAD JUST DRIVEN INTO THE GROUNDS IN FRONT OF THE VILLA WHERE HE WAS STAYING. IT WAS LATE AT NIGHT. WITH HIS PARTY AND SOME BRITISH AND AMERICAN OFFICERS HE CAME OUT FOR A STROLL IN THE BRILLIANT MOONLIGHT.

HE CAUGHT SIGHT OF US AND STOPPED, ASKING IF WE WEREN'T HIS PRESS PARTY. THEN HE WANTED TO KNOW WHERE WE HAD BEEN AND WE SAID WE HAD BEEN HUNTING ALL OVER TUNISIA FOR THE PAST FOUR OR FIVE HOURS TRYING TO FIND THE VILLA.

HE EXPRESSED REGRET OVER THAT AND THERE WAS SINCERITY IN HIS VOICE. THEN HE TURNED TO AN OFFICER AND SAID, "I HOPE YOU'LL SEE THAT THEY HAVE EVERYTHING THEY NEED FOR THE NIGHT--ESPECIALLY SOME BEER, IMMEDIATELY."

THEN HE WISHED US GOOD NIGHT. YOU COULD TELL THAT HE MEANT IT.

BY RELMAN MORIN

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS

WITH THE KING'S PARTY IN TUNISIA, JUNE 17-(DELAYED)-(AP)-PVT.JOHN P.SCHISSEL OF CHEROKEE, IOWA, IS A VERY YOUNG AMERICAN SOLDIER WHO IS ANXIOUSLY AWAITING OLD AGE AND GRANDCHILDREN SO THAT HE CAN TELL THEM ABOUT THE TIME WHEN HE WAS A SENTRY AND CHALLENGED THE KING OF ENGLAND.

JUN 20 1943

HE "SURE WAS WORRIED" WHEN HE FOUND OUT ABOUT IT.

PVT.SCHISSEL WAS PATROLLING THE OUTER SECTION OF THE GROUNDS SURROUNDING THE VILLA WHERE THE KING SPENT THE NIGHT. AN ORDER, NOTIFYING THE SENTRIES THAT THE KING WAS OUT FOR A STROLL, REACHED ALL THE AMERICAN GUARDS BUT SCHISSEL.

"SO, WHEN I SAW THESE PEOPLE COMING DOWN THE PATH, I HOLLERED FOR THEM TO HALT," HE SAID. "AND WHEN THEY DIDN'T HALT I HOLLERED AGAIN, ONLY LOUDER."

AN AMERICAN OFFICER RAN FORWARD AND TOLD HIM IT WAS ALL RIGHT. SO HE LET THE PARTY PASS. THE NEXT MORNING HE LEARNED WHOM HE HAD CHALLENGED.

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5193

ALGIERS, JUNE 19--(AP)--THE FRENCH AFRIQUE NEWS AGENCY REPORTED TODAY THAT KING GEORGE OF ENGLAND REVIEWED ALLIED TROOPS AT BONE , ALGERIA, TODAY.

A DISPATCH FROM LA LINEA, SPAIN, REPORTED YESTERDAY THAT KING GEORGE HAD ARRIVED AT GIBRALTAR, ACROSS THE BAY FROM LA LINEA.)

JUN 20 1943

ADD Algiers — of the committee

MOSCOW ALSO HAS HAD REPORTS ON THE POLITICAL SITUATION FROM TWO FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMISSARIAT REPRESENTATIVES, SENT HERE TO INSPECT FORMER RUSSIAN SOLDIERS OF THE INTERNATIONAL BRIGADE, WHO ESCAPED FROM SPAIN AT THE CLOSE OF THE CIVIL WAR.

IN A SPEECH BROADCAST TO FRANCE LAST NIGHT ON THE THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF THE FIGHTING FRENCH, DE GAULLE DECLARED THAT "A MOVEMENT OF LIBERTY" WAS SWEEPING TOWARD THE ENSLAVED HOMELAND.

"OUR COUNTRY HEARS THE CANNON OF HER LIBERATORS APPROACHING," HE SAID. "THE EVENTS OF THE WAR HAVE GIVEN PROOF DAY AFTER DAY OF ENGLISH HEROISM, RUSSIAN VALOR AND AMERICAN POWER."

RAF LONG RANGE FIGHTERS HARRIED ENEMY SHIPPING OFF THE WEST COAST OF GREECE FRIDAY, AND STRUCK RAILROAD INSTALLATIONS ON THE MAINLAND, THE COMMUNIQUE ADDED.

INTRUDER PLANES FROM MALTA BOMBED RAILWAY TARGETS IN SOUTHERN ITALY FRIDAY NIGHT.

30-24-5193

IN DEFENSIVE ACTIONS, AMERICAN FIGHTERS OF THE TACTICAL AIR FORCE DROVE OFF GERMAN PLANES ATTEMPTING TO BOMB PANTELLERIA.

(BOTH BERLIN AND ROME BROADCASTS ANNOUNCED THE AXIS PLANES HAD ATTACKED ALLIED SHIPPING AT PANTELLERIA AND ALONG THE ALGERIAN COAST, WITH THE ITALIANS CLAIMING A 6,000-TON SHIP SUNK OFF ALGERIA AND ANOTHER DAMAGED, AND THE GERMANS REPORTING DIRECT HITS ON A 5,000-TON FREIGHTER AT PANTELLERIA.

JUN 20 1943

(THE ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE SAID 27 ALLIED PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN YESTERDAY. IT ALSO INDICATED AN ALLIED ATTACK UPON SYRACUSE, ON THE SOUTHEAST COAST OF SICILY, BUT SYRACUSE WAS NOT MENTIONED BY ALLIED SOURCES.)

JUN 20 1943

JUN 20 1943

ALLIED HDQTRS IN NORTH AFRICA- June 19—

MITCHELL GUNNERS WHO BROUGHT DOWN ME-109S WERE PRIVATE JAMES F. BLACK, 6732 NAVIGATION BOULEVARD, HOUSTON, TEX., AND STAFF SERGTS. ALFRED A.SZCESNIAK, 6044 MAXWELL ST., DETROIT, MICH.; ALVIN J.LANGFORD, CHESTER, PA., HAROLD E.GLOVER, OF EAST ANDOVER, ME., ROBERT L. BENNETT OF GREENVILLE, OHIO, AND LOY G.MYERS OF HUME, OHIO.

JUN 20 1943

FIRST LIEUT.WILLIAM J. (DIXIE) SLOAN OF RICHMOND, VA., ONE OF THE HIGHEST RANKING ACES, RAISED HIS VICTORY STRING TO EIGHT BY DESTROYING A MA-202 AND ALSO DAMAGED ANOTHER IN A "DOG EAT DOG" BATTLE.

"I SAW A MACCHI ON THE TAIL OF A FELLOW P-38 PILOT WHICH ITSELF WAS ON THE TAIL OF ANOTHER MACCHI," SAID SLOAN. "I PULLED UP AT THE MACCHI ON OUR FELLOW'S TAIL AND LET HIM HAVE IT. HE TOOK A STEEP TURN TO THE RIGHT. I WAS ON THE INSIDE FIRING ALL THE TIME. FINALLY HE ROLLED OVER ON HIS BACK AND STARTED STRAIGHT DOWN."

A ME-109, THE THIRD OF THE CAMPAIGN FOR LIEUT.EDWARD T.WATERS OF HIGHLAND PARK, MICH., "COMPLETELY DISINTEGRATED WHEN IT HIT THE WATER" AND LIEUT.JOHN A.PERRANO OF HAMMOND, LA., STRETCHED HIS VICTORY TALLY TO FOUR IN A "TURNING FIGHT" WITH A MACCHI.

"AFTER TWO TURNS MY 202 TRIED A RIGHT TURN AND THAT'S WHEN I GOT HIM," SAID PERRANO.

LIEUT.FRED J.WOLFE OF HAMMOND, IND., DAMAGED A ME-109 AND SHOT DOWN A MACCHI 202 FOR HIS THIRD VICTORY.

"THAT MACCHI DID A SPLIT 'S' AND I FOLLOWED HIM ALL THE WAY DOWN TO THE DECK," SAID WOLFE.

THE FLYING FORTRESSES, IN WHAT THE CREWS DESCRIBED AS "PICNIC EXCURSIONS" TO MESSINA, SAW LITTLE FLAK AND NO FIGHTERS.

LADEN WITH BOMBS WARHAWKS SWEPT ACROSS SOUTHERN SARDINIA AND

JUN 20 1943

BLASTED THE RAILROAD STATION AT SAN GAVINO MOREALE, DESTROYED A NUMBER OF AIRCRAFT ON THE GROUND AT VILLACIDRO, DAMAGED OTHERS CAUGHT ON THE GROUND AT CRISTANO, SILENCED THREE MACHINEGUN EMPLACEMENTS, KNOCKED DOWN A ME-109 AND STRAFED A COLUMN OF 300 TROOPS MARCHING ALONG THE ROAD.

LIEUT.ROBERT N.RUCKER OF MILTON, N.Y., DESCRIBING HOW HE DESTROYED A FIAT 156 OBSERVATION PLANE ABOUT 100 FEET OFF THE GROUND ON THIS FORAY SAID "THE PLANE EXPLODED IN MID-AIR, LIKE A PIECE OF CELLULOID TOUCHED BY A MATCH."

JUN 20 1943

COL.GORDON H.AUSTIN OF SCRANTON, PA., LED A SQUADRON ON ONE OF THESE HOPS, AND TOLD HOW THEY STRAFED THE TROOPS.

"THEY DIDN'T RECOGNIZE US AND WATCHED US AS WE WENT BY," HE SAID. "WE TURNED AND DIVED AT THEM, GIVING THEM A REAL SHOOTING UP. AFTER THAT WE CAME ACROSS AN AIRDROME AND FOUND A NUMBER OF FIATS ON THE GROUND. WE SHOT UP THREE OR FOUR AND ALSO TORE UP A ME-109."

LIEUT.JAMES F.GARRETT, OF BELMONT, MASS., WAS CREDITED WITH SETTING FIRE TO A GIANT MERSEBERG 323, SIX-ENGINED TRANSPORT.

LIEUT.ALBERT GOLBINEC OF ROSSFORD, OHIO, AND FLIGHT OFFICER BILL SLATTERY OF 1201 SOUTH TENTH AVE., BIRMINGHAM, ALA., ALSO STRAFED A NUMBER OF TROOPS WHICH RAN FOR A WHITEWALLED BUILDING FOR PROTECTION.

"THEY MADE A PERFECT TARGET SO WE LET THEM HAVE IT," SAID SLATTERY

FLIGHT OFFICER PAUL H.MESLER OF ORISKANY, N.Y., AFTER DROPPING FRAGMENT BOMBS AMONG A NUMBER OF CLOSELY PARKED AIRCRAFT, WAS ATTACKED BY THREE MA-202S BUT OUTMANEUVERED THEM IN A RUNNING FIGHT WHICH CONTINUED HALFWAY BACK TO HIS BASE.

FLIGHT OFFICER PAUL L.MARET, 1434 MILLER AVE., ATLANTA, GA., STRAFED AND DAMAGED A SECOND FIAT 156 OBSERVATION PLANE.

A LIGHTHOUSE WAS STRAFED AND DESTROYED BY FLIGHT OFFICER WAYNE L. BARR OF KNOXVILLE, TENN., LIEUT.WILLIAM R.ELLIOTT OF EUNICE, N. MEX., AND LIEUT.RAYMOND E.HARTLEY, 9633 OAK ST., KANSAS CITY, MO., WHO SAID "GLASS, BRICK, FLAMES AND EVERYTHING FLEW FROM THAT STATION. IT LOOKED LIKE A LIGHTHOUSE BUT IT CERTAINLY WAS SPITTING A LOT OF LEAD AT US."

THREE SHIPS WERE SET ON FIRE BY A STRONG FORCE OF MARAUDER BOMBERS IN A FORAY AGAINST DOCKS AND SHIPPING AT OLBIA, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, WHILE AT GOLFO ARANCI B-25 MITCHELL BOMBERS DAMAGED DOCKS AND RAILWAY YARDS. LIGHTNING FIGHTERS ESCORTED THE BOMBERS ON BOTH THESE RAIDS.

JUN 20 1943

ASS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA--THIRD ADD MEDITERRANEAN X X THESE RAIDS.

BOMB-CARRYING AMERICAN WARHAWKS AT THE SAME TIME SPREAD DESTRUCTION THROUGH ENEMY COMMUNICATIONS ON THE LOWER TIP OF SARDINI messerschmitt. The victories were his third and fourth.

THE HEADQUARTERS BULLETIN SAID EIGHT ALLIED AIRCRAFT FAILED TO RETURN FROM YESTERDAY'S OPERATIONS, BUT REPORTED THAT 39 ENEMY FIGHT WERE DESTROYED IN COMBATS.

Gunners of a mitchell accounted for two additional messerschmitt 109's and the probable destruction of a third.

30-24-5195

30-24-5195

an advanced air base in northwest africa, june 18 (delayed)-(ap)--Mitchell medium bombers and lightning fighters of major general james h. doolittle's northwest africa strategic ~~air~~ air forces had one of their biggest days of the war today in the skies over the important italian shipping port of aranci on the northeast corner of sardinia.

JUN 20 1943

second lieut. lawrence liebers of 545 e. magnolia blvd., burbank, calif., emerged as the individual star of a brilliant performance when he was credited with shooting down three italian macchi-202's and damaging two more. The victories ran the 22-year-old lightning pilot's total for the war to five, making him an ace.

Two enemy craft, a german messerschmitt-109 and an italian reggiani-2001, were victims of the blazing guns of another lightning pilot, flight officer frank hulburt of 1701 south boulevard, charlotte, n.c. He also was credited with the probable destruction of another

JUN 20 1943

NEW DELHI, INDIA, JUNE 19--(AP)--LITTLE EXCITEMENT WAS CAUSED IN THE INDIAN CAPITAL TODAY BY THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE APPOINTMENT OF FIELD MARSHAL ~~KKRS~~ LORD WAVELL AS VICEROY OF INDIA. THE AVERAGE INDIAN FELT THAT NO MATTER WHO THE VICEROY MIGHT BE HE MUST FOLLOW LONDON'S POLICY

JUN 20 1943

~~INDIAN-OWNED~~ NEWSPAPERS ~~IN GENERAL~~ SAW NO CHANGE IN BRITISH POLICY IN THE APPOINTMENT OF WAVELL, BUT TIME OF INDIA SAID THE "ASSOCIATION OF GEN. AUCHINLECK WITH MARSHALL WAVELL IS AN AUGURY OF THE IMPORTANT TASKS WHICH AWAIT INDIA IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE SAID THE APPOINTMENT ~~REMAINED~~ WAS IN ACCORD WITH PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL'S RECENT DECLARATION THAT H DID NOT INTEND TO "PRESIDE OVER THE LIQUIDATION OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE."

~~BOMBAY~~, INDIA, JUNE 19--(AP)-THE HINDUSTAN TIMES, EDITED BY DEVADAF GANDHI, SON OF THE JAILED CONGRESS PARTY LEADER, COMMENTED TODAY THAT THE "SELECTION OF FIELD MARSHALL SIR ARCHIBALD P. WAVELL EVIDENTLY IS AN ADMISSION THAT NONE OF THE FRONT RANKING MEN OF ENGLAND IS PREPARED TO COME TO INDIA TO CLEAR UP THE LINLITHGOW MESS."

JUN 20 1943

"IS IT FAIR TO WAVELL THAT HE, A SOLDIER, SHOULD BE EXPECTED TO DEAL WITH THE LEGAL CONFUSION CAUSED BY A RECKLESS SERIES OF ORDINANCES, OR IS IT BRITAIN'S SETTLED POLICY TO PAY NO HEED TO THE LESSONS OF DAMAGING JUDICIAL PRONOUNCEMENTS, OF WHICH AN END IS NOT YET IN SIGHT?" THE PAPER ASKED.

CHUNGKING-FIRST ADD CHINESE XXX JAPANESE GARRISON.

WIDESPREAD SABOTAGE HAS CAUSED TOTAL DISRUPTION OF TRAFFIC ON A LONG SECTION OF THE JAPANESE-HELD PEIPING-HANKOW RAILWAY NORTH OF HANKOW, DISPATCHES REPORTED. BESIDES WRECKING RAILS, CHINESE GUERRILLAS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BLOWN UP A RAILWAY BRIDGE SPANNING THE HWAI RIVER.

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5197

30-24-5797

BY LEIF ERICKSON

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, JUNE 19-(AP)-JAPAN'S ILL-FATED ATTEMPT TO RAID GUADALCANAL WEDNESDAY MAY HAVE COST THE ENEMY 94 PLANES OUT OF AN ATTACKING FORCE OF 120.

HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT 17 JAPANESE DIVE-BOMBERS AND FIGHTER PLANES WERE DESTROYED BY SHORE AND SHIP ANTI-AIRCRAFT BATTERIES IN ADDITION TO THE 77 DOWNED BY THE OUTNUMBERED UNITED STATES INTERCEPTOR PLANES.

JUN 20 1943

ONLY SIX AMERICAN PLANES WERE LOST, AND THE PILOT OF ONE OF THOSE WAS SAVED.

A HEADQUARTERS SPOKESMAN CONCEDED THERE MIGHT BE SOME DUPLICATIONS IN CLAIMS BY FIGHTERS AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNNERS, OBSERVING THAT "WE PROBABLY WILL NEVER BE ABLE TO GET A MORE EXACT SCORE."

ONLY ONE LIBERTY-TYPE FREIGHTER AND A SMALLER VESSEL WERE HIT BY ENEMY BOMBS IN WEDNESDAY'S MASS RAID WHICH BACKFIRED ON THE JAPANESE TO THE EXTENT OF CUTTING DECISIVELY THE ENEMY'S AIR STRENGTH IN THIS AREA. BOTH SHIPS CAN BE SALVAGED.

TOTAL AMERICAN CASUALTIES IN ADDITION TO THE FIVE MISSING FIGHTER PILOTS WERE 25 MEN KILLED BY BOMBS ASHORE AND ON SHIP. TWENTY-NINE WERE REPORTED INJURED AND 22 OTHERS WERE MISSING.

BARGES, WHICH THE JAPANESE EMPLOY UNDER COVER OF DARKNESS TO CARRY SUPPLIES TO THEIR GARRISONS, WERE SPOTTED OFF CAPE GLOUCESTER, NEW BRITAIN BY A MITCHELL MEDIUM BOMBER AT NIGHT. ITS BOMBS SANK ONE AND DAMAGED TWO OTHERS.

WEST OF NEW BRITAIN ON THE ISLAND OF UNEA A FLYING FORTRESS LANDED A BOMB SQUARELY ON A JETTY, DESTROYING IT.

ON NEW GUINEA, IN THE SECTOR WHERE JAPANESE AND ALLIED GROUND TROOPS FACE EACH OTHER 12 MILES BELOW SALAMAUA, BOSTON ATTACK PLANES SWEPT OVER ENEMY POSITIONS 37 TIMES, SPRAYING THEM WITH DEADLY CANNON AND MACHINEGUN FIRE.

SIX HUNDRED MILES ABOVE AUSTRALIA ON AMBOINA ISLAND, FIRES SO LARGE THEY COULD BE SEEN 40 MILES AWAY WERE STARTED ON THE AIRDROME AREA AT LAHA BY CATALINA FLYING BOATS. OVER THE ARAFURA SEA, A BEAUFORT BOMBER ENCOUNTERED AND SHOT DOWN A JAPANESE FLOAT PLANE WHICH ALSO WAS ON RECONNAISSANCE.

JUN 20 1943

THE ONLY JAPANESE AIRFORCE ACTIVITY REPORTED IN TODAY'S COMMUNIQUE WAS THAT OF A SINGLE BOMBER WHICH TRIED TO RAID HORN ISLAND OFF CAPE YORK, AUSTRALIA. ITS BOMBS FELL INTO THE SEA.

BUENOS AIRES, JUNE 19-(AP)-ARGENTINA'S PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS, SCHEDULED FOR SEPT. 5, HAVE BEEN CANCELLED.

"ELECTIONS MUST BE CONDITIONED TO A FULFILLMENT OF THE AIMS WHICH MOTIVATED THE MILITARY MOVEMENT," A DECREE ISSUED LAST NIGHT BY THE GOVERNMENT OF GEN. PEDRO RAMIREZ ANNOUNCED.

ANOTHER DECREE BANNED THE USE OF THE WORD "PROVISIONAL" IN DESCRIBING THE RAMIREZ GOVERNMENT WHICH OVERTHREW THAT OF PRESIDENT RAMON CASTILLO.

BUENOS AIRES, JUNE 19-(AP)-FEDERAL INTERVENTION IN THE LAST REMAINING FIVE OF ARGENTINE'S 14 PROVINCES WAS ANNOUNCED TONIGHT BY THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF PRESIDENT GENERAL PEDRO RAMIREZ.

THE REPLACING OF THE LOCALLY-ELECTED OFFICIALS BY ARMY AND NAVY MEN COMPLETES THE "PURIFICATION" PROGRAM WHICH RAMIREZ ANNOUNCED SHORTLY AFTER TAKING OFFICE JUNE 4 WHEN PRESIDENT RAMON CASTILLO'S GOVERNMENT WAS OUSTED.

THE PROVINCES BROUGHT UNDER FEDERAL CONTROL TODAY INCLUDE CORDOBA,

JUN 20 1943

SAN LUIS, CATAMARCA, LA RIOJA AND SALTA. THE FEDERAL COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED BY THE RAMIREZ GOVERNMENT INCLUDE 11 ARMY OFFICERS AND 3 NAVAL OFFICERS.

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA, JUNE 19-(AP)-AN EXECUTIVE DECREE WAS ISSUED TODAY EMPOWERING THE GOVERNMENT TO ATTACH AND DISPOSE OF ALL AXIS PROPERTY IN COLOMBIA WHEN SUCH MEASURES ARE JUSTIFIED FOR THE COMMON GOOD OR NATIONAL SECURITY.

JUN 1943

CX

GUAYAQUIL, ECUADOR, JUNE 19-(AP)-TWO AMERICAN SERVICEMEN KILLED IN THE CRASH OF THEIR PLANE LAST WEDNESDAY WERE LISTED TODAY AS CAPT.LEO A.SWANER OF MONTGOMERY, ALA., OF THE ARMY, AND LIEUT. WILLIAM E.WEBBE, JUNIOR GRADE, OF CHICAGO, OF THE NAVY.

WEBBE IS A NEPHEW OF H.P.HARRSEN, NEW YORK UTILITY EXECUTIVE WITH WIDE SOUTH AMERICAN INTERESTS.

THE TWO SERVICEMEN, IN GUAYAQUIL TO MAKE PURCHASES FOR THE U.S. NAVY BASE AT SALINAS, ECUADOR, WERE KILLED WHEN THEIR PLANE CRASHED ON THE TAKEOFF.

ADD UNDATED BOSE

BOSE WAS ERRONEOUSLY REPORTED IN A VICHY BROADCAST IN MARCH, 1942 TO HAVE BEEN KILLED IN A PLANE CRASH. ACTING ON THE REPORT, MOHANDAS K.GANDHI SENT CONDOLENCES TO HIS FAMILY.

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA, JUNE 19-(AP)-THE NEWSPAPER LA RAZON SAID TONIGHT IT HAD LEARNED FROM AN AUTHORIZED SOURCE THAT CHILE AND BOLIVIA HAD REACHED AN ACCORD IN PRINCIPLE AFTER DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS OVER BOLIVIA'S EFFORTS TO OBTAIN A SEAPORT. NO DETAILS OF THE REPORTED ACCORD WERE ANNOUNCED.

(THE QUESTION OF A PACIFIC OUTLET FOR LAND-LOCKED BOLIVIA HAS BEEN A SORE POINT BETWEEN BOLIVIA AND CHILE FOR ALMOST 60 YEARS, AND RESULTED IN THE LONG-STANDING DISPUTE OVER THE TACNA ARICA TERRITORY.)

BJ102AEW

JUN 20 1943

CLEAR AP 102AEW A139 NX

A139

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA, JUNE 19-(AP)-THE LIMA, PERU, CORRESPONDENT OF THE NEWSPAPER LA RAZON SAID TODAY THE UNITED STATES HAD AGREED TO INCREASE THE PRICE OF TIN IN CONFERENCES WITH PRESIDENT ENRIQUE PENARANDA OF BOLIVIA WHO HAS RECENTLY COMPLETED A VISIT TO WASHINGTON.

PENARANDA HAS BEEN STAYING INCOGNITO AT AREQUIPA, PERU, UNTIL SUNDAY WHEN HE WILL BE GIVEN AN OFFICIAL RECEPTION.

THE CORRESPONDENT SAID THAT WHILE PENARANDA WOULD NOT DISCLOSE ANY OF THE RESULTS OBTAINED IN HIS NEGOTIATIONS WITH NORTH AMERICAN OFFICIALS, IT COULD BE SAID AUTHORITATIVELY THAT IT WAS AGREED TO EXTEND THE MINING AGREEMENTS AND TO INCREASE THE SHIPMENT OF WAR MATERIAL AND RESTRICTED PRODUCTS TO BOLIVIA.

(BOLIVIA IS ONE OF THE CHIEF PRODUCERS OF TIN, A CRITICAL WAR MATERIAL).

JUN 20 1943

OSHAWA, ONT., JUNE 19-(AP)-MUNITIONS MINISTER C.D.HOWE ACCEPTED THE 500,000TH MECHANICAL UNIT PRODUCED IN CANADA IN A CEREMONY AT THE GENERAL MOTORS PLANT HERE TODAY.

"MORE THAN HALF OF THE TRANSPORT USED BY MONTGOMERY'S 8TH ARMY CAME FROM CANADIAN FACTORIES," HE SAID. HE ADDED THAT MORE THAN ONE-THIRD OF ALL THE TRANSPORT IN NORTH AFRICAN AND MIDDLE EAST SECTORS WAS OF CANADIAN ORIGIN.

JUN 20 1943

THE 500,000TH UNIT, A BATTERY-CHARGING TRUCK, WAS MADE UP OF PARTS MANUFACTURED AT FORD, CHRYSLER AND GENERAL MOTORS PLANTS AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE THREE COMPANIES MADE THE PRESENTATION.

WALLACE CAMPBELL, PRESIDENT OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY OF CANADA; C.W.CHURCHILL, PRESIDENT OF THE CHRYSLER CORPORATION OF CANADA; AND R.S.MCLAUGHLIN, PRESIDENT OF GENERAL MOTORS OF CANADA ALL PARTICIPATED IN THE TIGHTENING OF THE LAST BOLT ON A WHEEL.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE BERLIN RADIO LAST NIGHT (SAT) QUOTED THE ITALIAN NEWSPAPER, LAVORO FASCISTA, AS SAYING THAT THE FIRST CONTINGENT OF NEGRO TROOPS RECRUITED BY AMERICANS IN THE BELGIAN CONGO HAD ARRIVED IN CAIRO. THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

JUN 20 1943

30-24- 5199

30-24- 5199

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO).

- - -

JUN 20 1943

BY MAX HILL

CRITICS OF OUR POLICY IN THE PACIFIC -- AND THERE ARE MANY OF THEM -- MAY WELL BE SILENCED BY THE HALF-TOLD STORY OF BRITISH CHANGES IN INDIA, AND THE OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT THERE IS TO BE A SEPARATE EAST ASIA COMMAND.

THE JAPANESE AREN'T SURPRISED. THEY EITHER HAVE A FIRST CLASS INTELLIGENCE SERVICE OR ARE ABLE TO MAKE A GOOD GUESS. FROM PREMIER HIDEKI TOJO DOWN THEY HAVE BEEN TALKING FOR SEVERAL WEEKS ON THEIR SHORT WAVE RADIOS AND IN BROADCASTS DESIGNED FOR HOME CONSUMPTION ABOUT A COMING ALLIED OFFENSIVE DIRECTED SOLELY AGAINST JAPAN.

INDIA HAS BEEN SPOTLIGHTED. JAPAN'S MILITARY MASTERS HAVE BEEN TALKING GLIBLY ABOUT THE SUBJECT AT EVERY OPPORTUNITY, AND ASSURING THE NATIVE POPULATION OF INDIA THAT THEY WEREN'T REALLY AT WAR WITH THEM--IT WAS THE HATED WHITE MAN THEY WERE AFTER.

THIS IS SMART PROPAGANDA, BUT IT WON'T WORK IF SIR ARCHIBALD WAVELL IS UP TO HIS NEW JOB AS VICEROY OF INDIA. THE APPOINTMENT ALONE IS A WARNING TO JAPAN THAT BRITAIN IS DETERMINED ALL OF INDIA SHALL DO HER PART IN WINNING THE WAR AGAINST THE AXIS.

THE FORMER FIELD MARSHAL IS A SOLDIER, AND TRY AS HE MAY HE WON'T BE ABLE TO KEEP HIS MILITARY TRAINING OUT OF THE COMPLEX SITUATION IN INDIA, WHICH RANGES FROM RELIGIOUS PROBLEMS, BLACK MARKET OPERATIONS IN COTTON AND OTHER BUSINESSES TO ACTUAL FIGHTING OF THE JAPANESE ENEMY.

JUN 20 1943

UNDATED FIRST ADD THE WAR TODAY BY MAX HILL XXX JAPANESE ENEMY.

SIR CLAUDE AUCHINLECK SUCCEEDS SIR ARCHIBALD, BUT BRITAIN IS HOLDING BACK HER ANNOUNCEMENT OF WHO IT IS THAT WILL BE IN COMMAND OF THE EAST ASIA THEATER. HE EVIDENTLY IS NOT THE MAN WHO WILL DIRECT THE BIG-SCALE OPERATIONS AGAINST JAPAN.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT FROM NO. 10 DOWNING STREET IN LONDON SAID: "IT IS PROPOSED TO RELIEVE THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF INDIA OF THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CONDUCT OF OPERATIONS AGAINST JAPAN AND TO SET UP A SEPARATE EAST ASIA COMMAND FOR THAT PURPOSE."

WHO THAT MAN IS TO BE IS FAR MORE IMPORTANT IN THE CONDUCT OF THE WAR THAN EVEN THE NAMING OF SIR ARCHIBALD AS VICEROY. IT IS LIKELY THE MAN IN CHARGE WILL COME FROM THE BRITISH ARMY, PERHAPS FROM THE AIR WING SINCE MUCH OF OUR OFFENSIVE AGAINST JAPAN WILL BE IN THAT FIELD.

JUN 20 1943

GENERAL DOUGLAS MACARTHUR HAS BEEN THE MOST SUCCESSFUL ALLIED COMMANDER TO MATCH WITS WITH THE JAPANESE, BUT IT ISN'T PROBABLE HE WILL GET THE JOB. FIRST OF ALL HE IS AN AMERICAN, AND ANOTHER AMERICAN GENERAL IS IN SUPREME COMMAND IN AFRICA; BESIDES AUSTRALIA MUST BE DEFENDED, AND THE ENTRENCHED JAPANESE MUST BE DRIVEN BACK FROM THEIR ISLAND BASES IN THAT SOUTH PACIFIC AREA.

INDIA IS PART OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE. IT WOULD NOT BE LOGICAL FOR AN AMERICAN TO BE ASSIGNED TO THIS POST.

SOME OF THE MORE FORWARD-LOOKING RESIDENTS SEE IN THE NEW REGIME AN OPPORTUNITY FOR GUIANA TO ACHIEVE SOME SORT OF DEVELOPMENT OF TIMBER, IRON AND GOLD RESOURCES.

THEY RESENT THE FRENCH POLICY OF USING GUIANA AS A DUMPING GROUND FOR UNDESIREABLES AND INSIST THAT IT SHALL NEVER AGAIN BE DONE. THE PENAL COLONY, THEY SAY, HAS "POISONED" GUIANA TOO LONG ALREADY.

WITH ONLY SOME 36,000 PERSONS FOR ITS 80,000 SQUARE MILES, GUIANA IS BADLY UNDERPOPULATED, THEY SAY, AND THEY WANT ORGANIZED COLONIZATION AFTER THE WAR.

JUN 20 1943

IMPROVEMENTS IN PUBLIC UTILITIES ARE ANOTHER NECESSITY.

THE LIGHT PLANT IS SO FEEBLE THAT IT CAN BE USED ONLY FOR FIVE HOURS A NIGHT, FROM 5:30 TO 10:30 P.M.

EVEN IN THE GOVERNOR'S PALACE, OR IN THE AMERICAN CONSULATE, OR NOW IN THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN MISSION, AFTER 10:30 P.M. WORK MUST BE CARRIED ON WITH FLASHLIGHTS OR KEROSENE LANTERNS.

DURING THREE YEARS OF VICHY RULE PRIOR TO THE MARCH 17 "REVOLUTION," THE COLONY'S RESIDENTS LIVED IN FEAR OF POLITICAL IMPRISONMENT AND SAW ITS LEADERS "DISAPPEAR" FOR PRO-ALLIED SENTIMENTS.

SOME 80 PERSONS WERE SENT TO DEVIL'S ISLAND FROM CAYENNE AND THE ANTILLES FOR OPPOSING VICHY'S POLICY OF COLLABORATION WITH THE NAZIS, ACCORDING TO CAYENNE RESIDENTS. BOTH GOVERNOR CHOT AND HIS SUCCESSOR, GOVERNOR RENE VEBER, WHO WAS EXPELLED FROM OFFICE BY THE REVOLT, RUTHLESSLY SUPPRESSED ANY EXPRESSION OF THE COLONY'S OVERWHELMING SYMPATHY FOR GENERAL DE GAULLE AND THE ALLIES.

ONE OF THE FIRST ACTS OF THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT, WHICH

30-24-5201

30-24-5201

TOOK CONTROL OF CAYENNE FOLLOWING GOVERNOR VEBER'S EXPULSION, WAS TO SEND A SHIP TO DEVIL'S ISLAND TO FREE THESE PRISONERS, SOME OF WHOM HAD BEEN LOCKED UP FOR TWO YEARS.

NOT ALL COULD BE RELEASED, HOWEVER, AS SOME HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED TO MARTINIQUE AND GUADELOUPE WHERE ADMIRAL GEORGES ROBERT'S REGIME HAS KEPT THEM LOCKED IN THE HOLDS OF ANCHORED FRENCH WARSHIPS.

JUN 20 1943

PERSONS KNOWN FOR PRO-ALLIED FEELINGS WERE TAKEN FROM THEIR BEDS AT MIDNIGHT, PLACED UNDER IMMEDIATE ARREST, AND, IN MANY CASES, SENT DIRECTLY TO DEVIL'S ISLAND WITHOUT ANY TRIAL WHATSOEVER. EVEN PERSONS SUCH AS M. COURBAIN, BROTHER-IN-LAW OF THE DE GAULLE GOVERNOR OF CHAD TERRITORY, WEREMNOT SAFE. ALTHOUGH COURBAIN SAID NOTHING IN PUBLIC, HIS RELATIONSHIP TO A DE GAULLE GOVERNOR WAS CONSIDERED SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO SEND HIM TO DEVIL'S ISLAND, WHERE HE REMAINED UNTIL BEING TRANSFERRED TO GAUDELOUPE.

BEST KNOWN OF THE POLITICAL PRISONERS WHO WERE FREED WITH THE MARCH 17 CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT WERE PAUL VALENTINO, HEAD OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY ON GUADELOUPE AND COUNCILLOR-GENERAL OF POINTE-A-PITRE, AND F. AUGEREAU LARA, GUADELOUPE NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED, BOTH OF WHOM WERE SENT TO THE ISLAND FROM GUADELOUPE. THEY ARE NOW IN GUIANA RENDERING VALUABLE SERVICE BY THEIR ADVICE ON THE COURSE OF PUBLIC OPINION WITHIN MARTINIQUE AND GUADELOUPE.

LARA SAID HE WAS INTERNED IN 1941 FOR REFUSING TO ASSIST A PRESS CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE UNITED STATES ON ORDERS FROM GOVERNOR SORIN.

AS THE WAR DRAGGED ON AFTER THE FALL OF FRANCE AND VICHY'S COURSE BECAME MORE PRO-GERMAN, UNREST AND DISSATISFACTION MOUNTED IN CAYENNE, AMONG BOTH THE POPULATION AND THE YOUNGER WHITE FRENCH OFFICIALS.

THE POPULATION--MOSTLY BLACK OR MULATTO--FEARED THE EFFECT OF NAZI RACE THEORIES ON THEIR FUTURE STANDING, WHILE THE OFFICIALS FEARED THE EFFECT OF COLLABORATION WITH GERMANY ON THEIR COUNTRY'S FUTURE POSITION IN WORLD AFFAIRS.

HENCE, TOWARD THE END, ARRESTS CAME FAST AND THICK UNTIL THE SUDDEN OVERTURN WHICH HAS ENDED, AT LEAST FOR THE DURATION, THE ROLE OF DEVIL'S ISLAND AS A CELL FOR POLITICAL PRISONERS.

RESIDENTS OF CAYENNE, HALF-STARVED AND BROW-BEATEN UNDER VICHY'S RULE, HAD THEIR FIRST OCCASION IN THREE YEARS TO CELEBRATE WHEN THE ALLIES CAPTURED TUNISIA, AND THEY TOOK FULL ADVANTAGE OF IT.

JEAN RAPENNE, GIRAUD'S NEW GOVERNOR, PROCLAIMED A "JOUR DE FETE" ON MAY 15. ALL CAYENNE TOOK A HOLIDAY AND OBSERVED THE DAY WITH RELIGIOUS CEREMONIES AND SPORTING EVENTS. SPIRITS SOARED. THE TRICOLORE, AND ALLIED FLAGS, FLEW FROM ALMOST EVERY HOUSE.

A CROWD IN FRONT OF THE AMERICAN CONSULATE SHOUTED "VIVE LES AMERICAINS".

JUN 20 1943

THE FRENCH IN CAYENNE, IT WAS EVIDENT, WANT TO SEE ALL FRENCHMEN UNIFIED TO FIGHT SIDE BY SIDE WITH THE ALLIES.

NEW HOMES.

ADD MADRID

REDUCED TO ITS SIMPLEST TERMS THE SPANISH GOVERNMENT'S PLAN OPERATES SOMETHING LIKE THIS:

JUN 20 1943

DON SEGISMUNDO CASERO, OWNER OF AN APARTMENT HOUSE ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF MADRID, HAD ONLY THE SHELL OF A BUILDING LEFT AFTER THE CIVIL WAR. HE HAD NO INCOME WHATSOEVER DURING THE THREE YEARS AND NO CASH FOR REPAIRS. HE CALLED ON THE CREDIT INSTITUTE FOR NATIONAL RECONSTRUCTION, A BRANCH OF THE DEVASTATED REGIONS OFFICE.

ENGINEERS VISITED HIS HOUSE, EMERGED WITH AN ESTIMATE OF THE RECONSTRUCTION COST, AND THE INSTITUTE ADVANCED THE MONEY IMMEDIATELY ON A 3 PER CENT 20-YEAR LOAN. THE SOLE PROVISO IS THAT DON SEGISMUNDO MUST MAKE HIS BUILDING CONFORM WITH THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE INSTITUTE IN CONNECTION WITH SANITATION AND HEALTH - MORE BATHROOMS AND MORE WINDOWS, MORE GARDEN SPACE AND BETTER HEATING, MINIMUM RENTS.

THE INSTITUTE HAS ALREADY GRANTED SOME $30,000,000 (300,000,000 PESETAS) IN LOANS FOR SUCH REPAIRS AND ITS SPECIALISTS HAVE HELPED IN THE RECONSTRUCTION OF MANY BUILDINGS WHICH REQUIRED NO LOANS.

SO MUCH FOR THE CITY PROPERTY OWNERS.

JUN 20 1943

OUT IN THE VILLAGE OF TORREVILLA, JOSE FERNANDEZ, FARM LABORER, LIVED WITH HIS WIFE AND THREE CHILDREN IN THE ONE-ROOM HOME OF HIS FATHER WITH SEVERAL OTHER RELATIVES AND THE FAMILY PIG.

A SHELL LANDED IN THE FRONT YARD AND A WALL COLLAPSED. FERNANDEZ MOVED IN WITH RELATIVES WHERE CONDITIONS WERE BAD DUE TO OVERCROWDING.

IN 1940 THE FERNANDEZ VILLAGE, LIKE 181 OTHERS BATTERED BY THE WAR, WAS "ADOPTED" BY FRANCO. WITHIN A YEAR JOSE FERNANDEZ HAD MOVED INTO A NEW HOUSE RAISED ON THE SITE OF THE OLD. IT COST JOSE NOTHING MORE THAN A FEW MOMENTS IN THE MAYOR'S OFFICE WHERE HE SCRAWLED HIS INITIALS AT THE BOTTOM OF A LONG DOCUMENT WHICH THE MAYOR READ TO HIM AND WHICH TALKED OF "RECONSTRUCTION AS WAR COMPENSATION" AND "COST TO BE BORN BY THE STATE".

JOSE'S FRIEND, PEDRO PEREZ, LIVED IN A VILLAGE NEARBY WHICH WAS NOT "ADOPTED". THE PREZ HOUSE HAD BEEN HIT SQUARELY BY A BOMB AND THERE WAS NOTHING LEFT TO REBUILD ON.

ENGINEERS OF THE DEVASTATED REGION OFFICE PUT LOCAL CONTRACTORS TO WORK ON A NEW HOUSE, FOLLOWING GOVERNMENT PLANS.

PEDRO MOVED INTO A HOUSE WHICH COST THE STATE ABOUT $3,000 TO BUILD, BUT WHICH COSTS HIM IN RENT ONLY FIVE DAYS WORK EACH MONTH - WHEN HE'S WORKING. THAT'S 40 PESETAS (ABOUT $4) PER MONTH OR LESS; FOR FARM LABORERS IN SPAIN GET ABOUT 8 PESETAS PER DAY.

THERE AGAIN THE STATE TAKES A LOSS. IN THE RECONSTRUCTION OF WAR-DAMAGED HOUSES AND THE BUILDING OF NEW HOMES TO REPLACE THOSE COMPLETELY DESTROYED THE REGIONES DEVASTADAS ORGANIZATION HAS ALREADY SPENT SOME $30,000,000.

JUN 20 1943

OTHER TOWNS FAR FROM THE WAR ZONES BENEFIT FROM SPAIN'S HOUSING PROGRAM.

TAKE VISO DEL MARQUES, IN CIUDAD REAL PROVINCE - 6,000 PEASANT INHABITANTS, A CHURCH, AND A LITTLE CITY HALL ON THE SQUARE, WHERE THE MAYOR CALLED THE CITIZENS TOGETHER LATE IN 1940.

"THIS CITY GOVERNMENT," SHOUTS THE MAYOR DRAMATICALLY, "WANTS TO KNOW HOW MANY OF ITS CITIZENS WANT A NEW HOUSE OF THEIR OWN, A MODERN HOUSE WITH ELECTRIC LIGHT ...."

THE MAYOR HAS A HARD TIME TELLING HIS STORY, BUT SOONER OR LATER HE GETS TWENTY OR THIRTY SIGNATURES FROM WORKING FARMERS WHO SAY....

"AFTER ALL, WE RISK NOTHING...."

EXPERTS FROM THE HOUSING INSTITUTE COME TO TOWN WITH PLANS ALREADY APPROVED FOR 25 HOMES EACH OF WHICH WILL COST ABOUT $3,600 (30,000 PESETAS).

JUN 20 1943

1943

30-24-5203

30-24-5203

THE EXPERTS WORRY ABOUT THINGS THE INHABITANT OF VISO DEL MARQUES HAD NEVER CONSIDED - FIRE PRECAUTIONS, VENTILATION, SPACE WITHIN EACH ROOM, HEIGHT OF CEILINGS, EVEN COMMUNAL BATH AND WASHING FACILITIES AND PENS OUTSIDE FOR THE LIVESTOCK.

THE NEW OCCUPANTS OF THE HOMES HAD TO PAY 3,000 PESETAS ($300) DOWN. THEY COULD PAY IT IN CASH OR THEY COULD PAY IT IN LAND.

AFTER THE DOWN PAYMENT THEY WERE EXPECTED TO PAY THE INCOME FROM SIX WORKING DAYS A MONTH AS RENT.

BY THE END OF FEBRUARY, 1943, THE INSTITUTE HAD BUILT 6,747 HOMES OF THIS TYPE WITH 13,344 UNDER CONSTRUCTION, AND HAD PLANS FOR A THOUSAND MORE.

JUN 20 1943

IN ADDITION TO THE VARIOUS HOUSING PLANS THE DEVASTATED REGIONS OFFICE HAS SPENT 15,149,340 PESETAS ON THE REPAIR OF CHURCHES AND CHURCH PROPERTY DESTROYED OR DAMAGED IN THE WAR. THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT SPENT MORE THAN 12,000,000 PESETAS IN GIFTS FOR SIMILAR WORK ON CHURCH PROPERTY.

AT THE PRESENT WRITING MORE THAN 43,000 PERSONS ARE EMPLOYED BY THE TWO AGENCIES IN ACTUAL CONSTRUCTION WORK, NOT INCLUDING EMPLOYES OF THE MANY SUBCONTRATORS TO WHOM HOUSING CONSTRUCTION IS "FARMED OUT".

IN ADDITION TO 10,471 HOUSING UNITS REPAIRED AND 1,939 NEW BUILDINGS COMPLETED, THE GENERAL DIRECTORATE OF DEVASTATED REGIONS HAS THE FOLLOWING NEW AND RECONSTRUCTED BUILDINGS TO ITS CREDIT: 31 ASYLUMS AND HOSPITALS, 4 CITY HALLS, 10 MUNICIPAL WATER AND SEWER SYSTEMS, 8 CEMETERIES, 10 MONASTERIES AND CONVENTS, 9 POSTOFFICE BUILDINGS, 12 ARMY BARRACKS, 47 WRECKING AND CLEARING CONTRACTS, 25 FARM BUILDINGS, 92 SCHOOLS, 45 CHURCHES, 6 SLAUGHTERHOUSES, 5 MARKETS, AND 12 STATE-OWNED BUILDINGS. FORMERLY ROYAL PROPERTY.

THE DEVASTATED REGIONS OFFICE DIRECTS BIG PROGRAMS WHICH FREQUENTLY CONCERN THE RECONSTRUCTION OF WHOLE CITIES LIKE OVIEDO AND TOLEDO, OR THE BUILDING OF ENTIRELY NEW TOWNS NEAR THE RUINS OF THE OLD AS IN BRUNETE WEST OF MADRID, BELCHITE SOUTH OF ZARAGOZA AND GUERNICA, EAST OF BILBAO.

JUN 20 1943

THE HOUSING INSTITUTE, HOWEVER, IS CONCERNED ONLY WITH LIVING QUARTERS. IT IS LESS CONCERNED WITH WAR DAMAGED BUILDINGS AND MORE WITH MOVING POOR SPANIARDS OUT OF CAVES OR ANCIENT, UNSANITARY DWELLINGS INTO MORE SUITABLE QUARTERS.

IT COOPERATES CLOSELY WITH OTHER STATE ORGANIZATIONS -- THE RECOLONIZATION INSTITUTE FOR WHICH IT BUILDS HOUSES IN FARM REGIONS DESERTED FOR CENTURIES, THE HOUSING DIVISION OF THE PHALANGE PARTY SYNDICATES OR LABOR ORGANIZATIONS, FOR WHICH IT BUILDS LOW COST BLOCK UNITS IN INDUSTRIAL AREAS.

THE INSTITUTE MAKES NO CONTRACTS WITH INDIVIDUALS WHO WANT NEW HOUSES, BUT ONLY WITH MUNICIPALITIES, PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS, PRIVATE INDUSTRIES OR GROUPS OF SYNDICATED FACTORY OR FARM WORKERS. FURTHERMORE THE RESIDENTS IN INSTITUTE HOMES MUST CONFORM TO INSTITUTE RULES.

MOST OF THEM ARE SIMPLE ENOUGH.

INSTITUTE HOUSES OR APARTMENTS MUST HAVE A MINIMUM OF THREE BEDROOMS WITH A KITCHEN-DINING ROOM AND AN INDEPENDENT WATERCLOSET.

THE KITCHEN-DINGROOM, WHICH USUALLY BECOMES THE LIVING ROOM TOO FOR THE OCCUPANTS OF THE HOUSE OR APARTMENT, MUST BE AT LEAST 16 SQUARE METERS LARGE (19 SQUARE YARDS).

NO BEDROOM MAY HAVE A COMMUNICATING DOOR WITH ANOTHER BEDROOM AND NO SINGLE BEDROOM MAY BE SMALLER THAN 16 SQUARE METERS.

THOSE WHO LIVE IN INSTITUTE HOMES MAY NOT PUT A BED IN THE

JUN 20 1943

KITCHEN-DININGROOM NOR USE ANY ROOM FOR ANY OTHER PURPOSE THAN THAT FOR WHICH IT WAS BUILD.

NO FARM ANIMALS ARE TO BE PERMITTED TO ENTER THE RURAL HOUSING UNITS, MUCH LESS SLEEP IN THEM AS THEY FREQUENTLY DO IN THE OLD ADOBE VILLAGES OF POOR RURAL DISTRICTS.

MAXIMUM CONSTRUCTION PRICE OF INSTITUTE APARTMENTS OR HOMES IS 30,000 PESETAS ($3,000) AND THE RENT CHARGES TO ITS OCCUPANTS MAY NOT EXCEED 20 PER CENT OF THEIR SALARIED INCOME.

INSTITUTE HOUSING BLOCKS OR COLONIES IN RURAL COMMUNITIES MUST HA A SPECIAL BATH HOUSE WITH ONE SHOWER FOR EVERY FIFTEEN WORKERS LIVING IN THE HOUSES. THAT'S A STARTLING DEVELOPMENT FOR FARM WORKERS IN MOST SPANISH VILLAGES, WHERE THE ONLY PLACE FOR A BATH WAS FREQUENTLY THE NEAREST RIVER.

JUN 20 1943

B47

BOTH THE INSTITUTE AND THE DEVASTATED REGIONS OFFICE FEEL THAT MOST OF THEIR WORK LIES BEFORE THEM. SPAIN'S NATIONAL DIRECTOR OF ARCHITECTURE, PEDRO MUGURUZA OTANO, AGREES.

"TO SETTLE THE PROBLEM OF THE SUBURBS OF MADRID ALONE FROM 250,000,000 TO 300,000,000 PESETAS MUST BE SPENT" HE SAID IN A RECENT LECTURE.

"AND TO MEET THE HOUSING NEEDS OF ALL SPAIN THE NATION SHOULD SPEND 3,000,000 PESETAS EVERY DAY FOR 25 YEARS AT THE PRESENT PURCHASING POWER OF THE PESETA -- IN OTHER WORDS 27,375,000,000 PESETAS (ABOUT $2,700,000,000)."

TOTAL LABOR MOBILIZATION IN NORWAY HAS BEEN A MUDDLE AND A FAILURE SO FAR. THE GERMANS HOPED TO GET 20,000 PERSONS, MOSTLY FROM OSLO AND THE SOUTHEASTERN AREA, BY APRIL 15. THEY HAD FEWER THAN 6,000 FOR ALL OF NORWAY BY MAY 15.

JUN 20 1943

AN EXPLOSION AND FIRE IN THE OSLO HEADQUARTERS ON APRIL 20 DESTROYED MOST OF THE MOBILIZATION RECORDS. THAT OCCURRED AFTER THE NORWEGIANS LEARNED THEY WOULD BE REQUIRED TO WORK ON MILITARY PROJECTS INSTEAD OF ON FARMS OR IN THE FORESTS AS WAS FIRST SUPPOSED.

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND PERSONS NOT ALREADY WORKING ON NAZI PROJECTS OR ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES REGISTERES AND THE GERMANS HOPED AT FIRST THAT THEY MIGHT GET 100,000 ADDITIONAL WORKERS FROM THE GROUP. BY MAY 7 ONLY 3,500 PERSONS HAD ACTUALLY BEEN PUT TO WORK.

BECAUSE OF THE LACK OF TRANSPORT FACILITIES, THE GERMANS PACKED THEM INTO FREIGHT CARS FOR THE SLOW TRIP TO FAR NORTHERN AREAS. BY SUCH SHIFTING THEY HOPED TO BREAK UP THE UNDERGROUND. THEY HAVE ALSO DECREED THE DEATH PENALTY FOR NORWEGIANS CAUGHT ATTEMPTING TO ESCAPE INTO SWEDEN.

DESPITE ALL OF THESE MOVES THE NORWEGIANS HAVE STOUTLY MAINTAINED THEIR PASSIVE RESISTANCE AND HAVE NOTICED RECENTLY THAT THE GERMANS AND THE QUISLINGS HAVE TAKEN A MORE RESTRAINED ATTITUDE IN INFLICTING PUNITIVE MEASURES. THERE HAVE BEEN FEWER MARTIAL LAW DECREES THAN A YEAR AGO.

INSTEAD OF ACCEPTING THE POLICY AS A PROGRESSIVE STEP BY QUISLING, THE NORWEGIANS VIEW IT AS A FURTHER WEAKNESS OF THE OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES. THEY HAVE SEEN THE TOTAL LABOR MOBILIZATION AS AN ELEVENTH HOUR MOVE THAT INDICATED THE DESPERATION OF HITLER'S SITUATION AND AS POINTING THE WAY TO A QUICKER END OF NORWEGIAN OPPRESSION.

JUN 20 1943

SUCH A DISLOCATION OF BUSINESS LIFE WOULD HAVE BEEN UNDERTAKEN BY THE NAZIS ONLY AS A DESPERATE EFFORT TO UNCORK A VICTORY PUNCH WITHIN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS, RELIABLE NORWEGIAN OBSERVERS FELT.

"AND WHEN THE NORWEGIANS ASK THEMSELVES WHETHER THE GERMANS REALLY CAN WIN IN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS THEY SEE NO POSSIBILITY," SAID ONE NORWEGIAN WITH CLOSE CONNECTIONS IN THE COUNTRY.

JUN 20 1943

THERE WERE QUITE A FEW KINKS WHICH HAD TO BE IRONED OUT BEFORE BELLHOPS, CLERKS, TRADESMEN, BOOKKEEPERS, BANKERS AND BROKERS--ANY ONE NOT REGARDED AS ALREADY ENGAGED IN AN ESSENTIAL WAR INDUSTRY--WERE DRAFTED FROM THEIR JOBS FOR WARPLANTS AND WORK ON FORTIFICATION CONSTRUCTION.

IN SOUTHERN NORWAY, THOUSANDS OF BOGUS MOBILIZATION FORMS WERE FILLED OUT BY NORWEGIANS. IN OSLO ALONE BLANKS POURED IN BEARING THE NAMES OF 20,000 OLSENS. IN NORTHERN NORWAY THE REGISTRATION WAS DELAYED BY THE SINKING OF THE S.S.BODO, CARRYING THE BLANKS.

SEVERE FOOD RATIONING HAS ALSO CUT WORKER EFFICIENCY AND LED TO ILL HEALTH WHICH HAS FORCED 15 TO 25 PER CENT OF THE LABORERS TO STAY HOME, ACCORDING TO THE ILLEGAL NEWSPAPER "FRI TAGBEVEGELSE" (FREE TRADE UNIONS).

NORWEGIANS SHIFTED FROM THE TYPE OF WORK THEY KNOW TO AN ENTIRELY NEW KIND ARE ALSO TAKING THEIR TIME ABOUT LEARNING THE NEW TECHNIQUES.

30.24-5205

30.24-5205

BY WILLIAM MC GAFFIN

(ADVANCE)-MOSCOW JUNE 19-(AP)-AFTER BATTLING THROUGH TWO YEARS OF THE HARDEST WAR PEOPLE EVER HAVE BEEN COMPELLED TO FIGHT, THE RUSSIANS ARE CONFIDENT THAT THEY AND THEIR ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIES WILL COMPLETE THE DESTRUCTION OF THE TEUTON AGGRESSOR BEFORE ANOTHER ANNIVERSARY ROLLS AROUND.

JUN 20 1943

THAT IS WHAT THEY THOUGHT LAST YEAR, TOO. BUT THIS YEAR THERE IS EVERY REASON TO BELIEVE THAT THEIR CONFIDENCE WILL BE BORNE OUT. THE GREAT VICTORIES BY BOTH THE ALLIES AND THE RUSSIANS IN THE LAST YEAR PLUS ENCOURAGING WORDS UTTERED BY JOSEPH STALIN IN HIS MAY DAY ORDER OF THE DAY HAVE BOOSTED THEIR CONFIDENCE TO A HIGHER POINT, PERHAPS, THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE HITLER ATTACKED THAT SUNDAY DAWN ON JUNE 22 TWO YEARS AGO.

LAUDING THE ALLIES AS NEVER BEFORE, STALIN ON MAY DAY TOLD THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE THAT THE AMERICANS AND BRITISH WERE GOING TO FOLLOW UP THE AFRICAN SUCCESSES BY OPENING A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE.

SHORTLY AFTER STALIN'S REMARKS APPEARED, YANKS, TOMMIES AND FRENCH SOLDIERS FINISHED KNOCKING THE AXIS OUT OF AFRICA AND NOW, HAVING JUST TAKEN PANTELLERIA, ARE POISED FOR THE LONG AWAITED INVASION OF THE CONTINENT WHICH RUSSIANS HOPE AND EXPECT WILL COME ANY DAY.

AS A PRELUDE TO THE INVASION, ANGLO-AMERICAN AIR FORCES ARE NOW BOMBING GERMANY AND ITALY BY DAY AND BY NIGHT IN AN AERIAL OFFENSIVE MORE TERRIBLE THAN THE WORST THE GERMAN AIR FORCE COULD ACCOMPLISH.

JUN 20 1943

ON THEIR OWN LEDGER THE RUSSIANS PROUDLY CITE THE MONUMENTAL DEFENSE OF STALINGRAD AND THE TERRIFIC WINTER COUNTER-OFFENSIVE THAT FREED A THOUSAND TOWNS AND WON BACK 130,000 SQUARE KILOMETERS OF SOVIET SOIL.

"TWO OR THREE MORE BLOWS FROM THE WEST AND THE EAST SUCH AS WE INFLICTED DURING THE PAST FIVE OR SIX MONTHS" ARE REQUIRED TO BREAK THE BACK OF THE "FASCIST BEAST," SAID STALIN. HE TOLD THE RED ARMY, "YOU HAVE THE WEAPONS FOR VICTORY."

JUN 20 1943

"GO TO IT," HE SAID IN EFFECT.

RUSSIANS KNOW THAT MANY OF THE WEAPONS THEIR ARMIES ARE USING COME FROM THE UNITED STATES AND ENGLAND IN EVER INCREASING SHIPMENTS THROUGH THE PERSIAN GULF AND MURMANSK.

THE RUSSIANS, AT THE SAME TIME, HAVE ACHIEVED SENSATIONAL SUCCESS IN STEPPING UP PRODUCTION OF THEIR OWN WEAPONS, ACCORDING TO RELIABLE TECHNICIANS. EVACUATED FACTORIES NOW ARE REPORTED WORKING EFFICIENTLY IN NEW HOMES HUNDREDS OF MILES AWAY IN THE URALS AND OTHER EASTERN SECTORS. THE ENTIRE AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY HAS BEEN REORGANIZED DRASTICALLY AND ASSEMBLY LINE TECHNIQUE IS MAKING MASS PRODUCTION POSSIBLE.

THUS, WITH NEW WEAPONS AND GREAT CONFIDENCE, THE RUSSIANS ENTER WHAT IS EXPECTED TO BE THE DECISIVE SUMMER OF THE WAR. IN BOTH PREVIOUS YEARS THEY GAVE DEEPLY OF MOTHER RUSSIA'S BROAD STEPPES, BUT EVENTUALLY BROUGHT THE GERMAN JUGGERNAUT TO A STANDSTILL, EXACTING AN AWFUL PENALTY. BOTH SUMMERS SAW THEM ASTONISH THE WORLD BY ACHIEVING THE "IMPOSSIBLE."

DURING THE FIRST SUMMER THEY BLEW UP THE LEGEND OF NAZI INVINCIBILITY, STOPPING 170 DIVISIONS IN A BLITZKRIEG FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE HITLER STARTED THE MARCH THAT LEFT HIM UNDISPUTED MASTER OF EUROPE.

THEY LOST CITIES--SMOLENSK JULY 16, DNIEPROPETROVSK AUGUST 26, KIEV OCT. 22--BUT THEY SAVED MOSCOW AND LENINGRAD AND THE CAUCASUS OIL FIELDS.

JUN 20 1943

WHEN WINTER CAME THE REDS TOOK THE OFFENSIVE. IN 40-BELOW ZERO WEATHER, WITH SNOW 18 TO 30 INCHES DEEP, THEY DEMONSTRATED FOR THE FIRST TIME THEIR SUPERIORITY OVER THE GERMANS AS WINTER WARRIORS. THE RECAPTURED ROSTOV NOV.30, PROTECTING THE CAUCUSUS; RETOOK TIKHVIN DEC.10, RELIEVING LENINGRAD; AND ROLLED THE GERMANS BACK FROM MOSCOW, RETURNING TO KLIN DEC.14, KALUGA DEC.30 AND MOJHAISK JAN.1.

THE OFFENSIVE THAT SAVED MOSCOW BEGAN DEC.6 WHEN THE GERMANS WERE WITHIN 17 KILOMETERS OF THE CITY'S GATES.

WHEN THE SPRING THAWS HALTED THE ACTIVITY THE RUSSIANS HAD REGAINED ABOUT ONE-FIFTH OF THE TERRITORY TAKEN BY THE GERMANS.

THE GERMANS RECAPTURED THE INITIATIVE EARLY IN MAY WHEN THEY ATTACKED KERCH PENINSULA, OCCUPYING THE EASTERN ARM OF CRIMEA AND MASSING FORCES OPPOSITE ROSTOV. THE RUSSIANS, HOWEVER, HIT BACK ON THE KHARKOV FRONT MAY 12. AT THE BEGINNING OF JUNE, THE GERMANS AGAIN ATTACKED CRIMEA, ATTEMPTING TO REDUCE SEVASTOPOL AT THE SAME TIME AND LAUNCHED AN ATTACK ON THE KHARKOV FRONT.

THE SECOND SUMMER OF THE WAR SAW THE RUSSIANS AGAIN TAKING IT ON THE CHIN BEFORE OVERWHELMING NUMBERS OF MASSIVE MECHANIZED EQUIPMENT. JULY 3 THE FALL OF SEVASTOPOL WAS ANNOUNCED AFTER ONE OF THE GREATEST SIEGE BATTLES IN HISTORY. THE SAME DAY THE GERMANS WERE POUNDING HARD AT THE CENTRAL FRONT. FOUR DAYS LATER THE GERMANS CAPTURED KURSK, CROSSED THE DON AND OCCUPIED HALF OF VORONEZH. BY JULY 12 THE GERMANS HAD LISICHANSK, 200 MILES SOUTH OF VORONEZH, AND WERE GRAVELY MENACING THE NORTH CAUCUSUS.

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5207

30-24-5207

THE GERMANS BEGAN PUSHING DOWN THE DON VALLEY BETWEEN THE DON AND DONETZ RIVERS. THEY HOPED TO CAPTURE STALINGRAD AND CUT COMMUNICATIONS IN NORTH AND SOUTH RUSSIA, THEN SPLIT INTO TWO GIGANTIC FORKS WITH ONE SWINGING IN ON MOSCOW FROM THE EAST AND THE OTHER BREAKING THROUGH TO THE CAUCUSUS OIL FIELDS.

ON JULY 14, THE GERMANS ON THE CENTRAL FRONT ALREADY WERE IN POSSESSION OF RZHEV AND OPENED THE OFFENSIVE--ANOTHER THREAT TO MOSCOW.

JUN 20 1943

IN THE NEXT FEW WEEKS IMPORTANT CITIES LIKE VOROSHILOVGRAD AND ROSTOV FELL AS THE GERMANS DUG DEEPER INTO THE CAUCUSUS. FINALLY, THEY ARRIVED AT THE GATES OF STALINGRAD AND THE AWFUL SIEGE BEGAN. THE OTHER GERMAN FORK, MEANWHILE, SLASHED DEEPER AND DEEPER INTO THE CAUCUSUS UNTIL IT REACHED MOZDOK AND NALCHIK.

THE GERMANS CAPTURED THE MAIKOP OIL FIELDS AND DROVE WITHIN 35 MILES OF THE GROZNY WELLS, COMING SO NEAR THEY WERE ABLE TO PARALYZE OPERATIONS BY VICIOUS BOMBING RAIDS. IT WAS ONLY BY THE HEROIC EFFORTS OF THE RUSSIANS THAT THEY WERE ABLE TO EXTINGUISH INCENDIARIES.

THE GERMANS WERE ONLY 40 MILES FROM THE CASPIAN SEA.

MEANWHILE, AT STALINGRAD THEY WERE CLOSING IN ON THE CITY FROM THREE SIDES AFTER HAVING OVERRUN THE KUBAN AND DON STEPPES, IN WHICH LIES SOME OF THE RICHEST FARMING LAND IN THE ENTIRE SOVIET UNION. CONTROLLING THE VOLGA AT STALINGRAD, THEY SUCCEEDED IN SEVERING VITAL RED COMMUNICATIONS FOR MILES ALONG THE RIVER.

THE RUSSIANS WON THE ADMIRATION OF AN AMAZED WORLD BY THEIR HEROIC DEFENSE OF STALINGRAD, HALF OF WHICH WAS IN GERMAN HANDS.

THEN WITH THE RETURN OF THEIR ALLY--THE RUSSIAN WINTER--THEY TOOK THE OFFENSIVE ONCE AGAIN.

FROM NOV. 10, 1942, TO MARCH 31, 1943, THEY RECAPTURED TOWNS IN THE CAUCUSUS AND KUBAN AT A RATE OF A DOZEN A DAY, PUSHING THE GERMANS INTO SUCH A RAPIDLY ROLLING SNOWBALL OF RETREAT THAT THEY HAD DIFFICULTY KEEPING UP WITH THEM.

THEY DROVE THE GERMANS COMPLETELY OUT OF STALINGRAD AND MANY OTHER AREAS.

JUN 20 1943

THREE ENEMY SPRINGBOARDS ON THE CENTRAL FRONT--RZHEV, GZHATSK AND VIAZMA--ALL WERE LIQUIDATED AND THE BLOCKADE THE GERMANS MAINTAINED AT STALINGRAD FOR A YEAR AND A HALF WAS BROKEN.

IN FRONT OF MOSCOW, THE GERMANS WERE HURLED BACK 60 PRECIOUS MILES, GIVING THE SOVIET CAPITAL VALUABLE BREATHING SPACE.

RUSSIAN MILITARY TACTICS WERE EXEMPLIFIED AT STALINGRAD. DISREGARDING THE FACT THAT THE CITY SEEMED HOPELESSLY LOST, THE RUSSIANS CONTINUED TO FIGHT ON DEFENSIVELY FOR STRATEGIC REASONS, AND WHEN THE TIME WAS RIPE THEY PROVED THEY COULD REALLY TURN ON THE HEAT.

OTHER RUSSIAN ACCOMPLISHMENTS WHICH PARTICULARLY IMPRESSED MILITARY OBSERVERS WERE:

1. THE SUCCESSFUL EVACUATION OF WAR INDUSTRIES--A TREMENDOUS PROBLEM--WHILE STILL CARRYING ON THE WAR.

2. THE SUCCESSFUL BRIDGING AND TRANSITION PERIOD IN WHICH THE TROOPS WERE TRAINED TO USE NEW AND COMPLICATED ANGLO-AMERICAN LEASE-LEND EQUIPMENT.

3. DESPITE A SERIES OF GRAVE DEFEATS, THE MAINTENANCE OF STIFF MORALE.

JUN 20 1943

AT THE END OF THE SECOND YEAR OF THE WAR THE FRONT LINE RUNS ROUGHLY FROM LENINGRAD SOUTH TO KHOLM, SLIGHTLY SOUTHWEST TO A POINT ABOUT 10 MILES WEST OF VELIKIE LUKI, SOUTHEAST TO VELISH, SOUTHEAST TO A POINT MIDWAY BETWEEN YARTSEVO AND VIASMA, SOUTHEAST TO KIROV AND SOUTHEAST TO MTSENSK.

(ADVANCE) (AB) WASHINGTON, JUNE 19-(AP)-NINE NEW YORK MEMBERS OF THE 19TH BOMBARDMENT GROUP, WHICH WAS CITED FOUR TIMES FOR DISTINGUISHED ACTION AND SERVICE IN THE PACIFIC, HAVE BEEN AUTHORIZED TO WEAR THE BLUE CITATION DEVICE FRAMED IN GOLD LAUREL LEAVES, THE WAR DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCED TODAY.

JUN 20 1943

THEY ARE:

SGT.STANLEY L.KOREN, OF EAST WORCESTER.

SGT.WILLIAM FRAITAG, OF (23 MANHATTAN BOULEVARD) YONKERS.

TECH.SGT.ARTHUR A.DION, OF (21 LAFAYETTE STREET) BROOKLYN.

SGT.VICTOR C.NOAKE, OF (129 SAND STREET) BROOKLYN.

CORP. JOSEPH BUCKENBLATT, OF (333 ROEBLING STREET) BROOKLYN.

CORP.WALTER I.DECKER, OF TIVOLI.

CORP.CLIFTON H.HUNT, OF CANISTEA.

PVT. CARL H.CILBRITH, OF CLAYSVILLE.

PVT.BENJAMIN H.SHARP, OF (RFD 1) HOLCOMB.

THE 19TH BOMBARDMENT GROUP WAS IN THE PHILIPPINES WHEN THE WAR BEGAN AND SUBSEQUENTLY OPERATED FROM JAVA AND AUSTRALIA. TH GROUP, NOW BROKEN UP, PARTICIPATED IN THE CORAL SEA, MILNE BAY AND SOLOMONS BATTLES AND THE NEW GUINEA CAMPAIGN.

(ADVANCE)-(AB)-WASHINGTON, JUNE 19-(AP)-ALTHOUGH WOUNDED IN THE BACK, TECHNICAL SERGEANT CLYDE C.BUTTERFIELD, OF HUDSON FALLS,N.Y., STUCK TO HIS GUNS AND HELPED SHOOT DOWN SIX ENEMY PLANES AS HIS FLYING FORTRESS FOUGHT ITS WAY BACK TO ENGLAND FROM A RAID IN GERMANY.

JUN 20 1943

BUTTERFIELD WAS CITED TODAY IN AN OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE ALONG WITH FELLOW CREW MEMBERS OF THE U.S. 8TH AIR FORCE WHO TOOK PART IN THE BOMING OF GERMAN SUBMARINE CONSTRUCTION INSTALLATIONS AT FLENSBURG, GERMANY.

BUTTERFIELD AND ANOTHER WAIST GUNNER WERE WOUNDED BY A SHELL WHICH EXPLODED BETWEEN THEM.

RATTLESNAKE BOMBER BASE, PYOTE, TEX., JUNE 19-(AP)-MEMBERS OF THE 19TH BOMBARDMENT GROUP TODAY WERE AWARDED 65 MEDALS FOR HEROISM. THE GROUP FOUGHT IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC DURING THE FIR DAYS OF WAR.

THOSE RECEIVING THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS INCLUDED:

FIRST LIEUT.VIRGIL B.LINDSEY, WASHINGTON PARK, WASHINGTON, D.C.; MASTER SGTS.RALPH J.STILES, 12 FRONT ST., GLENDON, EASTON, PA., AND MEDDIE N. POIRIER, 17 MAPLE ST., WATERVILLE, MAINE; STAFF SGTS.ROBERT K.BARNARD, WEBB, IOWA; EARL W. CURTIS, 428 LOWELL ST., MANCHESTER, N.H.; KENNETH A. GRABLE, 514 EAST GANO AVE., ST.LOUIS; PVT.JOHN E.LILLBACK, 1128 E ST 34TH ST., BROOKLYN.

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5209

CAPT. ROBERT C. MILER (CQ) 411 3RD AVE., N, ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.; FIRST LIEUT. GLENN C. OSBOURNE, PERRY, N.Y.; MASTER SGT. JOHN H. LINDGREN, LANCASTER, MINN.; TECH. SGTS. THOMAS J. STEWART, 201 ADAMS ST., WILLIAMSPORT, IND., AND REGIS D. WEINFURTHER, 10 GENEVA ST., ETNA, PA.; STAFF SGT. DELBERT M. CLAIR, 35 FLORENCE AVE., BURGETTSTOWN, PA.

RECEIVING THE BRONZE OAK LEAF CLUSTER, IN ADDITION TO THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS PREVIOUSLY AWARDED:

STAFF SGT. GEORGE SWEEDAR, 53 W. RIDGE, NESQUEHONING, PA.; TECH. SGT. LEO H. FERRAGUTO, 82 N ST., MIDDLEBORO, MASS.

JUN 20 1943

RECEIVING THE SILVER STAR:

TECH. SGT. WALTER V. CHEEK, 114 GORDON ST., MONTGOMERY, ALA.; PVT. LILLBACK; FIRST LIEUT. OSBOURNE; TECH. SGT. GEORGE LAND, 429 E. 6TH, SUPERIOR, NEB.

RECEIVING THE BRONZE OAK LEAF CLUSTER IN ADDITION TO THE SILVER STAR PREVIOUSLY AWARDED:

CAPT. ERLING J. NOSSUM, MILNOR, N.D.; CAPT. PERCY M. HINTON, 849E. LIME, LAKELAND, FLA.

RECEIVING THE SOLDIER'S MEDAL:

CAPT. RICHARD C. HERNLUND, 2615 AGATITE, CHICAGO; MAJ. EDWARD C. HABBERSTAD, BLOOMING PRAIRIE, MINN.; CAPT. EDSON J. SPONABLE, JR., 246 CENTRAL ST., WATERTOWN, N.Y.; TECH. SGT. WILLIAM I. HAMILTON, 344 N. PITT, MERCER, PA.; STAFF SGT. JOSEPH C. WATESKI, 55 DENISON AVE., WYOMING, PA.

30-24-5209

DYERSBURG, TENN., JUNE 19-(AP)-TEN FLYING FORTRESS HEROES, MEMBERS OF THE FAMOUS 19TH BOMBARDMENT GROUP WHICH PRODUCED CAPT. COLIN KELLY, WERE DECORATED AT THE DYERSBURG ARMY AIR BASE TODAY FOR THEIR PART IN FIGHTING THE JAPS EARLY IN THE WAR.

THOSE DECORATED, ALL INSTRUCTORS NOW, INCLUDED:

JUN 20 1943

CAPT. RAYBURN WILKS OF CARUTHERSVILLE, MO., WHO WAS GIVEN AN OAK LEAF CLUSTER TO HIS FLYING MEDAL FOR NAVIGATING A BOMBER HOME "DESPITE WEATHER CONDITIONS SO UNFAVORABLE THAT HE COULD ONLY SEE THE GROUND ONCE ON THE 1,000-MILE FLIGHT."

TWO BROTHERS, MASTER SERGEANTS NORMAN BIEHN AND CARL BIEHN OF (1631 FOOT HILL BLVD.) OAKLAND, CALIF., BOTH OF WHOM WERE PRESENTED DFC'S AND AIR MEDALS FOR DUTY AS GUNNERS ON BOMBERS IN JAVA AND AUSTRALIA.

SECOND LT. DEAN M. ANHOLT OF (3054 BROADWAY) SAN DIEGO, WHO WAS AWARDED A DFC AND AIR MEDAL FOR "EXTRAORDINARY ACHIEVEMENT" ON BOMBING MISSIONS.

FIRST LT. WILLIAM A. BAILEY OF (RT. 3, BOX 185) OGDEN, UTAH, WHO RECEIVED AN AIR MEDAL FOR SKILL AND COURAGE AS A PILOT OVER GUADALCANAL.

JUN 20 1943

LE CREUSOT RAIDED; RAF BOMBS SMASH GREAT ARMS PLANT

3D WARTIME COAL STRIKE BEGUN AT MIDNIGHT; MINERS OFFER TO WORK FOR THE GOVERNMENT

BRITISH BLOCKBUSTERS DUMPED ON SCHNEIDER FACTORY AT LE CREUSOT

Flyers Make 700-Mile Round Trip To Deliver "Concentrated And Effective" Blow.

Day Raiders Attack Poix Airfield

JUN 21 1943

Bern, Switzerland, Monday, June 21 (AP)—An air alarm was sounded here early this morning, indicating that the RAF may be crossing the Alps for another attack on northern Italy. Alerts also were sounded at Zurich and Basel.

ERNEST AGNEW

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 20—Heavy British bombers struck another "concentrated and effective" blow at Hitler's war potential last night when they flew more than halfway across France to rain two and four ton blockbuster bombs on the huge Scneider armament works at Le Creusot, 170 miles southeast of Paris, it was announced today.

The Air Ministry reported that visibility over the sprawling 750-acre iron and steel works was good and that the bombers, which made a roundtrip of at least 700 miles, wrought maximum destruction on the plant which has been producing heavy guns, armor plate and locomotives for the German war machine.

The Le Creusot plant of Schneider & Co., more than a square mile in area, is the largest arms factory in France and is comparable to the great Krupp Works at Essen in its value to German war production. It is the largest and most important of all the plants of the Schneider cartel.

Attack Heavy, Vichy Says

The Vichy radio reported Le Creusot was "heavily attacked" and that "important damage to buildings and casualties were reported." A Paris broadcast said forty persons were known to have been killed in the raid and "many more are buried under the ruins."

Both Berlin and Vichy declared, without confirmation from Allied quarters, that American bombers also participated in the attack. A Nazi broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said bombs were dropped "haphazardly" and asserted, as usual, that damage was limited mainly to residential sections and hospitals.

Bombed Once Before

Le Creusot, situated just off the main line railway between Paris and Lyon, was bombed only once before, last October 17, when a force of seventy-four Lancasters skipped low across France in daylight to plaster the Schneider plant and return with the loss of only one ship.

Three planes were reported missing from last night's attack, indicating either that the raiding force was smaller than those employed in recent saturation assaults on the Ruhr or that the Nazis have installed far less elaborate defenses over their French war prizes than over their own workings. Two Nazi fighters were destroyed during the night.

Target Illuminated

Flyers returning from the raid reported that bright moonlight and flares added greatly to the effectiveness of the bombing. Almost no night fighters were encountered, they said, and anti-aircraft fire was light.

The lone American on the raid, Sergt. J. Moulesong, of Chicago, a member of the RAF, said he saw two bombs go through the roof of a large shed. Moulesong is the rear gunner of a Halifax.

"We arrived right at the beginning of the attack," he recounted. "Lots of other bombs were going down as we turned for home and, looking back three minutes after the attack started, I saw great clouds of white smoke coming up from the plant."

Many Explosions Seen

Other flyers reported numerous explosions among vital buildings, where even before the war 10,000 armament workers were employed.

The Air Ministry said the Nazis were known to have been busily repairing damage done in the previous raid on the works.

While the main body of the raiding force concentrated over Le Creusot, the Air Ministry said, others swung off to bomb an electrical transformer station at Mont Chanin, about five miles from the Schneider plant.

The Mont Chanin power station supplies the Schneider works with nearly all its power. Its destruction would have a profound effect on industry throughout that section of France.

"Nuisance Flights"

Targets in the Ruhr and in the Rhineland also were attacked, a communique said, but they were not identified and the German radio classed them as "isolated nuisance flights."

Mines were laid in enemy waters, while fighter planes ranged over France to rip airfields and railways and to shoot up coastal shipping, the Air Ministry said.

Large fighter formations, including many formidable new American Thunderbolts, were seen streaking across the Channel in sunlight today to swell the assault on Nazi communications.

Airfield Attacked

The chief daylight objective was the Poix airfield. Boston bombers attacked it effectively, the Air Ministry said, scoring hits on buildings and dispersal areas.

Typhoon and Spitfire fighters were reported to have damaged two enemy trawlers, a minesweeper, an escort vessel and two small patrol boats at a cost of four fighters.

Mosquitoes led last night's intruder raids, with one pilot knocking down a German fighter and a bomber and damaging a locomotive. Light bombers and fighters struck the Poix and Amiens airfields and attacked locomotives and patrol boats.

By contrast to the day and night campaign of the Allied air force against Germany and occupied countries, the best the German could do by way of retaliation was negligible.

A southeast coastal village was raided by a lone plane, which strafed the rooftops and caused one casualty.

Action By Government Is Expected to Send Men Back to Work This Week

Direct Negotiations Break Down Again

JUN 21 1943

Owners Report Deadlock on Portal-Pay Issue; Union Assails W. L. B.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The United Mine Workers tonight, in effect, invited Harold L. Ickes, Solid Fuels Administrator, to send the miners back to work as employees of the United States.

On the eve of another paralyzing strike of 554,000 miners in the bituminous coal fields the union asserted the willingness of its members to work for the government itself, under Mr. Ickes's direction.

The U. M. W. policy committee expressed willingness "to make any necessary sacrifice for the government," despite expiration at midnight tonight of the third truce in the prolonged mine wage controversy. Its statement came after negotiations between the union and the operators had broken down.

Any eleventh hour action of the government, while expected to be too late to keep the miners from stopping work tomorrow, was believed in informed quarters to insure their return to the pits later in the week.

Most Miners To Be Idle

There was no doubt that most if not all of the half million miners under U. M. W. contracts will be idle tomorrow. More than 57,000 already were out on week-end shifts, and others expressed the intention to do no work tomorrow.

[No miner scheduled for midnight shifts reported for work in West Virginia, the nation's largest bituminous state, the United Press said. The walkout will be general among the state's 130,000 miners on Monday's shifts, union spokesmen said.]

[Stoppage of work Monday in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania appeared inevitable as a result of the collapse of the soft coal negotiations. About 83,000 miners would be affected. Contract negotiations have been under way in New York for weeks, without result.]

Michael Straus, first Assistant Secretary of the Interior, said Mr. Ickes would have no statement or take no action tonight.

"We are advised that action this evening would have no effect on the first two shifts Monday," Mr. Straus explained. He said Mr. Ickes will stand by tomorrow to confer with union representatives in the hope of cutting short the shutdown.

It would be the third stoppage in the soft-coal fields since late in April. Mr. Ickes has been in control of the mines since May 1, when President Roosevelt, by executive order, took war-time control and appointed his Secretary of the Interior as operator of the pits.

Mr. Ickes had planned to leave Washington for Columbus, Ohio, tonight but canceled the trip when he learned of the union committee's action. However, he had not been informed officially and had no comment immediately.

JUN 21 1943

JUN 21 1943

Negotiations Break Down

Negotiations ended shortly after noon today, with the operators declaring "no possibility of agreement exists" in view of the union's unwillingness "to make a contract until their claim for portal-to-portal pay is satisfied."

The union's policy committee went into session at 4 p. m. and little more than an hour later issued a 750-word statement assailing the War Labor Board, charging bad faith in the negotiations and adding:

"We assert the willingness of the mine workers to work and continue the production of coal for the government itself, under the direction of the custodian of mines.

"The executive officers of the United Mine Workers of America are hereby instructed to hold themselves in readiness to confer with the Secretary of the Interior."

The union's statement, coming barely six hours before expiration groups of the Appalachian bituminous coal area have met with the United Mine Workers of America in conference on June 19 and 20 in an endeavor to resolve the findings contained in directive order No. 111-1284 of the National War Labor Board into a contract. We have been unable to reach any conclusion due to the fact that the United Mine Workers of America are unwilling to make a contract until their claim for portal-to-portal travel time is satisfied. The directive specifically denies this claim, and no possibility of agreement exists. The conference has adjourned sine die. We will continue to keep our mines open and prepared to operate under the terms of the directive."

The telegram was signed by the northern and southern groups of operators and the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association. A copy of the telegram went to Mr. Ickes.

Strikes in Effect

About a tenth of the workers affected already had gone on strike, having failed to report for duty Saturday, in what appeared to be the start of another widespread stoppage. The last one, ended two weeks ago, cost the nation 11,000,000 tons of coal.

The operators' statement that

30-24 - 5211

no agreement was possible under existing agreement, coupled with the miners' expressed willingness to work for the government itself, left little doubt that the government would have to state the terms of a return to work, in effect if not actually giving the mine union a contract.

But the union made it clear, while it was willing to order its men to work for the government, it considered impossible the contract proposed last week by the War Labor Board.

"No member and no officer of the U. M. W., it said, "would be so destitute of honor as to sign or execute such an infamous yellow-dog contract. The Congress has enacted no statute and the Constitution lacks any amendment to take from American citizens the right to refrain from participation in such a degrading act."

The union declared there is one major problem preventing settlement of the controversy—"compensation to the mine workers for travel time from mine portal to portal."

"A Federal statute and court decrees legalize such payment,' it said. "It has been the continuous position of the United Mine Workers of America that the War Labor Board could not resolve this question because it lacked jurisdiction. The latest decision of the board now proves the truth of this contention, and portal-to-portal pay becomes a negotiable problem subject to agreement by the parties affected."

Board for Court Action

The W. L. B. had said portal-to-portal was a matter for litigation if the union and operators could not agree on the issue. It also has refused the miners pay increases outside the "little steel" formula but has directed that the operators pay certain equipment costs formerly borne by miners, and raised vacation allowances.

The union said the operators, in three months of negotiations, had made no counteroffer to wage proposals originally advanced by the U. M. W. but that the U. M. W. had modified its proposals "until their present position constitutes a mere shell and shadow of their original proposals."

"The mine workers have no favors to grant the coal operators, nor the members of the War Labor Board, who have dishonored their trust, but will make any necessary sacrifice for the government, the well being of its citizens, the upholding of our flag and for the triumph of our war effort," the union said.

"Accordingly, the executive officers of the United Mine Workers of America are hereby instructed to hold themselves in readiness to confer with the Secretary of the Interior, who by Presidential executive order of May 1, 1943, is instructed and empowered 'to do all things necessary for or incidental to the production, sale and distribution of coal.'"

It was learned authoritatively that neither Mr. Lewis nor the operators made any new proposal in their week-end conferences, with Mr. Lewis refusing to recognize the authority of the W. L. B. and to sign a contract as directed by that agency.

The adamant stand of the U. M. W. president injected an important element into speculation whether President Roosevelt would sign the Connally-Smith war labor disputes bill. That measure would permit prosecution of persons accused of inducing or encouraging strikes in government-operated industries. It also would authorize the W. L. B. to subpoena Mr. Lewis. The President has until Friday to act on the bill. If he does not act the bill becomes law automatically.

Mr. Lewis, in the last few days, had demanded $1.30 a day portal-to-portal pay. The board said Friday a settlement must be "reasonably and genuinely" related to the portal-to-portal issue, accompanied by supporting data, and not a hidden wage increase.

The miners' current basic pay is $7 a day, and their basic week five days, thirty-five hours, with time-and-one-half rates applicable to all work after thirty-five hours. The W. L. B. said last week that the miners' average "take-home" pay in March was $42.97 for a work week of 38.3 hours, "65.3 per cent greater than the average take-home in January, 1941, when they averaged 29.7 hours a week." The government, after taking over the mines May 1, ordered them all to be worked six days a week.

The mine union originally demanded the operators grant portal-to-portal pay covering travel time underground, a $2-a-day increase and $8 daily minimum and unionization of minor bosses.

Under the "Little Steel" formula W. L. B. has granted wage increases of 15 per cent to compensate for rises in the cost of living since Jan. 1, 1941. W. L. B. said the miners have received an average increase of 18.2 per cent since that day and a further increase of $2 would give them a total increase of 46.9 per cent.

Steel Makers Concerned

Strike prospects brought expressions of concern from officials of the nation's war-vital steel-making plants. Carnegie-Illinois Corporation at Pittsburgh, largest steel producer, estimated the effect of a general coal strike would be felt within twenty-four hours and that "in a very few days" production would fall to 25 per cent of current output.

Jones & Laughlin Corporation estimated present stocks of coal would last less than three weeks, with steel production beginning to drop within a week.

Informed government circles said some of the commercial operators had expressed anxiety about the delay in settling the dispute because of a fear that an accumulating, unknown liability would interfere with their bank credit and hence with the operation of their properties. Although the government has been nominally the operator of the mines since May 1, the transfer so far has been virtually a paper proposition, with the operators still physically in control as managers for the government.

The contract extensions and truces under which the mines have operated included provisions that any final settlement would be retroactive to April 1. Owners of marginal mines are fearful of piling up an unknown liability. A retail price increase, even if allowed by the Office of Price Administration, cannot be collected retroactively.

NARROW ITALIAN STRAIT POUNDED

JUN 21 1943

Allies Concentrate on Small Area Separating Sicily From Mainland ---Docks Blown to Bits

REPORT RED GENERAL STAFF AT GIBRALTAR

LONDON, June 20 (AP)—The German radio said today that 16 members of the Russian general were at Gibraltar. The despatch purported to be from La Linea, Spain, opposite the British Rock. The broadcast was recorded by Reuters. The Germans said earlier that King George VI also was in Gibraltar.

BY NOLAND NORGAARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 20 (AP)—Docks and other supply apparatus on both sides of the strategic Messina Strait separating Sicily and the Italian mainland, were blown to bits in new concentrated Allied aerial assaults in the 24-hour cyle ending yesterday as the Fascist regime appeared committed more than ever to a last ditch fight in the Mediterranean.

Reliable Allied quarters flatly denied rumors that Italian envoys were in Algiers or elsewhere in North Africa to sue for a separate peace.

PASSED BY CENSORSHIP

The rumors, which apparently originated among the French civil population, named Marshal Pietro Badoglio, former chief of staff of all Italian armed forces, Crown Prince Umberto and even King Vittorio Emanuele as emissaries.

Allied military censorship, which confines itself to questions of military security, permitted the rumors to be reported abroad, but undertook no responsibility as to their basis in fact.

The rumors were reported Saturday by Reuters, British news agency, in a despatch from Algiers. Both the Rome and Berlin radios hastily denied the story.

Desperate Resistance

The reports possibly originated from the circumstance that there are a number of known Italian anti-Fascists in North Africa, but reliable Allied quarters declared they are obscure for the most part and not empowered to ask for peace on behalf of the Italian people.

On the contrary, recent events across the Mediterranean indicated that the Fascist regime was girding itself for desperate resistance to any further Allied offensive operations.

Southern Italy and the island defense ring formed by Sicily and Sardinia appeared heavily garrisoned by troops and air forces of both Italy and Germany.

Allied bombers from the Middle East command and the northwest African air force hammered this ring with relentless power Friday night and yesterday.

A Cairo communique announced that Liberators of the United States air force threw nearly 250,000 pounds of high explosive and incendiary bombs on the harbors and supply installations of Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni, east of Messina Strait on the toe of Italy in a mass raid yesterday, while an Allied headquarters communique said the RAF's two-engined Wellingtons shook the port area of Syracuse, on the Sicilian side, with two-ton blockbusters in a moonlight attack Friday night.

"At Reggio Calabria the southeast section of the harbor was plastered, the bombs causing a considerable amount of smoke, although clouds partly obscured the area," said the Cairo communique.

Malta's naval planes attacked motor torpedo boats and ships off Sicily's East coast and intruders raided railway targets in Italy.

Intensified Shipping

Supporting Berlin and Rome radio broadcasts for the first time in a mention of a heavy flow of Allied convoys in the Mediterranean, the Italian communique today spoke of "intensified enemy shipping on the North African route" and said Italian torpedo planes were making repeated stabs at the Allied movements.

A ship of 10,000 tons was sunk and two others totaling 17,000 tons were damaged off Bone, Algeria, in one series of attacks, the Italian communique declared, and Axis bombers were said to have attacked the harbors of Bizerte and Pantelleria "with striking results."

The Italian claims, made in broadcasts recorded here, were not confirmed by Allied quarters.

On the contrary, Allied headquarters reports said American Spitfires and Warhawks patrolling above Pantelleria, 60 miles south of Sicily, drove off and scattered Axis raiding forces.

No Planes Lost

A formation of six Italian Macchi fighter-bombers, escorted by eight German Focke Wulf-190 and Messerschmitt-109 fighters, was forced to dump its explosives in the sea and take flight for Sicily before reaching its objective and even before it could be engaged, it was said.

Except for reconnaissance and the shooting down of a single Junkers-88 bomber by an American Lightning of the coastal command, this was the only activity yesterday of the large Allied air forces based in northwest Africa. No Allied planes were lost and American heavy and medium bombers were inactive throughout the day.

30-24 - 5211

The Wellingtons on the night before concentrated their attack on the built-up area west of the canal and north of the harbor station at Syracuse. The bright moonlight enabled the bombardiers to draw a good bead on their targets and a huge fire was started north of the harbor station.

Another Wellington the same night torpedoed and damaged a ship off the east coast of Corsica.

The Cairo communique said hits were seen near the railway station and on railroad sidings at Reggio Calabria, but the dense smoke shut off further observation. Other bombs were seen to fall near a ship in the straits.

The ferry terminal area and railway sidings at San Giovanni also were heavily hit. The enemy sent up persistent fighters to badger the raiders and at least one, perhaps five, were destroyed. None of the American planes was lost.

BY LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON, June 20 (AP)—British air and naval units, protecting Atlantic convoys with counterattacks against "one of the fiercest and most sustained offensives ever mounted by U-boats," have sunk from two to five of Hitler's submarines and probably damaged several others in a five-day running battle, it was announced tonight.

The newest successes in the Allied drive to clear the Atlantic of enemy submarines were disclosed in an admiralty-air ministry communique. It said the action occurred last month, but gave no specific dates.

"During these actions two U-boats were destroyed, three probably were destroyed and others may have been damaged," the communique declared.

JUN 21 1943

BRITISH ROUT U-BOAT PACK IN BIG BATTLE

Five Subs Sunk and Many Others Damaged as 97 P. C. of Convoy Gets Through Safely to Port

BRITISH CROSS ALPS TO BOMB ITALIANS

LONDON, Monday, June 21 (AP)—A despatch from Bern, Switzerland, today said an air alarm was sounded there early Monday morning, indicating the RAF may be crossing the Alps for another attack on northern Italy. Alerts also were sounded at Zurich and Basel.

JUN 21 1943

Land based planes, including four engined Liberators and Flying Fortress bombers, teamed with warships and aircraft from one of the new escort carriers to defend the convoys from the U-boat packs.

For five days and nights the battles ranged over hundreds of miles of the Atlantic, but the British planes and ships intercepted the undersea raiders so effectively that 97 per cent of the vessels in the convoys reached their destinations without molestation.

Most of the engagements were fought many miles away from the convoys, the communique said.

Sunk by Destroyers

Although both U-boats known to have been sunk were credited to warships, the co-operating planes attacked many of the raiders with depth charges and machine guns, disabling them or forcing them to the surface, and at the same time summoning naval aid.

The first "Woolworth carrier" to be announced in action was the Biter, formerly an American-built freighter, in this engagement.

One of the definite kills was credited to the British destroyer Broadway, formerly the U. S. S. Hunt, which Britain obtained from the United States in the destroyer-base deal.

The destroyer Hesperus also definitely sank one U-boat and attacked two others which were believed to have been destroyed.

The victories added to the record Allied successes in May, already described by Prime Minister Churchill as "the best month we have had in the U-boat warfare since the United States was attacked by Germany, Italy and Japan."

The Daily Express naval reporter, W. A. Crumley, said tonight that about 50 U-boats had been destroyed in the last two months, bringing the total destroyed since the beginning of the war to 250. He said this was possibly a fourth of those built at that time.

"Best Ever"

In his report to the House of Commons 12 days ago, the prime minister said last month's victories over German submarines might be a "fateful milestone" toward Axis defeat, since the Axis was banking heavily on the U-boat. He noted also that the first week in June was the "best ever" in U-boat kills.

It was then that Churchill first disclosed that Liberators and Flying Fortresses were in action against the U-boat menace in what he called V. L. R.—"very long range" air power.

Germany reported that 380,000 tons of Allied shipping were sunk by the Axis during May, and in mid-June set the figures for the first 10 days of the present month at only 43,000 tons.

The text of the joint communique read:

"Combined forces of escort ships and aircraft of the Royal Navy and aircraft of the Coastal Command, working in closest cooperation, successfully defended valuable Atlantic convoys against one of the fiercest and most sustained offensives ever mounted by U-boats.

Took Place In May

"The battle, which took place during May, ranged over hundreds of miles and extended intermittently throughout five days and five nights.

"So effective were the counter-attacks of the air and surface escort forces that most of the engagements were fought many miles from the convoys.

"During these actions two U-boats were destroyed, three probably were destroyed and others may have been damaged.

"Ninety-seven per cent. of the ships forming the convoys reached harbor in safety and without having been molested.

"The battle began when two of a large number of U-boats, operating in the vicinity of the convoy, were sighted by aircraft of the fleet air arm from the escort carrier H. M. S. Biter (Capt. E. M. C. Abel Smith, RN).

JUN 21 1943

Forced To Dive

"The aircraft attacked the U-boats with depth charges and machine-gun fire, forcing them to dive after shore-based aircraft, operating under orders of the air officer commander in chief of the Coastal Command, joined the escort forces.

"A Liberator aircraft from the Coastal Command group commanded by Air Vice-Marshal Sir

(Continued on Page 3, Column 6)

Leonard H. Slatter, K. B. E., C. B., D. S. C., D. F. C., attacked a U-boat fifteen miles from the surface escorts and left the enemy disabled.

"Meanwhile, naval aircraft were attacking another U-boat. They led the destroyer H. M. S. Broadway (Lieut. Com. E. H. Chavasse, RN) and the frigate H. M. S. Lagan (Lieut. Com. A. Ayre, RNR) toward the enemy. Both ships attacked in turn. H. M. S. Broadway's second attack was followed by muffled underwater explosions and wreckage of definitely German origin floated to the surface of the sea. This U-boat is considered sunk.

Other Planes Active

"Additional aircraft of the Coastal Command, including Sunderlands, Catalinas and Fortresses from a group, commanded by Air Vice-Marshal Sir L. H. Slatter, joined in the protection of the convoys and more attacks of U-boat packs were made in quick succession.

"During one of these actions the destroyer H. M. S. Pathfinder (Commander E. A. Gibbs, D. S. O., RN) attacked a U-boat with depth charges. The U-boat broke the surface for a moment and then disappeared. The result of this attack is not known.

"Later a Sunderland aircraft led H. M. S. Lagan and the corvette H. M. C. S. Drumheller (Lieut L. P. Denny, RCNR) to a U-boat which was attacked and may have been sunk. Quantities of wreckage floated to the surface in a spreading patch of oil which, by the next day, had spread over an area nearly four square miles.

Attacked By Destroyer

"While these engagements were in progress a strong force of U-boats which had worked around ahead of another convoy was attacked by the destroyer H. M. S. Hesperus (Commander D. G. F. W. MacIntyre, D. S. C., RN). One enemy submarine sighted steering toward the convoy was attacked with depth charges, forced to surface and engaged with gunfire. Repeated hits were scored and the U-boat's gun crew were blown into the sea.

"H. M. S. Hesperus closed with the U-boat, which either dived or sank as the destroyer passed over her, dropping a final pattern of depth charges. The fate of this U-boat is uncertain.

"H. M. S. Hesperus sighted a second U-boat on the surface and attacked it by gunfire. A number of hits were made at the base of the conning tower and members of the crew were seen to clamber on deck and to jump overboard.

U-Boat Rammed

"The destroyer completed her attack by ramming the U-boat, which is believed to have been destroyed. The next day H. M. S. Hesperus hunted successfully and attacked and sank a third U-boat, oil and wreckage floating to the surface.

"Meanwhile, aircraft maintained continuous patrol over and in the vicinity of the convoys, forcing other U-boats to remain submerged and to lose contact.

"The intensity and variety of the counter-attacks and the continual presence of aircraft ultimately completely discomfited the U-boat packs and the convoys proceeded to their destinations without further interference."

RED BOMBERS RAID GERMAN AIR BASES

Attack Planes, Hangars At Bryansk And Karachev; Bag 276 Craft In Week

London, Monday, June 21—A strong force of Russian bombers attacked parked German planes, hangars and stores at Bryansk and Karachev behind the pivotal Orel front Saturday night to round out a week which cost the Germans more than 276 planes, Moscow announced early today.

Russian plane losses for the week were ninety-four, said the midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor. The destruction of the 276 German planes in the same period boosted the toll of enemy aircraft to 3,595 in seven weeks, on the basis of Moscow announcements.

New Red Air Blows

A special communique told of the powerful new Soviet air blows northwest of Orel, and also said an attempt by fifty German planes to raid Volkhov, southeast of Leningrad, on Saturday night was repulsed, the Germans losing fifteen planes compared to two Soviet aircraft. The Russians acknowledged damage to a rail line at Volkhov.

Heavy caliber bombs were showered on Bryansk and Karachev by the Russian airmen engaging in those raids, and the announcement said all the raiders returned safely. In this sector, at the hinge of the central and southern fronts, both sides have been massing men and materials for expected large-scale summer field operations.

Bomb Bursts Seen

Bomb bursts were observed among parked enemy aircraft, and many fires broke out amid hangars and stores, accompanied by numerous explosions.

The midnight bulletin did not report any significant land action yesterday, only scattered artillery duels and reconnaissance stabs at various points across Russia from Leningrad to Rostov. The middle sector at Orel was not mentioned.

A noon communique yesterday, however, said a company of attacking Germans had been repulsed in the Sumy area, ninety miles northwest of Kharkov. This disclosed that the Russians still hold a deep salient pointed toward the Bryansk-Kiev railway.

Kursk A Feeder Point

Kursk, midway between Germanheld Orel and Kharkov, apparently is the Russian feeder point for this salient, which is about seventy miles deep and ninety miles wide.

The salient is valuable for the Russians should they begin a new push in the Orel sector to the northeast—a development which the Germans have been predicting for several weeks.

Several hundred Germans were reported killed in yesterday's fighting, but the major action in Russia still was in the air.

In addition to the raids on German rear bases, the Russians announced that their airmen had sunk a German transport and set fire to an oil tanker and two enemy transports in the Barents Sea.

BETTER HOSE FOR WOMEN

JUN 21 1943

Britain Acts on Many Complaints

LONDON, June 20 (AP)—Complaints from British women about the quality of utility stockings brought action from the board of trade this week.

The board announced a new, longer-wearing stocking was in production and would appear in shops soon.

The new product is "not beautiful but is durable," a board of trade spokesman said, and will cost 60 cents a pair.

EIRE TO PASS ON DE VALERA TOMORROW

Election Of Dail Will Decide Between Premier And Cosgrave

Both Have Pledged To Keep Country Neutral. Labor Party Active

[By the Associated Press]

Dublin, Eire, June 20—Irish voters will decide Tuesday in their first wartime election whether to continue Prime Minister Eamon de Valera in control of the Eire Government he has headed since 1932 or substitute a coalition rule, advocated by the opposition leader, William T. Cosgrave.

Preelection betting favors the New York born Prime Minister. The campaign has been vigorous, although it has failed to stir the warm-blooded Irish as elections usually do. The loss of nine seats by De Valera's Fianna Fail party would swing control to the combined opposition.

Result Of Last Election

In 1938, the Fianna Fail won seventy-seven seats in the Dail Eireann (Parliament) and Cosgrave's Fine Gael party captured forty-five places. Labor won nine and seven Independents were elected.

Deaths and some changes in allegiance make the present lineup:

Fianna Fail 72.
Fine Gael, 40.
Labor, 9.
Independents, 8.

The popular vote in 1938 was: Fianna Fail, 667,732; Fine Gael, 428,615; Labor, 128,945, and Independents, 60,693.

About 1,800,000 voters are eligible to pass on the records of 355 candidates for Dail seats, which are allotted in proportion to the number of votes cast for each group.

Labor Enters 75 Candidates

The largest increase in candidates was made by the Labor party, ed by William Norton, which has been encouraged by recent successes in local elections. Labor has put up seventy-five names, sufficient to control the Dail if all were elected.

All parties are agreed that Eire hould continue neutral. James M. Dillon, young independent Dail nember, is the only candidate advocating intervention in the war beside the Allies.

"Safety First," De Valera Urges

De Valera and Cosgrave both stumped the country extensively during the last two weeks. The Prime Minister stressed strongly his desire to continue "safety first" policies. The opposition leader insisted that the nation should have a national government for the duration. De Valera has said he would not join such a government should the Fianna Fail lose control.

Cosgrave blamed the Government farm policy and handling of he transportation problem for the potato shortage which has been acute in large Irish cities.

Issues such as prices, wages, unemployment and the emigration of Irish workers to Britain have been pushed into the background.

Cripps Says War Ends Soviet-World Distrust

Manchester, England, June 20 (AP). Distrust between Soviet Russia and other nations has been destroyed by the war, Sir Stafford Cripps asserted today, adding that the way had been opened for a new era.

"I believe," he said, "that if history records Hitler as having been of any use whatever to the world it will be because he destroyed the distrust which formerly existed between Russia and the rest of the civilized world, and so opened the way to a new and more hopeful organization of international security."

He spoke before the Anglo-Soviet Association here.

"During the latter stages of this war cooperation with Russia will become more important," he declared.

2 Stalingrad Food Thieves Shot

MOSCOW, June 20 (AP).—Two employees of Stalingrad food stores were executed by a firing squad today after they were caught stealing bread intended for distribution to the population. The employees previously had sold stolen bread to speculators who resold it to others, the press reported. The speculators received ten to-eleven-year prison terms and their property was confiscated.

JUN 21 1943

Land based planes, including four engined Liberators and Flying Fortress bombers, teamed with warships and aircraft from one of the new escort carriers to defend the convoys from the U-boat packs.

For five days and nights the battles ranged over hundreds of miles of the Atlantic, but the British planes and ships intercepted the undersea raiders so effectively that 97 per cent of the vessels in the convoys reached their destinations without molestation.

Most of the engagements were fought many miles away from the convoys, the communique said.

Sunk by Destroyers

Although both U-boats known to have been sunk were credited to warships, the co-operating planes attacked many of the raiders with depth charges and machine guns, disabling them or forcing them to the surface, and at the same time summoning naval aid.

The first "Woolworth carrier" to be announced in action was the Biter, formerly an American-built freighter, in this engagement.

One of the definite kills was credited to the British destroyer Broadway, formerly the U. S. S. Hunt, which Britain obtained from the United States in the destroyer-base deal.

The destroyer Hesperus also definitely sank one U-boat and attacked two others which were believed to have been destroyed.

The victories added to the record Allied successes in May, already described by Prime Minister Churchill as "the best month we have had in the U-boat warfare since the United States was attacked by Germany, Italy and Japan."

The Daily Express naval reporter, W. A. Crumley, said tonight that about 50 U-boats had been destroyed in the last two months, bringing the total destroyed since the beginning of the war to 250. He said this was possibly a fourth of those built at that time.

"Best Ever"

In his report to the House of Commons 12 days ago, the prime minister said last month's victories over German submarines might be a "fateful milestone" toward Axis defeat, since the Axis was banking heavily on the U-boat. He noted also that the first week in June was the "best ever" in U-boat kills.

It was then that Churchill first disclosed that Liberators and Flying Fortresses were in action against the U-boat menace in what he called V. L. R.—"very long range" air power.

Germany reported that 380,000 tons of Allied shipping were sunk by the Axis during May, and in mid-June set the figures for the first 10 days of the present month at only 43,000 tons.

The text of the joint communique read:

"Combined forces of escort ships and aircraft of the Royal Navy and aircraft of the Coastal Command, working in closest cooperation, successfully defended valuable Atlantic convoys against one of the fiercest and most sustained offensives ever mounted by U-boats.

Took Place In May

"The battle, which took place during May, ranged over hundreds of miles and extended intermittently throughout five days and five nights.

"So effective were the counter-attacks of the air and surface escort forces that most of the engagements were fought many miles from the convoys.

"During these actions two U-boats were destroyed, three probably were destroyed and others may have been damaged.

"Ninety-seven per cent. of the ships forming the convoys reached harbor in safety and without having been molested.

"The battle began when two of a large number of U-boats, operating in the vicinity of the convoy, were sighted by aircraft of the fleet air arm from the escort carrier H. M. S. Biter (Capt. E. M. C. Abel Smith, RN).

JUN 21 1943

Forced To Dive

"The aircraft attacked the U-boats with depth charges and machine-gun fire, forcing them to dive after shore-based aircraft, operating under orders of the air officer commander in chief of the Coastal Command, joined the escort forces.

"A Liberator aircraft from the Coastal Command group commanded by Air Vice-Marshal Sir

(Continued on Page 3, Column 6)

Leonard H. Slatter, K. B. E., C. B., D. S. C., D. F. C., attacked a U-boat fifteen miles from the surface escorts and left the enemy disabled.

"Meanwhile, naval aircraft were attacking another U-boat. They led the destroyer H. M. S. Broadway (Lieut. Com. E. H. Chavasse, RN) and the frigate H. M. S. Lagan (Lieut. Com. A. Ayre, RNR) toward the enemy. Both ships attacked in turn. H. M. S. Broadway's second attack was followed by muffled underwater explosions and wreckage of definitely German origin floated to the surface of the sea. This U-boat is considered sunk.

Other Planes Active

"Additional aircraft of the Coastal Command, including Sunderlands, Catalinas and Fortresses from a group, commanded by Air Vice-Marshal Sir L. H. Slatter, joined in the protection of the convoys and more attacks of U-boat packs were made in quick succession.

"During one of these actions the destroyer H. M. S. Pathfinder (Commander E. A. Gibbs, D. S. O., RN) attacked a U-boat with depth charges. The U-boat broke the surface for a moment and then disappeared. The result of this attack is not known.

"Later a Sunderland aircraft led H. M. S. Lagan and the corvette H. M. C. S. Drumheller (Lieut L. P. Denny, RCNR) to a U-boat which was attacked and may have been sunk. Quantities of wreckage floated to the surface in a spreading patch of oil which, by the next day, had spread over an area nearly four square miles.

Attacked By Destroyer

"While these engagements were in progress a strong force of U-boats which had worked around ahead of another convoy was attacked by the destroyer H. M. S. Hesperus (Commander D. G. F. W. MacIntyre, D. S. C., RN). One enemy submarine sighted steering toward the convoy was attacked with depth charges, forced to surface and engaged with gunfire. Repeated hits were scored and the U-boat's gun crew were blown into the sea.

"H. M. S. Hesperus closed with the U-boat, which either dived or sank as the destroyer passed over her, dropping a final pattern of depth charges. The fate of this U-boat is uncertain.

"H. M. S. Hesperus sighted a second U-boat on the surface and attacked it by gunfire. A number of hits were made at the base of the conning tower and members of the crew were seen to clamber on deck and to jump overboard.

U-Boat Rammed

"The destroyer completed her attack by ramming the U-boat, which is believed to have been destroyed. The next day H. M. S. Hesperus hunted successfully and attacked and sank a third U-boat, oil and wreckage floating to the surface.

"Meanwhile, aircraft maintained continuous patrol over and in the vicinity of the convoys, forcing other U-boats to remain submerged and to lose contact.

"The intensity and variety of the counter-attacks and the continual presence of aircraft ultimately completely discomfited the U-boat packs and the convoys proceeded to their destinations without further interference."

RED BOMBERS RAID GERMAN AIR BASES

Attack Planes, Hangars At Bryansk And Karachev; Bag 276 Craft In Week

London, Monday, June 21—A strong force of Russian bombers attacked parked German planes, hangars and stores at Bryansk and Karachev behind the pivotal Orel front Saturday night to round out a week which cost the Germans more than 276 planes, Moscow announced early today.

Russian plane losses for the week were ninety-four, said the midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor. The destruction of the 276 German planes in the same period boosted the toll of enemy aircraft to 3,595 in seven weeks, on the basis of Moscow announcements.

New Red Air Blows

A special communique told of the powerful new Soviet air blows northwest of Orel, and also said an attempt by fifty German planes to raid Volkhov, southeast of Leningrad, on Saturday night was repulsed, the Germans losing fifteen planes compared to two Soviet aircraft. The Russians acknowledged damage to a rail line at Volkhov.

Heavy caliber bombs were showered on Bryansk and Karachev by the Russian airmen engaging in those raids, and the announcement said all the raiders returned safely. In this sector, at the hinge of the central and southern fronts, both sides have been massing men and materials for expected large-scale summer field operations.

Bomb Bursts Seen

Bomb bursts were observed among parked enemy aircraft, and many fires broke out amid hangars and stores, accompanied by numerous explosions.

The midnight bulletin did not report any significant land action yesterday, only scattered artillery duels and reconnaissance stabs at various points across Russia from Leningrad to Rostov. The middle sector at Orel was not mentioned.

A noon communique yesterday, however, said a company of attacking Germans had been repulsed in the Sumy area, ninety miles northwest of Kharkov. This disclosed that the Russians still hold a deep salient pointed toward the Bryansk-Kiev railway.

Kursk A Feeder Point

Kursk, midway between Germanheld Orel and Kharkov, apparently is the Russian feeder point for this salient, which is about seventy miles deep and ninety miles wide.

The salient is valuable for the Russians should they begin a new push in the Orel sector to the northeast—a development which the Germans have been predicting for several weeks.

Several hundred Germans were reported killed in yesterday's fighting, but the major action in Russia still was in the air.

In addition to the raids on German rear bases, the Russians announced that their airmen had sunk a German transport and set fire to an oil tanker and two enemy transports in the Barents Sea.

BETTER HOSE FOR WOMEN

JUN 21 1943

Britain Acts on Many Complaints

LONDON, June 20 (AP)—Complaints from British women about the quality of utility stockings brought action from the board of trade this week.

The board announced a new, longer-wearing stocking was in production and would appear in shops soon.

The new product is "not beautiful but is durable," a board of trade spokesman said, and will cost 60 cents a pair.

EIRE TO PASS ON DE VALERA TOMORROW

Election Of Dail Will Decide Between Premier And Cosgrave

Both Have Pledged To Keep Country Neutral. Labor Party Active

[By the Associated Press]

Dublin, Eire, June 20—Irish voters will decide Tuesday in their first wartime election whether to continue Prime Minister Eamon de Valera in control of the Eire Government he has headed since 1932 or substitute a coalition rule, advocated by the opposition leader, William T. Cosgrave.

Preelection betting favors the New York born Prime Minister. The campaign has been vigorous, although it has failed to stir the warm-blooded Irish as elections usually do. The loss of nine seats by De Valera's Fianna Fail party would swing control to the combined opposition.

Result Of Last Election

In 1938, the Fianna Fail won seventy-seven seats in the Dail Eireann (Parliament) and Cosgrave's Fine Gael party captured forty-five places. Labor won nine and seven Independents were elected.

Deaths and some changes in allegiance make the present lineup:

Fianna Fail 72.
Fine Gael, 40.
Labor, 9.
Independents, 8.

The popular vote in 1938 was: Fianna Fail, 667,732; Fine Gael, 428,615; Labor, 128,945, and Independents, 60,693.

About 1,800,000 voters are eligible to pass on the records of 355 candidates for Dail seats, which are allotted in proportion to the number of votes cast for each group.

Labor Enters 75 Candidates

The largest increase in candidates was made by the Labor party, ed by William Norton, which has been encouraged by recent successes in local elections. Labor has put up seventy-five names, sufficient to control the Dail if all were elected.

All parties are agreed that Eire hould continue neutral. James M. Dillon, young independent Dail nember, is the only candidate advocating intervention in the war beside the Allies.

"Safety First," De Valera Urges

De Valera and Cosgrave both stumped the country extensively during the last two weeks. The Prime Minister stressed strongly his desire to continue "safety first" policies. The opposition leader insisted that the nation should have a national government for the duration. De Valera has said he would not join such a government should the Fianna Fail lose control.

Cosgrave blamed the Government farm policy and handling of he transportation problem for the potato shortage which has been acute in large Irish cities.

Issues such as prices, wages, unemployment and the emigration of Irish workers to Britain have been pushed into the background.

Cripps Says War Ends Soviet-World Distrust

Manchester, England, June 20 (AP). Distrust between Soviet Russia and other nations has been destroyed by the war, Sir Stafford Cripps asserted today, adding that the way had been opened for a new era.

"I believe," he said, "that if history records Hitler as having been of any use whatever to the world it will be because he destroyed the distrust which formerly existed between Russia and the rest of the civilized world, and so opened the way to a new and more hopeful organization of international security."

He spoke before the Anglo-Soviet Association here.

"During the latter stages of this war cooperation with Russia will become more important," he declared.

2 Stalingrad Food Thieves Shot

MOSCOW, June 20 (AP).—Two employees of Stalingrad food stores were executed by a firing squad today after they were caught stealing bread intended for distribution to the population. The employees previously had sold stolen bread to speculators who resold it to others, the press reported. The speculators received ten to-eleven-year prison terms and their property was confiscated.

JUN 21 1943

30-24-5213

30-24-5213

Normal Italian Life Disrupted By Bombs, Eyewitnesses Say

People Are Pictured As Broken In Spirit And Ready For Allied Invasion

JUN 21 1943

By EDWIN SHANKE

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Stockholm, June 20—The Allied air offensive is rapidly blasting Italy into a pre-invasion stage by disrupting the normal lives of its inhabitants, reliable eyewitnesses who have returned recently from that country said today.

They pictured the Italians as broken in spirit, sick of the aerial bombardments, and longing for an Allied invasion which they know will hasten the end of the war.

"There is a lack of the war discipline characteristic of the Germans," said one informant. "The average Italian is making no bones about it. He feels that the war is lost, that Italy in reality is already knocked out and that the sooner invasion comes the better.

"Everyone is talking invasion. Nobody knows when or where it will come or what will happen when it does come. But persons who know Italian character predict that morale and discipline now are at a point where, if the Allies strike, it will be 'every Italian for himself.'"

With bombings everywhere, evacuees are constantly on the move, bags in hand, looking for a safe place to stay, these sources said. No one remains in the bombed cities unless he has to. At Milan, which is typical of most points, there is a terrific crush to get into the countryside each night as soon as the day's work is done.

That means the workers must rise as early as 4 or 5 A. M. to return to the city. Production therefore is suffering. The lack of sufficient sleep is making the workers inefficient at their jobs.

Many Italians are heading for Rome in the belief that it won't be bombed, especially since the Pope is summering there instead of going to Castel Gandolfo as usual.

There also is a rumor that the Pope has asked the Allies not to bomb the Rome area, since a blockbuster dropped anywhere within ten miles of St. Peter's would wreck the dome because of miscalculations made by Michel Angelo in its construction. Almost overnight the capital has become a crowded city of an estimated 3,000,000 inhabitants.

It is impossible to get a hotel room or other living quarters. The food supply is inadequate and transportation facilities are badly jammed.

The evacuees alone are not responsible for the overcrowding. The Germans, especially military staff men, are pouring into the capital. A German uniform is a common sight in Rome. And Italy's administrative setup, bombed out of quarters in other cities, gradually is being concentrated more and more in Rome.

Chaos Predicted

"If Rome is bombed there will be absolute chaos and catastrophe," an informant predicted. "In a city so jammed there will be no place for the people to go. The air-raid shelters certainly are inadequate.

"Daylight raiders are striking with deadly accuracy at Italian military objectives. In well-bombed Naples an ammunition ship which recently blew up in the port did more damage to the harbor area, however, than Allied bombings. The force of the explosion was so tremendous that parts of an automobile on the deck of the ship were hurled into the center of town.

"Many Italians are wondering why there are not more attacks on the north Italian industrial area which is working hard for Germany and which the Germans are taking special measures to protect it."

Defeatism Noted

"Bombing is not needed to break the morale of the Italians," another source said. "Defeatism has long been rampant.

"Many Italians living along the invasion coasts, bristling with guns and pillboxes, are calming their wives when they leave for war duties with this advice: 'Just have a bottle of good wine or vermouth ready for the invaders and treat them nicely; they'll be all right.'

"Italians openly talk against the Fascist regime and the conduct of the war. In a train traveling to Naples a Rome officer boldly attacked Mussolini's African strategy in a crowded compartment. Across from him sat a higher ranking officer. He didn't raise an objection."

600 Killed in Yacht Blast

Rumanian and Nazi Chiefs Reported on Craft in Danubian Delta

ANKARA, Turkey, Juns 20 (AP).—Six hundred persons, including many Rumanian and German officers, died in an explosion of the former Rumanian Royal Yacht Carol II last week, a traveler just arrived from Rumania said yesterday.

The explosion, possibly the result of sabotage, occurred during a voyage between Sulina and Galatz, in the Danubian Delta. The yacht recently was converted to passenger service.

King Sunburned on Tunisian Trip; American Soldier Helps Him Out

Private From Stamford, Conn., Lengthens Sleeves of Royal Bushjacket—George VI Meets French Heroine, 16, in Tunis

By R. MAILLARD STEAD

For the Combined United States Press

WITH THE BRITISH ROYAL PARTY, in Tunisia, June 18 (Delayed)—When King George VI visited the city of Tunis today amid scenes of enthusiastic welcome, he was wearing a long-sleeved bushjacked instead of a shortsleeved one that he wore on previous day of his tour of Allied positions in North Africa.

One reason for this was the African sun, which had burned his arms uncomfortably. Another was an American soldier, Private Dominic Albonizio of Stamford, Conn., who was a tailor before the war. He showed he was a good one by the job he did when he was called upon to help the King of England in an emergency.

Search of the headquarters where the King stayed last night failed to unearth a longsleeved bushjacket that he could wear. But it unearthed the talents of Private Albonizio, who made one by sewing on parts of the sleeves from another garment so neatly that the seams were discernible only at very close range.

King George thus was able to proceed in comfort this morning with his extensive review of British First Army troops in battle areas of the Tunisian campaign. On the outskirts of Tunis he inspected an honor guard from Guards units while pipers played.

Sees Newly Captured Italians

Other British formations were lined up along the route the King followed into, through and out of Tunis. A trail of cheers and handshakes led him via the base of the Cap Bon Peninsula to a seaside villa where he and his party had luncheon.

At one point of his journey, the King paused to look from a distance at some of the Italian prisoners captured on the islands of Pantelleria and Lampedusa. Alongside them were some members of the German Army Medical Service taken during the Tunisian fighting.

King George's welcome from the people of Tunis began on the outskirts of the city even before his cad had passed beneath the shadow of the towering aqueduct built there across a broad valley by the ancient Romans and still in a remarkable state of preservation.

In a palm-studded park gay with flowers the royal procession passed between lines of picturesquely uniformed French African troops, whose band played a spirited march as the cars emerged toward the Boulevard Gambetta. There the King was officially received by General Barre, commander of the French troops in Tunisia, and by the civil dignitaries.

King George In Tunisia Gets Glimpse Of Italian Captives

Royal Tourist Also Climbs Into A Big Nazi Tank, Receives Cheers Of French Boy Scouts

JUN 21 1943

By RELMAN MORIN

[U. S. Press Correspondent]

With the King's Party in Tunisia, June 18 (Delayed, A. P.)—The victory at Pantelleria was brought home to King George VI today when he passed several hundred Italian prisoners from the island while he was inspecting a North African military headquarters.

The King is reviewing Allied forces in North Africa.

He was visiting a guards regiment when he happened to see the prisoners. They were in a field across from the main building along with a smaller contingent of Germans. The King walked out of the building to where he could get a better view of them.

Sees Big Nazi Tank

He saw plenty of evidences of the earlier triumphs in Tunisia on his tour today. His car passed slowly through the Tunis dock area, through whole blocks of wrecked buildings, piles of rubble and twisted girders.

He was shown a gargantuan German tiger tank which is still sitting on one street. He clambered up the side and peered into the insides of the monster and then asked to see how the main gun turret worked.

Boy Scouts Cheer

Meanwhile, on the opposite side of the street, some French Boy Scouts were sending out volleys of cheers with three cheer leaders—one of them a girl guide—all in the best American college tradition. They had two main cheers, one of which ended "Vive! Vive! Vive!" and the other "Le Roi! Le Roi! Le Roi!"

Since the word is pronounced "rwah" that particular yell sounded very much like the genuine article that you hear in the stadiums at home, but it seemed a little bewildering coming from French boys in berets standing on a Tunis street corner and applauding the King of England.

King Seems Pleased

The King seemed to like it, however. After he finished with the tank he walked across the street toward the Boy Scouts with the French General Barre, commander of the French troops in Tunisia.

As they approached, a priest in a white cassock ran up to General Barre and said something and then ran back into the crowd. When he reappeared the priest was leading a pretty little French girl by the hand. On her white blouse was the Croix de Guerre.

Girl Meets King

Proudly the general presented her to the King. Her name was Pauline Bartolia and she was 16. She had received the Croix de Guerre for having hidden thirty Allied prisoners who had escaped from the Germans while Tunis was still held by the Germans.

In French the King asked her to tell him about it. She smiled gravely and said only a few words. Then she bowed and shook hands again and he went back to the car.

DE GAULLE MAY QUIT ALGIERS IF PLAN FAILS

Intimates Say Fighting French Leader Will Go To Beirut Or Brazzaville

Committee's Showdown On Military Reform Program Is Due Today

Algiers, June 20—Political intimates of Gen. Charles de Gaulle declared today the Fighting French leader was prepared to leave Algiers for Beirut or Brazzaville if his military reform program failed to win adoption by the French Committee of National Liberation in the discussions beginning tomorrow.

De Gaullists expressed concern over a possibility that Gen. Henri Giraud, with previously unexpected support, might be able to continue the status quo in French military affairs.

Link With Third Republic

They said de Gaulle was the only valid link between the third republic and present attempts to establish a unified French overseas regime because he is the only member of the committee who was in the republic's last government.

They pointed out that he was Under Secretary of State for War when Paul Reynaud's Cabinet was displaced by Marshal Petain.

The new threat of de Gaulle's withdrawal followed by ten days his first "strike" when he refused to attend sessions of the original seven members of the French committee and demanded that a committee of fourteen members be convened.

A formula for the division of military authority between de Gaulle as commissioner of national defense and Giraud as commander in chief had been generally reported acceptable in principle by both factions.

But de Gaullists said they feared that the plan, if put into effect under present conditions, would have so many limitations that de Gaulle would be hamstrung in attempts to rejuvenate the army by ousting over-age officers and others who previously were loyal to Vichy.

De Gaulle definitely will attend the committee meeting tomorrow morning, his close adherents said.

The military reorganization is the first item on the committee's agenda.

Catroux And Monnet Mediate

Gen. Georges Catroux was closeted with de Gaulle at noon today and Jean Monnet also was known to have seen him in the role of mediator to argue against his taking any drastic step which would throw French efforts at united government into another period of chaos.

Although relations between de Gaulle and Giraud have been replete with one crisis after another, the impending showdown on military authority appeared to be the climax.

JUN 21 1943

Developments up to now have been viewed by some observers as maneuvering between the two generals, each seeking to get a vantage point from which he could be sure of winning the fundamental objective—military control.

Speedy Recognition Due

If the two leaders should succeed in coming to a final agreement tomorrow, dependable political sources said the United States and Great Britain are prepared to take the lead—perhaps this week—in recognizing the temporary French Government. Other United Nations and Turkey, which has withdrawn her envoy from Vichy, were reported ready to follow suit without delay.

Giraud made a slight concession to de Gaulle late today, it was reported. Civilians due to be called up for army service soon will be permitted to volunteer for Gen. Eduard Rene Marie De Larminat's Fighting French division. This is in line with the policy of the Third Republic, allowing conscripts to volunteer ahead of time for the [illegible] they prefer.

ROOSEVELT'S SON SPEAKS TO SOLDIERS

Allied Bombardment Is Way Ahead Of Nazis', Colonel Says

U. S. Photography Chief In Africa Tells Of Quirks In Army Life

JUN 21 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 20—Col. Elliott Roosevelt, the President's son and commander of Allied aerial photography service in North Africa, said today "the Allies stand head and shoulders above the Germans in heavy bombardment and we have the pictures to prove it."

He spoke to a group of 300 American soldiers at a forum for those on leave.

"The movies must have been pretty bad in town tonight for you came to hear me," he told them.

Before getting down to the most interesting—and most censorable—aspects of his work, Roosevelt gave his listeners some laughs with his own version of his army career.

Started In Radio

"I came into the army as a radio expert and wound up as a photographer," he said. "I had never fired a machine gun in my life so they put me first thing to testing power turret guns."

Soldiers nodded sympathetically as Roosevelt asked: "Remember that sheet we used to fill out giving our preferences for overseas service? I put Hawaii first, the Philippines second and the West Indies third," he said, "so I found myself in Newfoundland. Just when I got to like the cold countries, they sent me to Africa. And I still don't like Africa."

Roosevelt said his first big job was mapping possible airfields for the North Atlantic air transport route "and, if I ever get killed, I hope they name the worst one after me."

Not Glamor Pilot

The photo reconnaissance pilot is "not a glamor pilot," Roosevelt said. "He doesn't shoot down enemy aircraft. His ability is judged by his luck in keeping out of the enemy's way and bringing home the pictures that were asked for. It's one of the most hazardous assignments in the entire air force, particularly 'dicing.'"

Dicing he defined as "coming in at a photographic objective at a height of 100 or 200 feet—it's not encouraged for long life."

The colonel proudly related the exploit of Pilot Captain George Humbrecht, of St. Louis, Mo., who won the Distinguished Flying Cross recently.

Met Messerschmitts

He was coming back from a mission with pictures when he let down in an overcast and found himself among thirty-one Messerschmitt 109s, and seven Focke-Wulf 190s, which were on the way to bomb his home field," Roosevelt said.

"The Germans jettisoned their bombs and attacked Humbrecht, but he managed to keep away from them for ten minutes while calling the field for fighters to come up and help. Finally two Germans made passes at him from each side and filled his ship with ten cannon shells. Humbrecht landed sideways with a dead stick.

Offered A Drink

"Completely unhurt, he climbed out to be greeted by a British officer who invited him to have a drink. 'I sure will—a big drink of water,' he replied. 'I've been sweating it out up there.'"

A few minutes later a Spitfire shot down one of the Germans who had knocked out Humbrecht's plane.

Roosevelt's narrowest escape was on a flight over Italian territory when anti-aircraft fire smashed one of his planes two motors about three feet from where he was sitting. But he didn't tell the soldiers about it.

Allies in Africa Deny Italians Request Peace

Rumor of Mission to Algiers With Prince and Badoglio Is Laid to Bazaar Gossip

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 20 (AP).—Reliable Allied quarters today flatly denied rumors, first current among the French civilian population in North Africa, that Italian envoys were at Algiers or elsewhere in North Africa to sue for peace.

[A Reuters dispatch from Algiers reported Saturday that an Italian peace mission was rumored to be in the French North African capital. The Rome and Berlin radios said the reports were false.]

The rumors had named Marshal Pietro Badoglio and Crown Prince Humbert and even King Victor Emmanuel III as emissaries.

The Allied military censorship, which is confined to questions of security, permitted the rumors to be reported abroad but took no responsibility as to whether they had any basis in fact.

George VI Sees Axis Prisoners In North Africa

British Ruler Inspects Nazi Tank, and Is Cheered by Some French Boy Scouts

By Relman Morin

For the combined American press

WITH KING GEORGE'S PARTY IN TUNISIA, June 18 (delayed) (AP).—The victory at Pantelleria was brought home to King George VI today when he passed several hundred Italian prisoners from the island while he was inspecting a North African military headquarters. The king is reviewing Allied forces in North Africa.

He was visiting a Guards regiment when he happened to see the prisoners. They were in a field across from the main building along with a smaller contingent of Germans. The King walked out of the building to where he could get a better view of them.

He saw plenty of evidences of the earlier triumphs in Tunisia on his tour today. His car passed slowly through the Tunis dock area, through whole blocks of wrecked buildings, piles of rubble and twisted girders.

Inspects Nazi Tank

He inspected a big German "Tiger" tank which is still sitting on one street. He clambered up the side and peered into the insides of the monster and then asked to see how the main gun turret worked.

Meanwhile, on the opposite side of the street, some French Boy Scouts were sending out volleys of cheers with three cheer-leaders—one of them a Girl Guide—all in the best American college tradition. They had two main cheers, one of which ended "Vive! Vive! Vive!" and the other "Le Roi, Le Roi, Le Roi."

Since the word is pronounced "rwahr," that particular yell sounded much like the cheers heard in the stadiums at home, but it seemed a little bewildering coming from French boys bearing berets standing on a Tunis street corner and applauding a British King.

King Likes Cheers

The King seemed to like it, however. After he finished looking at the tank he walked across the street toward the Boy Scouts with the French General Louis J. Barre, commander of the French troops in Tunisia.

As they approached, a priest in a white cassock ran up to General Barre and said something and then ran back into the crowd. When he reappeared the priest was leading a pretty little French girl by the hand. On her white blouse was the Croix de Guerre.

Proudly the general presented her to the King. Her name was Pauline Bartolia. She was sixteen years old. She had received the Croix de Guerre for having hidden thirty Allied prisoners who had escaped from the Germans while Tunis was still held by the Germans.

In French the King asked her to tell him about it. She smiled gravely and said only a few words. Then she bowed and shook hands again and he went back to the

FLIERS IN HANDS OF SURGEONS

Have Final Say on Who Shall Go Up

JUN 21 1943

BY HAROLD V. BOYLE

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN BOMBER BASE, North Afria (AP)—The little group of airmen gathered in the flight surgeon's tent and looked tensely at one another, each waiting for the other to speak.

WHERE'S BILL?

Fanning himself with a January magazine to offset the baking African heat, the flight surgeon knew only an emergency could bring this veteran medium bomber crew to his tent in a group. Usually airmen take him their troubles singly.

Trying to help them begin, he glanced around and saw that the pilot group. Usually airmen take their in the theatre, was missing.

"Where's Bill?" he asked casually.

That gave them their opening.

"It's about him that we came to see you," one blurted.

"What's wrong with Bill?" asked the surprised flight surgeon. "Nothing, exactly," came the reluctant answer. "But his judgment isn't so good any more. He's been taking a lot of chances over the target and his evasive action has been bad."

Sent Home to Rest

"I'll look into it, fellows," said the flight surgeon, who was only a year or so older than these young airmen whose health and safety were in his care. The crew filed out, confident that "the doc" would handle the situation.

He did. He investigated quietly, found that the pilot, who had made well over 40 sorties across enemy lines, was becoming irritable and losing his appetite. His flying skill was deteriorating but he himself was not aware of it. He was still an "eager beaver," an airman who liked to fly against the enemy, but he was no longer up to it. He was grounded because he had become a danger to himself and his crew, and was sent home to rest. The chances are that he will come back better than ever.

"That was one of the true cases of flying fatigue, when a flier is so exhausted, nervously and physically, that he simply can't carry on, a rather rare thing," said Major John M. L. Cogland, former director of the Hartford, Conn., Bureau of Tuberculosis, who superintends the work of a number of flight surgeons in this theatre.

"Pills, Inc."

"More common is war neurosis, similar to what used to be called 'shell shock,' in ground troops, and which causes a man to crack up completely," he continued. "Such men know something is wrong with them, but those with flying fatigue do not, and it is sometimes hard to persuade them they are not up to par."

The typical air surgeon thinks, sleeps and works around the clock with the fliers, even going with them on combat missions to learn them and their problems. He is friend and father confessor as well as physician.

"You have to be a personal friend of every man in the group, yet still be able to look at them objectively," said Cogland, who is known to the men as "Pills, Incorporated."

For one thing, it is the flight surgeon's job to keep the men in the air as long as possible. Some fliers who have had a series of narrow escapes subconsciously seek to evade further combat by developing imaginary ailments. The flight surgeon must learn not to ground them for minor complaints, otherwise the morale of an entire unit may be broken.

Risk Lives Often

Some flight surgeons, when in doubt about a pilot, go on a mission with him, risking their own lives to find out.

Flight surgeons are thoroughly qualified physicians, but Major Cogland, who has been doing this specialized work for the army since February, 1941, said "It takes more psychology than medicine."

Cogland himself has had some narrow escapes. Once a crew member was seriously injured by flak and the flight surgeon gave him first aid while their medium bomber was still over enemy territory. On June 1 a B25 Mitchell bomber carrying him pancaked into the Mediterranean after traveling 325 miles back from Sardinia with one wing on fire and an engine knocked out. Everybody got out safely.

In addition to flying fatigue and war neurosis, fliers are grounded if they develop a physical disability, if they prove inept in combat, or if they lack moral fibre. For example, one pursuit pilot, shot down three times in 12 missions, was put down permanently. His surgeon decided he reacted too slowly.

Couldn't Face It

Ruled out for lack of moral fibre was the promising lieutenant who, just before he was to go on his first mission, said "I'm sorry, but I just can't face it. I can't go."

He was told his wings would be removed and that he would be broken to buck private. "That would only be fair," he said. "If I haven't the courage to take my ship against the enemy I don't deserve to be an officer."

He was honest, even if he did lack bravery. Ironically, the death he sought to escape in the air caught up with him soon afterward, in a motor vehicle accident.

Sometimes the flight surgeon has to supply a little moral fibre himself, One pilot, unnerved after a close call, came to the surgeon just before he was scheduled to take off again and said he just couldn't go. The surgeon replied: "What do you mean you can't go. Your crew went through what you did on the last trip and they are ready to go again. Now climb in there and get going."

Recovered Confidence

By the time the pilot got back he had recovered his confidence. Had the flight surgeon been sympathetic rather than firm, Cogland pointed out; "a good flier would have been ruined right there."

Cogland said that, despite their added responsibility, pilots stand the strain as well as other members of the plane crews and that it has been found all fliers are more relaxed when they know at the start of a day whether they are to go on a mission or have that day off. At the start of the African campaign fliers were never sure of having a full holiday, and as a result were on edge constantly.

War has forced a general lowering of air force standards, and there is a jest at the airfields that the rule is "put them in a plane if they can fly without a wheel chair or a seeing eye dog."

Flight surgeons have the final say on whether a man shall go aloft in combat.

"No one can say in advance who will make a good flier," said Cogland, "but we can eliminate some who have defects that will keep them from making good fliers. However, the most important point in selecting a flier is whether he will get in and fight, not whether his grandmother died of diabetes."

JUN 21 1943

30-24-5215

30.24-5215

Chinese Retake Four Towns Near Tungting

Chungking, June 20 (AP)—The capture of four strategic points along the Kutu river north of Tungting Lake and south of Shasi in the continued rebound of Chinese forces in the battle of the upper Yangtze was announced by the high command today.

Changtiensu, Tienchengwang, Huiliuwang and Chaokhuyuan, across the Yangtze from Shasi, were taken Saturday and Japanese remnants were wiped out, the communique said.

At the same time an outbreak of new fighting in the Canton area of Kwangtung province in the south was announced. The communique said one Japanese column "several thousand strong" was being engaged in severe fighting as it attempted to advance from Canton. A second column, striking northeast of Canton, was driven back after losing more than one hundred dead.

AUCHINLECK TAKES OVER POST IN INDIA

NEW DELHI, June 20 (AP)—General Sir Claude Auchinleck assumed his post today as commander-in-chief in India. He succeeds Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, who was recently appointed viceroy.

SPITFIRES PAY DEBT TO JAPS

Shoot Down 9 Nipponese Planes, Damage 13 Others In Battle Over Darwin

U. S.-Manned Liberators Attack Rabaul For Sixth Time In Eleven Days

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Monday, June 21—British and Australian pilots in Spitfire fighters paid off an old debt to Japanese bombers and fighters yesterday in their largest and most successful action of the war in this area.

The Spitfires destroyed six bombers and three fighters and heavily damaged thirteen other planes in a fierce battle over Darwin.

On the offensive side for the Allies, American-manned Liberators pounded Rabaul in New Britain in the sixth raid in eleven days, dropping thirty-one tons of explosives and incendiaries that started towering fires, some of which probably were grounded aircraft.

Other Points Raided

Other Allied planes hit at Lae, Salamua and Kaimana in Dutch New Guinea, while the Japanese raided Bena Bena and Wau.

For the Spitfires, yesterday's battle paid off a debt the Japanese contracted June 2 in the same area when the British fighters engaged a large force of bombers and fighters. The Allied communique at that time declared "our air losses were heavy."

This time the Japanese sent twenty-eight bombers, with twenty fighters as escorts, and the Spitfires intercepted them as they attacked the town and adjacent area.

Spitfires On Even Terms

The Spitfires also had approximate equality in numbers and in the action, which lasted a little more than ten minutes, they sent six bombers and three fighters crashing on land and into the sea and set fire to two bombers and a fighter which appeared to be falling when last seen.

They also shot out of combat eight other bombers and two fighters, all of which were seen losing altitude and trailing smoke..

Our losses in this action were two planes. Their pilots were listed as missing. Our ground damage and casualties were "minor," the communique said.

Rabaul Airfields Hit

A heavy force of Liberators, starting late Saturday night and continuing through the early hours of yesterday, struck at two old airfields at Rabaul—Vunakanau and Rapopo—and a new strip at Keravat, which is on the west side of the peninsula on which Rabaul is located.

Thirty-one tons of explosives were dropped, bringing the total weight of bombs for the last six raids to 176 tons.

The bombers, which now are carrying more of our air war against the enemy in the Southwest Pacific, encountered heavy anti-aircraft fire and observed at least two Japanese night fighters which, however, failed to intercept.

Fire Visible 50 Miles

At Vunakanau, where the Japanese base many of their fighters, the entire dispersal lane south of the runway was left in flames visible fifty miles away. Rapopo and Keravat airdromes also were left afire.

Havoc bombers, with Lightnings as escorts, bombed and heavily strafed the Lae airdrome, destroying at least one fighter caught on the ground.

Wau, New Guinea, received two visits from the Japanese—its twelfth and thirteenth of the war. Seventeen fighters came over shortly before noon, with fifteen staying above, while two dropped down to strafe the airdrome. Our anti-aircraft fire damaged one of the two.

Later seven light bombers attacked the airdrome from 10,000 feet but damage was light.

The Japanese raid on Bena Bena was the fourth of the war. Damage was negligible.

KAHILI RAIDED

Big U. S. Bombers in Smash at Jap Base on Bougainville—Two Other Points Hit—All Raiders Return Safely

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, June 20 (AP)—Four-engined Liberator bombers raided Kahili, important Japanese air base on the southern tip of Bougainville Island, Friday night, South Pacific naval headquarters reported today.

The pilots started their runs about 9 p. m. They reported explosions in the target area and fires that became visible for 20 miles.

Medium bombers also raided Ballale, starting fires on that small island base in the Shortland group. Other Mitchells strafed six barges in Wilson Strait between Vella Lavella and Ganongga islands.

All U. S. planes returned safely from these missions.

General Freyberg At Home

Wellington, New Zealand, June 20 (AP)—Lieutenant General Sir Bernard C. Freyberg, whose New Zealanders were in the van of the troops that outflanked the Mareth line and aided in the final defeat of Axis forces in Tunisia, has returned here for consultations with the Government, it was announced officially today.

JUN 21 1943

Tin Price Increase Is Seen

LA PAZ, Bolivia, June 20 (AP).—The Lima, Peru, correspondent of "La Razon", says the United States had agreed to increase the price of tin in conferences with President Enrigue Penaranda, of Bolivia, who has recently completed a visit to Washington.

Bolivian-Chilean Accord Reported Over Seaport

La Paz, Bolivia, June 19 (AP)—The newspaper La Razon said tonight it had learned from an authorized source that Chile and Bolivia had reached an accord in principle after direct negotiations over Bolivia's efforts to obtain a seaport. No details of the reported accord were announced.

[The question of a Pacific outlet for landlocked Bolivia has been a sore point between Bolivia and Chile for almost sixty years, and was involved in the long-standing disputes over the Tacna Arica territory.]

YANKS SOLVE TWO ATTU MYSTERIES

ATTU VILLAGE, Attu, May 31 (Delayed) (AP)—Two mysterious were solved with entrance of American troops into this village.

One was the disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster Jones, only wihte persons on Attu at the time of the Japanese invasion, both attempted suicide by slashing their wrists. Jones succeeded but his wife recovered and is now in a concentration camp at Zentsuji, Japan. The 42 Aleuts taken from Attu were reported to be on Sakhalin Island.

The other mystery was why so much lipstick and rouge was found in Japanese gear. It was found that Jap soldiers used it in place of wax to imprint their names on letters. Small name stencils were found in many Jap knapsacks.

115 REPORTED DEAD IN NEW army LIST

Names of Those From Metropolitan Area Are Included in War Department List

NINETEEN FROM NEW YORK

Eleven New Jersey Soldiers Fell in Action in the North African Theatre

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The War Department announced tonight the names of 115 United States soldiers killed in action. Nineteen were from New York and eleven were from New Jersey. Among those listed were the following from the metropolitan area:

JUN 21 1943

New York

European Area

PAYNE, JOHN A., second lieutenant; wife, Mrs. Lu Verne F. Payne, Buffalo.
READDING, RUSSELL B., staff sergeant; aunt, Mrs. Anna Rose, 334 E. 154th St., Bronx.

North African Area

ARCHER, WALLACE S., private first class; mother, Mrs. Mable Archer, 167 E. 77th St., New York.
BACON, CHARLES P., private first class; mother, Mrs. Marcella Bacon, Hopewell Junction.
COLE, WILLIAM G., first lieutenant; Mrs. Jane Z. Cole, Hudson Falls.
DE ROSA, Valvatore J., private; mother, Mrs. Mary De Rosa, 2936 Colden Ave., Bronx.
DESPLAAS, ALBERT J., private first class; mother, Mrs. J. Desplaas, 59-14 59th Ave., Woodside.
FISHER, KENNETH R., private first class, mother, Mrs. Edith J. Fisher, Newport.
GELLER, LARRY, private first class; father, Nathan Geller, 1735 Fulton Ave. B, Bronx.
HALSTEAD, IRVING D., private; mother, Mrs. Bessie Campbell, Memphis.
KILLIAN, FRANCIS M., captain; wife, Mrs. Francis M. Killian, care Mrs. James Ferris, 1000 Park Ave., New York.
KISSELL, JOHN A., sergeant; father, John E. Kissell, 319 Woods Ave., Oceanside.
McTIERNAN, DOUGLAS W., private; mother, Mrs. W. McTiernan, 6 Catharine Slip, New York.
NABER, ALLAN E., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Elmer Naber, Buffalo.
PIORUN, STANLEY Jr., private; aunt, Mrs. Eva Michaels, 751 Tilden St., Bronx.
RODAK, ANDREW Jr., private; mother, Mrs. Mary Rodak, Skaneateles Falls.
SPATAZZA, DANIEL A., private first class; mother, Mrs. Sarah Spatazza, Buffalo.

Southwest Pacific Area

McKEON, EDWARD J., sergeant; father, Joseph F. McKeon, 109-03 221st St., Queens Village.
MILLER, JOHN H., private; father, Henry Miller, 518 Bainbridge St., Brooklyn.

New Jersey

North Africa

BETZ, WILLIAM R., second lieutenant; father, William Betz, Trenton.
CUPANO, DOMINICK S., private; mother, Mrs. Nancy Cupano, New Brunswick.
FRANKLAND, WOODROW, sergeant; mother, Mrs. Gertrude G. Frankland, Lyndhurst.
HAGETTER, EDWARD K., staff sergeant; mother, Mrs. Cecelia D. Roehrich, Newark.
HORYD, JOHN S., private; mother, Mrs. Agnes Horyd, Jersey City.
MACHLBACHER, WILLIAM J., corporal; brother, John Mahlbacher, Carlstadt.
MAYNES, WILLIAM R., private first class; father, William Maynes, Union City.
NUTZEL, WILLIAM G., Jr., first lieutenant; father, William G. Nutzel, Sr., Nutley.
ORT, EDWARD A., private first class; father, Adam Ort, Bayonne.
SNOW, JOHN S., private; brother, Egvin L. Snow, Union City.
SVISTAK, MICHAEL, private; mother, Mrs. Mary Svistak, Passaic.

The following New Jersey men were listed as wounded in North Africa:

PETRUZZIELLO, MARIO, sergeant; brother, Arthur Petruzziello, Jersey City.
REILLY, JOSEPH L., corporal; wife, Mrs. Flois Reilly, Jersey City.

Planes Help Destroyer To Sink Submarine

Washington, June 20 (AP)—The navy told today how patrol planes and a destroyer shattered a Japanese submarine in the Aleutians area.

The submarine was surfaced when sighted by the planes but sought to crash dive while depth bombs fell at its side. Trailing the then submerged submarine, the planes marked its course with smoke bombs until the destroyer's lepth charges also were dropped.

Forced to the surface, the submarine crew members attempted to nan their deck guns and fight it out. But, the navy reported, "the destroyer cut loose with its guns and sank the enemy craft."

propaganda assignment.

"We hope, of course, that the Senate committee will grant us a hearing.

"We will do what we can to persuade them that domestic operations should be continued.

"Senator Kenneth McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, acting chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, wrote me last week about the matter."

He emphasized that nothing in that connection was settled.

The Senate committee gets the next chance to work on the bill from which O. W. I.'s $5,500,000 fund for domestic operations was slashed by a House vote.

Cowles' departure from O. W. I. and his replacement by Hoyt were announced long before the House uprising raised the question whether there would be any money with which to do the job.

Cowles was out of Washington today, but associates in O. W. I. said they expected both he and Hoyt would appear tomorrow. Unofficially it was understood that Cowles had agreed to stay here until something is done one way or another about the budget.

Hoyt Taking On O.W.I. Job That House Cut Out

Coast Publisher Succeeding Cowles in Domestic Unit, With Fate Up to Senate

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP).—A new chief takes over the domestic branch of the Office of War Information this week, a job due to become non-existent unless the Senate disagrees with the House vote to abolish the branch.

Palmer Hoyt, publisher of "The Portland Oregonian," is expected in Washington this week, perhaps tomorrow, to succeed Gardner Cowles jr., publisher of "The Des Moines Register and Tribune," who has resigned from the post.

Meanwhile Elmer Davis, director of O. W. I., added nothing but emphasis to his statement that if the Senate agrees with the House in cutting off all funds for operation of the domestic division, he will leave the government agency.

"Of course," Davis said, in answer to a question whether he was still determined to quit if the job were cut down to a foreign

SAFETY HONOR TO AIR FORCE

Award for Good Record in Training Airmen

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The National Safety Council's special wartime award was presented to the army air forces today for "distinguished service to safety."

The award was based on the AAF record of an average of only five injuries for each 100 men in its aviation cadet programme.

Presented on the Army Hour radio programme the award was accepted by General Henry H. Arnold, commander of the air forces, with the statement:

"There is nothing inconsistent in the fact that the National Safety Council makes this award to men who are daily endangering their lives.

"When our airmen blast our enemies out of the sky and off the face of the earth they are bringing the end of the war closer—eliminating the dangers from hostile bombs, guns, mines—promoting not only the safety of the army air forces, but also the safety and welfare of generations to come."

JUN 21 1943

Workers Cross Picket Lines of Ford Foremen

Union Authorizes Action; 2,700 Out in 4 Plants; Willow Run Is Affected

JUN 21 1943

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 30.—Foremen striking against the Ford Motor Company, with the gigantic Willow Run bomber plant involved, created a situation probably without parallel in labor history tonight.

The Independent Foremen's Association of America, with the qualified support of the Congress of Industrial Organization's United Auto Workers, walked out at three company plants and at the government-owned Willow Run plant which Henry Ford operates.

Employees on the big midnight shifts opening the regular work week at both plants entered to their jobs without untoward incident, a company spokesman said. He said it would be impossible before morning, however, to determine the production status.

A crisis developed out of company discipline of a number of Foreman's Association members at the Rouge plant Saturday, when the strike began. Tonight foremen spokesmen said 2,700 of their men were off the job and that 9,000 would be on strike by tomorrow.

So far, however, production was reported unimpeded. Skeleton shifts work on Sunday at all the plants. Pickets appeared at Willow Run, first such incident there, but a company spokesman said "everything is going along okay."

The United Auto Workers, organized in all Ford plants, decided to go through foremen's picket lines, but not to accept any foreman's job. The U. A. W. members, who are hourly workers, are subordinates of the foremen. This action seemingly assured the continuance of production. In addition to Willow Run and Rouge, the Highland Park and Lincoln plants were involved. Scores of thousands of men and women are employed.

R. J. Thomas, president of the U. A. W.-C. I. O. announced that "workers of (Ford) Local 600 will not take foremen's jobs but will continue on their own jobs and will not recognize the foremen's picket lines."

Originally described by a foreman's union spoksman as a wildcat strike, the walkout received the approval of union heads today. Robert H. Keys, international president of the F. A. A., said officials of the organization had approved and that the foreman would not return to work until ordered back by himself.

Although frowned upon by the National Labor Relations Board as a collective bargaining agency, the foremen's union nonetheless claims a formal agreement with the Ford Company governing wages and working conditions.

This was the first time foremen had struck in the automobile industry. Mr. Keys blamed the strike on lay-offs or discharges of thirty-one foremen in connection with the posting of a "We don't want to strike" notice on the Rouge plant bulletin board by association members. The notice previously had been printed as an advertisement by the union in a Detroit newspaper.

The notice, Mr. Keys said, referred to a technical question involving a wage category in which he charged that the company had delayed a settlement. He said the disciplining had provoked the strike. Ford officials made no comment.

With the heading "we don't want to strike," the advertisement had been placed by the foremen's organization in a Detroit newspaper Saturday representing the union members as impatient over progress of negotiations on a wage issue.

The advertisement said the foremen had appealed "many times" to the Ford management for "adherence to the agreement between us." This agreement, it was set forth, became effective last Nov. 5.

"In our almost two years of representing organized supervision," the advertisement said, "we have never been forced to resort to strikes or stoppages to obtain adjustment of differences.

"Our record is clean. How long can we keep it so?"

War Damage Insurance Rate Freeze Is Urged

New York, June 20 (AP)—The American Business Congress urged committees of the Senate and House of Representatives today to take immediate action to prevent additional premiums on Government damage insurance, George J. Seedman, president of the group, announced.

The organization, in telegrams to Senator James E. Murray and Wright Patman, chairmen, respectively, of the Senate and House Small Business committees, called for proposal of legislation which would extend the insurance coverage without payment of additional premiums.

Declaring that the cost of additional premiums would be borne chiefly by small property owners, "a large majority of whom are not enjoying normal income, due to war dislocations . . .," Seedman pointed out that "to date there have been no losses."

"When this form of government insurance was proposed," he added, "it was stated that it was not the intent of the Government to make a profit. Thus, the premiums already collected should remain a fund sufficient to care for emergencies."

16 Organizations To Benefit From War-Fund Drive

New York, June 20 (AP)—The final list of sixteen agencies which will be beneficiaries of the $125,000,000 campaign to be conducted this fall by the National War Fund was announced today by Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the fund.

The fund will work with united campaigns in some 6,000 communities throughout the nation to raise money for the agencies serving war needs in the United States, on the military front, in the United Nations and in Axis-occupied countries, Aldrich said.

The agencies selected are:

United Service Organizations, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners' Aid, Belgian War Relief Society, British War Relief Society, French Relief Fund, Greek War Relief Association, Norwegian Relief, Polish War Relief, Queen Wilhemina Fund, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, United Czecho-Slovak Relief Fund, United Yugoslav Relief Fund, Refugee Relief Trustees and United States Committee for the Care of European Children.

No Merchantmen Sunk In 2 Weeks In West Atlantic

New York, June 20 (AP)—No Western Atlantic Allied or neutral merchant ship sinkings were announced last week, marking the first time since Pearl Harbor that no losses were revealed during any two successive weeks.

Only four merchant losses in those waters have been disclosed so far this month. May sinking announcements totaled fourteen ships.

Announcements last year showed that 111 merchant vessels were destroyed in the Western Atlantic in June, while 102 were sunk in May. So far eight were revealed as sunk in May of this year with none announced for June. However, sinkings usually are made public about one month after they occur.

Seven Killed In Crash Of Plane Near Runway

Rapid City, S. D., June 20 (AP)—Seven men were killed and four were injured when a four-engined army bomber crashed near the runway of the Great Falls (Mont.) air base Saturday, Major Ellis E. Eno, commander of the Rapid City Army Air Base, announced today.

The ship was on a routine training flight from the Rapid City base at the time, Major Eno said.

NINTH SUBMARINE IN 17 WEEKS LAUNCHED

GROTON, Conn., June 20 (AP)—The submarine Flasher, the ninth undersea craft to be launched here in 17 weeks, slid down the Electric Boat Company's ways into the Thames River today.

Mrs. Willard A. Saunders, wife of a submarine officer recently awarded a Navy Cross, served as the sponsor. Her husband looked on.

San Francisco Has Blackout For 40 Minutes

San Francisco, June 20 (AP)—Sirens sounded in San Francisco and neighboring cities at 1.07 A. M. today for the first blackout in the bay area since May 3, 1942.

The all-clear signal was given at 1.47 A. M., the Western Defense Command said, when approaching planes which caused the alarm were identified as friendly. Radio silence was ordered a few minutes previous to the blackout, which left numerous shipyards and other night-working industries lighted only by a waning moon.

A "yellow" alert had been ordered in the Los Angeles area at 10.28 o'clock last night, but there was no radio silence there. The Western Defense Command said the alert, lasting for nineteen minutes, was caused by an unidentified target determined to be friendly.

JUN 21 1943

Boy of 12 a Marine 7 Months; Colonel Hopes He Will Be Back

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 20 (AP)—For seven months he has been James P. Baker, private first class U. S. M. C.—but today he's just Jimmy Baker, twelve, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Probably the youngest Leatherneck of World War II, Baker was honorably discharged at Camp Pendleton after it was learned he was five years younger than the minimum age requirement, Marine officials disclosed today.

Jimmy was one of the spark plugs of his platoon and five months after his enlistment he was promoted to private first class.

Lieutenant Colonel B. B. Coffenberg, commanding officer of the Marine barracks at Camp Pendleton, said Jimmy enlisted in the corps at Orlando, Fla., in June, 1942, by falsifying his age and presenting what he said was the signed consent of his parents.

One year almost to the day after Jimmy had enlisted Colonel Coffenberg received an official letter from Washington informing him that PFC. Baker was twelve years old.

Confronted by the colonel, the youth admitted his true age.

"You see, sir, I wanted to fight. I wanted more than anything in the world to be a marine, and I hope, sir, that I can stay in," stammered Jimmy.

A few days later Jimmy again appeared before Colonel Coffenberg, this time for discharge.

"Baker," said the colonel, "I have here an honorable discharge, with character 'excellent.' I give it to you, not only with congratulations but with a sincere feeling of regret.

"I'm proud that you were in my organization, and when you reach the legal age for enlistment I hope you will look me up and I'll move heaven and earth to get you back in my command.

JUN 21 1943

4 GOgovernors AIR JOB ISSUE

Agree Post-War U. S. Aid Will Be Needed But Urge Control By States

O'Conor, At Ohio Conference, Voices His Opposition To Centralized Bureaus

[By the Associated Press]

Columbus, Ohio, June 20—Chief executives of four States agreed today that Government must supplement private industry to provide post-war employment and contended that broad authority should be delegated to the States under any Federal public works program.

Governors Herbert R. O'Conor of Maryland, John W. Bricker of Ohio, Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts and J. Melville Broughton of North Carolina participated in a radio discussion (University of Chicago round table) of "the States and Post-War America."

The executives are in Columbus for the thirty-fifth annual Governors' conference, which continues through Wednesday.

Dewey Among Arrivals

Another visitor was Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who predicted in an interview that the Republican party in 1944 would adopt an anti-isolationist platform calling for post-war collaboration.

O'Conor, a Democrat, asserted that post-war undertakings, nationwide in character, "can be completely effective if handled through State channels, since knowledge of local conditions is imperative."

Eliminates Lost Motion

"Furthermore, the localization of authority eliminates lost motion and makes for economy as well as efficiency," he added. "The States are preparing the groundwork now for the handling of post-war activities through the States themselves rather than through centralized bureaus in Washington."

Bricker, a Republican, declared that if there is a Federal program of public works, Federal funds "should be spent through local government authorities."

"There never again should be superimposed upon the local authorities the costly and bureaucratic Federal method of spending money in the local communities that we have had in the past," he said. "Many great labor needs can never be wholly met by Government. Government employment should be only a shock absorber to take up the slack necessary to prevent suffering."

Broughton's Viewpoint

Broughton, a Democrat, remarked that "it is futile to say that free enterprise will take care of the situation after victory."

He said post-war unemployment "cannot be solved by business and industry alone; it should not be solved by Government alone. . . . Local, State and Federal governments must cooperate. We cannot, we dare not, run the hazard or suffer the injustice of converting an army of victory into an army of unemployed."

Jobs in private industry, said Saltonstall, a Republican, "are the surest solution of post-war problems and the best guarantee of our system of living."

"The Only Sure Measure"

"Public works may be necessary for a time," he added. "At best, Government projects will be a stopgap. Decentralized planning by private industry now is the only sure measure to prevent employment from being too little and too late."

30.24 - 5217

Thirty-six Governors are expected to participate in conference business sessions, starting tomorrow.

O'Conor added that opinion at the conference was that the nation will be confronted by three major questions after the war. He enumerated them as:

"First the question of employment, adequate employment, when the industrial demands of the military forces have been curtailed, and the millions of men in the armed forces return home to seek a place in the national economy.

The Second Problem

"The second problem recognized is that of finance, and the third, that of administration of public services."

He said that of the "three crowded days of discussions" scheduled for the annual meeting, the last two will be devoted entirely to post-war problems.

"It has been said," O'Conor concluded, "that the lesson we learn from history is that we learn nothing from history. Having sensed the attitude of these State representatives participating in the regional conferences on post-war plans, I can promise you that the States have learned from the bitter experience of the depression years following World War No. 1.

Can Accomplish Much

"We are convinced that sincere, open-minded and energetic application now to the problems that can be expected to present themselves in the war-to-peace conversion period ahead can accomplish much.

"With such advance thinking and planning, the forty-eight States, and the Federal Government, we are confident, not only can avoid the economic chaos that resulted from World War I, but can so order the national economy as to achieve full measure of improved living conditions stemming from the marvelous scientific advances made under the spur of this war's necessities."

30.24 - 5217

UNTIL THE DAY WHEN HER EMISSARIES ACTUALLY ASK FOR A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

BUT MUCH FIGHTING PROBABLY WILL HAVE TO TAKE PLACE ON THE ITALIAN MAINLAND BEFORE THE DOMINANT CLIQUE OF FASCISTS NOW IN CONTROL IS FINALLY CONVINCED THAT THE GAME IS UP, AND THAT THERE IS NO OTHER COURSE BUT UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER. THIS FACTION APPEARS DETERMINED TO PLAY OUT THE GAMBLE, HOPING THAT THINGS MAY GO UNEXPECTEDLY WELL FOR THEM WHEN THE DAY OF INVASION COMES--OR THAT INVASION WILL NOT COME AT ALL. PARADOXICALLY, THEY ARE ENCOURAGED TO RECALL THAT ENGLAND WAS NOT INVADED IN 1940 OR 1941.

THE NAMES OF MARSHAL PIETRO BADOGLIO AND CROWN PRINCE UMBERTO CROP UP IN ALMOST EVERY ITALIAN PEACE RUMOR. BUT IT IS FAR FROM CERTAIN THAT EITHER WOULD BE ACCEPTABLE TO THE ALLIES AS A SUCCESSOR TO THE PRESENT CHIEF OF THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT.

THERE APPARENTLY IS A CONSIDERABLE RIFT IN THE FASCIST PARTY. THERE DOUBTLESS ARE A GOODLY NUMBER OF HIGHLY PLACED ITALIANS WHO BELIEVE ITALY STILL IS IN A GOOD BARGAINING POSITIONS. THEY MAY NOT BE CONVINCED THAT IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO GET CONDITIONS IN A SO-CALLED UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER, AND THAT IT STILL WOULD BE POSSIBLE TO TURN IN ITALY'S ASSETS--HER FLEET, HER POWER TO EXACT A HEAVY TOLL OF ALLIED INVASION ARMIES, HER OCCUPATION FORCES IN SOUTHERN FRANCE, GREECE AND THE BALKANS--IN EXCHANGE FOR TERMS.

THE TERMS SOME OF THESE ELEMENTS ENVISAGE MAY INCLUDE ALLIED RECOGNITION OF A FASCIST-MADE REVOLUTION. BUT THE SLOW WEEDING OUT OF PRO-VICHY ELEMENTS IN NORTH AFRICA PROBABLY HAS DISCOURAGED THEIR HOPE OF REPLACING MUSSOLINI WITH A FASCIST REGIME BEARING AN ALLIED LABEL.

--DASH--

OF COURSE THE ALLIES MAY NOT INVADE ITALY AT ALL. THEY MAY PREFER TO OBTAIN BOMBING POSITIONS FROM WHICH THEY CAN MAKE ITALIANS SO SICK OF AIR WAR THAT THEY WOULD WELCOME INVASION AS A RELIEF.

A LARGE SCHOOL OF ALLIED MILITARY OPINION HOLDS THAT IT WOULD BE BETTER NOT TO INVADE ITALY BECAUSE (1) OCCUPATION OF THE PENINSULA WOULD BRING UPON THE ALLIES A HUGE PROBLEM IN FEEDING THE ITALIAN POPULATION (2) LEAD NOWHERE EXCEPT UP A BLIND ALLEY IN THE ALPS AND (3) AN ATTACK ON THE ITALIAN HOMELAND MIGHT INCITE ITALIANS TO FIERCE

JUN 21 1943

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

---

BY CARL C. CRANMER

JUN 21 1943

RUMORS OF A SEPARATE PEACE SOUGHT BY ITALY ARE CERTAIN TO BOB UP

RESISTANCE.

THE COUNTER-ARGUMENTS ARE HEARD THAT (1) ANY PART OF EUROPE WILL POSE A FOOD PROBLEM FOR INVADING ALLIED ARMIES, (2) ITALY, PARTICULARLY THE NORTHERN PART, WOULD BE AN EXCELLENT BASE FROM WHICH TO BOMB GERMANY, (3) KNOCKING OUT THE ROME END OF THE AXIS WOULD HAVE AN IMMENSE EFFECT ON THE MORALE OF ALL THE BALKAN SATELLITES, AND (4) SURRENDER OF ROME MIGHT CARRY WITH IT THE COLLAPSE OF ALL THE ITALIAN GARRISONS IN SOUTHERN FRANCE, THE BALKANS AND GREECE--IN SHORT KNOCK A HUGE HOLE IN ADOLF HITLER'S ENTIRE SOUTHERN DEFENSE STRUCTURE.

NATURALLY, THE FRENCH IN NORTH AFRICA WOULD LIKE TO SEE THEIR HOMELAND LIBERATED FIRST.

JUN 21 1943

THE ITALIANS, HOWEVER, CAN ONLY WORRY ABOUT WHO HAS WON THE ARGUMENT.

THE VISIT OF THE BRITISH COMMANDER IN THE LEVANT, ADMIRAL SIR JOHN CUNNINGHAM, TO TURKEY FOR OFFICIAL CONFERENCES, THE TEMPORARY CLOSING BY THE BRITISH OF THE TURKISH-SYRIAN BORDER TO PROTECT SECRET TROOP MOVEMENTS, AS THEY SAID, AND A SPEECH BY THE TURKISH PREMIER IN WHICH HE WAS DECIDEDLY FRIENDLY TO THE ALLIES WERE OTHER EVENTS LAST WEEK WHICH KEPT THE MEDITERRANEAN IN THE FOREFRONT OF THE WAR THEATERS.

THE UNITED NATIONS HAVE NOT YET BEGUN THE INTENSE AERIAL BOMBARDMENT THAT MIGHT HERALD A LARGE-SCALE OPERATION IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN, AS THEY HAVE IN THE CENTRAL AREA.

THE GREEK ISLAND OF CRETE IS PROBABLY THE STRONGEST GERMAN-HELD POSITION FRONTING THE MEDITERRANEAN.

SEVERAL GERMAN DIVISIONS MAY BE STATIONED THERE. IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO BOMB CRETE ON A SCALE COMPARABLE WITH THAT WHICH BROUGHT DOWN PANTELLERIA, BECAUSE THE NEAREST ALLIED BASES TO THE SOUTH IN AFRICA PROBABLY ARE IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD OF TOBRUK, 200 MILES AWAY, AND TO THE EAST ON THE ISLAND OF CYPRUS, NEARLY 350 MILES AWAY.

TURKEY, SHOULD SHE ENTER THE WAR ON THE SIDE OF THE ALLIES, IS ABOUT 150 MILES AWAY.

THE ITALIAN DODECANESE ISLANDS ARE CONSIDERABLY CLOSER, HOWEVER, AND THE MAIN ISLAND OF RHODES, WITH ITS SEVERAL ESTABLISHED AIRFIELDS, IS ONLY ABOUT 100 MILES FROM CRETE.

IF AN ALLIED OFFENSIVE DEVELOPS IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN THE LITTLE ISLAND OF CASTELROSSO MAY AGAIN BE IN THE HEADLINES. EASTERNMOST OF THE DODECANESE AND WITHIN SIGHT OF THE SOUTHEAST TURKISH COAST, THIS TINY ISLAND WAS THE SCENE OF A MYSTERIOUS INCIDENT IN FEBRUARY, 1941, WHEN THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED ITS CAPTURE AND TWO DAYS LATER ANNOUNCED THAT THEY HAD WITHDRAWN.

CASTELROSSO IS ONLY ABOUT 11 SQUARE MILES IN AREA AND PROBABLY COMPARABLE IN IMPORTANCE TO LAMPEDUSA OFF THE EAST COAST OF TUNISIA. BUT IT IS ABOUT 160 MILES FROM CYPRUS AND 190 MILES FROM CRETE AND MIGHT BECOME A STEPPING STONE.

JUN 21 1943

THE ITALIANS SAID THAT THEIR FORCES, PUT ASHORE FROM SPEEDBOATS, HAD CAPTURED OR KILLED MOST OF THE 300 BRITISH SENT TO HOLD THE ISLAND. THE BRITISH SAID THEY HAD ACCOMPLISHED THEIR PURPOSE AND THAT THE ITALIANS WERE OPERATING A SEAPLANE BASE THERE. THE ITALIANS DENIED THE EXISTENCE OF THE SEAPLANE BASE. THE EPISODE HAS NOT BEEN FULLY EXPLAINED TO THIS DAY.

JUN 21 1943

30-24-5219

SUNDAY,
LONDON, JUNE 20-(AP)- RAF BOMBERS WERE OVER EN GERMAN-OCCUPIED TERRITORY LAST NIGHT AGAIN AFTER A ONE-NIGHT LULL, IT WAS STATED AUTHORITATIVELY TODAY.

TWO ENEMY PLANES WERE DESTROYED OVER NORTHERN FRANCE BY THE RAF DURING THE NIGHT, THE BRITISH SAID.

THE RAF WAS IDLE FRIDAY NIGHT AND THERE WERE ONLY LIGHT FORAYS THURSDAY NIGHT. THE LAST HEAVY BOMBING WAS COLOGNE'S 116TH RAID WEDNESDAY NIGHT XX DURING WHICH OTHER RHINELAND TARGETS WERE HIT. JUN 21 1943

ENGLAND WENT RAID FREE FOR NEARLY 48 HOURS BUT THE GERMANS MADE A WEAK ATTEMPT TO RAID LONDON EARLY TODAY.

THE AIR MINISTRY ANNOUNCED THAT FOUR MOSQUITO BOMBERS SHOT DOWN ONE JUNKERS-88 AND DAMAGED AT LEAST THREE OTHERS IN A CLASH OVER THE BAY OF BISCAY.

THE CAPITAL'S AIRRAID SIRENS SOUNDED SHORTLY BEFORE 1 A.M. (7 P.M. SATURDAY, EWT). ONLY A FEW PLANES WERE REPORTED OVER LONDON

30.24-5219

DURING THE BRIEF ALERT ALTHOUGH SOME BOMBS WERE DROPPED IN TWO OUTLYING AREAS.

JUN 21 1943

THE MOSQUITOS CAUGHT THE GERMAN PLANES CIRCLING OVER A SHIP, THE AIR MINISTRY NEWS SERVICE SAID. ALTHOUGH THE GERMANS HAD A TWO-TO-ONE SUPERIORITY THEY FLED INTO THE CLOUDS.

IN OTHER OFFENSIVE OPERATIONS XXXX SATURDAY TYPHOONS BOMBED A FACTORY, XXXXX FREIGHT TRAIN AND SIDINGS IN FRANCE AND WRECKED A ROAD BRIDGE, THE NEWS SERVICE SAID. OTHER TYPHOONS AND SPITFIRES CONCENTRATED ON SHIPPING AND BARGES IN FRANCE AND HOLLAND.

THE AIR MINISTRY COMMUNIQUE SAID AUSTRALIAN FLYERS ATTACKED ENEMY SHIPPING YESTERDAY ALONG THE NORWEGIAN COAST, TORPEDOED ONE SUPPLY SHIP AND PROBABLY TWO OTHERS. PATROL PLANES OVER FRANCE AND HOLLAND DAMAGED TWO SMALL SUPPLY SHIPS, A NUMBER OF LOCOMOTIVES, BARGES AND OTHER OBJECTIVES. TWO AIRCRAFT WERE REPORTED MISSING.

JUN 21 1943

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 21-(AP)-COL.VASILIEV, A SOVIET MILITARY COMMENTATOR, SAID OVER THE MOSCOW RADIO TODAY IN A RECAPITULATION OF SOME OF THE AXIS LOSSES IN RUSSIA THAT RUMANIA HAD LOST ABOUT 700,000 MEN AND ITALY 176,000.

THESE FIGURES WERE BROKEN DOWN IN THIS WAY:

RUMANIA: 250,000 KILLED, 100,000 LOST AS PRISONERS AND MORE THAN 350,000 WOUNDED.

JUN 21 1943

ITALY: 60,000 KILLED, 46,000 TAKEN PRISONER AND 70,000 WOUNDED.

(ADVANCE)..LONDON, JUNE 20-(AP)-PRINCE BERNHARD OF THE NETHERLANDS SAID IN A RADIO ADDRESS TO HIS HOMELAND TODAY THAT FINAL DECISIONS CONCERNING AN ALLIED INVASION OF THE CONTINENT WERE KNOWN "ONLY AT THI TOP," BUT THAT WHEN THE OPERATION FINALLY STARTED IT WOULD BE DECISIVE.

"THE AIM IS TOTAL LIBERATION AND NOT 'A GLORIOUS ADVENTURE' WHICH WOULD LEAVE BEHIND DEEPER SUFFERING AMONG YOU," HE SAIB. "I ASSURE YOU THAT HARD WORK IS BEING DONE."

THE PRINCE APPEALED TO THE DUTCH PEOPLE TO BE READY TO AID THE INVASION, SAYING THE ALLIES "COUNT ON YOUR FAITH, ON YOUR STEADFAST-NESS AND ON YOUR COLLABORATION AT THE MOMENT WHICH WILL BE INDICATED FROM HERE."

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 21-(AP)-THE MOSCOW RADIO BROADCAST A MESSAGE TODAY FROM U.S. NAVY SECRETARY FRANK KNOX ON THE OCCASION OF TUESDAY'S SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF THE GERMAN INVASION OF RUSSIA.

COL. KNOX SAID IN THE MESSAGE, RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, THAT "THE FIGHTING TROOPS OF RUSSIA HAVE SHOWN A FLAMING COURAGE AND RESOLUTE DETERMINATION UNSURPASSED THROUGHOUT THE PAGES OF HISTORY."

LONDON, JUNE 20-(AP)-EXCEPT FOR AN UNSUCCESSFUL GERMAN THRUST IN THE SUMY (SOOMEE) AREA, ABOUT 100 MILES NORTHWEST OF KHARKOV, OVERNIGHT GROUND ACTIVITY ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT WAS CONFINED CHIEFLY TO RED ARMY ARTILLERY ATTACKS ON NAZI FORTIFICATIONS, THE SOVIET NIDDAY COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

JUN 21 1943

A COMPANY OF GERMANS ATTACKING THE SECTOR WERE REPULSED WITH "HEAVY LOSSES" BY MACHINE-GUN AND RIFLE FIRE, THE WAR BULLETIN SAID. IT WAS BROADCAST FROM MOSCOW AND RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR HERE.

ARTILLERY ATTACKS ON GERMAN POSITIONS ALSO WERE REPORTED ON THE WESTERN FRONT, SOUTH OF BALAKLEYA ON THE DONETS RIVER FRONT, AND ON THE LENINGRAD FRONT. TWENTY-SIX GERMAN BLOCKHOUSES, 12 DUGOUTS AND EIGHT SUPPLY TRUCKS WERE DESTROYED IN THE LENINGRAD SECTOR, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

AN AIR RAID ON A GERMAN-HELD RAILWAY STATION ON THE DONETS FRONT RESULTED IN MANY FIRES AND HEAVY EXPLOSIONS, THE RUSSIANS SAID.

THE OVERNIGHT ATTACK IN THE SUMY AREA BROUGHT THAT SECTOR BACK INTO THE NEWS FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE IT CHANGED HANDS TWICE IN THE WINTER AND SPRING OFFENSIVES.

THE TOWN, SITUATED IN THE VITAL OREL "BULGE" SECTOR, WAS RECAPTURED BY THE RUSSIANS IN FEBRUARY, AND THEY IN TURN LOST IT AGAIN TO THE GERMANS IN THE MAIN SPRING DRIVE BACK INTO THE DONETS RIVER BASIN, DURING WHICH THE GERMANS ALSO RECAPTURED KHARKOV IN SOME OF THE FIERCEST FIGHTING OF THE RUSSIAN WAR.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MORE THAN A WEEK, THE NIDDAY COMMUNIQUE MADE NO MENTION OF GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACKS NORTHWEST OF MTSENSK IN THE OREL SECTOR. THE ACTION THERE HAD BEEN WATCHED WITH INTEREST AS A POSSIBLE POINT FROM WHICH A SUMMER OFFENSIVE MIGHT BE LAUNCHED.

JUN 21 1943

THE MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE SAID THAT RUSSIAN BOMBERS HAD ATTACKED GERMAN AIRDROMES NORTHWEST OF BRYANSK BEHIND THE OREL FRONT FRIDAY. AMMUNITION DUMPS, FUEL SUPPLIES AND PLANE REPAIR BUILDINGS WERE LEFT BURNING FIERCELY, THE RUSSIANS SAID.

(THE BERLIN RADIO, BROADCASTING A MILITARY REVIEW BY GENERAL WALDIMAR COBIT STILLFRIED, SAID LAST NIGHT THAT WHAT HAD SEEMED TO BE RUSSIAN PREPARATIONS FOR A LARGE-SCALE OFFENSIVE IN THE OREL SECTOR HAD RESULTED ONLY IN LOCAL ATTACKS. GERMAN DEFENSES, IT SAID, HAD HALTED THE RUSSIAN THRUSTS. THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

JUN 21 1943

london, june 19-(ap)-- flying through heavy anti-aircraft fire, hampdens of the australian coastal command squadron attacked enemy shipping along the norwegian coast, torpedoing one ~~unidentified~~ supply shi and probably two others, it was authoritatively reported today.

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 21--(AP)--- KING PETER OF YUGOSLAVIA HAS ASKED JOVAN ~~HENNNNNN~~ BANJANIN TO FORM A NEW ~~GOVERNMENTKRNNEN~~ GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE TO SUCCEED THAT OF PRIME MINISTER SLOBODAN JOVANICH WHICH RESIGNED LAST THURSDAY.

BANJANIN WAS SECOND DEPUTY REGENT OF YUGOSLAVIA FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION OF KING ALEXANDER, PETER'S FATHER, IN 1934. HE ALSO IS A FORMER MINISTER OF FORESTRY.

30-24-5221

30-24-5221

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 21--(AP)--- THE MOSCOW RADIO BROADCAST A MESSAGE TODAY FROM U.S. NAVY SECRETARY FRANK KNOX ON THE ~~NNNN~~ OCCASION OF TUESDAY'S SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF THE GERMAN INVASION OF RUSSIA.

JUN 21 1943

COL. KNOX SAID IN THE MESSAGE, RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, THAT "THE FIGHTING TROOPS OF RUSSIA HAVE SHOWN FLAMING COURAGE AND RESOLUTE DETERMINATION UNSURPASSED THROUGHOUT THE PAGES OF HISTORY."

(ADVANCE) LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 21-(AP)--MAXWELL ANDERSON'S BROADWAY STAGE HIT, "THE EVE OF ST. MARK," WILL MAKE ITS FIRST APPEARANCE OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES ON JULY 4 WHEN IT WILL BE STAGED AT LONDON'S SCALA THEATER WITH AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN THE LEADING ROLES AND AMERICAN RED CROSS WORKERS IN THE SUPPORTING CAST.

THE SOLDIER ACTORS WERE PICKED PERSONALLY BY ANDERSON, WHO CAME TO ENGLAND SEVERAL WEEKS AGO. THEY ARE ON ACTIVE DUTY AND ARE GIVING THEIR SPARE TIME TO REHEARSALS AND PERFORMANCES. THE COMPANY WILL GIVE FIVE PERFORMANCES WEEKLY.

JUN 21 1943

SEND ADVANCE FOR USE AT 6:30 P.M. EASTERN WAR TIME TODAY, SUNDAY, JUNE 20)

MOSCOW, JUNE 20-(AP)-A COMPANY OF GERMANS ATTEMPTED TO ATTACK RUSSIAN POSITIONS ON THE OREL HINGE NEAR SUMY, 100 MILES NORTHWEST OF KHARKOV AND SURVIVORS WERE SENT BACK REELING OVER THE BODIES OF MANY OF THEIR COMRADES, RUSSIAN COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY. JUN 21 1943

THE ENEMY THUS SHIFTED HIS PROBINGS FROM THE MTSENSK SECTOR, WHERE THE RED ARMY HAD IMPROVED ITS POSITIONS AND REPULSED 50 GERMAN COUNTERATTACKS RECENTLY. NO MENTION WAS MADE OF FIGHTING THERE FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MANY DAYS, BUT PRISONERS WERE QUOTED AS SAYING FRESH NAZI TROOPS HAD BEEN SHIFTED TO THE MTSENSK SECTOR.

ELSEWHERE ON THE FRONT ONLY THE RUMBLE OF HEAVY CANNON BROKE THE SUNDAY CALM. ALOFT, HOWEVER, THE RED AIR FORCE PURSUED ITS PERSISTENT ATTACKS ON GERMAN CONCENTRATIONS AND AIRDROMES. THE COMMUNIQUE TOLD OF AN ATTACK ON A RAILWAY BEHIND BALAKLEYA WHERE SOVIET BOMBS STARTED MANY FIRES, FANNED BY HEAVY EXPLOSIONS

THE GERMAN AIR FORCE FAILED TO REPLY WITH ITS CUSTOMARY LONG-RANGE ATTACKS ON RUSSIAN INDUSTRIAL CENTERS.

(THE GERMAN COMMUNIQUE SAID THE NAZIS REPULSED LOCAL ATTACKS IN THE KUBAN BRIDGEHEAD OF THE CAUCASUS, NORTHEAST OF SUMY AND AROUND KIROV. GERMAN ARTILLERY WAS SAID TO HAVE SHELLED LENINGRAD OBJECTIVES, WHILE PLANES RAIDED THE VOLGA ESTUARY ATTACKING FOUR SHIPS AND OTHER UNSPECIFIED TARGETS IN THE RUSSIAN HINTERLAND.)

ON THE LENINGRAD FRONT, 38 BLOCKHOUSES AND DUGOUTS AND EIGHT TRUCKS WERE DESTROYED, THE RUSSIANS SAID. SCOUTS AND SNIPERS FINISHED OFF 140 GERMANS.

GENEVA, JUNE 20--(AP)--- SWITZERLAND'S ECONOMICS MINISTER, DR. WALTER STAMPFLI, ALLUDING TO DIFFICULTIES CREATED BY TIGHTENING OF BLOCKADES, DECLARED TODAY THAT THE NATION IS DIPPING INTO ITS RESERVES AND FACES STILL HARDER TIMES.

JUN 21 1943

THE SWISS HAVE CREATED THEIR OWN MERCHANT FLEET SINCE THE WAR BEGAN, BUT "TODAY OUR BOATS ARE UNUSED AND AT ANCHOR IN IBERIAN PORTS," HE SAID.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 20-(AP)-A ROME DISPATCH TO THE GAZETTE DE LAUSANNE TODAY SAID DISSOLUTION OF ITALIAN IRREDENTIST ORGANIZATIONS HAD BEEN ORDERED BY CARLO SCORZA, SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE FASCIST PARTY.

THE DISPATCH SAID THE ACTION WAS VIEWED IN THE ITALIAN CAPITAL AS AN INDICATION THE FASCISTS INTENED TO MONOPOLIZE ALL EXTENSIONS OF THE NATION'S POLITICAL MOVEMENTS AND TO CONTROL MORE CLOSELY ALL MANIFESTATIONS IN THIS FIELD.

THE IRREDENTISTS ORIGINALLY WERE ITALIAN PATRIOTIC GROUPS WHICH IN THE LATE 19TH CENTURY BEGAN URGING THE RETURN OF FORMER ITALIAN TERRITORY. THE NAME WAS FORMED FROM THE ITALIAN WORDS ITALIA IRREDENTA--UNREDEEMED ITALY.

JUN 21 1943

ANKARA, JUNE 19-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE SOFIA RADIO ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT A SINGLE GOVERNMENT-INSPIRED "NATIONAL BULGARIAN UNION" SOON WOULD REPLACE OTHER POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS IN BULGARIA AND OBSERVERS HERE INTERPRETED THIS AS POSSIBLY THE FIRST STEP TOWARD ESTABLISHMENT OF A FASCIST MODEL DICTATORSHIP.

JUN 21 1943

TRAVELERS REACHING ANKARA FROM BULGARIA RECENTLY SAID THE DOMESTIC SITUATION WAS GETTING SO FAR OUT OF HAND THAT A DICTATORSHIP WAS PROBABLE. THE ASSASSINATION OF SOME OFFICIAL IS REPORTED ALMOST DAILY, THEY SAID.

OBSERVERS SAID THAT IF A DICTATOR WERE NAMED HE PROBABLY WOULD BE PREMIER BOGDAN PHILOV, WHO IS CONSIDERED TO BE COMPLETELY IN THE HANDS OF KING BORIS.

THEY SAID, HOWEVER, THAT THE SITUATION CLOSELY RESEMBLED THAT IN RUMANIA DURING THE LAST FEW MONTHS OF KING CAROL'S REIGN, WHICH RESULTED IN CAROL'S ABDICATION.

ANKARA, JUNE 18-(DELAYED)-(APL-TURKEY SOON WILL STRENGTHEN HER DIPLOMATIC TIES WITH THE UNITED NATIONS BY APPOINTING MINISTERS TO CANADA, AUSTRALIA AND THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA, AND ALSO WILL REPLACE HER AMBASSADOR TO VICHY, AN INFORMED DIPLOMATIC SOURCE SAID TODAY.

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE CREATION OF THE NEW POSTS IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE IS EXPECTED WITHIN A FEW DAYS.

THE PRESENT TURKISH AMBASSADOR TO VICHY, BEHIC ERKIN, PROBABLY WILL BE SUCCEEDED BY SHEFKI BERKEKES, NOW GENERAL SECRETARY OF THE TURKISH FOREIGN OFFICE, IT WAS LEARNED.

(A THURSDAY DISPATCH FROM SWITZERLAND SAID ERKIN HAD BEEN RECALLED

30-24-5223

30.24-5223

FROM VICHY BECAUSE OF TURKISH ANGER OVER GERMAN GESTAPO SURVEILLANCE AT THE TURKISH EMBASSY, AND NAZI RESTRICTIONS ON ERKIN'S USE OF DIPLOMATIC CODE MESSAGES. QUOTING A TURKISH DIPLOMATIC SOURCE, THE DISPATCH SAID THE ENVOY'S RECALL WAS NOT CONSIDERED A RUPTURE IN RELATIONS BETWEEN VICHY AND ANKARA, BUT THAT IT COULD LEAD TO THAT).

OTHER CHANGES IN TURKISH FOREIGN POSTS ARE PROJECTED, IT WAS SAID. ONE OF THESE IS EXPECTED TO BE THE WITHDRAWAL OF THE AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA, CEVAT ACHIKALIN, WHO PROBABLY WILL TAKE OVER BERKEK'S POST. ACHIKALIN HELD THAT OFFICE BEFORE HIS APPOINTMENT TO RUSSIA LAST AUGUST.

JUN 21 1943

--DASH--

THE TURKISH MOVE TO ESTABLISH MISSIONS IN BRITISH EMPIRE COUNTRIES, ALL OF WHICH ARE GEOGRAPHICALLY STRATEGIC IN THE GLOBAL WAR, MAY BE ANOTHER STEP AWAY FROM STRICT NEUTRALITY. TURKEY HAS A MUTUAL ASSISTANCE AGREEMENT WITH BRITAIN, WHICH SHE NEVER HAS IMPLEMENTED, AND ALSO A FRIENDSHIP TREATY WITH GERMANY.

PREMIER SUKRU SARACOGLU UNDERSCORED TURKEY'S GOOD RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES, BRITAIN, AND RUSSIA IN AN INTERVIEW LAST WEEK, AND ALSO INDICATED THAT HIS COUNTRY WAS IMPRESSED WITH THE SWIFTNESS OF ALLIED MILITARY MOVES IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

BY NOLAND NORGAARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 20-(AP)-DOCKS AND OTHER

JUN 21 1943

HEADQUARTERS OF MAJ.GEN.JAMES H.DOOLITTLE'S STRATEGIC AIR FORCE ANNOUNCED CREDIT FOR THE FOLLOWING VICTORIES BY B-26 MARAUDER GUNNERS IN RUNNING BATTLES WITH AXIS FIGHTERS FRIDAY:

STAFF SERGTS.VINCENT P.RYLKA OF IRVINGTON, N.J., ME-10; LAWRENCE BROUILLETTE, GALESBURG, ILL., MACCHI-202; KENNETH R.WILSON, CHARLEROI, PA., ME-109; ROBERT A.WOODS, THOMPKINSVILLE, KY., ME-109; ANDREW B.COLEMAN, ST.LOUIS, ME-109; AND PRIVATE JAMES W.TARPLEY, OF MIAMI, OKLA., MACCHI-202.

BY THOBURN WIANT

CHUNGKING, JUNE 20-(AP)-COL. THOMAS D.CAMPBELL, ADVISOR TO U.S. ARMY AIRMEN ON TRANSPORTATION AND MAINTENANCE, SAYS HE FINDS HIMSELF "AMAZED AT HOW AMERICANS HAVE BEEN ABLE TO DO SO MUCH WITH SO LITTLE IN INDIA AND CHINA."

HE ARRIVED IN CHUNGKING TODAY.

JUN 21 1943

A 61-YEAR-OLD MONTANA WHEAT RANCHER KNOWN AS "THE HENRY FORD OF AMERICAN FARMING," CAMPBELL LEFT THE UNITED STATES LAST JAN. 12. HE SPENT SEVERAL MONTHS IN NORTH AFRICA BEFORE COMING TO THE CHINA-BURMA-INDIA THEATER MAY 26.

"THE AMERICANS OUT HERE ARE SQUEEZING THE MAXIMUM FROM EVERYTHING THEY GET--TOOLS, MACHINERY, VEHICLES AND AIRPLANES," CAMPBELL SAID IN AN INTERVIEW. "THEY NEED MUCH MORE OF EVERYTHING AND WILL GET IT EVENTUALLY. MEANWHILE THEY DO A JOB OF WHICH ALL AMERICANS SHOULD BE PROUD."

A LITHE, WHITE-HAIRED SIX-FOOTER, CAMPBELL SAID HE WAS SURPRISED BY THE HIGH MORALE WHICH HE FOUND IN EVIDENCE IN INDIA AND CHINA.

"THESE YOUNG FELLOWS CAME OUT ACHING FOR A FIGHT, BUT HAVE BEEN FORCED FOR VARIOUS REASONS TO UNDERGO LONG PERIODS OF INACTIVITY AND IDLENESS," HE SAID. "ORDINARILY SUCH PERIODS TEND TO LOWER MORALE, BUT THE SPIRITS OF THESE BOYS ARE SKY-HIGH. THEY KNOW THEIR TIME IS COMING---AND THEY'RE NOT GOING TO MISS IT."

CAMPBELL, WHOSE FARMS COVER 95,000 ACRES OF BIGHORN COUNTY, MONTANA, ADVISED GEN. DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER ON THE MAINTENANCE OF TRUCKS AND TANKS BEFORE COMING TO THIS THEATER.

"GENERAL EISENHOWER HAD THE SMOOTHEST AND BEST COORDINATED MILITARY MACHINE I EVER SAW," SAID CAMPBELL. "ITS EFFICIENCY WAS DEMONSTRATED BY THE SPEED WITH WHICH THE AXIS WAS KNOCKED OUT IN NORTH AFRICA. A SIMILAR MACHINE IS BEING BUILT OUT HERE---AND I'M CONFIDENT THE RESULTS WILL BE EQUALLY THRILLING."

JUN 21 1943

A175

CAMPBELL IS A MAN OF MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS, BUT HE IS PROUDEST OF BEING CALLED "A GOOD FARMER."

HE SAID HE WAS IMPRESSED BY THE LOYALTY OF THE MEN OVER HERE TO THEIR WIVES AND SWEETHEARTS BACK HOME.

"TALK TO A MAN FIVE MINUTES AND HE'LL SHOW YOU A PICTURE OF HIS WIFE OR SWEETHEART," CAMPBELL ADDED.

WHEREUPON HE WHIPPED OUT A PICTURE OF HIS FAMILY---HIS WIFE AND DAUGHTERS, ELIZABETH ANN, NOW LIVING IN WASHINGTON, D.C., MRS. WILLIAM BASSETT OF BOSTON AND "BOOTS," AN AVIATION STUDENT AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

JUN 21 1943

30.24-5225

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WRITTEN BY SERGEANT JOHN F.REILLY, NEW HAMPTON, IOWA, MARINE COMBAT CORRESPONDENT, WAS DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS).

JUN 21 1943

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC, -(DELAYED)-(AP)-WAR DOGS USED TO GUARD THE SHORES OF THIS OUTPOST HAVE PROVEN THEIR EFFICIENCY, AND IN SOME CASES THEIR NATURAL INSTINCTS HAVE SHOWN THEM TO BE ABLE TO DETECT UNUSUAL THINGS BEFORE HUMAN BEINGS SENSED ANYTHING OUT OF THE ORDINARY.

AS A MATTER OF FACT TRAINERS AND KEEPERS OF THE WAR DOGS OFTEN ASSERT THAT A WELL-TRAINED DOG HAS SHOWN IN MANY INSTANCES THAT IT DID A BETTER JOB OF GUARDING THAN A HUMAN SENTRY.

PRIVATE MARSHALL V.RACINE, 6962 SHERIDAN ROAD, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, ONE OF THE DOG KEEPERS, BACKS UP HIS STATEMENTS BY POINTING OUT THAT NOW 11 WAR DOGS DO THE WORK FORMERLY DONE HERE BY 15 BEACH PATROLMEN. OTHER KEEPERS ARE PRIVATE LAWRENCE E.NICKS, RFD 2, HILLSBORO, ILLINOIS, AND PRIVATE CHARLES R.VOSS, 1308 CHERRY STREET, WEST BEND, WISCONSIN.

PLATOON SERGEANT WILLARD LAYTON, BOX 105, CHULLA VISTA, CALIFORNIA, DOG TRAINER HERE, SAYS WAR DOGS MAY WELL BE CALLED DOG MARINES THAT FREE MARINES TO FIGHT.

PRIVATE RACINE LIKES TO TELL ABOUT THE TIME THAT P-40, A CHUNKY GERMAN SHEPHERD, TURNED OUT THE DOG KEEPERS AND MARINE GUARDS BY BARKING LOUDLY AND INCESSANTLY.

THE DOG WAS FOUND GAZING INTENTLY OUT TO SEA, BUT THE HUMANS COULD NEITHER SEE NOR HEAR ANYTHING UNUSUAL SO THEY TRIED TO SILENCE P-40. THE DOG, IN SPITE OF REPROOF, KEPT BARKING.

AN HOUR LATER THE DOG'S INSISTENCE ON GIVING THE ALARM WAS JUSTIFIED WHEN A JAPANESE FISH FLOAT, USED BY THE JAPS TO SUPPORT THEIR NETS, WASHED ASHORE. THE CHEAP, GREEN GLASS FLOAT BLENDED SO WELL WITH THE OCEAN IT WAS IMPERCEPTIBLE TO HUMAN EYES, BUT P-40 IN SOME MANNER HAD SPOTTED IT LONG BEFORE IT WASHED UP ON LAND.

THE TRAINERS AND KEEPERS, ALWAYS TAKING AN INTENSE AND PERSONAL INTEREST IN THE DOGS THEY ARE TRAINING OR KEEPING, REWARD MERITORIOUS ACTS SUCH AS P-40'S BY DECLARING AN ADVANCEMENT IN DOG RANK RATINGS FOR THE WAR DOG. BUT P-40 LOST HIS CHANCE FOR ADVANCEMENT BY KILLING A SERGEANT MAJOR'S CAT BEFORE HIS PROMOTION WAS APPROVED.

JUN 21 1943

MOST OF THE DOGS IN USE AND TRAINING HERE BELONGED TO FAMILIES IN THIS AREA. THEY HAVE BEEN TRANSFORMED THROUGH CONSISTENT TRAINING FROM PETS INTO VICIOUS WATCH DOGS; EITHER ATTACK DOGS, TAUGHT TO DISARM MEN, OR WARNING DOGS, TAUGHT TO GIVE THE ALARM BY BARKING LOUDLY AND GROWLING AT ANYTHING UNUSUAL.

THE DOGS ARE ALL TRAINED NOT TO ALLOW FRIENDSHIP TO INTERFERE WITH DUTY. I KNOW. I PETTED A BEAUTY, NAMED LORRIE, ONE DAY AS PRIVATE RACINE TRANSFERRED HER FROM ONE GUARD POST TO ANOTHER. NEXT DAY I WENT BACK ALONE TO PET LORRIE AGAIN, BUT AS THE DOG SAW ME COMING SHE CAME UP SNARLING, LUNGED, BROKE HER CHAIN, AND CHARGED TOWARD ME. I WAS PETRIFIED, UNABLE TO MOVE, AND I LEARNED LATER THAT PROBABLY SAVED ME FROM INJURY.

SECOND LIEUTENANT ERNEST H.MOOR, 460 RIDGE AVENUE, LAKEWOOD, NEW JERSEY, SUPERVISOR OF THE DOGS, HEARD LORRIE SNARLING AND GROWLING DEEPLY AS SHE STALKED AROUND AND AROUND ME. HE YELLED THE SIGNAL FOR CEASE ATTACK AND LORRIE, LOOKING VERY PLEASED WITH

JUN 21 1943

HERSELF, TROTTED OVER TO HIM.

SECOND LIEUTENANT MOOR TOLD ME THAT HAD I MOVED, LORRIE WOULD HAVE GRABBED ME, AND WARNED THAT "YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE TRIED TO PET HER. IF YOU LEAVE HER ALONE, SHE'LL LEAVE YOU ALONE."

SPECIAL TRAINING IS GIVEN THE DOGS, HE SAID, TO INSURE THEIR RESENTMENT TOWARD OCCASIONAL VISITORS. THE DOGS NATURALLY LOVE THE MARINES WHO CARE FOR THEM SO, PERIODICALLY, A STRANGER APPEARS TO ASSAULT A KEEPER IN THEIR PRESENCE. THAT MAKES THE DOGS WARY OF EVERY STRANGER, UNLESS THE KEEPER IS PRESENT AND DIRECTS THE DOG TO SUBMIT TO PETTING.

JUN 21 1943

NEW YORK, JUNE 20-(AP)-PREMIER MUSSOLINI RECENTLY VISITED PALERMO AND OTHER SICILIAN TOWNS WHERE HE REPLACED A NUMBER OF OFFICIALS, A FRENCH RADIO BROADCAST FROM ALGIERS, RECORDED BY THE ~~BXXX~~ FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION, SAID TONIGHT.

THE BROADCAST, CITING "INFORMATION RECEIVED FROM ITALY" SAID

NEW YORK, JUNE 20-(AP)-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SAID IN A MESSAGE RECEIVED BY THE RABBINICAL ASSEMBLY OF AMERICA TODAY THAT "NOW PERHAPS MORE THAN EVER BEFORE WE NEED THE STRENGTH THAT LIES IN SPIRITUAL THINGS."

"IT GIVES ME GREAT PLEASURE," THE PRESIDENT SAID, "TO SEND HEARTY GREETINGS TO THE RABBINICAL ASSEMBLY OF AMERICA. THE FORCES OF RELIGION MUST BE UPHELD. NOW PERHAPS MORE THAN EVER BEFORE WE NEED THE STRENGTH THAT LIES IN SPIRITUAL THINGS. I TRUST YOURS WILL BE AN INSPIRING AND PROFITABLE GATHERING."

THE ORGANIZATION OPENS ITS ANNUAL FOUR DAY CONVENTION TOMORROW.

KEARNY, N.J., JUNE 20-(AP)-TWIN DESTROYERS, THE GATLING AND DORTCH, WERE LAUNCHED WITHIN SEVEN MINUTES OF EACH OTHER TODAY FROM ADJACENT WAYS AT THE UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION'S FEDERAL SHIPBUILDING AND DRY DOCK CO. YARDS.

THE GATLING WAS NAMED FOR RICHARD JORDAN GATLING, INVENTOR OF THE RAPID-FIRE MACHINE GUN. A NATIVE OF HARTFORD COUNTY, N.C., HE DIED IN NEW YORK CITY IN 1903. SPONSOR OF THE SHIP WAS MRS. JOHN V. GATLING, OF ALBANY, N.Y., WIFE OF THE INVENTOR'S GRANDSON.

THE DORTCH WAS LAUNCHED UNDER THE SPONSORING HAND OF MISS MARY CLARE DORTCH, OF ANNAPOLIS, MD. SHE IS THE DAUGHTER OF CAPTAIN ISAAC FOOTE DORTCH, FOR WHOM THE SHIP WAS NAMED.

QUEBEC, JUNE 20-(AP)- THE QUEBEC LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ADJOURNED EARLY TODAY UNTIL 11 A.M. MONDAY AFTER DEFEATING A PROPOSAL TO DELAY FOR SIX MONTHS THE STUDY OF A BILL EMPOWERING GOVERNMENT OPERATION OF A SUGAR BEET FACTORY AT ST. HILAIRE.

JUN 21 1943

PREMIER ABELARD GODBOUT, SPEAKING AGAINST THE DELAYING AMENDMENT OFFERED BY ONESIME GAGNON, SAID HE BELIEVED ESTABLISHMENT OF A SUGAR-BEET FACTORY WOULD LOWER THE COST OF SUGAR IN THE PROVINCE.

T.D.BOUCHARD, PROVINCIAL MINISTER OF ROADS AND

JUN 21 1943

PUBLIC WORKS, DECLARED "THIS GOVERNMENT IS GOING TO GIVE QUEBEC FARMERS A SUGAR-BEET FACTORY, NO MATTER WHAT CAPITALISTS AND AND MEMBERS OF THE XX OPPOSITION THINK ABOUT IT."

SANTIAGO, CHILE, JUNE 20-(AP)-JOAQUIN FERNANDEZ, CHILEAN MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS, TODAY DENIED A REPORT BY THE BOLIVIAN NEWSPAPER LA RAZON THAT CHILE AND BOLIVIA HAD REACHED AN ACCORD ON THEIR LONG STANDING DISPUTE OVER BOLIVIA'S ATTEMPT TO OBTAIN A SEAPORT.

JUN 21 1943

FERNANDEZ SAID THE REPORT WAS "ABSOLUTELY INCORRECT."

THE NEWSPAPER HAD QUOTED AN AUTHORIZED SOURCE AS SAYING THE TWO COUNTRIES HAD AGREED IN PRINCIPLE ON A SETTLEMENT AFTER DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS.

ANKARA, JUNE 20-(AP)-TURKEY WILL SOON APPOINT MINISTERS TO AUSTRALIA AND SOUTH AFRICA A RELIABLY INFORMED DIPLOMATIC SOURCE SAID TODAY. THE FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT IS EXPECTED WITHIN A FEW DAYS.

--DASH--

THE TURKISH MOVE TOWARD CLOSER RELATIONS WITH THE BRITISH EMPIRE NATIONS MAY BE ANOTHER STEP IN ITS GRADUAL TURN FROM STRICT NEUTRALITY TOWARD THE UNITED NATIONS. CANADA, AUSTRALIA AND SOUTH AFRICA ARE ALL GEOGRAPHICALLY STRATEGIC IN THE GLOBAL WAR.

PREMIER SUKRU SARACOGLU, IN A SPEECH LAST TUESDAY, UNDERSCORED TURKEY'S GOOD RELATIONS WITH AMERICA, RUSSIA AND BRITAIN AND REITERED THAT BRITAIN AND TURKEY ARE BOUND TOGETHER BY ALLIANCE DURING WAR AND PEACE.

INSIDE THE BALKANS

--

ADAMANT KING
HOLDS BULGARS TO NAZI LINE

--

CONDITIONS WITHIN COUNTRY CHAOTIC,
ANKARA HEARS (1,250)

--

(BULGARIANS, BOUND TO RUSSIA BY NATURAL TIES AND TO GERMANY BY THE EMPIRICAL POLICIES OF THEIR KING, LIVE IN A STATE OF CHAOS, ACCORDING TO THE BEST ADVICES REACHING NEUTRAL ANKARA. THE SITUATION IS DESCRIBED BY FRANK J.O'BRIEN OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS IN THIS SIXTH AND

JUN 21 1943

30.24-5227

30.24-5227

LAST OF A SERIES ON CONDITIONS INSIDE THE BALKANS.)

--

BY FRANK J.O'BRIEN

JUN 21 1943

(ADVANCE)..ANKARA, TURKEY--(AP)--BULGARIA, ACCORDING TO THE BEST INFORMATION OBTAINABLE HERE, IS A LAND OF ALMOST INDESCRIBABLE POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND MILITARY CHAOS, WHERE PEOPLE, KING, GOVERNMENT AND AXIS AND ALLIED INTERESTS ALL ARE PULLING IN DIFFERENT FIRECTIONS.

IT IS AN AGRARIAN LAND WHERE EVEN THE GYPSIES HAVE BEEN PLACED UNDER CIVILIAN MOBILIZATION AS HARVEST WORKERS.

IT IS A POLICE STATE WHERE ONE AFTER ANOTHER OF THE HIGH POLICE OFFICIALS AND PROMINENT POLITICIANS HAVE FALLEN BEFORE A REGIME OF ORGANIZED TERRORISM.

IT IS THE ONLY AXIS SATELLITE WHICH CONTINUES TO MAINTAIN RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA ALTHOUGH AT WAR WITH FAR-AWAY BRITAIN.

IT IS A NATION OF SLIGHT MILITARY STRENGTH LED BY ONE OF THE SHARPEST AND MOST AMBITIOUS RULERS IN EUROPE.

BULGARIA WAS ON THE GERMAN SIDE IN THE LAST WAR, HER QUEEN IOANNA IS A DAUGHTER OF ITALY'S KING VITTORIO EMANUELE, AND HER POLITICALS LEADERS ALWAYS HAVE FELT SHE WAS TREATED TOO HARSHLY AFTER THE LAST WAR. THEY RESENTED THE ALLIED POWERS' FAILURE TO KEEP WHAT BULGARIA FELT WAS A PROMISE TO GIVE HER GOOD PORT FACILITIES AFTER STRIPPING HER OF HER AEGEAN SEACOAST.

THE DREAM OF EMPIRE STILL PERSISTS IN THIS SMALL AND RELATIVELY WEAK LAND, DESPITE THE FACT IT IS GENERALLY AGREED THAT THE KING, MOST MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT AND THE BULGARIAN PEOPLE HAVE GIVEN UP ANY HOPE OF A GERMAN VICTORY.

SINCE BULGARIA'S PRE-WAR REFUSAL TO JOIN HER BALKAN NEIGHBORS IN A UNITED FRONT AGAINST THE AXIS, GERMANY HAS PAID HER WITH DOBRUDJA FROM RUMANIA, MACEDONIA FROM YUGOSLAVIA AND WESTERN THRACE FROM GREECE.

THE BULGARS HOPE TO RETAIN SOME OF THESE GAINS.

ZTHEY HOPE THEY HAVE GRABBED SO MUCH THAT THEY CANNOT BE SHORN OF IT ALL," AS ONE ALLIED DIPLOMAT PUT IT.

DIPLOMATS FAMILIAR WITH BULGARIA GIVE THE FOLLOWING GENERAL PICTURE OF HER SITUATION:

JUN 21 1943

ON THE INSIDE, XULGARIA IS COMPLETELY DOMINATED BY ING BORIS. ALTHOUGH HE IS NOT POPULAR, DUE TO HIS COLD PERSONALITY, HIS PERSONAL GREED FOR POWER AND HIS ALLIANCE WITH GERMANY COUPLED WITH HOSTILITY TOWARD RUSSIA WHICH RUNS DIRECTLY COUNTER TO POPULAR WISHES. HE MAINTAINS A DOMINATING POSITION BY USING WEAKLINGS IN HIGH POSTS TO SHOULDER DIRECT RESPONSIBILITY FOR NATIONAL POLICIES.

SEMI-OFFICIAL REPORTS RECENTLY FROM BULGARIA, WHICH HAD MINISTER OF INTERIOR GABROVSKI AND MINISTER OF COMMERCE ZAHARIEFF RESIGNING, HAVE PROVED UNTRUE. THEY CONTINUE AS TWO OF THE MOST PROMINENT PRO-NAZIS IN THE CABINET AND XEAR THE BRUNT OF POPULAR HOSTILITY TOWARD THE ALLIANCE WITH GERMANY.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS NO PRESTIGE AND LITTLE INFLUENCE WITH THE MASSES, THE REAL GOVERNMENT BEING THE KING AND HIS "SHADOW CABINET." THESE INCLUDE SAVA SAVOFF, WHO ONCE WAS A GOOD FRIEND OF TURKEY'S DICTATOR KAMAL ATATURK, AND A GROUP OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS. THE DECISIONS OF THIS LITTLE GROUP EVENTUALLY BECOME THE SAME AS LAW IN THE NATION, AND ARE CALCULATED TO KEEP BORIS IN POWER, GET AS MANY FAVORS AS POSSIBLE FROM GERMANY, AND AT THE SAME TIME AVOID ANY

JUN 21 1943 JUN 21 1943

3024-5229

TTLEFIELD SACRIFICES SO THAT BULGARIAN STRENGTH MAY BE CONSERVED TO ARD THE GIFTS OF TERRITORY SHE HAS RECEIVED THROUGH GERMANY.

THE GOVERNMENT GAINS ITS PRINCIPAL SUPPORT FROM TWO NATIONWIDE ORGANIZATIONS. ONE IS THE SUPPOSEDLY-BANNED RATNIK GROUP, A PRE-WAR NAZI INSPIRATION LED BY THE ANTI-SEMITIC PROFESSOR KANTARDJIEFF AND FAVORED BY GABROVSKI. THE OTHER IS THE NAZI-MODEL YOUTH GROUP CALLED BRANNIK. THE LATTER IS SUBSIDIZED BY THE GOVERNMENT ANF SCHOOLBOYS ARE REQUIRED TO BELONG. IT IS RESPONSIBLE FOR MUCH JEW-BAITING.

INSIDE PARLIAMENT THE GERMANS ARE SUPPORTED BY A CLIQUE OF FORMERLY UNKNOWN MEMBERS.

JUN 21 1943

SEVERAL CENTERS OF ORGANIZED OPPOSITION TO THE AXIS POLICY EXIST. THE LIBERAL SOFIA NEWSPAPER MIR IS ONE OF THESE. TWO OTHERS ARE LED BY FORMER PREMIER NIKOLA MOUSHANOFF AND THE HEAD OF FORMER MEMBERS OF THE PEOPLE'S PARTY, DEPUTY PETKO STAINOFF. ALL SUPPORT COLLABORATION WITH YUGOSLAVIA.

MOUSHANOFF WAS ONE OF THE LEADERS OF A GROUP OF LEGISLATORS WHO OPENLY PROTESTED THE GOVERNMENTS ANTI-SEMTIC POLICY.

UNDERGROUND THERE IS A SHADOWY OPPOSITION GROUP KNOWN AS THE "OFFICERS LEAGUE," LED BY COLONELS DAMIAN VELDTHEFF AND KIRILL STANCHEFF. THE LATTER IS NOW IN A CONCENTRATION CAMP AFTER AN ABORTIVE COUP D'ETAT. HE WAS THE UNACKNOWLEDGED DICTATOR OF BULGARIA IN 1934-35 AFTER A PALACE REVOLUTION, WHEN BORIS SANCTIONED HIS LEADERSHIP VIRTUALLY AT THE POINT OF A GUN. BORIS FINALLY WORKED HIM OUT, AND THE LEAGUE IS HARDLY THE LIBERAL DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENT WITH REPUBLICAN LEANINGS WHICH IT IS OFTEN DESCRIBED.

30.24-5229

MORE SPECTACULAR THAN ANY OF THESE FACTIONS IS THE NEWLY-ARISEN "LIBERTY FRONT." THE PRECISE ORIGINS AND EXTENT OF THIS ORGANIZATION IS UNKNOWN HERE, BUT IT HAS ACCOUNTED FOR THE DEATHS OF SIX PROMINENT PRO-NAZI LEADERS IN THE PAST SIX MONTHS, AS WELL AS OF A NUMBER OF LESSER LIGHTS. THE GERMANS CALL IT A COMMUNIST ORGANIZATION, BUT AN EXPERIENCED BULGARIAN OBSERVER HERE SAID IT WAS MORE LIKELY A NATIONALIST MOVEMENT WITH A STRONG SPRINKLING OF COMMUNISTS, OUT TO WEAKEN GERMANY IN ANY WAY POSSIBLE. IT APPARENTLY IS NATION-WIDE, AS THE MURDERS HAVE SPREAD IN THE LAST WEEK TO PLOVDIV, AND ARMS CACHES HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED IN OTHER OUTLYING TOWNS IT APPARENTLY HAS XEEN MOST ACTIVE AGAINST POLICE CHIEFS, MOST OF WHOM IN BULGARIA ARE THOROUGHLY IN THE HANDS OF THE NAZIS.

JUN 21 1943

WHEN THE LIBERTY FRONT KILLED A FORMER DEFENSE MINISTER, THE VIOLENTLY PRO-NAZI KRISTO LUKOFF, THE NAZIS TOOK THE JOB OF DEFENDING SUCH MEN OUT OF THE HANDS OF EVEN THEIR MOST-TRUSTED BULGARIAN POLICE AND NOW EMPLOY A SMALL ARMY OF PLAINCLOTHES MEN TO SEEK OUT THE KILLERS.

BUT THE POLICE STILL REMAIN LEAL GERMAN ENTRENCHMENT IN BULGARIA, AND THEY CARRY TYE THE PRINCIPAL BURDEN OF SURVEILLANCE OF THE NATION IN THE INTERESTS OF THE NAZIS. ASIDE FROMSTHEM, THE GERMANS LEAN MAINLY ON DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS WITH BORIS AND THEIR OWN SMALL ARMY AND MARINE GARRISONS, POLITICALLY, THE FAITHFUL FOLLOWERS OF THE NAZIS ARE VERY FEW, BUT INSIDE THE ARMY THE GERMANS HAVE A LARGE NUMBER OF FRIENDS, PRINCIPALLY BULGARS TRAINED IN GERMANY.

THE CONTINUED ASSASSINATIONS OF PRO-NAZIS INDICATE HOW SHAKY IS THEIR HOLD ON THE COUNTRY, BUT AS LONG AS BORIS RULES, AND THE GERMAN MILITARY STRENGTH STANDS BETWEEN HIM AND THE RUSSIANS, THE GERMANS WILL REMAIN IN BULGARIA.

JUN 21 1943

PACIFIC STORMS

WORK FOR JAPS

- - -

BUT WEATHER STMETIMES CROSSES UP ENEMY;

LEAVES HIS CONVOYS NAKED AND EXPOSED ( 750 )

- - - -

JUN 21 1943

BY LEIF ERICKSON

(ADVANCE) AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE--(AP)--WEATHER IS ON THE SIDE OF THE JAPANESE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC.

THEY TRY TO USE IT, TOO, AS A MAJOR TACTICAL WEAPON BUT IT IS A FICKLE ALLY IN THE TROPIC AND EQUATORIAL ZONES. ON OCCASION, IT HAS LEFT NIPPONESE SHIPS EXPOSED AS TARGETS FOR AMERICAN BOMBING PLANES.

WEATHER FRONTS MOVE IN SLOW PROGRESSION FROM THE WEST -- OUT OF JAPANESE TERRITORY -- ACROSS NO MAN'S SEA AND EASTWARD OVER AMERICAN AND ALLIED POSITIONS.

THE NIPPONESE, THEREFORE, CAN MOVE FLEET AND TRANSPORT FORCES EASTWARD BEHIND OR INSIDE A STORM FRONT COVER, HIDING THEIR CRAFT FROM SCOUTING AIRPLANES OR SHIPS.

THIS TACTIC WILL WORK, IF THE WEATHER FRONT BEHAVES AS EXPECTED. BUT IN THIS ISLAND-STUDDED OCEAN AREA, THE FRONTS SOMETIMES DON'T PERFORM AS THE AEROLOGICAL OFFICERS PREDICT.

WITH SCANT TEMPERATURE VARIATION, THE EQUATORIAL AND TROPIC WEATHER FRONTS FREQUENTLY STAGNATE AND BREAK UP. VANISHING CLOUDS LEAVE TASK FORCES AND TROOP CONVOYS SUDDENLY NAKED AND EXPOSED TO PLANE DETECTION AND BOMBARDMENT.

THE FATE OF THE 22-SHIP JAPANESE TRANSPORT CONVOY INTERCEPTED LAST MARCH IN THE BISMARCK SEA AND COMPLETELY DESTROYED BY GENERAL MACARTHUR'S PLANES IS ONE EXAMPLE OF MISTAKEN ENEMY CONFIDENCE IN A WEATHER FRONT THAT FOLDED UP.

LIEUT.COMMANDER JOHN O.F.DORSETT OF HOLLYWOOD,CALIF., OFFICER IN CHARGE OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC "NAVY WEATHER CENTRAL," OUTLINED AT A HEADQUARTERS PRESS CONFERENCE THE SIGNIFICANT ROLE OF AEROGOGY.

THE WEATHER CENTRAL COLLECTS WEATHER OBSERVATIONS FROM SCATTERED PORTS AND BASES, FROM AIRPLANES AND FROM RADIOSONDE AND PILOT BALLOONS EQUIPPED WITH RADIO TRANSMITTERS. FORECASTS ARE MADE UP EVERY SIX HOURS AND ARE BROADCAST BY RADIO TO SHIPS, PLANES AND BASES.

JUN 21 1943

COORDINATION OF MILITARY OPERATIONS WITH WEATHER IS MORE DIFFICULT IN THE EQUATORIAL PACIFIC THAN IN ANY OTHER PARO OF THE WORLD, DORSETT STATED.

COMMANDER KENNETH EARG OF PHILADELPHIA, SOUTH PACIFIC FORCE STAFF AEROLOGICAL OFFICER, COMMENTED THAT PROBABLY FEWER WEATHER RECORDS WERE AVAILABLE ON THIS AREA BEFORE THE WAR THAN ON ANY OTHER PART OF THE GLOBE. HE CALLED IT A VIRTUALLY UNKNOWN AREA FROM THE AEROLOGICAL STANDPOINT.

MOST OF WHAT WAS KNOWN WAS KNOWN TO THE JAPANESE ALONE. DORSETT FRANKLY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE JAPANESE WERE VERY GOOD AND FULLY ADVANCED IN USING THE NEWEST METHODS OF WEATHER SCIENCE.

"I IMAGINE THE JAPS LEARNED FROM THE GERMANS," HE SAID. "THE NORWEGIANS WERE PIONEERS IN DEVELOPING NEW WEATHER METHODS AND THE GERMANS WERE QUICK TO PICK IT UP FROM THEM." JUN 21 1943

THE NEW THEORY OF AEROLOGY IS BASED ON POLAR FRONTS AND DIFFERING AIR MASSES, AS CONTRASTED WITH THE OLDER SYSTEM BASED MAINLY ON HIGH AND LOW PRESSURE CENTERS. THE OLD THEORY OF HIGH AND LOW CENTERS,

JUN 21 1943

3024-5231

30.24 -5231

DORSETT EXPLAINED, GAVE TOO LITTLE CONSIDERATION TO THE BOUNDARIES BETWEEN AIR MASSES.

THESE ARE THE FRONTS AND THAT IS WHERE "WEATHER"---MEANING CLOUDS, WINDS AND RAIN --- IS.

EARL SAID NEW TECHNIQUES HAVE INCREASED FORECASTING ACCURACY FROM 60 PER CENT TO BETWEEN 80 AND 85 PER CENT.

ALL THE WEATHER ADVANTAGE DOESN'T GO TO THE JAPANESE IN THE TROPIC AND EQUATORIAL STRETCHES OF THE PACIFIC, OF COURSE. FRONTS IN THIS REGION ARE SLOW MOVING TO AN EXTREME -- FOUR TO SIX MILES AN HOUR EASTWARD, COMPARED TO 16 TO 18 IN THE NORTH PACIFIC. HENCE, AMERICAN FLEET UNITS CAN USE A FRONT AS COVER BY MOVING NORTH OR SOUTH INSIDE AN EASTWARD-TRUDGING CLOUD AND STORM FRONT.

JUN 21 1943

BOTH OUR FORCES AND THE ENEMY ARE HAMPERED, HOWEVER, IN THAT THE SLOW-MOVING FRONTS HAVE HOLES OF BLUE SKY AND CALM IN THEM. FRONTS IN THIS REGION ARE NOT AS SOLID OR AS SHARPLY-DEFINED AND ARE NOT AS FAST-MOVING AS THOSE IN THE TEMPERATE ZONES WITH GREATER TEMPERATURE RANGE.

THE JAPANESE PROBABLY USED A WELL-DEVELOPED TEMPERATE ZONE FRONT OO PULL OFF THEIR PEARL HARBOR ATTACK. WE COUNTERED WITH THE SAME USE OF SUCH A FRONT TO RAID THE MARSHALL ISLANDS.

COMMANDER DORSETT EXPLAINED THAT WHILE TROPIC WEATHER FRONTS MAY BE ONLY FROM 200 TO 250 MILES LONG, THEY ALSO MAY BE 40,000 TO 50,000 FEET THICK AND IMPOSSIBLE TO CLIMB OVER IN A PLANE. NORMAL DEPTH FOR A TEMPERATE ZONE STORM FRONT IS ABOUT 12,000 FEET --- RELATIVELY EASY FOR AIRCRAFT TO VAULT OVER.

A PILOT IS WISE TO SKIRT AROUND A FRONT IN THESE PARTS. IF HE CHOOSES TO FLY THROUGH, COMMANDER EARL OBSERVES, HE MAY RUN INTO VERTICAL CURRENTS OF "AT LEAST 150 KNOTS IN A GOOD HUSKY THUNDERSTORM."

THERE IS A SECTOR OF THE PACIFIC WHICH COULD PROVIDE TYPHOONS TO BE OUR ALLIES IN AIRCRAFT CARRIER ASSAULTS AT JAPAN, COMMANDER DORSETT EXPLAINED. ON A MAP HE POINTED TO REGIONS IN WHICH TYPHOONS CIRCLE WESTWARD AND NORTHWARD FROM THE CAROLINE ISLANDS, SKIRTING THE PHILIPPINES AND THEN HITTING THE JAPANESE COAST. THE KEY JAPANESE NAVAL BASE OF TRUK IS IN THE CAROLINES. IF WE COULD SEIZE TRUK OR RECOVER A PHILIPPINE BASE, THE WEATHER EXPERT CONTINUED, AN AMERICAN FORCE COULD FOLLOW UP A TYPHOON TO DELIVER A DIRECT BLOW AGAINST JAPAN. SUCH A STORM, HEAVILY DAMAGING IN ITSELF TO COMMUNICATIONS, BUILDINGS AND MORALE, COULD CONCEAL THE AMERICAN FORCE FROM DETECTION.

JUN 21 1943

EARL SAID HE BELIEVED THE JAPANESE HAD NEVER MADE AN OFFENSIVE MOVE IN THE WAR THAT WAS NOT GOVERNED BY WEATHER. DORSETT IS CONVINCED THE GERMAN INVASION OF POLAND AND FRANCE WERE BASED ON LONG RANGE WEATHER PROMISES THAT HITLER'S FORCES WOULD HAVE AT LEAST TWO WEEKS OF DRY WEATHER IN WHICH TO GET THEIR ATTACKS ROLLING.

- - -

NEW POLE ARMY
EAGER TO FIGHT
WAY BACK HOME

- - -o

JUN 21 1943

JUN 21 1943

IMMINENT ACTION EXPECTED BY IRAN FORCE (700)

- - -

BY WACLAW SIKORSKI
POLISH TELEGRAPH AGENCY CORRESPONDENT

JUN 21 1943

(ADVANCE)...TEHERAN, IRAN--AS INVASION FORCES ARE BEING WELDED INTO READINESS FOR AN ENCIRCLING OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE NAZI FORTRESS OF CONTINENTAL EUROPE, THE ALLIED HIGH COMMAND IS COUNTING HEAVILY ON A LITTLE KNOWN FIGHTING FORCE ALREADY ASSEMBLED ON THE EASTERN SHORES OF THE MEDITERRANEAN.

THIS IS THE EASTERN POLISH ARMY, CONSISTING OF FOUR REGULAR INFANTRY DIVISIONS, ONE ARMORED BRIGADE AND VARIOUS INDEPENDENT MOTORIZED UNITS, ALL TRAINED BY THE MOST MODERN METHODS AND FULLY EQUIPPED WITH BRITISH AND AMERICAN WEAPONS. ITS TOTAL STRENGTH IS 75,000 OFFICERS AND MEN, EXCLUSIVE OF AN IMPORTANT WOMEN'S AUXILIARY SERVICE AND SEVERAL DETACHMENT OF TRAINED UNITS COMPOSED OF BOYS UNDER 17 YEARS OF AGE.

JUN 21 1943

THUS THE ALLIES HAVE IN THE MIDDLE EAST A FULL-SIZED ARMY OF SOLDIERS AT LEAST HALF OF WHOM ARE VETERAN REGULARS WHO SAW ACTION IN POLAND IN SEPTEMBER, 1939. THEY ARE COMMANDED BY GENERAL WLADYSLAW ANDERS.

ONE UNIT IS LARGELY COMPOSED OF SURVIVORS OF THE POLISH CARPATHIAN DIVISION WHICH PARTICIPATED IN THE TOBRUK AND LIBYAN OFFENSIVES. BUT THE MAIN BODY OF TROOPS WAS ORGANIZED IN RUSSIA IN THE WINTER OF 1941-42, FOLLOWING THE RUSSO-POLISH PACT WHICH RELEASED THESE FORMER PRISONERS OF WAR.

IN THE SUMMER OF 1942 THE ARMY WAS JOINED TO THE BRITISH FORCES IN PERSIA TO STRENGTHEN THE GARRISON MAINTAINED THERE WHILE THE MAIN BRITISH EFFORT WAS BEING CONCENTRATED AGAINST ROMMEL.

GENERAL ANDERS' ARMY IS NOW A WHOLLY INDEPENDENT TASK FORCE, LARGER THAN THE AVERAGE ARMY CORPS, AND ORGANIZED SO AS TO BE ABLE TO ACT AS A NUMBER OF SEPARATE UNITS, BUT HIS MEN ARE COUNTED AS A PART OF THE COMBINED ALLIED FORCES NOW ON THE ALERT IN PERSIA AND IRAN UNDER THE COMMAND OF GENERAL SIR HENRY POWNALL. JUN 21 1943

AS THE DECISIVE HOURS APPROACHES ON THE MEDITERRANEAN FRONT, THOSE WHO ARE LAYING PLANS FOR A CAMPAIGN IN THE BALKANS ARE MINDFUL OF THE ASSET OF HAVING IN THE RANKS MANY SOLDIERS WHO ESCAPED FROM INTERNMENT CAMPS IN HUNGARY AND RUMANIA AND TRAVELED DOWN THE BALKAN PENINSULA ON THEIR WAY TO EGYPT OR SYRIA. MANY SPENT SEVERAL MONTHS ON ROUTE, AND WERE ABLE TO LEARN ONE OR MORE BALKAN LANGUAGES. A SIZABLE CONTINGENT OF THESE MEN, OF COURSE, ESCAPED FROM OCCUPIED POLAND ITSELF, PENETRATING GAPS IN THE ITALO-GERMAN CONTROL SYSTEM FOLLOWING THE OCCUPATION OF GREECE AND YUGOSLAVIA. THIS "UNDERGROUND" ROUTE, INCIDENTALLY, IS STILL FUNCTIONING.

THE TROOPS REPRESENT A STRONGLY DIVERSIFIED MILITARY ELEMENT, RANGING FROM VETERANS OF THE BATTLES OF POLAND AND FRANCE TO YOUTHFUL RECRUITS. AFTER YEARS OF EXILE THEY ARE IMPATIENT TO COME TO GRIPS WITH THE GERMANS.

IN THE ORGANIZATION OF THIS ARMY SPECIAL EMPHASIS WAS LAID UPON CONTINUITY OF PRE-WAR TRADITIONS. SEVERAL UNITS BEAR THE NAMES AND

JUN 21 1943

3024-5233

30.24 5233

COLORS OF FAMOUS REGIMENTS. SOME DISPLAY STANDARDS THAT WERE HIDDEN IN 1939 AND LATER RECOVERED AND BROUGHT TO TEHERAN THROUGH SECRET CHANNELS.

JUN 21 1943

THE TRADITIONAL TIES, HOWEVER, ARE NOT THE SORT WHICH WOULD PREVENT THE POLES FROM MAKING THE MOST OF THEIR MODERN EQUIPMENT.

THE OLD CAVALRY CONCEPT OF MOBILITY, NOW TRANSLATED INTO TERMS OF MECHANIZED WARFARE, IS INCORPORATED IN THEIR TRAINING. GENERAL ANDERS, AN EXPERIENCED CAVALRY COMMANDER HIMSELF, SELECTED ONE OF THE REGIMENTS IN HIS PRE-WAR BRIGADE, THE POLISH 12TH LANCERS, TO ACT AS HIS PRESENT RECONNAISANCE UNIT. ITS RESPONSIBILITY IS TO STRIKE DEEP INTO ENEMY TERRITORY, ACTING UNDER DIRECT ORDERS FROM THE CORPS COMMANDER, AND EFFECT A CONCENTRATED ATTACK BEFORE THE ENEMY HAS TIME TO ORGANIZE COUNTER-ACTION.

THIS REGIMENT, WHICH IN THE POLISH CAMPAIGN WAS EQUIPPED WITH A FEW MOTORIZED ANTI-TANK GUNS (THOUGH THE TROOPS FOUGHT AS MOUNTED CAVALRY), ACCOUNTED FOR 46 GERMAN TANKS AND ARMORED VEHICLES BEFORE ITS GUNS WERE DESTROYED. LOSSES IN PERSONNEL WERE HEAVY, AND 60 PER CENT OF ITS OFFICERS WERE LOST IN SOUTHWESTERN POLAND.

RECONSTRUCTED IN RUSSIA, THE REGIMENT TRAVERSED 5,000 MILES, MARCHING WITH THE REST OF GENERAL ANDERS' ARMY FROM DEEP INSIDE SOVIE TERRITORY ALMOST TO THE CHINESE BORDER, THROUGH THE LANDS OF ASIATIC KIRGIZS, USBEKHS AND TURKOMENIANS, AND BY BOAT THROUGH THE CASPIAN SEA AND THUS TO IRAQ. IN TEHERAN THE REGIMENT STRUCK UP A CLOSE RELATIONSHIP WITH ITS BRITISH COUNTERPART, THE ROYAL 12TH LANCERS.

GENERAL SIKORSKI, POLISH PREMIER AND COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, VISITED THE MIDDLE EAST RECENTLY FOR THE SECOND TIME, ACCOMPANIED BY GENERAL POWNALL. DURING HIS FIRST TRIP, EN ROUTE TO MOSCOW IN THE AUTUMN OF 1941, SIKORSKI SAW ONLY ONE UNIT, THE CARPATHIAN BRIGADE, DEFENDIN THE FORTRESS OF TOBRUK TOGETHER WITH A NEW ZEALAND DIVISION. THIS TIME HE SAW A FULL SIZED ARMY CORPS EQUIPPED AND TRAINED TO THE HILT.

THE POLISH AND BRITISH COMMANDERS ASSURED THE TROOPS THAT THEY HAD INSPIRED THE GREATEST CONFIDENCE, AND COUNSELLED THEM THAT THEY WERE TO DISCHARGE THEIR DUTIES IN A MANNER BEFITTING THE GRAVITY OF THEIR IMMINENT ASSIGNMENT. THE OFFICERS REPLIED, ON BEHALF OF THEIR MEN, THAT IT WAS THEIR BOLDEST HOPE THAT THIS POLISH ARMY MIGHT BECOME THE SPEARHEAD OF A GREAT ARMY OF LIBERATION WHICH WOULD FINALLY INVADE HITLER'S EUROPE AND REDEEM THE COUNTRY OF THEIR BIRTH.

---

ANTI-ALLY PAPER

IN BUENOS AIRES

HITS HARD TIMES

---

JUN 21 1943

IMAGINATION AND CIRCULATION

STRAINED (1,200)

- - -

BY CHARLES H.GUPTILL

(ADVANCE)..BUENOS AIRES-(AP)-MELANCHOLY DAYS HAVE FALLEN UPON EL PAMPERO, ONCE THE MOST IMPORTANT AND STILL THE MOST BLATANT DISTRIBUTOR OF AXIS NEWS IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE.

THE TREND OF WAR IS SORELY TRYING THE IMAGINATIONS OF ITS EDITORS

IN THEIR EFFORT TO PRESERVE THE LEGEND OF AXIS INVICIBILITY; PRINTING DIFFICULTIES HAVE AFFECTED ITS TYPOGRAPHICAL QUALITY ALMOST TO THE POINT OF ILLEGIBILITY; AND A MORE SUBTLE APOLOGIST FOR THE AXIS HAS ARISEN IN THE NEW NATIONALIST PAPER, CABILDO, CHALLENGING EL PAMPERO IN ITS OWN FIELD.

WHEN PAMPERO WAS AT ITS HEIGHT IT WAS REPUTED TO HAVE A DAILY CIRCULATION OF MORE THAN 70,000 TODAY IT IS DOUBTFUL IF IT REACHES HALF THAT MANY.

JUN 21 1943

FOUNDED IN JANUARY 1940, EL PAMPERO HAS BEEN DIRECTED SINCE ITS BIRTH BY ENRIQUE P.OSES, 44-YEAR-OLD NEWSPAPERMAN OF EXTREME NATIONALIST STAMP WHO ONCE EDITED CLERICAL PUBLICATIONS. TODAY OSES IS A RECOGNIZED LEADER OF ONE OF THE SEGMENTS INTO WHICH THE ARGENTINE NATIONALIST MOVEMENT IS SPLIT. HE GREETS HIS FOLLOWERS WITH THE CHARACTERISTIC FASCIST SALUTE AND EXPRESSES HIMSELF, SOMETIMES VIOLENTLY, IN THE TRADITIONAL GOEBBELSIAN MANNER.

FROM THE OUTSET THE PAPER'S FINANCES HAVE BEEN MYSTERIOUS. A CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION ESTABLISHED THAT IT OPERATED AT A LOSS OF $100,000 DURING ITS SECOND SIX MONTHS.

ITS ADVERTISING REVENUES, PRINCIPALLY FROM BLACKLISTED FIRMS, WERE LESS THAN ONE-TENTH OF ITS TOTAL EXPENDITURES DURING THIE PERIOD.

PAMPERO RECEIVED GENEROUS CONTRIBUTIONS FROM GERMAN TOURIST AGENCIES. ITS CABLE NEWS WAS FURNISHED GRATIS BY THE GERMAN TRANSOCEAN AND ITALIAN STEFANI AGENCIES. IT HAS BEEN A PERFECT REPLICA IN THE SPANISH LANGUAGE OF THE NAZI PRESS DIRECTED BY DR.GOEBBELS, AND HAS SWAYED WITH THE EVER-SWAYING GERMAN PROPAGANDA LINE.

IN DOMESTIC AFFAIRS IT HAS A STALWART SUPPORTER OF THE NEUTRALITY POLICY OF DEPOSED PRESIDENT ROMAN CASTILLO. IT PRETENDS TO BE THE CHAMPION OF THE UNDERPRIVILEGED ARGENTINE. IT IS CONTEMPTUOUS OF CONGRESS AND ARGENTINA'S PRO-DEMOCRATIC LEADERS, WHOM IT SATIRIZES WITH A VICIOUSNESS AND DISDAIN FOR TRUTH WHICH HAS INVOLVED IT IN A WHOLE SERIES OF COURT ACTIONS. EDITOR OSES EVOLVED A SYSTEM OF "REVOLVING EDITORS-IN-CHIEF" BY WHICH HIS ASSISTANTS ROTATE IN RESPONSIBILITY FOR PUBLICATION OF THE PAPER THUS, WHENEVER AN OUTRAGED VICTIM OF PAMPERO'S MUDSLINGING TURNED ON THE LEGAL HEAT, THE SACRIFICIAL GOAT REGULARLY TURNED OUT TO BE ONE OF THE SUBORDINATES.

PAMPERO ALSO DESPISES ARGENTINA'S TRADITIONAL NATIONAL HEROES--SUCH AS BARTOLOME MITRE, DOMINGO SARMIENTO AND BERNARDINO RIVADAVIA--FOR THEIR DEMOCRATIC SENTIMENTS, AND WAS BRIEFLY SUSPENDED BY THE AUTHORITIES ONCE BECAUSE OF ITS ATTACKS ON THEM.

THE PAPER'S OWN FAVORITE HERO IS JUAN MANUEL DE ROSAS, A BLOOD-STAINED TYRANT WHO RULED ARGENTINA FROM 1835 TO 1852. JUN 21 1943

A CHARACTERISTIC BIT OF ENTERPRISE WAS WHEN A PAMPERO CAMERAMAN PERSUADED A MODERATELY WELL-TO-DO ENGLISHMAN TO PERMIT PICTURES OF HIS HOUSE, HIS FAMILY AND HIS GARDEN BY LEADING HIM TO BELIEVE THAT THEY WERE TO APPEAR IN A SERIOUS PUBLICATION. PAMPERO PUBLISHED THEM TOGETHER WITH OTHERS OF DESTITUTE ARGENTINES AND A TEXT PORTRAYING THE ENGLISHMAN AS A SORRY EXAMPLE OF FOREIGN EXPLOITATION.

PAMPERO ONCE DISTORTED A LETTER MADE PUBLIC BY MAJOR ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT TO MAKE IT APPEAR THAT UNITED STATES SOLSIDERS IN GENERAL AND THE PRESIDENT'S SON IN PARTICULAR WERE WAR-WEARY AND READY TO LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS. THE LETTER ACTUALLY URGED AN ARMISTICE ON POLITICAL SNIP-

JUN 21 1943

3024-5235

ING SO THAT ALL ENERGIES COULD BE DEVOTED TO THE WAR, THERE--BY ASSURING ITS SPEEDY CONCLUSION AND ENABLING THE MEN IN THE FRONT LINES TO RETURN TO THEIR NORMAL LIVES.

ONCE A PRACTICE ALARM IN NEW YORK WAS PRESENTED AS AN ACTUAL AXIS AIR RAID. THE EDITORS WERE FINDING IT HARD INDEED TO FIND EVIDENCE OF AXIS MILITARY PROWESS.

ONE OF PAMPERO'S MORE SENSATIONAL EXPLOITS WAS THE PUBLICATION OF AN ACROSTIC WHICH, DECIPHERED, CONTAINED AN OBSCENE EPITHET APPLIED TO THE BRITISH.

JUN 21 1943

PAMPERO'S EFFORTS TO SQUARE EVENTS WITH THE PROPAGANDA LINE BECAME MORE ANGUISHED DAILY BEGINNING WITH ROMMEL'S DEFEAT IN EGYPT, PREVIOUSLY, IT HAD BEEN EASY GOING WITH NORWAY, FRANCE, GREECE, CRETE, PEARL HARBOR, SINGAPORE, BATAAN, TOBRUK AND THE ALEUTIANS SUPPLYING THE HAPPY HEADLINES.

IN THOSE DAYS PAMPERO READERS FLAUNTED THEIR PAPERS IN THE BUSES AND STREET CARS AND THE PAPER ACQUIRED A CERTAIN PRESTIGE WHEN ALLIED COMMUNIQUES CONFIRMED ITS JUBILANT BULLETINS.

THE DEFEAT AT EL ALAMEIN PLACED A HEAVY BURDEN ON PAMPERO'S DEPARTMENT OF HIGHER EXPLANATIONS. IT CAME UP WITH THE "STRATEGIC WITHDRAWAL" THEORY SO SKILLFULLY WAS THE MANEUVER EXECUTED, PAMPERO SAID, THAT THE BRITISH ON REACHING THE GERMAN POSITIONS VIRTUALLY COLLAPSED FROM SURPRISE ON FINDING THE ENEMY GONE.

THE LAST WEEK OF THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN WAS CHRONICLED IN PAMPERO HEADLINES AS FOLLOWS: :

MAY 3---"ANDERSON THROWN BACK AT PONT DU FAHS."

MAY 4---"ROMMEL OCCUPIES STRONG POSITIONS."

30.24 - 5235

MAY 5---"DESPERATE ALLIED ATTACKS CHECKED ON ENTIRE TUNISIAN FRONT."

MAY 6---"ALLIED DRIVE IN TUNISIA COLLAPSES."

MAY 7---"TENACIOUS AXIS DEFENSE, ENORMOUS ANGLO-YANKEE LOSSES IN TUNISIA."

MAY 8---"TUNISIAN BATTLEGROUND DISPUTED INCH BY INCH; AXIS COUNTER-OFFENSIVE TO BE LAUNCHED FROM SICILY-SARDINIA-CRETE TRIANGLE."

MAY 9---"WITHOUT AMMUNITION OR FOOD, FIRST ITALIAN ARMY GIVES UP IN TUNISIA."

JUN 21 1943

MAY 10--"AXIS CAMPAIGN IN NORTH AFRICA FAVORS JAP PLANS IN ASIA."

WHILE THESE PAINFUL EVENTS WERE ENSUING, PAMPERO SUFFERED A CRUEL BLOW FROM A QUITE UNEXPECTED QUARTER IN WHAT FROM ITS POINT OF VIEW AMOUNTED TO BRAZEN APOSTASY BY RUIZ GUINAZU, FOREIGN MINISTER AT THE TIME.

AS A FAITHFUL EXPONENT OF CASTILLO'S NEUTRALITY POLICY, RUIZ GUINAZU HAD OCCUPIED A SPECIAL NICHEIN PAMPERO'S AFFECTIONS. THE PAPER ONCE HAD ORGANIZED A TRIUMPHAL CELEBRATION IN RECOGNITION OF HIS ACHIEVEMENT IN ISOLATING ARGENTINA FROM THE ANTI-AXIS POLICY ADOPTED BY THE OTHER AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

LATER, PAMPERO'S DELIGHT KNEW NO BOUNDS WHEN RUIZ GUINAZU APPEARED ON A BALCONY OF THE FOREIGN MINISTRY TO RECEIVE THE HOMAGE OF A NATIONALIST MOB WHICH HAD JUST HEARD EDITOR OSES DELIVER A VIOLENT HARANGUE AGAINST THE DEMOCRACIES AND THE JEWS.

ON MAY 1 OF THIS YEAR RUIZ GUINAZU DELIVERED A CONSTITUTION DAY ADDRESS IN SANTA FE. NATIONALIST HOPES WERE HIGH FOR A FURTHER INDICATION OF THE FOREIGN MINISTER'S ALLEGIANCE.

JUN 21 1943

TO PAMPERO'S DISMAY, RUIZ GUINAZU SEIZED THE OPPORTUNITY TO REMARK THAT "TOTALITARIANISM WILL NEVER FLOURISH IN OUR CLIMATE," GOING ON TO BRAND THE TOTALITARIAN REGIMES AS "ESSENTIALLY PAGAN AND CONSEQUENTLY CONTRARY TO THE CHRISTIAN GENIUS."

SORROWFULLY, PAMPERO DEMANDED WHETHER IN UTTERING THESE UNEXPECTED WORDS RUIZ GUINAZU HAD GIVEN THOUGHT TO "THE SOLDIERS OF CHRIST WHO HAVE BARED THEIR BREASTS AS A BARRIER AGAINST THE BOLSHEVIK HORDES."

IN ITS HEYDEY PAMPERO WAS PRINTED ON IMPORTED NEWSPRINT IT SOON FOUND ITSELF ON THE UNITED STATES AND BRITISH BLACKLISTS, HOWEVER, AND HENCE UNABLE TO OBTAIN PAPER FROM ABROAD.

IT WAS REDUCED TO BUYING DOMESTIC NEWSPRINT WHICH IS UNSUITED FOR HIGHSPEED ROTARY PRESSES. IT HAD TO RESORT TO FLAT PRESSES. THE PRODUCT BECAME SUCH, WITH ITS SMUDGED INK, UNEVEN PRINT AND BLACKED-OUT CUTS, THAT EVEN TRYING TO READ IT BECAME A TRIBUTE TO THE FANATICAL LOYALTY OF ITS REMAINING SUBSCRIBERS.

JUN 21 1943

SOME HAVE WONDERED WHY PAMPERO TRIES TO CONTINUE PUBLICATION. POSSIBLY THE PRINCIPAL REASON IS THAT ITS DISAPPEARANCE MIGHT BE CONSISTED A TACIT ADMISSION THAT ITS CAUSE ALREADY IS DOOMED.

THE RIVAL NATIONALIST TABLOID, CABILDO, IN EIGHT MONTHS HAS ACHIEVED A CIRCULATION AT LEAST DOUBLE THAT OF PAMPERO. CABILDO IS THE MOUTHPIECE OF THE NATIONALIST FACTION HEADED BY MANUEL FRESCO, FORMER GOVERNOR OF BUENOS AIRES PROVINCE WHOSE ELECTION THE LATE PRESIDENT ROBERTO ORTIZ VOIDED AS FRAUDULENT.

THE OSES AND FRESCO NATIONALISTS ARE NOT ON FRIENDLY TERMS.

UENCE. CABILDO'S RELATIVE PROSPERITY-- IF IT CAN BE CALLED SUCH, FOR PUBLISHING EXPERTS ESTIMATE IT LOSES AT LEAST $10,000 A MONTH-- IS DOUBLY GALLING TO THE PAMPERISTAS.

CABILDO'S EDITORIAL POLICY IS PRO-AXIS, BUT IT IS SLIGHTLY LESS SHAMELESS. IT PRETENDS TO BE FUNDAMENTALLY PRO-ARGENTINE AND THE FAITHFUL REFLECTOR OF ARGENTINE NEUTRALITY. ITS WAR NEWS CONSISTENTLY PLACES THE BEST POSSIBLE FACE ON THE MILITARY FORTUNES OF THE AXIS, BUT IT ALSO CONDESCENDS TO PUBLISH THE TEXTS OF ALLIED COMMUNIQUES OR EXCERPTS FROM THEM.

CABILDO'S MILITARY COMMENTATOR, A RETIRED ARGENTINE ARMY OFFICER, HAS DEVOTED HIMSELF OF LATE TO EXPLAINING IN A SERIES OF SCHOLARLY ARTICLES WHY THE ALLIED VICTORY IN NORTH AFRICA WAS INCONSEQUENTIAL, WHY THE MEDITERRANEAN IS STILL CONTROLLED BY ITALY AND WHY EUROPE NEVER CAN BE SUCCESSFULLY INVADED.

ALTHOUGH CABILDO'S STYLE IS SOMEWHAT MORE REFINED THAN PAMPERO'S, ONE OF THEIR EDITORIALS ON VICE PRESIDENT WALLACE'S VISIT TO THE WEST COAST WAS SO INSULTING THAT THE ARGENTINE CENSORSHIP WOULD NOT PERMIT EXCERPTS TO BE CABLED ABROAD.

JUN 21 1943

CABILDO, HOWEVER, WAS NOT PENALIZED.

Blue

JUN 21 1943

3024-5237

30.24 - 5237

Army Quells Detroit Race Riots, 23 Dead, As Roosevelt Pleads for End of Mob Rule; Ickes Sees Lewis, Fails to End Coal Strike

JUN 22 1943

JUN 22 1943

President's Proclamation Follows an Appeal by Governor for Troops

700 Hurt, 600 Jailed In 24-Hour Battle

20 Negroes and 3 Whites Killed; Police Helpless; Homes Are Set Afire

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 22 (Tuesday).—President Roosevelt called on Detroit race rioters in a formal proclamation early today to "disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes" after a series of wild disorders had taken twenty-three lives and injured more than 700 persons.

The President's proclamation was issued after Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of War, acting on instructions from Mr. Roosevelt, had directed the commander of the 6th Service Command to use troops to put down the rioting, and had announced that order was being restored.

"Under instructions of the President, issued at the request of Governor Harry F. Kelly of Michigan, Secretary Stimson directed Major General Henry S. Aurand, commanding the 6th Service Command, to use troops to suppress the rioting in Detroit," the War Department announced. "Early reports indicate the arrival of the troops was welcomed and that order was being restored."

General Put in Charge

Brigadier General William Guthner was placed in command of the Detroit area, being assigned to Detroit by General Aurand, of the 6th Service Command in Chicago.

Streets in Detroit, already under Military rule, grew gradually quiet before midnight last night as rioters dispersed with the arrival of the troops after nearly twenty-four hours of fights between Negroes and white men—marked by a pitched battle at a Negro apartment hotel.

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries announced at 11:30 p. m. that the situation was much improved. Of the twenty-three dead, twenty were Negroes, one of the Negroes being a woman.

Police had regained sufficient authority to be able to impound automobiles of persons unable to explain their street presence acceptably. Earlier, cars had been racing up and down the streets.

Troops rolled into Cadillac Square, heart of the city, an hour before midnight to quell riots spreading over a wide area.

Bloodiest incident of the riotous night was a pitched battle at a Negro apartment hotel, where 200 police fired 1,000 shots and tear gas into the building as Negro snipers fired from windows.

Fully Equipped Soldiers

With rifles on shoulders, the helmeted soldiers filled several trucks. In all, some thirty Army vehicles were in Cadillac Square downtown, including scout cars mounting machine guns, jeeps and ambulances.

Vicious fighting between Negroes and whites, in which heads were cracked and limbs broken, had demoralized an extensive section of the sprawling "Arsenal City."

The troops, a grim picture under the street lights, came on the scene twenty-two hours after the start of the rioting Sunday at midnight. Civil authorities said police were unable to cope with angry mobs.

The Governor's 10 p. m. curfew had been ignored. Civil authorities admitted the situation was "out of control," despite the Governor's proclamation of a state of emergency.

At another Negro apartment house a mob of whites hurled stones through the windows. Military police carrying side arms and nightsticks took charge.

A Negro apartment house was set afire. The blaze was extinguished, but then the crowd wrecked the establishment.

Governor Kelly had proclaimed a state of emergency earlier in the evening and announced that the "armed forces of the State of Michigan" would "aid and assist" the civil authorities in maintaining law and order.

Not only Detroit was covered by the Governor's order. All three Counties of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb—the so-called "metropolitan area" with more than 2,000,000 inhabitants—were included. Detroit is in Wayne County. Including its suburbs, it has 1,600,000 residents.

The Governor's proclamation, first reported from his conference with city authorities as declaring "martial law," clamped a lid on places of amusement and established a 10 p. m. curfew.

Martial law would have meant that the military would take full control of all governmental functions. Under military rule the military serves only in an assisting capacity.

Fighting meanwhile continued. A crowd of about 3,000 milled about Cadillac Square in downtown Detroit before the City Hall. Police seemed unable to keep control. A number of beatings of Negroes by white persons were reported.

From time to time in the early evening, when Detroiters are accustomed to promenade on Washington Boulevard and window-shop, police sirens screamed as squad cars rushed to answer reports of fresh violence.

Tear Gas Is Used

White mobsters set fire to the homes of two Negro families, and in a fight on a streetcar a Negro slashed a white man.

On Woodward Avenue just north of the downtown business district yesterday afternoon youthful mobsters entered the rioting, attacking whites and Negroes indiscriminately, pulling trolleys off wires and breaking windows in streetcars, buses and automobiles.

Tear gas was used in several instances to break up groups, one of them in Campus Martius just across Woodward Avenue from the City Hall.

Steel helmets and extra tear gas dispersal bombs were issued yesterday afternoon to police patrolling the riot area, a section roughly three miles long extending east and north of downtown Detroit.

The police listed the following dead:

John Frailach, forty-three, white, found on street shot through the chest.

Billy Hardges, twenty-seven, Negro, shot by police who said he was looting.

Robert Davis, twenty-nine, Negro, shot by police.

Carl Singleton, nineteen, Negro, shot by police.

Anderson Ford, forty-three, Negro, shot by police.

Ray James Jackson, Negro, shot by police.

Dr. Joseph DeHoratiis, white, found fatally injured in his automobile in the riot district.

Samuel Johnson, twenty-seven, Negro, bled to death from cuts which police said he suffered while smashing a window.

John Bogan, twenty-seven, white, run down by hit-run car in midst of riot.

J. W. Wright, Negro, shot by police.

Marvin Rich, thirty, Negro, shot by police.

Ernest James, twenty-four, Negro, shot by police.

Mrs. Carrie Hackworth, twenty-nine, Negro, killed by flying brick near her home.

Fred Latheon, twenty-four, shot at 679 Medbury Street.

Bishop Hass, twenty-four, Negro, shot by police.

Charles S. Grundy, Negro, shot by another Negro according to police report.

Mose Kissick, fifty-eight, Negro shot by police.

Unidentified Negro, shot in gun fight with police.

Unidentified Negro, shot by police.

Unidentified Negro, shot by police.

Unidentified Negro, shot in rioting.

Unidentified Negro, found at rear of store, apparently killed by blow on the head.

Unidentified Negro, circumstances of death undetermined.

Started by a Fist Fight

Yesterday's rioting, police agreed, was touched off by an isolated fist fight late Sunday night on the bridge that connects Belle Isle, recreational and swimming center in the Detroit River, with the city.

It spread swiftly, given impetus, some Negro leaders said, by an erroneous but widely believed report that a Negro woman and child were slain on Belle Isle Sunday night.

A gang of white men, seeking to take two Negroes from the custody of police in a scout car, overturned the car and set it afire. The two Negroes and the police leaped to safety. The Negroes fled.

Even as the Governor's proclamation was being framed, a military police battalion from Fort Custer had been taking stations in the city to assist state militia and the state and city police.

Governor Kelly, who hastened here earlier in the day from the governors' conference at Columbus, Ohio, issued his order in response to demands for such action from citizens' groups.

General Guthner, head of military police for the Army's 6th Service Command, arrived here late yesterday. Governor Kelly and Mayor Jeffries asked citizens last night in radio broadcasts to do their utmsot to prevent further rioting.

The total of arrests reached 600 as law enforcement officers sought desperately to bring the situation under control after widespread violence.

Earlier in the day, when he originally had decided against martial law, Governor Kelly had said "we've got to stop this today if we're ever going to."

One of the three white persons to die was a physician who was pulled from his car while trying to answer a call in the riot vicinity off Woodward Avenue, one of the city's arteries.

The Governor's proclamation said:

"I, Harry F. Kelly, Governor of the State of Michigan and commander in chief of the military forces of the said State of Michigan, hereby declare a state of emergency and the necessity for the armed forces of the State of Michigan to aid and assist, but in subordination thereto, all duly constituted civil authorities in the execution of the law of the state.

"The necessity for such aid and assistance is declared to extend to the following counties of the State of Michigan, namely: Wayne, Oakland and Macomb.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the State of Michigan this twenty-first day of June, 1943.

"HARRY F. KELLY."

Shortly after issuing the proclamation, Governor Kelly informed the public by radio address of the imposition of a 10 p. m. curfew, with all inhabitants of the counties of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb to be "off the streets" by that hour.

Amusement Places Closed

All places of amusement were ordered to close at 9 p. m. and "remain closed until further orders." Sale of alcoholic beverages was prohibited. So also were public assemblies.

The Governor also said that no persons except "regular authorities" would be allowed to carry weapons.

Several lesser outbreaks of racial friction have occurred in recent months in war-crowded Detroit, the most prominent halting war production and making more than 20,000 idle in the Packard Motor Car Company plant. State troops were called to Detroit a year ago last spring when rioting was threatened over Negro occupancy of the Sojourner Truth housing project here. They moved the Negroes into the new quarters without incident.

The Negro population of Detroit, as given by the 1940 census, is 149,119. Since the census that total has been increased by an influx of Negro war workers.

Production of war plants in this area was reported little affected by yesterday's fighting, although the Ford Motor Company said hundreds of Negro workers left their jobs after receiving calls that they were needed at home. A Packard spokesman said production at its plant remained normal.

Fourteen elementary schools were closed as parents either kept their children home or went to the schools to get them. Two street car lines were suspended when motormen refused to operate the cars through the danger area. All-night theaters were warned to close last night; downtown retail establishments closed their doors in time for their staffs to reach home before dark. All saloons were closed.

Store Windows Smashed

Center of the early rioting was Detroit's "Paradise Valley"—Hastings Street, which extends north from the downtown area, a few blocks east of Woodward Avenue. A police inspector reported every window on the street for twenty-five blocks was broken.

RAF Raids Friedrichshafen, Wrecking Nazi Radar Plant

Radar Plant Hit In Raid on Old Zeppelin Works

JUN 22 1943

Heavy R. A. F. Force Flies 1,000 Miles to Hammer Friedrichshafen Factory

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 21.—Big British Lancasters roared far into southern Germany last night to bomb the industrial city of Friedrichshafen, and the Air Ministry disclosed tonight that their explosives dealt a crippling blow to the largest radio-location factory in the Reich. An Air Ministry communique said heavy damage was caused to the Luftschiffbau radio factory by hits on all the main buildings, which formerly were occupied by the great Zeppelin works.

Only three of the four-engined Lancasters failed to return on schedule, and it was announced authoritatively tonight that all three of these had landed safely.

[Heavy bombers of the Royal Air Force continued their blows at Axis industry Monday night, raiding Germany again twenty-four hours after they had wrecked the Friedrichafen factory. The United Press reported.]

Meanwhile, the Air Ministry issued new reports on the results of raids which flattened German factories in the bomb-torn industrial Ruhr Valley. Declaring that reconnaissance planes recently gathered "striking evidence of devastation which has brought the Battle of the Ruhr to a climax," the Ruhr Valley. Declaring that reconnaissance planes recently gathered "striking evidence of devastation which has brought the Battle of the Ruhr to a climax," the Air Ministry said the "devastation of Germany's industrial towns is greater than anything known in any country in the world."

To get to Friedrichshafen, a city of 30,000 on the north shore of Lake Constanee, the bombers flew a round trip of 1,000 miles. This penetration into Germany was the farthest yet accomplished in force by the Royal Air Force without losing a plane.

It was the second long-range attack in as many nights for the R. A. F., which sent a big sky fleet more than half way across France to blast the munitions center of Le Creusot Saturday night, and other huge waves of R. A. F. bombers swept over the Channel in daylight today to continue the bombardment of Hitler-held territory.

The Saturday night attack on Le Creusot was reported by the Nazi-controlled Paris radio today to have left the sprawling Schneider armaments works "nothing but a mountain of debris." The broadcast said at least 250 persons were killed and half the town's 15,000 inhabitants left homeless. A Swiss telegraph agency dispatch declared that Le Creusot was almost entirely destroyed by the forty-minute attack.

Last night's raid was the first of the war on Friedrichshafen to be announced here. (On Aug. 19, Swiss reports said British bombers attacked the Zeppelin factory and other arms plants at Friedrichshafen, but this was never confirmed by the Air Ministry or R. A. F.)

The Luftschiffbau factory makes the German equivalent of radar, the radio-detection apparatus used by the United States and Great Britain to locate enemy air and naval craft. When the war broke out the Germans stopped making Zeppelins at Friedrichshafen, and later the former Zeppelin works started producing radio-location equipment.

The Air Ministry said photographs of the plant taken today showed that all the main buildings, including a hangar 1,000 feet long and 200 feet wide, were hit and some were "very severely damaged."

Various parts of radio-location equipment were made in workshops assembled in the hangar, it was said. The works still were being expanded and a half-built workshop was among those hit.

Friedrichshafen is across Lake Constance from Switzerland, which reported waves of planes overhead during the night. A Swiss communique said three Swiss were killed and one wounded at Kummershausen, southeast of Constance, when anti-aircraft guns opened up against the planes, which it identified only as "foreign." It has not been determined, the communique said, whether the casualties were caused by bombs or fragments from anti-aircraft shells.

The Swiss said that the planes came over in three waves and that incendiary bombs were dropped at Gonschwil and Haselberg, near Frauenfeld. Earlier Swiss dispatches said the explosions of bombs dropped on Friedrichshafen shook houses on the Swiss side of the lake.

The Berlin radio told of additional attacks last night on northern Germany, but these were unconfirmed here. Broadcasts recorded by The Associated Press described the raids in the north as "disturbance attacks."

Russia Calls For Speed on Second Front

JUN 22 1943

Moscow Radio Marks 2d Invasion Anniversary by Appeal Not To Be Late

Germany Pictured In a State of Crisis

Reds Cite Nazis' Record of Year of Defeats, With All Victory Hope Ended

JAMES F. KING

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 22 (Tuesday).—The Russians, emphasizing that their ties with the United States and Britain are stronger than ever, called today for the opening of a second front in Europe this year, and added: "To be late now means that our common cause will seriously suffer."

The call was issued in a special communique of the Soviet Information Bureau broadcast by the Moscow radio on the second anniversary of the German invasion of Russia.

Declaring that while the balance of forces has improved, to the benefit of "us and our allies"—Germany was pictured as being politically and militarily "in a state of crisis"—the announcement asserted: "But this is not enough for victory. Everything now depends on how the Allies will use the favorable situation for a second front, without which victory is impossible.

"Saved Hitlerites" in 1942

"Absence of a second front in Europe saved Hitlerite Germany from defeat in 1942. As is known, the Hitlerites used this breathing space for a new wide offensive against the Soviet Union in the summer and autumn of last year.

"To miss the favorable conditions which have been created now for the opening of a second front in Europe in 1943, to be late with it, means inflicting serious damage to our common task. To delay a second front in Europe against Fascist Germany means to protract the war, which means a colossal increase in victims.

"On the other hand, the organization of a second front in Europe this year would bring about a quick termination of the war, and consequently a colossal decrease of victims on the side of the anti-Hitlerite coalition."

The anniversary found the armies of Germany and Russia in a virtual stalemate on the eastern front, and many observers were predicting that the Nazis had abandoned hope of knocking the Soviet Union out of the war. This was based on reports that Germany was moving substantial reinforcements into France. One source estimated that German troop strength in France had been increased from thirty-five to forty-four divisions in recent weeks.

Cites Minor Land Activity

The Russian midnight communique issued early today spoke only of minor ground activity on all sectors of the front yesterday and said there were "no important changes."

Declaring that "during the past year the German Army has had no military successes," the announcement said: "On the contrary, it suffered one defeat after another on the Soviet front and in North Africa.

"Thus, as a result, the Hitlerite military power has been shaken and a crisis caused. The German political position has been weakened. This is proved by the state of panic in the German rear. The Germans have stopped believing in victory."

The announcement, recorded at London, declared that the morale of the Red Army had grown stronger and that it "burns with the determination to put an end to the Fascists."

While German industry is powerless to replace its losses and is suffering from a shortage of labor, the announcement declared, the rear of the Red Army has been strengthened with hundreds of new factories, and the "international position of the Soviet Union also has been strengthened."

Asserting that the Soviet alliance with the United States and the Anglo-Soviet treaty proved their strength during this year, the Russians said: "Our allies are increasingly helping the Soviet people with material."

Reviewing two years of the most sanguinary warfare in history, the announcement placed German casualties on the Russian front at 6,400,000 in killed or missing—including those captured—and Russian losses at 4,200,000 killed or missing.

The Nazis were said to have lost in Russia 56,500 guns, 42,400 tanks and 43,000 planes, as against Russion losses of 35,000 guns, 30,000 tanks and 23,000 planes.

. . . In spite of Hitler's orders to keep the positions they had captured at any cost, the Germans proved unable to avert the winter offensive of the Red army. . . .

Losses Contrasted

The seriousness of German losses on the Soviet-German front, compared with losses of the Red army, can be seen from the following figures:

Germany and her allies have lost in two years of war in killed and prisoners 6,400,000 officers and men, 56,500 guns, 42,400 tanks, 43,000 planes. During the same period the losses of the USSR in killed and missing are 4,200,000 men, 35,000 guns, 30,000 tanks, 23,000 planes. . . .

The German army is going through a serious crisis . . . The political position of Fascist Germany has drastically deteriorated. . . . The industrial capacity of Germany's war industry is diminishing, which is considerably furthered by blows dealt by the Allied air force. . . .

The hour is near when military operations of the armies of the freedom-loving powers will join with the armed struggle of European peoples, who are enslaved by Hitler, against the German Fascist imperialists. . . .

The German Fascist imperialists, having lost faith in a quick and favorable outcome of the war they started, have attempted to split the front of the freedom-loving nations by chatter about peace. As is well known, this treacherous German plan completely failed. It has shattered against the firmness and invincibility of the alliance of freedom-loving states. . . . In the course of the war a mighty anti-Hitlerite coalition of the great powers of the world has developed, viz.: The USSR, Britain and the United States. . . .

A Year Has Passed

Over a year has passed since the treaty of alliance in war against Hitlerite Germany and her associates in Europe and on collaboration and mutual aid after the war was concluded.

War conditions are sufficient to test the stability of treaties. . . . During this period our allied relations with Britain have improved. In the same way the agreement on principles appertaining to mutual aid in the war against aggression . . . between the USSR and the USA has proved its strength.

The Soviet Union, drawing on itself the main forces of Hitlerite Germany, pinning down 200 German divisions and 30 divisions of her vassal divisions in the East, has given invaluable aid to her allies and has enabled them to develop their armaments production, mobilize millions of people and create powerful armies.

Allied Aid Increased

Our allies, on their part, have given ever-increasing aid in armaments and materials to the Soviet people. During the past month the alliance of anti-Hitlerite states became stronger by joint and simultaneous military operations against the Italian and German Fascists.

Powerful blows of the Red army against German Fascist troops in the East were joined with blows dealt by our allies to rout the Italian and German armies in North Africa. At the same time the Allied air forces dealt ever-increasing blows at Germany and Italy.

All this points to the fact that the international position of our motherland is now firmer than ever before and that in the course of war the military alliance of the USSR, Britain and the United States has become still stronger.

Enemy's Strength Noted

However, the Soviet people and the Red army do not underestimate the strength of the enemy and the difficulties of further struggle. Hard struggle and great trials are still ahead of us. Victory over the German Fascist invaders demands the mobilization of all our forces.

The Soviet people are certain of the victory of their just cause no matter how much the enemy is going to attempt to wriggle out of his difficulties by all sorts of "total mobilization."

The proportion of forces has changed in the course of the war to our advantage and to the advantage of our allies. But this is not enough for victory.

Now all depends on the way in

Special Soviet Communique On 2d Anniversary Of War

JUN 22 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, June 22 —

Following is a partial text of the special communique:

Two years have passed since the day when Hitlerite Germany treacherously and deceitfully attacked our motherland. . . .

During the first period of the war the Soviet Union could not fully utilize all its fighting forces to repulse the enemy, because it required time to mobilize them and throw them into action against the Fascist invaders.

Germans Hurled Back

In addition, our Allies had only started mass production of armaments and were unable to give considerable and speedy aid to the Soviet Union. . . . The rout of the German Fascist armies at the approaches of Moscow . . . was the decisive military event of the first year of war. . . .

In the winter of 1941-42 the Red army hurled the Germans back to the west. . . . In the summer of 1942 the Germans, utilizing the absence of a second front in Europe, transferred all their reserves to the Soviet-German front, creating strong superiority of force in a southwestern direction. . . .

The Red army . . . stopped the enemy at the approaches to Stalingrad and at the foothills of the Caucasus. . . . The winter campaign of 1942-43 was the turning point in the entire course of the war.

JUN 22 1943

308.4-5-37

30.24 - 5239

which our allies will use the favorable situation to create a second front on the Continent of Europe because without a second front victory over Hitlerite Germany is impossible.

Saved Germany In '42

The absence of a second front in Europe saved Hitlerite Germany from defeat in 1942. As is known, the Hitlerites used this breathing space for a new, wide offensive against the Soviet Union in the summer and autumn of last year.

To miss favorable conditions which have been created now for the opening of a second front in Europe in 1943, to be late with it, means inflicting serious damage to our common task. To delay a second front in Europe against Fascist Germany means to protract the war, which means a colossal increase in victims.

On the other hand, organization of a second front in Europe this year would bring about a quick termination of the war and consequently a colossal decrease of victims on the side of the anti-Hitlerite coalition.

through the

Jamaica Post to Bourdillon

LONDON, June 22 (Tuesday) (AP).—Sir Bernard Henry Bourdillon has been appoined captain-general and general-in-chief of Jamaica, succeeding Sir Arthur Frederick Richards, the Colonial Office announced tonight. Richards was appointed Governor and Commander in Chief of Nigeria.

R. A. F. HITS TARGET NEAR SWITZERLAND

Flies Deep Into Germany to Blast Radio Works at Friedrichshaven.

THREE BOMBERS ARE MISSING

Explosions Are Felt by Swiss —British Report Great Damage in City.

London, June 21 (A. P.).—Lancaster bombers penetrated deep into southern Germany last night to attack the Luftschiffbau radio factory at Friedrichshaven and damaged all main buildings, the Air Ministry announced tonight.

Three bombers were lost. The factory makes radio location equipment and is one of the largest of its kind in Germany, the communique said. Heavy damage was done, the bulletin said. The great Zeppelin works are also at Friedrichshaven.

Swiss dispatches earlier had said the reverberation of bombs shook houses clear across Lake Constance. The German radio had told also of attacks in the northern part of the Reich.

The Berne radio said that some bombs fell in the Swiss canton of Thurgau during the night and that three persons were killed and one was injured in Kuemmershausen.

Great waves of R. A. F. bombers swept out by daylight today to resume their battering of the European continent. A ninety-minute silence of the Kalundborg radio in Denmark suggested another raid on northern Germany. The drum of motors was heard continuously for more than half an hour.

JUN 22 1943

Le Creusot Devastated.

The British struck a devastating blow on Saturday night at Le Creusot which was said by the Paris radio to have left the sprawling Schneider armaments works "nothing but a mountain of debris" with 250 dead and half the 15,000 population of the town homeless.

The Swiss Telegraph Agency reported Le Creusot was almost entirely destroyed. Successive waves of Allied bombers dropped incendiaries and explosives for forty minutes producing "horrible spectacles," the agency said. No sector of the town was spared, not a house was left standing and all areas of the city still are smoking, the Swiss report said.

The Le Creusot Works—"the Krupps of France"—lie 170 miles southeast of Paris.

[The discovery today of a number of women and children buried alive in the collapse of several air raid shelters during the attack on Le Creusot, has raised the toll of dead to 190. NBC reported in a broadcast from Berne this afternoon.]

'Wiped Off the Map.'

Meanwhile t his afternoon the Air Ministry news service said that reconnaissance planes have established that more than 1,000 acres of the Barmen section of Wuppertal was "devastated" in the massive R. A. F. attack on May 29.

"There now is almost as much destruction here as there is in Duesseldorf, a town almost twice as large," the Ministry said. "No industrial town in Germany has up to the present been so completely wiped off the map."

The Allied warning which preceded the disastrous bombing of the Le Creusot works was extended today to Belgium. Apparently foreshadowing intensified air attacks on factories in occupied territories, the Free Belgian radio declared: "The Allied air forces are about to start a systematic bombardment of industries in Belgium."

Mosquito bombers patrolling the Bay of Biscay area last night shot down one German Blohn-Voss flying boat, set three others afire and scored hits on an enemy minesweeper without any loss to themselves, the Air Ministry news service said. The flying boat crashed into the sea a mass of flames, it was said. The other three were attacked on a lake eighty miles south of the Gironde River estuary and were left blazing on the water.

Hits also were scored on a giant Blohn-Voss six-engined aircraft moored alongside, igniting one of its engines, the flyers reported.

Nazis Look for Blow at Greece.

London, June 21 (A. P.).—Axis speculation took a new turn last night, suggesting that the Allied invasion may strike in the eastern Mediterranean, where the Middle East Command has been pounding enemy shipping and Axis railway targets in Greece.

In a broadcast recorded by the Ministry of Information, the Berlin radio said that an Allied fleet was reported off the Syrian coast, making preparations to steam into action in the Aegean Sea. The border separating Syria from Turkey was closed as a security measure for a period last week.

Berlin also said that two battleships, an aircraft carrier, a cruiser and seventeen destroyers—three of them American—were reported anchored at Gibraltar and that five landing craft mounting cannon and anti-aircraft batteries had moved from the fortress in the direction of North Africa.

WEAK AIR RAID MADE BY NAZIS

Few Bombs Dropped Near Thames Estuary

LONDON, Tuesday, June 22 (AP)—Within less than two hours of a brief air raid alert, London underwent a second air raid warning early today.

Shortly after the first alert was called off by the all-clear signal, a lone plane came up the estuary pursued by heavy gunfire.

During the first alert bombs were dropped in the district of the Thames estuary, and on an East Anglia village.

NAZIS BOLSTER FRANCE ARMY, LONDON SAYS

Big Westward Movement Of Troops Ascribed To Threat Of Invasion

JUN 22 1943

Hitler Reported To Have Given Up Hope Of Conquering Russia

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 21—Germany was reported today to be moving substantial reinforcements into France as the eve of the second anniversary of Adolf Hitler's attack on Russia found an increasing number of military observers convinced that defeats and perils of invasion have forced Axis chieftains to abandon hope of knocking the Soviet Union out of the war.

One usually reliable foreign source in London estimated that German troop strength in France had been raised from thirty-five to forty-four divisions in recent weeks.

Hitler has been forced to turn down appeals from Premier Mussolini of Italy to send more ground forces into the bomb-jolted peninsula, where surface signs indicated the danger of Allied invasion was most immediate, the London source said.

Nazis Spread Rumors

The Germans themselves through radio broadcasts, contributed the most to these surface signs, declaring an Allied fleet was assembling off Syria in the eastern Mediterranean for an attack through the Aegean, and that a fleet of two battleships, an aircraft carrier, a cruiser and seventeen destroyers was at Gibraltar.

Observers at La Linea, Spain, next door to Gibraltar, reported the presence of seventy-odd Allied merchantmen in the harbor there and a continued passage of large landing boats into the Mediterranean. Thirty of them, each carrying a crew of twenty-five, were the latest to head eastward, La Linea dispatches said.

Convoys Attacked

Berlin and Rome communiques told of numerous attacks on convoys, implying heavy Allied ship movements in the Mediterranean, but many British observers agreed there were no indications the Germans had more than one or two combat divisions in all Italy, Sicily and Sardinia to bolster the Italian front.

With Allied aerial forces on the move in the Mediterranean, and the Germans still held to inactivity on the eastern front, the Moscow Communist party newspaper Pravda marked the anniversary of the beginning of the German-Russian conflict with the most optimistic Russian declaration yet.

Axis Surrender Predicted

Pravda said the enemy's unconditional surrender "is not far distant" and declared "despair may drive the Germans to the maddest ventures."

Best British estimates placed German strength on the Eastern front in the neighborhood of 200 divisions, including 18 divisions of satellite troops.

This force, compared with a peak of about 230 at the opening of the 1942 offensive, was regarded by one informed British observer as close to the minimum the Germans would need should the Red army launch one of its powerful drives in the midst of an Allied attack from the west.

The German forces recently sent to France, it was believed, had come from the limited reserves available in Germany itself, and not from the Eastern front.

No Sign Of Offensive

There still was no sign of a German offensive, although it was Sunday dawn, June 22, 1941, when Hitler gave the signal for his first Russian drive, and on June 11 that he began the 1942 campaign for the Caucasus.

If they had not abandoned hope for anything better than a stalemate, the Germans at least gave the impression that they were content to rest on the defensive for the time being.

One German commentator, General Count Waldemar Stillfried, was quoted by the Berlin radio as pointing out Germany's defensive advantages. Citing the "extensive safety zone" held by Germany on the east, Stillfried said an "Anglo-American invasion of the Continent will certainly be nipped in the bud."

RUSSIANS SHELL FOE IN OREL AREA

London, June 21 (A. P.).—The Sevsk area in the pivotal Orel sector of the Russian front was subjected last night to a heavy Russian artillery bombardment which shattered German blockhouses and scattered enemy troop concentrations, the midday Soviet communique said today.

The bombardment was accompanied by an aerial attack which the Russians said was made on parked German planes, hangars and stores at Bryansk and Karachev behind the Orel front. The midnight communique, which told of these raids, said they rounded out a week which cost the Germans more than 276 planes compared to Soviet losses of ninety-four. The figure boosted the toll of enemy aircraft to 3,595 in seven weeks, on the basis of Moscow announcements.

The midday communique, which was recorded by the Soviet monitor here from a Moscow broadcast, said Russian guns also were trained on Nazi fortifications near Smolensk on the western front.

Be Ready To Act, French Are Told

London, Tuesday, June 22 (AP)—The French people, who heard a high British army official promise eight months ago that the Allies would let them know of invasion in time, were told today by the BBC to "be ready."

As a footnote to instructions on how to prepare for invasion, broadcast to France in the name of "the inter-Allied high command," the BBC said that the central forces of French resistance must be well prepared and ready to act at any moment henceforth."

"Be ready," the broadcast admonished.

Von Arnim Is Reported In Psychiatrist's Care

London, June 21 (AP)—The London Star said today that Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim, captured commander of the Axis African armies, had been placed under care of a psychiatrist for treatment of an anxiety neurosis, induced by brooding over the defeat of his army.

He was said to be suffering from delusions and under constant observation. The newspaper said a specialist described the anxiety neurosis as a disorder worse than neurasthenia and caused by worry or fear, or both.

Asks Divorce From R. A. F. Ace

LONDON, June 21 (AP).—An uncontested suit by Mrs. Cynthia Aitken for divorce from Wing Commander Max Aitken, R. A. F. ace and eldest son and heir of Lord Beaverbrook, has been docketed in divorce court for the term beginning tomorrow, a docket listing disclosed today. Aitkers and the former Cynthia Monteith were married in 1939.

Vests of Steel To Shield Crews In U.S. Bombers

New Armor Device, Tested

JUN 22 1943

on 8th Air Force Raids, Deflected Shell Splinters

EIGHTH UNITED STATES AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, England, June 21 (AP).—The 8th Air Force announced today that all crews of American heavy bombers are to be equipped with protective armor, reminiscent of that worn by knights of the Middle Ages.

A London firm which has specialized in sword-making since 1772 is engaged in the manufacture of the equipment and it will be issued as rapidly as production permits, the announcement said.

The armor, consisting of a sixteen-pound sleeveless vest of manganese steel, already has been worn by some airmen on raids over Europe and is said to have proved very successful under stern tests.

The vest is made of heavy canvas to which are attached small overlapping squares of twenty-gauge steel, giving complete coverage on chest and back. An apron, suspended by hooks from the vest, provides protection for the abdomen and parts of the legs.

Pilots and co-pilots will wear only the half vest for chest protection, since their backs are protected by the plane's armorplate. Bombardiers, navigators, gunners and radio operators will wear full vests. The aprons come in two types, full width for standing men, tapered for seated men.

"Guinea Pig" Is Grateful

The half vest weights seven pounds, the full apron six and a half pounds and the tapered apron four and a half pounds. The vest slips over the head and laces up the sides. With the pull of a string the whole gear can be shed instantaneously.

First Lieutenant Jack Fisher, of Fresno, Calif., flying fortress bombardier and one of the "guinea pigs" in tests, is one of its most enthusiastic exponents. Wearing the vest on the Wilhelmshaven-Emden raid on May 21, he saw a twenty-millimeter cannon shell explode inside the bomber two feet away from him. His vest looked as though a shotgun had been fired at it from close range, but there was no penetration.

"The vest probably saved my life and certainly saved me from serious injury," he said. "I'm very grateful, and feel all combat crews should wear this equipment."

Sergeant Hubert E. Corl, of Pine Grove Mills, Pa., radio operator and gunner, was struck on the back and chest by pieces of cannon shells on the Hamm raid on March 4. "The vest saved me from a very serious injury," he said.

Stop Pistol Bullets

Colonel Malcolm C. Grow, chief surgeon of the 8th Air Force, is credited with developing the armor. He is a veteran of the first World War and a Regular Army man.

Tests showed the vests stopped .45 caliber Army pistol bullets fired from thirty feet.

Grow, who with Colonel H. G. Armstrong, of De Smet, S. D., 8th Air Force flight surgeon, is said to have contributed much to Army research in aviation medicine, had experimental models of the vest made months ago.

The crews selected for the tests were at first skeptical and reluctant to don "this encumbrance," but soon combat men began asking for them.

Grow obtained official permission, and the sword plant began mass production. Grow is now trying to develop a new type armored helmet for bomber crews.

REDS TRADE AIR BLOWS WITH NAZIS

JUN 22 1943

Soviet Flyers Sink Transport In Black Sea; Foe Attacks Along Volga

Ground Operations Limited To Exchange Of Artillery Fire

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, June 22—Soviet and Nazi armies exchanged aerial blows and artillery fire yesterday, but there were "no important changes" in ground activity along the Russian front, Moscow announced early today.

German planes dropped incendiary bombs in one area while Red airmen sank an enemy transport in the Black Sea, said the Russian midnight communique recorded here by the Soviet monitor.

An earlier Moscow broadcast said German bombers attempted to raid a "populated place on the upper Volga" Sunday night. Several planes which penetrated the anti-aircraft barrages dropped bombs, causing civilian casualties and some damage to dwellings, it was said.

5 Raiders Shot Down

The announcement asserted five of the raiders were shot down by Russian fighters.

Berlin identified the city as Yaroslavl, about 160 miles northeast of Moscow. A German broadcast recorded by the Associated Press said a "strong German bomber formation" pounded the city for an hour and a half, setting off terrific explosions and starting large fires in armaments plants. Berlin admitted the loss of three planes.

In the Sumy area, 100 miles northwest of Kharkov, where ground action shifted Saturday from the Mtsensk area of the Orel sector, the midnight communique said Red army troops wiped out about 150 Germans yesterday and destroyed 5 blockhouses and dugouts.

Nazi Company Wiped Out

On the central front west of Moscow Soviet troops were said to have wiped out about a company of German infantry. Artillerymen of one unit destroyed an enemy mortar battery and dispersed several groups of enemy infantry, the bulletin said.

Both sides participated in infrequent artillery duels west of Rostov, where one Red army unit was reported to have annihilated more than a company of Nazi infantry and silenced several mortar batteries.

On the Volkhov front the Russians were credited with demolishing eight German blockhouses and five dugouts, blowing up an ammunition dump and setting fire to a railway train.

Belgorod Area Raided

No fighting was reported in the Belgorod district, but the communique noted that one anti-aircraft unit there downed twenty planes in a month.

The noon communique said Russian artillery in the Sevsk area of the pivotal Orel sector shattered German blockhouses and scattered enemy troop concentrations with heavy bombardment Sunday night.

At the same time Russian airmen were said to have attacked parked German planes, hangars and stores at Bryansk and Karachev behind the Orel front.

Surrender of Nazis Near, 'Pravda' Says

MOSCOW, June 21 (AP).—"Pravda," Communist party newspaper, declared editorially today on the eve of the second anniversary of the German invasion of Russia that the enemy's unconditional surrender "is not far distant."

At the same time it warned that the enemy sensed "the approaching hour of severe retribution" and that "despair may drive the Germans to the maddest ventures." It added: "We are facing new decisive battles."

All Eyes Turned on Pope.

Stockholm, June 21 (A. P.).—The Italian people want to get out of the war and away from the Allied bombings that have hammered pre-invasion warnings home to Italy's industrial centers, informants recently returned from that country said today. Short of food, short of sleep because of the air raids, and short of hope, the Italians were reported ready to welcome either a separate peace or an invasion, since even that would put them out of their current misery.

Amid all the wartime confusion, Pope Pius XII stood out as the most important figure in Italy, the informants said here, with the average Italian looking hopefully to him as "the man of the hour."

Because of its nearness to Vatican City, which leads to a popular belief that Rome will not be bombed, the capital is now jammed with evacuees, though lodging is non-existent and food is scarce. "If Rome is bombed there will be absolute chaos and catastrophe," one informant said.

Moreover, German officers who have poured into the capital were accused of feeding the black market by freely trading military stores so that they might go on spending sprees. An ordinary package of popular brand American cigarettes brings 490 lira (about $24.93 at 1941 exchange rates) and a suit of good cloth costs 6,000 lira ($340) in the black market.

JUN 22 1943

Nazis See Drop for June In Sinkings by U-Boats

Press Agrees on Effectiveness of U. S. and British Defenses

BERN, Switzerland, June 22 (Tuesday) (AP).—Sinkings by U-boats for June will fall below those for April and May, on the basis of figures thus far announced, Berlin correspondents reported in the Swiss press today.

It was noted that German mention of submarine warfare was declining and that Berlin newspapers were in general agreement on the effectiveness of British and American defenses.

Nazi military commentators, without discussing the Allied air attacks on U-boat bases, are saying that submarine warfare always was erratic and that Allied protection for convoys has increased and improved considerably.

DUTCH FLIERS IN EAST STILL FIGHT INVADERS

Operate From Australian Base With Mitchell Bombers

JUN 22 1943

A NETHERLANDS BOMBER BASE, Australia (AP) — "Good blokes." That's the Australian verdict on the men of the Netherlands East Indies who still are flying and fighting above their occupied homeland.

Operating out of one of the most remote bases in Australia's vast northern territory, "the Dutch unit" of the Royal Australian Air Force flies American Mitchell bombers with Netherlands markings. The personnel includes Hollanders, Australians and Indonesians, all working together in a way that proves how closely—despite language barriers—the three peoples can cooperate in the struggle against the Japanese.

The unit has two commanding officers: Squadron Leader L. R. Dawson of the RAAF and a Dutch lieutenant-colonel whose name is withheld because of possible reprisals against his family in occupied territory. He was commissioned by his government to organize the unit soon after the fall of Java.

Netherlanders and Australian ground crews work side by side servicing machines, and RAAF air gunners fly with Dutch pilots and navigators. All of the Hollanders can speak English, although with varying degrees of fluency. Official notices are posted in both Dutch and English.

Sicily Airfields, Messina Strait Blasted by Allies

Meanwhile High Command Appeals to Italians to 'Demonstrate for Peace'

DANIEL DE LUCE
By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 21.—New Allied air attacks on Messina Strait, separating the island of Sicily from the Italian mainland, and on island airdromes were disclosed today, as the Allied high command broadcast appeals to the Italian people to "demonstrate for peace."

A night attack by British Wellington bombers on Messina in which two waves of planes dropped two-ton blockbusters and uncounted incendiaries on the ferry terminus, industrial areas and docks was followed yesterday by medium bomber attacks on the airdromes at Castelvetrano, Borizzo and Milo.

Large numbers of Axis planes were hit on the ground and sixteen enemy planes were shot from the sky as against total Allied losses of five planes.

The Wellington heavyweight raid on Messina was followed by attacks on San Giovanni, in Italy proper across Messina Strait; Porto Empedocle, in southern Sicily, and Marsala, on the west coast of the island. Much of Messina itself was left in flames visible a hundred miles away.

Although official bulletins here (Continued on page 3, column 5) said nothing on the st[illegible]t, the Italian high command communique broadcast from Rome today, said Naples, a major west coast supply port; Foggia, a railroad city near the spur of the Italian boot; Spinazzola, forty-five miles southeast, and Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni, on the toe of the boot, were attacked by Allied airmen yesterday.

Week-end broadcasts from the Allied radio station in North Africa warned the Italian people to keep away from war plants and centers of communication or face death from the air.

"The Allied air forces have received orders," said one such broadcast, "to bomb your war industries and lines of communication as long as they are working in the interests of the Axis. They will bomb your war industries and communications as relentlessly as they have bombed your ports and ships during the African campaign.

"Therefore, the Allied command advises you to leave the vicinity of these objectives and to remove your families to safety. The Allies intend to destroy your factories and lines of communication as long as they are working in the interests of the Axis."

Another broadcast concluded thus: "It is your alliance with Germany that brings our bombs down on Italian cities . . . if you want to save your industries . . . to develop after the war, then demand peace. Demonstrate for peace!"

The Swiss radio, as heard here, reported that all but skeleton personnel already had been removed from the larger towns in Sicily and that a great evacuation from from Naples had taken place.

It was announced at Allied headquarters here during the day that sixty-seven Italian citizens of occupied Pantelleria had addressed to General Dwight D. Eisenhower a letter denouncing "the two madmen, Hitler and his faithful vassal, Mussolini," and asking the Allies to "save the garden of Europe."

A photographic copy of the letter was shown here. It called Mussolini's regime "megalomaniac and Satanic," and declared that the Italians "hope for a speedy return of an era of prosperity and peace which the victories of the Allied armies and the wisdom of the Anglo-American governments will surely bring to this long suffering Italy."

JUN 22 1943

3134-5241

30.24 - 5241

Allies Blast Lower Italy

JUN 22 1943

Targets in Sicily Also Hit—Two-ton Bombs Dropped on Airfields and Ports.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 21 (A. P.).—Lieut.-Gen. Carl A. Spaatz's air fleets were declared officially today to have wrought new destruction upon Sicilian targets from Marsala to Messina Strait—shooting down sixteen Axis fighters in the process—and the Rome radio said Naples and four other Italian mainland cities also were raided yesterday.

Medium bombers and fighters co-operated to round out heavy week end blows against Italy and Sicily.

The Italian High Command communique, broadcast from Rome, said Naples, a major west coast supply port; Foggia, a railroad city east of Naples; Spinazzola, forty-five miles to the southeast, and Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni, on the toe of the boot, were attacked by Allied airmen yesterday.

[These raids were not reported in Allied announcements, but the Italians have on occasion told of such thrusts before they were reported by Northwest Africa, Malta or Middle East communiques.
East communiques.]

The Northwest African Air Forces lost five planes during the fresh operations, which included a heavy assault by R. A. F. Wellingtons on Messina Saturday night. Fires were started in the Messina railway freight yards and the ferry terminus area.

Aerial patrols over Pantelleria frustrated a new attempt by Axis fighter-bombers to break through and strike at the island's British garrison.

[A Saturday night attack by German bombers upon an Allied convoy off Cape Serrat, Tunisia, was reported in a DNB dispatch radioed from Berlin to have left six transports and merchantmen totaling 35,000 tons seriously damaged.

[Steady strengthening of British and American forces in the Mediterranean zone again was indicated by a dispatch from La Linea, Spanish neighbor of Gibraltar. It said thirty more landing launches, each armed with two guns and carrying a crew of twenty-five, left the British fortress for North Africa today. Some seventy merchantmen were reported in Gibraltar's harbor.]

Messina Hit Hard.

Two waves of Wellingtons hurled 4,000-pound blockbusters and showers of incendiaries over the Messina ferry terminus, which is the island's chief link to the Italian mainland industrial area and port installations. Fires spread through the whole target zone.

Other Wellingtons attacked San Giovanni, on the Italian side of Messina Strait; Porto Empedocle, in southern Sicily; and Marsala, a west coast port.

In tangled clashes of mounting fury, Marauders and escorting Lightnings closed with fifteen enemy fighters which rose to challenge them as they were leaving Castelvetrano after hitting the airport's traffic control building, straddling the runway with heavy bombs and scoring direct hits with fragmentation bombs on a large number of Axis planes dispersed on the field.

Axis Rushes Defenses.

The harbor areas of Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni, in the Italian peninsula toe across the Messina Strait from Sicily, were hammered heavily in daylight raids Saturday by American Liberator bombers of the Middle East Command.

Two-ton blockbusters were dropped on the port area of Syracuse, on the lower east Sicilian coast, in the moonlight raid Friday by R. A. F. two-engined Wellingtons of the North African Strategic Air Force. Naval planes from Malta also attacked shipping off the Sicilian east coast and intruders raided railway targets in Italy.

It appeared meanwhile that Axis troops and air forces had been poured into Sardinia and Sicily to defend the island outposts in a last ditch stand.

RADIO ATTACK ON ITALY BEGUN

Allied Broadcasts Call for Peace Demonstrations.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 21 (A. P.).—The Allied High Command has begun broadcasting appeals to the Italian people to demonstrate for peace.

"The Allier Air Forces have received orders to bomb your war industries and lines of communications as long as they are working in the interests of the Axis," said official week-end broadcasts from North Africa. These raids would spread to the interior of Italy, and the Allies "will bomb your war industries and communications as relentlessly as they have bombed your ports and ships during the African campaign," it was stated. "Therefore the Allied command advises you to leave the vicinity of these objectives and remove your families to safety."

The Allies will destroy factories and lines of communications, but do not wish to destroy any supplies, it was announced, and one broadcast declared "it is your alliance with Germany that brings our bombs down on Italian cities," while another advised the Italians to "demand peace" and to "demonstrate for peace."

CRIPPLED FORTRESS RETURNS

Hit 140 Times, With 2 Engines Gone, Gets 5 Axis Planes

DANIEL DE LUCE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 21 (AP)—Back from a mission of death over Messina with 140 holes in its green metal body and five German fighter planes to its credit, the Flying Fortress Thunderbird limped to the safety of Pantelleria Island on only two of its four big engines.

GETS FIVE

Officially reported missing after an attack against Sicily's chief communications centre last Friday, the Thunderbird came back with a record for bombers in this war theatre by destroying five of 15 fighters which attempted to send it flaming into the sea.

Lieutenant Eugene C. Wayman, 26, of Little Rock, Ark., just back from a rest camp, was at the Thunderbird's controls as pilot with Lieutenant R. L. Sims of Los Angeles, Calif., co-pilot, when the big bomber took off on its epic flight.

The Thunderbird was approaching the harbor of Messina when two of its engines cut out.

Bombardier Lieutenant E. J. Malloy, of Jefferson, O., dropped his big load of explosives, however, and the Thunderbird descended almost to the surface of the sea for the attempt to get home.

Suddenly, 15 Nazi fighters swarmed on the ailing giant.

"The enemy birds would only attack from one direction," Lieutenant Sims recounted today. "As they showed their bellies over us we opened up on them and knocked down one after another. It sure was swell shooting. We feel like league champions."

Tail Gunner Sergeant J. R. Myshall of 140 Katahdin avenue, Millinocket, Me., got two German planes.

Last January the Thunderbird came back to Tripoli on two engines with several crew members wounded.

HERO FLIER HOPING TO MEET WIFE

Going Home After 50 Combat Missions, but

She's a WAAC

(American airmen who have completed 50 combat missions against the enemy are being rewarded by home leaves. Typical of these youthful veterans is Technical Sergeant Robert Kelly Stone, 25, 3019 South Jennings street, Fort Worth, Tex., gunner on a Flying Fortress, who has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and other decorations. His au revoir to Africa is given in the following article written for the Associated Press.)

BY ROBERT KELLY STONE
Technical Sergeant, USAAF in Africa

AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE, North Africa, June 21 (AP)—Right now I only hope to get home in time to see my wife, Mildred, who joined the WAACS.

She is supposed to go overseas, and here I have just finished sweating out my home trip. She might leave before I get there. I don't like her being in the army, but she wanted to do her part, so I had nothing to say about it.

JUN 22 1943

RECEIVED PURPLE HEART

I have participated in 50 missions, which include Bizerte, Tunis, Sfax, Ferryville, Sousse, Gabes, Palermo, Cagliari, Terranova, Leghorn and Messina. I travelled over and bombed Sicily, Sardinia, Italy, Pantelleria and Africa. I regret leaving, as I have made quite a few friends that I hate to leave. It seems funny, but after sweating these last few missions I would like to be back on combat again.

I arrived at Geiger Field Feb. 6, 1942, from Sheppard Field, Texas, and attended gunnery school. After extensive training we left the States Aug. 6, 1942, for England. We flew our first mission over Saint Omer, France, one month later, Sept. 6.

On my second mission, over Rotterdam the next day, I was wounded while flying the waistgun position as the result as heavy flak encountered over the target. I participated in four raids while in England and was the first member of this group to receive the Purple Heart, which was awarded after the raid on Rotterdam. I flew from England to Africa during the invasion and landed near Oran. I was shifted from waist to tailgunner position which was quite a thrill, because you get more action back there.

Plenty of Thrilling Action

On the first raid over Bizerte, last Nov. 28, I shot down an ME109F. We flew three raids from this field and then we moved to Bifkra on the edge of the Sahara Desert. During our stay there we were bombed five times plus plenty of air raid scares that kept us on the alert constantly.

We were without our ground crew and we loaded, serviced and kept the planes in condition to fly. We were really living a fast life between dodging bombs, eating on the run and working all night. Sleep was done when you had a chance to sneak away and catch a wink or two.

On the raid over Bizerte when I bagged the ME109 I felt like I was beginning to do my share in the war. Fighter opposition was really stiff over these targets and our plane, "Hell's Kitchen," to date has over 400 patches on her, but has never turned back when on a raid due to mechanical trouble. "Hell's Kitchen" has about 65 missions to her credit and has the best record of any plane in the group.

Nearly Sank Pantelleria

Our plane has destroyed nine enemy aircraft with her guns and has weathered many a rough mission where in some cases several cylinders were shot off. There were as high as 75 to 100 enemy aircraft in the air at one time shooting at us when we were making our bomb run, not to mention plenty of 88-mm. flak guns throwing up bursts at us. Even though our plane has enough holes in it to qualify for a No. 1 "hangar queen" it has always managed to get into the air to deal out our share of destruction.

During the campaign I had only two fears, the luftwaffe and our cook, and the cook darned near won out. For our Thanksgiving dinners we had 10 eggs and a pigeon, which we swapped from an Arab for a pair of long underwear. The first month was the hardest, as eating was poor and weather was plenty miserable.

Our last mission here was on Pantelleria and we darned near sunk the island. As a matter of fact, it looked to me like it was listing when we left it.

Wants to Be Combat Pilot

My last 12 missions I operated the upper turret and was flight engineer. My duties, in addition to being a gunner, are to assist the pilot in operating the ship. One of the things I would like to be is a combat pilot when I get back. Maybe I will get a chance to train and be one when I get back to the States.

One has heard plenty of songs over here about "Dirty Gertie from Bizerte" and "Anxious Annie from Tripani," two of the places we bombed. On one of my last raids over Leghorn, Italy, I dropped a little message for "Axis Sally from Berlin." Sally keeps up our morale with sentimental songs over the radio at the same time she tries to feed us Axis propaganda which only makes us laugh. It is so silly.

The note requested Sally to play "Deep in the Heart of Texas" on her next broadcast.

JUN 22 1943

Any Barrier Can Be Reduced By Air Power, Spaatz Says

Allies Have The Resources, So It's Just A Matter Of Mathematics, General Declares

HAROLD V BOYLE

[By the Associated Press]

An Advanced Allied Air Base In North Africa, June 21—Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz declared today that any barrier against the advance of Allied forces could be reduced by air attack and that the United Nations had the resources to put the required number of planes to the task.

The American commander of the North African air forces said the destruction or neutralization of any such barrier was merely a matter of mathematical calculation.

Spaatz watched the surrender of Pantelleria from a destroyer offshore after the Italian island suffered the heaviest aerial bombardment ever delivered to a target of its size.

Superiority Proved

That victory, he said, as well as the Allied air triumph in Tunisia, proved that the Allies have attained air superiority and that air supremacy could become available in any place that the Allies choose.

The general said that an air force is vital in warfare and that successful major operations are possible only if control of the air has first been obtained.

He said he was elated over the work of American and British flyers in pounding Pantelleria into defeat. He said the thing that impressed him most was the accuracy and precision with which large masses of planes can be applied against a particular target.

Accuracy Possible

Spaatz said he was convinced that the Pantelleria operation, as well as others, was made possible by the ability of Flying Fortresses and other bombers to operate in large formations in daylight and drop their bombs accurately despite the worst the enemy could do in fighter opposition and ground fire.

This fact, more than any other, was responsible for the emergence of Allied air supremacy necessary in taking Pantelleria, he said.

Spaatz cautioned that although the Allies had resources for neutralizing or destroying any barrier against advance, the application of this principle must never be started until the force in hand is adequate for the job. He said the same scientific factors of safety must be applied that an engineer uses in building a bridge.

MALTA IS VISITED BY KING GEORGE VI

JUN 22 1943

Monarch Arrives On Cruiser To Pay Unprecedented Wartime Call

PAUL KERN LEE

[By the Associated Press]

Valetta, Malta, June 20 (Delayed). Malta today joyfully received an unprecedented wartime visit from King George VI.

He came from North Africa aboard the cruiser Aurora with an escort of four destroyers—the Lookout, Jervis, Nubian and Eskimo—along a route which until very recently was extremely hazardous.

The fact that the King, one of the most carefully guarded personages in the world, made the trip was evidence of British and Allied control of the Mediterranean.

The trip followed the King's journey to North Africa by plane to visit British and American troops.

Accompanied By Admiral

Accompanying the Sovereign were Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, and Air Marshal Sir William Tedder, naval and air chiefs in the Mediterranean, and Harold MacMillan, resident minister for Allied headquarters in North Africa.

The King drove through flag-decked streets where children tossed flowers. On his tour of the city he strolled through unroofed buildings, visited the dockyards which continued their functions through the worst air raids, inspected the naval, army and air stations and the palace which proudly displays the George Cross awarded to the people collectively.

CRISIS POSTPONED AGAIN BY FRENCH

Committee Defers Showdown On De Gaulle's Demand To Head Military

[By the Associated Press]

Algiers, June 21—The National Liberation Committee deferred a showdown today on Gen. Charles de Gaulle's demand that he be given supreme authority over French military forces, and some observers said tension of the negotiations lessened slightly.

The crisis was put off at least until tomorrow, when the committeemen will convene again to consider whether de Gaulle or Gen. Henri Giraud should hold the command. The Fighting Frenchman has threatened to quit Algiers for Beirut or Brazzaville if the decision goes against him.

[A Reuters dispatch from Algiers said it could now be stated authoritatively that there had been Allied intervention in the French political crisis. The dispatch did not go into detail.

Emphasis On Military

[In London the report of Allied intervention was interpreted as indicating that it had been emphasized to both Giraud and de Gaulle that military considerations still outweigh politics.

[It was assumed that with large numbers of Allied troops in North Africa and the obvious importance of this theater in assault strategy the Allies were unwilling to disturb French military cooperation which so far has worked smoothly under Giraud.]

De Gaulle devoted the first two hours of today's meeting of nearly three hours, it was learned, to a resume of the military situation and a restatement of his proposal that the French commander-in-chief—a post Giraud holds and intends to keep if possible—be subordinated both to the Liberation Committee and to the commissioner of defense.

De Gaulle Wants Post

De Gaulle likewise made it plain that he wishes to be commissioner of defense under such an arrangement.

The committee balked de Gaulle's suggestion for an immediate vote. Even his own adherents on the committee are eager to prevent an irrevocable rupture. Observers said the situation augured well for continued negotiations tomorrow and perhaps later into the week.

Under the alternating chairmanship, de Gaulle presided at the meeting today. Giraud is to take over tomorrow.

FRENCH CONFEREES STILL DEADLOCKED

Algiers, June 21 (A. P.).—The French Committee of National Liberation was reported unofficially today to have failed to agree in a morning meeting on the issue of division of military powers between Gen. Charles de Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud.

Thirteen members of the committee met in a plenary session for two hours and forty-five minutes under the shadow of the prospect that Gen. De Gaulle might withdraw unless his own proposals for reorganization of French military affairs were adopted.

Political intimates of the Fighting French chieftain said he was prepared to leave Algiers for Beirut or Brazzaville in the event his proposals were turned down—a development which appeared possible as Gen. de Gaulle's followers expressed belief that Gen. Giraud, with previously unexpected support, might be able to maintain the status quo.

Unofficially, it was stated that the committee got no further than arguing the question of who should be commander in chief, a position Gen. Giraud now holds. Gen .De Gaulle was reported to have demanded an immediate vote on this appointment. The committee was said to have deferred a decision until tomorrow.

A communique issued after today's meeting said simply: "The French Committee of National Liberation pursued the study of reorganization of the armed forces."

Nevertheless, the committee approved reorganization of the Tunisian civil administration.

Some committee members indicated that the mere fact that Gen. De Gaulle, Gen. Giraud and their adherents agreed to meet again tomorrow gave them hope for an eventual compromise.

Many Reported Killed By Sharp Quake In Turkey

Ankara, June 21 (AP)—A large number of persons were reported killed last night when a violent earthquake destroyed about 1,000 buildings and damaged another 1,000 in the town of Adapazar, near Istanbul, press dispatches said tonight.

Official estimates reported also that in near-by Hendek, about half of the city's structures were wrecked.

The reports said that ruins of Adapazar still were being searched tonight for victims, while rescue trains carrying nurses, doctors and rescue crews were arriving from Ankara, Istanbul and other points.

The official Ankara newspaper Ulus published a dispatch from a private correspondent reporting that a violent shock struck the district at 6.30 P. M. Sunday.

Tonight the number of casualties still had not been determined, but it was said the toll probably would run high.

The report to the Ankara paper said the town's main street, where government buildings are situated, was almost wiped out, while the municipal electricity system was destroyed.

BULGARIA HEADING TOWARD FASCISM

Ankara, June 19. (Delayed) (A. P.)—The Sofia radio announced today that a single Government-inspired National Bulgarian Union soon would replace other political organizations in Bulgaria and observers here interpreted this as possibly the first step toward establishment of a Fascist model dictatorship.

Travelers reaching Ankara from Bulgaria recently said the domestic situation was getting so far out of hand that a dictatorship was probable. The assassination of some official is reported almost daily they said.

Observers said that if a dictator were named he probably would be Premier Bogdan Philov, who is considered to be completely in the hands of King Boris. They said, however, that the situation closely resembled that in Rumania during the last few months of King Carol's reign, which resulted in Carol's abdication.

NEW GAIN IN CHINA

Chungking, June 21 (A. P.).—The Chinese troops in coastal Kwangtung province, executing a pincer movement against a Japanese force which had previously attacked their lines northwest of Canton, have inflicted several hundred casualties and restored their original position, it was officially stated today.

At the same time fighting was reported west of Swatow, a Kwangtung port 220 miles east of Canton, where the invaders launched a new offensive.

Observers said that both Japanese drives evidently had the same purpose—to test Chinese strength, disperse possible concentrations and loot anything of value.

U.S. Lightnings Down 23 Zeros In Lae Battle

JUN 22 1943

New Guinea Front Also Sees Clashes by Ground, Air Forces in Mubo Area

MURLIN SPENCER

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 22 (Tuesday).—Twenty-three Japanese Zero planes were destroyed or damaged by American Lightnings in an air battle over Lae, New Guinea, Monday, the Allied command announced today in a communique.

It was the second big aerial battle in two days in the southwest Pacific area.

The communique, counting up the results of the victory at Lae by the speedy twin-engined Lightnings, announced that fourteen Japanese planes "were actually seen to crash or blow up and the remaining nine were in flames and losing altitude."

"Complete destruction" of the remaining nine ships was declared "most probable." After the battle was over thirteen of the original force of thirty-six Zeros were believed to have been able to return to base.

Damage to the American planes, all of which returned to base, was described as "slight."

The Lightnings intercepted the Zeros in the air over Lae and Salamaua in the first large-scale air action in New Guinea since May 14. To add to the troubles of the Japanese, the air fight barely had ended when nine Havocs came over at a low altitude, strafing and bombing and setting fires on the Lae and Malahang airdromes. The Salamaua airdrome also was strafed from an altitude of fifty feet.

The New Guinea front saw also sharp clashes yesterday between Allied and Japanese ground and aerial forces in the Mubo area.

Meanwhile, to the northwest, Catalinas, Hudsons and Mitchell bombers hammered the Koepang area in Dutch Timor, leaving fires visible sixty miles away.

The two-engined bombers were over the town and the Penfoei airdrome for two and one-half hours during the night. Direct hits were scored on barracks and an anti-aircraft battery at the airdrome and large explosions, followed by fires, were observed in the hangar area. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered over the target and one enemy night fighter was observed, but all the Allied planes returned.

One loaded barge was sunk and three others damaged by medium bombers on night patrol off Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

A number of enemy planes strafed ineffectively the harbor at Morobe, halfway between Buna and Salamaua, New Guinea.

14 JAPANESE PLANES SHOT DOWN AT LAE

Nine More Are Probably Destroyed In South Pacific Battle

Second Air Victory In Two Days Is Scored By Lightnings

MURLIN SPENCER

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Tuesday, June 22—Slashing into a force of Zeros approximately twice

JUN 22 1943

3024-5243

30.24 -5243

their own number, American Lightnings shot down or probably destroyed twenty-three Japanese pursuit ships over Lae yesterday to give General MacArthur's airmen their second consecutive air victory in two days.

The noon communique, counting up the results of the victory by the speedy twin-engined Lightnings, announced that fourteen Japanese planes "were actually seen to crash or blow up and the remaining nine were in flames and losing altitude."

"Complete destruction" of the remaining nine ships was declared "most probable."

After the battle was over, only thirteen of the original force of thirty-six Zeros were believed to have been able to return to base.

Damage Slight

Damage to our planes, all of which returned, was described as "slight."

Action on the part of both the Allies and the Japanese flared in the air over a wide area, while ground clashes—long unreported—took place in the vicinity of Mubo, twelve miles southwest of the Japanese base at Salamau.

Catalina and Hudson bombers, manned by Australians, and Dutch-flown Mitchells hammered Koepang in Timor for more than two and one half hours, leaving fires which were visible more than sixty miles away.

Mtchells and Havocs, manned by Americans, bombed and strafed the Lae area and Salamaua in New Guinea, and Capt Gloucester in New Britain. In the Cape Gloucester area they found four loaded barges which they heavily strafed, sinking one and setting fire to others.

Victory Greater

Meanwhile General MacArthur's spokesman announced that the Spitfires' victory over the Japanese at Darwin Sunday was even greater than at first was reported, with eight bombers and four fighters destroyed, instead of six bombers and three fighters; one fighter and one bomber probably d estroyed, and eight bombers and two fighters damaged.

The charred bodies of eight Japanese were found alongside a burned bomber seven miles northeats of Darwin, indicating that the twin-engined ship exploded when it struck the g round.

Our Lightnings intercepted the Zeros in the air over Lae and Salamaua in the first large-scale air action in New Guinea since May 14 when both Lightnings and Warhawks slashed into a large formation of Japanese bombers and fighters over Orobay and shot down nine Zeros and seven bombers, and probably destroyed five other bombers and a Zero.

Aidromes Strafed

To add to the trouble of the Japanese, the air fight barely had ended when nine Havocs came over at a low altitude, strafing and bombing and setting fires on the Lae and Malahang airdromes. The Salamaua airdrome also was strafed from an altitude of fifty feet.

The Japanese, on their side, hit at both Morobe, where the Americans have troops, and at the Mubo area, but damage was reported slight.

The ground clashes, which took place within a few hundred yards of Mubo, were confined to patrol scale.

Jap Solomon Bases Blasted.

An Advanced South Pacific Base, June 21 (A. P.).—Liberator bombers blasted the Japanese air base of Kahili, on Bougainville Island for the second consecutive night on Saturday, and dive bombers followed this up early yesterday with a thorough pasting of Vila, an enemy airfield on Kolombangara Island, also in the Solomons.

Air Force Headquarters reported today that about twenty-five tons of bombs were unloaded on Vila, starting large fires in storage dumps and pock-marking the landing strip. Fires were also started at Kahili and returning pilots reported resultant explosions. Anti-aircraft fire was light over both targets and not an American plane was lost, headquarters said.

Wins DFC For Landing Fort With Pilot Slain

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 15 (Delayed, A. P.)—In the battle of the Bismarck Sea last March, a Flying Fortress was attacked by several Zeros, and one of them got in extremely close and killed the pilot and wounded four members of the crew.

The copilot, Second Lieutenant Russell S. Emerick, of Rochester, N. Y., who never had landed a Fortress, took over, continued the bombing run and landed the ship safely with one tire shot away.

He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross by Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, for his "flying skill, coolness and courage in the face of great difficulties."

Nine Japs Downed Over Darwin.

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 21 (A. P.).—Forty-eight Jap planes stabbed at Darwin, Australia, yesterday, but at least nine of them were cut down in a furious ten-minute battle with Spitfires. Two of the Allied planes, flown by British and Australian pilots, were missing but ground damage and casualties were minor.

Six enemy bombers and three fighters were listed as definitely shot down. Thirteen others were so badly damaged they possibly never got home. Of these, two bombers and one fighter were in flames and falling when last seen. Eight other bombers and two fighters were observed trailing smoke and losing altitude as they fled.

On the offense, American-flown Liberators dropped thirty-one tons of explosives and incendiaries on three airdromes in the Rabaul, New Britain, area. Many fires, indicating heavy destruction of parked aircraft, were started on each field.

SOLDIER SEEKS KISS AS PROOF

Wants To Take Back To Front Assurance He Had Seen White Woman

JUN 22 1943

Frederick Red Cross Worker In New Guinea Obliges With Lipstick

[By the Associated Press]

Somewhere in New Guinea, June 21—Thirty tanned, dust-streaked doughboys leaned from their truck, their eyes wide, as their driver slammed on the brakes and slid from under the wheel.

He walked toward Ralph Long, Red Cross club supervisor from Southwest Harbor, Maine, and pointed to a car near by.

"Sir," he said, "that's a woman in that car, an American woman."

Long nodded. The soldier continued hurriedly:

"We're from Oro Bay. We haven't seen a white woman in six months. Do you suppose it would be okay if we talked to her just a minute?"

Handshake For Each

The white woman, Leota Kelly, of Austin, Minn., did better than that. She shook hands with each one.

The rapidly spreading report that "there are white women on the island" has been the signal for considerable brushing up among enlisted men.

One hardened soldier, sent out to pick up a passenger at an outlying camp, blushed when Laura M. Thibodeau, of Superior, Wis., appeared. He made a lame excuse, disappeared long enough to borrow a shirt before continuing his journey.

Others Had Commissions

There have been other white women on the island, but they were nurses with commissions and their rank prevented association with enlisted men. Not so with the women of the Red Cross.

They go on picnics with the men, listen to their problems, eat with them, rejoice with them over their new clubhouse.

"They look on us as though we were their mothers, aunts, sisters or grandmothers," said Miss Kelly, who once was State supervisor of recreation in Minnesota and Iowa. "All we have to be are good listeners."

Former Hostess At Meade

Blonde Margaret Dean, of Frederick, Md., former hostess at Fort George G. Meade, agreed that "you get more proposals of marriage at an army camp in the States than you do here."

One of the enlisted men asked Miss Eleanor Gentry, of Richmond, Va., to take out all of the hundred or so articles in her purse just so he could be reminded of a girl friend at home.

Another asked Miss Dean for proof, to carry back to Oro Bay, that he actually had talked with a white woman. He asked for a kiss. So Miss Dean kissed him on the cheek. He wiped the lipstick on his handkerchief and went back over the mountains happy.

Have Been Through Bombings

Virtually all of the women have been through bombings. Miss Gentry was caught on an air strip during one attack—and there is no worse place. She scrambled to the top of a revertment, but only flares dropped near her. All have volunteered to go on the other side of the Owen Stanley range but the army isn't sending women that far forward.

Even pleasant things aren't all easy for the Red Cross women. Take, for example, Miss Thibodeau, who in addition to Superior, Wis., gives Hibbing, Minn., as her home town.

"My worst moment was when I arrived here and was invited to eat with 200 men." (Her appearance was unexpected and the men sat down with only a perfunctory cleanup—but next day their faces were shining).

Pretended Calm

"I tried to pretend I was calm but if I could have run away I probably would have. But the boys were swell.

"One other time, our car had a flat tire and we left it. Some of the boys recognized it when they passed, and fixed the tire while we were gone.

"There has been a transplantation of the old West to this place, in so far as men's treatm -t of women is concerned."

"The growing might of the combined forces of all the United Nations which is being brought increasingly to bear upon our common enemy testifies to the spirit of unity and sacrifice necessary for our ultimate victory," he said. "The same spirit will, I am sure, animate us in approaching the challenging tasks of peace."

The message to Chiang Kai-shek responded to the Generalissimo's message of greeting to the United States on United Nations Day, June 14.

"The long-standing admiration of the people of the United States for the heroic resistance of the Chinese people against the brutal aggressor has been increased by the recent brilliant victories of the Chinese armies under your inspiring leadership," Mr. Roosevelt said.

JAP GILBERT BASE RAIDED

Liberators Attack Big South Pacific Bastion—Nauru Is Also Bombed

Details Of Damage Are Not Announced—Opposition Called Light

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 21—American flyers apparently are launching a large-scale aerial offensive against Japanese air bases in the South Pacific.

This was indicated in a navy communique today which told of heavy bombers hitting at Tarawa in the Gilbert Islands, considered one of the enemy's larger air bases in the South Pacific.

The raid, in which a number of hits were scored on enemy positions, was carried out at the same time others bombers attacked the Japanese base on Nauru Island, 420 miles northwest of the Gilberts.

Kahili Bombed

Added indications of heavy aerial offensives came with the announcement of new bombing attacks upon Kahill on Bougainville Island and Villa on Kolombangara Island, both of which have been hit with regularity by bombers operating out of Henderson Field on Guadalcanal.

It was assumed that the army Liberators which bombed Tarawa—the first attack on that base reported since April 23—could have flown out from Funafuti Island in the Ellice group, only 790 statute miles southeast of Tarawa.

In the earlier raid on Tarawa extensive damage was done to enemy positions despite strong Japanese fighter and anti-aircraft opposition.

Opposition Lacking

That opposition, however, was lacking in the newest raid. The navy reported that in the assault last Friday, no strong resistance was made. The communique told of seven Zero fighters taking the air but added "they did not press a determined attack against the United States bombers."

A "number of hits" were scored by American airmen, but no details of the damage were given in the navy's communique.

In the attack on Nauru Island carried out on the same dates as the latest Tarawa raid, army Liberator bombers and navy Catalina patrol bombers started large oil fires and caused "a considerable amount of damage" in the airfield dispersal area—where planes are parked—and in the living quarters of the Japanese garrison.

Fires Started

Damage at Nauru and Tarawa sufficiently severe to halt use of those airfields even temporarily would be a large step toward cleaning out what has been described as a hornet's nest of opposition in the area.

At much-bombed Kahili in the Buin area of the Solomons a number of fires were started by army Liberators attacking the air base there last Saturday. Vila, on frequently bombed Kolombangara, was hit by navy Dauntless dive bombers and Avenger torpedo planes escorted by army Warhawk and navy Wildcat fighters. Bomb hits were made on a supply dump, starting a large fire, and other bombs struck

JUN 22 1943

F. D. R. Congratulates Stalin And Chiang

JUN 22 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 21—President Roosevelt sent congratulatory messages tonight to Premier Stalin and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on the feats of their armies.

Addressing Stalin on the second anniversary of Germany's invasion of the Soviets, the President said "freedom-loving peoples of the world have watched with increased admiration" the Russian stand against Nagi aggression.

on the airfield runway.

In the North Pacific battering of the Japanese base at Kiska continued, with the navy's new Ventura bombers staging the latest attack. Results, however, could not be observed through low-hanging clouds and fog.

HOUSE VOTES ARMY FUNDS

71 Billions Total, Daily Rate Of $195,000,000 Approved, 345 To 0

Bill Expected To Provide For 7,500,000 Men, 100,000 Warplanes

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 21—A War Department spending rate of $195,000,000 daily for the next twelve months was approved by the House today as it passed, 345 to 0, a bill carrying $71,510,438,000 for the army.

All the money, department officials told the House Appropriations Committee, would be spent or obligated during the fiscal year starting July 1 to carry the war to Germany, Italy and Japan.

Specifically, they said, it would finance and completely equip an army of 7,500,000 enlisted men, including some 3,000,000 in the air force, and provide approximately 100,000 warplanes.

Combined Army-Navy Outlay

Together with a $27,000,000,000 fund previously approved for the navy, today's bill increased to approximately $270,000,000 daily the army and navy war outlay for the next year.

Hearings on the army bill have been scheduled for tomorrow by the Senate Appropriations Committee, with quick approval expected.

Since July 1, 1940, Congress has made available for national defense and war purposes an estimated $350,000,000,000, and since January of this year has appropriated approximately $122,000,000,000 for all purposes, including the amount in today's bill.

"Decisive Dollars"

"The decisive dollars" made available in the War Department measure, Lieut. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, told the Appropriations Committee, "will be translated into decisive strategic and tactical plans" and will furnish "essential items of equipment necessary to enable us to come to grips with and destroy the enemy.

"Having driven the Axis from Africa, we intend to deliver the knockout blow on the enemy's home grounds," McNarney said. "We have stemmed the forward movement of the Japs and are now in the process of evicting them from their conquests.

"Aerial warfare is being intensified to the full extent of our capabilities. This will be followed at the propitious time by an all-out blow by both land and air. We will bring the war home to Japan, Germany and Italy."

Representatives' Poll Indicates War End In '45

Washington, June 21 (AP)—If members of the House are good judges, the war won't be over until October, 1945.

Representative Wilson (R., Ind.) recently mailed ballots to all members asking their views on the length of the war.

Compiling results today, he said October, 1944, was the average date selected by the 140 who answered as the time the European part of the war will end. An additional year will be required to finish off Japan in the Pacific, according to the consensus.

Here are the results of the poll as disclosed by Wilson:

Twenty believe the war in Europe will end this fall; one believes the Pacific war will end this year; nine believe the job of beating Hitler will extend beyond June, 1945, but seventy-nine believe it can be finished next year and twenty-one expect it to take until the early part of 1945; five members think 1946 will find us still fighting Germany.

Restrictions Relaxed By Aeronautics Board

Washington, June 21 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board relaxed a wartime regulation today to permit consideration of applications for authority to establish new domestic air-line services after the war.

Since December 12, 1941, such applications have been held in abeyance. The board changed the procedure with a view to expediting post-war expansion.

The change, the board said, will enable the air lines to speed conversion of their equipment and personnel from war to peacetime operations when the time comes.

Applications for foreign routes, however, will not be considered.

SAGGING ON HOME FRONT DANGEROUS

JUN 22 1943

Urge "High Command" to Stop Loose Methods

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Declaring that the home front is sagging "dangerously," the Senate war mobilization committee called today for a domestic "high command" to make sure that the nation's energies shall "no longer be dissipated by loose management."

"HIGH COMMAND" URGED

Citing what it called a "lack of centralized direction of the war effort" and "failure to mobilize fully the will and energies of all groups," the committee said:

"Establishing a high command on the home front becomes even more timely as our troops gird for great offensive actions."

The report, signed by Chairman Kilgore of West Virginia, and Senators Thomas of Utah, Johnson of Colorado, Wallgren of Washington and Murray of Montana, recommended:

1—Across-the-board price control "at all levels of production and distribution."

2—Clear-cut direction of the distribution and allocation of basic food and clothing supplies to support rationing.

3—The formation and execution of a single policy on subsidies.

4—Establishment of a requirements committee to inquire into military, lend-lease and civilian needs.

5—Participation by management, labor and agriculture in a war mobilization board working under direction of the Office of War Mobilization (OWM).

6—Incentive wage plans to spur war production.

Navy Gun Crew Shoots Down 4 Planes Repelling 5 Attacks

Bomb Penetrates Highly Inflammable Cargo During Action But Fails To Explode

[By the Associated Press]

JUN 22 1943

Washington, June 21—The account of how an American merchant vessel withstood five enemy air attacks in the eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean last January, during which her navy gun crew shot down four enemy planes and two more "probables," was related by the navy today.

Despite damage by near-misses and by a bomb which penetrated its highly inflammable cargo but failed to explode, the ship was able to keep her position in the convoy and discharge cargo on schedule.

Three-Way Attack

One afternoon, without warning, waves of torpedo planes roared in from three directions, followed by dive bombers.

The vessel whose gun crews was commanded by Lieut. (j. g.) Robert H. McIlwaine, New York, was the first to open fire and a torpedo plane was almost immediately a victim. These gunners bagged their second plane by waiting until it was almost on them. A Heinkel dive bomber came in on the port beam and was allowed within 350 feet before Lieutenant McIlwaine gave the order to fire.

In the ensuing few minutes McIlwaine's ship accounted for two more planes.

Last Two Attacks

A second attack came several days later and a third the following morning. One plane in this group singled Lieutenant McIlwaine's ship and came in low. The gunners scored a hit on one motor, which burst into flames, and the plane last was seen smoking and losing altitude.

A final attack began with high-level bombers dropping their loads on the convoy. One plane came in a low altitude and was shot down, probably by McIlwaine's crew, the navy said.

Lieutenant McIlwaine was awarded the Silver Star medal and the twenty members of his crew received commendations.

Navy Reports Program Of Air Bases Advanced

Washington, June 19 (AP)—The navy reported that construction of its currently authorized shore-based air-facilities program amounting to more than $1,300,000,000 would be ninety per cent. completed by July 1.

Most of the work has been accomplished within twelve months. It provided air facilities for the navy in more than 200 localities, most of which were within the Continental United States but which also included bases in Cuba, Newfoundland and Alaska.

300 U. S. Troops Die Of Disease In Japanese Camps

Washington, June 21 (AP)—More than 300 American soldiers have died from disease while confined in Japanese prison camps since the fall of Bataan and Corregidor, the War Department reported today.

Information received by the Red Cross from Japan, the department said, showed that malaria, diphtheria, dysentery and pneumonia were the principal causes of death, with a few additional deaths attributed to beri-beri.

The department previously had announced the death of more than 300 other prisoners from battle wounds.

House Gets Japanese Deportation Proposal

Washington, June 21 (AP)—Representative J. Leroy Johnson (R., Cal.) introduced a resolution proposing that all Japanese nationals in this country be deported after the war if they are found to have given aid or comfort to the enemy during the war.

Also subject to deportation would be persons of Japanese descent who advocated the overthrow by force of the United States Government or persons owing allegiance to this country but who expressed loyalty to a foreign state.

115 U. S. SOLDIERS KILLED IN ACTION

Washington, June 21.—The War Department made public today an additional list of United States Army personnel killed in action, including the names of 115 United States soldiers reported casualties. The announcement included casualties in the European, Middle East, North African, Pacific and Southwest Pacific areas. The list is based upon prior notifications sent to the next of kin in New York and New Jersey.

NEW YORK.

McKEON, EDWARD J, sergeant; Joseph F. McKeon, father, 109-03 221st street, Queens Village.

MILLER, JOHN H., private; Henry Miller, father, 518 Bainbridge street, Brooklyn.

ARCHER, WALLACE S., private first class; Mrs. Mable Archer, mother, 167 East 77th street, New York.

DE ROSA, SALVATORE J., private; Mrs. Mary De Rosa, mother, 2936 Colden avenue, Bronx.

DESPLAAS, ALBERT J., private first class; Mrs. J. Desplaas, mother, 5914 39th avenue, Woodside.

GELLER, LARRY, private first class; Nathan Geller, father, 1733 Fulton avenue, Bronx.

KILLIAN, FRANCIS M., captain; Mrs. Francis M. Killian, wife, care Mrs. James Ferris, 1000 Park avenue, New York.

McTIERNAN, DOUGLAS W., private; Mrs. W. McTiernan, mother, 6 Catherine Slip, New York.

PIORUM, STANLEY Jr., private; Mrs. Eva Michaels, aunt, 751 Tilden street, Bronx.

NEW JERSEY.

CUPANO, DOMINIC S., private; Mrs. Nancy Cupano, mother, 198 Sanford street, New Brunswick.

156 Reported Missing.

Washington, June 21.—The War Department made public today an additional list of United States Army personnel missing in action, including the names of 156 United States soldiers reported missing. The announcement includes casualties in the European, North African, North American, Pacific and Southwest Pacific areas. The following list is based upon prior notifications sent to next of kin in New York and New Jersey.

NEW YORK.

DONOVAN, JAMES J., private first class; Thomas Donovan, brother, 31 Bowles avenue, Port Richmond.

HANCOCK, THOMAS A., private; Mrs. Sally Column, mother, 1030 East 84th street, New York.

KLIMA, STEPHEN M., private first class; Mrs. Mary V. Klima, wife, 38 West 95th street, New York.

NORTON, JAMES J., sergeant; Miss Catherine Norton, sister, 222-07 Edmore avenue, Queens Village.

OPPENHEIM, IRVING, private first class; Mrs. Mabel Oppenheim, mother, 306 West 93d street, New York.

ROCHE, BERNARD J., second lieutenant; John Roche, father, 60-67 60th avenue, Maspeth, L. I.

WELISVITCH, ALEXANDER, staff sergeant; Charles Welisvitch, father 172 Forsyth street, New York.

WOODS, WILLIAM W. Jr., private; William W. Woods, father 222 Park avenue, Lockport.

NEW JERSEY.

ANJULIS, VINCENT, private; Mrs. Victoria F. Sayles, sister, 118 Monticello avenue, Jersey City.

BREZINA, FRED, private; Mrs. Anna Brezina, mother, 32 Union avenue, Paterson.

MAJEWSKI, JOHN, private first class; Miss Veronica Majewski, sister, 89 Lincoln Park, Newark.

DEMAND VOICED FOR SIGNING OF CONNALLY BILL

Mine Leader Declares His Men Will Stand Back of War Effort.

TEST WITH ROOSEVELT SEEN

Reports From Fields Indicate Walkout Is Virtually 100 P. C. Effective.

Washington, June 21 (A. P.).—Secretary of the Interior Ickes disclosed this afternoon that he met today with John L. Lewis to discuss the ending of the third gen-

JUN 22 1943

1943

324-5245

30.24 -5245

eral coal strike.

Neither the nature of the conference nor any progress that might have been made was disclosed, but Mr. Ickes, who is Solid Fuels Administrator, revealed that they would meet again tomorrow.

The disclosure was made in the following statement from Mr. Ickes's office:

"Secretary Ickes and some of his staff today conferred with executive officers of the United Mine Workers, John L. Lewis, John O'Leary, John Owens and Percy Tetlow.

"The conference is to be resumed tomorrow. There will be no further comment today from the office of the Secretary of the Interior."

STEEL PLANTS CUT OUTPUT

Industry Plagued By Coke Shortage From Three Coal Strikes In Seven Weeks

Alabama Blast Furnaces Hit First With Production Down 50 Per Cent.

[By the Associated Press]

Pittsburgh, June 21—The steel industry, plagued by a coke shortage from the cumulative effect of three major wartime coal strikes in seven weeks, began curtailment of operations today simultaneously with the new work stoppage of the nation's 500,000 UMW coal miners.

First hit by the coal shutdown as miners again stood by their edict—"No contract, no work"—was the Republic Steel Corporation, which announced at Birmingham that lack of coal from which coke is made forced a fifty per cent. reduction in its Alabama coke production.

Republic also disclosed that four of its blast furnaces, dependent on coke and other ingredients for the making of pig iron, were cut to eighty per cent. of capacity.

Pittsburgh Reductions

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation reported at Pittsburgh it was immediately preparing to cut steel output and a spokesman said some of its blast furnaces "definitely would be down" in the world's leading steel center tomorrow. The United States Steel subsidiary expected its coke production would be down to twenty-five per cent. in a few days.

Commenting that "this is a lot more serious and is taking effect quicker than the second walkout early in June," a Carnegie-Illinois spokesman explained that the company's coal stockpile was "still materially reduced" because of the previous mine shutdowns.

The second walkout forced closing of eleven of its twenty-three blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh area, the first shutting down four days after the mines closed. On that occasion the industry-wide loss of steel was estimated at 50,000 tons. The five-day idleness of miners cost about 10,000,000 tons of coal.

"Can't Be Made Up"

"All this coal cannot be made up for the duration of the war," said a spokesman for another large steel company. "We are using coal as fast as it is produced. Every time a strike occurs we are nearer the danger line on continuing production.

"If this keeps up, one step that might have to be taken would be to reduce the coal supply of non-essential industries, as coal needed for war machines has to come first."

The spokesman pointed out that the steel curtailments come at a time when James F. Byrnes, War Mobilization Director, seeks 2,000,000 additional tons of steel in the last two quarters of the year.

As in the previous stoppages, all was quiet in Pennsylvania and West Virginia mining towns today. John Komolo, a United Mine Workers' organizer, said at Fredericktown, Pa., that the miners don't like the idea of work stoppage "at a time like this, but it isn't our fault."

"We are going to stick to our guns and see it through—no contract, no work," he declared.

Not so for Charles Hartman, a veteran UMW member who conducted a "one-man rebellion" by working at the H. C. Frick Coke Company's Palmer mine throughout the last walkout. Hartman, 51, announced he has quit to take a new job at a powder plant.

"I got tired of fooling around with so much striking going on," he said.

Chicago Situation

In Chicago, a spokesman for the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation who would not permit his name to be used, said that the coal upset "hasn't affected the company in the Chicago area yet, but it will within a few days."

Blast furnace and open hearth operations in South Chicago and Gary, Ind., will have to be curtailed soon, he added, "because our stock supplies of coal are less this time than they were during the other two incidents, principally because of the other two incidents."

The Republic Steel Corporation's operation in the Chicago area has not been affected, since it has no blast furnaces, although one is to be installed within sixty days, a spokesman said.

Officials of Inland Steel Company made no statement concerning the coal situation.

Strike Statistics

Washington, June 21 (AP)—Reports from mine fields show the following numbers idle: Pennsylvania, 200,000; West Virginia, 130,000; Illinois, 32,000, about 7,500 of them members of the AFL Progressive Mine Workers; Kentucky, 47,000; Alabama, 22,000; Virginia, 23,500; Ohio, 21,000; Tennessee, 10,000; Indiana, 8,000; Arkansas-Oklahoma, 6,000; Colorado, 6,680; Wyoming, 4,100; Utah, 3,300; Iowa, 2,000; New Mexico, 1,800; Montana, 1,300.

JUN 22 1943

Ickes Restricts Distribution of Anthracite Coal

Shipments Held to Volume of Last Year; Bituminous in Transit Is 'Frozen'

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 21.—A temporary order to distribute anthracite coal proportionate to the amount ordered through the summer months last year was announced today by Harold L. Ickes, Solid Fuels Administrator.

Bituminous coal is not affected by the measure, he said, which was taken to insure every community its fair share of anthracite.

A permanent anthracite program is now being worked out, he added.

Under the temporary program, each community will be limited to the amount of hard coal, in four sizes, as was delivered during the base period April-August, 1942, or five-twelfths of the coal shipped from April, 1942, to March, 1943, whichever amount is the larger.

The temporary program, effective tomorrow, includes the setting up of a national and six regional anthracite distribution committees, which have not yet been named.

The anthracite sizes affected by the regulation are egg, stove, chestnut and pea.

The regions include No. 1, New York City (excluding Richmond County) and Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk Counties; No. 2, the rest of the State of New York, excluding Richmond; No. 3, New Jersey and Richmond County, N. Y.; No. 4, Pennsylvania; No. 5, Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont.

At the same time, the estimated 3,000,000 tons of railroad-borne bituminous coal in transit were "frozen" by Secretary Ickes as a means of making fuel available to war industries and other essential users.

The order restored to full effect the directive issued by the War Production Board April 30, which prohibited deliveries of certain rail-borne bituminous coal to consumers having more than ten days' supply.

Users having less than ten days' supply of bituminous coal may apply to their railroad freight agent for aid in obtaining emergency fuel.

Mr. Ickes exempted from the "freeze" coal produced and loaded today and hereafter from mines which have not suspended production or which resume tomorrow.

Exempt from the "freeze" is coal for export for water shipment, for use on board a vessel, or for delivery to a connecting carrier.

Ford Foremen Call Off Strike, Resume Work

W.L.B. to Study Grievances; Company Reports Rise in Production in Walkout

DETROIT, June 21 (AP).—Striking members of the Independent Foreman's Association of America headed back to their jobs in plants of the Ford Motor Company here today after two of those plants had pushed on with their war production nearly two days without shop supervisory personnel.

W. Allen Nelson, acting president of the Ford chapter of the F. A. A., announced early today that the strikers were returning "as soon as possible, with the understanding that their case will be given prompt consideration by the National War Labor Board." He added they were returning "in anticipation" of a W. L. B. back-to-work order.

The plants chiefly hit by the foremen's walkout which started Saturday afternoon were the Ford-operated Willow Run bomber factory and Ford Rouge plant. Production has gone ahead and a company spokesman said this morning that the overall production picture actually has improved during the foremen's strike.

"So far as the actual turning out of war materials is concerned there has been an improvement over the week end," a company executive said.

Production workers — members of the United Automobile Worker (C. I. O.), with which Ford has a closed-shop contract — passed through the picket lines of the foreman's union. However, the U. A. W. gave qualified support to the foremen's walkout, announcing they would refuse to take over the jobs of any striking foremen.

The foremen, whose union has been denied approval of the National Labor Relations Board as a bargaining agency, struck in protest of company interpretation of wage schedules and disciplining of certain members.

RED REGAINS U.S. CITIZENSHIP

Supreme Court Rules Naturalization Of Communist Cannot Be Canceled

Tribunal Also Upholds West Coast Curfew On Japs As Term Ends

JUN 22 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 21 — A naturalized alien's citizenship cannot be canceled simply because he belonged to the Communist party and supported in theory the use of force—at some indefinite time—to overthrow the Government, the Supreme Court ruled today.

Specifically, the 5-3 decision revoked cancellation of the citizenship of William Schneiderman, Russian-born State secretary of the Communist party for California who became an American citizen in 1927. The ruling was a victory for Wendell Willkie, Republican Presidential candidate in 1940, who represented Schneiderman before the high court.

Canceled In 1940

Schneiderman's citizenship was ordered canceled in 1940 by the Federal District Court at San Francisco on the grounds that he concealed his affiliation with the Communist party, which the Justice Department contended advocated at that time the overthrow of the Government by force and violence.

The majority opinion by Justice Murphy, which did not take up the merits of Communism or relation with Russia, declared it was a "tenable conclusion that the party in 1927 desired to achieve its purpose by peaceful and democratic means and justified the use of force and violence merely as a theoretical matter.

Difference Cited

"There is a material difference," Justice Murphy said, "between agitation and exhortation calling for present violent action which creates a clear and present danger of public disorder or other substantive evil and mere doctrinal justification or prediction of the use of force under hypothetical corditions at some indefinite future time—prediction that is not calculated or tended to be presently acted upon, thus leaving opportunity for general discussion and the calm processes of thought and reason.

"Because of this difference we may assume that Congress intended by the general test of 'attachment' (to the Constitution) in the 1906 (Naturalization) Act to deny naturalizaton to persons falling into the first category, but not into the second."

Case Not Proven

The court concluded, the opinion said, that the Government had not proven by "clear, unequivocal and convincing evidence" that Schneiderman obtained his citizenship illegally.

"In so holding we do not decide what interpretation of the party's attitude toward force and violence is the most probable on the basis of the present record . . .," the opinion said. "We hold only that where two interpretations of an organization's program are possible, the one reprehensible and a bar to naturalization and the other permissible, a court in a denaturalization proceeding . . . is not justified in canceling a certificate of citizenship by imputing the reprehensible interpretation to a member of the organization in the absence of overt acts indicating that such was his interpretation."

Stone Dissents

Chief Justice Stone, in a sharply worded dissent, declared the record "abundantly supported" the lower court's finding that the party and Schneiderman believed in the overthrow of the Government by violence.

"A man can be known by the ideas he spreads as well as by the company he keeps," the Chief Justice said, "and when one does not challenge the proof that he has given his life to spreading a particular class of well-defined ideas, it is convincing evidence that his attachment is to them rather than their opposite. In this case it is convincing evidence that petitioner, at the time of his naturalization, was not entitled to the citizenship he procured because he was not attached to the principles of the Constitution and because he was not well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same."

JUN 22 1943

OKAYS CURFEW ON COAST JAPS

Supreme Court Rules De Witt's Order Was Justified By Invasion Threat

Decision Unanimous, But Murphy Says Move Was On Brink Of Power

JUN 22 1943

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, June 21 — A military commander, confronted with the threat of a possible invasion, has the right to order a curfew for persons in menaced areas regardless of their citizenship, the Supreme Court ruled today.

The decision upheld as a valid exercise of war powers the curfew imposed by Lieut. Gen. John L. Dewitt, western defense commander, on persons of Japanese ancestry on the West Coast in March, 1942. Among the 110,000 persons affected were 70,000 American citizens of Japanese extraction.

Opinion Unanimous

While the court's opinion was unanimous in ruling that a military commander may adopt such a measure to guard against sabotage in endangered sections, Justice Murphy cautioned that it went "to the brink of constitutional power" and Justice Douglas asserted the decision, as far as he was concerned, was on "narrow grounds."

The curfew order was challenged by Gordon Kiyoski Hirabayashi, of Seattle, and Minoru Yasui, of Portland, Ore., both American citizens who contended that as citizens they were not subject to the restriction.

Executive Order Cited

Observing that Congress and the President, by executive order, had vested in military commanders the authority to take appropriate action when deemed necessary, the court's opinion by Chief Justice Stone spoke of the "critical days" of March, 1942, and added:

"The military commander's appraisal of facts in the light of the authorized standard, and the inferences which he drew from those facts, involved the exercise of his informed judgment. But as we have seen, those facts, and the inferences which could be rationally drawn from them support the judgment of the military commander that the danger of espionage and sabotage to our military resources was imminent, and that the curfew order was an appropriate measure to meet it."

Hull Praises Red Army

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP).—Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, warmly praised the Red Army's stand against Germany's armed might in a statement today commenting on the second anniversary of Hitler's invasion of the Soviet Union. The statement follows:

"Tomorrow, June 22, marks the second anniversary of the Nazi attack upon the Soviet Union. For a period of two years the armed forces of the Soviet Union have been gallantly and successfully defending their country against the aggressor. In two great summer offensives the Nazis have failed to attain their avowed aim of annhilating the Red Army. As the third summer opens, the Nazi legions in eastern Europe find confronting them millions of Russian soldiers, well equipped and of high morale, prepared not only to meet any onslaught but also to hurl back the invader.

"It is appropriate that we again today give expression to our admiration of the courage and spirit of self sacrifice displayed by the whole people of the Soviet Union in successfully defending themselves and their country and in making such signal contributions to the eventual complete defeat of the powers of aggression."

Du Pont Gets 'E' Award For Black Powder Output

Oldest of Major Explosives Still Vital in War

MOOSIC, Pa., June 21 (AP).—Black powder, oldest of the major explosives, is performing many "vital functions" in the war, the explosives department of the E. I. duPont de Nemours Company announced today as the Army-Navy "E" was awarded to the company's Belin works, where black powder is made.

The department said the explosive, although largely replaced since the Civil War by gunpowder and TNT, is used to start torpedoes and depth charges ("ash cans"), to ignite the propellant charges in all kinds of shells and for a number of other purposes, including signal flares, primers and bursting charges.

Major Howard P. Klair, chief of the Berwick sub-office of the Philadelphia ordnance district, declared in presenting the "E" pennant that Axis production, "even though enforced at the point of a saber, is high. It is this high production that we must match and outmatch—not as slaves, not as tools, but as free men and women."

Bright Rubber Outlook Pictured by Firestone

He Sees '44 Supply Double That of Peace-Time Year

AKRON, Ohio, June 21 (AP).—A 1944 rubber supply twice as large as that consumed in this country in a normal peace-time year was foreseen tonight by Harvey S. Firestone jr.

Basing his estimate on expected production of 850,000 tons of synthetic and anticipated natural rubber imports, the president of Firestone Tire and Rubber Company said in an address prepared for radio broadcast:

"I believe I am not unduly optimistic when I say that the rubber situation presents a much brighter picture today than it did even at the beginning of this year.

"Under the forceful and intelligent leadership of Rubber Director William M. Jeffers, the synthetic rubber program has made exceptionally good progress and by the end of this year there will be in operation synthetic rubber plants with an annual capacity of 850,000 tons. This production, plus the importations of natural rubber that we may expect next year, will give us in 1944 nearly twice as much rubber as this country consumed in a normal peace-time year."

Of 12,000,000 passenger-car tires to be released for civilian use this year, 7,000,000 are on hand and the remaining 5,000,000 will be made from synthetic rubber, the manufacturer reported, adding:

"Next year, it is expected that 30,000,000 synthetic rubber passenger-car tires will be available for civilian use."

Will Boost Manpower Of Merchant Marine

Washington, June 21 (AP)—To provide skilled manpower for the merchant marine, the War Shipping Administration announced today that it will establish "upgrading" schools in the ports of New York, New Orleans and San Francisco.

Third mates and third assistant engineers may take a course of about thirty days and come out second mates and second assistant engineers, and ordinary seamen may become able-bodied seamen in less than fifteen days.

WSA estimated that more than 13,000 experienced seamen must be upgraded to man the fast-growing merchant marine, and that many hundreds now ashore must return to the sea.

Halifax Declares Allies Must Remain Undivided

Tells Purdue Audience World Looks to 4 Powers

LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 21 (AP).—Reminding a Purdue University audience of 5,000 persons that "you are citizens of the world," Viscount Halifax, British Ambassador, said today he held "no great hope in the future unless the so-called four great powers, the United States, England, Russia and China, act together during and after the war."

Of England and the United States, Lord Halifax said any differences of opinion were "only dust in the balance as compared with the many great issues on which both of us are generally agreed."

"Our faith in things democratic must burn as white-hot as that of our enemies in their philosophies," he said, and added that "one of Hitler's greatest crimes was the debasing of the German youth and the distortion of its ideals."

En route here from Indianapolis, the Ambassador and his party stopped in Lebanon to visit the main plant of the United States Machine Corporation, where Lord Halifax expressed amazement over the way hundreds of new workers quickly acquired the skill needed to produce complicated and accurate weapons.

SAYS VICTORY PATTERN CLEAR

General Marshall Claims Nazis Had Their Day

COLUMBUS, O., June 21 (AP)—General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff who recently visited the African theatre of war, declared tonight the United Nations' "pattern for victory is clear."

General Marshall, talking to the 35th governor's conference, asserted "there is no victory in prospect for Germany," then added:

"The superman has had his day. The democracies have called his bluff."

The general warned, however, that "this is a most critical summer both for us and in the history of the world."

JAP GIVES VIEWS

(By the Associated Press)

Germans and Italians received pep talks today from Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura of Japan, based upon the premise that "the tripartite pact powers do not have to attack any more to win; they need only to hold out in conquered positions."

Nomura was Japanese ambassador to Washington at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Two Japanese Generals And Admiral Promoted

New York, June 21 (AP)—The Tokyo radio broadcast today an announcement that Generals Gen Sugiyama and Count Juichi Terauchi had been raised to the rank of field marshal and Admiral Osami Nagano had been given the corresponding naval rank, admiral of the fleet.

Sugiyama and Nagano are the chiefs of staff of the army and navy, respectively, and Terauchi is commander in chief of all Japanese forces in Southeastern Asia and the near by islands.

JUN 22 1943

UNDATED JAPANESE OFFICERS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE TOKYO RADIO BROADCAST TODAY AN ANNOUNCEMENT THAT GERNALS GEN.

(CORRECT) SUGIYAMA AND COUNT JUICHI TERAUCHI HAD BEEN RAISED TO THE RANK OF FIELD MARSHAL AND ADMIRAL OSAMI NAGANO HAD BEEN GIVEN THE CORRESPONDING NAVAL RANK, ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET.

SUGIYAMA AND NAGANO ARE THE CHIEFS OF STAFF OF THE ARMY AND NAVY,

RESPECTIVELY, AND TERAUCHI IS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF ALL JAPANESE FORCES

IN SOUTHEASTERN ASIA AND THE NEARBY ISLANDS.

THE THREE TAKE THEIR PLACES ON THE BOARD OF MARSHALS AND FLEET

ADMIRALS, THE ONLY MEMBERS OF WHICH HITHERTO HAVE BEEN THREE

IMPERIAL PRINCES, FIELD MARSHALS PRINCE KANIN AND PRINCE NASHIMOTO

JUN 22 1943

2024-5247

30.24 - 5247

AND ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET PRINCE FUSHIMI.

THIS BOARD WAS CREATED IN 1898, BUT IN RECENT YEARS HAS HAD LITTLE INFLUENCE. THE ADDITION OF THREE ACTIVE OFFICERS MAY MEAN THAT IT WILL BE GIVEN NEW FUNCTIONS. THE BROADCAST SAID ITS MEMBERS WOULD "SERVE AS SUPREME ADVISERS ON THE MILITARY AFFAIRS OF THE NATION."

UNDATED NOMURA

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

GERMANS AND ITALIANS RECEIVED PEP TALKS TODAY FROM ADMIRAL KICHISABURO NOMURA OF JAPAN BASED UPON THE PREMISE THAT "THE TRIPARTITE PACT POWERS DO NOT HAVE TO ATTACK ANY MORE TO WIN; THEY NEED ONLY TO HOLD OUT IN CONQUERED POSITIONS."

THE VIEWS OF NOMURA, WHO WAS JAPANESE AMBASSADOR TO WASHINGTON AT THE TIME OF THE PEARL HARBOR ATTACK, WERE DISTRIBUTED VIA TOKYO CORRESPONDENTS OF GERMAN AND ITALIAN NEWSPAPERS AND THE BERLIN RADIO. THE BERLIN BROADCASTS WERE RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

EXCERPTS: "ITALY CANNOT BE PAMPERED."---"THE ITALIANS COULD NOT BE BEATEN BUT WOULD SEE THE ENEMY COLLAPSE FROM EXHAUSTION SHOULD BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES NOW ATTACK ITALY."--"ATTEMPTS TO ESTABLISH A SECOND FRONT WOULD BE A REAL ACID TEST."--"JAPAN IS INVINCIBLE."--"BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES MAY YET EXPECT MANY SURPRISES FROM JAPAN."

JUN 22 1943

LONDON, TUESDAY, JUNE 22-(AP)-FOR THE SECOND NIGHT IN SUCCESSION THE RAF'S HEAVY BOMBERS BLASTED AT GERMANY LAST NIGHT WHILE NAZI RAIDERS SCATTERED BOMBS ALONG THE THAMES ESTUARY IN HIT-AND-RUN RAIDS THAT GAVE LONDON TWO ALERTS.

A PRELIMINARY ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE RAF WAS OUT AGAIN FAILED TO DISCLOSE THE TARGET OF THE BRITISH ATTACKS, WHICH FOLLOWED BY 24 HOURS A SMASHING ASSAULT ON THE SOUTH GERMAN INDUSTRIAL CITY OF FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, WHERE A CRIPPLING BLOW WAS REPORTED DEALT THE LARGEST RADIO-LOCATION FACTORY IN THE REICH.

BOTH LONDON ALERTS WERE COMPARATIVELY BRIEF AND THERE WERE NO IMMEDIATE REPORTS OF ANY BOMBINGS WITHIN THE CITY ITSELF, ALTHOUGH ONE ENEMY PLANE FLEW UP THE THAMES ESTUARY TOWARD THE CAPITAL CLOSELY PURSUED BY GUNFIRE. ONE GERMAN AIRCRAFT WAS REPORTED DESTROYED DURING THE NIGHT.

JUN 22 1943

THE FRIEDRICHSHAFEN RAID SUNDAY NIGHT WAS DESCRIBED OFFICIALLY AS A GREAT SUCCESS.

EARLIER SWISS DISPATCHES SAID THE EXPLOSIONS OF BOMBS DROPPED ON FRIEDRICHSHAFEN SHOOK HOUSES ON THE SWISS SIDE OF THE LAKE.

THE BERLIN RADIO TOLD OF ADDITIONAL ATTACKS LAST NIGHT ON NORTHERN GERMANY BUT THESE WERE UNCONFIRMED HERE. BROADCASTS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DESCRIBED THE RAIDS IN THE NORTH AS "DISTURBANCE ATTACKS."

THE SATURDAY NIGHT ATTACK ON LE CREUSOT WAS REPORTED BY THE NAZI-CONTROLLED PARIS RADIO TODAY TO HAVE LEFT THE SPRAWLING SCHNEIDER ARMAMENTS WORKS "NOTHING BUT A MOUNTAIN OF DEBRIS." THE BROADCAST SAID AT LEAST 250 PERSONS WERE KILLED AND HALF THE TOWN'S 15,000 INHABITANTS LEFT HOMELESS.

(IN A BROADCAST RECORDED IN NEW YORK BY BS LATE MONDAY, BBC QUOTED THE SWISS RADIO AS SAYING THE SCHNEIDER WORKS "ARE STILL BURNING.")

A SWISS TELEGRAPH AGENCY DISPATCH DECLARED THAT LE CREUSOT WAS ALMOST ENTIRELY DESTROYED BY THE 40-MINUTE ATTACK.

JUN 22 1943

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 21-(AP)-THE MOSCOW RADIO BROADCAST A MESSAGE TODAY FROM U.S. NAVY SECRETARY FRANK KNOX ON THE OCCASION OF TUESDAY'S SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF THE GERMAN INVASION OF RUSSIA.

COL. KNOX SAID IN THE MESSAGE, RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, THAT "THE FIGHTING TROOPS OF RUSSIA HAVE SHOWN A FLAMING COURAGE AND RESOLUTE DETERMINATION UNSURPASSED THROUGHOUT THE PAGES OF HISTORY."

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 22 1943

LONDON, TUESDAY, JUNE 22--SOVIET RUSSIA, COMMEMORATING THE SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF ITS SUCCESSFUL RESISTANCE AGAINST THE MOST POWERFUL INVASION EVER KNOWN, TRIUMPHANTLY PROCLAIMED TO THE WORLD TODAY:

"THE GERMANS HAVE STOPPED BELIEVING IN VICTORY.'"

IN A SPECIAL BROADCAST ON THIS, THE JUNE DAY WHICH HITLER USED TWO YEARS AGO TO FLING HIS VAST ARMIES AT THE SOVIET UNION, THE MOSCOW RADIO DECLARED THE INVADER'S DE[FEA]T BEFORE MOSCOW HAD BEEN "THE DECISIVE EVENT OF THE SECOND [WORLD] WAR" AND THAT THE NAZIS ENTERED THE THIRD YEAR OF THE RUSSIA[N WAR] BANKRUPT OF VICTORY AND SUFFERING A LEGACY OF PROGRESS [IN] RUSSIA AND NORTH AFRICA.

REVIEWING TWO YEARS OF THE BLOODIEST STRUGGLE IN HISTORY, THE RUSSIAN BROADCAST, RECORDED HERE BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, PUT GERMAN CASUALTIES AT 6,400,000 IN KILLED AND MISSING--THAT IS, INCLUDING THOSE IN RUSSIAN CAPTIVITY--AND RUSSIAN LOSSES AT 4,200,000 IN DEAD AND MISSING.

IN MATERIAL, IT WAS ADDED, THE NAZIS HAD LOST 42,400 TANKS AND 43,000 PLANES AGAINST RUSSIAN LOSSES OF 35,000 GUNS, 30,000 TANKS AND 23,000 PLANES.

THE SECOND WAR YEAR JUST NOW CLOSED, THE RUSSIANS DECLARED, WAS A YEAR DEVOID OF A SINGLE SIGNIFICANT GERMAN MILITARY VICTORY AND, HAVING LOST ALL HOPE OF A QUICK VICTORY, HITLER HAD ATTEMPTED TO SPLIT THE ALLIES BUT THIS SCHEME, TOO, HAD "BEEN SHATTERED IN THE FIRM ALLIANCE OF FREEDOM LOVING PEOPLE."

"THUS," THE BROADCAST WENT ON, "THE MILITARY AND POLITICAL SITUATIO OF HITLERITE GERMANY IS IN A STATE OF CRISIS."

"THIS," SAID THE RUSSIAN ANNOUNCEMENT, "IS PROVED BY THE STATE OF PANIC IN THE GERMAN REAR.

JUN 22 1943

"THE GERMANS HAVE STOPPED BELIEVING IN VICTORY."

LONDON, TUESDAY, JUNE 22-(AP)-THE MOSCOW RADIO IN A SPECIAL ANNIVERSARY ANNOUNCEMENT SAID TODAY THAT IN THE RUSSIAN-GERMAN WAR "EVERYTHING NOW DEPENDS ON HOW THE ALLIES WILL USE THE FAVORABLE SITUATION FOR A SECOND FRONT, WITHOUT WHICH VICTORY IS IMPOSSIBLE."

MARKING THE SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF THE GERMAN INVASION OF RUSSIA, THE SOVIET ANNOUNCEMENT, REVIEWING THE WAR TO DATE, SAID THAT THE BALANCE OF FORCES HAD IMPROVED RECENTLY TO THE BENEFIT OF "US AND OUR ALLIES."

"BUT THIS IS NOT ENOUGH FOR VICTORY," THE ANNOUNCEMENT CONTINUED.

LACK OF A SECOND FRONT "FOILED VICTORY IN 1942," THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID. "THEN HITLER UTILIZED THE ABSENCE OF A SECOND FRONT. TO BE LATE NOW MEANS THAT OUR COMMON CAUSE WILL SERIOUSLY SUFFER.

"ON THE OTHER HAND A SECOND FRONT THIS YEAR IN EUROPE WILL SPEED VICTORY AND SAVE MANY VICTIMS."

BULLETIN

LONDON, TUESDAY, JUNE 22-(AP)-THE MOSCOW RADIO SAID EARLY TODAY ON THE SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF THE RUSSIAN-GERMAN WAR THAT THE GERMAN DEFEAT AT MOSCOW WAS THE "DECISIVE EVENT OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR AND THE GERMANS' FIRST DECISIVE DEFEAT."

JUN 22 1943

3024-5249

3024 - 5249

THE ANNOUNCEMENT, RECORDED HERE BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, OPENED WITH A REVIEW OF THE WAR WHICH BEGAN WITH THE INVASION OF RUSSIA JUNE 22, 1941. THE DEFENSE OF MOSCOW WAS MADE IN THAT FIRST SUMMER.

IT SAID THAT IN THE SUMMER OF 1942 THE GERMANS WERE "UTILIZING THE ABSENCE OF A SECOND FRONT AND CONCENTRATED ALL THEIR FORCES AT THE SOVIET FRONT," BUT THAT "AT STALINGRAD, THE ENEMY WAS HALTED."

"EVENTS PROVED," IT ADDED, "THAT THE BALANCE OF POWER CHANGED."

HW655PEW

JUN 22 1943

THE BROADCAST SAID THAT GERMAN LOSSES DURING THE TWO YEARS OF WAR WERE 6,400,000 MEN, KILLED AND MISSING.

"OUR LOSSES," IT CONTINUED, "WERE 4,200,000 KILLED AND MISSING."

IT REPORTED THAT GUERRILLAS KILLED MORE THAN 300,000 GERMANS AND BLEW UP 3,000 TRAINS DURING THE PERIOD OF WAR.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THAT THE GERMANS LOST 42,400 TANKS AND 43,000 PLANES, WHILE THE RUSSIANS LOST 35,000 GUNS, 30,000 TANKS AND 23,000 PLANES.

ASSERTING THAT "DURING THE LAST YEAR THE GERMAN ARMY HAS HAD NO MILITARY SUCCESSES," THE BROADCAST SAID:

"ON THE CONTRARY, IT SUFFERED ONE DEFEAT AFTER ANOTHER ON THE SOVIE FRONT AND IN NORTH AFRICA.

"THUS, AS A RESULT, THE HITLERITE MILITARY POWER HAS BEEN SHAKEN AND A CRISIS CAUSED, THE GERMAN POLITICAL POSITION HAS BEEN WEAKENED. THIS WAS PROVED BY THE STATE OF PANIC IN THE GERMAN REAR, THE GERMANS HAVE STOPPED BELIEVING IN VICTORY."

THE BR[illegible]CAST CONTINUED:

"GERMAN INDUSTRY CANNOT REPLACE ITS LOSSES. IT IS SUFFERING FROM A SHORTAGE OF LABOR POWER.

"THE INDUSTRIAL POWER OF GERMANY'S WAR INDUSTRY HAS BEEN WEAKENED ALSO BY THE ALLIED BLOWS.

"THE EUROPEAN REAR OF HITLERISM IS BECOMING WEAKER AND WEAKER.

"THE OCCUPIED COUNTRIES ARE RISING IN THE STRUGGLE AGAINST HITLER. SOON THIS STRUGGLE WILL LINK UP WITH THE ALLIES."

IT DECLARED THAT THE GERMANS, WHEN THEY LOST HOPE OF A QUICK VICTORY, ATTEMPTED TO SPLIT THE ALLIED UNITED NATIONS BUT THAT "THIS HAS BEEN SHATTERED IN A FIRM ALLIANCE OF FREEDOM LOVING PEOPLE."

"THUS," IT SAID, "THE MILITARY AND POLITICAL SITUATION OF HITLERITE GERMANY IS IN A STATE OF CRISIS."

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE MORALE OF THE RED ARMY HAD GROWN STRONGER AND THAT "IT BURNS WITH THE DETERMINATION TO PUT AN END TO THE FASCISTS."

JUN 22 1943

IT SAID THAT THE REAR OF THE RED ARMY HAD BEEN STRENGTHENED, TOO, WITH HUNDREDS OF NEW FACTORIES AND THAT "THE INTERNATIONAL POSITION OF THE SOVIET UNION ALSO HAS BEEN STRENGTHENED."

"A COALITION OF THE USSR, BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES HAS BEEN CREATED," IT WENT ON. "THE HITLERITES' AIMS TO SPLIT THIS COALITION FAILED. THE ALLIANCE WITH THE UNITED STATES AND THE ANGLO-SOVIET TREATY HAS RPVOED THEIR STRENGTH DURING THIS YEAR. OUR RELATIONS WITH BRITAIN HAVE IMPROVED.

"THE SOVIET UNION ENGAGING GERMANY'S MAIN FORCES ENABLED THE ALLIES TO DEVELOP PRODUCTION AND MOBILIZE A MIGHTY ARMY. OUR ALLIES ARE INCREASINGLY HELPING THE SOVIET PEOPLE WITH MATERIAL.

"JOINT ACTIONS HAVE TAKEN PLACE DURING THE LAST MONTHS. POWERFUL BLOWS FROM THE EAST HAVE MERGED WITH BLOWS BY THE ALLIES IN NORTH AFRICA WHILE THE ALLIED AIRFORCES DEAL BLOWS ON GERMANY AND ITALY."

JUN 22 1943

DECLARING THAT WHILE THE BALANCE OF FORCES HAS IMPROVED TO THE BENEFIT OF "US AND OUR ALLIES," THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID:

"BUT THIS IS NOT ENOUGH FOR VICTORY. EVERYTHING NOW DEPENDS ON HOW THE ALLIES WILL USE THE FAVORABLE SITUATION FOR A SECOND FRONT, WITHOUT WHICH VICTORY IS IMPOSSIBLE.

"THIS FOILED THE VICTORY IN 1942. THEN HITLER UTILIZED THE ABSENCE OF A SECOND FRONT. TO BE LATE NOW MEANS THAT OUR COMMON CAUSE WILL SERIOUSLY SUFFER.

JUN 22 1943

"ON THE OTHER HAND, A SECOND FRONT HIS YEAR IN EUROPE WILL SPEED THE VICTORY AND SAVE MANY VICTIMS."

AT THE OUTSET OF THE WAR WITH GERMANY, RUSSIA "COULD NOT FULLY UTILIZE ALL ITS FIGHTING FORCES TO REPULSE THE ENEMY BECAUSE IT REQUIRED TIME TO MOBILIZE THEM," THE BROADCAST SAID.

"IN ADDITION, OUR ALLIES HAD ONLY STARTED MASS PRODUCTION OF ARMAMENTS AND WERE UNABLE TO GIVE CONSIDERABLE AND SPEEDY AID TO THE SOVIET UNION," IT ADDED.

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-LAND-BASED BOMBERS, ESCORT CARRIER PLANES AND WARSHIPS, TEAMED IN THE ALLIED EFFORT TO CLEAR THE ATLANTIC OF HITLER'S SUBMARINES, ARE CREDITED OFFICIALLY WITH BEATING OFF "ONE OF THE FIERCEST AND MOST SUSTAINED OFFENSIVES EVER MOUNTED" AGAINST CONVOYS IN A FIVE-DAY BATTLE LAST MONTHS.

BRITISH AUTHORITIES ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT THAT FROM TWO TO FIVE OF THE SUBMARINES WERE DESTROYED AND THAT THE AIR AND SURFACE SCREEN WAS SO EFFECTIVE ONLY THREE PER CENT OF THE CONVOY VESSELS WERE EVEN MOLESTED (CORRECT)--ATTACKED, DAMAGED OR SUNK.

"TWO U-BOATS WERE DESTROYED. THREE PROBABLY WERE DESTROYED AND OTHERS MAY HAVE BEEN DAMAGED," SAID A COMMUNIQUE ISSUED JOINTLY BY THE ADMIRALTY AND AIR MINISTRY.

ACCOUNTS OF THE BATTLE WERE THE FIRST TO DESCRIBE RESULTS OF THE NEW ALLIED TECHNIQUE OF TEAMING ESCORT CARRIER PLANES AND LAND-BASED FLYING FORTRESSES AND LIBERATORS WITH WARSHIPS IN THE DRIVE TO CLEAR THE ATLANTIC OF THE UNDERSEA MARAUDERS.

THE KNOWN SUBMARINES SINKINGS WERE CREDITED TO WARSHIPS. BUT POCKET-SIZE ESCORT CARRIER'S PLANES AND THE BIG BOMBERS DETECTED THE SUBMARINES SO EFFECTIVELY THAT MOST OF THE ENGAGEMENTS WERE FOUGHT MANY MILES AWAY FROM THE CONVOYED VESSELS, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID. AS A RESULT, IT ADDED, "NINETY-SEVEN PER CENT OF THE SHIPS FORMING THE CONVOYS REACHED HARBOR IN SAFETY AND WITHOUT HAVING BEEN MOLESTED."

JUN 22 1943

THE ENGAGEMENTS RANGED OVER HUNDREDS OF MILES, SAID THE COMMUNIQUE, WHICH DID NOT GIVE THE EXACT DATES.

THE ESCORT CARRIER, THE FIRST OF THE AMERICAN-MADE POCKET-SIZED VESSELS TO BE REPORTED IN ACTION, WAS H.M.S.BITER, A CONVERTED FREIGHTER. THE DEFINITE KILLS WERE CREDITED TO THE BRITISH DESTROYER BROADWAY, FORMERLY THE U.S.S.HUNT, AND THE DESTROYER HESPERUS, WHICH ALSO WAS CREDITED WITH TWO PROBABLES.

AT LEAST TWO CONVOYS WERE ENGAGED BY THE SUBMARINES DURING THE RUNNING BATTLE. THE BITER'S PLANES FIRST SIGHTED THE U-BOATS AND ATTACKED WITH DEPTH CHARGES AND MACHINEGUNS. THEY WERE QUICKLY JOINED BY SHORE-BASED BOMBERS WHICH FORCED THE U-BOATS TO DIVE, AND THE BATTLE THEN WAS TAKEN UP BY BRITISH DESTROYERS.

JUN 22 1943

3024-5251

WHILE THESE ENGAGEMENTS WERE IN PROGRESS, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, "A STRONG FORCE OF U-BOATS WHICH HAD WORKED AROUND AHEAD OF ANOTHER CONVOY" WAS ATTACKED BY THE HESPERUS.

"THE INTENSITY AND VARIETY OF THE COUNTERATTACKS AND THE CONTINUAL PRESENCE OF AIRCRAFT ULTIMATELY COMPLETED DISCOMFITTED THE U-BOAT PACKS AND THE CONVOYS PROCEEDED TO THEIR DESTINATIONS WITHOUT FURTHER INTERFERENCE," THE BULLETIN SAID.

THE DAILY EXPRESS NAVAL REPORTER, W.A.CRUMLEY, SAID THAT ABOUT 50 U-BOATS HAD BEEN DESTROYED IN THE LAST TWO MONTHS, BRINGING THE TOTAL DESTROYED SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR TO 250.

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL ALREADY HAD DESCRIBED MAY AS "THE BEST MONTH WE HAVE HAD IN THE U-BOAT WARFARE SINCE THE UNITED STATES WAS ATTACKED BY GERMANY, ITALY AND JAPAN."

JUN 22 1943

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-AMERICAN STYLE BOXING AS TAUGHT HUNDREDS OF YOUNG RUSSIANS BY SIDNEY JACKSON, FORMERLY OF CLEVELAND, HAS BEEN USED TO ADVANTAGE ON THE GERMAN-RUSSIAN FRONT, THE MOSCOW RADIO SAID TODAY.

THE RADIO TOLD THE STORY OF JACKSON'S PUPILS IN PAYING TRIBUTE TO THE 37-YEAR-OLD AMERICAN, WHO WON HIS FIRST FIGHT AT CLEVELAND WHEN HE WAS 13 AND SETTLED IN TASHKENT, SOVIET TURKESTAN, 30 YEARS AGO.

FIFTEEN OF HIS PUPILS ARE OFFICERS IN RED ARMY GUARDS REGIMENTS, THE RADIO SAID. OF 10 PILOTS WHO FORMERLY WERE HIS PUPILS, TWO HAVE BEEN AWARDED THE TITLE HERO OF THE SOVIET UNION, AND 12 OTHERS HAVE WON DECORATIONS.

30.24-5251

THE RADIO SINGLED OUT TWO OCCASIONS WHEN JACKSON'S TECHNIQUE PAID DIVIDENDS.

IT SAID THAT WHEN CAPT. LEONID MESN MADE HIS WAY INTO AN ENEMY DUGOUT IN THE DARK AND STUMBLED OVER A GERMAN OFFICER, HE KNOCKED THE GERMAN OUT WITH AN UPPERCUT AND TOOK HIM PRISONER.

A RIGHT TO THE JAW DID THE TRICK FOR IVAN TRETYAKOV WHEN HE CAUGHT THE GERMAN HE HAD BEEN CHASING AND TOOK HIM PRISONER, THE BROADCAST SAID.

JUN 22 1943

June 21 (AP)

LONDON-FIRST ADD FRENCH PEOPLE X X ~~X BROADCAST~~ ADMONISHED.

A HINT THAT THE ALLIES ALREADY HAD LAUNCHED THE PRELIMINARY MOVES WAS GIVEN AS THE SPOKESMAN CALLED ON FRENCHMEN TO "DISPLAY DISCIPLINE EQUAL TO YOUY RESOLUTION AND PATIENCE AND EQUAL TO YOUR CONFIDENCE IN VICTORY, WHICH FROM NOW ON IS CERTAIN," AND ADDED:

"PATIENCE AND DISCIPLINE WILL BECOME EVEN OF GREATER IMPORTANCE WHEN ALLIED OPERATIONS ON A LARGE SCALE BEGIN."

IN DIRECTING ADVICE TO "ALL FRENCHMEN WITHOUT EXCEPTION," THE BROADCAST TOLD THEM TO WATCH OVER THEIR OWN SAFETY AND THAT OF THEIR FAMILIES AND TO ORGANIZE AND KEEP SECRET THE MOVEMENT OF TROOPS, "WHATEVER MAY HAPPEN," AND KEEP SILENT ON ANY MOVES RELATING TO THEIR COOPERATION WITH TROOPS.

THE ANNOUNCER WARNED THAT WHEN THE FULL SCALE INVASION STARTS "YOU MUST ABOVE ALL NOT ACT PREMATURELY."

"WE SHALL GIVE YOU THE SIGNAL WHEN YOUR ACTIVE HELP WILL BE NEEDED BY US," HE SAID. "IN THE MEANTIME, REMAIN INFORMED ON ALL PRELIMINARY OPERATIONS."

JUN 22 1943

1943

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-A DNB DISPATCH BROADCAST BY THE BERLIN RADIO AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS SAID TODAY THAT BARON KONSTANTIN VON NEURATH, FORMER GERMAN FOREIGN MINISTER, HAD BEEN PROMOTED BY ADOLF HITLER TO THE RANK OF OBERGRUPPENFUEHRER OF THE NATIONALIST SOCIALIST PARTY.

OTHER SS GROUP LEADERS RAISED TO THE SAME RANK WERE GENERAL RAUTER, GESTAPO CHIEF IN THE NETHERLANDS, AND KONRAD HENLEIN, SUDETEN GERMAN LEADER. THE RANK OF OBERGRUPPENFUEHRER IS EQUIVALENT TO THAT OF GENERAL IN THE ARMY, THE DISPATCH SAID.

JUN 22 1943

VON NEURATH WAS FOREIGN MINISTER FROM 1932 TO 1938, WHEN HE WAS MADE PRESIDENT OF THE SECRET CABINET COUNCIL OF THE REICH. IN 1939 HE WAS APPOINTED REICHS PROTECTOR OF BOHEMIA AND MORAVIA. SINCE THE AUTUMN OF 1941 HE HAS BEEN ON LEAVE FOR REASONS OF HEALTH.

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-GUERRILLA WARFARE IN THE MOUNTAINS OF YUGOSLAVIA HAS BECOME SO BITTER THAT ADOLF HITLER HAS BEEN FORCED TO THROW LARGE FORMATIONS OF HIS CRACK ALPINE TROOPS AND GREAT NUMBERS OF AIRCRAFT INTO THAT BACKYARD BATTLE WHICH HE HAD TRIED TO IGNORE WHILE PLUGGING THE HOLES IN HIS COASTAL INVASION DEFENSES.

THIS WAS DISCLOSED TODAY NOT ONLY BY THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT IN EXILE BUT ALSO IN AXIS COMMUNIQUES WHICH ADMITTED THAT NAZI TROOPS, SUPPORTED BY THE GERMAN AIR FORCE, ARE BEING DETACHED FROM OTHER FRONTS TO BATTLE STRONG BANDS OF GEN.DRAJA MIHAILOVIC'S WARRIORS AND OTHER INSURGENT GROUPS.

THE GERMANS ARE CONCENTRATING THEIR ATTACKS ON PATRIOT STRONGHOLDS IN THE DURMITOR MOUNTAIN RANGE AND AROUND FOCA, ACCORDING TO THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE, WHICH SAID THE FIGHTING THERE HAS BEEN RAGING CONTINUOUSLY FOR THE PAST FIVE WEEKS. GERMAN, ITALIAN AND BULGARIAN AND CROAT TROOPS ARE BEING WIPED OUT IN LARGE NUMBERS BY THE GUERRILLA MOUNTAIN LEGIONS, ACCORDING TO YUGOSLAV SOURCES.

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-SOLDIERS IN THE EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS OF THE U.S. ARMY HAVE BEEN TOLD TO GET BUSY ANSWERING LETTERS FROM THE FOLKS BACK HOME TO LIGHTEN THE WAR DEPARTMENT BURDEN.

TOO MANY PARENTS, GIRL FRIENDS AND RELATIVES HAVE BEEN FLOODING THE WAR DEPARTMENT WITH INQUIRIES AS TO WHY THEY HAD NOT HEARD FROM SOLDIERS.

JUN 22 1943

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-THE POLISH TELEGRAPH AGENCY SAID TODAY THAT THE GERMANS SHOT 189 POLES RECENTLY IN POZNAN.

AT A BRITISH PORT, JUNE 21-(AP)-A LARGE CONTINGENT OF CANADIAN ARMY REINFORCEMENTS AND A SMALL GROUP OF ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE OFFICERS HAVE ARRIVED IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

ALL ARMS OF THE SERVICES WERE REPRESENTED IN THE ARMY GROUP. RCAF ARRIVALS WERE MOSTLY GROUND PERSONNEL.

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-BARRY BINGHAM, PUBLISHER OF THE LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL AND THE LOUISVILLE TIMES, HAS BEEN PROMOTED FROM LIEUTENANT TO LIEUTENANT-COMMANDER IN THE U.S. NAVAL RESERVE.

HE IS ATTACHED TO THE PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE IN ADMIRAL HAROLD R. STARK'S HEADQUARTERS HERE.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: EN ROUTE TO AN ASSIGNMENT WITH THE ASSOCIATED PRESS IN LONDON, BEDE IRVIN, 33-YEAR-OLD ASSOCIATED PRESS PHOTOGRAPHER WAS A PASSENGER IN THE CONVOY WHICH UNDERWENT A TERRIFIC U-BOAT ATTACK IN MAY AND LEFT FROM TWO TO FIVE OF THE SUBMARINES DESTROYED.

(THE BRITISH ADMIRALTY TOLD THE OFFICIAL STORY OF THE FIVE-DAY ATLANTIC FIGHT YESTERDAY; HERE IS IRVIN'S ACCOUNT--A CONVOY STORY WHICH TELLS NOT OF SHIP SINKINGS BUT OF SAFE PASSAGE UNDER COVER

JUN 22 1943

30211-5253

30.24 - 5253

OF VASTLY EXTENDED ALLIED AIR POWER.

(IRVIN, A NATIVE OF DES MOINES, IA., WAS A PHOTOGRAPHER ON THE DES MOINES REGISTER AND TRIBUNE FOR EIGHT YEARS BEFORE JOINING THE ASSOCIATED PRESS IN 1936 IN KANSAS CITY. FROM 1937 UNTIL HIS DEPARTURE LATE IN APRIL FOR LONDON, IRVIN WAS AN ASSOCIATED PRESS STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER IN DETROIT.)

JUN 22 1943

BY BEDE IRVIN

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-AS A PASSENGER ON A FREIGHTER ON THE FLANK OF THE FIRST MAJOR CONVOY PROTECTED BY ONE OF THE NEW POCKET AIRCRAFT CARRIERS I HAD A DULL TIME, BY AND LARGE.

SEVERAL DAYS OF BATTLE INVOLVING THE CONVOY'S ESCORT, BOTH SHIPS AND PLANES, BROUGHT NOT ONE "ACTION STATION" ALARM, ONLY ONE ACTUAL CLASH WITHIN SIGHT AND BUT FEW BOMBS OR DEPTH CHARGE EXPLOSIONS WITHIN HEARING.

NEWS OF THE BATTLE CAME TO THE SHIPS OF THE CONVOY BY VOICE RADIO REPORTS AND INSTRUCTIONS WHICH FLEW BETWEEN THE SHIPS OF THE CONVOY, THEIR ESCORT VESSELS AND THE PROTECTING PLANES OVERHEAD--A TENSE DRAMA THAT SEEMED TO BE PLAYED IN ANOTHER WORLD.

EXCEPT FOR ONE CLASH WHICH WAS VISIBLE FROM THE DECKS OF OUR SHIP--AN ATTACK ON A SUBMARINE BY A PLANE FROM ONE OF OUR CARRIERS ABOUT SIX MILES AWAY--I MIGHT JUST AS WELL HAVE BEEN LISTENING ON SHORE TO A RADIO ACCOUNT OF THE STRUGGLE, WHICH ENDED WITH EVERY SHIP IN MY GROUP REACHING PORT SAFELY.

THE PLANE DIVED FROM THE SKY AND RELEASED ITS BOMBS. A COLUMN OF WATER REACHED FOR THE CLOUDS.N THE PLANE DIVED REPEATEDLY OVER THE SPOT, MACHINE-GUNNING THE PARTLY SUBMERGED SUBMARINE, WHILE SEVERAL SWIFT ESCORT VESSELS SPED TO THE SCENE TO COMPLETE THE KILL.

THAT WAS ALL.

NOT A GUN ON OUR SHIP WAS FIRED, EXCEPT FOR ONE LIGHT ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN--AND THAT AT A TINE CAN.

MOST OF THE BATTLE WAS CARRIED OUT BY OUR SURFACE ESCORT AND PLANES WHICH WERE OUT OF SIGHT OVER THE HORIZON 10 TO 20 MILES ROM THE MAIN BODY OF THE CONVOY. THAT'S HOW GOOD OUR RECONNAISSANCE MS.

STUBBY LITTLE BIPLANES TAKING OFF FROM THE PITCHING DECK OF A CONVERTED MERCHANTMAN CARRIER PATROLLED OVER AND AROUND THE CONVOY FROM EARLY MORNING UNTIL DUSK, REGARDLESS OF THE WEATHER ON THE CHANGEABLE ATLANTIC.

SHORE-BASED SUNDERLANDS AND LIBERATORS OCCASIONALLY PASSED WITHIN SIGHT OF THE CONVOY, TOO, BUT THEIR PRESENCE GENERALLY WAS ONLY LEARNED FROM THE RADIO, WHOSE CRYPTIC CHATTERINGS TOLD ONE DRAMATIC STORY AFTER ANOTHER.

JUN 22 1943

ONE PILOT FORCED A SUBMARINE TO SURFACE WITH HIS BOMBS. THEN HE REPORTED THAT HE WAS DIVING AGAIN TO MACHINE-GUN THE U-BOAT. AS HIS SHIP SCREAMED INTO THE ATTACK HE LEFT HIS TRANSMITTER ON AND WE COULD HEAR THE ROAR OF HIS MOTOR AND THE STUTTER OF HIS GUNS. THEN THERE WAS SILENCE AND NO MORE WAS HEARD FROM HIM.

OUR COMMODORE REPORTED THAT TWO SUBMARINES WERE DESTROYED AND THREE MORE PROBABLY DESTROYED AND SEVERAL OTHERS DAMAGED. YESTERDAY THE ADMIRALTY MADE THESE FIGURES OFFICIAL BUT OBSERVERS IN THE CONVOY FELT THAT THEY WERE MUCH TOO CONSERVATIVE.

JUN 22 1943

DUBLIN, JUNE 21-(AP)-WITH THEIR SPECIAL RATIONS OF EIGHT GALLONS OF ELECTIONEERING GASOLINE EXHAUSTED, CANDIDATES FOR NEUTRAL EIRE'S DAIL EIREANN (PARLIAMENT) CONCLUDED ON FOOT AND HORSEBACK TODAY CAMPAIGNS FOR TOMORROW'S FIRST WARTIME ELECTION--AND THE DULLEST IN EIRE'S HISTORY.

THE LACK OF COLOR IN THIS CONTEST FOR THE CONTROL OF THE GOVERNMENT OF A NATION NOTED FOR THE VIGOR OF ITS POLITICAL FIGHTS WAS IN GLARING CONTRAST TO THE HEATED ELECTIONS OF OTHER YEARS.

WITH ALL PARTIES AGREED ON CONTINUED NEUTRALITY FOR EIRE THERE IS NOT MUCH TO AROUSE THE IRISH SPIRIT, AND ONE OF THE LIGHTEST VOTES IN HISTORY IS EXPECTED.

JUN 22 1943

INTEREST WAS FOCUSED ON THE 21-YEAR RIVALRY BETWEEN THE AMERICAN-BORN PRIME MINISTER, EAMON DE VALERA, AND THE LEADER OF THE OPPOSITION, WILLIAM T.COSGRAVE, WHICH REACHED A NEW CLIMAX OVER THE ISSUE OF A NATIONAL OR A PARTY GOVERNMENT. THE DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN EIRE'S TWO STRONG MEN DATES BACK TO THE SIGNING OF THE ANGLO-IRISH TREATY IN 1922 WHICH ESTABLISHED THE IRISH FREE STATE IN SOUTHERN IRELAND.

COSGRAVE IS LEADING THE FINE GAEL PARTY IN A RENEWED EFFORT TO OUST DE VALERA'S PARTY, THE FIANNA FAIL, WHICH HAS BEEN IN POWER SINCE 1932, AND SUBSTITUTE A COALITION RULE WITH THE BEST AVAILABLE TALENT REGARDLESS OF PARTY AFFILIATION.

DE VALERA SCORNS THAT IDEA.

BY LEO BRANHAM

AT A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION, SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, JUNE 21 -(AP)-FOR AN EXAMPLE OF REAL OLD-FASHIONED AMERICAN INDIAN STOICISM, THE BOYS OF THIS FORTRESS STATION GIVE YOU "THE CHIEF."

WITH BOTH FEET SO BADLY FROST-BITTEN HE COULD NOT WALK, "THE CHIEF"--SERGT.FLOYD L.THOMPSON, 23-YEAR-OLD CHEROKEE INDIAN FROM DURANT, OKLA.--WAS RECEIVING FIRST AID TREATMENT IN THE RADIO COMPARTMENT AS A FLYING FORTRESS PILOTED BY CAPT.JOHN R.MILLER, OF MADISON, WIS., WAS FLYING HOME FROM A RAID ON KIEL ON JUNE 13. THOMPSON WAS BALL-TURRET GUNNER OF THE SHIP.

SECOND LIEUT.WILLIAM PROCHASKA, THE BOMBARDIER AND SERGT.REX. J.NEELY OF OSCEOLA, IND., THE RADIO OPERATOR-GUNNER, HAD REMOVED THOMPSON'S BOOTS AND SOCKS AND WERE RUBBING HIS SWOLLEN FEET IN AN ATTEMPT TO RESTORE CIRCULATION.

SUDDENLY SOMEBODY SHOUTED "FIGHTERS," AS A DOZEN ME-109S POUNCD OUT OF THE CLOUDS ON THE BOMBERS, WHO WERE THEN FAR OUT OVER THE NORTH SEA.

JUN 22 1943

"STAY WHERE YOU ARE," PROCHASKA ORDERED THOMPSON AS HE AND THE OTHER CREWMEN JUMPED TO THEIR GUNS. BUT "THE CHIEF," BARE-FOOTED AND SUFFERING INTENSE PAIN, CRAWLED HIS LABORIOUS WAY BACK TO THE BALL TURRET, WHERE HE KEPT THE GUNS SO BUSY ONE OF THEM BURNED OUT. THE OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CREW SAID THAT THOMPSON DIDN'T EVEN BOTHER TO PUT ON HIS HEAVY JACKET AND THAT HE DIDN'T ABANDON HIS GUNS UNTIL THE LAST OF THE ATTACKERS WERE DRIVEN OFF. THEY ADDED THAT HE PURPOSELY LEFT OFF HIS INTER-COMMUNICATION EARPHONES SO HE WOULDN'T HEAR ANY ORDERS FOR HIM TO LEAVE HIS POST.

THOMPSON'S ELECTRICALLY HEATED FLYING SUIT HAD FAILED TO FUNCTION AND ALL DURING THE RAID HE HAD SUFFERED FROM THE BITTER COLD, WITH HIS FEET THE MOST SEVERELY INJURED. BUT "THE CHIEF" DIDN'T TELL

JUN 22 1943

1943

3021-5255

THE CREW ABOUT THAT UNTIL THE FORTRESS HAD SUCCESSFULLY FOUGHT HER WAY THROUGH THE MOST SAVAGE ENEMY FIGHTER OPPOSITION THE AMERICANS HAD YET ENCOUNTERED, AND HAD LEFT GERMANY AND THE FIGHTERS BEHIND. IT WAS THEN HE CALLED FOR FIRST AID.

THE ASSAULT ON KIEL WAS THE CREW'S FIFTH MISSION. OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CREW WERE:

JUN 22 1943

SECOND LIEUT.JAMES B.STAPLETON, OF CHICAGO, CO-PILOT.

SECOND LIEUT.COLLIS P.HAYNES, OF HOUSTON, TEX., NAVIGATOR.

SERGTS.CARL H.CAMERON, MORRISTOWN, TENN., TOP-TURRET GUNNER; ARLIE G.ARNESON, SEATTLE, WASH., AND WASHINGTON, D.C.; RIGHT WAIST GUNNER; GUY L.TICE, RED GRANITE, WIS., LEFT WAIST GUNNER AND WILLIAM A.WHITCOMB, EATON RAPIDS, MICH., TAIL GUNNER.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 21-(AP)-SIXTY-SEVEN ITALIAN CITIZENS OF ALLIED-OCCUPIED PANTELLERIA HAVE SIGNED A LETTER DENOUNCING "THE TWO MADMEN, HITLER AND HIS FAITHFUL VASSAL MUSSOLINI," AND APPEALING TO THE ALLIES TO "SAVE THE GARDEN OF EUROPE," IT WAS ANNOUNCED HERE TODAY.

THE LETTER WAS ADDRESSED TO GEN.DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER'S COMMAND.

A PHOTOGRAPHIC COPY OF THE LETTER WAS SHOWN TODAY AT ALLIED HEADQUARTERS AND IT SAID:

"THE UNDERSIGNED ITALIAN CITIZENS PAY GRATEFUL HOMAGE TO THE ANGLO-AMERICAN LAND, SEA AND AIR FORCES FOR THE PROMPTNESS WITH WHICH THEY HAVE LIBERATED THEM FROM THE YOKE OF THE MEGALOMANIAC AND SATANIC REGIME WHICH, NOT CONTENT WITH HAVING SUCKED LIKE A MONSTROUS OCTOPUS THE BEST ENERGIES OF TRUE ITALIANS FOR 20 YEARS, IS

30.24 -5255

NOW REDUCING ITALY TO A MASS OF RUINS AND MISERY FOR ONE MOTIVE ONLY: THE INSANE PERSONAL PROFIT OF ITS CHIEFS, WHO UNDER THE ILL CONCEALED MASK OF HOLLOW, SO-CALLED PATRIOTISM, HIDE THE LOWEST EGOISM AND THE BLACKEST TREATMENT, WHILE ALL THE TIME WITH REVOLTING CYNICISM, THEY TREAD UPON THE BLOOD OF THOUSANDS OF ITALIANS.

"THE ONLY FAULT OF THE ITALIANS IS THAT OF BEING IN A STATE OF HYPNOSIS TO WHICH THEY WERE REDUCED BY ARMED AND WELL-FED ARROGANCE OF THOSE NOTORIOUS 'SQUADRISTI' SO BRILLIANTLY ABSENT FROM THE FRONT OF THE WAR WHICH THEY WANTED AND TO WHICH THEY THINK IT IS MUCH BETTER TO SEND DELUDED AND GOOD-NATURED ITALIAN PEOPLE.

"WHILE DENOUNCING THE IMPERIALISTIC FRENZY OF THE TWO MADMEN, HITLER AND HIS FAITHFUL VASSAL, MUSSOLINI, THEY (THE ITALIAN PEOPLE) HOPE FOR A SPEEDY RETURN OF AN ERA OF PROSPERITY AND PEACE WHICH THE VICTORIES OF THE ALLIED ARMIES AND THE WISDOM OF THE ANGLO-AMERICAN GOVERNMENTS WILL SURELY BRING TO THIS LONG SUFFERING ITALY.

JUN 22 1943

"ALLIES! SAVE THE GARDEN OF EUROPE."

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

(add Thunderbird)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 21-(AP)-~~BACK FROM~~ LAST JANUARY THE THUNDERBIRD CAME BACK TO TRIPOLI ON TWO ENGINES WITH SEVERAL CREW MEMBERS WOUNDED. LIEUT.JOHN L.CRONKHITE OF 2900 PARK ST., ST.PETERSBURG, FLA., WAS AT THE CONTROLS.

INCLUDED IN HER CREW ON FRIDAY'S FLIGHT WERE NAVIGATOR LIEUT. H.S.JONES, OF 2012 COME AVE., ST.PAUL, MINN.; RADIO SERGT.J.E.KING OF 323 EAST COMMERCIAL ST., HARTFORD CITY, IND.; GUNNER SERGT. B.E.ERVIN, OF PASCOLA, MO.; AND GUNNER SERGT.D.E.GAVEL OF NORTH SIXTH AVE.; PLATTVILLE, WIS.

JUN 22 1943

ALGIERS, JUNE 21-(AP)-THE FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION FACED TODAY THE TASK OF REORGANIZING ITS MILITARY AFFAIRS UNDER A DEEP SHADOW CAST BY THE PROSPECT THAT GENERAL CHARLES DE GAULLE MAY WITHDRAW IF HIS OWN PROPOSED REFORMS ARE NOT ADOPTED.

POLITICAL INTIMATES OF THE FIGHTING FRENCH CHIEFTAIN SAID HE WAS PREPARED TO LEAVE ALGIERS FOR BEIRUT OR BRAZZAVILLE IN THE EVENT HIS PROPOSALS WERE TURNED DOWN--A DEVELOPMENT WHICH APPEARED POSSIBLE AS DE GAULLE'S FOLLOWERS EXPRESSED BELIEF THAT GEN.HENRI GIRAUD, WITH PREVIOUSLY UNEXPECTED SUPPORT, MIGHT BE ABLE TO MAINTAIN THE STATUS QUO.

JUN 22 1943

BOTH GENERAL GEORGES CATROUX AND JEAN MONNET, CONFIDANTES OF DE GAULLE, WERE REPORTED TO HAVE CONFERRED WITH HIM AT LENGTH YESTERDAY IN AN ATTEMPT TO PERSUADE HIM AGAINST TAKING ANY DRASTIC STEP WHICH MIGHT JEOPADRIZE FRENCH EFFORTS AT UNITED GOVERNMENT.

IT APPEARED, HOWEVER, THAT A DEFINITE SHOWDOWN BETWEEN GIRAUD AND DE GAULLE ON THE ISSUE OF MILITARY AUTHORITY WAS INEVITABLE. DEVELOPMENTS UP TO NOW WERE REGARDED BY SOME OBSERVERS AS MERE MANEUVERING BY WHICH THE TWO GENERALS EACH HOPED TO WIN A VANTAGE POINT LEADING TO THE FUNDAMENTAL OBJECTIVE--MILITARY CONTROL.

IN PRINCIPLE BOTH FACTIONS ARE REPORTED IN AGREEMENT ON A FORMULA FOR DIVISION OF MILITARY AUTHORITY WITH DE GAULLE AS COMMISSIONER OF NATIONAL DEFENSE AND GIRAUD AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMED FORCES.

THE DE GAULLISTS, HOWEVER, APPARENTLY ARE FEARFUL THAT THE PLAN, IF PUT INTO EFFECT UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS, WOULD HAVE SO MANY LIMITATIONS THAT DE GAULLE WOULD BE VIRTUALLY HAMSTRUNG IN EFFORTS TO REJUVENATE THE ARMY BY OUSTING OVER-AGE OFFICERS AND OTHERS PREVIOUSLY LOYAL TO VICHY.

FINAL AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE TWO LEADERS WAS REGARDED AS PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT AT THIS TIME BECAUSE DEPENDABLE SOURCES SAID THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN WERE PREPARED TO TAKE THE LEAD IN RECOGNIZING A TEMPORARY FRENCH GOVERNMENT IF GIRAUD AND DE GAULLE CAN IRON OUT THEIR DIFFERENCES.

JUN 22 1943

DE GAULLE'S FOLLOWERS MAINTAIN HE IS THE ONLY VALID LINK BETWEEN THE THIRD REPUBLIC AND THE PRESENT REGIME BECAUSE HE IS THE ONLY MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE WHO WAS IN THE REPUBLIC'S LAST GOVERNMENT.

DE GAULLE WAS UNDER SECRETARY OF STATE FOR WAR WHEN PAUL REYNAUD'S CABINET WAS DISPLACED BY MARSHAL PETAIN.

BY TOM YARBROUGH

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 15-(DELAYED)-(AP)-IN

THE DFC ALSO WAS AWARDED TO SECOND LT.KEITH A.MCKEE OF MITCHELL, S.D., A MITCHELL BOMBER PILOT, FOR HIS PART IN THE SAME BATTLE. ON HIS FIRST LOW-LEVEL BOMBING MISSION AGAINST SHIPS, HE DROPPED THREE BOMBS THAT CAUSED A 5,000 TON TRANSPORT TO STOP AND SETTLE IN THE WATER WITH SERIOUS DAMAGE.

And Australian

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 21-(AP)-FORTY-EIGHT

THE RAID RAISED TO 176 THE NUMBER OF TONS OF BOMBS DROPPED ON RABAUL AIRDROMES IN SIX RAIDS SINCE JUNE 10.

HAVOC ATTACK BOMBERS, ESCORTED BY LIGHTNINGS, BOMBED AND STRAFED THE LAE AIRDROME, DESTROYING A GROUNDED FIGHTER AND STARTING FIRES ON THE RUNWAY. A FOUR-ENGINED BOMBER ATTACKEDKAIMANA, DUTCH NEW GUINEA, AND STRAFED ENEMY LUGGERS AT FAK FAK, WHILE A MEDIUM RECONNAISSANCE PLANE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED A FLOAT PLANE

JUN 22 1943

JUN 22 1943

30.24-5257

FIGHTER ATTEMPTING INTERCEPTION OVER THE ARAFURA SEA.

IN NEW GUINEA THE JAPANESE MADE THE FOURTH RAID OF THE WAR AGAINST BENA BENA, ABOUT 90 (CORRECT) MILES NORTHWEST OF LAE. DAMAGE WAS NEGLIGIBLE AND NO CASUALTIES WERE REPORTED. THE ENEMY ALSO SENT NINE PLANES AGAINST WAU BUT INFLICTED NEITHER DAMAGE NOR CASUALTIES.

JUN 22 1943

PM250APW NM

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 15-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE CREW OF A MARAUDER BOMBER, WHO FOUGHT OFF INTERCEPTING ZEROS AND MADE A SUCCESSFUL BOMBING RUN THROUGH INTENSE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE OVER RABAUL HARBOR IN APRIL, 1942, WERE AWARDED DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSSES TODAY BY LT.GEN.GEORGE C.KENNEY, COMMANDER OF THE ALLIED AIR FORCES IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC. ONE OF THE ZEROS WAS SHOT DOWN.

THE DFC RECIPIENTS INCLUDED FIRST LT.RALPH E.HARKEY OF CHARLOTTE, N.C.; FIRST LT.ALBERT H.STANWOOD OF (2 GILBERT ST.) PROVIDENCE, R.I.; SGT.RICHARD A.MAURER OF LAKEWOOD, O.; AND SGT.WALTER H.SCHOENECK OF MANDATE, MINN.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 16-(DELAYED)-(AP)-TEN PILOTS OF AMERICAN ATTACK PLANES HAVE BEEN AWARDED THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS FOR THEIR WORK IN THE BATTLE OF THE BISMARK SEA, IN THE HUON GULF OFF LAE, NEW GUINEA, LAST MARCH.

JUN 22 1943

ATTACKING EIGHT JAPANESE NAVAL SHIPS AND THE TRANSPORTS AND CARGO VESSELS THAT MADE UP PARTS OF THE CONVOY, THEY FLEW THROUGH HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE TO DROP THEIR BOMBS AT LOW LEVEL AND THEN MADE

30.24-5257

STRAFING PASSES THAT PROVIDED A COVERING FIRE FOR OTHER BOMBERS COMING IN MAST HIGH.

THE PILOTS INCLUDED CAPTAINS EDWARD J.CHUDOBA, 1012 BROWN ST., AKRON, OHIO, AND ROGER D.DUNBAR, 69 MORNING ST., PORTLAND, MAINE.

FIRST LIEUTENANTS JOHN C.CONN, MEMPHIS, TENN.; CHARLEY H.MAYO, GREENVILLE, N.C.; TURNER P.MESSICK, BURLINGTON, N.C.; EDMUND D.MONTAGANO, 432 NORTH ST., BATON ROUGE, LA.; WILLIAM W.NEEL, 2010 N.CARLISLE ST., PHILADELPHIA, AND JOHN F. TAYLOR, 675 S. 36TH ST., LOUISVILLE, KY.

JUN 22 1943

FOUR ENLISTED MEN OF A FLYING FORTRESS CREW WERE AWARDED THE DFC FOR A RECONNAISSANCE MISSION NEAR GASMATA, NEW BRITAIN, ALSO IN MARCH, ON WHICH THEY SIGHTED A JAPANESE NAVAL VESSEL AND WERE SET UPON BY ZEROS, FOUR OF WHICH WERE SHOT DOWN BY THE BOMBER'S GUNNERS. THE MEN WERE MASTER SGT.LEONARD F.WILLIAMS, PAGELAND, S.C.; TECH.SGT.WILLIAM A.BOLY, MURPHYSBORO, ILL.; SGT.MICHAEL A.ANDRADE, 207 GEORGIA ST., BUFFALO, N.Y., AND PFC DAVID J.ECKHOLT OF HUMPHREY, NEB.

BY LEIF ERICKSON

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, JUNE 12-(DELAYED)-(AP)-ONE OF THE ARMY'S FLYING NURSES, 2ND LIEUT.DOROTHY P.SNIKOSKI, IS THE FIRST WOMAN IN THIS WAR THEATER TO BE DECORATED FOR MERITORIOUS CONDUCT IN PERFORMANCE OF DUTY.

SHE RECEIVED THE AIR MEDAL TODAY FOR RISKING HER LIFE IN TRYING TO SAVE A MARINE NAVIGATOR IN A PLANE CRASH.

JUN 22 1943

THE DARK-HAIRED, VIVACIOUS 23-YEAR-OLD GIRL FROM GREEN LAKE, WISC., BOARDED A C-47 SKYTRAIN CARGO PLANE ON APRIL 27 FOR WHAT WAS EXPECTED TO BE A ROUTINE OVER-WATER FLIGHT TO THIS ISLAND BASE.

CAPT.MERLE R.CUNNINGHAM OF LA JOLLA,CALIF., THE MARINE PILOT, ENCOUNTERED A THICK TROPICAL STORM AND WAS FORCED TO TRY A CRASH LANDING

PREPARING FOR THE WATER LANDING IN HIS LAND PLANE, CUNNINGHAM TOLD THE SIX ABOARD TO GET AS FAR TOWARD THE TAIL OF THE PLANE AS POSSIBLE. A 1,600-POUND PLANE ENGINE HE FEARED WOULD BREAK LOOSE IN THE CRASH AND KILL ANYONE IN ITS PATH FORWARD.

MARINE CORP.JOHN W.VESTABY OF OAK PARK,ILL., EITHER DIDN'T UNDERSTAND OR DISREGARDED CUNNINGHAM'S ORDER.

JUN 22 1943

WITHOUT THOUGHT OF HER PERSONAL DANGER--THAT'S THE WORDING OF HER CITATION--MISS SHIKOSKI STARTED FORWARD TO WARN VESTABY TO MOVE TO THE REAR OF THE SHIP. THE PLANE HIT THE WATER JUST AS SHE CAME ABREAST OF THE BIG ENGINE. LOOSENED, IT LURCHED AND PINNED MISS SHIKOSKI IN A CORNER. IT HIT VESTABY, KILLING HIM. SHE SUFFERED A FRACTURED ANKLE AND A BACK INJURY, BUT INSISTED ON HELPING LOAD THE LIFE RAFTS WITH MEDICINE AND PROVISIONS. THE PLANE SANK IN SIX MINUTES.

THE SHIP CAME DOWN ONLY A FEW YARDS OFF-SHORE AND ALL SURVIVORS WERE PICKED UP QUICKLY BY CRASH BOATS.

LIEUT.SHIKOSKI TOOK HER NURSES' TRAINING AT ST.AGNES HOSPITAL, FOND DU LAC,WISC., ENTERED THE ARMY NURSE CORPS SIX MONTHS AGO, FIRST WAS STATIONED AT CHANUTE FIELD,ILL., AND TRANSFERRED TO BOWEN FIELD,KY.

BY WILLIAM F.BONI

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA-(AP)-AWARD OF THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS TO FIVE OFFICERS OF THE FIFTH AIR FORCE WAS ANNOUNCED BY LIEUT.GEN.GEORGE C.KENNEY, ALLIED AIR COMMANDER IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.

GENERAL KENNEY ALSO DISCLOSED THE AWARD OF A SOLDIER'S MEDAL, GIVEN FOR ACTS OF HEROISM WHEN NOT IN CONTACT WITH THE ENEMY, TO A MAJOR AND A SERGEANT WHO RESCUED THE CO-PILOT AND EXTINGUISHED THE FIRE IN A B-26 BOMBER WHICH BURST INTO GLAMES AFTER A CRASH LANDING.

THE DFC WINNERS INCLUDED LIEUTENANTS GEORGE D.BARNHILL OF (410 RUTLEDGE ST.) CAMDEN, S.C., AND JOHN R.BEVAN OF (362 N.4TH AVE.) NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J.

JUN 22 1943

MEMBERS OF THE SAME B26-CREW, THEY WON THEIR MEDALS FOR A MISSION OVER LAE IN APRIL OF LAST YEAR WHEN THEY REACHED THEIR TARGET ONLY AFTER HOURS OF INSTRUMENT FLYING THROUGH MISERABLE WEATHER. SO LOW DID THEY MAKE THEIR BOMBING RUN THAT ANTI-AIRCRAFT BLASTS ROCKED THE MARAUDER THROUGHOUT THE RUN--AND THE RUN WAS SO EFFECTIVE THAT 20 PARKED AIRCRAFT WERE DESTROYED AND MANY FIRES STARTED.

SAID THE CITATIONS:

"THE MARKED ABILITY, COURAGE AND DEVOTION TO DUTY OF THESE OFFICERS WHICH ENABLED SUCH GREAT DESTRUCTION TO BE WROUGHT ON THIS IMPORTANT ENEMY BASE ARE IN KEEPING WITH THE FINEST TRADITIONS OF THE SERVICE."

SO, TOO, WERE THE EXPLOITS OF MAJ.WILLIAM C.HOOD, JR., OF

JUN 23 1943

30.24 - 5259

(229 GRAND ST.) MORGANTOWN, W.VA., AND TECH SEGT. ALONZO J. JONES OF (126 BROAD ST.) FAYETTEVILLE, N.C.

IN NOVEMBER OF LAST YEAR A B-26, RETURNING FROM A RUNNING BATTLE WITH A NUMBER OF JAPANESE ZEROS, CRASH-LANDED AND CAUGHT FIRE AT PORT MORESBY AIRDROME. MAJOR HOOD WAS THE FIRST TO ARRIVE. HE DIRECTED RESCUE OPERATIONS AND THEN, BRAVING EXPLODING MACHINEGUN AMMUNITION AND THE DANGER THAT THE PLANE'S 500-LB. BOMBS WOULD GO OFF, HE "HACKED AWAY THE BLACING NOSE SECTION AND EXTRICATED THE CO-PILOT FROM THE HOLOCAUST."

JUN 22 1943

WITH GASOLINE AND OIL SPOUTING FROM BROKEN FUEL LINES AND MAKING SUCCESSFUL FIRE-FIGHTING ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE, SERGEANT JONES BROKE THROUGH THE FLAMES AND "SUCCEEDED IN CLAMING THE MAIN FUEL LINE FROM THE PORT FUEL TANK, PERMITTING THE FIRE TO BE BROUGH UNDER CONTROL AND PREVENTING ANY FURTHER BLAZE IN THE PILOT'S COMPARTMENT AND BOMB BAY.

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO).

- - -

BY MAX HILL

NEWS DISPATCHES FROM MOSCOW AND THE SHORT WAVE BROADCASTS FROM TOKYO--VIRTUALLY THE ONLY SOURCE OF NEWS WE HAVE FROM JAPAN NOW--WOULD GIVE ONE THE IMPRESSION THAT ALL WAS WELL BETWEEN THOSE TWO OBVIOUSLY ANTAGONISTIC COUNTRIES.

SUCH IS NOT THE CASE, EMPHATICALLY. THEY HAVE [illegible]ING IN

30.24 - 5259

COMMON, MUCH TO QUARREL ABOUT.

IT IS INTERESTING TO NOTE THAT IT IS JAPAN WHICH IS APPLYING THE "SOFT PEDAL" RATHER THAN THE RUSSIANS, WHOSE HATRED FOR THE JAPANESE IS FREQUENTLY EXPRESSED IN NO UNCERTAIN TERMS.

JUN 22 1943

THE RUSSIANS BOLDLY DESCRIBE THE SIBERIAN FRONTIER BETWEEN MANCHURIA AND CHOSEN (KOREA) AS THE FAR EASTERN FRONT, AS THEY HAVE DONE SINCE 1938, AND THEY HAVE KEPT TWO WELL-EQUIPPED ARMIES OUT IN THAT AREA DESPITE THE TRIALS OF THE WAR WITH GERMANY.

JAPANESE HATE AND FEAR THE RUSSIANS. A JAPANESE WHO WAS INFLUENTIAL IN THE GOVERNMENT AT THAT TIME--1941--ONCE TOLD ME WHAT IT WAS. HE SAID:

"YOU IN AMERICA, PROTECTED FROM ALL SIDES, HAVE NEVER HAD A BIG BEAR ON YOUR BACK ALL OF THE TIME."

THAT HATRED IS SHARED BY THE RUSSIANS, BUT NOT THE FEAR. THE WAR WITH GERMANY HAS FORTIFIED THEIR QUIET CONFIDENCE.

IN THE RECENT SESSION OF THE DIET IN TOKYO RUSSIA WAS NOT EVEN MENTIONED IN THE SHORT-WAVE BROADCASTS, ALTHOUGH APPROVAL WAS GIVEN FOR A SPECIAL BOND ISSUE OF SOME 20 BILLION YEN FOR SPECIAL WAR PURPOSES. FOR MANY YEARS JAPAN HAS MAINTAINED AN ARMY OF ALMOST 1,000,000 MEN IN MANCHURIA AND CHOSEN, WAITING FOR THE PROPER TIME TO STRIKE.

THE WAR WITH THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN DISRUPTED THE PLANS OF HER ARMY, A GROUP OF MILITARY MASTERS WHO HAVE AN ARBITRARY AND FINAL SAY ON ALL THAT GOES ON IN JAPAN. THEY WERE FORCED TO TURN THEIR ATTENTION FROM THE NORTH TO THE SOUTH PACIFIC. BUT THEY HAVE NOT FORGOTTEN THE RUSSIANS.

JUN 22 1943

JUST HOW "TOUCHY" THE JAPANESE REALLY ARE ON THE SUBJECT OF RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA IS INDICATED BY THE INSPIRED BROADCASTS FROM TOKYO. NO MENTION WAS MADE IN THE HOME SERVICE BROADCASTS OF THE RECENT DISSOLUTION OF THE COMINTERN. THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT WOULD RATHER NOT HAVE THEIR PEOPLE KNOW OF THIS DEVELOPMENT.

AND SPOKESMAN HORI OF THE OFFICIAL BOARD OF INFORMATION IF TOKYO TRIED TO SCOFF AT RUMORS THAT THE SOVIETS MIGHT LEASE BASES TO THE UNITED STATES. IT WAS ABSURD, HE SAID, TO THINK THAT WE MIGHT GET AIR BASES FROM RUSSIA IN THE FAR EAST, ALTHOUGH HE ADMITTED SUCH A DEVELOPMENT MIGHT HAVE A SERIOUS AFFECT ON JAPANESE-RUSSIAN RELATIONS.

JUN 22 1943

JAPAN HAS ONLY ONE TIME TO ATTACK RUSSIA--THE PRESENT. NEXT YEAR PROBABLY WILL BE TOO LATE, BECAUSE THE FULL FORCE OF AMERICA AND GREAT BRITAIN WILL BE MOBILIZED AGAINST HER. HITLER'S GERMANY BY THAT TIME, IF NOT DEFEATED, WILL BE SERIOUSLY WEAKENED.

RUSSIA DOES NOT HAVE THE STRIKING POWER IN THE FAR EAST THAT TME JAPANESE NOW HAVE, BUT SHE DOES HAVE AT LEAST HER NORMAL STRENGTH, IF NOT AN EMERGENCY FORCE.

ONE FACTOR IS DEFINITELY ON THE SIDE OF THE JAPANESE, JUST AS IT IS IN HER WAR WITH US--DISTANCE.

VLADIVOSTOK IS A FULL 11 DAYS JOURNEY BY RAIL FROM MOSCOW, AND THE MARITIME PROVINCES, VALUABLE TO JAPAN BECAUSE OF THE FISHING RIGHTS, ARE VULNERABLE. PERHAPS RUSSIA COULD NOT HOLD THEM LONG AGAINST A DETERMINED DRIVE, BUT AMERICA'S SHORT-CUT ROUTE VIANCANADA, ALASKA AND ARCTIC SIBERIA IS A POTENT FACTOR THE JAPANESE HAVE NOT OVER-LOOKED.

RUSSIA IS SATISFIED TO MAINTAIN THE PRESENT TROUBLED BUT UNCERTAIN RELATIONS WHICH PREVAIL BETWEEN HER AND JAPAN IN THE FAR EAST--BUTF THIS MAY NOT BE TRUE OF JAPAN.

SHE HAS TOO MUCH AT STAKE TO PERMIT THE UNITED NATIONS A PROBABLE AVENUE OF ATTACK THROUGH SIBERIA, AND SHE MAY DECIDE TO STRIKE TO THE NORTH ALSO IN AN ATTEMPT TO COMPLETE THE CIVCLE OF BASES SHE HAS AROUND HER HOME ISLANDS.

THIS IS A FACTOR IN THE GLOBAL WAR WHICH HAS BEEN NEGLECTED, RECENTLY DUE TO DEVELOPMENTS IN AFRICA AND EUROPE, BUT JUST THE SAME IT IS A POWDER KEG WHICH MIGHT BE TOUCHED OFF AT ANY TIME.

(ADVANCE FOR AMS OF TUESDAY, JUNE 22; RADIO RELEASE AFTER 8:30 P.M. EASTERN WAR TIME, JUNE 21)

(ADVANCE)-(AB)-WASHINGTON, JUNE 21-(AP)-THE WAR DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCED TODAY THE NAMES OF MORE THAN 300 AMERICAN SOLDIERS WHO DIED IN JAPANESE PRISON CAMPS SINCE THE FALL OF BATAAN AND CORREGIDOR.

COMPILED FROM MESSAGES RECEIVED THROUGH THE INTERNATIONAL RED CROSS, THE LIST INCLUDES THESE WITH NEXT OF KIN IN NEW YORK:

ASIATIC AREA (MOSTLY AT PRISON CAMP IN MUKDEN)

KARLSON, CPL.KENNETH F.- AXEL KARLSON, FATHER, 50 SHELDON ST., NORWICH.

JUN 22 1943

WILBUR, STAFF SGT.CHARLES S.- MRS.CHARLES S.WILBUR, WIFE, ROUTE 2, CAYUGA.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

BOATFIELD, PVT.ROBERT J.- MRS.CATHERINE TAYLOR, SISTER, PAVILION.

COLGAN, PVT.JOSEPH T.- MRS.MARY COLGAN, MOTHER, 2757 WEST 35TH ST., BROOKLYN.

DUJENSKI, SGT.JOHN E.- EDWARD DUJENSKI, FATHER, 119 WORTHY AVE., MEDINA.

GRAW, MASTER SGT.CHARLES D.- ERNEST L.GGRAW, FATHER, 720

JUN 22 1943

30.24— 5261

SWANSEA AVE., SYRACUSE.

MARTIN, PFC HENRY M.- MRS.ROSE E.DOLAN, MOTHER, 1570 EAST 45TH ST., BROOKLYN.

WEINER, PVT.HENRY A.- MRS.JEAN WEINER, MOTHER, 2060 EAST 12TH ST., BROOKLYN.

(END ADVANCE FOR AMS OF TUESDAY, JUNE 22; RADIO RELEASE AFTER 8:30 P.M. EASTERN WAR TIME, JUNE 21-MOVED JUNE 18)

(AP SPECIAL BUDGET FOR AMS)

- - -

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

- - -

JUN 22 1943

BY GLENN BABB

THIS (TUESDAY) IS THE SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF HITLER'S GREATEST ERROR, THE ATTACK ON RUSSIA. IT FINDS THE BULK OF HIS ARMIES STILL DEEP IN RUSSIAN TERRITORY BUT INEXPLICABLY INACTIVE. THE FUEHRER'S FAILURE TO OPEN THE SUMMER OFFENSIVE IS BECOMING ONE OF THE WAR'S GREATEST ~~MYSTERIES~~, RAISING THE QUESTION ZHET

FAILURE TO OPEN THE SUMMER OFFENSIVE IS BECOMING ONE OF THE WAR'S GREATEST MYSTERIES, RAISING THE QUESTION WHETHER HE HAS ABANDONED THE "SUPREME GAMBLER'S THROW" WHICH IT WAS GENERALLY BELIEVED HE MUST MAKE THIS YEAR, AN EFFORT TO KNOCK RUSSIA OUT OF THE WAR BEFORE THE ALLIES INVADE EUROPE.

IF THE LULL IN RUSSIA CONTINUES MUCH LONGER IT WILL INDICATE STRONGLY THAT THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND HAS DECIDED TO STAND ON THE DEFENSIVE ON ALL FRONTS. THE SURPRISE ATTACK OF 1941 WAS DELIVERED ON JUNE 22. LAST YEAR THE BIG DRIVE GOT UNDER WAY IN THE KHARKOV AREA ON JUNE 11. IN BOTH CASES THE GERMANS FOUND THE SUMMER AND AUTUMN TOO SHORT A PERIOD FOR ACHIEVING THEIR MAIN OBJECTIVES. IF THERE IS TO BE A 1943 OFFENSIVE IT MUST BEGIN SOON.

IF, ON THE OTHER HAND, IT HAS BEEN ABANDONED, THERE ARE SEVERAL POSSIBLE EXPLANATIONS OF SUCH A DECISION. THE GERMANS MAY BE CONVINCED THAT THE ATTACKS OF THE WESTERN ALLIES ARE COMING VERY SOON, LONG BEFORE THEY COULD HOPE TO DELIVER ANY KNOCKOUT PUNCH IN RUSSIA. IN THAT CASE THEY DO NOT WANT TO HAVE THE INVASION CATCH THEM WITH THE GREATER PART OF THEIR FORCES COMMITTED TO THE SHOWDOWN WITH THE SOVIET UNION. THE FAILURE TO GAIN SUPERIORITY IN THE AIR OVER THE EASTERN FRONT IN THE HEAVY AND COSTLY AERIAL FIGHTING OF THE PAST MONTH MAY EXPLAIN WHY THE LAND ATTACK HAS NOT BEEN LAUNCHED. THE GERMANS HAD PRONOUNCED COMMAND IN THE AIR IN 1941 AND 1942; AN ATTACK BEGUN NOW WITHOUT IT WOULD HAVE LITTLE CHANCE OF SUCCESS.

THE GERMAN COMMAND MAY HAVE DECIDED THAT THE CHANCES OF CAPTURING MOSCOW OR DESTROYING THE RED ARMY ARE NO BETTER, AND PROBABLY NOT AS GOOD, AS THEY WERE IN THE PAST TWO YEARS. ANY SUCCESS SHORT OF THOSE TWO OBJECTIVE ACTUALLY WOULD BE A FAILURE. THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT THE SOVIET UNION, AT THE OPENING OF THE THIRD YEAR OF THE

30.24—5261

EASTERN WAR, IS A MUCH MORE FORMIDABLE OPPONENT THAN THE RUSSIA THAT WAS CAUGHT BY SURPRISE IN 1941 AND IN 1942 STILL HAD NOT RECOVERED FROM THE HEAVY LOSSES AND THE DISLOCATION OF HER ECONOMIC AND INDUSTRIAL LIFE SUFFERED THE YEAR BEFORE. HER MANPOWER LOSSES HAVE BEEN MADE GOOD, NEW RESERVES TRAINED, HER WAR INDUSTRIES, TRANSPLANTED TO THE URALS AND BEYOND, ARE PRODUCING AT A HIGHER RATE THAN EVER BEFORE. THE FLOW OF AID FROM THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN HAS BECOME A VITAL FACTOR IN THE CONFIDENCE WITH WHICH THE RUSSIANS FACE WHATEVER ~~TRIAL MAY BE AHEAD FOR S IN~~

/1

JUN 22 1943

TRIAL MAY BE AHEAD FOR THEM IN 1943.

IT IS POSSIBLE THAT THE GERMAN COMMAND, IN WHICH IT APPEARS THAT THE OLD, SOBER JUDGMENT OF THE PROFESSIONAL SOLDIERS HAS TAKEN THE PLACE F CORPORAL HITLER'S INTUITION, HAS WEIGHED THE PROSPECTS OF ANOTHER MASH AT RUSSIA AND FOUND THEM NOT OTOD. THE PLAN MAY

MASH AT RUSSIA AND FOUND THEM NOT GOOD. THE PLAN MAY BE TO STAND ON HE DEFENSIVE ALL AROUND THE FORTRESS OF EUROPE, HOPING THAT THE COST F STORMING IT MAY BE MADE SO HIGH THAT A STALEMATE CAN BE ACHIEVED. HAT IS THE BEST GERMANY CAN HOPE FOR NOW.

CERTAINLY THE RECENT SHOWING OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE HAS NOT BEEN UCH AS TO ENCOURAGE HOPES OF A SUCCESSFUL OFFENSIVE. GERMAN IGHTER STRENGTH HAS SUFFERED HEAVY ATTRITION IN THE MEDITERRANEAN ONTHANRUSSIANEFFORT TO PROTECT WESTERN GRMA

IGHTER STRENGTH HAS SUFFERED HEAVY ATTRITION IN THE MEDITERRANEAN ONE AND IN THE EFFORT TO PROTECT WESTERN GERMANY. THE RUSSIANS HEMSELVES HAVE TAKEN A HEAVY TOLL IN THE AIR. PLANE PRODUCTION OUBTLESS HAS BEEN SLOWED BY THE CEASELESS BOMBING OF GERMAN INDUSTRY ND THE LUFTWAFFE PROBABLY IS SUFFERING FROM THE LOSS OF THOUSANDS OF 'S BEST AIRMEN FOR WHOM THERE ARE ONLY INFERIOR REPLACEMENTS.

NEVERTHELESS ALL AVAILABLE INFORMATION INDICATES THAT HITLER STILL S THE GREATER PART OF HIS FORCES IN RUSSIA, MORE THAN 200 DIVISIONS-- RHAPS 4,000,000 MEN--MOST OF THEM GERMAN. UNTIL ANY CONSIDERABLE RTION OF THIS FORCE IS MOVED TO SOME OTHER THEATER A GERMAN ATTACK THE EAST MUST BE CONSIDERED STILL ON THE PROGRAM.

SW45OPEW

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)-A PASTORAL LETTER ISSUED BY THE ROMAN CATHOLI

ISHOPS OF SLOVAKIA OPPOSING NEW MEASURES AGAINST JEWS WAS BROADCAST TO GERMANY TODAY BY THE VATICAN RADIO.

JUN 22 1943

"IF ONE OR SEVERAL MEMBERS OF A COMMUNITY ARE GUILTY OF SOMETHING

ONE MUST NOT BLAME A WHOLE PEOPLE," SAID THE LETTER. "JUDGMENT SHOULD NOT BE INFLUENCED BY LANGUAGE, NATIONALITY OR RACE.

"NO ONE HAS THE RIGHT TO HARM JEWS JUST BECAUSE THEY ARE JEWS."

LONDON, JUNE 21-(AP)--A BARRAGE BALLOON EXPLODED IN ~~EXEDZN~~ ZXZXZ THE LONDON AREA TODAY, INJURING A NUMBER OF PEOPLE -- INCLUDING CHILDREN-- AND DAMAGING 20 HOUSES ~~ZXZX~~ AND A SCHOOL. JUN 22 1943

THE BALLOON STRUCK THE SIDE OF A BUILDING WHIKE ASCENDING AND CAUGHT FIRE.

London, June 21-(AP)-The devastation created by huge fleets of allied [redacted] bombers among the war plants in Germany's industrial cities is "greater than anything known in any country in the world," the British air ministry declared tonight.

In a report on the damage heaped upon the vital Ruhr valley in recent weeks, the air ministry said reconnaissance [redacted] planes had returned recently with "striking evidence of the devastation which has brought the battle of the Ruhr to a new climax."

Apparently explaining last night's assault on the radio-location manufacturing center of Friedrichshafen, the ministry pointed out that massive day and night raids on German[redacted] have made it imperative for the [redacted] nazis to extend the number of their radio-location stations and keep them up to date. JUN 22 1943

"The Germans never have been so dependent on radio-location as they are today," the report said.

Aerial reconnaissance has established that more th[redacted],000 acres of the Barmen section of Wuppertal were devastated by RAF bombers in the heavy assault on the night of May 29.

The air ministry said fires spread unchecked through th[redacted] the part of the city which was known as Barmen before it merged with Eberfeld to form Wuppertal and is packed with small munitions and textile factories.

"There now is almost as much destruction here as there is in Duesseldorf, a town almost twice as large," the report said.

JUN 22 1943

30.24 — 5263

30.24 —5263

"NO industrial town in Germany has up to the present time been so completely wiped off the map."

JUN 22 1943

Among the few large factories in Barmen is one first priority plant, the J.P. Bemberge chemical works, known to have been severely damaged. Barmen is so congested that it has an overhead railroad which runs above the Wupper river.

The air ministry gave this picture of other new damage in the Ruhr as shown by aerial reconnaissance:

Duesseldorf--One hundred acres [redacted] flattened in addition to the 1,000-1,500 acres previously reported devastated in the June 11 raid. This 100 acres was "one of the most vital areas in the whole of Germany," containing many of Duesseldorf's most important factories. Key buildings [redacted] damaged in the Schiess-Defries [redacted] factory, the biggest works for the manufacture of machine tools in all Germany. Severe damage to the municipal gas works and power station.

Bochum--A considerable part of the [redacted] of the town devastated the night of June 12. Direct hits on the central railway station and tramways center. Steel plants damaged.

JUN 22 1943

Oberhausen--"Very heavy damage" in the center and north sections of the town following the raid [redacted] of June 14. Many industrial and public buildings destroyed and a zinc factory, municipal electricity works and tramways depot severely damaged.

Of the Schneider armament and locomotive works at Le Creusot, France, blasted by the RAF Saturday night, the air ministry said reconnaissance showed "more than [redacted] 30 large or medium sized buildings damaged" and fires still burning yesterday.

This raid was necessary, it said, "to confine the battle of the Ruhr to the Ruhr and prevent the enemy's heavy industries from being dispersed."

JUN 22 1943

London, June 21-(AP)-By inference, the German high command paid tribute today to the effectiveness of Yugoslav guerrilla opposition by claiming to have encircled and annihilated "strong groups of insurgent

The Berlin broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said air force detachments supported German, Italian, Bulgar and Croat troops in the fighting lasting several weeks. The forces obviously were detach from other fronts.

JUN 22 1943

A D.N. B. agency military correspondent reported that Gen. Draja Mihailovic, Yugoslav war minister and [redacted] army commander of the irregulars, had escaped. He reported the escape also of one Tito, head of a second group of partisans, which has been supported by the Russians. The dispatch said the organizations of both had been destroyed.

The campaign was said to have taken place in the Montenegran mountains. Swiss reports , however, said yugoslav insurgents had resumed attacks in the area 70 miles southwest of Zagreb while Nazi divisions concentrated on the mountains hundreds of miles away.

The Yugoslav government in London said it had no information about recent guerrilla operations. A London source with Balkan contacts d Tito had recently issued a declaration disclaiming communist aims and laining that his partisans were relying on the Russians because Russia the chief slav power. The statement was said to have stated that Tito's rtisans intend to respect private property. The forces of Mihailovic and to frequently have fought each other and their differences have been sflected in strained relations between Russia and the exiled Yugoslav overnment.

JUN 22 1943

LONDON, JUNE 21-( AP )- DIPLOMATIC CIRCLES PREDICTED TODAY [redacted] THAT JOVAN BANJANIN, COMMISSIONED BY KING PETER OF THE YUGOSLAVIAN GOVERNMENT IN EXILE TO FORM A NEW CABINET, WOULD INCLUDE ONE OR MORE [redacted] PARTISAN FACTION MEMBERS IN THE BODY.

THE PARTISANS HITHERTO HAVE BEEN WITHOUT ANY REPRESENTATION IN THE CABINET.

PRESUMABLY THE RESIGNATION OF PREMIER SLOBODAN [redacted] JOVANOVICH AND HIS CABINET CARRIED WITH IT THE

30.24- 5265

DESIGNATION OF GEN. DRAJA MIHAILOVICH AS MINISTER OF WAR.

THIS, HOWEVER, WOULD NOT AFFECT THE LATTER'S POSITION AS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE YUGOSLAV ARMED FORCES AND LEADER OF THE CHETNIKS, THE GUERRILLA GROUP WHICH HAS BEEN WAGING WAR WITHIN YUGOSLAVIA AGAINST THE AXIS. JUN 22 1943

THE PARTISANS ARE ANOTHER GUERRILLAX GRO OPERATED APART FROM WHICH MIHAILOVICH AND EVEN IMPUTED PRO-AXIS LEANINGS TO HIM. THEIR DIFFERENCES WERE RECENTLY REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN THE SUBJECTS OF NOTES FROM THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT TO THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT IN EXILE. THE PARTISANS IN YUGOSLAVIA WERE REPORTED TOX HAVE HAD MOSCOW'S GOOD FAVOR. SINCE THEN, HOWEVER, THE DISSOLUTION OF THE COMINTERN MAY HAVE HAD SOME BEARING ON THE YUGOSLAV INTERNAL SITUATION.

THE YUGOSLAVS HERE INDICATED THE NEW MINISTER OF WAR WOULD BE SOMEONE WHO COULD SIT WITH THE CABINET IN LONDON, WHICH MIHAILOVICH NEVER HAS BEEN ABLE TO DO.

BANJANIN IS A SERB FROM CROATIA. BEFORE THE FIRST WORLD WAR HE WAS A JOURNALIST IN ZAGREB AND THROUGHOUT THE WAR HE SERVED AS A MEMBER OF THE YUGOSLAV COMMITTEE IN LONDON, AN ORGANIZATION WHICH WORKED WITH BRITAIN AND FRANCE.

30.24 - 5265

HE HELPED DRAFT THE "DECLARATION OF CORFU" IN JULY 1917 WHICH LAID THE FOUNDATION FOR A UNITED KINGDOM OF SERBS, CROATS AND SLOVENES.

HE WAS SECOND DEPUTY REGENT OF YUGOSLAVI AFTER THE ASSASSINATION OF KING ALEXANDER, PETER'S FATHER, IN 1934.

ALSO IS A FORMER MINISTER OF FORESTRY. JUN 22 1943

dublin, eire, june 21-(ap)-prime minister eamon de valera's fianna fail party was favored today to win in tomorrow's general election which will decide whether his government will be returned or replaced by a coalition rule as favored by the opposition leader, william t. cosgrave.

all parties are agreed that eire should remain neutral in the war.

loss of nine seats in the dail (parliament) would remove the new york-born prime minister from the post he has held since 1932. t present paryy line-up is: fianna fail 72, fine gael 40, labor 9.

JUN 22 1943

independents 8.

cosgrave has campaigned for a national government for the duratic and de valera has stressed his "safety first" policies.

the prime minister has said he would not join a coalition government if the fianna fail loses control.

JUN 22 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AT LEAST 532 RAILWAY MEN HAVE BEEN KILLED OR WOUNDED GRAVELY IN ALLIED AIR RAIDS ON RAILROADS IN SICILY, SARDINIA, CALABRIA AND APULIA, THE BERLIN RADIO, QUOTING A ROME DISPATCH, REPORTED YESTERDAY (MON).

THE GERMAN BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THESE CASUALTIES FOLLOWED A SUGGESTION MUSSOLINI MADE TO HIS CABINET THAT RAILWAY MEN BE PROCLAIMED "HEROES OF THE DAY."

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 21--(AP)-- ~~XXXXX~~ DISPATCHES FROM BERLIN SAID TODAY THAT NAZI OFFICIALS HAD ORDERED ALL HOUSEHOLDERS IN GERMANY TO REDUCE THEIR FUEL AND GAS CONSUMPTION TEN PERCENT UNDER THAT OF 1942.

By John Colburn

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 21-(AP)-TRAVELLERS RETURNING TO ~~SWEDEN~~ SWEDEN FROM GERMANY REPORTED TODAY THAT SO MUCH OF BERLIN HAS BEEN "PLOWED UP" BY INTENSIVE RAF BOMBINGS THAT "MANY QUARTERS CANNOT BE RECOGNIZED."

JUN 22 1943

INFORMATION ON THE BOMB DAMAGE INFLICTED BY THE INTENSIVE MARCH BOMBARDMENTS HAS BEEN SLOW IN SEEPING OUT OF GERMAN AS THE NEW NAZIS RIGIDLY CONTROL TRAVEL IN THE AFFECTED AREAS.

A SWEDE WRITING RECENTLY IN THE MALMO ARBETET SAID "YOU ARE SOON AWARE OF THE M FACT THAT NEARLY ALL PARTS OF THE CITY GOT THEIR SHARE."

THE GERMANS ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ FEAR MOST THE RAF AND ITS MINES, SOME OF WHICH ARE SET TO EXPLODE 30 DAYS AFTER BEEN DROPPED, AND INCENDIARY BOMBS, TRAVELLERS AGREED.

AMONG PLACES DAMAGED BY BOMBS ARE THE FORMER RUSSIAN EMBASSY, NOW THE HEADQUARTERS FOR DR. ALFRED ROSENBERG, ADMINISTRATOR FOR OCCUPIED GERMANY. THE AMERICAN EXPRESS TRAVEL BUR AU

30.24 - 5267

AND THE RESIDENCE OF DR. PAUL JOSEPH GOEBBELS, GERMAN PROPAGANDA MINISTER. THE SIEMENS ELECTRICAL WORKS WAS AMONG THE FACTORIES DAMAGED.

JUN 22 1943

ONE TRAVELER SAID THAT SUCH PROMINENT STREETS AS XXX REGENSBURGERSTRASSE AND XXX GAISBERGSTRASSE WERE "A FIELD OF RUINS AS FAR AS ONE CAN SEE."

A XX SWEDE, QUOTED BY THE ARBETET REPORTED:

"ON THE WAY TO BAHNHOF AND FRIEDRICHSTRASSE YOU WILL FIND GAPS ROWS OF HOUSES, NOTH IN CHAUSSEESTRASSE AND FRIEDRICHSTRASSE. IN REINICKENDORF, WHERE THE WORKERS LIVE AND WHERE MANY FACTORIES ARE LOCATED YOU WILL FIND THE WORST DESTRUCTION.

"YOU COME ACROSS STREETS WHERE EVERY SECOND HOUSE HAS BEEN BOMBED OR SET AFIRE.

"THE PRAGER PLATZ LOOKS LIKE A GIGANTIC GRAVEL PIT. A FEW STEPS FROM THE PRAGER PLATZ I COULD COUNT MORE THAN 50 HOUSES LEVELED TO THE GROUND.

30.24 - 5267

" IN SCHOENEBERG YOU CAN SEE THE WORST EFFECTS OF THE INCENDIARY BOMBING. ROWS OF HOUSES HAVE BEEN BURT TO THE GROUND. DURING ONE RAID THE RESIDENTS FLED FROM SHELTER TO SHELTER TO ESCAPE THE FLAMES AND FIND PROTECTION AGAINST THE INCENDIARIES."

ONE TRAVELER SAID " ONLY BLACK RUINS REMAIN" IN THE VICINITY OF XXX HUTTENSTRASSE AND TURNSTRASSE. JUN 22 1943

THE CENTER OF BERLIN HAS BEEN DAMAGED," BUT NOTAS GREAT AS ONE WOULD EXPECT." THE KRANZLER CAFE AND THE CENTRAL HOTEL WERE TWO PROMINENT PLACES THAT WERE HIT. MANY OTHER SMALL CAFES WERE DAMAGED THE BOMB DAMAGE TO THE OPERA HOUSE HAS BEEN REPAIRED.

IN THE AREAS AROUND BERLIN, THE SUBURBS OF DAHLEM AND XXX GRUNEWALD WERE AFFECTED MOST BY THE ALLIED BOMBINGS.

June 21-AP

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA-SECOND ~~ADD SEFF FF EAD~~ MEDITERRANEAN XXX ON THE FIELD.

LIGHTNING PILOTS BLASTED AN EVEN DOZEN FROM THE SKY AND MARAUDER GUNNERS BROUGHT DOWN TWO MORE, LEAVING ONLY ONE GERMAN FLIER TO RETURN TO HIS BASE WITH THE STORY OF THE DEFEAT.

IT WAS ONE OF THE MAJOR FIELD DAYS OF THE CAMPAIGN FOR P-38 INTERCEPTOR PILOTS. THE PARTICIPANTS WERE PACED BY LIEUT. HAROLD

JUN 22 1943

C.LENTZ OF 122 EVERGREEN AVENUE, SALEM, ORE., WHO SHOT DOWN THREE NAZI PLANES IN FLAMES.

FOUR OTHER LIGHTNING PILOTS EACH DESTROYED TWO NAZI CRAFT IN THE BRIEF, ACTION-PACKED ENGAGEMENT. THEY WERE LIEUTENANTS HOWARD A. GILLIAM OF 802 MAIN STREET, HATTIESBURG,MISS.; LEONARD P.STEPHAN OF 2417 SOUTH ADAMS STREET, FORT WORTH, TEX.; CHARLIE W.BROWN OF 421 EAST EIGHTH STREET, RENO,NEV.; AND DAVID M.CONN OF CLERMONT, FLA.

ONE ENEMY FIGHTER WAS CREDITED TO LIEUT. FREDERIC L.KOHN OF THE LANGHAM HOTEL, LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

JUN 22 1943

THE SUCCESSFUL B-26 MARAUDER GUNNERS WERE STAFF SERGT.JOHN L.WHITE OF 628 FLORIDA AVENUE, BATON ROUGE,LA., AND MASTER SERGT. HARRY R.MCLAIN OF 501 CARVER STREET, HOLLIDAYSBURG,PA., WHO SAID "I WAS A BIT WORRIED AT FIRST BECAUSE ONE OF MY TAIL GUNS WAS OUT OF ACTION, BUT C GAVE HIM ALL I HAD WITH THE REMAINING GUN AND IT WAS ENOUGH."

ANOTHER MARAUDER FORMATION RAIDED THE BORIZZO AIR FIELD, HALF WAY BETWEEN MARSALA AND TRAPANI, AND CAPT.JACK A.SIMS OF 902 WEST LOVELL STREET, KALAMAZOO,MICH., SAID IT WAS A "GOODNBOMBING." EXPLOSIVES SMASHED PARKED AIRCRAFT AND KIT WORKSHOPS, BARRACKS, ADMINISTRATION AND CONTROL BUILDINGS AND AMMUNITION STORAGE DUMPS.

THE FORMATION WAS ATTACKED BY 25 ENEMY FIGHTERS OFF AN OUTLYING ISLAND TWO LIGHTNING PILOTS--LIEUTENANTS EARL L.BOATMAN OF OKMULGEE, OKLA., AND WAYNE M.MANLOVE OF MILTON, IND.--SHOT DOWN ONE AXIS FLIER APIECE.

A THIRD MARAUDER FORMATION DROVE OFF NINE ENEMY PLANES DURING AN ATTACK ON MILO AIR FIELD, NEAR TRAPANI, AND SCORED BOMB HITS AMONG AIRCRAFT CAUGHT AGROUND AND BUILDINGS EDGING THE FIELD.

IN AN EXTRAORDINARY DISPLAY OF COOLNESS DURING THIS MISSION BOMBARDIER LIEUT.FLOYD M.RICHARDS OF DALHART,TEX., TEMPORARILY BLINDED BY A FLAK BURST, LOCATED THE BOMB RELEASE SWITCH WITH HIS FEET WHILE SPRAWLED ON THE PLANE'S FLOOR AND DROPPED THE EXPLOSIVES ON THE TARGET FOR A BULLSEYE.

JUN 22 1943

RICHARDS' EYES WERE ON HIS BOMB SIGHT WHEN THE ANTI-AIRCRAFT SHELL EXPLOSION BLEW A HOLE IN THE NOSE OF THE AIRCRAFT AND TUMBLED HIM BACK TO THE EAR OF HIS COMPARTMENT.

"I COUNTED SECONDS UNTIL I FIGURED IT WAS TIME TO DROP THE BOMBS," HE SAID, "AND, AS I WAS HOLDING MY HANDS OVER MY EYES, I HAD TO FEEL FOR THE SWITCH WITH MY FEET."

STAFF SERGT. WILLIAM J.GIBSON OF SYCAMORE, ILL., RADIO GUNNER, SAID HE SAW RICHARDS' BOMBS GO DOWN "AND THEY WERE RIGHT ON THE MARK."

LIEUT.HARRY BLACK OF ARAB,ALA., THE PILOT, REMARKED THAT RICHARDS "CERTAINLY KEPT HIS HEAD--HE EVEN REMEMBERED TO CLOSE THE BOMB DOORS." THE BOMBARDIER'S BLINDNESS LASTED ONLY ABOUT 10 MINUTES AND A FLIGHT SURGEON WHO EXAMINED HIM SAID HE WOULD BE IN SHAPE FOR THE NEXT MISSION.

ONE MARAUDER--"BIG FAT MAMMA"--WAS REPORTED BY STAFF SERGT. ROY W.ROGERS, JR., OF 652 NORTH FOURTH AVENUE, WALLA WALLA, WASH., TO HAVE "PICKED UP MORE HOLES THAN A SWISS CHEESE" IN THE MILO RAID.

"THE BIG BLACK PUFFS CAME SO CLOSE YOU COULD EVEN HEAR THE EXPLOSIONS," HE SAID. (DEFENSIVE GUNFIRE AND ENGINE NOISES NORMALLY

JUN 22 1943

30.24 - 5269

30.24 -5269

MAKE AN ANTI-AIRCRAFT BARRAGE APPEAR TO AERIAL CREWS AS A SILENT SHOW.)

U.S. WARHAWKS AND SPITFIRES INTERCEPTED EIGHT FOCKE WULF-190 FIGHTER-BOMBERS ESCORTED BY 12 MESSERSCHMITT-109S WHILE PATROLING OVE PANTELLERIA, BUT THE ENEMY JETTISONED BOMBS AND FLED.

THE RAF ANNOUNCD IT HAD BECOME KNOWN THAT AN AXIS SHIP DAMAGED BY A TORPEDO-CARRYING WELLINGTON FRIDAY NIGHT HAD BEEN IDENTIFIED AS A LARGE TANKER.

A B-17 BASE WAS CHEERED BY DISCLOSURE THAT ONE OF ITS FLYING FORTRESSES, MISSING AFTER THE DAYLIGHT RAID ON MESSINA FRIDAY, HAD LANDED AT PANTELLERIA AND ALL MEMBERS OF THE CREW WERE SAFE.

JUN 22 1943

BY DON WHITEHEAD

SOMEWHERE IN FRENCH MOROCCO, JUNE 20 (DELAYED)-(AP)-IN CEREMONIES WELCOMING HOME FRENCH REGIMENTS WHICH FOUGHT IN TUNISIA, THREE DIVISIONS OF THE NEW FRENCH ARMY IN NORTH AFRICA PROUDLY PARADED WITH THEIR AMERICAN-MADE WEAPONS TODAY.

THRONGS OF CHEERING MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN -- SOME IN TEARS -- STOOD FOR TWO HOURS BENEATH THE BLAZING SUN AS TANKS, ARMORED CARS, ARTILLERY, TRUCKS AND JEEPS ROLLED BEFORE THEM IN THE STREETS OF THIS CITY IN A DISPLAY SYMBOLIC OF THE GROWING MIGHT OF THIS NEW ALLIED ARMY.

TO THE CASUAL SPECTATOR, IT MIGHT HAVE APPEARED TO BE A PARADE OF AMERICAN TROOPS -- IN ADDITION TO THE AMERICAN EQUIPMENT, MOST OF THE FRENCH SOLDIERS WORE UNIFORMS SUCH AS WORN BY THE YANKS.

SOME WERE DRESSED IN KHAKI, SOME DENIMS, OTHERS FATIGUE OVERALLS, AND BUT FOR THEIR REGIMENTAL ARM PATCHES AND INSIGNIA THEY LOOKED STRICTLY GI.

BUT TURBANS, WRAPPED TO RESEMBLE THE OVERSEAS CAP, STILL ADORNED THE HEADS OF SOME NATIVE TROOPS.

JUN 22 1943

WHITEHEAD 2--58

GENERAL MATHENET, A DIVISIONAL COMMANDER, PRESENTED THE CROIX DE GUERRE TO THE SEVENTH REGIMENT DE TERAILLEURS MOROCAIN FOR HEROIC ACTION IN TUNIS AND ALSO PINNED A CROIX DE GUERRE ON THE FLAG OF THE REGIMENTS OF THE SECOND BATTALION FOR GALLANTRY.

"WE ARE PROUD OF ~~ME~~ OUR NEW ARMS AND ALSO OUR UNIFORMS," HE DECLARED. "WE NEVER HAD ANYTHING LIKE THEM BEFORE AND THEY WERE GIVEN IN A NEW SPIRIT OF CONFIDENCE TO OUR TROOPS."

WHITEHEADS 01200--REW--SW--528p

JUN 22 1943

SAO PAULO, BRAZIL, JUNE 21-(AP)-ACTIVE PARTICIPATION BY BRAZIL IN T
INVASION OF EUROPE WAS FORECAST AT A PRESS CONFERENCE TODAY BY GENERAL
CHRISTOVAO BARCELLOS, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES BRAZILIAN MIXED CONFERENCE AT RIO DE ~~JANEIR~~ JANEIRO.

A DISPATCH TO O GLOBO QUOTED BARCELLOS AS SAYING A BRAZILIAN EXPED
ARY FORCE WAS PREPARING TO PROCEED OVERSEAS TO TAKE PART IN THE INVASIO WITH THE ALLIES IN WHICH "IT WILL FIGHT WITH GREAT VIGOR."

NEW YORK, JUNE 21-(AP)-ANY BELGIAN WHO ~~X~~ "DISPENSES MEDICAL TREATMENT TO MEMBERS OF THE GERMAN ARMY OR ADMINISTRATION, EXCEPT IN CASES OF EXTREME URGENCY" MAY BE IMPRISONED AT HARD ~~LABOR~~ LABOR BY PROVISIONS OF THE NEW SECURITY CODE INSTITUTED BY NAZI OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES IN BELGIUM.

JUN 22 1943

ALTHOUGH THE CODE DID NOT SAY SO IT WAS PRESUMED THAT THE OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES FEARED THE RESULTS OF ANY MEDICAL TREATMENT ADMINISTERED BY SUBJUGATED BELGIANS.

THE CODE, ~~WHICH~~ PUBLISHED BY THE OWI FROM A COPY WHICH HAS REACHED THIS COUNTRY, REPLACES 25 SECURITY ORDINANCES ISSUED SINCE
THE OCCUPATION OF BELGIUM IN 1940. A SPECIAL PROVISION EMPOWERS THE NAZI COURTS TO PRONOUNCE THE DEATH PENALTY EVEN IN CASES IN WHICH IT IS NOT SPECIFICALLY PROVIDED.

AMONG OFFENSES CONSIDERED THE MOST SERIOUS BY THE CODE ARE LACK OF VIGILANCE BY CIVILIANS GUARDING INDUSTRY OR AGRICULTURE, SABOTAGE, FAILURE TO REPORT SABOTAGE, HELP TO ESCAPED PRISONERS, FAILURE TO REPORT
REPORT ESCAPED PRISONERS, FORGERY OF FOOD RATION CUPONS, VIOLENCE

JUN 22 1943

AGAINST COLLABORATORS, FURTHERING OF COMMUNIST OR BOLSHEVIST PLOTS, MAKING ANTI-GERMAN PROPAGANDA MATERIAL, ACTS OF VIOLENCE AGAINST GERMAN ARMED FORCES, ~~MERE~~ POSSESSION OF A WIRELESS TRANSMITTER, DESECRATION OF MILITARY GRAVES AND PLUNDER.

JUN 22 1943

30.24 - 5271

30.24 — 5271

LEWIS CALLS OFF COAL STRIKE UNTIL OCT. 31 IF GOVERNMENT KEEPS CONTROL OF MINES; ALLIES RAID RUHR AND ITALY DAY AND NIGHT

JUN 23 1943

UNION'S DECISION HINTS COURT SUIT ON TRAVEL WAGE

U.M.W. Chief Tells Men to Work Until Oct. 31 Under Government Control.

BOARD APPEALS TO FDR

WLB Asks President to Use All His Powers to Keep Mines Open.

NO CONTRACT SIGNED

Production to Be Resumed Under Present Pay, Working Conditions.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP) John L. Lewis tonight ordered his mine workers back into the pits until Oct. 31, with a broad indication that during that time they would resort to the courts to obtain the portal-to-portal pay they failed to get from the War Labor Board.

The action came just a few hours after the WLB had referred the coal strike to President Roosevelt with a call for the use of "all the power of government" to force Mr. Lewis into a working contract in line with WLB directions.

Reports from the fields indicated that some of the mines, closed for two days by the third work stoppage in seven weeks, will resume operations late tomorrow and virtually full production seemed assured by Thursday.

Conditions Unchanged

The announcement of the back-to-work decision, issued in the name of the United Mine Workers Policy committee, laid heavy stress on the fact that the men were returning to work under existing pay and conditions, only as employes of the government and not of the mine ownership.

"This arrangement," the statement said, "is predicated upon operation of the mines and their collateral production units by the United States government and will automatically terminate if government control is vacated prior to the above mentioned date."

The indication of reliance on courts to get underground travel pay came in this paragraph of the announcement:

Law Suit Considered

"The executive officers of the international union are hereby expressly authorized to exercise their discretion in the filing of suits at law, or by any other necessary means, to protect the equity of the membership in the matter of portal to portal compensation, both as to current and deferred liability."

The U.M.W. chief was asked after the Policy committee meeting if there were any other arrangements with Secretary Ickes, government custodian of the mines. He said the committee statement spoke for itself. Asked whether the check-off of union dues would be continued, Mr. Lewis merely pointed to the statement which said that "minimum wages and conditions" will be continued.

Secretary Ickes, advised of the back-to-work order, said:

"The mine workers understand that my job is solely to produce the coal necessary for war purposes and to heat America's homes this winter. To do this will require the utmost cooperation of the mine workers and of the entire coal industry. I feel sure that this cooperation will be given."

WLB Chairman William H. Davis, asked to comment, said:

"I take Mr. Lewis' statement to mean that the production of coal will be resumed under the conditions ordered by the War Labor board and I think that's all the country is interested in. It appears that the new deadline is Hallowe'en, when pumpkins frighten children."

Sees Issue Postponed

Rep. Wadsworth (R.-N.Y.) viewed the arrangement as "just another postponement of settlement of the fundamental issue: Is the government as representative of the whole people in time of war superior to John L. Lewis?"

"That issue had better be settled and the sooner the better," Rep. Wadsworth added.

There was no comment from the White House.

Lewis Yields Ground

While Mr. Lewis appeared to have given ground, in that he ordered the miners back without getting the $1.30 a day he has demanded, the mines by the same token appeared to be lost to the operators temporarily, if not for the duration of the war. How extensive a form government control will take, remained to be seen.

One point still was at issue—there had been no compliance with a WLB order that the miners sign a contract embodying substantially the conditions under which they were ordered back to work.

The formal order to locals will go out tomorrow, and there was no definite indication tonight just when full-scale operation of the pits would be resumed.

Fear Effect of Strike

Earlier, with steel production already being curtailed, Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production board warned in a statement that the strike may have "disastrous effects" on the war program.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes, government operator of the coal mines, emphasized Mr. Nelson's warning with a report that stocks of coal had "diminished progressively" since May 1 when reserves averaged 49 days supply.

"It seems to me unthinkable," Mr. Nelson said in a statement, "that any Americans, knowing the facts, would cut the life-blood of the all-important steel industry."

The WPB chairman, saying he made no attempt to pass on the economics of the coal miners' situation, added: "I do wish to emphasize, however, that the needs of our country come first and that we are today in a situation in which in the interest of our country, no man, no group and no class has a right to hamper war production."

Steel Expansion Abandoned

Mr. Nelson, pointing out that his action came "at one of the most critical moments in our war production effort," announced postponement of the WPB's drive to increase steel output by 1,000,000 tons in the next three months to meet armament demands.

"We may get a sharp decrease" instead of that increase, he said.

Secretary Ickes reported that about 1,700 plants, including two small railroads and two steel plants, had less than ten days supply of coal on hand.

"Further reduction of stockpiles at this time will present an extremely serious problem," Secretary Ickes said, "because it will be difficult, if not impossible, to build them back up to a size that will safely see us through next winter."

He figured May 1 stockpiles at 78,665,000 tons of bituminous coal. June 1 estimates will be available at the end of the week.

William H. Davis, chairman of the WLB, sent President Roosevelt a letter recalling how the board had ordered the union and operators on June 18 to sign a new, two-year contract embracing the terms of their old contract, plus concessions amounting to about 20 cents a day and a no-strike pledge.

Mr. Lewis, who has been demanding $1.30 a day for underground travel, balked at this contract.

Mr. Davis' letter to the President said: "Although the War Labor board was not unanimous in voting for the directive order of June 18, it is unanimous in advising you that in its opinion the directive order should be enforced and all the power of the government necessary for its enforcement should be exercised."

BIG U. S. BOMBERS FLY DEEP IN REICH IN DAYLIGHT RAID

Synthetic Plant at Huls Set Aflame, Antwerp Attacked.

JUN 23 1943

R.A.F. HITS RUHR

British Planes Return to Action in Round-the-Clock Assault.

JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Wednesday, June 23—(AP) Formations of R.A.F. heavy bombers thundered over the southeast coast toward the continent early today after American Flying Fortresses, completing round-the-clock smashes on the German Ruhr for the first time, kindled a square mile of blazes that raged through the German synthetic rubber town of Huls yesterday.

The American raid, which plunged directly into the heart of Nazi war production, came shortly after the R.A.F. had blasted the important Ruhr steel town of Krefeld with upwards of 2,000 tons of bombs.

Today's R.A.F. operation indicated that the Allies were keeping up the bombings, which a German war reporter in a Berlin broadcast described as "conveyor-belt actions."

Antwerp Bombed

Yesterday, other Flying Fortresses also struck by daylight at the former General Motors plant at Antwerp, and R.A.F. Mitchells smashed docks and shipping at Rotterdam, while great forces of American and British fighters made wide, diversionary sweeps to complete 24 hours of tremendous activity.

The bombing of the General Motors plant at Antwerp came only 24 hours after Allied broadcasts had warned all Belgians to move away from all such industries manufacturing war materials for the Nazis.

The Flying Fortresses thrust without escort through strong enemy air and ground defenses to strike Huls, near Recklinghausen, seeking to knock out plants that supply the Germans " a considerable amount of buna rubber."

Fortress crewmen said mounds of earth appeared raised atop the plant buildings, with trees planted in them. The rubber factory beneath the trees is a modern installation, built since the start of the war. But the American bombers turned the area into sheets of flame.

700 Planes Raid Krefeld

They left fires and destruction nearly as disastrous as the R.A.F. saturation attack by more than 700 planes during Monday night upon Krefeld, 40 miles southwest of Huls, when the British delivered "one of the heaviest bomb loads so far released on any German target." The Air ministry gave no other description, but unofficial sources estimated that 2,000 tons of bombs were dropped, raining down at one time at the rate of five two-ton blockbusters or 20,000 pounds of bombs every minute. Nazi ground defenses were "soon overwhelmed."

But the raids took a heavy toll—20 U. S. bombers and four fighters, and 44 British bombers and one fighter.

Close Air Cooperation

The double blows into the Ruhr gave a new indication of close British-American air cooperation, and indicated that American daylight precision raids were being directed toward obliterating specific targets remaining after widespread British night attacks.

And the sudden employment of U. S. bombers in an area heretofore pounded only by the British—plus the sudden British pounce against Le Creusot which had been an American hunting ground—hinted at a strategy to keep the Germans guessing about where to concentrate their limited day and night fighter forces.

Smoke from fires set at Huls rose 6,000 feet as tons of explosives were dumped upon the rubber plant, returning airmen said. Huls is approximately 25 miles southwest of Munster and 15 miles northwest of Recklinghausen. There is another Huls near Krefeld.

Rotterdam Raid Diversion

The Air ministry news service said the atack on Rotterdam was a diversion to draw German fighters away from the Fortresses as the Americans were about to go into Germany unescorted.

When the Fortresses were coming back, more squadrons of Spitfires and Typhoons met them with split second precision at a rendezvous, beating off formations of German fighters which followed the bombers across Holland.

A U. S. communique said "bombing results were good and fires were started in both targets." "A considerable number" of enemy fighters were reported destroyed, and seven German planes were destroyed by Allied P-47's.

These day and night attacks upon the Ruhr, a fountainhead of German war might, added new havoc to the destruction of German industries and cities described by the Air Ministry as "greater than anything known in any country."

The Ruhr area supplies Germany with some three-fourths of her coal, four-fifths of her coke, and two-thirds of her iron and steel. It embraces bomb-scarred cities and mines in an area about 50 miles long and 40 wide.

44 Bombers Lost

Forty-four R.A.F. bombers failed to return from the assault upon Krefeld, four miles west of the Rhine river, a city of 170,000 peacetime population that is the site of heavy steel industries, coal mines and chemical works. Special steel vital in war machines are made in

JUN 23 1943

Krefeld, 13 miles northwest of Duesseldorf.

Returning fliers said that tremendous fires were left raging there, with Krefeld's glow visible from the Netherlands coast, and that one stupendous explosion lasted six seconds.

One Canadian said the great blast apparently came from the center of the fires, while pilot Officer John Pratt of Winnipeg said it was to the west of the main concentration of fires, and was "the king" of all explosions.

Another airman described the blazes as "the biggest concentration I have ever seen." Smoke rose 10,000 feet above the city.

An Air Ministry communique said "preliminary reports indicate that the attack was very heavy and concentrated."

The 44 big bombers lost over Krefeld were the highest toll suffered by the R.A.F. so far this year. Forty three were lost two weeks ago when "the greatest attacking force yet sent over Germany"—its size still not officially disclosed—struck Dusseldorf and Muenster. Fifty-two were missing in the 1,000-plane raid on Bremen on June 25, 1942, and 44 in the first 1,000- bomber attack, made upon Cologne on May 30, 1942.

It was the 22nd raid upon Krefeld, and the 35th, said the Air ministry, upon German industrial centers in a 20-mile area of the Rhineland represented by Krefeld, Duisburg and Dusseldorf.

Hospitals Wrecked

The Germans said "numerous blocks of buildings" and two hospitals had been wrecked in the Krefeld attack, which they said was centered "especially in residential quarters."

While the British heavies were over Krefeld, fighters swept out on intruder patrols over France and Belgium, attacking the airfield at Poix, and hitting railway targets, the communique reported.

BOMBERS SMASH AT ITALIAN CITIES

JUN 23 1943

Great Fires Touched Off in Naples by Fleet of 100 Fortresses.

HAROLD V BOYLE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 22—(AP)—Waves of American and British bombers, striking in whipsaw fashion from bases in both North Africa and the Middle East, rocked the Italian mainland yesterday with shattering assaults on the port of Naples, the toe cities of Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni and several other southern industrial towns.

American Flying Fortresses and British Wellingtons intensified the announced campaign to bomb Italian industry out of the war with day-long attacks which left the vital factory area of Naples smoking from 25 great fires, one covering an area a mile wide.

Workers Warned to Flee

These devastating smashes at the port city and the nearby air stores depot of Cancello, beginning before dawn and continuing into the afternoon, followed Allied broadcasts urging Italian workers to remove themselves and their families from industrial areas and "demonstrate for peace."

At the same time British and American heavy bombers from the Middle East command struck at Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni with pre-dawn and daylight attacks, demolishing harbor installations and starting huge fires.

American twin-engined Mitchells joined in the offensive against Mussolini's mainland for the first time. Supported by P-38 Lightning fighters, the medium bombers battered railroad yards and other targets at Salerno and scored 25 direct hits on railroad sidings at Battipaglia. Both towns are south of Naples.

Malta Planes Busy

Malta-based Spitfires and intruders also participated in the widespread Allied assault, plastering rail communications in Sicily and southern Italy with bombs and cannon fire.

The Spitfires strafed a road convoy in Sicily, killing a number of soldiers and leaving a staff car ablaze, and then shot up ground defenses and nearby buildings. The night-flying intruders bombed railway stations on both Sicily and the mainland, shot up a train near Stromboli in Sicily and bombed another near Metaponto, Italy.

100 Fortresses Attack

Blockbuster-carrying Wellingtons opened the Naples attack, starting a number of fires in Italy's greatest port with high explosives and incendiaries. Then 100 Flying Fortresses renewed the assault by daylight.

Two fleets of the four-engined B-17s smashed through 30 to 40 enemy fighters to dump their bombs on roundhouses, locomotive repair shops, the Royal arsenal and torpedo factory, stores and oil dumps.

At Cancello, direct hits smashed several buildings and left at least half of the railroad trackage useless.

R.A.F. bombers from the Middle East also started the scissors-like attacks on Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni. Then American Liberators of the 9th U. S. air force swept in by daylight and rained nearly 275,000 pounds of high explosives and incendiaries on the same targets.

20 Fighters Shot Down

A Cairo communique said the American bombers shot down 20 of 40 enemy fighters which challenged them, destroyed a harbor mole at San Giovanni and capsized a ferry in the slip with a direct hit. Railway sidings also were plastered by the attackers, who reported a great amount of smoke rising as they left.

At Reggio Calabria bombs were dropped on the mole area, ferry terminus, railway sidings and station, and the communique said some explosives fell in the town.

"Our formations met unusually heavy fighter opposition and underwent aerial bombardment," the Cairo communique said, indicating that enemy planes had renewed their tactics of attempting to drop bombs on the raiding planes from above.

(Cairo dispatches said heavy fighter forces have been concentrated by the Axis in southern Italy to combat the non-stop Allied attacks on both sides of the Strait of Messina. They said yesterday's raiders encountered about 50 Messerschmitt 109s and 110s, Macchi 202s, Focke-Wulf 190s and Heinkel 113s).

The Northwest Africa Air forces bagged three enemy fighters yesterday, bringing the day's total to at least 23 compared with the loss of two Allied craft. The Northwest African fliers boosted their four-day total of Axis planes downed to 57.

Aerial photographs showed a belt of flame a mile wide at Naples, where the royal arsenal and torpedo factory were left burning. The large fire was started by a direct hit on an oil dump.

Allies Will Invade Italy First, Nazi Writer Believes

Balkan Coast, However, Must Also Be Watched, Says German Press Chief

JUN 23 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, Wednesday, June 23—The Germans, who so often left the Italians in the lurch in North Africa, tried today to bolster Italy's morale by promising to help "in case of a decisive battle on Italian soil."

The assertion was made in a German broadcast recorded here by the Ministry of Information amid fresh signs that the Nazis are reinforcing the Calabrian coastline with large numbers of troops and planes.

It came a day after a German press chief declared that "in this hour fraught with tension" the signs indicate an Allied offensive "directed against Italy," but "of course the other Mediterranean coasts, especially the Balkans, must be watched, too."

Recalling All Troops

The Germans indicated in today's overseas broadcast that Mussolini was calling home all his troops policing occupied territory.

The broadcast said that "during the war only part of the Italians' arms have ben reserved for the defense of Italy but now all armed Italian forces are defending their mother country."

Erich Schneyder, editor in chief of the German news agency, Transocean, in a Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, said yesterday that "Italy is expecting invasion."

Allied Preparations

The Allied preparations for an assault, he asserted, included "a concentration of warships especially in Gibraltar and Alexandria," fleets of landing craft including tank-carriers, and troop concentrations, among them "strong parachute units" of British soldiers.

But all this, said Schneyder, does not "guarantee" an attack against Italy. The plan, he said, might be simply to try for Sicily, Sardinia and Corsica, and not the Italian mainland, in order to clear the Mediterranean.

"The advantages of invasion of European territory in the center of the Mediterranean are obvious," he said, describing Italy as a land with trains "full to bursting" as "great armies" were lined up to repulse any landing.

Boasts Of Nazi Strength

On the same theme of reassurance for the Axis home front, Capt. Kurt Jeserich in another Berlin broadcast asserted that "knowledge of the strength of the German armed forces and of German armament potential shows that the German military leadership will be able to cope with a synchronized attack on several fronts."

He declared the "military strength of the Reich and of its Allies—despite undeniable losses—is considerably greater than on June 22, 1941."

Russian Losses Cited

Jeserich said 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 Russians had been "killed, mutilated and captured" since the Eastern campaign began, boasted that the German air force was "preparing fresh blows" and that new weapons were being produced.

"It is not known," he said, "when the Reich and its allies will launch a new action against Soviet Russia, but it is a fact that they have the strength to do so and are continually increasing this strength."

The Berlin correspondent of the Social Demokraten in Stockholm quoted the Nazi-dominated Bruesseler Zeitung as stating that "all conditions which favored the Axis before now favor the Allies."

London, Wednesday, June 23 (AP)—London early today had a brief air-raid warning—its fiftieth of the year and six hundred and forty-eighth of the war.

Raiders, striking at southeast England this morning, were reported to have dropped bombs in one place.

WAR RISK RATES CUT ON ALLIED VESSELS

LONDON, Wednesday, June 23.—(AP) Substantial reductions in war risk insurance rates on shipping were announced today by the British government.

Typical of the revised schedule is the new 12 1-2 per cent rate on voyages between America and India east of Cape Comorin on the southern tip of India. The old rate was 15 per cent.

Red Call for New Front.

London, June 22 (A. P.).—Germany, shocked by recent reverses, is facing a military and political crisis, but the Allies must open a second front in Europe this year if they hope for a quick victory, the Russians declared today on the second anniversary of Hitler's invasion of the Soviet Union.

In a special communique broadcast by the Moscow radio the Soviet Information Bureau said: "During the past year the German Army has had no military successes. On the contrary it has suffered one defeat after another on the Soviet front and in North Africa. Thus, as a result, the German military power has been shaken and a crisis caused. But this is not enough for victory; everything now depends on how the Allies will use the favorable situation for a second front, without which victory is impossible."

Today's anniversary found the millions of soldiers facing each other along the front virtually deadlocked, with activity confined to artillery exchanges, scouting forays and a continuous exchange of aerial blows.

The anniversary was just another day of work and battle for Russians. The only special event today was an exhibit of captured German weapons which opened in Gorki Park of Culture and Rest. Moscow newspapers featured a review of the war as published in a special High Command communique and a description of the exhibit at the park.

Americans Hit Nazi Rubber Works in Their First Attack on Area.

FOLLOW UP R. A. F. ASSAULT

British Night Flyers Smash Rhineland Steel City—Lose 44 Planes.

London, June 22 (A. P.). — Flying Fortresses flew unescorted into the Ruhr for the first time today to attack the Huls synthetic rubber plant at Recklinghausen, while another formation attacked the former General Motors plant at Antwerp, a United States communique said tonight.

Twenty bombers were lost, but the Fortresses shot down a considerable number of attacking enemy planes, the communique said.

JUN 23 1943

American Flyers Jubilant.

American pilots returned jubilant from their smash at the Ruhr and Antwerp.

The Huls synthetic rubber center which unescorted Flying Fortresses battered near Recklinghausen, Germany, is on the Dortmund-Ems canal and within thirty-five miles of the favorite R. A. F. targets of Duesseldorf, Dortmund and Duisburg.

Columns of gray smoke puffed 6,000 feet into the air above the synthetic rubber center of Huls, returning American flyers said.

Huge fires which blazed over a square mile were started, and these were fanned by several explosions which shot orange flames aloft.

Many tons of high explosives were dropped with ruinous accuracy, the pilots said. Members of the crew described the opposition as tough, but far below that encountered on the last American raid on Kiel and Bremen on June 13.

Between 50 and 100 Focke-Wulfs, Messerschmitts and Junkers-88s met the Americans at the enemy coast and kept up a running battle until the bombers were homeward bound and met a Spitfire escort, which took up the enemy's challenge.

The Antwerp plant had been turning out auto parts for the Germans. It was the fourth American attack on Antwerp.

The operation, coming twelve hours after a 700-bomber attack on Krefeld, was a new indication of the tight co-ordination of the American and British air operations. It was further indication that American daylight precision raids were being directed at specific targets remaining after wide-scale British area raids.

The daylight raids followed a pulverizing R. A. F. night attack on Krefeld, an industrial city in the Rhineland. Recklinghausen is about thirty miles northeast of Krefeld.

30.24-5273

30.24—5273

"Bombing" results were good and fires were started in both targets," the Eighth United States Air Force announced. The Huls plant supplies the German Army with considerable Buna rubber.

While the bombers were doing the heavy work "many squadrons of American, British, Dominion and Allied fighters carried out escorting and supporting operations," the communique said. Mitchell bombers, manned by the R. A. F., attacked the docks and shipping at Rotterdam.

The fighters on these operations shot down at least seven of the enemy. Four fighters were lost.

The British Air Ministry said that more than 700 Stirlings, Halifaxes, Lancasters and Wellingtons flayed Krefeld last night with one of the heaviest loads so far released on any German target. The British lost forty-four bombers in the Krefeld raid.

At one time during the attack, the Ministry said, five 4,000-pound bombs were dropping every minute. The attack lasted fifty minutes and it was the heaviest raid yet on Krefeld, which lies very near Germany's western frontier.

One veteran Lancaster pilot said that the fires were some of the fiercest he has seen in twenty-one operations.

"Last night the whole targets appeared to be one solid mass of fire glowing red and giving off dense clouds of smoke which rose thousands of feet into the sky," said the pilot, Sergt. A. E. Wilson.

Late arrivals added that the smoke was more than three miles high and one flyer declared:

"If you can imagine a blaze five or six times as big as the one at Coventry, you get some idea of what Krefeld looked like last night."

Fifty-two bombers were lost in the 1,000-plane attack on Bremen on June 25, 1942, and forty-four were lost over Cologne on May 30, 1942, in the first of the 1,000-bomber attacks. Two weeks ago forty-three bombers of the "greatest attacking force yet sent over Germany"—all four-engined planes—failed to return from an attack on Duesseldorf and Muenster. These were the R. A. F.'s greatest losses.

Fighters on Intruder patrols over France and Belgium also attacked railway targets and the airfield at Poix, the communique said.

The Germans, meanwhile, sent the heaviest attacking force in several weeks against London and British coastal objectives, damaging some property in London and causing a number of casualties. More than a score of Nazi night raiders headed up the east and south coasts and then scattered inland, but observers said that not more than two or three reached the Greater London area.

1304 ARE KILLED IN TURKISH QUAKE

London, June 22 (A. P.).—Reuters reported from Istanbul today that 1,304 dead had been counted so far in the Turkish earthquake which shook Anatolia Sunday.

Ankara, June 22 (A. P.).—Press dispatches said today that about 1,000 buildings were destroyed, and 1,000 were damaged in the town of Adapazar, near Istanbul, and it was reported officially that about half the buildings in nearby Hendek were wrecked. Rescue trains carrying doctors, nurses and workers were arriving from Ankara, Istanbul and other points.

Army Exchange Seeking To Keep Its Profits Down

JUN 23 1943

London, Wednesday, June 23 (AP). The United States Army Exchange Service which sells cigarettes, candy and toilet articles to forces in the European theater of operations has a problem—keeping profits down.

In the seven months ended in October, 1942, the exchange's profit was $2,000,000, headquarters disclosed today. Five eighths of this sum was given to various funds for soldiers, and the remainder was retained as working capital.

Nearly ninety per cent. of goods in stock is of British manufacture, and that is the source of the profit because these goods are sold at controlled prices. To counteract that, American goods are sold at cost.

Both Sides See Invasion Near.

London, June 22 (A. P.).—Highlighted by Russia's call for a second front this year to bring a quick termination of the war both Axis and Allied informants sounded invasion warnings today and the two sides continued mobilizing their resources.

The Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded by the London Evening News, listed concentrations of Allied troops and landing craft in the Mediterranean, including what it described as a major British parachute force.

The Axis broadcast followed upon an Allied signal last night to underground forces in France to be ready to act any moment henceforth.

Wavell Cites India's Importance As Base

London, June 22 (AP)—India is the most vital supply base for the United Nations' strategy in the Eastern theater of war, Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell told a press conference today.

Although the newly appointed Viceroy said the door still remained open for further political discussions of India's status in the post-war world, he made it clear that realization of her aim for full self-government must be postponed until after the war.

"A Sincere Friend Of India"

"You will naturally not expect me to make any detailed statement on policy or talk about future plans," he said.

"I can only say that I am a sincere friend of India and am wholeheartedly in sympathy with her aspirations to political development. I am a most firm believer in her future.

"I owe India five of the best years of my life as a young officer and two of my fullest and most interesting years as her commander in chief.

Promises To Repay Debt

"I will do my best to repay that debt by further service to India."

The marshal, who will assume the viceroyship in October as Lord Wavell, said "there certainly is no intention to set up anything in the shape of a military rule or to withdraw or weaken in any way the pledges and offers already made to India" by the British Government.

India's progress, he declared, must depend upon the successful prosecution of the war, but he added that "this does not mean that I go to India as a soldier or that there can be no political progress before the end of hostilities."

SMIGLY-RYDZ SAID TO LEAD IN POLAND

London, June 22 (A. P.).—Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, who was commander in chief of the Polish Army at the outbreak of the war, now is the leader of one of Poland's most effective underground groups, two London newspapers reported today.

The Polish Government in Exile said that it was unable to confirm this information, published by the Telegraph and the Daily Herald, but that the Marshal had expressed a preference to continue to fight against the Nazis at home rather than on any other front.

The organization he heads, the two newspapers said, is known as the Grzyb, or Mushroom, and occasionally stories filter out of Poland about Grzyb carrying on sabotage under the leadership of a daring elusive patriot.

Marshal Smigly-Rydz last was reported in Rumania. A report in 1940 said he had escaped from an internment camp there.

Col. Jozef Beck, former Polish Foreign Minister, now is reported under house arrest in a sanatorium near Bucharest. Ignace Moscicki, former President, now is a Swiss citizen living in Berne.

Russians Down 17 Nazi Planes Over Leningrad

Beat Off Triple Daylight Raid; Red Airmen Pound Axis Bases Behind Lines

LONDON, June 23 (Wednesday) (AP).—Russian airmen have struck at airdromes and supply depots behind the German lines and shot down seventeen enemy planes from formations attempting a triple daylight raid in the Leningrad sector, Moscow announced today, but the Soviet midnight communique said ground activity remained comparatively quiet all along the front.

A Moscow broadcast, recorded here after the regular war bulletin, said large formations of Russian planes made heavy attacks on German airdromes and fuel and ammunition dumps before dawn yesterday without losing a plane.

German planes, the announcement said, attempted three times Monday to raid "a populated place near Leningrad," but only single raiders broke through. The attackers dropped bombs which damaged railroad tracks, and downed nine of the Russian planes which challenged them.

The communique said both sides exchanged artillery fire northwest of Mtsensk in the pivotal Orel sector and that several German fortifications were demolished. German planes were said also to have attempted to bomb an objective in that area, but were dispersed as they approached the target, and two of them were knocked down.

Moscow dispatches said the continual hammering by the Red air force, together with American and British raids on German factories, was believed to be the answer to the question of why the Germans have not attacked on the Soviet front this year.

The Germans have been unable to launch an offensive, despite an early spring, because of the combined assaults of the Allied air forces, these dispatches said.

On the central front west of Moscow Soviet troops wiped out 160 German officers and men yesterday, the communique declared. Artillerymen shelled German positions, destroying two batteries and hitting an ammunition dump, which blew up.

200 Germans Killed

On the Leningrad front, Russian artillery and rifle units were said to have destroyed 37 enemy blockhouses, 16 dugouts and 9 observation posts as will as several guns and some supply transport. Two hundred Germans were killed there by snipers.

The Germans attempted reconnaissance in the Volkhov sector, but the bulletin said these enemy units were hurled back with serious losses.

Soviet gunners in the Sevsk area were reported to have wiped out a company of enemy infantry, demolished two columns of carts and blown up an ammunition dump.

Recognize Swedish Heavy As European Champion

London, June 22 (A. P.).—Olle Tandberg, Swedish boxer, has been recognized as the European heavyweight champion by the International Boxing Association, according to a German broadcast recorded by the Associated Press.

The German radio said Tandberg succeeds Max Schmeling, who voluntarily renounced the title. Schmeling formerly held the world crown.

London, June 22 (A. P.).—The Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, reported today that a state of siege had been decreed in Syria.

Only last week British authorities closed the border between Syria and Turkey for a brief time, and Axis quarters immediately speculated that the move was made to cover up secret troop movements.

ALL HOLLAND JEWS SHIFTED TO POLAND

Mass Expulsion Clears Amsterdam—Victims Travel in Cattle Cars.

JUN 23 1943

LONDON, June 22 (AP) Working on a rigid timetable, German authorities have completed deportation of virtually all of Holland's 120,000 Jews with a mass expulsion from Amsterdam, last center of Jewish population, the Netherlands news agency Aneta declared tonight.

The news agency said reports from Holland indicate that a final roundup of Jews for shipment to Poland in cattle cars was carried out amid demonstrations of sympathy by Dutch Christians which infuriated the Nazis.

It recalled that more than a year ago German Commissioner Arthur Seysz-Inquart announced that Jews would be ousted from Holland by June 1, 1943. On June 6, Aneta said, Nazi newspapers proclaimed: "Jews have now officially disappeared from Holland. There are possibly still a few to be found, but they form merely a rear-guard."

The expulsion campaign was said to have started last July, when transports began moving from the Netherlands toward Poland, carrying Jews at the rate of about 600 daily, most of them between the ages of 18 and 40. The drive was speeded up this spring, the agency reported, with decrees ordering complete evacuation on a geographical basis.

The final expulsion from Amsterdam was said to have started May 14. By that time it was reliably estimated that only 4,000 Jews were left in Amsterdam, about 20 in Rotterdam and a scattered few who had fled into the provinces where they were being concealed by friendly Dutch Christians, even at the risk of arrest and possible execution by the Germans.

Even the oldest persons were sent away, often when it was obvious they could not survive the journey, made in cattle cars, with the opening nailed down and under horrible conditions of overcrowding and lack of sanitation.

A. E. F. MEN TOLD TO WRITE HOME

London, June 22 (A. P.).—Soldiers in the European theater of operations of the United States Army have been told to get busy answering letters from the folks back home to lighten the War Department burden.

Too many parents, girl friends and relatives have been flooding the War Department with inquiries as to why they had not heard from soldiers.

Queen Of England Inspects Fleet Of U. S. Ambulances

London, June 22 (AP)—The Queen of England inspected today a fleet of American ambulances sponsored by the British War Welfare Society. The ambulances were massed in the courtyard of Buckingham Palace.

The Queen started down along a long line of drivers, pretty English girls looking smart in their khaki uniforms.

Every once in a while she stopped to chat a moment. At one point, the Queen peered into an ambulance donated by the citizens of Wilson county, North Carolina.

Present at the inspection were United States Ambassador John G. Winant, Gilbert N. Carr, Fresno, Cal., chairman of American Ambulance, and several members of the organization's executive committee.

JUN 23 1943

Axis Newspaper Says Allies Hold Initiative

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—The Berlin correspondent of the "Social Demokraten" of Stockholm, quoted the Nazi-dominated "Brusseler Zeitung" today asserting that "all conditions which favored the Axis before now favor the Allies."

He said the newspaper urged franker discussion of the "bad situation" because "never before has the enemy been in a more threatening position. With powerful weapons he is in a better situation to carry out threats, and never before has Germany been in bigger danger than now. The initiative has taken a holiday for the Axis and gone over to the Allies."

London, Wednesday, June 23 (AP)—The Daily Mirror reported from Lisbon today that Generalissimo Francisco Franco has decided to send an official representative with the rank of minister to Algeria to watch over Spanish interests.

PEACE MARKS BALLOTING IN EIRE ELECTION

First Returns Not Expected Before Late Today Or Tomorrow

Gasoline Ban Forces Voters To Resort To Old-Time Coaches, Horses

(By the Associated Press)

Dublin, June 22—Polling in Eire's general election to determine whether Prime Minister Eamon de Valera is to be returned to power for another five years closed tonight after one of the most peaceful voting days in the country's history.

Because of a ban on gasoline, voters were taken to the polls in every type of horse-drawn vehicle, including old-time coaches that had been off the roads for fifty years.

60 P. C. Vote Is Cast

The voting began slowly but increased during the later afternoon and evening. An estimated sixty per cent. of those eligible voted.

Because of the slowness of the tabulating system, first results were not expected to be known before late tomorrow or Thursday, and final returns probably will not be complete before the end of the week.

300 Candidates In Race

The field included nearly 300 candidates for the Dail's 137 seats, 77 of which now are held by de Valera's party, the Fianna Fail. The de Valera party will be placed in the minority if it loses as many as nine seats.

The opposition is headed by William T. Cosgrove, of the Fine Gael Party, whose platform urged the establishment of a coalition government.

LIGHT VOTE SEEN AS EIRE BALLOTS

Dublin, June 22 (A. P.).—One of the lightest votes on record was forecast today as citizens of neutral Eire began balloting in an election that will determine whether Prime Minister Eamon De Valera is to be returned to power for another five-year term. First results of the election, which came as a drab climax to a colorless campaign, were not expected to be known before late tomorrow or Thursday, because of the slowness of the tabulating system. Final returns probably will not be complete before the end of the week.

Nearly 300 candidates are in the field for the Dail's 137 seats, of which seventy-seven are held by De Valera's party, the Fianna Fail. The loss of only nine seats would place De Valera's party in the minority.

Leading the opposition is William T. Cosgrave of the Fine Gael party, who has been campaigning on a platform urging the establishment of a coalition government. De Valera has announced he will have nothing to do with a coalition government if he is defeated.

Continued neutrality for Eire is not at stake in the elections.

U. S. DECORATES SIXTY RUSSIANS

JUN 23 1943

Standley Makes Awards at Kremlin Ceremony.

Moscow, June 22 (A. P.).—Sixty American Army and Navy decorations have been awarded to Russian soldiers and sailors for the first time in history. Ambassador William H. Standley made the presentation at a ceremony in the Kremlin today, with Foreign Commissar Vyascheslav Molotov accepting the decorations on behalf of the Russian fighting men.

Twenty Distinguished Service Medals, twenty Distinguished Service Crosses, ten Navy Distinguished Service Medals and ten Navy Crosses were presented, all for "combat service."

Recipients of the awards ranged from sergeant to colonel-general and from sailor to vice admiral.

Brig.-Gen. Joseph A. Michela, United States military attache, and Rear Admiral Jack Duncan, United States naval attache, attended the ceremony with their respective staffs.

In a brief speech Standley said the medals were bestowed in recognition of outstanding achievements against a common enemy. Through the Russians thus decorated, he said, Americans "desire to pay tribute to all the armed forces and the civilian population of the Soviet Union." He expressed the hope that from comradeship in arms would spring lasting collaboration.

Sulzberger Arrives in Moscow

MOSCOW, June 22 (AP).—Arthur Hays Sulzberger, president and publisher of "The New York Times" and a director of the American Red Cross, arrived in Moscow today to pass two to three weeks on a Red Cross mission.

SPAIN TO BUILD PLANES

MADRID, June 22 — (AP) The Air ministry announced tonight it had authorized constitution of a company to manufacture bombers and transport planes.

400 NAZI TROOPS LOST AS SHIP SINKS

Stockholm, June 22 (A. P.).—Four hundred German soldiers drowned June 10 when the 3,000-ton German ship Birka sank off the Norwegian coast near Trondheim, reports from Norway said today.

Four hundred others were reported saved. There was no information what had caused the vessel to sink or where it was carrying the troops.

Bomb Damage in Berlin Severe

JUN 23 1943

Travelers Returning to Sweden Say Many Sections of City Are Unrecognizable.

Stockholm, June 22 (A. P.).—Travelers returning to Sweden from Germany report that so much of Berlin has been "plowed up" by intensive bombings of the Royal Air Force that many quarters cannot be recognized.

A Swede writing recently in the Malmo Arbetet said: "You are soon aware of the fact that nearly all parts of the city got their share."

Among places damaged by bombs are the former Russian Embassy, now the headquarters for Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, civil administrator for the eastern occupied regions; the American Express Travel Bureau, and the residence of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister. The Siemens electrical works was among the factories damaged.

FRENCH YOUTHS SLAIN IN CLASH WITH TROOPS

BERN, Switzerland, June 22.—(AP) Two French youths were killed and an Italian soldier was wounded in an exchange of gunfire as occupation troops searched the forests of Haute Savoie for young Frenchmen seeking to escape forced labor in Germany, the Tribune de Geneve said today.

The incident occurred near Thones when a patrol of soldiers came face to face with a band of the fleeing youths. The Tribune said both shots and blows were exchanged.

Reports from France said the Vichy government had called the classes of from 20 to 23 years of age to report for physical examinations in preparation for removal to Germany for work.

Strong detachments of French state police were reported to have been sent to patrol the border regions and prevent the youths from crossing the frontier into Switzerland. Classes now liable to deportation to Germany are estimated to total more than a million.

ITALIANS STALK FRENCH IN FOREST

Bern, June 22 (A. P.).—Italian troops of occupation moved against French youths hiding in the forests of Haute Savoie today as the Vichy Government called the classes of from 20 to 23 years of age to present themselves for physical examination prior to going to work in Germany, said reports from France.

Strong contingents of French State police were reported sent to patrol the border to prevent the youths from trying to cross into Switzerland. Members of the classes now liable to deportation to Germany are estimated to number more than a million.

Sharp clashes between the Italian troops and the fugitive youths, some of whom are said to be armed with rifles of American make, were reported. Residents of the Annemasse region who have been aiding the youths to cross the forntier have been placed under arrest, it was added.

POPE HEARS PROPOSAL

Bern, June 22 (A. .).—The Swiss Telegraph Agency in a dispatch from Vatican City said today that a resolution had been read in the Pope's presence approving two miracles proposed for the canonization of Mother Francesca Saveria Cabrini who died in 1917 in Chicago.

Resolutions also were read for the beatification of nineteen monks killed in China in 1900, and for the beatification of Alessia Le Clerc, founder of the Order of St. Augustin, the dispatch said.

Mother Cabrini, who was buried in New York, was beatified in 1938, the first American citizen thus honored.

SWISS AREA SHAKEN BY RAID ON GERMANY

BERN, Switzerland, June 22—(AP) The British raid on Friedrichshafen Sunday night was so powerful, it was reported today, that an eye-witness, ten miles away on the Swiss side of Lake Constance, was blown from the window of his home and three feet back into the room.

The report was published by the Neue Zurcher Zeitung, whose frontier correspondent said he heard 15 heavy explosions. "Houses shook and trees outside swayed as though by a powerful gust of wind," he said and he was twice thrown back from his window by air pressure.

British Lancaster bombers made the long raid to attack the Luftschiffbau radio factory which makes radio location equipment. Air photographs later showed all main buildings hit and heavy damage done, the British announced.

In a similarly timed assault, British and American heavy bombers from the Middle East Command raided the Italian toe cities of Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni before dawn and again by daylight, demolishing a harbor mole and scattering destruction in the wake of Allied headquarters warnings that the air war is to be extended widely to Mussolini's factories and inland cities as well as to his ports.

British Launch Naples Raid.

Major-Gen. James H. Doolittle's twin-engined Mitchells also carried out the first medium bomber missions against the Italian mainland, and with their Lockheed Lightning escorts blasted the railroad yards and other objectives at Salerno and scored twenty-five direct hits on railroad sidings and at Battipaglia. Both Salerno and Battipaglia are south of Naples.

British Wellington bombers, the Blockbuster carriers, began the onslaught against Naples, Italy's greatest port, Sunday night with their cargoes of high explosives and incendiaries which started a number of fires. Then an armada of 100 Flying Fortresses picked up the task by daylight and smashed through the afternoon at the same smoking targets.

Weaving through thirty to forty enemy planes, two flights of Fortresses rained bombs throughout the Naples industrial area, hitting roundhouses, locomotive repair shops, the royal arsenal and torpedo factory, stores and oil dumps.

The Royal Arsenal and torpedo factory at Naples were left burning by the attack, and aerial photographs showed a belt of flame a mile wide from a hit on an oil dump.

"One bomb hit oil," declared Major Frank Dunningham of Chevy Chase, Md. "I have seen oil burning before, and this was

Acres of Italian Port Are Ablaze After Two Successive Attacks—Score of Fires Covers Harbor Area.

HAROLD V. BOYLE

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 22 (A. P.).—Twenty-five great fires, one covering an area a mile in diameter, were left blazing in the port of Naples and in the nearby air stores depot of Cancello by Allied bombers yesterday. The Allies began their attack before dawn and continued it into the afternoon.

JUN 23 1943 JUN 23 1943

1943

30.24— 5275

30.24— 5273

it—big black smoke billowing up at least 1,000 feet."

The Mitchells also smashed a trestle at Salerno and covered a large power plant in their twenty-five hits at Battipaglia.

In a companion assault at Cancello approximately 50 per cent of the railroad trackage was left useless and several buildings were smashed by direct hits.

Aerial Scissors Cut Foe.

Operating like an aerial scissors, the Middle East Command's American Liberators came in from the south yesterday for the attacks on Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni, dropping nearly 135 tons of high explosives and incendiaries, a communique from Cairo announced. The Liberators swept in on the heels of heavy R. A. F. bombers from the Middle East who bombed the same targets.

Bad visibility prevented observation of the R. A. F. attack, but the communique said the mole west of the ferry terminal at San Giovanni was demolished, a ferry in a slip was turned over from a direct hit and heavy columns of smoke sent spouting from the bombed area.

At Reggio Calabrai numerous bomb bursts were seen in the railroad yards and along the water front. "Heavy damage was done to the mole," said the communique.

57 Axis Planes in 4 Days.

"Our formations met unusually heavy fighter opposition and underwent aerial bombardment," said the Cairo announcement, which said twenty enemy aircraft were shot down and probably eight others destroyed in fierce battles. None of the American planes was lost.

[Cairo dispatches said the Axis has concentrated heavy fighter forces in the toe of Italy to combat the incessant raids on both sides of Messina Strait, and that yesterday's formations encountered about fifty Messerschmitt 109s and 110s, Macchi 202s, Focke-Wulf 190s and Heinkel 113s. The enemy planes renewed their tactics of gathering in formation ahead of the Americans and trying to drop bombs on them, the dispatches said. When their bombs were exhausted they dived, spitting machine-gun bullets and cannon shells.]

Three more fighters were brought down by the Northwest Africa forces, for an Allied total of at least twenty-three enemy planes yesterday, compared with the loss of two Allied planes. The Northwest African forces total of Axis aircraft destroyed in the last four days thus mounted to fifty-seven.

Spitfires from Malta were over Sicily, yesterday operating against road transport, and intruders from the island base went out against rail communications in southern Italy last night.

Giraud and deGaulle Will Share Command of French Army Units

JUN 23 1943

NORGAARD

ALGIERS, June 22 (AP) The French Committee of National Liberation designated two commanders-in-chief today—Gen. Henri Giraud for French forces in North and West Africa, and Gen. Charles de Gaulle for forces in other empire territories, thus averting a threatened disruptive showdown on military authority.

A communique issued after a three-hour session further announced that a "permanent military committee" composed of Gen. Giraud and Gen. de Gaulle with their respective chiefs-of-staff for army, navy and air would proceed "toward fusion of French forces and constitution of a new single armed force."

The compromise was reached after the United States and Britain were reported to have stipulated that Gen. Giraud must remain in command of French armed forces in North Africa while this area is a base of Allied military operations.

The brief communique added that the committee had approved the "respective nominations of Gen. Alphonse Juin and Gen. Eduard Rene Marie de Larminat as chiefs-of-staff of the armies of the two commanders. The designation of chiefs-of-staff of the navy and air force will be made shortly."

Thus Gen. de Gaulle and Gen. Giraud remain, at least for the time being, as commanders of their respective armed forces and the thorny question of military leadership seemed resolved.

At a press conference after the meeting, Minister of Armaments Jean Monnet, as official spokesman declared that the decision was "absolutely unanimous in the committee," and added that "it is a practical and realistic method of bringing about a unified, single French army which is so essential."

Later M. Monnet, who is acting commissioner of information, declared:

"This is unity. Anything else would be unthinkable. The troops will be paid from a common treasury. They are already one army in fact. Their commanders are responsible to the French Committee of National Liberation."

Meets U. S. Demand

The communique specified that Gen. Giraud would retain command in French North and West Africa, with Gen. de Gaulle in command in all other territories. This formula appeared to meet the demand of the United States and Britain concerning Gen. Giraud.

Explaining the committee's decision to continue the present dual commands for the time being, M. Monnent said "merging forces effectively is a task you cannot do on paper."

"It is obvious," he said, "that the habits of the army of General de Gaulle are different from the habits of the army of North Africa, but the desire to participate in the liberation of France is the same."

He said the committee arbitrarily could have ordered fusion of the two forces, but that "would have evaded the real questions."

The way for ultimate joining of forces under a single command, he explained, would be paved by the daily work of the chiefs of staffs, who as members of the permanent committee with Gen. de Gaulle and Gen. Giraud would be carrying out the liberation committee's orders.

M. Monnet, as spokesman for the committee, failed to refer directly to the Allied command, but when asked if the decision had been communicated to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, he replied, "not to my knowledge."

To a question whether the decision had been taken with the Allies in mind, M. Monnet responded that "this is total war and it is impossible to arrive at solutions without consulting the Allies. In these times you cannot deal with problems from a purely nationalistic point of view. We are not living in a vacuum."

Plan for Unity

Returning to the explanation of the plan for eventually unifying the two armies, he asserted "this unity already exists and merely remains to be transferred into the military sphere. This should be proof that our committee is functioning well. We must go through a period of trials and readjustments for which there is no precedent.

"I strongly urge upon you of the press that you can't permit yourselves to be too greatly influenced by rumors and exaggerated versions of differences. There will be no break among us even though other difficulties may be expected."

Although, neither Gen. de Gaulle nor Gen. Giraud could claim that the committees action was a victory for himself over the other, there was evident satisfaction and relief in both camps when today's decision was reached and the crisis averted.

This satisfaction was obviously shared by the Allies, who made plain their eagerness to achieve some sort of unity and calm among the French before the bigger job at hand — a concerted attack on the Nazi armies in Europe — is launched. Today's agreement in effect continues the status quo.

As far as the French armies are concerned the agreement seemed to meet completely the only demands the Allies have made without causing either Gen. de Gaulle or Gen. Giraud to relinquish any of the powers they already possess.

Recognition of the committee as the government of the French empire for the duration of the war was generally expected to be forthcoming from the United Nations and perhaps Turkey very soon now that the danger of an open rift over military control has been averted.

Gen. de Gaulle and Gen. Giraud were reported to have shaken hands after the agreement was reached.

In effect the action meant the two commanders agreed only to maintain the status quo in so far as this most controversial issue, control of the French armed forces, is concerned, in hope that a full agreement satisfactory to both sides as well as to the United States and Britain can be worked out.

It was indicative, however, of the growing determination on both sides that negotiations should not be permitted to be broken off as long as there was any possibility whatever of full settlement.

Although Monnet described the action as "a great step forward," a De Gaullist called it "settlement by non-settlement." Monnet was credited with being author of the plan.

Monnet announced that Henri Bonnet, only member of the Liberation Committee who has been absent from the recent sessions, had arrived in Algiers late today from New York and would assume the post of Commissioner of Information tomorrow.

POSTS RETAINED BY GENS. GIRAUD AND DE GAULLE

French Unity Committee Surmounts Crisis and Leaders Shake Hands.

MAST-MADE HEAD OF TUNIS

Only One of Original Pro-Ally Leaders to Obtain High Place in New Regime.

Algiers, June 22 (A. P.).—Surmounting the greatest crisis in its short history, the French Committee of National Liberation agreed today for Gens. Henri Giraud and Charles de Gaulle to remain in command of their respective armed forces and appointed a subcommittee which ultimately may unify all French forces.

The subcommittee of eight members, including Gens. de Gaulle and Giraud, is to be charged with eventually merging the two forces, it was said.

The plan answered the stipulation disclosed to have been made by the United States and Great Britain that Gen. Giraud remain as the supreme authority over the French military establishment in North Africa, a vital base for Allied operations.

A Hearty Handshake.

The committee, which took nearly three hours to reach its decision this afternoon, now is expected to divert its attention to less controversial issues. It is to meet again on Friday.

Gens. de Gaulle and Giraud were reported to have shaken hands heartily after the committee's agreement.

Informants said that the United States and Britain had informed both Gen. De Gaulle and Gen. Giraud that Gen. Giraud must retain full command of the French armed forces at least as long as Africa remained a base of United Nations military operations.

The intervention, it was said, stemmed from the satisfaction of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's High Command with Gen. Giraud's performance in getting a substantial French fighting force into the field in Tunisia early in the campaign and maintaining it there as an effective combat arm despite severe shortages of equipment.

JUN 23 1943

It Takes King to Impress African 'Celebrity Detail'

RELEASE MORN

He Startles U. S. Soldiers Who Took Roosevelt in Stride

A NORTH AFRICAN AIRFIELD, June 22 (AP).—The glamour boys at this air base are two privates and a corporal.

These three American soldiers, for whom life in the Army is like one big Hollywood premiere, make up the "celebrity detail" which guards the conveyance that brings and takes away important visitors.

In pursuit of this not unpleasant duty, the three have rubbed elbows with President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Anthony Eden and many other dignitaries.

Until the other day they were inclined to be a little blase about it. But then, as they took their appointed places around a plane and a door opened, their eyes fairly bulged.

The King of England stepped out.

"Now, right away," said Corporal Irving Persoff, of the Bronx, "all the guys will be questioning us to find out what he was like. It's just about the same as if we was famous ourselves."

KING GEORGE GOT OVATION IN MALTA

Valletta, June 20 (Delayed)—(A. P.).—Evidencing complete Allied control of the Mediterranean, King George VI paid an unprecedented war-time visit today to the islanders he had collectively awarded the George Cross for heroism against the Axis onslaught.

The King came here from North Africa aboard the cruiser Aurora, escorted by four destroyers—a part of the Mediterranean fleet that has played a major role in Malta's defense and in convoying supplies which have kept the island colony alive.

He drove through flag-decked streets lined by unroofed buildings to the dockyards which had continued their vital functions throughout the worst of the German-Italian aerial attacks.

He visited Senglea, called "the unconquerable" since its stubborn defenders played a major part in breaking the Turkish siege of 1656. It is one of the most devastated spots on the island.

Surrounded by crowds, the King climbed the hundred steps to Victory Street where the parish priest, Rev. O. Brincat, thanked the sovereign for his visit on behalf of the townsfolk. The chimes from the undamaged belfry of the bomb-torn Our Lady of Victory Church drowned out the King's reply.

The crowd then followed the monarch down the street, where not a single building remains undamaged.

British War and Air Ministers Reach Cairo

Cairo, June 22 (A. P.).—Sir James Grigg, British War Minister, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, Air Minister, arrived last night.

Chinese Take Number Of Strategic Points

Chungking, June 22 (AP)—The Chinese High Command tonight announced the capture of a number of strategic points in the outer defenses of Owchihkow, near the Yangtze river forty miles south of Shasi, and said more than 200 Japanese were killed in the advance.

Owchihkow, also known as Lotus Pond Inlet, is one of the last important Japanese-held strongholds south of the Yangtze and west of Tungting Lake.

JUN 23 1943

JAP TROOPS TRY NEW GUINEA PUSH

Aussies Hurl Back Big Attack At Mubo—100 Of Foe Killed Or Wounded

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Wednesday, June 23 — The largest Japanese force yet hurled against Allied lines on the ground front of New Guinea, at Mubo, was thrown back by Australian troops with American air support Monday afternoon, leaving more than 100 dead or severely wounded.

Today's communique reported the enemy ground defeat in a sector twelve miles below Salamaua where jungle fighters have faced each other without major activity for many weeks.

Jap Plane Downed

Today's communique also reported that in air fighting over the Aroe Islands, 500 miles north of Darwin, one Japanese plane was downed and six damaged.

"Enemy ground forces attacked our positions on Labibia ridge," the communique reported concerning the Mubo fighting.

"The attack was sharply repulsed with over one hundred enemy casualties. Our losses were light. Our attack planes executed close support with a bombing and strafing raid on enemy positions between Pimple Hill and Buigap Creek."

Jap Base Attacked

The Aroe action occurred during daylight as four-engined bombers and long-range fighters attacked the Japanese seaplane base at Taberfane. The results of the bombing were not observed because of unfavorable weather. Two enemy float planes were damaged at their moorings by low-level strafing. A barge was destroyed and a large lugger damaged.

Several of the float planes tried to intercept the raiders. It was one of these which was shot down. Four others were damaged. The communique said we lost no planes.

Later Information

The communique also reported later information on a fight which occurred earlier this month over Buka in the northern Solomons between a big Allied bomber and fifteen Zeros. The communique on June 17 had disclosed the fight and said the bomber got back to base after suffering five casualties.

Today's communique said the injured pilot and navigator had recovered sufficiently to report that at least five of the Japanese fighters were shot down in flames and others were damaged.

"Our own plane will be in action again," the communique added.

Japs' Munda Base Fired

An Advanced Base in the South Pacific, June 22 (AP)—A large fire was started and explosions set off at the Japanese airfield at Munda, on New Georgia Island, by Dauntless and Avenger bombers Monday afternoon, the South Pacific Allied headquarters said today.

About twenty tons of bombs were unloaded in the Monday raid. Pilots of navy bombers reporting several ack-ack positions silenced. Wildcat fighters covered the bombers and all planes returned.

One Wildcat fighter intercepted and shot down a twin-engine enemy bomber northwest of Florida Island. The Japanese probably was on a reconnaissance mission.

The Avenger, which was built as a torpedo plane, is now being used in the Solomons for medium and high-level bombing assignments with Dauntless dive bombers.

Quality Of Jap Planes Reported Maintained

An Advanced Base in New Guinea, June 19 (Delayed, A. P.)—After eighteen months of war there is no sign that Japan has sacrificed quality of its warplanes in an effort to step up production.

That is the conclusion of an American army lieutenant, member of a select group of plane-wreckage hunters, who poke around in the twisted remains of enemy Zeros, dive bombers and medium bombers shot down over Papua.

He is Lieut. Joseph Phillips, 28, of Alton, Ill.

"The Japanese are using just as much care, in the construction of their planes now as they did before the war," he says. "I have been watching for parts where inferior workmanship or material shows up first. There is no trace that quality has been sacrificed for quantity."

AMERICANS BAG 14 JAP ZEROS

New Yorker Downs Three in First Encounter.

JUN 23 1943

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 22 (A. P.)—American Lightnings swooped down upon a large formation of Jap Zeros over New Guinea yesterday, destroyed at least fourteen—and probably twenty-three — and came home without a single plane missing. The fourteen Zeros blew up in the air or crashed to the ground in sight of American pilots.

"The remaining nine were in flames and losing altitude," a communique from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said. "Their complete destruction was most probable."

There were thirty-six Zeros in the enemy formation when the Lightnings, outnumbered two to one, came upon them over the Lae area. Despite the great odds the communique said that "our damage was slight," a headquarters spokesman said.

JAP HOSPITAL SHIP PASSED BY U. S. SUB

ABOARD U.S. SUBMARINE IN THE PACIFIC, June 22—(AP) This sub trailed one Japanese ship several hours, then had to pass it up. It proved to be a hospital ship, guaranteed safe passage under the Geneva constitution.

"She was sailing a straight course, not zigzagging like a warship or freighter usually does," said Tnsign E. W. (Si) Lake, 33, of New Britain, Conn., submarine communications officer. "We trailed her until nightfall, then closed. Suddenly all her lights came on and there was a Red Cross blazing on her hull. So we had to pass her up. But what a target!

"And then we came 'home' and read that those dirty .... had sunk one of our hospital ships!"

U. S. Planes to Australia To Raise R.A.A.F. by 60%

Curtin Discloses Roosevelt Pledge of More Aid

CANBERRA, Australia, June 22 (AP).—Prime Minister John M. Curtin asserted tonight that President Roosevelt has promised Australia enough planes to increase the Royal Australian Air Force's strength by 60 per cent.

Replying to a motion of non-confidence offered by former Prime Minister Arthur W. Fadden, Curtin said External Affairs Minister H. V. Evatt obtained the pledge in his recent visit to Washington.

The opposition charged the government with gross bungling of the food and man-power problems, and asserted Curtin was injuring Australia's reputation at home and abroad by inaction, unnecessary interference with industry, and failure to check strikes and absenteeism.

Curtin replied that Fadden failed to recognize that the government's overriding responsibility was the war effort. He said Fadden's motion was chiefly an examination of the domestic scene, which all must realize could not be normal under war conditions.

Russia Called Vital To U. S. By Ex-Embassador Davies

In Speech In Toronto Former Envoy Says That "Without Soviet There Can Be No Stable Peace"

JUN 23 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Toronto, June 22—Joseph E. Davies, who recently delivered an exchange of messages between President Roosevelt and Joseph Stalin, declared tonight their contents still were to remain secret "for the protection of all of us," but added:

"It is, however, a fair inference, which we may all take, that this, in and of itself, bespeaks a unity and agreement with reference to military activities or other plans, as between our great leaders, Mr. Churchill, Mr. Stalin, Mr. Roosevelt, and those of the (other) United Nations. That, I am sure, gives to us all great satisfaction."

In a talk prepared for a Canadian-Soviet friendship rally, the former United States Ambassador to the Soviet Union asserted that mutual confidence between Russia and her allies, particularly Canada and the United States, was essential to a lasting peace, that "without Russia there can be no stable peace."

Soon Interlocked With Planes

Davies said that the reduced significance of distances had brought the war in Russia to within two days of North American shores by air transport and had made the Soviet Union of vital importance to America.

"We will soon be more closely interlocked with airplanes across the pole," Davies added. "Moscow will soon be overnight from New York. We three great nations, and only we three—Russia, Canada and the United States—will be at that hub and, in fact, be the hub of the world."

Davies was introduced by Canadian Prime Minister MacKenzie King, who said in his address that "now is the time for the entire world to realize that just as no nation of itself can insure its own security, so no nation in isolation can create prosperity."

Key To New Postwar Order

"We shall have found the key to a new post-war order," King said, "when the nations of the world come to base their policies on the truth that prosperity, like security, is indivisible; that no nation liveth unto itself; that they are members one of another. This is the only basis of a sound foreign policy."

King said "the importance of Russia's resistance (in the war) has been so great that we hardly dare ask ourselves what might have happened if, instead of standing firm, the Russians had yielded or had been overborne."

Davies, declaring that "Russia needs peace—wants peace," said "it is vital that Russia should trust us, and that the United Nations should trust Russia," and that differences in ideologies and religion should not be a barrier to an agreement on matters vital to the security and peace of the United Nations.

SAN JUAN DRAFT BOARD QUITS IN PROTEST MOVE

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, June 22—(AP) Members of San Juan draft board No. 99 resigned today in protest against a deferment granted to Oscar Hau, one of eight young engineers chosen for advanced training at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the Puerto Rico Development corporation, an insular agency.

Insular Draft Director Col. Harry F. Besosa had suspended Hau's imminent induction after the draft board had refused deferment.

Eight scholarships in the institute had been granted in order to provide the island with qualified technicians to promote Puerto Rican industrialization plans. Teodoro Moscoso, Jr., head of the development corporation, said that other draft boards had deferred seven other students who already had departed for Massachusetts.

Soviet Envoy Presents Credentials To Mexico

Mexico City, June 22 (AP)—Constantine Oumansky, new Soviet Ambassador, declared in presenting his credentials today that he was confident post-war friendship between Russia and Mexico would be for the good not only of the two countries mentioned but also of their "allies and friends."

Oumansky, who for several years was Ambassador to the United States, and more recently has occupied a place in the Soviet Foreign Office, arrived here five days ago, the first accredited Russian diplomat since Mexico and the Soviet Union severed diplomatic relations thirteen years ago.

Argentine Paper Suspended

BUENOS AIRES, June 22 (AP).—The English-language newspaper, "The Standard," failed to appear on newsstands today following a twenty-four-hour police suspension for violating the state of siege recently by printing an attack on German Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels. The article was published some time before the recent overthrow of the Castillo government.

Rome Lists Casualties.

The Italian communique, as broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press, listed Annunziata, south of Naples, as one of the objectives of the four-engined plane formations. Rome said "there was considerable damage" in the scattered attacks and civilian casualties included ten dead and seventy-two injured at Naples, one dead and eight injured at Annunziata, fourteen dead and forty-five injured at Salerno, and fifteen dead and seventy injured at Battipaglia.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

General George C. Marshall told the governors' conference at Columbus Monday that "one of our greatest puzzles is how the Japanese can stand the beating they are taking in the air—no other words adequately describe the situation in this respect."

The chief of staff, a conservative speaker, put his finger on one of the factors that may bring a drastic change soon in the aspect of the Pacific war. The Japanese, who had a few thousand carefully chosen, highly trained and experienced airmen when they launched the Pacific war, were able to spread their empire almost to the shores of Australia largely because they were able to knock the American, British and Dutch air force out of the skies over the Philippines, Malaya and the East Indies. Now the position is entirely reversed and the Japanese air force all around the south and southwest Pacific has been reduced to such a position of inferiority that its every appearance in force becomes a suicide mission.

In the past week the Japanese have met three major defeats in the air. Last Wednesday they suffered their worst beating of the war, losing 94 planes in a battle over Guadalcanal with Americans and New Zealanders, who lost six. Sunday an attempted raid on Darwin, Australia, cost the enemy 12 planes certainly destroyed, two probably destroyed and ten damaged. The Japanese ran into a force of Spitfires flown by British and Australian pilots. Monday it was a similar story. American Lightnings over Lae, New Guinea, shot down or probably destroyed 23 of a force of 36 Zeros which challenged them. All the American planes returned.

JUN 23 1943

30.24—5277

30.24—5277

In all these encounters the Japanese casualty rate was 50 per cent or more. In earlier major battles it had ranged from 25 to 40 per cent. The rise strongly suggests a progressive deterioration of the enemy's quality in the air, at least in comparison with the splendid fighting men the Americans and their Allies are able to put into the air.

General Marshall gave half the explanation: "Evidently our equipment is excellent and our pilots, gunners, bombardiers and navigators are superb." Other authorities have suggested the other and perhaps more significant half. The few thousand first rate airmen who gave the Japanese air superiority during the first few months of the war are gone. And while Japanese industry doubtless is able to replace the planes knocked down, Japan simply does not have replacements anywhere near equal to the first string pilots who have been lost.

This Allied superiority in the air is one feature of a situation in the south and southwest Pacific which suggests strongly that some dramatic action against Japan's island outposts and perhaps some of her more important southern bases is in the making. The big force of enemy planes that met disaster over Guadalcanal last week obviously was after big game. Later American accounts showed that Allied cargo ships escorted by warships were in those waters. The Japanese at least thought they were after a convoy that was bringing American striking power into the Solomons theater which has such bitter memories for them.

Last Friday's long distance raids by Army Liberators on Tawara in the Gilbert islands and by Navy and Army bombers on Nauru, both on the southeastern fringe of Japan's holdings, gave further evidence of American air superiority and unceasing pressure against the enemy in that area.

Since the Washington war council last month the indications have grown that Allied strategy, ready to abandon the holding war against Japan in favor of the offensive, calls for a great squeeze play from the Indian ocean and the Pacific, designed to cut the Japanese area of conquest at the waist. The western blow, probably first against Burma, probably will have to wait for the clearing of the Mediterranean, the concentration of major naval and air forces at Ceylon and Indian bases and the end of the monsoon in October. The attack from the east, however, may be well under way before that.

F.D.R., STALIN NOTES TO REMAIN SECRET

Messages Guarded for Protection of Allies, Davies Tells Toronto Rally.

TORONTO, June 22 — (AP) Joseph E. Davies, who recently delivered an exchange of messages between President Roosevelt and Joseph Stalin, declared tonight that their contents still were to remain secret "for the protection of all of us," but added:

"It is, however, a fair inference, which we may all take, that this, in and of itself, bespeaks a unity and agreement with reference to military activities or other plans, as between our great leaders, Mr. Churchill, Mr. Stalin, Mr. Roosevelt, and those of the (other) United Nations. That, I am sure, gives to us all great satisfaction."

In a talk prepared for a Canadian-Soviet friendship rally, the former U. S. Ambassador to the Soivet Union asserted that mutual confidence between Russia and her Allies, particularly Canada and the United States, was essential to a lasting peace, that "without Russia there can be no stable peace."

Mr. Davies said that the reduced significance of distances had brought the war in Russia to within two days of North American shores by air transport and had made the Soviet Union of vital importance to America.

"We will soon be more closely interlocked with airplanes across the pole," Mr. Davies added. "Moscow will soon be overnight from New York. We three great nations, and only we three—Russia, Canada and the United States—will be at that hub and, in fact, be the hub of the world."

Mr. Davies was introduced by Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King who said in his prepared address that "Now is the time for the entire world to realize that just as no nation of itself can ensure its own security, so no nation in isolation can create prosperity.'

"We shall have found the key to a new post-war order," Mr. Mackenzie King said, "when the nations of the world come to base their policies on the truth that prosperiyt, like security, is indivisible; that no nation liveth unto itself; that they are members one of another. This is the only basis of a sound foreign policy."

Officials Doubt Nazi Ability To Launch Attack on Russia

Failure of Germans to Move Invites United Action by Allies.

JUN 23 1943

WASHINGTON, June 22 — (AP) Rising official doubt in Moscow, London and Washington that the Nazi invaders of Russia can muster the power for another major attack was strongly reflected in developments which marked the second anniversary June 22 of Hitler's assault on his eastern neighbor.

Time is running more heavily against the foe in Russia than anywhere else on the global war front. German failure to strike before now this year has convinced Allied military authorities that her situation is becoming desperate. Every day, every hour that passes without some Nazi effort to retrieve lost ground in Russia brings closer the moment when Russia herself certainly will launch a new offensive. And that may be the moment for which Anglo-American invasion armies mustered in Africa and in the British isles are being held in leash.

Tone of Appeal Changes

That is more than hinted at in the Moscow broadcast commemorating the second anniversary of the Nazi attack on Russia and calling anew for Allied second-front operations of a scope yet to be attained. The marked change in tone between this and any previous Moscow appeal for Allied action is its most significant aspect.

In essence the Russian estimate of Nazi losses to date pictures a situation inviting coordinated attack. The Axis in Europe is facing a "crisis" justifying the hope that a combined assaut now could bring it to its knees in months, not years, Moscow asserts.

There is little reason to doubt that knowledge of Allied grand strategic decisions taken recently in Washington played a part in the Moscow war anniversary outgiving. The renewed second front urgency is in no sense a plea for help to stave off another expected attack on Russia. It is stated in purely offensive terms and implies Russian readiness not merely to hold the line against any new German onslaught, but to smash forward anew.

"A second front this year in Europe will speed victory," the Moscow broadcast said, adding that only its absence "foiled victory in 1942" when Russia was on the march that swept the invader back to and beyond the line from which he started his disastrous surge to the Don and the Volga.

Marshall Sees Victory Pattern

General Marshall, American chief of staff, in his first war summary to a civilian audience since Pearl Harbor, told the Governors' conference at Columbus, Ohio, that the "pattern of victory" over the Axis is now clear and the outcome "certain." That is supported by his assertion that Anglo-American "over-water" assaults are in preparation and the indication of their timing he gave in adding:

"This is the most critical summer both for us and in the history of the world."

Gen. Marshall went even farther, however, to indicate that a coordinated Russian-Anglo American attack upon the foe in Europe has been mapped and "unity of action" achieved among the United Nations for impending events in Europe. Not only, he said, have the Allies now the "men trained, the guns and tanks, the ships and planes in constantly increasing numbers" but Russian forces "grow steadily more formidable and present a constant and terrible threat to the bulk of the German army."

That reference to Russia strikes the same note as the Moscow broadcast. It does not contemplate a mere holding action in Russia to keep Nazi legions anchored there while Anglo-American attacks develope from Africa or the British isles, but a major Russian offensive. And it can only add, as must the Moscow war anniversary broadcast, to Nazi expectation of coordinated Russian and Anglo-American attacks definitely scheduled for delivery this critical summer.

ALLIES PREPARING INVASION PLANS, SAYS FRANK KNOX

Navy Chief Declares Preparations Being Made to Attack Europe.

WASHINGTON, June 22. — (AP) Secretary of the Navy Knox asserted today that preparations for an Allied invasion of Europe "are going forward." He spoke in comment on a Russian statement that victory over Germany cannot be won without a second front.

Questioned about the Russian assertion, Secretary Knox said at a press conference that it was impossible at this time to talk in specific terms but there had been no "cessation" of preparations for the complex operation of an amphibious attack on the European continent.

Attack Will Be Made

His statement was made without qualification and left no doubt that in the opinion of the secretary such a front would be opened when preparations were completed and the time was right.

Secretary Knox deliberately shied away from calling it a "second front." He, like many other high American officials, contends that there are already many fronts in the war. But he said that so far as further operations against Germany are concerned, "preparations for our attack on Europe are going forward right along."

The secretary said there was nothing of special significance at the moment in the Pacific situation. Questioned about reports of Japanese action against supply lines across the Pacific to Russia, he said he knew of no occurrence which might provide an "incident" between Russia and Japan. It had been rumored here that the Japanese, in response to German appeals for assistance, had seized some Russian ships carrying Lend-Lease supplies from the United States to Siberia. Such ships must pass through waters which Japan dominates.

Both Sides Cautious

Secretary Knox said that since the Russians were heavily occupied in fighting Germany and since Japan "does not want to take on Russia," both sides were keeping carefully away from any occurrence that might bring a break between them.

Shortly after the press conference the Navy issued a communique reporting further air attacks by American forces against Japanese bases in the Solomon island area.

The communique also said that three Navy Wildcat fighters intercepted and shot down a Mitsubishi bomber north of Florida island Sunday. Florida is a small island near Guadalcanal.

On Sunday evening Army Liberator bombers assaulted Japanese bases at Kieta and Kahili on Bougainville island but results were not observed.

Monday afternoon Dauntless dive bombers, Avenger torpedo bombers and Wildcat fighters raided the Japanese air base at Munda in the central Solomons and scored hits on anti-aircraft positions, several of which were reported silenced.

7 Bomb Makers Seized by F.B.I. As Saboteurs

JUN 23 1943

Italian-Born President of Company Is Accused of Turning Out Faulty Arms

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced today that the Italian-born head of the Antonelli Fireworks Company, Inc., Spencerport, N. Y., and six assistants had been arrested at Rochester on charges of sabotage in allegedly faulty manufacture of incendiary bombs and hand grenades for the United States armed forces and their allies.

"The F. B. I. inquiry revealed," its chief added, "that a high percentage of the finished products was being manufactured in a faulty manner.

"While the full extent of the damage is not known, the Chemical Warfare Service of the Army conducted tests as a result of the F. B. I. inquiry, and on June 12 took over exclusive possession of the plant in order to protect the government property on the premises. Since that time all manufacturing at the plant has ceased."

Mr. Hoover said that those arrested were charged with "willfully failing to properly load the powder charge in the bombs and grenades," and it was charged that there were attempts also to pass material previously rejected by the Army inspectors.

Plead Innocent

He named these as having been arrested:

Amerigo Antonelli, fifty-two years old, a native of Italy, who became a naturalized citizen of the United States, president and treasurer of the company.

Bennie Piteo, thirty-one, a native of Rochester, a foreman.

John Deritis, twenty-eight, a native of Rochester, plant superintendent.

Joseph Deritis, thirty, born at Lattimer Mines, Pa., a plant superintendent.

Dominick Barbollo, twenty-nine, a native of Saratoga, N. Y., a foreman.

Angelo Costanza, thirty-four, a native of Italy, a foreman.

Frank Bianchi, thirty-one, born in Rochester, a foreman.

All seven pleaded innocent later today at Rochester, and Federal District Judge Harold P. Burke tentatively set bail totaling $300,000 and remanded the men to custody of a United States marshal pending a hearing tomorrow, at which time he said he would consider applications for bail reduction. Judge Burke set bail of $100,000 for Antonelli.

Had Army Contracts

The company, which has been in the fireworks business since 1919, and engaged in government work since April, 1942, has contracts with the Army Chemical Warfare Service for the manufacture of several million bombs and grenades, Mr. Hoover said.

The allegedly illegal practices were continued despite warnings by government officials, he said, adding that "employees of the company admitted they were instructed by some of the persons arrested to load the munitions properly only when under the direct observation of government inspectors."

The charge carries a maximum penalty of thirty years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Mr. Hoover said that in some cases an insufficient amount of powder was used, while in other instances defective powder was used, with the result that, Army officials complained, the burning time of the completed bombs was altered, a lower heat was produced, and the danger of bomb failure was increased.

Assistant United States Attorney R. Norman Kirchgraber said tests had proved "60 per cent of the bombs and hand grenades to be effective." He added that many of the bombs, of which he said "several millions" had been manufactured, had been sent to foreign theaters of war, while others were known to be at embarkation points and at arsenals in the United States. Immediate steps were being taken, he said, to round up all the defective bombs.

JUN 23 1943

John B. Little, special agent in charge of the Buffalo field division of the F. B. I., said that "Antonelli's father is reported to be the royal pyrotechnician to the King of Italy." He said also that Piteo, who is single, had been scheduled to report this morning to his draft board for a preliminary physical examination. He described the Deritis brothers as being stepsons of Antonelli.

BEW Wages Silent Economic War On 3 Fronts, Wallace Says

Hurting Enemy, Acquiring Materials And Needs Of Allies Listed As Principal Jobs

This is the first of a series of three articles written by Vice-President Wallace, giving the authoritative story of one of America's important but little publicized fronts—the silent economic warfare against the Axis.

JUN 23 1943

By HENRY A. WALLACE

Vice-President of the United States; Chairman of Board of Economic Warfare

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Our drive to defeat Hitler and the Japs is being pushed on many fronts. Besides the war of bombs and the war of words, there is another which has its vital role—this is the silent economic war.

For the United States, the waging of this third type of war has been placed by President Roosevelt in the hands of the Board of Economic Warfare.

Many of the day-to-day decisions and actions of the board and its staff of about 3,500 cannot be made public, because of the needs of military security. But in this series of three articles I wish to explain briefly the strategy we are employing, and what these operations mean to the total war effort.

One Activity Hurting Foe

One activity of the Board of Economic Warfare is directly concerned with hurting the enemy. Another has to do with the acquisition of strategic materials and supplies from foreign sources for our own war production.

A third is concerned with supporting the economies of our allies and the friendly neutrals who are aiding the United Nations' war effort. This is done by an intelligent rationing of commercial exports to such countries. Each of these activities is world-wide in its scope.

Importance Increasing

Now that the United Nations are on the offensive, waging economic warfare upon the enemy becomes increasingly important. Through its Office of Economic Warfare Analysis and in especially close cooperation with the British Ministry of Economic Warfare the board pieces together all available information concerning the economic status of the enemy countries and keeps a running balance sheet of enemy production.

Every effort is made to discover shortages from which these countries are suffering, as well as possibilities of shortage. This information is then passed along to the army and navy. With other strategic factors it is considered in shaping the broad strategy of the war, in the mapping of bombing objectives and in other military operations.

Buying From Neutrals

The information concerning the enemy guides the board itself in its "preclusive buying" of war materials in neutral countries, such as Spain, Portugal or Turkey, with the object of keeping these materials out of the hands of the enemy.

It helps the board in its close watch on exports to neutral countries to tighten the blockade of the "Fortress of Europe" and to make sure that valuable goods do not find their way to the enemy for conversion to war purposes.

Aided Tokyo Raid

Through all these various types of action, the United Nations are assisted in striking directly at the enemy's most vulnerable points.

Hundreds of detailed reports are assembled by the Board of Economic Warfare at the request of the army and navy. Some of these reports were helpful to the army in planning the raid on Tokyo and other Japanese cities last year. Others were helpful in planning the invasion of French North Africa.

They showed how much locally grown food could be counted upon by the army for subsistence. They showed what supplies—not only of food but of such products as phosphates, cobalt, iron ore and red squill (the herb used as a rat poison in fighting typhus fever)—might be prevented from going to Germany and might be available for the United Nations instead.

Next article: "How United States Fights for War Supplies."

FATHER CALL DATE UNKNOWN

Moves By Foe May Determine Time, McNutt And Hershey Say

Induction Factors Are Variable, Governors' Conference Informed

[By the Associated Press]

Columbus, Ohio, June 22—The fortunes of war may set the date for drafting fathers, the nation's manpower and selective service chiefs said today.

The time of the call is indefinite and may be determined by moves of the enemy, Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service chief, told the thirty-fifth annual Governors' conference.

The lowering of physical requirements and increasing the number of WAACs and WAVES has "pushed back" the date for inducting fathers, McNutt declared in an address read for him by Robert C. Goodwin, regional WMC director.

Points To Factors

"We cannot yet say how far," McNutt added. "We do not yet know what the yield will be as the result of the change in physical qualifications.

"In the days and weeks to come the military forces may again find it possible to reduce their physical requirements, or they may take more older men for limited service, or the fortunes of war may require other adjustments in their plans. We may find the date changed again."

General Hershey said factors governing inductions were so variable he did not know "what the call was going to be for September," adding:

"I suppose General (George C.) Marshall (United States army chief of staff) would like to know what the Japs are going to do in August."

To Use All Alternatives

General Hershey's comments were in reply to a question by Gov. William H. Wills of Vermont on whether it was possible to say "just when" fathers would be drafted.

"I'm having a great deal of disturbance in my State because fathers are confused by changing reports concerning when they will be drafted," Wills commented. "Daily they ask: 'What shall I do with my family? What shall I do with my wife? What shall I do with my business?'"

Both General Hershey and McNutt agreed that the call for men with families would be delayed as long as possible.

Russia Congratulated

"When we are perfectly sure that every last alternative—as measured by the stern priorities of war—has been exhausted, then and only then, will fathers be called," the WMC chief declared.

General Hershey expressed belief some single men holding agricultural and industrial deferments and a number classified 4-F because of physical disability would be inducted ahead of fathers.

In the 4-F group are many who "should go, but I'm having a terrible time selling them to the army and navy," he said.

The conference adopted unanimously today a resolution extending "heartiest congratulations" to the people of Russia on this, the second anniversary, of Germany's attack upon the Soviet Union.

JONES EXPLAINS WORLD FOOD PLAN

Washington, June 22 A. P.).—The Senate and the House Agriculture committees were told today by Marvin Jones that the recent United Nations Food Conference was the first step in an effort to get the nations of the earth to work together in time of peace as necessity compels them to work together in time of war.

Reporting on proceedings of the Hot Springs conference, of which he was chairman, Mr. Jones said the conferees believed that "somehow, somewhere, conditions can be so fashioned that every able-bodied person will have a chance to earn what he needs to eat and be able to secure enough of the right kind of food for life and health."

"That is a very simple idea but it never has been realized," he added. "The most important thing in the world is to make it a fact.

"War conditions have shown that full employment can be had. There is no reason why that can not be continued in a world of peace. If we can win security from hunger for all men, we can win for free men security from the rise and aggression of tyrants. If we can win freedom from want, we can make all men strong enough to be free."

Recommendations of the conference "do not carry with them the idea of any nation playing the part of Santa Claus," Mr. Jones said, but they recognized that each nation must take care of the needs of its own people to the best of its ability.

180 AMERICANS IN PRISONER LIST

Washington, June 22.—The War Department made public today an additional list of 180 United States soldiers who are held prisoners of war; 83 by Germany and 97 by the Japanese. The names include New York, New Jersey and Connecticut men:

NEW YORK.

BILLINGS, CLARENCE, private; father, Albert Billings, 541 West 50th street.
CULKIN, THOMAS P., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Helen L. Culkin, 25 Kendig Place, Hempstead, L. I.
EDER, JOHN C., first lieutenant; wife, Mrs. Joyce Eder, 186-36 Jordan avenue, St. Albans.
FUNK, FERDINAND D., private; father, Herbert W. Funk, 54 Shepard street, Rockville Centre.
ZIFKIN, DAVID, private; father, L. Zifkin, 1074 Southern Boulevard, Bronx.

NEW JERSEY.

DENNISON, WILLIAM A., private first class; mother, Mrs. Mary C. Dennison, 105 South Grove street, East Orange.
FARRELL, JOSEPH J., corporal; sister, Mrs. Regina Ferguson, 12 Barclay avenue, Parlin.
GLOWIN, ANDREW E., private; mother, Mrs. Rose Glowin, 697 South 11th street, Newark.
SPAGONE, THOMAS, private first class; mother, Mrs. Amelia Spagone, 303 South Seventh street, Newark.

CONNECTICUT.

MacCAMMOND, JAMES A. JR., staff sergeant; father, James A. F. MacCammond, 144 Mansfield avenue, Darien.

Five Army Men Killed In Bomber Crash

Del Rio, Tex., June 22 (A. P.)—Two officers and three enlisted men were killed in the crash of a Laughlin Army Air Field medium bomber on routine flight near Albany, Tex., Sunday night, the field's public relations office announced today.

JUN 23 1943

29 NAVY CASUALTIES

Washington, June 22 (A. P.)—The Navy announced today twenty-nine casualties, including three dead and twenty-six missing. In addition, two men previously reported missing and one reported wounded now are listed as dead.

This brings to 23,176 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,491 dead, 4,724 wounded and 10,961 missing.

The casualties announced today included. Sam Kane, missing; father, Alexander J. Kane, of 20

To Attend Ottawa Sessions

Congressional Delegation to Sit In on Parliamentary Conference

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—A Congressional delegation composed of four Senators and four members of the House will leave here on Friday for Ottawa to attend sessions of the Dominion of Canada branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association.

Those scheduled to go are Senators Tom Connally, Democrat, of Texas; Walter F. George, Democrat, of Georgia; Warren R. Austin, Republican, of Vermont; Harold H. Burton, Republican, of Ohio, and Representatives Sol Bloom, Democrat, of New York; Luther A. Johnson, Democrat, of Texas; Charles A. Eaton, Republican, of New Jersey, and John M. Vorys, Republican, of Ohio.

Stephan Seeks Mercy Hearing With President

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Nicholas Salowich, attorney for Max Stephan, convicted traitor, sought desperately tonight to obatin a personal audience with President Roosevelt—the one person now who can save Stephan from hanging July 2.

Earlier today, the Sixth United States Circuit Court o fAppeals at Cincinnati had denied Stephan a new trial, holding that "there is no reversible error on the record."

The circuit court's decision was the second time it has denied a new trial to the man who aided Oberleutnant Hans Peter Krug, German war prisoner, to leave Detroit after a flight from Canada.

The United States Supreme Court has three times refused to intervene in Stephan's case, and now less than two weeks remain before his scheduled hanging.

WAR DEPT. TO HIRE MORE EMPLOYES

200,000 Workers to Be Added in 1944, Patterson Tells House Group.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP) Robert P. Patterson, undersecretary of War, told the House Civil Service committee today that the War department has requested 200,000 additional employes for the fiscal year 1944.

He appeared before the committee to amplify his previous statement that the department plans to drop 100,000 civilian employes. He explained that the department now has 1,300,000 civilian employes and that a study has shown that the present work load can be handled by 1,200,000.

He reported today, however, that "we expect new activities. For example, care of prisoners of war. I still hope for a dimunition of personnel in the next few months." He said that what he "had in mind when I said there would be a reduction of 100,000 was the work being done this fiscal year."

From Rep. Ramspeck (D., Ga.) came the observation that "this indicates to me that the management of the War department is confused by its own situation, and conflicting testimony of its own witnesses. Of course it was not intential. It is a lack of overall management."

JUN 23 1943

30.24 - 5279

30.24—5279

Elk Hills Oil Agreement Likened to Teapot Dome

Justice Dept. Official Makes Charge But Emphasizes Faith in Navy.

WASHINGTON, June 22 — (AP) A Justice department official asserted today that the now-abrogated contract for operation of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve contained features going "far beyond" the leases involved in the Teapot Dome scandal, but emphasized that he was not questioning the Navy's good faith.

Meanwhile, a Navy representative insisted that the contract was both legal and, from the standpoint of public interest, "excellent."

Testifies Before Committee

Assistant Attorney General Norman Littell mentioned the Teapot Dome affair in testimony to the House Public Lands committee. The committee is inquiring into the contract which Secretary of the Navy Knox executed but later rescinded with Standard Oil of California concerning development of the Elk Hills (Cali.) naval petroleum reserve.

Keith Kane, legal advisor to the Navy department, defended the contract. He said the Navy would present later its detailed views on the merits of the agreement.

In letters to the House and Senate Naval Affairs committee, Secretary Knox, meantime, hinted at ulterior motives behind the attacks on the contract. He wrote that while he had ordered abrogation of the contract the Navy would not "under any circumstances surrender willingly to the pressure or intrigue or anyone, public or private, who seeks to exploit and dissipate" the Elk Hills field. He did not elaborate on this point.

Navy Acted in Good Faith

While saying the Justice department considered the contract "illegal and invalid," Mr. Littell expressed belief that the Navy department entered into it in good faith.

Rep. Mott (R-Ore) inquired whether Mr. Littell thought Standard also made the agreement in good faith.

"I don't know the motives of Standard," Littell replied. "I may have ideas but I don't care to answer that."

Mr. Littell said the contract provided for the Navy to pay Standard $1,748,408 for title to the company's surface rights to about 8,300 acres of the reserve, operation of the field by Standard with one-third of the oil going to the company and two-thirds to the Navy but with not more than 27,375,500 barrels of oil to be withdrawn without specific Navy authorization.

He declared the contract established a form of "partnership" between the government and Standard and conveyed property (oil) owned by the government to the company.

"This contract goes beyond the Fall contracts," he added.

Albert Fall, Secretary of the Interior in President Harding's Administration, executed the Teapot Dome contracts which were the subject of a five-year investigation by Congress. Fall eventually was convicted of accepting a $100,000 bribe but other defendants alleged to have conspired with him were acquitted.

(The Teapot Dome contracts called for the exchange of government-owned oil for equipment owned by private companies.)

Sought Postponement

When the committee met to begin its inquiry, Mr. Littell asked a postponement in order to give the Navy time to study the Justice department's report to President Roosevelt of its views of the contract.

Rep. Lemke (R-ND) objected, however, saying he was "suspicious," and the committee decided to go ahead. Chairman Peterson (D-Fla) also announced he would discuss with the Rules committee the question of sending a sub-committee to California to visit the reserve.

Mr. Kane told the committee that the Navy faced the necessity of drilling offset wells to protect itself against drainage of oil from its property to wells Standard operates in the reserve. This, he explained, was the basic reason why the contract had been entered into after failure of efforts to reach an agreemnt for outright purchase of the Standard interest, valued by Standard at more than $146,000,000 after tax deduction.

Property Held "in Escrow"

Pending settlement of the case, he said, the Navy is holding Standard's property "in escrow" but the company and the Navy have "mutually agreed" to rescind the contract.

Secretary Knox, in his letter to the naval committees, also mentioned the matter of drainage of oil from the Navy's holdings.

Of the contract, he said, "I felt and still do that this was a satisfactory disposition of this difficult problem."

The contract was negotiated for the Navy, he said, under the direction of Rear Admiral H. A. Stuart, "who has given a life time of distinguished service to the Navy and more than 20 years of conscientious, able and devoted effort to the protection of our oil reserves."

"I can assure you," Secretary Knox continued, "that there is not a shadow of suspicion in my mind regarding the probity and good faith of anyone connected with this transaction either on behalf of the Navy or the company. The latter has been most cooperative and it is well to bear in mind that the agreement, which is being terminated with the company's consent, was instigated by the Navy."

The Navy secretary said one reason for negotiation of the contract was the desire to avoid prolonged and expensive condemnation proceedings, but "perhaps in the circumstances the best alternative is condemnation."

Secretary Knox signed the contract for the Navy Nov. 18, 1942, effective Nov. 20.

WLB APPEALS TO ROOSEVELT IN MINE STRIKE

JUN 23 1943

Davis Tells President Board Believes He Should Act to Enforce Orders.

WHITE HOUSE REMAINS SILENT

Lewis and Ickes Confer but Give No Hint of Progress of Their Discussion.

Washington, June 22 (A. P.).—The War Labor Board informed President Roosevelt today that it believes unanimously that all the powers of the Government necessary should be exercised to enforce its order to operators and striking coal miners to enter into agreements settling the coal dispute.

With the mines now closed by the strike, William H. Davis, chairman of the WLB, sent the President a letter recalling that the board last Friday had directed the parties to formulate agreements based on the old Appalachian contract with certain special wage adjustments within the stabilization program.

He said the operators had offered to comply but that John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers refused.

"Although the War Labor Board was not unanimous in voting for the directive order of June 18," Mr. Davis said, "it is unanimous in advising you that in its opinion the directive order should be enforced and all the power of Government necessary for its enforcement should be exercised."

While the latter left it directly up to the President to determine what steps should be taken, there was no indication at the White House of immediate action.

Delivery of the letter to the White House followed another conference between Secretary Ickes, to whom Mr. Roosevelt turned over operation of coal mines on May 1, and Mr. Lewis.

They met for an hour and a half and declined to say what had transpired.

Mr. Lewis said nothing at all, and Secretary Ickes' office simply issued this statement:

"The Secretary of Interior and members of his staff today conferred with John L. Lewis, John O'Leary, John Owens and Percy Tetlow, executive officers of the United Mine Workers.

"There will be no further comment today from the office of the Secretary of the Interior."

The announcement duplicated one by Mr. Ickes on their first meeting yesterday, except that it omitted the assertion that the conference would be resumed.

Barring some settlement not yet apparent, President Roosevelt was believed to be ready to take prompt action to get the miners back to work. What this action might be was not indicated.

Their latest walkout, third in seven weeks, has already begun to choke the war-vital steel industry; coke production was cut in Alabama and Pennsylvania, some blast furnaces were being prepared to shut down and officials pictured the industry as close to the bottom of the bin in coal supplies.

Without presidential intervention, the only hopeful sign in the troubled coal situation was the conferences between Secretary Ickes, Government operation of the mines and Mr. Lewis.

Pennsylvania—117,000 soft coal miners and 83,000 anthracite workers were idle in a complete shutdown. Carnegie-Illinois Steel said part of its Pittsburgh coke ovens were banked already, and that some blast furnaces had been shut down.

West Virginia—All the 130,000 bituminous miners on strike.

Kentucky—47,000 miners out, closing 200 mines. Still working were about 4,500 members of the Progressive Miners (A. F. of L.) and 8,500 non-union coal diggers.

Illinois—32,500 of the State's 40,000 miners idle in 270 of the 335 workings, including all 25,000 U. M. W. members in 200 mines. Half of the State's 15,000 Progressive Miners also walked out in a sympathy strike.

Alabama—All 22,000 idle, Republic Steel at Birmingham announced a forced 50 per cent reduction in coke production.

Midwest—Indiana's 8,000 and Ohio's 21,000 out.

South—Joining walkout were all of Arkansas' 4,000, Virginia's 23,500, Tennessee's 10,000.

West—Oklahoma's sixty-six mines, employing 2,300 down; also idle were 6,600 in Colorado, 3,300 in Utah, 2,400 in Washington, 4,100 in Wyoming, 1,800 in New Mexico, 1,300 in Montana, 2,000 in Iowa.

Lewis and the U. M. W. policy committee refused to interfere with the walkout which followed a two-weeks' truce between the miners and the operators. The War Labor Board, which rejected the union's demands for underground travel pay and ordered the 1941 contract continued for two years, was represented as being as firm in its stand.

Unquotable sources said that the WLB served notice on Mr. Ickes that any understanding he reaches with Mr. Lewis must conform to the board's directive.

Besides the old contract terms, the board granted the miners an increase in vacation pay and allowances for equipment which would raise their daily pay about 25 cents. Underground travel pay, the board insisted, contained a hidden increase that would not be allowable under the hold-the-line Government policy and was a matter for the courts to decide.

Chairman William H. Davis said that the miners, on a six-day week, could average $49.60.

Mr. Lewis said that it was a yellow dog contract and would have nothing to do with it.

If usual procedure is followed, the WLB would certify the mine walkout to the President as a case of non-compliance, asking him to enforce its orders. This is done usually after the lapse of a few days.

Meanwhile, Secretary Ickes issued an order "freezing" the estimated 3,000,000 tons of railroad-borne soft coal in transit so it could be diverted where needed most. None of it may go to consumers having more than ten days' supply and those with less may apply to their railroad freight agent for aid in obtaining emergency fuel.

U. S. INCOME UP 1.8 TIMES

OWI Compares Today's Pay With That Of 1940 In Arriving At Conclusion

Advises Americans The Wise Thing To Do Is To Pay Taxes, Debts And Buy Bonds

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 22—The average American's income today is about 1.8 times what is was in the middle of 1940 but "it isn't exactly the same kind of money," the Office of War Information said today.

For the time being, "money represents wealth only in a limited sense," OWI said, adding that if used to compete for the limited supply of consumer goods it will push prices up but will buy no more than if wages, profits and prices stayed down, for "there are no added goods and no capacity for making added goods."

OWI Gives Advice

"Price boosts already have taken up a part, though by no means the major part, of the increase in income," the OWI said. "The average American has nothing to gain by putting the rest of his extra income into rising prices. Under the circumstances the smartest things for him to do with it after buying what he needs to live are these:

Pay debts so he'll be out of red when money is scarcer.

Pay taxes to settle for as much of the war now as he can.

Buy bonds so he'll have money later.

When the defense program began three years ago the average income for man, woman and child was around $47.92 a month, OWI reported, and the country's military expenditures that month—July, 1940—totalled about $1.50 a person.

In April of this year per capita income, pushed up by war outlays, was $85.03. If each American had been required to pay the war expenses on the spot, he would have given up $53.52 of his monthly income.

In point of fact, Americans are not having to pay war expenses on the spot, and the explanation of that, said OWI, is "a complicated matter."

CANADIAN OIL DEAL ASSAILED

Dimond of Alaska Calls Project Inexcusable.

JUN 23 1943

Washington, June 22 (A. P.).—Development by the Army of the Norman oil field in northwest Canada instead of oil resources of Alaska was termed "completely inexcusable" today by delegate Dimond of Alaska.

The delegate said in a statement that development of the field at Fort Norman will cost in excess of $100,000,000. The field is owned, he said, by a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Ending secrecy which had surrounded the field for the last year, the War Department disclosed this week that newly developed wells there will help supply gasoline and fuel oil needs of the Army and Navy in Alaska and Canada.

Mr. Dimond said the Department of the Interior had set aside in January of this year three huge oil reserves in Alaska but that nothing had been done to develop them. The Alaskan fields, he said, have been surveyed by engineers and have been pronounced outstanding oil land.

JUN 23 1943

"I don't question action taken by military men for military purposes, but failure to develop the oil resources of Alaska is completely inexcusable," he said. "Evidently from news reports we are undertaking to spend more than $100,000,000 to bring Canadian oil into Alaska.

"For a comparatively small sum we could find out if we have the oil in Alaska that engineers say is there. . . . If the Government would only give private operators permission to drill wells in Alaska they would be glad to do so."

Mr. Dimond said that when there was a Japanese threat against Alaska it was sensible not to open up new oil fields, but he asserted that such a threat has been removed.

Serious Food Shortage Feared In Australia

New York, June 22 (AP)—Albert Badman, member of the Australian Parliament, said today Australia faced a serious shortage of food for the same reason that he claimed the United States faced one—"shortsighted policy in dealing with war manpower problems."

"If the war lasts another two years," he said, "both the United States and Australia will be forced to release men from the armed forces to return to work on the land and in industrial production."

Badman arrived here today from London, where, with five fellow-Parliament members, he attended a conference of the Empire Parliamentary Association. He said many Australian dairy herds had been slaughtered to supply the demand for beef, and that those herds "will be irreplaceable for many years." Australia was able to supply England with 70,000 pounds of butter annually "only by rationing butter in Australia," he said, recalling that England purchased 140,000 pounds a year from Australia before the war.

Troops Slow Detroit Rioters Race Clash Death Toll 29

Saloons Closed, Public Assemblage Barred, Horse Races And Baseball Game Canceled

[By the Associated Press]

Detroit, June 22—Under orders to "load your guns and don't take anything from anybody" United States Army troops patrolled Detroit streets today, restoring calm to this great armament production center after twenty-four hours of racial conflict that brought death to twenty-nine persons and injuries of varying degree to at least 700 others.

All but three of the dead were Negroes; of the injured, seventy-four remained in hospitals today, six of them policemen.

An estimated 1,300 persons were under arrest. Police officials said that about eighty-five per cent. of them were Negroes averaging in age around 21. Most of them were held in specially established prisons guarded by Michigan State troops.

Police reported sporadic outbreaks in various areas tonight, but they were quelled quickly. Few persons were on downtown streets.

Police and soldiers raided a three-story apartment building in one section as a precautionary measure. A young Negro was arrested, but no weapons or ammunition were found in the building.

In another area, police reported several shots were fired as a mob of white youths chased three Negroes through a park. The Negroes escaped.

Police had no reports of any persons injured up to the 10 P. M. curfew time.

Saloons remained closed throughout the day, and all public assemblies were banned.

Thousands of Negro factory workers, said to be fearful of renewed outbreaks, stayed away from work. An Office of War Information survey indicated Negro factory absenteeism today ranged from fifty to ninety per cent. The effect upon war goods production, plant spokesmen said, probably would not be apparent until tomorrow.

Canceled were today's Cleveland-Detroit baseball game and the day's horse racing program at the Michigan State Fairground. Theaters were permitted to remain open only until 9.15 P. M., and a curfew ordering all law-abiding citizens off the streets from 10 P. M. until 6 A. M. also continued in effect.

Governor Kelly, who invoked these restrictions, announced after a conference with army officers that the troops would stay in the Detroit area indefinitely.

In Recorder's Court today thirty-one men and three women, all Negroes, convicted of disturbing the peace in yesterday's rioting, were sentenced to ninety-day terms in the Detroit House of Correction.

Troops In Jeeps

Sent into the area under a proclamation of President Roosevelt that took note of "unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings," the troops in trucks and jeeps from which protruded muzzles of rifles and machine guns, patrolled the main streets and yesterday's battle sectors.

Yesterday those streets and the outlying sectors were the scenes of savage hand-to-hand conflict between whites and Negroes.

The troops were enforcing a limited form of military control. There were more than 1,000 of them on duty with as many more held in reserve in near-by army posts. In speedy jeeps and trucks they were available for quick movement to any affected area in a tri-county zone declared by Governor Kelly to be in a state of emergency. Their equipment included armored cars and a Red Cross unit.

Area Affected

Governor Kelly's state-of-emergency order covered Wayne county (Detroit) and adjoining Oakland and Macomb counties, where many of the metropolitan area's larger armament factories are located.

The army forces were under the command of Brig. Gen. Wiliam E. Guthner, of the Sixth Service Command. He explained that martial law had not been proclaimed. The President's proclamation, he said, "gave Federal assistance to the state of emergency." This form leaves the military subordinate to the civil authority.

Most of the debris of yesterday's rioting in the downtown area—overturned and burned automobiles, shattered glass from smashed store fronts, the rocks and clubs used by warring men and women not otherwise armed—had been cleared away today. There was more visible evidence of the savagery of yesterday's outbreak in the upper east side Negro area.

Hitler's Boast

Police Lieutenant Albert Hartsig, who toured the area, told of signs on some houses reading: "This is a colored home; do not break in." These homes, Hartsig said, were untouched while others which bore no placards were wrecked and plundered.

At another point in the middle east side Negro section police halted a Negro driving an automobile from the radiator which flew a white flag. "That flag means I'm neutral," the driver explained; "I'm not taking any chances."

The officers said they found a pistol inside his shirt and booked him on a concealed weapon charge.

C. M. Bolds, regional labor representative of the War Production Board's labor production division, issued an appeal to all workers, Negro and white, to forget their differences and unite in efforts to win the war.

"Long ago," he said, "Hitler bragged that his agents would bring about a race situation such as the one which is now seriously hampering war production in the Detroit area."

R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), in a statement today called for a grand jury investigation of yesterday's rioting and suggested appointment of a biracial committee to make recommendations toward eliminating racial differences and friction.

That part of the east side Negro section in a four-block strip east of Brush street and extending two and one half miles north of Gratiot avenue presented the appearance today of a war-ravaged village.

Store Fronts Smashed

Store fronts had been smashed in, discarded food, torn clothing, shoe boxes and store fixtures littered the pavements.

Steel lattice grills that had protected some store windows had been ripped from their fastenings and left on the sidewalks; clothing store dummies could be seen hanging from store signs, or, stripped of wearing apparel, lying in the gutter or leaning against the buildings.

With Applying Spark To Long-Drying Tinder

JUN 23 1943

By PAUL CHANDLER
[Associated Press Staff Writer]

Detroit, June 22—Stunned Detroit looked over its death toll and wreckage and asked a question, "What caused the race riots?"

Were they simply an outgrowth of a Sunday evening fist fight on a crowded bridge? Police have pointed to that incident as the start of the bloody struggle that surged up and down city streets for twenty-four hours before troops arrived and restored a form of peace.

Almost unanimously, the populace agreed that the fist fight—between a white man and a Negro—was merely the spark applied to the tinder; tinder that has been drying and aging for many months.

Nerves On Edge

Detroit is a city of war plants. War workers are laboring long hours and long weeks at their machines. Nerves are on edge.

"I believe this has as much to do with the riot as anything," said John H. Witherspoon, police commissioner. "We've seen it coming for months. It was inevitable."

Labor is scarce here. Workers move into the city by the trainloads, many of them from the South. Mayor Edward J. Jeffries expressed an opinion that many of the new workers have brought with them a new set of racial standards, and when the opportunity arose they put them into practice.

Thomas Blames Axis

R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers, CIO, sees the black hand of Axis fifth columnists. While the riot was at its height Monday, Thomas rose to his feet in a public meeting and shouted to Mayor Jeffries:

"I tell you this is the work of German fifth columnists. I demand that the FBI and the police of Detroit find the filthy agents who are behind this and sentence them to traitors' death."

An estimated 90,000 Negroes were streaming back over the bridge from Belle Isle, popular picnic area, Sunday when the first fight occurred. Then a rumor spread up and down the bridge that a Negro woman and her child had been killed by white men.

Rumor False

"The rumor was a pure falsehood," Witherspoon said later, "but it couldn't be stopped. Many Negroes still believe it is true."

John S. Bucas, FBI head in Detroit, emphatically denied that there was evidence the riot was planned or organized.

"There is no indication that Axis propaganda or any foreign power had anything to do with it," Bugas said. "I personally believe it was a spontaneous outbreak; a culmination of racial feeling in the city."

Boys Running Wild

In later stages of the rioting young boys between fourteen and eighteen years of age were running wild on the streets. Mobs of 300 and 400 youths upset automobiles, chased isolated Negroes and stormed streetcars.

Witherspoon saw here the problem of growing juvenile delinquency; youthful passion running rampant.

Bugas commented, "Do you think the 200 kids, boys between the ages of 14 to 18, who stopped a streetcar, pulled off Negroes and pummeled them, were acting on orders? I don't. That was just plain mob violence and feeling."

Detroit Race Riot Cause Still Remains Undetermined

JUN 23 1943

Fist Fight On Crowded Bridge Popularly Credited

REDS TO HAVE HELP, WALKER PROMISES

Allies Nearing Moment for Attack on Continent, Says Post Office Head.

CHICAGO, June 22—(AP) Postmaster General Frank C. Walker stated tonight that the United Nations forces were drawing closer to Hitler's Europe and were ready to take up the Nazi-fighting "burden which Russia bore so well for two years."

"During the months Russia held off the common foe we had time to forge our weapons," he said in an address prepared for "Tribute to Russia" meeting in the Chicago stadium. 'They are ready now for use against the enemy."

Mr. Walker asserted that the fight put up by the Red armies had "redounded to the benefit of the United Nations and the people of America." He asked the audience to contemplate what would have happened if the Russians had been defeated in 1941 or 1942, and the Axis had taken Siberia to come within easy bomber range of Alaska.

The postmaster general, who also is chairman of the Democratic National committee, devoted part of his speech to post-war prospects.

"The Atlantic Charter and the agreements among the United Nations as to the sort of world in which they would establish peace are epochal triumphs," he said. "Be it remembered that Russia has subscribed to the agreements.

"Through Russia's adherence to these conventions hope is given mankind that when peace is won it will be maintained and supported by all the powerful states who today are members of the family of the United Nations."

Stamp Honoring Poland Is Dedicated in Chicago

Advance Philatelic Orders May Set New Record

CHICAGO, June 22 (AP).—Advance philatelic orders for first-day cancellations of the new bi-colored five-cent stamp honoring Poland threatened to establish a new high record, Postmaster Ernest J. Kreutgen said today.

Special dedicatory ceremonies for the first of a new series of eleven stamps honoring the invaded United Nations in Europe were held at 10 a. m. with Postmaster General Frank C. Walker as the principal speaker.

The first letter to receive the usual "first day of issue" cancellation on the new stamp was addressed to President Roosevelt by the Postmaster General, who announced that the first sheet of the new issue would be sold here to the Polish Consul, Dr. Karol Ripa. The stamp also was placed on sale in Washington and will be available at postoffices throughout the nation within a few days.

The number of first-day cancellations varies from 20,000 covers to more than 150,000. Chicago was selected as a city for first-day sale because of the large Polish population.

JUN 23 1943

30.24- 5281

30.24—5281

U.M.W. Leaders See Full Shifts By Tomorrow

JUN 23 1943

Assert 500,000 Miners Will Return as Soon as They Receive Official Notice

PITTSBURGH, June 22 (AP).—Leaders of the United Mine Workers in the soft-coal fields predicted tonight the more than 500,000 idle coal diggers quickly will return to their jobs when official word reaches them of their policy committee's action in calling off until Oct. 31 the industry-wide walkout.

"The men will carry out the advice of their international policy committee, no doubt about that," predicted William Hargest, veteran secretary-treasurer of U. M. W. District 5, Pittsburgh.

"Of course, they won't get the word in time to return tomorrow, but I expect they can start back by Thursday," he added.

Organizers in District 2, Altoona-Johnstown, and District 4, Uniontown, made similar predictions.

At Fairmont, W. Va., C. Fremont Davis, president of District 17, said word could not reach the miners in time to have many back at work "before day after next." He indicated that some mines might resume operation late tomorrow afternoon or at the Wednesday midnight shift.

Coal operators expressed pleasure at the turn, as did steel men, but the latter added that the calling off of the strike will not prevent shutting down a score of blast furnaces.

A spokesman for the United States Steel Corporation said half a dozen of their blast furnaces are being closed now and nineteen will be down by Thursday, even though coal production is resumed by then. Last month when a similar walkout caused the shutdown of a dozen furnaces it required a couple of days to restart them.

A seventh furnace banked was one of two operated by the Shenango Furnace Company at Sharpsville.

The Republic Steel Company disclosed yesterday that four of its Alabama blast furnaces were already cut to 80 per cent of capacity.

Maizie, the Seagoing Cat, Mothers Torpedoed Crew

Comforted 6 Seamen on Raft and Shared Their Rations

SAN PEDRO, Calif., June 22 (AP).—Maizie, a nondescript cat that has passed only ten days ashore since the war began, was a lifesaver to Eugene M. Clancy of New York, whose merchant ship was sunk.

Mazie, Clancy related yesterday, was their companion, and virtually their salvation, during fifty-six hours that six seamen passed on a liferaft after their vessel was torpedoed in the North Atlantic last March.

"If Mazie hadn't been with us we might have gone nuts," said Clancy. "There's something about a dumb animal that takes your mind off trouble. We completely forgot our personal discomforts. We almost fought for the privilege of petting her."

Maizie took her turn at mess, eating malted milk tablets and condensed foods with the crewmen, Clancy added in an interview authorized by the 11th Naval District. She even comforted the men suffering from exposure and seasickness, going from one to another almost like a mother, he said.

23 Wounded Soldiers Decorated At Staunton

Staunton, Va., June 22 (AP)—Twenty-three American soldiers who were wounded in the campaign in North Africa were presented the Order of the Purple Heart medals in a simple ceremony held today on the grounds of Woodrow Wilson General Hospital here.

Nine of the men were unable to be "out front" facing the flag when the medals were pinned on by Col. Sydney L. Chappell, commanding officer of the hospital. The medals were awarded individually to the men who were unable to leave their hospital beds.

3 [illegible]lyers Die in Crash

M[illegible], Fla., June 22 (AP).—An officer and two enlisted men lost their lives late yesterday when a Navy plane from the Fort Lauderdale station crashed into the ocean ten miles northeast of Fort Lauderdale. The Navy announced that those killed were Ensign Wallace Smythe, whose father, Charles W. Smythe, lives at Madison, Wis.; Machinist Mate Leland L. Osgood, whose mother, Mrs. Olive N. Osgood, lives at Monroe, Mich., and Radioman George W. Horton, whose father, Harry A. Horton, lives at St. Albans, N. Y.

New Trial for Stephan Denied for Second Time

Execution for Helping Nazi Officer Is Set for July 2

CINCINNATI, June 22 (AP).—Holding "there is no reversible error on the record," the 6th United States Circuit Court of Appeals today for the second time denied a new trial to Max Stephan, Detroit restaurateur under sentence to be hanged July 2 for treason. The court's decision came scarcely two hours after counsel for Stephan and for the government concluded arguments before a five-judge bench. The Supreme Court of the United States had thrice refused to intervene.

Stephan was convicted last August of having aided the flight to Mexico of Oberleutenant Hans Peter Krug, of the German air force, from Canadian internment. Sentenced Aug. 6 to be hanged Nov. 13, Stephan appealed to the Cincinnati court, which, however, affirmed the Detroit tribunal's action. After the Supreme Court refused to review the case Judge Arthur J. Tuttle on June 5 fixed the new date of Stephan's execution as July 2.

HERSHEY GIVES HIS IDEAS ON DEMOBILIZATION

JUN 23 1943

Would Free Men From Services as Business Calls for Them.

TO EASE ECONOMIC STRAIN

Donnell of Missouri Adds His Voice to Demand for Relief From Corn Shortage.

Columbus, Ohio, June 22 (A. P.).—Major-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, suggested today that the release of eight to ten million men from the armed services only as they are needed in business and industry might "help relieve the pressure of possible post-war unemployment."

Speaking before the annual Governors' conference, Gen. Hershey said that mustering out of men at a rate comparable with mobilization, or as they become needed in civilian jobs, would help to ease any strain after the conflict ends.

He added, "We will keep under arms more men than we had April 1, 1940," but he did not elaborate.

No Estimate as to Fathers.

Gen. Hershey said he could not estimate when fathers would be called into service. In reply to a question from Gov. William H. Wills of Vermont, who said the question was causing "a great deal of disturbance in his State" because fathers were unable to plan for the future, Mr. Hershey declared the matter depended on variable factors and added:

"I wish I knew what the call was going to be for September. I suppose Gen. Marshall (Gen. George C. Marshall, Army Chief of Staff) would like to know what the Japs are going to do in August."

In Washington, Senator Wheeler (D.-Mont.) discussed the draft situation, telling the Senate that while he was glad to hear that the drafting of fathers has been postponed to October, "there have been so many confusing statements on the subject no one can depend upon it."

The Senator argued that Congress ought to say definitely whether pre-Pearl Harbor fathers should be drafted and "not depend upon the whims of these bureaucrats who say one thing today and another the next."

Shortly before Gen. Hershey spoke, Gov. Forrest G. Donnell of Missouri interrupted the conference to plead for concerted action to relieve a shortage of feed corn on American markets.

"This problem is urgent, critical and requires prompt solution," said Gov. Donnell, addressing Clifford Townsend, deputy war food administrator, a conference guest-speaker.

"I understand there are large quantities of corn available in the country, but it is not on the market because of present price ceilings on the grain," Gov. Donnell said.

A Plea for Corn.

"I respectfully plead with the Federal administration, through Mr. Townsend, to take immediate action to relieve the situation."

In reply, Mr. Townsend said corn ceiling prices were established because "it was generally conceded among farmers that you can produce corn profitably at about $1 a bushel."

"Maybe it was a mistake," he added, "but you all agree the purpose was laudable. The ceilings was raised a few months ago to increase the flow of corn into markets. It actually did not make much difference.

"The problem must be solved. It will be solved in some way and we welcome your recommendations."

Gov. Donnell, recalling an assertion yesterday by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York that corn should be channeled to dairy and poultry areas instead of being fed to hogs, remarked that "the fat of hogs is essential to the war."

In a telegram to President Roosevelt Sunday, Gov. Donnell suggested that Federal agencies, particularly the Office of Price Admintration, act to relieve the tight corn situation.

A Message to Russians.

The Governors' conference adopted unanimously a resolution extending "heartiest congratulations" to the people of Russia on this, the second anniversary of Germany's attack upon the Soviet Union.

"Today, June 22, 1943, is the anniversary of the dastardly attack made by the Germans upon the Russian people," the resolution said. "Since that time the Russians have resisted that attack with a fortitude that has inspired the admiration of every American. Their brave efforts in the face of all the might and cruelty that Hitler and his minions could muster command the praise of all their Allies.

"Therefore, the Governors of the several States of the United States in conference at Columbus, Ohio, representing the peoples of their separate States, on this anniversary, extend their warm greetings to the millions of Russian people and express their keen admiration for their courage and heartiest congratulations upon their victories over the Germans accomplished after great sacrifice of life and destruction of Russian cities and homes"

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23-(AP)-RAF BOMBERS WERE OVER GERMANY AGAIN LAST NIGHT, THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED TODAY.

LONDON, JUNE 22-(AP)-ANETA, NETHERLANDS NEWS AGENCY, SAID TODAY THAT THE LAST JEWS IN AMSTERDAM HAD BEEN DEPORTED TO POLAND BY THE GERMANS, WHICH IT SAID COMPLETED THE REMOVAL OF HOLLAND ENTIRE JEWISH POPULATION.

JUN 23 1943

RNESBAEW

LONDON-FIRST ADD JEWS YYY JEWISH POPULATION.

THE NEWS AGENCY SAID THAT THE NETHERLANDS HAD APPROXIMATELY 170,000 PERSONS CLASSIFIED AS JEWS BY NAZI STANDARDS AT THE TIME OF THE GERMAN INVASION.

THEIR DEPORTATION WAS CARRIED OUT IN THREE STAGES, ON A

JUN 23 1943

GEOGRAPHICAL BASIS. APRIL 10 WAS SET FOR THE BEGINNING OF THE REMOVAL OF JEWS FROM EIGHT OF HOLLAND'S 11 PROVINCES. JEWS IN THE REMAINING THREE PROVINCES WERE ORDERED REMOVED BEGINNING APRIL 23, EXCEPT FOR THE CITY OF AMSTERDAM.

IN AMSTERDAM, WHERE A LARGE CONCENTRATION OF JEWS WAS HELD BEHIND GHETTO BARRIERS, THE FINAL STAGE BEGAN WITH A DEPORTATION DECREE ISSUED BY MAY 14.

GHORAFW

[illegible] 1943

[illegible] ON MAY 14.

ANETA SAID SOME DUTCH JEWS WERE THOUGHT TO HAVE ESCAPED AND WERE HIDING IN THE PROVINCES, HELPED BY CHRISTIAN COMPATRIOTS. THE GERMANS HAVE ARRESTED SCORES FOR HARBORING JEWS.

JUN 23 1943

THE MASS REMOVAL WAS CARRIED OUT ON AN ALPHABETICAL BASIS WITHOUT REGARD TO AGE OR HEALTH, ANETA SAID. MANY DEPORTEES WERE SAID TO HAVE DIED BEFORE REACHING POLAND, WHERE MANY WERE HAULED IN CATTLE CARS--80 TO A CAR. ANETA SAID SOME SURVIVORS WERE REPORTED EXECUTED IN GAS CHAMBERS.

LONDON, JUNE 22-(AP)-SCOUTING AND ARTILLERY BOMBARDMENTS IN TH KHARKOV AREA AND LIGHT SKIRMISHES, ARTILLERY EXCHANGES AND AERIAL ACTIVITY IN OTHER SECTORS MARKED OVERNIGHT DEVELOPMENTS ON THE SOVIET FRONT, THE RUSSIAN MIDDAY COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

OTHERWISE, THE SITUATION WAS IN SHARP CONTRAST TO THAT OF JUNE 22, 1941, WHEN HITLER SENT HIS ARMORED FORCES ACROSS THE RUSSIAN FRONTIER TO LAUNCH THE BLOODIEST FIGHTING IN HISTORY.

IN THE BELGOROD AREA, NORTHEAST OF KHARKOV, RUSSIAN SOLDIERS PENETRATED GERMAN POSITIONS ACROSS THE DONETS RIVER AND RETURNED WITH PRISONERS, SAID THE COMMUNIQUE, WHICH WAS BROADCAST FROM MOSCOW AND RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR HERE. FOUR GERMAN PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN IN THAT AREA BY RUSSIAN FIGHTERS, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

NORTH OF CHUGUYEV, 40 MILES SOUTHEAST OF KHARKOV, THE RUSSIANS SAID THEIR ARTILLERY DISPERSED AND PARTLY ANNIHILATED ABOUT TWO GERMAN COMPANIES, DESTROYED ENEMY GUNS AND DEMOLISHED FORTIFICATIONS.

THE RUSSIAN AIRFORCE WAS REPORTED TO HAVE BOMBED A RAILWAY STATION BEHIND THE GERMAN LINES SOUTH OF BALAKLEYA IN AN ATTACK WHICH STARTED EIGHT FIRES. A GERMAN STAB ACROSS THE DONETS RIVER IN THE BALAKLEYA AREA WAS SAID TO HAVE FAILED WHEN RED ARMY SOLDIERS ENCIRCLED THE ADVANCING GROUP AND WIPED THEM OUT.

JUN 23 1943

ARTILLERY ACTION ALSO WAS REPORTED IN THE KARELIAN AREA ON THE NORTHERN FRONT AND IN THE SMOLENSK AREA OF THE WESTERN FRONT.

LONDON, JUNE 22-(AP)-INDIA'S NEW VICEROY, FIELD MARSHAL SIR ARCHIBALD P.WAVELL, REAFFIRMED TODAY BRITAIN'S PLEDGE OF DOMINION STATUS TO INDIA AFTER THE WAR AND DENIED ANY INTENTION OF SETTING UP A MILITARY RULE.

"THERE CERTAINLY IS NO INTENTION TO SET UP ANYTHING IN THE SHAPE OF A MILITARY RULE OR TO WITHDRAW OR WEAKEN IN ANY WAY THE PLEDGES AND OFFERS ALREADY MADE TO INDIA BY HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT," HE SAID.

THE MARSHAL WORE CIVILIAN CLOTHES AND MADE HIS FIRST STATEMENT SINCE HIS APPOINTMENT AS VICEROY, A POST HE ASSUMES IN OCTOBER AS LORD WAVELL.

"INDIA'S PROGRESS MUST DEPEND ON THE SUCCESSFUL PROSECUTION OF THE WAR," HE SAID, ADDING THAT THIS DID NOT MEAN "THAT I GO TO INDIA

JUN 23 1943

30.24-5283

30.24—5283

AS A SOLDIER OR THAT THERE CAN BE NO POLITICAL PROGRESS BEFORE THE END OF THE WAR."

HE INDICATED A WILLINGNESS AND INTENTION TO FORWARD INDIA'S CIVIL DEVELOPMENT BUT CAUTIONED:

"COMPLETE FULFILLMENT OF HER ASPIRATIONS REQUIRES THE REMOVAL OF THE JAPANESE MENACE. INDIA IS A VITAL SUPPLY BASE FOR THE STRATEGY OF THE UNITED NATIONS IN THE EAST, AND THE MORE FULLY AND RAPIDLY INDIA CAN DEVELOP AND EXTEND THE GREAT WAR EFFORT SHE ALREADY IS MAKING, THE SOONER WILL THE SHADOW OF WAR PASS FROM HER AND THE EARLIER SHE CAN ACHIEVE HER AIM OF FULL SELF GOVERNMENT."

INVASION

JUN 23 1943

LONDON, JUNE 22-(AP)-~~HIGHLIGHTED BY RUSSIA'S CALL FOR~~ FORTH." (BROADCASTING TO FRANCE IN THE NAME OF "THE INTER-ALLIED HIGH COMMAND," THE BBC BROADCAST URGED FRENCH PATROITS TO "BE WELL PREPARED" FOR AN INVASION.

THE BROADCAST RECALLED A PROMISE MADE THE FRENCH EIGHT MONTHS AGO BY A HIGH BRITISH ARMY OFFICIAL THAT THE ALLIES WOULD GIVE NOTICE OF INVASION IN TIME FOR ACTION FROM WITHIN THE COUNTRY.

HOWEVER, THE BBC CAUTIONED AGAINST PREMATURE ACTION AND COUNSELED PATIENCE.

MEANWHILE, THE GERMANS WERE REPORTED TO BE TAKING STRENGTHENING PRECAUTIONS AT BOTH THE EASTERN AND WESTERN ENDS OF THE MEDITERRANEAN.

THE ALGIERS RADIO SAID IN A BROADCAST THAT GERMAN HEADQUARTERS FOR SOUTHERN FRANCE HAD BEEN SET UP AT AVIGNON, 50 MILES INLAND FROM THE COAST, WHERE IT SAID A LARGE ARRAY OF NEW ARTILLERY HAD EEN INSTALLED.

ONE OF GERMANY'S CRACK DIVISIONS, THE 60TH MOTORIZED INFANTRY, AS REPORTED BY THE GERMAN RADIO TO HAVE BEEN TRANSFERRED TO FRANCE. E BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY REUTERS.

THIS REPORT COINCIDED WITH ANOTHER FROM A USUALLY RELIABLE SOURCE IN LONDON THAT GERMAN TROOP STRENGTH IN FRANCE HAD BEEN RAISED FROM 35 TO 44 DIVISIONS IN RECENT WEEKS, MAKING A TOTAL OF ABOUT 650,000 THERE.

JUN 23 1943

IN BULGARIA, WHERE THE GERMANS HAVE BEEN REPORTED INSTRUCTING HUNDREDS OF BULGARIAN AVIATORS AND SUPERVISING THE CONSTRUCTION OF AIRFIELDS, TANKS AND BOMBERS ARE BEING ACCUMULATED, THE STOCKHOLM NEWSPAPER AFTONBLADET SAID TODAY IN A DISPATCH TO REUTERS.

PREVIOUS REPORTS THAT THE WRANGLE BETWEEN HITLER AND HIS GENERAL STAFF HAD BEEN SETTLED IN FAVOR OF LIMITING THE OFFENSIVE IN RUSSIA IN ORDER TO MEET A WESTERN ALLIED INVASION WERE SUPPORTED BY THE YORKSHIRE POST.

ITS LONDON BUREAU QUOTED A MILITARY EXPERT AS SAYING THE GERMAN GENERAL STAFF CONTENDED THAT "AN INVASION FROM THE WEST WAS THE MORE DEADLY PERIL," BECAUSE THE WESTERN ROUTE TO GERMANY WAS THE SHORTEST AND THERE WAS MORE ROOM FOR A HOLDING WAR IN THE EAST.

GH851AEW

JUN 23 1943

LONDON--~~SECOND~~ (ADD NIGHT LEAD RUSSIAN ~~XXX AMMUNITION DUMP~~.

THE RUSSIANS SEIZED TWO GERMAN FOCKE-WULF 190 PLANES WHICH WERE FORCED DOWN IN SOVIET TERRITORY, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, ADDING THAT THE FLIERS WERE TAKEN PRISONER.

THE MIDDAY WAR BULLETIN REPORTED ONLY SCOUTING AND ARTILLERY BOMBARDMENTS IN THE KHARKOV AREA AND LIGHT GROUND OPERATIONS AND AERIAL ACTIVITY ON OTHER SECTORS MONDAY NIGHT.

JUN 23 1943

NORTHEAST OF KHARKOV, RED ARMY UNITS PENETRATED GERMAN POSITIONS ACROSS THE DONETS RIVER AND CAPTURED PRISONERS, THE COMMUNIQUE REPORTED.

THE MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE DISCOUNTED A REPORT OF THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND THAT ON THE NIGHT OF JUNE 19 LIGHT GERMAN NAVAL FORCES SHELLED THE TOWN AND PORT OF YEISK ON THE SEA OF AZOV.

"THE REPORT IN ITSELF DESERVES NO ATTENTION," SAID THE RUSSINS. "IT IS CHARACTERISTIC, HOWEVER, IN THE SENSE THAT THE GERMAN COMMAND IS TRYING CUNNINGLY TO KNOCK OVER THE TRUTH, NOT ONLY IN BIG BUT EVEN IN SMALL THINGS.

"ACTUALLY, ON JUNE 20 SEVEN GERMAN MOTORBOATS TRIED TO APPROACH YEISK BUT WERE DRIVEN OFF BY OUR ARTILLERY AND AIRCRAFT. FOUR WERE SUNK AND THE REMAINING THREE ESCAPED UNDER THE COVER OF A SMOKESCREEN."

FOURTH NIGHT LEAD AERIAL

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23-(AP)-FORMATIONS OF RAF HEAVY BOMBERS UNLOADED ANOTHER GREAT CARGO OF HIGH EXPLOSIVES ON GERMANY LAST NIGHT AS NAZI AIRMEN STRUCK BACK AT SOUTHEAST ENGLAND AND SET THE AIR RAID SIRENS WAILING IN LONDON FOR THE SECOND SUCCESSIVE NIGHT.

AS USUAL, THE BRITISH DID NOT IMMEDIATELY DISCLOSE THE TARGET OF THE RAF, WHICH GAVE THE GERMANS NO CHANCE TO CATCH THEIR BREATH AS IT CONTINUED THE ALLIED AERIAL OFFENSIVE ON A ROUND-THE-CLOCK BASIS.

REPORTS FROM COASTAL OBSERVERS, WHO TOLD OF HEARING LARGE NUMBERS OF OUTWARD BOUND BRITISH BOMBERS CROSSING THE CHANNEL DURING THE NIGHT, LEFT LITTLE DOUBT, HOWEVER, THAT THE RAID WAS CARRIED OUT IN STRONG FORCE.

JUN 23 1943

THE NAZI REPRISAL RAIDS WERE BY COMPARISON ON A SMALL SCALE, THOUGH SOME DAMAGE WAS REPORTED FROM ONE SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN.

LAST NIGHT'S RAID ON GERMANY FOLLOWED A HEAVY ASSAULT BY AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES YESTERDAY ON THE GERMAN RUHR, WHERE PRECISION BOMBING KINDLED A SQUARE MILE OF BLAZES IN THE GERMAN SYNTHETIC RUBBER CENTER OF HULS.

LONDON, JUNE 22 - Add Aerial

THE GERMANS SAID "NUMEROUS BLOCKS OF BUILDINGS" AND TWO HOSPITALS HAD BEEN WRECKED IN THE KREFELD ATTACK, WHICH THEY SAID WAS CENTERED "ESPECIALLY IN RESIDENTIAL QUARTERS."

WHILE THE BRITISH HEAVIES WERE OVER KREFELD, FIGHTERS SWEPT OUT ON INTRUDER PATROLS OVER FRANCE AND BELGIUM, ATTACKING THE AIRFIELD AT POIX, AND HITTING RAILWAY TARGETS, THE COMMUNIQUE REPORTED.

STABBING AT LONDON MONDAY NIGHT, THE GERMANS CAUSED CASUALTIES AND SOME PROPERTY DAMAGE. THE NAZIS WERE OUT IN GREATER FORCE THAN IN SEVERAL WEEKS, BUT ONLY A FEW PLANES WERE SAID TO HAVE REACHED THE LONDON AREA.

KK331PEW

JUN 23 1943

30.24-5285

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23-(AP) ~~THE~~ and U.S.ARMY EXCHANGE SERVICE) ~~WHICH~~

"WE MAY EVEN SELL SOME AMERICAN ARTICLES BELOW COST SOON," SAID COL.EDMUND BARNUM, BOSTON, MASS., CHIEF OF THE EXCHANGE SERVICE IN THE EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS.

AMERICAN CIGARETTES ARE RATIONED AT SEVEN PACKAGES A WEEK AND COST JOHNNY DOUGHBOY FIVE CENTS A PACK.

PEANUTS ARE IN BRISK DEMAND.

JUN 23 1943

"MOST MEN HERE HAVE EATEN MORE PEANUTS IN THE LAST YEAR THAN THEY TE BEFORE IN THEIR ENTIRE LIFE," SAID BARNUM.

LONDON, JUNE 22-(AP)-LONDON'S EVER-READY HOME GUARD WAS STARTLED TONIGHT TO FIND STREET CORNERS PATROLLED BY ARMED AMERICAN SOLDIERS, SIFLES PROTRUDING OMINOUSLY FROM HEDGES AND YANKEE JEEPS AND MOTORCYCLES COURSING THE SWANKIER THOROUGHFARES.

SOLDIERS OF THE U.S. ARMY LONDON BASE COMMAND, WHO SPEND MOST OF THEIR TIME AT "HOUSEKEEPING" TASKS SUCH AS CLERICAL WORK, STANDING GUARD AND PEELING POTATOES, WENT ON AN "INVASION" FOOTING FOR TWO AND A HALF HOURS, TURNING OUT IN BATTLE GEAR IN MOCK DEFENSE OF A SQUARE MILE AROUND AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS.

IT WAS A SURPRISE FOR THEM AND FROM THEIR "ACTION POSTS" THEY LOOKED ON ENVIOUSLY AS YANKS ON LEAVE FROM OUT OF TOWN COMMANDS BLANDLY STROLLED THE STREETS.

FROM A SLIT TRENCH CAME THE REMARK: "THIS IS A FINE PLACE TO BE SPENDING YOUR TENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY."

THE SPEAKER TURNED OUT TO BE TECH.SERGT.ROBERT E.WECHSE OF 2025 BELMONT AVE., CHICAGO.

JUST THEN THE WORD WAS PASSED ALONG THAT THE EXERCISE WAS OVER

30.24——5285

AND WECHSE'S TRENCH-MATE, PRIVATE CHARLES LINDERMAN OF 1165 OAK LEAF DRIVE, LINCOLN PLACE, PITTSBURGH, PA., REMARKED, "IT'S ABOUT TIME."

NO INCIDENTS WERE REPORTED.

LONDON, JUNE 22-(AP)-PREMIER MUSSOLINI HAS PLACED TRUSTY FASCISTS IN CHARGE OF SEVERAL NEWSPAPERS IN APPARENT EFFORTS TO STIFFEN ITALIAN RESISTANCE TO THREATENED INVASION.

THE SOME RADIO DISCLOSED THE NEWSPAPER MOVE TODAY IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

JUN 23 1943

THE ITALIAN MINISTRY OF EDUCATION ANNOUNCED THAT CARLO BARBIERI HAD BEEN APPOINTED DIRECTOR OF CORRIERE DI NAPOLI, LEADING AFTERNOON NEWSPAPER OF NAPLES. EZIA CAMUNCOLI WAS PLACED IN CHARGE OF GAZETTA DI VENEZIA IN VENICE.

PIETRO TUPINO, FORMER NEW YORK CORRESPONDENT OF CORRIERE DELLA SERA AND ONCE THE U.S. CHIEF OF THE OVERSEAS FASCIST ORGANIZATION, WAS GIVEN THE DIRECTORSHIP OF GAZETTA DEL MEZZOVGIORNO OF BARI, BOMBED PORT ON THE HEEL OF THE ITALIAN BOOT.

LONDON, JUNE 22-(AP)-KING PETER OF YUGOSLAVIA WAS REPORTED TONIGHT TO HAVE ASKED MILOS BOBIC, FORMER MAYOR OF BELGRADE, TO FORM A NEW CABINET AFTER JOVAN BANJANIN HAD FAILED.

BANJANIN HAD CROAT AND SLOVENE BACKING BUT COULD NOT LINE UP THE SERBS. BOBIC IS A SERB AND BELONGED TO PRE-WAR ADMINISTRATIONS IN YUGOSLAVIA. HE IS AN ENGINEER AND RECENTLY HAS BEEN ACTIVE PLANNING POST-WAR RECONSTRUCTION.

JUN 23 1943

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, JUNE 22-(AP)-TO THE STRAINS OF "GOD SAVE THE KING" FOLLOWED BY "THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER," THE STARS AND STRIPES WERE HOISTED OVER THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE AIR SUPPORT COMMAND HEADQUARTERS HERE TODAY.

JUN 23 1943

BOMBERS AND FIGHTER PLANES ZOOMED OVERHEAD AS A MIXED BRITISH-AMERICAN COLOR GUARD LOWERED AN RAF FLAG AND RAISED OLD GLORY, SIGNALIZING THE AMERICAN COMMAND'S FORMAL ACQUISITION OF THIS HEADQUARTERS NERVE CENTER WHICH IS DESTINED TO BECOME A VITAL AIR SUPPORT IN FUTURE GROUND OPERATIONS AGAINST EUROPE.

SECURITY PREVENTS A DESCRIPTION OF THIS PICTURESQUE GROUP OF BUILDINGS, WHICH AMERICAN UNITS BEGAN OCCUPYING EIGHT MONTHS AGO.

"THIS IS ONLY A STEPPING STONE. WE ARE NOT GOING TO STAY HERE FOREVER--IN FACT WE ARE TRYING TO GET AWAY AS SOON AS POSSIBLE," SAID BRIG. GEN. ROBERT C. CANDEE, CHIEF OF THE COMMAND, REFERRING TO PLANS TO ADVANCE THIS HIGHLY MOBILE HEADQUARTERS GROUP ALONG WITH THE LAND DRIVE AGAINST THE CONTINENT.

CANDEE ACCEPTED THE HEADQUARTERS FROM HIS RAF PROTOTYPE, AIR VICE MARSHAL J.H. D'ALBIAC, CHIEF OF THE BRITISH TACTICAL AIR FORCE.

---

AERIAL

BY LEO BRANHAM

AT A U.S.BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND JUNE 22-(AP)-COLUMNS OF GREY SMOKE PUFFED 6,000 FEET INTO THE AIR TODAY ABOVE THE SYNTHETIC RUBBER CENTER OF HULS AFTER AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES HAD MADE THEIR FIRST ATTACK ON THE RUHR, RETURNING FLIERS SAID TONIGHT.

HUGE FIRES WHICH BLAZED OVER A SQUARE MILE WERE STARTED AND THESE WERE FANNED BY SEVERAL EXPLOSIONS WHICH SHOT ORANGE FLAMES LEAPING ALOFT.

JUN 23 1943

MANY TONS OF HIGH EXPLOSIVES WERE DROPPED WITH RUINOUS ACCURACY, THE PILOTS SAID. CREWMEN DESCRIBED THE OPPOSITION AS TOUGH BUT FAR BELOW THAT ENCOUNTERED ON THE LAST AMERICAN RAID ON KIEL AND BREMEN JUNE 13.

BETWEEN 50 AND 100 FOCKE-WULFS, MESSERSCHMITTS AND JUNKERS-88S MET THE AMERICANS AT THE ENEMY COAST AND KEPT UP A RUNNING BATTLE UNTIL THE BOMBERS WERE HOMEWARD BOUND AND MET A SPITFIRE ESCORT, WHICH TOOK UP THE ENEMY'S CHALLENGE.

KK317PEW

JUN 23 1943

"WE LEFT A BIG FIRE BEHIND," SAID FIRST LIEUT. LAURENCE B. HOVELAND OF SEATTLE, PILOT OF THE FORTRESS FLYING JENNY, "THE FLAMES LOOKED LIKE THEY COVERED A SQUARE MILE AREA."

SECOND LIEUT. HARRY HODGIN OF FORT COLLINS, COLO., HIS CO-PILOT ADDED:

"ONE EXPLOSION WAS THE BIGGEST BLAST I HAVE EVER SEEN. FIRES RAGED ALL OVER A SQUARE MILE AREA AND, BOY, WERE THOSE BOMBS RAINING DOWN ON THOSE BUILDINGS!"

"OUR BOMBING WAS EXCELLENT," SAID FIRST LIEUT. LYSTER A. BRUMELY OF DEL RIO, TEXAS, PILOT OF EL DIABLO (THE DEVIL), "WE REALLY UNLOADED ON THE TARGET TODAY. ANY TIME YOU CAN SEE SMOKE AND FLAMES RISING THOUSANDS OF FEET HIGH FROM THE TARGET, YOU HAVE HIT PAY DIRT. I SAW THREE BIG EXPLOSIONS AFTER WE DROPPED OUR BOMBS. EVIDENTLY WE BLASTED SOME CHEMICAL PLANT."

"THE BOMBING LOOKED WONDERFUL--PERFECT," EXCLAIMED BRUMLEY'S BOMBARDIER, LIEUT. JOHN BEILSTEIN OF DAVENPORT, IA. "THEY'RE NOT MAKING ANY RUBBER AT THAT PLANT TODAY AND WON'T FOR A LONG TIME TO COME."

BRUMLEY DESCRIBED THE ENEMY FIGHTER OPPOSITION AS "NOT NEARLY SO

30.24-5287

30.24—5287

BAD AS AT WILHELMSHAVEN," JUNE 11, WHEN THE AMERICANS SHOT DOWN 85 PLANES FOR THE LOSS OF EIGHT BOMBERU. FOR THE FIRST TIME IN FOUR RAIDS, HE SAID, HIS SHIP CAME BACK WITHOUT AN ENEMY BULLET IN IT.

BRUMLEY SAID SGT.J.P.REID OF BRISTOL, CONN., HIS LEFT WAIST GUNNER, SHOT DOWN A JU-88 WHICH EXPLODED 300 YARDS FROM THE FORTRESS, AND SGT.CLIFFORD T.ERICKSON OF FOND DU LAC, WIS., TOP TURRET GUNNER, BAGGED A FOCKE-WULF WHICH SEEMED TO CRASH.

JUN 23 1943

ON A PREVIOUS MISSION ERICKSON, FLYING WITH ANOTHER CREW, HELPED TO PILOT THE DAMAGED BOMBER AND WAS RECOMMENDED FOR THE DFC.

OTHER MEMBERS OF BRUMLEY'S CREW WERE SECOND LIEUTS.FLOYD H. JAMERSON OF ILLINOIS, COPILOT, AND JOSEPH F.BURKOWSKI OF KENTUCKY, NAVIGATOR; AND SGTS.MARVIN J.DURHAM, TOLUCA, ILL., BALL TURRET GUNNER; CHARLES GRAY, HOTCHKISS, COLO., RADIO OPERATOR-GUNNER, AND JOHN F.MASHMEYER, CHICAGO, TAIL GUNNER.

EXPLODING CANNON SHELL TORE A THREE-FOOT HOLE IN THE TAIL SECTION OF THE FLYING FORTRESS "BATTLING BOBBY," PILOTED BY FIRST LIEUT. ELTON HOYT OF CLEVELAND, OHIO, AND FRAGMENTS NARROWLY MISSED THE TAIL GUNNER, SGT.MELVIN ECKERT OF SAN ANTONIO, TEX., WHO SHOT DOWN A FOCKE-WULF, CO-PILOT FLIGHT OFFICER JAMES SEXTON OF DETROIT SAID.

DESCRIBING THE STRENGTH OF THE RAIDING FORCE, SEXTON, WHO WAS FLYING IN ONE OF THE LEADING SQUADRONS, SAID:

"OUT OVER THE OCEAN I LOOKED BACK AND THE SKY SEEMED TO BE JUST ONE BIG MASS OF FORTRESSES."

MAJOR LOIS W.ROHR OF TEANECK, N.J., PILOT OF THE FORTRESS 'PAPPY" WHO LED THE SQUADRON FROM THIS STATION, DESCRIBED THE RAID AS 'NOT SO ROUGH," ALTHOUGH HE SAID THE FLAK WAS INTENSE.

MAJOR EUGENE C.LAVER OF ROCHESTER, N.Y., ROHR'S CO-PILOT, WHO WAS MAKING HIS FIRST RAID, SAID: "WE GOT OUR TARGET ALL RIGHT" AND HE DESCRIBED ENEMY FLAK AS "LOOKING LIKE A WALL IN FRONT OF US AT TIMES". THE FIGHTERS, HE SAID, CONCENTRATED ON HEAD-ON ATTACKS BUT DIDN'T PRESS THEM HOME CLOSELY.

JUN 23 1943

SGT.J.H.JOHNSON OF NEW YORK CITY, RADIO OPERATOR-GUNNER ON THE FORTRESS "BOLEVICH", SAID: "WE HAD THE FIGHTERS WELL IN HAND TODAY BUT IT LOOKS TO ME LIKE THE GERMANS HAVE GREATLY INCREASED THEIR ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS. FLAK IS THE BIG THING WE HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT NOW."

SECOND LIEUT.STANLEY COHEN, OF BROOKLYN, NAVIGATOR, SAID THAT WHILE TODAY'S RAID WAS NOT AS TOUGH AS THE PREVIOUS MISSION, "WHEN YOU'RE UP THERE AND SOMEBODY IS SHOOTING AT YOU THEY ARE ALL TOUGHT."

SGT.JOHN WIERBANOWSKI OF CHICAGO, TAIL GUNNER, SAID: "GIVE US MORE RAIDS LIKE THIS SO WE CAN GET THIS OVER. I WANTA EAT CHRISTMAS DINNER AT HOME."

FIRST LIEUT.BILL BROWNLOW OF KNOXVILLE, TENN., PILOT OF THE FORTRESS "SWEATER GIRL", SAID THAT HIS BALL TURRET GUNNER, SGT. ROBERT H.FERNSTAEDT OF MONROE, WIS., SHOT DOWN ONE FOCKE-WULF.

OTHERS PARTICIPATING IN THE RAID FROM THIS STATION--FROM WHICH ONE ONE BOMBER WAS MISSING TODAY--INCLUDED SECOND LIEUT.W.L.HAWKINS OF ABILENE, TEX., CO-PILOT; SGT.ROBERT TONGE OF JOLIET, ILL., BALL TURRET GUNNER; FIRST LIEUT.DONALD W.MERCHANT, JAMESTOWN, N.D., PILOT. TONGE COMPLAINED THAT HE WAS UNABLE TO GET IN MANY SHOTS AS THE FIGHTERS CONCENTRATED ON HEAD-ON ATTACKS.

THE ANTWERP ATTACK ENCOUNTERED HEAVY FIGHTER OPPOSITION AND IT WAS OFFICIALLY STATED THAT THE FORTRESSES DESTROYED A CONSIDERABLE NUMBER OF ENEMY PLANES.

JUN 23 1943

TWO OF SEVEN GERMAN AIRCRAFT BROUGHT DOWN WERE CREDITED TO LIEUT.ERNEST D.BEATIE OF ALBANY, GA. AS HIS FLIGHT DIVED TOWARD FOUR GERMAN SHIPS HE CLOSED IN ON AN FW-190, OVERSHOT IT AND ATTACKED ANOTHER JUST BEYOND. HE SAW BLACK SMOKE COMING FROM THE COCKPIT AND THE PLANE PLUNGED STRAIGHT DOWN. AS HE PEELED OFF HE RAN INTO A FORMATION OF ME-109'S. HE ATTACKED AND HIT ONE AND ITS PILOT BALTED OUT. BEATIE RETURNED HOME SAFELY.

OTHER FIGHTER PILOTS CREDITED WITH GERMAN VICTIMS WERE LIEUT. FOZO D.SMITH, FOARD CITY, TEX., LIEUT.JAMES A.GORDON, TORONTO, ONT., COLONEL ARMAN PETERSON, FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ., CAPT.CHARLES P. LONDON, LONG BEACH, CALIF., AND FLIGHT OFFICER HOWARD S.ASKELSON, GILBERT, IOWA.

GILBERT, IOWA.

FROM ANOTHER BOMBER STATION CAME SIMILAR REPORTS OF A JOB WELL DONE.

CAPTAIN GEORGE L.OTT, NEW ENGLAND, N.D., PILOT OF THE "DAKOTA DEMON", SAID THE FORTRESSES LEFT THE "NICEST, SMOKIEST, PRETTIEST FIRE I HAVE EVER SEEN IN MY LIFE" AND "WE WON'T HAVE TO GO BACK THERE AGAV

COMMENTING L

JUN 23 1943

FIRE I HAVE EVER SEEN IN MY LIFE" AND "WE WON'T HAVE TO GO BACK THERE AGAIN."

COMMENTING ON THE LACK OF AGGRESSION IN THE GERMAN FIGHTERS

SECOND LIEUTENANT EDWARD C.QUIDLY, HYDE PARK STATION, BOSTON, MASS., BOMBARDIER OF THE "VENI VIDI VICI" SAID, "I DON'T BLAME THEM XXX EVERY TIME I LOOKED AROUND THE SKY SEEMED TO BE FULL OF AMERICAN PLANES."

COLONEL RICHARD GIMBEL OF PHILADELPHIA, OBSERVER IN THE "DUCHESS" WHO ALSO FIRED THE NOSE GUN, SAID THAT HE WAS SATISFIED WITH THE RESULTS OF THE RAID.

JUN 23 1943

FIRST LIEUTENANT BRUCE A.GARDNER OF ST.JOHNS, ARIZ., WHO WAS COMPLETING HIS 25TH MISSION AS A BOMBARDIER, LIKEWISE DECLARED THE RESULTS "PERFECT."

SECOND LIEUTENANT MILTON M.GOEDE OF JACKSON, MINN., SAID THE BOMBERS HANDED OUT PUNISHMENT TO THE ATTACKERS AND HE HIMSELF SAW TWO FOCKE-WULFS GO DOWN, INCLUDING A SHIP HE'D BEEN SHOOTING AT.

THE GERMAN FIGHTERS HIT THE FORTRESSES AS SOON AS THEY NEARED THE TARGET, SAID STAFF SERGEANT ROBERT W.KORFF OF MILWAUKEE, WIS. "IF I EVER GOT ONE, I GOT ONE TODAY."

PILOT OF "WABBIT TWACK", CAPTAIN WALTER E.FLAGG OF SUSANVILLE, CALIF., SAID HE CAME BACK "WITHOUT TOO MUCH TROUBLE ALTHOUGH THE FLAK RAISED HELL" AND SMASHED A WINDOW IN HIS PLANE.

THE FORMATION ATTACKING ANTWERP ALSO HAD PLENTY OF OPPOSITION UT LIEUTENANT OSCIE V.JONES, PILOT, OF ALBANY, GA., DECLARED THAT E "PERFECT FORMATION" OF THE FORTRESSES WAS EFFECTIVE AGAINST THE TACKERS.

CREWS OF ONE OF THE FOLLOWING GROUPS LED BY COLONEL BUDD J. SLEE OF SALINAS, CALIF., SAID THEY SAW MANY FIRES STARTED IN THE GET AREA BY EARLIER ARRIVALS.

JUN 23 1943

30.24- 5289

BERN, JUNE 22-(AP)-THE RIOM TRIALS AT WHICH KEY FIGURES IN FRANCE, PRIOR TO IS CAPITULATION TO THE GERMANS, WERE TRIED FOR TREASON AND WAR GUILT ARE DEFINITELY ENDED AND A NEW DECREE WOULD BE REQUIRED TO REVIVE THE HEARINGS, DER BUND, RADICAL DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER, SAID TODAY.

JUN 23 1943

THE TRIALS ADJOURNED APRIL 14, 1942, AND BY A DECREE LAST MAY 21 THE HEARING WAS DEFINITELY ENDED. THE DECREE WAS PUBLISHED IN THE OFFICIAL GAZETTE ON JUNE 13.

AMONG THOSE TRIED BY THE RIOM COURT WERE FORMER PREMIERS LEON BLUM, EDOUARD DALADIER AND PAUL REYNAUD, ALLIED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF MAURICE GAMELIN AND FORMER MINISTER OF COLONIES GEORGES MANDEL. ALL WERE LATER REPORTED IN GERMAN PRISON CAMPS AND MANDEL WAS REPORTED TO HAVE DIED THERE.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 22-(AP)-A NEW MOVE TO RESTORE THE MONARCHY IN SPAIN, WHICH SPANISH CIRCLES SAID APPARENTLY HAD BRITISH ENDORSEMENT, WAS TAKEN TONIGHT WHEN MORE THAN 30 SPANIARDS SENT A LETTER TO GENERALISSIMO FRANCISCO FRANCO URGING THAT PRINCE JUAN BE PLACED ON THE THRONE.

SIGNERS INCLUDED JUAN VENTOSA, A CONFIDANT OF THE LATE KING ALFONSO, AND THE DUKE OF ALBA, SPANISH AMBASSADOR TO LONDON, AS WELL AS A NUMBER OF MEMBERS OF THE CORTES, THE SPANISH LEGISLATIVE BODY.

VENTOSA, A SPANISH INFORMANT SAID, WENT TO LONDON THREE WEEKS AGO, SAW PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL AND OTHER GOVERNMENT LEADERS AS WELL AS ALBA, WHO LAST MARCH CAME HERE TO SEE PRINCE JUAN.

THE MONARCHISTS, WHO INCLUDED THE DOMINATING REPRESENTATIVES OF THE CARLIST PARTY WHICH HAD HISTORICALLY OPPOSED THE BOURBON REIGN,

30.24—5289

WERE REPORTED TO HAVE WRITTEN TO JUAN FIRST. HE TOLD THEM, AS HE HAS TOLD OTHERS SINCE HE BECAME THE PRETENDER, THAT HE HELD HIMSELF READY TO RETURN TO HIS COUNTRY AT ANY TIME THAT ALL ELEMENTS PUBLICLY DEMONSTRATED THEIR WISH FOR A KING.

JUN 23 1943

THE LETTER TO FRANCO PRAISED HIM FOR HIS LEADERSHIP OF SPAIN BUT URGED THAT EVERYTHING POSSIBLE BE DONE TO BRING AN AGREEMENT ON ALL POLITICAL ACTIONS. THIS PRESUMABLY INVOLVED A TRUCE WITH FORMER REPUBLICANS, MANY OF WHOM ARE STILL INTERNED.

PRINCE JUAN IS THE THIRD SON OF KING ALFONSO, WHO LEFT SPAIN ON APRIL 14, 1931, AFTER THE REPUBLIC WAS PROCLAIMED. ALFONSO RENOUNCED HIS RIGHTS IN FAVOR OF JUAN ON JAN. 15, 1941, SIX WEEKS BEFORE HE DIED.

(FROM MADRID IT WAS ANNOUNCED THAT A FOUR DAY CABINET MEETING CLOSED TUESDAY AFTERNOON AND A COMMUNIQUE WAS ISSUED COVERING ROUTINE MEASURES).

LISBON JUNE 22-(AP)-LIEUTENANT LEE STURGES THOMAS (
FORT WORTH, TEX., ASSISTANT MILITARY ATTACHE AT THE U.S.LEGATION IN LISBON, WAS AWARDED A MEDAL AND A DIPLOMA OF HONOR TODAY FOR "GENEROS ITY TO AND LOVE FOR ANIMALS."

THE AWARD WAS MADE BY THE PORTUGUESE NATIONAL LEAGUE FOR THE WELFARE OF ANIMALS WHICH HEARD THAT THOMAS HAD RESCUED AN ALLEY CAT AND KITTENS WHICH HE FOUND STARVING IN A PUBLIC PARK.

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 22-(AP)-DISPATCHES FROM BERLIN TODAY QUOTED "DIE KRIEGSMARINE," PROMINENT GERMAN NAVAL PUBLICATION, AS SAYING THAT THE ALLIES' ATLANTIC CONVOY SYSTEM WAS IMPROVING STEADILY AND

JUN 23 1943

THAT THE NAZIS WOULD HAVE TO DEVELOP NEW TYPES OF SUBMARINES AND BETTE ATTACKING METHODS TO OVERCOME IT.

PUBLICATION OF THE ARTICLE FOLLOWED BY ONLY A SHORT TIME THE STATEMENT OF REAR ADMIRAL GADOW THAT THE NAZI U-BOATS WERE ACHIEVING SUCCESS AGAINST THE CONVOYS ONLY "BY THE GREATEST DIFFICULTY AND OCCASIONALLY WITH LOSSES."

JUN 23 1943

THE BERLIN CORRESPONDENT OF THE SWEDISH MAGAZINE DAGENS NYHETER REPORTED THAT CONVOYS BOUND TO BRITAIN ASSEMBLE OFF HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA, WHICH WAS DESCRIBED AS "A MOST IMPORTANT HARBOR, PERFECTLY PROTECTED BY MINES, ANTI-SUBMARINE NETS AND ARTILLERY."

DIE KRIEGSMARINE PRAISED THE ZIGZAG MANEUVERS EMPLOYED BY ALLIED SHIPS WHEN UNDER SUBMARINE ATTACK AND ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE ALLIES ANTI-SUBMARINE METHODS HAD REDUCED SHIP SINKINGS.

June 22 (AP)

STOCKHOLM--~~FIRST~~ ADD BERLIN DAMAGE) X ~~X-X DAMAGED.~~

A SWEDE QUOTED BY THE ARBETET REPORTED: "ON THE WAY TO THE FRIEDRICHSTRASSE RAILROAD STATION YOU WILL FIND GAPS IN ROWS OF HOUSES, BOTH IN CHAUSSEESTRASSE AND FRIEDRICHSTRASSE. IN REINICKENDORF, WHERE MANY FACTORIES ARE LOCATED, YOU WILL FIND THE WORST DESTRUCTION.

"THE PRAGER PLATZ LOOKS LIKE A GIGANTIC GRAVEL PIT. A FEW STEPS FROM THE PRAGER PLATZ I COULD COUNT MORE THAN 50 HOUSES LEVELED TO THE GROUND.

ONE TRAVELER SAID "ONLY BLACK RUINS REMAIN" IN THE VICINITY OF HUTTENSTRASSE AND TURNSTRASSE. HE ADDED THAT THE CENTER OF BERLIN HAS BEEN DAMAGED," BUT NOT AS GREATLY AS ONE WOULD EXPECT." THE KRANZLER CAFE AND THE CENTRAL HOTEL WERE AMONG PROMINENT PLACES THAT WERE HIT. MANY OTHER SMALL CAFES WERE DAMAGED. THE BOMB DAMAGE

TO THE OPERA HOUSE HAS BEEN REPAIRED.

RN725AEW

BY THOMAS F.HAWKINS

AT THE GERMAN FRONTIER, JUNE 22-(AP)-RELIABLE NON-NAZI QUARTERS REPORTED TODAY THAT GERMANY HAS A CAREFULLY GUARDED RESERVE AIR ARMY FOR USE AS A DEFENSE AGAINST INVASION WHEREVER IT MAY COME.

THESE SOURCES, WHO CANNOT BE FURTHER IDENTIFIED, SAID THIS AIR ARMY HAS BEEN ORGANIZED AS AN INDEPENDENT UNIT AND VERY PROBABLY INCLUDES AT LEAST TWO DIVISIONS, WHICH WOULD MEAN AT LEAST 1,500 FIRST LINE PLANES. IT IS IN ADDITION TO THOSE FORCES AT PRESENT "IN SERVICE"--ONE ARMY ON THE EASTERN FRONT, ANOTHER IN THE WEST, AND A THIRD IN THE SOUTH, IT WAS SAID.

JUN 23 1943

THE LOCATION OF THE FOURTH OR "RESERVE" AIR ARMY HAS BEEN KEPT SECRET, ACCORDING TO THE INFORMANTS, BUT ALLIED MILITARY OBSERVERS HERE BELIEVE IT IS BEING KEPT INSIDE GERMANY, AT A CENTRAL LOCATION FROM WHICH IT COULD BE SHUNTED AT WILL TO POINTS UNDER HEAVIEST ATTACK BY THE ALLIES. IN THIS CASE, HOWEVER, IT WOULD OPERATE COMPLETELY SEPARATE FROM HOME DEFENSE SQUADRONS.

THIS RESERVE AIR ARMY PRESUMABLY WOULD BE USED ONLY IN CASES OF EXTREME URGENCY. AXIS SOURCES SAID LAST WINTER THAT GERMANY HAD GASOLINE AND OIL SUFFICIENT FOR ONLY ONE CAMPAIGN AT A TIME--EITHER IN RUSSIA OR NORTH AFRICA. DEVELOPMENTS MADE AFRICA THE FOCAL POINT FOR NAZI AIR DEFENSE THEN.

THE COMPARATIVE LACK OF NAZI AIR SORTIES NOW IS TAKEN TO INDICATE EITHER A FURTHER DEPLETION OF OIL RESOURCES OR THAT THEY ARE BEING HELD AS A RESERVE AGAINST POSSIBLE INVASION.

30.24-5291

MILITARY EXPERTS CONSIDER THAT WHILE GERMANY MIGHT HAVE UP TO 12,000 PLANES IN ALL AT THE PRESENT TIME, HARDLY HALF ARE LIKELY TO BE OF FIRST LINE QUALITY. THEY ALSO POINT OUT THAT ALLIED AIR ATTACKS ON THE REICH'S INDUSTRIAL CENTERS ARE HAVING THEIR EFFECT IN REDUCING NEW PLANE PRODUCTION.

JUN 23 1943

BY PAUL KERN LEE

VALLETA, MALTA, JUNE 22- (AP) - THE ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE ACCURACY OF AN AMERICAN BOMBARDIER PLUS THE FIGHTING AND FLYING QUALTIES OF THE B-24 LIBERATOR WERE THE INGREDIENTS IN AN ADVENTURE OF AN AMERICAN AIR FORCE CREW WHICH LANDED SAFELY AT THE MALTA "HALFWAY HOUSE" AFTER YESTERDAY'S DAYLIGHT RAID OVER ITALY.

THE LIBERATOR, FROM THE NINTH AIR FORCE, SIGHTED THREE FERRIES TWO MILES OFF VILLA SANGIOVANNI ON THE ITALIAN MAINLAND NEAR THE MESSINA STRAITS.

FROM A HEIGHT OF MANY MILES, THE FERRIES, OF A SMALL CATAMARAN TYPE, LOOKED NO BIGGER THAN PINHEADS, YET BOMBARDIER LIEUT. A. B. SHAW JR., OF SEATTLE, WASH., TOOK AIM AND RELEASED HIS BOMBS.

HE SAW TWO FERRIES ~~AWASH~~ VANISH.

THE LIBERATOR THEN WAS ATTACKED BY 30 MESSERSCHMITT 109S, WHICH AME AT IT IN AT LEAST 15 STABS. THE GERMANS WERE SO CLOSE TOGETHER HAT THE LIBERATOR'S GUNNERS TOOK TURNS FIRING AT EVERY OTHER ONE, TO ET SHOTS IN AS THE ENEMY SWOOPED BY.

AT LEAST ONE MESSERSCHMITT WAS SHOT DOWN. BUT THE LIBERATOR WAS ELL PEPPERED WITH CANNON SHELLS, AND TWO OF THE MEN WERE WOUNDED, THE ADIO'S HYDRAULIC SYSTEM WAS SMASHED AND OTHER DAMAGE WAS CAUSED.

BUT THE PILOT, LIEUT.A.W.SULFLOW, SQUIRMED THROUGH HEAVY FLAK AND ROUGHT HIS PLANE TO MALTA. THE WOUNDED ARE RECOVERING. AND THE

30.24—5291

BROUGHT ...

LIBERATOR IS READY TO GO BACK AND ATTACK AGAIN.

OTHERS IN THE CREW INCLUDED LIEUTS.L.F.SCHLENKER, CO-PILOT, AND PHILIP MILLAR, NAVIGATOR (ADDRESSES NOT AVAILABLE); AND SGTS.LEONARD REGER OF SEATTLE, WASH., AND NORMAN MEYER OF LOS ANGELES. THEY WERE NOT INJURED.

JUN 23 1943

CAIRO, JUNE 22-(AP)-A MYSTERIOUS WHITE PLANE FLYING ALMOST EIGHT MILES HIGH TRAILED TWO MILES BEHIND A FORCE OF UNITED STATES LIBERATOR BOMBERS RETURNING FROM A RECENT RAID ON THE ITALIAN PORT OF REGGIO CALABRIA, IT WAS LEARNED TODAY.

CREWMEN SPECULATED THAT THE PLANE WHICH HOVERED ABOVE AT A SAFE DISTANCE FOR NEARLY THREE HOURS MIGHT HAVE BEEN A SEALED CABIN JUNKERS-86 ON RECONNAISSANCE. APPARENTLY IT MADE NO ATTEMPT TO MOLEST THE AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS.

A TOP TURRET GUNNER, SERGT.CLAUDE C.ROBERTS OF BLYTHE, CALIF., SAID HE FIRST THOUGHT THE PLANE WAS JUST A SPECK ON HIS TURRET. HE CALLED WAIST GUNNER SERGT.GLENN L.KOONTZ OF LAHAMBRA, CALIF., WHO CONFIRMED THAT IT WAS A PLANE.

"I JUDGED ITS ALTITUDE AT 40,000 FEET," SAID LIEUT.JOSEPH MOORE, 726 15TH AVE., NORTH SEATTLE, WASH.

OTHER CREWMEN IN THE PLANE WERE SERGT.CLAYTON F.BALLARD, 12308 EAST JEFFERSON AVE., DETROIT, WAIST GUNNER; LIEUT.G.E.MILLER, 1943 MALVERN, DAYTON, OHIO, CO-PILOT; AND SERGT.DEWEY JACKSON, FRANKLIN, GA., RADIOMAN.

JUN 23 1943

BY R.MAILLARD STEAD

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED AMERICAN PRESS

DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 23 1943

ABOARD H.M.S. AURORA WITH BRITISH ROYAL PARTY, JUNE 20-(DELAYED)-MALTA'S ECSTATIC WELCOME TO KING GEORGE VI TODAY, WHEN HE SPENT NINE HOURS AMONG THE ISLANDERS TO WHOM HE HAS COLLECTIVELY AWARDED THE GEORGE CROSS--BRITAIN'S CIVILIAN VICTORIA CROSS--HAD QUALITIES ALL ITS OWN BECAUSE IT SPRANG FROM SO MUCH MORE THAN A SIGHTSEER'S DESIRE TO CELEBRATE THE ROYAL VISIT.

IT AROSE FROM DEEP FEELINGS OF PRIDE, RELIEF, GRATITUDE AND ADMIRATION AMONG PEOPLE WHO HAVE SUFFERED BITTERLY AS THE RESULT OF LONG AIR ATTACKS ENDURED UNDER SITUATIONS OF SIEGE AND HAVE COME THROUGH SMILING.

IN THE KING THEY SAW THE EMPIRE'S SYMBOL BOTH OF THE ALLIED CAUSE TO WHICH THEIR COURAGE AND TENACITY CONTRIBUTED SO MUCH, AND OF ALLIED SEA AND AIR POWER WHICH HAS PUT AN END TO THEIR GRIM ORDEAL.

THE MERE FACT OF THE KING'S ARRIVAL BY SEA ACROSS THE MEDITERRANEAN FROM THE WRECK-STREWN HARBOR OF TRIPOLI EMPHASIZED TO THE ISLANDERS AND THE WORLD HOW COMPLETELY THE TIDE OF WAR HAS TURNED IN THIS REGION AND HOW FIRMLY THE ALLIES NOW HOLD THE WHIP-HAND HERE. THE AXIS STOPPED THE HEAVY RAIDING OF MALTA THE BEST PART OF A YEAR AGO. IT FOUND THE ATTEMPT TO NEUTRALIZE THIS IMPORTANT BASE WAS TOO EXPENSIVE AND GETTING IT NOWHERE, THOUGH IT CAUSED A GREAT DEAL OF SUFFERING AND REDUCED THOUSANDS OF BUILDINGS ON THE ISLANDS TO RUINS.

AND TODAY THE KING EMPEROR COULD SAIL INTO VALLETTA HARBOR ON ONE OF HIS OWN SHIPS WITHOUT HINDRANCE AND SPEND THE DAY ASHORE. WITHOUT THE SLIGHTEST HINT OF MENACE FROM ABOVE BEYOND THE WAIL OF AIRRAID SIRENS AT 6 O'CLOCK FOLLOWED BY THE ALL-CLEAR A FEW MINUTES LATER.

JUN 23 1943

PART OF THE JOYOUS ADMIRATION OF THE PEOPLE, WAS DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE ROYAL VISIT RANKS AS ONE OF THE MOST DARING JOURNEYS EVER MADE BY A BRITISH MONARCH IN WARTIME. TODAY'S JUBILATION TOOK PLACE LITTLE MORE THAN 60 MILES FROM THE AXIS STRONGHOLD OF SICILY, FROM WHICH THE GERMAN LUFTWAFFE AND ITALY'S REGIA AERONAUTIC HAVE STRUCK HEAVY BLOWSIN THE PAST.

MALTA'S WELCOME TO THE KING REACHED OUT TO HIM LONG BEFORE HE SET FOOT ON THE ISLAND. IT BEGAN EVEN BEFORE THIS CRUISER--THE SAME BATTLE-EXPERIENCED WARSHIP FROM THE BRIDGE OF WHICH LIEUT.-GEN.DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER AND ADMIRAL ANDREW BROWNE CUNNINGHAM OF THE ROYAL NAVY TOOK A CLOSE-RANGE VIEW OF THE BOMBARDMENT OF PANTELLERIA--REACHED THE BOMB-SCARRED BREAKWATER CURVING PROTECTIVELY FROM ONE SIDE OF THE HARBOR.

FOR CHURCHBELLS WERE RINGING IN THE STEEPLES AND AS WE DREW NEARER WE COULD HEAR THE RISE AND FALL OF CHEERING FROM THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE.

THE CHEERING BEGAN IN EARNEST WHEN A PINNACE WITH THE KING ABOARD THREADED ITS WAY THROUGH NATIVE ROWBOATS TO THE STEPS OF THE CUSTOMS HOUSE WHERE THE MILITARY GUARD OF HONOR WAS DRAWN UP AND LORD GORT, GOVERNOR GENERAL OF THE ISLAND, WAS WAITING TO RECEIVE HIS MAJESTY.

JUN 23 1943

30.24-5293

MALTA IS RICH IN AMATEUR TOWN AND VILLAGE BANDS AND EVERY ONE OF THEM TURNED OUT TO DO APPROPRIATE HONORS TO THE OCCASION. IN ADDITION, CHOIRS OF CHILDREN PIPED "GOD SAVE THE KING", GROUPS OF PEOPLE BROKE INTO IT SPONTANEOUSLY AND STRAINS FROM GRAMOPHONE DISCS FLOATED ACROSS THE STREETS FROM OPEN WINDOWS.

I SAW A HANDFUL OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS AT ONE OF THE TOWNS WHICH THE KING PASSED THROUGH AND BRITISH SOLDIERS AND SAILORS WERE VERY MUCH IN EVIDENCE.

JUN 23 1943

IN THE PALACE THE KING PRESENTED LORD GORT WITH HIS FIELD MARSHAL'S BATON. IN THE SQUARE BELOW THE BOY SCOUTS OF MALTA WERE PRESENT IN FORCE.

AWAITING INSPECTION ALONG MILES AND MILES OF ROADS WERE FORMATIONS OF THE EIGHTH ARMY AND DETACHMENTS OF BRITISH TROOPS INCLUDING THOUSANDS OF COLORED SOLDIERS FROM MANY PARTS OF THE EMPIRE.

BJ116AEW

30.24—5293

BY STEPHEN BARBER

CAIRO, JUNE 22-(AP)-IN THE AIR BATTLES LEADING UP TO THE CAPTURE OF PANTELLERIA ONE OF THE GREATEST SUCCESSES WAS SCORED BY A NINTH AIR FORCE FIGHTER GROUP WHEN A SQUADRON OF MOSQUITO PLANES SHOT DOWN 11 MESSERSCHMITT AND FOUR MACCHI PLANES AND DAMAGED TWO ADDITIONAL MESSERSCHMITTS WITHOUT THE LOSS OF A SINGLE AMERICAN PILOT.

LIEUT.PAUL G.MCARTHUR OF REFORM, ALA., DESTROYED TWO MACCHIS AND DAMAGED ANOTHER BEFORE HE WAS FORCED TO BAIL OUT. HIS WAS THE ONLY PLANE LOST.

AS A RESULT OF THE GALLANTRY OF TWO COMRADES WHO RISKED RUNNING OUT OF FUEL TO STAND BY HIM UNTIL HE WAS PICKED UP MCARTHUR WAS RESCUED AFTER PARACHUTING INTO THE SEA.

LIEUT.WYMAN D.ANDERSON OF BEAVER DAM, WIS., DESTROYED THREE ENEMY PLANES IN VICIOUS COMBATS AND THEN TURNED HIS ATTENTION TO THE RESCUE OF MCARTHUR.

JUN 23 1943

CAPT.LEE (GOOSE) GOSSICK OF SIDNEY, OHIO, WHO WAS CELEBRATING THE NEWS OF THE BIRTH OF A SON JUST PRIOR TO TAKING OFF ON THE MISSION, DESTROYED ONE MESSERSCHMITT, DAMAGED ANOTHER, AND THEN HELPED SAVE MCARTHUR.

THE COMBAT TOOK PLACE WHEN THE MOSQUITOES INTERCEPTED 18 MESSERSCHMITTS ESCORTING A LARGE, FOUR-ENGINED SEAPLANE JUST NORTH OF PANTELLERIA. THE SEAPLANE BORE THE INSIGNIA OF THE RED CROSS AND WAS ALLOWED TO FLY BACK UNMOLESTED TO ITS BASE IN SICILY. BUT EVERY MESSERSCHMITT WAS SHOT DOWN.

THREE OTHER PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN BY THE MOSQUITOES, AND TWO OTHERS WERE PROBABLY DESTROYED A LITTLE LATER WHEN THE MOSQUITO SQUADRON FORMED PART OF THE ALLIED UMBRELLA OVER THE AXIS ISLAND FORTRESS.

LIEUT.COL.CHARLES GROGAN, OF INDIANAPOLIS, IND., OPERATIONS OFFICER AND FLIGHT LEADER OF THE GROUP, EARNED THE NICKNAME "CLIPPER' IN THE MOSQUITOES' ENCOUNTER WITH THE MESSERSCHMITTS. WHILE CHASING A GERMAN PLANE HE CAME SO CLOSE THAT HE BROUGHT HIS OPPONENT DOWN BY SHEARING OFF HIS TAIL WITH THE TOUGH WING TIP OF HIS WARHAWK.

OTHER MOSQUITO PILOTS WHO GOT ONE MESSERSCHMITT APIECE WERE LIEUTS.JOHN L.KIRSCH, OF LOCKPORT, N.Y.; M.H.WATKINS OF KNOXVILLE, ARK.; ASA ADAIR OF RICH CREEK, VA.; LEO G.BERINATI, OF BROOKLYN,

N.Y.& KENSLEY M.MILLER, OF MCKEESPORT, PA., AND CAPT

N.Y.; KENSLEY M.MILLER, OF MCKEESPORT, PA., ANB. CAPT.FRANK M.UFF, OF WOODSTOWN, N.J.

BY RELMAN MORIN

A NORTH AFRICAN AIRFIELD, JUNE 22-(AP)-(ADD THE GLAMOUR BOYS) AT THIS

CORP.PERSOFF WAITED UNTIL THE KING'S CAR HAD GONE AND THEN HE WALKED OVER TO THE DOOR OF THE PLANE AND LOOKED IN.

MEANWHILE, PRIVATES JOSEPH BUSH, JR., OF (6156 SENECA ST.) DETROIT, AND JOHN E.WRIGHT OF (634 JACKSON ST.) MEMPHIS, TENN., WERE COLLARING A SOLDIER NEAR THE FENCE THAT RINGS THE FIELD. THEY CAME BACK WITH A CAMERA.

JUN 23 1943

"THAT'S PART OF THE JOB," SAID CORP. PERSOFF. "IT AIN'T JUST STANDING AROUND AND SEEING THAT THESE SHIPS DON'T GET UP AND FLY AWAY BY THEMSELVES. WE HAVE TO KEEP THE GUYS FROM TAKING PICTURES AND KEEP 'EM AT A CERTAIN DISTANCE FROM THE SHIP AND ALL KINDS OF THINGS LIKE THA

"NOT JUST ANYBODY COULD DO IT," HE ADDED.

PRIVATE BUSH SAID HE HAD TAKEN A CAMERA AWAY FROM A CAPTAIN ON ONE OCCASION.

HE SAID HE WAS HOPING HE COULD CATCH A TOP SERGEANT SOMETIME.

(THE ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE, AS BROADCAST FROM ROME AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, ALSO LISTED ANNUNZIATA, SOUTH OF NAPLES, AS ONE OF THE OBJECTIVES OF THE FOUR-ENGINED PLANE FORMATIONS.

(ROME SAID "THERE WAS CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE" IN THE SCATTERED ATTACKS AND CIVILIAN CASUALTIES INCLUDED TEN DEAD AND 72 INJURED AT

NAPLES, ONE DEAD AND EIGHT INJURED AT ANNUNZIATA, 14 DEAD AND 45 INJURED AT SALERNO, AND 15 DEAD AND 70 INJURED AT BATTIPAGLIA.

(THE COMMUNIQUE ASSERTED THAT 13 ALLIED PLANES WERE DESTROYED -- 12 OVER THE MAINLAND AND ONE OVER CAGLIARI. JUN 23 1943

ON THE EASTERN END OF THE MEDITERRANEAN, LONG-RANGE FIGHTERS AGAIN CROSSED THE AEGEAN AND ATTACKED TWO SCHOONERS AND TWO SAILING VESSELS ANCHORED IN THE HARBOR OF KYLLENE OFF THE WEST COAST OF GREECE, THE CAIRO COMMUNIQUE SAID. SMOKE WAS SEEN RISING FROM ONE.

NAPLES HAS BEEN A FREQUENT RECENT TARGET FOR BOTH DAY AND NIGHT ATTACKS, PRESUMABLY BECAUSE IT REPRESENTS A MAJOR SUPPLY BASE FOR THE AXIS FORCES GARRISONING THE INVASION STEPPING STONE OF SICILY.

THE ATTENTION THE PORT HAS BEEN GETTING SUGGESTS IT MIGHT FIT INTO THE BOMBING PATTERN OUTLINED YESTERDAY BY LIEUT. GEN. CARL A. SPAATZ, COMMANDER OF THE NORTH AFRICAN AIR FORCES.

SPAATZ DECLARED THAT ANY BARRIER AGAINST THE ADVANCE OF ALLIED FORCES COULD BE REDUCED BY AIR ATTACK AND ADDED THAT THE UNITED NATIONS NOW HAVE THE RESOURCES TO PUT THE REQUIRED NUMBER OF PLANES TO THE TASK. HE SAID DESTRUCTION OF SUCH A BARRIER WAS MERELY A MATTER OF MATHEMATICAL CALCULATION.

THE AMERICAN FLYING LEADER EXPRESSED GRATIFICATION AT THE WAY THIS PRINCIPLE HAD BEEN PUT TO A SUCCESSFUL TEST OVER CAPTURED PANTELLERIA.

(A BERLIN BROADCAST, QUOTING A ROME DISPATCH, INDICATED YESTERDAY THAT THE ALLIED BOMBING MAY BE GIVING THE ITALIANS A TRANSPORTATION MANPOWER PROBLEM.

(THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID 532 RAILWAY MEN HAD BEEN KILLED OR WOUNDED SERIOUSLY IN RAIDS ON RAILROADS IN SICILY, SARDINIA, CALABRIA AND APULIA. THE ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE IN CONNECTION WITH AN ITALIAN MOVE TO PROCLAIM RAILROAD MEN "HEROES OF THE DAY.")

JUN 23 1943

30.24- 5295

MAJOR FRANK DUNNINGHAM, 4517 RIDGE ST., CHEVY CHASE, MD., TELLING OF THE NAPLES RAID, SAID "WE DIDN'T SEE MANY FIGHTERS. I KNEW THEY WERE ITALIANS FROM THE FACT THEY CAME IN HELL BENT FOR ELECTION BUT SLUNK AWAY WHEN OUR GUNNERS OPENED UP."

CAPT.THOMAS W.FAREBEE OF MOCKSVILLE, N.C., BOMBARDIER, ESCAPED DEATH WHEN HE HAPPENED TO LOOK UP AT THE PRECISE SECOND THAT A FLAK FRAGMENT TORE THROUGH THE NOSE OF THE PLANE AND KNOCKED OUT HIS BOMB-SIGHT.

JUN 23 1943

"WE WERE OVER NAPLES WITH THE BOMB BAY DOORS OPEN," FAREBEE SAID. "I LOOKED UP FOR A FRACTION OF A SECOND WHEN AN EXPLOSION OCCURRED. THERE WASN'T MUCH NOISE. I WENT ON AND DROPPED MY BOMBS."

TWO OF THE THREE ENEMY FIGHTERS SHOT DOWN IN THE 30-MINUTE BATTLE WITH ABOUT 20 MESSERSCHMITTS AND REGGIANE 2001S OVER CANCELLO WERE ACCOUNTED FOR BY FORTRESS GUNNERS WHO WERE ON THEIR FIFTIETH AND LAST MISSIONS BEFORE GETTING HOME LEAVES.

THESE VICTORIES, THEIR FIRST, WERE CREDITED TO SERGT.E.T. PIOTROWSKI, 6466 APPOLINE AVE., DEARBORN, MICH., AND CAPT.C.B. GUTHERIDGE, 2921 HAWTHORNE ROAD,VMPA, FLA

PIOTROWSKI, 6466 APPOLINE AVE., DEARBORN, MICH., AND CAPT.C.B. GUTHERIDGE, 2921 HAWTHORNE ROAD, TAMPA, FLA.

"A WHOLE BUNCH WAS COMING IN THICK AND FAST," SAID GUTHERIDGE. "I SHOT SO MANY ROUNDS I MELTED THE NOSE BORE OF MY GUN. I GOT A JERRY RIGHT AT THE END. I WAS LUCKY TO GET A ME-109 IN MY SIGHTS AS HE CAME IN."

PIOTROWSKI SAID "I BEGAN FIRING AT 2,000 YARDS AND KEPT ON UNTIL HE WAS ONLY 150 YARDS AWAY. I KEPT FIRING UNTIL I RAN OUT OF AMMUNITION BUT I KNOCKED HIM DOWN. I LIKE 'EM THAT WAY."

SERGT.PAUL N.THOMAS, 832 FRANKLIN ST., KALAMAZOO, MICH., GOT A THIRD PLANE, A REGGIANE 1001, AND OTHER GUNNERS SAID THEY DAMAGED SEVEN ADDITIONAL ENEMEY AIRCRAFT.

JUN 23 1943

"OUR TARGET WAS THE DEPOT WHERE THEY STORE AIRPLANE PARTS, NUTS AND BOLTS AND ALL SORTS OF STUFF LIKE THAT," SAID 22-YEAR-OLD LIEUT. FREDERICK N.STAHL OF GALT, CALIF., WHO MAY HAVE BEEN THE YOUNGEST PILOT EVER TO LEAD A BOMBARDMENT FLIGHT FROM NORTH AFRICA.

"THE FLAK WAS PRETTY HEAVY OVER THE TARGET BUT AFTER SEEING OUR BOMBS BURST I WOULD RATHER TAKE MY CHANCES WITH THE FLAK THAN BE DOWN THERE ON THE GROUND WITH ALL THAT HARDWARE FLYING AROUND," HE ADDED.

"IT WAS THE LONGEST DAY OF THE YEAR BUT I BET IT SEEMED LONGER THAN THAT TO THE ITALIANS," SAID CO-PILOT LIEUT.GLENN V.SINNETT, 561 LOCUST ST., SAN JOSE, CALIF., A FORMER BASEBALL PLAYER WITH THE RED SOX OF GREENSBORO, N.C. "I COULD SEE DIRECT HITS ON THE STORES DEPOT, RAILROAD YARDS AND STATION. THE STORES DEPOT PARTICULARLY LOOKED TO BE SMOTHERED BY BOMB BURSTS."

THE MITCHELLS WHICH RAIDED SALERNO CAME BACK WITHOUT HAVING FIRED A SHOT, BEEN FIRED AT BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN OF HAVING BEEN ENGAGED BY AN ENEMY FIGHTER. THEIR LIGHTNING ESCORTS, HOWEVER, HAD TO CHASE AWAY A COUPLE OF MESSERSCHMITTS.

"EVEN VESUVIUS WAS QUIET," COMMENTED SERGT.WESLEY W.MARQUIS, OF BRATTLEBORO, VT., A GUNNER.

JUN 23 1943

"I THINK WE DEPLETED MUSSOLINI'S ROLLING STOCK," REMARKED PILOT LIEUT.CARROLL NEMENT, 2912 ULMAN AVE., BALTIMORE, MD, WHO WATCHED HIS BOMBS SPLATTER THE RAILROAD YARDS. "IF THE STOCK OF THAT RAILROAD YARD WAS ON THE NEW YORK EXCHANGE THE CALL BOY WOULD ALREADY HAVE HIS ERASER DUSTY BECAUSE WE CERTAINLY LOWERED ITS VALUE."

OTHER MITCHELLS HAD AN EQUALLY EASY TIME SCORING HITS ON THE FREIGHT YARDS AND REPAIR SHED AT BATTIPAGLIA.

JUN 23 1943

CREWMEN SAID THEY SAW A HUGE COLUMN OF SMOKE AND FLAME OVER THE AREA AS THEY PULLED AWAY. THE P-38S ON ESCORT BROKE UP A MILD ATTACK BY TWO MESSERSCHMITTS.

AUSTRALIAN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 22-(AP)-AMERICAN LIGHTNINGS SWOOPED DOWN UPON A LARGE FORMATION OF JAPANESE ZEROS OVER.

IT WAS THE SECOND DECISIVE ALLIED AERIAL VICTORY OVER THE JAPANESE IN TWO DAYS AND THE FIRST MAJOR ENGAGEMENT OVER NEW GUINEA SINCE THE MIDDLE OF MAY. SUNDAY SPITFIRE FIGHTERS, MANNED BY BRITISH AND AUSTRALIAN PILOTS, KNOCKED EIGHT BOMBERS AND FOUR FIGHTERS OUT OF A FLIGHT OF 48 JAPANESE PLANES OVER DARWIN, AUSTRALIA, AND DAMAGED OR DESTROYED NINE OTHER BOMBERS AND THREE FIGHTERS.

TODAY'S COMMUNIQUE ALSO TOLD OF GROUND FIGHTING IN NEW GUINEA FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MANY WEEKS. SHARP PATROL CLASHES OCCURRED IN THE MUBO AREA 12 MILES SOUTHWEST OF SALAMAUA. TEN JAPANESE WERE KILLED AND ONE WOUNDED AND ONE ALLIED SOLDIER WAS WOUNDED. IN THE SAME AREA 14 DIVEBOMBERS AND NINE FIGHTERS BOMBED AND STRAFED ALLIED FORWARD POSITIONS BUT OUR LOSSES WERE "VERY LIGHT," THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

ALLIED TWO-ENGINED BOMBERS STRUCK SHARPLY AT SEVERAL JAPANESE POINTS.

CATALINA, HUDSON, AND MITCHELL BOMBERS, MANNED BY AUSTRALIAN AND DUTCH FLIERS, WERE OVER KOEPANG AND ITS AIRDROME ON DUTCH TIMOR FOR TWO AND ONE-HALF HOURS. DIRECT HITS WERE SCORED ON BARRACKS AND ON AN ANTI-AIRCRAFT BATTERY. LARGE EXPLOSIONS FOLLOWED BY FIRES WERE OBSERVED. ONE FIRE WAS VISIBLE 60 MILES AWAY. NO PLANES WERE LOST.

JUN 23 1943

NINE DOUGLAS BOSTONS BOMBED AND STRAFED THE LAE AND MALAHANG AIRDROMES FROM LOW ALTITUDE, STARTING SEVERAL FIRES. OTHER PLANES HIT SALAMAUA AIRDROME AND BUKI VILLAGE THE SAME TREATMENT.

WHILE ON NIGHT PATROL, MEDIUM BOMBERS STRAFED AND BOMBED FOUR LOADED BARGES OFF CAPE GLOUCESTER, NEW BRITAIN. ONE OF THE BARGES WAS SUNK, THE OTHERS DAMAGED.

BY DEAN SCHEDLER

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 22-(AP)-FOR 45 MINUTES THIS MORNING, AMERICAN P-38 FIGHTER PILOTS MADE PASS AFTER PASS INTO A FLIGHT OF 36 ENEMY ZEROS, SCORING 14KILLS AND NINE PROBABLES WITHOUT LOSS TO THEIR OWN UNIT.

(ALLIED HEADQUARTERS' NOON COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED OUR INTERCEPTORS IN THE ALE AREA OF NEW GUINEA ATTACKED AND DECISIVELY DEFEATED AN ENEMY FORMATION OF 36 ZEROS, DESTROYING OR DAMAGING 23 ENEMY PLANES.)

IT WAS ONE MONTH AGO TODAY THAT THIS SAME GROUP OF AMERICAN FLYERS -- WHO RIGHTLY HAVE A SIGN OVER THEIR OFFICERS' MESS READING "THROUGH THESE PORTALS PASS THE WORLD'S HOTTEST PILOTS" -- KNOCKED DOWN SIX ENEMY PLANES AND SCORED FIVE MORE PROBABLES.

THE P-38 LIGHTNINGS WERE FLYING TOP COVER FOR A GROUP OF ALLIED

JUN 23 1943

30.24- 5297

30.24—5297

BOMBERS TODAY WHEN THEY SIGHTED A MASS OF ZEROS BELOW, APPARENTLY CLIMBING FOR AN ATTACK ON THE HEAVYWEIGHTS. AFTER FIRST SIGHTING THE ENEMY IT WAS EVERY MAN'S BATTLE, WITH AMERICAN COMBAT PILOTS BRINGING HOME THE BACON.

PILOTS DESCRIBING THE AIR BATTLE SPOKE DERISIVELY OF THE ENEMY MANEUVERS IN TRYING TO ESCAPE THE TWIN-TAILED LIGHTNINGS. THE JAPANESE PILOTS SENT THEIR ZEROS INTO SLOW ROLLS, STEEP TURNS AND BANKS AT 10,000 FEET AS THE AMERICAN PILOTS MADE AS MANY PASSES AS THEIR GASOLINE SUPPLY WOULD ALLOW.

JUN 23 1943

FIRST LIEUT.LENN MATHERS, MATHERVILLE,MISS., TAGGED TWO ZEROS FOR CERTAIN AND SCORED TWO PROBABLES WITH AT LEAST A FEW OF HIS BULLETS SPRAYING FIVE OTHER PLANES. HE MADE NINE PASSES FROM 16,000 FEET, OBTAINING GOOD RUNS ON THE JAPANESE FIGHTERS IN EVERY DIVE. HE WAS CERTAIN THAT HIS FIRE CAUGHT SOME ENEMY PILOTS WITH DEADLY RESULTS.

FIRST LIEUT.CHARLES COBB, MARION,MASS., FOR THE FIRST TIME IN ONE YEAR OF OVERSEAS DUTY SAW ENEMY FIGHTERS IN TODAY'S ACTION. HE OBSERVED THE OCCASION BY KNOCKING TWO ZEROS OUT OF THE AIR.

LIEUT.CHARLES TAYLOR, MAGNOLIA,MISS., WAS CREDITED WITH ONE 'ROBABLE OUT OF THE SCRAMBLE. HE PUMPED HEAVY FIRE INTO ONE ZERO ND THE SHIP VEERED OUT OF SIGHT. TAYLOR WAS UNABLE TO VERIFY WHETHER T CRASHED.

FIRST LIEUT.EDWARD KRISHER, CONESUS,N.Y., WAS CREDITED ITH ONE VICTORY. TODAY MARJED KRISHER'S FIRST COMBAT.

SECOND LIEUTS. DON HANOVER, FOSTORIA,O., AND CAMPBELL 'LSON, LAFAYETTE,IND., BROUGHT BACK PROBABLES FOR THEIR SHARE THE SHOW.

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 22-(AP)-REPLYING TO CRITICISM IN A MEXICO C NEWSPAPER, FOREIGN MINISTER EZEQUIEL PADILLA DECLARED LAST NIGHT TH THE GOVERNMENT HAD TAKEN ALL NE SSARY STEPS TO PROTECT THE INTERESTS OF MEXICANS, INVOLVED IN STREET FIGHTING BETWEEN "ZOOT SUITERS" AND MERICAN SERVICEMEN AND ADDED THAT ADOLFO DE LA HUERTA, MEXICAN INSPECTOR OF CONSULATES, HAD ADVISED HIM THE AFFAIR WAS "BEING CLOS SATISFACTORILY."

JUN 23 1943

"THIS AFFAIR," HE ADDED, "HAD BEEN CONSIDERED A MANIFESTATION OF RACIAL SEGREGATION. THE PROBLEM EXISTS AND IT WILL NOT BE SOLVED BY DENYING IT. LONG BEFORE THE INCIDENTS IN LOS ANGELES, HOWEVER, MY OFFICE BEGAN NEGOTIATING WHICH I AM SURE WILL HAVE POSITIVE RESULTS."

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO.)

- - -

JUN 23 1943

BY MAX HILL

OUR PROBLEMS AT HOME-- ACCENTED RECENTLY BY WORK STOPPAGES AND RIOTS -- ARE THE BEST PROPAGANDA THE AXIS HAS TO USE AGAINST US.

THEY ARE DOING THEIR BATTLES WITH OUR TROOPS. NEITHER THE GERMANS NOR THE JAPANESE HAVE VICTORIES WITH WHICH BOLSTER HOME MORALE.

BUT THROUGH OUR TROUBLES AT HOME THEIR ADRIOT PROPAGANDISTS ARE ABLE TO ENCOURAGE THE RANK AND FILE TO EVER MORE DESPERATE EFFORTS.

IT IS UNFORTUNATE THAT WE CONTINUE TO FEED THEM READY-MADE CRITICISM BECAUSE IN THE LONG RUN THE COST IS GOING TO BE IN AMERICAN LIVES AND MATERIALS.

JUST PRIOR TOHTHE WAR, A MINOR STRIKE OR DISTURBANCE IN AMERICA WAS WORTH BETWEEN ONE AND TWO COLUMNS OF COPY IN A TOKYO NEWSPAPER. THE BASIC THEME WAS THAT WE WERE DIVIDED; THAT WE COULD NOT WORK

JUN 23 1943

AS A UNIT. THE SITUATION HAS NOT CHANGED.

JAPAN'S GREATEST STRENGTH IS AT HOME. HER PEOPLE HAVE BEEN TAUGHT THAT THEY MUST COOPERATE WILLINGLY--THAT THE LIFE OF THE INDIVIDUAL IS AS NOTHING COMPARED WITH THE STATE AND EMPEROR.

NOT MANY MONTHS BEFORE THE WAR, PREPARATIONS WERE BEING MADE IN TOKYO FOR AIR RAID SHELTERS. THE PROGRAM WAS DROPPED. IT WAS DECIDED THAT EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD IN TOKYO'S 7,000,000 INHABITANTS SHOULD STAY ABOVE GROUND AND FIGHT FIRES SHOULD THERE BE A RAID.

THIS IS THE SORT OF PHILOSOPHY WE ARE COMBATTING. THE WAR ITSELF AGAINST SUCH DETERMINED PEOPLES IS DIFFICULT ENOUGH WITHOUT A DIVIDED HOME FRONT.

JUN 23 1943

--DASH--

IT CANNOT BE THAT RUSSIA DOES NOT KNOW THE PLANS OF HER ALLIES, GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

THEREFORE, THE SPECIAL COMMUNIQUE BROADCAST FROM MOSCOW MUST BE CONSIDERED AS A TRUMP CARD IN THE PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN WHICH THE UNITED NATIONS NOW ARE WAGING SO SUCCESSFULLY AGAINST THE GERMANS.

SHE ASKS FOR A SECOND FRONT, "WITHOUT WHICH VICTORY IS IMPOSSIBLE."

HITLER WAS RIGHT SO MANY TIMES IN HIS STRATEGY IT MUST HAVE SEEMED TO HIM THAT HE COULD NOT BE WRONG. BUT HIS MISCALCULATION OF RUSSIA'S STRENGTH HAS SAPPED THE LIFE BLOOD OF GERMANY TO A POINT THAT IT HAS BECOME OUR MARGIN OF EVENTUAL VICTORY.

THE WAR IN RUSSIA WOULD SEEM TO BE NOW IN A SORT OF STALEMATE; BUT TWO LONG AND DIFFICULT YEARS HAVE PASSED SINCE HITLER ANNOUNCED HIS DETERMINATION TO CRUSH THE RUSSIANS, PERHAPS IN SIX WEEKS.

IF RUSSIA HAD NOT HAD HER MAGNIFICENT AND UNDISCLOSED STRENGTH, THE WORLD MOST LIKELY WOULD NOW BE AT THE MERCY OF HITLER, TOJO AND MUSSOLINI.

HER CONTRIBUTION IS SO GREAT THAT SHE IS MORE THAN JUSTIFIED IN HER PRESENT APPEAL FOR A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE. RUSSIA'S LOSSES HAVE BEEN SEVERE, BUT THEY HAVE NOT WEAKENED HER AS MUCH AS THOSE SUFFERED BY NAZI GERMANY.

JUN 23 1943

THE RUSSIAN FIGURES, AS ANNOUNCED IN THE SPECIAL COMMUNIQUE, SHOW THAT GERMAN DEAD, WOUNDED AND CAPTURED TOTAL 6,400,000 MEN. AND IN ADDITION, THE GERMANS HAVE USED OR LOST HUGE QUANTITIES OF WAR MATERIALS WHICH THEY OTHERWISE WOULD BE USING AGAINST AMERICA.

BOTH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND SECRETARY HULL OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT USED THE OCCASION TO GIVE UNSTINTED PRAISE TO THE RUSSIANS. THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO Ppremier JOSEF STALIN HAD THE NOTE OF CONFIDENCE WHICH HAS BECOME INCREASINGLY EVIDENT IN RECENT WEEKS AMONG LEADERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS. HE SAID:

"THE GROWING MIGHT OF THE COMBINED FORCES OF ALL THE UNITED NATIONS X X TESTIFIES TO THE SPIRIT OF UNITY AND SACRIFICE NECESSARY FOR OUR ULTIMATE VICTORY."

IT IS ESSENTIAL FOR THE WELFARE OF ALL CONCERNED THAT WE GIVE THE RUSSIANS THE UTMOST IN COOPERATION AND AID.

JUN 23 1943

BLANK

1943

30.24—5299

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23-(AP)-THE DAILY MIRROR REPORTED FROM LISBON TODAY THAT GENERALISSIMO FRANCISCO FRANCO HAS DECIDED TO SEND AN OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVE WITH THE RANK OF MINISTER TO ALGERIA TO WATCH OVER SPANISH INTERESTS.

"SPAIN THUS RECOGNIZES THE NEW STATUS OF ALGERIA," THE NEWSPAPER DECLARED.

madrid, wednesday, june 23-(ap)-the air ministry announced toda it had authorized the constitution company to manufacture bombers an transport planes.

JUN 23 1943

bern, june 22--(ap)--anti-aircraft shells fragments and not airplane bombs were responsible for the death of a swiss father and his two sons at kummershausen, switzerland, near the german frontier,it was reported today.

the .
deaths occurred during the raf raid on the zeppelin hangars at friedrichshafen sunday night and the cause was n o t immediately determined. swiss officials again repeated their warning that persons were not to leave their homes during an alert, especially if they heard swiss anti-aircraft in action.

30.24—5299

RUSSIANS SURE OF FUTURE AS CLIMAX NEARS
---
ENTER THIRD YEAR OF WAR SERIOUS
BUT CONFIDENT (1,100)
---

JUN 23 1943

JUN 23 1943

BY WILLIAM MC GAFFIN

(ADVANCE)...MOSCOW, JUNE 22-(AP)-MOSCOW, ON THE SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF THE WAR, IS A CHANGED CITY FROM A YEAR AGO. THEN IT WAS COMPARATIVELY EMPTY. IT WAS A FRONTLINE SOLDIER'S TOWN AND THERE WERE FEW PEOPLE BESIDES THE MILITARY TO BE SEEN.

TODAY IT IS STILL A FRONTLINE TOWN. THE GERMANS ARE ONLY SOME 150 MILES AWAY--AN EASY DISTANCE FOR A MODERN BOMBER. AND A GOODLY PORTION OF THE 190 DIVISIONS WHICH HITLER CONCENTRATED IN RUSSIA ARE KNOWN TO BE POISED IN THE GREAT CENTER REGION ON A FRONT WITH A RADIUS OF 150 TO 300 MILES OF THE SOVIET CAPITAL.

BUT CIVILIAN EVACUEES HAVE RETURNED TO THEIR HOMES AND MOSCOW IS NOW TEEMING WITH PEOPLE, NOT ONLY ADULTS BUT CHILDREN. A PAIR OF SPRADDLE-LEGGED INFANTS WERE PLAYING WITH DOLLS ON THE GREEN GRASS BESIDE THE KREMLIN'S RUGGED RED WALLS AS I WALKED BY TODAY. THEY SEEMED AN INCONGRUOUSLY PEACEFUL NOTE IN A NATION SO DEEPLY AT WAR.

YET IT IS NOT AN EXCEPTION. IN RED ARMY PARK LAST SUNDAY I SAT ON A PARK BENCH AND WATCHED A SEEMINGLY ENDLESS PROCESSION OF YOUNG MOTHERS TAKING CHILDREN TO SEE THE "BOW WOWS" AT THE DOG SHOW. YOU SEE CHILDREN EVERYWHERE AND HEAR THEIR LAUGHTER AS THEY PLAY IN THE STREETS.

JUN 23 1943

MOSCOW HAS NOT BEEN BOMBED FOR OVER A YEAR NOW. THE LAST BOMBING WAS APRIL 5, 1942. IN THE FOURTEEN MONTHS SINCE THEN THE CITY HAS BEEN PATCHED AND POLISHED UNTIL YOU WOULD HARDLY KNOW THAT IT HAD EVER FELT A BOMB. THE MOSCOW UNIVERSITY AND THE OLD ROYAL STABLES STILL BEAR POCK MARKS FROM FLYING SPLINTERS.

THE BEAUTIFUL WHITE-COLUMNED BOLSHOI THEATER IS STILL UNDERGOING REPAIRS, BUT THE CRATERS IN THE BROAD PAVED STREETS HAVE BEEN FILLED AND TODAY TROLLEY BUSSES AND STREET CARS-DRIVEN BY WOMEN--CLATTER UNCONCERNEDLY ALONG THE THOROUGHFARES WHICH RESEMBLED NO MAN'S LAND DURING THE SIEGE OF MOSCOW NOT SO LONG AGO IN OCTOBER, 1941.

JUN 23 1943

IN VAST RED SQUARE, WHERE THE MASSIVE MILITARY DEMONSTRATIONS WERE HELD BEFORE THE WAR, LENIN'S MODERNISTIC TOMB STANDS OUT IN DIGNIFIED RED AND BLACK MARBLE. SOLDIERS STAND A ROUND-THE-CLOCK GUARD.

ON ONE SIDE OF THE TIMB IS THE MANY-DOMED BYZANTINE JEWEL--ST. BASIL'S CHURCH. BEHIND THE TOMB IS THE KREMLIN LOOKING, WITH ITS RED BRICK BATTLEMENTS, DOMES AND SPIRES, LIKE SOMETHING OUT OF A STORY-BOOK. ACROSS THE SQUARE FROM THE KREMLIN IS MODERNISTIC HOTEL MOSCOW, HOME OF THE WEALTHY WRITERS AND ARTISTS AND OTHER RUSSIAN BIG SHOTS. TO GO FROM THE KREMLIN TO HOTEL MOSCOW IS LIKE STEPPING OUT OF AN 18TH CENTURY DRAWING ROOM INTO ROCKEFELLER CENTER.

THE WAR HAS HAD ITS EFFECT ON THE MOSCOW RIVER WHICH FLOWS ALONG ONE SIDE OF THE KREMLIN, AS IT HAS ON THE WIDE MOKHOVAYA STREET RUNNING ALONG THE OTHER SIDE. MILITARY SECURITY PUT A HALT FOR THE DURATION TO THE POPULAR SPORT OF ROWING FROM ONE OF THE BRIDGES OUT TO THE GORKY PARK.

AND ON MAKHOVAYA STREET, ONE OF THE MAIN BUSINESS STREETS AND SITE OF THE AMERICAN EMBASSY, THE FEW CARS ARE NEARLY ALL DIPLOMATIC OR MILITARY. THERE ARE NO TAXIS. A FEW NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENTS HAVE CARS. THE ONLY OTHERS IN CIRCULATION ARE TWO ANCIENT VEHICLES HIRED OUT FOR SPECIAL OCCASIONS BY THE INTOURIST BUREAU. JUN 23 1943

IN MOSCOW TODAY RICH AND POOR ALIKE MOVE ABOUT BY FOOT OR PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION OVER THE GREAT CIRCULAR BOULEVARDS--ONE CUTTING THROUGH THE HEART AND THE OTHER AROUND THE EDGE OF THE CITY--AND COBBLED FEEDER STREETS WHICH CONNECT THE SPRAWLED-OUT POINTS OF THE CITY.

ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR CONVEYANCES--WITH ALL BUT PASHA MY OLD PEASANT COOK WHO IS STILL AFRAID TO RIDE IT--IS THE SUBWAY OR METRO, AS IT IS CALLED HERE. IT IS A LUXURIOUS AFFAIR with MARBLED AND TILED STATIONS DECORATED WITH STATUES AND INDIRECT LIGHTING. AND IT'S ALWAYS CROWDED WITH BUSTLING, PUSHING THRONGS THAT HAVE THE SAME MANNERS AS THEIR BROADWAY COUSINS.

THE THING THAT STRIKES YOU ABOUT THE PLAIN MEN IN CAPS AND THE PLAIN WOMEN IN SHAWLS, SILENTLY RIDING THE LONG ESCALATORS DOWN INTO THE DEPTHS AND THEN WEDGING INTO PACKED TRAINS, IS THEIR DEAD SERIOUSNESS. YET YOU SEE THEM WHISTLING AND APPLAUDING AT THE BALLET AND YOU GLIMPSE ANOTHER SIDE OF THEIR CHARACTER. THEY ARE CAPABLE OF GREAT EMOTIONS WHICH COME FORCEFULLY IN RESPONSE TO THE STIRRING MUSIC OF TCHAIKOVSKY AND THE BRILLIANT DANCING OF LEPESHENSKY, WHO IS HAILED AS "GREATER THAN PAVLOWA." THEY LOVE MUSIC. RUSSIAN TODAY HAS THREE HEROES. LENIN, STALIN, AND TCHAIKOVSKY.

AND THEY LOVE DRAMA. CHEKOV'S "THREE SISTERS" PLAYS TO ENTHUSIASTIC [illegible] CENTRAL TIMES WEEKLY.

JUN 23 1943

30.24-5301

30.24—5301

SOLD-OUT.

THEY LOVE MUSIC AND DRAMA AND OPERA, ALL OF WHICH THEY ENJOY AT POPULAR PRICES. BUT ABOVE ALL THEY LOVE MOTHER RUSSIA.

"GITLER" AS THEY CALL THE NAZI DICTATOR (THEY HAVE NO "H" IN THEIR ALPHABET) REALLY STARTED SOMETHING WHEN HE ATTACKED THIS COUNTRY TWO YEARS AGO.

THEY'VE SACRIFICED EVERYTHING IN A BITTER AND DETERMINED FIGHT TO KEEP RUSSIA RUSSIAN. THE LAST TWO YEARS BEFORE THE WAR, WHICH WERE THE BEST THEY HAVE EVER HAD, HAVE GIVEN AWAY TO LEAN TIMES. LUXURIES HAVE GONE OUT OF THE WINDOW. PEOPLE ARE PLAIN, FOR THERE IS NO TIME FOR NEW CLOTHES DURING THE WAR. FOOD, WHILE SUFFICIENT FOR THE MOST PART, BECOMES A MONOTONOUS, UNBALANCED SUCCESSION OF THE SAME THINGS. CIGARETTES ARE SCARCER AND DRINK IS PROHIBITIVE IN PRICE FOR THE AVERAGE PERSON.

JUN 23 1943

STALIN, THE GREAT BUILDER, HAS HAD TO DEFER CITY IMPROVEMENT PLANS FOR THE DURATION AND CONCENTRATE ON BUILDING WEAPONS OF WAR. CONSTRUCTION HAS STOPPED ON THE HUGE PALACE OF THE SOVIETS WHICH WAS PLANNED FOR A SKYSCRAPER AS TALL AS THE EMPIRE STATE BUILDING. STEEL GIRDERS WERE RIPPED OUT AND SENT TO THE FOUNDRY FOR CONVERSION INTO TANKS.

YET ALL THE SACRIFICES AND HARDSHIPS HAVE NOT SWERVED THE PEOPLE FOR ONE MINUTE FROM THE GOAL, WHICH IS THE COMPLETE DESTRUCTION OF THE INVADER. THERE WAS A TIME AT THE BEGINNING, WHEN THE GERMANS WERE SO NEAR, WHEN THEY WERE NERVOUS ABOUT THEIR ABILITY TO SAVE THEIR CHERISHED MOSCOW--SYMBOL OF THIS GREAT LAND. BUT TWO YEARS OF FIGHTING HAVE GIVEN THEM CONFIDENCE SUCH AS THEY HAVE NEVER HAD BEFORE.

THAT IS ONE OF THE MOST STRIKING THINGS THAT YOU NOTICE IN MOSCOW TODAY. ON THE EVE OF ANOTHER GREAT GERMAN ASSAULT--EXPECTED TO BE THE GREATEST OF ALL WITH THE SAME AIM--TO CAPTURE MOSCOW AND EFFECT THE DEFEAT OF ALL RUSSIA--YOU CAN ACTUALLY FEEL THE PLATINUM-HARD SPIRIT OF THE PEOPLE AS THEY AWAIT THE BLOW. THEY ARE NO LONGER NERVOUS. THEY ARE SURE OF THEMSELVES.

JUN 23 1943

ONE INTERESTING CHANGE WROUGHT BY THE WAR IS THE EMPHASIS ON RELIGION. LAST EASTER THE CHURCHES WERE FILLED TO OVERFLOWING BY INCREASING NUMBERS OF THE FAITHFUL, WHO WERE ALLOWED TO STAY OUT PAST THE MIDNIGHT CURFEW. PAPERS PRINT STORIES OF PEASANTS CROSSING THEMSELVES BEFORE ICONS AS A SIGN OF FIDELITY TO THE RED ARMY.

THE RUSSIANS KNOW THAT A DREADFUL BATTLE IS COMING AND THEY ARE READY FOR IT. WELL-GROOMED OFFICERS TAKING PLUMP GIRLS TO THE CINEMA KNOW THAT THEY MAY RETURN HOME TO FIND THEIR LEAVES CANCELLED. FIGHTER PATROLS THAT CIRCLE CONSTANTLY OVER MOSCOW, AND THE ROOFSPOTTERS WHO MAINTAIN DAY AND NIGHT WATCH BESIDE THEIR ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS, KNOW THAT IT MUST COME.

THE BALLOON BARRAGE THAT GOES UP INTO THE "WHITE NIGHT" WITH EACH SETTING SUN IS ANOTHER SIGN OF MOSCOW'S PREPAREDNESS. MOSCOW WON'T BE CAUGHT NAPPING. THIS ALERT CONFIDENCE SHOWS SHE IS READY FOR THE WORST "GERR GITLER" CAN OFFER.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 22-(AP)-- AN AMERICAN P-38 LIGHTNING PILOT WHO WAS FORCED [redacted] DOWN IN THE MEDITERRANEAN ONLY THREE MILES FROM THE SHORE OF SICILY DURING

JUN 23 1943

COMBAT OPERATIONS YESTERDAY WAS PLUCKED TO SAFETY FROM UNDER THE VERY NOSES OF THE ENEMY BY THE CREW OF A BRITISH WALRUS AMPHIBIAN PLANE.

JUN 23 1943

DETAILS WERE NOT IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE ON THE RESCUE, WHICH WAS THE CLOSEST TO AXIS SHORES YET AFFECTED BY ANY BRITISH AIR-SEA RESCUE UNIT.

FLYING IN OLD, LUMBERING AIRCRAFT, WHICH WOULD BE NO MATCH AGAINST GERMAN FIGHTER PLANES, THE PILOTS AND CREWS OF THESE WALRUS RESCUE PLANES IN SIX WEEKS OF RISKING THEIR OWN NECKS HAVE SAVED 41 ALLIED AIRMEN FROM DEATH IN THE SEA OR CAPTURE BY THE ENEMY.

cairo, june 22--(ap)-- paul ballereau, vichy french nister to jidda, red sea seaport in saudi arabia arrived in cairo day enroute to france, he left jidda june 16. difficulty in mmunications between vichy and jidda was given as the reason for his sturn. allied authorities facilitated his departure.

BY J. NORMAN LODGE

GUADALCANAL, JUNE -(AP)-WITHOUT GIVING FALSE HOPES TO THE UNITED STATES, THE THOUGHT ARISES: JUST HOW LONG CAN THE JAPANESE TAKE THE PRESENT AIR POUNDING IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC AND STILL MAINTAIN A SEMBLANCE OF COMPOSURE.

JUN 23 1943

FOR INSTANCE, TAKE THE FIGURES OF THE COMMANDER OF AIR IN THE SOLOMONS WHICH STATE THAT FROM LAST AUG. 20 TO JUNE 11 OF THIS YEAR AIRMEN WORKING FROM THIS ISLAND HAVE SUNK TEN TIMES AS MUCH JAPANESE SHIPPING AS OUR FORCES HAVE LOST TO ENEMY AIRCRAFT IN THE SOLOMONS THEATER.

SOLOMONS AIR UNITS, INCLUDING THE ARMY, NAVY AND MARINE PLANES AND PILOTS, PRESENTLY ARE UNDER COMMAND OF REAR ADMIRAL MARC A.MITSCHER.

THE RECORD BOARD IN HIS OFFICE FOR THIS PERIOD OF AUG. 20 TO JUNE 11 SHOWS OUR PLANES MAINTAINED A SCORE OF THREE JAPANESE AIRCRAFT DOWNED IN AERIAL COMBAT TO ONE OF OUR PLANES. OUR ACK-ACK GUNS ALSO HAVE SCORED THE SAME 3-1 RATIO.

WE HAVE RECOVERED NEARLY HALF THE PERSONNEL OF U.S. PLANES SHOT DOWN. JAPANESE RECOVERIES ARE UNKNOWN, OF COURSE, BUT IT IS SAID THEY MUST BE MUCH LOWER THAN OURS BECAUSE OF THE INFLAMMABILITY OF THEIR CRAFT PLUS THE FACT THAT FEW NIPPONESE PILOTS ARE OUTFITTED WITH PARACHUTES.

LAST AUGUST OUR AIR STRENGTH WAS NOTHING TO WRITE HOME ABOUT. THE COMPARATIVE FIGURES SINCE THAT TIME SHOW WHAT GREAT STRIDES HAVE BEEN TAKEN BY OUR HIGH COMMAND TO CAPTURE THE NECESSARY AIR SUPERIORITY IN THIS THEATER.

HAVING BEEN ON GUADALCANAL LAST YEAR I KNOW HOW POORLY WE WERE FIXED FOR AIRCRAFT DURING NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER, ESPECIALLY FOR BOMBERS. MANY PLANES WERE GOING A THOUSAND HOURS WITHOUT THE CHECKUP SUPPOSEDLY

JUN 23 1943

30.24-5303

NECESSARY AFTER 300. THERE WAS PRACTICALLY NOTHING AROUND HERE IN THE WAY OF AIR STRENGTH IN AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER, AND BUT LITTLE IN NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER.

THEREFORE, THE REMARKABLE RATIO IN PLANES SHOT DOWN AND SHIPS SUNK HAS BEEN LARGELY PILED UP THIS YEAR.

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SERGEANT JIM LUCAS, .S. MARINE CORPS, OF 25131 EAST 14TH PLACE, TULSA,OKLA., D DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

JUN 23 1943

(ADVANCE)-(AB)-SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC,JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-CORPOR AYMOND P.MICCICHE, 9 LIME STREET, ROCHESTER,N.Y., HAS BEEN OMPLIMENTED BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER HERE FOR THE PART HE PLAYED IN KEEPING OPEN AN AERIAL "BURMA ROAD" OF SUPPLIES TO HENDERSON FIELD DURING THE SOLOMON ISLANDS CAMPAIGN.

CORPORAL MICCICHE, THEN A PRIVATE FIRST CLASS, REPEATEDLY RODE INTO GUADALCANAL AS RADIOMAN IN NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT PLANES CARRYIN BOMBS, HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND GASOLINE. HE HELPED UNLOAD THEM UNDER FIRE ON HENDERSON FIELD RUNWAYS, AND THEN TOOK OFF WITH WOUNDED MARINES FOR BASE HOSPITALS.

THE FEAT OF CORPORAL MICCICHE'S SQUADRON HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.HALSEY AS "AN EXAMPLE OF COURAGE AND SKILL."

CORPORAL MICCICHE ENLISTED AT BUFFALO,N.Y., NOVEMBER 15, 1940, AND JOINED HIS SQUADRON JAN.20, 1942. HE IS THE SON OF MR. AND MRS.ANGELO MICCICHE, ROCHESTER.

COLONEL P.K.SMITH, IN COMPLIMENTING CORPORAL MICCICHE FOR "OUTSTANDING HEROISM" SET OUT:

"DURING THE PERID OF SEPTEMBER 25 TO NOVEMBER 1, 1942, PRIVATE

30.24—5303

FIRST CLASS MICCICHE MADE SIX TRIPS AS FLIGHT RADIOMAN OF NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT AIRCRAFT IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS AREA.

"HIS ZEAL, EXCEPTIONAL COURAGE AND DEVOTION TO DUTY DURING THESE FLIGHTS, UNDER EXTREMELY HAZARDOUS CONDITIONS, ENABLED THIS GROUP TO SUPPLY COMBATANT FORCES AND EVACUATE WOUNDED FROM THE COMBAT AREA."

BY MURLIN SPENCER

JUN 23 1943

AN ADVANCED BASE SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 19-(DELAYED)-(AP)-AFTER 18 MONTHS OF WAR THERE IS NO SIGN THAT JAPAN HAS SACRIFICED QUALITY OF ITS WAR PLANES IN AN EFFORT TO STEP UP PRODUCTIO

THAT IS THE CONCLUSION OF AN AMERICAN ARMY LIEUTENANT, MEMBER OF A SELECT GROUP OF PLANE WRECKAGE HUNTERS, WHO POKE AROUND IN THE TWIST REMAINS OF ENEMY ZEROS, DIVE BOMBERS AND MEDIUM BOMBERS SHOT DOWN OVER PAPUA.

HE IS LIEUT.JOSEPH PHILLIPS, 28, OF (3116 BURTON ST.) ALTON, ILL.

"THE JAPANESE ARE USING JUST AS MUCH CARE IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF THEIR PLANES NOW AS THEY DID BEFORE THE WAR," HE SAYS. "I HAVE BEEN WATCHING FOR PARTS WHERE INFERIOR WORKMANSHIP OR MATERIAL SHOWS UP FIRST. THERE IS NO TRACE THAT QUALITY HAS BEEN SACRIFICED FOR QUANTI

IN HIS DETECTIVE WORK LIEUT.PHILLIPS HAS FOUND THE ZERO STILL IS THE AERO-DYNAMICALLY EFFICIENT, MANEUVERABLE PLANE WITH WHICH THE JAPANESE RAN RAMPANT OVER MANILA, SINGAPORE AND BATAVIA; THAT THE MEDIUM AND DIVE BOMBERS BUILT AFTER DEC.7, 1941, ARE DEADLY WEAPONS.

ON THE OTHER HAND, PHILLIPS HAS FOUND, WHILE THE ENEMY'S PLANES RETAIN THEIR GOOD FEATURES, THEY ALSO RETAIN ALL THE BAD. THEY HAVE MADE FEW IMPROVEMENTS OUTSIDE OF SEVERAL FEEBLE ATTEMPTS TO

JUN 23 1943

COPY NEW AMERICAN ISSUES.

THE ZERO, LIEUT.PHILLIPS SAYS, IS SO STRUCTURALLY TIGHT THAT IT IS LIKE A TAUT PIECE OF PAPER AND BREAKS APART UNDER HEAVY GUNFIRE. THE JAPANESE ARE USING LARGE AMOUNTS OF MAGNESIUM IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF THEIR PLANES, AND THEIR SELF-SEALING GASOLINE TANKS ARE INADEQUATE, PROBABLY ACCOUNTING FOR THE FACT THAT SO MANY ENEMY PLANES GO DOWN AS "FLAMERS."

JUN 23 1943

IT IS A FASCINATING JOB THAT PHILLIPS WHO ONCE FOUGHT PROFESSIONALLY IN FLORIDA UNDER THE NAME OF JOE VALLEE, AND A FEW OTHERS LIKE HIM ARE DOING IN THE JUNGLES OF NEW GUINEA. EARLY IN THE WAR THE ENGLISH DISCOVERED THE GERMANS WERE USING EQUIPMENT OF WHICH BRITAIN HAD NO KNOWLEDGE. THE BRITISH SET UP A TECHNICAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY COMPOSED OF ENGINEERS AND PILOTS, TO STUDY WRECKAGE OF GERMAN PLANES BROUGHT DOWN IN ENGLAND.

WHEN THE UNITED STATES ENTERED THE WAR WE SELECTED 36 MEN FOR A MATERIEL INTELLIGENCE UNIT. LIEUT.PHILLIPS, GRADUATE OF AN EAST ST.LOUIS AIR COLLEGE, WAS ONE OF THE FIRST 12 TO BE GRADUATED. HE WAS SENT TO THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.

"AS FAR AS I CAN FIND," HE SAID, "THE JAPS HAVEN'T COME OUT WITH ANYTHING RADICALLY NEW. THEIR PROPELLERS ARE COPIES OF OURS, SO ARE THEIR RADIO TUBES AND THEIR SPARK PLUGS. THEY HAVE A RADIAL (CORRECT) ENGINE DESIGN WHICH INCORPORATES THE BEST FEATURES OF OURS WITHOUT WORRYING, OF COURSE, ABOUT PATENT INFRINGEMENTS.

"A FEEBLE ATTEMPT AT A SELF-SEALING GAS TANK IS ABOUT THE ONLY ATTEMPT I HAVE OBSERVED TO COPY ANY OF OUR INNOVATIONS SINCE THE WAR STARTED. THEIR SELF-SEALING GAS TANK IS NOT ADEQUATE AND THEY HAVE GONE SO FAR AS TO MAKE BELLY TANKS SELF-SEALING, WHICH IS STUPID, SINCE BELLY TANKS ARE MADE TO BE DROPPED.

"ONE JAP DIVE BOMBER CARRIED FULL RADIO EQUIPMENT WHICH LEADS TO THE BELIEF THAT IT WAS USED AS A HOMING PIGEON FOR OTHER PLANES IN THE FLIGHT, GUIDING THEM TO THE TARGET. IT DIDN'T GUIDE THEM HOME, HOWEVER.

"JAP FIGHTERS I HAVE FOUND HAVE BEEN FULLY EQUIPPED WITH PARACHUTES. THE FLYING SUITS USED BY THEIR PILOTS WERE BETTER THAN OURS.

"THE ZERO IS A MARVELOUS AIRPLANE, BUT IT HAS ITS FAULTS. IT CAN'T STAND THE POUNDING OUR PLANES STAND. AND BECAUSE OF THE WING, WHICH RUNS ALL THE WAY THROUGH THE PLANE AND CAN'T BE TAKEN OFF, IT IS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO OVERHAUL. THE FASTEST OVERHAUL JOB WOULD TAKE MONTHS.

"THE TWIN ENGINE BOMBER ALSO IS STRUCTURALLY TIGHT AND WON'T STAND UP TO THE HEAVY GUNFIRE THAT OUR PLANES TAKE AND LIVE THROUGH."

FR920PCW

JUN 23 1943

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA--FIRST (ADD SCHEDLER'S AIR VICTORY) June 22-AP

(BJO) IN THE SHOW.

CAPT.GEORGE WELCH, WILMINGTON,DEL., RAISED HIS PERSONAL SCORE CARD FROM SEVEN TO 10 ENEMY PLANES. HE SHOT THE WING FROM ONE ZERO AND EXPLODED TWO OTHERS IN MID-AIR BY BURSTS AT EXTREMELY CLOSE RANGE.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN 40 MISSIONS FIRST LIEUT.CORNELIUS SMITH (10-79TH ST) BROOKLYN, N.Y., SAW ENEMY PLANES. HE MADE UP FOR ALL THE PAST DISAPPOINTMENTS BY SHOOTING DOWN AT LEAST THREE ZEROS AND PROBABLY A FOURTH. ONE OF HIS KILLS EXPLODED SO CLOSE TO HIS OWN PLANE THAT FRAGMENTS FROM THE DISINTEGRATING ENEMY PLANE DAMAGED SMITH'S SHIP. HIS OTHER TWO VICTORIES WERE WHAT HE TERMED "FLAMERS."

OTTAWA, JUNE 22-(AP)-LEADING AIRCRAFTMAN DONALD AUGUSTUS MC GOV

WHOSE FATHER, T.A. MC GOVERN, LIVES AT 635 FOURTH STREET, ALLENTOWN,

JUN 23 1943

30.24-5305

30.24—5305

PA., WAS LISTED TONIGHT IN A ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE CASUALTY LIST DANGEROUSLY ILL ON ACTIVE SERVICE IN CANADA.

OTTAWA, JUNE 22-(AP)-SERGEANT MAURICE EMANUEL BUECHLER, WHOSE FATHER, DR. HARRY BUECHLER, LIVES AT 566 HIGH STREET, NEWARK, N.J., WAS LISTED TONIGHT IN A ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE CASUALTY LIST AS PREVIOUSLY REPORTED MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS, BUT NOW, FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSES, PRESUMED DEAD.

JUN 23 1943

OTTAWA, JUNE 22-(AP)-SERGEANT WALTER LEROY BOVAIRD, WHOSE FATHER, E.E. BOVAIRD, LIVES AT 19 ROCKDALE STREET, WORCESTER, MASS., WAS LISTED TONIGHT IN A ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE CASUALTY LIST AS MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE AFTER AIR OPERATIONS OVERSEAS.

OTTAWA, JUNE 22-(AP)-PILOT OFFICER GORDON B. BOOTH, WHOSE WIFE LIVES AT 625 MORSE AVENUE, FINDLAY, OHIO, WAS LISTED AS KILLED ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS IN A ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE CASUALTY LIST RELEASED TONIGHT.

OTTAWA, JUNE 22-(AP)-PRINCE BERNHARD OF THE NETHERLANDS HUSBAND OF CROWN PRINCESS JULIANA, ARRIVED TODAY IN MONTREAL BY AIRPLANE FROM ENGLAND AND PROCEEDED TO THE OTTAWA HOME OF HIS WIFE WHOSE MOTHER, QUEEN WILHELMINA, ALSO IS VISITING HERE FROM ENGLAND.

PRINCE BERNHARD WILL ATTEND THE CHRISTENING OF HIS INFANT DAUGHTER, PRINCESS MARGRIET FRANCIUCA, ON JUNE 29. HE LAST VISITED OTTAWA AT THE TIME OF HER BIRTH IN JANUARY.

WINDSOR, ONTARIO, JUNE 22-(AP)-DETROIT IS OUT OF BOUNDS TO MEMBERS OF THE CANADIAN ARMED FORCES UNTIL FURTHER ORDER, MAJOR H.L. PETRIE, M.C., OFFICER COMMANDING THE ST.LUKE'S ROAD BARRACKS HERE, ANNOUNCED TODAY.

JUN 23 1943

THE BORDER WAS CLOSED TO MEN IN THE ARMED SERVICES AS A PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE DURING THE RACE RIOTS IN DETROIT, IT WAS STATED.

ORVAL G.ADAMS, CHIEF INSPECTOR OF THE CANADIAN IMMIGRATION DEPARTMENT, SAID NO ACTION HAS BEEN TAKEN TO PREVENT CANADIAN CIVILIANS FROM CROSSING THE BORDER ON BUSINESS OR TO VISIT FRIENDS.

HEADQUARTERS ALASKA DEFENSE COMMAND, JUNE 22-(AP)-LIEUT.GEN. SIMON B.BUCKNER, JR., COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE ALASKA DEFENSE COMMAND, ANNOUNCED TODAY HE HAD AWARDED THE AIR MEDAL TO FOUR STAFF SERGEANTS FOR MORE THAN 100 HOURS OF FLIGHT IN COMBAT AND OPERATIONS IN ADVERSE WEATHER, INCLUDING HAZARDOUS RESCUES NEAR KISKA.

THE MEN ARE STAFF SERGTS. E.E.KARNATZ, RADIO OPERATOR, BOSTWICK, NEB.; CHARLES V.RUPSIS, ENGINEER GUNNER, CHICAGO; CHARLES H.SPENCER, MECHANIC, MIDDLEBOURNE, W.VA.; AND FREDERICK N.BYRD, RADIO OPERATOR, LEBANON, N.Y.

THESE PROMOTIONS WERE ANNOUNCED:

TO LIEUTENANT COLONEL--JOSEPH E.CANNON, PROVIDENCE, R.I. AND WILLIAM N.SNOUFFER, YORKVILLE, ILL.

JUN 23 1943

MODERN MARINERS
BEAT BLIGH'S
SEA SAGA
---
BOUNTY CREW'S ENDURANCE
ECLIPSED (800)
---

(PICTURES: SURVIVORS OF NEW ADVENTURES ADRIFT)

---

BY PAULA CLARK

JUN 23 1943

(ADVANCE)-MIAMI, FLA., JUNE 22-(AP)-CAST ADRIFT AFTER THE FAMED MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY, CAPTAIN WILLIAM BLIGH AND HIS FOLLOWERS SAILED AN OPEN LIFEBOAT NEARLY 4,000 MILES OVER A MIGHTY OCEAN--AND FOR A CENTURY AND A HALF MEN LOOKED UPON THE VOYAGE AS A PEAK OF SEAFARING ENDURANCE.

YET, OUT OF A YEAR AND A HALF OF MERCILESS SUBMARINE WARFARE, HAVE COME TALES WHICH ECLIPSE THE FORTITUDE AND SUFFERING OF BLIGH'S LITTLE CREW.

A STOICAL YOUNG CHINESE, AN AMERICAN SAILORBOY AND TWO DUTCH SEAMEN, AN AUSTRALIAN WOMAN AND A YOUTHFUL ENGLISH SHIP'S OFFICER--ALL HAVE SURVIVED ORDEALS LONGER, MORE TERRIBLE THAN BLIGH'S.

EVERY SCHOOLBOY HAS READ ABOUT THE BRITISH CAPTAIN'S 47-DAY TRIP ACROSS THE PACIFIC OCEAN TO TIMOR, AND MOTION PICTURE AUDIENCES HAVE STIRRED IN ANGER AT HIS HARD-HANDED DISCIPLINE AND THRILLED AT HIS INDOMINABLE COURAGE.

IT WAS IN 1787 THAT THE CREW OF H.M.S.BOUNTY WAS SENT TO FETCH PLANTINGS OF THE BREADFRUIT TREE FOR INTRODUCTION TO THE WEST INDIES. MUTINY BROKE OUT APRIL 28, 1789, AND BLIGH AND 18 OTHERS WERE CROWDED INTO A 23-FOOT BOAT AND TOLD TO SEEK THEIR SALVATION.

FOR PROVISIONS THERE WERE 25 GALLONS OF WATER, 150 POUNDS OF BREAD, 30 POUNDS OF PORK, SIX QUARTS OF RUM AND SIX BOTTLES OF WINE.

ONE MAN WAS KILLED BY SAVAGES WHEN THE PARTY STOPPED AT AN SLAND TO REPLENISH THE WATER SUPPLY, BUT ALL OF THE OTHERS WERE ALIVE JUNE 15 WHEN THE BOAT REACHED A SETTLEMENT AT COUPANG BAY ON TIMOR, DUTCH EAST INDIES. BLIGH AND 11 OTHERS EVENTUALLY REACHED ENGLAND.

THE MUTINEERS LANDED ON PITCAIRN ISLAND, OFF THE WESTERN COAST OF SOUTH AMERICA, WHERE THEIR DESCENDANTS STILL LIVE.

JUN 23 1943

THE MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY HAD BEEN HISTORY FOR 153 YEARS WHEN, IN 1942, UNRESTRICTED SUBMARINE ACTIVITIES AGAINST UNITED NATIONS' SHIPPING BROUGHT INCIDENTS WHICH SHOWED THAT BLIGH AND HIS SAILORS HAD NOT EVEN APPROACHED THE LIMITS OF HUMAN ENDURANCE.

IN 51 DAYS, GUIDED ONLY BY THE SUN AND STARS, A MAN AND WOMAN STEERED A LIFEBOAT ALMOST ALL OF THE WAY ACROSS THE SOUTH ATLANTIC FROM AFRICA TO SOUTH AMERICA.

SEVENTEEN PERSONS FOUND REFUGE IN THE SMALL BOAT AFTER THE TORPEDOING OF A BRITISH SHIP, BUT ONLY THIRD OFFICER J.A.WHYTE OF ENGLAND AND MRS.MARGARET GORDON, AN AUSTRALIAN, COULD SURVIVE ON THE MEAGER RATIONS OF FOOD AND WATER. WHYTE PRAISED MRS.GORDON, WHO LOST HER HUSBAND IN THE SINKING, BECAUSE SHE STOOD HER SHARE OF WATCHES WHILE THE TWO PICKED A TORTUOUS WAY ACROSS THE SEA.

LATE LAST YEAR, ON NOV.2, A SUBMARINE IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC SANK A DUTCH VESSEL CROWDED WITH MEMBERS OF ITS OWN CREW AND THE SURVIVORS

JUN 23 1943

30.24—5307

30.24—5307

FROM IVERMEN OF THREE OF HER DESTROYER NAVY GUNNERS AND TWO DUTCH SEAMEN, CLIMBED ABOARD A TINY LIFERAFT ON WHICH WERE STORED TWO POUNDS OF CHOCOLATE, NINE CANS OF CONDENSED MILK AND 12 GALLONS OF WATER.

EIGHTY-THREE DAYS LATER, ON JAN.24, 1943, AN AMERICAN WARSHIP PICKED UP THE RAFT AND THREE OF THE MEN WHO STILL WERE ALIVE AFTER DRIFTING APPROXIMATELY 2,200 MILES.

POON LIM'S SHIP WAS TORPEDOED NOV.23, 1942, IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC, NEAR THE COAST OF AFRICA. WASHED OVERBOARD, POON LIM FOUND AN EMPTY LIFERAFT AND CLIMBED UPON IT. IT WAS STOCKED WITH FOOD AND WATER ENOUGH TO KEEP SEVERAL MEN ALIVE FOR A FEW DAYS.

POON LIM--A NATIVE OF HAINAN ISLANDS, NOTED EVEN IN HARDY CHINA FOR THE STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE OF ITS INHABITANTS--MANAGED TO MAKE THE FOOD LAST FOR 55 DAYS.

JUN 23 1943

THEN HE PRIED A NAIL OUT OF THE RAFT, BENT IT FOR A FISH HOOK, BAITED IT WITH A PIECE OF BISCUIT, USED UNRAVELLED ROPE FOR A LINE, AND STARTED CATCHING HIS FOOD. WHEN IT RAINED, HE DRAINED THE WATER CAUGHT IN A CANVAS INTO THE STORAGE TANK.

IT IS POON LIM'S BOAST THAT HE CLIMBED UNAIDED ABOARD THE FISHING VESSEL WHICH PICKED HIM UP APRIL 3, 1943, NEAR THE COAST OF BRAZIL.

DOZENS OF OTHER AVIATORS AND SEAMEN ADRIFT IN LIFEBOATS OR LIFERAFTS HAVE CLUNG TO LIFE FOR PERIODS RIVALLING THE LENGTH OF THE BLIGH VOYAGE--AND EVEN NOW, SOMEWHERE ON THE WORLD'S GREAT OCEANS, A MARINER MAY HAVE SURPASSED POON LIM'S ACHIEVEMENT AND STILL BE WAITING FOR RESCUE.

BUT OUT OF THE SUFFERING HAS COME A NEW HOPE FOR THOSE WHO FIND THEMSELVES ADRIFT FAR FROM LAND. INVENTORS ARE BUSY TRYING TO EASE THE WAY TO SALVATION.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS ADOPTED AS STANDARD EQUIPMENT FOR RAFTS AND BOATS A NEW FISHING KIT, SAID TO BE ALMOST FOOLPROOF AND CAPABLE OF CATCHING FISH IN ANY WATERS.

NEARING PERFECTION ARE COMPACT DEVICES FOR DISTILLING FRESH WATER FROM THE SEA. SCIENTISTS ARE EXPERIMENTING WITH THE POSSIBILITIES OF STORING MORE SUSTENANCE IN THE LIMITED STORAGE SPACE. ALREADY WORKING IN THE EXPERIMENTAL STAGE IS A TINY RADIO WHICH WILL SEND OUT DISTRESS SIGNALS AT THE TURN OF A CRANK.

- - -

SEPARATE GROUND AND AIR COMMAND
WORKS IN AFRICA

- - -

JUN 23 1943

GENERALS WORK OUT SYSTEM TO GAIN
COORDINATION (750)

- - -

(COORDINATION OF GROUND AND AIR FORCES HAS BEEN A SUBJECT OF HOT DEBATE EVER SINCE THE BIRTH OF MILITARY AIR POWER. INDEPENDENCE PLUS COOPERATION IS THE ANSWER FOUND IN AFRICA, SAYS WES GALLAGHER, FORMERLY IN CHARGE OF ASSOCIATED PRESS COVERAGE IN THAT AREA.)

BY WES GALLAGHER

NEW YORK, JUNE 22-(AP)-SHOULD THE AIRFORCES OR THE GROUND FORCES BE IN SUPREME COMMAND DURING A BATTLE?

THIS BURNING TACTICAL QUESTION WHICH IS STILL DEBATED FIERCELY

JUN 22 1943

IN BRITAIN AND AMERICA HAS BEEN SOLVED IN NORTH AFRICA.

THE ANSWER IS "NEITHER".

THE FIRST STEPS IN SOLVING THE PROBLEM WERE TAKEN BY TWO TOUGH MINDED MEN, EJCH EXTREMELY JEALOUS OF THEIR RESPECTIVE ARMS. THEY WERE SLIGHT, BIG EARED AND BELLIGERENT AIR CHIEF MARSHAL SIR ARTHUR TEDDER AND THE EIGHTH ARMY'S COCKY COMMANDER, GENERAL BERNARD MONTGOMERY.

JUN 23 1943

ANOTHER FIERCE ADVOCATE OF AIRPOWER, RED HAIRED AND TACITURN LIEUTENANT GENERAL CARL "TOOEY" SPAATZ, AMERICAN COMMANDER OF THE NORTHWEST AFRICAN AIRFORCES, WORKED OUT THE FINAL FORM OF THE NEW BATTLE TACTICS.

THE PROBLEM HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH THE BROADER POLICY OF WHETHER THE WAR CAN BE WON BY BOMBING ALONE. THAT IS SOMETHING WHICH REMAINS TO BE SEEN.

GENERALS AND AIRMARSHALS, EVEN THE MILDER ONES, ARE DIFFICULT CHARACTERS. THEY ARE USED TO HAVING THEIR COMMANDS OBEYED AND EXPECT TO BE IN COMMAND OF EVERYTHING IN THEIR AREAS. TEDDER AND MONTGOMERY ARE DEFINITELY NOT OF THE "MILDER" TYPE. WHEN THEY FIRST MET IN THE DESERT A YEAR AGO AS ROMMEL BATTERED AT THE GATES OF EGYPT THEY MIGHT WELL HAVE BECOME KEEN RIVALS.

MOST GROUND GENERALS WISH TO HAVE THE AIRFORCES UNDER THEIR THUMB WHERE THEY CAN CALL UPON THEM AS NEEDED, BUT MONTGOMERY HAD A DIFFERENT IDEA. ALL HE WANTED WAS "AIR SUPERIORITY" SO THAT HIS TROOPS WOULD NOT BE HELD UP BY AXIS PLANES.

HE DID NOT FEEL THAT IT WAS UP TO HIM TO TELL THE AIRFORCE HOW TO DO IT. IN SUBSTANCE HE TOLD TEDDER, "I DON'T CARE HOW YOU GET IT --THAT'S ENTIRELY UP TO YOU."

TEDDER, FOR HIS PART, UTTERED A FEW WORDS OF WARNING. HE SAID THE RAF AND AMERICAN AIR FORCES WOULD GET SUPERIORITY, BUT THAT MONTGOMERY'S FORCES WERE NOT TO EXPECT TO HAVE EVERY ME109 OR JU87 COMBED OUT OF THEIR HAIR, NOR TO SEE GREAT CLOUDS OF PLANES OVERHEAD ALL DAY FOR MORAL SUPPORT.

JUN 23 1943

TEDDER'S TACTICS WERE SIMPLE. BEFORE AN OFFENSIVE HE TURNED HIS ENTIRE STRENGTH AGAINST THE ENEMY AIRFIELDS. HOUR AFTER HOUR HE HAMMERED THE FIELDS UNTIL HE CAUGHT THEIR PLANES ON THE GROUND AND WIPED THEM OUT. INSTEAD OF TRYING TO CUT OFF THE BRANCHES OF THE TREE HE CUT IT OFF AT THE ROOTS. WHEN HE HAD KNOCKED OUT THE LUFTWAFFE HE TURNED TO MONTGOMERY AND SAID, "YOU HAVE YOUR AIR SUPERIORITY AND NOW WHAT DO YOU WANT US TO DO TO HELP YOUR TROOPS."

MONTGOMERY WOULD THEN GIVE TEDDER A LIST OF TARGETS, USUALLY ARTILLERY POSITIONS, WHICH WERE PROVING OBSTACLES TO HIS TANKS AND INFANTRY. TEDDER WOULD THEN TURN HIS FORCE AGAINST THESE TARGETS, CONFIDENT THERE WOULD BE NO OPPOSITION.

IF THE GERMANS RUSHED UP PLANES AND AGAIN THREATENED IN THE AIR, TEDDER WOULD TURN HIS FIGHTERS AND BOMBERS FROM GROUND SUPPORT WORK TO POUND AIRDROMES UNTIL THE LUFTWAFFE WAS AGAIN BEATEN DOWN.

SOME GROUND FORCES WOULD NOT SEE AN ALLIED PLANE FOR WEEKS ON END--NOR A GERMAN ONE. SO WELL WAS THE AIRFORCES WORK CARRIED OUT THAT THE EIGHTH ARMY TRUCKS AND TANKS ROLLED ALONG THE ROADS BUMPER TO BUMPER, CONFIDENT THEY WOULD NEVER BE ATTACKED FROM THE AIR.

WHILE TEDDER AND MONTGOMERY WERE PUTTING THESE TACTICS INTO OPERATION THE ALLIED FORCES LANDING IN NORTH AFRICA WERE HAVING THEIR AIR TROUBLES. GENERAL ANDERSON'S FIRST ARMY WAS MAKING ITS ABORTIVE DRIVE FOR TUNIS AND BIZERTE THAT FAILED BY JUST 48 HOURS. THE FEW PLANES

JUN 23 1943

30.24-5309

30.24—5309

AVAILABLE WERE PLACED UNDER ANDERSON'S PERSONAL COMMAND. THE HALF DOZEN SPITFIRES AND LIGHTNINGS AVAILABLE FOR EACH LOCAL PATROL WERE MET BY DOZENS OF ME109S AND FW190S AND WIPED OUT OF THE AIR. THE LUFTWAFFE THEN BOMBED THE FIRST ARMY TO A HALT.

GENERAL EISENHOWER THEN CALLED SPAATZ FROM ENGLAND TO REBUILD HIS TATTERED AIRFORCES.

JUN 23 1943

IT TOOK MOST OF THE WINTER TO MEET THE LUFTWAFFE ON EQUAL TERMS AND THEN TEDDER ARRIVED AS SUPREME COMMANDER FOR AIR IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AND HE AND SPAATZ CREATED A NEW TYPE OF AIR FORCE.

THEY DIVIDED THE PLANES UNDER THEIR COMMAND ACCORDING TO TYPES INTO TWO AIR FORCES, TACTICAL AND STRATEGIC.

THE TACTICAL AIR FORCE WAS ASSIGNED THE TASK OF GROUND SUPPORT. IT'S JOB WAS THE SAME AS TEDDER'S HAD BEEN IN EGYPT AND LIBYA. IT WAS GIVEN ALMOST ALL THE FIGHTERS, ALL THE LIGHT BOMBERS AND SOME O THE MEDIUM BOMBERS.

THE STRATEGIC AIR FORCE, COMPOSED OF THE LONG RANGE FIGHTERS, FLYING FORTRESSES AND OTHER HEAVY BOMBERS WITH SOME MEDIUM BOMBERS, WAS ASSIGNED THE JOB OF KNOCKING OUT THE AXIS SUPPLY LINES BY BOMBING HARBORS AND DOCKS.

IN THE FURY OF BATTLE THE TASKS OF THE TWO FORCES FREQUENTLY WOULD OVERLAP. THE STRATEGIC FORCE WAS SOMETIMES CALLED UPON TO BOMB THE AIRFIELDS AND KNOCK OUT THE LUFTWAFFE'S RESERVES IN SICILY AND SARDINIA. IN THE LATER STAGES OF THE CAMPAIGN THE TACTICAL FORCE'S BOMBERS JOINED IN SEA SWEEPS AND HARRASSED THE AXIS SUPPLY LINES.

HOW WELL THE TEDDER--SPAATZ--MONTGOMERY TACTICS WORKED WAS SHOWN IN THE COMPLETE AIR SUPERIORITY ENJOYED BY THE ALLIES IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, WHICH ENABLED THEM TO BOMB PANTELLERIA INTO SUBMISSION.

PANTELLERIA WAS ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF DUAL BATTLE COMMAND. THE GROUND FORCES WERE WAITING AND READY TO ASSAULT THE ITALIAN ISLAND FORTRESS BUT SPAATZ AND TEDDER SAID, "WE CAN DO IT ALONE. JUST WAIT."

JUN 23 1943

IT IS DOUBTFUL IF THE LARGER ISLANDS WILL FALL TO AIRPOWER ALONE, BUT WHEN THE ALLIES LAND THEY WILL HAVE LITTLE TO WORRY ABOUT FROM THE LUFTWAFFE.

Bern

JUN 23 1943

RAF HAMMERS MUELHEIM IN DRIVE TO CRIPPLE RUHR; BOMBS RAIN ON ITALY AGAIN

ROOSEVELT TO ASK DRAFT LAW RISE TO AGE 65 TO DEAL WITH WAR STRIKES; CALLS UMW LEADERSHIP INTOLERABLE

EUROPEAN RAIDS KEPT UP 48 HOURS

JUN 24 1943

U. S. Fortresses, Striking By Day, Meet RAF Going Out At Night

Blows Follow Hammering Of Muelheim, Ruhr Steel Center

London, Thursday, June 24 (AP)—Enemy raiders were over northeast England during the night and attacked a coastal town, where flares and bombs were dropped in a hit-and-run raid.

JAMES M LONG

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 23—Fleets of American Flying Fortresses and RAF two-engined bombers struck at Axis-ruled Europe by daylight today to keep the Allied air offensive rolling at a mighty pace after another block-buster night assault into the Ruhr, upon Muelheim.

The formations of Flying Fortresses raced back over the chalk cliffs of southeast England this evening virtually crossing new formations of British twin-engined aircraft streaking eastward.

Objectives Not Named

There was no immediate announcement of the objectives by day of the Fortresses.

Late today British Bostons and Typhoons escorted by fighters attacked targets at Meaulte, St. Omer and Maupertus, in France, destroying two enemy planes without loss to themselves.

The day attacks brought forty-eight consecutive hours of round-the-clock bombings.

Muelheim in the German Ruhr was slammed by hundreds of RAF four-engined bombers last night, with bombs starting many fires that "soon joined together" and sent flames leaping hundreds of feet high, the Air Ministry announced. One pilot reported concentrated fires "for about two square miles."

The new fires started there brought from the German radio the statement that "what the population of these areas (the Ruhr) has had to endure lately is unbelievable for everyone who has not witnessed such a raid."

At Least 550 Attacks

The Ruhr has taken a fearful pounding. The Ministry of Information said "there have been at least 550 attacks on targets there by the RAF." They include 116 raids on Cologne, 56 on Essen, 26 on Dortmund, 53 on Duesseldorf, 60 on Duisberg-Ruhrort, 60 on Hamborn, 85 on Hamm, 22 on Krefeld and 44 on Gelsenkirchen.

The fleets of British bombers that aimed a wipe-out blow upon Muelheim flew into that heartland of German industry with fires of destruction still visible in Huls, pounded by Flying Fortresses Tuesday, and from Krefeld, smashed by the RAF Monday night. One pilot said Krefeld looked "like a circle of smoldering ashes."

The Air Ministry News Service declared that the blasting of Muelheim was "only slightly less heavy" than the attack upon Krefeld, in which more than 700 planes participated.

Steel And Communications

Muelheim, lying near Duisburg and about twenty miles from Huls, is a steel and communications center of 136,000 population in peacetime.

Returning flyers reported the whole town seemingly ablaze and rocked by mighty explosions set off by blockbusters tumbling from the night raiders' bomb bays. Some veterans called it the best concentrated attack of their experience, and the Air Ministry said the raid was "well concentrated."

Thirty-five bombers were lost.

RAF fighter planes meanwhile carried out sweeps over Holland and France, downing two German aircraft.

Populations In Suspense

Muelheim illustrates the terror of suspense the Allied air offensive is bringing to the Germans—populations in every city wait and wonder when they might be next. Muelheim had been raided twice in 1940 and not since then until last night, when it became the target of a saturation raid.

But its citizens doubtless had been waiting for months for such a blow upon the town, site of large railway car and locomotive repair shops, and a major rail outlet from the Ruhr to southern Germany. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was reported by Canadian flyers.

A German broadcast said Muelheim and Oberhausen suffered "major casualties" last night. The British did not mention any attack upon Oberhausen. The Nazis said twenty-four bombers were shot down.

Muelheim marked the fourth successive night of attack for big RAF bombers. They struck Le Creusot in France on Saturday night, pounded Friedrichshafen in southern Germany Sunday night, and Krefeld Monday night.

Pictures Disclose Damage

Aerial photographs taken by attacking Fortress planes Tuesday disclosed widespread damage both at Huls and Antwerp, it was authoritatively reported. At Huls, the pictures showed the highly combustible synthetic rubber plant aflame, and the entire target plastered with incendiary and explosive bombs.

At Antwerp, bomb bursts were shown upon the former Ford Motor plant next to the main target, the former General Motors factory, and upon the dockside warehouses, it was said.

Radio Warns Dutch

An "urgent warning" from the Allies to Dutchmen that air attacks on Nazi-occupied factories in Holland would be made soon "with still more fierceness" was broadcast today over Radio Orange by the Netherlands Government in exile.

The statement, published by Aneta, Dutch news agency, which attributed it to "the Allied high command," urged Dutchmen to stay away from war factories, to move their families elsewhere and "if forced to continue work, insist on a proper alarm system and effective shelters."

"Attacks on factories in the Netherlands working for Germany will shortly be executed with still more fierceness than has been the case so far," the statement declared.

Government Adds Word

It singled out particularly airplane assembly and storage buildings, locomotive factories and repair shops and plants producing motor vehicles and submarine parts.

The Netherlands Government, in an accompanying statement, said the "waging of the war has become even grimmer," especially in the air, and the "moment has therefore arrived to give you a new warning," Aneta said.

Destruction of factories in Germany makes plants in occupied lands even more important to the Nazis, it said, and the Netherlands Government covers the contents of the Allied command warning with its own authority "because it considers the attacks unavoidable in order to hasten the final victory."

A report of the official Nazi news agency, D. N. B., broadcast by Berlin and recorded by The Associated Press, said Oberhausen had been hit as well as Muelheim. Oberhausen, only a few miles from Muelheim, was attacked by the RAF the night of June 14.

The German report said twenty-four of the raiding bombers were destroyed. As usual, the broadcast described the attack as "a terror raid." It acknowledged "heavy damage."

The German communiqué said the populations of Oberhausen and Muelheim suffered "major casualties."

WELLINGTONS HIT SALERNO TRAIN YARDS

JUN 24 1943

Blockbuster Attack Is Followed With Raid By Mosquitoes

Light Bombers In Middle East Sink Vessels Off Greece, Cairo Says

Bern, June 23 (AP)—A Rome dispatch to the newspaper Pester Lloyd said today that Gagliari, capital of Sardinia, whose population normally is approximately 90,000, is practically a deserted city. More than 80,000 residents, it was asserted, have fled their bomb-smashed homes.

Citizens who are still in the wrecked seaport are attempting to gather the remains of their possessions before leaving, the dispatch said.

NORGAARD

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 23—Dealing heavy new blows to Mussolini's railroads, RAF Wellingtons smashed marshaling yards at Salerno Monday night with two-ton blockbusters, and Mosquito bombers from Malta attacked railways in Italy and Sicily last night.

The Wellingtons, following up a Monday daylight raid by American Flying Fortresses on rail targets in Salerno, made bull's-eye hits on freight yards and barracks in the junction town on the principal electric railway running from Naples to the toe of Italy.

Many fires were started in the yards, an Allied headquarters communique stated. All the attackers returned.

Mosquitoes Active

The speedy Mosquito bombers from Malta continued the assault last night. Marshaling yards at Sibari were bombed and gunned with cannon shells. An engine, trucks and station were hit. Sidings at Licata and a factory at Trebisacre also were bombed, a British communique announced.

Allied light bombers based in the Middle East attacked and sank some small enemy vessels off the Greek coast, a Cairo communique said, and all the Allied planes returned safely.

From North African bases, other Allied airmen flew out yesterday in patrols and reconnaissance preparing for new assaults, and headquarters announced that coastal air force planes sank a medium-sized enemy vessel off the southeast coast of Sardinia Monday night and attacked barges.

Rome Bombing Hinted

[In London, an RAF commentator indicated that Rome might fall under Allied bombsights, for he stressed that the Italian capital could definitely and permanently be considered safe only if it were declared an open city, and if the Allies were convinced that it was not contributing to Axis war strength.

[This, he emphasized, did not mean it had been decided to bomb Rome. The commentator, who cannot be identified, declared the sole purpose of bombing was to reduce the enemy's strength and resistance and bleed their war power to save Allied lives. Rome's military and industrial importance should not be overshadowed by the presence of the Vatican and other ancient shrines, he added.]

Arsenal Damaged

Reconnaissance pictures, the Northwest African Air Force Command announced, disclosed that forty per cent. of the royal arsenal at Naples had been destroyed by Flying Fortresses and Wellingtons in heavy smashes at the great seaport and rail center of southern Italy.

The photographs showed severe damage in the industrial region, at least three direct hits on a torpedo factory, smashing of large portions of an air frame works, hits on artillery barracks, motor transport depots, twenty-five hits on the central station and railway sidings, ten more upon locomotive sheds, and others upon the roundhouse, a turntable and freight cars. The entire motor transport and stores depot was ruined at near-by Cancello.

Forty Cars Destroyed

Other pictures showed heavy damage by American bombs to railway objectives in Salerno, thirty miles southeast of Naples, and that at least forty cars had been destroyed by the American Mitchell attack upon Battipaglia near Salerno, with damage so great that no rolling stock had moved along there since the attack.

[The Italian communique, broadcast by Rome, reported attacks also upon Castelvetrano and Milazzo in Sicily and Olbia in northern Sardinia. It said forty-one persons had been kliled and fifty injured at Salerno.

[The Italians also said they had sunk a 12,000-ton ship off the North African coast, and bombed Bizerte.]

JUN 24 1943

30.24—5311

STATEMENT SEEN AS FORECAST OF STRIKE BILL VETO

JUN 24 1943

Government Has Acted to Induct Miners Under 38, Says President.

ICKES TO RUN MINES

Fuel Administrator Will Remain in Charge 'for the Time Being.'

REOPENING DELAYED

Few Pits Will Be in Full Operation Before Monday; Many Locals Balk.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Roosevelt, describing actions of the United Mine Workers leadership as "intolerable," served notice today he will ask Congress for a powerful weapon to use in event of another coal strike—the authority to draft men up to age 65 for non-combat military service.

The chief executive's statement promptly was widely interpreted as meaning he probbaly would veto the anti-strike bill Congress has passed. This measure would permit fine and imprisonment of any person instigating or aiding a strike in a government-operated war facility. Organized labor has urged him to turn thumbs down on the bill.

Mr. Roosevelt said that before John L. Lewis, the U.M.W. president, and the union's policy committee issued their back to work order last night to striking miners, "the government had taken steps to set up the machinery for inducting into the armed services all miners subject to the Selective Service act who absented themselves without just cause from work in the mines under government operation."

Plans Request to Congress

He added in a statement:

"As the Selective Service act does not authorize the induction of men above 45 years into the armed service, I intend to request the Congress to raise the age limit for non-combat military service to 65 years. I shall make that request of the Congress so that if at any time in the future there should be a threat of interruption of work in plants, mines or establishments owned by the government, or taken possession of by the government, the machinery will be available for prompt action."

Some members of Congress interpreted this as meaning strikers might be put into uniform and, under army discipline, sent back to their regular jobs with a private's pay of $50 a month.

Smith Opposes Plan

Rep. Smith (D., Va.), co-author of the anti-strike legislation, took issue with the principle behind the President's proposal.

"Membership in the armed forces is a position of honor and distinction." Rep. Smith said.

"To use it as punishment for unpatriotic strikers is to convert the Army into a penal institution and would be an affront to our boys who are engaged on the battlefields.

"A better solution would be a cooperation with the Congress in the enactment of adequate anti-strike legislation."

Mr. Roosevelt said that "for the time being" the mines would continue under operation of Secretary of Interior Ickes, the fuels administrator. The terms, he added, will be those laid down by the War Labor board, and he emphasized that there was no promise or commitment by the government to change those terms.

Mr. Lewis made the miners' back to work order contingent upon government operation of the mines.

Mine Owners Protest

Before issuing his statement, the President received from a group of coal mine owners a protest that government acceptance of Mr. Lewis' terms would penalize the owners who, they said, had complied in every way with the government's wartime labor policy while Mr. Lewis had defied it.

Edward R. Burke, one of those who took the letter to the White House, said they felt encouraged by the tenor of the President's statement.

The U.M.W. policy committee last night ordered the miners to go back to work, contingent on continued government operation of the mines. The WLB had directed that the union sign a contract with the operators at substantially the old terms plus concessions amounting to about 20 cents a day increase for the miners.

The WLB directed, too, that the back-to-work order effective only through Oct. 31.

Although the work order was approved last night, it was not dispatched to local unions until today and few mines were able to open this morning. Some local unions heads said it probably would be Monday before the industry returned to normal operations. Many locals have voted against reopening without a new contract.

But with the miners going back, the government eased controls over soft coal distribution and steel companies trimmed planned curtailments in operations.

Secretary of Interior Ickes, the Federal fuel administrator, lifted his order "freezing" all coal in railroad transit. Issued Monday, this order forbade coal deliveries to any consumer having in excess of 10 days supply and was aimed at assuring that war industries with the greatest need received available coal.

Mr. Ickes kept in effect controls placed on distribution of hard coal and officials said a permanent program was being worked out.

The United States Steel corporation, which had announced it would shut down seven blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh area today, closed only five. Officials said they might be able to avoid the shutdown of 13 more which, it was previously indicated, would have to be closed tomorrow.

30,000-Ton Steel Loss

"Iron Age," trade publication, estimated an overall loss of 30,000 tons of steel would result from the strike.

R. A. F. BLASTS NAZI STEEL CITY OF MULHEIM

U. S. Forts Over Europe by Day in Continuing Air Offensive.

JUN 24 1943

BRITISH LOSE 35 PLANES

Attacks on Italy Taper Off—Great Damage Don in Naples Assault

London, June 23 (A. P.).—Heavy R. A. F. bombers blasted the German steel and communications center of Mulheim in the Ruhr last night in continuation of a mighty round-the-clock Allied aerial offensive, the British announced today.

An Air Ministry communique said preliminary reports indicated the bombing was "well concentrated" and declared returning vrews reported they had seen great fires still burning in Krefeld, main objective of smashing R. A. F. assault on the Rhineland the previous night, and at Huls, which was hit by United States Flying Fortresses in daylight yesterday.

R. A. F. fighter planes simultaneously carried out intruder patrols over Holland and France, shooting down two enemy aircraft in the course of the operations, the bulletin said.

Raiders Out by Day.

It reported that thirty-five bombers and one fighter had failed to return. Forty-four bombers were lost in the Monday night raid on Krefeld.

Formations of American Flying Fortresses roared in low across Dover and Folkestone this evening, dispatches from those coastal points said, apparently returning from new daylight attacks on Europe.

Late this afternoon R. A. F. two-engined bomber formations with heavy fighter escort swept across the channel to maintain the pattern of continuous assault. These formations were followed by fighters which headed across another section of the coast at a great height, bound on other missions.

Mulheim, one of the smaller towns in the Ruhr, was described as a satellite of the great industrial center of Duisburg, which is situated at the junction of the Rhine and the Ruhr. It is an important center of the German steel industry as well as the site of large railway car and locomotive repair shops. It also is one of the principal outlets from the Ruhr to southern Germany by rail. Mulheim has a normal 136,000. It was raided twice in 1940 but has not been attacked since.

The Canadian Bomber Command took part in the night's assault.

The continuing offensive has carried explosives to German Europe in conveyor-belt fashion, the Mulheim raid marking the fourth night in a row the R. A. F. has been over the continent, starting with El Creusot, France, on Saturday night, following up with a 1,000-mile trip to the southern German city of Friedrichshafen on Sunday night, and the Krefeld attack Monday night. During daylight yesterday the Americans went into the Ruhr for the first time, kindling a square mile of fires in the German synthetic rubber center of Huls.

It was reported authoritatively that aerial photographs taken during yesterday's Fortress attack on Huls, Germany, showed that the highly combustible synthetic rubber plant there was set afire and the entire target plastered with explosive and incendiary bombs.

A DNB broadcast recorded by the Associated Press asserted that the Allies had suffered their "greatest defeat" so far over western Europe by losing 135 planes in a period of slightly more than twenty-four hours from early Tuesday until early today.

Official British and American reports, however, listed ninety-nine bombers as lost in the raids on Krefeld, Huls and Mulheim in that period. In addition one fighter was lost on the Krefeld operations, three British planes were downed in a convoy fight off the Dutch coast yesterday, and four fighters are missing from yesterday's daylight battles, making a grand total of 107.

London had a brief alert during the night, its fiftieth of the year. A few bombs destroyed twenty empty houses, which had been badly damaged in a raid last year and on which repairs had been completed only yesterday. The Air Ministry reported slight enemy activity also over

NAZIS STILL LOOK TO MEDITERRANEAN

Note Increased Signs That Lull In That Area Soon Will Come To End

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 23—The Berlin radio said tonight there were "increased signs that the lull in the Mediterranean region shortly will come to an end," and that German military quarters were "following developments there with great attention."

"Military quarters here," said the Berlin Transocean broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, "content themselves with the assurance that German troops naturally are standing shoulder to shoulder with the Italians in readiness to ward off an enemy attack."

Axis speculation on Allied invasion plans was not confined to the Italian area, however.

Broadcasts Ankara Report

The Transocean agency also broadcast Ankara reports that British military authorities had established a special zone along the Syrian-Turkish border, extending thirty miles into Syria.

"Within this zone," said the Berlin radio, "all traffic is subjected to military surveillance."

NAZIS EXPECT ALLIES TO LAND IN ITALY FIRST

Reports Are Conflicting as to What Help Will Be Given Mussolini.

JUN 24 1943

DECLARES SICILY IS SAFE

German Correspondent Asserts Enemy Has Little Chance of Capturing Island.

London, June 23 (A. P.).—The Germans, still playing an invasion guessing game, were represented by the Berlin radio today as picking Italy as the most likely Allied landing spot, but there were indications they expected their junior partner to meet the initial attack with little aid from the Nazi war machine.

A Berlin broadcast, recorded by the Ministry of Information, promised help in case of a decisive battle on Italian soil, implying that until then Mussolini's legions should shoulder the greater part of the weight.

There were some reports on the other hand that the Nazis already were rushing troops and planes to the Calabrian coastline, the section of the Italian mainland nearest to the present Allied bases, but there was no confirmation.

Calls Troops Home.

The Berlin broadcast hinted that Mussolini has called home his troops that have been policing occupied territory in Europe.

"During the war only part of the Italians' arms have been reserved for the defense of Italy," the report said, "but now all armed Italian forces are defending their mother country."

Erich Schneyder, editor-in-chief of Transocean News Agency, said flatly in a Berlin broadcast heard yesterday by the Associated Press that Italy is expecting invasion.

All signs point to landings there, he declared, but added that "of course the other Mediterranean coasts, especially the Balkans, must be watched, too." There have been frequent reports of late that the Nazis are concentrating strength in those latter sectors.

Increase Strength.

As for the Soviet front, Capt. Kurt Jeserich declared in another German broadcast that the Nazis are continually increasing their strength for a new action against the Russians although "it is not known" when that will take place.

The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Social Demokraten meanwhile quoted the Nazi-dominated Bruesseler Zeitung as calling for frank discussion of the bad situation because never before has the enemy been in a more threatening position.

Praises Defense.

After inspecting Sicily's defenses, A. Guenter Weber, correspondent of the German propaganda agency, Transocean, said in a broadcast today that he was "inclined to think an attacker has little chance" of capturing the island.

He said that he had seen aerial photographs of North African ports which permitted significant deductions with regard to Allied preparations for invasion.

JUN 24 1943

Weber described the island's defenses as formidable and very deep, with strong reserves of crack German and Italian troops in readiness to meet an attack at any point. He said that every mountain pass on the island was elaborately fortified and that defenses were growing in strength daily.

A dispatch from Stockholm quoted the Berlin correspondent of the Stockholms Tidningen as saying that the Nazis, faced with a dwindling reserve of seasoned troops, now were equipping every fourth infantryman with a machine gun to step up their fire power. Previously every tenth German trooper had carried such a weapon.

last May as in May, 1942. Last May the R. A. F. dropped four times as many bombs as in May, 1942, he said, and the crew loss rate per ton of bombs was reduced more than a third. The R. A. F. dropped over 15,000 tons of bombs from May 22 to June 22, he said, in addition to the bombs dropped by Americans.

Attempting to retaliate, the Germans sent 1,400 planes over Britain in the first 170 days of 1943—only twice the number the R. A. F. sent against Germany on Monday night alone the commentator said. About half of these were Focke-Wulf 190s carrying a single bomb, and the total dropped was about 1,300 tons, contrasted with more than 2,000 tons dropped by the British

Cites Terms to Save Rome

JUN 24 1943

R. A. F. Says Only Open City Agreement Will Remove Allied Raid Threat.

London, June 23 (A. P.).—An R. A. F. commentator made clear today that Rome could be removed definitely and permanently from under the threat of Allied bombing only if it were made an open city and the United Nations were convinced it was not participating in the Axis war effort.

The commentator, who would not permit the use of his name, emphasized that this did not mean a decision had been reached to bomb the Italian capital. He reminded a press conference, however, of Prime Minister Churchill's last declaration that Rome could not consider itself exempt from bombing if such attack were deemed necessary to the Allied war effort.

He said the presence of the Vatican and other ancient shrines in Rome should not obscure the city's military and industrial importance. He emphasized that the sole objective of bombing was to reduce the enemy's resistance and that curtailment of this process would mean the unnecessary loss of lives in an Allied invasion.

Reminding Dr. Goebbels.

Recalling that Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels a year ago assured Germans after the first 1,000-bomber raid at Cologne that the R. A. F. could not keep up such attacks, the commentator said the British Air Force sent more than twice as many planes to attack the Reich on Dortmund in one hour on May 23. Of the German raiders 211 were destroyed, he added.

He noted that the loss of life at Pantelleria was almost as fight among the defenders as it was among the attackers and suggested that the proper use of overwhelming air power could greatly reduce casualties on both sides in assault operations by making the defenders "punch drunk" before launching a frontal attack.

RUSSIAN UNITS PROBE BEHIND NAZIS' LINES

Prisoners Taken When Reds Break Through In Two Areas

Air Activity By Both Armies Stepped Up Near Leningrad

[By the Associated Press]

London, Thursday, June 24—Russian reconnaissance units, feeling out the strangely quiet enemy, broke through German lines in two areas Wednesday to attack and take prisoners, the Soviet information bureau midnight communique said today.

On the central front west of Moscow, after a preliminary softening by massed Russian artillery, a patrol broke into the German trenches, the communique said. In the engagement which followed more than a hundred Germans were killed and prisoners were taken.

Organize Road Ambush

On the northwestern front the Red army soldiers penetrated German lines and in their rear organized a road ambush. When a German detachment approached the Russians shot and bayoneted fifteen, returning to their own lines with prisoners.

The Leningrad sector continued to feel the weight of new air activity. The Moscow radio, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said Soviet bombers made "strong and devastating" attacks on the railway junction at Pskov, 175 miles southwest of Leningrad Tuesday night. Other attacks were made on German airdromes.

An earlier Russian communique said twenty German planes were destroyed on the ground behind the German lines near Leningrad. In the same area seventeen German planes were shot down from formations attempting to attack while the Russians lost nine planes, it said.

Soviet Artillery In Action

On the ground in this sector the midnight communique, recorded by Reuters, said 180 Germans were annihilated. Soviet artillerymen shelled enemy positions and reported thirteen German blockhouses, five pillboxes and five machine guns destroyed. Artillery and mortar batteries were also silenced by the Russian big guns.

Another skirmish which cost the Germans over 200 dead was reported west of Belgorod which is north of Kharkov. It began when a Soviet unit set out on a reconnaissance of enemy defenses. The fighting broke out after a Russian soldier crawled to an enemy blockhouse and with hand grenades annihilated the crew.

The communique added that "the Soviet units successfully accomplished their task."

Nazi Barges Sunk

Two German self-propelled barges were reported sunk in the Black Sea by Russian warships.

In the Minsk district near Poland, well behind the German lines, Russian guerrillas were reported to have fought off a German punitive expedition for several days, inflicting heavy losses and forcing the group to retreat.

West of Chuguev, which is southeast of Kharkov, the communique said, two German planes made forced landings and their crews were taken prisoner.

REDS HAMMER NAZI AIRFIELDS

Planes Strike Blows Behind Enemy Lines.

JUN 24 1943

London, June 23 (A. P.).—Russian bombers hammered again at Nazi airdromes behind the lines last night but the only ground activity reported today by the midday Russian communique consisted of scouting and artillery bombardments.

About twenty German planes were destroyed on the ground when Red Army airmen struck behind the enemy's defense on the Leningrad front, and three enemy planes were downed in air combat near Rostov, said the bulletin, recorded by the Associated Press from Moscow broadcasts.

Yesterday, the Russians said their airmen bombed supply depots and airdromes at several points along the front and shot seventeen enemy planes from formations attempting to attack the Leningrad sector. The Russian bulletin admitted the loss of nine Russian fighters during the aerial combats.

Nazis Claim Air Victories.

The Germans said in a Berlin broadcast that they downed twenty-nine Soviet planes yesterday as their air force raided objectives near Volkhov and in the southern sector.

The Russian midday communique said German fortifications were destroyed by heavy Soviet guns in the Smolensk sector of the western front, in the Sevsk region of the Orel hinge and in the Lisichansk, the Russians said. They reported scouting activity by their units near Sevsk and on the Leningrad front.

The Russians reported a renewal of scattered attacks by Polish patriots against German occupation authorities in which they said an ammunition dump was blown up at Paznanye and a German troop train was wrecked near Katowice. The patriots were reported to have struck boldly in the former Polish capital of Warsaw, killing or wounding "many Germans" when they mined a military bath house, and killing nine Nazi officers in another attack.

Germany Begins Another Polish Reign Of Terror

London, June 23 (AP)—Sources of the Polish Government in exile reported today another outbreak of German terror in Poland and declared more than 500 men and women on the Nazi blacklist had been shot in recent weeks and at least 2,000 others, whose fate was unknown, had been arrested.

The Gestapo sweep centered at Warsaw, where 1,800 persons, mostly from among the intelligentsia, were rounded up in a house-to-house manhunt, Poles said.

Of 700 accused of being engaged in anti-German activities, 426 were shot on May 29 by firing squads in the heart of the ruins of the Warsaw ghetto, scene of an anti-Nazi rebellion a few weeks ago, it was said. The male populations of the villages of Gedzice and Tursk were virtually exterminated, while fifty-two were killed at Rzeszow and fifty at Lezaysk, the report said.

Harriman Back In London

London, June 23 (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, American lend-lease expediter in England, has returned to London after a six-week visit to the United States. He accompanied Prime Minister Churchill on his recent trip to Washington.

HONOR DAM RAIDER

London, June 23 (A. P.).—Queen Elizabeth, acting in the absence of King George VI, presented the Victoria Cross recently to Wing Commander Guy Gibson for his part in the R. A. F. raids which resulted in breaching of the Moehne and Eder dams in Germany.

It was the first time that a Queen of England had presided at an investiture since the reign of Queen Victoria. She also presented twenty-three other decorations, congratulating the recipients and saying the King had asked her to express his regrets that he could not be present.

The King was last reported in Malta, which he visited Sunday aboard the cruiser Aurora.

MICHELIER OUSTED

London, June 23 (A. P.).—A Reuters dispatch from Algiers today said that Admiral Michelier, Commander of the French Naval Forces on the Atlantic coast of North Africa and an important figure on Gen. de Gaulle's purge list, has been replaced by Vice-Admiral Collinet, the commander at Dakar.

Admiral Michelier directed the French naval defense against the Allied landings last November. Admiral Collinet was appointed to the Dakar post by Gen. Giraud last April.

Britain Halts Coal Decline

LONDON, June 23 (AP).—An alarming and steady decline in British coal production has been halted for the first time since the start of the war, the Minister of Fuel, Major Gwilym Lloyd George, told Commons today.

In a debate on the mining situation, he said miners had increased their number of shifts and the average amount of coal mined for each man-shift

Fascist Shakeup In Several Raided Towns Reported

London, June 23 (AP)—The Rome radio announced tonight that Premier Mussolini had appointed new Fascist secretaries to several points in Italy, Sicily and Sardinia in a shakeup presumably designed to bolster morale in areas being shaken by Allied aerial blows.

The Italian broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, listed seventeen centers as receiving the new secretaries. Among them are industrial areas and ports.

Places in Italy named were Bologna, Aosta, Mantova, Reggio, Emilia, Parma, Grosseto, Terni, Udine and Ravenna. The others were Caltanisetta, Catania, Syracuse and Trapani in Sicily; Lubjana in former Yugoslavia and Cagliari and Sessari in Sardinia.

Changes in the directorates of some Fascist syndicates and associations also were announced in the broadcast, but no reason was given.

Says British Munitions Output Is Increasing

London, June 23 (AP)—Production of munitions in Great Britain in the first quarter of 1943 was forty per cent. higher than in the same period in 1942, Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, Minister in Charge of Production, said today, adding that the volume of radio equipment in war use will be doubled this year as compared to 1942.

"We are now reaching the point where our chief task lies in developing the finesse of our new weapons and in securing the greatest output by improved efficiency, rather than by striving for more volume," Lyttelton told a Constitutional Club luncheon.

Invasion Coast Pounded

LONDON, June 24 (Thursday), (AP). — Twin-engined bombers pounded the invasion coast late yesterday. British Bostons and Typhoons escorted by fighters attacked targets at Meaulte, St. Omer and Maupertus, in France, destroying two enemy planes without loss to themselves.

English Widows Remarry, Again Chose Servicemen

London (A. P.).—More than 1,700 English widows of World War II remarried in 1942. Of these, 1,000 had children.

The Ministry of Pensions reported that out of one hundred cases which were especially checked, 48 per cent of the women who re-married again chose husbands from the military forces.

JUN 24 1943

30.24 - 5313

30.24—5313

Farmers Party In Eire Gains At Cost Of De Valera's Group

Surprise Showing Picks Up Seven Dail Seats In Early Returns—Clear Majority Threatened

JUN 24 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Dublin, Thursday, June 24—The Farmers party, in a surprise showing in Tuesday's general election, by early today had won seven seats in the new Dail Eireann—mostly at the expense of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail party, which appeared to be experiencing a reverse.

The Farmers party is not represented in the present Parliament.

Backers of the Fianna Fail party, which has been in power since 1932, viewed the tide of events thus far seriously and conceded that they now did not expect an over-all majority for de Valera, despite earlier expressions of confidence.

Government Loses 6

As the Farmers party gained, returns counted by early today showed that the Government party had lost six seats thus far. Loss of two more would make it impossible for de Valera to hold a clear majority in the new Dail.

De Valera himself won his seat from East Clare, and the leaders of the other two major parties—William T. Cosgrave, former president of the Irish Free State, of the Fine Gael party, and William Norton, Labor party leader—also were returned to the Dail. Most of the Government Cabinet Ministers also were reelected or leading in their constituencies.

36 Seats For Fianna Fail

The returns to date gave the Fianna Fail 36 seats, the Fine Gael 14, Labor 10, Farmers 7 and Independents 3.

Further figures were not expected until later in the day.

[In 1938 the Fianna Fail won seventy-seven seats, the Fine Gael forty-five, Labor nine and Independents seven.]

Three front-benchers of Cosgrave's party were defeated: Richard Mulcahy, party vice-president, who lost to Trade Union Leader James Larkin; Prof. J. M. O'Sullivan, former Minister of Education, and J. A. Costello, former Attorney General.

James M. Dillon, who campaigned to aid the United Nations without sending troops, won a seat in Monaghan county, on the border.

SPECIAL MISSION IN RUSSIA HANDLED BY RICKENBACKER

Consults Soviet Leaders as Envoy of Stimson; Plans World Tour.

MOSCOW, June 23.—(AP) Captain Edward V. Rickenbacker is in Moscow on a mission for Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, it was announced here today, and he may see Premier Joseph Stalin before he continues a tour of world battlefields.

Captain Rickenbacker's arrival here Sunday was first revealed locally yesterday to persons attending a ceremony in the Kremlin where U. S. Ambassador William H. Standley presented American military awards to 60 Russian soldiers and sailors.

Also present at yesterday's ceremony was Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, who in a brief speech marking the second anniversary of Russia's entry into the war stressed the Soviet belief that a second front was essential for a quick victory over Germany. A common Allied offensive, Mr. Molotov said, would be the foundation of victory and of post-war co-operation.

Activities Secret

There was no indication in the announcement of his arrival as to Rickenbacker's activities. It was assumed that he was to see high-ranking military leaders and public officials.

Captain Rickenbacker was accompanied by his personal physician, Dr. Alexander Dahl and two representatives of the War department, Col. William Nickols and Major A. B. Sherry. The plane was piloted by Captain W. F. Richmond and the crew included co-Pilot Lieutenant H. H. Cargle and Navigator W. B. Hicks.

Present at the airport to greet Captain Rickenbacker were Ambassador Standley, Brigadier General Joseph A. Michela, military attache, and high ranking Russian officers.

SECOND FRONT PLEA MADE BY MOLOTOV

Moscow, June 23 (A. P.).—Russia's belief that a second front is urgently needed for a quick victory over Germany has been voiced to United States Ambassador William H. Standley by Foreign Commissar Yvacheslav Molotov, it was disclosed belatedly today by the Russian press.

"Let us remember that millions of suffering people are living in the certitude that the time is not far away when the enemy will feel the crushing power of a common Allied offensive," he told Admiral Standley yesterday on the second anniversary of the German invasion of Soviet Russia.

In a speech thanking the Ambassador for American decorations awarded to Russian soldiers and sailors, Molotov said the common Allied offensive would be the foundation of victory and of post-war co-operation.

His speech was printed in the Soviet press today, which editorially echoed his call for a second front.

Izvestia, official organ of the Supreme Council of the U. S. S. R., said that "efforts of the Russian people have brought Germany to the brink of catastrophe. We are ready to do everything so that an offensive by freedom loving States will bring a speedy rout of the Axis."

Stalin Book in 3d Edition

MOSCOW, June 23 (AP).—A third edition of Josef V. Stalin's book, "The Great Patriotic War of the Soviet Union," has just come from the presses of the state publishing office, it was announced today. The edition consists of 5,000,000 copies and includes all the Premier's speeches since the previous publication.

RAIDS ALARM NAZI LEADERS

People Outside Of Bombed Zone Warned Of Shock Of 'Catastrophes'

EDWIN SHANKE

[By the Associated Press]

Stockholm, June 23—The Nazis are obviously alarmed by the spreading intensity of the Allied air offensive and their newspapers are trying to prepare the Germans who have not yet experienced air raids for the shock of the "catastrophes" such as have struck northwest and west Germany.

Adolf Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter in an issue received here today warned its readers to "guard against illusions. Nerves will be better steeled if they are prepared than if one lapses into a false calm and at the decisive moment finds his nerves unequal to the sudden burden. For the attacks on cities are frequently equivalent to catastrophes."

Told To Be Prepared

The paper told every German not to be caught off guard and urged him to learn from the experiences of the bomb-shattered cities.

"Surprise is the most dangerous weapon of the enemy," it said.

Meanwhile, Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels was touring the damaged areas seeking to comfort Germans with promises that an "air armada of revenge" is in the making.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung apologized because Nazi leaders had not foreseen how effectively the Allies could use air power in the face of the German air force.

"This part of the Reich (western Germany) has been transformed into a front in a degree such as not even the keenest foresight could have expected at the beginning of the war," it said.

Danger Emphasized

In emphasizing the danger of surprise, the Voelkischer Beobachter said one German city which "thought itself safe" from raids suffered more dead in a single attack than many cities heavily bombed through three years.

Drawing examples from the experiences of already bombed cities, the Beobachter said the loss of nerves when the central air-raid precautions control room is wiped out, when the water fails or a high wind spreads fire can result in damage so extensive "it can't soon be repaired." It urged everyone to show a willingness to pitch in and support officials in fighting flames.

It was revealed that many cities established kindergartens in shelters in order to free women for emergency work during raids. The paper contrasted two cities, one where residents helped the authorities and put out 1,700 fires and another where the population, taken by surprise, didn't raise a finger and suffered heavily.

Reservoirs Built

The newspaper also said that water reservoirs have been built in cities, many springs and wells have been put back into service and special roads have been constructed enabling easy access to streams in an effort to supply the water needed to fight fires. Old gasoline or wine containers have been mounted on carts to haul water.

The Nazis are building emergency quarters outside cities to house those who are being bombed out and big shipments of furniture and prefabricated wooden houses are being sent to Germany from Norway for use in the bombed areas.

JUN 24 1943

Ruhr Valley Reported Virtually Military Zone

THOMAS F. HAWKINS

Bern, Switzerland, June 23 (AP)—The Germans have made the Ruhr valley virtually a military zone as a result of the devastating raids by British and United States bombers which have been pounding the area in day and night attacks, newspaper reports indicated tonight.

The correspondent of the Neue Zuercher Zeitung wrote from Berlin that "the authorities are taking the air war with the utmost seriousness; of this there can be no doubt."

Two important effects of the bombings, the Nazi press made clear, was that newspapers were permitted to speak of the damage in superlative terms, and new decrees were issued to require further sharing of homes still intact.

Difficulties Acknowledged

The press, while acknowledging the difficulties in combatting the attacker, sought to assure the people that new weapons shortly would work to offset the danger.

But a Berlin dispatch to the Basler National Zeitung said "it is a question whether a new defense weapon is to be used against the Allied air forces."

Italian newspapers, meanwhile, wrote of the damage wrought by the Naples raids, but said the death toll was low because "people fled into numerous holes, grottoes and caverns."

Few Re[illegible] in Cagliari

BERN, Switzerland, June 23 (AP).—A Rome dispatch to the newspaper "Pester Lloyd" said today that Cagliari, capital of Sardinia, whose population normally is approximately 90,000, is practically a deserted city. More than 80,000 residents, it was asserted, have fled their bomb-smashed homes. Citizens who are still in the wrecked seaport are attempting to gather the remains of their possessions before leaving, the dispatch said.

Guerrillas Kill 53 Pro-Nazis

BERN, Switzerland, June 23 (AP).—Reports from Yugoslav partisan headquarters asserted today that partisan guerrillas, operating southeast of Belgrade in the vicinity of Pozarevac, had killed fifty-three pro-Nazi guards and the mayors of two cities who were co-operating with the Axis.

[illegible] Killed

Red Cross To Fit Legs On Maimed British

Bern, Switzerland, June 23 (AP)—The International Red Cross announced today it had sent four Swiss specialists to Germany to fit severely maimed British and Polish prisoners of war with artificial legs.

Last year the mission examined approximately 430 patients and took casts for artificial legs. These patients will now be fitted and new cases examined.

Spain to Make Bombers.

Madrid, June 23 (A. P.).—The Air Ministry announced today it had authorized constitution of a company to manufacture bombers and transport planes.

Spain Is Well Along In Rebuilding Homes Devastated by War

Thousands of Outmoded Dwellings Also Being Replaced in Program

By the Associated Press.

MADRID.—When the war that swept the world began in 1939 Spain was beginning the reconstruction following the war that swept Spain for the three preceding years.

Now new villages have risen near the remains of the old and Spain is well along in the postwar reconstruction which sooner or later the whole warring world must face.

Nor is Spain's reconstruction battle designed only to replace homes destroyed by war. Thousands of homes are going to replace dirty, overcrowded, unsanitary hovels used for centuries due to poverty, absentee landlords and indifferent governments.

Two organizations were created by the Franco government to tackle these problems—the National Housing Institute and the General Directorate of Devastated Regions.

Theirs is the job of reconstructing a nation swept by modern war and suffering from centuries of negligence. They began their work and carry it on at a time when world war has limited the necessary raw materials.

Railroad Equipment Damaged.

Spain's railroad rolling stock was heavily damaged by war; highways were full of war-torn holes, and road transport suffered from gasoline and oil restrictions.

Despite this, a total of 97,000 houses have been built, are under construction or have been approved for construction at a cost of about $210,000,000.

And that, say officials of the two organizations, is only the beginning. They say 10 per cent of Spain's 4,390,440 apartment houses and homes are not fit for human habitation. Their goal is 500,000 new homes.

Reduced to its simplest terms the Spanish government's plan operates something like this:

Don Segismundo Casero, owner of an apartment house on the outskirts of Madrid, had only the shell of a building left after the civil war. He had no income whatsoever during the three years and no cash for repairs. He called on the Credit Institute for National Reconstruction, a branch of the Devastated Regions

JUN 24 1943

20-year Loan Arranged.

Engineers visited his house, emerged with an estimate of the reconstruction cost, and the institute advanced the money immediately on a 3 per cent 20-year loan. The sole proviso is that Don Segismundo must make his building conform with the requirements of the institute in connection with sanitation and health—more bathrooms and more windows, more garden space and better heating, minimum rents.

The institute has already granted some $30,000,000 (300,000,000 pesetas) in loans for such repairs and its specialists have helped in the reconstruction of many buildings which required no loans.

So much for the city property owners.

Out in the village of Torrevilla, Jose Fernandez, farm laborer, lived with his wife and three children in the one-room home of his father with several other relatives and the family pig.

A shell landed in the front yard and a wall collapsed. Fernandez moved in with relatives where conditions were bad due to overcrowding.

In 1940 the Fernandez village, like 181 others battered by the war, was "adopted" by Franco. Within a year Jose Fernandez had moved into a new house raised on the site of the old. It cost Jose nothing more than a few moments in the Mayor's office where he scrawled his initials at the bottom of a long document which the Mayor read to him and which talked of "reconstruction as war compensation" and "cost to be born by the state."

State Takes Loss.

Jose's friend, Pedro Perez, lived in a village nearby which was not "adopted." The Prez house had been hit squarely by a bomb and there was nothing left to rebuild on.

Engineers of the Devastated Region office put local contractors to work on a new house, following government plans.

Pedro moved into a house which cost the state about $3,000 to build, but which costs him in rent only five days work each month—when he's working. That's 40 pesetas (about $4) per month or less, for farm laborers in Spain get about 8 pesetas per day.

There again the state takes a loss. In the reconstruction of war-damaged houses and the building of new homes to replace those completely destroyed the Regiones Devastadas organization has already spent some $30,000,000.

---

Salerno Hit by R. A. F.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 23 (A. P.).—Sweeping in with heavy bomb loads less than twelve hours after American bombers had jolted the same targets by daylight, Wellingtons of the R. A. F. smashed at Salerno Monday night in a continuation of Allied efforts to knock out the underpinnings of Mussolini's supply system for southern Italy and Sicily.

Two-ton block-busters were planted squarely in the freight yards and near barracks at Salerno, thirty miles southeast of Naples, and huge fires broke out, Allied headquarters said.

Salerno is a key point on the main electric railway running southward from Naples to the Italian toe. The American raid already had caused extensive damage to the many railway sidings, repair depots and approaches to the yards there, and reconnaissance reports showed railway traffic already had been interrupted for twenty-four hours by the smashing of roundhouses, turntables and other installations at other points along the line.

JUN 24 1943

Bombers Return Safely.

The Wellingtons encountered only light anti-aircraft fire as they swept in over their targets, and no enemy fighters, so that all the raiders returned safely to their bases.

The only other aerial activity of the northwest African air forces yesterday was patroling and reconnaissance, the bulk of the hundreds of bombers and fighters being inactive. But a medium sized enemy vessel, which was caught towing half a dozen barges thirty miles off the southeast coast of Sardinia the previous night, was sunk by R. A. F. Beaufighters.

One Allied plane was lost in all yesterday's operations, which included forays by Malta Intruders over Sicily and southern Italy last night when railway stations and a factory were attacked with bombs and machine guns. A supplement to a Malta communique said Malta-based plywood Mosquito bombers also harassed Sicillian airfields and railways last night, especially at Sibari, Licata and Trebisacce.

Reconnaissance photos showed 40 per cent of the Italian Royal Arsenal was destroyed by flames and explosions in the Flying Fortress attack on Naples Monday.

---

De Gaullists Say They're Balked On Recruiting

Fear They're 'Frozen Out' of Africa Man Power; Giraud Denies His Aides Are Old

DANIEL DE LUCE
By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, June 23 (AP).—Rivalries began today to plague the new permanent military committee created to unify French military power, and a new struggle between Generals Henri Honore Giraud and Charles de Gaulle was in prospect on the issue of recruiting troops.

With the French armies of liberation divided in allegiance between two commanders in chief, Giraud and De Gaulle, Giraudists indicated that they would demand that recruiting be on a territorial basis, thus preventing the Fighting French organization from taking man power in this area.

The De Gaullists complained that "a freezeout" was being worked against them, and that men escaping from France were being brought into Giraud's North African army despite their wish to serve under De Gaulle.

General Giraud defended himself against one of the most cutting bits of De Gaullist criticism by issuing a communique declaring that only two of the 108 generals and admirals under his command are over sixty years old. Replying to charges of De Gaullists that Giraud was preserving a senile hierarchy of old-fashioned high officers, the communique stated that the reason for its issuance was "to end certain rumors prejudicing the credit of the army."

The communique also disclosed that Giraud has established an expeditionary corps to fight beside the American and British Allies in "overseas operations from North Africa." The generals in this French corps number twenty-three, and their average age is fifty-two and one-half years, the communique said.

One Giraudist called "a very miserable solution" the compromise which left Giraud in command of troops in North and West Africa and De Gaulle in command in other empire territories.

"No Unified Army"

"We had thought," he added, "to unify the army first—for that's most vital in war time—and that unity in other fields would naturally follow. Now we have a form of political unity but no unified army."

It appeared plain that Giraud would retain control of recruiting in North Africa and of other French military affairs in this Allied base, and would continue to have the complete support of Great Britain and the United States. It also seemed likely that his forces would go on having first call on American arms being sent in here.

Both French factions wondered aloud how the new military committee might decide the question of military missions to foreign powers. Would there be separate missions representing Giraud and de Gaulle, or would the two leaders on this point at least trust their case to joint representatives?

Political Prisoners Freed

During the day, the joint commission for political prisoners and refugees, headed by the United States and British consul generals here, announced the liberation of all who were in concentration camps and labor companies or confined to specified residential areas before the Allied landing last November.

It also was announced that about 200 political prisoners, most of them Spanish Republican refugees convicted of disorders, would be freed.

Text of Communique

The text of the communique issued tonight follows:

"To end certain rumors prejudicing the credit of the Army, the commander in chief (General Giraud) announces the following information:

"At present in North and West Africa there is a total of eighty-nine generals or those assimilated in the rank of general for the land and air forces. Of this number only two generals are over sixty years of age.

"The generals are divided into the following categories: First, those who belong to a general administration, commanding territories, air bases, etc. They number forty-four, the generals' average age being fifty-six; second, those in expeditionary corps, units constituted for overseas operations from North Africa. Of these twenty-three the average age is fifty-two and one-half years, the youngest being forty-seven years old; third, those in the engineering, construction and metropolitan and colonial supply services, medical and equipment and special services, included twenty-two assimilated in the rank of general whose average age is fifty-four.

"In the Navy: Nineteen admirals are on active service, including Admirals Penard and Battet, now in the United States; Godefroy and Dillard (with fleet units at Alexandria), and Lemonnier, commander of the merchant marine. The eldest is fifty-nine and the youngest is forty-seven. The average age is fifty-three.

"In total, therefore, there are 108 generals or admirals in territories under the authority of General Giraud, among whom only two are over sixty years of age.

---

Army Recruiting Issue Portends New Fight Of French Factions

JUN 24 1943

Duel for Power Between Giraud and De Gaulle Due to Be Resumed

By the Associated Press. DE LUCE

ALGIERS, June 23.—One of the hottest issues in French North Africa—army recruiting—came to the fore today as the French forces of liberation remained divided in allegiance between two commanders in chief, Gens. Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud.

It was apparent that the duel for power between the two leaders and their factions would be quickly resumed following a compromise settlement yesterday continuing the status quo in military control.

Giraudists indicated they were insisting that recruiting be on a territorial basis, thereby excluding the Fighting French from drawing manpower from North Africa.

De Gaullists declared that not only were they threatened with a "freeze out" in North Africa, where they asserted many civilians wanted to join the Fighting French, but also that those escaping from France also were being channeled into the North African army.

Giraud May Have Final Say.

To observers it seemed plain that Gen. Giraud would have the final say on army recruitment in North Africa just as he remains completely in the saddle over other French military affairs in this base of Allied operations where he enjoys the support of the United States and Britain.

Until now American equipment has delivered to Gen. Giraud and seemed likely his forces would continued to get first call on these arms.

Meanwhile, belief was expressed that the United Nations soon would recognize the French Committee of National Liberation as the provisional government of France.

Under yesterday's agreement on the military control which both leaders had sought, Gen. Giraud retains command of French troops in North and West Africa, while Gen. de Gaulle will command the forces in other empire territories.

French Unity Hailed.

Commenting on the committee decision, Jean Monnet, minister of armaments and acting information commissioner, said:

"This is unity. Anything else would be unthinkable. The troops will be paid from a common treasury. They are already one army in fact. Their commanders are responsible to the French Committee of National Liberation."

The decision was "absolutely unanimous in the committee," he said, and added that "it is a practical and realistic method of bringing about a unified, single French Army, which is so essential."

A communique issued after the three-hour meeting said the committee had approved the nominations of Gen. Alphonse Juin and Gen. Eduard Rene Marie de Larminat as chiefs of staff of the armies of Gen. Giraud and Gen. de Gaulle, respectively. It said the chiefs of staffs of the navy and air force will be designated shortly.

Monnet said the committee could arbitrarily have ordered fusion of the French forces under one commander, but that "would have evaded the real questions."

Both Sides Pleased.

"It is obvious," he said, "that the habits of the army of Gen. de Gaulle are different from the habits of the army of North Africa * * *."

The way of ultimate union, he said, would be paved by the work of the chiefs of staff who, as members of the Permanent Committee with Gen. Giraud and Gen. de Gaulle, would be carrying out the committee's orders.

Monnet announced the arrival of Henri Bonnet from New York, the only absent committee member, who will assume his duties as information commissioner today.

---

Pre-Invasion Internees Are Freed in Africa

Jobs Provided for Them;

JUN 24 1943

...nesty Pledged for 200 ...ards Still Detained

...IERS, June 23 (AP).—The ...nt Commission for Political Prisoners and Refugees, headed by the American and British Consuls General at Algiers, announced today the liberation of all persons who were interned in concentration camps, incorporated in labor companies or confined to specified residential areas prior to the landing of Allied military forces on Nov. 8.

A report signed by Samuel H. Wiley, American Consul General, and J. E. M. Carvell, British Consul General, also announced that approximately 200 political prisoners, the majority of whom are Spanish Republican refugees convicted in the courts of infractions of discipline in internment camps or of participation in violent political demonstrations, would receive amnesty. This amnesty has been delayed, the report stated, "by the temporary confusion resulting from the transition from the high command to the French Committee of National Liberation, but is expected soon."

"The former internees, the members of work companies and persons in forced residence all have been provided with useful occupations of their own choice," the report said.

Many Employed by U. S.

The continued confinement of these large numbers of refugees and others after the landing of Allied forces in November had brought a storm of criticism against the late Admiral Jean Darlan and more recently against General Henri Honore Giraud.

Following this criticism, which was coupled with complaints against the Algiers regime on the continuing anti-Semitic, anti-Republican and anti-De Gaullist policies of Vichy, the commission was created to investigate all cases and seek the liberation of all those whose freedom would not jeopardize military security.

A large number of those set free by the commission's order have signed contracts as civilian employees of the American armed forces, the commission said. They receive the currently prevailing wages and are not organized in military formations. Others have joined British pioneer battalions and are receiving the same pay, rations and quarters as British soldiers.

Slave Conditions Alleged.

"The situation of the Spanish

1943

30.24 - 5315

30.24—5315

Republican refugees who have signified their desire to proceed to Mexico presented a serious problem, since the internment camps and the work companies had been totally liquidated and definite arrangements regarding their departure for Mexico had not been completed," the report added. "This problem was resolved through the excellent cooperation of the American Army, which agreed to employ them under work contracts on the understanding that the contracts would terminate when arrangements were made for their transportation to Mexico."

Internees and members of the work companies employed in building the Trans-Sahara Railway and in the Kenadza coal mines have received their complete freedom and all have left that region except a few who of their own free will have signed contracts to remain.

The cases of those workers came to the attention of the Allied authorities soon after the Allied landings, when Jewish leaders in Algiers complained that the railway camps were crammed with Jews who were subjected to "slave labor conditions." On February 22, 1943, the commission reported that the workers there had received civilian status and current wages, but that their residence was still restricted to the areas where they were employed.

TORPEDO BOATS WILL PLAY MAJOR INVASION ROLE

JUN 24 1943

Flotillas Are Ready in Africa; Craft Virtually Unsinkable.

By GEORGE TUCKER

CAIRO, June 23 — (AP) The torpedo boat boys who made such a name for themselves in the Philippines are likely to see many a counterpart when the war in the Mediterranean is resumed.

It seems inevitable that, after their successes in both this area and the English channel, the boats will be operating in swarms like planes.

This is true because it is practically impossible to bomb or torpedo them, or to sink them in any way, and that is the type of craft needed to supplement operations by larger naval units in any kind of invasion.

I know the skipper of one torpedo boat who got home without a scratch despite being dive-bombed for seven hours after the big raid on Tobruk in which Larry Allen, Associated Press correspondent, was captured.

Emulate Crabs

The maneuverability of these boats permit them to move sidewise almost like a crab, and at times my friend lay still and waited until he could see the bombs, then dodged. At other times he used zigzags and alternate bursts of speed.

Thousands of bombs have been dropped on these boats both here and in the channel, but so far as I can learn none ever has been hit.

They draw so little water that torpedoes pass underneath or can be dodged.

I know they don't sink because I saw one hit a mine, lose its stern, but remain afloat, its nose sticking out.

This happened off the coast of Tunisia just a few days before that campaign ended. A four-boat flotilla had just pulled out of the harbor of Sousse and I was watching from the quay. Suddenly one of them seemed to lift into the air, there was a dull rumble, and the sea seemed to erupt. The crew was blasted into the water. Debris filled the air. Then the boat settled down. Other boats towed her in, her crew was saved, and the next day her torpedoes, guns and engines were salvaged.

Highly Specialized

Operation of these boats is one of the most specialized jobs in the Navy, and prerequisites for success are audacity, resolution and surprise.

Their only defenses are maneuverability and speed. They are made of plywood and glue, and even a rifle bullet can go clear through one. Consequently, when their presence becomes known to the enemy they must do their job in a hurry and get out of the way.

The usual procedure, the moment the enemy is sighted, is to close in at high speed. While one boat rushes in to create a diversion, the others work from the sides, lay down a smokescreen, let go their torpedoes and then duck back into the smoke for the getaway.

One of my most interesting experiences in the recent campaign was a visit with several flotillas of American PT boats. They had come all the way from Louisiana, and on the waterfront they had marked off a little plot which they called Central park. They had brought a juke box, and it was odd to sit there listening to Bonnie Baker sing "Oh, Johnny" amid the creaking of winches on cruisers and destroyers.

Knew the Score

The boys had come a long way and knew what it was all about. One was Ensign Dave Morrison, of Plainfield, N. J., a former track star at the University of North Carolina. Another was Lieut. Richard H. O'Brien, of Vandergrift, Pa., who fought as a lightweight on the Naval academy boxing team before going to war. He was aboard was sunk in the Pacific.

"That was a tremendous experience," he said. "When the battle was at its height I noticed a friend of mine sitting on deck with his back against a casing. I started to ask him if he was okay when I saw that the whole lower half of his body had been shot away."

I was also glad to see Ensign Fred Rosen, a Dalton, Ga., boy who used to play football for the University of Georgia. He said one of the things that most impressed him and his fellows was the cooperation of the British Navy. "They come around here every night to go to sea with us. We like that. They know a lot about this business. We are glad to have them."

I told him after he'd been out here longer he'd find this true not only of the Navy, but also of the Army and the R.A.F.

That night the boys got their first enemy ship, a 5-000-tonner.

You'll hear more of them when the fighting begins again.

RAID THOUGHT NEXT LONGEST OF THE WAR

Japanese Cruiser Badly Damaged—Cargo Ship Is Also Struck

One Plane Of Big Force Seen To Collide With Enemy Fighter

MURLIN SPENCER

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Thursday, June 24—In what was believed to be the second longest raid of the entire war for land-based bombers, a heavy force of Liberators smashed at Macassar, Dutch Celebes, for the first time yesterday, heavily damaging a Japanese cruiser.

JUN 24 1943

The bombers, manned by Americans, flew 2,000 miles to carry out a devastating attack. It was the largest force of bombers to be sent against Celebes.

They carried over thirty-eight tons of incendiaries and high explosives, among them 2,000-pounders.

The cruiser was moored to the dock. It was enveloped in smoke from direct hits, possibly by the 2,000-pound bombs.

Cargo Ship Hit

A cargo ship in the harbor also was hit.

One of the Liberators was seen to crash along with a single Japanese fighter, the only one to attempt interception.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur said:

"According to our records this is the second longest raid of the war from land-based bombers, exceeded only by a Liberator raid from Hawaii to Wake which was 400 miles farther."

In yesterday's raid, the Liberators flew through intense anti-aircraft fire which the Japanese put up to defend this largest port in this group of islands.

Crashed Into Wing

The warship and six other merchantmen in the harbor also put up a heavy concentration of fire.

The single enemy fighter was seen to crash—whether deliberately or not—into the wing of the Liberator which was lost.

The Liberators took off from an Australian base and timed their attack to reach Macassar about noon. They dropped their heavy weight of bombs on the town, the docks and harbor shipping.

Some of the fires they started at the Juliana and Wilhelmina wharves were so towering that they could be seen seventy miles away on the flight home.

Macassar was the scene of bombings during the battle for Java, but hitherto had not been visited by bombers based on Australia.

Jungle Troops Repulsed

Macassar first came into the news in February, 1942, when Flying Fortresses and Dutch and American warships severely mauled but failed to stop a Japanese invasion fleet which went on to take Java.

For the third straight day Japanese jungle troops attacked Australian positions on Lababia Ridge on the trail between Salamaua and Mubo, New Guinea, retreating with sixty-four of the attackers dead or seriously wounded.

The Allied forces were so well intrenched that they suffered only three wounded in the action, which occurred at noon Tuesday. On Monday, a large Japanese patrol tried to crack the ridge positions and [illegible] more than 100 casualties.

ALLIES HURL BACK NEW GUINEA JAPS

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 23 (A. P.).—The jungle front line which the Allies began establishing on the approaches to Salamaua, New Guinea, last February, has proved itself against the strongest attack yet hurled at it by the Japanese.

Today's communique disclosed that on Monday afternoon enemy patrols of considerable size struck at Australian ground fighters on Lababia Ridge at Mubo, twelve miles below Salamaua. They were "sharply repulsed with over 100 enemy casualties," the communique said, after which deadly fire was poured on them by American-manned Boston attack planes as they began a bloody retreat. Twenty times the Bostons roared low over the withdrawing Japs.

Since the Allies wrested the Papuan peninsula from the Japanese last January, their jungle fighters have infiltrated northwest toward the Huon Gulf enemy bases of Salamaua and Lae, but little progress has been reported since it was disclosed on April 26 that the Allies commanded ridgetops overlooking Japanese-held Mubo. Many strafing attacks in the area of enemy positions by Allied planes have been made, but ground fighting has been virtually at a standstill for many weeks.

Today's communique also told of a raid by American Liberator bombers and Australian Beaufighters on the Japanese floatplane base of Taberfane on the Aroe Islands, above Darwin. Some of the floatplanes attempted to intercept the daylight raiders. One floatplane was reported shot down, four others damaged in the air and two at their base moorings.

The Quiet Life Finally Comes To Guadalcanal

JUN 24 1943

In 6 Months Roads Have Replaced Mud; Tobacco and Toothpaste Abound

By J. Norman Lodge

GUADALCANAL (AP).—Just over six months ago, when I left Guadalcanal, it was a stinking, muddy, mosquito-ridden, war-infested island.

Today, back again, I find excellent roads, no bodies of Japanese, screened and framed tents, well cooked food, motion picture shows, and post exchange stores where one can replenish his supply of toothpaste, tobacco and other luxuries denied us when we were busy chasing the Japanese off to the North.

Then a jeep was a treasure. Today one can have the use of transportation for the asking.

Then Henderson Field worked frantically to keep what few planes we had serviceable. Today there are enough of all types of planes to make it unprofitable for the Japanese to come raiding. So much so, in fact, that Guadalcanal is singularly free of alerts.

Today cargo ships come into the various beaches, remain to unload, and never pause to scan the skies. Then a ship rarely remained more than an hour without raising anchor to dash away from the frequent raids.

Today we have electric light in the tents. Then if one so much as lit a match he was liable to execution.

The change is seen decidedly in the habiliments of the men on the island. Back in November and December we usually wore fatigue greens until they rotted off from perspiration and mud and insect attack. Now, with the exception of working parties, starched and well laundered cotton khaki is the vogue.

Malaria was making inroads upon the man in the waning months of 1942. Today, because of a better medical knowledge of the malaria-bearing mosquito, and because medical science has found the proper way to dose men with atabrine, malaria is the exception rather than the rule.

Back in those dismal days when "Washing-machine Charlie" paid his nightly nuisance visits, dropping bombs; when "Pistol Pete" and his almost mythical sniping cannon shot his daily quota of shells, and when the "Tokio Express" steamed up and down Skylark Channel pouring tons of shells into Henderson Field, we usually ate stale salt crackers with jam, morning and night. There just wasn't any noonday meal.

Today, for instance, in a well screened Quanset hut, with Philippine mess boys serving, we had excellent corned beef hash, fresh buttered cabbage, peaches, broad, butter and ice water. Until you've drunk copious draughts of chlorinated tepid water, you'll never appreciate what ice does to water.

And until you've dragged one weary leg after the other through at least two feet of jungle mud, you'll never appreciate drained and crowned roads.

All these things have come to the Guadalcanal I left in December, urged on and out by a drastic malaria attack.

CURTIN IS UPHELD BY ONE-VOTE MARGIN

CANBERRA, Australia, Thursday, June 24—(AP) Prime Minister John Curtin's supporters today defeated by a 27-to-26 vote a non-confidence motion offered by former Prime Minister Arthur W. Fadden, opposition leader who charged the government with bungling food and manpower problems.

The vote averted an immediate election, but the consensus of opinion was that Mr. Curtin would seek an early dissolution of Parliament to make way for another election. Two days of debate preceded the vote.

JUN 24 1943

BASE TO GIVE REVUE

Somewhere in New Guinea, June 23.—A musical revue to be produced and presented in New Guinea is now in rehearsal in an American Red Cross recreation hut near a secret bomber base.

Inspired and directed by Helen Schoeni, formerly of 440 West 34th street, New York city, one of the eleven American Red Cross women serving in this combat area, the writers and actors are all attached to the Army Air Forces.

Assisting Miss Schoeni are Privates Bert Conway, formerly connected with the Group Theater, and John Butler, a script writer, both of New York city, and Sergt. Ted Turner, an ex-reporter.

Miss Schoeni, who was director of the Henry Street Settlement Playhouse in New York city, returned this week from a shopping tour in Australia, where she purchased three trunksful of theatrical costumes, musical instruments to outfit a twelve-piece band, and sheet music of latest hits from America.

Meanwhile, the Red Cross is presenting nightly showings of Hollywood movie productions throughout the island.

American Sub Passes Up Jap Hospital Ship

JUN 24 1943

By the Associated Press

ABOARD UNITED STATES SUBMARINE IN THE PACIFIC.—This sub trailed one Japanese ship several hours, then had to pass it up. It proved to be a hospital ship, guaranteed safe passage under the Geneva Constitution.

"She was sailing a straight course, not zigzagging like a warship or freighter usually does," said Ensign E. W. (Si) Lake, 38, of New Britain, Conn., submarine communications officer. "We trailed her until nightfall, then closed. Suddenly all her lights came on and there was a red cross blazing on her hull. So we had to pass her up. But what a target.

"And then we came 'home' and read they had sunk one of our hospital ships!"

U. S. Flyers Rip Japanese In Tungting Rice Region

Support Chinese Offensive Against 3 Yangtse Bases

CHUNGKING, June 23 (AP).—American Mitchell bombers and Warhawk fighters supported Chinese troops on the Tungting Lake-Yangtse River front Monday, bombing and strafing Japanese bases and shipping at three places, Lieutenant General Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

One huge fire was left burning and many direct hits were noted among warehouses at Hwajung, north of the lake, the communique said, while extensive damage was done to supply depots and casualties were caused among troop concentrations at Shihshow. Near Takingyi a gunboat and river tug were strafed, with results not completely observed.

Recapture of the towns that were attacked would restore virtually all the Tungting rice area to the Chinese.

The American fliers carried out their attacks without challenge and all planes returned to the base, the announcement said.

NO SEPARATE PEACE

Chungking, June 23 (A. P.).—China will reject any Japanese attempts to persuade her to make a separate peace, a Government spokesman declared today, reiterating assertions that his country will fight on with the United Nations until victory is won.

The spokesman told a press conference that the Japanese had launched many peace offensives in the last six years, but said that all had been totally ignored by the Chinese.

Another spokesman offered assurances that Chinese morale is very good and said that there was no danger of an economic collapse.

FOG STALLS AIR ACTIVITY IN KISKA AREA

Assaults Called Almost Impossible Because Of Weather

Better Flying Conditions Expected In September Or October

JUN 24 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Headquarters, Alaska Defense Command, June 23—The weather has brought operations against Kiska to a virtual standstill.

Even while the attack on Attu was under way, aerial assaults against Kiska were almost impossible due to the heavy Aleutian fog which began hovering over most of the islands about a month ago. It is still there.

No good flying weather is expected in June or July, and not much of it in August. Only May, September and October offer any particular hopes for the entire year. The rest of the time something is always the matter with the weather in the Aleutians.

Fog Called Tough

The matter just now is fog so thick that only a half dozen or so raids have been made since June 1 on Kiska, even from near-by bases at Amchitka and Adak. This fog is so tough that even transports which need only to get to their destination—not drop bombs on it—have been able to make only a couple of trips in the last seventeen days between two Aleutian bases, where the army has ships available and cargo enough waiting for several trips daily.

The current lack of news about Kiska indicates neither a step-up nor a stepping down of the offensive. Air officers say the planes are ready to fly whenever they can. Airmen are waiting for the day when they can get some kind of fair shot at Kiska targets.

Medal for Radio Man.

Headquarters Alaska Defense Command, June 23 (A. P.).—Staff Sergt. Frederick N. Byrd, radio operator, of Lebanon, N..Y., is one of four men awarded the air medal by Lieut. Gen. Simon B. Buckner, Jr., commanding general of the Alaska Defense Command, for more than 100 hours of combat and operations flight in adverse weather.

EDITOR UPHOLDS BRITISH CANADA

Replies to Speech Favoring Union With United States.

London, Ont., June 23 (A. P.).—Arthur R. Ford, editor-in-chief of the London Free Press and president of the Canadian Press, declared his opposition to Canada's political union with the United States today, because he believes that the British Parliamentary system is preferable to the American system of government. In an address before the Western Counties Telephone Association, Mr. Ford said he believed that "with all its faults" the British system was the best yet devised for the government of man by man.

He referred to a radio forum sketch in June 13 in Detroit by Major James Clark, speaker of the Ontario Legislature, who said that 40 to 45 per cent of the Canadian people would vote for union with the United States if an election were held now. "The question has been raised periodically," Mr. Ford said.

"Generally there have been two reasons—one, the schisms which have arisen between the two main races of Canada and the second economic." He said that never before has there existed such good will or such respect for Canada as in the United States today. The joint Canadian-American Defense Board, the Joint Economic Committee and such projects as the Alaska military highway are evidence of the existing co-operating spirit, he said, adding, however, that he did not think close co-operation would lead to political union.

"I believe there is greater respect for law and order under the British system than under the American," Mr. Ford remarked. "I believe, too, that as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations we have a greater future in the coming world than we would have as a forty-ninth State of the American Union."

MESSAGES SECRET

Toronto, June 23 (A. P.).—Joseph E. Davies says the messages he recently carried between President Roosevelt and Joseph Stalin must remain secret, but "it is, however, a fair inference that they bespeak unity among Allied leaders.

"That. I am sure, gives us all great satisfaction," he said in an address last night at a Canadian-Soviet friendship rally.

The former United States Ambassador to the Soviet Union asserted that mutual confidence between Russia and her allies, particularly Canada and the United States, was essential to a lasting peace because "without Russia there can be no stable peace."

He said that the speedup in travel has made Russia of vital importance to America.

"We will soon be more closely interlocked with airplanes across the Pole," he explained. "Moscow will soon be overnight from New York."

Head of Canadian Press Opposes Union With U.S.

Contends British Parliamentary System Is Preferable

LONDON, Ont., June 23 (AP).—Arthur R. Ford, editor in chief of "The London Free Press" and president of The Canadian Press, declared today his opposition to Canada's political union with the United States "because the British parliamentary system is preferable to the American system of government."

In an address before the Western Counties Telephone Association, Ford said he believed that "with all its faults" the British system is the best yet devised for the government of man by man.

He referred to a radio forum speech June 13 in Detroit by Major James Clark, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, who said that 40 to 45 per cent of the Canadian people would vote for union with the United States if an election were held now.

Ramirez Bans Political Rallies

BUENOS AIRES, June 23 (AP).—Argentine police announced today a general prohibition of meetings of political parties or other organizations "which have political aims affecting either domestic or foreign policy." Several organizations already had applied for permission to hold meetings. The applications were refused.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

Moscow is reminding the western Allies once more of the imperative need for a second front in Europe this summer. This may be just a contribution to the war of nerves against the Axis; it is difficult to believe that Joseph Stalin is not well apprised of an American-British program which he finds satisfactory.

However that may be, the swing of the war raises the question whether the Russians are entitled to call their own Titanic battlefield the first front.

For the moment at least, while the great Russian and German armies in the east remain inactive and the Allies are still in the softening up stage of their Mediterranean operations, the air over western Europe is the primary theater of the war. In spite of the absence of great land armies locked in battle, the assault of the R.A.F. and American air forces on the Ruhr and nearby industrial areas and Germany's counter-measures are drawing out more of the military resources of the two great alliances than any other phase of the war. This may not last long, but right now it is on the western front that the Axis is being bled and punished most.

It is entirely possible that this is the primary reason that Hitler has not launched his widely expected 1943 offensive against Russia. It also probably accounts for reports from Allied air leaders in the Mediterranean area that the Italians are having to take over an increasing share of the ineffective attempts to shield the airbases, ports and industrial centers of Sicily, Sardinia and southern Italy from the Allied air squadrons.

The steady succession of the attacks suggests that the full scale campaign promised for this summer by the chiefs of the British and American bomber commands, Air Chief Marshal Harris and Maj. Gen. Eaker, taking one city after another and continuing round and round the clock, is fully launched.

The Ruhr is getting a punishment beyond anything this suffering world has seen up to this time. Monday night's R.A.F. assault on Krefeld apparently surpassed anything that had gone before for concentrated devastation and the next night's attack on Muelheim was only a little less terrible. In both cases the American Flying Fortresses were seeking their daylight targets within a few hours of the British bombers' return. Already dozens of German cities have felt the scourge of total war on a scale beyond the worst that London experienced on any one night at the height of the blitz. The Ruhr alone has been attacked by the R.A.F. at least 550 times.

Determined Defensive Effort

This necessarily is calling forth one of the most determined defensive efforts of the war. Because of its destructives effects on both war production and civilian morale, the German command dares not skimp on the resources it throws into this battle. The evidence grows that the curve of German war output is declining. There are indications in plenty that the people of the bombed districts are badly shaken and that this has its repercussions throughout the Reich. If they were not shaken the German people would in fact be the supermen they claim to be.

Therefore, the high command has gathered in western Germany and the western occupied areas far greater fighter forces, including its best units, than it ever had in the Mediterranean theater and perhaps more even than it has on the Russian front today. The concentration of anti-aircraft guns, especially of powerful types up to 150 millimeters, is greater than in any comparable area in the world.

Allied Losses Mounting

This has set the stage for one of the war's greatest battles. The German squadrons attack the raiders with great determination and skill and Allied losses to anti-aircraft are mounting. The R.A.F.'s assaults on Krefeld and Muelheim cost 79 bombers. The Americans lost 20 Flying Fortresses on Monday alone. Each of these big craft probably means ten men dead or captured, or at least 1,000 picked, trained men lost in 36 hours. The big American planes, in addition to the devastation of their bombs, take a heavy toll of the fighter swarms that battle them for hundreds of miles across Europe. For both sides the cost is heavy but the objectives are among the most vital of the war.

Congress Fight Seen on Plan to Draft Strikers

Some Members Say Army Is Not a Prison; Expect

JUN 24 1943

30.24 — 5319

30.24 — 5317

Veto of Anti-Strike Bill

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP).—Congressional comment indicated tonight that President Roosevelt's proposal to raise the draft age to sixty-five as a weapon against strikers would provoke a sharp controversy.

The legislators appeared to be pretty much unanimous, however, in interpreting it as meaning the President will veto the labor disputes bill Congress sent to him. Some said privately that an attempt undoubtedly would be made to override any veto, although Senator Tom Connally, Democrat, of Texas, co-author of the measure, would not comment on that aspect. The question of overriding a veto would come up first in the Senate since it was the first to pass the legislation.

On the President's proposal, Senator Edwin C. Johnson, Democrat, of Colorado, a member of the Military Affairs Committee which would consider such a revision in the selective service act, commented: "The Army is not a penitentiary. I don't think much of that suggestion as a way to settle the coal dispute."

Senator Chan Gurney, Republican, of South Dakota, another member of the committee, said: "I certainly don't think that's the way to settle this hing. That looks as though the President is leading toward the Austin-Wadsworth bill for compulsory control of man power."

But Senator Harry E. Byrd, Democrat, of Virginia, approved the proposal. However, he said he thought the President ought to sign the anti-strike bill for the effect that action would have in preventing future walkouts. Congress, he added, then could consider the proposal to raise the selective service age limit.

Would Expedite Hearings

Representative William M. Colmer, Democrat, of Mississippi, who early this session introduced legislation for the induction of draft-age war workers who strike, said he would request the military Committee to expedite hearings.

"What the President has said he would request Congress to do is just about what my bill provides," Representative Colmer said. "I am willing to revise my measure to provide for induction of any one up to sixty-five who strikes in a war industry."

Representative Colmer said preliminary hearings held several months ago by the military committee indicated "strong sentiment" for his bill.

Representative Howard A. Smith, Democrat, of Virginia, co-author of the anti-strike bill, commented: "Membership in the armed forces is a position of honor and distinction. To use it as punishment for unpatriotic strikers is to convert the Army into a penal institution and would be an affront to our boys who are engaged on the battlefields. A better solution would be co-operation with Congress in the enactment of adequate anti-strike legislation."

Senator George D. Aiken, Republican, of Vermont, said: "I should be very reluctant to give the President any more power until he shows more judgment in exercising what he now has."

Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican, of Ohio, said: "I think I would be opposed to that program. It's like so many others; to get at ten persons you affect 10,000,000. And whether the policy would get the coal mined seems to be dubious."

179 HURT IN ACTION

Washington, June 23.—The War Department made public today the names of 179 United States soldiers wounded in the Aleutian area. Wounded men from New York, with next of kin, follow:

NEW YORK.

ABRAMS, JULIUS, private; father, Woft Abrams, 1320 Meridian avenue, the Bronx.
BODNOVICH, JOHN, private; mother, Mrs. Mary Bodnovich, 326 East 13th street.
BOKAN, JOHN R., staff sergeant; sister, Mrs. Thomas Ronaldi, 390 East 184th street, the Bronx.
PRESTON, MALCOLM H., Second Lieut.; wife, Mrs. Mary A. Preston, Manor Apartments, Douglaston, L. I.
ZBIERSKI, EDWARD J., private, first class; sister, Mrs. Rose Roll, 484 Losson Road, Chatauqua.

SUBMARINE SINKS ANOTHER

U. S. Commander Decorated for Torpedoing Japanese

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—Destruction of a Japanese submarine by torpedo fire from an American submarine on war patrol in the Pacific was disclosed by the Navy today in announcement of a decoration for the commanding officer of the American vessel.

The officer, who received the Silver Star Medal, is Lieut. Commdr. Marvin G. Kennedy, 37 years old, of Henrietta, Mo. The citation said the Japanese submarine was sunk despite adverse conditions in poor visibility and rain squalls when it was sighted on the surface "close aboard." The undersea raider "launched a daring attack at 800 yards" and destroyed the enemy submarine by torpedo fire while Japanese personnel were still on the bridge, the Navy said.

Saboteurs in France Helping Immobilize 200 Trains Daily

JUN 24 1943

52 Germans Killed and 150 Injured in Recent Action by Guerrillas

By the Associated Press.

The combination of Allied air raids and railway sabotage inside France has been immobilizing about 200 trains daily, according to information reaching Fighting French headquarters here through persons escaping from German-occupied Europe.

Both the airmen from across the English Channel and the French guerrillas operating behind enemy lines concentrate on crippling transportation, a headquarters spokesman said today, particularly by putting railway locomotives out of commission. Many locomotives beyond range of the marauding flyers succumb to the boiler-wrecking tactics of the saboteurs or are wrecked in derailments engineered by guerrillas.

52 Germans Killed.

One of the most successful derailment jobs recently was carried out by guerrillas on the line between Nevers and Chagny, in Central France. Fifty-two Germans were killed and 150 injured in this wreck and traffic was blocked for several days. Another derailment on the same line, the reports said, upset a troop train moving soldiers to the Russian front.

The guerrillas also have been active in the wrecking of power plants, water works and factories. From March 15 to April 15, the report said, there were no fewer than 122 acts of sabotage in Savoy, chiefly in power plants.

The reports also mentioned a shutdown of the Gnome et Rhone aviation engine plant at Limoges on May 28 because of destruction of the central transformers. Rubber-reclaiming factories in the same area were out of production for six months because of wrecked boilers.

New Reprisals Reported.

New reprisals against Frenchmen regarded as agents of Germany also were listed in the reports.

These included the stabbing to death of the secretary-general of the Vienne Department of Jacques Doriot's Fascist Parti Populaire Francais, identified as Dr. Michel Guerin; the fatal shooting of Mayor Din of Pierrefitte, near Paris, and the assassination of two French judges who had condemned Frenchmen to death for sabotage.

Both these judges, the reports said, were previously notified by letter they would be killed for treason.

AUGUST DRAFT QUOTAS CUT, SAYS SEN. WHEELER

WASHINGTON, June 23. — (AP) Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said tonight he understood the August draft quota had been cut from 238,000 to 150,000 and that corresponding reductions will be made in the monthly calls for the remainder of the year.

Senator Wheeler, who is author of a bill prohibiting the induction of fathers at least until Jan. 1, 1944, did not disclose the source of his information. He said he did not know whether the reduction may have been made because the armed services had been getting more men than needed.

Selective Service officials had no comment.

Soldiers Captured by Italy

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP).—The War Department announced today the names of 283 United States soldiers held prisoners of war by Italy. Among them were the following:

New York

BAKER, DAVID N., private; wife, Mrs. Mildred M. Baker, 131 King Street, Syracuse.
BELANSKY, Michael, private; mother, Mrs. Mary Belansky, 18 Thorpe Street, Binghamton.
CENTRON, MICHAEL L., private first-class; father, Steven Centron, 34 Upton Park, Rochester.
COUNTRYMAN, LEO L., private; mother, Mrs. Clara L. Countryman, 680 South James Street, Carthage.
CROUSE, WILLIAM C., private first-class; father, Richard R. Crouse, Paul Avenue, Hudson.
DAVEY, JAMES J., private; mother, Mrs. Agnes W. Davey, 4607 Park Avenue, Bronx.
DEMETROULES, JOHN, private first-class; mother, Mrs. Anne Demetroules, 144 Wythe Avenue.
DI PERNA, SALVATORE P., private; father, Samuel Di Perna, 962 Bleecker Street, Utica.
DOHERTY, BERNARD J., private; mother, Mrs. Esther M. Doherty, 792 Second Avenue, Troy.
DOWD, JOHN B., private; father, William J. Dowd, 267 Oakland Street, Brooklyn.
DUNN, JAMES L., private first-class; mother, Mrs. Mary Dunn, 300 Brook Avenue, the Bronx.
EDINOFF, NATHAN, private; sister, Mrs. Sarah Light, 201 West 108th Street.
FABIN, HENRY J., private; father, Stanley Fabin, 16 Bethlehem Street, Lackawanna.
FIGURA, ALBIN, private first-class; mother, Mrs. Mary Latos, 101 Russell Street, Brooklyn.
GILROY, FRANCIS R., private first-class; mother, Mrs. Helen M. Gilroy, 1441 East Fifty-sixth Street, Brooklyn.
GIORDANO, MICHAEL, private first-class; mother, Mrs. Jennie Giordano, 152 South Broadway, Yonkers.
GUSZCZA, JOSEPH, tech. fifth grade; father, Constantine Guszcza, 10 Perrine Street, Auburn.
HARDENBERGH, JAMES, corporal; father, George Hardenbergh, 1187 Brooklyn Avenue, Brooklyn.
HILLERBY, JAMES A., sergeant; father, James E. Hillerby, 27 Lakeview Avenue, Jamestown.
KLEIN, JOSEPH, corporal; father, Bernath Klein, Route 1, Monticello.
LANGAN, THOMAS D., private; wife, Mrs. Lillian Langan, 537 East 147th Street, the Bronx.
MAIER, JAMES R., private first class; mother, Mrs. Florence Wishard, 788 East 181st Street.
MONTEALBANO, JACK, private first class; mother, Mrs. Josephine Montealbano, 247 Jefferson Street, Brooklyn.
PINTO, WILLIAM J., private first class, mother, Mrs. Mary Pinto, 701 Henry Street, Brooklyn.
PITT, ALTON J., private first class; father, Ray Pitt, Route 2, East Worcester.
PRESACANO, JOSEPH T., technician fifth grade; sister, Miss Clara Presacano, 11½ William Street, Seneca Falls.
RAY, EDWARD D., corporal; uncle, Frank Ray, Cadosia.
ROLL, FRANK T., private; sister, Miss Anna Roll, 257½ Front Street, Binghamton.
SMITH, CHARLES J. Jr., sergeant; wife, Mrs. Kathleen Smith, 1518 Harding Park, the Bronx.
SMURRA, SALVATORE, private; mother, Mrs. Sophie Smurra, 29 Fullerton Avenue, Newburgh.
SOKOLOVSKY, RUBIN, private; mother, Mrs. Rebecca Sokolovsky, 537 Schenck Avenue, Brooklyn.
SOUMINEN, EDWIN A., private; father, Jalmar Souminen, Box 35, Rifton.
TARANOVICH, WILLIAM, private first class; mother, Mrs. Mary A. Taranovich, 2286 Second Avenue.
TESORIERO, JOHN T., private; mother, Mrs. Josephine Tesoriero, 7813 Third Avenue, Brooklyn.
TREZZA, FRANK V., private; mother, Mrs. Theresa T. Trezza, 26 Van Dam Street.
VERDOW, EDWIN G., private; sister, Mrs. Catherine Baird, 900 Glencove Rd., Syracuse.
WHITTLE, DONALD P., private; mother, Mrs. Alice Whittle, 2828 LaSalle Avenue, the Bronx.
YACCARINO, DANIEL J. jr., private; mother, Mrs. Rose M. Yaccarino, 32 Alaska Street, West Brighton, S. I.

New Jersey

ADMAS, HENRY P., private; sister, Mrs. Thomas J. Regan, Thirteenth Avenue, Pine Hill.
CHEESEMAN, FRANK, private first class; father, John Cheeseman, 308 Water Street, Gloucester.
DIMMICK, CARL H., corporal; father, Harry L. Dimmick, 3 Doering Way, Cranford.
DOPART, FRANK Z., corporal; mother, Mrs. Mary Dopart, 111 St. Charles Street, Burlington.
FILANOWSKI, MATTHEW, private; wife, Mrs. Theresa Filanowski, 54 Morris Street, Burlington.
FORD, RUSSELL H., first lieutenant; wife, Mrs. Helen S. Ford, 183 Ballantine Parkway, Newark.
HUBERT, CHARLES W., private first class; brother, Frank C. Hubert, 82 Norfolk Street, Newark.
KELLEY, STEWART W., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Mabel Kelley, 78 Elm Street, Westfield.
KOOKAS, HARRY, private; mother, Mrs. Pauline Kookas, 247½ High Street, Newark.
McDOUGALL, JOHN P., corporal; mother, Mrs. Kathrine McDougall, 43 Myrtle Avenue, Jersey City.
MERSFELDER, ADOLPH D., private first class; uncle, Albert Merafelder, 761 South Tenth Street, Newark.
MIELE, RALPH C., private first class; mother, Mrs. Antoinette Miele, 194 First Street, Newark.
MILSTEIN, NATHAN, private; mother, Mrs. Yetta Milstein, 340 Peshine Avenue, Newark.
QUIGLEY, HARRY C., private first class; mother, Mrs. Hattie I. Quigley, 2177 Hamilton Avenue, Trenton.

Connecticut

LADUN, JOHN, technician fifth grade; sister, Miss Ann Ladun, Hillside Terrace, Oxford.

Guadalcanal Machine Gunner Wins Congressional Medal

Sergeant Basilone Killed Thirty-Eight Japanese And Held Position Until Reinforcements Came

JUN 24 1943

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, June 23—President Roosevelt has awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor to Platoon Sergeant John Basilone, of the marines, the navy announced today, for outstanding heroism in action on Guadalcanal, where he piled up thirty-eight Japanese bodies in front of his machine-gun emplacement and held a vital position until reinforcements arrived.

The action occurred late last October during fighting in the Lunga area of Guadalcanal. Basilone received his country's highest battle honor "somewhere in the South Pacific," the navy said, where he and his comrades are resting after the Solomon Islands campaign.

Action Described

The citation credited his efforts with contributing "in a large measure to the virtual annihilation of a Japanese regiment."

Private (first class) Nash W. Phillips, 22, of Fayetteville, N. C., who is now convalescing at the Naval Hospital, San Diego, from wounds received in the Solomons, told of the piling up of Japanese bodies before Basilone's machine-gun position.

"Basilone had a machine gun on the go three days and nights without sleep, rest or food," Phillips related. "He was in a good emplacement, and causing the Japs lots of trouble, not only firing his machine gun but also using his pistol.

Stormed Position

"They stormed his position time and time again. Each time he piled up four or five more around his emplacement. Finally, he had to move out of there—thirty-eight Jap bodies made it kind of hard to fire over the pile!"

Basilone, 26, is the son of Salvatore and Dora Basilone, of Raritan, N. J. There are nine other children in the family, one of whom, George William Basilone, also is in the Marine Corps at New River, N. C. Another brother, Alphonse, is with the army in Iceland.

U. S. Sub Sinks Jap Sub, Commander Wins Medal

Washington, June 23 (AP)—Destruction of a Japanese submarine by torpedo fire from an American submarine on war patrol in the Pacific was disclosed by the navy today in announcement of a decoration for the commanding officer of the American vessel.

The officer, who received the Silver Star Medal, was Lieut. Com. Marvin G. Kennedy, 37, of Henrietta, Mo.

The citation said the Japanese submarine was sunk despite adverse conditions due to poor visibility and rain squalls when Kennedy sighted it on the surface "close aboard." He quickly swung his own undersea raider in a striking position, the navy said, "launched a daring attack at 800 yards," and destroyed the enemy submarine by torpedo fire while Japanese personnel were still on the bridge.

"This same fighting spirit and skillful seamanship enabled him to attack and sink a Japanese freighter of 5,644 tons," the citation said. It was the American submarine's second war patrol. There have been few other instances in the past in which submarines have successfully attacked other submarines.

JUN 24 1943

French Railways Heavily Hit

Allied Airmen and Saboteurs Immobilize About 200 Trains Every Day.

Washington, June 23 (A. P.).—The combination of Allied air raids and railway sabotage inside France has been immobilizing about 200 trains daily, according to information reaching Fighting French headquarters here through persons escaping from German-occupied Europe.

Both the airmen who swooped across the English channel and the French guerrillas operating behind enemy lines concentrate on crippling transportation, a headquarters spokesman said today, particularly by putting railway locomotives out of commission. Many locomotives beyond range of the marauding flyers succumb to the boiler-wrecking tactics of the saboteurs or are wrecked in derailments engineered by guerrillas.

One of the most successful derailment jobs recently was carried out by guerrillas on the line between Nevers and Chagny, in central France. Fifty-two Germans were killed and 150 injured in this wreck and traffic was blocked for several days. Another derailment on the same line, the reports said, upset a troop train moving soldiers to the Russian front.

The guerrillas also have been active in the wrecking of power plants, water works and factories. From March 15 to April 15, the reports said, there were no fewer than 122 acts of sabotage in Savoy, chiefly in power plants.

The reports also mentioned a shut-down of the Gnome et Rhone aviation engine plant at Limoges on May 28 because of destruction of the central transformers. Rubber-reclaiming factories in the same area were out of production for six months because of wrecked boilers.

New reprisals against Frenchmen regarded as agents of Germany also were listed in the reports. These included the stabbing to death of the Secretary-general of the Vienne Department of Jacques Doriot's Fascist Parti Populaire Francais, identified as Dr. Michel Guerin; the fatal shooting of Mayor Din of Pierrefitte, near Paris, and the assassination of two French judges who had condemned Frenchmen to death for sabotage. Both these judges, the reports said, were previously notified by letter that they would be killed for treason.

BEW Scouring The World For War Goods, Wallace Says

Agency Supervising 200 Purchase Programs In 40 Different Nations Or Areas

JUN 24 1943

By HENRY A. WALLACE
Chairman of Board of Economic Warfare.

Washington, June 23 (AP)—Great as are the resources of the United States they are not enough by themselves to support our prodigious task of serving as the "arsenal of democracy" and at the same time supplying our own army and navy.

We have always imported some of the most important strategic materials, which are not found in this country at all or of which we do not have enough. The problem has been made more difficult by the loss of the Far East and the closing of the Burma road to China and the consequent loss of some of our most valuable sources of supply.

200 Purchase Programs

One of the principal jobs being done by the Board of Economic Warfare is to scour the world for strategic materials and to see that they are brought to the United States in adequate quantities at the time they are needed.

Through its Office of Imports, the Board is supervising 200 purchase programs in forty different countries or areas. These programs cover 600 different items. In the present fiscal year, the goods acquired total approximately $1,500,000,000 in value. We expect the amount will be around $2,000,000,000 in the coming fiscal year.

"Economic Commandos"

Men in the buying expeditions of the Board of Economic Warfare have been called "economic commandos." They penetrate some of the most out of-the-way places of the world, from the deepest jungles to the most rugged mountain tops, in their search.

This is the second of a series of three articles by Vice-President Wallace on an important but little-publicized phase of the war-economic warfare against the Axis.

They find new sources of balsa wood for gliders and Mosquito bombers, cinchona bark for quinine, fiber substitutes to replace the hemp we can no longer get from the Philippines, and many essential minerals and metals.

Brought By Plane

On several occasions in the last year and a half, when vital war materials have been needed immediately here at home, these materials have been brought by plane from half way around the world to meet the supply deadlines.

Materials are acquired by the Board of Economic Warfare in accordance with requests from the War Production Board or the War Food Administration. Services of existing agencies are utilized, and the board cooperates closely with the Department of State.

Latin America Source

About half of the strategic materials we are importing are now coming from Latin American countries, and about half from other areas.

Thus the Board of Economic Warfare is helping to harness the raw material resources of a large part of the world so that our country and our allies can beat Germany and Japan at their own game of total war.

[Next Article: Board Aids Friendly Countries.]

AMERICAN SUB SINKS JAP U-BOAT

Torpedo Fire at 800 Yards Sends Enemy Craft to Bottom.

WASHINGTON, June 23—(AP) Destruction of a Japanese submarine by torpedo fire from an American submarine on war patrol in the Pacific was disclosed by the Navy today in announcement of a decoration for the commanding officer of the American vessel.

The officer, who received the Silver Star medal, was Lt. Commander Marvin G. Kennedy, 37, of Henrietta, Mo., whose wife, Mrs Lorene L. Kennedy, lives at Vallejo, Calif.

The citation given to Comm. Kennedy said that the Japanese submarine was sunk despite adverse conditions due to poor visibility and rain squalls when Comm. Kennedy sighted it on the surface "close aboard." He quickly swung his own undersea raider in a striking position, the Navy said, "launched a daring attack at 800 yards," and destroyed the enemy submarine by torpedo fire while Japanese personnel were still on the bridge.

"This same fighting spirit and skillful seamanship enabled him to attack and sink a Japanese freighter of 5,644 tons," read the citation. It was the American submarine's second war patrol. There have been few other instances in the past in which submarines have successfully attacked other submarines.

Swung Back to Vichy

Mr. Speaker said Admiral Robert cooperated to some extent, but swung back to Vichy when that government broke relations with this country after the Yanks landed in Africa.

"When the Admiral chose to take orders from Vichy and refused to join the Allies in the fight to liberate France," D. C. continued, "the United States halted food shipments to Martinique and then withdrew its consul general from Fort de France and notified Admiral Robert it could no longer deal with an administrator serving Vichy.

"Then Secretary of State Hull said the judgment of the U. S. Navy would be the controlling factor in any further developments—which is where the matter rests now."

"Uncle Sam considers it pretty much a French problem, for French decision," Mr. Speaker said, "but meanwhile, the Navy has the situation in hand and could take over Martinique very swiftly and effectively any time the defense of the Caribbean demanded it."

Mr. Speaker stressed that not much could happen as long as the United States Navy continues to keep Martinique figuratively under its guns.

"As French high commissioner on Martinique and Guadaloupe, Admiral Robert was recognized by the United States last year as the boss on those islands," said Mr. Speaker, the mythical District of Columbia news source who represents authentic but unquotable sources. "He was assured by informal agreements that the status quo there would not be upset by the United States so long as he cooperated in the safeguarding of the Caribbean against Axis intrigues."

Martinique Poses No Problem, With U. S. Navy Standing Ready

Complications Over Vichy Tie-Up Cause Little Concern, Says Observer.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(AP) Martinique, the hot spot of the Caribbean, is on ice right now—and likely to remain that way a while, despite French developments in North America.

That was the prediction today of D. C. Speaker, unofficial but well-informed capital observer who was asked how long Uncle Sam would permit Admiral George Robert to play second fiddle to Vichy.

Women's Clubs to Buy Bombers to Pound Japan

Federation Seeks a Fleet in National Campaign

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP).—Determined to buy a fleet of bombers for the express purpose of dropping high explosives on Japan, the General Federation of Women's Clubs announced today a national "buy a bomber" campaign to attain that goal.

Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, of Baltimore, federation president, said the campaign would be for bond buying in addition to purchases now being made, and added:

"The women of the country are alarmed because we haven't got after Japan. We want to go after Japan and give her a good bombing."

The initial objective is fifty heavy bombers, expected to be bought through the efforts of state federations. In addition, the 500 districts and 15,000 individual clubs are expected to furnish the bond purchases for medium bombers and pursuit planes.

President Whitehurst said $300,000 must be raised for each heavy bomber, $175,000 for a medium bomber, and $75,000 for a fighter plane.

The bombers will all bear the name of the state or district by which they were purchased. The fleet will be named the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

OWI AIDE SCORES CENSORSHIP SETUP

Hoyt Criticizes Handling Of News Of Aleutians And Doolittle Raid

JUN 24 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 23 — Palmer Hoyt, the new domestic director of the Office of War Information, thinks that some of the censorship practices "indulged in under the general excuse of military or naval security smack of the thought processes of the Middle Ages."

Hoyt, on leave as publisher of the Portland Oregonian, expressed that opinion in an article written for "Journalism in Wartime," a survey which will be published soon by the American Council on Public Affairs in cooperation with the University of Missouri's school of journalism. The article, written before Hoyt took the OWI job, was released today by the council.

Points To Evils

Asserting that wartime censorship, if applied unwisely, "can destroy the very purpose it seeks to serve," Hoyt wrote:

"Proper censorship which covers both the sins of omission and commission is a buckler in time of national peril. It should be kept brightly polished and the tarnished spots of improper application should be rubbed away as quickly as they are seen."

If Byron Price, director of the Office of Censorship, or Price's assistant, N. R. Howard, could pass on every question of what is proper and improper to print, American newspapers would be completely happy.

"Course Is Impossible"

But, of course, that is impossible, he added, and the present system of applying censorship "filters down through military, naval and civilian 'authorities,' many of whom are unfamiliar with the wartime censorship code; in fact, there are cases where military censors have never heard of it."

Hoyt said that one of the practical difficulties of actual censorship procedure from the newspaper standpoint "is the confusion that exists as to who should be contacted to clear a particular story."

"Red Tape Distressing"

"Military and naval commanders in the field have demonstrated a most understandable reticence about clearing stories," he said.

Asserting that a newspaper must move quickly to publish facts while they are news, he said that "frequently the unwinding of departmental red tape is most distressing to the trained newspaper worker" who is inclined to feel that officers "err on the side of extreme caution and unnecessarily so."

SENATE GROUP AIDS NYA HOPE FOR LIFE

Subcommittee Opposes House Amendment Which Would Kill Agency

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 23—Completing work on a $1,086,059,499 Labor-Federal Security appropriations bill, a Senate Appropriations subcommittee voted today to recommend elimination of a House amendment liquidating the National Youth Administration.

Senator Lodge (R., Mass.), a member, said the subcommittee also restored to the bill an appropriation of approximately $58,000,000, denied by the House, for NYA's youth and student training-for-industry service under the War Manpower Commission.

JUN 24 1943

30.24—5319

Against Kaiser Provision

The subcommittee, whose 6 to 5 action is subject to review by the full committee tomorrow, also voted to eliminate from the bill a House provision designed to prevent the National Labor Relations Board from giving a decision in its case against the Kaiser shipyards at Portland, Ore.

The House amendment grew out of attempts by the CIO to set aside closed-shop contracts between Kaiser and AFL affiliates through new employe elections to allow workers to select a collective-bargaining agency.

Form Of House Stipulation

The House had prohibited the use of any NLRB funds in connection with any complaint arising against a labor-management agreement which has been inexistence as long as three months.

The subcommittee, Lodge said, voted to restore $5,000,000 of a House cut of $10,027,000 in War Manpower Commission employment-service funds and added $300,000 to total House allowances for NLRB.

Fire at Japanese Camp

3 Buildings and 2 Sheds Burn at Santa Fe Alien Center

SANTA FE, N. M., June 23 (AP).—Three buildings and two small sheds were destroyed today by fire which swept the Japanese alien detention center near Santa Fe. Lloyd H. Jensen, of the United States Immigration Service, said the loss was confined to a building housing the mess hall and kitchen, two small recreational buildings and two sheds.

Fire broke out in the kitchen early today. "We don't feel there was anything suspicious about it," Mr. Jensen said. Japanese internees helped fight the blaze, Mr. Jensen said.

...ost-War Jobs

...ns Bill Giving Them Re-employment Rights

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP).—Men who leave their jobs for wartime service in the merchant marine are given the same post-war re-employment rights as are granted men entering the armed forces under a bill signed today by President Roosevelt.

The measure would apply to any person entering merchant marine service after May 1, 1940.

NEWS GUILD, CIO BACK OWI

Philip Murray Says Agency Enjoys Confidence Of American Workers

Republican Representative Meanwhile Assails It As "Utterly Lawless"

JUN 24 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 23—The American Newspaper Guild and President Philip Murray, of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO), with which the newspaper workers' union is affiliated, came to the support of the Office of War Information (OWI) today while Representative Taber (R., N. Y.) assailed it as "utterly lawless."

"House action in cutting off funds for the Office of War Information threatens to end the life of a vital war agency that enjoys the confidence of American workers," Murray telegraphed Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.), chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee which will consider the bill from which the House lopped all of OWI's $5,500,000 fund for domestic operations.

Counter To Axis

Asserting that "the five million members" of the CIO are "very much concerned with the need for accurate information on the progress of our war and . . . welcome the work of the OWI in this and in offsetting the divisive effects of Axis propaganda," Murray urged restoration of the full domestic fund.

He sent a similar telegram to Representative Cannon (D., Mo.), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

Guild President Milton Murray wrote McKellar a request for restoration of the OWI domestic operating fund to the $2,800,000,000 war agencies bill.

Meanwhile, Taber declared in the House that OWI is "an utterly lawless, irresponsible outfit which is doing us no good abroad or at home."

House Struck Funds

The House had struck out the funds. It left $28,972,000 in the bill to finance OWI's foreign propaganda activities, but Taber told his colleagues the agency had made a $400,000 expenditure in this field which was not authorized by law.

He said he was informed that OWI had spent this amount on a contract with Short Wave Research, Inc. This organization, he said, was formed "by a group of people, most of whom are on the preferred list" of the Dies Committee on un-American Activities.

Senators Yield On Discharge Of 3 U. S. Aides

Washington, June 23 (AP)—Senate conferees acceded today to House demands for the discharge of three Government officials accused by a House committee of membership in subversive organizations.

The men involved are Dr. Robert Morss Lovett, secretary of the Virgin Islands Government, and Goodwin B. Watson and William E. Dodd, Jr., employes of the Communications Commission.

Approval of the House refusal to provide funds for the men's salaries cleared the way to a conference committee agreement on a $143,000,000 deficiency appropriation. The House by voice vote adopted the conference report shortly afterward. The Senate had yet to act.

...istrial in Viereck Case Caused by Woman Juror

She Fails to Answer Qualifying Question Put by Defense

WASHINGTON, June 23 (UP).—The failure of a woman juror to answer a qualifying question when the jury was empaneled last Friday today halted the second trial of George Sylvester Viereck, fifty-seven-year-old German propagandist, charged with failing to register as an enemy agent.

The trial of Viereck, who served a year in jail after his conviction on a similar charge in 1942, was ended by District Judge Bolitha Laws, who declared a mistrial in the middle of the government's case.

One of the five women jurors, Miss Viola Fuqua, who failed to answer last Friday when the jury was asked whether any juror was acquainted with Justice Department employees, was seen talking to John P. M. Reddan, Justice Department attorney, defense attorneys said. A new jury will be called Friday, Judge Laws said.

The previous conviction of Viereck was reversed by the Supreme Court in March on the ground that the indictment was faulty and that prejudicial remarks had been made by the prosecution.

Cable Rate Cut To 6 Cents

Washington, June 23 (AP)—A charge of 6 cents a word on messages between Los Angeles and Chungking, China, was ordered tentatively today by the Federal Communications Commission in a report concluding that the present charge of 8½ cents a word by Press Wireless, Inc., for ordinary telegraph service was "unjust, unreasonable and unlawful."

DIES TO PROBE RACE RIOTS

Says Evidence Shows Jap Agents Promoted Prejudice In Detroit

JUN 24 1943

Public Hearings On WRA Also Are Slated To Begin Next Week

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 23—Recent racial disturbances, including the Detroit race riot, which took more than a score of lives, will be investigated by the Dies committee during public hearings starting next week, Representative Dies (D., Texas), chairman, disclosed today.

Dies said the hearings, originally called to inquire into Japanese activities and the method of releasing Japanese from internment camps, would be broadened as a result of reports by committee investigators indicating that the Detroit rioting resulted from "combined operations" of foreign and domestic propaganda groups.

Records Seized

The committee, he said, has evidence that Japanese agents, working through established organizations, had promoted racial prejudice in the Detroit area presumably to interfere with war production and to break down home-front morale.

Recent testimony given the committee by officials of the Ku Klux Klan, he added, disclosed that the KKK had enrolled many members in the Detroit area. Whether the committee would inquire further into the KKK activities, Dies did not say.

The first witness in the committee's first public hearings in many months probably will be Dillon S. Myer, head of the War Relocation Authority which has jurisdiction over Japanese internees.

Dies said committee agents had seized intact records and files of the Japanese-American Citizens League which, if true, show "a very close contact" between the league and the WRA and indicate that the league "has largely dominated and dictated some of the policies" of the Government agency.

To Call ? League Officers

Two officers of the league now serving with the army and stationed at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, also will be called, Dies said. Their names, he added, will be disclosed "at the proper time."

Dies said records disclosed that many Japanese recently released from internment camps to which they were sent after the bombing of Pearl Harbor had been released through cooperation of the league, and "without any check whatsoever" except several questions dealing with their loyalty.

Likely to be questioned by the committee, Dies said, are three Japanese recently released to work on the near-by Maryland farm of Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior. Records of the league showed, he said, that the trio attended a league meeting here last month. Dies added he saw no reason why the committee should question Ickes himself.

WAR FOOD BOSS GIVEN CONTROL OF FSA LENDING

House Decides Not to Abolish Agency, But Curtails Funds.

WASHINGTON, June 23—(AP) A compromise giving the War Food administrator complete jurisdiction over the Farm Security administration's lion and tenant purchase activities, but curtailing funds for the program, was accepted today by the House on a voice vote.

The move—an alternative to the previous stand for abolition of the agency—completed initial House attempts to iron out its differences with the Senate on the 1944 agriculture appropriations bill. The FSA, created in 1937, aids small farmers with loans and technical assistance and advance money to help tenant farmers purchase farms.

The measure now goes back to the Senate. The House accepted some Senate revisions but rejected others. Unless the Senate now agrees to the House provisions, the bill will be returned to a conference committee.

Prior to its decision on the Farm Security program, the House:

1. Insisted, by rollcall vote of 208 to 180, on limiting funds for federal crop insurance to its own figure of $3,500,000, rather than the $7,818,748 allotment approved by the Senate. The reduced House provision carried language calling for ultimate liquidation of the crop insurance program.

2. Agreed, 82 to 34, to a Senate-inserted $50,000,000 to finance the Federal government's share of the school milk and lunch program, but specified that none of the money could be used to finance any activity of the Works Project Administration.

3. Refused, by rollcall vote of 193 to 167, to accept a $10,000,000 increase in the fund for the Rural loans, which would have boosted the total available for that purpose to $30,000,000. The REA supervises a program to supply electric service to farmers and other rural residents, principally through loans to local groups.

CROP SITUATION AIDED BY WEATHER

Conditions For Week Reported Most Favorable Of Season To Date

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 23—Reports of improved weather and crop conditions, particularly in mid-Western grain, live-stock and dairy regions, served today to ease official apprehension over 1943 food-production prospects.

The Weather Bureau, in a weekly summary of crop conditions, said that the past week, on a country-wide basis, brought the most favorable agricultural weather of the season to date.

Some Exceptions

This report brightened a picture drawn twelve days ago by the Agriculture Department in a crop report which said prospects were at the lowest level in two years.

Plagued by early-season droughts and floods, farm crops are beginning to make a markedly favorable growth, the bureau said, under such conditions as general warmth, abundant sunshine and adequate soil moisture.

There were some exceptions, however, to the improved outlook. These included intensified drought conditions in the Southwest—centering largely in Arizona, Utah and New Mexico—an increasing need for moisture in many places from Arkansas and Louisiana eastward, and wet soil conditions in lowlands damaged by earlier floods.

Operations Facilitated

The bureau said the improved conditions facilitated farm operations. Farmers rushed to the limit on late planting, cultivating and harvesting of hay and other early crops. In many places farmers were said to be working day and night in an effort to catch up with delayed work.

"With a week of favorable weather, the corn crop shows noticeable recovery of at least a part of the ground lost from previous unfavorable conditions," the bureau report stated.

However, some bottom corn land was said to be still too wet and consequently will not be planted because of the lateness of the season.

Both winter and spring wheat made good to excellent progress. Harvesting of the winter variety was said to be making progress in Texas and Oklahoma.

Progress of the cotton crop was described as mostly good or better. Truck crops and victory gardens, the report said, now are doing well generally with some early vegetable crops about ready for harvest as far north as southern New England.

JUN 24 1943

COMPLETE OIL PROBE NOW DUE

House Committee To Remove All Restrictions In Elk Hills Inquiry

JUN 24 1943

Group Finds Justice Department Report Denied It Was Given To Standard

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 23—Members of a House committee investigating the abrogated Standard Oil of California—Navy Department contract for joint development of the Elk Hills petroleum reserve expressed astonishment tonight that a copy of the Justice Department report on the contract, withheld from the committee, had been furnished the oil company.

Chairman Peterson (D., Fla.) said he would demand that Justice Department officials present the committee with a copy at its next session, on Friday, and that he would remove all restrictions on questioning of the officials.

Probe Should Get Into Full Swing

"There is no reason now," he declared, "why the committee investigation should not get into full swing. Restrictions which I have hitherto allowed to be placed on questioning in order to allow the Navy Department and the President to consider the Justice Department's report, will be removed at our next session. The committee now feels it should proceed with the investigation without further hindrance."

Peterson said he had learned from R. Keith Kane, Navy Department attorney, that the report had been given Standard.

Kane explained, Peterson said, that he had been given permission of the Attorney General to send a copy of the report to the company.

Procedure Irregular

Representative Outland (D., Cal.), committee member, said he felt the company should not have been allowed to see the report before a group representing the public interest, such as the House Lands Committee, had been given a copy.

"I think the procedure was a bit irregular and would bear further questioning," Outland said.

Meanwhile, Chairman Hatch (D., N. M.) of the Senate Lands Committee, said jurisdictional problems arising from the interest of four Congressional committees in the Elk Hills investigation might be solved by appointment of a joint Senate-House committee.

This, Hatch declared, would include members of the House and Senate Naval Affairs committees and the House and Senate Public Lands committees.

Peterson, Walsh Approve Plan

Peterson and Chairman Walsh (D., Mass.) of the Senate Naval Committee said the plan had their approval. However, Peterson said his committee would continue a separate investigation because of a bill it is considering which would add additional land to the Elk Hills reservation.

The Senate Lands Committee authorized a subcommittee headed by Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) to confer with the other committees on a joint program of procedure.

The contract was canceled by Secretary of Navy Knox after Assistant Attorney General Norman M. Littell described it as "illegal and invalid." He said it gave the Standard Oil Company of California an interest in Government property (oil beneath the land).

Strike Slashed Coal Output by 20 Million Tons

75,000 Tons of Steel and $27,800,000 in Wages Also Estimated as Lost

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP).—Statisticians in the Fuel Administrator's office estimated today that the coal strikes in the last seven weeks had cut coal production more than 20,000,000 tons, and War Production Board officials figured they had resulted in a loss of from 75,000 to 100,000 tons of steel.

The estimate of coal production cuts would mean a loss of at least $27,800,000 in wages, based on the calculation of the National Coal Association that the average labor cost of producing a ton of bituminous is $1.39. Anthracite labor costs run higher, but no figure was available here.

Of the estimated lost coal production, the statisticians said, 2,000,000 tons was anthracite.

Officials of the United Mine Workers contended, however, that figures concerning lost coal production are meaningless. K. C. Adams, editor of "The United Mine Workers' Journal," said, "they don't mean anything because the men probably would not work any more days or produce any more coal throughout the year, anyhow." The industry, he declared, has experienced as much as a ninety-day strike, but on an annual basis the miners worked just as many days and produced just as much coal.

Figures to show the current position of coal stock piles are just beginning to be compiled, but Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, the Fuels Administrator, said yesterday the reserves had shrunk since his May 1 estimate that they aggregated forty-nine days' supply—78,665,000 tons.

It will be "difficult if not impossible, to build them back up to a size that will safely see us through next winter," Mr. Ickes added.

Officials would hazard no guess as to what effect the strikes will have on attainment of Mr. Ickes's goal of obtaining production of 600,000,000 tons of bituminous and 65,000,000 tons of anthracite this year. He said this quantity would be necessary to meet the nation's war-time requirements.

While the estimated loss of steel is small compared to the huge military demands, it approximates an entire month's allotment for essential civilian uses.

The end of the coal strike reinstated the W. P. B.'s drive for an increase of 1,000,000 tons in the July, August and September production of steel. Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the W. P. B., announced postponement of the campaign yesterday, just before the miners were ordered back to work, with the statement that instead of the desired increase, a prolongation of the coal strike threatened "a sharp decrease."

Today it was announced that Mr. Nelson, accompanied by the W. P. B. executive vice-chairman, Charles E. Wilson, and top officials of the W. P. B. steel division, will visit Pittsburgh about the middle of next week in connection with the drive.

JUN 24 1943

VINSON REJECTS RAIL WAGE BOOST

Eight - Cent - an - Hour Increase Barred; Overtime Plan Studied.

WASHINGTON, June 23 — (AP) The wage increase of eight cents an hour recommended for more than a million non-operating railroad workers was turned down today by Fred M. Vinson, stabilization director.

There were indications that a solution of the pay demands involved might be sought in application of time-and-a-half pay to working hours above 40 weekly. The men, now on a 48-hour week, would receive an average increase amounting to a little more than 6 cents an hour under such a plan.

President Roosevelt has indicated favor for the overtime pay for the non-operating brotherhoods, in line with the pay of other workers in interstate commerce.

Favorable reaction by the workers to such a solution was not assured. Heads of the 15 unions expressed disappointment at the time the 8 cent boost was recommended to the President by an emergency board May 26.

Spokesmen for the workers had no comment to make today but the Railroad Labor Executives association which represents the unions here will discuss the Vinson ruling at a meeting tomorrow.

Mr. Vinson directed the emergency board to reconsider its award and make a revised report to Mr. Roosevelt. Just how that was to be accomplished was not made clear immediately, since the board has been disbanded.

Coal Loss Cited

Washington, June 23 (AP)—Statisticians in the Fuel Administrator's office estimated today that the coal strikes in the last seven weaks had cut coal production more than 20,000,000 tons, and War Production Board officials figured they had resulted in a loss of from 75,000 to 100,000 tons of steel.

The estimate of coal production cuts would mean a loss of at least $27,800,000 in wages, based on the calculation of the National Coal Association that the average labor cost of producing a ton of bituminous coal is $1.39. Anthracite labor costs run higher, but no figure was available here.

U. S.-South America Wire Rates Changed

Washington, June 23 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today ordered new rates on telegraph service between the United States and South and Central America and the West Indies which, it said, would save users of such service $2,500,000 a year.

The action was taken in a proceeding against All America Cables and Radio, Inc., which is the principal handler of such messages, but will be applied, the company said, to all companies in the inter-American telegraph service.

New tariffs must be filed by August 2 and will become effective on from ten to thirty days' notice. A flat charge of 4 cents a word will be applied to cover the land-line factor on messages going beyond the communication gateway.

Treasury Prepares New Loan

Washington, June 23 (AP)—The Treasury began final preparations today for a $2,500,000,000 war-loan drive to begin Monday with conferences between Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and two bankers' committees.

ALUMINUM DEAL WITH CANADA HIT

Rep. Coffee Says U.S. Firms Are Imperilled; Says Dominion Saves Resources.

WASHINGTON, June 23 — (AP) Canada was accused today by a member of Congress of drawing on the United States for manufactured products while saving its own raw materials for use after the war.

The accusation was made by Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) of the House Rules committee during its consideration of a resolution calling for an investigation of material priorities granted by the United States to the Shipshaw aluminum project in Canada.

Rep. Coffee (D-Wash) said Canada had placed an embargo on peeler logs needed in manufacture of plywood in the Pacific northwest.

"We can't get peeler logs from Canada because of the embargo," Rep. Coffee said, "at a time when we are sending our peeler logs to all parts of the world."

Rep. Coffee introduced the resolution for the investigation. He was asked by the committee to rewrite it to have the investigation cover also the granting of priorities for other materials to foreign nations while they were denied American business men.

Financing Questioned

The investigation also would deal with the financing of the Shipshaw project. Rep. Coffee said the Defense Plant corporation, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, had made a contract advancing $68,000,000 for the Shipshaw project, to be repaid in aluminum to be delivered to this government at 15 cents a pound for domestic use and 17 cents a pound for Lend-Lease use. It called for 1,370,000 pounds of aluminum to be delivered at the end of 1945, he said, adding the price was the same as charged by the international cartel before the war and that it cost 7.2 cents a pound to manufacture the metal.

Rep. Fish (R-NY) member of the committee, said that after the war Canada will be able to "pour" aluminum into the United States at a cheap price and "destroy" the aluminum industry in this country.

SILVER PURCHASE BAN IS ELIMINATED

Clause Is Withdrawn as Conferees Compromise on Supply Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(AP) The way was cleared today for final congressional action on the $1,102,000,000 Treasury-Postoffice department supply bill when Senate and House conferees compromised their differences over free mail and silver.

The conference report, to be submitted to the House tomorrow, calls for abandonment of a House amendment prohibiting the use of any funds in the Treasury appropriation for the purchase of silver.

This action followed Senate passage last week of a bill by Senator Green (D., R. I.) under which Treasury silver wil be made available to manufacturers at 71.11 cents an ounce.

The House conferees also receded from an amendment to deprive government departments and bureaus of their free mailing privileges.

They substituted, instead, an amendment directing the Joint Committee on Reduction in Non-Essential Federal Expenditures (Byrd committee) to investigate the cost of such mail and report with recommendations no later than next Jan. 1.

GOLD MINES STAY SHUT

Washington, June 23 (A. P.).—The War Production Board said today it has decided to keep in effect its order closing non-essential gold mines. WPB said it reached the decision after careful study of the order's effect.

Gold mine operators and some members of Congress from gold mining States recently had urged WPB to set aside or modify the order, contending that it had had a ruinous effect on some gold mining communities and that it had not greatly contributed to the labor supply in other mines because of the reluctance of miners to leave their homes.

In its statement today, WPB said evidence submitted to it showed the closing order had resulted in an increase in available labor supplies and stepped up production of such critical minerals as copper, zinc and lead.

Roosevelt Signs Islands Bill

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today a bill authorizing appropriation of $8,000,000 for work relief in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands from July 1, when the Work Projects Administration expires, to Nov. 30. The President's action came shortly after the House Appropriations Committee approved a deficiency fund of $7,000,000 for work relief in the islands.

JUN 24 1943

30.24 — 5321

30.24 — 5321

Birth Control for Puerto Rico?

Fleming, FWA Head, Says Suggestion Was Made, but Doubts It Would Work.

Washington, June 23 (A. P.).—Congress was informed today by Major-Gen. Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator, that birth control had been suggested to solve economic and employment problems in Puerto Rico, but he said that he did not believe it would ever work down there.

JUN 24 1943

His statement was disclosed as a House Appropriations sub-committee stamped its O. K. on a $7,000,000 allotment — $1,000,000 less than the amount recommended by the Budget Bureau—to continue the agency's work relief in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands through November 30.

It was the largest item contained in a $36,245,360 deficiency supply bill which the full Appropriations Committee later sent to the floor of the House. Also in the bill was $2,700,000 for payment to the Republic of Panama for work on the Chorrera-Rio Hato highway.

In testifying before the committee, Gen. Fleming did not say who had suggested birth control as a solution to the island's problems, and emphasized that he was not advocating it. His testimony drew a protest from Representative Rabaut (D.-Mich.), father of nine children.

"The thing that struck me," said Mr. Rabaut, a member of the committee, "was the reference of Gen. Fleming to the population. I noticed that his remarks were made as the suggestions of others and not as his own.

Calls Advocates Saboteurs.

"It is a sad commentary that birth control might be the 'out' in that country. Real students of the world over are beginning to appreciate the effect that birth control had in the fall of France. I would be pretty much a coward if I did not talk about it because I happen to be the father of nine children. . . ."

He told his colleagues on the committee that "personally" he regarded birth control advocates "as the No. 1 saboteurs of the man power problem of our own nation," and added:

"We have a shortage on every hand, and God Almighty has been very good to this nation. We certainly could take care of many more people than we ordinarily provide for, and in this war effort we are finding our war economy growing to great heights because of our lend-lease program and our looking after the people of the world.

"I hope that the vicious practice will never be encouraged in these islands. It is a sad commentary upon a nation as great as ours that some want to stop others coming into the world because we cannot find something to do about it with our superintelligence."

Labor Migration Suggested.

Gen. Fleming also testified that migration of labor out of Puerto Rico had been proposed as a solution to the island's unemployment problems, but he added "that has not seemed to work very well. Nobody seems to want them very much."

"It seems to me," the administrator asserted, "that probably the final solution is the establishment of industries there, if that can be done."

In its report, the sub-committee declared: "Unless some temporary expedient is continued in effect, the work-relief program operated by the former Works Project Administration will cease on June 30 and widespread suffering and greater unemployment in the islands will follow."

WILHELMINA AT HYDE PARK

Queen Of The Netherlands Guest Of Roosevelts Last Sunday

Accompanied By Foreign Minister And Her Principal Secretary

JUN 24 1943

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, June 23—President Roosevelt and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, for the second time in the war, met officially over the week end at Mr. Roosevelt's home at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Stephen Early, Presidential secretary, who announced the Queen's visit today, said he had no reason to believe it was anything more than "social."

Accompanied By Van Kleffens

Nevertheless, Wilhelmina was accompanied by Dr. Eelco van Kleffens, the Netherlands Foreign Minister, and by her chief secretary, George van Tets, and there was ample opportunity in the seclusion of the Roosevelt mansion on the banks of the Hudson for a discussion of United Nations war strategy and the decisions made when Prime Minister Churchill of England came to Washington last month.

The Dutch ruler went to Hyde Park from Ottawa, Can., where she has been visiting her daughter, and returned there after seeing the Chief Executive.

White House Announcement

The White House announcement of the visit said merely:

"The President and Mrs. Roosevelt spent last Sunday at Hyde Park. They had as their guest her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands, who has returned to Ottawa. The Queen was accompanied by Dr. Eelco van Kleffens, Foreign Minister of the Netherlands, and George van Tets, her Majesty's principal secretary."

Wilhelmina spent three days in the Capital last August. She was Mr. Roosevelt's guest at a state dinner at the White House, received from him a lend-lease anti-submarine patrol boat for the Royal Dutch Navy, and decorated several American officers in a ceremony at the Netherlands Embassy.

Queen Wilhelmina addressed Congress, described her country's war effort, and said the war aims of her people were "to resume our place as an independent nation," and win assurances that no nation may attack another successfully.

Bazooka Makes Single Soldier Tank's Master

Rocket Gun Punctures Any Armor, Another Can Fire Shell 11 Miles Into Sky

AKRON, Ohio, June 23 (AP).—The scope of American industry's development of new secret weapons is so huge that two years hence arms will only slightly resemble those in use now, the chief of the Ordnance Department's technical division declared today.

Among them, Major General C. M. Barnes said, is a 4.7-inch gun that fires a shell up to 60,000 feet in altitude, more than eleven miles, and is extremely effective against aircraft.

"If the war lasts two more years, the weapons then in use will only slightly resemble those used at the present time," he told scientists dedicating the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's new research laboratory. "Industry is doing a magnificent job of creating new devices."

The bazooka, America's new rocket gun, already has scores of new military uses. The secret of the bazooka is its two-and-a-half-pound shell, containing an undisclosed explosive more powerful than TNT. The explosion blows a hole in a tank's armor and through this hole blasts a column of fire so intense it fills the interior and breaks open the tank's ammunition, setting the explosives on fire.

The general, who saw much of the North African territory, said he has seen scores of tanks knocked out by this shell, which will destroy Germany's heavy tank, the Mark VI.

Soldiers "Love This Weapon"

"Our soldiers," he said, "love this new weapon. It gives them a chance to use their Yankee ingenuity. They have found hundreds of uses we never thought of.

"They use it against machine-gun nests protected by massed sand bags. The shell tosses bags up into the air, its fire goes through the breach, destroys the gun and kills the gunner."

General Barnes said the bazooka for the first time gives the individual soldier a chance to defeat the heaviest tank. Before that he was helpless. The general has seen a bazooka shoot 200 yards effectively. It is a 3½-foot long tube with the gunner holding it like a log resting on his shoulder. Considerable practice is required.

He said a chapter in the El Alamein battle unknown to the public is how General Montgomery used the then-new General Sherman tanks to trick Rommel. American industry, General Barnes explained, in complete secrecy switched from the General Grants to make this improved tank, with a longer-barreled, more powerful gun, moved up into the turret.

The Germans didn't know this tank was arriving in Egypt. American authorities diverted the new tanks in some cases from our own forces to supply Montgomery.

Montgomery set up a huge park for ordinary trucks, close to the front lines. The Germans photographed it and satisfied themselves the park contained only trucks. Then for a week or more, secretly at night, Montgomery moved Shermans into the park, each camouflaged to resemble a truck.

After the massed artillery break in the German lines, Rommel sent his entire tank force around the British flanks to counter-attack. The force moved directly to the truck park as Montgomery had anticipated. Montgomery let the entire German force get right up to the park, and then the Shermans threw off their nets and opened fire. In a few minutes, General Barnes said, half of Rommel's tanks were destroyed, and he began his long retreat.

Tailless Planes Forecast

AKRON, Ohio, June 23 (UP).—Tailless airplanes equipped with eight engines producing 3,000 horsepower were predicted today for the post-war world by J. C. Hunsaker, chairman of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Hunsaker was one of a number of speakers at the ceremony marking the opening of the new $1,325,000 research laboratory of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

Asserting he was limited by war restrictions from revealing all the possibilities of post-war aviation, Mr. Hunsaker said the public should restrain its expectations on the size of airplanes in the future.

While larger landing fields now are available, he said, development of landing gear will limit the size of planes. It is, however, a different situation as to flying boats, he said.

"We already have in general use 2,000-horsepower engines and four of them have so far been proved practical, and six and even eight may prove practical for a flying boat operating from sheltered water."

3 Buildings Burned At Jap Detention Camp

Santa Fe, N. M., June 23 (AP)—Three buildings and two small sheds were destroyed today by fire which swept the Japanese alien detention center near Santa Fe.

Lloyd H. Jensen, of the United States Immigration Service, said the loss was confined to a building housing the mess hall and kitchen, two small recreational buildings and two sheds.

Fire broke out in the kitchen early today. "We don't feel there was anything suspicious about it," Jensen said.

Japanese internees helped fight the blaze, Jensen said.

President Quezon May Go To Saranac Lake

Saranac Lake, N. Y., June 23 (AP). President Manuel Quezon, of the Philippine Islands, is tentatively scheduled to come to Saranac Lake for treatment, Dr. Francis B. Trudeau, internationally known tuberculosis specialist, disclosed today.

He said if President Quezon came it would be in the "fairly near future." President Quezon's health, never robust, has been reported poor since his escape from Japanese forces in the Philippines after the fall of Bataan last year.

Way Sought To Save Europe's Jewish People

New York, June 23 (AP) — The "emergency conference to save the Jews of Europe" announced today a conference would be held here July 6 through July 11 to seek "a comprehensive program for the salvation of European Jewry."

Former President Herbert Hoover, Bishop Henry St. George Tucker, presiding bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States; United States Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, and other leaders will participate in panel discussions.

"Definitive activity to be undertaken" will be announced at the close of the conference, the announcement said, and "machinery" will be set up to carry out its provisions.

Quezon May Go to Saranac

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., June 23 (AP).—President Manuel Quezon of the Philippine Islands is tentatively scheduled to come to Saranac Lake for treatment, Dr. Francis B. Trudeau, internationally known tuberculosis specialist, disclosed today. He said if President Quezon came it would be in the "fairly near future." President Quezon's health, never robust, has been reported poor since his escape from Japanese forces in the Philippines after the fall of Bataan last year.

SCENTS JAP TRICK

Buffalo, June 23 (A. P.).—The militarists who rule Japan "are perfectly capable of adopting jiu-jitsu tactics" to avert effects of defeat, believes Joseph C. Grew, former United States Ambassador to Japan.

"In jiu-jitsu you pretend to drop your guard, you know, and make the other fellow throw himself," he asserted yesterday in an interview with the Buffalo Courier-Express.

"When they know they are going to be beaten, the Japanese may call in a liberal premier, profess friendship for the United States, promise to relinquish their conquests and call their troops home—and try to negotiate a half-baked peace which would mean that the next generation of Americans would have to fight them about 1970," Mr. Grew declared.

JUN 24 1943

JUN 24 1943

Gov. Maw of Utah Denounces Federal Bureaus as Menace

Tells Convention They Constitute Greatest Power to Circumvent Public—Wants States to Run Federal Aid.

JUN 24 1943

Columbus, Ohio, June 23 (A. P.).—Gov. Herbert B. Maw (D.-Utah) today urged the nation's Governors to map a finish fight against the "greatest lobbying power in Washington—the Federal bureaus."

Administration of Federal aid programs must be wrested from these non-political agencies and placed in the hands of the State governments after the war to maintain the sovereignty of the people Gov. Maw asserted in an address prepared for the closing session of the thirty-fifth annual governors' conference.

"I am talking to a group of men and women who know the stern fact that the States can never again be brought into their own until the greatest lobbying power in Washington—the Federal bureaus—have been overcome" he declared.

"The problem is not a political one" he added. "It is bigger than politics, for it is difficult to think that either political party will take a chance on antagonizing three million Federal employees and the five or ten voters that each of them can influence by making a political issue of the subject.

Stresses Governors' Strength.

"If anything is to be done, we must do it. Fortunately, the combined strength of the forty-eight governors, equally divided between the two major political parties and supported by a public who will sustain us if we will fight for them, is far greater than the combined power of all the Federal bureaus in Washington."

Gov. Maw urged the governors to promote a program under which Congress would designate governors of several States instead of Washington bureaus to carry out Federal road building, welfare, public work, unemployment and other Federal aid projects.

This plan could be carried out with much more public approval and with far greater economy than under the bureau plan, and it must be put into effect to prevent increased bureaucratic control after the war, he asserted.

Sees Public Influence Less.

"The handwriting is on the wall," he said. "The bureaus are making extensive plans for the post-war period. When the peace comes they will be all set to take over public services and regulate business on a far greater scale than ever thought possible a few years ago."

Placing the bureaus under civil service removed them from the control of elected officials and the voters, Gov. Maw contended.

"Today the bureaus are non-political," he asserted. "They owe their allegiance to no party. They are affected by no elections. They are not controlled by the will of the public. Yet they are one of the strongest single political influences in the nation, throwing the weight of their huge voting power not necessarily in support of those candidates of either party, but in support of those who will sustain them in their bureaucratic security and will not disrupt their organizations."

Fiscal Frugality Urged.

The conference considered meanwhile recommendations of a special interstate committtee to pursue frugal fiscal policies until the war's end and to formulate plans to prevent unemployment during the transition to a peacetime economy.

The committee, including members from each section of the nation, reported that delegates to regional meetings agreed that the major postwar problem is full employment of all who want to work, and said that its solutions would require the closest co-operation on the part of Government. It added:

"Government has a three-fold duty with respect to the post-war period: To support and implement the efforts of private industry to supply employment for all who are able and willing to work; to supplement the job-creating efforts of private enterprise through worthwhile public works when necessary, and to develop and supply such public facilities and services as may be needed to protect and improve our American standard of living."

The committee said, however, that until victory is won, the first obligation of the States must be to lend every possible assistance to the war effort.

It suggested a policy of surplus financing based on the maintenance of taxes at their pre-war level to minimize inflation and put State and local governments in a position to meet post-war obligations.

Mass Prosecution Of 500 Riot Cases Is Pushed At Detroit

Governor Kelly And Mayor Jeffries Announce Plan, Meanwhile, To Hunt Out "Real Inciters"

Detroit, June 23 (AP)—After keeping a watch over production for more than four hours, Federal troops were withdrawn tonight from the aircraft division of the Ford Motor Company's Rouge plant where they had been stationed as a precautionary measure.

A company spokesman said the troops had not been requested, but were moved in "after certain disturbances had occurred in the plant and in anticipation of further disturbances."

JUN 24 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Detroit, June 23—Mass prosecution of 500 misdemeanor and felony cases proceeded as Gov. Harry F. Kelly and Mayor Edward J. Jeffries announced they planned to hunt out the "real inciters and assaulters" of Monday's race rioting, which took a toll of 29 dead and more than 700 injured.

As the first move to bring punishment to those guilty, Governor Kelly named an investigating committee to determine as far as possible the underlying causes for the riots and to fix the blame on subversive elements if it belongs there.

"It will depend to some extent on what that committee reports whether it will be advisable to call a grand jury," Kelly said.

Committee Members

The committee consists of Herbert J. Rushton, States Attorney General; Oscar C. Olander, Michigan State Police Commissioner; William E. Dowling, Wayne County Prosecutor, and John H. Witherspoon, Detroit Police Commissioner.

In addition, Kelly asked General Guthner to name a member of his staff to work with the committee.

The Governor's action followed a day-long series of conferences with State, Federal and Detroit authorities.

"We have the situation under control," Kelly said. "Our next step is to find out who the guilty ones are, to punish them and to see that things of this kind do not happen again in the State of Michigan."

Ninety-day sentences were meted out by Judge John P. Scallen to the first of the defendants—both Negro and white—in Recorder's Court, bringing from Judge Scallen the comment that "this court makes no distinction of color."

Meanwhile, peace prevailed under 3,800 army troops and only relatively minor disturbances had been reported since the soldiers moved in Monday at midnight. Work in war-busy factories again approached normal.

Curfew Continues

Taverns and bars remained closed and a ban on sale of liquor had not been lifted, but restriction on public assembly was eased.

A 10 P. M. general curfew continued in effect tonight.

Brig. Gen. William E. Gunther, of the Sixth Service Command, in charge of troops stationed at strategic points throughout the troubled area, said the troops would remain on duty at least until the end of the week.

Federal Prosecution

Federal prosecution of some offenders in the rioting was indicated in Governor Kelly's announcement that John S. Bugas, Detroit chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was interviewing prisoners and aiding in sorting out those against whom the most serious charges would be brought.

Of the more than 1,300 persons arrested since the first outbreak of violence Sunday night, 929 remained in custody when court sessions opened today, said Paul H. Wencel, chief of city detectives. Of those, twenty-two were women and approximately eighty-five per cent. Negroes.

MINERS VOTING TO STAY OUT

JUN 24 1943

11,850 In 14 District 2 (Pa.) Locals Reject Policy Board's Return Order

[By the Associated Press]

Pittsburgh, June 23—The back-to-work movement of the nation's striking 521,000 miners proceeded at a slow pace tonight, as many locals of the United Mine Workers with thousands of members voted flatly against any resumption of operations without a union contract.

The first four locals reporting a vote in the Johnstown-Altoona District 2 of the union—Windber, St. Michael, Barnesboro and Central City—voted against work. The four have 3,500 members. Leaders said 500 attended the meeting at Central City and only two voted to go to work, while seven voted in favor of work at St. Michael, which has 550 members.

Confusion Reported

Uniontown reported great confusion existing in the Connellsville coke region, heart of the rich coking-coal area and center of the steel company-owned "captive" mines.

The Colonial 4 local of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, with 1,400 members, voted against working and when the Colonial 3 local of the same company, 800 members, voted to work, the Colonial 4 group announced it would picket the Colonial 3 mine tomorrow morning.

Organizer Challenged

Organizer John Kramrich, of Uniontown District 4, went to the Colonial 4 group and asked that they reconsider and go to work.

"Who are we working for, anyway?" a heckler greeted him. "I say what's the use of paying dues to John L. Lewis when we are working for the Government?"

The lateness in receiving telegrams from Washington caused a

MINERS' LOCALS REJECTING RETURN

11,850 In 14 District 2 (Pa.) Locals Reject Policy Board's Order

(Continued from Page 1)

delay in action by various locals. Many locals complained they "didn't understand" the wording of the telegrams, which instructed the men to return to work (at no given date) under Secretary Ickes, until midnight Sunday, October 31.

Operations Spotty

Operations today were very spotty. The big test is expected tomorrow morning when all locals will have had time to vote on whether to end their third walkout in seven weeks.

The Frick Coke Company, subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, reported it mined about 7,000 tons of coal today, 4,000 in Pennsylvania, where the daily output normally is around 50,000 tons. So far as could be determined, no other company had as good a relative production.

10 Vote Against Return

Ten other locals in District 2, Pennsylvania with 8,350 members all agreed not to return to work. They were at Scalp Level, Nanty-Glo, Colver, Revloc, Lilly, Johnstown, Elmora, Beaverdale, Tire Hill and South Fork. Locals at St. Benedict and Marsteller, with 900 members, agreed to work.

The Pittsburgh Coal Company, second largest commercial soft-coal producer with sixteen mines and approximately 7,000 men, reported two mines worked today with about one hundred men. These workers were surprised when they called for their bi-monthly statements of pay when they were handed $50, representing the new vacation pay—an increase of $25 over last year's amount as ordered by Ickes and the War Labor Board.

Mrs. Roosevelt Makes Her Debut As Actress

New York, June 23 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has made her debut as an actress, playing the role of Myrna Loy on an improvised stage at the President's Hyde Park home.

This was disclosed today by Producer John Golden who, last Saturday took "The Army Play By Play," the collection of one-act plays written and acted by soldiers, to Hyde Park where they were enacted before the President, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury, and other notables.

In one of the plays, "Button Your Lip," a draftee's dream that Myrna Loy came to see him comes true, but the movie actress, who took the role when the plays appeared June 14 on Broadway, was ill and unable to go to Hyde Park.

Golden said Mrs. Roosevelt volunteered to take the actress' role and at the climax of the play entered with the line:

"Myrna Loy can't be here. Can't I take her place?"

Then the curtain descended, Golden said, amid cheers and applause.

JUN 24 1943

30.24 - 5323

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO).

- - -

JUN 24 1943

BY MAX HILL

THE DAY THE AXIS RADIO TOLD US THERE WOULD BE AN INVASION OF EUROPE--JUNE 22ND--HAS PASSED WITHOUT ANY SIGN OF ACTIVITY ON THE PART OF ALLIED FORCES.

THERE WAS ON THAT DAY, HOWEVER, ONE DRAMATIC CLUE TO EVENTS TO COME. THE BRITISH BROADCASTING COMPANY IN A PROGRAM BEAMED TO FRANCE SAID THE FOLLOWING:

"BE READY!"

THE FRENCH WERE TOLD EIGHT MONTHS AGO THAT THE ALLIES WOULD LET THEM KNOW OF INVASION IN TIME FOR THEM TO GIVE EVERY AID POSSIBLE. THE BROADCAST, WHICH WAS DESCRIBED AS SPONSORED BY THE INTER-ALLIED HIGH COMMAND, URGED THE FRENCH TO BE PREPARED AND READY TO ACT AT ANY MOMENT HENCEFORTH.

NOW THIS MAY BE JUST ANOTHER PHASE OF OUR EXCELLENT CAMPAIGN TO CONFUSE THE NAZIS, BUT IT WILL BE A BITTER BLOW TO FRENCH MORALE SHOULD IT BE ANOTHER RUSE.

IT IS OBVIOUS THAT IN SOME PARTS OF FRANCE THE INHABITANTS WOULD WELCOME ALLIED INVADERS AND DO ALL POSSIBLE TO ASSIST THEM. THE GERMANS ARE AWARE OF THIS, TOO, AND THEY KNOW ALSO THAT THIS AREA IS MORE VULNERABLE THAN OTHER PARTS OF EUROPE.

IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT, IF NOT IMPOSSIBLE, FOR INSTANCE, TO SEND AN INVASION FORCE THROUGH HOLLAND OR BELGIUM BECAUSE OF THE TYPE OF COASTLINE ENCOUNTERED THERE.

I TALKED RECENTLY WITH A DUTCH LIEUTENANT WHO HELPED SET UP SOME OF THE ORIGINAL DEFENSES THERE. IN HIS OPINION, THE DUTCH COASTLINE WILL BE DIFFICULT TO DEFEND, BUT EVEN MORE DIFFICULT TO ATTACK.

FIRST OF ALL, THE SAND DUNES WILL NOT SUPPORT HEAVY GUN BASES. BUT THE SEA IS SO SHALLOW THAT A MAN CAN WALK TWO MILES OUT FROM SHORE IN MOST PLACES WITHOUT ENCOUNTERING WATER DEEPER THAN HIS SHOULDERS. THAT WOULD MAKE HIM A PERFECT TARGET FOR THE NAZIS.

THE BBC BROADCAST WAS THE MOST SPECIFIC REFERENCE TO A PROBABLE INVASION POINT WHICH HAS BEEN MADE TO DATE.

JUN 24 1943

IN WASHINGTON, SECRETARY OF THE NAVY FRANK KNOX TOLD A PRESS CONFERENCE, "PREPARATIONS FOR THE [redacted] OUR ATTACK ON EUROPE ARE GOING FORWARD RIGHT ALONG." HE ADDED HE COULD NOT SPEAK IN SPECIFIC TERMS ABOUT THE TIME AND PLACE.

HIS REMARKS WERE MADE IN RESPONSE TO AN INQUIRY ABOUT THE RUSSIAN COMMUNIQUE WHICH MOSCOW BROADCAST ON THE SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF THE RUSSO-GERMAN WAR. THE RUSSIANS ASKED BLUNTLY FOR A SECOND FRONT, AND SAID VICTORY WAS IMPOSSIBLE WITHOUT IT.

THERE ARE SEVERAL WAYS TO VIEW THIS DEVELOPMENT. COULD IT BE THAT THE RUSSIANS FEAR--OR KNOW--THERE WILL BE NO SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE THIS YEAR, AND ARE PUTTING THEIR PROTEST ON THE RECORD BOOKS IMMEDIATELY?

IF SO, THE REMARKS OF SECRETARY KNOX MUST HAVE REASSURED THEM, AND HE ALSO ADMITTED INDIRECTLY THAT HE COULD UNDERSTAND WHY THE RUSSIANS DIDN'T WANT TO BECOME INVOLVED WITH THE JAPANESE AT THIS TIME.

JUN 24 1943 JUN 24 1943

THERE HAS BEEN MUCH CRITICISM, MOST OF IT UNWARRANTED, ABOUT RUSSIA' ATTITUDE IN THE FAR EAST. SECRETARY KNOX MADE IT CLEAR THAT AT LEAST THE NAVY DOES NOT HOLD THIS AGAINST THE SOVIETS. BUT THE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF WHAT HE SAID ON THIS SUBJECT WAS THIS:

"RUSSIA DOESN'T WANT AN INVOLVEMENT OUT THERE WHILE SHE HAS THE GERMAN ENEMY ENGAGED ON THE WEST X X X."

WHILE THE SECRETARY DIDN'T SAY IN SO MANY WORDS THAT WE HAVE AN UNDERSTANDING WITH RUSSIA ABOUT THE WAR IN THE PACIFIC AFTER THE EUROPEAN CONFLICT IS OVER, IT COULD EASILY BE INFERRED FROM THAT ONE REMARK.

JUN 24 1943

ONLY A FEW HOURS AGO THERE WAS AN ADDED INDICATION OF HOW CLOSELY WE ARE WORKING WITH OUR RUSSIAN ALLIES. CAPTAIN EDDIE RICKENBACKER HAS BEEN IN MOSCOW SINCE SUNDAY AS A SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF SECRETARY OF WAR HENRY L.STIMSON.

AND IN THE KREMLIN, ADMIRAL WILLIAM H.STANDLEY, OUR AMBASSADOR, PRESENTED TO FOREIGN COMMISSAR MOLOTOFF SIXTY MEDALS FOR COMBAT SERVICE TO RUSSIAN NAVAL AND ARMY HEROES. THAT WAS NO EMPTY GESTURE ON OUR PART, AND THE RUSSIANS REALIZE IT.

LONDON, JUNE 23-(AP)-THE BERLIN RADIO BROADCAST A DNB DISPATCH FROM ANKARA TODAY SAYING THAT A TURKISH MILITARY MISSION LED BY COLONEL GENERAL TOYDEMIR HAD LEFT FOR GERMANY TO VISIT THE WAR FRONTS. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS RECORDED THE BROADCAST.

LONDON, JUNE 23-(AP)-PAUL PATTERSON, PRESIDENT OF THE BALTIMORE SUN, AND MARK S.WATSON, MILITARY ANALYST FOR THE SUN PAPERS, HAVE ARRIVED IN BRITAIN FOR A STUDY OF THE CURRENT WAR SITUATION.

"WE CAME TO HAVE A FIRST HAND LOOK AT THE DEVELOPMENT OF OPERATIONS," SAID PATTERSON, WHO IS PAYING HIS SECOND WARTIME VISIT TO ENGLAND. HE PREVIOUSLY WAS HERE IN THE SUMMER OF 1941.

HE AND WATSON, WHO IS MAKING HIS FIRST TRIP TO THIS WAR THEATER, PLAN TO MEET AND TALK WITH HIGH MILITARY AND POLITICAL OFFICIALS, BOTH BRITISH AND AMERICAN. PATTERSON SAID HE WOULD REMAIN UNTIL SOME TIME IN AUGUST.

JUN 24 1943

LONDON, THURSDAY JUNE 24-(AP)-A STOCKHOLM DISPATCH TO THE DAILY EXPRESS TODAY SAID THAT SPECIAL NAZI GESTAPO DETACHMENTS, STRENGTHENED WITH PICKED TROOPS, HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED TO GUARD DUTY AT NORWEGIAN DAMS WHICH GERMANS EXPECT MAY SOON BE TARGETS FOR RAF BOMBERS.

THE DISPATCH SAID THAT THE ENTIRE REGION AROUND THE MOESWANS DAM IN THE SOUTHERN PART OF THE HARDANGERVIDDA DISTRICT HAS BEEN CLOSED AND SURROUNDED WITH BARBED WIRE. NORWEGIANS LIVING IN THE AREA HAVE BEEN ORDERED TO MOVE, THE EXPRESS SAID.

LONDON, JUNE 23-(AP)-A PROJECT FOR THE REMOVAL OF A "CONSIDERABLE NUMBER" OF CHILDREN FROM GREECE TO GREAT BRITAIN HAD TO BE ABANDONED BECAUSE THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT REFUSED TO GIVE ITS CONSENT, FOREIGN SECRETARY ANTHONY EDEN DISCLOSED IN COMMONS TODAY.

ANOTHER BRITISH SUGGESTION THAT THE CHILDREN OF THE IMPOVERISHED COUNTRY BE TRANSPORTED TO EGYPT ALSO FAILED BECAUSE THE ITALIANS WOULD NOT GRANT SAFE CONDUCT TO A SHIP, HE SAID.

BY GLADWIN HILL

A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, JUNE 23-(AP)-SOME OF THE FIRST AMERICAN BOMBS THAT HIT HULS YESTERDAY WERE ADDRESSED "TO ADOLF," EXPRESSLY FROM THE BOYS IN THE PRESSROOM OF

JUN 24 1943

30.24- 5325

30.24 — 5325

THE LOS ANGELES HERALD AND EXPRESS, JUST AS CHARLIE DUNHAM PROMISED THEM LAST APRIL.

THE LEAD BOMBARDIER OF THE SECOND GROUP OF FLYING FORTRESSES WHICH ATTACKED A SYNTHETIC RUBBER FACTORY IN HULS WAS LIEUT. CHARLES DUNHAM, 27, OF COMPTON,CALIF., AND A MEMBER OF THE HERALD AND EXPRESS PRESSROOM GANG FOR THREE YEARS BEFORE HE WENT INTO THE ARMY. BEFORE THAT HE WAS A PRESSROOM WORKER ON THE LOS ANGELES EXAMINER.

JUN 24 1943

DUNHAM ENLISTED IN THE AIR FORCE JUST AFTER PEARL HARBOR AND WHEN ONE OF HIS FRIENDS IN TRAINING AT THE DAVIS-MONTHAN FIELD AT TUCSON,ARIZ. NAMED "RED" CLARK--DUNHAM DOESN'T REMEMBER WHERE HE CAME FROM--BECAME A BOMBARDIER AND WENT TO THE SOUTH PACIFIC AND WAS KILLED, DUNHAM RESOLVED TO BECOME A BOMBARDIER BY WAY OF AVENGING HIM.

THIS SPRING HE PROMISED HIS OLD FRIENDS ON THE HERALD AND EXPRESS THAT HE WOULD DROP A FEW HIGH EXPLOSIVES ON HITLER FOR THEM.

SO YESTERDAY, WHEN ON HIS THIRD RAID, HE GOT THE RARE OPPORTUNITY TO BE THE PRINCIPAL BOMBARDIER FOR HIS GROUP. HE DULY LABELLED A HALF DOZEN PROJECTILES IN HIS FORTRESS PAPPY "TO ADOLF, FROM THE BOYS IN HERALD (CORRECT) PRESSROOM."

AS THE FORMATION OF FORTRESSES WHEELED TOWARD HOME HE SAW A "COLUMN OF BIG BLACK BILLOWY SMOKE JUST ROLLING UP" AND TODAY HE CHUCKLED, "SO YOU CAN TELL THE BOYS I DID WHAT I SAID I WOULD DO."

DUNHAM COMES FROM A DYNASTY OF LOS ANGELES PRINTERS. BOTH HIS FATHER AND GRANDFATHER WERE VETERAN LOS ANGELES STEREOTYPERS. GRANDFATHER THOMAS AUTER RETIRED ONLY TWO YEARS AGO FROM THE EXAMINER'S PRESSROOM. HIS FATHER, EARL DUNHAM, WHOM AUTER BROKE INTO THE PRINTING BUSINESS AT THE AGE OF 16, IS SUPERINTENDENT OF THE COMPTON PRINTING COMPANY IN LOS ANGELES.

DUNHAM GRADUATED IN 1933 FROM THE COMPTON JUNIOR COLLEGE, WHERE HE WAS A TRACK AND BASKETBALL ATHLETE. HIS WIFE, THE FORMER FRANCES NORFLEET, OF INDEPENDENCE, MO., IS A TELEPHONE OPERATOR IN COMPTON.

BY LEO BRANHAN

JUN 24 1943

A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 23-(AP)-SERGT. BENJAMIN (GABBY) KAPLAN, 30, OF CAMDEN, N.J. WAIST GUNNER ON THE FLYING FORTRESS LADY LUCK, WORE A NON-REGULATION BELT WITH A BIG, FANCY BUCKLE WHEN HIS BOMBER RAIDED FRANCE RECENTLY.

THE BUCKLE NOW IS KAPLAN'S MOST TREASURED POSSESSION. IT PROBABLY SAVED HIS LIFE BY STOPPING AN ENEMY SHELL FRAGMENT FROM TEARING INTO HIS STOMACH.

"RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF A HEATED ARGUMENT WITH A FLOCK OF JERRIES I FELT SOMETHING HIT ME," KAPLAN RELATED. "I WAS PRETTY BUSY AT THE TIME AND DIDN'T THINK ANY MORE ABOUT IT UNTIL I REMOVED MY FLYING SUIT AFTER WE GOT BACK.

"A SHELL FRAGMENT FELL OUT OF MY CLOTHES. IT HAD RIPPED THROUGH MY LIFE JACKET AND TORN THE HOOKS OFF MY PARACHUTE. THE BELT BUCKLE WAS BADLY BENT, BUT IT HAD STOPPED THE FRAGMENT. THE DOLLAR I SPENT ON THAT BUCKLE WAS THE BEST INVESTMENT I EVER MADE."

THE LADY LUCK, PILOTED BY CAPT.ARTHUR J.HEBERT OF CLOQUET, MINN., WAS SEVERELY DAMAGED IN THE RAID. ONE ENGINE WAS SHOT OUT OF COMMISSION, ANOTHER

JUN 24 1943

COMMISSION, ANOTHER CAUGHT ON FIRE AND A THIRD WAS IDLE BECAUSE OF DAMAGE.

THREE TIMES THE CREW PREPARED FOR A WATER LANDING IN THE CHANNEL, BUT HEBERT NURSED THE LIMPING FORTRESS BACK TO THE ENGLISH COAST.

LONDON, JUNE 23-(AP)-THIRTEEN MEMBERS OF A U.S. 8TH AIR FORCE PHOTOGRAPHIC RECONNAISSANCE UNIT WHO HAVE THE LONELY AND DANGEROUS JOB OF SPYING ON THE ENEMY FROM THE AIR WERE DECORATED RECENTLY BY MAJ.GEN.IRA C.EAKER FOR MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT IN COMPLETING FIVE OR MORE OPERATIONAL MISSIONS OVER EUROPE.

THE UNIT, COMMANDED BY LIEUT.COL.JAMES G.HALL OF FORT WORTH, TEX., HAS PHOTOGRAPHED HUNDREDS OF SQUARE MILES OF ENEMY TERRITORY AND BROUGHT BACK PRICELESS FILM ASSESSING BOMB DAMAGE AND REVEALING VITAL INFORMATION FOR FUTURE RAIDS.

JUN 24 1943

FLYING LIGHTNING FIGHTER PLANES, THE AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHERS RELY ON SPEED AND VIGILANCE TO AVOID ENEMY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE AND FIGHTERS.

THOSE BESIDES HALL RECEIVING THE AIR MEDAL WERE CAPTAINS JAMES S.WRIGHT, CLEVELAND, O.; ROBERT C.BROGAN, GLEN OLDEN, PA.; VERNON N.LUBER, MARSHFIELD, WIS.; RAY C.MITCHELL, LINCOLN, NEB.; HERSHELL E.PARSONS, ST.CHARLES, VA.; AND FIRST LIEUTENANTS RAYMOND E.BECKLEY, BELVIDERE, ILL.; ROBERT C.KINSELL, WATERLOO, IA.; THOMAS B.O'BANNON, PHILADELPHIA, PA.; GEORGE F.OWEN, REDSTONE, MONT.; JOHN W.SCHAFFER, MORGANTOWN, W.VA.; HOWARD R.NIELSEN, YANKTON, S.D., AND WALTER D. SHADE, WAYNESFIELD, O.

LONDON, JUNE 23-(AP)-PRECISION BOMBING OF THE HIGHEST ORDER FEATURED YESTERDAY'S FLYING FORTRESS RAID ON HULS, WHERE THE SECOND LARGEST SYNTHETIC RUBBER FACTORY IN AXIS EUROPE WAS SET AFLAME DESPITE INTENSE FIGHTER OPPOSITION, PARTICIPANTS SAID TODAY.

COL.FREDERICK W.CASTLE OF 529 EAST 85TH ST., NEW YORK CITY, COMMANDING OFFICER OF ONE OF THE GROUPS, WHO FLEW TO HULS AS AN OBSERVER IN THE LEAD SHIP THUMBERBUG, SAID THE MISSION WAS A "HUGE SUCCESS."

FIRST LIEUT.FLEM JENKINS, OF SAN ANTONIO, TEX., A BOMBARDIER SAID:

JUN 24 1943

"I NEVER SAW ANY BOMBING LIKE IT. EVERYTHING WE HAD WENT INTO THE TARGET."

MAJOR WILLIAM READY, OF KANSAS CITY, MO., WHO WAS A MEMBER OF THE CREW OF DRY RUN SAID, "WE WERE UNDER ATTACK CONSTANTLY BOTH BY FIGHTERS AND FLAK ALL THE WAY OVER GERMANY, BUT OUR BOMBERS DID AN ACCURATE JOB."

STAFF SERGEANT ALFRED O.NADHOLZ OF CONWAY, ARK., WAIST-GUNNER ON YANKEE QUEEN, VERIFIED READY'S ESTIMATE OF THE ENEMY'S FIGHTER STRENGTH. HE SAID THERE WAS PLENTY OF FIGHTER OPPOSITION AND "THEY KEPT COMING IN UNDER AND OVER THE WING, BUT FEW GOT NEAR ENOUGH TO BE TROUBLESOME."

FIRST LIEUT.JOHN W.SANDERS OF ABILENE, TEX., SAID SOME OF THE NAZI PILOTS APPEARED TO BE SHY. "THERE WERE ABOUT 50 OR 75 AROUND MY GROUP BUT THEY JUST WOULDN'T COME IN AND MIX, EXCEPT FOR A VERY FEW."

June 23 C HAWKINS

BERN--FIRST (ADD GERMAN) X X X AND TAVERNS."

THE GERMAN PRESS GENERALLY BEGAN TO ACKNOWLEDGE THE ATTACKS WERE "TERROR RAIDS." ONE BERLIN DISPATCH NOTED SIGNIFICANTLY THAT THE AIR WAR "CLOSELY FOLLOWS THE AREAS OF THE REICH NOT THEMSELVES

JUN 24 1943

30.24 - 5329

30.24—5327

THREATENED, WITH THE PRIMARY CONCERN OF THE ALLIES APPARENTLY BEING THE EFFECT OF THE RAIDS AND SECONDLY THE EFFECTIVENESS OF GERMANY'S DEFENSE."

THE CORRESPONDENT ADDED THAT WHILE THE NEWSPAPERS IN BOMBED CITIES DAILY GAVE OUT SOME DETAILS, ADDITIONAL DETAILS WERE "ALSO KNOWN THROUGH PEOPLE LEAVING THE BOMBED AREAS."

ITALY TOO REFLECTED A GROWING REALIZATION OF THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE ALLIED AIR ARM.

JUN 24 1943

MANY ALLIED OBSERVERS IN SWITZERLAND BELIEVED THE ALLIED AIR OFFENSIVE MAY BE THE "SECOND FRONT" FOR A CONSIDERABLE TIME. IF THAT IS THE ALLIED INTENTION, ITS EFFECT HAS BEEN DEMONSTRATED BY ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS OF BOTH BERLIN AND ROME THAT HOME IS NOW ON THE FIHTING LINE.

THE ITALIAN CABINET ANNOUNCED A DECREE PROVIDING FOR THE REMOVAL OF ANY GOVERNMENT EMPLOYE OR OFFICIAL WHO FELL SHORT OF PERFORMING HIS TASKS.

OBSERVERS SAW IT AS ANOTHER STOP IN THE PROGRAM TO MOBILIZE THE NATION FOR TOTAL WAR AND KEEP THE FASCIST PARTY IN FULL CONTROL BY ELIMINATING ANY WEAKENING OR DISSENT WITHIN THE GOVERNMENT.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 23-(AP)-THE FOREIGN OFFICE TODAY INSTRUCTED SWISS MINISTERS IN LONDON AND BERLIN TO PROTEST THE AIR ATTACK ON FRIEDRICHSHAVEN MONDAY--TO LONDON BECAUSE THE PLANES PASSED OVER SWISS TERRITORY; TO BERLIN BECAUSE EXPERTS DETERMINED IT WAS GERMAN ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WHICH KILLED THREE PERSONS AT KUMMERSHAUSEN.

THE NEWSPAPER DER BUND SAID THAT ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNNERY PRACTICE ON THE GERMAN SIDE OF LAKE CONSTANCE CONTINUED ALMOST DAILY AND ON JUNE 19 WILD SHELLS STRUCK SWISS TERRITORY.

"THIS IS DOUBTLESS ALSO DANGEROUS TO THE GERMAN POPULATION," IT SAID.

JUN 24 1943

BECAUSE OF THE EXTENSIVE FIRING, PRACTICALLY ENCOMPASSING THE LAKE, SWISS FISHERMEN HAVE BEEN TOLD TO GO OUT NO FURTHER THAN A MILE AND A HALF.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 23-(AP)-RESTORATION OF THE SPANISH MONARCHY WITH PRINCE JUAN AS KING IS BEING URGED ON GENERALISSIMO FRANCISCO FRANCO BY PROMINENT SPANISH MONARCHISTS WHO APPARENTLY HAVE BRITISH ENDORSEMENT, IT WAS ASSERTED HERE TODAY.

SPANISH SOURCES, WHICH CAN NOT BE MORE CLOSELY IDENTIFIED, SAID THAT JUAN VENTOSA, A CONFIDANT OF THE LATE KING ALFONSO AND A LEADER IN THE RESTORATION MOVEMENT, VISITED LONDON THREE WEEKS AGO AND TALKED WITH PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL AND OTHER BRITISH GOVERNMENT LEADERS.

THE PLEA WAS SAID TO HAVE BEEN PRESENTED TO FRANCO IN A LETTER SIGNED BY MORE THAN 30 PROMINENT SPANIARDS, INCLUDING VENTOSA AND THE DUKE OF ALBA, SPANISH AMBASSADOR TO LONDON.

THE LETTER PRAISED FRANCO FOR HIS LEADERSHIP BUT URGED THAT EVERYTHING POSSIBLE BE DONE TO BRING POLITICAL UNITY, THE REPORTS SAID. THIS PRESUMABLY INVOLVED A TRUCE WITH FORMER REPUBLICANS, MANY OF WHOM ARE STILL INTERNED.

PRINCE JUAN, THE THIRD SON OF ALFONSO, LEFT SPAIN IN 1931 AFTER THE REPUBLIC WAS PROCLAIMED. HE IS REPORTED TO HAVE TOLD HIS

JUN 24 1943

JUN 24 1943

SUPPORTERS THAT HE IS READY TO RETURN TO SPAIN AT ANY TIME ALL ELEMENTS PUBLICLY DEMONSTRATE THEIR WISH FOR A KING.

(THE SWISS REPORTS OF THE MOVEMENT FOR RESTORATION OF THE MONARCHY CAUSED LITTLE SURPRISE IN DIPLOMATIC CIRCLES IN LONDON, DISPATCHES FROM THE BRITISH CAPITAL SAID. OFFICIAL SOURCES THERE HAD NO COMMENT, BUT THERE HAVE BEEN RUMORS FOR SEVERAL MONTHS THAT CONSIDERABLE PRESSURE WAS BEING BROUGHT FOR RESTORATION, AND THESE HAVE GAINED MOMENTUM AS THE TIDE OF WAR HAS SWUNG MORE AND MORE IN FAVOR OF THE UNITED NATIONS.)

JUN 24 1943

JUAN CONTINUED TO WORK QUIETLY AT HIS DESK IN A VILLA BESIDE LAKE GENEVA TODAY AND THERE WAS NO INDICATION HE WOULD MAKE A NEW DECLARATION PENDING SOME REACTION FROM FRANCO TO THE PETITION BY THE MONARCHIST GROUP.

FRANCO HAS PAID LIP SERVICE TO THE IDEA OF RESTORING THE MONARCHY EVER SINCE THE CIVIL WAR. AT ONE TIME HE WAS REPORTED TO HAVE SAID IT WOULD BE ONE OF HIS FIRST STEPS WHEN THE FIGHTING ENDED. HE SINCE HAS ALLUDED TO THE SUBJECT IN SPEECHES, BUT THE MONARCHISTS CONTEND HE HAS DONE NOTHING TO BRING THE RESTORATION ABOUT.

JUAN, TO WHOM HIS EXILED FATHER ALFONSO SIGNED OVER THE THRONE A FEW DAYS BEFORE HIS DEATH IN ROME IN FEBRUARY, 1941, IS 30. HE IS WELL OVER SIX FEET TALL, DARK HAIRED AND BY FAR THE HANDSOMEST MEMBER OF THE SPANISH ROYAL FAMILY IN MANY YEARS. HE SPEAKS ENGLISH LIKE AN AMERICAN.

TRIPOLI, JUNE 21-(DELAYED)-(AP)-KING GEORGE VI OF ENGLAND SPENT A FULL DAY TODAY INSPECTING UNITS OF THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY AND MEN OF THE FREE FRENCH AND U.S.AIR FORCES WHO HAVE BEEN FIGHTING WITH THE DESERT FORCES.

LT.GEN.BERNARD L.MONTGOMERY, COMMANDER OF THE EIGHTH ARMY, GREETED THE KING WHEN HE CAME ASHORE AT TRIPOLI IN A FREE FRENCH MOTOR LAUNCH AFTER HIS ARRIVAL FROM MALTA ABOARD THE H.M.S.AURORA.

ALL CIVILIANS WERE EXCLUDED FROM THE STREETS OF TRIPOLI DURING THE KING'S VISIT. HOUSES WERE SHUTTERED AND SOLDIERS WITH TOMMY GUNS PATROLLED THE ROADS OR STOOD ON GUARD ON ROOF TOPS.

BY GEORGE H.TUCKER

JUN 24 1943

AT A BOMBER BASE IN AFRICA, JUNE 22-(DELAYED)-(AP)-SAN GIOVANNI IS A VITAL PORT AND RAILHEAD ON THE TOE OF ITALY. THROUGH IT AND ITS SISTER PORT, REGGIO CALABRIA, FIVE MILES TO THE SOUTH, ARE FUNNELLED URGENTLY NEEDED SUPLIES AND EQUIPMENT FOR SICILY. THE SUPPLIES ARE FERRIED ACROSS THE NARROW STRAITS TO THE PORT OF MESSINA BY AN ELABORATE SYSTEM OF RAIL FERRIES.

YESTERDAY, THE ALLIES TOOK A LONG STRIDE TOWARDS KNOCKING OUT SAN GIOVANNI AND REGGIO CALABRIA.

THEY CALLED UPON HUGE FOUR-ENGINED LIBERATORS OF THE U.S.NINTH AIR FORCE TO DO THE JOB, FLYING IN THREE GREAT FORMATIONS.

THE FIRST WAVE'S MISSION WAS TO PULVERIZE THE RAIL YARDS WHICH ARE THE TERMINUS OF THE MAIN RAILROAD FROM NAPLES. THERE ARE NINE GREAT SERIES OF TRACKS LEADING TO THE MAIN FERRY SLIPS WHICH CONNECT THE MAINLAND WITH MESSINA.

THE SECOND WAVE WAS TO LOOK FOR FLEETS OF SIEBEL FERRIES WHICH SUPPLEMENT THE MAIN RAIL FERRY. SIEBELS ARE BUILT ON PONTOONS, ARE MOTOR DRIVEN AND ARE CAPABLE OF HAULING 400 MEN EACH AT A SPEED OF APPROXIMATELY 12 KNOTS.

1943

20.24 — 5329

THE THIRD WAS TO SEARCH FOR THE MAIN RAIL FERRY ITSELF. ORIGINALLY, THE ITALIANS HAD FOUR OF THESE FERRIES OPERATING BETWEEN SAN GIOVANNI AND MESSINA. THREE WERE KNOCKED OUT IN PREVIOUS RAIDS, BUT THE FOURTH SEEMED TO BEAR A CHARMED LIFE. BOBS WERE AIMED AT IT MANY TIMES, BUT IT NEVER WAS HIT.

JUN 24 1943

THE FIRST WAVE OF LIBERATORS ARRIVED OVER THEIR TARGET IN THE FULL GLARE OF MID-DAY. AS THEY CAME IN, A WILD AERIAL CIRCUS COMPOSED OF HALF A DOZEN DIFFERENT TYPES OF ITALIAN AND GERMAN FIGHTERS AROSE TO MEET THEM.

THE BOMBARDIERS DROPPED THEIR BOMBS IN LONG STICKS ACROSS THE YARDS. IN TWO MINUTES THIS RAIL CENTER WAS A TANGLED, TWISTED MASS OF RUINS, AND COLUMNS OF BLACK SMOKE BILLOWED UP.

THE SECOND WAVE CAME OVER TWO MINUTES LATER. THE LIBERATORS SWEPT STRAIGHT OVER THE STRAITS AND DEMOLISHED A MOLE WITH DIRECT HITS. THE FLIERS SAW DOZENS OF SIEBEL FERRIES DARTING OUT FROM THE SHORE LIKE FRANTIC MINNOWS CIRCLING IN AN EVASIVE ACTION ACTION TRYING TO GET AWAY.

"THEY WRIGGLED LIKE BACTERIA UNDER A MICROSCOPE," SAID NAVIGATOR LIEUT. E.D.ROTHFUG OF (1745 CATON AVENUE) BROOKLYN. "WE MADE OUR RUN JUST WHEN HALF A DOZEN OF THEM SEEMED TO BE IN LINE AND I SAW ONE FLY IN A MILLION PIECES. I SAW ANOTHER STAND ON ITS STERN AND FALL BACK IN THE WATER WITH ONLY ITS REAR AND STICKING OUT. AT LEAST FOUR OTHERS WERE PROBABLY DESTROYED."

BOMBS ALSO FELL ON TWO MAIN RAIL FERRY SLIPS AT THE BASE OF THE GREAT "V" WHICH FORMS THE HARBOR.

THE THIRD WAVE CUT SHARPLY NORTH OF SAN GIOVANNI AND FLEW STRAIGHT

30.24 — 5329

DOWN THE STRAITS LOOKING FOR THE LAST OF THE MAJOR RAIL FERRIES. IT WAS LED BY LIEUT. COL.JULIAN M.BLEYER, A THIN, ANGULAR-JAWED 28-YEAR OLD PILOT FROM TULSA, OKLA. SAID COL.BLEYER:

"MY BOMBARDIER, JACK RUMSEY OF LOS ANGELES, SAW IT FIRST. IT WAS IN THE MIDDLE OF THE STRAIT DOING EVERYTHING IT COULD TO GET OUT OF THE WAY. WE TOOK A BEAD ON IT AND WENT OVER AND IF OUR BOMBS DIDN'T HIT IT DEAD CENTER THEY CAME SO CLOSE IT MADE NO DIFFERENCE. I COULD SEE IT FLY INTO PIECES AND PHOTOGRAPHS WE TOOK WILL BEAR THIS OUT."

JUN 24 1943

THEN BEGAN A RUNNING FIGHT WITH PURSUIT PLANES, WHICH HUNG IN CLUSTERS OF FIVE OR SIX ABOVE AND AT FLANKS WITH THE BOMBER FORMATIONS AND BEAT AT THEM IN WASPLIKE THRUSTS. SOME EVEN WENT ABOVE AND TRIED TO BOMB THEM WITH SMALL TIME-BOMBS.

LIEUT.ROBERT E.COURTNEY OF (EAST GORDON STREET) SPOKANE, WASH., GOT THE FIRST MESSERSCHMITT 109. COURTNEY WAS BOTH BOMBARDIER AND NOSE GUNNER. THE MESSERSCHMITT WHIPPED INTO HIM AND HE POURED A STREAM OF 50 CALIBRE BULLETS INTO ITS MOTORS AND SOON THE SHIP SLANTED INTO THE SEA.

STAFF SGT.FRANCIS B.BEATTY OF RIVIERA, FLA., TAIL GUNNER, GOT THE SECOND.

THEN PRIVATE HENRY B.ENGLISH OF OGLETHORPE, GA., PREVIOUSLY UNKNOWN, WENT INTO ACTION AND SOT DOWN TWO. WHEN THIS WAS REPORTED THE COMMANDING OFFICER RAISED HIS EYEBROWS AND SAID "WHO IS THIS MAN, ENGLISH?"

"HE'S AN ENLISTED MAN," SOMEONE TOLD HIM.

"HE'S THE GUY I'M LOOKING FOR," SAID THE OFFICER. "FROM NOW ON HE'S ON THE FIRST TEAM."

JUN 24 1943

JUST HOW MANY FIGHTERS TOOK PART IN THE PURSUIT WAS NOT KNOWN BUT THE PILOTS REPORTED THERE WERE AT LEAST 30 ME-109'S, SEVERAL MACCHI 202'S AND FW-190'S, A NUMBER OF ME-110'S AND AT LEAST ONE ME-113. A TOTAL OF 15 OF THE ENEMY DEFNITELY WERE SHOT DOWN AND SIX OTHERS PROBABLY WERE DESTROYED.

NO AMERICAN BOMBERS WERE LOST.

CHUNGKING, JUNE 23-(AP)-LIEUT.THOMAS CLARK OF LIGONIER,PA., HAS RETURNED SAFELY TO HIS FIGHTER SQUADRON WITH THE 14TH AMERICAN AIR FORCE AFTER SURVIVING A CRASH LANDING AND A 50-MILE HIKE THROUGH JAPANESE-HELD TERRITORY.

JUN 24 1943

FURTHERMORE, THE AMERICAN FLIER RETURNED RICHER BY 7,000 CHINESE DOLLARS (ABOUT $210 AT CURRENT RATE OF EXCHANGE), THE "COMFORT FUND" GIFT OF GENERAL CHEN CHENG, COMMANDER OF CHINESE FORCES IN THE UPPER YANGTZE RIVER BATTLE AREA, TO WHOSE HEADQUARTERS HE WAS ESCORTED BY CHINESE GUERRILLAS.

CLARK CRASHED ON JUNE 6 NEAR THE JAPANESE-HELD TOWN OF KINGMEN, NORTHEAST OF ICHANG, AFTER A FIERCE DOGFIGHT WITH SIX ENEMY PLANES, SOME OF WHICH HE BELIEVED HE DAMAGED. AFTER BURNING HIS PLANE, HE STARTED A CAUTIOUS TREK TOWARD ICHANG THROUGH COUNTRY ALIVE WITH JAPANESE TROOPS.

"CHINESE VILLAGERS HID ME," HE RECOUNTED TODAY, "AND THE ONLY RECOMPENSE THEY ASKED WAS A FEW AMERICAN SONGS I SANG FOR THEM."

UPON REACHING THE OUTSKIRTS OF ENEMY-HELD ICHANG AFTER FOUR DAYS OF CAREFUL GOING, CLARK WAS TAKEN IN HAND BY THE BAND OF GUERRILLAS, WHO GOT HIM SAFELY ACROSS THE YANGTZE AND TO THE HEADQUARTERS OF GENERAL CHEN CHENG.

IN ADDITION TO THE "COMFORT FUND," CLARK WAS PRESENTED A CHINESE BANNER BEFORE BEING RESTORED TO HIS COMRADES.

June 23

CHUNGKING--~~FIRST~~ ADD CHINESE X X ANNOUNCEMENT SAID.

TODAY'S CHINESE COMMUNIQUE TOLD OF A CHINESE ATTACK LAST WEEK ON THE YANGTZE PORT OF SHIHINOW, NORTH OF TUNGTING LAKE, IN WHICH SI JAPANESE MOTOR LAUNCHES WERE SUNK AND MANY CASUALTIES INFLICTED ON THE ENEMY.

JUN 24 1943

A JAPANESE THRUST IN THE KINHWA SECTOR OF CHEKIANG PROVINCE ON JUNE 12 WAS REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN THROWN BACK WITH THE LOSS OF 200 MEN. ANOTHER ENEMY ATTACK FROM PAOTOW IN THE FAR NORTHERN PROVINCE OF SUIYUAN WAS SAID TO HAVE BEEN PRELLED AND 100 INVADERS SLAIN.

NEW DELHI, JUNE 23-(AP)-LIBERATOR BOMBERS OF THE 10TH UNITED STATES AIR FORCE POUNDED JAPANESE-HELD MONYWA IN CENTRAL BURMA WIGH EIGHT TONS OF BOMBS YESTERDAY, A COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

HITS WERE REPORTED ON THE MONYWA RAILROAD STATION AND TRACKS AND ON AN ADJOINING HIGHWAY, AS WELL AS ON SEVERAL JAPANESE WAREHOUSES. MONYWA IS 55 MILES WEST OF MANDALAY.

ON THE PREVIOUS DAY MITCHELL MEDIUM BOMBERS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE FLOWN THROUGH SEVERE STORMS TO ATTACK ENGINE SHEDS AT THAZI JUNCTION, 75 MILES SOUTH OF MANDALAY ON THE RAILROAD TO RANGOON, AND TO BLAST NEW JAPANESE INSTALLATIONS AT MYINGYAN, 55 MILES SOUTHWEST OF MANDALAY ON THE IRRAWADDY. NO PLANES WERE LOST ON EITHER RAID.

CAYENNE, FRENCH GUIANA, (CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)- THEY MAY NEVER WIN ANY MEDALS OR LAND ON THE FRONT PAGE FOR NATIONAL RECOGNITION, BUT LT.E.J.PREJEAN, LT.JOHN H.GERLACH AND THEIR CREW HAVE ONE OF THE HARDEST, MOST GRUELLING WAR JOBS ANYWHERE.

PREJEAN, WHO IS FROM GRETNA, LA., AND GERLACH, FROM FORT PLAIN, N.Y., ARE AIRFORCE PILOTS ASSIGNED TO ANTI-SUBMARINE WORK ALONG THE SOUTH MERICAN COAST, AND IT'S THEIR DAILY JOB TO SCAN THE SEAS IN ALL KINDS

JUN 24 1943 JUN 24 1943

30.24 - 5331

OF WEATHER FOR SIGNS OF ENEMY U-BOATS.

HOUR AFTER HOUR, THEY MUST KEEP THEIR EYES GLUED TO THE MONOTONOUS, UNENDING WAVES, SOMETIMES PEERING THROUGH STORM CLOUDS OR BOUNCING ON AIR POCKETS ONLY 200 OR 250 FEET ABOVE THE SURFACE.

IN BETWEEN ANTI-SUBMARINE PATROLS, PREJEAN AND GERLACH, AND OTHER PILOTS ASSIGNAD TO THE SAME WORK, FREQUENTLY FERRY SUPPLIES FROM ONE BASE TO ANOTHER ALONG THE STRING OF AIRBASES IN THIS SECTOR, FLYING LOW OVER STRETCHES OF IMPENETRABLE JUNGLE AND MURKY SWAMPLANDS WHICH HAVE BEEN DEATHTRAPS FOR SEVERAL AVIATORS.

JUN 24 1943

ON ONE PARTICULAR TRIP, PREJEAN AND GERLACH, AND TWO SERGEANTS, R.T.WISE OF HONEYBROOK, PA., AND R.H.SCOTT OF BENNINGTON, VT., WORKED AND WAITED FOR MORE THAN HALF AN HOUR FOR THE PLANE'S TWO MOTORS TO START. AFTER MANY FUTILE ATTEMPTS, FINALLY AN "ENERGIZER" HAD TO BE BROUGHT ALONG AND ATTACHED TO THE MOTORS TO GET THEM GOING.

ONCE ALOFT, THE CREW SETTLED DOWN TO THE MONOTONOUS TASK OF SEARCHING THE SEAS. TURNING INLAND, THE PLANE FEW OVER MILES OF SOLID JUNGLE, THEN BACK OUT TO SEA LEST THEY LOSE THEIR WAY IN THE CLOUDS AND MISS THE PAN-AMERICAN FIELD IN FRENCH GUIANA, DESTINATION OF ITS FLIGHT.

ONCE ONE OF THE MOTORS SPUTTERED, THE LEFT WING DIPPED AND EVERYONE'S HEART WITH IT, BUT IT CAME BACK AGAIN.

MIDWAY, SOMETHING CAUGHT PREJEAN'S PRACTICED EYE. WHILE HE AND GERLACH SQUINTED AT THE SEA, WHERE THE AMATEUR PASSENGER'S EYES SAW NOTHING, PREJEAN BROUGHT THE PLANE AROUND AND HEADED OUTWARD. IN A FEW MOMENTS, A SPECK WAS VISIBLE, THEN A SHIP. PREJEAN CIRCLED OVERHEAD--IT WAS A FRIENDLY VESSEL--AND HEADED BACK TO HIS COURSE.

30.24 — 5331

LIKE MOST PILOTS ON THIS RUN, PREJEAN DROPPED VERY LOW AS THE PLANE APPROACHED DEVIL'S ISLAND, FAMOUS FRENCH PRISON ISLE OFF THE GUIANA COAST. FROM THE AIR IT LOOKED PEACEFUL AND PLEASANT ENOUGH--A GROUP OF THREE OR FOUR BARRACKS BUILDINGS WITH SOME SMALL ONE-STORY HOUSES IN BE-TWEEN AND ALONG ONE SIDE OF A QUADRANGLE.

JUN 24 1943

THE TRICOLORS FLEW IN FRONT OF THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING AND A [illegible]UDE TOWER OR STEEPLE TOLD WHERE THE CHURCH WAS LOCATED.

FOR SEVERAL MINUTES AS THE PLANE NEARED THE COAST AGAIN, CLOUDS SWIRLED IN AND RAIN BEAT AGAINST THE CRAFT. PREJEAN AND GERLACH WERE LOST AND CHANCES, THEY SAID, WERE 50-50 FOR GOING BACK. THEN SUDDENLY THROUGH AN OPENING IN THE CLOUDS, THE COASTLINE AND CAYENNE'S BUILDINGS COULD BE SEEN.

PREJEAN APPROACHED THE FIELD CAUTIOUSLY--THERE'S A MOUNTAIN ABOUT 1,000 FEET HIGH TOO CLOSE FOR COMFORT IN CLOUDY WEATHER--DIPPED DOWN AND TOUCHED WHEELS ON THE RAINSOAKED PAVEMENT. AS HE SOUGHT TO HALT THE CRAFT, THE HYDRAULICS JAMMED AND THE PLANE CAREENED, FOR A MOMENT, DOWN THE TAXI STRIP BEFORE THE BRAKES TOOK HOLD.

"I THOUGHT WE'D END UP IN A HEAP IN THE MUD," DRAWLED PREJEAN.

WITHIN AN HOUR, THE PLANE WAS UNLOADED AND RELOADED AND READY TO HEAD BACK TO ITS BASE.

JUST A DAY'S WORK FOR A PATROL BOMBER'S CREW

MONTEVIDEO, JUNE 23-(AP)-THE ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT OF GEN.PEDRO RAMIREZ HAS PENALIZED THE ENGLISH-LANGUAGE NEWSPAPER BUENOS AIRES STANDARD WITH A 24-HOUR SUSPENSION FOR AN ANTI-NAZI EDITORIAL PUBLISHED FOUR MONTHS AGO, IT WAS REPORTED HERE TODAY.

--- PENALTY WAS THREATENED ORIGINALLY DURING THE REGIME OF

JUN 24 1943

PRESIDENT RAMON S.CASTILLO BECAUSE OF AN ARTICLE ON FEB. 20 BRANDING GOEBBELS AND OTHER NAZIS LEADERS AS TRAITORS TO THE GERMAN PEOPLE.

THE FOREIGN MINISTRY THEN HEADED BY ENRIQUE RUIZ GUINAZU INVOKED THE MEASURE, DECLARING THE EDITORIAL VIOLATED THE STATE OF SIEGE BY REFERRING IN HOSTILE TERMS TO A GOVERNMENT WITH WHICH ARGENTINA MAINTAINED FRIENDLY RELATIONS. THE STANDARD ESCAPED THE PENALTY THEN BY PROMISING NOT TO REPEAT THE OFFENSE.

ON MONDAY, HOWEVER, THE NEWSPAPER WAS ADVISED BY POLICE AUTHORITIES THAT IT WOULD BE SUSPENDED ONE DAY ON THE OLD COUNT. AN APPEAL TO THE FOREIGN OFFICE FIRST BROUGHT A PROMISE THE SUSPENSION WOULD BE ANNULLED. BUT THE POLICE, EXPLAINING THEY HAD RECEIVED NO NEW INSTRUCTIONS, SENT THREE MEN TO INSURE THAT THE STANDARD DID NOT APPEAR ON THE STREET ONE DAY.

JUN 24 1943

SALT LAKE CITY, JUNE 23-(AP)-DR.ALBERTO GAINZA PAZ, BUENOS IRES NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER, PREDICTED TODAY THAT "ARGENTINA'S EW GOVERNMENT WILL PROBABLY FOLLOW A POLICY OF AMERICAN SOLIDARITY."

"A FAVORABLE PRO-ALLY SIGN IS THE BANNING OF RADIO CODE MESSAGES ROM FOREIGN EMBASSIES," THE PUBLISHER OF LA PRENSA TOLD A TELEGRAM INTERVIEWER.

"THIS PROHIBITION AFFECTS GERMAN AND ITALIAN EMBASSIES AND THOSE OF OTHER EUROPEAN COUNTRIES WITHOUT CABLE CONNECTIONS."

DR.GAINZA PAZ ASSERTED THAT "95 PER CENT OF THE PEOPLE OF ARGENTINA ARE ON THE SIDE OF THE UNITED STATES AND OTHER ALLIES."

APPEARING IN THE LONDON EXPRESS

LONDON, JUNE 23--(AP)--A STOCKHOLM DISPATCH REPORTED TODAY THAT SPECIAL NAZI GESTAPO DETACHMENTS STRENGTHENED WITH PICKED TROOPS HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED TO GUARD DUTY AT NORWEGIAN DAMS WHICH GERMANS EXPECT MAY SOON BE TARGETS FOR RAF BOMBERS, RE

THE DISPATCH SAID THAT THE EN ENTIRE REGION AROUND THE HOEVANG DAM IN THE SOUTHERN PART OF THE HARDANGERVIDDA DISTRICT HAS BEEN CLOSED AND SURROUNDED WITH BARBED WIRE. NORWEGIANS LIVING IN THE AREA HAVE BEEN ORDERED TO MOVE.

JUN 24 1943

DC

A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 23-(AP)--THE LADY LUCK, LEAD FLYING FORTRESS IN YESTERDAY'S RAID ON HULS, EN MADE PRACTICE BOMBING RUNS HALFWAY TO GERMANY TO INSURE AN ACCURATE BLOW AT THE BIG SYNTHETIC RUBBER FACTORY THERE, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY BY THE PILOT, MAJOR WILLIAM CALHOUN KELHOUN, 29, OF 6807 DIVISION AVE., BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

"I TOLD THE BOMBARDIER, LIEUT. MILTON FONOROW OF CHICAGO, THAT I WOULD HOLD THE SHIP LEVEL WHILE HE TOOK PRACTICE SIGHTINGS ON THE MAY OVER," CAL KELHOUN SAID.

JUN 24 1943

JUN 24 1943

30.24 - 5333

FONOROW USED A WHITECAP ON THE NORTH SEA FOR ONE SIGHTING WHILE BUILDINGS WERE USED ON LAND.

"HE WAS ALL WARMED UP," CALHOUN SAID, "AND RAN THROUGH THE REAL JOB IN ABOUT 15 SECONDS. IT WAS BEAUTIFUL.

"DURING PRACTICE RUNS IT MEANT SOME RISK BECAUSE WHEN YOU HOLD A SHIP STRAIGHT AND LEVEL FOR BOMBING RUNS IT MEANS THE ENEMY CAN GET A BEAD ON YOU THAT MUCH BETTER--BUT IT THOUGHT IT WAS [illegible]X WORTH THE RISK.

JUN 24 1943

"AND IT WORKED OUT THAT WE DID N O T GET A SCRATCH."

IT WAS THE 21ST RAID FOR CALHOUN WHO PROBABLY IS THE YOUNGEST OFFICER OF HIS RANK IN THIS THEATER.

AT 23 HE ALSO IS A VETERAN OF SIX YEARS IN THE NEWSPAPER BUSINESS, HAVING STARTED WORK AS AN APPRENTICE IN THE BIRMINGHAM NEWS COMPOSING ROOM AT THE AGE OF 14 AND SERVED AS A CORRESPONDENT AT HOWARD COLLEGE, WHERE HE FINISHED IN 1941.

30.24——5333

ANKARA, JUNE 22 (DELAYED)-(AP)-- A TURKISH MILITARY MISSIOI [illegible]X WILL VISIT GERMANY SOON TO STUDY GERMAN BATTLE [illegible] TACTICS, TRAINING METHODS AND MILITARY INDUSTRIES, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

JUN 24 1943

A SIMILAR COMMISSION RECENTLY VISITED THE ALLIED FORCES IN [illegible]X NORTH AFRICA DURING THE TUNISIA CAMPAIGN.

OTTAWA, JUNE 23--(AP)--- WARRANT OFFICER EDWARD WARREN MURPHY, OF DORCHESTER, MASS., WAS LISTED BY THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE TONIGHT AS PREVIOUSL REPORTED MISSING, NOW FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSES PRESUMED DEAD. HIS FATHER, J.T. MURPHY, LIVES AT 101 DRAPER ST., DORCHESTER.

OTTAWA, JUNE 23--(AP)--- PILOT OFFICER CHARLES PHILIP MEREDITH, OF BEECHURST, N.Y., HAS BEEN KILLED ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS, THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE ANNOUNCED TONIGHT. MEREDITH'S FATHER, CAPT. C.P. MEREDITH, LIVES AT 6-01 161ST ST., BEECHURST.

JUN 24 1943

(EDITORS NOTE: THE WAACS HAVE NOW HAD HALF A YEAR IN AFRICA, ONE OF THE FIRST ARRIVALS, A FORMER GOVERNMENT SECRETARY IN WASHINGTON, TELLS IN THE FOLLOWING ARTICLE WRITTEN FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WHAT THE WAACS ARE DOING "OVER THERE.")

---

JUN 24 1943

BY CAPTAIN MATTIE PINETTE OF FORT KENT, MAINE.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 22-(DELAYED)-(AP)-JUST SIX MONTHS AGO TODAY THE WAACS INVADED NORTH AFRICA.

THERE WERE ONLY FIVE OF THEM AND THEY HAD HAD A PRETTY TOUGH TIME GETTING HERE FROM ENGLAND ON A BRITISH CONVOY. THEY SAILED THROUGH A STORM ASSERTED TO BE THE WORST IN THE NORTH ATLANTIC IN TWENTY TWO YEARS AND THEN JUST AS THEY WERE ENJOYING THE CALM WATERS OF THE MEDITERRANEAN THEIR SHIP WAS TORPEDOED AND THEY SPENT EIGHT HOURS IN A LIFEBOAT BEFORE BEING PICKED UP BY A DESTROYER WHICH TOOK THEM SAFELY TO PORT.

THEY CREATED QUITE A STIR IN THESE PARTS AS THEY WERE THE FIRST UNIFORMED WOMEN OTHER THAN NURSES TO ENTER THE THEATRE. THE BRIGHT EAGLE ON THEIR CAPS ATTRACTED EVEN THE ARABS, WHO LOST SOME OF THEIR NATIVE INDIFFERENCE AND BESTIRRED THEMSELVES TO HAVE A LOOK AT THESE STRANGE WOMEN WHO BORE THE GOLD BARS OF SECOND LIEUTENANT.

THEIR DIRECTOR, COLONEL OVETA CULP HOBBY, HAD SENT THEM OVER AT THE REQUEST OF GENERAL EISENHOWER, COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF ALLIED FORCES, TO PERFORM SECRETARIAL DUTIES AT ALLIED FORCE HEADQUARTERS.

SINCE THEN THE TRIM UNIFORMED FIGURE OF THE WAACS HAS BECOME COMMONPLACE IN NORTH AFRICA. A LARGE COMPANY OF AUXILIARIES LED BY CAPTAIN FRANCES MARQUIS, OF 25 PROSPECT PLACE, NEW YORK CITY, ARRIVED IN JANUARY AND OTHER CONTINGENTS HAVE SINCE COME OVER. THESE AMERICAN WOMEN COME FROM ALL PARTS OF THE UNITED STATES AND ALL WALKS OF LIFE BUT EACH IS ESPECIALLY TRAINED FOR A SPECIFIC DUTY. THEY ARE ALL VOLUNTEERS AND EQUIPPED AND WILLING TO DO THE JOB.

YOU FIND THEM AT THE TELEPHONE SWITCHBOARDS, DRIVING TRUCKS AND JEEPS AND STAFF CARS IN THE POSTAL SECTION, SORTING OUT SOLDIERS MAIL AND SEEING TO IT THAT IT GETS DELIVERED TO THE PROPER APO NUMBER, OPERATING TELEPRINTERS AND WORKING AS COOKS AND BAKERS, FEEDING THEIR FELLOW WAACS. YOU ALSO FIND THEM IN THE OFFICES OF HIGH RANKING STAFF OFFICERS PERFORMING HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL ADMINISTRATIVE AND CLERICAL DUTIES.

JUN 24 1943

BECAUSE THE WAACS HAD BEEN THOROUGHLY TRAINED IN SECURITY THEY MAKE EXCEPTIONAL TRUSTWORTHY SECRETARIES. BESIDES, THEY REALIZE THAT THEY MUST BE EVEN MORE GUARDED IN THEIR TALK AND IN THEIR HANDLING OF CLASSIFIED DOCUMENTS BECAUSE OF THE POLICY WHICH STILL PERSISTS IN SOME MASCULINE MINDS, LIKE "NO WOMAN CAN KEEP A SECRET."

THE HIGH DEGREE OF CONFIDENCE PLACED IN THESE AMERICAN WOMEN BY THE CHIEF OF STAFF, AFHQ, CANNOT BE BETTER EXEMPLIFIED THAN BY THE ASSIGNMENT OF THE FIRST FIVE WAACS TO THE MOMENTOUS AMFA CONFERENCE IN MOROCCO. CAPTAINS LOUISE ANDERSON, OF DENVER, COLORADO, AND RUTH BRIGGS, OF WESTERLY, RHODE ISLAND, WORKED IN THE CHIEF OF STAFF'S OFFICE AND NATURALLY THEY KNEW SOMETHING OF THE PLANS FOR THE CONFERENCE. YET WHEN THE OTHER THREE CAPTAINS--ARLENE DREZMAL, OF ST.PAUL, MINN., MARTHA ROGERS, OF NEW ALBANY, MISSISSIPPI, AND MYSELF--BOARDED THE PLANE WHICH WAS TO TAKE US TO CASABLANCA, THEY KNEW NOTHING ABOUT THEIR DESTINATION NOR THE PURPOSE OF THE TRIP.

THEY HAD BEEN CALLED TO THE CHIEF OF STAFF'S OFFICE ONE MORNING

30.24—5335

AND TOLD TO REPORT AT A CERTAIN TIME, PREPARED TO BE AWAY FROM HEADQUARTERS FOR APPROXIMATELY TWO WEEKS AND TO PACK SUFFICIENT CLOTHES. THIS STRUCK THE WAACS AS VERY FUNNY, AS THEY HAD NO CLOTHES EXCEPT THOSE THEY WORE, HAVING LOST ALL THEIR KIT AT SEA. BUT IN THE ARMY AN ORDER IS AN ORDER AND NO QUESTIONS ASKED, SO THEY MADE NO COMMENT ABOUT THEIR LACK OF CLOTHES.

JUN 24 1943

THE WORK WHICH THEY DID AT THE CONFERENCE HAS BEEN REPORTED BEFORE, SO THERE IS NO REASON TO SWELL UPON IT HERE. SUFFICE IT TO SAY THAT THEY HAVE LETTERS OF COMMENDATION FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, GENERAL GEORGE PATTON, WHO WAS COMMANDING THAT AREA, AND THE CHIEF OF STAFF WHO SENT THEM.

THE WAACS ARE HERE AND HERE TO STAY AND NOBODY WANTS THEM TO GO AWAY. THE G1 SECTION AT AFHQ CANNOT BEGIN TO FILL THE REQUESTS PLACED BY STAFF OFFICERS FOR MORE WAACS. THERE ARE MORE ON THE WAY AND OTHER COMPANIES ARE BEING FORMED FOR OVERSEAS SERVICE.

THE USUAL COMMENT BY OFFICERS IS THAT THE WAACS STAY ONTHE JOB AND NEVER GRUMBLE ABOU' LONG HOURS OR OVERTIME. THEY LIKE IT HERE AND FEEL THAT THEY ARE DOING THEIR BIT. THEY HAVE ALL THE RESPEOT INTHE WORLD FOR THE WOMEN BACK HOME WHO ARE PERFORMING SIMILAR DUTIES. THEY ARE WORKING IN AIRCRAFT FACTORIES, MUNITIONS PLANTS AND OTHER WAR INDUSTRIES. THEY DON'T WANT TO GO BACK HOME UNTIL THE WAR IS OVER BECAUSE THEU KNOW THEY ARE NEEDED HERE.

~~OF COURSE, THEY HAVE THEIR F...~~

OF COURSE THEY HAVE THEIR FUN, TOO. THEY ATTEND CONCERTS AND DANCES AND ON THEIR WEEKLY AFTERNOON OFF THEY CAN BE SEEN AT THE BEACHES, BATHING IN THE CLEAR BLUE WATERS OF THE MEDITERRANEAN.

30.24—5335

YES, IT MAY SEEM TO SOME LIKE A STRANGE WAR WHEN ONE OVERHEARS "SERGEANT JONES, YOU HAVE TOO MUCH POUDER ON YOUR NOSE," OR "CAPTAIN YOUR SLIP IS SHOWING," BUT THESE WOMEN ARE REAL SOLDIERS. THEY TOO HAVE ACCEPTED THE FULL PRIVILEGE OF AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP--TO SERVE IN TIME OF WAR ONES COUNTRY TO THE BEST OF ONES ABILITY AS OUR GOVERNMENT SEES FIT.

WASHINGTON, JUNE 23-(AP)-AIR MEDALS WERE AWARDED TODAY BY THE ARMY TO 25 OFFICERS AND MEN OF A SEA SEARCH ATTACK GROUP OF THE AIR FORCES FOR ANTI-SUBMARINE PATROL DUTY.

PRESENTATION OF THE DECORATIONS WAS SCHEDULED FOR THIS AFTERNOON AT LANGLEY FIELD, VA. AMONG THOSE RECEIVING THE AWARDS WERE (OAK LEAF CLUSTERS INDICATE PREVIOUS AWARD OF AIR MEDAL):

CALIFORNIA--CAPTAIN FRANKLIN T.E. REYNOLDS, 1135 WEST 107TH ST., LOS ANGELES; FIRST LIEUTENANT JAMES E. POPE, 260 F. STREET, FRESNO.

JUN 24 1943

DELAWARE--FIRST LIEUTENANT ROBERT L. COLEMAN, 1715 RODNEY ST., WILMINGTON.

INDIANA--SECOND LIEUTENANT LEO O. CUNNINGHAM, CORYDON

KENTUCKY--CAPTAIN DONALD L. MCKAY, 4411 DELL PARK TERRACE, LOUISVILLE (TWO OAK LEAF CLUSTERS).

MINNESOTA--CAPTAIN JOHN F. SCANLAN, 1276 DAYTON AVENUE, ST. PAUL.

NEW JERSEY--CAPTAIN ROBERT W. LEHTI, LYNDHURST.

OKLAHOMA--CAPTAIN JOHN F. ZINN, AUYNOK (MEDAL AND OAK LEAF CLUSTER).

JUN 24 1943

PENNSYLVANIA--TECHNICAL SGT. EDWARD A. KASZUBSKI, 117 PARK STREET, NANTICOKE; TECHNICAL SGT. HARRY J. NEISS, 1508 SOUTH NEWKIRK STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

TEXAS--MAJOR LEO J.FOSTER, JR., SWEETWATER; CAPTAIN BERNARD E. FRIZZIE, 1210 MC KINLEY AVENUE, SAN ANTONIO (MEDAL AND OAK LEAF CLUSTER); FIRST LT. CROWELL B. WERNER, BRECKINRIDGE (MEDAL AND OAK LEAF CLUSTER); FIRST LT. NED B. ESTES, MT. HOMES, KERRVILLE (MEDAL AND OAK LEAF CLUSTER).

JUN 24 1943

new york, june 23-(ap)-the tokyo radio tonight made the first recorded admission of "control of the air by the enemy" and"sea transportation difficulties" in the new guinea theater, the office of war information said calling the broadcast the most detailed japanese radio report on the new guinea fighting yet heard by u.s. government monitors, the owi said it was an eye-witness account of a "gallant" japanese defeat at the hands of the "damned american soldiers" in the kumisi river area during "a certain month."

JUN 24 1943

the owi quoted the broadcast as saying "perhaps it was due to the control of the air by the enemy, or perhaps it was due to our sea transportation difficulties that our forces were exposed to such extreme danger. many comrades have been offered as sacrifices."

the account emphasized "incredible" hardships of jungle warfare, the continuous american aerial and artillery pressure and the heavy toll of malaria, the owi said, quoting it further:

JUN 24 1943

"we literally had fought, fought, fought through the three months. the enemy, which had a superior force, a certain number of time larger than ours, had thickly encircled us. the time when every member of our unit should die gallantly under our flag was steadily approaching."

as the going got really tough for the japanese, it was said, "boeing planes pressed upon our soldiers" and the "savage and beastly enemy americans showered bombs."

owi---1145p

JUN 24 1943

30.24 L 5337

30.24—5337

RAF RUNS BRITAIN-AFRICA BOMB SHUTTLE; FRIEDRICHSHAFEN RAIDERS BLAST SPEZIA; 400 PLANES RAKE AXIS CHANNEL COAST

JUN 25 1943

ALLIES STRIKE WITH 6 TYPES OF WARCRAFT

Attack Vital Objectives From Holland To Cherbourg Peninsula

Raid Follows Shuttle-Bombing Blow Against La Spezia, Italy

JUN 25 1943

London, Friday, June 25 (AP). RAF bombers blasted Germany again last night, the British announced today.

HEINZERLING

LONDON, Friday, June 25—(AP) The Allied air forces pounded Hitler's "Atlantic wall" defenses with from 400 to 500 bombers and fighters by daylight Thursday in one of the busiest day offensives yet launched in the new stepped-up air war over Europe, and then quickly returned to the attack after dark to keep the battering assault on a round-the-clock basis.

Late last night waves of heavy bombers were heard roaring across the southeast coast toward the continent, flying at a great height.

Many Planes in Flight

Coastal residents said they judged by the volume of the roar that the number of bombers going out was as large as in three other raids from British bases this week when hundreds of planes pounded Germany.

These two attacks—the big daylight raids, which stretched from the Netherlands to the Cherbourg peninsula of France, and the night flights — followed a spectacular bombing of the Italian naval base of La Spezia by an England-Africa shuttle technique.

Six types of Allied craft churning the air in swarms carried out the big daylight attack, bombing Nazi airfields and war installations along the French, Belgian and Dutch coasts.

Swarms of Fighters

P-47 Thunderbolts, the fastest and heaviest-gunned U. S. single seat fighter, joined Spitfires, Typhoons and American-made Venturas and Bostons of the R.A.F. in the virtually unprecedented day sweeps.

Later Mitchell light bombers with Spitfire escorts attacked airfields at Brest and Typhoon fighter-bombers raided Morlaix airport, meeting no Nazi opposition. In the evening, Venturas bombed a power station at Yainville near Rouen.

La Spezia was pounded early yesterday by several squadrons of Lancaster bombers in a surprise assault after these game planes had smashed at Friedrichshafen in southern Germany Sunday night and then had flown on to North Africa to rest and refuel. The flight inaugurated a shuttle of great potentialities.

Yesterday's targets in the furious daylight battering launched from Britain were oil storage targets in Flushing, Holland, and in France freight yards at St. Omer, an airfield at nearby Fort Rouge, the airfield at Abbeville and another at Maupertus near Cherbourg.

The hard-hitting Allied planes ruled the skies during the attack, beating off the best efforts of German day fighters to break up the operation.

The Thunderbolts shot down one Focke-Wulf 190, and damaged another, while R.A.F. Spitfires downed 10 more and probably knocked out others.

No U. S. Losses

The Americans came home without a single loss. British and other Allied losses were one bomber and four fighters.

Thus the Allies, although fighting over enemy territory and often over his airfields and in range of his anti-aircraft guns, scored better than two-to-one over the Germans' best fighters.

Polish fighter pilots escorted the Venturas in perfect weather to the attack on Flushing only 24 hours after the Dutch had been warned from London to move away from war industries working for the Nazis. A similar warning to the Belgians Monday had been followed by the Flying Fortress raid Tuesday on Antwerp. Thus the Allies appeared to be telegraphing their punches to save citizens of occupied lands.

Norwegian and Canadian squadrons escorted the Bostons on the first attack upon St. Omer. The Typhoons struck a short time later, concentrating on Fort Rouge Airfield. Typhoon fighters of a New Zealand squadron escorted the Typhoon bombers to Abbeville. Venturas attacked Maupertus.

Some raiders did not even sight a single enemy plane.

Ruhr Gets Rest

The changes in locale of the night and day attacks gave at least a brief respite to the German Ruhr from which, it was reliably reported, more than 1,000,000 persons had already been moved to "safer" areas northeast, east, and west, including thousands of workers from shattered factories.

The bombing of La Spezia in a "doubleheader" raid upon Germany and Italy added a dramatic new note to the aerial offensive by Britain's heavyweights.

Their return-trip pummeling of the Italian naval base appeared of the greatest significance in the development of aerial war. The bombers flew a round trip of about 2,500 miles, and lost not a single ship.

Oil Stores Set Afire

A communique declared that docks at La Spezia were bombed accurately and oil stores fired, and that on the outward-bound flight the Lancasters, at least several dozen strong, had wrecked three acres of the radio location equipment plant at Friedrichshafen and severely damaged the Maybach Werke motor plant.

The new technique offered greater safety to attacking planes, since they do not have to return along a route already alerted where guns and enemy planes wait to attack. And it posed a great new worry to the Germans.

Nazi air raid detection systems presumably are organized to pick up raiders coming into the Reich or occupied territory from the west or north, but the Lancaster force, flying in a generally northern direction from La Spezia, came in behind these defenses, which had not been previously alerted by the inward passage of the bombers.

Aeronautical sources in London said the shuttle attack should have tremendous effect on the bomb-nervous Germans and Italians, especially since not a plane was lost.

There was speculation but no official comment as to whether such Britain-North Africa hops might become a widely-used pattern for Allied air assaults, with long-range U. S. planes also using the technique.

La Spezia, main Italian naval base in northwestern Italy, was last attacked June 5 when Flying Fortresses from North Africa showered explosives upon warships of Mussolini's navy. The RAF had last made a heavy assault upon the port on April 18, flying from Britain in great force.

A retaliatory thrust by fifteen German planes set fires roaring in Hull, on the northeast coast of England, Wednesday night and caused numerous casualties and heavy damage, the Air and Home Security ministries announced.

Nazis Sow Fire Bombs

The Nazi raiders sowed thousands of incendiary bombs over the port in a raid lasting more than an hour, and fires and explosives destroyed a museum and damaged part of a shopping center and residential areas.

Seeking to cheer bomb-harassed German people, the German radio declared the Nazi air force's fighter strength was now enlarged "on a grand scale."

But, although the RAF in its latest blow upon the Ruhr reported running through concentrated defenses, there was no other suggestion that the Germans actually had been able to strengthen their aerial front. For some time the Germans have had virtually all their night fighters concentrated in the west.

RAF BOMBERS POUND SICILY AND SARDINIA

Middle East Forces Raid Comiso Airdrome And Leave Many Fires

JUN 25 1943

Docks At Olbia Attacked From Africa—2 Allied Planes Lost

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 24 — Bomber squadrons from the twin Allied air commands in the Mediterranean—RAF heavyweights from Middle East bases and Wellingtons flying under the Northwest African Command—have again raided Sicilian and Sardinian targets, it was announced today.

The Middle East forces on Tuesday night assaulted the Italian airdrome at Comiso, in Sicily, which was left burning with two violent explosions and many fires. The hangar and workshops were squarely hit. This attack cost no Allied planes.

At the same time, said General Eisenhower's communique, the Northwest Africa Wellingtons threw in an assault upon the docks at Olbia, in Sardinia, leaving the harbor area wildly alight.

Tanker Sunk

Other formations attached to this headquarters carried out patrol sweeps, in which an enemy tanker was sunk. In all operations, the cost was two Allied planes.

Fighter-bombers from the Malta base, the third from which the Allied air offensive is being carried on, continued their long attacks on Italian transport, this time bombing the railway sidings at Pozzallo, Sicily. A German plane was shot down by British Spitfires springing from Malta.

The Wellington smash at Olbia was the first blow at Sardinia since last Friday, the week's earlier operations all having been turned against Sicily and the Italian mainland. In addition to Olbia's docks, an enemy ship in harbor there was set afire.

Latakia Raided

The Italian command, in a communique broadcast from Rome, claimed without any Allied confirmation that Italian torpedo planes had sunk a 15,000-ton Allied steamer and damaged a 7,000-ton Allied tanker off Algeria.

The Italians asserted, too, that Axis bombers had raided an airdrome at Latakia "with good results."

[Latakia is a Levant port opposite the British island of Cyprus, which might be a marshaling point for projected Allied air operations in the Eastern Mediterranean.

[The Rome radio broadcast a report that the Allied military had posted rewards for the capture of enemy agents, observing that this was another in a series of measures to conceal "offensive (Allied) preparations along the northern Syrian frontier."]

GENERAL FORREST LOST IN KIEL RAID

Great-Grandson Of Confederate Officer Was Riding As An Observer

[By the Associated Press]

London, Friday, June 25—Brig. Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest, great-grandson and namesake of the famed Confederate general, was lost June 13 during the mass American daylight attack on Kiel, Germany.

An official announcement today listed the 38-year-old general, who rode as an observer on the heavy bomber which led the assault, as missing.

It was said, however, that Forrest, one of America's youngest generals, might have come through alive even though his plane was shot down.

The Kiel attack has been described as the greatest air battle over Europe. In a twin blow at Kiel and Bremen that day the Americans lost twenty-four bombers.

Important Role

Forrest, as chief of staff for Maj. Gen. Robert Olds, commander of the Second Air Force in the United States, played an important role in the development and expansion of the heavy bombardment program.

The young general was the first American of his rank to become a combat casualty in this theater. His loss made a total of fifteen American generals and admirals to be listetd as missing or killed in the global war.

General Forrest is a native of Memphis, Tenn., and his wife now lives in Spokane, Wash.

There was a possibility that those aboard the general's bomber may have survived—providing they escaped the enemy's fire. Returned crewmen of the leading squadrons which bore the brunt of the enemy attacks said they saw Forrest's damaged plane, one engine smoking badly and a tail section partially shot off, straggle from the bitterly besieged formations and spiral downward several thousand feet, still under control.

None Saw End

Of the numerous crewmen interviewed, however, none said he was able to watch the general's Fortress all the way down.

"We were too busy fighting off those Germans to watch the bombers that got hit and dropped out of the formations," was the summary of their reports, which added that clouds and smoke made it difficult to see.

Lieut. Robert C. Cozens, 24, of Encinitas, Cal., pilot on the Fortress

JUN 25 1943

Patsy Ann, which was flying directly behind Forrest, said the general's bomber emerged from the initial enemy attacks at the German coast with one engine smoking.

Cozens said six Germans concentrated on the lead bomber in ferocious, head-on stabs, and said further:

"But he flew on and led us over the bomb run. As we turned off the target, the general's ship again was attacked. I saw it slow down, drop out of formation. We pulled up and took over the leader's position."

Strafed With Cannon

Flight Officer James W. Reed, of Starkville, Miss., copilot, and Lieut. Earl T. De Wolf, of Barstow, Cal., bombardier on Cozens' Fortress, said they saw three fighters swoop over Forrest's bomber and savagely strafe it with cannon and machine guns. One cannon shell blasted a three-foot hole in its tail section, they said.

Capt. Harry M. Conley, San Francisco, pilot of the Fortress Blondie which later crash-landed on the English coast, probably had the last view of Forrest's bomber, which he estimated then went down to about 6,000 feet.

"I saw it spiral down and then it seemed to level off and turn northeast," Conley said. "It still seemed to be under control."

General Forrest left Fort George Wright, then Second Air Force headquarters, a month ago. He was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1928.

Gunnery Expert

Forrest, who flew to England to assume command of a bomber wing, was reputed to be one of the army's best pilots as well as a gunnery expert. Personally briefing the gunners before the pre-dawn takeoff, his parting words were, "Good luck men, I'll be flying in the lead ship."

Gen. Forrest was one of the youngest generals in the United States army and has had a brilliant military career.

Aide to Gen. Olds

As chief of staff for Major General Robert Olds, commander of the Second Air force, he played an important role in helping to develop and expand the heavy bombardment program.

"Gen. Forrest hardly had time to unpack his baggage when he took off, only a few days after his arrival, as an observer on a fortress raiding Wilhelmshaven June 11.

Fellow officers said the general found that mission "pretty tame" as comparatively few enemy fighters challenged the American raiders.

Explaining his eagerness for action, Forrest had said, "I don't like to give orders until I've had an opportunity to find out for myself what's it's like over there," according to Major F. J. Donahue, of Washington, D. C., who served under Forrest the past year.

Other crewmen aboard the bomber were:

CAPT. HARRY A. STIRWALT, Spokane, Wash., pilot.

MAJOR ALLAN W. WILDER, Garden City, Long Island, N. Y., copilot and squadron commander.

LIEUT. WALTER J. THIMM, Chicago, navigator.

LIEUT. WILLARD W. BROWN, Cleveland.

LIEUT. ROBERT L. MCNUTT, JR., Birmingham, Ala., bombardier.

LIEUT. DONALD V. SCAVOTTO, Seattle, former assistant district attorney at Seattle, a pilot who rode the general's ship as tail gunner.

SERGT. ROBERT F. FOREST, Arlington, Mass., radio operator-gunner.

SERGT. ANGELO TRICHES, JR., Homer City, Pa., waist gunner.

SERGT. CHARLES J. BENSON, Maud, Okla., ball turret gunner.

SERGT. WALTER P. DRETLEFF, New Galilee, Pa., top turret gunner.

SERGT. OLDIS W. BOYD, Oklahoma City, Okla., waist gunner.

The entire crew had been on an average of four or five previous missions, air force officials said.

West Point Decided Forrest On Army

Memphis, June 24 (AP)—Despite his military background, Brig. Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest did not want an army career until he left West Point.

"Even when he went to West Point Nathan didn't intend to make a career of the army," Forrest's aunt, Mrs. Mary Forrest Bradley, said tonight. "But when he came out he was all changed. He has been a man and a soldier ever since."

He was the last to carry on the Forrest name, Mrs. Bradley declared.

Promoted Swiftly

Brig. Gen. Forrest, reported missing after bombing action over Germany, outdid his famous great grandfather—the Confederate cavalry leader—in getting ahead in his chosen profession.

Forrest was promoted to the rank of brigadier general last November 2 at the age of 37. The Confederate cavalryman became a brigadier general at the age of 41.

Forrest was born in Memphis on April 5, 1905. His parents moved to Biloxi, Miss., when he was 7; then, later to Atlanta.

Graduated In '28

Forrest was braduated from West Point in 1928 and was commissioned second lieutenant in the cavalry. In 1929, he shifted to the air corps. His rise was rapid—a first lieutenant in 1934, a captain in 1936, a major in 1941, then lieutenant colonel, colonel and brigadier general in 1942.

His career in the current war began in January, 1942, when he became executive officer of the Second Bomber Command, Fort George Wright, Washington.

LA SPEZIA HIT ON HOP NORTH FROM AFRICA

Squadrons Blasted Zeppelin Works on Way South From England.

JUN 25 1943

NO PLANES LOST EITHER TIME

Americans Shoot Down Fighter in Daylight Sweep Over Belgium and Holland.

HEINZERLING

London, June 24 (A. P.).—A new technic of air bombardment was demonstrated dramatically by several squadrons of R. A. F. Lancasters which early today completed a shuttle round trip from Britain to Africa, bombing a German target on the way down and an Italian port on the run home without loss of a plane.

The Air Ministry disclosed that the aircraft which devastated three acres of the old Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen Sunday night continued to a North African base and returned home last night by way of La Spezia, blasting the naval base at the latter port.

This shuttle technic never was used before on a large scale at long range. Air observers said the most obvious advantage was that the raiders were able to land and reservice without retracing a course along which the enemy defenses already had been alerted by the outward passage.

Americans Sweep Over Continent.

Meanwhile tonight it was announced that fighters of the Eighth United States Air Forces made sweeps over Belgium and the Netherlands today and shot down one Focke Wulf-190 without loss.

Thunderbolts knocked down the Focke Wulf and damaged another in a fight off the Belgian coast while escorting R. A. F. bombers, American headquarters said. Then the Germans broke off the engagement. The destroyed plane was credited to Second Lieut. Melvin D. Putman of Lyons, N. Y. The damaged plane was hit by the fire of Second Lieut. Thomas W. Sheppard of New Orleans.

A second sweep was uneventful, it was declared.

Ventura, Boston and Typhoon bombers of the R. A. F. struck at France and Belgium this afternoon, attacking air fields and industrial targets, it was also learned tonight. Ten enemy fighters were destroyed by escorting Spitfires. One British bomber and four fighters are missing.

Sicily and Sardinia Hit.

The attack on La Spezia was but one of three or more newly reported aerial blows against Italy and her guardian islands. Wellington bombers of the Northwest African Air Forces made a fire-setting raid Tuesday night on the northeast Sardinian port of Olbia, a communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said. Heavy R. A. F. bombers of the Middle East Command generated two violent explosions and a number of fires in an attack on the airdrome at Comiso, Sicily, it was announced in Cairo.

In addition, the Italian High Command communique, broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press, said Allied planes attacked the Sicilian towns of Porto Empedocle and Catania. The Catania raid was reported to have caused 119 casualties and wrecked many civilian buildings.

The Lancasters' extraordinary raid on La Spezia, which has a population of 100,000 and a number of ship and submarine building yards and repair depots was the sixth since the war began.

The Lancasters made a run of some 1,250 miles each way, going 500 miles to Friedrichshafen in southern Germany and presumably 750 miles more to the nearest North African bases. On the way back they winged about 550 miles to La Spezia and 700 home. Thus each trip was somewhat shorter than the regular 1,400-mile round trip to La Spezia.

Officially described only as "several squadrons" — which means at least several dozen planes—the Lancaster force was strong enough to ravage three acres of the important radio location equipment plant in the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen and also to severely damage the Maybach Werke motor plant on the way out.

On the return trip the docks at La Spezia were bombed accurately, the communique said, and stores of oil set afire. The La Spezia attack represented the first R. A. F. assault on northern Italy since April 18, when a big fleet of bombers hit the naval base there.

Formations of Allied planes picked up the offensive again in daylight. During the morning aircraft were heard over Folkestone, winging toward northern France and Belgium.

Record Air Traffic.

Squadron after squadron of Allied bombers and fighters flew across the channel by daylight to rip anew at Hitler's military installations and communications.

Observers on the southeast English coast said they had seen more Allied planes headed for Europe today than at any time in recent weeks. There were no indications, however, that United States Flying Fortresses and Liberators were among them.

Raids on Reich Reported.

The Berlin radio said that Allied planes also were over Germany during the night, asserting that a few "made nuisance raids" in the western sector. Another German broadcast of a DNB dispatch, recorded by the Associated Press, asserted that a formation of British planes attacked a German convoy off Flushing, Holland, from a low level this morning. The report was not immediately confirmed by the British.

There still was no announcement concerning a fleet of Flying Fortresses seen by coastal observers returning yesterday from Europe.

In the offensive against Europe, still steadily mounting in fury, British Boston and Typhoons, escorted by fighters, attacked targets at Meaulte, St. Omer and Maupertus in France late yesterday. The attackers destroyed two enemy planes without loss to themselves.

One pilot reported concentrated fires raging "for about two square miles" in Mulheim, slammed by hundreds of R. A. F. heavy bombers Tuesday night.

More than 1,000,000 Germans were reported in reliable advices to London to have migrated from Germany's heavily bombed Ruhr Valley area to sections they regarded as safer to the east, northeast and west. Among those participating in this movement continuing for weeks were thousands of workers from factories that British and American bombs have now reduced to ashes, it was reported.

Allied airmen struck hard at San Giovanni Monday, concentrating particularly on the ferry route to Messina. The flyers saw dozens of ferries darting out from the shore.

"They wriggled like bacteria under a microscope," said Navigator Lieut. E. D. Rothfug of 1745 Caton avenue, Brooklyn. "We made our run just when half a dozen of them seemed to be in line, and I saw one fly in a million pieces. I saw another stand on its stern and fall back in the water with only its rear end sticking out. At least four others were probably destroyed."

[The Italian High Command declared in a Rome-broadcast communique that Italian planes sank a 15,000-ton steamer and damaged a 7,000-ton tanker off the Algerian coast while bombers raided Egyptian communication lines at Fuka and a Levant airdrome at Latakia "with good results." Latakia, almost directly opposite the British island of Cyprus, might serve as a jumping off spot for United States A. A. F. and British R. A. F. offensive operations in the eastern Mediterranean.]

ISLAND GARRISONS RECALLED BY AXIS TO SHORTEN LINES

JUN 25 1943

Defenses Against Invasion Planned in Italy, Southern Europe.

LONDON, June 24.—(AP) The Axis was reported tonight to be shortening its anti-invasion defenses, pulling back some of its island garrisons and concentrating more strength in the Balkans apparently in expectation of a massive Allied blow from the southeast.

An unofficial source, who would not permit his name to be used but who has continental connections, said the movement extended from Sardinia eastward to the Dodecanese, while Ankara dispatches quoted a Balkan source as saying the Axis had 75 divisions, or approximately 1,125,000 troops, stationed in Yugoslavia, Greece, Crete, and some of the larger Aegean islands.

Garrison Withdrawn

The German radio tended to bear out this wholly unconfirmed report, stating that the Italian garrison on Castelrosso already had been withdrawn. This tiny island off southern Turkey is considered easy prey for Allied amphibious forces attacking from nearby Cyprus or Syria where the Axis has said powerful Allied units were massing.

Spanish dispatches relayed from Madrid and also broadcast by Berlin said four British battleships, two anti-aircraft carriers, and 18 destroyers were concentrated at Gibraltar while two other battleships had left that British naval bastion and put out into the Mediterranean yesterday.

The British Admiralty announced

JUN 25 1943

1943

30.24-5339

30.24—5339

that its submarines had sunk 13 Axis ships and damaged six others in Mediterranean operations extending from the southern French coast eastward to the Aegean sea. Those sunk were a 7,000-ton armed merchant ship, two auxiliary vessels, and ten supply ships, the communique said.

Axis apprehensions of an Allied move in the eastern Mediterranean were reflected in a Rome announcement that Italian planes had attacked an airfield in Latakia, which lies on the eastern Mediterranean coast north of Lebanon, and communications at Fuka, Egypt. These points represent the ends of an Allied pincers menacing Axis positions on Crete and in the Balkans.

The unofficial source who told of a withdrawal of Axis island garrisons, presumably to the Italian mainland in an attempt to find a stronger defense line, gave this picture of the situation:

SICILY—The garrison has been cut to four Italian divisions, whereas ten days ago it numbered from five to six divisions. There are no Germans in Sicily except some air force and special units. Such a situation would contrast sharply with that once prevailing on Pantelleria. Although only a fraction of the size of Sicily, Pantelleria's garrison numbered approximately a full division when it surrendered after a devastating Allied air attack.

SARDINIA—A garrison of two Italian divisions; no Germans are there.

CORSICA—Two Italian divisions and one under-sized German regiment man this occupied French island above Sardinia.

LOWER ITALY—Three Italian divisions are located in the two "toe" provinces, there is negligible troop strength in the "heel," and there are indications that the main holding line is being developed somewhere between the toe and a line drawn between Naples and Taranto.

This source estimated that the Germans in the remainder of Italy number 60,000—far below the 200,00 reported there some months ago. The Germans reported recently as moving through the Brenner Pass into Italy apparently were shifted on southeastward into the Balkans.

Axis strength in the Balkans consists of thirty-seven Italian divisions, eighteen German and twenty Bulgarian, an informed Balkan source said in Ankara. He also said that General Hans Spiedel of the German Army had arrived in Greece to command three Nazi divisions recently shifted from the Russian front.

It is thought that fewer than ten of these divisions are manning the outlying islands off the Greek coast.

NAZIS REPORT RED ACTIVITY

Declare That Breach Of Lines South Of Velikie Luki Is Sealed Off

JUN 25 1943

Soviets Don't Mention Sector But Claim Twelve Dugouts Are Destroyed

[By the Associated Press]

London, Friday, June 25—German dispatches reported early today that the Red army had smashed into Axis lines south of Velikie Luki, only eighty miles from the Latvian border, but said a German counter-attack had sealed off the breach in this sector which had been comparatively quiet for months.

The regular midnight Moscow bulletin did not specifically name the Velikie Luki sector, but said Soviet scouts and artillery had destroyed twelve dugouts and eight machine guns on the Western front. Velikie Luki is 275 miles west of the Soviet capital.

A special Moscow broadcast also announced that the Germans lost nineteen planes in attempted daylight attacks Wednesday on towns near Leningrad. Four Russian planes were lost in blocking the raiders, which failed even to reach the towns, the announcement said.

Size Not Indicated

The German-controlled Paris radio reported the fighting at Velikie Luki in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, but did not indicate whether the engagement was a large-scale one.

Soviet scouts also killed 180 Germans and destroyed three large blockhouses and several machine-gun points in another stab into German positions west of Axis-held Belgorod on the Southern front, said the Moscow bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Fifty Finns were reported killed above Leningrad in a minor clash, and Soviet artillery scored hits on German positions near Lisichansk, southeast of Kharkov.

In the air the Russians said their airmen and gunners downed five German aircraft during the day.

NEW BATTLE RAGES WEST OF MOSCOW

Red Smash into Enemy Lines Near Velikie Luki.

LONDON, Friday, June 25.—(AP) German dispatches reported early today that the Red army had smashed into Axis lines south of Velikie Luki, only 80 miles from the Latvian border, but said a German counter-attack had sealed off the breach in this sector which had been comparatively quiet for months.

The regular midnight Moscow bulletin did not specifically name the Velikie Luki sector but said Soviet scouts and artillery had destroyed 12 dugouts and eight machineguns on the western front. Velikie Luki is 275 miles west of the Soviet capital.

A special Moscow broadcast also announced that the Germans lost 19 planes in attempted daylight attacks Wednesday on towns near Leningrad. Four Russian planes were lost in blocking the raiders, which failed even to reach the towns, the announcement said.

The German controlled-Paris radio reported the fighting at Velikie Luki in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, but did not indicate whether the engagement was a large-scale one.

Soviet scouts also killed 180 Germans and destroyed three large blockhouses and several machine-gun points in another stab into German positions west of Axis-held Belgorod on the southern front, said the Moscow bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Fifty Finns were reported killed above Leningrad in a minor clash, and Soviet artillery scored hits on German positions near Lisichansk, southeast of Kharkov.

In the air the Russians said their airmen and gunners downed five German aircraft during the day.

Nazi Line Cut East of Latvia

Berlin Says Breach in Main Defenses Is Closed South of Velikie Luki.

London, June 24 (A. P.).—The Berlin radio declared in a broadcast recorded by Reuters today that the Russian Army had broken into the main German defense line south of Velikie Luki, eighty miles from the Latvian border, but that the breach was sealed off by a Nazi counter-attack.

The official Russian communique, as broadcast by the Moscow radio and picked up here by the Soviet monitor, said that there was only desultory action on the fighting front last night.

The German High Command reported only local activity along the whole front, adding, however, that the German air force attacked shipping in the Kuban Delta Lagoon area and in Lake Ladoga, sinking one vessel an fifteen landing barges.

Housing Crisis Bared By German Order

London, June 24 (AP)—Indicating the large number of Germans who have lost their homes because of Allied bombings, the Berlin radio tonight announced that as of July 1 nobody anywhere in Germany would be permitted to have more than one room per person. It also appealed to the population to give up rooms in houses or apartments voluntarily before then to help solve the acute housing problem.

The British estimate that 1,000,000 homes in the Ruhr area have been destroyed.

A compilation showed the Allies poured more than 15,000 tons of bombs upon the Reich in the last month, two thirds of them on seven munitions centers in the Ruhr—Dortmund, Essen, Wuppertal, Bochum, Oberhausen, Krefeld and Muelheim.

GERMAN PLANE STOLEN BY CZECHS

London June 24 (A. P.).—Five Czech Air Force officers seized a German plane and made their way to a point in the Near East, where they joined other Czechs flying with the R. A. F., the Czecho-Slovakian Government in Exile reported today.

The men said they were not molested in their flight over occupied territory, it was declared

AXIS QUITS ISLAND IN MEDITERRANEAN

London, June 24 (A. P.).—Indications that Axis troops are being withdrawn from outpost islands in the Mediterranean from Sardinia to the Dodecanese to find a stronger line to meet an anticipated Allied invasion were reported by an unofficial spokesman in London today. His assertion keyed with a statement broadcast by the Berlin radio that the Italian garrison had already evacuated six-mile long Castelrosso, easternmost island of the Dodecanese.

The unofficial spokesman, who cannot be identified but who has continental connections, said it appeared that the Axis garrisons in Sicily, Sardinia and Corsica were being reduced and that there were indications that the main Italian holding line was being developed somewhere between the toe of Italy and Naples and Taranto. He estimated the number of Germans in the mainland of Italy at 60,000, far below the 200,000 reported some months ago. The Germans recently reported moving through the Brenner Pass apparently continued on southeast into the Balkans instead of into Italy, he added.

The German announcer said that the report of the Italian evacuation came from Ankara. British military observers minimized the importance of Castelrosso, pointing out that the tiny island probably had been garrisoned by only a few hundred soldiers.

The German announcer declared, however, that there are reports in the Turkish capital that the Allies may start operations against the Dodecanese from Syria. The Dodecanese Islands lie around the southwestern tip of Turkey and command the entry into the Ægean Sea.

Castelrosso lies less than five miles off the south coast of Turkey and is seventy-five miles east by south of Rhodes. Early in 1941 British naval forces made a landing on the island and then withdrew. The Italians later asserted they had driven the British out, causing heavy losses.

BRITISH TORPEDOES SINK 13 AXIS SHIPS

London, June 24 (A. P.).—British submarines operating in the Mediterranean have sunk an armed Axis merchant ship of 7,000 tons and destroyed two auxiliary vessels, two medium-sized supply ships and eight small supply ships, the Admiralty announced today.

In addition, three large tankers, two large supply ships and a small tanker were damaged by torpedo hits and a patrol of two Italian destroyers was engaged by a submarine. The results of this engagement were not ascertained.

A radio location station on Alina Island north of Sicily, was repeatedly hit in a bombardment by another submarine, the Admiralty said, adding: "These successes have taken place over a wide area and include attacks made off the French Riviera, Sicily, in the Adriatic and the eastern Ægean."

STERN, JUST PEACE URGED BY DEVERS

U. S. Commander Says Tide of War Has Turned for Allies.

LONDON, Friday, June 25.—(AP) Lieut. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, U. S. commander in chief in the European theater, declared in a speech last night that "the tide of war has turned" and that final victory would be followed by "an intelligent and sternly just peace."

General Devers opened a three-day advanced course in international affairs for representatives of the United States, British and Canadian armed forces at the Royal Institute of International Affairs.

Americans, he said, knew their existence was inseparable from that of other nations, great and small, and that international affairs had become their affairs.

"Momentous changes" would be brought about by the war, he said, "and we must face the fact that the post-war period will require as much courage, possible even more fortitude, than the war years themselves."

Casey in England for Talks

LONDON, June 24 (AP).—Richard G. Casey, British Minister of State for the Middle East, has arrived in England for consultations with the war cabinet, it was announced today. Casey participated last month in a conference of the Allied Middle East council of military and civil leaders at Cairo.

Gen. Donovan Confers With Winant in London

London, June 24 (A. P.).—Brig.-Gen. William J. Donovan, head of the United States Office of Strategic Services, has arrived in Great Britain and conferrd today with Ambassador John G. Winant.

JUN 25 1943

KING RETURNS HOME

LONDON, Friday, June 25—(AP) King George VI has returned home, it was announced today, after a visit to Allied forces in North Africa and the British Mediterranean stronghold of Malta.

The King made the return trip by plane, said the announcement, which was limited to a single terse sentence:

"His Majesty, the King, arrived home safely by air this morning."

Graves Resigns as B. B. C. Aid

LONDON, June 24 (AP).—Sir Cecil George Graves resigned today as joint director-general of the British Broadcasting Corporation because of ill health. He had been connected with the B. B. C. since 1926.

JUN 25 1943

Britain Urged To Start Transport Plane Output

London, Friday, June 25 (AP)—An immediate start on large-scale production of transport aircraft for war and post-war commercial use is called for in a statement issued today by the Society of British Aircraft Constructors.

Asserting that "much can be done without hindering the supply of combat aircraft from British factories," the society urged construction of transport planes based on heavy-bomber types, to be used in war transport operations and to be shifted immediately into commercial work at the close of the war.

At present military transport planes are being produced by the United States, while Great Britain is concentrating on combat planes.

New Rescue Tugs Save Torpedoed Ships, Cargo

LONDON, — (AP) — The world's largest tugs are being built for the Royal Navy in British shipyards. Fast, well-armed, and capable of going hundreds of miles out to sea, they can tow anything from a battleship to a huge passenger liner. Their war-time job is to pull torpedoed or damaged vessels to safety.

Almost equal in tonnage to a medium-sized destroyer, these tugs can put to sea on five minutes' notice. They are equipped with the latest devices; electric power from a dynamo works the winches, capstans and other gear; fire-fighting jets throw liquid chemical extinguishers as much as 60 feet, and powerful pumps can clear a flooded hold in a short time.

Absentee Soldiers to Vote In British Post-War Poll

New Law To Be Sought for General Election

LONDON, June 24 (AP).—The government announced today plans for a post-war general election, the first since 1935, in which persons serving in the armed forces will be able to vote by mail or by proxy, a practice not permitted at the present time.

Herbert Morrison, Minister of Home Security, told the House of Commons that the government intended to introduce legislation which would enable any person who has reached twenty-one years of age to vote.

At present, hundreds of thousands of adults in Great Britain are not eligible to vote because the register of voters has not been revised since the beginning of the war, and no provision has been made for voting by those in the armed forces who are absent from home.

War-time elections have been held only to fill vacancies in Parliament caused by deaths or resignations.

Denies Smigly-Rydz Is Underground Leader

London, June 24 (AP)—Sources close to the Polish government in exile today branded as untrue London newspaper reports that Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, commander in chief of the Polish army at the outbreak of the war, had become the leader of a Polish underground movement.

The Government sources asserted that the marshal was not in Poland but was believed to be either in Rumania, where he went after Poland's collapse in 1939, or in Hungary, to which he recently applied for an entry permit.

Honored by Duchess of Kent

LONDON, June 24 (AP).—The Duchess of Kent, sister-in-law of King George VI, presented Royal Air Force crests to three American Eagle squadrons while on a visit to an airdrome in the home counties today.

Landslide at Gibraltar Is Reported by Berlin

Seville Dispatch Says Year Will Be Required to Clear Debris

LONDON, June 24 (AP).—The Berlin radio quoted dispatches from Seville today as saying that a landslide had dislodged a million tons of earth and rock from the eastern face of the Rock of Gibraltar.

The broadcast, which was recorded by The Associated Press, said it would take more than a year to clear away the debris and that British military authorities had decided to build new approaches to replace those obliterated by the slide.

There was no confirmation of the report from British sources.

What the Enemy Says.

London, June 24 (A. P.).—The German radio today broadcast a Paris dispatch declaring that two high French officials, former Vichy collaborationists, had been shot in Algiers. Details were lacking and the report was not confirmed by any Allied spokesman.

LONDON SOLVES PROBLEM OF MILK DELIVERIES

LONDON, — (AP) — This city's milk delivery problem has been solved by a transfer of customers which has effected tremendous savings in man-power.

About 693,567 regular purchasers were shifted from one dairy company, enabling the firm to reduce its staff more than 34 per-cent. The men released have gone into military service or war production.

It is estimated that another 4,500,000 exchanges of customers will have to be made in London before the scheme is complete.

London, June 24 (A. P.).—A Stockholm dispatch to the London Daily Express today said that special Nazi Gestapo detachments, strengthened with picked troops, have been assigned to guard duty at Norwegian dams which may soon be targets, the Germans fear, for Royal Air Force bombers.

The dispatch said that the entire region around the Moeswans Dam in the Southern part of the Hardangervidda district, has been closed and surrounded with barbed wire. Norwegians living in the area have been ordered to move, the Express added.

killed.

One official recently estimated it would take twenty years after the war to rebuild the city.

STALEMATE SEEN IN EIRE

JUN 25 1943

No Party Is Expected To Get Enough Votes For Firm Control Of Dail

Ten Seats In Parliament Still Undecided—De Valera Seen Losing Majority

[By the Associated Press]

Dublin, Friday, June 25—With ten seats in Parliament still undecided in returns from Tuesday's voting, spokesmen for the major parties expressed certainty early today that Eire's first wartime elections would end in a stalemate, with no group armed with enough votes to form a firm Government in the Dail.

As early as yesterday, the Fianna Fail party of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera, which has been in power since 1932, had lost the absolute majority it had held earlier in the returns, with a number of its seats being taken by the Farmers Party which has no representation in the present Dail.

Small Majority Seen

It was estimated that if de Valera did hold a majority at the count's windup, it would be no more than three seats.

The standing as of 2.30 A. M. today was:

Fianna Fail, 63.

Fine Gael, headed by William T. Cosgrave, former Irish Free State President, 28.

Labor, headed by William Norton, 16.

Farmers, 14.

Independents, 7.

Supporters of de Valera's Government party declared that the best the New York-born Prime Minister could hope for would be 69 seats of the Dail's 138 as compared with the 77 the party won in the 1938 balloting.

Hull, England, Afire in Raid

JUN 25 1943

15 Nazi Bombers Scatter Incendiaries on British Port—Heavy Damage Done.

Hull, England, June 24 (A. P.).—Fifteen German raiders pounded this northeast England port city of 250,000 last night, showering down thousands of incendiary bombs in an attack that lasted more than an hour and caused fires that were not controlled until today. A museum and its valuable exhibits were destroyed and part of the shopping center and residential property were damaged.

The casualty toll still was climbing as rescue squads dug out the bodies of those buried in the wreckage of their homes.

Hundreds fled to air raid shelters clad only in night-dress.

Hull was one of the first English towns raided in the war. It has had hundreds of alerts and underwent between seventy and eighty raids during the winter of 1940, during which 1,050 were killed.

Action at Belgorod.

Moscow, June 24 (A. P.).—An assertion in the Soviet midnight communique that Russian units had struck at German defense lines west of Belgorod stirred the speculation of Moscow military observers today, since the town, on the lower-central part of the front, long has been in German hands. Belgorod is forty miles northeast of Kharkov, which also is held by the Germans.

Whether the reported Soviet action west of Belgorod means the Russians have captured it recently, without making any public announcement, or whether they merely slipped around the town for a quick thrust remains to be explained here.

The war bulletin said that as a result of the fighting more than 200 Germans were killed. It described the Russian attackers as a reconnaissance unit.

Except for this sortie, the land front continued in its lull. The Red Air Force kept up its destructive raids against enemy airdromes.

7000 ARE REPORTED ARRESTED IN ITALY

Berne, June 24 (A. P.).—Reliable spokesmen today reported the arrest of more than 7,000 anti-Fascists and other dissidents by the Italian police under the direction of their newly appointed chief, Renzo Chierici, a graduate of the castor oil-and-cudget days of Fascism.

Carlo Scorza, the secretary of the Fascist party, declared, according to these informants, that the arrests were absolutely indispensable, and urged Premier Mussolini to exert even greater severity. The persons arrested were said to include high Fascist officials, among them party prefects, several thousand "Communists," and many anti-Fascists reported to have been involved in separatist movements in Dalmatia and South Tyrol.

KINGDOM UP TO FRANCO

HAWKINS

Berne, June 24 (A. P.).—The question of a restoration of the Spanish monarchy, with Prince Juan as King, was dropped neatly into the lap of Generalissimo Francisco Franco today. Brought decisively into the open by a letter from twenty-five leading Monarchists addressed to Franco, the problem has been given added urgency by the activity of Alfonso d'Orleans, cousin of the late King Alfonso XIII, who has just returned to Madrid after conferences here with the 30-year-old Prince Juan, to whom Alfonso signed over his rights to the throne before his death in Rome in February, 1941.

The pressure by the monarchists is so straightforward that it appears they are confident the issue will be brought to a decision very soon. Their letter, it was said, demands a straight yes or no answer from Franco.

The signers—all members of the Cortes—are urging immediacy, declaring that a regime that has had no previous alliances—such as Franco's links with Germany and Italy—is necessary to guard Spain's neutrality and economic welfare as the Second Front threat grows stronger.

NAZI U-BOATS FAIL TO HALT SUPPLIES BOUND FOR AFRICA

American Fifth Army Receiving All Its Needs, Says Commanding General.

By DON WHITEHEAD

A NORTH AFRICAN PORT, June 24—(AP) Adolf Hitler's marauding submarines have failed to check the flow of food supplies and war materials to the Fifth American army in North Africa and during the last six months the loss of shipments has been "absolutely negligible," the commanding general of this base section said today.

The officer said that more than 1,000,000 tons of shipping had crossed the Atlantic to maintain the American army since it landed on this continent, and that convoys continue to stream into these ports with greater tonnages than before.

Lauds Navy, Merchant Marine

"The Navy and the merchant marine have done a wonderful job," the general said. "Before, in supplies sent to the Army from the United States we estimated a certain percentage of loss from submarine attacks on convoys. But those losses have been considerably lower than we figured they would be. You might say they are absolutely negligible.

"We have had losses. Some ships have been sunk and the loss of cargoes made it difficult for the Army at times. There were days when we did not have all we wanted of certain things—oil filters, for example.

"With the shortage of oil filters the oil in the motors of cars and trucks was not as clean as it should have been and the drivers had to work harder to keep the motors in good condition.

"But there never was any serious disruption in the movement of supplies x x x."

The general said much credit should be given to the U. S. ports for the job done there in getting cargoes on their way to North Africa.

At another port, an officer said that German officers enroute from Tunisia to prison camps were amazed at the number of ships they see in the harbors.

"They believed the propaganda that subs were sinking everything coming this way," "when as a matter of fact, convoy after convoy docks without a ship missing."

"I'll be getting a new Mitchell in a few days," Schlitzkus promised, "and something is going to happen. I don't mean I'll start strafing lifeboats, but I'll get even. You can count on that."

Bombers Blast Italy's Islands, Hit Airdrome

Sicily and Sardinia Again Attacked; Explosions Set

JUN 25 1943

30.24 - 5341

30.24 — 5341

Off at Comiso Installations

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 24 (AP).—Bomber squadrons from the twin Allied air commands in the Mediterranean—Royal Air Force heavyweights from Middle East bases and Wellingtons flying under the Northwest African Command—have again spread fire and steel over Sicilian and Sardinian targets, it was announced today.

The Middle East forces on Tuesday night drove in over the Mediterranean to assault the Italian airdrome at Comiso in Sicily, causing two violent explosions and many fires. The hangar and workshops were hit squarely. This attack cost no Allied planes.

At the same time, said General Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique, the Northwest African Wellingtons threw in an assault upon the docks at Olbia, in Sardinia, leaving the harbor area alight.

Other formations attached to this headquarters carried out patrol sweeps, in which an enemy tanker was sunk. In all operations, the cost was two Allied planes.

Fighter-bombers from the Malta base, the third from which the Allied air offensive is being carried on, continued their long attacks on Italian transport, this time bombing the railway sidings at Pozzallo, Sicily. A German plane was shot down by British Spitfires springing from Malta.

The Wellington smash at Olbia was the first blow at Sardinia since last Friday, the week's earlier operations all having been turned against Sicily and the Italian mainland. In addition to Olbia's docks, an enemy ship in harbor there was set afire.

The Italian high command, in a communique broadcast from Rome, said, without any Allied confirmation, that Italian torpedo planes had sunk a 15,000-ton Allied steamship and damaged a 7,000-ton Allied tanker off Algeria.

'Dirty Fighting' On Pantelleria Raid Angers U. S. Bomber Pilot

Lieutenant Schlitzkus Shot Down By Enemy Planes And Strafed In Lifeboat

JUN 25 1943

By JOSEPH MORTON
(Associated Press Correspondent)

An Advanced American Base in North Africa, June 23 (Delayed) (AP)—First Lieutenant Sam C. Schlitzkus, of Dallas, Texas, is an extremely angry bomber pilot, the victim of what he declares was dirty fighting.

The bronzed 23-year-old pilot, who had flown nineteen missions over enemy territory, lost his Mitchell to a score of Messerschmitts in a recent engagement between Pantelleria Island and Tunisia.

His bombardier was killed and three other crewmen wounded when the Germans shot his plane into the sea and then strafed the rubber lifeboat in which they were trying to make land. Only Schlitzkus came through unhurt.

Messerchmitts Come

"The Messerschmitt-109s jumped us as we finished dropping bombs on Pantelleria a day or so before the island surrendered," Schlitzkus related. "We fought them off as best we could until we were about ten miles out to sea.

"Then they dived in from both sides, firing from as close as fifty yards. The right engine was hit twice and caught fire; the hydraulic system went out and the wheels dropped down. The copilot started to walk back to pump the wheels up by hand, but he was wounded in the back.

Controls Put Out

"Then the enemy almost chewed off my right wing and set both gas tanks afire. Other shots hit the controls and knocked out all my instruments. Finally they got a shot in my left engine, but both engines continued to pull, so we kept on.

"Next the escape hatch and the top of the plane over my head was blown away by a burst of .20-millimeter shells. The copilot's throat microphone was shot away and my own wrist watch and headphones were neatly picked off. Then the instrument panel went and we decided to crash land in the water.

Shot All To Hell

"While we were going down the turret gunner's ammunition gave out and as he climbed down three Messerschmitts dived from above. They blew off both sides of the turret and wounded him. In short, we were shot all to hell.

"The wheels and lower turret were down when the plane smacked the water. We just had time to climb out and get the raft clear when she sank.

"Then we found they were coming at us again. We couldn't get under water because of our life vests, so we just had to duck our heads and let them strafe us. After a while they punctured the radio operator's lifebelt, so he could at least bleed under water. Then they seemed satisfied and quit."

Picked Up By Seaplane

Hours later an RAF Walrus amphibious sea rescue plane sighted Schlitzkus and his three companions, but the waves were too high to permit it to come down and it summoned a minesweeper, which picked up the flyers and kept them aboard overnight. They were landed at a Tunisian port the next day.

During all this time, Schlitzkus said, his three wounded companions did not "whimper." The radio operator's legs were pierced by 20-millimeter cannon shells. The gunner had been sprayed by splinters from a shell which exploded inside the plane. He was bleeding all over.

GIRAUD TELLS OFFICERS' AGES

Retorts to Rivals' Charge That Staff Is Old.

Algiers, June 24 (A. P.).—Continued rivalry between Gen. Henri Giraud and Gen. Charles de Gaulle was reflected today in a special communique from the headquarters of Gen. Giraud denying that his military command is cluttered up with aging officers. The communique, issued "to end certain rumors prejudicing the credit" of Giraud's armed forces, declared that of 108 generals and admirals under his command only two are over 60 years of age.

The De Gaullists, obviously with the approval of their chief, have repeatedly alleged that Gen. Giraud has kept more than 100 over-age generals and other officers on the active list.

The communique disclosed incidentally that Admiral Rene Godfroy, commander of the French fleet at Alexandria, who had remained loyal to Vichy while his vessels lay there dismantled following the fall of France, is now on the active list of naval officers under Gen. Giraud's command. It also disclosed that Gen. Giraud has established an expeditionary corps to fight beside his American and British allies "in overseas operations from North Africa." The generals of this corps, the communique said, number twenty-three and their average age is 52 years 6 months.

The bulletin said that the average age of the forty-four generals in administrative posts, commanding territories, air bases, &c., was 56 years; that the twenty-two in engineering, medical, supply and similar services average 54 years, and that the nineteen admirals average 53 years.

Explosive arguments, meanwhile, continued to simmer in both camps over the question of recruiting North African civilians who might wish to join Gen. de Gaulle's Free French forces instead of Gen. Giraud's. The Giraudists maintain that recruiting should be on a territorial basis, thus preventing the Fighting French from taking any man power from this area—an arrangement strongly opposed by the De Gaullists.

Daring Bomber Crews Cited

JUN 25 1943

New Yorkers Included in Those Honored for Their Air Raids on Japs.

United States Heavy Bomber Base Somewhere in India, June 3 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Major-Gen. Clayton L. Bissell, Tenth Air Force commander, said at this base recently, "You men of this heavy bomber group have made a glorious record during the months you have been fighting the Japs in Burma and Thailand. I'd stack your group against any heavy bomber group in the world any time—and be confident of the results."

The group to which he referred stems back to world war I days, when it won citations for outstanding performances in the Lorraine, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne battles.

A few days ago the group learned of another citation—issued in the name of the President of the United States—"For outstanding performance of duty in action during the period January 14 to March 1, 1942."

"Opposing the full force of the numerically superior Japanese with all available aircraft," the citation said, "the . . . bombardment group participated daily in attacking the enemy wherever they found him during his prolonged drive through the Philippines and Netherland Indies to Java. Long-range bombing attacks were executed in the face of heavy anti-aircraft fire, and large concentrations of enemy fighter airplanes over the target areas. Despite extremely adverse weather and dangerous field conditions, hampered by lack of adequate personnel to maintain aircraft in continuous combat condition, many successful missions were performed by crews fatigued from daily flights against the numerically dominant enemy. . . . The superior courage and devotion to duty shown by this bombardment group will always be worthy of emulation."

This year, the group has been bettering its records month by month. During the first twenty-two days of May, for example, the heavy bombers dropped 1,400,000 pounds of high explosive on more than forty targets. In a single day, they poured more than 100 tons of bombs on the Japs.

New Yorkers in Group.

Among combat crewmen responsible for this group's outstanding performances to date are:

Pilots—Col. Conrad F. Necrason, Cooperstown, N. Y., group commander; Lieut. James Barton, Binghamton, N. Y.

Co-pilots—Lieut. Allan Kass, New York city; Lieut. Russell Codington, Hudson Falls, N. Y.; Lieut. Robert Corrigan, Stamford, Conn.; Lieut. Francis Dougherty, St. Albans, L. I.; Lieut. Benjamin Reynolds, Newport, R. I.; Lieut. Benjamin Joy, Briston, Conn.

Navigators — Lieut. Hugo Franz, Saranac Lake, N. Y.; Lieut William Clark, Pittsford, N. Y.; Lieut. Leo Levi, Hudson Falls, N. Y.; Lieut. Thomas Columbus, Buffalo, N. Y.; Lieut. Eric Kyhlon, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Lieut. Paul Paskey, Roselle, N. J.; Lieut Lewis Harris, Stamford, Conn.; Lieut. Edward Weaver, Elmira, N. Y.

Bombardiers — Master Sergt. Howard Darby, Plattsburg, N. Y.; Lieut. James Duffy, L. I., N. Y.; Lieut. Kenneth Kinney, Gouverneur, N. Y.; Lieut. Joseph Bryne, New York, N. Y.; Lieut. Chester Bawol, Sauquoit, N. Y; Lieut. Edward Cappucci, New York, N. Y.; Lieut. William Vogel, Elma, N. Y.; Lieut Richard Clements, Larchmont, N. Y.

Engineers and Gunners.

Engineers, radio operators, gunners, photo gunners:

Technical Sergt. Adolph Scolovino, Providence, R. I.; Technical Sergt. John Craigie, West Haven, Conn.; Staff Sergt. Henry Ley, New Haven, Conn.; Staff Sergt. Francis Diegman, Kenilworth, N. J.; Staff Sergt. Ralph Perrone, New York city; Staff Sergt. Frank Chiarrello, Bridgeport, Conn.; Staff Sergt. Daniel Sbarra, Woodside, L. I.; Corporal Adrian Ablaza, New York city; Staff Sergt. Elmer Lewis, Trenton, N. J.; Staff Sergt. William Carver, Rosemont, N. J.; Staff Sergt. Martin Flanagan, Brooklyn; Technical Sergt. Robert Egnor, Catskill, N. Y.; Technical Sergt. John Imre, Bordentown, N. J.; Staff Sergt. Kenneth Marks, Springfield Gardens, L. I.; Staff Sergt. Robert Murphy, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Staff Sergt. Joseph Cushman, Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.; Technical Sergt. Robert Mayotte, Hudson Falls, N. Y.; Staff Sergt. Elliott Ryan, L. I.; Staff Sergt. Robert Banner, Meriden, Conn.; Staff Sergt. John Baltes, Inwood, L. I.; Sergt. James Ryan, Summit, N. J.; Staff Sergt. Don Myers, Greenwich, Conn.; Staff Sergt. Henry Caldwell, Woonsocket, R. I.; Technical Sergt. Irving Van Valkenburg, Attica, N. Y.; Staff Sergt. Samuel Keyser, Hartford, Conn., and Staff Sergt. Walter Rozell, Bradley Beach, N. J.

Pope To Seek Closer Vatican-Chinese Ties

Chungking, June 24 (AP)—President Lin Sen has received a letter from Pope Pius XII pledging to do the utmost to promote closer relations between China and the Vatican, it was announced today.

The letter, which was written in Latin, said Dr. Shieh Shou-kang, Chinese Minister to the Vatican, was welcomed warmly when he presented his credentials last year and was promised every facility and help in executing his duties.

The Pope expressed the hope that peace would dawn before long for the whole world.

BIG FIRES SET ON SALAMAUA

Allied Bombers Raid Japanese New Guinea Base In Low Level Attack

Two Enemy Planes Destroyed Over Tanimbar Islands North Of Darwin

JUN 25 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Friday, June 25—Allied Mitchell bombers set big fires yesterday at Salamaua, New Guiner, in a low level attack, the high command announced.

Allied fighters destroyed two Japanese bombers while over the Tanimbar Islands, 300 miles north of Darwin.

In the reawakened ground fighting sector at Mubo, twelve miles below Salamaua, Allied attack planes bombed and strafed the Japanese position on Woody island and along adjacent tracks in support of the ground troops, but "the ground situation was quiet," the noon communique said.

200 Casualties

"In his recent attacks, the enemy sustained over 200 known casualties," it added.

JUN 25 1943

"Our losses were very light in proportion."

Over Tanimbar, Allied long-range fighters heavily strafed the airdrome on Selaru, destroying two enemy reconnaissance bombers which were on the ground.

At Salamaua, the airdrome buildings and installations as well as adjacent villages occupied by the Japanese were the targets.

The communique said the raiders started large fires in the supply and fuel dumps.

Maccassar Is Plastered, Too.

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 24 (A. P.).—The Japanese, long undisturbed on their conquered islands in the Southwest Pacific while they seized resources and build fortifications, had a grim warning before them today—thirty-eight tons of bombs dropped on Macassar, Dutch Celebes, where no bombs had fallen since Japan won the battle for Java.

American flyers had to cover a round trip of 2,000 over-water miles in land-based Liberator bombers to strike in daylight yesterday at Macassar but they appeared in great force, squarely hitting an enemy cruiser and a cargo ship and starting dock fires.

Only one of the big bombers was lost. The only Japanese fighter to attempt interception crashed into its wing. The two fell together.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur said the flight was the second longest made in the war by land-based bombers, being exceeded only by a bombing raid on Wake Islands from Hawaii, a round trip amounting to 2,400 miles.

Cruiser Set Afire.

While anti-aircraft batteries on the shore and from the cruiser and six merchant ships in the harbor fired constantly, the Liberators sent a heavy weight of incehdiaries and high explosive bombs, some of them 2,000-pounders, crashing down on the Juliana and Wilhelmina wharves. One of the 2,000-pounders hit the cruiser, which immediately was enveloped in smoke.

On the ground the Japanese also took a beating. Today's communique disclosed that on Tuesday they made their third straight attempt to break through well-entrenched Australians on Lababia Ridge between Mubo and Salamaua, New Guinea, but were bloodily repulsed. Sixty-four of the enemy either were killed or severely wounded, as against the wounding of only three Australians.

The day before, an even larger Japanese patrol tried to break through and was thrown back after suffering over 100 casualties. The ground fighting is in a jungle area some twelve miles below the enemy's isthmus base of Salamaua on the Huon Gulf.

U. S. PILOTS RAID SOLOMON FOE

JUN 25 1943

Batter Jap Seaplane Base With 20 Tons of Bombs.

An Advanced South Pacific Base, June 24 (A. P.).—Dauntless and Avenger bombers yesterday unloaded twenty tons of bombs on Rekata Bay, the Japanese seaplane base and submarine fueling station on Santa Isabel Island in the Solomons, and South Pacific Force headquarters reported today that several bomb hits were scored and one fire was started. Wildcat fighter planes escorted the bombers.

Maintaining a steady aerial pressure against enemy bases in the Solomons, the Americans also attacked Bur Village, a new enemy outpost on Gannonga Island. Mitchell medium bombers were escorted on this raid by Navy Corsair fighters. One Mitchell failed to return.

MacArthur Upholds Brereton On Air Tactics in Philippines

Takes Note of Criticism of U. S. General's Work After Pearl Harbor Attack, Terms It 'Grave Injustice,' Cites Foe's Numerical Weight

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 25 (Friday) (AP).—General Douglas MacArthur expressed support today of the action of Major General Lewis H. Brereton in handling air forces in the Philippines at the beginning of the war. General MacArthur thus took cognizance of statements which he said implied criticism of General Brereton.

"Air forces in the Philippines were planned carefully and executed valiantly," General MacArthur said in a special statement. "Any attempt to decry their record ca nspring only from complete lack of knowledge of facts involved."

The statement was believed to refer to articles published in the United States which the general said left the implication "that through neglect or faulty judgment he (Brereton) failed to take proper security measures, resulting in destruction of his air force on the ground."

"Such statements do grave injustice to this officer and his gallant subordinates," General MacArthur continued. "His tiny force was crushed by sheer weight of numbers. Its combat crews fought valiantly but were hopelessly outnumbered."

General MacArthur pointed out that at the start of the war General Brereton had "only a token force" of fifty-three heavy bombers and seventy-two fighters. Additionally, he was handicapped by a lack of airdromes, with only Clark Field usable by heavy bombers and only five fields usable by fighters. Other fields were being constructed but they were not available before Dec. 7, 1941.

General MacArthur said the entire command was placed on a full war basis two weeks before Dec. 7 and security and reconnaissance patrols had been flown regularly. Two or four squadrons of heavy bombers were sent to Mindanao in the Philippines out of reach of the enemy.

General Breton informed subordinate commanders on Dec. 7 that war was imminent and ordered all officers of combat crews to be ready for duty at all times.

"The Dispatch reporting the attack on Pearl Harbor was received at Manila at 4 a. m. Dec. 8 and was transmitted instantly to the air force and Brereton's headquarters had it in the hands of his organization commanders at Clark Field at 4:45 a. m.," General MacArthur said.

"The first flight of enemy bombers to reach Luzon (Manila is on the Island of Luzon) was signaled by an air warning at 9:30 a. m and fighters were dispatched for interception.

"At 11:30, another formation of bombers was reported. Four squadrons of our fighters were in the air while a fifth and last squadron completed gassing. The enemy bomber formation, which was joined by dive bombers, attacked Clark Field in overwhelming force, striking just as the light fighter squadron taxied to a take-off.

"At this time and during the succeeding days, a number of airplanes were destroyed on the ground while landing for gas or while down for essential maintenance, but it never was the result of negligence on the part of Brereton or of his subordinates.

"Due to a shortage of fighters and to a lack of dispersal fields, bombers, the famous 19th Group, were withdrawn to Mindanao and later to Australia and Java, where they were soon engrossed in the struggle for the Dutch East Indies and Australia.

"Back in the Philippines, our fighters under the brilliant leadership of the late General H. H. George maintained an unequal struggle with greatest persistency and success, finally succumbing to inevitable attrition, their last memorable attack being on Subic Bay March 2, when only four were available to strike."

AUSTRALIAN SAYS U. S. FORCES GAIN

Canberra, Australia, June 24 (A. P.).—Prime Minister John Curtin, in a statement today, disclosed that American land forces in the southwest Pacific now equal in number the Australian forces there and that United States air squadrons exceed the numerical strength of the Royal Australian Air Force.

He also declared "the battle for Australia assuredly has been won, as has the battle for Britain, but that does not mean the battle for the Pacific is won.

"Some day," he added, "the people will be told how close a call we had in New Guinea."

Mr. Curtin gave no actual figures on the strength of American reinforcements.

The Prime Minister today appointed a royal commission to investigate a statement by Labor Minister Edward Ward that he had been reliably informed that an important home defense document was missing from the files of the advisory war council.

Ward was suspended from the Cabinet pending the commission's report.

LARGE AIR GROUP ARRIVES IN BRITAIN

Thousands of Fliers in R.C.A.F. Cross Ocean Safely.

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, June 24.—(AP) Thousands of young Canadian airmen—Pilots for speedy fighters and explosive-laden bombers, observers, navigators, air gunners and wireless operators—have arrived in Britain after the safe passage of one of the largest R.C.A.F. movements ever to leave this port.

An announcement of their arrival was permitted today by the censorship.

Sailing with them were flying men from practically every dominion, and representatives of the free fighting forces of Norway, the Netherlands, France and other countries.

JUN 25 1943

QUEENS FLYER KILLED

Ottawa, June 24 (A. P.).—Pilot Officer Charles Philip Meredith of Beechhurst, L. I., has been killed on active service overseas, the Royal Canadian Air Force announced today. His father, Capt. C. P. Meredith, lives at 6-01 161st street, Beechhurst.

SICILIANS HIDE IN OLD STADIUM

Thousands of Italians seek shelter from Allied air raids by flocking each night to subterranean passages of the Roman amphitheater at Catania, Sicily, the Berlin radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press.

This amphitheater, 410 by 348 feet, was the third largest of ancient Rome, being exceeded in size only by that at Verona and the Colosseum of Rome. Catania, founded in 729 B. C. by Greek colonists, is located on the eastern shore of Sicily at the foot of towering Mount Etna and on several occasions in its long history has been virtually obliterated by lava flows. A considerable portion of the amphitheater has been uncovered.

Total U. S. War Casualties To Date Are Put At 90,860

Figures Revealed As Stimson Warns Of Bigger Toll To Come In Future Operations

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 24—With a warning by Secretary of War Stimson that heavier losses lie ahead, the War and Navy departments today announced a total of 90,860 war casualties to date.

Secretary Stimson said future military operations are likely to involve much greater numbers of troops and that correspondingly heavier losses should be expected.

"It is certain," he stated, "that in practically all theaters of war in which our troops have been engaged, the enemy's losses have been much greater than our own."

63,958 For Army

He gave the army's total casualties as 63,958, including 7,528 men killed in action or died of wounds, 17,128 wounded, 22,687 missing and 16,615 officially reported taken prisoner.

The navy's latest casualty list today said navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard losses were 26,902 in all to date, comprised of 7,604 dead, 4,732 wounded, and 11,010 missing and 3,556 prisoners of war.

Secretary Stimson said the Philippines campaign accounted for a total of 31,610 casualties and described it as the most costly thus far in casualties for the present war. This figure includes losses to the Philippine Scouts but not the Philippine constabulary or the Commonwealth army.

Some Duplications

He said the Philippine figures probably include some duplications and that many listed as wounded may be included also among the missing and the prisoners, and many of those listed now as missing may actually have been killed or wounded in the final days of the struggles on Bataan and Corregidor when casualty reports failed to come in.

He supplied these total figures for army casualties in the various other theaters:

ASIATIC—131 killed, 15 wounded, 85 missing, 60 prisoners; total, 291.

CENTRAL PACIFIC—Including the initial Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor: 272 killed, 412 wounded, 57 missing, no prisoners; total, 741.

EUROPEAN — 436 killed, 664 wounded, 1,196 missing, 594 prisoners; total 2,890.

LATIN-AMERICAN — 8 killed, 3 wounded, 26 missing, no prisoners; total, 37.

MIDDLE EAST — Including the Ninth Air Force, which operated over Africa, the Mediterranean and Italy: 106 killed, 96 wounded, 214 missing, 46 prisoners; total, 462.

NORTH AFRICA — 2,574 killed, 9,437 wounded, 1,620 missing, 5,107 prisoners; total 18,738.

NORTH AMERICA—Including Alaska-Aleutians campaign and losses at sea and in the air in the vicinity of Greenland: 864 killed, 1,246 wounded, 214 missing, no prisoners; total, 2,324.

SOUTH PACIFIC—Including army operations on Guadalcanal: 622 killed, 1,165 wounded, 236 missing, no prisoners; total, 2,023.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC — Including the New Guinea campaign and 500 listed as missing after the capture of Java by the Japanese: 1,242 killed, 2,344 wounded, 1,100 missing, 156 prisoners; total, 4,842.

JUN 25 1943

30.24-5343

30.24—5343

30 FLYERS IN CAP LOST DURING WAR

Exploits Since Pearl Harbor Reviewed—Baltimorean Puts Net Pay At $56

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 24—The Office of War Information tonight said thirty flyers have been killed and seventy-three planes lost in the work—over land and water—of the Civil Air Patrol since its organization a week before Pearl Harbor.

The OWI, in a long review of the efforts of the patrol, said it now has more planes available for assignment than the entire Army Air Corps had at the beginning of 1940.

The CAP's 75,000 volunteer airmen, operating at more than a thousand airfields, are the world's largest aerial home guard, according to the OWI which pointed out that only this country and Russia have permitted their civilians to fly in wartime.

Flyers Get $8 A Day

CAP members, who have been under the jurisdiction of the army air forces since April, receive $8 a day plus $5 to $56 an hour for operation, maintenance and depreciation of their planes, depending upon their size and horsepower. One CAP flyer, Capt. Robert E. Thomas, a Baltimore broker, figured that after 40,000 miles of flying on a six months tour of duty that he had only $56 left when all expenses had been paid—leaving him little less than $10 a month.

Some of the patrol's achievements include:

Flights totaling over 20,000,000 miles, the spotting of more than 150 submarines for the army, navy and Coast Guard, the sinking of some submarines themselves, and offshore patrol missions which brought rescue to crews of torpedoed tankers.

Organized In Each State

The CAP is organized in each of the forty-eight States. Mechanics, nurses, radio operators, observers, photographers and doctors have joined the pilots in ground crew training which fits each local unit to perform any mission light planes can fly.

The inland squadron members carry on their regular jobs and serve in their spare time.

The OWI said: "Flying their own planes, using their own brains, initiative, equipment and money, together with gradually enlarged Federal grants, they have built up many coastal bases from Maine to Mexico."

Duties Of Inland Flights

Inland, their courier routes between army posts and between industrial plants require the services of several hundred planes daily and a large number of pilots, ground mechanics, and radio operators.

Their volunteer missions search for lost planes, maintain forest-fire patrols, and fly emergency relief to flood and disaster areas.

They furnish men and women pilots to the army transport command and carry on a large-scale training program, all of which, the OWI said, frees thousands of army planes and pilots for more urgent assignments.

At the outbreak of war there were 100,000 civilian pilots, the same number of student pilots and 25,000 private planes, the OWI said in pointing out that most of the military-age pilots and students were soon in the armed services.

CAP then began organizing the rest into volunteer squadrons, groups and flights serving under a wing commander.

Negro Pilots in First Combat

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP).—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today that the Air Force's first squadron of Negro pilots, the 99th Fighter Squadron, has "weathered its first aerial combat test very favorably."

The squadron, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel B. O. Davis jr., a son of the first Negro general officer in the Army, is in North Africa and participated—as an escort and fighter bomber outfit—in the siege of Pantelleria, but had very little chance to engage enemy fighters during that time. The group was fired on only once and when it turned to engage the enemy fighters the latter fled.

On the afternoon of June 18, however, a flight of six P-40s led by First Lieutenant Charles W. Dryden, of 800 Home Street, the Bronx, N. Y., was attacked over Pantelleria by twelve German FW 190s escorting enemy bombers trying to raid the island. Ten more German fighters hovered above the bombers.

In a lively engagement, the American Negro pilots damaged two of the German fighters and forced the remainder to retreat.

YEAR'S PLANE OUTPUT MAY REACH 115,000

Arnold Predicts Figure For Twelve Months, Starting July 1

JUN 25 1943

Raises Earlier Estimate By 15,000 At House Group Hearing

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 24—Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, disclosed today that airplane production in the year beginning July 1 is expected to reach 115,000.

Testifying before the House Civil Service Committee, General Arnold boosted by 15,000 earlier War Department estimates that 100,000 planes will be produced in that year.

Even so, the new estimate falls 10,000 planes short of the original objective of 125,000 for the year as disclosed last month during hearings before the House Appropriations Committee on the army's 1944 supply bill. The revision, army officials explained them, was caused by changes in design and concentration on heavier types of craft.

Funds Provided

The huge acquisition of aircraft, General Arnold told the Civil Service group during questioning on personnel problems in the War Department, will be accomplished with approximately $36,000,000,000 provided for the air forces in the army supply bill already passed by the House.

That sum, he explained, includes the acquisition of spare engines, parts and other equipment necessary to keep the planes flying.

"There is no question in my mind," he added, "as to the ultimate accomplishment of this vital mission with which we are charged—the defeat of the Axis through application of air power. It will be accomplished and accomplished well, with the aid and assistance of our civilian personnel army."

Civilian Personnel Increased

The "civilian personnel army" used in field operations, he told the committee, must be increased by 56,000 employes to a total of 386,000 during the year.

Today, he declared, there are over 2,000,000 officers and men in the Army Air Forces, or forty-two times more than there were three years ago.

By the end of June, 1944, the Army Air Forces will number more than 3,000,000, Lieut. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, had told the Appropriations Committee earlier.

At the time General McNarney testified, the airplane production objective for this year was "approximately 100,000" craft, including 36,000 bombers, 38,000 fighters and 12,000 transports besides trainers and other planes.

BOMBS STALL NAZI ARMIES, STIMSON HINTS

JUN 25 1943

Plans For Offensive In Russia May Be Canceled, He Says

Fighters Are Apparently Called Back To Guard War Industries

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 24—The blasting of German industrial areas by Allied bombers in repeated assaults from British bases may already have wrecked Axis plans for a great summer offensive in Russia, Secretary of War Stimson suggested today.

Reporting that recent raids by both British and American bombers against German targets had been met by strong forces of enemy fighters, Stimson told a press conference this indicated Germany had found it necessary to concentrate much of her fighter plane strength to protect industrial and military installations on the home front.

"It is probable," he said, "that many of these planes were withdrawn from the Eastern front, which may be one reason why Germany has not yet launched a summer offensive in Russia."

Lull Called Extraordinary

The lull on the Russian front was described by the Secretary as extraordinary in view of the fact that the weather for several weeks has favored major military operations, and the Axis has more than 200 divisions there.

Another possible explanation for the delay of the long-expected Axis drive against the Red army was seen in Stimson's report that Germany has shifted ten or twelve additional divisions into France, and has sent several divisions to Italy.

This latter move seemed to dispose of speculation that Germany intended to leave Italy alone to face an Allied drive from North Africa. Instead, the senior partner of the Axis apparently intends to bolster Italian defenses heavily in an effort to prevent Allied capture of Sicily and Sardinia, or a landing on the Italian mainland.

Source Problematical

Whether the divisions moved into western and southern Europe came from the Russian front was problematical, Stimson said, since they may well have been drawn from reserves in Germany.

Depletion of these reserves, however, would mean just that many fewer troops available for replacements on the Russian front.

Stimson's statements supported a growing belief in some quarters that the German offensive against Russia has now been abandoned.

Some observers see in this a tacit admission by the German high command that an Axis victory is no longer a possibility, that German strength must be saved to fight off Allied attacks, and that the best the Axis can hope for now is to drag out a defensive war so long that the Allies will become wearied and agree to a negotiated peace rather than unconditional surrender.

Change Of Tone Noted

In line with this, they point to a change of tone noticed in recent German broadcasts, both those for home consumption and those beamed overseas. The home broadcasts no longer threaten, or boast of Axis invincibility, but instead warn the German population of possible disaster.

One recent broadcast, taking the British and Americans severely to task for killing civilians in their bombing raids on Germany, contained an implied official admission to the German people that the Allies now exercise air supremacy over western Europe.

Another, beamed at America, spoke of post-war opportunities for the United States in Europe as the leader in reconstruction efforts, and contained the startling statement—considering it came from a German source—that at the end of the war, the United States would be the most powerful nation in the world.

U. S. SHIP SUNK

WASHINGTON, June 24—(AP) The Navy reported today that a small United Nations merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the Caribbean area in mid-March. Survivors landed at New York.

Of the crew of 36, it was announced, two lost their lives.

The survivors put off in two lifeboats and four rafts and three hours later were picked up by a U. S. naval vessel.

BOMBS MISS U. S. SHIPS

Washington, June 24 (A. P.).—The Navy announced today that Japanese planes had unsuccessfully attacked small American warships in the southeastern Solomon Islands on two different occasions recently. In each instance only one enemy aircraft was involved.

On Sunday night a light surface unit escaped injury in the vicinity of Savo Island, the communique said, while on Tuesday night, two patrol craft were unsuccessfully strafed in the vicinity of the Russell Islands. Both Savo and the Russells are near Guadalcanal.

MORE U. S. DEAD IN JAP PRISONS

Red Cross Reports 300 Died of Diseases.

Washington, D. C., June 24.—Since Corregidor fell and fighting ceased in the Philippines more than 300 American soldiers have died in Japanese prison camps from what are described as natural causes—malaria, diphtheria, dysentery and pneumonia, with some deaths from beri-beri, the disease of malnutrition, the War Department has been notified by the Internatonal Red Cross.

Today it made public a partial list of those who have died from disease. Earlier it had reported that more than 300 had died from battle wounds. These are from a total of 11,307 Army personnel who so far have been reported by the Red Cross to be prisoners of war in Japanese hands. Today's list included the following from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut:

NEW YORK.

MIKOLAJCZYK, JOHN M., corporal; brother, Frank Mikolajczyk, 15 Albion Road, Oakfield.

TURTURRO, AUGUSTINE T., corporal; father, Michael Turturro, Route 1, Marlboro.

WEISSBUCH, ELLIOTT, private; mother, Mrs. Nettie Weissbuch, 236 Vernon avenue, Brooklyn.

NEW JERSEY.

FISCHER, JACOB, private, first class; mother, Mrs. Pauline Fischer, 177 16th avenue, Newark.

(In Philippine Area.)

CONNECTICUT.

CHANCE, ROBERT T., private; mother, Mrs. Ruth La Penta, 44 Norwich street, Hartford.

DAMIANI, JOSEPH E., private, first class; mother, Mrs. Margaret Damiani, 206 Prospect street, Willimantic.

Navy and Coast Guard Casualties Are Listed

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP).—The Navy announced today eighty-eight casualties, including fifty-eight dead, six wounded and twenty-four missing.

This brings to 23,346 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since Dec. 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,604 dead, 4,732 wounded and 11,010 missing.

The casualties announced today (those listed are Navy and non-commissioned personnel unless otherwise specified) included the following:

NEW YORK

Dead

JUN 25 1943

ARRIGHI, RICHARD ANDREA, ensign, Coast Guard; mother, Mrs. Florence Emma Arrighi, 80 Parkside Drive, Point Lookout, L. I.

COREY, WILLIAM HORACE, Coast Guard; mother, Mrs. Mabel Louise Corey, 488 Nassau Boulevard, Williston Park, L. I.

DAVIS, DANIEL CORNELIUS, ensign, Coast Guard; uncle, Benjamin Weber, 556 Warwick Street, Brooklyn.

GARCIA, WILLIAM A., ensign, Coast Guard; father, 83 Bunn Street, Amsterdam.

LOBOSCO, ANGELO FRANK, Coast Guard; father, Carmine Lobosco, 1654 Eighty-fourth Street, Brooklyn.

NILSEN, ROY, Coast Guard; mother, Mrs. Ingebord Nilsen, 6656 Bergen Place, Brooklyn.

THOMAN, WILLIAM PERLEY, lieutenant (j. g.), Coast Guard; mother, Mrs. Alice P. Thoman, 39 Cliff Avenue, Yonkers.

TIERNEY, WILLIAM CHARLES, Coast Guard; mother, Mrs. Isabelle Tierney, 2505 Aqueduct Avenue, the Bronx.

TREADWELL, JESSE CARTER, lieutenant (j. g.), Coast Guard; wife, Mrs. Anne Kipp Treadwell, 43 Woodland Avenue, Bronxville.

Missing

BOSTWORTH, PHILIP SELTZER; wife, Mrs. Elaine G. Bostworth, 1002 Ditmas Avenue, Brooklyn.

CIMINO, SAMUEL JOSEPH; father, Frank Cimino, 20 Lafayette Street, Silver Creek.

CRAGG, BERT LAVERNE; father, Orrin McKinley Cragg, Cohocton.

DE PROPERTY, MICHAEL FRANK; sister, Miss Mary De Property St. Vincent's Home, Troy.

DE RIDDER, JOHN; wife, Mrs. Mary E. De Ridder, 115 Carroll Street, Palmyra.

DREW, CLAUDE ALLEN JR.; father, Claude Drew sr., Machias Junction, Cattaraugus.

FLEMMING, WESLEY JOSEPH; father, Joseph Stanley Flemming, 43 Melvin Place, Buffalo.

NEIDHARDT, CHARLES; father, Alfred A. Neidhardt, 945 Diven Street, Peekskill.

WILSON, WALLACE G., marine; mother, Mrs. Jessie Wilson, 52 Dodge Street, Buffalo.

Wounded

DIAZ, JOSEPH JOHN; mother, Mrs. Dolores Conde, 27 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn.

DIGIROLAMO, ORLANDO HAROLD; father, Domenico Digirolamo, 412 Schenectady Street, Schenectady.

MATAGORA, EDWARD CHARLES; father, Peter Joseph Matagora, 16 Hasbrouck Street, Newburgh.

NEW JERSEY

Dead

YURIK, VICTOR, Coast Guard; sister, Mrs. Marie E. Pontiere, Ocean City.

There were no casualties for Connecticut.

Einstein Agrees To Work For Navy

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Prof. Albert Einstein, the noted scientist, has agreed to work for the United States Navy on several mathematical physical problems in the naval ordnance research field, the navy said tonight.

"His naval assignment will be on a part-time contractual basis, and he will continue his association with the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, N. J., where most of his studies in behalf of the Bureau of Ordnance will be undertaken," the navy said.

Germans Laud U. S. Tank; Plan To Copy It

New York, June 24 (AP)—A special new German institute for testing captured tanks has adjudged the American "General Sherman" the best type the Allies have turned out, the Berlin radio said today, adding that the Nazis "doubtless" would copy its construction.

"A special innovation on this type tank, which by a gyroscope system prevents the gun from being affected by the jolting of the tank when traveling on rough grounds, greatly interested German experts," the broadcast said. "They believe this to be the first attempt at borrowing from the construction of warships for the construction of arms for warfare on land and doubtless it will be copied soon."

Gen. Olmstead to Retire

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP).—Major General Dawson Olmstead, fifty-nine years old, of Corry, Pa., chief signal officer of the Army since October, 1941, will retire at his own request on June 30, the War Department announced today. Major General Harry C. Ingles, of Lincoln, Neb., will succeed him. General Olmstead will be detailed to active duty immediately after his retirement as military representative in the Telecommunication Board, headed by the Secretary of State. General Ingles was deputy commander of American troops in the European area under the late Lieutenant General Frank M. Andrews. Previously, he had served on the War Department general staff, then as chief of staff of the Caribbean Defense Command, and then commander of mobile ground forces in the Panama Canal Department.

WAR HONORS GIVEN TO NEW YORK MEN

Washington, June 24 (A. P.).—The intense air action the Eighth Air force is carrying on against Germany and German-occupied territory in Europe is reflected in the largest list of decorations ever made in one announcement from any theater by the United States Army Air Forces, the War Department announced today. The exploits recognized in the awards cover a period of several months.

The decorations, numbering more than 1,000, include the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, and Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal.

New Yorkers honored include:

Distinguished Flying Cross.

KURTZ, RAYMOND Y. JR., first lieutenant, Bellerose.

HENN, RAYMOND J., staff sergeant, 79-39 67th Drive, Middle Village, Queens, N. Y. (Posthumous). Reported killed in action on March 22, 1943.

Third Oak Leaf Cluster to Air Medal.

LENT, ROBERT L., second lieutenant, Mount Vernon.

Second Oak Leaf Cluster To Air Medal.

KREBS, OSCAR R., second lieutenant, 1840 Fowler avenue, New York.

Reported Killed In Action On April 16, 1943.

RACE, WALTER C., sergeant, Poughkeepsie.

First Oak Leaf Cluster To Air Medal.

FELDMAN, NORBERT B. first lieutenant, 1615 avenue I, Brooklyn.

HARVEY, JULIAN A., first lieutenant, Scarsdale.

ANDERSON, WILLIAM J., second lieutenant, Roslyn Heights.

STRAUSS, MARTIN M., second lieutenant, 526 West 113th street, New York.

HALBRIDGE, ALEXANDER S., technical sergeant, 551 Alabama avenue, Brooklyn.

NELSON, JOHN W., technical sergeant, 591 East 8th street, Brooklyn.

MOORE, JAMES, technical sergeant, Elmont, L. I.

RODRIGUEZ, JAMES E. JR., technical sergeant, 130-09 Sutter avenue, South, Ozone Park, L. I.

STYMACKS, RAYMOND T., 3018 Heath street, Bronx, N. Y.

HILL, JOHN F., staff sergeant, Valhalla.

KINDLE, CHARLES F., staff sergeant, 738 Wilcox avenue, New York.

KITT, EDWIN A., staff sergeant, 50 Plaza street, Brooklyn.

McDONNELL, THOMAS P. Jr., staff sergeant, 101 Berkeley Place, Brooklyn.

MITCHELL, HENRY A. JR., staff sergeant, 12 Summitt Place, Valhalla.

Reported Missing In Action Since May 17, 1943.

NOLAN, WILLIAM T., staff sergeant, 509 West 122d street, New York.

O'CONNELL, LINCOLN T., staff sergeant, 1996 Valentine avenue, New York.

Reported Missing In Action Since May 29, 1943.

OLEXA, MICHAEL, staff sergeant, 3448 32d street, Astoria, L. I.

SANDERS, LEE, staff sergeant, 1562 Ocean avenue, Brooklyn.

Reported Missing In Action Since April 6, 1943.

STANDISH, WILLIAM J., staff sergeant, 87-87 118th street, Richmond Hill, L. I.

SUMERGRAD, KEVA, staff sergeant, 436 New Jersey avenue, Brooklyn.

HAVILAND, LOUIS E., sergeant, Harrison.

KRUCHER, STEPHEN G., sergeant, 5 West Moreland Road, Merrick, L. I.

Air Medal.

HARVEY, JULIAN A., first lieutenant, Scarsdale.

STEEG, JAMES R., first lieutenant, Bellaire, L. I.

BARNES, DONALD A., second lieutenant, Rockville Centre, L. I.

FOGARTY, JOHN J., staff sergeant, 107 Tibbets Road, Yonkers.

PEASE, HAROLD G., staff sergeant, 50 Maple street, Yonkers.

Reported Missing In Action Since April 17, 1943.

SLIVA, FRANK M., staff sergeant, 120 Pearl street, New York.

COGEN, ABRAHAM L., sergeant, 1150 President street, Brooklyn. (Posthumous) Reported killed in action on May 10, 1943.

FITZGERALD, ALLEN M., sergeant, 93-31 210th Place, Bellaire, Queens, L. I.

Reported Missing In Action Since April 4, 1943.

Komarek, William J., sergeant, 431 East 73d street, New York.

O'REILLY, FRANCIS W., sergeant, 472 Baltic street, Brooklyn.

10 Old Cannons

At Washington Will Be Melted

Washington, June 24 (AP)—The impressive array of artillery that for years surrounded the State Department Building began to disappear today. They were placed there when the War and Navy Departments shared the building.

Workmen eased the big guns—historic trophies captured by American armies in wars beginning with the Revolution—from their mountings, and it was disclosed that they would be melted down for use in the current conflict, or placed on display elsewhere.

Ten cannons will be melted down, another ten will go to the Army War College, four to the grounds of the naval station in Arlington county, Virginia, one to the Parkway approach to Arlington Memorial Bridge, another to St. Augustine, Fla., and the remaining three, captured from the British at Saratoga in 1777, will be taken back to the battlefield where General Burgoyne surrendered them.

Poison-Gas Defense Ready

). C. D. Plans Quick Counter-Steps If Air Attack Comes

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP).—A staff of poison-gas spotters has been recruited, it was disclosed today, to collect samples in the event of an enemy air attack and speed them to laboratories for quick identification so that counter-remedies can be applied for the civilian population.

Rapid and accurate identification of poison gas is "imperative," said James M. Landis, Director of the Office of Civilian Defense, who disclosed creation of a special group of "gas reconnaissance agents."

The crew will turn over the samples—which could be objects contaminated by the gas—to Army gas officers. Six laboratories have been set up at strategic points.

Freed Spanish Refugees To Work For U. S. Army

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Spanish Republican refugees released from interment camps in French North and West Africa are working for the American army until they can go to Mexico, an official dispatch from Algiers reported today.

WLB TO DEMAND COMPLIANCE WITH MINE WAGE ORDER

Board Takes Attitude Only Enforcement of Decision Remains.

COAL RATIONING LOOMS

Ickes Calls 29 Mine Owners to Washington Conference Today.

JUN 25 1943

WASHINGTON, June 24. — (AP) Far from accepting a resumption of coal production as final, the War Labor board resolved today to insist on full compliance by the United Mine Workers with its order in the miners' wage dispute.

The board also authorized a brief statement, pointed at Secretary Ickes, that the labor dispute has been finally determined and only enforcement of the decision remains to be accomplished.

Coal Rationing Hinted

Out of the generally complex situation — which included the fact that thousands of miners ignored the back-to-work movement yesterday—arose the possibility of coal rationing. A fuel shortage already was clutching the great steel industry.

Secretary Ickes, as custodian of the mines, summoned 29 mine owners for a conference tomorrow and in his telegram he referred to "the controversy between the mine workers and the operators which is under the jurisdiction of the War Labor board" and expressed hope "that the controversy will be speedily settled."

When this was called to its attention, the board authorized its information director to say:

"The War Labor board has made a final determination of the labor dispute. There is no controversy between the United Mine Workers and the operators."

Authoritative WLB sources interported this as meaning that the board considers the case is strictly one of compliance with its decision by John L. Lewis' union.

Will Take Up Challenge

An informed source, who declined to be quoted by name, said the members agreed today that Mr. Lewis' reservation that the government retain control of the mines, and his refusal to sign the contract handed down by the board, should not be allowed to go unchallenged.

The board ordered last week that the United Mine Workers sign a contract with the private operators at substantially the old terms plus concessions amounting to about 20 cents a day, and agree not to strike for the duration. The U.M.W. policy committee called this an "infamous yellow dog contract."

Chairman William H. Davis told President Roosevelt in a letter Tuesday that the board was unanimous in advising him that "all the powers of government necessary" should be used to enforce the WLB order. Informed sources significantly pointed to that phrase today when asked the board's position.

The WLB is a Presidential agency and has no enforcement machinery of its own. In pressing further for executive action to obtain full compliance, the board may make its approach to the White House through War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes in the next day or two.

Favor Sanctions

While members of the board concede it is a physical problem to require persons to place their name on a contract, most of them are known to believe that sanctions should be used against a defiant union as they are used against a defiant employer. The sanctions might take various forms, such as stopping the dues checkoff or freezing the union's treasury.

It is the board's position that it decided all issues of the labor dispute, including the portal to portal pay demand, although not precluding the union's right to sue under the Fair Labor Standards act if it felt it had a case at law.

This was taken to mean in authoritative quarters that there are no longer accruing against the operators any liabilities they might have to pay retroactively, with the possible exception of portal to portal pay. If the courts should decide a law suit for the miners, it is conceivable that the liability would be retroactive for several years under the wage and hour law.

Secretary Ickes said today that coal rationing may be necessary as a result of production losses incurred by the strikes. In anticipation that the government will have to operate the mines for a considerable time, he disclosed plans to take a more active hand in their management.

In connection with the latter move, the Interior secretary and fuels administrator asked 29 major mine owners to meet with him here tomorrow. He hoped, he told them in a telegram, that the miners' wage controversy would be settled quickly and the mines returned to their private owners, but indications were that "the government will be compelled to continue custody and operation of the mines for a considerable period of time."

"In the present circumstances," Secretry Ickes added, "it is essential to protect the government's interest in the operation of the mines that I undertake active participation in the supervision of management and operation of the mines."

Thousands Remain Idle

In the coal fields, meantime, thousands of miners continued to remain away from the pits despite instructions from the United Mine Worker' policy committee and John L. Lewis, union president, to go back to work.

Votes against going back to work were cast by some local unions in the face, too, of President Roosevelt's warning that the government will follow a policy of drafting strikers in government-operated war facilities.

Announcing this policy yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt said he would ask authority to draft men up to 65 for non-combat military service. Many members of Congress interpreted this as meaning strikers might be put into uniform and sent back to work at an army private's pay of $50 a month.

Secretary Ickes told a press conference that rationing or some allocation system might have to be established to assure fair distribution of coal. He indicated that if this was done it might be limited to certain areas rather than made nation-wide.

Transportation Problem Seen

A shortage might become more acute in some sections than in others, he remarked, owing to transportation problems. He pointed out that the northwest depends heavily on Great Lakes shipping for movement of coal, and if supplies are not laid in before ice forms in the lakes that section "might be the first hit."

Secretary Ickes also said:

1. He had asked Mr. Lewis to set no deadline for stopping work in the absence of a new labor agreement. However, on Tuesday, Mr. Lewis and the U.M.W. policy committee ordered the miners back to work until October 31, contingent upon continued government operation of the mines.

30.24 - 5345

30.24—5345

2. He has no intention of undertaking any steps to settle the wage controversy, but might order a survey to determine the actual amount of time the miners spend in underground travel.

3. A probe of prices charged in company-owned stores in mining communities is continuing and has turned up some "shocking news."

4. No fines have been levied on the miners for their work stoppages. Secretary Ickes once announced that fines would be levied under contract provisions allowing penalties of $1 a day ($2 in some instances) for unauthorized absences from work. When the miners protested, he said the fines might be waived by agreement with government representatives in individual mines.

The survey of underground travel time might furnish a statistical basis for a settlement of the miners' claim for portal-to-portal pay. The War Labor board declined to order payments for this travel, ruling that any claim for such pay under the fair labor standards act was a matter for the courts or for an agreement with the mine owners which would be in effect an out-of-court settlement of a lawsuit.

Mr. Lewis first asked $2 a day portal-to-portal pay, but eventually came down to $1.30.

Secretary Ickes was not specific as to just what he would take up with the mine owners at tomorrow's conference, but said he wanted to "get their views and suggestions." He described as "irresponsible, reckless and ridiculous" reports that he would take control not only of the mines but of barges, railroads, drydocks and other property serving them.

AMBASSADORS NAMED IN TRIAL

Mann Act Case Defendant Says 2 Of Them Visited Apartment

Washington Woman Also Tells Of Member Of Embassy Staff

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 24—A comely Spanish woman accused of operating a call house which provided girls for diplomats told a Federal district court jury today two Latin-American Ambassadors and a member of the Chinese Embassy staff were among the men who called at her apartment.

The defendant, dark-haired Mrs Carmen Beach Martin, described the callers merely as social acquaintances. She has denied the Government's charge that she violated the Mann Act by sending a young woman in taxicabs to keep dates with men in fashionable hotels.

Their Identity Kept Secret

The identity of the diplomats involved was kept carefully secret. Bernard Margolius, Assistant United States Attorney, cautioned the defendant against mentioning names.

Mrs. Martin, a professional rhumba dancer and seamstress, appeared in court clad in a long white evening gown, plus a "giant plaid" sport jacket. The trailing gown was caught up with pins. There was no explanation of this attire.

The two ambassadors called one night at her apartment in the company of the Chinese diplomat, she said. She also said she met an ambassador in the cocktail lounges of Washington hotels, when she was in the company of a young woman named Dorothy Smitely.

Denies Paying Cab Fares

The latter previously told the jury that Mrs. Martin had employed her as a seamstress, but then suggested that she "get in on the big money" and had made dates for her.

Mrs. Martin denied she ever gave the girl taxi fare to keep dates. The Mann Act provides severe penalties for transporting women for immoral purposes.

Mrs. Martin said she had befriended the girl, who represented herself as a violinist out of a job, by renting her a room for $4 a week on credit.

The defendant at one time flared back at the Government attorney and told him she was not going to name any of the married men among her acquaintances.

Tells Of Presents

She said that she might have sent the Smitely girl to meet some of her friends for cocktails in hotels when she was unable to go but she could not remember. Again, she said, if the Smitely girl received any money from the men it was not in her presence and without her knowledge.

She herself, she said, received many presents from men. Her own attorney, Harry Whelan, brought out that she meant "the one hundred or more" presents she had received at the time of her wedding to a naval petty officer in December.

At the conclusion of her testimony, the defense rested.

Jersey Marine Killed 38 Japs

JUN 25 1943

Sergt. Basilone Gets Congress Medal for Heroism in Guadalcanal Battle.

Washington, June 24 (A. P.).—One of the truly epic stories of the South Pacific campaign, the story of a New Jersey tailor's son who held a strategic machine-gun post for three days and nights without rest or food against a Japanese regiment, was told yesterday by the Navy Department.

Platoon Sergt. John Basilone of Raritan, N. J., was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, this nation's highest battle honor, the Navy said, for his heroism which contributed in a large measure to the virtual annihilation of a Japanese regiment.

During those nerve-shattering seventy-two hours, the Navy related, Basilone piled up thirty-eight Japanese bodies in front of his machine gun, and a companion said that he also used his pistol to bend back and break bloody Nipponese attacks on the vital emplacement.

The action for which President Roosevelt awarded the Marine sergeant the Congressional Medal occurred last October during fighting in the Lunga area of Guadalcanal.

Soldier Tells Story.

Private Nach W. Phillips, 22, of Fayetteville, N. C., related the story this way:

"Basilone had a machine gun on the go three days and nights without sleep, rest or food. He was in a good emplacement, and causing the Japs lots of trouble, not only firing his machine gun but also using his pistol.

"They stormed his position time and again. Each time he piled up four or five more around his emplacement. Finally he had to move out of there—thirty-eight Jap bodies made it kind of hard to fire over the pile."

The 26-year-old New Jersey hero is the son of Salvatore and Dora Basilone, and his father operates a one-man tailor shop at 13 South Bridge street, Somerville, N. J. He has nine brothers and sisters.

Father Born in Italy.

His father, 59, was born in Naples, Italy, but came to the United States as a youth. Basilone has a brother, George, training with the Marines, and another brother, Alphonse, with the United States Army in Iceland.

Basilone, who is known as Manila John for his service with the Army in the Philippines before joining the Marine Corps, was called by his battalion commander, Capt. Regan Fuller of Washington, D. C., one of the best fighting men he ever had seen.

The dark haired sergeant, tenth Marine and the fourth serving with the ground troops in the Solomons to win the medal of honor in this war, received this citation:

"For extraordinary heroism and conspicuous gallantry in action against enemy Japanese forces, above and beyond the call of duty, while serving with the First Battalion, Seventh Marines, First Marine Division, in the Lunga area, Guadalcanal, Solomon Islands, on October 24 and 25, 1942.

In Charge of Machine Guns.

"While the enemy was hammering at the Marines' defensive positions, Sergt. Basilone, in charge of two sections of heavy machine guns, fought valiantly to check the savage and determined assault.

"In a fierce frontal attack with the Japanese blasting his guns with grenades and mortar fire, one of Sergt. Basilone's sections with its gun crews was put out of action, leaving only two men able to carry on.

"Moving an extra gun into position he placed it in action, then, under continual fire, repaired another and personally manned it, gallantly holding his line until replacements arrived.

"A little later, with ammunition critically low and the supply lines cut off, Sergt. Basilone, at great risk of his life and in the face of continued enemy attack battled his way through hostile lines with urgently-needed shells for his gunners, thereby contributing in a large measure to the virtual annihilation of a Japanese regiment.

"His great personal valor and courageous initiative were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service."

Roosevelt Nominates Three As Diplomats

Washington, June 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt sent to the Senate today nominations of Ray Atherton to be Minister to Canada, William C. Burdette to be Minister to New Zealand, and Loy W. Henderson to be Minister to Iraq.

Atherton, a native of Brookline, Mass., and former American Minister to Denmark, is acting chief of the division of European affairs in the State Department. He will serve simultaneously as Minister to the Government of Luxembourg, now located in Canada. He will succeed J. Pierpont Moffat, who died last January.

Hints Of Invasion Given In Letter By Morgenthau

Washington, June 24 (AP)—A new hint that Europe will be invaded this year came today from Secretary Morgenthau.

The Treasury head, in addressing a letter to war bond salesmen for a major campaign to start September 9, said:

"During the coming months we are going to be faced with a few new hurdles (in selling bonds), but I believe they are chiefly temporary, and I think they will be offset by the enthusiasm that will come with the invasion of Europe."

No elaboration of this remark was available, but it appeared that invasion must be close, in Morgenthau's mind, since he was talking about an event he thought would stimulate sales activities in September.

The Secretary did not disclose the goal of the September campaign, but said it would be larger than April's when the objective was $13,500,000,000.

"HOME CRISIS" WORSE, IS VIEW OF JOHNSTON

Commerce Chamber Head Declares Nation Has "Gone Into Slump"

JUN 25 1943

Says Capital Dilly-Dallies, Tests Social Measures, Plays Politics

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 24—Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said tonight that a home-front crisis "daily grows more menacing" while:

"Washington dilly-dallies, argues about the jurisdiction of Federal war agencies, plays politics, experiments with social measures, acts with indecision or not at all."

He added that "pressure groups forget the war against a common and bloodthirsty enemy to engage in a civil economic brawl."

"Slump On Home Front"

The head of the business organization declared in a broadcast the nation had gone into a slump on the home front "because our teamwork, on the whole, is—well, I'd better not use the word on the radio."

"As our bombers shatter factories in the Ruhr, the headlines in Berlin proclaim a strike in Pennsylvania or Alabama, a conflict among high officials in Washington, or a riot in Detroit.

"And all these disputes add up to one dangerous word—crisis—the growing crisis on our home front.

Says Inflation Threatens

"The threat of inflation hangs like the sword of Damocles over the nation's head.

"The food shortage continues to get worse. We have failed to formulate a tax program adequate to meet the astronomical costs of war and forestall inflation.

"A chaotic price policy provides fertile soil for the growth of untold numbers of black markets. The problem of manpower is still a mess. . . .

"But the crisis on the home front is not confined to the nation's Capital. Despite labor's no-strike pledge—voluntarily given immediately after Pearl Harbor—strikes are on the increase.

Terms Law Disregarded

"There is a singular disregard throughout the land for law and order. It is considered smart by too many people to evade rationing, to patronize black markets, and to violate other rules which must be promulgated in wartime."

Johnston said that when American soldiers now on the fighting fronts and reading of the domestic disputes come home they will have "their day of reckoning."

"They will know," he declared, "who is responsible for the production delays. They will know who is placing petty, selfish desires and ambitions above patriotism—and when the war is won those guilty ones will be held accountable."

JUN 25 1943

House Group Rebuffs FDR, Favors War Food 'Czar'

Proposed Law Would Shift OPA Powers to Davis.

WASHINGTON, June 24—(AP) Disregarding President Roosevelt's wishes, the House Agriculture committee today approved a measure to create an all-powerful wartime food "czar."

Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) said: "The food situation is getting critical, and the legislation is designed to deal with the emergency."

The bill, if made law, would take all food rationing and pricing powers from the Office of Price Administration, headed by Prentiss Brown, and place them with the War Food administrator, Chester C. Davis, who now supervises food production and distribution.

Rejected By Roosevelt

Mr. Roosevelt last week turned down suggestions by two bi-partisan congressional committees that such action be taken by executive order.

The measure approved by the Agriculture committee would give Mr. Davis final authority on foods —not subject even to the approval of the President. However, Mr. Roosevelt would have power to replace him, in case of hopeless disagreemnt.

Written by Committee Chairman Fulmer, the bill embodies a proposal previously made by the Republican congressional food study committee. It was reported, 18 to 8, with all 12 committee Republicans and six Democrats voting for it. The sweeping measure provides:

"The War Food administrator is authorized and directed, notwithstanding any other provision of law (including Title I of the First War Powers act, 1941), exclusively and finally to exercise on behalf of the United States, either directly or through such other officers or agencies as he may designate, all powers, functions, and duties conferred or imposed upon any officer or agency of the United States by any law, order, regulation, or directive with respect to the nation's food program in the United States and territories, including the production, processing, distribution, rationing, procurement, requisitioning, allocation of, priorities, storage, exportation and importation of, provisions of labor and facilities for, and the establishment, maintenance and adjustment of prices for, food and food facilities."

Hopes For Quick Passage

Rep. Fulmer said the measure would create "a czar for the food industry as we now have for WPB, rubber and oil." He expressed hope that it could pass before Congress takes a recess two or three weeks hence. Rep. Ellsworth (Ore), member of the Republican food committee, said Republicans would support the bill on the House floor.

Some Democrats fought the bill behind closed doors of the committee session at which it was considered, contending that it would transfer to the food administrator the powers of the Lend Lease administrator and the powers under the reciprocal trade act.

Capitol hill observers interpreted the committee action as a direct rebuff to the President, since the legislation seeks to force a reshuffle within his Administration. Mr. Roosevelt told the two bi-partisan congressional committees last week that he thought the present set-up for handling food more practicable than the idea of putting the nation's bread basket into the hands of one all-powerful man.

Under current administration procedure, Fred Vinson, director of economic stabilization, coordinates the War Food administration, dealing with production and distribution, and the OPA, handling pricing and rationing.

The committee action, in one respect, was a tribute to Mr. Davis, who several weeks ago left the chairmanship of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis to take the war job. He was administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment administration early in the Roosevelt Administration.

Rep. Fulmer said "Davis has found himself in the same spot that Wickard (the Secretary of Agriculture) was in. He hasn't enough power to do the job before him. This bill is intended to correct that."

WARNS OF CUT IN OPA FUNDS

Brown Says Price Control Will Be Crippled If Senate Votes Drop

JUN 25 1943

Asserts WLB And President Have Prevented Break In Wage Front

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 24—Prentiss Brown, Price Administrator, said tonight that the War Labor Board and President Roosevelt have courageously prevented a serious break on the wage front, and it is now more than ever necessary "that we hold on the price front."

Upholding the Office of Price Administration subsidy-roll-back program, Brown said also that price control will be "crippled into uselessness" if the Senate sustains the House in cutting OPA's 1943-44 budget to $130,000,000, or $47,000,000 less than the amount requested for OPA by the President's Budget Bureau.

"Arouse Yourselves"

"If present opposition results in the end of price control," Brown said, "every American will suffer. Those who oppose us say they are against inflation. All they wan is higher prices to encourage production. We have had to fight this thing many times. We must win this last battel. Americans, arouse yourselves before it is too late."

The Price Administrator told a radio audience:

"There has been much apprehension up to now about a serious break on the wage front and its consequent effect on prices. Courageously the War Labor Board and the President have met this issue squarely and prevented the break.

Explains Subsidies

"More than ever it is now necessary that we hold on the price front. Had the War Labor Board yielded, we could not have held the price line. If we do not hold the price line despite the effort of the War Labor Board, we can not hold the wage line.

"This is the reason for the subsidy program. Subsidies have been used for the purpose of stabilizing our economy for many years.

"It is amazing to find many who were and still are earnest advocates of the parity and soil conservation subsidies urging that the subsidy principle is wrong.

"This is not true, however, of the majority. Fundamentally regardless of the person to whom payment is made, all subsidies that we propose are production subsidies."

Cites Rise In C. O. L.

Brown said the cost of living has risen since last September 15 and "that ground must be retaken."

"The alternative of raising wages to match the rise in the cost of living can not be considered," he said. 'This nation would be embarked on a course of crisis after crisis, each graver than the one before, each leading deeper into inflation.

"The subsidy program is necessary not only to roll back the cost of living to the level to which we are committed (September 15, 1942), but to hold it there. This is a matter of demonstrated experience. The British in over two years have permitted no rise whatever in the cost of living.

Cheapest Method

"Subsidies provide the cheapest method of securing necessary production. Both consumers and Government benefit from their use.

"The rollback subsidy program on meat and butter will save consumers between 2 and $3 and the Government at least $2 for every dollar paid out in subsidies.

"This program, therefore, will pay off in hard dollars and cents at the rate of four or five to one. On many commodities the saving is even higher. On copper the Government has saved $35 for every dollar paid out. This is the soundest kind of finance."

The subsidy program is already under way on meat and butter, and OPA has announced plans to extend it to coffee. The House last week voted to restrain OPA from using any of its funds in administering such subsidies; the Senate has yet to act.

Warns Of Funds Cut

As for the House in OPA appropriations, also to come before the Senate later, Brown said:

"I want the country to know that if the cuts in our approrpiations imposed by the House of Representativees last week become effective, price control in the United States is crippled into uselessness.

"Price control can not work without an adequate staff.

"I can not say that the law just as I would like it (but) it is my judgment that we had better use teh tools we have in the effort to ge this job donee."

White House Clemency Last Stephan Hope

Washington, June 24 (AP)—A commutation of sentence from President Roosevelt apparently was Max Stephan's only hope tonight of escaping the gallows on his treason conviction.

"I have no recourse now except executive clemency," said Nicholas Salowich, Stephan's attorney, after stay of execution was denied this afternoon by Chief Justice Stone. "I still feel that Max Stephan will not hang."

However, it was reported authoritatively that Attorney General Biddle had decided against recommending any White House action in the case.

The Detroit restaurant operator is under sentence to die July 2. The Supreme Court previously had refused three times to review his conviction of harboring Peter Krug, a German aviator who escaped from a Canadian prison camp.

CUT IN SUPPLY OF BEEF SEEN

Civilians Face Substantial Curtailment, Meat Institute Declares

Armed Forces Are Unable To Obtain All Food Needed, It Asserts

JUN 25 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, June 24—The American Meat Institute asserted tonight that under current conditions the armed forces coul dnot obtain all the beef they need, and that civilian supplise would be curtailed substantially.

The organization, made up of meat packers, also estimated that more than one hundred plants had reduced or halted the slaughtering of cattle or other live stock since last October 1.

Institute's Views

The institute's views were set forth in a telegram sent by its president, Wesley Hardenberg, to James F. Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization.

"The armed forces cannot get th emeat they need despite the new order that meat packers must set aside forty-five per cent. of their production of certain grades for Government use," the message read. "It follows without saying that civilian beef supplies will be curtailed drastically."

The institute maintained that packers were caught between a rise in the prices they pay for cattle and a roll back in the prices they receive for the meat processed from cattle. It added:

"The culmination of these factors—the inability of many beef processors to continue losing operations, plus the uncertainties surof the so-called 'subsidy'— resulted rounding the conditions of payment in a sharp reduction in the number of cattle being sent to the legitimate market and no relief to processors in the form of lower prices was afforded."

The organization stated that "impracticable and theoretical handling" should be ended, and that the "entire problem" should be placed in the hands of the war meat board for solution.

Coffee Ration To Be Pound In 3 Weeks

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Starting July 1 the coffee ration will be a pound every three weeks—the most liberal rate yet and twice as much as coupons were worth for a time last winter.

The present ration is a pound every thirty days, under Stamp No. 24 which expires June 30. Stamp No. 21 will be good for a pound between July 1 and July 21; No. 22 will be good for a pound between July 22 and August 11.

The Office of Price Administration, announcing the new ration today, said coffee supplies have reached normal, with indications imports will be sufficient to maintain the stocks.

Lapham, Of WLB, Quits; President Accepts Request

Washington, June 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of Roger D. Lapham as an employer member of the War Labor Board. Lapham submitted his resignation because he said he had agreed to run for Mayor of San Francisco in a nonpartisan election in November.

"Obviously," he said in his letter of resignation, "I should not remain a member of the board if I am a candidate for a political office."

Lapham is a San Francisco shipping executive.

U-Boats Sink Allied Ship

Washington, June 24 (AP)—The navy reported today that a small United Nations merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the Caribbean area in mid-March. Survivors landed at New York.

Jeffers To Keep Post Until Job Is Done

Washington, June 24 (AP)—William Jeffers, Rubber Director, said today he and key members of his staff have agreed to remain at their posts here "until no doubt remains that the rubber problem has been solved."

In a statement issued he said in response to inquiries regarding plans for the continued operation of his office, Jeffers added that he and his top aides will remain until the rubber program can be carried on without the necessity of maintaining a separate organization in Washington.

Mme. Chiang to Spend Night at White House

Washington, June 24 (A. P.).—Mme. Chiang Kai-shek will arrive late today to be an overnight guest at the White House. It will be her third stay there since she came to this country last November.

JUN 25 1943

3024-5347

30.24— 5347

BEW Helps Friendly Nations Gain Exports, Wallace Says

Aids Allies And Neutrals In Getting Scarce Goods After U. S. War Needs Are Met

This is the last of a series of three articles by Vice-President Wallace on an important but little publicized phase of the war—economic warfare against the Axis.

JUN 25 1943

By HENRY A. WALLACE
Chairman of Board of Economic Warfare

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Scarcities of civilian goods in the United States necessitate careful planning, so that people will have the minimum without which war production would suffer. The same situation exists in the countries of our Allies and of those friendly neutrals which are contributing in an economic way to the war effort of the United Nations.

The United States is now the only source of many commodities needed by these other countries. This is especially true for the countries of Latin America, which are cut off from their ordinary sources of supply in Europe and Asia.

Means For Decision

Because our own supplies of the commodities they need are limited, and because there is a shortage of shipping space, some means of deciding what may be exported to the various countries had to be adopted.

On this front the Board of Economic Warfare acts on behalf of the friendly countries which are seeking to buy from us. Through its Office of Exports, it arranges with other Government agencies for the export of those quantities of the desired commodities which can be spared and for which shipping space can be found.

"Decentralization Plan"

Under the "decentralization plan" now in effect, Governments of the Latin-American countries are given a partner's "say" as to what commodities they wish to receive first, after allowance has been made for the shipment of machinery and supplies required in the production of war materials in those countries for subsequent importation to us.

Then, so far as available supplies and shipping space will permit, their requests are filled.

Staggering Job

The Board of Economic Warfare handles about 2,000,000 export license applications a year—truly a staggering job. The commodities exported flow from approximately 16,000 export concerns to thousands of individual foreign consignees. Care must be taken to see that no goods are sent to firms known to be friendly to the Axis. As a matter of fact, keeping goods from this country out of the hands of "blacklisted" firms was one of the first jobs tackled in the control of exports.

In both the export and import programs, the board is following the policy of protecting the interests of commercial exporting and importing firms as fully as possible in wartime. Advisory groups of exporters and importers help frame the policies followed. Their practical experience is invaluable to us.

Private Firms Needed

I strongly believe that these private firms will be needed in the development of international trade after the war. It is common sense to keep them in business now.

Since the work of the Board of Economic Warfare is so closely related to business, we have staffed it heavily with men of wide business experience in foreign trade. The board does not hire dollar-a-year officials, and the majority of these businessmen have taken positions with the Government at a financial sacrifice.

Everyone connected with the board has an aggressive determination to speed the day of free world victory—to shorten this war by fighting as hard on the economic fronts of the world as those gallant sons of ours are now fighting on the military fronts in many countries. All our activities are dedicated to this single purpose.

'Globalliances' Are Called For

Washington, June 24 (AP)—In the middle of her speech, in the House today Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce (R., Conn.) dropped a couple more coined words — "globlindness and globalliances."

She's against the former, as well as her original "globaloney" but she's strongly in favor of globalliances, she said.

JUN 25 1943

Mrs. Luce Starts Sharp Foreign Policy Debate

Washington, June 24 (A. P.).—Clare Boothe Luce, Republican Congresswoman from Connecticut, called Representative Luther Johnson( D.-Tex.) "no better than a renegade interventionist "today and the white-haired Texan retorted that she was an illogical and unqualified critic.

Their tart exchange, over the administration's foreign policy, was one of the most spirited of the Seventy-eighth Congress.

Mr. Johnson, a veteran member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said Mrs. Luce was unfair in her criticism, and declared she never would have made her charges had she been a member of the House during the critical year before the war.

Mrs. Luce had declared that the administration's foreign policy had first been isolation and latterly merely adoption, in default of a foreign policy of its own, or the war policies undertaken in England.

Mr. Johnson rose upon completion of her half-hour prepared address for the purpose of "correcting, if I can," some of her "illogical statements."

He drew a gale of laughter from both Republicans and Democrats as he declared that the issue of the neutrality act had been "injecfted into this campa . . . "and then hastily corrected himself to say "into this debate."

Mrs. Luce Calls for Lucidity.

"I can see my friends on the Republican side recognize the speech was part of a political campaign," Mr. Johnson observed.

A second later, Mrs. Luce jumped to her feet. "Would the gentleman, in the balance of his speech, tell us, clearly, simply and concisely just what he believes to be Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy?" she asked.

"I don't need any one to tell me what to talk about," retorted Mr. Johnson. "I'll choose my own subject."

The Texan declared it is "easy for one who has not been a member of the House, who has not voted on any of the measures leading up to the critical period, one who has no record, to criticize."

He termed her criticism "leveled out at Franklin D. Roosevelt and his great Secretary of State," rather unfair and said that it "manifested a spirit of extreme partianship."

Mrs. Luce was interrupted often by her Republican colleagues who generally found her remarks to their liking, especially khen she described President Roosevelt as "the No. 1 isolationist" before he became "an interventionist."

The Democratic members plied her with questions, too. Representative Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) recalled her remarks in her first speech in the House, when she said that Mr. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill could not reach a post-war policy until "they knew what was in the mind of Stalin.'

"Does the gentlewoman now believe that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill know what is in Mr. Stalin's mind, or does she know what is in Stalin's mind?" Mr. Kefauver asked.

Mrs. Luce reiterated her former statement that such agreements could not be reached without a knowledge of Russia's aims, but she said, " I think Mr. Roosevelt does know now that is Mr. Stalin's mind."

Mrs. Luce Cites Lincoln.

When Representative Wright (D.-Pa.) asked whether any leader could have "sold" this nation a foreign policy in the early 30's, Mrs. Luce replied:

"Monroe, Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln were leaders who were able to sell a foreign policy to their people. If such a leader appears today, the people will fall in behind him."

Representative Rankin (D.-Miss.) said it was his recollection that Jefferson and Washington both had opposed "entangling alliances" with other nations, and added: "How do you feel about that?"

"I am not in favor of foreign alliances," Mrs. Luce retorted, as a howl went up from the Democratic side.

She hastily elaborated:

"Do you consider our relations with South American nations and Canada, for example, foreign alliances? Those are the kind of relations I am speaking for."

JAP SUB DESTROYED NEAR WEST COAST AT START OF WAR

U. S. Bomber Sank Enemy Craft Just 17 Days After Pearl Harbor

JUN 25 1943

Tacoma, Wash., June 24 (A. P.).—How a United States patrol bomber sank a Japanese submarine forty miles off the mouth of the Columbia River just seventeen days after Pearl Harbor was related today by the pilot, Major Everett Holstrom of Eugene, Ore.

Major Holstrom, one of Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's Tokio raiders, told interviewers that his plane sank the underwater craft near dawn on December 24, 1941, as it surfaced ahead of a rain squall.

The patrol flight of three planes left McChord Field here before dawn that day, he related.

"We found the mouth of the Columbia River and headed straight out to sea. After we had flown about forty miles out, I saw a submarine surfacing right ahead of a rain squall.

"I made two runs on her—and got her on the second one."

His account confirmed reports current at the time that a submarine had been sunk off the Pacific Northwest coast.

He said that, after the sinking, the patrol could not get back to McChord Field because of weather conditions. "We headed for Seattle," Major Holstrom said. "We just made it, as a matter of fact. I believe my plane was the last to come into Boeing Field that day.

"I don't believe I said anything about the sub until I made my report to the Interceptor Command, but one of the members of my crew may have—naturally we were all pretty happy."

Press dispatches that day told of the crippling of the freighter Absaroka off Long Beach, Cal., by an enemy submersible, and attacks on two lumber schooners off California. Major Holstrom did not believe the attacks were made by the submarine he sank.

"There were surface craft coming out of the Columbia River when I made my runs, but I didn't see any in the vicinity of the submarine," he added.

Major Holstrom arrived home yesterday for the first time in eighteen months, to visit his wife.

Report of Sinkings.

Washington, June 24 (A. P.).—The probable sinking of two enemy submarines in the Pacific a year ago was disclosed by the Navy today with the announcement of letters of commendation from Secretary Knox to a destroyer commander.

The destroyer skipper is Commander William R. Smedberg, 3d, 40 years old, of Arlington, Va.

The Navy said that he attacked two submarines in a ten-day period in the summer of 1942, dropping depth charges, and after each attack great quantities of oil and air bubbles rose to the surface.

Commander Smedberg previously had won the silver star medal for evading a Japanese sub which attempted to t orpedo his ship as it lay at a nchor off Guadalcanal.

COAST SUB TOLL IS FIXED AT NINE

Los Angeles Paper Estimates Jap Losses Off California And Oregon

[By the Associated Press]

Los Angeles, June 24—The Los Angeles Times says at least nine Japanese submarines, possibly others, have been sunk off California and Oregon by navy and Coast Guard surface and air forces since Pearl Harbor.

The Times says the tabulation was entirely unconfirmed by the navy, but based upon substantial data.

Most of the Jap subs were sunk in the opening weeks of the war, says the newspaper, after six American freighters had been attacked offshore, and the effect was to drive the Nipponese subs from American waters.

The Times story continues:

"Emblematic that she sank a sub is a gold star on the funnel of the Los Angeles Coast Guard patrol boat Hermes, presumably for an exploit off California. She is said to be entitled to another for dropping depth charges successfully a month later within sight of California shores.

"Her sister ship, the Perseus, is reported to have sent another underwater enemy to the bottom a month after the war started. Again a California commercial air-line pilot is supposed to have sighted an enemy submarine on the surface, radioed the alarm, and navy planes from San Diego sneaked up and dispatched it. Two more are believed to have been destroyed off California, one by plane and one jointly by plane and surface patrol.

"Less definite is the report that a pig boat was depth-bombed to the bottom off a California harbor. The rest are listed as having been disposed of off northern California and Oregon by planes and surface craft, including one three days after war started. The above does not include sinkings by army planes, said to have been equally effective."

JUN 25 1943

Falling Airplane Derails Train After 2 Craft Crash in Mid-Air

By The Associated Press

SOUTHVILLE, Mass., June 24.—The flaming wreckage of one of two Army planes that collided at a high altitude plummeted into the path of a passenger train today, derailing the engine and five coaches, two of which caught fire.

One pilot's body was found a quarter of a mile from his wrecked ship. He was Second Lieutenant Douglas E. G. Smith, twenty years old, of Eads, Tenn. The other flyer parachuted to safety several hundred yards from the Boston & Albany Railroad tracks.

The engineer of the Worcester-to-Boston train was slightly injured, but railroad men said none of the 150 passengers was injured.

Two small boys ran around a bend in the railroad tracks to halt the train. One of them pulled off a red shirt and waved it as a signal, but the engineer was unable to stop.

Air brakes screeched as the train crew spotted the boys and wreckage, but the engineer said the intense heat of the burning plane had spread the rails, and the cars left the track.

Passengers left the cars as two of the coaches caught fire, and members of the train crew stood by, assisting them, until all were out of danger.

U. S. STEEL CLOSES 5 MORE FURNACES

Coking Fuel Shortage Causes Daily Loss Of 8,000 Tons Of Pig Iron

Pittsburgh, June 24 (AP)—The United States Steel Corporation announced late today five blast furnaces will be forced to close down tomorrow due to the shortage of coking coal.

Five others of the corporation's thirty-seven district furnaces were closed earlier this week. The ten furnaces turn out about 8,000 tons of pig iron a day.

[By the Associated Press]

Pittsburgh, June 24—The back-to-work movement of the United Mine Workers, although expanding today to spur partial resumption of operations in the nation's coal fields, failed to bring thousands back to the pits and struck a snag especially in Pennsylvania, where many locals voted to remain on strike.

An estimated forty per cent. of the half-million United Mine Workers remained idle in protest against the long deadlock in their contract dispute, particularly the portal-to-portal pay issue.

About 100,000 of the 200,000 bituminous and anthracite coal diggers in Pennsylvania continued their walkout.

Holiday Is Declared

At Wilkes-Barre a sizable group who reported for work today declared a holiday starting tomorrow.

The action was voted unanimously at a meeting of the Shenandoah Central Labor Union, representing 6,500 men in the collieries of the Shenandoah (Pa.) area.

In West Virginia, the leading bituminous State, 12,000 failed to observe the four-month truce called by the UMW policy committee and absenteeism in mines operating averaged about twenty-five per cent.

Less than half of Ohio's 21,000 miners, 23,000 of 26,000 in Alabama, and 21,500 of 47,000 (UMW) in Kentucky did not work.

There were few reports of picketing.

JUN 25 1943

Unions Meet

The Uniontown (Pa.) district seethed with excitement during the day and many more local meetings were held tonight. Pickets appeared at several places. One group stopped a bus loaded with miners going out of Masontown and forced them all off.

C. R. Dawson, State policeman, said at Logan, W. Va., that a group of men "pulled the crew off" the tipple of an Island Creek Coal Company mine, forcing it to suspend operations.

"The trouble was over when we got there, and no one was hurt," he said.

UMW Official Hopeful

President John P. Busarello, of UMW District 5, at Pittsburgh, expressed hope that more of the 36,000 miners in his district would return to work tomorrow.

"The boys may be a little slow returning, because they are very angry about the raw deal they got," he said, referring to the union's complaint that the War Labor Board and operators turned down the miners' demand for underground travel pay.

Busarello said of President Roosevelt's plan to draft strikers from 45 to 65 for non-combat military service:

"This draft threat is just like pouring more oil on the fire. It doesn't do us any good and several officials from locals have telephoned that a growing attitude among some miners is that they will 'stay out until they draft me.'"

Appeal To Miners Planned

William Blizzard, vice-president of the 50,000-member District 17 in the Charleston (W. Va.) area, said he and other union officials would ask the miners at mass-meetings Sunday to dig coal for the war effort "regardless of the conspiracy to deprive them of increased wages to which they were entitled."

"Even though they might not like it," he said, "the miners are working for the Government now. They will be back on the job in due time."

Sheriff Charles Frock, of Uniontown, ordered out special deputies tonight to areas which he said were "likely trouble spots." He said pickets, in addition to stopping the bus and forcing off the miners near Masontown, had overturned a car loaded with miners near the same site. The men were en route to the Ronco mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company.

Operations Curtailed

The Republic Steel Corporation reported it has slowed down four blast furnaces at Birmingham, Ala., but could operate for a few more days on that schedule.

Four Republic mines were among the steel company-owned "catpives" still idle in the Pittsburgh area. Others included pits of Jones & Laughlin, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Weirton Steel and United States Steel. The Frick company reported it mined 7,000 tons in Pennsylvania mines today which normally turn out 50,000 tons.

In West Virginia, William Blizzard, vice-president of UMW District 17, called five mass meetings for Sunday, saying he and other leaders would tell the men about the "conspiracy between the coal operators and the War Labor Board, supported and helped by the President, to block our increase in wages."

ARMY BEEF SUPPLY IS NOT ADEQUATE, SAYS MEAT CHIEF

Institute Declares 100 Plants Have Halted or Reduced Slaughtering.

CHICAGO, June 24 — (AP) The American Meat institute asserted tonight that under current conditions the armed forces could not obtain all the beef they need, and that civilian supplies would be curtailed substantially.

The organization, made up of meat packers, also estimated that more than 100 plants had reduced or halted the slaughtering of cattle or other liverstock since last Oct. 1.

Sends Message to Byrnes

The institute's views were set forth in a telegram sent by its president, Wesley Hardenbergh, to James F. Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization.

"x x x The armed forces cannot get the meat they need despite the new order that meat packers must set aside 45 per cent of their production of certain grades for government use," the message read. "It follows without saying that civilian beef supplies will be curtailed drastically."

The institute maintained that packers were caught between a rise in the prices they pay for cattle and a rollback in the prices they receive for the meat processed from cattle. It added:

"The culmination of these factors — the inability of many beef processors to continue losing operations, plus the uncertainties surrounding the conditions of payment of the so-called 'subsidy'—resulted in a sharp reduction in the number of cattle being sent to the legitimate market and no relief to processors in the form of lower prices was afforded."

The government has decided to pay subsidies to the packers to compensate for the rollback in wholesale prices and enable them to continue paying good prices to producers, the beneficiaries of the plan.

But the institute said "The conditions so far announced concerning the payment of the subsidy are so indefinite and give such broad discretionary powers to the government official administering the regulations that meat packers cannot be sure that they will receive any money or, if they do, when it will be paid."

The organization stated that "impracticable and theoretical handling" should be ended, and that the "entire problem" should be placed in the hands of the War Meat board for solution.

Bricker Backs U. S. Entry In Post-War Organization

JUN 25 1943

Prospective G.O.P. Presidential Candidate Favors Union to Keep Peace.

COLUMBUS, O., June 24—(AP) Gov. John W. Bricker, a prospective candidate for the 1944 Republican Presidential nomination, came out definitely and unmistakably today for American participation in a post-war international organization to preserve peace.

"Such an organization," said Ohio's third-term governor in an interview, "must not only attempt to solve difficulties when they arise, but it must anticipate them and prevent recurring frictions between nations and peoples."

Must Be Accepted by All

Speaking out more specifically than he has in the past, the tall, handsome executive of the state that has given the nation seven Presidents, said that whatever kind of peace-maintenance association of nations is worked out must be "satisfactory to all or it will not work."

As a member of the Republican Post-war Advisory council named to meet later in the summer and formulate basic principles to recommend to the 1944 party platform makers, Gov. Bricker was asked what position he would take at this time on after-the-war collaboration with other nations.

After concluding one of four telephone calls that interrupted the brief interview, he replied:

U. S. to Play Full Part

"The United States will play its full part after the war to build a better understanding between nations, to preserve peace, and to promote the best interests of the world.

"The desires of the people of the United States for better international relations must be implemented in a practical and constructive way."

The governor did not go into detail as to what kind of organization he favored, saying only:

"What that organization, association, or method will be must be determined in the light of facts as they then exist."

This plan, he said, must be "worked out among the victorious nations."

The governor would not "dignify" the word "isolationist" when asked to comment on editorial attacks describing him as the "favorite son of the isolationist wing of the party."

(In a speech in New York last April 7 Gov. Bricker said the term "isolationist" defines nothing and is just as "absurd" as the word "internationalist." There are many in public life today, he said then, who "substitute name calling for logic and reason. x x x America is not, never has been and will never be an isolationist nation. x x x America must deal with the other nations of the world and America must assume leadership."

Makes No Decision

Gov. Bricker would not say when he might announce definitely whether he will be a candidate for the Presidential nomination. All he has said so far has been that Ohio "may" support him as its favorite son at the 1944 convention. He explained that a man in Ohio has until 60 days before the May primary to decide whether to give his consent (required in Ohio) to a delegate slate filing in the primary pledged to him.

Gov. Bricker indicated that he might speak out on national and international questions this fall and winter in a series of speeches. He goes tonight to Milwaukee to address the Wisconsin Bar association tomorrow night.

He consented to today's interview despite a full engagement calendar, the fact that the State Legislature was dumping nearly 50 bills on his desk prior to a sine die adjournment in the afternoon, was just through acting as host to the four-day governors' conference, and had two speeches to deliver to state groups within the hour.

An insight into his attitude on spending was afforded when he told a group of county highway commissioners that "we ought to put our financial house in order to prepare for post-war reemployment and urged that local bonded indebtedness be paid off now when local government income is very high.

Nazis Report Change In Color Of Uniforms

New York, June 24 (AP)—The color of the German army's uniforms and motorized equipment will be changed from gray to a dark yellow, according to a DNB German news agency dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio and reported by United States Government monitors to the Office of War Information.

DNB said the new color will be "similar to the former African color," presumably that used by the defeated Africa Corps, and that the change had been decided upon "as a result of experience."

Draft Dodging Less In World War II

New York, June 24 (AP)—Draft law violations reported throughout the nation for the present conflict are running approximately sixty per cent. behind the figures for World War I, E. E. Conroy, chief of the New York office of the FBI, said today.

Speaking of the quarterly conference of Metropolitan police officials held under FBI sponsorship, Conroy attributed the reduction to more efficient enforcement methods and more drastic penalties imposed for wilful violations.

Conroy declared that up to June 15 of this year 171,642 delinquencies had been reported to the FBI by local draft boards as against 474,861 violations during the period of the first World War.

Family to Receive Rickenbacker Degree

Wilmington, Del., June 24 (A. P.).—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker won't be present to receive an honorary degree from the American Theological Seminary and 1943

30 24- 5349

30.24—5349

Wilmington Bible College Friday night, but he will be well represented.

The college announced that the noted flyer's wife, Mrs. Edward V. Rickenbacker, will speak and, with their sons David and William, accept the degree.

Col. Hans Christian Adamson, who was with Capt. Rickenbacker in the South Pacific ordeal, also is to speak.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

The R.A.F.'s Britain-North Africa shuttle raids add a spectacular chapter to the brilliant history being written this summer by the Allied air forces. However, it is interesting chiefly as a preview of things to come rather than as an example of tactics that can be put immediately into widespread use.

The flight of several squadrons of four-engined Lancasters from Britain to Africa and return, blasting Friedrichshaven on the out trip and La Spezia going home, does perhaps give a glimpse of what may be expected in the final phase of the war, when the outlying Axis bastions have been reduced and the fortress of Europe has been whittled down to more manageable size. Then the enemy's territory is likely to be criss-crossed from all points of the compass on day and night shuttle runs blasting away at the last hard core of resistance, assuming that the core outlasts the outer shell. For the moment, however, this fine exploit serves rather as a reminder of the breadth of the enemy's conquests and of the great areas that have to be carved away before the Allies can get at the vital spots.

This applies alike in Europe and the Orient.

The fact is that this Britain-North Africa route is about the only one short enough today for an effective shuttle run. It gives access only to limited areas of enemy territory, almost all of which already have been attacked successfully. La Spezia, the big naval base in northwestern Italy which the Lancasters bombed on their homeward journey, previously had been blasted on round-trip raids from both Britain and Africa. However, for reaching northwestern Italy, which contains the industrial centers of Milan and Turin and the ports of Genoa and Leghorn, in addition to La Spezia; for southwestern Germany, and perhaps also for the hitherto unbombed northeast of Italy, including the great port of Trieste, these Britain-Africa flights may prove the most effective means. The same applies to most of France, which is crossed by the most direct routes.

The main advantage of shuttle attacks is that under favorable circumstances they might compel the enemy to double his defenses to obtain the present degree of protection. A considerable proportion of an attacking air force's casualties are suffered on the way home. If the plans had the option of going straight on obviously the enemy would have to alert his fighters and anti-aircraft installations in both directions.

Such advantages are balanced by the fact that operational installations—intelligence, weather reporting, servicing and the like—have to be duplicated at the second terminus. The British and Americans both have such installations in both Britain and Africa.

But such would not be the case on a Britain-to-Russia route, assuming that the coyness of the Russians about the appearance of Allied operational units in their territory could be overcome. There is also the handicap of distance. A squadron from Britain which attacked Berlin would have to fly almost twice as far beyond Berlin to reach the nearest Russian bases as the homeward flight would require.

The first and still most thrilling attack of the shuttle type was the Doolittle raid on Tokyo. The fliers took off from one edge of enemy territory and found safety beyond the opposite limit. But that was a rare feat that has not yet been repeated, illustrating the vast handicaps of distance we have to overcome in the Pacific area. However, with the slow advance of the United States forces across the north Pacific and the growing concentration of air power in China the day is approaching when this or something like it will be done again and again.

JUN 25 1943

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO)

---

BY MAX HILL

JUN 25 1943

THE AXIS STILL IS WORRYING--AND GUESSING--ABOUT WHAT SORT OF AN ATTACK THE ALLIES INTEND TO LAUNCH AGAINST GERMANY OR ITALY THIS SUMMER IN EUROPE.

UNIDENTIFIED BUT EVIDENTLY COMPETENT OBSERVERS IN SWITZERLAND TOLD THOMAS F.HAWKINS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS THAT IN THEIR OPINION THE CONSTANT AND DEVASTATING AIR ATTACKS ON GERMANY MIGHT WELL BE THE ANSWER.

GERMANY HERSELF IS THE "SECOND FRONT"--NOT SOME DISTANT COASTAL POINT, FROM WHICH IT WOULD TAKE MONTHS AND THOUSANDS OF LIVES TO ACTUALLY PENETRATE INTO THE NAZI HOMELAND.

THE LAST WAR FINALLY WAS DECIDED BY THE CRUSHING WEIGHT OF AMERICAN PRODUCTION. WE ARE LESS THAN A MONTH AWAY FROM THE TIME IT TOOK US TO BREAK GERMANY IN 1918, AND IT DOESN'T APPEAR SUCH A COLLAPSE IS LIKELY AGAIN IN THE IMMEDIATE FUTURE.

BUT OUR OUTPUT NOW DWARFS THAT OF THE PREVIOUS WAR IN EVERY RESPECT, AND FROM LONDON LAST NIGHT CAME THE ENCOURAGING NEWS THAT PRODUCTION OF MUNITIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN FOR THE FIRST THREE MONTHS O 1943 WAS 40 PER CENT OVER THE SAME PERIOD IN 1942.

AXIS PRODUCTION, ON THE OTHER HAND, IS BOUND TO BE ON THE DOWN-GRADE BECAUSE OF THE TONS OF BOMBS DROPPED ON HER VITALLY ESSENTIAL FACTORIES AND TRANSPORTATION LINES. IT IS NO WONDER GERMANY MUST HUSBAND HER REMAINING STRENGTH.

JUN 25 1943

OUR FLIERS HAVE RETURNED FROM THEIR RAIDS OVER THE RUHR WITH STORIES OF THE DAMAGE DONE, BUT THE BEST EVIDENCE THAT GERMANY IS BEING HURT--AND HURT BADLY--COMES FROM THE AXIS RADIO ITSELF, AND FROM THE NEUTRAL CAPITALS OF BERN AND STOCKHOLM.

DISPATCHES FROM SWISS CORRESPONDENTS IN GERMANY DISCLOSED THAT THE ENTIRE RUHR VALLEY NOW IS VIRTUALLY A MILITARY ZONE, WITH AUTHORITIES CONSTANTLY MORE CONCERNED OVER THE EFFECTS OF THE INCESSANT BOMBING. THIS IS NOT ONLY BECAUSE OF WHAT IT DOES TO PRODUCTION. CIVILIAN MORALE IS BOUND TO DROP UNDER SUCH A POUNDING, AND EVEN HITLER WON'T BE ABLE TO MAINTAIN A SOLID HOME FRONT UNLESS THE NAZIS FIND SOME BETTER ANSWER TO THE ATTACKS THAN THEY HAVE THUS FAR.

IT HAS BEEN SOME TIME SINCE GOERING PROMISED THE GERMANS AN INVINCIBLE DEFENSE AGAINST SUCH AIR ATTACKS, BUT IT HAS BEEN LESS THAN A YEAR THAT THE AXIS WAS DOING PLENTY OF TUB-THUMPING OVER VICTORIES IN THE MEDITERRANEAN. JUST A FEW QUOTES TAKEN FROM THE ROME RADIO OF LAST SUMMER ARE ENOUGH TO SHOW HOW DEFINITELY THE PICTURE HAS CHANGED IN OUR FAVOR. THEY FOLLOW:

"IT IS NOW CLEAR TO EVERYONE THAT THE MEDITERRANEAN AND THE ADJOINING AREAS IN THE MIDDLE EAST CONSTITUTE THE FOCAL ZONE OF THE WAR. ITALY DOMINATES THAT ZONE."

JUN 25 1943

---

"ANY QUESTION OF SUPPLYING MALTA FROM THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN IS NOW HOPELESS. (RADIO ZEESEN)

---

"FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THE HISTORY OF EGYPT THE NILE VALLEY IS BEI INVADED FROM THE WEST. THE BALBO ROAD AND THE ISLAND OF PANTELLERIA WERE BOTH ENVISAGED BY THE DUCE'S STRATEGIC FORESIGHT AND DULY PREPARED IN YEARS OF PEACE. NOW THEY PERMIT THE ITALIAN AND GERMAN ARMIES IN AFRICA TO ELIMINATE THE WORD 'IMPOSSIBLE' FROM THEIR VOCABULARY."

---

NOW THE GERMAN RADIO OBSERVES SOURLY: "WHAT THE POPULATION OF THESE AREAS (THE RUHR) HAS HAD TO ENDURE LATELY IS UNBELIEVABLE."

IT IS QUITE POSSIBLE--LIKELY IS A BETTER WORD--THAT THIS IS ONLY THE BEGINNING, AND THAT ATTACKS IN THE FUTURE WILL BE EVEN GREATER. BROADCASTS FROM LONDON TO THE CONQUERED PEOPLES OF FRANCE, BELGIUM AND HOLLAND HAVE URGED THEM TO MOVE AWAY FROM POTENTIAL TARGETS, SUCH AS FACTORIES WHICH PRODUCE WAR MATERIALS.

THESE BROADCASTS HAVE TOLD THE GERMANS AS WELL AS THEIR HELPLESS SLAVES THAT THIS IS ONLY THE START. PERHAPS THAT IS THE REASON THE GERMANS FINALLY HAVE BEGUN TO ADMIT THE GREAT DAMAGE AND TERROR OF THEIR PEOPLE. THEY MUST PREPARE THEM FOR WHAT IS TO COME.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 25 1943

THE BERLIN RADIO LAST (THUR) NIGHT QUOTED A DISPATCH FROM PARIS AS SAYING THE VICHY GOVERNMENT DELEGATE FOR JEWISH AFFAIRS ESTIMATED THAT SOME 100,000 JEWS WOULD BE DEPRIVED OF FRENCH CITIZENSHIP RIGHTS UNDER A DECREE SIGNED LAST SUNDAY BY PIERRE LAVAL.

THE BERLIN BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, QUOTED THE DELEGATE, DARQUIR DE PELLEPOIX, AS SAYING IN AN INTERVIEW THAT THE TOTAL NUMBER OF JEWS IN FRANCE COULD ONLY BE ESTIMATED ROUGHLY BECAUSE OF "COMPLETELY UNRELIABLE" FRENCH STATISTICS WHICH HE SAID HAD BEEN SHUFFLED ABOUT FOR FRAUDULENT PURPOSES.

"WHEN SPECIAL IDENTITY CARDS WERE ISSUED TO JEWS," THE BROADCAST SAID, "449,000 JEWS WERE REGISTERED. THE COMMISSAR (DE PELLEPOIX) ESTIMATED, HOWEVER, THAT ABOUT 100,000 JEWS EVADED REGISTRATION AND HAVE EMIGRATED FROM FRANCE SINCE 1940.

JUN 25 1943

"HE EXPECTS THAT PROMULGATION OF THE NEW DECREE (SAID TO BE SET FOR NEXT SUNDAY) X X X WILL AGAIN RESULT IN A MASS EXODUS OF JEWS

JUN 25 1943

30.24 - 5351

FROM FRANCE.

THE DECREE WOULD AFFECT MOSTLY JEWS FROM EASTERN EUROPE.".

FOURTH NIGHT LEAD AERIAL

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 25-(AP)-THE RAF RETURNED TO THE ATTACK ON GERMANY LAST NIGHT, THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED TODAY, AFTER THE ALLIED AIR FORCES HAD POUNDED HITLER'S "ATLANTIC WALL" DEFENSES WITH 400 TO 500 BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS IN FURIOUS DAYLIGHT ASSAULTS YESTERDAY.

COASTAL OBSERVERS SAID THE ASSAULT ON GERMANY APPARENTLY WAS CARRIED OUT ON A LARGE SCALE, FOR WAVES OF BIG BOMBERS, FLYING AT A GREAT HEIGHT, WERE HEARD ROARING EASTWARD ACROSS THE CHANNEL LAST EVENING.

JUN 25 1943

IT WAS THE RAF'S SIXTH SUCCESSIVE NIGHT FORAY OVER THE CONTINENT AND ITS FIFTH RAID ON GERMANY SINCE LAST SATURDAY NIGHT.

THE MAIN TARGET WEDNESDAY NIGHT WAS THE ITALIAN NAVAL BASE OF LA SPEZIA, WHICH WAS POUNDED BY RAF LANCASTERS RETURNING TO BRITAIN FROM NORTH AFRICA IN A SPECTACULAR NEW SHUTTLE TECHNIQUE.

YESTERDAY'S RAIDS ON THE CONTINENT STRETCHED ALL THE WAY FROM THE NETHERLANDS TO THE CHERBOURG PENINSULA OF FRANCE.

June 24-AP) Gd

LONDON--~~FIRST~~ NIGHT LEAD AERIAL (ORIGINAL) X X X

~~RESIDENTIAL~~ AREAS.

ANOTHER BERLIN BROADCAST, ALSO RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, ADMITTED THAT "EVERYBODY" SPOKE OF RAID DAMAGE AND ADDED THAT THIS WAS NATURAL AS "SUCH THINGS MIGHT HAPPEN IN OTHER PARTS OF GERMANY."

INDICATING THE LARGE NUMBER OF GERMANS WHO HAVE LOST THEIR HOMES, THE RADIO ANNOUNCED THAT AS OF JULY 1 NOBODY ANYWHERE IN GERMANY WOUL BE PERMITTED TO HAVE MORE THAN ONE ROOM PER PERSON. IT ALSO APPEALED

30.24—5351

TO THE POPULATION TO GIVE UP ROOMS IN HOUSES OR APARTMENTS VOLUNTARILY BEFORE THEN TO HELP SOLVE THE ACUTE HOUSING PROBLEM.

STOCKHOLM DISPATCHES SAID GERMANY'S HELPLESSNESS IN THE FACE OF BRITISH AND AMERICAN BOMBING RAIDS ON HER INDUSTRIAL CITIES IS ADMITTED CANDIDLY IN ISSUES OF ADOLF HITLER'S VOELKISCHER BEOBACHTER REACHING THERE.

JUN 25 1943

"WHAT MAKES THIS FIGHT SO DIFFICULT," LAMENTS THE NAZI LEADER'S PAPER, "IS THE NECESSITY OF TAKING THE FULL FORCE OF THE ATTACK PASSIVELY WITHOUT HAVING A CHANCE OF PERSONALLY AND ACTIVELY COUNTERATTACKING, EITHER AT THE MOMENT (OF THE RAID) OR LATER."

BOMBS ARE FALLING SO THICK ON CITIES IN WEST AND NORTHWEST GERMANY, THE PAPER SAID, THAT THE MAPS ON WHICH THEY ARE RECORDED AT EACH CITY'S AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS HEADQUARTERS ARE BLOTTED OUT BY THE COLORED FLAGS AND PINS.

DISCUSSING THE EFFECTS OF THE BOMBINGS ON GERMAN MORALE, THE PAPER CLAIMED THAT MANY GERMANS WHO PREVIOUSLY WERE FAVORABLY DISPOSED TOWARD THE BRITISH WERE BEING DRIVEN INTO THE ARMS OF THE NAZIS. THESE PERSONS, IT SAID, WERE TO BE FOUND ESPECIALLY IN GERMAN SHIPPING CIRCLES.

A COMPILATION SHOWED THAT THE BRITISH HAD POURED MORE THAN 15,000 TONS OF BOMBS UPON THE REICH IN THE LAST MONTH.

TWO-THIRDS OR 10,000 TONS OF THESE EXPLOSIVES WERE HURLED DOWN UPON SEVEN MUNITIONS CENTERS IN THE RUHR BETWEEN MAY 22 AND JUNE 22--DORTMUND, ESSEN, WUPPERTAL, BOCHUM, OBERHAUSEN, KREFELD AND MUELHEIM.

THE BRITISH ESTIMATE THAT THE RUHR'S INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT HAS

JUN 25 1943

DECLINED 35 PER CENT UNDER LAST YEAR, AND THAT A MILLION HOMES IN THAT AREA HAVE BEEN DESTROYED. THE GERMANS OPENLY REFER TO THE RUHR AS A "FRONT" AREA.

A219 LONDON, June 24 (AP) Aerial

JUN 25 1943

THE LANCASTERS' RETURN THRUST UPON LA SPEZIA WAS ONLY ONE OF FOUR NEW RAIDS SPREADING FIRE AND DEATH OVER ITALY'S INVASION-FEARFUL MAINLAND AND OUTPOST ISLANDS.

STRIKING OUT AGAIN FROM NORTH AFRICAN BASES TUESDAY NIGHT, RAF WELLINGTON BOMBERS SPREAD CONFLAGRATIONS IN THE SEAPLANE BASE AND PORT OF OLBIA ON NORTHEAST SARDINIA. TWO MAMMOTH EXPLOSIONS AND FIRES WERE CAUSED BY HEAVY BOMBERS OF THE MIDDLE EAST COMMAND IN AN ATTACK ON THE AIRDROME AT COMISO, SICILY.

IN A THIRD RAID, FIGHTER-BOMBERS RACING OUT FROM MALTA SHOP UP RAILWAY SIDINGS AT POZZALLO, SICILY, WEDNESDAY. THE ITALIANS SAID THAT THE SICILIAN TOWNS OF PORTO EMPEDOCLE AND CATANIA ALSO HAD BEEN HIT AGAIN, WITH 19 PERSONS KILLED AND 100 INJURED IN CATANIA.

FOR THEIR PART, THE ITALIANS REPORTED COUNTER-BLOWS UPON ALLIED SHIPPING, AND DECLARED THEIR PLANES HAD RAIDED THE BRITISH AIRDROME IN LATAKIA IN THE LEVANT TUESDAY NIGHT AND HIT COMMUNICATION LINES IN FUKA, EGYPT.

RUHR BOMBING

BY JAMES F. KING

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)-A DEADLY CARGO OF MORE THAN 15,000 TONS OF BOMBS HAS BEEN UNLOADED ON GERMANY IN THE PAST MONTH BY GIANT BRITISH BOMBERS, TWO THIRDS OF WHICH HAVE FALLEN ON INDUSTRIAL CENTERS IN THE RUHR VALLEY WHERE THE NAZIS THEMSELVES ADMIT "INCREDIBLE" DEVASTATION.

ACCORDING TO BRITISH FIGURES, 10,000 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES RAINED RUIN IN THE PERIOD FROM MAY 22 TO JUNE 22 ON SEVEN ARMS CENTERS IN THAT AREA--DORTMUND, ESSEN, WUPPERTAL, BOCHUM, OBERHAUSEN, KREFELD AND MULHEIM.

JUN 25 1943

JOINING THE RAF IN THIS GERMAN-DESCRIBED "BATTLE OF THE RUHR," AMERICAN FOUR-ENGINED BOMBERS STRUCK THE SYNTHETIC RUBBER PLANT AT HULS JUNE 22 IN THEIR FIRST VENTURE INTO THE HIGHLY INDUSTRIALIZED VALLEY, OF WHICH PROPAGANDA MINISTER PAUL JOSEPH GOEBBELS ONCE SAID: "THE DESTINY OF THE RUHR IS THE DESTINY OF GERMANY ITSELF."

THE VALLEY ALREADY HAS BECOME THE MOST BOMB-BATTERED AREA IN THE WORLD AND THE BRITISH SAY THERE IS MORE STILL TO COME IN THE STEADILY MOUNTING ALLIED AIR OFFENSIVE AGAINST ALL AXIS-DOMINATED EUROPE.

THE RUHR, WHICH HAS 54 PER CENT OF THE HARD COAL OF AXIS EUROPE, 37 PER CENT OF THE PIG IRON, 34 PER CENT OF STEEL INGOTS AND CASTINGS, STILL REMAINS, IN THE WORDS OF ONE HIGH BRITISH OFFICIAL, "THE WORLD'S BEST TARGET."

"YOU CAN'T PICK UP A COAL MINE AND CARRY IT AWAY," HE DECLARED. "AND GERMANY'S TRANSPORTATION IS STRAINED ALREADY TO SUCH AN EXTENT THAT MOVING PLANTS WOULD SERIOUSLY IMPEDE PRODUCTION."

ONLY THREE RUHR TOWNS OF ANY CONSEQUENCE--GELSENKIRCHEN, HAMBORN AND HERNE--HAVE NOT FELT A BLOW BY A MAJOR RAF FORCE, ONE BIG ENOUGH IN THE AIR MINISTRY'S OWN WORDS TO WIPE OUT A CITY OF 200,000 POPULATION IN ONE NIGHT.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION IN THE RUHR WAS SAID ON JUNE 9 TO HAVE FALLEN ABOUT 35 PER CENT UNDER 1942.

JUN 25 1943

30.24 - 5353

THE NAZIS ARE MAKING NO ATTEMPT TO CONCEAL THE DEVASTATION. IN APPEALING TO OTHER PARTS OF THE REICH TO PITCH IN AND AID THE REFUGEES, THE BERLIN RADIO ADMITTED THE DESTRUCTION WAS "INCREDIBLE."

LORD SELBORNE, MINISTER OF ECONOMIC WARFARE, ESTIMATED ON JUNE 10 THAT A MILLION HOMES IN THE RUHR HAD BEEN DESTROYED, LEAVING UP TO 5,000,000 PERSONS HOMELESS.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THIS IN ITS EFFECT ON THE RUHR WAS SEEN IN THE CRY OF THE FRANKFURTER ZEITUNG, QUOTED BY THE LONDON EXPRESS, THAT "THE HOUSING OF HOMELESS CANNOT BE CONSIDERED THE TASK OF THE GOVERNMENT ONLY, BUT OF EVERYBODY."

JUN 25 1943

THE EFFECT OF THE 10,000 TONS OF DESTRUCTION HEAPED UPON THE SEVEN CITIES OF DORTMUND, ESSEN, WUPPERTAL, BOCHUM, OBERHAUSEN, KREFELD, AND MULHEIM--WITH AN AGGREGATE POPULATION OF UNDER 2,000,000--CAN BE GAUGED WHEN IT IS RECALLED THAT THE HEAVIEST WEIGHT OF BOMBS DROPPED ON LONDON IN ONE RAID WAS LESS THAN 500 TONS AND THE TOTAL FOR 90 NIGHTS WAS ONLY 7,500 TONS.

(AS A RESULT OF THE DESTRUCTIVE RAIDS, THE GERMANS HAVE MADE THE RUHR VIRTUALLY A MILITARY ZONE, SWISS NEWSPAPER REPORTS INDICATED LAST NIGHT. IN BERN, MANY OBSERVERS EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THAT THE ALLIED AIR OFFENSIVE MAY BE THE "SECOND FRONT" FOR A CONSIDERABLE TIME.

(AT THE SAME TIME, DISPATCHES TO STOCKHOLM SAID THE DEUTSCHE ALLGEMEINE ZEITUNG HAD DECLARED: "THIS PART OF THE REICH (WESTERN GERMANY) HAS BEEN TRANSFORMED INTO A FRONT IN A DEGREE SUCH AS NOT EVEN THE KEENEST FORESIGHT COLD HAVE EXPECTED AT THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR.")

WHILE THE REICH, REELING UNDER THE PUNISHING BLOWS, WAS ATTEMPTING TO QUIET UNREST AT HOME BY THREATS OF RETALIATION, MAJ.GEN.IRA C.

30.24 - 5353

EAKER, COMMANDER OF THE EIGHTH U.S.AIR FORCE, ASSERTED FLATLY THAT THE GERMAN AIR FORCE COULD NOT STOP THE MASS ATTACKS, STILL INCREASING IN FURY AND WITH THE PEAK STILL SOME TIME AWAY.

"THE GERMAN FIGHTER STRENGTH IS THE STOUTEST SHIELD THEY HAVE AGAINST OUR OFFENSIVE," GEN.EAKER DECLARED. "NOW THAT IT IS PROVED INADEQUATE THEY HAVE LOST THEIR AIR BATTLE."

JUN 25 1943

THE AMERICAN PRECISION ATTACKS IN THE PAST MONTH HAVE BEEN CONCENTRATED CHIEFLY ON U-BOAT BASES AND ON SPECIFIC FACTORIES IN DAYLIGHT.

CONCERNING THE FIRST AMERICAN SALLY INTO THE RUHR AT HULLS, THE MINISTRY OF ECONOMIC WARFARE DECLARED THAT IF THE RAID INTERFERRED WITH PRODUCTION EVEN FOR A WEEK IT WOULD BE "A SERIOUS THING," SINCE "GERMANY'S SYNTHETIC PRODUCTION IS NOT ENOUGH FOR MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS OF HER ARMED FORCES ALONE."

THE EXPANDING AMERICAN AIR FORCE, WHICH IS EXPECTED SOON TO JOIN THE RAF IN NIGHT RAIDS, TOO, IS GIVEN MUCH CREDIT FOR THE ALLIES' SUCCESSFUL WAR AGAINST THE U-BOATS. IN NINE RAIDS IN MAY, SEVEN WERE CONCENTRATED AGAINST THESE BASES. THIS IS BEING KEPT UP THIS MONTH, WITH TWO OF THREE MAJOR FORAYS--WILHELMSHAVEN AND CUXHAVEN ON JUNE 11 AND KIEL AND BREMEN JUNE 13--BEING DIRECTED AT GERMAN SUBMARINE WORKS.

FOR THE DAMAGE WROUGHT TO THE NAZI WAR PLANTS IN THE MASS RAIDS, BOTH THE RAF, WHICH LOST 44 BOMBERS OVER KREFELD ON JUNE 22, AND THE AMERICANS, WHO LOST 24 IN THE KIEL-BREMEN ATTACK, ARE SATISFIED THEY ARE NOT PAYING TOO HIGH A PRICE.

BRITISH LOSSES IN PLANES AND CREWS PER TON OF BOMBS DROPPED IN MAY ARE MORE THAN A THIRD LESS THAN IN MAY 1942.

AN RAF COMMENTATOR, REPLYING TO A SUGGESTION THAT THE PRICE OF THE

JUN 25 1943

1943

BOMBINGS WAS TOO HIGH, DECLARED:

"THE LOSSES INCURRED ARE NOT A LIMITING FACTOR IN OUR AIR EFFORT. THE SOLE CAUSE OF THE LULL IN EARLY JUNE WAS THE CONTINENTAL WEATHER."

COMPARED TO THE ALLIED AIR LOSSES, GERMANY'S LOSSES HAVE BEEN TREMENDOUS WITH LITTLE TO SHOW FOR THEM.

FROM JANUARY 1 TO JUNE 19, AUTHORITATIVE BRITISH SOURCES SAY, THE GERMAN AIR FORCE, AT A COST OF 211 PLANES, DROPPED ABOUT 1,000 TONS OF BOMBS ON ENGLAND--LITTLE MORE THAN HALF WHAT THE RAF SPREAD ON DORTMUND IN AN HOUR IN MAY WITH A LOSS OF 38 PLANES. JUN 25 1943

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)-PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL DECLINED TODAY TO MAKE ANY STATEMENT IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS ON A NEW BRITISH COMMAND IN THE FAR EAST BUT SAID HE HOPED "TO BE IN A POSITION TO MAKE AN ANNOUNCEMENT IN THE NEAR FUTURE."

(IN ANNOUNCING THE APPOINTMENT OF FIELD MARSHAL SIR ARCHIBALD P. WAVELL TO THE VICEROY'S POST IN INDIA LAST WEEK, A STATEMENT FROM NO.10 DOWNING STREET SAID A NEW EAST ASIA COMMAND TO WAGE WAR AGAINST JAPAN WOULD BE FORMED. THE ANNOUNCEMENT DID NOT SAY THAT IT WOULD BE A BRITISH COMMAND, HOWEVER, BUT PROMISED "A FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENT ON THIS SUBJECT WILL BE MADE SOON.")

L.C.S.AMERY SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA AND BURMA, ASSURED COMMONS THAT WAVELL'S APPOINTMENT AS THE INDIAN VICEROY "DOES NOT IMPLY ANY CHANGE IN SETTLED POLICY TO WHICH HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT ARE PLEDGED IN REGARD TO DEVELOPMENT OF INDIAN SELF-GOVERNMENT."

HE DECLINED TO ANSWER A QUESTION AS TO WHETHER AN INDIAN HAD BEEN CONSIDERED AS SUCCESSOR TO LORD LINLITHGOW.

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)-INDICATING THAT THE RAF'S ATTENTION WAS NOT CONCENTRATED EXCLUSIVELY ON ITALY LAST NIGHT, THE BERLIN RADIO REPORTED TODAY THAT "A FEW ENEMY PLANES MADE NUISANCE RAIDS OVER GERMANY."

"BOMBS FELL IN OPEN FIELDS NEAR WESTERN GERMAN TOWNS BUT NO DAMAGE WAS CAUSED," SAID THE BROADCAST. JUN 25 1943

LONDON, JUNE 25-(AP)-APPROVAL OF THE ALLIED STRATEGY OF BOMBING GERMANY'S INDUSTRIAL CITIES WAS VOICED BY THE ARCHBISHOP OF YORK TODAY IN A DIOCESAN LEAFLET IN WHICH HE REPLIED TO HIS COUNTRYMEN WHO HAVE PROTESTED AGAINST THE DEVASTATING ATTACKS.

"HOWEVER MUCH WE DEPLORE THE SUFFERINGS OF THE CIVILIAN POPULATION AND THE DESTRUCTION OF THEIR HOMES, WE MUST CONTINUE TO USE OUR SUPERIORITY IN THE AIR AS A MEANS OF ENDING THE WAR AS SPEEDILY AS POSSIBLE," THE ARCHBISHOP DECLARED.

"IT IS A LESSER EVIL TO BOMB WAR-LOVING GERMANY THAN TO SACRIFICE THE LIVES OF THOUSANDS OF OUR OWN FELLOW COUNTRYMEN WHO LONG FOR PEACE AND TO DELAY THE HOUR OF LIBERATION FOR MILLIONS NOW HELD IN SLAVERY."

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)-ITALIAN PLANES YESTERDAY RAIDED A BRITISH AIRDROME IN LATAKIA, ONE OF THE AREAS OF SYRIA WHERE THE BRITISH HAVE BEEN REPORTED MASSING TROOPS, THE ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE DECLARED TODAY.

IT ALSO ASSERTED AXIS TORPEDO PLANES SANK A 15,000-TON ALLIED STEAMER OFF THE ALGERIAN COAST, AND DAMAGED A 7,000-TON TANKER.

THE WAR BULLETIN, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS FROM A ROME BROADCAST, ACKNOWLEDGED ALLIED AIR RAIDS YESTERDAY ON LA SPEZIA, AND PORTO EMPEDOCLE AND CATANIA, IN SICILY.

CATANIA SUFFERED GREAT DAMAGE, IT WAS ADMITTED.

30.24 — 5355

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)-VENTURA, BOSTON AND TYPHOON BOMBERS OF THE RAF STRUCK FRANCE AND BELGIUM THIS AFTERNOON, ATTACKING AIRFIELDS AND INDUSTRIAL TARGETS, IT WAS LEARNED TONIGHT.

TEN ENEMY FIGHTERS WERE DESTROYED BY ESCORTING SPITFIRES. ONE BRITISH BOMBER AND FOUR FIGHTERS ARE MISSING. JUN 25 1943

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)-THE FLYING FORTRESS "OLD IRONSIDES", RIDDLED FROM NOSE TO TAIL WITH BULLETS AFTER 150 FIGHTS WITH FOCKE-WULFS AND MESSERSCHMITTS LASTING 105 MINUTES, CRASHED INTO THE NORTH SEA OFF THE BELGIAN COAST WHILE RETURNING FROM TUESDAY'S ATTACK ON HULS, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY, BUT THE CREW WAS RESCUED WITHIN 30 MINUTES.

THE MEN WERE PICKED UP FROM DINGHIES BY AN RAF HIGH SPEED RESCUE LAUNCH WHILE TWO SPITFIRES CIRCLED OVERHEAD. FOUR OF THE CREW HAD BEEN IN ONE DINGHY FOR 15 MINUTES AND THE OTHERS HAD ONLY JUST CLAMBERED INTO THEIRS WHICH THEY HAD INFLATED WITH DIFFICULTY.

"OLD IRONSIDES" WAS ON ITS FIRST MISSION. THE CREW INCLUDED FIRST LIEUTENANT BUSTER PEEK OF PAINT ROCK, TEXAS, PILOT; FIRST LIEUTENANT FRANCISA PORADA OF CHICAGO, CO-PILOT; SECOND LIEUTENANT CHAUNCEY HICKS OF HUNTINGTON, W.VA., BOMBARDIER; TECHNICAL SERGEANT RAYMOND R.THOMPSON, ANDERSON, IND., ENGINEER; TECHNICAL SERGEANT JAMES F. OSBORNE, HUNTINGTON, W.VA., RADIO OPERATOR; STAFF SERGEANT WILLIAM G.ZIEGLER, ERIE,PA., TAIL GUNNER; STAFF SERGEANT RUSSELL D.HATTON, BALTIMORE, MD., BALL TURRET GUNNER, AND SECOND LIEUTENANT GERARD B. WILLIAMS OF COLUMBUS, OHIO, NAVIGATOR.

PEEK WAS ON HIS FIRST MISSION AND WAS TAKING A FRESH CREW OVER.

WHEN "OLD IRONSIDES" WAS FINALLY DITCHED THREE ENGINES WERE OUT OF COMMISSION, THE TAIL WHEEL WAS BLOWN OFF, THE LANDING GEAR

30.24—5355

DRAGGING, THE HYDRAULIC SYSTEM OUT OF ORDER, THE RADIO TRANSMITTER HIT, THE TOP OF THE VERTICAL TAIL SHOT OFF, THE PILOT CONTROLS USELESS AND ALL THE WINDOWS IN THE COCKPIT AND NOSE WERE BLASTED OUT.

AFTER MANY ATTACKS ON THE WAY TO AND FROM THE TARGET "OLD IRONSIDES" WAS LOSING HEIGHT AT THE RATE OF 100 FEET A SECOND OVER HOLLAND AND WAS DOWN TO 5,000 FEET WHEN PEEK ORDERED THE MEN TO THROW OUT THE GUNS AND AMMUNITION.

AFTER THE GUNS WERE GONE TWO FOCKE-WULFS CONTINUED THE ATTACK ON THE HELPLESS PLANE.

WHEN THE FORTRESS HIT THE WATER IT BROKE IN TWO.

HICKS TOLD OF ONE 20MM SHELL WHICH HIT THE NOSE GUN HE WAS FIRING. "IT KNOCKED ME CLEAR BACK AGAINST THE NAVIGATOR, TORE OFF MY OXYGEN MASK AND INFLATED MY LIFE VEST," HE SAID.

"FRAGMENTS HIT THE SIDE OF MY FACE AND BURST MY EARDRUM. I WAS LYING ON THE FLOOR SHAKING LIKE A LEAF BUT WHEN I LOOKE OUT I SAW MORE FOCKE-WULFS COMING IN. I GOT BACK TO MY GUN AND STARTED SHOOTING BETTER THAN EVER BECAUSE I KNEW THEY WERE OUT TO GET ME. THAT'S WHEN I NAILED MY SECOND F-W."

THE CREW REPORTED DESTROYING FIVE GERMAN PLANES DURING THE RUNNING BATTLE.

JUN 25 1943

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)-ROY W.HOWARD, PRESIDENT AND EDITOR OF THE NEW YORK WORLD-TELEGRAM, HAS REACHED LONDON FOR A BRIEF VISIT, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY. THE PUBLISHER MADE THE TRIP ON THE SAME PLANE AS LORD BEAVERBROOK AND W.AVERELL HARRIMAN, AMERICAN LEND-LEASE EXPEDITER IN ENGLAND, WHOSE ARRIVAL WAS ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY.

JUN 25 1943

(ADD TR (ADD AIR TRANSPORT)

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 25-(AP)-~~AN IMMEDIATE START ON LARGE~~

OF BRITISH AIRCRAFT CONSTRUCTORS
THE SOCIETY CONDEMNED THE MONOPOLY SYSTEM GOVERNING BRITISH
1
COMMERCIAL AIRLINE OPERATIONS, DECLARING THAT THE POST-WAR AIR BUSINESS WILL BE SO GREAT THAT "THERE MAY WELL BE SCOPE FOR THE OPERATION OF AT LEAST EIGHT OR TEN MAIN BRITISH COMPANIES." THE SOCIETY ADDED THAT ANY STATE AID TO SUCH COMPANIES SHOULD BE IN PAYMENT FOR THE CARRIAGE OF MAIL OR SIMILAR SERVICES, AND NOT IN SUBDISIES OR MONOPOLY RIGHTS.

THE STATEMENT HAS BEEN SUBMITTED TO PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL AND THE MINISTRIES OF AIR, AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION AND WAR TRANSPORT.

JJ1114PEW

ALLIES TO TAKE SICILY, STRIKE
CONTINENT LATER
---
BOMBING PICTURE THROWS LIGHT
ON PLANS (450)
---
BY JAMES M.LONG

JUN 25 1943

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)-THE PATTERN OF THE ALLIED AIR ATTACK--ONE OF THE SUREST SIGNPOSTS OF THE FUTURE COURSE OF THE WAR--HAS SUGGESTED STRONGLY THAT SICILY MAY SOON BECOME THE NEXT OBJECTIVE OF THE 1943 ALLIED LAND FORCES AND THAT FULL-SCALE INVASION FROM THE WEST ALONG THE ROAD TO BERLIN IS NOT LIKELY UNTIL LATER.

THIS IS UNOFFICIAL SPECULATION, BASED ON A STUDY OF THE TARGETS OF THE AERIAL ONSLAUGHT AND THE REACTION ALONG THE STILL-STABILIZED EASTERN FRONT IN RUSSIA.

BY A CAREFULLY STUDIED PLAN THE MIGHTY WINGED PARTNERSHIP OF THE RAF AND THE UNITED STATES EIGHTH AIR FORCE IS CONCENTRATING UPON THE FACTORY-BY-FACTORY RUIN OF THE REICH'S RUHR WAR PLANTS.

OBVIOUSLY THE CRIPPLING TOLL OF THIS SYSTEMATIC ASSAULT IS NOT SAPPING THE AXIS FIELD FORCE PRESENTLY MASSED AWAITING INVASION, BUT IS INTENDED TO WHITTLE DOWN AND PREVENT THE REPLACEMENT OF THE WEHRMACHT'S POWER IN THE MONTHS TO COME.

JUN 25 1943

WHEN ACTUAL PRE-INVASION BOMBING COMES IT WILL PROBABLY FIND TERRIFI ALLIED STRIKING POWER CENTERED ON DESTRUCTION OF AIRFIELDS ON THE FRENCH FRONT AND ON ROAD AND RAIL SUPPLY LINES TO THE INVASION COAST.

THIS CLEARLY IS DEVELOPING IN SICILY.

THERE IS EVERY INDICATION IN THESMASSING OF ALLIED ARMIES IN NORTH AFRICA AND THE MIDDLE EAST THAT A MOP-UP OF SARDINIA, CRETE AND THE DODECANESE ISLANDS MIGHT BE UNDERTAKEN AT VIRTUALLY THE SAME TIME, IN ORDER TO DEPLOY THE AXIS' DEFENSE STRENGTH AND WIN FULL AND FINAL CONTROL OF THE ENTIRE MEDITERRANEAN.

MEANWHILE SOVIET PREMIER JOSEF STALIN, ALTHOUGH MORE OPTIMISTIC IN HIS RECENT UTTERANCES, IS STILL CALLING IMPERATIVELY FOR A FRONT ON THE CONTINENT THIS YEAR.

IT IS POSSIBLE, OF COURSE, THAT STALIN WOULD REGARD AN INVASION OF SICILY AND A GENERAL ENGAGEMENT OF THE AXIS FORCES ALONG THE WHOLE LENGTH OF THE MEDITERRANEAN--PLUS THE THREAT OF AN ALLIED KNOCKOUT PUNCH ELSEWHERE--AS CREATING THAT FRONT. THE TEST WOULD BE

JUN 25 1943

WHETHER IT SUCCEEDED IN KEEPING HITLER'S HIGH COMMAND FROM DARING ANOTHER ALL-OUT DRIVE TO THE EAST, AND THERE ARE MANY INDICATIONS THAT ALREADY THIS MAY BE THE CASE.

BY THE END OF SUMMER, EVEN THE GERMANS KNOW NOW, A RESURGENT RED ARMY CAN BE COUNTED UPON TO GIVE THE NAZI INVADERS ANOTHER BLOOD-LETTING SPELL OF DEFEAT AND WITHDRAWAL. THEY KNOW, TOO, THAT A HEAVY ENGAGEMENT OF THE GERMANS IN THE EAST WOULD STRIKE A SUITABLE HOUR FOR CLOSING THE ALLIED VICE ON THE WEHRMACHT.

THEN, WITH THE REICH'S ARMAMENT OUTPUT BADLY BOMBED AND CURTAILED, THE ERSTWHILE MASTERS OF THE BLITZKRIEG WOULD BE CAUGHT WITH THEIR TIRING ARMIES HARD-PRESSED IN THE EAST, WITH BADLY NEEDED RESERVES FORCED TO GUARD THE SOUTH, WHILE THE FULL FURY OF THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN ASSAULT FORCE OF FRESH MILLIONS WOULD BE SMACKED AGAINST THE NAZIS' VAUNTED ATLANTIC WALL.

JUN 25 1943

LONDON, JUNE 24(AP)-IN LINE WITH RECENT ADVICES THAT EUROPE'S QUERED PEOPLES WOULD BE TOLD HOW THEY MIGHT AID IN THE ALLIED ASION, FRENCH RAILMEN WERE TOLD BY THE BBC TODAY THAT WHEN IT CON BEGINS THEY MUST DESTROY THEIR LOCOMOTIVES AND DISORGANIZE THE WHOLE FRENCH RAILWAY SYSTEM.

THE MESSAGE, BROADCAST IN ALL THE EUROPEAN LANGUAGES, WAS FROM "THE ORGANIZATION OF FRENCH RESISTANCE IN FRANCE," AND WAS PREFACED BY A WARNING THAT THE ACTION SHOULD BE PUT INTO EFFECT ONLY ON THE APPOINTED DAY -- AT THE ZERO HOUR.

SECOND NIGHT LEAD ELECTION

DUBLIN, FRIDAY, JUNE 25-(AP)-PRIME MINISTER EAMON DE VALERA'S ANNA FAIL PARTY LOST ITS MAJORITY IN THE DAIL (PARLIAMENT) IN

30.24 — 5357

30.24 — 5357

UESDAY'S GENERAL ELECTION, VIRTUALLY COMPLETE RETURNS DISCLOSED TODAY, INNING ONLY 67 SEATS TO 71 FOR THE COMBINED OPPOSITION.

DUBLIN-FIRST ADD SECOND NIGHT LEAD ELECTION XXX C[illegible] OPPOSITIO

THE OUTCOME TERMINATED THE AMERICAN-BORN PRIME MINISTER'S 11-YEA HOLD ON THE HELM OF THE GOVERNMENT, BUT THE TURN-OVER WAS NOT EX-PECTED TO RESULT IN ANY RADICAL CHANGE IN EIRE'S FOREIGN POLICY, INASMUCH AS THE QUESTION OF CONTINUED NEUTRALITY WAS NOT AN ISSUE IN THE CAMPAIGN.

JUN 25 1943

DE VALERA HIMSELF RETAINED HIS SEAT IN THE DAIL, BUT HE HAD SAID THAT IF HIS PARTY WERE DEFEATED HE WOULD TAKE NO PART IN THE FORMATION OF A COALITION GOVERNMENT ADVOCATED BY WILLIAM COSGRAVE, LEADER OF THE FINE GAEL, OR UNITED IRELAND PARTY.

TABULATION OF THE ELECTION RETURNS WERE COMPLETE TODAY EXCEPT OR ONE DISTRICT.

THE RESULT THERE, HOWEVER, RESTS BETWEEN CANDIDATES OF THE INE GAEL, FARMERS' AND LABOR PARTIES, THE LAST OF THE GOVERNMENT'S ANDIDATES HAVING BEEN ELIMINATED.

THE FIANNA FAIL SUFFERED A NET LOSS OF 10 SEATS IN THE DAIL.

DUBLIN--~~FIRST~~ ADD NIGHT LEAD ELECTION X X X 1938 BALLOTING.

EVEN BEFORE THE FINAL RESULT COULD BE KNOWN, POLITICAL OBSERVERS WERE SPECULATING WHETHER DE VALERA, WHO WILL STILL CONTROL THE LARGEST PARTY IN THE DAIL, WOULD ASK THE PRESIDENT TO APPROVE ANOTHER ELECT-ION.

SOME ARGUED THAT A SUFFICIENT NUMBER OF SMALLER PARTY MEN MIGHT ADHERE TO DE VALERA'S GROUP TO AVOID HAVING THE COUNTRY GO TO THE POLLS AGAIN, BUT DE VALERA DECLARED BEFORE THE ELECTION THAT HE WOULD

JUN 25 1943

HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH A COALITION.

DE VALERA'S FIANNA FAIL LEADERS ALREADY WERE ATTEMPTING TO ESTABLISH THE REASONS FOR THEIR SETBACK, AND THE GAINING STRENGTH OF THE LABOR AND FARMER GROUPS. THEY WONDERED WHETHER IT MIGHT BE DUE TO THE PEGGING OF FARM PRODUCE PRICES AND WAGES GENERALLY, OR POSSIBLY BECAUSE ELECTORS WERE DISGRUNTLED AT THE EXEMPTION OF PARLIAMENTARY ALLOWANCES FROM INCOME TAX AND LEGISLATION PROVIDING PENSIONS FOR FORMER MINISTERS.

JUN 25 1943

BY GLADWIN HILL

AT A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 24-(AP)-FLYING FORTRESSES FREQUENTLY LIMP HOME FROM RAIDS ON THREE ENGINES BUT LIEUT. LYSTER BRUMLEY OF GEORGETOWN, TEX., HAD THE DISTINCTION OF SWEATING OUT THE MAJOR PART OF TUESDAY'S RAID ON HULS ON THREE ENGINES [redacted].

IN ADDITION, HE NARROWLY ESCAPED BEING "SHOT UP" BY PARTS OF ONE OF THE AIRPLANE'S ENGINES WHIZZING THROUGH THE AIR LIKE BULLETS.

BRUMLEY, AT 24 AN UNDERTAKER OF 11 (CORRECT) YEARS' EXPERIENCE, SIMPLY SUMMARIZED THE EXPERIENCE TODAY BY SAYING:

"I DIDN'T LIVE BUT A HUNDRED LIVES."

THE SUPERCHARGER OF ONE ENGINE BROKE AS THE AIRPLANE, NAMED EL DIABLO (THE DEVIL), CROSSED THE GERMAN COAST SO FAR TOWARD THE TARGET THAT THERE WAS NO THOUGHT OF TURNING BACK.

THE SUPERCHARGER IN THE THIN ATMOSPHERE AT THE ALTITUDES AT WHICH THE BOMBERS OPERATE FEEDS THE CYLINDERS WITH AIR AT GROUND PRESSURE. IT IS AN EXTREMELY DELICATELY BALANCED MINIATURE MILLWHEEL EDGED BY TINY, PRECISELY FASHIONED METAL AIRSCOOP BUCKETS.

THERE ARE HUNDREDS OF THEM, AS BRUMLEY WAS REMINDED TO HIS DISMAY WHEN THE SUPERCHARGER CASING BROKE AND THEY STARTED FLYING OFF.

"THEY GO AROUND AT AS HIGH AS 27,000 REVOLUTIONS A MINUTE--NOT 27 HUNDRED BUT 27 THOUSAND--SO THEY ARE GOING FASTER THAN A LOT OF BULLETS," BRUMLEY SAID.

"LOSING AN ENGINE IS BAD ENOUGH BUT WHEN I HEARD THOSE BUCKETS BUSTING OFF I HELD MY BREATH AND STARTED PRAYING THAT NONE OF 'EM WOULD WHIP THROUGH THE NOSE."

JUN 25 1943

IN THE NOSE NAVIGATOR LIEUT. JOE BURKOWSKI OF NAUGATUCK, CONN., A BROTHER OF BILLY BURKE, THE GOLFER, AND BOMBARDIER LIEUT. JOHN BEILSTEIN OF DAVENPORT, IA., WERE MAKING FINAL CAUCULATIONS FOR THE RUN ON THE TARGET TO DROP THEIR BOMBS.

"IT WOULD HAVE BEEN WORSE FOR THEM THAN FLAK OR A FIGHTER ATTACK," BRUMLEY WENT ON. "LUCKILY AFTER THE FIRST BARRAGE OF THE LITTLE BUCKETS--WHEN WE GOT HOME WE FOUND WE'D ONLY LOST 11--THEY STOPPED COMING.

"THEN WE STARTED SWEATING OUT THE TARGET AND GETTING HOME. WE WERE THE LEAD PLANE IN THE SQUADRON AND THE WHOLE OUTFIT GOT ABOUT A MILE BEHIND THE REST OF THE FORMATION--BUT WHEN THEY BANKED AROUND TOWARD HOME I MANAGED TO SHORTCUT ACROSS, CAUGHT UP WITH THEM AND HELD ON ALL THE WAY HOME.

"A FUNNY THING--ALL OF THE PLANES OF OUR SQUADRON GOT HOME WITHOUT A SCRATCH.

BRUMLEY GRADUATED FROM SOUTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY, GEORGETOWN, TEX., IN 1941.

HE SAID HE HAD PUT ASIDE ALL THOUGHTS OF HIS UNDERTAKING WORK FOR THE DURATION "EXCEPT FOR ONE GUY OVER THERE IN GERMANY I'D LIKE THE PRIVILEGE OF BURYING--WE'LL GET HIM YET."

JUN 25 1943

JUN 25 1943

A51

MADRID, JUNE 23-(DELAYED)-(AP)-DISPATCHES FROM LA LINEA TODAY REPORTED THE NEW BRITISH BATTLESHIP HOWARD AND FOUR DESTROYERS HAD LEFT GIBRALTAR FOR THE MEDITERRANEAN.

(THE DISPATCHES USED THE NAME OF HOWARD BUT IT IS POSSIBLE THE NAME WAS MEANT. THERE BEING NO BRITISH BATTLESHIP HOWARD.)

SOME 70 MERCHANTMEN NOW ARE IN GIBRALTAR, ALONG WITH A NUMBER OF WARSHIPS INCLUDING THE BATTLESHIP GEORGE V, THE DISPATCH SAID.

SPANISH

JUN 25 1943

BY THOMAS F.HAWKINS

(and Spanish Monarchy)

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 24-(AP)-THE QUESTION OF RESTORING THE

D'ORLEANS, ONCE FORD FACTORY WORKER IN THE UNITED STATES AND LATER HEAD OF THE LONDON FORD FACTORY, FLED TO MARSEILLE WITH ALFONSO AFTER THE LATTER'S ABDICATION. AT THE OUTBREAK OF THE CIVIL WAR, HOWEVER, HE RETURNED TO SPAIN AS AN AVIATOR FOR FRANCO. HE HAS RESIDED THERE SVER SINCE AS BOTH A FRANCO SUPPOER AND A MONARCHIST.

NOW HE IS SAID TO BE TRYING TO IRON OUT ONE OF THE MOOT POINTS OF THE RESTORATION--THE FATE OF THE FALANGE PARTY AND WITH IT THE QUESTION OF WHERE FRANCO WOULD STAND IN A MONARCHY.

JUAN HAS BEEN REPRESENTED AS HAVING TOLD FRANCO HE COULD NOT PLEDGE HIMSELF TO ANY PARTY. HE WAS REPORTED TO HAVE TAKEN NO POSITION ON THE FATE OF FRANCO.

THE MONARCHISTS, MANY OF THEM WEALTHY SPANIARDS WHO WERE GIVEN THEIR CHANCE FOR CONCERTED ACTION WITH AT LEAST SEMI-OFFICIAL STATUS BY FRANCO'S RESTORATION OF THE CORTES, SAY THAT THE ALLIES NOW WOULD RECOGNIZE A MONARCHY AND THAT THE AXIS WOULD INTERPOSE NO

30.24-5359

30.24—5359

OBJECTION.

AFTER THE WAR, THEY CONTEND, BOTH SIDES WOULD BE OCCUPIED WITH THEIR OWN PROBLEMS AND SPAIN MIGHT BE LEFT TO DRIFT INTO CHAOS.

FRANCO CONSISTENTLY HAS DECLARED HIMSELF A MONARCHIST WITH JUAN AS THE FAVORED CANDIDATE FOR THE KING ROLE, BUT PRIVATELY, IT IS ASSERTED, HE HAS BEEN CRITICAL OF JUAN. THE MONARCHISTS ALSO SAY THAT FRANCO HAS DONE NOTHING CONCRETE SINCE THE CIVIL WAR TO FACILITATE THE RESTORATION AND EVEN HAS BANISHED AT LEAST FIVE OF JUAN'S LEADING SUPPORTERS.

JUN 25 1943

JUAN ANSWERED BIRTHDAY TELEGRAMS YESTERDAY AND THEN SLIPPED OFF TO PLAY A FINAL MATCH IN THE CITY GOLF CHAMPIONSHIPS.

INTERVIEWED AT THE GOLF COURSE HE SAID ONLY THAT HE REITERATED HIS PREVIOUS BELIEFS THE MONARCHY WOULD BE RESTORED AND THAT HE WAS READY TO RETURN WHENEVER A UNITED SPANISH PEOPLE WANTED HIM.

ALGIERS, JUNE 24-(AP)-AUTHORITATIVE QUARTERS CONFIRMED TODAY THAT GEN. HENRI GIRAUD HAD RELIEVED ADMIRAL MICHELIER OF HIS COMMAND OVER FRENCH NORTH AND WEST AFRICAN NAVAL FORCES. (A REUTERS DISPATCH YESTERDAY SAID MICHELIER WAS REPLACED BY VICE ADMIRAL COLLINET, COMMANDER AT DAKAR.)

BY RELMAN MORIN

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED AMERICAN PRESS

WITH THE KING'S PARTY IN NORTH AFRICA-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE KING OF ENGLAND HAS BEEN VIEWING THE RUINS OF THE VANISHED ITALIAN EMPIRE IN AND AROUND THE MEDITERRANEAN.

HE HAS EVEN VISITED MALTA, THE TINY BRITISH-HELD ISLAND WITHIN SIGHT OF ITALY ITSELF AND BARELY 15 MINUTES FROM THE NEAREST ENEMY AIR BASES. THE MEDITERRANEAN HAS BEEN SWEPT SO CLEAR OF AXIS SEA

JUN 25 1943

AND AIR POWER THAT THE KING'S PARTY WAS NEVER CHALLENGED ANYWHERE.

AT LUNCH ONE DAY THE KING DINED FROM CAPTURED ITALIAN DISHES, USED ITALIAN CUTLERY, SMOKED FANCY ITALIAN CIGARETTES, AND EVEN WASHED HIS HANDS IN A MOTORIZED BUNGALOW THAT FORMERLY CARRIED ONE OF MUSSOLINI'S GENERALS.

JUN 25 1943

HE WAS A GUEST OF THE FAMOUS BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY THAT DAY.

AFTER LUNCH HE CONFERRED THE ACCOLADE ON GEN.SIR.BERNARD L.MONTGOMERY, COMMANDER OF THE EIGHTH ARMY, AND GEN.SIR HENRY MAITLAND WILSON, COMMANDER IN CHIEF IN THE MIDDLE EAST, BOTH OF WHOM HAD BEEN KNIGHTED BY PROXY AND WITHOUT THE ANCIENT CEREMONY THAT COMPLETES IT. THE CEREMONY WAS PERFORMED BENEATH A TENT PAVILION IN THE DESERT OUTSIDE TRIPOLI. IT WAS SUPREMELY SIMPLE. FIRST WILSON AND THEN MONTGOMERY KNELT BEFORE THEIR SOVEREIGN. H HOLDING A SWORD BROUGHT FROM ENGLAND, THE KING TOUCHED THEM LIGHTLY ON THE LEFT SHOULDER, THEN THE RIGHT AND ADDRESSING THEM AS "SIR," COMMANDED THEM TO RISE.

IN THE DESERT OUTSIDE OF TRIPOLI SHORTLY AFTERWARD, THE KING PINNED THE VICTORIA CROSS, BRITAIN'S HIGHEST MILITARY AWARD, ON THE TUNIC OF A LITTLE GURKHA SERGEANT, WHO WAS THE FIRST INDIAN TO RECEIVE IT DURING THIS WAR.

ERRONEOUS
See note on 536

THE SERGEANT WAS SHORT AND PORTLY, WITH AN INNOCENT, CHILD-LIKE FACE.

HE DECAPITATED 57 GERMANS IN ONE NIGHT DURING THE FIGHTING AT MARETH, PERSONALLY CLEARING OUT A STRONGLY HELD POSITION. THE LITTLE FAT MAN WENT OUT ALONE ON RECONNAISSANCE, CARRYING HIS THIN CURVED KNIFE, AND REMOVED THE HEAD OF EVERYBODY HE MET. HE DIDN'T RETURN UNTIL HE RAN OUT OF GERMANS. THEN HE REPORTED THAT THE POSITION COULD BE TAKEN.

IT WAS.

THE KING SAID, "IT WAS AN UNBELIEVABLY BRAVE ACT."

THE SERGEANT, WHO WAS STANDING AS STRAIGHT AS HIS COMFORTABLE STOMACH WOULD PERMIT, DIDN'T UNDERSTAND THE KING'S WORDS. AN OFFICER TRANSLATED AND HE STARTED TO SMILE. THEN HIS FACE FROZE AGAIN, OBVIOUSLY BECAUSE HE COULDN'T HOLD HIS STOMACH IN AND SMILE AT THE SAME TIME.

JUN 25 1943

AFTER INSPECTING A SMALL PORTION OF THE EIGHTH ARMY, THE KING SAILED FOR MALTA, ARRIVING EARLY THE NEXT MORNING, WHERE FIELD MARSHAL LORD GORT, THE MILITARY GOVERNOR OF MALTA, MET HIM.

THROUGHOUT THE DAY THE KING TOURED THE ISLAND, LOOKING WITH HORRIFIED EYES AT THE BROKEN LITTLE TOWNS ON THE "MOST BOMBED SPOT ON EARTH."

BY COMPARISON WITH MALTA, EVEN LONDON LOOKS AS THOUGH IT HAD ENDURED NOTHING WORSE THAN A COUPLE OF SHOWERS OF BIRD SHOT.

THE ISLAND HAD TWO DISTINCT SUSTAINED AERIAL ONSLAUGHTS, NOT ONE. THEY HAVEN'T YET BEEN EQUALLED IN DURATION OR FURY. FOUR TIMES DAILY AND EVEN MORE OFTEN, GERMAN AND ITALIAN BOMBERS, UNOPPOSED, CAME FROM SICILY, 40 MILES AWAY, OVER A PERIOD OF MANY MONTHS. CUT OFF FROM ALL HELP, THE ISLAND'S FOOD RESERVES SEVERAL TIMES WERE WITHIN A FEW DAYS OF COMPLETE EXHAUSTION. THE WATER WAS MEASURED OUT IN CUPFULS AFTER THE MAIN RESERVOIR WAS HIT. THE AMMUNITION RAN SO LOW THAT EVEN THE ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNNERS WERE RATIONED DAILY.

MEANWHILE, MALTA'S STONE BUILDINGS WERE METHODICALLY BLOWN APART AND THE POPULATION LIVED IN PASSAGEWAYS CUT THROUGH THE LIVING ROCK. THE KING WALKED THROUGH THESE SHELTERS, LOOKING AT THE LIVING QUARTERS, HOSPITALS, STOREROOMS AND EVEN THE LITTLE CHAPELS DUG BENEATH THE GROUND.

JUN 25 1943

JUN 25 1943

30.24—5361

30.24—5361

STANDING AMID THE RUBBEL IN THE DOCK AREA WHERE THE DESTRUCTION WAS THE HEAVIEST, THE KING SPOKE WITH A SIMPLE PARISH PRIEST, EMMANUEL BRINCAT, WHO TOLD HIM: "WHATEVER WE HAVE ENDURED, OR MAY BE CALLED UPON TO ENDURE AGAIN, HAS BEEN COMPENSATED FOR BY YOUR MAJESTY'S VISIT."

JUN 25 1943

JUDGING FROM THE FRANTIC JOY OF THE PEOPLE, THE PRIEST'S STATEMENT WAS NO EXAGGERATION.

THEY CARPETED THE STREETS IN FRONT OF HIS CAR WITH FLOWERS AND FILLED THE AIR WITH A SHIMMERING RAIN OF CONFETTI, MEANWHILE CHEERING, CLAPPING AND EVEN WEEPING AS HE PASSED. THOSE WHO HAD NO BRITISH OR MALTESE FLAGS DRAPPED THE BALCONIES AND PORCHES OF THEIR HOMES WITH BRILLIANTLY COLORED RUGS, SHAWLS AND PORTIERES.

THE MALTESE PEOPLE ARE FIERCELY PROUD OF BEING RACIALLY DISTINCT FROM THE ITALIANS. THEY ARE PHOENICIAN IN ORIGIN AND PROFOUNDLY BRITISH IN SENTIMENT.

UPON HIS RETURN TO TRIPOLI THE KING BEGAN REVIEWING THE MAIN RTIONS OF THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY. THE TRIP TOOK HIM HUNDREDS OF LES INTO THE DESERT BENEATH BRASSY AFRICAN SKIES THAT HAD NOT EN AN ENGLISH KING IN WARTIME SINCE 1270, WHEN EDWARD I CAME WITH S ARMY OF CRUSADERS.

THE KING DROVE ALL DAY ALONG SANDY DESERT ROADS LINED ON BOTH DES WITH TROOPS--BRITISH, AFRICAN, AUSTRALIAN, FRENCH AND ONE SMALL TACHMENT OF AMERICANS.

TWO CRACK AMERICAN FIGHTER PILOTS, COL.EARL BATES OF WINNETKA, LL., AND MAJOR GLADE BILBY OF SKIDMORE,MO., WERE PRESENTED TO HIM.

AFTER A DAY THAT PUT LINES OF EXHAUSTION EVEN IN THE FACE OF GEN.MONTGOMERY, WHO PRIDES HIMSELF ON HIS PHYSICAL ENDURANCE, THE KING SLEPT IN A SMALL CAMOUFLAGED TENT WHICH WAS OCCUPIED UNTIL RECENTLY BY ITALIAN FIELD MARSHAL GIOVANNI MESSE, THE LAST AXIS COMMANDER IN TUNISIA.

THE TENT SEEMED TO SYMBOLIZE THE CHANGES THAT HAVE BEEN MADE IN NORTH AFRICA.

JUN 25 1943

NOTE: The India Service of British Information foned on June 25, that the Indian VC soldier mentioned in above despatch was NOT the first Indian soldier of the British Army to receive the Victoria Cross. They said he was the fifth - Two in Abyssinia, one in Burma, one British soldier in the Indian Army. They said the above soldier was Subadar Lal Bahadur Thapa, and that Subadar was his rank, a little above sergeant. LMG.

A52

ANKARA, TURKEY, JUNE 22-(DELAYED)-(AP)-FROM AN INFORMED BALKAN SOURCE TODAY CAME REPORTS THAT AXIS FORCES IN THE AEGEAN ISLES AND CRETE, GREECE, AND YUGOSLAVIA NOW NUMBER 75 DIVISIONS--37 ITALIAN DIVISIONS, 18 GERMAN AND 20 BULGARIAN.

THE SAME SOURCE ALSO SAID THAT GENERAL HANS SPIEDEL OF THE GERMAN ARMY HAS ARRIVED IN GREECE TO TAKE COMMAND OF THREE GERMAN DIVISIONS RECENTLY SENT FROM THE RUSSIAN FRONT TO SERVE AS REINFORCEMENTS AGAINST POSSIBLE ALLIED ATTACK.

BZ551AEW

JUN 25 1943

CHUNGKING, JUNE 24-(AP)-MORE THAN 1,000 JAPANESE TROOPS DROWNED JUNE 1 IN THE SINKING OF A LARGE ENEMY WARSHIP BY A CHINESE MINE IN THE YANGTZE RIVER NEAR TUNGLIU, ANHWEI PROVINCE, A CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY DISPATCH SAID TODAY.

CHUNGKING, JUNE 24-(AP)-CHINESE FORCES HAVE CONTINUED A MOPPING UP ACTION ALONG THE HUTU RIVER, ACROSS THE MIDDLE YANGTZE FROM SHASI, "WITH CONSIDERABLE SUCCESS," A HIGH COMMAND COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY. IT DID NOT GO INTO DETAIL.

FIGHTING WAS REPORTED STILL IN PROGRESS BETWEEN JAPANESE AND CHINESE FORCES NEAR SWATOW, KWANGTUNG PROVINCE PORT, WITH NO CHANGE IN THE STRATEGICAL SITUATION.

JUN 25 1943

A CENTRAL NEWS DISPATCH REPORTED THAT OUCHINKOW (LOTUS POND) NEAR THE YANGTZE 40 MILES SOUTH OF SHASI, HAD BEEN COMPLETELY ENCIRCLED AND ALL COMMUNICATIONS CONNECTING ITS JAPANESE GARRISON WITH THE OUTSIDE WORLD WERE CUT.

OUCHINKOW IS ONE OF THE TOWNS WHICH U.S. AAF SQUADRONS HAVE [illegible] IN SUPPORT OF CHINESE GROUND TROOPS.

CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA, JUNE 24-(AP)-PRIME MINISTER JOHN CURTIN TOLD THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES TODAY THAT HE WOULD SEEK DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT FOR AN ELECTION, AFTER SUPPLY BILLS AND OTHER FORMAL LEGISLATION HAD BEEN PASSED.

CURTIN SAID SUCH DISSOLUTION APPEARED NECESSARY BECAUSE "IT IS PALPABLE THAT THE CAPACITY OF THIS PARLIAMENT TO SERVE THE COUNTRY MU[illegible] BE SUBMITTED TO A HIGHER TRIBUNAL.

BY LEIF ERICKSON

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, JUNE 24-(AP)-DAUNTLESS AND AVENGER BOMBERS UNLOADED 20 TONS OF BOMBS ON REKATA BAY, JAPANESE SEAPLANE BASE AND SUBMARINE FUELING STATION ON SANTA ISABEL ISLAND IN THE SOLOMONS, YESTERDAY MORNING.

SOUTH PACIFIC FORCE HEADQUARTERS REPORTED TODAY THAT SEVERAL BOMB HITS WERE SCORED AND ONE FIRE WAS STARTED. WILDCAT FIGHTER PLANES ESCORTED THE BOMBERS.

JUN 25 1943

MAINTAINING STEADY AERIAL PRESSURE AGAINST ENEMY BASES IN THE SOLOMONS, U.S. AIR FORCES DELIVERED ANOTHER BOMBING STRIKE WEDNESDAY ON BUR VILLAGE, A NEW ENEMY OUTPOST ON GANNONGA ISLAND. ARMY MITCHELL MEDIUM BOMBERS WERE ESCORTED ON THIS RAID BY NAVY CORSAIR FIGHTERS. ONE MITCHELL FAILED TO RETURN.

ADVANCED AMERICAN BASE, SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 17-(DELAYED)-(AP)-JACK BENNY AND THE ANDREWS SISTERS ENTERTAINED THE MOST EXPERIENCED ATTACK SQUADRON IN THE UNITED STATES AIR FORCE MORE OR LESS BY PROXY LAST NIGHT.

THE OFFICERS OF AN A-20 SQUADRON WHICH BY THE END OF MAY HAD TAKEN PART IN 1035 SORTIES DURING 232 ATTACK MISSIONS--CLAIMED AS AN AMERICAN RECORD--WERE ENTERTAINING THEIR ENLISTED MEN. ON THE BILL WERE THE NAMES OF HOLLYWOOD ENTERTAINERS.

JACK BENNY, IDENTIFIED BY HIS QUAVERING VIOLIN SOLO, "LOVE IN BLOOM," TURNED OUT TO BE LIEUT.EDMOND D.MONTAGANO, OF CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, OHIO, MOST BEMEDALLED PILOT IN THIS OFTEN-DECORATED SQUADRON.

MONTAGANO, WHO HAS THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS, SILVER STAR, PURPLE HEART AND AIR MEDAL, WAS A VIOLINIST, CELLIST AND SINGER

JUN 25 1943

3024-5363

WITH SAMMY KAYE'S ORCHESTRA BEFORE HE BECAME A FLIER. HE IS A GRADUATE OF LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY.

THE ANDREWS SISTERS WERE THREE LIEUTENANTS--MONTAGANO WAS ONE OF THEM--DRESSED AS WOMEN, WHO PRETENDED TO SING "DADDY" WHILE THE ANDREWS SISTERS RECORDING OF THAT PIECE WAS PLAYED BACKSTAGE. THE OTHER "SISTERS:" EDWARD R.RICHARDSON, MUSKOGEE, OKLA.; AND JACK F.TAYLOR, CANTON, ILL.

MUSIC WAS PROVIDED BY AN INFANTRY ORCHESTRA, THE KIVE FOUR. ITS PERSONNEL INCLUDED: TECHNICIAN FIFTH GRADE CLARENCE LINDSTROM, GREAT FALS MONTANA, CLARINET; PVT.MAXWELL C.HONGOLTZ, 3345 NORTH MARSHFIELD AVENUE, CHICAGO, SINGER AND ACCORDIONIST; PFC EDWARD BIEHL, 5330 COLUMBIA DRIVE, MILES CITY, MONT., GUITAR AND VOCALIST.

OTHER OFFICERS TAKING PART INCLUDED LIEUTENANTS JARRET (BILLY) ROAN, SHREVEPORT, LA., JACK CATES, BURLINTON, N.C., RISDEN A.LYON, WADESBORO, N.C., JOHN G.KELLEY, ROCK HILL, S.C., AND ROBERT N.DOWN, JACKSONVILLE, FLA. DOW WAS A TELEGRAPH EDITOR OF A JACKSONVILLE NEWSPAPER.

JUN 25 1943

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SGT.JIM LUCAS, U.S. MARINE CORPS, TULSA,OKLA., AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-A MARINE FLIGHT RADIOMAN WHO GAVE HIS LIFE LAST OCTOBER 9, IN AN ATTEMPT TO GET SUPPLIES TO HENDERSON FIELD, WHERE THEY WERE BADLY NEEDED IN THE DEFENSE OF GUADALCANAL, HAS BEEN GIVEN POSTHUMOUS RECOGNITION BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER AT THIS BASE.

3024—5363

HE IS PRIVATE FIRST CLASS CHARLES D.VESTAL, SON OF MR. AND MRS. CHARLES I.VESTAL, 918 EAST THIRD STREET, FAIRBURY,NEB.

REPEATEDLY VESTAL RODE INTO GUADALCANAL IN NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT PLANES LOADED WITH BOMBS, HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND GASOLINE, HELPED TO UNLOAD THEM UNDER FIRE ON HENDERSON FIELD'S BOMB-SHATTERED RUNWAYS, AND THEN TOOK OFF INTO HOSTILE SKIES WITH A LOAD OF WOUNDED MARINES.

THE SAGA WRITTEN BY VESTAL'S SQUADRON HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.JALSEY,JR., U.S.N., COMMANDER SOUTH PACIFIC AREA AND SOUTH PACIFIC FORCE, AS "AN EXAMPLE OF COURAGE AND SKILL."

JUN 25 1943

VESTAL ENLISTED ON FEBRUARY 24, 1942 AT DES MOINES.

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SGT. JIM G.LUCAS, U.S. MARINE CORPS, OF TULSA,OKLA., AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JUNE 5-(DELAYED)-TECHNICAL SERGEANT RAY E.ALEXANDER, 27, U.S.M.C., OF GUYMON, OKLAHOMA, HAS BEEN COMPLIMENTED BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER AT THIS SOUTH PACIFIC BASE FOR HIS PART IN KEEPING OPEN AN AERIAL "BURMA ROAD" OF SUPPLIES TO HENDERSON FIELD DURING THE SOGOMON ISLANDS CAMPAIGN.

REPEATEDLY, ALEXANDER, THEN A STAFF SERGEANT, RODE NAVY TRANSPORT CARGO PLANES AS FLIGHT MECHANIC INTO GUADALCANAL WITH A LOAD OF BOMBS, GASOLINE AND HIGH EXPLOSIVES, HELPED TO UNLOAD IT ON HENDERSON FIELD RUNWAYS UNDER FIRE, AND THEN TOOK OFF INTO HOSTILE

JUN 25 1943

SKIES FOR THE RETURN TRIP WITH WOUNDED MARINES FOR BASE HOSPITALS BACK OF THE FIGHTING ZONE.

THE JOB DONE BY ALEXANDER'S SQUADRON HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.HALSEY,JR., U.S.N., AS "AN EXAMPLE OF COURAGE AND SKILL."

ALEXANDER ENLISTED AT OKLAHOMA CITY JULY 5, 1940. HE IS THE SON OF MRS.NINA ALEXANDER, ROUTE 4, GUYMON.

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SGT. JIM G. LUCAS, U.S. MARINE CORPS, TULSA., OKLA., AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

JUN 25 1943

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC,JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-SGT.FRED D. JOLLY,JR., EDDYVILLE,KY., HAS BEEN COMPLIMENTED BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER AT THIS BASE FOR HIS PART IN KEEPING OPEN AN AERIAL "BURMA ROAD" OF SUPPLIES TO HENDERSON FIELD DURING THE SOLOMON ISLANDS CAMPAIGN.

SERGEANT JOLLY, THEN A CORPORAL, REPEATEDLY RODE INTO GUADALCANAL AS RADIOMAN ON A NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT PLANE LOADED WITH BOMBS, HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND GASOLINE, HELPED TO UNLOAD THEM UNDER FIRE ON HENDERSON FIELD RUNWAYS, AND TOOK OFF INTO HOSTILE SKIES WITH WOUNDED MARINES DESTINED FOR BASE HOSPITALS.

THE SAGA WRITTEN BY HIS SQUADRON HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.HALSEY,JR., U.S.N., AS "AN EXAMPLE OF COURAGE AND SKILL."

SERGEANT JOLLY IS THE SON OF MR. AND MRS.FRED JOLLY OF EDDYVILLE. HE ENLISTED IN THE MARINES ON SEPTEMBER 25, 1940 AT CINCINNATI,OHIO, AND JOINED HIS PRESENT COMMAND ON AUGUST 15, 1942.

COLONEL P.K.SMITH, COMMANDER OF A MARINE AIRCRAFT GROUP IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, RECENTLY COMPLIMENTED SGT.JOLLY "FOR OUTSTANDING HEROISM" AND SAID:

"DURING THE PERIOD OF SEPT. 25 AND NOV. 1, 1942, CORPORAL JOLLY MADE NINE TRIPS AS FLIGHT RADIOMAN OF NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT AIRCRAFT IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS AREA."

AN ADVANCED R.C.A.F. BASE IN THE ALEUTIANS, JUNE 24-(AP)-THE WIFE OF CORPORAL BILL SHEFF OF PARKERSBURG,W.VA., ISN'T GOING TO LIKE IT BUT HER HUSBAND IS THE UNOFFICIAL MUSTACHE-GROWING CHAMPION OF THIS NORTHERN BASE.

JUN 25 1943

CORPORAL SHEFF WON THE TITLE BY DEFAULT WHEN FLIGHT OFFICER H.F. HEATHER OF TORONTO, THE WEARER OF THE MOST LUXURIANT SET OF FOLIAGE, WAS TRANSFERRED TO ANOTHER BASE.

"MY WIFE DOESN'T LIKE A MUSTACHE," SHEFF EXPLAINED, "SO THIS WAS MY ONLY CHANCE TO GROW ONE."

THE MUSTACHE CONTEST IS ONE OF THE NUMEROUS PASTTIMES THE FLIERS HAVE ADOPTED. OTHER HOBBIES RANGE FROM BUILDING OF MODEL AIRPLANES TO THE CONSTRUCTION AND OPERATION OF A MINIATURE RADIO BROADCASTING STATION WHICH RELAYS SHORTWAVE PROGRAMS FROM THE STATES.

OTHER AMERICANS AT THE BASE INCLUDE THE TWO CHAPLAINS, REV.M.D. MORRISON OF OAKLAND, CALIF., WHO CONDUCTS PROTESTANT SERVICES AND REV.FRANCIS GEIGEL OF MANITOWOC, WIS., THE ROMAN CATHOLIC.

OTTAWA, JUNE 24-(AP)-SERGEANT CLINTON LANDIS PUDNEY OF BUFFALO, N.Y., HAS BEEN KILLED ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS, THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE ANNOUNCED TONIGHT. NEXT-OF-KIN IS HIS MOTHER, MRS.H.E.PUDNEY, (228 SUMMER ST.,) BUFFALO, N.Y.

JUN 25 1943

30 24- 5365

SHERBROOKE, QUE.,JUNE 24-(AP)-TWO PERSONS WERE KILLED IN QUE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS LAST WEEK WHEN A FIVE-DAY TORRENTIAL RAIN SE SWOLLEN RIVERS ON A RAMPAGE THAT ISOLATED DOZENS OF COMMUNITIE AND CAUSED HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS DAMAGE, IT WAS DIS TODAY.

THE DEAD WERE LUCIEN LEVEAU, 29, AND CAMILLE CHARRON, FIVE, WERE FOUND IN A SHED AT KING'S CROFT IN STANSTEAD COUNTY SHOR IT WAS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

NINE PERSONS WERE RESCUED AT COATICOOK AFTER THEIR HOUSE WAS SWEPT AWAY BY THE RISING WATERS AS THEY SLEPT.

ELSEWHERE, HIGHWAYS AND BRIDGES WERE WASHED OUT. TRAINS WERE BROUGHT TO A STANDSTILL, WITH SERVICES STILL DISRUPTED

WITH LONDON GENERAL FORREST

JUN 25 1943

MEMPHIS, JUNE 24-(AP)-DESPITE HIS MILITARY BACKGROUND, BRIG.GEN.NATHAN BEDFORD FORREST DID NOT WANT AN ARMY CAREER UNTIL HE LEFT WEST POINT.

"EVEN WHEN HE WENT TO WEST POINT NATHAN DIDN'T INTEND TO MAKE A CAREER OF THE ARMY," FORREST'S AUNT, MRS.MARY FORREST BRADLEY, SAID TONIGHT. "BUT WHEN HE CAME OUT HE WAS ALL CHANGED. HE HAS BEEN A MAN AND A SOLDIER EVER SINCE."

HE WAS THE LAST TO CARRY ON THE FORREST NAME, MRS.BRADLEY DECLARED.

BRIG.GEN. FORREST, REPORTED MISSING AFTER BOMBING ACTION OVER GERMANY, OUTDID HIS FAMOUS GREAT GRANDFATHER-THE CONFEDERATE CAVALRY LEADER-IN GETTING AHEAD IN HIS CHOSEN PROFESSION.

FORREST WAS PROMOTED TO THE RANK OF BRIGADIER GENERAL

30.24—5365

LAST NOV. 2 AT THE AGE OF 37. THE CONFEDERATE CALVARYMAN BECAME A BRIGADIER-GENERAL AT THE AGE OF 41.

FORREST WAS BORN IN MEMPHIS ON APRIL 5, 1905. HIS PARENTS MOVED TO BILOXI, MISS., WHEN HE WAS SEVEN, THEN LATER TO ATLANTA.

FORREST WAS GRADUATED FROM WEST POINT IN 1928 AND WAS COMMISSIONED SECOND LIEUTENANT IN THE CALVARY. IN 1929 HE SHIFTED TO THE AIR CORPS. HIS RISE WAS RAPID--A FIRST LIEUTENANT IN 1934, A CAPTAIN IN 1936, A MAJOR IN 1941, THEN LIEUTENANT COLONEL, COLONEL AND BRIGADIER GENERAL IN 1942.

HIS CAREER IN THE CURRENT WAR BEGAN IN JANUARY, 1942, WHEN HE BECAME EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF THE SECOND BOMBER COMMAND, FORT GEORGE WRIGHT, WASHINGTON.

JUN 25 1943

NEW YORK, JUNE 24-(AP)-THE JAPANESE EXPECT THE ALLIES TO BEGIN AN OFFENSIVE IN OCTOBER IN AN EFFORT TO RECAPTURE BURMA, AND ALSO ANTICIPATE NEW BOMBINGS OF JAPAN FROM CHINA AND THE ALEUTIANS, A TOKYO BROADCAST REPORTED BY THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION INDICATED TODAY.

THE OWI REPORT SAID TOMOKAZU HORI, CHIEF OF THE JAPANESE INFORM-ATION BOARD, ALSO SAID IN THE BROADCAST THAT THE ALLIED VICTORY IN NORTH AFRICA HAD RELEASED BRITISH FLEET UNITS TO JOIN AMERICAN NAVAL POWER IN THE PACIFIC.

"MORE THAN ANYTHING," HORI WAS QUOTED AS SAYING, "THE ENEMY IS CONTEMPLATING THE RECAPTURE OF BURMA, WHICH IS THE KEY TO THE OFFENSIVE IN THE FAR EAST. WE CAN THINK OF THE POSSIBILITY OF AN OPENING OF AN OFFENSIVE FROM THE BURMA AREA ABOUT THE TIME OF THE CLOSE OF THE MONSOON SEASON, WHICH COMES SOME TIME IN OCTOBER."

JUN 25 1943

HE ADDED THAT "OUR ENEMIES ARE CONSTANTLY TAKING GREAT PAINS TO MAKE PLANS, ESPECIALLY TO CARRY OUT RAIDS ON JAPAN PROPER FROM CHINA AND THE ALEUTIANS."

"WE CANNOT GUARANTEE," HORI SAID, "THAT THERE IS NO POSSIBILITY THAT AMERICAN AND BRITAIN WILL NOT TAKE CONCRETE STEPS FOR OPERATIONS AGAINST JAPAN."

HE RECALLED PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL'S PLEDGE THAT THE BRITISH WOULD JOIN THE UNITED STATES IN CRUSHING JAPAN AFTER THE DEFEAT OF THE AXIS IN EUROPE.

JUN 25 1943

A SPECIAL NEW GERMAN INSTITUTE FOR TESTING CAPTURED TANKS HAS ADJUDGED THE AMERICAN "GENERAL SHERMAN" THE BEST TYPE THE ALLIES HAVE TURNED OUT, THE BERLIN RADIO SAID YESTERDAY (THUR), ADDING THAT THE NAZIS DOUBTLESS WOULD COPY ITS CONSTRUCTION -- PARTICULARLY THE GYROSCOPIC GUN-MOUNT WHICH THEY CONSIDER ITS OUTSTANDING FEATURE.

"ACCORDING TO THE FINDINGS OF THE INSTITUTE," THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID, "THE 'GENERAL SHERMAN' TANK IS DOUBTLESS THE BEST TYPE THE ALLIED ARMAMENT INDUSTRY HAS YET PRODUCED.

"A SPECIAL INNOVATION ON THIS TYPE TANK, WHICH BY A GYROSCOPE SYSTEM PREVENTS THE GUN FROM BEING AFFECTED BY THE JOLTING OF THE TANK WHEN TRAVELING ON ROUGH GROUNDS, GREATLY INTERESTED GERMAN EXPERTS. THEY BELIEVE THIS TO BE THE FIRST ATTEMPT AT BORROWING FROM THE CONSTRUCTION

JUN 25 1943

OF WARSHIPS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF ARMS FOR WARFARE ON LAND AND DOUBTLESS

IT WILL BE COPIED SOON."

THE BROADCAST SAID THE "EXPERTS" BELIEVED THAT THE OTHER ALLIED TANK

TYPES, "INCLUDING THE BRITISH 'CRUISER' TANK AS WELL AS THE LATEST SOVIET

MODELS, ARE ALREADY OUTMODED BY RAPID TECHNICAL PROGRESS WHICH HAS FOUND

ITS LATEST EXPRESSION IN THE GERMAN 'TIGER' TYPE."

THE BROADCAST, IN ANNOUNCING THE INSTITUTE'S CREATION, SAID IT HAD

LARGE TESTING GROUNDS IN CENTRAL GERMANY "WHERE THE LATEST UNITED STATES,

BRITISH AND RUSSIAN TANKS CAN BE TESTED UNDER ALL KINDS OF TOPOGRAPHICAL

CONDITIONS," AND ADDED;

"OFFICERS OF THE GERMAN TANK ARMY ARE CLOSELY COOPERATING WITH

ENGINEERS OF GERMAN ARMAMENT INDUSTRIES AND THE RESULTS OF THE TESTS ARE MADE AVAILABLE AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE TO GERMAN PRODUCTION IN ORDER TO

JUN 25 1943

30-24-5367

30-24-5367

MAINTAIN GERMAN TANK SUPERIORITY AND ALSO IN ODER TO PRODUCE ADEQUATE ANTI-TANK WEAPONS."

LONDON, JUNE 2 (AP)-LIEUT. GEN. KURT DIETMAR, GERMAN MILITARY COMMENTATOR, TOOK TO THE RADIO FOR THE SECOND NIGHT THIS WEEK XX IN AN EFFORT TO IMPRESS ON THE GERMAN PEOPLE THE IMMENSITY OF THE TASK OF DEFEATING RUSSIA, AND ALSO TO ADMIT ONCE MORE THAT AXIS LEADERS HAD XXX UNDERESTIMATED THE "EMBITTERED TOUGHNESS" OF THE RED ARMY.

JUN 25 1943

"WE HAVE NEVER THOUGHT OF A WALKOVER IN RUSSIA," SAID DIETMAR, WHO USUALLY IS HEARD ON THE BERLIN RADIO ONLY ON MONDAY NIGHTS. "WE HAVE NEVER INDULGED IN ILLUSIONS EITHER.

"BUT THE EMBITTERED TOUGHNESS OF THE SOVIET FORCES WAS UNKNOWN TO US, AND THE POWER OF THEIR TECHNIQUE BECAME CLEAR TO US ONLY AFTER THE CAMPAIGN HAD BEGUN.

THE FIGHT AGAINST RUSSIA, HE SAID, HAD "DEVELOPED INTO A STRUGGLE FOR LIFE OR DEATH," AND RUSSIA "CANNOT BE THROWN TO THE GROUND BY A SINGLE BLOW."

"WE SHALL SUCCEED BECAUSE WE HAVE TO SUCCEED."

SPEAKING OF THE "NEW LAND AND SEA FRONT IN SOUTHERN EUROPE," THE GERMAN PROPAGANDIST SAID "IT CAN BE EXPECTED THAT THE

"IT CAN BE EXPECTED THAT THE MASSING OF THE ATTACKERS AND DEFENDERS SOON WILL HAVE REACHED ITS CLIMAX. IT MIGHT BE THAT GUNS SOON WILL SPEAK A LANGUAGE OF THEIR OWN." JUN 25 1943

JAPAN, HE SAID IN HIS REVIEW, HAD "FORTIFIED HER POSTIONS TO SUCH AN EXTENT THAT IT IS NO EXAGGERATION TO SAY THEY HAVE BECOME IMPREGNABLE."

DIETMAR DECLARED THAT THE GERMANS NOW WERE "NEARER" THEIR GOAL IN TRYING TO CRUSH XXXXXX THEIR ENEMIES, BUT WAS VAGUE AS TO PLANS AND DETAILS.

MEANWHILE GERMAN BROADCAST VERSIONS OF THE SECOND CONGRESS OF THE "UNION OF NATIONAL JOURNALISTS ASSOCIATIONS" IN VIENNA, XXXXX DISCLOSED THE GERMAN PROPAGANDA PATTERN FOR XXXXXXXXXXXXX "POLITICAL WARFARE." XXXX

THE NEWSPAPERMEN AND AUTHORS OF GERMANY AND XXXXXXX XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

JUN 25 1943

1943

XXXSMAK HER AXIS SATELLITE COUNTRIES WERE TOLD TO CONCENTRATE ON THREE POINTS, NONE OF THEM NEW:

1. XXXXXXXXX THE "BOLSHEVIST MENACE," AND THE NEED OF ALL EUROPEAN COUNTRIES TO UNITE AGAINST RUSSIA; 2. THE "ANGLO-SAXON MENACE," WHICH MUST BE ELIMINATED ALXXXXXXXX EVEN IF RUSSIA IS DEFEATED; 3. BOTH PROBLEMS ARE "CLOSELY LINKED WITH THE JEWISH QUESTION."

JUN 25 1943

OTTO DIETRICH, REICH PRESS CHIEF, WAS SAID TO HAVE TOLD THE CONGRESS ALSO THAT ITS MEMBERS MUST XXXXXXXXXXXXXX"UNITE YOUR VOICES AGAINST THE UNNECESSARY OUTBREAK OF ANOTHER WORLD WAR FROM WHICH THE FUEHRER WILL SPARE HUMANITY."

THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, ALSO QUOTED DIETRICH AS SAYING THAT THE "NEW ORDER" INTENDED TO "GIVE REAL SECURITY TO SMALL NATIONS IN THE FRAME OF SOLIDARITY OF THIS CONTINENT AND A JUST SHARE ON THE PRODUCTS OF THIS WORLD."

TO ALLIED OBSERVERS, THIS PROFESSED GERMAN CONCERN OVER THE FATE OF EUROPE'S SMALL NATIONS HAS BEEN APPARENTX ONLY SINCE THE GERMAN ARMIES SUFFERED REVERSES IN RUSSIA AND SINCE THE XXX FORMATION OF THE STRONG AMERICAN-BRITISH-SOVIET WAR COALITION.

london, june 24--(ap)--the stalingrad sword of honor which king george vi of england has promised to present to the battered volga river city will be a 4-foot, two-handed fighting weapon with a double-edged blade, it was announced today.

JUN 25 1943

king george approved the design for the sword made by reginald m.y. gleadowe, former slade professor of fine art at oxford university, before he left for north africa and it is now in the process of manufacture.

on the broad blade, made of the finest tempered steel, wi will be inscribed: "to the steel-hearted citizens of stalingrad, the gift of king george vi, in token of the homage of the british people."

JUN 25 1943

the scabbard, covered with persian lambskin, will be dyed red and will bear the royal coat of arms.

JUN 25 1943

30.24-5369

30.24-5369

madrid, june 24-(ap)-- spaniards celebrated both corpus christi and san juan's day in churches, in the country, and in parks today, with some hanging the nati nal colors at their balconies in honor of the name day of prince juan bourbon, third son of the late king alfonso.

alfonso d'orleans, cousin of the late king, returned to sevilla today from switzerland, stopping in madrid on his way south. he is expected to return to the capital soon.

JUN 25 1943

(a dispatch from bern, switzerland, where juan is staying, said d'orleans had been conferring with the 30-year-old prince on restoration of the monarchy, and especially trying to settle one of the main problems, the questions of ~~fmm~~ generalissimo francisco franco's place and that of the falange party if juan took the throne.

(the dispatch added that the ~~wwwthinnwwd~~ matter of resotration had been put squarely up to franco by a letter from 25 leading monarchists.

london, june 24--(ap)--the berlin radio reported tonight that a turkish military mission, invited by adolf hitler to visit germany, has arrived in berlin, ~~axkxxxdxxxbxxxxxx~~ according to a broadcast recorded by the associated press radio.

the broadcast said that the mission was headed by ~~gxxxxxxx~~ colonel general teydemir and will be shown over various sectors of the eastern front and will inspect the ~~xxxxxxxx~~ atlantic wall.

JUN 25 1943

( london--second (add king) x x x morning."

the king arrived in north africa june 12 after a non-stop flight in a four-engined bomber. he was accompanied by sir archibald sinclair, secretary of state for air, and sir james grigg, secretary of state for war.

THE KING HAS TRAVELLED MORE THAN 4,000 MILES SINCE HE LEFT ENGLAND.

DURING THE TOUR HE REVIEWED THE AMERICAN FIFTH ARMY IN NORTH AFRICA, DROVE THROUGH CHEERING CROWDS IN ALGIERS, INSPECTED BRITISH TROOPS IN TUNISIA, AND WENT TO MALTA IN A BRITISH CRUISER.

HE MET CIVIL AND MILITARY LEADERS WHO TOOK PART IN THE NORTH AFRICAN VICTORY.

JUN 25 1943

LONDON, JUNE 24-(AP)--EDWARD BENES, PRESIDENT

JUN 25 1943

OF THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA, SAID IN A RADIO BROADCAST TODAY THAT ALL QUESTIONS BETWEEN HIS GOVERNMENT AND THAT OF THE UNITED STATES OVER THE FUTURE OF HIS COUNTRY "ARE ABSOLUTELY CLEAR."

JUN 25 1943

REPORTING TO HIS PEOPLE ON HIS RECENT VISIT TO THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA, BENES SAID THAT HE RETURNED TO LONDON "PROFOUNDLY SATISFIED AND GRATIFIED " WITH HIS WARM RECEPTION THERE.

"IT IS CLEAR TO ALL IN AMERICA THAT THE WAR CAN ONLY BE WON BY THE INTIMATE AND LOYAL COLLABORATION OF ALL THE UNITED NATIONS," MR BENES SAID. HE STRESSED PARTICULARLY THAT BOTH THE DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN PARTIES "CONSIDER THAT COLLABORATION WITH RUSSIA MUST BE ONE OF THE PRINCIPLE LINES OF THE WAR POLICY AND ALSO A CONDITION FOR ESTABLISHING AND MAINTAINING LASTING PEACE."

FRIDAY, JUNE 25-

LONDON, [redacted]-(AP)-THE BRITISH MOTION PICTURE, "LIFE AND DEATH OF COLONEL BLIMP," WHICH HAS BEEN CRITIZED SEVERALY AS POOR PROPAGANDA FOR GREAT BRITAIN, WILL NOT BE SENT OUT OF THE COUNTRY FOR THE TIME BEING, THE DAILY MAIL SAID TODAY.

THE PAPER SAID THE OFFICIAL REASON FOR "FREEZING" THE FILM FOR EXPORT WAS BECAUSE OF TRANSPORT DIFFICULTIES, BUT POINTED UP CRITICISM WHICH IT SAID FELL UNDER TWO HEADINGS -- THAT THE FILM WAS A "GROSS TRAVESTY OF THE INTELLIGENCE AND OF THE BEHAVIOR OF BRITISH ARMY OFFICERS AS A CLASS"; AND THAT A GERMAN OFFICER IN THE PICTURE WHO TURNS ANTI-NAZI IS "UNDULY SENTIMENTALIZED AND IDEALIZED AT THE EXPENSE OF BRITISH COLONEL BLIMP."

JUN 25 1943

LONDON, JUNE 24--(AP)---UNITED STATES FIGHTERS MADE AND SWEEPS OVER BELGIUM AND THE NETHERLANDS TODAY, SHOT DOWN ONE FOCKE WULF-190 WITHOUT LOSS, U.S. [redacted] HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TODAY

THUNDERBOLTS KNOCKED DOWN THE FOCKE WULF AND DAMAGED ANOTHER IN A FIGHT OFF THE BELGIAN COAST WHILE [redacted] ESCORTING RAF BOMBERS. THEN THE GERMANS BROKE OFF THE ENGAGEMENT.

THE DESTROYED PLANE WAS CREDITED TO SECOND LIEUT. MELVIN D. PUTMAN OF LYONS, N.Y. THE DAMAGED FOCKE/WULF WAS HIT BY THE FIRE OF SECOND LIEUT. THOMAS W. SHEPPARD OF NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JUN 25 1943

30 24- 5871

30.24- 5371

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 24-(AP)-- A MILAN DISPATCH TO THE NEUE ZUERCHER ZEITUNG SAID TODAY THAT PREMIER MUSSOLINI HAS ISSUED A DECREE MILITARIZING THE PERSONNEL OF THE TELEPHONE AND TEL GRAPH SERVICES IN SICILY AND SARDINIA.

JUN 25 1943

CAIRO, JUNE 24--(AP)---AIR MINISTER SECRETARY SIR ARCHIBALD SINCLAIR TOLD A CONFERENCE OF RAF OFFICERS HERE TODAY "THERE WAS A TIME WHEN OUR RUSSIAN ALLIES NOT ONLY DOUBTED OUR ABILITY TO FIGHT, BUT ALSO OUR WILL TO CARRY ON THE WAR."

"THE MAGNIFICENT ACHIEVEMENT OF OUR ARMED FORCES IN THE NORTH AFRICAN THEATER HAS CHANGED THAT OUTLOOK," HE SAID, "AND HARDHEADED REALISTS OF THE KREMLIN---PREMIER STALIN AND HIS GENERAL STAFF---HAVE NOTHING NOW BUT UNBOUNDED ADMIRATION FOR OUR EFFORTS AND, EVEN GREATER, A HAPPIER UNDERSTANDING OF OUR AIMS."

SINCLAIR SAID "THE VALUE OF THIS TO THE UNITED FRONT AND AFTER THE WAR" WOULD BE INCALCULABLE."

CHUNGKING, JUNE 24--(AP)--- MORE THAN 1,000 JAPANESE TROOPS WERE DROWNED JUNE 1 IN THE SINKING OF A LARGE ENEMY WARSHIP BY A CHINESE MINE IN THE YANGTZE RIVER NEAR TUNGLIU, ANHWEI PROVINCE, A CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY DISPATCH SAID TODAY.

JUN 25 1943

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, JUNE 24-(AP)-LIEUT. COMM. HERBERT FREDERICK ECKBERG OF NEW YORK, CHIEF OF THE UNITED STATES NAVAL MISSION IN VENEZUELA, WAS DECORATED TODAY BY PRESIDENT ISAIAS MEDINA WITH THE LIBERATOR ORDER.

QUEBEC, JUNE 24--(AP)---A 10,000-TON FREIGHTER, WORK ON WHICH HAS BEEN HALTED BY THE 10-DAY STRIKE OF 9,000 MEN, WAS MOVED TODAY TO ANOTHER YARD. THE SHIP, THE "HYDE PARK" WHICH HAS ALREADY BEEN LAUNCHED, WAS MOVED WITH THE CONSENT OF CANADIAN LABOR LEADERS AT THE REQUEST OF THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT.

TWO CORVETTES, THE "PREJUDICE" AND THE "PERTH" WHICH HAVE ALSO BEEN TIED UP AT THE STRIKEBOUND YARDS OF THE MORTON ENGINEERING AND DRYDOCK COMPANY, GEORGE T. DAVIE AND SONS, AND THE DAVIE SHIPBUILDING AND REPAIRING COMPANY, WILL BE MOVED LATER TOGETHER WITH NECESSARY NAVAL EQUIPMENT AND MATERIAL. NONE OF THE

JUN 25 1943

JUN 25 1943

STRIKING WORKMEN TOOK PART IN THE MOVING.

ALEXANDER MCAUSLANE, VICE PRESIDENT OF THE CANADIAN CONGRESS OF LABOR, SAID THAT "WE ARE DOING THIS FOR THE SAKE OF THE WAR EFFORT." FEDERAL LABOR CONCILIATORS MEANWHILE WERE CONTINUING EFFORTS TO SETTLE THE STRIKE.

JUN 25 1943

NEW YORK, JUNE 24 --(AP)-- THE NAZI-CONTROLLED VICHY RADIO SAID TODAY DETROIT'S RACE RIOTS WERE SYMPTOMATIC OF "THE INTERNAL DISORGANIZATION OF A COUNTRY TORN BY SOCIAL INJUSTICE, RACE HATREDS, REGIONAL DISPUTES, THE VIOLENCE OF AN IRRITATED PROLETARIATE AND THE GANGSTERISM OF A CAPITALISTIC POLICE."

THE BROADCAST, WAS RECORDED BY CBS,

WHEREIN THE RIOTING WAS DECLARED TO BE BOTH A HANDICAP TO WAR PRODUCTION AND AN INDICATION OF THE SCOPE OF WHAT THE RADIO SAID WAS "THE MORAL AND SOCIAL CRISIS IN THE UNITED STATES."

"FIRST OF ALL IT EVIDENCES THE SMALL INTEREST A GREAT PART OF THE AMERICAN POPULATION SHOWS IN THE WAR," THE RADIO COMMENTED. " X X X IN THE PRESENT STATE THE UNITED STATES DO NOT SEEM VERY JUSTIFIED IN THEIR AMBITIONS OF AMERICANIZING THE WORLD AND OF MAKING THE 20TH CENTURY AN AMERICAN CENTURY. BEFORE THE START OF THE WAR, PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ALREADY LOVED TO PREACH TO EUROPE, WHILE AT THE SAME TIME FOSTERING THE DIVISIONS PROFITABLE TO HIS IMPERIALISTIC POLICY.

"TODAY, ON THE MORROW OF THE BLOODY INCIDENTS OF DETROIT, THE FRENCH PEOPLE, ENDOWED WITH A SENSE OF SOCIAL JUSTICE, REALIZE THE DANGERS FOR EUROPEAN CIVILIZATION INHERENT IN THE AMERICAN AIMS OF WORLD DOMINATION."

- - -

CHAPLAIN ROUTS
NAZI INFLUENCE IN PANAMA TOWN

- - -

FORMER BASE FOR U-BOATS NOW
AIDS ARMY (600)

- - -

(PICTURE: FATHER OWENS PERFORMING BAPTISM)

- - -

BY VAUGHN M. BRYANT

HEADQUARTERS, CARIBBEAN DEFENSE COMMAND.-(AP)-A CHAPLAIN WHO LAID

JUN 25 1943

30 24- 5373

30.24- 5373

HIS GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY ON THE FOUNDATION OF CHURCHLY MINISTRATIONS HAS, PRACTICALLY OVERNIGHT, WON FOR A NEARBY ARMY AIR BASE THE FRIENDSHIP AND COOPERATION OF A COMMUNITY ONCE SYMPATHETIC TO GERMANY.

THE COMMUNITY CONSISTS OF THE TWO SMALL PANAMANIAN VILLAGES OF SANTA DOROTEA AND JAQUE AT THE HEAD OF PINAS BAY, ON THE PACIFIC COASTAL FRONTIER JOINING PANAMA AND COLOMBIA. THE CHAPLAIN IS CAPT. JOSEPH P.OWENS, FORMER CURATE AT ST.ANTHONY'S CHURCH IN UNION CITY, N.J.

JUN 25 1943

IT IS A SIMPLE STORY THAT HAS COME OUT OF THIS LITTLE-FREQUENTED AREA INHABITED BY NATIVES OF INDIAN, SPANISH AND NEGRO STOCK. IT IS A STORY OF TWO VISITS BY THE CHAPLAIN OFFSETTING NINE YEARS OF CAREFUL PROPAGANDA WORK BY A GERMAN WHO LIVED AMONG THESE DWELLERS OF STRATEGIC PINAS BAY.

APPEARENTLY THE CONVERSION HAS BEEN COMPLETE. AFTER RECEIVING A FIGURE OF THE VIRGIN FOR THEIR CHURCH, THE ONLY OTHER REQUEST THE NATIVES HAD WAS THAT CHAPLAIN OWENS BRING A LARGE PORTRAIT OF "EL PRESIDENTE ROOSEVELT," TO HANG IN THE TOWN HALL.

THE HISTORY OF THIS COMMUNITY OF TROPIC VEGETATION, SPIDER MONKEYS AND BUSHMASTERS IS ONE WELL-KNOWN TO MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.

TODAY, THE ARMY WILL ADMIT, THERE IS DEFINITE EVIDENCE OF ITS USE DURING WORLD WAR I AS A SECRET BASE FOR GERMAN SUBMARINES.

THEN, IN 1932, SANTA DOROTEA AND JAQUE AGAIN FOUND THEMSELVES THE OBJECT OF GERMAN INTEREST. AUGUST ADRIAN, FORMERLY OF THE GERMAN NAVY AND MERCHANT MARINE, APPEARED IN SANTA DOROTEA.

ADRIAN WORKED WELL AND THOROUGHLY, IN THE MANNER OF MANY GERMANS WHO CAME TO THESE LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES DURING THE LAST DECADE, SETTLED DOWN AND SLIPPED INTO THE LOCAL WAY OF LIFE. "SENOR AUGUSTO" WAS WELL-LIKED AND BECAME A PART OF THE COMMUNITY.

THE GOVERNMENT LET HIM STAY, BUT KEPT A CLOSE WATCH ON HIM, AND SHORTLY AFTER PEARL HARBOR HE WAS CONFINED AS AN ENEMY ALIEN.

TO THESE PEOPLE, THUS DEPRIVED OF A POPULAR RESIDENT AND FRIEND, CHAPLAIN OWENS CAME ON A VISIT LATE THIS SPRING TO FIND HIMSELF THE FIRST PRIEST THERE IN SEVEN YEARS. THE LOCAL COMBINATION OF MAYOR AND CHIEF OF POLICE SET ABOUT TO MAKE THE VISIT A SUCCESS.

JUN 25 1943

HE ORDERED CONSTRUCTION OF A CHAPEL AND, WHEN THE WORK PROGRESSED SLOWLY, ROUNDED UP A GANG OF PRISONERS CHARGED WITH MINOR OFFENSES. SERVICES WERE HELD IN THE COMPLETED STRUCTURE THAT SUNDAY.

ON THAT FIRST VISIT FATHER OWENS BAPTISED 63 CHILDREN, CONFIRMED 26, GAVE FIRST COMMUNION TO 31 AND BLESSED THE NEW CHAPEL AND CEMETERY.

HE HAD FLOWN IN, THE ONLY PRACTICABLE MEANS OF ACCESS EXCEPT BY WATER, AND PROMISED TO RETURN SOON.

THE COMMUNITY WAS DULY IMPRESSED. A MONTH LATER HIS PLANE BROUGHT THE GILDEN STATUE OF THE VIRGIN, PAINTED BY SOLDIER-ARTISTS AT THE AIR BASE. HE ALSO BROUGHT COPIES OF THE NEW TESTAMENT IN SPANISH, PRAYER BOOKS, HYMNALS, ALTAR FITTINGS AND A SOLDIER CHOIR. A GROUP OF YOUTHFUL ACOLYTES WERE READY TO DON THE ROBES HE BROUGHT AND AID IN THE CELEBRATION OF MASS.

JUN 25 1943

THAT SECOND VISIT, WITH ITS UNVEILING OF THE VIRGIN, WAS A DAY LONG TO BE REMEMBERED IN THE PINAS BAY COUNTRY. THERE WERE SPEECHES AND A GRAND PROCESSION IN HOLIDAY STYLE UNDER FLORAL ARCHES.

JUN 25 1943

30 24- 5373

30.24- 5373

HIS GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY ON THE FOUNDATION OF CHURCHLY MINISTRATIONS HAS, PRACTICALLY OVERNIGHT, WON FOR A NEARBY ARMY AIR BASE THE FRIENDSHIP AND COOPERATION OF A COMMUNITY ONCE SYMPATHETIC TO GERMANY.

THE COMMUNITY CONSISTS OF THE TWO SMALL PANAMANIAN VILLAGES OF SANTA DOROTEA AND JAQUE AT THE HEAD OF PINAS BAY, ON THE PACIFIC COASTAL FRONTIER JOINING PANAMA AND COLOMBIA. THE CHAPLAIN IS CAPT. JOSEPH P.OWENS, FORMER CURATE AT ST.ANTHONY'S CHURCH IN UNION CITY, N.J.

JUN 25 1943

IT IS A SIMPLE STORY THAT HAS COME OUT OF THIS LITTLE-FREQUENTED AREA INHABITED BY NATIVES OF INDIAN, SPANISH AND NEGRO STOCK. IT IS A STORY OF TWO VISITS BY THE CHAPLAIN OFFSETTING NINE YEARS OF CAREFUL PROPAGANDA WORK BY A GERMAN WHO LIVED AMONG THESE DWELLERS OF STRATEGIC PINAS BAY.

APPEARENTLY THE CONVERSION HAS BEEN COMPLETE. AFTER RECEIVING A FIGURE OF THE VIRGIN FOR THEIR CHURCH, THE ONLY OTHER REQUEST THE NATIVES HAD WAS THAT CHAPLAIN OWENS BRING A LARGE PORTRAIT OF "EL PRESIDENTE ROOSEVELT," TO HANG IN THE TOWN HALL.

THE HISTORY OF THIS COMMUNITY OF TROPIC VEGETATION, SPIDER MONKEYS AND BUSHMASTERS IS ONE WELL-KNOWN TO MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.

TODAY, THE ARMY WILL ADMIT, THERE IS DEFINITE EVIDENCE OF ITS USE DURING WORLD WAR I AS A SECRET BASE FOR GERMAN SUBMARINES.

THEN, IN 1932, SANTA DOROTEA AND JAQUE AGAIN FOUND THEMSELVES THE OBJECT OF GERMAN INTEREST. AUGUST ADRIAN, FORMERLY OF THE GERMAN NAVY AND MERCHANT MARINE, APPEARED IN SANTA DOROTEA.

ADRIAN WORKED WELL AND THOROUGHLY, IN THE MANNER OF MANY GERMANS WHO CAME TO THESE LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES DURING THE LAST DECADE, SETTLED DOWN AND SLIPPED INTO THE LOCAL WAY OF LIFE. "SENOR AUGUSTO" WAS WELL-LIKED AND BECAME A PART OF THE COMMUNITY.

THE GOVERNMENT LET HIM STAY, BUT KEPT A CLOSE WATCH ON HIM, AND SHORTLY AFTER PEARL HARBOR HE WAS CONFINED AS AN ENEMY ALIEN.

TO THESE PEOPLE, THUS DEPRIVED OF A POPULAR RESIDENT AND FRIEND, CHAPLAIN OWENS CAME ON A VISIT LATE THIS SPRING TO FIND HIMSELF THE FIRST PRIEST THERE IN SEVEN YEARS. THE LOCAL COMBINATION OF MAYOR AND CHIEF OF POLICE SET ABOUT TO MAKE THE VISIT A SUCCESS.

JUN 25 1943

HE ORDERED CONSTRUCTION OF A CHAPEL AND, WHEN THE WORK PROGRESSED SLOWLY, ROUNDED UP A GANG OF PRISONERS CHARGED WITH MINOR OFFENSES. SERVICES WERE HELD IN THE COMPLETED STRUCTURE THAT SUNDAY.

ON THAT FIRST VISIT FATHER OWENS BAPTISED 63 CHILDREN, CONFIRMED 26, GAVE FIRST COMMUNION TO 31 AND BLESSED THE NEW CHAPEL AND CEMETERY.

HE HAD FLOWN IN, THE ONLY PRACTICABLE MEANS OF ACCESS EXCEPT BY WATER, AND PROMISED TO RETURN SOON.

THE COMMUNITY WAS DULY IMPRESSED. A MONTH LATER HIS PLANE BROUGHT THE GILDEN STATUE OF THE VIRGIN, PAINTED BY SOLDIER-ARTISTS AT THE AIR BASE. HE ALSO BROUGHT COPIES OF THE NEW TESTAMENT IN SPANISH, PRAYER BOOKS, HYMNALS, ALTAR FITTINGS AND A SOLDIER CHOIR. A GROUP OF YOUTHFUL ACOLYTES WERE READY TO DON THE ROBES HE BROUGHT AND AID IN THE CELEBRATION OF MASS.

JUN 25 1943

THAT SECOND VISIT, WITH ITS UNVEILING OF THE VIRGIN, WAS A DAY LONG TO BE REMEMBERED IN THE PINAS BAY COUNTRY. THERE WERE SPEECHES AND A GRAND PROCESSION IN HOLIDAY STYLE UNDER FLORAL ARCHES.

JUN 25 1943

ONCE A MONTH CHAPLAIN OWENS HOPES TO FLY BACK TO THESE TWO HAMLETS FOR HIS SUNDAY MINISTRATIONS, MAKING THE DAY AS MUCH LIKE A NATIVE FIESTA AS POSSIBLE. EVENTUALLY, HE HOPES, A SPANISH-SPEAKING PRIEST CAN BE ASSIGNED TO THE AREA FOR, AS HE PUT IT, HIS SPANISH HAS A TOUCH OF JERSEY FLAVOR.

BUT THE COMMANDER OF THE AIR BASE SAYS CHAPLAIN OWENS' GREATEST TASK HAS ALREADY BEEN ACCOMPLISHED. FOR WHERE ONCE THERE WAS ANTIPATHY FROM THE NATIVES THERE IS NOW FRIENDLY COOPERATION. THE CHANGE, HE SAYS, HAS BEEN REMARKABLE AND COMPLETE--AND ALL FOR THE BETTER.

MAJORS DEVISE
"LIZARD TRAP"
- - -
AND DOUGHBOYS
STEAL JEEPS
IN AFRICA (500)
- - -

BY HAROLD V. BOYLE

(ADVANCE)...AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE, NORTH AFRICA-(AP)-ONE OF THE MOST CURIOUS ENGINES OF WAR DEVELOPED BY THE AFRICAN CAMPAIGN IS THE "NEVERFAIL" LIZARD TRAP REPOSING ON THE DESK OF MAJOR GORDON SARRE OF (222 EAST FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET) NEW YORK CITY, A FORMER BROKER NOW IN THE AIR FORCES.

IT WAS CONCEIVED IN THE FERTILE BRAIN OF MAJOR ORVILLE CHATT OF TEKAMAH, NEBRASKA, WHO LEFT THE NEBRASKA STATE SUPREME COURT BENCH TO ENTER THE SERVICE.

FORMER COUNTY JUDGE AND STATE WAR SAVINGS ADMINISTRATOR BEFORE HE ENTERED THE SERVICE.

JUN 25 1943

WHEN CAPTAIN CHRISTOPHER J. KARAS OF (34 LAWRENCE STREET) FRAMINGHAM, MASS., MENTIONED ONE DAY HE HAD SEEN A LIZARD IN HIS TENT, MAJOR CHATT GRAVELY SUGGESTED "YOU HAD BETTER BORROW A LIZARD TRAP AND CATCH HIM."

HE SENT KARAS TO ANOTHER OFFICER IN SEARCH OF THE MYTHICAL TRAP, AND THE CAPTAIN WAS SHUFFLED ON FROM ONE PLACE TO ANOTHER BY OTHER OFFICERS IN ON THE JOKE.

JUN 25 1943

FINALLY, AFTER HE HAD MADE A FRUITLESS 25-MILE DRIVE IN HIS DETERMINED QUEST, THE CONSPIRATORS DECIDED IT WAS TIME THEY PRODUCED A TRAP OR FACE THE CONSEQUENCES WHEN KARAS LEARNED THE BITTER TRUTH. THEY COMMISSIONED MAJOR TROY B. NEWETT OF (334 NORTHEAST 102ND STREET) MIAMI, FLA., TO DESIGN A LIZARD CATCHER.

HE BUILT A SMALL WOODEN BOX WITH A SLIDE AT THE END TO WHICH IS ATTACHED A CLOTH BAG. AT THE OTHER END OF THE OBLONG CLOSED BOX WAS A SMALL HOLE WITH SIGNS AROUND IT READING "WELCOME," "ENTER," AND "BAIT WITHIN." HANGING ON THE SIDE IS A RED WOODEN HAMMER ON WHICH HAD BEEN PAINTED "COUP DE GRACE."

HOW THE UNWARY LIZARD WAS TO BE LURED INTO THIS CURIOUS CONTRIVANCE AND BEATEN TO DEATH WAS DESCRIBED IN A SOLEMN CIRCULAR OF DIRECTIONS, WHICH READS:

" SHORT HISTORY ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE 'NEVERFAIL' LIZARD TRAP AND HOW IT OPERATES.

"THIS METHOD OF TRAPPING THE VARIOUS SPECIES OF LIZARDS IN NORTH AFRICA WAS LARGELY EXPERIMENTED WITH AND DEVELOPED BY ONE MAN, PROFESSOR ISAAC PEABODY OF THE NEVERFAIL TRAP COMPANY LOCATED IN

JUN 25 1943 JUN 25 1943

30.24- 5375

30.24- 5375

PARKSVILLE, IDAHO. THIS SCIENTIST OF BIOLOGY (OR SCIENTIST AND BIOLOGIST) REALIZED THE UNUSUAL CURIOSITY OF THESE REPTILES, BUT THE SUCCESS OF THIS DEVICE MUST BE CREDITED TO THE SIGN WITH THE WORDS 'BAIT WITHIN'. THE LIZARD, SEEING THIS, CANNOT RESIST ENTERING THE HOLE MARKED 'ENTER' "ALL THAT NEEDS TO BE DONE AFTER THE REPTILE HAS REACHED THE FAR END OF THE BAG IS TO CLOSE THE SLIDE BY PUSHING DOWNWARD, SIMULTANEOUSLY DELIVERING THE BAG THREE SOUND BLOWS WITH THE IMPLEMENT PROVIDED. IF MOVEMENTS ARE STILL NOTICEABLE REPEAT THE LAST OPERATION. AFTER THE THOROUGHLY DEAD LIZARD HAS BEEN REMOVED RESET THE TRAP FOR THE NEXT CURIOUS LITTLE FELLOW THAT HAPPENS ALONG. ALWAYS KEEP THE TRAP WELL OILED AND CLEAN AND IT WILL GIVE YOU MANY YEARS OF EXCELLENT SERVICE SIGNED ISAAC PEABODY PHD DOCTOR OF LIZARDOLOGY THE NEVERFAIL TRAP COMPANY, PARKSVILLE, IDAHO."

--DASH--

JUN 25 1943

JEEP STEALING IS ONE OF THE MOST PREVALENT SINS IN THE ARMY. SOME SOLDIERS WITH NO TRANSPORTATION AND IN A HURRY TO GET BACK TO CAMP HAVE DEVELOPED A PRACTICE OF CLIMBING INTO THE FIRST PARKED JEEP THEY COME TO AND DRIVING OFF. THEY USUALLY ABANDON THE BORROWED VEHICLE AT THE EDGE OF CAMP AND IT IS USUALLY A DAY OR TWO BEFORE IT IS RETURNED TO ITS PROPER CUSTODIAN.

THIS CUSTOM OF REGARDING UNCLE SAMS ROLLING STOCK AS COMMUNITY PROPERTY LED ONE UNIT TO PAINT ON THE JEEP, IN LARGE WHITE LETTERS "NOPE, TAINT YOURN."

"WE GAVE IT THAT NAME BECAUSE TWO OTHERS WE HAD BEFORE IT WERE STOLEN," SAID PRIVATE CHARLES FERGUSON OF CANANDAIGUA, N.Y.

"SO FAR IT HAS KEPT ANYONE FROM RUNNING OFF WITH IT."

--DASH--

INGENIOUS JEEP DRIVERS AT THE FRONT HAVE FOUND A NEW WAY TO REPAIR TIRE HOLES. THEY PULL OUT A PACKAGE OF CHEWING GUM, CHEW IT TILL STICKY, AND THEN PLASTER THE GUMMY MASS INTO THE HOLE. THE PUGS LAST PRETTY WELL.

JUN 25 1943

B120

"ONE OF OUR BOYS CAME BACK FROM [illegible] FRONT WITH FIVE GUM PATCHES ON HIS FOUR TIRES," SAID TECH.SGT.CHARLES E.CALLIER OF (5800 TUDOR AVE.) ST.LOUIS, MO., WHO WORKED IN AN AIR FORCES GARAGE.

"IT WAS A GAMBLE AND IT WORKED, SO HE KEPT ON USING IT. THAT GUM SAVED THE DAY FOR HIM."

--DASH--

DI YOU EVER HEAR OF A PAINTED MONKEY?

THIS IS THE STORY AS TOLD BY LIEUT.JAMES MCCLURKEN OF (539 CLARA ST.) ST.LOUIS, WHOSE ANTI-AIRCRAFT BATTERY IS STATIONED NEAR A BOMBER AIRPORT.

"WE WERE ON A CONVOY MOVEMENT WHEN ONE OF OUR TRUKS TURNED OVER. A PET MONKEY AND TWO SOLDIERS WERE IN THE BACK ALONG WITH SOME STOVES, CRATES AND HEAVY EQUIPMENT.

"THE DRIVER RAN BACK AND AT FIRST THOUGHT THEY HAD ALL BEEN KILLED WHEN HE SAW NOTHING BUT A TANK FULL OF LEGS. THEN OUT CRAWLED A G.I. WITH A BANJO IN ONE HAND AND THE MONKEY IN THE OTHER. THE MONKEY, WHICH BELONGED TO CAPT.JAMES NICHOLS OF BEDFORD,VA.,

JUN 25 1943

AND WAS NAMED CHEETAH, WAS COVERED WITH OLIVE DRAB PAINT SPILLED ALL OVER HIM WHEN THE TRUCK OVERTURNED.

"HE WAS PROBABLY THE FIRST GOVERNMENT PAINTED MONKEY IN HISTORY AND ALSO THE MADDEST. IT WAS RUNNING INTO HIS EYES AND OVER HIS FACE. WHEN THE SOLDIERS LAUGHED AT HIM HE RAN AROUND WIPING THE PAINT OFF ON THEIR PANTS, AND SOON HAD IT ALL OVER EVERYBODY.

--BASH--

JUN 25 1943

MAIL CENSORSHIP, LONG A SORE POINT WITH THE SOLDIERS, HAS BEEN RELAXED CONSIDERABLY SINCE THE SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION OF THE NORTH AFRICAN CAMPAIGN, BUT CENSORSHIP STORIES CONTINUE TO THRIVE.

ONE OF THE BEST TOLD ON THIS ANONYMOUS BODY OF MEN AND WOMEN, WHICH WIELDS SUCH POWER THAT, LIKE THE U.S. SUPREME COURT, THERE'S NO APPEAL FROM ITS DECISIONS, CONCERNS A SERGEANT WHO AT LONG LAST HAD RECEIVED A LETTER FROM A DELINQUENT FRIEND.

REPLYING THE SERGEANT CHIDED HIM AMIABLY.

"IT HAS BEEN SO LONG SINCE I HAVE HEARD FROM YOU THAT YOU ARE PRACTICALLY A STRANGER."

BACK CAME HIS LETTER UNDELIVERED, WITH THIS CHILLING ADMONITION ATTACHED BY THE CENSOR:

"MILITARY PERSONNEL ARE NOT PERMITTED TO CORRESPOND WITH STRANGERS."

U.S. GRADUALLY
SOLVES PACIFIC
SUPPLY PUZZLES

- - -

FABULOUS QUANTITIES
BEING DELIVERED
ON TIME NOW (1,000)

- - -

JUN 25 1943

BY LIEF ERICKSON

(ADVANCE)-AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE,-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES NAVY, STARTING ALMOST FROM SCRATCH IN THE HARD SCHOOL OF LONG-DISTANCE LOGISTICS, HAS LEARNED ITS LESSONS SO WELL THAT FABULOUS QUANTITIES OF SUPPLIES NOW ARE REACHING SOUTH PACIFIC FORCES ON SCHEDULE.

THE IMMENSE TASK OF SUPPLYING THIS WAR THEATER IS DESCRIBED WITH CANDOR AND IN DETAIL BY CAPT.GERALD ALGERNON SHATTUCK OF PORTSMOUTH, N.H., SUPPLY OFFICER UNDER REAR ADMIRAL CALVIN N.COBB, SERVICE SQUADRON COMMANDER FOR THE SOUTH PACIFIC.

"WE STARTED BEHIND THE EIGHT BALL AND WE RAN AWFULLY CLOSE TO THE WALL FOR SEVERAL WEEKS AND MONTHS," CAPTAIN SHATTUCK ACKNOWLEDGED, POINTING OUT THAT MAJOR AMERICAN NAVAL FORCES HAVE BEEN OPERATING FARTHER FROM PREVIOUSLY ESTABLISHED BASES THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE ADMIRAL DEWEY'S EASY CAPTURE OF MANILA.

"THIS IS THE FIRST TIME WE'VE FOUGHT A WAR OF THIS SORT," SHATTUCK OBSERVED. "IT'S ALL BRAND NEW AND IT'S NOT IN THE BOOKS. WE'VE BEEN LEARNING THE HARD WAY."

ONE LESSON LEARNED AT GUADALCANAL, HE SAID, WAS THAT LARGE TRANSPORT AND CARGO VESSELS MUST NOT BE USED TO SUPPORT ISLAND INVASIONS. THEY ARE TOO VULNERABLE TO SUBMARINE AND AIR ATTACK AND THEIR LOSS TOO EXPENSIVE.

THE JAPANESE WERE EQUIPPED WITH LARGE NUMBERS OF SMALL BOATS AND

JUN 25 1943

30.24-5377

30.24-5377

barges which they used effectively for supply transport.

"We're getting that kind of craft now," Shattuck recounted. "Our next push is not going to have the troubles encountered at Guadalcanal.

JUN 25 1943

"The landing forces will just push their barges up under a banyan tree, go in and finish their fighting job, and then unload their supplies when they can the time," he declared.

Such small craft offer targets hardly worth expending a submarine torpedo on, are hard to hit by aerial bombing, and if one is hit the loss is relatively small.

When the Marines landed on Guadalcanal last August "we got a wild bull by the tail and couldn't let go," the Captain said.

In its original conception, the Solomons campaign was to be supplied from Pearl Harbor. By mid-September it was plain that a nearer major supply base had to be set up.

This was when Captain Shattuck was assigned to organize an independent supply establishment for the South Pacific force, French-controlled New Caledonia was selected.

Going to New Zealand, the Captain picked up a single storekeeper, a Petty Officer, and went back to New Caledonia to get started.

An immediate problem was eight partially filled tankers in the harbor. Ships needing oil would pull up to the nearest tanker and take on fuel.

A logistics fundamental is that supply vessels must be rotated as fast as possible. Shattuck acted at once to concentrate all the oil in one tanker and started the others on their way for more.

As the Solomons campaign progressed, gasoline for planes based at Henderson Field became a critical problem. It was supplied by cargo planes carrying steel drums.

Logistics is the military term covering the transport, supply and quartering of fighting troops. In 1917, Shattuck observed, it took from seven to eight men behind the line to support a single fighting man.

JUN 25 1943

That ratio probably was doubled in our North African campaign, he said. In the South Pacific theater, he declared, "pretty close to 18 or 20 men are required to keep one man really fighting."

On the South Pacific supply route the round trip from the U.S. to base is 11,000 miles, compared to about 6,500 for the European theater, Shattuck explained.

"I think the logistics problem is increased as the square of the distance, certainly as much as that," the Captain observed.

A tremendous added difficulty in the South Pacific was that port facilities were primitive. At Noumea, New Caledonia, one major supply base, dock facilities had to be developed virtually from scratch.

At one time 80 cargo ships were jammed up at one harbor waiting to be unloaded, he said. Labor was a bottleneck. Marines and sailors had to unload their gear from their own transports.

Enlisted stevedore outfits now handle unloading and "Sea-Bee" units have been used.

Logistics in the South and Southwest Pacific theaters must be as "much on a fighting basis" as the actual combatant forces, Shattuck

JUN 25 1943

REMARKED.

"IF POSSIBLE, WE MUST NOT FIX OURSELVES," HE SAID. "A PRIMARY FACTOR IN AMPHIBIOUS WARFARE IS MOBILITY."

ALSO, IN AMPHIBIOUS WAR CO-ORDINATION IS ESSENTIAL AND, SHATTUCK SAID, WAS BEEN ACHIEVED.

"IF ANYONE TELLS YOU THE ARMY AND NAVY DON'T GET ALONG, IT'S A DAMNED LIE," SHATTUCK DECLARED. "WE SIT DOWN TOGETHER, WE TAKE OUR HAIR DOWN, WE HAVE ARGUMENTS. BUT WE WORK THINGS OUT."

IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC THE NAVY IS RESPONSIBLE FOR SUPPLYING ALL FORCES. IN DIRECT CHARGE OF ARMY SUPPLY DISTRIBUTION IS BRIG.GEN. R.G.BREENE.

JUN 25 1943

AMMUNITION, OF COURSE, IS ORDINARILY THE FIRST SUPPLY RESPONSIBILITY. IN THIS THEATER GASOLINE AND OIL ACTUALLY HAVE PROVIDED THE FOREMOST PROBLEM, SHATTUCK OBSERVED, DUE TO MOTORIZATION OF FIGHTING EQUIPMENT.

THEN THERE ARE THE FOOD SUPPLIES. BLUEJACKETS, LEATHERNECKS, AND DOUGHBOYS OUT HERE HAVE FEW FACILITIES FOR RECREATION OR RELAXATION.

"THAT MAKES A GOOD MEAL, OR A GLASS OF BEER, A SIGNIFICANT FACTOR IN MORALE," SHATTUCK SAID.

CLOTHES RATE AS A SIGNIFICANT MORALE FACTOR, TOO, ESPECIALLY FOR SURVIVORS OF FLEET ACTIONS LIKE THOSE OF LAST NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER. SHATTUCK SAID THERE WASN'T ENOUGH THEN.

"WE HAD TO WORK HERE ALL NIGHT, GOING THROUGH KITS, TO GET UNDERWEAR AND JUMPERS FOR SHIP SURVIVORS. IF YOU CAN GIVE A SURVIVOR A NEW OUTFIT OF CLOTHES, YOU CAN MAKE HIM FEEL THAT WE'RE PAYING SOME ATTENTION TO HIM," SHATTUCK SAID.

SHATTUCK PAID TRIBUTE TO TWO IMPORTANT TYPES OF SUPPLY CRAFT--THE "YIPPEE" BOATS AND TANKERS.

THE YIPPEE BOATS ARE REFRIGERATOR-EQUIPPED TUNA FISHING CRAFT, TAKEN INTO SERVICE DIRECTLY FROM THEIR PACIFIC COAST FISHING WATERS.

"THEY WERE THE ONLY TRANSPORTS SUPPLYING GUADALCANAL AND TULAGI WITH FRESH FOOD," SHATTUCK RELATED. "THEY WERE ABLE TO SHUTTLE IN AND OUT. WE LOST SEVERAL AND ONE OR TWO HAVE BEEN RECOMMENDED FOR DECORATION."

JUN 25 1943

TANKERS, SHATTUCK DECLARED, "ARE DOING A PERFECTLY WONDERFUL JOB."

"THEY REFUEL WARSHIPS AT SEA AND CARRY STORES FOR DESTROYERS. THEY BAKE BREAD AND PIES AND MAKE ICE CREAM FOR DESTROYER CREWS.

"THESE TANKERS ARE REALLY THE LIFE SOURCE FOR OUR DESTROYER OUTFITS.

"TANKERS USED TO BE REGARDED AS NONDESCRIPT AND OFFICERS ASSIGNED TO THEM FELT THEY WERE BEING SHELVED. THAT SHOULDN'T BE ANY LONGER."

NEW ZEALAND IS DOING A GREAT JOB IN SUPPLYING FRESH MEAT AND FRESH VEGETABLES FOR OUR SOUTH PACIFIC FORCES, SHATTUCK SAID, ADDING "NEW ZEALAND IS TOPS TO WORK WITH."

HE ESTIMATED 12 1/2 PER CENT OF OUR CARGO SPACE WAS DEVOTED TO FOOD COMPARED TO ABOUT FIVE PER CENT FOR THE JAPS. BUT HE CONSIDERS OUR HIGHER FOOD STANDARD A GOOD INVESTMENT. "A WELL-FED MAN WILL DO A BETTER FIGHTING JOB THAN ONE ON SHORT RATIONS."

PROMISE OF THRILLS
DRAWS MEN TO SUBMARINES

- - -

JUN 25 1943 JUN 25 1943

30.24-5379

30.24-5379

BETTER PAY, FASTER PROMOTIONS
AND FEWER RESTRICTIONS ALSO DRAWS VOLUNTEERS FOR UNDERSEA WORK (1000)

- - - -

(EDITOR'S NOTE: FASTER PROMOTIONS, FEWER RESTRICTIONS, AND MORE PAY ATTRACT VOLUNTEERS TO MAN SUBMARINES--AND THEY LIKE THEIR HAZARDOUS DUTY. THIS IS THE THIRD AND LAST OF THE SERIES IN WHICH ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT CHARLES MCHURTRY DESCRIBES A RARE EXPERIENCE--A TRIP ON A SUB IN WARTIME).

- - - -

JUN 25 1943

BY CHARLES MCHURTRY

(ADVANCE)...ABOARD U.S. SUBMARINE IN THE PACIFIC, JUNE--(AP)--WHY IS A SUBMARINER?

THEY'RE ALL VOLUNTEERS IN JOBS GENERALLY CONSIDERED THE MOST DANGEROUS IN THE NAVY. YET MOST OF THEM WOULDN'T TRADE FOR THE PEACE AND CONTENTMENT OF A FARM IN IOWA.

LT.COMDR. PHILIP H.ROSS, SKIPPER OF THIS SUBMARINE SUGGESTS THREE REASONS:

"FIFTY PERCENT EXTRA PAY IS A BIG INDUCEMENT. (ALL SUBMARINERS GET IT.)

"PROMOTION USUALLY IS FASTER."

"THERE AREN'T SO MANY RESTRICTIONS."

HE OMITS PROBABLY ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT--EXCITEMENT OF THE CHASE AND THE THRILL OF HEARING YOUR TORPEDOES EXPLODE AGAINST THE HULL OF ENEMY SHIPS. ONLY THE SKIPPER, LOOKING THROUGH HIS PERISCOPE, SEES MOST TORPEDO HITS BUT EVERYONE HEARS THE EXPLOSIONS AND FEELS THE CONCUSSION ROCK THE SUBMARINE A LITTLE.

ENSIGN E.V. (SI) LAKE OF NEW BRITAIN, CONN., WAS KEEN ON SUBMARINES AS OF HIS 22 YEARS IN THE NAVY.

"IT JUST HAPPENED (THAT HE GOT INTO SUBMERSIBLES) BUT I WOULDN'T TRADE WITH ANYONE," HE SAID. "THERE'S NOTHING LIKE 'EM."

HE SAID THAT AFTER SIX WAR PATROLS--THE FIRST BEGUN AT 6 PM DEC. 8, 1941 (DEC. 7 TO YOU) FROM MANILA BAY--HE WAS OFFERED A SHORE JOB. HE DECLINED, WITH THANKS BUT SPEED.

A SHORE JOB MIGHT HAVE MEANT REUNION WITH HIS WIFE AND DAUGHTER, JEANNETTE, BUT EVEN THAT WAS NOT ENOUGH TO INDUCE HIM UP FROM THE DEPTHS

JUN 25 1943

ENSIGN R.A.MONTGOMERY, 24, OF NEWARK, OHIO, CAME TO SUBMERSIBLES FROM--OF ALL PLACES--AIRPLANES. UNTIL A YEAR AGO HE WAS CIVILIAN CHIEF OF A B24 BOMBER GROUND CREW AT CHANUTE FIELD IN ILLINOIS. THEN HE DECIDED TO GO UNDERSEA.

ENSIGN RAY E.STEWART, 24, FROM ST.PETERSBURG, FLA., GRADUATED FROM FLORIDA U. THEN MANAGED A DAIRY AT NORWICH, N.Y., BEFORE COMING INTO SUBMARINES SEVEN MONTHS AGO.

OTHER OFFICERS ON THE SHIP INCLUDE LT.HENRY C.LAUERMAN, 26, OF (8133 MARYLAND AVE.) CHICAGO, GUNNERY AND TORPEDO OFFICER AND FIRST LIEUTENANT; HIS ASSISTANT, LT. (JG) JOHN M.BARRETT, 23, OF LOS ANGELES AND FORMERLY OF OAK PARK, ILL., AND LT. (JG) JACK J.HINCHEY, 24, OMAHA, ENGINEER AND DIVING OFFICER.

ALL CAME INTO SUBMARINES BECAUSE THEY THOUGHT THEY'D LIKE THE

JUN 25 1943

LIFE AND EXCITEMENT. NO ONE MENTIONED THE 50 PERCENT EXTRA PAY THEIR SKIPPER GAVE AS A PROBABLY LURE.

OF ALL THE SHIP'S PERSONNEL, LT.COMDR. O.M. (MACK) BUTLER, 39, OF WASHINGTON, D.C., THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER AND NAVIGATOR, SAID HE DIDN'T EXACTLY VOLUNTEER.

"I WAS ON A DESTROYER ONE DAY AND MY ORDERS CAME THROUGH TO GO TO A SUBMARINE SCHOOL, SO I WENT AND HERE I AM. THEY HAD SAID THEY NEEDED SUBMARINE MEN AND I SAID I WAS WILLING, SO THEY PICKED ME."

JUN 25 1943

BUT HE'S GLAD HE MADE THE CHANGE AND SO IS CAPTAIN ROSS, WHO HAS RECOMMENDED HIM FOR A MEDAL AND EXPECTS HIM TO BE COMMANDING A SUBMARINE OF HIS OWN ONE OF THESE DAYS.

BUTLER, WHO HAS A WIFE AND DAUGHTER, ELIZABETH, 8 MONTHS OLD, IN SAN DIEGO, FOUND THE ALEUTIANS "A PRETTY NASTY PLACE TO OPERATE BUT NOT TOO BAD. WE DIDN'T RUN INTO MUCH EXCEPT A LOT OF WHALES. THEY SCARE YOU TO DEATH--THEY LOOK LIKE A PERISCOPE AT NIGHT."

SKIPPER ROSS IS ALASKA-BORN AND WENT TO KEMPER MILITARY ACADEMY AT BOONVILLE, MO., BEFORE HE DECIDED UPON ANNAPOLIS AND A NAVY LIFE. HIS FATHER, THE LATE PONTUS ROSS, WAS DIRECTOR OF THE AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION AT KENAI, ALASKA, AND LATER WAS DIRECTOR OF EXTENSION SERVICE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA. HIS MOTHER IS SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS AT TUCSON.

ROSS HAD A YEAR ON THE BATTLESHIP WYOMING BEFORE HE TURNED TO SUBMARINES. AFTER HE WAS GRADUATED FROM SUBMARINE AND TORPEDO SCHOOLS, HE INTERSPERSED UNDERSEAS SERVICE WITH POSTGRADUATE WORK AT ANNAPOLIS AND A TURN AS INSTRUCTOR OF MARINE ENGINEERING.

HE HAS A WIFE AND A SON, PHILIP H, JR., IN ANNAPOLIS. ROSS SAID HIS WIFE--ONE OF THE INDUCEMENTS HE LISTS AS LURING OTHERS INTO SUBMARINES--SENT HIM INTO SUBMERSIBLES.

"SHE WOULDN'T LET ME GO INTO AVIATION."

CREW MEMBER ALBERT SHALLCOSS, 19, OF BUFFALO, N.Y., CAME INTO THE SERVICE TWO YEARS AGO "BY ACCIDENT. I WANTED DIESEL MOTORS AND HAD TO COME TO SUBMARINES TO GET THEM. BUT I WOULDN'T TRADE WITH NOBODY."

JUN 25 1943

TORPEDOMAN FIRST CLASS ANDREW DAWSON, 23, OF NORWICH, N.Y., GETS HIS BIGGEST THRILLS FROM HEARING HIS "TIN FISH" EXPLODE AGAINST JAPANESE SHIPS. THAT'S ONE REASON HE WOULDN'T GO ONTO SURFACE SHIPS.

THERE ARE 23 JAPANESE RISING SUNS PAINTED ON THE TORPEDO TUBES--EACH REPRESENTING A HIT ON A JAPANESE SHIP. THIS SUB HAS AN EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD MARKSMANSHIP RECORD. THE 23 TORPEDOES ACCOUNTED FOR TEN SHIPS SANK OR DAMAGED.

M.O. THOMAS "FROM A LITTLE TOWN UP IN WASHINGTON," CAME TO THE SHIP FROM AN OLD S-TYPE SUBMARINE.

"BOY, SHE LOOKED LIKE A HOTEL BESIDE THAT OLD S-BOAT," HE SAID. "I HAD A CHANCE TO GO BACK TO HER. THAT MEANT SIX WEEKS LEAVE IN THE STATES BUT NO THANKS, I LIKE IT HERE TOO WELL."

THE SUB WAS CLEAN AND BRIGHT, THE AIR FRESH, THE BUNKS LOOKED COMFORTABLE AND THE FOOD WAS DELICIOUS.

"WE'VE HAD STEAKS FOR BREAKFAST," SI LAKE VOLUNTEERED. "WE COULD HAVE THREE TIMES A DAY IF WE WOULDN'T GET TIRED OF THEM."

THERE'S AN EASY COMARADERY AMONG SUBMARINERS.

JUN 25 1943

30 24 - 5381

30. 24 - 5381

THERE IS DISCIPLINE, HAVE NO DELUSIONS AS TO THAT, BUT MEN DON'T LIVE SO CLOSELY SO LONG WITHOUT GETTING WELL ACQUAINTED.

AND THERE'S A RADIO, ON WHICH THEY LISTEN TO TOKYO ROSE AND MOSCOW HARY AND JAPANESE PROPAGANDA BROADCASTS WHEN THEY'RE IN NIPPONESE WATERS.

"THERE'S SOME GUY, I FORGET HIS NAME, WHO ALWAYS OPENS HIS PROGRAMS 'HELLO AMERICA, YOU BUILD 'EM, WE SINK 'EM" THE CAPTAIN SAID. "WE GET A BIG KICK OUT OF THAT--THEN GO SINK ANOTHER JAP.

JUN 25 1943

"ONE NIGHT WE HEARD U.S. PRISONERS SINGING A SOUTH AMERICAN SONG."

Big Nazi Air Base In Greece Raided

U. S. Planes Pour 50 Tons of Bombs On German Site

JUN 26 1943

George Tucker.
Associated Press Staff Writers

Cairo, June 25.—American Liberator bombers have violently raided the big German airdrome of Sedes near Salonika, a major air base in the Nazi's "Siegfried Line" in Greece, and found surprisingly weak antiaircraft defenses.

United States air headquarters here announced today that more than 50 Liberators dropped well over 125 tons of bombs at Sedes yesterday without a single loss. It was the first American blow at German-held Greece since September.

"Direct hits were scored on three hangars and all are believed to have been destroyed," said a Ninth United States Air Force communique.

"Dispersal areas were covered by bursts and at least three enemy aircraft were seen to be destroyed. Administrative buildings northeast of the hangars received hits and several strings of bombs criss-crossed the field itself.

Posters Dropped

"No enemy fighting opposition was encountered.

"All our aircraft returned safely."

Not bombs and fire alone, but hundreds of thousands of posters were dropped over several cities with encouraging messages for the Greek people.

(Announcements from Malta and North Africa disclosed that Allied

JUN 26 1943

U.S. FLIERS HIT SALONIKA AIRFIELD AND SARDINIA

JUN 26 1943

(By the Associated Press)

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 25—United States Ninth Air Force Liberators struck for the first time yesterday at the historic Greek port of Salonika from Middle East bases, while about 300 American bombers and fighters of the Northwest African Command battered communications of Sardinia, 70 miles to the west, it was announced today.

Cairo communiques said more than fifty Liberators, attacking in two waves with more than 250,000 pounds of high explosives, scored direct hits on three hangars at the Axis-occupied Sedes airdrome of Salonika, leaving all of them in flames. Pilots saw explosives burst among administration buildings and on the field and dispersal areas.

Grounded Planes Hit

"At least three enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground and oil fires were started," one Middle East bulletin said. "None of our aircraft is missing from these and other operations."

(The attack upon Salonika, a possible objective of any Balkan invasion, involved a round trip of more than 1,000 miles across the Mediterranean.)

Leaflets Released

The daylight assault on Salonika became a political as well as military thrust as hundreds of thousands of posters bearing an encouraging message to the Greek people were released over their cities.

The attack apparently caught the Germans by surprise. Although the Salonika air base is regarded as a key in the Nazis' new "Siegfried line" in southeastern Europe, its anti-aircraft defenses were found to be extremely light.

Salonika had 270,000 people before the war and is only fifty miles from the Bulgarian border. It has a narbor capable of berthing more than a dozen large ships and has been used by the Germans as a main supply base for the Mediterranean area.

Sardinia Hammered

Enemy air fields, docks, shipping and an important railway junction of Sardinia were hammered by United States squadrons of Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz' Air Forces after RAF Wellingtons attacked Catania, in Sicily, the preceding night.

These raiders shot down twenty of the many enemy fighters encountered and an RAF Beaufighters bagged another to make the score twenty-one. The Allies lost nine planes.

Malta air squadrons also were active.

Augusta Attacked

A Valleta communique announced that RAF planes attacked industrial installations at Pozzallo, Sicily, yesterday and similar targets at Augusta, Sicily, last night.

Spitfires were credited with destroying a Messerschmitt 210 off the Italian island.

Airfield Blasted

B-25 Mitchells led the American onslaught against Sardinia, hitting two supply ships at Golfo Aranci, northeastern port, and severely damaging the docks.

Another formation of Mitchells blasted the Vinafforita air field, also in the northwest part of the island.

B-26 Marauders made a successful attack on the railway junction at Chilivani, in north central Sardinia, and P-40 Warhawks swept over the southern portion of the island and left two small ships afire.

Rail Junction Bombed

Warhawks also destroyed a number of grounded aircraft at the Capoterra airfield and attacked the rail junction at La Maddelena, near Cagliari.

One Mitchell pilot, Capt. Clyde L. Grow, of Arkansas City, Ark., reported the bombers found the ships "just where we had been told they would be in our briefing," and laid bombs across the target.

Thirteen enemy planes were shot down in a spectacular running battle by the Lightning fighters which escorted the Marauders to Chilivani.

Bags Two Fighters

First Lieutenant Gilbert E. Butler, of Roanoke, Va., was credited with destroying two of four attacking Messerschmitts while his Lightning was flying with only one engine and one rudder. His port engine was knocked out by a cannon shell when the fight began.

"We ratted around for a few minutes with four of them shooting all around me," Butler related. "I gave one Messerschmitt a long burst. He blew up in the air.

"Then I kept up the fight with the remaining three. We gradually worked toward the coast. I got a second in the same way as the first. The others kept after me for fifteen or twenty miles out to sea. I guess they ran out of ammunition."

Lands In Tunisia

Butler managed to land in Tunisia, but his plane was so crippled he had to fly to his home field in another ship.

Lieut. Hubert M. Blair, of Chatham, Va., who also destroyed two enemy fighters, said the fight was the toughest he had ever seen.

Another credited with two enemy victims was Capt. Otto H. Wellensiek, of Dunbar, Neb.

The Warhawks picked targets as they flew in wide-ranging forays in southern Sardinia. They strafed grounded planes at Capoterra, destroying several, and then swept on to shoot up two trucks in a highway convoy, strafe the La Maddelena railway station, and machine-gun a 100-foot boat in Cagliari harbor. They left the vessel smoking and went on to strafe a two-masted sailing ship off Capo Spartivento, setting her afire.

The Warhawks encountered intense small arms fire from the beaches and then fought a series of sky battles for sixty miles over the sea in which they shot down five ME-109s.

Victory claimants were Flight Officer Bill H. Slattery of Birmingham, Ala., First Lieut. Rayburn D. Lancaster of Stephenville, Tex., Lieut. Roy B. Hogg of Atlanta, Ga., Flight Officer Mark P. Boone of Peru, Ind., and Capt. Bunn Hearn Jr. of Wilson N. C. These were the second triumphs of Lieut. Lancaster and First Officer Boone.

Another pilot, First Lieut. Henry L. Cromartie of Garland, N. C., remarked that he had once helped build ships, but that "after today I'll have to admit it's more fun to sink them."

Second Lieut. Charles W. Brown of Reno, Nev., got one ME-109, for a total of four victims in six days. Others credited with one ME-109 each were Second Lieut. Harry C. Newsome of Leesville, La.; Second Lieut. James E. Bower of Xenia, Ill.; First Lieut. Leonard P. Stephan of Fort Worth, Tex.; Capt. Carl F. Rudder of Stevenson, Ala.; First Lieut. George D. Whightman of Antioch, Cal., and Second Lieut. John S. Garbett of La Porte, Ind.

Bomb bursts covered the Venafiorita air field and its dispersal areas under a Mitchell attack. The same Mitchells also shot up a flat-topped craft which observers believed to have been a tank landing vessel southeast of Olbia. The Mitchells were attacked by a dozen enemy fighters, one of which was shot down by Gunner Corporal Leo W. Wilson of Arlington, S. D.

The Mitchells were attacked by a dozen enemy fighters, one of which was shot down.

The RAF reported eight fires were observed at Catania after that Sicilian town's railway yards and industrial district were bombed.

planes based under those commands also had been active.

(Malta fighter bombers and British naval air squadrons attacked war plants at Pozzalla in Sicily and objectives at Augusta, Sicily. A single German plane was shot down.

(Medium and fighter bombers of the Africa command attacked several targets in Sardinia and Wellington bombers concentrated on Cantania in Sicily. In all these operations of the Africa force 20 enemy planes were shot down to 9 allied planes lost.)

Caught Unaware

At Sedes, the Liberators apparently caught the Nazis wholly by surprise. The big bombers went over in two waves.

The established nature of the German base was indicated by the report of returning pilots that its six hangars—three of which were believed to have been wholly destroyed along with other great damage all over the airdrome—were of heavy stone constructions.

Salonika itself is Greece's second largest city and, because of its fine harbor, has been used by the Nazis as a principal supply base for the Mediterranean theater.

(Salonika, historic in itself, was the scene of one of the great turns in the last World War. It was at that city that Allied troops massed in the late summer of 1918 to drive north into the Vardar and Struma Valleys to a quick defeat of the Bulgarian army. Bulgaria's collapse in turn was followed by a collapse of the German position in the whole of southeast Europe.)

Yanks Pound Reich; R.A.F. Drops 1500 Tons on Ruhr

American Targets Undisclosed; British Blast Wuppertal; Refugees Jam Roads

By the Associated Press

London, June 25.—Fleets of United States heavy bombers pounded northwestern Germany today on the heels of another R. A. F. town-crusher attack last night upon the Ruhr, the bomb-shattered industrial valley where four million to five million were reported evacuated to escape the mighty Allied air offensive.

The big American bombers hammered undisclosed targets in adverse weather against strong fighter opposition, and lost 18 ships for a total of 173 Allied bombers as the cost of more than six days and nights of tremendous attacks. Thirty-eight were American and 135 British.

Flying Fortresses made up at least part of the raiding force, and Fortresses from one station alone destroyed 24 enemy fighters and probably 14 more. This group lost six bombers.

Crewmen said today's attack was made in the worst weather and against the fiercest fighter opposition they had encountered in six raids. The Germans, they said, sent 200 fighters against them.

Airfield Attacked

R. A. F. typhoon bombers joined in today's activities, attacking an airfield at Caen, France, without loss.

The daylight assault followed the R. A. F.'s renewed attack with perhaps 1500 tons of bombs upon Wuppertal in the Ruhr. Bombs were concentrated upon Elberfeld in the western section of the amalgamated city, with its chemical and textile targets.

In Bern, Switzerland, a reliable source declared that the Ruhr raids had forced the Germans to move four to five million nonessential workers and citizens to safer areas, with the "vast enterprise" still under way. Zurich's Die Tat asserted that the battle for the Ruhr "appears approaching a climax."

Picturing the devastation at Elberfeld, a German radio broadcast declared that "even now smoke and flames are rising.

"Approaching the town from many miles, distant streams of bomber-out people can be met . . . It is with great pain that they move forward either carrying or pushing on barrows the few belongings still left to them.

"Tired to Death"

"Every single street is full of rubble . . . People are tired to death. They lie on the grass. Many of them were injured."

Apparently in a desperate move to save the remains of the Ruhr, the Germans were reported by the Air Ministry to have pushed their outer ring of defenses to the North Sea coast.

British crews said coastal defenses were "obviously strengthened" but that they met with "a far more intense struggle in the Ruhr itself." There, huge belts of searchlights and guns were pressed into action last night and one pilot said he counted nine cones of 30 to 40 searchlights each.

The R. A. F. reported many night fighters out, and the American raiders today encountered fierce attacks by swarms of German defenders, diving on the U. S. bombers in relays. Today the Germans were benefitted also by bad weather, which made observation of the target difficult, Eighth Air Force headquarters said.

The Germans again tried to knock out the American raiders by flying above and dropping bombs on them.

Second Big Daylight Attack

It was the second big daylight attack this week for the American heavies. On Tuesday they smashed the synthetic rubber factory at Huls in the Ruhr, losing 20 Fortresses.

Last night's R. A. F. attack made Wuppertal "like a blast furnace when the coals have been raked evenly over the floor," one Canadian pilot said. Smoke rose at least -0,000 feet.

An air ministry communique declared the attack was "nearly as heavy as that recently made upon Barmen, the eastern half of Wuppertal," when a saturation raid on May 29 with 1500 tons or more of bombs was said to have virtually wiped out that industrial section.

"From preliminary reports, great damage appears to have been done," the air ministry declared.

The Germans acknowledged heavy losses to the population and their communique said several towns were hit, "in particular Wuppertal-Elberfeld and Remscheid," the latter near Wuppertal and a center of the German tool industry.

Wuppertal, a city of more than 400,000, was formed in 1929 by joining Elberfeld and Barmen.

Elberfeld is the home of the I. G. Farbenindustrie chemical works, the Jaeger plants, manufacturing roller bearings, and numerous textile factories. Remscheid is the site of important railway repair shops.

A Berlin broadcast identified other towns struck as Solingen, Neuss and Muchen-Gladbach, but said attacks there and at Remscheid "were made to all appearances as a means of diverting attention. It also admitted "considerable damage" and casualties.

German concern over the mounting heap that was once valuable industrial property in western Germany was evident in the increased swarms of Nazi fighters that flew out to battle the night bombers many miles from the target. However, the RAF losses were relatively lower than on some other recent raids—due in part to the moonless night Thursday.

The loss of thirty-three bombers—the same number as was missing after the May 29 raid—indicated great strength of the striking force rather than the effectiveness of the stepped-up German defenses.

Forts Hammer Reich In New Day Attack

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 25—A large force of United States heavy bombers, flying without fighter escort, attacked targets of northwest Germany today and eighteen of the craft are missing, headquarters of the Eighth Air Force announced.

The communique did not disclose the precise targets attacked and said adverse weather conditions made observation difficult.

Wuppertal Battered

The American blow followed by a few hours a shattering attack last night by RAF heavyweights on Wuppertal and other targets in the German Ruhr, from which thirty-three bombers failed to return.

The text of the communique:

"A large force of Eighth Air Force heavy bombers was dispatched to attack targets in northwest Germany. Adverse weather conditions were encountered and observation of the target was difficult.

Many Nazis Destroyed

"Strong fighter opposition was encountered and many of the enemy were destroyed by the bombers, which were unescorted.

"Eighteen bombers are missing."

Mine-laying was included in RAF operations last night.

The night attack was concentrated on the industrial area of Elberfeld, the western section of Wuppertal, the Air Ministry said.

Heavy Damage Reported

"The attack was nearly as heavy as that recently made on Barmen, the eastern half of Wuppertal, and from preliminary reports great damage appears to have been done," a communique declared.

Heavy defensive activity was reported by the flyers who returned from the area, which Hitler has packed with anti-aircraft guns, searchlight batteries and fighter planes.

The German communique said "losses among the populations of the towns attacked are heavy." The communique, broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, said several towns were hit, "in particular Wuppertal-Elberfeld and Remscheid." Remscheid, near Wuppertal, is a center of the German tool industry and has important railway repair shops.

The Barmen area of Wuppertal got a heavy saturation attack May 29 when 1,500 tons or more of bombs were laid on the sprawling industrial area which occupies both sides of the Wupper river.

Chemical Plant Target

Wuppertal was formed in 1929 by an amalgamation of the towns of Elberfeld and Barmen and had a population of more than 400,000.

Chief targets at Elberfeld are the I. G. Farbenindustrie chemical works, the Jaeger plants that turn out roller bearings, and a number of textile factories.

It was the sixth night of a powerful offensive which began with the assault on the Schneider munitions works at Le Creusot, 170 miles southeast of Paris, last Saturday night.

tion.

Last night's raid, carried out on a moonless night, marked the fifth consecutive night the R. A. F. has struck either Germany or Italy—the most paralyzing blows falling on the vital Ruhr area.

The offensive included the first great daylight assault by United States bombers on the Ruhr, an assault which set ablaze the important German synthetic rubber plant at Huls.

It was pointed up by the spectacular round-trip RAF bombing raid between bases in England and North Africa.

In the six-day period 135 Allied bombers had been lost.

England Attacked

The Air Ministry said that German planes dropped bombs harmlessly during the night in one place on the southeast coast of England.

RAF fighters prowling over western Europe during the night harassed enemy air bases and shot down at least one German plane over an airdrome in the Netherlands.

FLIERS SEE CHANCE THAT FORREST LIVES

Eight Parachutes Left Missing General's Bomber Over Kiel

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Eight parachutes were seen to open from the bomber in which Brig. Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest was riding as an observer when it was shot down in an air battle over Kiel, Germany, June 13, United States Eighth Air Force headquarters announced today.

The Americans lost twenty-four bombers over Kiel. The 38-year-old great-grandson of the famous Confederate leader of the same name was in the lead bomber and other fliers saw his damaged plane drop out of a returning formation and spiral toward earth.

None saw the big plane hit the ground, however, and the headquarters announcement was the first evidence that at least some of the crew might have parachuted to earth. The plane and its crew had been listed simply as "missing."

There were eleven men aboard the plan besides Brig. Gen. Forrest.

Capt. Harry M. Tomlin of San Francisco, Calif., pilot of another Fortress on the raid, said he was positive he saw eight parachutes from General Forrest's plane open after it dropped out of formation.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 25 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Nathan B. Forrest told his wife before he left Spokane a month ago, "I am coming back."

On that promise Mrs. Forrest said today she was relying with confidence that her husband would return.

"I feel sure he parachuted to safety," she said. "I know I will hear from him or the Red Cross in a month or so."

GEN. FORREST AMONG MISSING

JUN 26 1943

Bomber Hit in Kiel Raid—He May Be Alive.

London, June 25 (A. P.).—Brig. Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest was listed officially today as missing after the Eighth United States Air Force's mass raid on Kiel June 13, but some hope still was held out that the great-grandson and namesake of the famed Southern general may be living.

Eight parachutes were seen to open from the bomber in which Gen. Forrest was riding as an observer when it was shot down, the United States Eighth Air Force headquarters announced.

The Americans lost twenty-four bombers over Kiel. The general was in the lead bomber and other flyers saw his damaged plane drop out of a returning formation and spiral toward earth.

None saw the big plane hit the ground, however, and the headquarters announcement was the first evidence that at least some of the crew might have parachuted to earth. The plane and its crew had been listed simply as missing.

There were eleven men aboard the plane besides Gen. Forrest.

Lieut. Robert C. Cozens of Encinitas, Cal., pilot on a Fortress flying directly behind Gen. Forrest's plane, said that six German fighters concentrated on the General's craft at the German coast.

"Despite a smoking engine, however, he flew on and led us over the bomb run," Lieut Cozens said. "As we turned off the target the General's ship again was attacked. I saw it slow down and drop out of formation. We pulled up and took over the leader's position."

JUN 26 1943

30 24 - 5383

30. 24 — 5383

First Such Casualty in Europe.

Other fliers saw one German cannon shell tear a three-foot hole in the tail section of Gen. Forrest's plane.

The Americans lost twenty-four bombers in the raid on Kiel and a supplementary attack on Bremen, but the unescorted Flying Fortresses shot upward of 100 German fighter planes out of action.

Gen. Forrest was the first American of his rank to become a combat casualty in the European theater of operations. The number of American generals and admirals listed as missing or killed in the war around the world was raised to fifteen by his failure to return.

A native of Memphis, Gen. Forrest was a graduate of West Point. As executive officer of the Second Bomber Command at Fort George Wright, Wash., he was credited with an important part in the development and expansion of the heavy bombardment program.

He was promoted to brigadier-general last November 2. He had only recently arrived in England.

He rode in the Flying Fortress piloted by Capt. Harry A. Stirwalt of Spokane, Wash.

Was in Wilhelmshaven Raid.

Two days before the Kiel raid he went out as an observer on a Fortress raiding Wilhelmshaven.

Major F. J. Donahue of Washington, D. C., who served under Gen. Forrest in the last year, said that Gen. Forrest had told him: "I don't like to give orders until I've had an opportunity to find out for myself what it's like over there."

Besides Capt. Stirwalt, other crewmen in the bomber were Major Allan W. Wilder, Garden City, N. Y.; Lieut. Walter J. Thimm, Chicago; Lieut. Willard W. Brown, Cleveland; Lieut. Robert L. McNutt Jr., Birmingham, Ala.; Lieut. Donald V. Scavotto, Seattle; Sergt. Robert F. Forest, Arlington, Mass.; Sergt. Angelo Triches Jr., Homer City, Pa.; Sergt. Charles J. Benson, Maudo, Okla.; Sergt. Walter P. Drotleff, New Galilee, Pa., and Sergt. Oldis W. Boyd, Oklahoma City.

Last of His Line.

Memphis, June 25 (A. P.).—Despite his military background, Brig.-Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest did not want an army career until he left West Point.

"Even when he went to West Point Nathan didn't intend to make a career of the army," Gen. Forrest's aunt, Mrs. Mary Forrest Bradley, said tonight. "But when he came out he was all changed. He has been a man and a soldier ever since."

He was the last to carry on the Forrest name, Mrs. Bradley declared.

Brig.-Gen. Forrest outdid his famous great-grandfather, the Confederate cavalry leader, in getting ahead in his chosen profession.

Gen. Forrest was promoted to the rank of brigadier-general at the age of 37. The Confederate cavalryman became a brigadier-general at the age of 41.

Gen. Forrest was born in Memphis on April 5, 1905. His parents moved to Biloxi, Miss., when he was 7, then later to Atlanta.

Gen. Forrest was graduated from West Point in 1928 and was commissioned second lieutenant in the cavalry. In 1929 he shifted to the Air Corps. His rise was rapid—a first lieutenant in 1934, a captain in 1936, a major in 1941, then lieutenant - colonel, colonel and brigadier - general.

Capt. Harry M. Tomlin, of San Francisco, pilot of another Fortress on the raid, said he was positive he saw eight parachutes from Forrest's plane open after it dropped out of formation.

Hard Luck Kids Lose 6 Planes Downing 24

A U. S. Bomber Station in England, June 25 (AP).—Sweeping through the worst weather and the fiercest enemy fighter opposition they have ever encountered in five previous raids, the Hard Luck Kids from this station lost six bombers in an attack on northwest Germany today—but the Nazi air force paid dearly.

Flying Fortresses from this station alone destroyed 24 enemy fighters—seven shot down by a bomber piloted by Lieut. Lyster A. Brumley of Del Rio, Texas—probably destroyed 14 more, and damaged five.

The Hard Luck Kids won that name because they have suffered many casualties since they arrived in England five weeks ago—just in time to participate in the toughest raids in the greatest aerial offensive the world ever has known.

Almost 200 of Enemy.

Returned crews estimated that the Germans sent up almost 200 fighters of all types against them. And once more, the Germans tried to bomb tight-flying American heavies from JU-88 fighter-bombers flying above the American planes.

The crews reported that the flak was heavy and said the fighters pressed home the attack with almost suicidal ferocity.

"They would come at us two and three abreast and barrel-roll through our entire formation with their guns going like hell," the crews reported.

Under Attack 50 Minutes.

The Flying Fortress Sky Wolf, piloted by Lieut. Robert P. Paulin of Steubenville, Ohio, was one of the bombers continually under fighter attack for 50 minutes. Paulin said cannon shells blasted big holes in his plane's tail section and knocked out all of the oxygen system except the lines feeding the pilot's compartment.

"Just by chance we had taken along eight extra emergency 'walk around' bottles of oxygen today," Paulin said, "and the rest of the crew used these until we got down to a lower altitude on the return trip."

Negroes, U.S. Military Police Fight; Six Hurt

London, June 25—Premier Mussolini has ordered a wholesale purge of Fascist party members who "do not serve the country and the Fascist regime with a religious fervor," a Rome radio broadcast recorded by Reuters said today.

Mussolini presided over a meeting of the directors of the Fascist party in the Palazzo Venezia, the broadcast said, after which this communique was issued:

"The party membership now is being withdrawn from all those Fascists who do not serve the country and the Fascist regime with a religious fervor according to the directives given by the Duce."

(An Associated Press dispatch from Bern yesterday said the arrest of more than 7,000 anti-Fascists in Italy had been reported from reliable sources.

Reported On Police Orders

(These sources asserted the arrests were ordered by Renzo Chierici, newly appointed chief of the Italian police, an officer of the Fascist militia and a graduate of the castor-oil and cudgel days which swept Mussolini into power. Secretary Carlo Scorza of the Fascist party, these sources said, characterized the arrests as "absolutely indispensible" and urged Mussolini to exert "even greater severity" upon all dissidents.

(Those arrested, it was said, included many high Fascist officials and party prefects, as well as several thousand alleged Communists and other anti-Fascists reportedly involved in separatist movements in the South Tyrol and Dalmatia.)

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 25—Five United States enlisted men and one officer were reported today to have been injured in a fight between military police and Negro troops in northwest England last night.

A statement issued by headquarters of the United States army in the European theater of operations said early reports indicated that "the fight began when military policemen remonstrated with Negro soldiers behaving in a disorderly manner" in a town street.

One Wounded Seriously

"The situation was never out of control, it was stated by the local commander," headquarters said.

It reported that one of the Negroes was wounded seriously.

The text of the statement:

"An investigation into a fight between military policemen and a small group of Negro soldiers was being conducted tonight by headquarters of the European theater of operations of the United States Army.

"Early reports indicated that the fight began when military policemen remonstrated with Negro soldiers behaving in a disorderly manner in the street of a town in northwest England.

"The situation was never out of control, it was stated by the local commander.

Officer A First Lieutenant

"Injured in the fight were five enlisted soldiers and one officer.

"One man, Private William Grosslands, colored, was stated to be seriously injured.

"The officer is First Lieut. David D. Ousset. His injuries were not considered serious. The other enlisted men were not badly hurt."

Lieut. Ousset is from San Antonio, Tex. He is white as are the military police involved.

Private Grosslands is from Gibson, N. C.

Arrest Of 7,000, Some Officials, Reported

JUN 26 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Nazis Mass 150,000 at Brenner Pass

By James M. Long
Associated Press Staff Writer

London, June 25.—The Germans were reported unofficially tonight to be massing about 10 divisions of up to 150,000 men in northern Italy to guard the Brenner Pass, southern portal to Germany, against invasion, while the Berlin radio itself said the famous British Eighth Army had been sent to Syria to spearhead an Allied attack from there.

The German troop movement was reported by an unofficial source with close continental connections, and it was suggested that the Nazis were concerned over the possibility that Italy might collapse in event of an Allied landing.

This source, who cannot be identified, said about five divisions were taking up new positions, below the Pass, and the remainder would form a mobile troop reservoir that could be sped to the Riviera or southeast into the Balkans in case of emergency.

Except for the German air force and special service forces, virtually all the other Nazi troop strength was reported already pulled back from the crisis zones—Sicily, the toe of Italy, and Sardinia.

Transfer of the Eighth Army, flushed by its victories in Libya and Tunisia, to Syria was reported by a German military commentator in a broadcast recorded by Reuters. The report was wholly unconfirmed and it was recalled that King George VI visited the Eighth Army last week in Tripoli. The Allies have long been building powerful armies in the Middle East, where the Ninth and Tenth Armies are stationed.

Some London observers attached particular significance to the surprise raid by United States Liberators yesterday upon the Nazi airbase at Sedes, 6 miles southeast of Salonika. The most likely reason for raids in this area would be to knock out bases from which German planes might operate against any Allied amphibious operation aimed at the Dodecanese and other stepping stones to Greece, it was said.

The Vichy radio said in a broadcast by Reuters that "there are signs that an Allied attack on the Balkans is imminent . . . The Luftwaffe has been strongly reinforced in the Mediterranean in the last few days."

At Trondheim, Norway, an unidentified German admiral believed to be Admiral Otto Ciliax, Nazi naval commander in chief in Norway, told 2000 marines that he believed the Allies would invade Norway "within a short time," according to Stockholm dispatches.

The return of King George VI recalled the widespread reaction of Londoners at the time of his trip: That he did not go to praise an army for its victory, but to cheer troops on the threshold of a new onslaught.

'Nazis Form Own Brenner Line'

JUN 26 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 25—Ten German army divisions comprising roughly 150,000 men, are being moved into northern Italy to guard the mountainous approaches to Brenner Pass, gateway to Germany, against an Allied invasion from the south, it was asserted here today by an unofficial source with close continental connections.

The informant said the move suggested that the Nazis were distrustful of the resistance their Italian allies would put up against such an invasion and were preparing their own defense line at the portals of Germany herself.

He said half of the ten divisions already were fanning out into their new positions and that the remainder were on the way to form a fluid reserve force which could be shifted quickly toward the Riviera or into the Balkans in case of urgent need.

Without confirmation from any Allied source, a German radio commentator declared in a broadcast recorded by Reuters that the British Eighth Army had been sent from North Africa to Syria to spearhead an Allied attack.

King Plans 2 New Medals

London, Saturday, June 26 (AP).—In a message to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander in chief of the Allied North African forces, King George VI announced today his decision to issue two new decoration—the Africa Star to "the victors of North Africa," and the 1939-43 Star "to all services who have fought in other theatres."

The new decorations are the first to be issued since the George Cross and the George Medal in 1940.

To Forge Stalingrad Sword

Briton, 83, Chosen to Make Blade King Will Present to Soviet City

LONDON, June 25 (AP).—Tom Beasley, eighty-three years old,

JUN 26 1943

JUN 26 1943

England's oldest swordmaker, has been commissioned to forge the two-handed four-foot blade which King George VI will present to Stalingrad as a token of the British people's admiration for that Volga city's resistance to the German siege.

Beasley started at the sword-making trade at the age of eight. His most noted product probably was "the flame," the unusual red blade fashioned to the order of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

The silver parts of the Stalingrad sword will be wrought by Corporal L. G. Durbin of the Royal Air Force, one of the leading young British silver craftsmen

Soviet Farm Girl Gives Army Plane

London, June 25 (AP) — Klavdia Shumkova, a young Communist girl on a collective farm in Krasnoyarsk Province, Siberia, saved 121 000 rubles (more than $10,000), and spent it on an airplane for the Red Air Force, according to a dispatch in Pravda.

Plump-cheeked, smiling Klavdia got her picture in the paper with the young officer who will pilot the plane—and 2,500 thank you letters from pilots at the front.

USO Entertainers Reach Britain

London, June 25 (AP)—Bob Hope, Frances Langford and Charles Butterworth reached Britain today to join in the USO program for the entertainment of soldiers in the European Theater of Operations.

They are expected to present regular weekly broadcasts in connection with troop entertainment, as they had been doing in the United States.

'Col. Blimp' to Stay Home

LONDON, June 25 (AP).—The British motion picture "Life and Death of Colonel Blimp," which has been criticized severely as poor propaganda for Great Britain, will not be sent out of the country for the time being, "The Daily Mail" said today.

Monarch and Premier Chat at Base in Britain.

An R. A. F. Base in Britain, June 25 (A. P.).—King George VI returned to his homeland today from an extraordinary tour of the North African battlefields, his big four-engined bomber landing at this base just after 6 A. M.

The King, deeply tanned and smiling, was the first to step from the plane. A Royal Air Force guard of honor presented arms and Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, chief of the British Air Staff, stepped forward to greet the monarch.

After inspecting the honor guard, King George was driven to the R. A. F. mess.

The big bomber, escorted by ten Spitfires, landed an hour ahead of schedule because of an unexpectedly strong tail wind. A short time later Winston Churchill's automobile speeded up and the Prime Minister alighted, smiling. The smile disappeared when he was told he was late. Scowling slightly, he was driven to the R. A. F. mess to join the King.

The King appeared highly amused at Mr. Churchill's discomfiture over his late arrival and told the Prime Minister jokingly that he had "missed all the fun."

Chats With Churchill.

While luggage was being unloaded from the plane, the King chatted with Mr. Churchill about his experiences. Then the two were driven off.

The King's pilot, who flew the plane on the entire 5,800-mile journey, said that the trip home was completely uneventful and that the monarch spent most of the night sleeping. He was awakened at 5:30 and had early tea before arrival.

The King's only comment when he alighted was: "A very good trip indeed."

The royal plane left North Africa last night and flew nonstop to England. An escort of four American Airacobras accompanied it over the African coast and the Spitfires picked it up this morning.

The pilot said that of the trip "We didn't see a single German plane the entire time except on the ground."

GEORGE VI BACK; CHURCHILL LATE

De Valera's Fate Linked With Minorities

JUN 26 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Dublin, June 25 — Shorn of a clear majority in the Dail (Parliament), Eamon de Valera's chances for extending his eleven-year span as Eire's Prime Minister hinged today on the possibility of his reaching an agreement with one or more of the lesser parties.

Complete returns from Tuesday's first wartime general election showed that de Valera's Fianna Fail party had won only sixty-seven seats in the Dail, compared with seventy-seven it had held since the last election in 1938. Other parties and independents won seventy-one seats, split this way:

Fine Gael, 32; Labor, 17; Farmers, 9, and Independents, 13.

Cosgrave Wants Coalition

William Cosgrave, leader of the Fine Gael, or United Ireland party, campaigned for a coalition government of all parties. De Valera opposed it and said he would not join such a government.

The heads of the lesser parties have not committed themselves publicly to either De Valera or Cosgrave. De Valera, by reaching an agreement with the Farmer, Labor or Independent parties, could obtain a working majority, whereas Cosgrave would have to enlist all three of these along with his Fine Gael to outvote the Fianna Fail.

Although losing his majority, the American-born De Valera himself retained his seat in the Dail.

Foreign Policy Not Involved

The Prime Minister's setback was not expected to bring about any change in Eire's foreign policy since the question of the country's continued neutrality was not an issue in the election.

Fianna Fail leaders, attempting to establish the reasons for their loss, speculated that it may have resulted from the pegging of farm produce prices and wages generally, or from dissatisfaction over exemption of parliamentary allowances from the income tax and legislation providing pensions for former ministers.

New Government Possible

In view of De Valera's stand against a coalition government, political observers said that the four opposition groups might form a government, but it was expected that this would be only temporary, because they are not bound by any strong common policy.

Such a temporary coalition might be dissolved and a new election called, possibly as early as September, they said.

The new Dail probably will meet July 7.

"Marching Orders" Given

BERNE, Switzerland, June 25 (AP)—The Italian press reported today that Premier Mussolini had issued a "new marching order" for defense and resistance yesterday in a speech to Fascist party directors.

The Rome newspaper Messagero wrote that "Mussolini not only approved of the proposed sharp and warlike policy of Signor Scorza, but gave a new marching order of his own."

The Rome correspondent for the newspaper Tat said that this apparently "included formal approval of the proclaimed intention of the Fascist party to take the fate of Italy entirely into its hands now as it did twenty years ago, plus the endorsement of the practical measures Scorza proposed immediately after the fall of Pantelleria."

Both the German and Italian press kept up a steady flow of bitter attacks against allied "terror raids" and their "terrible effects."

Nazi Analyzes Cabinet Shake-up

Berne, June 25 (A. P.).—A Berlin dispatch suggested today that Premier Mussolini drastically revised his Cabinet four months ago to counteract sentiment for a separate peace in some Italian circles.

The Berlin correspondent of Neue Zuercher Zeitung referred to a recent article by Dr. Richard von Kuehlmann, German Imperial Foreign Secretary in 1917-18, and commented that Dr. von Kuehlmann's disclosure was all the more sensational because the German people had not hitherto been told of any hint of Italian war weariness.

Writing in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung in cautious terms about the Italian Cabinet reshuffle, Dr. von Kuehlmann said that if the possibility of a separate peace had existed and if individuals and groups had thought of English-Italian friendship, now a "deathly frost has fallen on the blossom of such speculations."

In those backward circles, Dr. von Kuehlmann said, it was believed that Downing Street would build golden bridges to Italy if Italy showed the least inclination to a compromise peace.

"But English politics apparently influenced the Americans to turn a cold shoulder to Italian individuals and groups, so that even these now recognize that only further fighting and victory can uphold the Italian future," he added.

The Cabinet shake up turned out among others, Count Galeazzo Ciano, Foreign Minister, who is Mussolini's son-in-law, and Count Dino Grandi, Minister of Justice, but there was no suggestion by Dr. Kuehlmann that they were among those seeking peace.

Bitter Fighting Flares Anew on Kalinin Front

Russians Drive Nazis From Settlement, Then Beat Back 3 Counter-Attacks

LONDON, June 26 (Saturday) (AP).—A resumption of local but bitter fighting on the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow, in which the Germans were hurled from a settlement and three times beaten off as they counter-attacked, was announced early today by the Soviet command, along with sharp air activity in several areas.

In one sector of the Kalinin front, said a midnight Soviet communique recorded here by the Soviet monitor, 600 Nazi troops were killed and six enemy mortars and two wireless stations were captured, along with other material.

Soviet scouting was reported on the front west of Moscow, where Russian infantry and artillery fire destroyed about a company of Germans and silenced several Nazi mortar and artillery batteries.

Aloft, announcements both by the Soviet command and the Moscow radio told of the destruction of six German planes in the south—in the Lisichansk sector and west of Rostov—and of heavy Russian raids on Nazi airdromes and railway junctions at Orsha and Karachev.

Orsha is about 250 miles northwest of Orel, and Karachev is behind the Orel front, where for weeks there has been intermittent activity suggesting the preparation of major action by one side or another.

The German radio said yesterday the Red Army had resumed a local offensive southwest of Velikie Luki and that bitter hand-to-hand fighting developed. The broadcast, which covered purported action on the central front about which the Russians have made no official reference, was recorded by Reuters. The Germans said on Thursday that the Russians had broken into the main Nazi defense line below Velikie Luki, but were sealed off by a counter-attack.

REDS REOPEN DRIVE NEAR VELIKIE LUKI

London, June 25 (A. P.).—The Berlin radio said today that the Russian Army had resumed a local offensive southwest of Velikie Luki and that bitter hand-to-hand fighting developed. This broadcast, which covers action on the central front to which the Russians have thus far made no special reference, was recorded by Reuters.

The Germans said yesterday that the Russians had broken into the main Nazi defense line below Velikie Luki, but that the breach was, by a Nazi counter-attack, subsequently closed.

German dispatches said a German counter-attack had restored Nazi positions south of Velikie Luki, eighty miles from the Latvian border, after Red army troops had opened a hole in the German lines.

Guerrillas Kill 108

The Russian communiques made no specific mention of the Velikie Luki sector, dormant for months.

A two-day battle between Russian guerrillas and a German expidition sent out to destroy them in the Leningrad area was described today in a Moscow Radio broadcast recorded by the Soviet radio monitor here. The Germans were forced to withdraw after losing 108 men, and five German officers were captured, it was declared.

Russians Say Germans Slew

Reds Win Air Battle; Ambush Nazi Forces

JUN 26 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 25—Five German planes out of a formation of nine fighter-escorted bombers were shot out of the sky late yesterday near Lisichansk, on the Donets river bend southeast of Kharkov, and two German reconnoitering forces were smashed by a Soviet ambush in the same area, the Russian noon communique said today.

The bombers' objective was a Russian airdrome, said the war bulletin, as recorded by the Soviet radio monitor here. Anti-aircraft guns forced the bombers to jettison their loads in a field, without any damage, and then Soviet fighter planes took to the air in combat, it was said, downing five of the enemy craft.

Approach Red Lines

In the ground action, the Germans were permitted to approach the Russian lines and then the Soviet troops opened fire. "Most of the attacking Hitlerites were wiped out," the communique said. "The remainder retreated in disorder."

A German reconnaissance detachment was scattered in one sector of the western front and 270 Germans were killed in engagements on the Leningrad front, it was declared.

1,000 in Asylum

Assert Foe Killed Patients With Poison; Tell How Museum Was Stripped

MOSCOW, June 25 (AP).—A Russian Commission charged tonight that the Germans had poisoned 1,000 patients in a psychiatric hospital, executed and tortured 248 citizens of Kupyansk and plundered the Rostov Museum in their invasion of Soviet territory.

JUN 26 1943

30 24 - 5385

30.24- 5385

A 2,000-word report issued by the "extraordinary state commission for ascertaining and investigation of crimes committed by the German Fascist invaders" said it had received statements of victims and eyewitness accounts of "crimes committed by German authorities in Soviet districts which temporarily fell under the Fascist yoke."

"In the village of Sapogovo, in the Kursk region. German occupationists poisoned about 1,000 patients who were undergoing treatment at a psychiatric hospital," said the report, which was distributed by Tass, Russian official news agency. "On the order of German authorities the poisoned and killed patients were buried in slit-trench bomb shelters located on the territory of the hospital."

The report said that after the Germans had been driven out of the town of Kupyansk in the Kharkov region, "local residents discovered eight pits into which had been dumped 248 Soviet citizens brutally tortured to death or shot." It added: "The commission noted that many wounds were not fatal, and evidently these people were dumped into the pit and buried while they were still alive." The plundering of the Rostov Museum of Fine Arts was said to have taken place early this year and to have extended to art treasures removed to Pyatigorsk.

"On orders of the German supreme command and of Alfred Rosenberg, Reich Minister for Occupied Western Provinces, books published in the fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, original paintings, drawings and sculptures by Russian and western European artists were taken from the U. S. S. R. to Germany," the report declared.

and America in no way warrant any expectations" that Turkey will abandon her neutrality and participate in the war.

The editorial was written by Necmeddin Sadak, a former diplomat with close connections in the Foreign Office. It attacked Axis claims that America and Britain were trying to push Turkey into the war.

Policy Set For Duration

"Turkey's neutrality is not conditioned by time or circumstances," the editorial said, "her policy being a national policy decided upon for the duration of hostilities."

The writer said close contacts between Turkish and British and American leaders had resulted in a complete understanding among the three governments upon Turkey's position.

He added that "Turkey never intimated to her allies she might enter the war, on certain conditions, or under certain circumstances, or for this or that reward. Turkey . . . realizes full well that the present conflict is outside the realm of her own interests and has, therefore, decided to take up a defensive stand."

Axis Generals Confer

Balkan sources reported, meanwhile, that German Generals Alexander Loehr and Haarde had met Bulgarian General Silkoff and a number of Italian generals at Salonika recently to consider changes in defense plans for the Aegean area.

In Belgrade, a large number of anti-aircraft guns have been emplaced and air-raid shelters are being hurriedly constructed, these sources said.

Gave Time to Fighting Men

By RELMAN MORIN

For the Combined United States Press.

ALGIERS, June 25 (AP)—King George VI has returned to England from North Africa after nearly two weeks spent in offering personal congratulations to the fighting men who wiped this continent clean of Axis power.

He rewared some with knighthoods and others with decorations, but his main concern was with the ordinary man—the foot sloggers in the infantry, oilers on warships, airplane ground crews, dock workers at stricken Malta, the wounded and the sick. It was to these that he devoted most of his twelve days in Africa.

He visited the armed forces of the United States, Great Britain and France, flying or driving to scores of their encampments. His journey covered more than 3,000 miles of territory that only a little more than a month ago was held by the Axis.

His schedule continued right up to the moment he boarded a plane for England. He reviewed French regiments on the morning of his last day here. Then he was driven to the airport, where Gen. Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud and numerous other French staff officers were waiting.

Generals Giraud and de Gaulle studiously avoided each other except at the moments of the King's arrival and departure, when they stood together as he shook hands with them.

After five French regiments marched past and a smart military band played "God Save the King" and the "Marseillaise," the King talked for a few moments with the two French leaders. Bidding the King good-by, General Giraud said: "I am deeply grateful for the great honor Your Majesty has conferred on the French Army." General de Gaulle simply saluted and said "Au revoir."

In the afternoon before he started the return trip to England the King reviewed representative detachments of a Highland division and then stood talking at length with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham and Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur William Tedder.

General Eisenhower wore the red ribbon of the Order of the Bath, which was conferred upon him recently by the King. They shook hands for the last time and then the King walked toward his plane. Before he reached it he stopped to talk with correspondents and photographers who had been in his party throughout the trip.

His face appeared at a window and he smiled and waved as the plane took off.

Turk Neutrality Policy To Stand, Paper Says

JUN 26 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Ankara, Turkey, June 23 (Delayed)—The quasi-official Istanbul newspaper Aksham said today that "Turkey's relations with Britain

[By the Associated Press]

New Delhi, June 25—United States Liberator bombers dumped explosives yesterday upon the railway yards of Mandalay, the heart of Japanese communications in central Burma, while Mitchells attacked a series of targets northwest of the city, it was announced today.

"Low clouds prevented accurate assessment of the damage," said a communique from the United States Tenth Air Force headquarters. "From these operations all aircraft and crews returned safely."

Rail Sheds Raided

The Mitchells raided railroad sheds at Kanbyu, railway tracks at Tindeinyan, the Shweli bridge and railroad installations at Kinu, it was announced. Kinu lies fifteen miles north of Shwebo, itself fifty miles northeast of Mandalay, and Tindeinyan is twenty miles northwest of Shwebo.

Earlier, a British communique said that Seaforth Highlanders, Indian troops and native Burmese Levies fought three sharp skirmishes with Japanese forces on the Chindwin river front in northwestern Burma during the past few days, inflicting severe casualties on the enemy while suffering light losses.

Jap Trenches Occupied

In one particularly successful engagement in the Kabaw Valley, the bulletin said, a Mahratta patrol made a frontal attack on a Japanese camp while the Highlanders slipped in from the rear and occupied enemy trenches. At least forty Japanese were reported killed in the fighting, which the British troops broke off only after enemy reinforcements began to outflank them.

In another action in the Kaleymyo-Port White area Chin Levies ambushed an enemy motor column and inflicted over twenty casualties, the communique said.

Japan Is Building Wooden Ships, Chinese Say

[By the Associated Press]

Chungking, June 25 — The Japanese, to counteract serious shipping losses, are building large numbers of wooden ships to handle their coastal trade with occupied territories, a Chinese army spokesman said today.

He told a press conference that intelligence reports revealed the shortage of enemy ships was so acute that shipyards at Singapore, Hongkong and other ports were working overtime to turn out the wooden vessels.

He also reported that a growing need for manpower had caused the Japanese to order home for military training all their civilians in China aged 18 to 40.

Minor Fighting

Minor fighting was reported from two areas, with Chinese troops occupied in clearing the Japanese out of the foothills across the Yangtze river from Shasi in Hupeh province and resisting the enemy's efforts to plunder districts near Canton and Swatow in Kwangtung province.

A Chinese communique reported that Chinese forces captured the minor Japanese stronghold of Tiko in eastern Honan province on June 16. This is several hundred miles northeast of the scene of recent important Chinese successes along the Yangtze river in Hupeh province.

Mandalay Rail Targets Lashed By U. S. Planes

JUN 26 1943

Japs' Salamaua Air Base Lashed

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 25 (AP)—Five hundred pound bombs dropped from Mitcheli medium bombers blew up buildings and started huge fires yesterday at the Japanese base of Salamaua, New Guinea.

A spokesman at headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today the bombs fell among "considerable" air installations. Salamaua is on the Huon Gulf only twelve miles above the jungle sector where Japanese and Allied troops frequently have engaged in patrol clashes.

Today's communique said the Japanese troops in that sector have suffered over 200 casualties this week in futile attempts to crack Allied lines. Allied losses were described as "very light in proportion." Boston attack planes strafed the enemy there yesterday.

In other aerial action, Australian-flown Beaufighters destroyed two grounded Japanese bombers at Selaru in the Tanimbar group of islands above Australia.

Behind The Lines

JUN 26 1943

Papua Conversion

An Advanced Allied Base, Somewhere in New Guinea, June 25 (AP). The Dobodura Turf Club has opened its racing season on battlefields where the Japanese were driven out of Papua six months before.

The Turf Club uses equipment made in Japan, and British horses from Malaya.

Australians conducted the first trotting program recently, using sulkies made of wheels from Japanese bicycles captured in the battle of Buna, and seats from wrecked Japanese planes.

Their horses are fine British ponies which the Japanese captured in Malaya and brought to New Guinea for use in the Buna area.

American soldiers as well as Australians attended the initial meeting. Six bookie booths were operating and reported an average betting volume of 600 pounds each, indicating that more than $10,000 changed hands.

The heavy wagering was explained in part by the fact that there was nothing else upon which soldiers could spend money. The far side of New Guinea has no stores, no bars, no cafes.

Place names that figured in the Papuan jungle warfare were reflected in the races. The favorite entry was Soputa Queen. The main race, on an eight-race program, was the Semimi Stakes. The horses are worked out on the jungle-hewn race track daily before sunrise and in the evening.

First Lieutenant Richard Rogers, of Newton, Mass., former Dartmouth football and hockey player and now an army special services officer, has additional plans—for Australians and Americans to compete in track and field events between races.

3 Jap Bases Bombed

[By the Associated Press]

An Advanced South Pacific Base, June 25—United States bombers raided three Japanese bases in the Solomons by daylight today, starting fires around airport runways and bivouac areas.

South Pacific headquarters announced a medium force of Liberators bombed Buka at the northern tip of Bougainville Island and Kahili at the southern end, starting fires near the runways of airdromes at both places as well as in encampment areas.

A "fairly heavy" force of Dauntless and Avenger bombers, covered by Wildcat fighters, hit the Munda bay area and set off a number of fires in a bivouac area.

All the planes returned safely.

Pilot Rescued In Jungle After Bailing Out

[By the Associated Press]

Somewhere in New Guinea, June 25—While an airplane strafed the waters of a lake to scare off a crocodile that stalked the rescue party, Pilot Lieuteant Paul Yeager was brought out of the tangled jungle into which he had parachuted from a disabled plane during a combat mission.

A harrowing two days and two nights in wild country barely six miles from an advanced American air base was endured by the Nowata (Okla.) pilot of a Lightning fighter plane. He came through the ordeal comparatively unhurt.

JUN 26 1943 JUN 26 1943

Crocodile Follows

Air corps enlisted men carried him part of the way on a crude litter fashioned from poles and blankets. He was taken the remainder of the way across a lake in a rubber life raft—a crocodile following close behind.

Yeager started his experience in a P-38, 20,000 feet in the air while on an alert for interception of enemy aircraft. He found his plane refused to respond to the controls and he dropped quickly to 10,000 feet. So he parachuted.

When other flyers reported the accident, Capt. Sydney S. Woods, Yuma, Ariz., took aloft a tiny Piper cub plane and located Yeager. A machete-swinging rescue party reached him on the third morning.

PRIVATE AT FRONT OFFERS A PRIZE

Somewhere in New Guinea, June 25 (A. P.).—Private Lewis Janoff of Bellaire, L. I., after seeing a magazine photo of a St. Louis woman who had won a War Bond for sitting alone in a theater at midnight to watch a film of "Frankenstein," wrote the manager of the theater offering him a War Bond if he'd come out here and sit in a slit trench alone at midnight — during an enemy air raid.

Puppy Stowaway

Advanced American Base Somewhere in New Guinea, June 25 (AP)—Ugly, a golden cocker spaniel puppy, is accustoming himself to the jungle—after an airplane ride all the way from San Francisco.

Lieut. Thomas R. Waddell, Jr., of Sarasota Springs, Fla., purchased the 8-week-old puppy just before taking off from San Francisco for Australia, and smuggled him aboard the plane under his flying suit.

Axis Ready, Goebbels

JUN 26 1943

New York, June 25—The Axis is prepared "day and night" to meet an Allied invasion of Europe, German Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels asserts in the current issue of Das Reich, according to a Berlin radio broadcast recorded here by the Associated Press.

"We think it quite possible—under certain conditions even quite probable—that the Anglo-American powers will try an invasion on the Continent," he was quoted as writing. "The only question is when and where?"

As for the "war of nerves" being waged by the Allies, Goebbels asserted such a campaign could be successful only against an "inferior" people—not against the Germans.

Strike Curb Vetoed; Higher Draft Age Is Requested

JUN 26 1943

Decree Expected To Drive More Jews From France

New York, June 25—The German propaganda agency, Transocean, declared last night that promulgation of a new decree depriving an estimated 100,000 Jews of French citizenship was expected to "result in a mass exodus of Jews from France."

The order, signed by Pierre Laval, was to become effective Sunday. Under it all Jews naturalized in France since 1927 would be deprived of citizenship rights, the agency said in a dispatch broadcast by the German radio and recorded here by the Associated Press.

Total Number Not Known

The Transocean correspondent declared that the total number of Jews in France can only be roughly estimated, but quoted Darquir de Pellepoix, the Vichy government's delegate for Jewish affairs, as declaring the 499,000 registered for special identity cards, some 100,000 evaded registration as Jews, and that about 100,000 had left France since 1940.

The correspondent said the Jewish population of Paris appeared to have decreased considerably, for he saw fewer yellow stars, which Jews are ordered to wear, on the city's streets.

Hopes For Extension

He expressed hope that the yellow star marking would also be ordered in Southern France "to drive the Jews out of Southern France," where they now are not required to wear the distinguishing marking.

He also asserted that "the black-market trade in Southern France practically is a Jewish monopoly."

Washington, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt today vetoed the Connally-Smith-Harness anti-strike bill.

The Chief Executive said in a message to the Senate that the measure had an entirely praiseworthy purpose but that he was convinced it would in some cases produce strikes "in vital war plants which otherwise would not occur."

Declaring he intended to use the powers of Government to prevent the interruption of war production by strikes, Mr. Roosevelt formally recommended amendment of the Selective Service Act so that persons between 45 and 65 years may be inducted into non-combat military service.

Five minutes after being told by the President that the legislation, while intended to insure continuous war production, instead would hurt production, the Senate voted 56 to 25 to make the bill law over his opposition.

The roll call vote on overriding the veto was as follows:

FOR OVERRIDING—56

Democrat sfor—Andrews, Bankhead, Bilbo, Byrd, Caraway, Chavez, Connally, Eastland, George, Gerry, Hatch, Hayden, Hill, Maloney, Maybank, McClellan, McKellar, O'Daniel, O'Mahoney, Overton, Pepper, Radcliffe, Reynolds, Russell, Smith, Stewart, Thomas (Okla.), Tydings, Van Nuys—29.

Republicans for—Aiken, Brewster, Bridges, Brooks, Buck, Butler, Capper, Ferguson, Gurney, Hawkes, Holman Lodge, McNary, Millikin, Moore, Reed, Revercomb, Robertson, Taft, Thomas (Idaho), Tobey, Vandenberg, Wherry, White, Wiley, Willis, Wilson—27.

AGAINST, 25.

Democrats against—Bone, Clark (Mo.), Downey, Green, Guffey, Johnson (Col.), Kilgore, McCarran, McFarland, Mead, Murdock, Murray, Scrugham, Thomas (Utah), Truman, Tunnell, Wagner, Walsh, Wheeler—19.

Republicans against—Ball, Davis, Langer, Nye, Shipman—5.

Progressive against overriding—LaFollette—1.

Denounced by Labor.

The outgrowth of several years emergency and war-time work stoppages capped by the walkouts of John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers, the bill, known as the Connally-Harness-Smith measure, has been denounced by labor leaders as intended to punish labor and praised by its proponents as a happy solution of a protracted congressional controversy.

The measure now goes to the House for its consideration on whether to override. Whether the House would follow the Senate's lead was uncertain this afternoon. It passed the bill originally by a much smaller proportion of votes than did the Senate.

The President said in a message to the Senate that the measure had an entirely praiseworthy purpose, but that he was convinced that it would in some cases produce strikes "in vital war plants which otherwise would not occur. Declaring that he intended to use the powers of Government to prevent the interruption of war production by strikes, Mr. Roosevelt formally recommended amendment of the selective service act so that persons between 45 and 65 years of age may be inducted into non-combat military service.

Veto Is No Surprise.

He said that he would approve legislation which would truly strengthen the hands of the Government in dealing with strikes harming the war effort and which would prevent defiance of decisions of the War Labor Board.

The President struck heavily at a section of the bill which would make mandatory for the National Labor Relations Board to order secret strike ballot among employees in plants, mines and other facilities thirty days after notice of an intention to strike. This section, he said, "will produce strikes in vital war plants which otherwise would not occur."

He said that it ignores completely labor's no-strike pledge and provides, in effect, for strike notices and strike ballots. These provisions, he contended, "would stimulate labor unrest and give Government sanction to strike agitations."

The veto came as no surprise at the Capitol, since the President had said in a statement on Tuesday that he intended to ask Congress to authorize the use of the selective service act as a club against strikes in war industries. His proposal to use the draft in this manner met with a cool reception in both the Senate and House, and, even before the veto message arrived there was talk of immediate attempts to override the President's action and write the proposal into law.

Text of Anti-Strike Bill Veto

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—The complete text of President Roosevelt's veto message on the anti-strike bill follows:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, S. 796, the so-called war labor disputes bill.

It is not a simple bill, for it covers many subjects. I approve many of the sections; but other sections tend to obscure the issues or to write into war legislation certain extraneous matter which appears to be discriminatory. In the form submitted to me, the accomplishment of its avowed purpose—the prevention of strikes in war time—could well be made more difficult instead of more effective.

Let there be no misunderstanding of the reasons which prompt me to veto this bill at this time.

I am unalterably opposed to strikes in war time. I do not hesitate to use the powers of government to prevent them.

It is clearly the will of the American people that, for the duration of the war, all labor disputes be settled by orderly procedures established by law. It is the will of the American people that no war work be interrupted by strike or lockout.

American labor, as well as American business, gave their "no-strike, no-lockout" pledge after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

"Pledge Has Been Well Kept"

That pledge has been well kept except in the case of the leaders of the United Mine Workers. For the entire year of 1942 the time lost by strikes averaged only five one-hundredth of 1 per cent of the total man hours worked. The American people should realize that fact—that 99.95 per cent of the work went forward without strikes and that only five one-hundredths of 1 per cent of the work was delayed by strikes. That record has never before been equaled in this country. It is as good as or better than the record of any of our allies in war time.

But laws are often necessary to make a very small minority of the people live up to the standards that the great majority of people follow. Recently there has been interruption of work in the coal industry, even after it was taken over by the government. I understand and sympathize with the general purpose of the war disputes bill to make such interruptions clearly unlawful.

The first seven sections of the bill are directed to this objective.

Section 1 provides that the act may be cited as a war labor disputes act.

Section two relates to definitions.

Section three gives statutory authority to the President to seize war facilities—a power already exercised on several occasions under executive order or proclamation.

Sections four and five of the bill provide for maintaining existing terms and conditions of employment except as directed by the War Labor Board.

Section six makes it a criminal offense to instigate, direct or aid a strike in a government-operated plant or mine.

Powers of W. L. B. Defined

This would make possible the arrest of a few leaders who would give bond for their appearance at trial. It would assure punishment for those found guilty, and might also have some deterent effect. But it would not assure continuance of war production in the most critical emergencies.

Section Seven gives the National War Labor Board statutory authority and defines its powers.

Broadly speaking, these sections incorporate into statute the existing machinery for settling disputes. The penalties provided by the act do not detract from the moral sanctions of labor's no-strike pledge.

If the bill were limited to these seven sections, I would sign it.

But the bill contains other provisions which have no place in legislation to prevent strikes in war time and which, in fact, would foment slow-downs and strikes.

I doubt whether the public generally are familiar with these provisions. I doubt whether the Congress had the opportunity fully to appraise the effects of these provisions upon war production.

Section eight requires the representatives of employees of a war contractor to give notice of a labor dispute which threatens seriously to interrupt war production to the Secretary of Labor, the National War Labor Board and the National Labor Relations Board in order to give the employees the opportunity to express themselves by secret ballot whether they will permit

JUN 26 1943

1943

30 24- 5387

30.24- 5387

such interruption of war production.

Strike Ballot Mandatory

It would force a labor leader who is trying to prevent a strike in accordance with his no-strike pledge, to give the notice which would cause the taking of a strike ballot and might actually precipitate a strike.

In war time we cannot sanction strikes with or without notice.

Section eight further makes it mandatory that the National Labor Relations Board on the thirtieth day after the giving of the notice take a secret ballot among the employees in the "plants, mines, facilities, bargaining unit or bargaining units," as the case may be, on the question of whether they will stop work. This requirement would open the whole controversy over "bargaining units," a fruitful sources of controversy and of bitter jurisdictional strife.

Section eight ignores completely labor's "no-strike" pledge and provides, in effect, for strike notices and strike ballots. Far from discouraging strikes, these provisions would stimulate labor unrest and give government sanction to strike agitations.

The thirty days allowed before the strike vote is taken under government auspices might well become a boiling period instead of a cooling period. The thought and energies of the workers would be diverted from war production to vote getting.

The heads of our military, naval and production agencies have testified that these provisions are likely to be subversive of the very purpose of the bill—uninterrupted production.

Bans Political Contributions

Section nine of the bill prohibits for the period of the war political contributions by labor organizations. This provision obviously has no relevancy to a bill prohibiting strikes during the war in plants operated by the government or to a "war labor" disputes act." If there be merit in the prohibition, it should not be confined to war time, and careful consideration should be given to the appropriateness of extending the prohibition to other non-profit organizations.

There should be no misunderstanding—I intend to use the powers of government to prevent the interruption of war production by strikes. I shall approve legislation that will truly strengthen the hands of government in dealing with such strikes, and will prevent the defiance of the National War Labor Board decisions.

I recommend that the selective service act be amended so that persons may be inducted into non-combat military service up to the age of sixty-five years. This will enable us to induct into military service all persons who engage in strikes or stoppages or other interruptions of work in plants in the possession of the United States.

This direct approach is necessary to insure the continuity of war work. The only alternative would be to extend the principle of selective service and make it universal in character.

I recognize that this bill has an entirely praiseworthy purpose to insure full war production. But I am convinced that section eight will produce strikes in vital war plants which otherwise would not occur. Therefore, I could not properly discharge the duties of my office if I were to approve S. 796.

absentee Congressmen must share the blame for a major national disaster equivalent to a real military defeat for democracy.

"The duty of labor at this time remains clear. We will continue to stand firmly behind the Commander in Chief and carry forward the fight for complete and speedy victory. In the same spirit of contribution to national victory, organized labor will carry on the fight to strengthen the home front.

We will help the people of America to make articulate their resentment against this sniping and war sabotage by the groups which sponsored this measure.

"That resentment will inevitably reach every corner of Congress and bring about the repeal of a measure of this type and an end to this harassment of the Commander in Chief and this attempted sabotage of the people's will to victory."

MINE DEADLINE IS DISREGARDED

Murray Brands Anti-Strike Law Sneak Attack, Predicts Repeal

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, said tonight "absentee Congressmen must share the blame for a major national disaster" in the Congressional overturning of President Roosevelt's veto of the war labor disputes act. He predicted popular resentment over the Congressional action will bring about repeal of the measure.

Mr. Murray's full statement:

"In vetoing the Smith-Connally bill President Roosevelt has demonstrated once more his sound understanding of the nature of the democracy for which we are fighting and the need for full mobilization of the nation for victory.

"It is a tragic fact that the absence of a number of members of Congress made it possible for a Congressional clique to engineer a sneak attack on the Commander in Chief by rushing through the overriding of the veto within minutes of its announcement. The

BY PRESIDENT

JUN 26 1943

Says He Will Not Recognize October 31 Limit Date Set by Lewis.

HE WANTS COAL MINED

Pit Owners Meet With Ickes, Who Expects to Be in Charge for a Considerable Period.

Washington, June 25 (A. P.).—President Roosevelt said today that he would not recognize or accept an October 31 deadline set by the United Mine Workers for continued coal production in Government-operated mines. He told a press conference that he merely was trying to see that coal was mined and that this had to be done some way. He added that many of us get away from the fact we are at war and the life of a nation is very much at stake.

Meanwhile approximately thirty top-ranking executives of major coal mining interests met behind closed doors today with Secretary Ickes, who called them here preliminary to strengthening his control over management of the nation's mines in the expectation he would operate them for a considerable period.

With few exceptions the mine interests were represented by company presidents, whom Mr. Ickes had summoned with the notation that proxies or substitutes are not expected. One exception was the Republic Steel Company of Cleveland, whose general counsel, Thomas Patton, substituted for R. J. Wysor, president.

Those present included Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel, probably the biggest coal operator in the country with its so-called captive mines. Some brought along aids. All were silent as they entered the conference room.

Two of those invited sent word that they would not attend because transportation was unavailable. These were Robert A. Young, Fort Smith, Ark., and Hooper Love, Earlington, Ky.

Charles O'Neill, R. L. Ireland and Ralph Jamison, who served on the committee for the operators associations in the long but futile negotiations with the United Mine Workers, accepted invitations to the meeting.

Mr. Ickes, who said he wanted to get the owners' views and suggestions, had told reporters he invited the mine executives individually rather than have the operator associations send representatives because, he said, he wanted principals and not paid secretaries.

Mr. Ickes opened the meeting with a brief statement, aids reported, then withdrew so the private mine operators, at their request, could caucus to discuss what the Secretary said.

There was not a word on the nature of Mr. Ickes's statement, and his aids replied "no comment," when asked if the Government mine boss had outlined any program for future operation of the mines.

WLB Demands Enforcement.

The War Labor Board went to James F. Byrnes, war mobilization director, today with a stern request that the Government compel the United Mine Workers to comply fully with the board's order or that punishment be imposed.

Board members told Mr. Byrnes that the country's largest corporations, U. S. Steel (in the Federal Shipbuilding case) and General Motors, complied with WLB orders, however, reluctantly, but that in the coal case only the operators have been penalized. Their mines have been seized although they are ready to obey the WLB.

Full compliance would mean the signing of a two-year contract containing a pledge not to strike for the duration of the war. The contract handed down by the board would permit reopening of the wage clauses in the interim, but otherwise it is the 1941-43 Appalachian agreement plus some concessions such as higher vacation payments, and free tools and equipment.

WLB members said penalties against the miners were not intended, but that the union, as such, should be brought to book for defiance. The penalties might take the form of a suspension of the dues check-off or freezing of the U. M. W. treasury.

Decision Is Made.

The board also made plain that it has finally determined the controversy between the miners and the operators and all that remains is a matter of enforcement. This was taken to mean that retroactive liabilities against the operators are no longer accruing, unless, of course, the miners sue successfully in court for portal-to-portal pay under the wage and hour law.

The WLB demand for Mr. Lewis's signature on a contract pointed up the long-standing difference in outlook between its members and Secretary Ickes, the only Government agent Mr. Lewis has recognized as having any authority. Mr. Ickes is the boss of the mines under Federal operation.

Mr. Ickes told reporters he could see no way to make any private individual or group sign an agreement and, when asked if he favored a law that would compel them to do so, expressed doubt that any legislative body would pass one or that it would be constitutional.

PRESIDENT SAYS HE IS OPPOSED TO FOOD CZAR

Asserts Question Is Whether We Are for or Against Inflation.

JUN 26 1943

RESPONSIBILITY ON CONGRESS

Denies Rumor That Chester Davis Already Has Submitted His Resignation.

Washington, June 25 (A. P.).—President Roosevelt spoke out again today against the setting up of a so-called food czar and said that the question at issue is whether we are for inflation or against it. He told a press conference that Congress could take the path toward inflation if it wanted to, but that if it did, the responsibility would rest 100 per cent on the legislators.

Suggestions that some one have complete authority over all phases of the food program he characterized as close to a red herring. The real question, he said, is whether prices are to be kept down and whether we want to go into an inflationary spiral or not.

Suppose we had the Angel Gabriel as a food czar, the President remarked. How is he going to get more food to the people at the present cost?

Speaks Sarcastically.

Sure, he went on, we all favor growing more in 1944, that would be grand, but he said that it would not take care of late 1943 or early 1944 and that Congress could not take care of that period, a food czar on Capitol Hill, M[illegible] asserted, think that way to use up sur[plus] power is to let prices [rise] and, speaking in a sar[castic] ner, he said that he [would] some one on the radio suggest the same thing.

This latter person, Mr. Roosevelt said, asserted that the richer people would be able to pay higher prices and the poor would suffer, but that surplus buying power would be eliminated. Mr. Roosevelt agreed that the pooper people certainly would suffer under such conditions.

Describing what he meant by an inflationary spiral in response to a question, the President said that the cost of food is about a third of a family's income and, with larger wages, everybody is eating more at greatly increased prices. People with the largest financial gains, he said, have a surplus of funds even after buying their War Bond quotas and, if prices keep going up, a lot of people, most of them relatively small wage earners, will have to spend a great deal more for food.

Davis Resignation Denied.

Then they will demand more pay and probably get it, he said, which would mean that production costs and costs to farmers would go up. That would lead to requests for higher wages, he said, then costs to farmers would rise again, and so on.

The President entered a denial when asked about reports that Food Administrator Chester Davis had submitted his resignation because he felt that he has inadequate powers. Mr. Roosevelt said that the last he had heard from Mr. Davis was when he asked the administrator if the latter would like to run the Office of Price Administration and Mr. Davis replied: "God forbid."

"It has been said he wants to control farm prices," a reporter said. "Is there any decision on that?"

No, the President responded, but suppose he did control them, or a czar controlled them, what would happen to the cost of food to consumers? Would he keep the cost down to present levels or let the cost go higher? Somebody has to answer that question, he declared.

JUN 26 1943

Bad Oil Shortage Ahead, Navy Chief Asserts

JUN 26 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 25—With Navy Secretary Knox signifying complete agreement with the procedure, the House Naval Committee decided today to order a full investigation into the navy's oil policy in general and its now abrogated Elk Hills contract in particular.

The House Public Lands Committee is already investigating the Elk Hills matter.

The Naval Committee acted after Knox appeared before it to explain the contract he made with Standard Oil of California for joint development of the big Elk Hills reserve. He subsequently canceled that contract when the Justice Department ruled it "illegal and invalid."

"I Muffed It There"

When the Secretary appeared later before the Public Lands Committee, Representative White (D., Idaho) asked for an explanation of the delay between an Interior Department opinion last March on validity of the contract and the actual cancellation last week.

Knox replied that he had immediately taken up the question with the President after receiving the Interior Department opinion and added:

"I regret that I did not ask the opinion of the Justice Department before I sent the contract to the President for approval. I should have done so. I just muffed it there."

In response to another question, he said the navy and Standard Oil had mutually agreed to rescind the contract, but meanwhile were working under "a temporary agreement" pending final settlement of the question.

Sees Crude Oil Shortage

Knox told the naval committee that the nation faced a shortage of crude oil, which likely would become serious late this year "and most certainly next year." He emphasized his interest in conserving reserves and expanding sources of supply.

A statement by Knox that condemnation proceedings in Elk Hills would undoubtedly involve lengthy litigation and the posting of a large sum to cover Standard's interests in the field, coincided with release of the Justice Department's report on the navy contracts in which condemnation was recommended.

Justice Dept. Report

That report, prepared by Assistant Attorney General Norman M. Littell, was presented to the Public Lands Committee. It termed the contract "a masterpiece of equivocation" which was "illegal and invalid" not only under the Oil Conservation Act of 1938, but also under the War Powers Acts.

Its terms, he said, called for a pooling of approximately 8,300 acres of land owned by Standard Oil with approximately 35,175 acres owned by the Government, without taking into consideration that water seepage into Standard's share had impaired the value of the company's holdings.

Recommendations

The report recommended:

That action be taken to cause Standard to cease all activities under the contract.

That Standard's interest in the reserve be acquired by condemnation.

That demand be made on Standard for an accounting for the crude oil extracted under the contract and for damages, if any, for the use of the Government's property and equipment.

"No Time For Legalisms"

After Knox's Naval Committee testimony, Acting Chairman Drewry (D., Va.) asked him: "Do you agree that we should go into this whole situation thoroughly?"

"Yes," Knox responded.

He told the committee that "this is no time for two departments of the Government to be engaged in a legalistic dispute. When we were told by the Justice Department that the contract was invalid, that was that, and we rescinded. We could not waste any time over legalisms."

Abe Fortas "Distressed"

Knox disclosed that he had received a letter from Abe Fortas, Under Secretary of the Interior, who conducted an inquiry into the contract for Interior Secretary Ickes, in which Fortas said he was "distressed" over some of the comment revocation of the contract provoked, and "particularly at references to the Teapot Dome leases."

Fortas, Knox said, was "indignant" that a difference of opinion over the contract should be distorted so as to impute collusion or improper conduct, however indirect that imputation may be."

"We're In A War"

Representative Maas (Rep., Minn.), ranking minority member, asked Knox whether he "still stood on the deal."

"We're in a war now," replied the Secretary. "Let's not squabble over this particular contract, over the dotting of an i.' Let's get a contract that will be approved."

Knox told the committee that the naval officials who handled the arrangements leading up to the contract were all experienced men in the oil field, a statement which drew comment from Representative Mott (R., Ore.) that that was "a little bit in contrast" with the Justice Department.

"Must Expand Reserve"

The Secretary appeared later before the Public Lands Committee to repeat the statements made before the naval group.

Knox said it was of "the first importance that we have an adequate reserve," and added that national policy dictates that we expand our reserve outside the continental United States "in every way possible."

"Some immediate attention must be given to the immediate conservation of this invaluable material—we must maintain storage of oil in the ground," he said as he swung into an explanation of the Elk-Hills contract.

Three Elk Hills Possibilities

He said the situation at Elk Hills offered three choices: Purchase of Standard's property, condemnation through court proceedings, or an arrangement for its joint development.

He said the Navy Department had "tried" purchase but the company wanted $210,000,000 for its interest. He termed that "excessive."

Condemnation, he said, would have involved posting with the courts the estimated value of Standard's interest. He foresaw long litigation and said that "in view of the huge demand on the taxpayers as a result of the war," he felt it would be unwise to tie up the money.

Knox declared that the "choice we made"—a joint agreement—was made on the grounds that it satisfied the present need for oil and avoided posting large sums of money.

Labor Issues Ultimatum On Prices

JUN 26 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 25—CIO President Philip Murray served notice on a Congressional committee today that unless an effective roll-back and subsidy program is operating by July 15, organized labor would be compelled to demand that the hold-the-line order against inflation and the "Little Steel" wage formula be scrapped.

Murray delivered the ultimatum before a special Congressional committee studying consumer problems.

Asks Quick Action

Insisting that Congress support the President's price roll-back program, supported by subsidies, he said that labor could not meet increased living costs under present wage ceilings unless Congress acted immediately.

He was followed by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York, who testified that "hell will break loose in this country" unless "Congress gives immediate attention" to to the food and price situation.

"What other course is there for labor to follow?" Murray asked after stating labor's position. He said he spoke for all organized labor in demanding that something be done to hold down living costs.

Congress Accused

Murray accused Congress of having failed to "live up to its commitments" to stabilize prices and hold down living costs.

With signs pointing toward a close vote on the question of prohibiting food subsidies, Senator Capper (R., Kan.) charged in the Senate that the Administration's price rollback program would force the soldiers on world-wide fronts to pay part of the cost of feeding civilians at home.

Backs Clark Measure

Declaring that price-reducing subsidies would be more likely to decrease than increase agricultural production, Capper urged adoption of an amendment by Senator Clark (D., Mo.) which would alter pending legislation to prevent such payments.

Speaking shortly after President Roosevelt had told his press conference that Congress must assume the responsibility if it takes the path toward inflation, the Kansas Senator told his colleagues the chief effect of the food subsidy plan would be to "transfer to the public Treasury a part of the consumers' cost of living."

Points To Result

"Briefly," Capper declared, "it proposes to charge part of the cost of the food we civilians eat to future generations to pay—our men in the armed forces who return to civilian life will be required to help pay for the food we civilians consume while they are risking their lives in this global war."

Capper said he thought it "a high price to pay for reducing the consumer's butter bill 65 cents a year" if the subsidy experiment actually reduces food production, as he said it had in the case of meat and dairy products.

Food Czar Urged

President Roosevelt's reiterated opposition today to establishment of a food director with centralized authority over production, distribution, rationing and prices was met by a new demand in the Senate from Senator Wherry (R., Neb.) for creation of such a czar.

Senator Taft (R., Ohio) argued that Congress ought to draw a "reasonable and logical line" for payment of subsidies, and Senator Ball (R., Minn.) told the Senate it ought not to vote against all subsidies.

"If we do," Ball declared, "we're simply saying to the country that we don't think the Administration has the right answer—but we don't, either. We are offering no constructive plan."

O'Mahoney Explains Bill

Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) asked immediate enactment of a measure to place the entire food program under the Price Control Act in the hands of the War Food Administrator.

Until the food administrator took control of the program, O'Mahoney's legislation would permit continuation of the present subsidy-rollback on meats, butter and coffee.

O'Mahoney told the Senate the purpose of his proposal are to maintain agricultural production, prohibit a rollback on the producer, and to "give control of agriculture problems to those who understand them."

Clark Assails Jones

Meanwhile, Senator Clark told the Senate that Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones ought to be impeached for what Clark termed "indecent lobbying" in opposition to a proposal to prohibit price-reducing food subsidies.

Clark's statement followed the reading by the Senate clerk of a letter from Jones to Senator Johnson (D., Colo.) declaring that commitments already had been made for payment of $450,000,000 in subsidies on meat, butter and coffee, and urging that those commitments, at least, be carried out.

Calls Statement Untrue

Declaring that this statement is not true, Clark told his colleagues "this is an exhibition of indecent lobbying."

"I think it something for which Secretary Jones could be impeached by the House," Clark shouted, "and if he were, I would vote to convict him."

Sub Lost During Atlantic Training

JUN 26 1943

Washington, D. C., June 25 (AP).—Loss of the submarine R-12 while engaged in training exercises off the East Coast was announced tonight by the Navy.

The R-12 had a normal complement of 28 men, but the Navy indicated some of these were saved after the sinking. The Navy said the loss probably was due to accident and not enemy action.

The sinking, the time of which was placed only as "recently," raised to nine the number of United States submarines lost since Pearl Harbor.

The Navy said the depth of water makes it impossible to salvage the submarine and hope has been abandoned for recovery of the bodies of the missing personnel.

"Announcement of this incident was withheld until attempts to locate and raise the R-12 were discontinued, in order that enemy submarines might not be given information that would enable them to attack the salvage vessels," the Navy announcement said.

Highest Honor For Marine

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 25—Second Lieutenant Mitchell Paige of the marines, who manned machine guns when all of the men in his command were killed or wounded on Guadalcanal and then led reinforcements in a bayonet charge against the Japanese, is getting a Congressional Medal of Honor.

Paige, of Dravosburg, Pa., was a platoon sergeant at the time, commanding a section of machnie guns during a heavy attack by the Japanese last October

Enemy Broke Through

The navy, telling today of the award of the country's highest decoration, said:

"The enemy succeeded in breaking through the American line directly in front of his position, and, in the charge, killed or wounded all the men in his command.

"Left alone, Paige immediately manned the guns of his section and, when they were put out of action, secured another from a near-by unit and returned to his position under heavy fire. Single-handed, he repelled the enemy charge until reinforcements arrived, when he led the newly arrived troops in a bayonet charge which forced the Japanese back and restored the battle line."

30 24- 5389

30-24- 5389

NAVY HONORS EMMONS

It Awards General the D. S. M. for Hawaiian Services

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The Navy has awarded the Distinguished Service Medal to Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, upon the recommendation of President Roosevelt, for his services as commander of military forces of the United States in the Central Pacific.

The citation accompanying the medal praised General Emmons "for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service" and stated that during his period of command "he quickly erected a strong defense of the Hawaiian area, releasing thereby the United States Pacific Fleet for early aggressive action against the enemy."

General Emmons, born June 17, 1888, at Huntington, W. Va., was graduated from the Military Academy in 1909. He also holds the Army's Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal.

President Wants 2d Front, Too

Washington, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today that he is just as strong as the Russians are for a second front and that everybody is agreed on that issue.

Reporters reminded him at a press conference that the Russian Government again had raised its voice in a demand for a second front, and he said that his was just as strong as theirs. He did not amplify the point in any manner.

Mrs. Luce Vs. Roosevelt

Washington, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt had no comment today on an address in the House yesterday in which Representative Clare Boothe Luce (R., Conn.) called him an isolationist.

He was asked whether he had heard what Mrs. Luce said about him and replied in the negative. With a grin, he asked whether she took his name in van.

Away In 1st Sea Test

JUN 26 1943

Radar—the radio "eyes" which enable our army and navy to spot enemy ships and planes in fog or darkness at great distances—underwent a thorough test at sea early in 1939. Scientist Robert M. Page, who mainly developed the modern equipment, and a crew of assistants went along to operate the pioneer set. John M. Hightower takes up the story at that point in this fifth of a series of dispatches.

By John M. Hightower

[Copyright, 1943, by the Associated Press]

Washington, June 25—The tests begun aboard the battleship New York in 1938 were crucial in the history of United States naval radar.

The reaction of practical, hard-headed line officers to the way the equipment performed appeared likely to determine its fate for some years to come.

The Fun Begins

If results were poor, the scientists knew, then the navy's fighting men probably would not be interested in radar for a long time to come. To win acceptance, it had to be good.

Page headed the operating crew which went out on the New York, taking with him Robert C. Guthrie, M. E. Reppert and A. A. Varela. They hardly had cleared the Virginia capes out of Norfolk, when the fun began.

Admiral Becomes Impatient

A destroyer squadron had been assigned to make a torpedo attack on the battleship under cover of darkness and Page recalls now that the night was very black indeed. From about sunset on, he and his men stood by their radar waiting to pick up the destroyers. They did not know from what direction the attack was coming. They had to keep a 360-degree lookout.

Several hours after they went on the alert, the Atlantic squadron commander, Vice-Admiral Alfred W. Johnson, showed up in the control room. He watched and watched the radar indicator. For a time, which to Page seemed endless, nothing happened. Finally the admiral lost patience. He knew the time of attack and he evidently decided the destroyers were closing in through the darkness without being discovered. He turned to go, then decided to wait a few minutes longer.

Just about that time the first signal came in.

"There it is," exclaimed the admiral, pointing to the indicator. The destroyers still were eight miles away. The effect on the admiral was electric. From that moment on he was a radar enthusiast.

Capt. (now rear admiral) Robert M. Griffin, skipper of the battle wagon, was similarly impressed.

Radar Wins Friends

"After that," Page says, "anything we wanted them to do on the New York, they would do it if it was possible." The ship never encountered fog, but it often ran through rain. Radar picked up everything important which was within range, including on one occasion the mountain peaks of a distant shoreline.

When the cruise ended, Admiral Johnson made a report:

"The equipment is one of the most important radio developments since the advent of radio itself."

Back in the navy's Bureau of Engineering the scientists, Rear Admiral Harold G. Bowen and other navy authorities decided the time had come to develop additional radar sets, but with the understanding that the branching out into quantity would not in any way interfere with further progress in the improvement of quality.

Commercial Manufacture

Two of the major electronics laboratories of the country—those operated by Bell Telephone and Radio Corporation of America—had by then been interested in radio detection work, and this meant the way was clear for commercial manufacture.

On a bid basis, the first contracts were let to RCA in October, 1939—a month after the outbreak of the war in Europe. "We sent the XAF up to their place," Dr. Taylor says, "and we told them that we wanted six Chinese copies—not a thing changed. They did a fine job."

From that time on, the Bureau of Engineering under Admiral Robinson, who was aided by Capt. A. J. Spriggs and such enthusiasts as Commander Sam Tucker, devoted considerable effort toward increasing production.

Bureau Of Ships

The Bureau of Ships, formed in 1940 by consolidation of Bureau of Engineering and Bureau of Construction and Repair, and headed by Admirals S. M. Robinson and A. H. van Keuren, continued this work, as did Capt. J. B. Dow when he succeeded Spriggs in charge of the bureau's radio unit.

Later the radar business of the navy as well as that of the army became so great that first the navy's own Office of Production and Material, and later the War Production Board, took over coordination of orders and output.

New Committee Interested

It was about this time, too, that another Government agency got into another phase of radar work. The National Defense Research Committee through its laboratories was asked to make and did deliver to the navy certain important contributions to radio detection.

Shortly after the first RCA contract for the original six commercially made radar sets, fourteen more were ordered. These first twenty went on battleships, aircraft carriers and cruisers as rapidly as they were produced. Bowen, who had most to do with interesting the private companies in radar research and production, is especially proud of their work.

"That's the best way to do it," he said recently. "Develop the idea and produce a prototype in the laboratory and the niet the other fellows make it. The private companies could not have done the radar research through all those years. Some of their men told me their directors just wouldn't stand for the expense on a project which initially held so little chance of commercial development."

Not Ideal Sets

Both Bowen and Taylor say that the first radar sets sent out to the fleet were short of ideal, but they agreed that with the increasing possibility of American involvement in the war, they had to do the best they could with what they had.

"We knew that some of the stuff would have to be junked as soon as it could be replaced," Bowen says. "But we wanted to get it installed before it might be needed. The longest chance we took was with the navy men. If a new gadget doesn't work well, they may lose confidence in it and not use it. Naturally we did not want that to happen with radar."

History proves he need not have worried about the navy's reception of its new "eyes."

Equipping Ships

One of those who made many of the installations was Guthrie. He started the work in December, 1940—a year before Pearl Harbor—and spent the next six months with the Pacific fleet, equipping ships and showing officers and men how to operate the sets at sea.

"The response we got at first was rather interesting," Guthrie recalls. "Some ship's companies were very enthusiastic about radar, and some were rather cool toward it."

One of the vessels Guthrie served on was the battleship California. He boarded her at Puget Sound to go down to Mare Island, where she was to join the fleet. Just out of the sound she ran into a thick fog. It seemed that the arrival at Mare Island would be greatly delayed, since the captain was not disposed to risk harming his ship or running down somebody else. He would have to proceed at greatly reduced speed.

However, the radar was working and the captain was greatly interested in it. Soon he noticed that every little fishing boat for miles around showed up on the indicator. That convinced him of what radar could do for navigation in a fog. He ordered "full steam ahead" and arrived at Mare Island on time.

Another ship on which radar was installed early was the aircraft carrier Yorktown. An RCA man handled that job and returned on the carrier to Long Beach. While they still were several hundred miles at sea, all sorts of weird wave-pattern disturbances began to show up on the indicator. Neither the RCA man nor the Yorktown officers could explain—until finally they realized that radar was "showing" them the California coastal mountains.

Guthrie's Job Well Done

"Mr. Guthrie did an especially splendid job in getting these early installations in the fleet and seeing that someboly knew how to operate them," Taylor said one day in Guthrie's presence.

Guthrie looked thoughtful for a moment, then grinned.

"I had trouble on one occasion," he said. "We had put radar on a cruiser, and the executive officer didn't think much of it. About the first day out he came to the control room to see what it could do. We picked up a flight of planes all right and then we got something else. He went outside to look off in the direction from which the signal came and there wasn't anything there but a cloud.

Picked Up The Cloud

"'You must have picked up the cloud,' the executive said.

"'No,' I said, 'this thing looks right through clouds.'

"So he waited and waited for something to come out of the cloud but nothing did. Then he asked me to try to pick up several other clouds on the horizon. I tried, but got no signals, and I couldn't explain then what had happened." I'm afraid he had little faith in radar for a while after that.

"Now, of course, we know that the cloud was ionized (surcharged with electricity). We were getting reflections like those from the ionosphere in the old days."

Radar Finds Ships 8 Miles

JUN 26 1943

Record Air Blows to Blast Italy, Newsman Says

By the Associated Press

Boston, June 25.—A prediction that American and British airmen will give Italy "a hammering such as no country has ever received before" came today from Edward Kennedy, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, after a tour of war coverage unparalleled in the Middle Eastern and North African theaters.

Kennedy, sun-tanned, lean and hardened, holds a record as the only newspaperman who covered the Middle Eastern and North African wars from the time the first shot was fired by Italy in 1940 until the last German surrendered in Tunisia. He gave his views on returning on his first vacation since before the war.

"Conditions are perfect for giving the Italians a terrific pasting from the air," he said. "The skies are so blue, with few clouds and no fog, that the amazing American bomb sight is operating with uncanny accuracy. Distances are short, enemy resistance is light and Allied casualties are comparatively few. The United Statese Air Forces already have done a job of bombing that has been unequaled in this war.

Invasion Troops Ready, He Says

"In my opinion, the African campaign was not a second front. It was a first front, for it kept the Mediterranean open, exposed the Axis' Achilles heel—Italy—to attack, and established a shelf of aggression 2500 miles long from which a death blow can be launched at the Axis. A large, well-trained force is ready and they have terrific supplies."

Here are some of the thoughts of a war correspondent as he retraced a blood-stained route from Spain to the Balkans and the Middle East in an interview here:

"It was in Spain that I first saw the German 88-mm. gun. The Nazis used the Spanish War as a testing ground for this weapon, improving it markedly. And up until nine months ago it was the best gun in Africa.

"The German 88-mm. main reason behind all of the B ish reverses in Africa. It could outrange the British guns, and they made the error of trying to throw tank against tank—a sort of 'Charge of the Light Brigade'—while the Germans smashed them from distances they couldn't reach.

American Guns Turn Tide

"The American 90-mm. and 155-mm. guns changed all this. It was the 155's which pounded Mateur to pieces from 10 to 12 miles away, and really opened the gateway for the final American drive.

"After Spain, I went to Rome and was there when Mussolini announced that he would not go into the war immediately. At that moment he reached the height of his popularity. It was the first and last time he could have been elected President of Italy.

One of the worst days was an Easter Sunday near a tiny village on the River Lethe. The villagers were cooking their Easter lamb. Then the bombers came—150 of them by twos and threes, steadily for an hour and a half until there was little or nothing left.

"After returning to Egypt and moving back and forth across the desert, the turn of the war finally

JUN 26 1943

...Alamein.
...e British by then had learned ...l of the German tricks. They had achieved the coordination of the Afrika Korps. Man for man they were more courageous and better fighters than the Germans. And above all they had learned to rely on guns rather than tanks alone."

Grew Asserts Japan Attacked Allies Too Late

JUN 26 1943

Says China Spoiled Timing; Wants Foe's Militarism Cult Crushed for Good

BUFFALO, June 25 (AP).—Japan attacked the United States and Britain too late, former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew said here tonight, and the reason for this fatal error in timing was the unexpectedly stiff resistance of China.

In an address prepared for delivery under the auspices of the Office of Civilian Defense, Mr. Grew recalled that Americans for a while were so impressed by this Chinese resistance to Japanese aggression that they over-estimated its effectiveness and imagined Japan was bogged down and bled white in a futile struggle to conquer 400,000,000 people.

After the Pearl Harbor and Singapore attacks, opinion swung to the opposite extreme.

Actually, Mr. Grew asserted, what happened was that China's stubborn defense weakened the momentum of Japan's military machine to an extent that "the Japanese started their wider aggression too late for it to have even the slightest hope of ultimate success."

At the same time, however, this resistance had the effect of accelerating the full mobilization of Japan and of hardening Japan's troops in the furnace of actual war, with the result that it was a veteran army which lunged out at the Philippines, the Netherlands East Indies and Malaya. Japan also utilized this period of long-drawn-out campaigning in China to build up its stockpiles of strategic materials through heavy imports of oil, cotton, chemicals, scrap iron and other war-vital products offered on the world market by future enemies.

Such systematic preparation for war and anything which war might bring came natural to the Japanese, Mr. Grew pointed out, for preparedness has always been an obsession with them — even during periods of determined isolationism and peace.

After more than 200 years of isolation and peace, when Commodore Matthew Calbraith Perry knocked at the door and Japan awoke to the possibilities of modern trade and civilization, the first thing the Japanese tried to modernize was their capacity to make war. Their war against China in 1895 proved the efficacy of modernization, their attack on Russia in 1904 put them in the company of the great powers, the first world war gave them new bases in the Pacific and added prestige, and by 1931 they were ready to go places.

Thus history shows, Mr. Grew warned, that merely defeating Japan will not end the Japanese menace.

"They know," he said, "that we can take their navy, demobilize their army, control their industry, limit their trade, strip their fortifications, and even occupy part of their country without disturbing their war-making capacity if we fail to stamp out the tradition of militarism."

FIND LOST BOMBER

Wendover Field, Utah, June 25 (A. P.).—The wreckage of a heavy bomber, missing since January from Wendover Field, was discovered yesterday in the Humboldt Mountains about twenty-five miles southwest of Wells, Nev.

Lieut. Alphonse J. Madden, public relations officer for the field, said the four-engined plane had disappeared on a routine training flight on January 2. He said all members of the crew of ten were killed when the plane crashed into a rocky peak.

The dead included:

CASEY, CYRIL J., second lieutenant, pilot; mother, Mrs. M. Casey, 96 Prospect Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

KARNSPAN, JAMES A., sergeant; father, Adolphe S. Karnspan, 4817 47th street, Woodside, L. I., N. Y.

Faster Building Of Faster Ships

Los Angeles, June 25 (AP)—Speed, says Rear Admiral Howard L. Vickery, vice-chairman of the United States Maritime Commission, plays a dual role in the American Merchant Marine.

Speed in construction will raise the merchant fleet's tonnage to 20,000,000 by the year's end—a tonnage greater than Britain's, he told California Shipbuilding Corporation employes yesterday.

And the new victory freighter, he said, will travel fifteen to eighteen knots, against twelve knots for the present model. Such ships need not be escorted, and can make a round trip on the North Atlantic in twenty-one days instead of sixty, he said.

NINE JAP SUBS BLASTED EARLY

West Coast Vigilance Kept Supply Lines Open.

Los Angeles, June 25 (A. P.).—The concerted action of alert Coast Guard cutters and Army and Navy planes blasted at least nine and possibly eleven Jap submarines to the bottom off the Pacific Coast shortly after Pearl Harbor.

The Los Angeles Times said today that a tabulation of the sub sinkings, although not officially confirmed by the Navy, was based upon substantial data. The Los Angeles Examiner said that Japan's plans for snapping United States supply lines for Hawaii and Australia were smashed almost within sight of the California and Oregon coasts. Most of the action, the newspapers said, occurred not far off Los Angeles harbor.

Campaign Stopped Quickly.

The campaign against the Nipponese pig boats followed closely upon the attack in the early days of the war on six American freighters not far off the coast. Within a short time the enemy underseas campaign in American waters was abandoned altogether.

The Coast Guard patrol boat Hermes sports a gold star on her funnel, showing she has a submarine to her credit.

This sinking presumably was in California waters. She is said to be entitled to another for dropping depth charges successfully, a month after she bagged sub No. 1, within sight of California shores.

The Perseus, sister ship of the Hermes, is reported to have sent another sub with the Rising Sun emblem to the bottom in January, 1942.

Plane Pilot Sighted Sub.

A California commercial airline pilot also is credited with sighting a Jap sub on the surface and radioing an alarm. Navy flyers from San Diego swooped upon the craft and dispatched it. Two more subs are listed as having been destroyed off California, one by plane, the other jointly by plane and surface patrol action. action.

Other underwater raiders are reported to have been sent to the bottom in northern California and Oregon waters by planes and surface craft. One of these was blasted three days after the war began.

The compilation made for the newspapers does not include sub sinkings by Army planes, which, the Times said, "have been equally effective."

JUN 26 1943

ON THE OPPOSITE FLANK, THE 300-PLANE U.S. BOMB SHOWER UPON SARDINIA REMINDED ITALIANS SHARPLY OF THE ALLIED FORCES GATHERED ON THE NORTH AFRICAN COAST.

FURTHER INDICATING ITALIAN NERVOUSNESS, THE ROME RADIO BROADCAST AN ORDER FROM MUSSOLINI TO FASCIST PARTY FOLLOWERS THAT PARTY MEMBERSHIP WOULD BE WITHDRAWN FROM "ALL THOSE FASCISTS WHO DO NOT SERVE THE COUNTRY AND THE FASCIST REGIME WITH A RELIGIOUS FERVOR ACCORDING TO THE DIRECTIVES GIVEN BY THE DUCE."

THIS PRONOUNCEMENT WAS AGREED UPON AT A MEETING OF THE FASCIST PARTY DIRECTORATE, SAID THE BROADCAST RECORDED BY REUTERS.

THE ROME RADIO SAID THAT ALLIED PLANES IN RECENT RAIDS OVER NAPLES HAD DROPPED LEAFLETS CALLING UPON THE ITALIAN POPULATION TO SURRENDER, BUT THE BROADCAST DID NOT INDICATE WHAT REACTION THEY RECEIVED.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA RECENTLY REPORTED THAT SUCH LEAFLETS WERE BEING DISTRIBUTED.

FH_WD-FH_KAS12PFW

YUGOSLAV GUERRILLAS WHO ATTACKED A GERMAN AIRPORT NEAR ZAGREB BURNED 30 PLANES AND THE AIRPORT INSTALLATIONS AND CAPTURED 55 GERMANS, THE BROADCAST SAID.

JUN 26 1943

30 24 - 5391

30.24-5391

THE MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE SPOKE ANEW OF ACTION "WEST OF BELGOROD", A TOWN NORTHEAST OF KHARKOV WHICH IT HAS BEEN ASSUMED WAS STILL IN GERMAN HANDS. THE BULLETIN SAID THAT THE ACTION WAS OF LOCAL IMPORTANCE, BUT DETAILED HOW RUSSIAN TROOPS BROKE INTO AN ENEMY STRONGPOINT, DESTROYED THREE LARGE BLOCKHOUSES AND SEVERAL MACHINE-GUN POINTS AND LEFT 150 ENEMY DEAD ON THE BATTLEFIELD.

THE GERMAN RADIO, IN DISCUSSING ACTION ON THE FRONT STRESSED THAT A "REALLY LARGE-SCALE OFFENSIVE HAS NOT YET BEEN OPENED" ALTHOUGH ACTIVITY OF RECONNAISSANCE AND SHOCK-TROOP FORMATIONS ON THE FRONT ASSUMED GREATER DIMENSIONS IN SOME SECTORS.

JUN 26 1943

THE GERMAN MILITARY COMMENTATOR LT.GEN.KURT DIETMAR DECLARED IN A REVIEW OF THE WAR THAT THE RUSSIANS "NOW HAVE PRACTICALLY LOST ADVANTAGE OF THE OVERWHELMING SUPERIORITY OF NUMBERS WHICH THEY DOUBTLESS ENJOYED IN THE EARLY PHASES OF THE CAMPAIGN."

HE PAINTED TWO YEARS OF WAR AS A SERIES OF "SPLENDID VICTORIES WON BY GERMAN ARMIES ON THE EASTERN FRONT" WHICH WERE AIDED "TO A LARGE EXTENT BY THE ALMOST SUICIDAL STRATEGY AND TACTICS OF THE SOVIET HIGH COMMAND" THAT FORCED A "GRADUAL WEAKENING OF THE SOVIET COLOSSUS."

IN ANOTHER BROADCAST, DIETMAR ACKNOWLEDGED, HOWEVER, THAT THE AXIS LEADERS HAD UNDERESTIMATED THE "EMBITTERED TOUGHNESS OF THE RED ARMY."

PS523AEW

ADD LONDON - [illegible]

THE NIGHT RAIDS FOLLOWED A DAY OF INTENSE ALLIED AERIAL ACTIVITY IN WHICH 400 TO 500 BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS HAMMERED AT ADOLF HITLER'S "ATLANTIC WALL" DEFENSES FROM THE NETHERLANDS TO FRANCE'S CHERBOURG PENINSULA.

PARTICIPATING IN THESE OPERATIONS WERE MANY TYPES OF AIRCRAFT, INCLUDING AMERICAN P-47 THUNDERBOLTS--THE FASTEST AND MOST HEAVILY ARMED U.S. SINGLE SEATER FIGHTERS. MITCHELL BOMBERS, TYPHOONS, SPITFIRES, AND AMERICAN-MADE VENTURAS AND BOSTONS WERE INCLUDED IN THE ATTACKING FORCES, IN WHICH POLISH, NORWEGIAN AND CANADIAN AIRMEN WERE REPRESENTED.

AMONG THE TARGETS OF THE DAYLIGHT RAIDERS WERE OIL STORAGE TANKS AT FLUSHING IN THE NETHERLANDS, FREIGHT YARDS AT ST.OMER, FRANCE, AND AIR BASES AT FORT ROUGE, ABBEVILLE AND MAUPERTUS.

THE ALLIED PLANES WERE SAID TO HAVE RULED THE SKIES AS THEY RANGED OVER THE CONTINENT, BEATING OFF THE EFFORTS OF GERMAN FIGHTERS TO BREAK UP THEIR FORMATIONS.

JUN 26 1943

AMERICAN THUNDERBOLTS WERE CREDITED WITH SHOOTING DOWN ONE FOCKE-WULF FIGHTER AND DAMAGING ANOTHER, WHILE BRITISH SPITFIRES DOWNED 10 GERMAN PLANES AND PROBABLY KNOCKED OUT OTHERS. THE TOTAL ALLIED LOSSES WERE ONE BOMBER AND FOUR FIGHTERS--NONE OF WHICH WERE AMERICAN PLANES.

THE RAF'S NEW "SHUTTLE-BOMBER" SERVICE, WHICH WAS INAUGURATED THIS WEEK WHEN LANCASTER BOMBERS ATTACKED FRIEDRICHSHAFEN SUNDAY NIGHT, CONTINUED ON TO NORTH AFRICA, AND THEN BOMBED LA SPEZIA IN NORTHERN ITALY EN ROUTE HOME WEDNESDAY NIGHT, CONTINUED MEANWHILE TO STIR THE IMAGINATION OF THE BRITISH PUBLIC.

OBSERVERS WENT ALL OUT IN SPECULATING ON THE POSSIBILITIES OPENED UP BY THIS NEW TECHNIQUE.

"THIS MAY WELL BE THE ANSWER TO NIGHT FIGHTER ATTACKS BY THE LUFTWAFFE ON OUR RAIDING AIRCRAFT." DECLARED THE LONDON DAILY

JUN 26 1943

SKETCH, POINTING OUT THAT THE GERMANS HENCEFORTH WILL BE KEPT GUESSING IN THEIR EFFORTS TO WAYLAY RETURNING RAIDERS.

"THE POSSIBILITIES OF AN ADEQUATELY SUSTAINED CAMPAIGN CHALLENGE THE IMAGINATION," SAID THE TELEGRAPH, AND THE HERALD DECLARED THAT "THE PROBLEM IT SETS FOR THE AXIS IS SERIOUS."

THE AMERICAN SERVICE NEWSPAPER "STARS AND STRIPES" DESCRIBED THE DEVELOPMENT AS "A NEW ALLIED BOMBING TECHNIQUE WITH ENORMOUS POSSIBILITIES."

JUN 26 1943

BZ439AEW

A-D London — Col Blimp

THE PAPER SAID THE OFFICIAL REASON FOR "FREEZING" THE FILM FOR EXPORT WAS BECAUSE OF TRANSPORT DIFFICULTIES, BUT POINTED UP CRITICISM WHICH IT SAID FELL UNDER TWO HEADINGS -- THAT THE FILM WAS A "GROSS TRAVESTY OF THE INTELLIGENCE AND OF THE BEHAVIOR OF BRITISH ARMY OFFICERS AS A CLASS"; AND THAT A GERMAN OFFICER IN THE PICTURE WHO TURNS ANTI-NAZI IS "UNDULY SENTIMENTALIZED AND IDEALIZED AT THE EXPENSE OF BRITISH COLONEL BLIMP."

LONDON, SATURDAY, JUNE 26-(AP)-THE ROYAL AIR FORCE BOMBED GERMANY AGAINST AGAIN LAST NIGHT, ROUNDING OUT A WEEK OF ALLIED HEAVY AIR ATTACKS ON GERMANY, ITALY AND GERMAN-OCCUPIED EUROPE.

THE RAF'S FRIDAY NIGHT OBJECTIVES WERE NOT IMMEDIATELY IDENTIFIED.

THE BOMBERS CONTINUED THEIR AROUND-THE-CLOCK FORAYS AFTER FLEETS OF U.S. HEAVY BOMBERS POUNDED NORTHWESTERN GERMANY IN DAYLIGHT ATTACKS FRIDAY.

IT WAS THE SEVENTH NIGHT OF THE CURRENT AERIAL OFFENSIVE WHICH BEGAN LAST SATURDAY NIGHT WITH THE RAF SMASH AT THE SCHNEIDER ARMAMENT WORKS AT LE CREUSOT, 170 MILES SOUTHEAST OF PARIS.

THE RAF DELIVERED ANOTHER TOWN-CRUSHER ATTACK THURSDAY NIGHT UPON THE BOMB-SHATTERED RUHR INDUSTRIAL VALLEY WHERE UPWARDS OF 5,000,000 PEOPLE WERE REPORTED EVACUATED TO ESCAPE THE AIR OFFENSIVE.

THE BIG AMERICAN BOMBERS, ETC., SECOND GRAF SECOND NIGHT LEAD (MAKING TIME ELEMENTS CONFORM)

JUN 26 1943

LONDON, JUNE 25--(AP)---ALL GERMAN MALE CIVILIANS FROM 47 TO 49 ARE NOW REGISTERING WITH REICH POLICE UNDER GOVERNMENT COMPULSION, ACCORDING TO A NAZI ANNOUNCEMENT THAT HAS REACHED LONDON.

THE REASON FOR THE REGISTRATION WAS NOT REPORTED, BUT LONDON OBSERVERS REGARDED IT AS ANOTHER INDICATION OF THE INCREASING SHORTAGE OF MANPOWER WITHIN GERMANY.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT, PUBLISHED IN THE NATIONAL ZEITUNG OF ESSEN, SAID MEN BORN [redacted] FROM 1894 TO 1896 HAD TO REGISTER BETWEEN JUNE 15 AND JUNE 30.

LONDON, JUNE 25-(AP)-- THE BERLIN RADIO, QUOTING ADVICES FROM TOKYO, REPORTED TODAY THAT TARO TERAZAKI, FORMER HEAD OF THE AMERICAN SECTION OF THE JAPANESE FOREIGN OFFICE, HAD BEEN APPOINTED MINISTER TO VICHY. THE BROADCAST WAS HEARD BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

JUN 26 1943

30.24 - 5393

LONDON, SATURDAY, JUNE 26-(AP)-THE BBC SAID TODAY IN A GERMAN NEWS SERVICE BROADCAST THAT PAUL JOSEPH GOEBBELS, NAZI PROPAGANDA, MINISTER RECENTLY HAD CANCELLED AN IMPORTANT VISIT TO ALSACE BECAUSE OF REPORTS THAT THERE WAS A PLOT TO ASSASSINATE HIM.

LONDON, JUNE 25-(AP)-THE BERLIN RADIO REPORTED TODAY THAT RAF BOMBERS HAD RAIDED THE GERMAN CITIES OF WUPPERTAL AND ELBERFELD LAST NIGHT.

THE GERMANS DECLARED THAT AT LEAST 30 BRITISH BOMBERS WERE SHOT DOWN.

JUN 26 1943

"WITHOUT AIM, HIGH EXPLOSIVE AND INCENDIARY BOMBS WERE DROPPED IN GREAT NUMBER," THE BROADCAST DECLARED.

WUPPERTAL, WHICH IS THE NAME OF THE COMBINED CITIES OF ELBERFELD AND BARMEN, WAS RAIDED MAY 29 IN A HEAVY ASSAULT WHICH BROUGHT TO A PEAK THE BRITISH SATURATION RAIDS AND AMERICAN PRECISION ATTACKS THAT POUNDED GERMANY FROM MID-MAY ON TO THE END OF THE MONTH.

IT PRECEDED A 12-NIGHT LULL DURING THE FIRST PART OF JUNE.

THE WUPPERTAL AREA IS PACKED WITH CHEMICAL AND DYE WORKS AND IS AN IMPORTANT RAILWAY CENTER. EIGHTEEN BRIDGES CONNECT THE CITY SPRAWLING ON EITHER SIDE OF THE WUPPER RIVER.

UPWARDS OF 1,500 TONS OF BOMBS WERE RAINED ON THE AREA IN THE MAY 29 RAID.

IF THE GERMAN FIGURES OF BOMBERS SHOT DOWN APPROXIMATES CORRECTNESS, IT APPEARED THAT LAST NIGHT'S RAID WAS MADE IN HEAVY FORCE.

THE AREA LIES IN THE HEART OF THE ESSEN-DUISBURG-DUESSELDORF AREA.

BZ541AEW

30.24-5393

ADD US Bomber Sts — Hard Luck Kid

PAULIN SAID ONE CANNON SHOT MISSED TAILGUNNER SGT. ADOLPH LURIG OF WASHINGTON, D.C., BY A FEW INCHES. LURIG SHOT DOWN ONE FOCKE-WULF WHICH WAS SEEN TO EXPLODE IN THE AIR.

JUN 26 1943

LIEUT. JOHN W.BRADLEY OF UPPER DARBY, PA., NAVIGATOR ABOARD THE FORTRESS "STUMP JUMPER," PILOTED BY LIEUT. JOSEPH E.THEISS OF LOUISVILLE, OHIO, SAID "IT WAS PLENTY ROUGH TODAY. THE FIGHTERS CONCENTRATED ON HEAD-ON ATTACKS. I FIRED SO MANY ROUNDS THAT I BURNED OUT ONE OF MY GUNS."

LIEUT. J.W.KRAFT OF DENVER, CO-PILOT, SAID ONE ME109 WAS MAKING A HEAD-ON ATTACK ON "STUMP JUMPER" AND "KEPT COMING STRAIGHT AT US AND IF WE HAND'T NOSED SUDDENLY UPWARD HE WOULD HAVE CRASHED INTO US." THE DESPERATE ASSAULT PROVED FATAL FOR THE GERMAN PILOT. OTHER CREWMEN SAID THEY LATER SAW HIM PLUMMETING EARTHWARD.

BRADLEY SAID TAILGUNNER SGT. SAMUEL STONE OF GARDEN PLAIN, KAS., WHO SERVED AS A LOYALIST ARMY MACHINE GUNNER IN THE SPANISH CIVIL WAR, BROKE A HAND WHILE TRYING TO GET A JAMMED GUN WORKING. BUT HE DID NOT TELL THE CREW ABOUT THIS UNTIL THE FORTRESS WAS ALMOST HOME.

LIEUT.WILLIAM BROWNLOW OF KNOXVILLE, TENN., DESCRIBED THE RAID AS "THE WORST BY FAR OF ANY I'VE BEEN ON." HE SAID HIS BOMBER WAS HIT THREE TIMES BY CANNON FIRE. HE REPORTED THAT HIS BALL-TURRET GUNNER, SGT.ROBERT FERNSTAEDT OF MONROE, WISC., SHOT DOWN TWO PLANES AFTER HIS OXYGEN SYSTEM WAS DESTROYED. HE USED A HIGH PRESSURE EMERGENCY OXYGEN BOTTLE WHICH HAD A 30-MINUTE SUPPLY WHILE FIGHTING OFF THE GERMANS.

JUN 26 1943

WHEN THE BOTTLE WAS EXHAUSTED, HE MOVED UP TO A FORWARD SECTION

JUN 26 1943

WHERE THE OXYGEN LINES WERE NOT DAMAGED.

CREWS FROM THIS STATION WERE LED BY MAJOR ROBERT S.KITTLEL OF COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., IN THE FORTRESS "MIDARSTO CAMDA." HIS TAILGUNNER, LIEUT.CHARLES R.BIGLER OF ROCHESTER, IND., WHO RODINARILY RIDES AS CO-PILOT, SHOT DOWN ONE ME 109.

THE GERMAN PLANE EXPLODED IN THE AIR.

AT ANOTHER STATION, CAPT. MARK CORNELL OF DEARBORN, MICH., A FORMER RCAF PILOT, TOLD OF THE "VERY HEAVY" GERMAN FIGHTER OPPOSITION WHICH HE SAID WAS DISTRIBUTED UNEVENLY. THE OPPOSITION TO HIS GROUP, HE SAID, WAS "TERRIFIC," BUT OTHER RAIDERS EXPERIENCED FAR LESS RESISTANCE.

LIEUT.HOWARD O.KOPPEN, OF MASSACHUSETTS, PILOT OF THE FORTRESS "AL JOHNSON," REPORTED THAT ONE OF HIS CREWMEN, SGT.CHARLES H.FAND OF RIVERSIDE, CALIF., KNOCKED DOWN THREE GERMAN FIGHTERS.

"IF IT HADN'T BEEN FOR HIM," SAID KOPPEN, "WE PROBABLY WOULDN'T HAVE GOTTEN HOME AT ALL."

AERIAL SEPARATE

BY LEO BRANHAM

JUN 26 1943

A U.S.BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 25-(AP)-A LONE FLYING FORTRESS CONTINUED TO ATTACK TODAY EVEN THOUGH IT WAS DAMAGED SEVERELY AFTER IT STRAGGLED BEHIND ITS FORMATION AND WAS LOST IN SOUPY CLOUDS THAT SWALLOWED A STRONG FORCE OF UNESCORTED EIGHTH AIR FORCE RAIDERS BOUND FOR TARGETS IN NORTHWEST GERMANY.

AND AS IF THAT WERE NOT ENOUGH FOR A DAY FOR THE CREWMEN OF THE PLANE -- "DAUGEROUS DAN," PILOTED BY LIEUT.LYSTER A.BRUMLEY OF DEL RIO, TEX. -- THEY SHOT DOWN SEVEN OF 20 ATTACKING NAZI PLANES IN 23 MINUTES.

THE GERMANS ATTACKED THE CRIPPLED BOMBER SAVAGELY AS BRUMLEY AND HIS CO-PILOT, LIEUT. FLOYD H.JAMERSON OF ILLINOIS (EDITORS: TRYING FOR HOME TOWN) SENT IT WALTZING CRAZILY THROUGH THE THICK CLOUDS IN A VIOLENT EVASICE ACTION TO ESCAPE FIGHTERS AND INTENSE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE.

TO CLIMAX THE AMAZING PERFORMANCE, THE BOMBER LIMPED HOME ON TWO ENGINES -- WITH ONLY ONE MEMBER OF THE CREW INJURED. SGT. JOHN F. MASCHMEYER OF CHICAGO WAS STRUCK IN THE LEG BY A BULLET AND SHELL FRAGMENT BUT HIS INJURIES WERE DESCRIBED AS NOT SERIOUS.

THE EXPLOIT WAS ALL THE MORE REMARKABLE BECAUSE THE DARING DAYLIGHT ATTACK WAS CARRIED OUT AT A DANGEROUSLY LOW ALTITUDE AS COMPARED TO THE WELL-OVER 20,000 FEET AMERICAN HEAVY PLANES USUALLY FLY.

JUN 26 1943

THE LOW ALTITUDE ATTACK WAS DICTATED BY NECESSITY, NOT CHOICE. THE DAMAGED PLANE HAD BEEN LOSING ALTITUDE SINCE THE INITIAL FIGHTER ATTACK AND WAS UNABLE TO CLIMB.

BRUMLEY'S SHIP WAS ATTACKED BY EIGHT FIGHTERS SOON AFTER IT HAD CROSSED THE GERMAN COAST. THEIR FIRE KNOCKED OUT ONE ENGINE AND DESTROYED MOST OF THE OXYGEN SYSTEM. THE FIGHTERS STRUCK OUT THE BOMBER IN EARNEST AFTER IT DROPPED OUT OF FORMATION.

BRUMLEY DIVED STRAIGHT DOWN TOWARD THE FLYING FIGHTERS "FIGURING IT MIGHT BE THE SAFEST BET TO TRY TO MAKE FOR ANOTHER LAYER OF CLOUD BEHIND THEM."

THE FIGHTERS SCATTERED AS IT WHIZZED BY INTO CLOUD BANKS AT 8,000 FEET. BUT THE FORMATION WAS GONE -- AND "DANGEROUS DAN" WAS ALONE.

JUN 26 1943

3024- 5395

3024-5395

"WE FLEW ALONG A WHILE AND SUDDENLY CAME OUT OF THE CLOUDS INTO A BIG CLEARING IN THE SKY," SAID BRUMLEY. THERE WE WERE AND AA GUNS OPENED UP AT US. I YELLED BACK FOR BOMBARDIER LIEUT. JOHN N. BEILSTEIN (OF WILLIAMSBURG, IOWA) TO GET THE BOMBS AWAY, AND HE DID.

"ABOUT THAT TIME 20 FIGHTERS POUNCED ON US. THEY SHOT OUT OUR NUMBER THREE ENGINE, LEAVING ONLY TWO FUNCTIONING. TWO CANNON SHELLS EXPLODED IN THE TAIL SECTION, WOUNDING MASCHMEYER AND A SHELL TORE A THREE-FOOT HOLE IN THE HORIZONTAL STABILIZER."

"THOSE DAMNED 20 MILLIMETER SHELLS WERE POPPING EVERYWHERE," SAID JAMERSON. "THEY WERE SO THICK IT LOOKED LIKE WE COULD GET OUT AND WALK ON THEM. WHEN WE GOT BACK OUR WINGS LOOKED LIKE A SIEVE, THERE WERE SO MANY HOLES IN THEM."

JUN 26 1943

MEANWHILE, THE SHIP'S GUNNERS, INCLUDING WOUNDED MASCHMEYER, KEPT BLAZING AWAY WITH TELLING EFFECT. MASCHMEYER AND SGT.MARVIN DURHAM OF CHICAGO, BALL TURRET GUNNER, BAGGED TWO ENEMY PLANES EACH; AND SGTS. CLIFFORD T.ERICKSON OF FOND DU LAC, WIS., TOP TURRET GUNNER, LEONARD WINTER OF HUMBLE, TEX., LEFT WAIST GUNNER, AND WILLIAM J.MOORE OF PAWTUCKET, R.I., RADIO OPERATOR, SHOT DOWN ONE APIECE.

AGAIN "DANGEROUS DAN" EVADED THE FIGHTERS BY DIVING INTO ANOTHER CLOUD BANK. IT FLEW BLIND ENVELOPED IN CLOUDS UNTIL IT REACHED MID-CHANNEL ON THE RETURN TRIP. WITH THE BATTERED FORTRESS LOSING SPEED AND ALTITUDE RAPIDLY THE CREW PREPARED FOR A WATER LANDING.

IN A LAST DITCH EFFORT TO KEEP ALOFT, THEY THREW OVERBOARD THEIR RADIO EQUIPMENT, HELMETS, FIRE EXTINGUISHERS -- EVERYTHING MOVABLE EXCEPT THEIR GUNS AND AMMUNITION.

AND "DANGEROUS DAN" STAYED UP AND THE CREW BROUGHT IT HOME.

LATER, AS THE WEARY MEN RECOUNTED THEIR CLOSE CALL, LIEUT. JOSEPH F.BURKOWSKI OF NAUGATUCK, CONN., NAVIGATOR, SAID "BACK THERE, I WOULDN'T HAVE GIVEN A DUD NICKEL FOR OUR CHANCES OF GETTING BACK."

TO WHICH BRUMLEY APPENDED:

JUN 26 1943

"ONLY GOD AND EIGHT GOOD GUNNERS BROUGHT US BACK."

ANOTHER MEMBER OF THE CREW WAS JAMES F. REID OF BRISTOL, CONN., RIGHT WING GUNNER.

Insert RAF BASE IN BRITAIN

UNLIKE CHURCHILL, WHO SPENDS CONSIDERABLE TIME IN THE PILOT'S COCKPIT ON HIS MANY PLANE TRIPS, OCCASIONALLY TAKING THE CONTROLS HIMSELF, THE KING VISITED THE COCKPIT OF HIS PLANE ONLY ONCE, AND THAT WAS EARLY ON THE OUTGOING TRIP.

ADD RAF BASE IN BRITAIN

SIR ALEXANDER HARDINGE, THE KING'S PRIVATE SECRETARY; COL.SIR PIERS LEGH, MASTER OF THE ROYAL HOUSEHOLD, AND HIS EQUERRY FLEW HOME WITH HIM.

BEFORE LEAVING THIS BASE, THE KING SENT AIR CHIEF MARSHAL SIR FRED K.BOWHILL TO CONVEY HIS CONGRATULATIONS TO EACH MEMBER OF THE PLANE'S CREW.

THE MONARCH FLEW TO NORTH AFRICA JUNE 12 AND BEGAN A ROUND OF REVIEWS OF BRITISH, AMERICAN AND FRENCH LAND FORCES AND VISITS TO WARSHIPS OF THE FLEET OFF THE AFRICAN COAST.

DURING THE NORTH AFRICAN VISIT KING GEORGE INVESTED UPON GEN. DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER, ALLIED COMMANDER IN CHIEF, AS A KNIGHT OF THE GRAND CROSS, ORDER OF THE BATH, IN RECOGNITION OF HIS SERVICES IN THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN.

JUN 26 1943

THE KING'S ACTIVITIES IN NORTH AFRICA WERE CARRIED ON AT A PACE

JUN 26 1943

THAT PROVED STRENUOUS FOR EVEN SUCH A HARDY WARRIOR AS GEN.SIR BERNARD L.MONTGOMERY, COMMANDER OF THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY.

A BRITISH CRUISER CARRIED HIM TO MALTA, WHERE HE VOICED HIS ADMIRATION OF THE POPULATION AND THE GARRISON FOR THEIR FORTITUDE IN WITHSTANDING THE MASSED ATTACKS OF ENEMY BOMBERS WHEN HITLER WAS TRYING TO KNOCK OUT THE ISLAND BASE.

JUN 26 1943

ALTHOUGH THE KING WAS THE FIRST BRITISH MONARCH TO FLY TO A THEATER OF WAR, IT WAS NOT HIS FIRST EXPERIENCE IN A COMBAT AREA. HE WAS A NAVAL OFFICER IN THE BATTLE OF JUTLAND DURING THE FIRST WORLD WAR AND HE AND THE ROYAL FAMILY WENT THROUGH THE GREAT BOMBINGS OF ENGLAND IN 1940 AND 1941.

HE ALSO VISITED THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE DURING THE EARLY STAGES OF THE PRESENT WAR.

IN THE KING'S ABSENCE IN NORTH AFRICA, QUEEN ELIZABETH AND OTHERS OF THE ROYAL FAMILY ACTED AS A ROYAL COUNCIL.

ADD DUBLIN

WILLIAM NORTON, LEADER OF THE LABOR PARTY, ONCE WAS ONE OF DEVALERA'S ALLIES, BUT NOW HAS BECOME ONE OF HIS LIVELIEST CRITICS.

NORTON HAS ADVOCATED A "WORKERS' REPUBLIC" WITH TRADE LINKS WITH BRITAIN BUT NO POLITICAL TIES WHATEVER. THE PARTY HAS URGED STATE CONTROL OF RAILWAYS AND TRAMWAYS AND A GUARANTEED WAGE OF TWICE THE PRESENT RATE FOR FARM LABOR.

NIGHT LEAD ELECTION

DUBLIN, SATURDAY, JUNE 26-(AP)-EAMON DE VALERA, WHOSE PARTY LOST ITS WORKING PARLIAMENTARY MAJORITY IN EIRE'S FIRST WARTIME ELECTION, SAID TODAY THE DAIL WOULD BE CONVENED AT THE FIRST PRACTICAL TIME TO NOMINATE A PRIME MINISTER -- HIS JOB FOR THE PAST 11 YEARS.

NEW YORK-BORN DE VALERA WOULD NOT COMMENT ON THE SETBACK SUFFERED BY HIS FIANNA FAIL PARTY IN TUESDAY'S BALLOTING. HE SAID HE THOUGHT NO STATEMENT WAS CALLED FOR.

NOMINATION OF A PRIME MINISTER, HE SAID, WOULD DETERMINE THE GOVERNMENT TO BE IN OFFICE AND THE POLICY TO BE FOLLOWED. HE ADDED THAT THE COUNTRY FACED SERIOUS PROBLEMS, MUST MAINTAIN CONSTANT VIGILANCE IN DEFENSE, AND PRODUCE TO THE LIMIT OF ITS CAPACITY.

THE WEAK SHOWING OF THE GOVERNMENT PARTY CAME AS A SURPRISE, AND MORE SURPRISE WAS ADDED WHEN THE FARMERS PARTY, NOT REPRESENTED IN THE PRESENT DAIL, WON NINE SEATS.

JUN 26 1943

COMPLETE RETURNS GAVE THE FIANNA FAIL 67 SEATS; THE FINE GAEL, HEADED BY FORMER IRISH FREE STATE PRESIDENT WILLIAM T.COSGRAVE, 32; LABOR, HEADED BY WILLIAM NORTON, 17; FARMERS, 9; AND INDEPENDENTS 13 -- GIVING THE COMBINED OPPOSITION A MAJORITY OF FOUR SEATS OVER THE FIANNA FAIL.

THE 1938 BALLOTING HAD GIVEN THE FIANNA FAIL 77 SEATS.

WHILE THE HEADS OF THE LESSER PARTIES HAVE NOT COMMITTED THEMSELVES PUBLICLY, COSGRAVE HAS CAMPAIGNED FOR A COALITION GOVERNMENT OF ALL PARTIES, AND DE VALERA HAS SAID HE WOULD NOT JOIN SUCH A GOVERNMENT.

DE VALERA, WHO KEPT HIS SEAT IN THE DAIL, COULD OBTAIN A WORKING MAJORITY BY AN AGREEMENT WITH THE FARMER, LABOR OR INDEPENDENT GROUPS, BUT COSGRAVE WOULD NEED ALL THREE ALONG WITH HIS FINE GAEL TO OUTVOTE THE FIANNA FAIL.

THE OUTCOME OF THE ELECTION WAS NOT EXPECTED TO PRODUCE ANY SWITCH IN THE COUNTRY'S FOREIGN POLICY, FOR ITS CONTINUED NEUTRALITY WAS NOT AN ELECTION ISSUE.

30.24-5397

. SWITZERLAND, JUNE 25-(AP)-A RELIABLE SOURCE ESTIMATED TODAY ...AT BETWEEN 4,000,000 AND 5,000,000 PERSONS NOT ESSENTIAL TO RUHR VALLEY INDUSTRIES HAD BEEN SHIFTED TO OTHER PARTS OF GERMANY

THESE SHIFTS, SAID THIS SOURCE WHO WOULD NOT PERMIT HIS NAME TO BE USED HAVE BEEN EFFECTED SINCE ALLIED BOMBERS BEGAN THEIR SYSTEMATIC DESTRUCTION OF THE VALLEY'S INDUSTRIES AND THE MOVEMENT IS NOT COMPLETE.

JUN 26 1943

FOLLOWING LAST NIGHT'S RAF RAID ON WUPPERTAL, THE GERMAN RADIO BROADCAST AN ACCOUNT FROM A "FRONT LINE REPORTER" IN WHICH IT WAS STATED:

"APPROACHING THE TOWN FROM MANY MILES DISTANT STREAMS OF BOMBED OUT PEOPLE CAN BE MET XXX.

"IT IS WITH GREAT PAIN THAT THEY MOVE FORWARD, EITHER CARRYING OR PUSHING ON BARROWS THE FEW BELONGINGS STILL LEFT TO THEM.

"EVERY SINGLE STREET IS FULL OF RUBBLE XXX. THE PEOPLE ARE TIRED TO DEATH. THEY LIE ON THE GRASS. MANY OF THEM ARE INJURED."

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 25-(AP)-A SWISS TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY DISPATCH FROM SOFIA SAID TODAY THAT POLICE AGAIN CONDUCTED A RAID ON THE BULGARIAN CAPITAL LAST NIGHT AND ARRESTED A NUMBER OF PERSONS.

BARRICADES WERE ERECTED AROUND ONE OF THE CITY'S LARGEST PARKS AFTER "SUSPICIOUS PERSONS" WERE SEEN IN THE VICINITY OF THE WATERWORKS, THE DISPATCH SAID.

A BUDAPEST DISPATCH REPORTED THAT AN ESPIONAGE ORGANIZATION WAS

30.24-5397

DISCOVERED IN BULGARIA, OPERATING UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF A RADIO TECHNICIAN NAMED ARNAUTOFF. FIVE OF ITS MEMBERS [redacted]A WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN ARRESTED.

JUN 26 1943

THE DISPATCH SAID THIS GROUP WAS SUPPOSED TO HAVE CONTACTED FOREIGN AGENTS IN THE SPRING OF 1941 AND TO HAVE SET UP A BLACK RADIO STATION GIVING MILITARY, POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC INFORMATION.

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 25--(AP)-- A GERMAN ADMIRAL ADDRESSING 2,000 NAZI MARINES AT TRONDHEIM "GIBRALTER OF THE NORTH" PREDICTED THAT THE ALLIES WILL INVADE NORWAY "WITHIN A SHORT TIME" RELIABLE NORWEGIAN SOURCES SAID TODAY. "THEN ALL GERMANS WILL HAVE TO FIGHT-- NOT ONLY SOLDIERS BUT GERMAN CIVILIANS AS WELL," HE ADDED.

NORWEGIAN SOURCES ESTIMATED THAT THERE ARE APPROXIMATELY 100,000 GERMAN CIVILIANS LIVING AND WORKING IN NORWAY OF WHICH A HIGH PERCENTAGE HAVE ALREADY RECEIVED QUASI MILITARY TRAINING SO THAT THEY MAY BEUSED IN THE EVENT OF AN INVASION.

INFORMATION REACHING [redacted]NORWEGIANS IN STOCKHOLM

JUN 26 1943

DID N O T IDENTIFY THE ~~GERMAN~~ ADMIRAL BUT IT WAS PRESUMED TO BE ADMIRAL OTTO CILIAX WHO IS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF NAZI NAVAL FORCES IN NORWAY.

JUN 26 1943

THE ADMIRAL ARRIVED IN TRONDHEIM FROM OSLO JUNE 21 FOR A DEMONSTRATION AND PARADE IN ROSENBORG STADIUM.

THE ENTIRE SPEECH STRESSED THE PROBABILITY OF INVASION, THE NORWEGIAN SOURCES SAID. TRONDHEIM IS THE ~~GERMAN~~ NAZIS CHIEF NAVAL BASE IN NORWAY AND IS REGARDED BY MANY MILITARY OBSERVERS AS A LIKELY POINT FOR THE ALLIES TO STRIKE. IT IS HEAVILY DEFENDED.

BALKANS '

BY JOHN H.COLBURN

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 25-(AP)-SEA-GOING GREEK GUERRILLAS HAVE GIVEN THE INVASION-CONSCIOUS AXIS NEW CAUSE FOR WORRY IN THE BALKANS, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY.

PHOTOGRAPHS PUBLISHED IN HITLER'S OWN NEWSPAPER, THE VOELKISCHER BEOBACHTER, AND THE GERMAN MAGAZINE DIE WOCHE ILLUSTRATED HOW THE AXIS IS COMBATTING GUERRILLAS WHOM THE GERMANS DESCRIBED AS "PIRATES" OPERATING IN SMALL SAILING AND MOTOR BOATS AGAINST AXIS MERCHANT SHIPS IN THE AEGEAN.

FOR MORE THAN A YE[AR] WELL-ORGANIZED GREEK AND YUGOSLAV PATRIOTS, STRIKING FROM HIDEOUTS IN THE WILD BALKAN MOUNTAINS, HAVE BEEN REPORTED STEADILY DRAINING AXIS RESOURCES BY LAND, BUT THIS WAS THE FIRST INDICATION THEY HAD TAKEN TO THE SEA.

THE NAZIS EMPLOY HEAVILY ARMED PATROL BOATS AND RECONNAISSANCE SEAPLANES TO HUNT THE SEA GUERRILLAS, THE GERMAN PAPERS DISCLOSED. ALL SUSPICIOUS CRAFT ARE EXAMINED.

THE PHOTOGRAPHS PURPORTED TO SHOW AXIS RETRIBUTION AGAINST ONE "PIRATES' NEST"--A SMALL VILLAGE BORDERING THE AEGEAN. ONE PICTURE SHOWED A SEASIDE VILLAGE ALIGHT WITH FIRES SET BY INCENDIARY AND EXPLOSIVE SHELLS.

JUN 26 1943

NATIVE VESSELS THAT ATTEMPT TO ELUDE THE AXIS PATROL BOATS ARE SHELLED, IT WAS ASSERTED.

THE SITUATION THUS REVEALED WAS VIEWED HERE AS TESTIFYING TO INCREASING NERVOUSNESS OF THE AXIS IN SEEKING TO DETECT AND GUARD AGAINST ANY ALLIED INVASION THRUST AGAINST THE BALKANS.

IT IS KNOWN THAT BRITISH AND INDIAN FORCES HAVE BEEN CONCENTRATED ON THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN ISLAND OF CYPRUS, AND AXIS SOURCES RECENTLY REPORTED THE ARRIVAL OF AMERICAN TROOPS THERE.

BEHIND THIS ISLAND, WHICH HAS WELL DEVELOPED NAVAL AND AIR BASES AND MAY SERVE AS A SPRINGBOARD FOR A BALKAN ATTACK, THE BRITISH NINTH ARMY WAITS IN SYRIA AND PALESTINE FOR ACTION.

WHILE FIGHTING THE LAND AND SEA GUERRILLAS WITH ONE HAND, THE AXIS HAS BEEN REINFORCING TROOPS AND FORTIFICATIONS THROUGHOUT THE BALKANS WITH THE OTHER.

BERLIN REPORTS THIS WEEK SAID LARGE CONTINGENTS OF TROOPS HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED FROM RUSSIA TO THAT AREA. MANY OF THESE WERE SAID TO BE

JUN 26 1943

30.24- 5399

UNITS ENGAGED IN THE BALKAN CAMPAIGN EARLY IN THE WAR.

(IN LONDON, AN UNOFFICIAL SOURCE SAID YESTERDAY THAT THE AXIS WAS PULLING BACK SOME OF ITS MEDITERRANEAN ISLAND GARRISONS. AT THE SAME TIME ANKARA DISPATCHES QUOTED BALKAN SOURCES AS SAYING THE AXIS HAD 75 DIVISIONS, OR APPROXIMATELY 1,125,000 TROOPS, STATIONED IN YUGOSLAVIA, GREECE, CRETE AND SOME OF THE LARGER AEGEAN ISLANDS.

(IN THIS CONNECTION, THE GERMAN RADIO REPORTED THE ITALIAN GARRISON HAD BEEN WITHDRAWN FROM CASTELROSSO, A TINY ISLAND OFF SOUTHERN TURKEY WHICH COULD BE AN EASY PREY FOR ALLIED FORCES ATTACKING FROM NEARBY CYPRUS OR SYRIA.

JUN 26 1943

(AT THE SAME TIME, REPORTS REACHING CAIRO INDICATED THAT ITALIAN FASCISTS ARE DISTURBED BY INCREASING SOVIET INFLUENCE IN THE BALKANS, A RECENT EDITORIAL IN THE NEWSPAPER IL MESSAGERO DECLARING THAT "THE SLAVS ARE PREPARING TO RESUME THEIR IMPERIALISTIC PUSH TO THE WEST.")

THE GREEK GUERRILLAS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE NEARLY DOUBLED THEIR FORCES AFTER THE ALLIED NORTH AFRICAN VICTORY AND WERE SAID TO BE ORGANIZED ON A NATION-WIDE SCALE.

THE GREEK PATRIOTS WERE SAID TO HAVE LAUNCHED HEAVY ATTACKS ON THE OCCUPYING FORCES NEAR THE YUGOSLAV BORDER.

THE YUGOSLAV INSURGENTS WERE DECLARED HERE TO HAVE RESUMED THEIR ATTACKS IN THE ZAGREB SECTOR THIS WEEK, AND BERLIN SOURCES CLAIMED STRONG GERMAN, ITALIAN, BULGARIAN AND CROAT FORCES HAD "PRACTICALLY ANNIHILATED" A LARGE BAND OF PARTISIANS IN THE MONTENEGRO MOUNTAINS.

AUTHORITATIVE BERLIN SOURCES WERE QUOTED BY STOCKHOLM PAPERS AS SAYING THE MONTENEGRO INSURGENTS NUMBERED TENS OF THOUSANDS AND WERE WELL EQUIPPED FIGHTERS.

30.24- 5399

THEY WERE DESCRIBED AS CONSISTING OF FORCES LED BOTH BY GEN. DRAJA MIHAILOVIC AND THE MYSTERIOUS PARTISAN LEADER "TITO," A CROAT WHOSE REAL NAME IS JOSIP BROZ.

SEVERAL GERMAN DIVISIONS ALONE WERE ENGAGED WITH THE AXIS FORCES, BERLIN ACKNOWLEDGED, AS A CLEANUP EFFORT WAS MADE TO PREVENT THE GUERRILLAS IN THE WEST FROM AIDING ANY ALLIED LANDING OPERATION IN THE ADRIATIC AREA.

JUN 26 1943

SOME IDEA OF THE FIERCENESS OF THE BALKAN BATTLES IS GIVEN BY THE ROME CORRESPONDENT OF THE DAGENS DYHETER, WHO REPORTED RECENTLY THAT "ITALIAN LOSSES IN THE BALKANS OFTEN HAVE BEEN HEAVIER THAN THE TOTAL ITALIAN LOSSES ON OTHER FRONTS."

PS535AEW

ADD Moscow -- Soviet declares

"FOR THE PLUNDER, TORTURE AND MASSACRES OF THE PEACEFUL SOVIET CITIZENS PERPRETRATED IN PYATIGORSK, KURSK AND KUPYANSK, THE EXTRAORDINARY STATE COMMISSION HOLDS RESPONSIBLE THE COMMAND OF THE FIRST TANK ARMY, GENERAL OF CAVALRY MACKENSEN; CHIEF OF PROPAGANDA, DEPARTMENT OF FIRST TANK ARMY MILLER; COMMANDANT FLACH; DOCTOR KERN; INTERMEDIARY-INTERPRETER WEGEMANN; CHIEF OF SECRET FIELD POLICE KARGAN AND HIS ASSISTANT, SCHWEIZE."

MOSCOW, JUNE 25-(AP)-RUSSIA'S GRAINFIELDS PROMISE A MUCH BETTER HARVEST THIS YEAR THAN LAST BECAUSE OF FAVORABLE CLIMATIC CONDITIONS, INCLUDING A LONG, MOIST SPRING, SOVIET AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS SAID TODAY.

A BUMPER HARVEST WILL BE AS VITAL AS A VICTORY ON THE BATTLE-FIELD, THESE EXPERTS POINTED OUT, BECAUSE RUSSIA HAS BEEN SUFFERING FROM A GONSIDERABLE FOOD SHORTAGE SINCE LAST YEAR WHEN CROPS WERE

JUN 26 1943

POOR, COUPLED WITH THE GERMAN OCCUPATION OF THE UKRAINE AND THE EXTENSIVE MILITARY OPERATIONS IN THE NORTH CAUCASUS, TWO OF THE COUNTRY'S RICHEST GRAIN AREAS.

HARVESTING WHICH BEGAN IN THE FIRST WEEK IN JUNE IN AZERBAIJAN, DAGHESTAN AND ORDZHONIKIDZE IS NOW UNDER WAY IN THE SOUTH VOLGA AND NORTH CAUCASIAN REGIONS.

AN UNUSUALLY GOOD CROP IS PREDICTED IN CENTRAL AND EASTERN SIBERIA, AS WELL AS IN CENTRAL RUSSIA. THE PRINCIPAL DIFFICULTY TO BE OVERCOME IS THE SHORTAGE OF MANPOWER DUE TO THE DEMANDS OF WAR INDUSTRIES. NEW CROP AREAS, AS A RESULT HAVE NECESSARILY BEEN RESTRICTED.

JUN 26 1943

AN EXCEPTION TO THIS ARE THE KITCHEN GARDENS, WHICH CORRESPOND TO THE VICTORY GARDENS IN THE UNITED STATES. THESE HAVE DOUBLED IN AREA THIS YEAR, THE EXPERTS POINTED OUT.

IMPROVEMENT IN RUSSIA'S FOOD SITUATION WILL BEGIN TO BE NOTICEABLE LATE IN JULY OR EARLY IN AUGUST, IT WAS EXPLAINED, ALTHOUGH THE WOMEN AND YOUTHS WHO WILL GATHER THE CROPS WON'T BE ABLE TO PRODUCE AS MUCH AS IF THE JOB WERE DONE BY THE NORMAL PEASANTRY, MOST OF WHOM ARE IN THE ARMY OR IN WAR WORK.

FOOD, HOWEVER, REMAINS HIGH ON THE LIST OF SUPPLIES BEING FURNISHED BY THE UNITED NATIONS AND AN EQUITABLE SYSTEM OF RATIONING IS EXPECTED TO KEEP THINGS GOING UNTIL THE CROPS COME IN.

JR1107PEW

ALGIERS, JUNE 25-(AP)-HENRI BONNET, MINISTER OF INFORMATION IN THE DE GAULLE-GIRAUD COMMITTEE, SAID AT HIS FIRST PRESS CONFERENCE TODAY THAT FRENCH UNITY IS COMPLETE AND ASSERTED THAT ONLY MINOR DETAILS IN CONNECTION WITH THE NEW EMPIRE GOVERNMENT REMAIN TO BE SETTLED.

JUN 26 1943

HE SAID HE "HOPED" FOR EARLY RECOGNITION OF THE REGIME AS A TRUSTEE GOVERNMENT BY THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN. HE TALKED AT LENGTH WITH AMERICAN OFFICIALS ON THAT SUBJECT DURING HIS RECENT VISIT TO WASHINGTON, HE SAID.

JUN 26 1943

WHILE THERE ARE NO DEFINITE INDICATIONS OF RECOGNITION NOW, HE SAID HE BELIEVED THESE WOULD COME AS SOON AS THE LAST PROBLEMS CONFRONTING THE COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION ARE SOLVED.

DISCUSSING THE PROBLEM OF MERGING THE RESPECTIVE ARMED FORCES OF GENERALS CHARLES DE GAULLE AND HENRI GIRAUD, THE NEW MINISTER SAID A PERMANENT COMMISSION IS IN THE PROCESS OF FORMATION, AND THE PLANS WHICH HAVE BEEN WORKED OUT "CERTAINLY WILL WORK."

EARLIER, THE COMMITTEE RECEIVED A REPORT FROM COLONIAL MINISTER RENE PLEVENS SAYING THAT FOOD CONDITIONS OF MARTINIQUE AND GUADELOUPE WERE STEADILY DETERIORATING. THE TWO CARIBBEAN ISLANDS RULED BY ADMIRAL GEORGE ROBERT REMAIN OUTSIDE THE JURISDICTION OF FRENCH AUTHORITIES FIGHTING ALONGSIDE THE ALLIES.

(THE UNITED STATES SEVERED RELATIONS WITH MARTINIQUE LAST APRIL AND SECRETARY HULL SAID THE NAVY WAS KEEPING WATCH THERE. SUPPLIES SUBSEQUENTLY HAVE DIMINISHED.)

THE COMMITTEE DEVOTED A THREE-HOUR SESSION TO ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS TODAY BUT CAREFULLY AVOIDED THE QUESTION OF PERSONNEL OF THE PERMANENT MILITARY COMMISSION.

ALGIERS, JUNE 25--(AP)---FOOD CONDITIONS OF

JUN 26 1943

MARTINIQUE AND GUADELOUPE, WHICH R[illegible] OUTSIDE THE JURISDICTION OF FRENCH AUTHORITIES FIGHTING ALONGSIDE THE ALLIES, WERE REPORTED TODAY

30-24-5401

TO BE STEADILY DETERIORATING.

THE FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION RECEIVED A REPORT FROM COLONIAL MINISTER RENE PLEVENS ON THE SITUATION IN THE TWO CARIBBEAN ISLANDS RULED BY ADMIRAL GEORGES ROBERT. JUN 26 1943

(THE UNITED STATES SEVERED RELATIONS WITH MARTINIQUE LAST APRIL, AND SECRETARY HULL SAID THE NAVY WAS KEEPING WATCH THERE. SUPPLIES HAVE ~~BEEN~~ SUBSEQUENTLY DIMINISHED. CAMILLE CHAUTEMPS, FORMER PREMIER OF FRANCE, WROTE IN A WASHINGTON DISPATCH MAY 22 THAT THE COLONIAL GOVERNOR WAS "FORCING A PERSONAL DICTATORSHIP UPON THE INHABITANTS, DEALING ON EQUAL TERMS WITH THE MIGHTIEST POWER AND NOT HESITATING TO DEFY THE ENTIRE WORLD" IN SUPPORT OF VICHY.)

CAREFULLY AVOIDING THE QUESTION OF PERSONNEL OF THE PERMENENT MILITARY COMMISSION, THE COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION DEVOTED A THREE-HOUR SESSION TO ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS.

ALGIERS, JUNE 25--(AP)-- CAREFULLY AVOIDING THE ALL-IMPORTANT QUESTION OF THE PERSONNEL OF THE PERMANENT MILITARY COMMISSION, THE FRENCH ~~NAZI~~ COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION ~~EX~~

30-24-5401

DEVOTED ~~THREE~~ A THREE HOUR SESSION TO ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS TODAY.

~~THEREFOR~~ THE SIX-MAN MILITARY COMMISSION, TO BE JOINTLY APPOINTED BY GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE AND GEN. HENRI. GIRAUD, WILL BE ENTRUSTED WITH THE TASK OF FUSING THEIR TWO FIGHTING FORCES. EACH HAS NAMED ONE REPRESENTATIVE SO FAR. JUN 26 1943

FOLLOWING THE MEETING HENRI BONNET, MINISTER OF INFORMATION, ISSUED A STATEMENT DECLARING THE SUBJECTS DISCUSSED WERE:

1. ANNULMENT OF TRIALS AND SENTENCES IMPOSED FOR ACTIONS IN THE SERVICE OF FRANCE SINCE JUNE 1940.

2. RESTORATION TO OFFICE OF ALL OFFICIALS OF ALL GRADES WHO WERE DISCHARGED OR DEMOTED BECAUSE OF MEASURES IMPOSED BY ~~THE~~ ENEMY.

3. ABROGATION OF THE DECREE OF SEPT. 26, 1939 AND AMNESTY FOR THE SENTENCES IMPOSED IN VIOLATION THEREOF. ( THE DECREE PROHIBITED ALL COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES.)

JUN 26 1943

THE QUESTIONS,BONNET EXPLAINED,WERE MERELY DISCUSSED

AND NO ACTION WAS TAKEN.

JUN 26 1943

THE COMMITTEE DECIDED TO ESTABLISH A DEPARTMENT FOR THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE AFFAIRS OF ALSACE-LORRAINE UNDER THE MINISTRY OF THE INTERIOR. THE SESSION CLOSED WITH A REPORT BY RENE PLEVENS,MINISTER OF COLONIES,ON THE SITUATION XE IN GUADELOUP AND MARTINIQUE,WHERE FOOD CONDITIONS WERE REPORTED TO BE STEADILY DETERIORATING.

APR ALGIERS MORING 1445 FWF 1026A

FIRST LEAD SALONIKA

BY GEORGE TUCKER

CAIRO, JUNE 25-(AP)-ALLIED AIR POWER BROKE NEW GROUND YESTERDAY WHEN MORE THAN 50 FOUR-ENGINED LIBERATORS OF THE NINTH U.S. AIR FORCE DUMPED MORE THAN 125 TONS OF HIGH EXPLOSIVES ON THE SEDES AIRDROME AT SALONIKA IN OCCUPIED GREECE, SCORING DIRECT HITS ON AXIS BARRACKS, HANGARS, REVETMENTS AND DISPERSAL AREAS.

IT WAS THE FIRST APPEARANCE OF THE LIBERATORS OVER GREEK TERRITORY SINCE THE SPECTACULAR RAID ON NAVARINO BAY LAST SEPTEMBER.

THE DAYLIGHT ASSAULT BECAME A POLITICAL AS WELL AS MILITARY THRUST AS HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF POSTERS BEARING AN ENCOURAGING MESSAGE TO THE GREEK PEOPLE WERE RELEASED OVER THEIR CITIES.

SALONIKA IS GREECE'S SECOND LARGEST CITY. WITH A FINE HARBOR RANKING IN STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE ALONG WITH PIRAEUS, PORT OF ATHENS. THE CHIEF OBJECTIVE OF YESTERDAY'S BLOW WAS TO WIPE OUT AN AIR TRAINING CENTER AND OTHER AERIAL FACILITIES, WHILE AT THE SAME TIME SPARING THE GREEK PEOPLE.

(WHILE THE LIBERATORS WERE SPREADING DESTRUCTION ON THE SEDES FIELD, ABOUT 300 OTHER AMERICAN BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS OF THE NORTHWEST AFRICAN COMMAND ATTACKED AIRDROMES, RAILROAD YARDS, INDUSTRIAL PLANTS AND SHIPPING ON SARDINIA, 700 MILES TO THE WEST.

(MARAUDER MEDIUM BOMBERS WITH AN ESCORT OF LIGHTNING FIGHTERS ATTACKED CHILIVANI, HITTING A RAILROAD JUNCTION AND INDUSTRIAL PLANTS. MITCHELL MEDIUMS, ALSO WITH LIGHTNING ESCORT, BOMBED AN AIRFIELD AT VENAFIORITA AND SHIPPING AT GOLFO ARANCI, HITTING THREE VESSELS IN THE LATTER PORT. BOMB-CARRYING WARHAWK FIGHTERS ATTACKED A LANDING GROUND AT CAPOTERRA IN SOUTHERN SARDINIA AND TWO SMALL SHIPS OFF THE COAST.

JUN 26 1943

(ON THE PREVIOUS NIGHT RAF WELLINGTON BOMBERS ATTACKED CATANIA IN SICILY, POURING BOMBS ON FACTORIES AND IN THE RAILWAY YARDS OF THAT IMPORTANT AXIS COMMUNICATIONS POINT.

(YESTERDAY, RAF FIGHTER-BOMBERS FLEW FROM MALTA TO ATTACK INDUSTRIAL INSTALLATIONS AT POZZALLO, SICILY, AND LAST NIGHT BRITISH NAVAL AIRCRAFT RAIDED AUGUSTA ON THE SAME ISLAND.)

SEDES, LARGEST AND MOST IMPORTANT OF FIVE GERMAN AIRDROMES IN THE AREA, IS SIX MILES SOUTHEAST OF SALONIKA. PILOTS RETURNING AT DUSK LAST NIGHT REPORTED DIRECT HITS ON AT LEAST THREE OF SIX GREAT STONE HANGARS AND WHOLESALE DESTRUCTION OF REPAIR SHOPS, BARRACKS AND ADMINISTRATION BUILDINGS. NOT A BOMBER WAS LOST.

JUN 26 1943

3024 - 5403

A COMMUNIQUE SAID THAT AT LEAST THREE ENEMY AIRCRAFT WERE DESTROYED ON THE GROUND, AND THAT NO FIGHTER OPPOSITION WAS ENCOUNTERED. IT SAID RUNWAY DISPERSAL AREAS WERE COVERED BY BOMB BURSTS AS THE LIBERATORS SWEPT ACROSS IN TWO WAVES.

THE ATTACK APPARENTLY CAUGHT THE GERMANS BY SURPRISE. ALTHOUGH THE SALONIKA AIR BASE IS REGARDED AS A KEY IN THE NAZIS' NEW "SIEGFRIED LINE" IN SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE, ITS ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENSES WERE FOUND TO BE EXTREMELY LIGHT.

JUN 26 1943

A COMMUNIQUE SAID "OIL FIRES WERE OBSERVED WEST AND SOUTH OF THE HANGARS AND GRAY AND BLACK SMOKE COVERED THE TARGET AREA WHEN THE BOMBERS LEFT."

SALONIKA HAD 270,000 PEOPLE BEFORE THE WAR AND IS ONLY 50 MILES FROM THE BULGARIAN BORDER ON THE EAST SIDE OF THE BAY OF SALONIKA. IT HAS A HARBOR CAPABLE OF BERTHING MORE THAN A DOZEN LARGE SHIPS AND HAS BEEN USED BY THE GERMANS AS A MAIN SUPPLY BASE FOR THE MEDITERRANEAN AREA. FLAT TERRAIN ABOUT THE CITY HAS MADE IT AN IDEAL POINT FOR AIR TRAINING FIELDS.

ADD ALLIED HDQ N. AFRICA

(WHOLLY UNCONFIRMED AXIS BROADCASTS DECLARED SIX VESSELS HAD BEEN SUNK IN THE MEDITERRANEAN IN NEW ATTACKS UPON ALLIED CONVOYS. A GERMAN BROADCAST SAID NAZI SUBMARINES SANK THREE SHIPS TOTALING 15,000 TONS FROM A CONVOY YESTERDAY.

(TODAY'S ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS FROM A ROME BROADCAST, DECLARED THAT ITALIAN TORPEDO PLANES SANK THREE STEAMERS, TOTALLING 31,000 TONS OUT OF ALLIED CONVOYS ALONG THE NORTH AFRICAN COASTS, AFTER REPEATED NIGHT ATTACKS. THREE MORE WERE REPORTED DAMAGED.

3024 - 5403

(ROME ALSO ASSERTED THAT BIZERTE AND SHIPS AT ANCHOR THERE WERE ATTACKED BY AXIS BOMBERS.

(THE COMMUNIQUE DECLARED THAT 33 ALLIED PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN DURING ATTACKS ON SARDINIAN LOCALITIES YESTERDAY AND LAST NIGHT, SEVEN BY ITALIAN FIGHTERS, 23 BY GERMAN FIGHTERS, AND THREE BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE. THE COMMUNIQUE REPORTED ONLY TWO ITALIAN PLANES AS LOST. A BERLIN BROADCAST SAID THE GERMAN AIR FORCE SUFFERED NO LOSS.

(ROME ADMITTED DAMAGE AND CASUALTIES "OF SOME SIZE" IN SASSARI PROVINCE, IN CHILIVANI, AND AT GOLFO ARANCI AS A RESULT OF ALLIED RAIDS.)

JUN 26 1943

THE CAIRO WAR BULLETIN SAID THAT AT SALONIKA HITS WERE SCORED ON ADMINISTRATION BUILDINGS, AIRDROME RUNWAYS AND DISPERSAL AREAS, AT LEAST THREE ENEMY AIRCRAFT WERE DESTROYED ON THE GROUND, AND FIRES WERE STARTED AMONG OIL SUPPLIES AS WELL AS IN THE THREE HANGARS.

(SALONIKA, THE BASE FROM WHICH GEN. FRANCHET D'ESPEREY SENT HIS ALLIED FORCES CHARGING UP THROUGH THE BALKANS IN 1918 IN THE SUCCESSFUL EXPEDITION THAT HERALDED THE WINDUP OF THE FIRST WORLD WAR, IS LOCATED APPROXIMATELY 700 MILES NORTHWEST OF ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT.

(ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL PORTS ON THE AEGEAN, IT HAS FIGURED LARGELY IN BALKAN INVASION SPECULATION AND FREQUENT REPORTS HAVE SEEPED FROM THE BALKANS THAT THE NAZIS HAVE STRONGLY FORTIFIED THE ENTIRE AREA. THE CITY HAS A PEACETIME POPULATION OF 236,000.)

THE HEADQUARTERS WAR BULLETIN SAID THAT THE TWIN-ENGINED WELLINGTONS PLACED THEIR BOMBS IN THE INDUSTRIAL AREA AND ON THE ASSEMBLY YARDS AT CATANIA, LOCATED ON THE SOUTHEASTERN CORNER OF SICILY.

JUN 26 1943

IN DAYLIGHT YESTERDAY, AMERICAN B-26 MARAUDERS, ESCORTED BY P-38 LIGHTNINGS, ATTACKED THE RAILROAD JUNCTION AND INDUSTRIAL PLANTS IN CHILIVANIA IN NORTH-CENTRAL SARDINIA.

AT THE SAME TIME, B-25 MITCHELLS, ALSO ESCORTED BY AMERICAN LIGHTNINGS, BOMBED THE AIRFIELD AT VENAFIORITA AND SHIPPING AT GOLFO ARANCI, BOTH IN SARDINIA. THREE VESSELS WERE REPORTED HIT AT GOLFO ARANCI.

AMERICAN P-40 WARHAWKS SHOT UP THE LANDING GROUND AT CAPOTERRA IN SOUTHERN SARDINIA, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, AND ALSO HIT TWO SMALL SHIPS OFF THE COAST.

JUN 26 1943

(YESTERDAY'S ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE, APPARENTLY REPORTING ON THE WELLINGTON ATTACK, SAID THAT AT CATANIA NUMEROUS BUILDINGS COLLAPSED AND CASUALTIES AMONG THE CIVILIAN POPULATION INCLUDED 19 DEAD AND ABOUT 100 INJURED.)

NIGHT LEAD NORTH AFRICAN

BY NOLAND NORGAARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 25-(AP)-MORE THAN 300 AMERICAN BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS SWEEPING OUT FROM BASES OF THE NORTHWEST AFRICAN AIR FORCE SPRAYED THE BIG ITALIAN ISLAND OF SARDINIA YESTERDAY FROM ITS AIR FIELDS TO ITS HABORS AND CUT DEEPLY AGAIN INTO THE AXIS FIGHTER STRENGTH IN THIS THEATER.

GENERAL EISENHOWER'S HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT IN THESE WIDESPREAD ATTACKS, A HEAVY ASSAULT UPON THE IMPORTANT PORT OF CATANIA IN SICILY THE NIGHT BEFORE BY BRITISH WELLINGTON BOMBERS AND OTHER OPERATIONS 21 ENEMY PLANES HAD BEEN SHOT FROM THE SKIES AT THE LOSS OF NINE ALLIED CRAFT.

THE BRITISH SQUADRONS BASED ON MALTA WERE ACTIVE, TOO, A VALLETTA COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCING DURING THE DAY THAT FIGHTER-BOMBERS HAD SMASHED AT WAR PLANTS IN POZZALLO, SICILY, WHILE BRITISH NAVAL AIRMEN HAD MADE A SIMILAR ATTACK AT AUGUSTA, SICLY. A CHALLENGING GERMAN MESSERSCHMITT WAS DESTROYED BY RAF SPITFIRES.

THE HEAVY ASSAULT UPON SARDINIA WAS LED BY B-25 MITCHELLS, WHICH BOMBED TWO ENEMY SUPPLY SHIPS AT GOLFO ARANCI, A PORT IN THE NORTHEAST OF THE ISLAND, AND SMASHED THE DOCKS.

OTHER ALLIED PLANES HIT THE VINAFIORITA AIR FIELD, THE RAILWAY JUNCTION AT CHILIVANI AND TWO SMALL SHIPS OFF THE SOUTHERN ISLAND.

AT CAPOTERRA AIR FIELD WARHAWKS DESTROYED SEVERAL AXIS PLANES ON THE GROUND; THE RAILWAY JUNCTION AT LA MADDELENA, NEAR CAGLIARI, WAS HEAVILY ATTACKED.

JUN 26 1943

LIGHTING FIGHTERS ESCORTING MARAUDER BOMBERS TO CHILIVANI TURNED IN ONE OF THE GREAT VICTORIES OF THE DAY. THEY SENT 13 ENEMY PLANES DOWN IN FLAMES.

TA753PEW

BY JOSEPH MORTON

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN AIR BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 25-(AP)-SECOND LIEUT.JOHN RICHARD WILKES OF 1090 EAST LAWN ST., DETROIT, TOOK A P-38 LIGHTNING ON A MISSION OVER SARDINIA YESTERDAY ON HIS FIRST COMBAT ASSIGNMENT. HE WANTED ACTION AND HE GOT IT--ALMOST EVERYTHING IN THE BOOK.

FIRST, A MESSERSCHMITT MADE A SIEVE OF HIS PLANE. AS HE TURNED HOME, HE FOUND ONE ENGINE ON FIRE AND HE WAS FORCED TO MAKE THE LONG WATER HOP FROM SARDINIA TO NORTH AFRICA ON HIS ONE REMAINING ENGINE AND WITH

JUN 26 1943

3024-5405

3024-5405

PRECIOUS LITTLE GAS.

WILKES CRASHED IN LANDING BUT CLIMBED OUT UNHURT ON HIS HOME FIELD.

THE 22-YEAR-OLD PILOT ARRIVED IN NORTH AFRICA RECENTLY AND JOINED HIS SQUADRON FIVE DAYS AGO. YESTERDAY HE WAS CHOSEN TO HELP ESCORT A GROUP OF MARAUDERS WHOSE MISSION WAS TO BOMB CHILIVANI.

ALL THE PLANES REACHED THE TARGET AREA WITHOUT INCIDENT WITH WILKES KEEPING HIS PLACE IN THE FORMATION.

JUN 26 1943

"THE FIRST THING I KNEW, THEY WERE ALL AROUND US," WILKES SAID, "I BROKE FORMATION AND LOOKED AND THERE WAS ONE ON MY TAIL. I STARTED UP AND COMPLETED A 360-DEGREE TURN, SAW I WAS SMOKING, SO I TURNED TOWARD THE SEA. I CUT OFF THE LEFT MOTOR WHICH WAS ON FIRE, THEN I WENT INTO A SPIRAL, GOT DOWN ON DECK AND HEADED TOWARD HOME.

"TWO OF THE OTHER FELLOWS CAME DOWN AND STAYED WITH ME UNTIL WE WERE ACROSS THE WATER."

WHEN WILKES REACHED HIS HOME STATION HE LOST NO TIME IN STARTING DOWN, BUT THEN "MY HYDRAULIC SYSTEM WAS SO SHOT UP I HAD TO PUMP THE WHEELS DOWN BY HAND. I CAME IN HOT, BUT THE PLANE WOULDN'T SETTLE. FINALLY I SHOVED THE STICK FORWARD. THE NEXT THING I KNEW I WAS SKIDDING ALONG ON THE NOSE OF THE PLANE."

WILKES COUNTED 180 HOLES IN HIS PLANE. EXPLOSIVE CANNON SHELLS HAD HIT THE MAIN GAS TANK. GAPING RENTS SHOWED IN THE COCKPIT. IN VIEW OF THE ADDITIONAL DAMAGE CAUSED BY THE CRASH LANDING WILKES DECIDED "I MUST HAVE A CHARMED LIFE." IT WAS THE 19TH MISSION ON WHICH THE PLANE HAD FLOWN.

THE FLIER'S JOY OVER HIS SAFE RETURN WAS DILUTED BECAUSE "I DIDN'T GET A CHANCE TO FIRE AT ANYBODY." HE FOUND CONSOLATION, HOWEVER, IN LEARNING THAT THE MESSERSCHMITT WHICH HAD RIDDLED HIS PLANE WAS LATER THE VICTIM OF LIEUT.GEORGE D.WEIGHTMAN, OF ANTIOCH, CALIF.

A COMPLETE CHECK SHOWED THAT TWO OTHER MESSERSCHMITTS WERE TUMBLED TO EARTH BY HUBERT M.BLAIR, OF CHATHAM, V., WHO FOUN

JUN 26 1943

TO EARTH BY HUBERT M.BLAIR, OF CHATHAM, VA., WHO FOUND THEM "DUMB."

"THEY CAME DOWN AND FLUTTERED AROUND AS IF THEY WERE DUMB-FOUNDED," HE SAID.

CAPT.CARL F.RUDDER, OF STENSON, ALA., AND LIEUT.JOHN S.GARBETT OF 1413 WELLER AVE., LAPORTE, IND., COLLECTED ONE ENEMY PLANE EACH, RUNNING THE SQUADRON'S TOTAL FOR THE DAY TO FIVE.

SW&JS434PEW

ADD New Delhi

RAF BOMBING OPERATIONS OVER WESTERN BURMA DURING THE PAST WEEK HAVE BEEN GREATLY RESTRICTED BY HEAVY CLOUDSTORMS, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, BUT REGULAR RECONNAISSANCE PATROLS HAVE BEEN CARRIED OUT AND BOMBING AND MACHINEGUN ATTACKS HAVE BEEN MADE ON ENEMY POSITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

NO AIRCRAFT HAVE BEEN LOST IN THESE OPERATIONS, THE BULLETIN SAID.

MELBOURNE, JUNE 25-(AP)-ANETA, THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES NEWS AGENCY, SAID TODAY THE JAPANESE CONTROLLED MACASSAR RADIO HAD IMPLIED THAT WEDNESDAY'S HEAVY AMERICAN BOMBER RAID ON CELEBES CAUSED SERIOUS DAMAGE.

JUN 26 1943

JUN 26 1943

THE MACASSAR RADIO INDICATED HEAVY CASUALTIES BY PROMISING AID TO DEPENDENTS OF THE DEAD, HOSPITALIZATION FOR THE WOUNDED AND RELIEF FOR THE HOMELESS, THE AGENCY SAID.

DUTCH MONITORS SAID THAT THIS WAS THE FIRST ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF THE RAID THEY HAD HARD FROM JAPANESE SOURCES. THE BROADCAST WAS DELIVERED IN THEMALAY LANGUAGE.

(AMERICAN LIBERATORS STAGED THE RAID, THE SECOND LONGEST OF THE WAR BY LAND-BSED PLANES, ON JUNE 23. ONE JAPANESE CRUISER WAS HEAVILY DAMAGED.

JUN 26 1943

(THE LONGEST RAID OF THE WAR WAS MADE BY AMERICAN LIBERATORS ON WAKE ISLAND CHRISTMAS EVE. THEBOMBERS FLEW A DISTANCE OF 2400 MILES, 400 MILES MORE THAN THE PLANES THAT HIT CELEBES).

EW750PCW

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, SATURDAY, JUNE 26-(AP)-A BEAUFORT BOMBER SCORED A NEAR MISS ON A MERCHANTMAN IN A SMALL JAPANESE CONVOY OFF CAPE ST.GEORGE YESTERDAY, THE HIGH COMMAND ANNOUNCED.

CAPE ST.GEORGE IS ON THE SOUTHEASTERN TIP OF NEW IRELAND.

"ONE OF OUR MEDIUM BOMBERS ON RECONNAISSANCE ATTACKED A CARGO VESSEL IN AN ESCORTED ENEMY CONVOY OF THREE SMALL SHIPS, SCORING A NEAR MISS," THE NOON COMMUNIQUE SAID.

IN A REPORT OF EXTREMELY LIMITED ACTIVITY, THE COMMUNIQUE TOLD OF A SWEEP BY MEDIUM BOMBERS SOUTHWEST OF MADANG, NEW GUINEA, WHERE FIVE JAPANESE-HELD VILLAGES WERE STRAFED FROM TREETOP HEIGHT. NATIVE STRUCTURES WERE SET AFIRE AND A MACHINEGUN POST SILENCED.

THE SHIPS SPOTTED BY THE BEAUFORT OFF NEW IRELAND WERE ESCORTED BY A DESTROYER.

MEANWHILE, REPORTS WERE RECEIVED FROM FLIERS WHO HAVE BEEN ON RECONNAISSANCE OVER THE BIG JAPANESE BASE OF RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, SHOWING CONCENTRATIONS OF AIRCRAFT AND SHIPPING. RABAUL IS THE BASE WHICH ALLIED BOMBERS RECENTLY POUNDED WITH MORE THAN 160 TONS OF BOMBS IN SIX RAIDS.

JUN 26 1943

THE FLIERS REPORTED THAT THE SHIPPING IN THE AREA WAS ABOUT AT THE USUAL STRENGTH BUT INCLUDED A CONVERTED AIRCRAFT CARRIER. THEY SAID THEY COUNTED APPROXIMATELY 170 BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS ON THE AIRFIELDS, A SLIGHT INCREASE OVER THE PREVIOUS REPORT.

FR934PCW NM

BY VERN HAUGLAND

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 15-(DELAYED)-(AP)-NOT ALL THE STRANGE MUSIC IN THE JUNGLE IS NATIVE--EVEN IF IT SOUNDS THAT WAY. GIVE EAR, AS PROOF, TO CAP'N PORTMORE'S HEPCATS, THE SELF-STYLED "FIGHTIN'EST, FLYINGEST SWING BAND IN UNCLE SAM'S ARMED FORCES."

THEY REHEARSE IN THEIR SPARE TIME--IF ANY.

"SOME OF US ARE PILOTS WHO SPEND MOST OF THE DAY FLYING," SAYS THE BAND LEADER, CAPT. GILBERT PORTMORE, OF FRAMINGHAM, MASS.

"OTHERS ARE CREW CHIEFS ON STEADY DUTY. AS FAR AS I'VE BEEN ABLE TO FIND OUT, THIS IS THE ONLY BAND IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AREA MADE UP ENTIRELY OF COMBAT CREWS."

CPL. CHARLES FORSMAN, OF STAMFORD, CONN., MANAGES TO GET HOLD OF NEW SHEET MUSIC OCCASIONALLY FOR HIS PIANO BUT ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE VARIOUS INSTRUMENTS ARE LACKING.

JUN 26 1943

30 24 - 5407

30.24- 5407

"AND NO ONE HERE HAS TIME TO DO ANY ARRANGING OF OUR OWN," HE ADDS."

RIGHT NOW THE 12-MEMBER BAND IS LOOKING FOR TWO SAXOPHONES AND A BULL FIDDLE TO BRING THE GROUP TO ITS DESIRED STRENGTH.

THE MUSIC THEY PLAY WITH THE GUNS ON THEIR PLANES IS ALSO ALL RIGHT. AMONG THEM, FOUR BAND MEMBERS HAVE SHOT DOWN SIX JAPANESE ZEROS.

JUN 26 1943

GETTING INSTRUMENTS HAS BEEN ONE OF THE MAJOR BAND PROBLEMS.

"UNDER THE PRESENT ARMY SETUP THERE ARE NO PROVISONS FOR MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS IN THE AIR FORCE," EXPLAINED PORTMORE.

"THE INFANTRY IS SUPPOSED TO PROVIDE THE BANDS, SO INFANTRY OUTFITS GET BAND PERSONNEL AND INSTRUMENTS. WE'VE HAD TO BUY, BEG OR BORROW OUR OWN INSTRUMENTS IN AUSTRALIA."

PORTMORE, A DARTMOUTH COLLEGE GRADUATE, USED TO PLAY THE TRUMPET WITH BOB CROSBY'S BOBCATS ON WEEK-ENDS AWAY FROM SCHOOL. ANOTHER TRUMPETER IN THE BAND WHO HAS SAT IN WITH BOB CROSBY'S ORCHESTRA IS CPL. ROBERT RAWDIN OF LOS ANGELES.

OTHER P-40 PILOTS IN THE BAND ARE LIEUT. ROBERT HOWARD, OAKLAND, CALIF., TROMBONE PLAYER WHO USED TO BELONG TO A SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, AND LIEUT. ROBERT W. ASCHENBRENER OF LAC DU FLAMBEAU, WIS., SAXOPHONE AND CLARINET.

THE BAND'S DRUMMER, TECHNICAL SGT. WESLEY DOWNER, 115 EAST MAPLE STREET, ADRIAN, MICH., IS A FORMER MICHIGAN STATE CHAMPION DRUMMER AND PLAYED IN TOMMY DORSEY'S ORCHESTRA BEFORE IT BECAME A NAME BAND.

OTHER PORTMORE HEPCATS: SGT.JOE A.GALLANT, 9 FRANKLIN AVENUE, CHELSEA, MASS., GUITAR; CPL.ELWOOD P.JOHNS, 137 MAPLEWOOD AVENUE, BOGOTA, N.J., BASS; PVT.WILLIAM H.MEYER, 39 SEMINARY STREET, AUBURN,N.Y., CPL.JOHN T.INNIS, 607 1/2 SECOND AVENUE, STERLING, ILL., AND SGT.RICHARD J.GRUNWALD (ADDRESS NOT AVAILABLE)--REEDS.

JUN 26 1943

STILL ANOTHER FIGHTER PILOT, SMOOTH-VOICED LIEUT.JOHN S. MILLER, OF BENNINGTON,VT., SANG WITH THE BAND AT A RECENT GROUP ENTERTAINMENT.

MILLER BELONGS TO A GROUP GLEE CLUB WHICH ALSO INCLUDES SGT. JOHN J.BALCHIK, ALBION, MICH.; STAFF SGT.HERBERT A.CHAPM DULUTH, MINN.; STAFF SGT.ROLAND C.ROCK, JONESVILLE, MICH.; STAFF SGT.ROBERT H.APPLEWHITE, LUMBERTON, MISS.; STAFF SGT. JIMMIE W.BARLETT, WEST ASHEVILLE,N.C.; AND SGT.FLORIAN F.SCHMIDT, ST.LOUIS.

STAFF SGT.KIAH EVANS, FISK, MO., WROTE AND DIRECTED THAT PARTICULAR SHOW.. OTHERS TAKING PART INCLUDED CAPT.HERMAN A. TAPPER, WASHINGTON,D.C.; CPL.MYRL J.ESKEW, ATLANTA,GA.; AND CPL.RALPH L.BOYCE, GARDNER, MASS.

EW845PCW

ADVANCED AMERICAN BASE, SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 17-(DELAYED)-(AP)-JACK BENNY AND THE ANDREWS SISTERS ENTERTAINED THE MOST EXPERIENCED ATTACK SQUADRON IN THE UNITED STATES AIR FORCE MORE OR LESS BY PROXY LAST NIGHT.

THE OFFICERS OF AN A-20 SQUADRON WHICH BY THE END OF MAY HAD TAKEN

JUN 26 1943

PART IN 1035 SORTIES DURING 232 ATTACK MISSIONS--CLAIMED AS AN AMERICAN RECORD--WERE ENTERTAINING THEIR ENLISTED MEN. ON THE BILL WERE THE NAMES OF HOLLYWOOD ENTERTAINERS.

JACK BENNY, IDENTIFIED BY HIS QUAVERING VIOLIN SOLO, "LOVE IN BLOOM," TURNED OUT TO BE LIEUT.EDMOND D.MONTAGANO, OF CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, OHIO, MOST BEMEDALLED PILOT IN THIS OFTEN-DECORATED SQUADRON.

JUN 26 1943

MONTAGANO, WHO HAS THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS, SILVER STAR, PURPLE HEART AND AIR MEDAL, WAS A VIOLINIST, CELLIST AND SINGER WITH SAMMY KAYE'S ORCHESTRA BEFORE HE BECAME A FLIER. HE IS A GRADUATE OF LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY.

THE ANDREWS SISTERS WERE THREE LIEUTENANTS--MONTAGANO WAS ONE OF THEM--DRESSED AS WOMEN, WHO PRETENDED TO SING "BADDY" WHILE THE ANDREWS SISTERS RECORDING OF THAT PIECE WAS PLAYED BACKSTAGE. THE OTHER "SISTERS:" EDWARD R.RICHARDSON, MUSKOGEE, OKLA.; AND JACK F.TAYLOR, CANTON, ILL.

MUSIC WAS PROVIDED BY AN INFANTRY ORCHESTRA, THE KIVE FOUR. ITS PERSONNEL INCLUDED: TECHNICIAN FIFTH GRADE CLARENCE LINDSTROM, GREAT FALS MONTANA, CLARINET; PVT.MAXWELL C.HONGOLTZ, 3345 NORTH MARSHFIELD AVENUE, CHICAGO, SINGER AND ACCORDIONIST; PFC EDWARD BIEHL, 5330 COLUMBIA DRIVE, MILES CITY, MONT., GUITAR AND VOCALIST.

OTHER OFFICERS TAKING PART INCLUDED LIEUTENANTS JARRET (BILLY) ROAN, SHREVEPORT, LA., JACK CATES, BURLINTON, N.C., RISDEN A.LYON, WADESBORO, N.C., JOHN G.KELLEY, ROCK HILL, S.C., AND ROBERT N.DOWN, JACKSONVILLE, FLA. DOW WAS A TELEGRAPH EDITOR OF A JACKSONVILLE NEWSPAPER.

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SERGEANT JIM LUCAS, U.S. MARINE CORPS, OF 25131 EAST 14TH PLACE, TULSA, OKLA., AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

(WX)-SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-FIRST LIEUTENANT RICHARD L.NICKERSON, U.S.M.C., 11 HIGH STREET, FARMINGTON,MAINE, HAS BEEN PRAISED BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER FOR HIS PART IN KEEPING OPEN AN AERIAL SUPPLY ROUTE TO HENDERSON FIELD DURING THE BATTLE FOR THE SOLOMON ISLANDS.

NICKERSON, THEN A SECOND LIEUTENANT, REPEATEDLY RISKED HIS LIFE TO PILOT NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT PLANES LOADED WITH GASOLINE, HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND BOMBS, TO GUADALCANAL. HE HELPED UNLOAD THE CARGOES UNDER FIRE ON HENDERSON FIELD'S BOMB-SHATTERED RUNWAYS, THEN TOOK OFF WITH WOUNDED MARINES.

THE SAGA WRITTEN BY HIS SQUADRON HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.HALSEY,JR., U.S.N., COMMANDER SOUTH PACIFIC AREA AND SOUTH PACIFIC FORCES, AS "AN EXAMPLE OF COURAGE AND SKILL."

JUN 26 1943

LIEUTENANT NICKERSON IS THE SON OF MR. AND MRS.L.A.NICKERSON OF FARMINGTON.

MD537AEWNN

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SGT.JIM LUCAS, U.S. MARINE CORPS, OF 25131 EAST 14TH PLACE, TULSA, OKLA., AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

(WX)-SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JUNE 5-(DELAYED)-TECHNICAL SGT.FRANK E.GEIST, 23, OF 2004 FOURTH AVENUE, KEARNEY, NEBRASKA, HAS BEEN COMPLIMENTED BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER AT THIS SOUTH PACIFIC BASE FOR THE PART HE PLAYED IN KEEPING OPEN AN AERIAL "BURMA ROAD" OF SUPPLIES TO HENDERSON FIELD DURING THE SOLOMON

JUN 26 1943

30 24 - 5409

30.24 -5409

ISLANDS CAMPAIGN.

REPEATEDLY GEIST, THEN A STAFF SERGEANT, RODE INTO GUADALCANAL AS MECHANIC IN A NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT PLANE LOADED WITH BOMBS, HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND GASOLINE, HELPED UNLOAD THEM UNDER FIRE ON HENDERSON FIELD RUNWAYS, AND TOOK OFF INTO HOSTILE SKIES WITH WOUNDED MARINES FOR BASE HOSPITALS OUT OF THE FIGHTING ZONE.

THE SAGA OF HIS SQUADRON HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.HALSEY,JR., U.S.N., AS "AN EXAMPLE OF COURAGE AND SKILL."

JUN 26 1943

TECHNICAL SERGEANT GEIST ENLISTED JULY 16, 1940, AT DES MOINES, IOWA. HE IS THE SON OF MRS.LENTO GLADYS GEIST OF KEARNEY, NEBRASKA.

BY DEAN SCHEDLER

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, (FRIDAY) -- JUNE 25-(THURSDAY)-(AP)- BITS OF "INTELLIGENCE" FROM A CORRESPONDENT'S NOTE BOOK DURING WANDERINGS AROUND NEW GUINEA:

WHEN PRIVATE JAMES MCHERNEY, CLEVELAND,O., ATTEMPTED TO SOUND AN AIR RAID ALERT BY FIRING A JAPANESE RIFLE, THE RIFLE JAMMED. HOWEVER, HIS LUNG POWER SENT THE BOYS SCRAMBLING FOR TRENCHES AND TIN HATS.

* * * *

ROMANCE BETWEEN STAFF SGT.HERBERT BILLINGTON, BALLANTYNE BRIDGE, N.Y., AND A SOCIALITE SYDNEY,AUSTRALIA, GIRL, HAS THE ENLISTED MEN OF A BOMBER GROUP WATCHING THE PLANES FOR THE RETURN OF BILLINGTON --9 IS IN AUSTRALIA ON LEAVE. HIS PALS, WHO JUST HEARD ABOUT THE ENGAGEMENT, FORECAST GREAT THINGS FOR THEIR CLUB -- THE FUTURE GROOM'S PARENTS OWN HARDWARE STORES WHILE THE FUTURE BRIDE'S FAMILY IS IN THE ICE CREAM BUSINESS -- AND ENVISAGE TONS OF ICE CREAM NIGHTLY UPON BILLINGTON'S RETURN.

JUN 26 1943

FOR SACU HH

WASHINGTON,JUNE 25-(AP)-DECORATION OF TWO DESTROYER COMMANDERS WHO HELPED TURN BACK A JAPANESE FORCE HEADING FOR THE ALEUTIAN ISLANDS LAST MARCH WAS ANNOUNCED BY THE NAVY TODAY.

THE OFFICERS ARE:

COMMANDER ANTHONY L.RORSCHACH, 1504 WEST CEDAR AVE.,REDLANDS,CALIF., AWARDED THE SILVER STAR, AND LIEUTENANT COMMANDER JOHN C.ATKENSON, COLUMBIA,ALA., AWARDED THE NAVY CROSS. ATKENSONS WIFE, MRS. LOUISE ATKENSON LIVES AT 1130 ROCKBRIDGE AVENUE, NORFOLK,VA.

THE DESTROYERS COMMANDED BY THE TWO OFFICERS WERE PART OF A LIGHT PATROL FORCE WHICH INTERCEPTED THE FAR STRONGER JAPANESE FORCE OFF THE KOMANDORSKI ISLANDS, IMMEDIATELY ATTACKED AND FORCED THE ENEMY CONVOY TO WITHDRAW.

JUN 26 1943

WASHINGTON,JUNE 25-(AP)-THE ARMY AWARDED THE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE MEDAL TODAY TO TWO NAVY OFFICERS--CAPTAIN THOMAS M.SHOCK, 1029 OLIVE LANE,CORONADO,CALIF., AND COMMANDER ALLEN P.CALVERT, 2250 NORTH POINT STREET, SAN FRANCISCO--FOR THEIR ASSISTANCE TO THE ARMY IN THE GUADALCANAL CAMPAIGN BETWEEN MID DECEMBER 1942 AND FEBRUARY THIS YEAR.

SHOCK COMMANDED NAVAL UNITS ASSISTING ARMY FORCES ON GUADALCANAL, AND IN ADDITION TO SINKING AND DAMAGING A NUMBER OF ENEMY SHIPS,

JUN 26 1943

"DIRECTED THE DAILY AND EFFECTIVE NAVAL BOMBARDMENT AGAINST ENEMY STRONGPOINTS AND SUPPLY DUMPS, MAINTAINING CONSTANTLY CLOSE LIASON WITH THE ARMY GROUND FORCES." THE CITATION SAID ALSO THAT HE ORGANIZED AND DIRECTED CONVOY OPERATIONS WHICH TRANSPORTED SOME GROUND ATTACK UNITS AND KEPT THEM SUPPLIED.

CALVERT COMMANDED A TORPEDO BOAT FLOTILLA WHICH PATROLLED ENEMY COASTAL WATERS IN THE SOLOMONS, AND ON FOUR OCCASIONS INTERCEPTED ENEMY FORCES. THE CITATION SAID HIS "FEARLESSNESS AND PROFESSIONAL ABILITY WERE AN INSPIRATION TO HIS OFFICERS AND MEN ARE CONTRIBUTED LARGELY TO THE SUCCESSFUL OPERATIONS AGAINST THE ENEMY FORCES AT GUADALCANAL."

JUN 26 1943

OWI

WASHINGTON,JUNE 25-(AP)-A COMPROMISE LEAVING INTACT THE "NEWS ROOM" OF THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION (OWI), BUT SHEARING IT OF ITS DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN PROPAGANDA ACTIVITIES, WAS REPORTED UNDER DISCUSSION TODAY BY MEMBERS OF THE SENATE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE.

SENATOR LODGE (R-MASS), A COMMITTEE MEMBER AND FORMER NEWSPAPER REPORTER, SAID HE PERSONALLY FAVORS SUCH A COMPROMISE, WHICH MIGHT INVOLVE TRANSFER OF THE AGENCY'S FOREIGN SECTION TO THE OFFICE OF STRATEGIC SERVICES (OSS).

IN APPROVING THE $2,939,000,000 WAR AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS BILL, THE HOUSE ALLOWED $23,972,000 FOR OWI'S FOREIGN PROPAGANDA PROGRAM BUT CUT OUT ALL OF THE $5,500,000 PROPOSED FOR FINANCING ITS DOMESTIC WORK.

WHILE THERE HAS BEEN OPPOSITION WITHIN THE SENATE COMMITTEE TO SOME OWI POLICIES UNDER DIRECTOR ELMER DAVIS, THE RECENT APPOINTMENT OF PALMER HOYT, PUBLISHER OF THE PORTLAND OREGONIAN, AS CHIEF OF THE DOMESTIC BUREAU WAS SAID TO HAVE ALLAYED SOME REPUBLICAN CRITICISM.

HOYT IS A LONG-TIME PERSONAL FRIEND OF REPUBLICAN LEADER MCNARY (ORE) AND THERE WERE INDICATIONS THE LATTER WOULD SUPPORT A MOVE TO RESTORE AT LEAST A PART OF THE OWI DOMESTIC APPROPRIATION.

LODGE SAID HE THOUGHT THE OWI MIGHT WELL DISPENSE WITH ITS PUBLICATION AND MOTION PICTURE ACTIVITIES ON THE HOME FRONT, SO FAR AS THEY ARE CONCERNED WITH THE PRODUCTION OF DIRECT DISSEMINATION OF INFORMATION TO THE PUBLIC.

JUN 26 1943

HE SAID HE FELT THERE MIGHT BE A NEED FOR ITS SERVICES IN ASSEMBLING AND COORDINATING INFORMATION FROM VARIOUS GOVERNMENT AGENCIES, MAKING THAT INFORMATION READILY AVAILABLE TO THE PRESS AND RADIO.

MD306AEW

WASHINGTON,JUNE 25-(AP)-FORMULATION OF DEFINITE POST WAR PLANS AT THIS TIME, OTHER THAN "THE BAREST OUTLINES AND STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES AND PURPOSES" APPEARS TO SENATOR CLARK (D-MO) TO BE "IMPRACTICAL AND WELL NIGH IMPOSSIBLE."

HE MADE KNOWN HIS VIEW IN A LETTER TO MRS. GEORGE GELLHORN OF THE MISSOURI LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS, WHO HAD INQUIRED AS TO HIS POSITION ON THE BALL-BURTON-HATCH-HILL RESOLUTION CALLING FOR THE UNITED STATES TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE NOW IN A UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATION.

THE SENATOR'S OFFICE MADE PUBLIC HIS REPLY TODAY.

"AS TO THE WISDOM OR EXPEDIENCY OF THE PASSAGE OF THIS RESOLUTION OR EVEN EXTENDED DEBATE UPON IT IN THESENATE AT THIS TIME, I BELIEVE THAT NEITHER ITS PASSAGE NOR THE EXTENSIVE DEBATE UPON IT WHICH WOULD BE INEVITABLE, COULD POSSIBLY BE CONDUCIVE TO VIGOROUS PROSECUTION OF THE WAR TO UNQUALIFIED VICTORY, X X X" CLARK WROTE.

JUN 26 1943

30.24 — 5411

"ON THE CONTRARY, I AM CONVINCED THAT IT WOULD SERIOUSLY IMPAIR AND IMPEDE THE UNITY OF PURPOSE AND EFFORT WHICH IS SO DESPERATELY NECESSARY TO ACHIEVE THAT GOAL."

AS TO ANY POST WAR PLANNING, CLARK SAID OF THE MANY DETAILED PLANS SUBMITTED, "ONE AND ALL THEY HAVE BEEN FOUND TO CONFLICT WITH SOME OF THE OBJECTIVES OF OUR ALLIES AND HENCE WITHTHE UNITED AND SUCCESSFUL PROSECUTION OF THE WAR."

JUN 26 1943

CLARK WROTE THAT THREE PRINCIPLES SHOULD CONTROL POST WAR PLANNING SO FAR AS THE UNITED STATES IS CONCERNED: THE WELFARE OF THE NATION, THE ABOLITION OF WAR AS A MEANS OF SETTLING DISPUTES BETWEEN NATIONS AND "THE ACCOMPLISHMENT OF THESE OBJECTIVES BY METHODS WHICH WILL MEET THE APPROVAL OF OUR SONS AND DAUGHTERS X X X WHO HAVE DONNED THEIR COUNTRY'S UNIFORM."

HE SAID THERE ARE THREE "INSURMOUNTABLE DIFFICULTIES" TO THE BALL-BURTON-HATCH-HILL RESOLUTION, THE FIRST THAT ITS ADOPTION BY THE PRESENT CONGRESS WOULD NOT BE BINDING ON FUTURE MEMBERS.

"IN THE SECOND PLACE," HE ADDED, "WE WOULD BE CONFRONTED BY THIS ALTERNATIVE; IF THE COUNCIL OF THE UNITED STATES CALLED FOR BY THIS RESOLUTION WERE TO UNDERTAKE TO BE SPECIFIC AS TO POST WAR AIMS IT WOULD BE IMMEDIATELY SLAPPED IN THE FACE BY A DISCUSSION OF SUCH QUESTIONS AS THE FUTURE OF INDIA AND OF POSSIBLE SOVIET TERRITORIAL CLAIMS AS TO POLAND, FINLAND, SWEDEN, NORWAY, ESTONIA, LATVIA, BESSARABIA AND THE DARDANELLES."

THE THIRD DIFFICULTY ENUMERATED WAS "A LONG AND BITTER DEBATE X X X HURTFUL--PERHAPS RUINOUS."

SPOKANE,WASH.,JUNE 25-(AP)-SOME JAPANESE ON ATTU FELL BEFORE AMERICAN BAYONET ATTACKS, ALL RIGHT. MUCH BEFORE, IN FACT.

THEY WERE INTOXICATED FROM DRINKING TOO MUCH S

A

JUN 26 1943

K

I

, THE JAPANESE RICE WINE, BEFORE GOING INTO BATTLE, SAYS CPL.GEORGE DEPEW OF LOS ANGELES. AND DRUNK OR SOBER THE ENEMY WAS NO MATCH FOR THE AMERICANS, HE ADDS.

CORP.DEPEW WAS ONE OF A NUMBER OF WOUNDED TO ARRIVE AT THE ARMY'S NEW BAXTER GENERAL HOSPITAL HERE.

PVT.ROBERT BESS OF KENNETT,MO., TOLD INTERVIEWERS SOME JAPANESE WERE TRIPPED UP BY THEIR BELIEF THAT AMERICAN SOLDIERS STILL HAD THE OLD SINGLE SHOT RIFLES OF THE LAST WAR.

"THEY'D WAIT FOR OUR SHOT, THEN RAISE UP TO TAKE A LOOK. WE'D OPEN UP WITH OUR GARANDS AND BLOW THEM OUT OF THEIR HOLES."

FJ653ACW

ADD UNDATED Goebbels

IOR" PEOPLE--NOT AGAINST THE GERMANS. HE SAID THE AXIS HAD SUFFICIENT RESERVIES TO MEET AN INVASION EFFECTIVELY AT ANY POINT ON THE CONTINENT.

"THERE IS NO COMPARISON BETWEEN FIGHTING IN NORTH AFRICA OR FOR PANTELLERIA AND FIGHTING FOR EUROPE," THE ARTICLE ASSERTED.

FH900AZ#

JUN 26 1943

BY GLENN JARD.

THE ALLIES HAVE BEGUN KNOCKING AT THE BACKDOOR OF HITLER'S FORTRESS. MORE THAN 50 AMERICAN LIBERATORS ROARED ACROSS THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN THURSDAY AND LOOSED MORE THAN 125 TONS OF BOMBS ON AN AIRBASE NEAR SALONIKA. IT WAS THE FIRST ALLIED ATTACK ON THIS FAMOUS GREEK PORT SINCE IT PASSED INTO ENEMY HANDS IN THE TRAGIC SPRING OF 1941, AND IT MUST HAVE CARRIED TO BERLIN DREAD REMINDERS OF SALONIKA'S ROLE IN THE LAST WAR.

JUN 26 1943

SALONIKA WAS THE BASE FOR THE ARMIES THAT OPENED BY THE BACK DOOR TO CENTRAL EUROPE IN 1918, WINNING A VICTORY THAT LED DIRECTLY AND SPEEDILY TO THE DEBACLE OF THE GERMAN ALLIANCE. IT WAS JUST 25 YEARS AGO THIS SUMMER THAT THESE ARMIES WERE PREPARED, UNDER THE FRENCH GENERAL FRANCHET D'ESPEREY, FOR THE OFFENSIVE WHICH BEGAN SEPT. 15 AND LED TO THE CAPITULATION OF BULGARIA WITHIN A FORTNIGHT. FIVE WEEKS LATER AUSTRIA WAS KNOCKED OUT; GERMANY FOLLOWED WITHIN ANOTHER WEEK.

IN MANY RESPECTS THE SITUATION THEN WAS LIKE TODAY'S, ESPECIALLY IN SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE. GERMANY'S OFFENSIVE BOLT HAD BEEN SHOT; CENTRAL EUROPE WAS UNDER SIEGE. BUT THE KAISER'S ARMIES HAD OVERRUN MOST OF THE BALKANS, HELD NEARLY ALL OF RUMANIA AND SERBIA (LATER TO BECOME YUGOSLAVIA) AND HAD BULGARIA AS AN ALLY. THERE WERE SOME IMPORTANT DIFFERENCES. TURKEY WAS IN THE GERMAN CAMP. GREECE HAD NOT BEEN CONQUERED AND AFFORDED THE ALLIES A FOOTHOLD ON THE CONTINENT.

TODAY THE ALLIES STILL HAVE TO WIN THEIR LODGMENT IN THE BALKANS. THE GERMAN SWEEP THROUGH GREECE AND THE ISLANDS OF THE AEGEAN TWO YEARS AGO HAS MADE THEIR TASK FAR MORE DIFFICULT THAN IN 1918. BUT NEW WEAPONS AND NEW TACTICS, ESPECIALLY THE AIRPLANE AND THE METHODS OF AMPHIBIOUS WARFARE, HAVE MADE IT ENTIRELY POSSIBLE TO REPEAT THE THRUST AT GERMANY FROM THE SOUTHEAST. IN ANY CASE THIS IS ONE OF THE INVASION ROUTES MOST FAVORED IN THE SPECULATION OF THE DAY AND THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT THE UNITED NATIONS ARE ASSEMBLING GREAT ARMIES, AIR FORCES AND FLEETS IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN AREA.

THIS MAY BE ONLY PART OF THE WORLDWIDE WAR OF NERVES WITH WHICH THE ALLIES ARE SUPPLEMENTING THEIR ACTUAL BUT HIDDEN MILITARY PREPARATIONS. ONE PREREQUISITE TO SUCCESSFUL INVASION IS THAT THE ENEMY SHALL BE COMPELLED TO DISPERSE HIS FORCES AS WIDELY AS POSSIBLE. IF HE HAS TO MAINTAIN SOME 75 DIVISIONS IN THE BALKANS AND THE OUTLYING ISLANDS, AS REPORTS FROM TURKEY INDICATE, THAT MEANS THE THINNING OF HIS LINES IN RUSSIA AND THE WEST.

JUN 26 1943

THERE IS MORE TO IT THAN BLUFF, HOWEVER. HITLER MUST DISPERSE HIS FORCES BECAUSE HE KNOWS THAT THE UNITED NATIONS ACTUALLY ARE BUILDING UP CONCENTRATIONS OF STRIKING POWER AT HALF A DOZEN OR MORE POINTS AROUND HIS DOMAINS EACH CAPABLE OF DELIVERING A KNOCKOUT BLOW. AROUND THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN, IN EGYPT, SYRIA, ON CYPRUS, IN IRAQ AND IRAN, ARE KNOWN TO BE BRITAIN'S NINTH AND TENTH ARMIES, THE UNITED STATES NINTH AIR FORCE AND OTHER UNITS, THE POLISH ARMY OF PERHAPS 100,000 MEN, UNITS OF THE FIGHTING FRENCH.

ALTOGETHER THERE IS GOOD REASON FOR EXPECTING AN ALLIED OFFENSIVE IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN IN 1943. STRATEGY IN THAT SEA HAS TWO PRINCIPAL OBJECTIVES, TO CLEAR IT AS THE GREAT WEST-TO-EAST ARTERY OF THE ALLIES' GLOBAL SUPPLY SYSTEM AND TO BLAST SOUTH-TO-NORTH INVASION PATHWAYS. IN TWO AREAS THESE OBJECTIVES COINCIDE. AT THE

JUN 26 1943

30.24 — 5413

WAIST OF THE MEDITERRANEAN, WHERE SICILY OBVIOUSLY IS MARKED FOR CONQUEST, AND IN THE EAST, WHERE THE PROGRAM OF THE UNITED NATIONS DEMANDS EARLY EXPULSION OF THE AXIS FROM CRETE, THE DODECANESE AND THE AEGEAN ISLANDS AND ESTABLISHMENT OF A BRIDGEHEAD, PROBABLY SOMEWHERE NEAR HISTORIC SALONIKA.

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO).

- - -

JUN 26 1943

BY MAX HILL

JAPAN'S MILITARY MASTERS ARE TOO REALISTIC TO MAKE THE SAME FOOLISH PLEDGES TO THEIR PEOPLE THAT THE GERMANS ONCE MADE ABOUT DEVASTATING AIR RAIDS. ONCE HITLER'S SATELITES HOLDLY PROMISED THAT GERMAN CITIES NEVER WOULD BE BOMBED. THEY KNOW BETTER NOW.

BUT TOMOKAZU HORI, A ROUGH AND TUMBLE JAPANESE WHO WAS EDUCATED IN CALIFORNIA AND KNOWS THE FALLACY OF DUPING THE COMMON PEOPLE, RECENTLY TOLF JAPAN IN A BROADCAST SPECIALLY PREPARED FOR DOMESTIC CONSUMPTION TO BE READY FOR SUCH ATTACKS. HORI IS SPOKESMAN FOR THE JAPANESE BOARD OF INFORMATION.

RAIDS ON JAPAN PROPER FROM THE ALEUTIANS AND CHINA ARE IN THE MAKING, HE WARNED, AND THEN SAID:

"WE CANNOT GUARANTEE THERE IS NO POSSIBILITY THAT AMERICA AND BRITAIN WILL NOT TAKE CONCRETE STEPS FOR OPERATIONS AGAINST JAPAN."

HE SAW IN THE ALLIED VICTORY IN AFRICA AN OPPORTUNITY FOR US TO DROP OUR "HOLDING" WAR AGAINST JAPAN AND INSTEAD WAGE ONE WHICH WAS DEFINITELY OFFENSIVE IN CHARACTER.

DESPITE THE FACT THAT HE INCLUDED THE ALEUTIANS THERE ISN'T MUCH DOUBT THAT BURMA IS OUR LOGICAL ROUTE FOR ATTACK. THAT MEANS CHINA IN THE LONG RUN, JUST AS HORI POINTED OUT TO THE HOME FOLK. HE SAID:

"MORE THAN ANYTHING, THE ENEMY IS CONTEMPLATING THE RECAPTURE OF BURMA, WHICH IS THE KEY TO THE OFFENSIVE IN THE FAR EAST. WE CAN THINK OF THE POSSIBILITY OF AN OPENING OF AN OFFENSIVE FROM THE BURMA AREA ABOUT THE TIME OF THE CLOSE OF THE MONSOON SEASON, WHICH COMES SOME TIME IN OCTOBER."

JUN 26 1943

UNTIL THEN, OF COURSE, WE CAN ONLY STRENGTHEN OUR FORCES IN INDIA, KEEP HAMMERING AT THE DEFENSIVE OUTPOSTS WHICH CIRCLE HONSHU, THE MAIN JAPANESE ISLAND, AND SEEK TO RECAPTURE KISKA, THE AMERICAN ISLAND WHICH THE JAPANESE TOOK OVER MORE THAN A YEAR AGO.

THIS MAY BE A SOBERING THOUGHT FOR THOSE WHO THINK WE HAVE AN EASY TIME AHEAD IN THE PACIFIC. THE JAPANESE CAPTURED THE VAST AND RICH PACIFIC AREA IN LESS THAN NINETY DAYS. SINCE THEN THEIR ARMY--AT LEAST THE MAIN FORCES--HAVE BEEN DOING NOTHING BUT BUILD DEFENSES.

IN THE MEANTIME WE HAVE NO MORE THAN ENGAGED MINOR UNITS ON ISLANDS SUCH AS GUADALCANAL, WHICH IS 3,000 MILES FROM TOKYO. THE REST OF THE ARMY, WITH THE HELP OF AT LEAST A QUARTER OF A BILLION ASIATICS, HAS BEEN PREPARING TO WARD OFF AN ATTACK.

BY OCTOBER, THE JAPANESE WILL HAVE HAD TWENTY MONTHS TO EXPLOIT THE RESOURCES OF MALAYA, THE EAST INDIES AND THE PHILIPPINES. I AM SURE NO ONE IS SANGUINE ENOUGH TO BELIEVE WE CAN RETAKE THIS TERRITORY IN THE SHORT TIME THE JAPANESE FOUND NECESSARY TO DRIVE US OUT.

HORI'S STATEMENTS MERELY ECHO THE SENTIMENT EXPRESSED IN THE RECENT SESSION OF THE DIET, WHICH MET IN AN EXTRAORDINARY SESSION IN TOKYO. ABOUT THE ONLY TANGIBLE DEVELOPMENT--AT LEAST THE ONLY ONE DISCLOSED BY THE SHORT-WAVE RADIO--WAS THAT THE JAPANESE COULD EXPECT AIR RAIDS ON THE MAINLAND OF JAPAN.

THERE ALSO WERE SEVERAL URGENT PLEAS THAT THE PEOPLE OF JAPAN GIVE THEIR WHOLEHEARTED SUPPORT TO THE REGIME OF PREMIER HIDEKI TOJO.

JUN 26 1943

THAT REALLY WASN'T NECESSARY, SINCE THE RULING POWERS IN JAPAN HAVE THEIR OWN WAY OF ENFORCING COOPERATION FROM THE MASSES.

SINCE TOKYO SEEMS TO HAVE SENSED THE TIMING OF THE PROMISED ALLIED OFFENSIVE AGAINST JAPAN, THERE CAN BE NO HARM IN SAYING THAT THE GUESS IS LOGICAL.

CHINA MOST CERTAINLY CAN HOLD OUT UNTIL AUTUMN--PERHAPS LONGER--BUT AFTER THAT OUR POLICY IN THE PACIFIC WILL BE THE DETERMINING FACTOR. WE CANNOT GO ON INDEFINITELY FIGHTING A "HOLDING" WAR IN THAT AREA, WHETHER OR NOT THE WAR IN EUROPE IS OVER.

JUN 26 1943

FH840AEW

Both Houses Easily Raise Needed Votes

Stringent Law Is Slapped on Statutes, Effective at Once

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Congress overrode President Roosevelt's veto today and slapped onto the statute books legislation providing fines and imprisonment for persons instigating or aiding wartime strikes in government-operated mines or war plants.

The measure, hammered out by the legislators during the strikes by John L. Lewis' coal miners, was rejected by Mr. Roosevelt on the grounds that some of its provisions would foment rather than deter strikes. Some union leaders had protested it would "crucify" labor.

Mr. Roosevelt asked that Congress give him instead the authority to induct persons up to age 65 for noncombat military service—an authority which would allow strikers to be put into army uniform and sent back to work.

ACT IN TWO HOURS

The legislators bowled over the veto with breathtaking speed, completing action on the measure scarcely two hours after the chief executive's message reached the Capitol. It becomes law immediately.

First, the Senate voted, 56 to 25, to override, acting five minutes after it heard the message read. House action was delayed an hour and a half by the fact that the veto arrived when that body was in a parliamentary situation where immediate consideration could not be given to it.

Once the question was put, the House quickly backed the Senate by a vote of 244 to 108. Two-thirds approval in each branch was necessary for Congress to override the veto.

The House division found 114 Democrats and 130 Republicans voting to override the veto, and 67 Democrats, 37 Republicans and four minor party members balloting to sustain it.

It was the first time since he has been in office that the President has suffered a major defeat in Congress on labor legislation.

DELAY HEADED OFF

Administration leaders sought to delay a vote in the House by offering a motion to adjourn, but this was shouted down.

The message was read in an atmosphere of tension which was broken by subdued laughter from the Republican side when that portion was reached where the President asked amendment of the Selective Service act so strikers could be drafted.

Even as the vote was being taken, representatives of the CIO were circulating an open letter to members of Congress from Philip Murray, its president, declaring that "the President's veto has made possible a more careful consideration of the devastating implications of the measure passed by Congress in haste."

MURRAY'S LETTER

"In the interests of effective prosecution of the war by a nation strong in its democratic unity," Murray added, "I earnestly plead with the members of Congress to rally to the support of the President and of his veto to the bill."

In his veto message, Mr. Roosevelt said there should be no misunderstanding of his reasons for disapproving the legislation.

"I am unalterably opposed to strikes in wartime," he continued. "I do not hesitate to use the powers of government to prevent them."

WOULD FOMENT TROUBLE

But the Connally-Harness-Smith bill, he declared, includes provisions "which have no place in legislation to prevent strikes in wartime and which in fact would foment slowdowns and strikes."

Specifically, he cited provisions for a secret ballot by employes before a strike and for notice before a strike is called. And he described as irrelevant a prohibition against political contributions by labor organizations in wartime.

The Senate took just five minutes to act after hearing the message. Senator Connally of Texas, one of the authors of the measure, declared the people are "sorely disappointed" at the President's rejection of the bill, and Senator Hatch of New Mexico seconded Connally's views.

"Let's vote," Senators cried.

RESULT APPLAUDED

The roll was called and a burst of applause from floor and galleries greeted announcement of the result.

Twenty-nine Democrats and 27 Republicans balloted to override the veto. Voting to sustain it were 19 Democrats, five Republicans and Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, a Progressive.

The terms of the new war labor disputes act:

Give statutory authority for the President to seize war facilities.

Provide for maintenance of existing terms and conditions of employment except as directed by the War Labor Board.

Provide fines up to $5000 and imprisonment for up to one year for persons instigating or aiding a strike in a government-operated war facility.

POWER FOR WLB

Give statutory authority to the War Labor Board which was created by executive order of the President.

All these provisions, the President said he approves, adding that broadly speaking they incorporated into statute "the existing machinery for settling labor disputes."

Of the proposed criminal penalties for instigating a strike in a government-operated plant, he said:

"This would make possible the arrest of a few leaders who would give bond for their appearance at trial. It would assure punishment for those found guilty and might also have some deterrent effect. But it would not assure continuance of war production in the most critical emergencies."

CITES OBJECTIONS

Then he raised objections to the other sections of the bill which:

Require notice to government labor agencies when a labor dispute exists which threatens to interrupt war production.

Direct that within 30 days after such notice the National Labor Relations Board conduct a secret ballot election among the affected workers to determine if they wish to strike.

Forbid wartime political contributions by labor organizations.

"Far from discouraging strikes," Mr. Roosevelt said, the requirements for notice of a dispute's existence and a strike ballot would stimulate labor unrest and give government sanction to strike agitations."

WOULD FORCE VOTE

"It would force a labor leader who is trying to prevent a strike in accordance with his no-strike pledge to give the notice which would cause the taking of a strike ballot and might actually precipitate a strike," he said.

Holding elections, he declared, "would open the whole controversy over 'bargaining units,' a fruitful source of controversy and of bitter jurisdictional strife."

"The 30 days allowed before the strike vote is taken under government auspices might well become a boiling period instead of a cooling period. The thought and energies of the workers would be diverted from war production to vote-getting."

WOULD BAR OTHERS

As for the section dealing with labor political contributions, Mr. Roosevelt commented:

"If there be merit in the prohibition, it should not be confined to wartime, and careful consideration should be given to the appropriateness of extending the prohibition to other nonprofit organizations."

Speaking in general of labor's wartime record, Mr. Roosevelt cited the "no-strike" pledge.

"That pledge has been well kept except in the case of the leaders of the United Mine Workers," he continued. "For the entire year of 1942, the time lost by strikes averaged only 5-100ths of 1 per cent of the total man hours worked. The American people should realize that fact—that 99 and 95-100 per cent of the work went forward without strikes, and that only 5-100th of 1 per cent of the work was delayed by strikes. That record has never before been equaled in this country. It is as good or better than the record of any of our Allies in wartime."

COMMENT BY SMITH

Representative Smith (Dem.), Virginia, co-author of the measure, commented on the veto message as follows:

"The requirement in the bill of notice and waiting period before strikes, upon which the President based his veto, follows closely the provision of the Railway Labor Act which for 25 years has successfully prevented strikes in the railway industry."

In New York, where he stopped en route to a meeting of the Parliamentary Association in Ottawa, Senator Connally said:

"The vote in the two Houses was decisive. It will help the war effort and cheer our Allies. It will hurt no one except the outlaw and the saboteur, America has spoken."

JUN 26 1943

JUN 26 1943

30-24 — 5415

100 Fortresses Shatter Messina in Record Raid; New Blows Ravage Ruhr

TWO CARGO SHIPS BLASTED IN HARBOR DURING BIG RAID

JUN 27 1943

Allies Press Attack to Isolate Sicily from Mainland.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 26 — (AP) Massed squadrons of Flying Fortresses shattered strategic sections of the "earthquake-proof" city of Messina yesterday with their biggest attack yet staged in the Mediterranean, it was disclosed.

The record raid marked another powerful blow in the continuing effort to isolate Sicily, Mussolini's island bastion off southern Italy.

More Than 100 Raiders

The Forts, roaring out more than 100 strong, showered the Messina port and rail areas so heavily that "when the last raider attacked there was so much smoke and dust that further observation of damage was impossible," Allied headquarters said.

Clouds of fighter planes and intense anti-aircraft fire put up a stubborn defense of the city, the terminus of train ferry links with the Italian mainland.

This assault followed an attack Thursday night by Wellingtons of the R.A.F. upon Olbia, in northern Sardinia, where they set off a huge explosion in the port area, near the railway station and military objectives, and started at least seven fires. All the Wellingtons returned safely, but three Allied planes were lost in Friday's operations.

The Allied communique declared that bombs were rained upon docks and freight yards at both Olbia and Messina, and that in Messina "photographs taken from the Fortresses showed two strikes and two damaging misses on a 400-foot merchant vessel in the harbor, one hit on the foredeck of a 500-foot ship and hits among a large number of buildings, warehouses, railroad tracks and station facilities."

"Reconnaissance pictures taken after the raid showed a large fire burning in the railway station," it said.

Rebuilt in 1908

Messina, ravaged by an earthquake in 1908, was rebuilt as one of Italy's most modern cities, designed to be as "earthquake-proof" as possible.

But it was shattered by explosives from the skies, and one returning pilot declared that "the city appeared to crumple and go up in smoke. There were direct hits all over the water front, and when we turned away we knew we had made a mess of Messina."

(Reuters said the Fortresses dropped 200 tons of bombs.)

Flying even into the face of their own anti-aircraft fire, enemy fighters stabbed repeatedly at the raiders, and some dropped fragmentation bombs upon the formations of big Allied craft. The anti-aircraft fire was described as the heaviest yet met south of Naples.

20 Planes Shot Down

Twenty enemy planes were shot down yesterday, and one was bagged Thursday night, headquarters said.

R.A.F. Beaufighters of the coastal command striking at an enemy convoy yesterday left a medium-sized enemy supply ship smoking, and fighter-bombers from Malta swept out to hammer targets in Sicily.

(The Italian communique today admitted "considerable damage" at Messina, and said that Reggio Calabria opposite Sicily, San Nicandro on the Adriatic, and Vizzini, 29 miles southwest of Catania in Sicily, likewise were bombed. The Italians declared 18 Allied planes downed against loss of but two Italian aircraft.)

JUN 27 1943

100 Flying Forts Hammer Messina

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 26—More than a hundred Flying Fortresses, striking in their greatest raid of the Mediterranean war, hit the vital straits city of Messina, in eastern Sicily, yesterday and kicked up such a huge cloud of fire and smoke that the entire target area was obscured at the end of the eighteen-minute attack.

Rivaling the Fortresses' attack on Messina, essential in the rail and ferry links with the Italian mainland, the RAF's Wellingtons roared over Olbia, in northern Sardinia, the preceding night and started at least seven fires and a big explosion in the port area, near the railway station and among military installations and ammunition dumps.

Describing the American attack on Messina, an official report said "the port area and marshalling yards were thoroughly smothered by bomb bursts and when the last raider attacked there was so much smoke and dust that further observation of damage was impossible."

Violent Opposition

(A Reuters dispatch said 200 tons of bombs were dropped in the assault.)

Attacking without fighter protection, the B-17s met extremely violent opposition from enemy interceptors as well as intense anti-aircraft fire.

Fighting desperately to block the devastating Allied raids which already are crippling Sicily's lines of communication and supply, enemy fighter-bombers swept over the high-flying Fortresses, dropping fragmentation bombs intended to explode among the dense formations.

At the same time the heaviest anti-aircraft barrage yet encountered south of Naples was opened up against the raiders.

Twenty Planes Bagged

But despite attacks, which compelled the Fortresses to battle their way both to the targets and then homeward, only three planes were lost in all Allied operations of yesterday and the preceding night, while twenty of the enemy aircraft were destroyed.

The Axis interceptors braved even their own flak in efforts to break into the compact formations, and one bomber flight was followed by the enemy to within sight of the African shore.

The Wellingtons, however, encountered scant resistance on their mission and all returned safely.

Supply Ship Fired

In other action yesterday RAF Beaufighters of the coastal command carried torpedoes and attacked a medium-size enemy supply ship escorted by three destroyers and a Heinkel 115 twin-egined float plane east of Sardinia. The ship was left emitting a column of smoke.

"Photograps taken from the Fortresses showed two strikes and two damaging misses on a 400-foot merchant vessel in the harbor, one hit on the foredeck of a 500-foot ship and hits among a large number of buildings, warehouses, railroad tracks and station facilities," said an official account of the raid on Messina.

"Reconnaissance pictures taken after the raid showed a large fire burning in the railway station."

Sicily Also Attacked

At the same time, an RAF communique from Malta announced, fighter-bombers from that fortress island sixteen miles to the south of Sicily, swept over the Italian island attacking various targets.

(The Flying Fortresses did "considerable damage" at Messina yesterday, according to the Saturday Italian communique as broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press.

JUN 27 1943

(Reggio Calabria, one of the two mainland terminals of the Messina ferry San Nicandro, on the Adriatic side of the mainland, and Vizzini, twenty-nine miles southwest of Catania in Sicily, also were bombed, the communique said.

Italian Sub Lost

(The Italians said eighteen Allied planes were shot down during the day at a loss of two Italian planes. An Italian submarine failed to return to its base, it added.

(A German broadcast, quoting Milan dispatches, declared fifty Allied merchant ships totaling 333,000 tons, had been sunk in the Mediterranean by Italian and German air and naval forces since the beginning of June. There was no Allied confirmation of this claim.)

Fortress crewmen were impressed by the terrific flak, as well as by the fighter opposition massed at Messina.

Flak "Pretty Rough"

Describing the ground fire, Lieut. William C. Rogers, Mount Vernon Iowa, said, "At first I thought they were celebrating the Fourth of July a week early. It was pretty rough."

Tech. Sergt. Andrew Poczik, of Columbus, Ohio, who shot down an ME-109 for his second victory of the campaign, asserted, "It was the toughest scrap I ever hope to be in. The fighters were thick as gnats in the shade."

An Advanced Allied Base in North Africa, June 26—Flying Fortresses "made a mess of Messina" in the great raid yesterday on that vital port which offers the major military lifeline between embattled Sicily and the Italian mainland, a returning pilot said today.

"It was the greatest thrill of my life to be above a city supposedly designed to withstand an earthquake," said Capt. Donald J. Stoeger, of Manitowoc, Wis., who led one flight of bombers over Messina.

City Appears To Crumple

"The city appeared to crumple and go up in smoke. There were direct hits all over the waterfront, and when we turned away we knew we had made a mess of Messina."

Built on a strip of narrow coastal plain in the northeast corner of Sicily, seven miles across the Strait of Messina from the Italian mainland, Messina virtually was wiped out by an earthquake in 1908. Reconstructed, it became one of Italy's most modern cities and was believed as near earthquakeproof as any city could be.

Vital Bomber Target

Crammed with 200,000 persons, Messina has become a vital bomber target because train ferries operating between it and the Italian mainland provide the only connection between the Sicilian and Italian rail systems. Five ferries operated normally, but bombings are believed to have reduced the number.

Messina's deep natural harbor is well sheltered. It had a slipway, repair installations and a drydock in operation before the first smashing British raids put them out of commission. It also was a heavy cruiser base for the Italian navy earlier in the war, and the railroad yards in Messina are the largest in Sicily.

Raided Before

North African Air Force bombers raided the city twice before yesterday's assault, but on a lesser scale. Nevertheless, aerial photographs showed that these raids and those administered by the RAF had heavily battered the Messina harbor and had caused grave damage to railroad equipment even before yesterday's raid.

History is full of references to wars in the vicinity of Messina. As chronicled in Homer's Odessey, beautiful sirens inhabited massive cliffs on opposite sides of the strait near the future city and lured seamen to their deaths on the rocks.

Homer's hero, Ulysses, outsmarted the sirens by having his sailors stop their ears and by tieing himself to a mast as his ship passed the sirens' lair.

NO PRISONERS ESCAPE DILLON

M. P. Chief in North Africa Tackles Big Problem.

Allied Force Headquarters in North Africa, June 25 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Uncle Sam's "head cop" in North Africa is a square-jawed former West Point law professor who believes the military police today are a better breed than the men who kept the troops in line in 1917-18 and will come out of this war with a banner reputation. As a cadet at the academy he did a lot of boxing.

JUN 27 1943

"They are picked more for brains than for brawn and they know you can do more with a man by reasoning with him than by clubbing him," said Brig.-Gen. Joseph V. Dillon, who, as Provost Marshal General for the North African theater, has one of the largest beats to patrol of any policeman in history.

In addition to superintending the military police in the American armed forces, Gen. Dillon has two other important jobs—he is responsible for the care, guarding and evacuation of 260,000 German and Italian prisoners and as chief of criminal investigation he is the main watch dog of all Government property.

The Bigger the Better.

"At present the prisoner problem is our biggest problem—but the bigger that one is, the better we like it," he said.

"The prisoners get the same quantity and quality of food as our own troops," said Gen. Dillon. "If we didn't feed them as well as our soldiers, the Germans who are masters at reprisal probably would put our men they have captured on a bread and water diet."

The General is proud of the fact that not a single enemy prisoner has escaped, despite the thousands brought under his control.

Runs in the Family.

"The discipline of the prisoners has been very good," he said. "We let them elect or appoint their own leaders who must be acceptable to the camp commander, and let these leaders handle disciplinary problems that arise. We are providing games like volley ball and other recreational facilities as rapidly as we can. Those men are physically husky and they have to get exercise. We are also setting up libraries with German and Italian books and we are arranging songfests for them, for they are all fond of music."

In safeguarding Government property from theft Gen. Dillon is assisted by Army men who in civilian life held important police jobs as investigators.

These detectives in uniform also investigate cases of soldier crime and break up petty rackets invented to victimize unwary soldiers.

One scheme is for a native to prevail upon thirsty soldiers to exchange their American cigarettes, more highly prized in Africa than American canned food, for cheap native wines. The cigarettes are then sold on the black market.

"The low venereal rate among our troops in a country where social disease is prevalent is proof that the problem of prostitution is being well handled," said Gen. Dillon.

Police work is a family tradition with Gen. Dillon. He is a native of New York city. His wife and daughter live at 5436 Vinetree Drive, Miami Beach, Fla.

"My father was chief inspector of the New York Police Department and was the first man in uniform raised to the rank of deputy police commissioner of New York," Gen. Dillon said, smiling. "I cut my teeth on a policeman's whistle."

GEORGE VI DIDN'T SHAKE HANDS, BUT—

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 26 (A. P.).—Major James S. Coward of Natchitoches, La., and Erwin, Tenn., commander of an American Spitfire fighter squadron, was prepared to meet the King of England, but he wasn't ready for what happened when the moment came.

He thought he would merely be introduced along with the other members of his Spitfire group at a Tunisian air base during the King's visit to North Africa.

The King came slowly along the line, shaking hands with each man. Finally he stopped in front of Major Coward, who saluted smartly and held out his hand.

But the King didn't take it.

Instead, he turned around and one of his aids handed him a small object. The Major, holding a rigid position, didn't see what it was. The next thing he knew the King was pinning something on his tunic.

The Major looked down and saw Britain's prized Distinguished Flying Cross.

"I didn't have any idea I was going to get it," he said. "I guess my eyes must have popped, because the King laughed and then began questioning about what we've been doing out here."

There was a lot to tell and the King heard it all.

Major Coward's group has knocked down ninety-six enemy planes in Africa, and he got the first one himself. The Major had so many medals and ribbons the King pinned this one above his wings instead of below.

AMERICAN PLANES STRIKE AT FRANCE IN DAYLIGHT RAID

JUN 27 1943

Large Force of Heavy Bombers Hits Airfields, Factories.

12 AIRCRAFT LOST

Attack Follows Smash at Ruhr Targets by R.A.F. Squadrons.

LONDON, Sunday, June 27.—(AP) A large force of American heavy bombers attacked airfields and industrial targets in France by daylight yesterday, winding up the busiest week yet seen in the mighty Allied aerial offensive which has devastated the German war cradle in the Ruhr valley and woven a pattern of destruction along Hitler's coastal wall.

A communique issued jointly by the U. S. Army's European theater headquarters and the British Air ministry said supporting Thunderbolts destroyed three enemy fighters and that some unescorted bombers shot down a "considerable number."

12 Planes Lost

Five bombers and seven fighters were lost in the daylight assaults, which were accompanied by British fighter sweeps over the continent and followed Friday night's R.A.F. attack on the heart of the Ruhr coal and steel belt.

Many squadrons of R.A.F., Dominion and Allied fighters took part in the daylight operations.

The precise objectives of the American heavyweights were not announced in the communique, which described the sky fleet as a "large formation" and said it included some light bombers of the R.A.F.

Factories Blasted

One returning flier said however that "we really smacked those factories. I could see the bombs dropped by the formations behind us still exploding all over the target area."

The communique said "Adverse weather conditions were encountered by some of the heavy bombers and those which were unable to identify clearly their targets dropped no bombs."

Most of the heavy bombers, including Flying Fortresses, flew unescorted and engaged in numerous combats with enemy fighters.

An earlier Air ministry communique had told of the raid on Bernay airfield, 40 miles south of Le Havre.

"Bursts were seen on buildings, hangars and dispersal pens," the Air ministry said.

Parked Aircraft Destroyed

One bomb fell squarely on a large concentration of parked aircraft. Others burst near twin-engined planes, it was said, and the raiders returned safely despite anti-aircraft fire which fighter pilots described as "considerable."

Other Typhoons scored hits on the station and freight yard near Le Treport in a raid during which not a single enemy fighter was sighted.

Boston bombers, meanwhile, attacked the oft blasted airfield at Abbeville.

The Ruhr was described as a bomb-pitted valley of spreading ruin after this week of assault—the mightiest ever loosed against a similar area.

Ruhr Valley Wrecked

After Friday night's blow at Bochum and Gelsenkirchen by a great force of R.A.F. heavyweights, one military observer estimated that 30,000 tons of explosives had ripped into the compact German industrial valley since the Allies opened their intensive aerial bombardment three and one half months ago and declared that the task of neutralizing the Ruhr was nearing completion.

The observer, who could not be identified by name, said that even the most concentrated anti-aircraft and fighter defenses the Nazis were able to muster had failed to check the onslaught, capped by the destruction of nearly 100 German fighters in the last two daylight raids by American Flying Fortresses and last night's telling punch by the R.A.F.

The customary naze of smoke from the Ruhr's armament factories was reported to have thinned out appreciably in recent weeks and at some points to have disappeared entirely.

In Friday night's attack the British smashed through swarms of Nazi fighters to strike at the core of the valley's coal and steel production. It was the seventh straight night that the R.A.F. poured flaming destruction on Hitler's war plants, and the cost was 30 big bombers. Pilots said they dropped their loads on assigned targets despite the intense opposition and poor weather conditions.

There was a definite feeling here, supported by Paul Joseph Goebels' own propagandists, that ruin now has been spread over such a huge area of the Ruhr that traffic and utilities are disrupted, morale seriously disturbed and production definitely impaired.

Recent massive raids have not been directed at the main centers of the Ruhr, such as Essen, Duessendorf and Dortmund, but at smaller towns on the perimeter of the great arsenal area. One commentator said it could be assumed that the larger cities had received a "sufficient dose" for the moment and that the experiment to see whether Germany could be bombed from the war was approaching its climax.

The R.A.F. attack came as a thundering follow-up to Friday's pounding of unspecified targets in northwest Germany by American heavyweights, estimated by the Germans to number 200. The Nazis seized on the second American raid within a week to cut loose with bitter new tirades in which they called American airmen cultural vandals and military barbarians.

Goebbels raged in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press:

"The Americans destroy towns of the European continent with their cultural institutions of which there are no equals in Chicago or San Francisco. What the cannot buy of European art and culture shall become victim of their terror bombers.

"Humanity should blush in shame that, say, a 20-year-old American, Canadian or Australian terror flier can and is allowed to destroy a picture by Duerer or Titian."

JUN 27 1943
JUN 27 1943

Steel, Coal Centers Battered By RAF

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 26—A heavy force of British bombers spread new destruction last night in the German Ruhr, hitting targets in Bochum and Gelsenkirchen, and one military observer declared that neutralizing of this great industrial valley was nearing completion.

This observer estimated that nearly 30,000 tons of bombs, many of them block-busters, had been cast upon this compact Nazi industrial region since the massive bombing experiment started three and a half months ago.

Haze Thinning Out

The normal industrial haze over the Ruhr now is reported thinned out and is said, in fact, to have actually disappeared in some places.

During the period, more than 500 bombers have been lost, this source said, and some 3,000 men have been killed or captured.

In last night's attack coal mining and steel plants were among the objectives.

Thirty Planes Lost

Thirty of the RAF's big aircraft were listed as missing in the night's activities.

Allied bombers and fighters were out again by daylight. Observers on the southeast English coast saw a strong force of two-engined bombers, escorted by many squadrons of fighters, streak across the channel toward Dieppe and Boulogne. The rumble of distant explosions soon came back from the French coast.

The British bombers, following by only a few hours the United States heavy bombers which attacked undisclosed targets yesterday in Germany, encountered the same cloud formations as the Americans and it was reported that results could not be observed accurately.

However, the Air Ministry communique reported that large fires were started in Bochum and Gelsenkirchen.

Many Air Battles

Strong new defensive squadrons which the Germans have thrown into the battle of the Ruhr were out in force, the British announced, and there were many air battles. Two enemy planes were reported destroyed.

JUN 27 1943

Yesterday's fighting over northwest Germany on the American foray was described by an American Air Force spokesman as "a prolonged battle of the clouds" and it was said that weather conditions were so unfavorable that some of the bombers selected their targets as best they could on the return journey.

Convoy Attacked

One group found an enemy merchant convoy in the North Sea and slipped through a break in the clouds to attack. Results could not be determined.

A German broadcast, reporting the convoy attack off the Dutch coast, said their ships did not suffer "any notable damage."

The Air Ministry communique reported that British Intruders also attacked airfields and other targets in the low countries overnight and destroyed a number of enemy night fighters.

Eleventh Raid In Two Weeks

Last night's Ruhr raid was the eleventh attack by the RAF on the Reich in two weeks. Bochum was last raided the night of June 12 and on May 13 some 1,000 tons of bombs were spread over its industries.

The Bochum-Gelsenkirchen district produces a third of the Ruhr coal and is an important point in an intricate network of railroad communications serving the Ruhr.

The steelworks of Bochumer Verein are important producers of war products and the coal-mining industry of Gelsenkirchen has by-product factories and synthetic oil plants.

Nazis Admit Losses

The German high command, in a communique broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, agreed with the British in declaring that thirty-nigh raiders were shot down and said the population at Bochum "sustained losses by hits by explosive and incendiary bombs."

In describing the American raid yesterday, the communique said "strong American bombe tions attempted to attac Germany under cover of thick clouds. German fighter planes gave battle early, with the result that the attacking formations were dispersed and compelled to drop their bombs over the open sea or over the coastal region."

The communique asserted twenty-six of the American bombers were shot down. The loss of only eight German fighters in the day and night battles was admitted.

The German radio blew up the encounter with the Americans yesterday as a great victory and a "sensation in aerial warfare."

A broadcast by Transocean, giving credit to German "Blitz fighters," as German fighter planes have now been christened, "said the engagement was "impressive evidence of the strengthening of German anti-aircraft defense."

More remarkable even than the large number of bombers shot down, Transocean continued, was that the raiders "dropped their bombs at random and hastily sought refuge in flight." A new German strategy was hinted at, and military spokesmen were quoted as declaring that the Allies would henceforth have to reckon with greatly increased losses.

It was admitted, however, that at least forty persons were killed at Bochum, and sixty others were believed killed when buried in debris. These were all inmates of an orphanage, the broadcast asserted.

British Typhoon bombers also joined in the offensive yesterday by raiding an airfield at Caen, France, without loss.

Americans in Battle ...

Yesterday's fighting over northeast Germany on the American foray was described by an American Air Force spokesman as "a prolonged battle of the clouds" and it was said that weather conditions were so unfavorable that some of the bombers selected their targets as best they could on the return journey.

One group found an enemy merchant convoy over the North Sea and slipped through a break in the clouds to attack. Results could not be determined.

German news reports said this morning that Allied four-engined bombers—presumably the American planes that raided northwest Germany—attacked a German convoy off the Dutch coast early yesterday.

The German information bureau in a broadcast heard by the Associated Press said eighteen bombers swooped down on the convoy, loosing from 100 to 150 bombs and opening fire with all guns. The broadcast said the convoy did not suffer "any notable damage," and declared two bombers were shot down.

United States heavy bombers have destroyed nearly 100 enemy fighters in their last two engagements over the Reich and thirty-seven of the American aircraft are missing, headquarters of the European theater of operations of the United States Army announced today.

The two forays were the penetration of the Ruhr Tuesday to blast synthetic rubber plants at Huls and yesterday's attack on northwest Germany.

One of the fortresses listed last night as among eighteen missing from yesterday's operations has now returned with its crew intact, it was announced.

The American raid yesterday on the northwest German targets was the second of the week for the daytime precision bombardiers. The first, against Huls on Tuesday, was the intial American venture into the battered Ruhr, an area now being rapidly emptied of its non-essential civilian population.

In all, the Americans lost seventeen planes yesterday.

But the enemy was made to

JUN 27 1943

Forts' Record: 100 For 37

London, June 26 (AP) — United States heavy bombers have destroyed nearly 100 enemy fighters in their last two engagements over the Reich and thirty-seven of the American aircraft are missing, headquarters of the European theater of operations of the United States army announced today.

The two forays were the penetration of the Ruhr on Tuesday to blast synthetic-rubber plants at Huls, and yesterday's attack on northwest Germany.

One of the Fortresses listed last night as among eighteen missing from yesterday's operations has now returned with its crew intact, it was announced.

GERMAN WAR INDUSTRY TARGET OF RUHR RAIDS

LONDON, June 26—(AP) Captain Harold Balfour, air undersecretary, said today that these were the goals of the Ruhr raids, which have laid waste vast areas of the great German industrial section:

1. "To bomb Ruhr coal production and stop it.
2. "To bomb steel works.
3. "To bomb factories making that steel into armament."

He added:

"The fact that German industries have been ordered to use a lower grade of steel is definite proof that the R.A.F.'s bombing has the desired effect."

Goebbels Calls Yankee Flyers Cultural Vandals

Fleet Street's Top Quip

London, June 26 (AP)—London's newspaper row, in Fleet Street, chuckled over the latest quip that "the trouble with Hitler's European fortress is that it hasn't any roof over it."

JUN 27 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 26—In his horror and hate campaign designed to stir German morale dented by continued heavy Allied aerial attacks, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Germany's propaganda minister, lashed out today to call Americans cultural vandals and military barbarians.

Speaking at Munich, at the opening of the seventh German Art Exhibition, he said "British and American terror planes were destroying in a short hour, cultural possessions which the centuries have built" and to which the United States and Britain "made very slight contribution."

His address was broadcast by the German radio and recorded by the Associated Press.

Belittles American Culture

Of the Americans, Goebbels said "towns like Nuernberg and Munich or Florence and Venice contain more of the eternal expression of Occidental culture than the whole of the North American Continent."

"The Americans destroy towns of th European Continent with their cultural institutions, of which there are no equals in Chicago or San Francisco. What they cannot buy of European art and culture shall become victim of their terror bombers.

"Humanity Should Blush"

"Humanity should blush in shame that, say, a 20-year-old American, Canadian or Australian terror flyer can and is allowed to destroy a picture by Duerer or Titian."

The German propaganda line consistently has been the assertion that cultural objects, hospitals and schools were bombed by the Allied flyers, without a mention of the military targets caught under RAF saturation raids and wiped out by precision bombing of the American Air Forces.

Goebbels now has a new propaganda policy of sending war reporters to the ruined Ruhr to make "horror" broadcasts, a move seen here as an attempt to arouse sympathy in Allied countries and to stir German morale with hate.

The British, who have felt the pain of bombings, were being warned in the press and by its leaders not to fall for the latest trick of Dr. Goebbels.

Calls Raids Justifiable

The Bishop of York, in disclosing he had received letters asking him to protest the bombing of German and Italian cities, replied the raids were justified because they would "shorten the war and may save thousands of lives."

From the Daily Mail came the warning: "Our enemies are crying out against a retribution that became inevitable when they first used the German air force as a threatening instrument of power politics, and there are fools in this country who echo the cries.

"We may sympathize with their soft-heartedness without sharing their soft-headedness. For if we do not finish this thing, it will finish us."

Discusses Military Angle

The Daily Herald declared Germany's new propaganda was "an attempt to exploit those humane instincts of the British people at which Goebbels once jeered as a sign of weakness and decadence. Goebbels wants to stop the bombing of the Ruhr, not because of the suffering which it involves, but because of its devastating effects upon the warpower of the Reich. . . ."

The London Times said: "A study of the German press shows that voices now are being raised in the Reich to protest against glorification of war. If that can be taken as a true state of mind, the air weapon already is giving proof of its educative power. . . ."

JUN 27 1943

30. 24— 5417

ALLIES PRIMED TO DEFEAT AXIS, WRITES STALIN

Early United Blows Against Enemy Asked in Reply to Roosevelt.

LONDON, Sunday, June 27 — (AP) Premier Stalin of Russia thanked President Roosevelt for his "high estimation of the determination and bravery of the Soviet people" in a special message broadcast by the Moscow radio early today and said that conditions have been created for the final defeat of the common enemy.

"The sooner we strike our joint united blows against the enemy from the east and from the west," the sooner final victory will come, said Premier Stalin's message, recorded here by the Soviet monitor.

Premier Stalin's statement was in reply to a message which President Roosevelt sent to the Premier last Tuesday on the second anniversary of the German attack on Russia.

Same Spirit After War

Mr. Roosevelt told Premier Stalin at that time that the same spirit of unity and sacrifice necessary for ultimate victory "will animate us in approaching the challenging tasks of peace."

The text of Premier Stalin's special message:

"I thank you for your high estimation of the determination and bravery of the Soviet people and their armed forces in their struggle against the Hitlerite invaders.

"As the result of two years of struggle on the part of the Soviet union against Hitlerite Germany and its vassals and of the serious blows inflicted by the Allies on the Italian and German armies in North Africa, conditions have been created for the final defeat of the common enemy.

"Victory will come all the sooner, of this I have no doubt, the sooner we strike our joint united blows against the enemy from the east and from the west."

Messages to Other Leaders

Premier Stalin sent a similar message to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and a joint one to Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud.

President Eduard Benes, of the provisional government of Czechoslovakia, was sent a message signed by President Michael Kalinin and Paul Henri Spaak, Belgian premier-in-exile, received one signed by Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

Like the one to Mr. Roosevelt, these acknowledged greetings extended on the second anniversary of the Russo-German war and expressed confidence in final victory over the Axis.

ROOSEVELT SENDS LETTER TO POLES

London, June 26 (A. P.).—President Roosevelt has sent a secret letter to Premier Wladyslaw Sikorski by Ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr., the Polish telegraph agency said today.

The agency likened the message to the one delivered to Premier Stalin of Russia by Joseph E. Davies recently.

Informants close to Mr. Biddle's office said that the embassy did not know the contents of the letter, but that it was a reply to a letter from Premier Sikorski to Mr. Roosevelt.

The President's letter was handed to Mr. Sikorski's office on June 16 and dispatched immediately to the Middle East, where the Premier was visiting Polish Army units.

DE GAULLE IN TUNIS

LONDON, June 26.— (AP) The Algiers radio reported the arrival of Gen. Charles de Gaulle in Tunis at 5 p. m. today. The broadcast, recorded here by the Associated Press, said the Fighting French leader, who now serves as co-president of the French Committee of National Liberation, was greeted with enthusiasm by the population.

London, June 26 (A. P.).—Prime Minister Churchill congratulated the Navy's light coastal forces today for their work in the North Sea, Channel and Mediterranean.

"As our strategy becomes more strongly offensive, the task allotted to the coastal forces will increase in importance and the area of their operations will widen," his message added.

JUN 27 1943

WAACS TO HAVE BIG FORCE IN BRITAIN

London, June 26 (A. P.).—Additional Waac officers have arrived here to prepare for a large-scale United States feminine military force in Britain, it was learned today.

The first Waac force sent overseas went to North Africa in January.

Lieut. Catherine Falvey, of Somerville, Mass., a lawyer and a member of the Massachusetts State Legislature, is among the most recent arrivals. She will aid Capt. Anna W. Wilson of Studio City, Cal., Waac commanding officer, and Capt. Wilson's first assistant, Lieut. Selma Herbert of New York.

They were preceded here by Capt. Mary E. Dixon of Ithaca, N. Y., daughter of Mrs. Harrison M. Dixon of Ithaca and Harrison M. Dixon of Washington, D. C., and Lieut. Magdalene E. Maciejko of Meriden, Conn., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Maciejko.

Capt. Dixon taught at White Plains, N. Y. Lieut. Maciejko also has been a teacher and was secretary to Senator Maloney of Connecticut.

HOARE IS PLAGUED BY NAZIS IN SPAIN

London, June 26 (A. P.).—Sir Samuel Hoare, British Ambassador to Spain, said in a letter to his Chelsea parliamentary constituents that Germans in Spain had tried to get him out of the country by gunman methods, it was disclosed today.

Sir Samuel said that the Germans even incited mobs to break windows of his embassy.

"Ever since I have been in Madrid the Germans have done everything in their power to make my position as difficult as possible with the view of getting rid of me from Spain," the Ambassador wrote.

He declared that his Spanish friend, Count Alvaro de Romanones, had been falsely quoted by Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels in Das Reich to the effect that an Allied victory would mean a communist uprising in Spain.

BOB HOPE IN BRITAIN, VISITS GRANDFATHER, 99

LONDON, June 26 — (AP) Bob Hope, the comedian who is here to entertain U. S. troops, expected to make a quiet visit to his 99-year-old grandfather, James Hope, in Hitchin, Hertfordshire, today but crowds pounced upon him for autographs and handshakes and he was obliged to run for his car.

Grandfather Hope, grinning and wearing a rambler rose in his coat lapel, said Bob's visit made him forget he had not been well. He added he had tried most of the day to borrow an American flag for the occasion but had to be satisfied with three Union Jacks instead.

"You look swell, granddad," Bob greeted him.

"You look just topping yourself," the oldster said, beaming.

The grandfather will be 100 on Aug. 21. Bob said he would try to be around for the celebration.

REDS WIPE OUT FINN COMPANY

JUN 27 1943

Storm Karelian Front With Bayonets and Grenades.

London, June 26 (A. P.).—Attacking Russian troops broke into Finnish trenches on the northern Karelian front last night and wiped out about a company of the enemy in savage bayonet and grenade fighting, the Soviet noon communique said today.

Ten dugouts and two blockhouses were blown up and mortar batteries and an ammunition dump were destroyed, the Russians said in the communique, which was broadcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor here.

Two German stabs, a reconnoitering attempt in the Sevsk area southwest of Orel, and south of Balakleya where they attempted to cross the Donets River, were beaten off with enemy losses, the war bulletin said.

Russian artillery action also was reported near Sevsk, where big Soviet guns were said to have started fires at two enemy strong points.

The German communique, broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, said several tank-supported Red Army attacks in the Orel sector were repelled. German and Rumanian shock troops were said to have conducted successful operations at various points on the front.

Heavy losses were suffered by the Germans in their attempted crossing of the Donets south of Balakleya, and they were forced to retreat behind a smoke screen from concentrated Russian fire, said the bulletin.

Artillery engagements were reported also on the western front, but the noon communique made no reference to the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow, where the Russians said in the midnight communique that they had driven the Germans from a settlement and beat off three counter-attacks.

Guerrillas killed several hundred Germans when they routed six Nazi garrisons during recent fighting in the Crimea, and derailed eleven German trains carrying troops and supplies, the Russians said.

Reds Expect to Take Initiative

Moscow, June 26 (A. P.).—War communiques report no essential changes at the German-Russian front, but the Army newspaper Red Star said today changes might come at any hour.

It is a holy duty of all Russians to be on guard, Red Star declared in a leading editorial.

"The strength of our defense has grown," the newspaper said, "but it does not mean that we can passively wait for the development of events.

MASS TORTURE LAID TO NAZIS

Soviet Commission Charges Poisoning of Patients.

Moscow, June 26 (A. P.).—German troops were accused in a Russian Inquiry Commission's indictment today of having carried out mass poisoning, execution and torture of Russians in the Kursk and Kharkov regions southwest of Moscow before the Red Army's spring offensive drove the Germans back.

The commission said that its charges were substantiated by stories of eyewitnesses.

Tass, the official news agency which reported the commission's findings, also reported that reconstruction work is well under way in reconquered territory.

Stalingrad, where the population dwindled to 5,000 at the start of the long siege which reduced much of that Volga city to rubble, now has reached a population of 75,000, Tass said. Villagers of the Voronezh area east of Kharkov were rebuilding with free government timber and government loans.

Much of the destroyed industry is functioning again, Tass said, and added that peasants have been able to plant much of the farmlands with free seeds.

The 2,000-word commission report charged that 1,000 patients in a psychiatric hospital at Sapogovo in the Kursk area were poisoned by the Germans. Patients who offered resistance had poison forced down their throats, it said.

Believes Some Buried Alive.

"The poisoned and murdered patients were buried by order of the German authorities in slit trenches in the hospital ground," the official statement said. "From two of these trenches alone, remains of about 300 persons were removed."

The torture and execution charges concerned Kupyansk in the Kharkov area, where, the commission's report said, the returning populace discovered eight pits containing the bodies of 248 persons savagely tortured and shot. The arms of some of the victims were bound with iron wire, it charged.

"The commission noted that many wounds were not fatal and evidently these people were dumped into the pit and buried alive."

Large-scale plunderings of museums and libraries on the direct orders of the German High Command were charged.

It said the Museum of Fine Arts at Rostov, on the Don River, was robbed of all its valuables, including rare books and paintings which were taken to Germany.

"It has been irrefutably established," the report said, "that German generals had a personal part in the loot of the cultural treasures."

JUN 27 1943

LONDON, Sunday, June 27—(AP) Russian bombers pounded rear German airfields and rail installations at Bryansk Friday night, and other Red army fliers dealt new blows to the enemy's sea and air units yesterday, but the Soviet midnight communique reported little ground activity along the sprawling Russian front.

A Moscow broadcast, recorded early today by the Soviet monitor in advance of the midnight communique, said Russian bombers started large fires at the station and rail junction of Bryansk, behind the Orel front. Several German planes were destroyed in the attacks on enemy airfields, the announcement said, and the Russians lost two planes.

Patrol Ship Sunk

The midnight war bulletin said Soviet airmen sank an enemy patrol ship and damaged a mine sweeper in attacks yesterday in the Gulf of Finland.

Aerial combats developed in the Belgorod area, the communique said. In these, five German planes were said to have been downed without the loss of a single Russian craft.

The principal ground activity was on a sector of the central front west of Moscow where Russian scouts were said to have broken through barbed wire defenses into German trenches, killing a number of the enemy and taking some prisoners.

Nazis Forced to Retire

"The Germans brought up reinforcements and tried to surround the Soviet scout detachments but were unsuccessful," the communique said. "The scouts beat off two consecutive counter-attacks and the Germans retired to their initial positions under the cover of machinegun fire."

STANDLEY URGES POST-WAR ACCORD

Moscow, June 26 (A. P.).—Admiral William H. Standley, speaking at a Red Cross dinner last night, declared, "I hope the wartime co-operation now working to defeat Hitler will continue until Japan is defeated."

The American Ambassador added that at any rate, the co-operation must continue to the peace period because co-operation is absolutely essential if we are to win.

Prominent American and Russian officials at the dinner heard the Admiral a dinner honoring Arthur Hays Sulzberger, president and publisher of the New York Times, who is here on a Red Cross mission.

Mr. Sulzberger said he came to Moscow to learn how Red Cross aid could be intensified.

"To accomplish that will require first hand information on how the Red Cross supplies now reaching Russia are employed," the publisher said.

The head of the Soviet Red Cross Kaleshnikov made this comment:

"The American Red Cross always has supported us not only materially but morally. We are sure we will destroy Hitlerism and are sure our co-operation will continue after the war."

Capt. Eddie V. Rickenbacker, another speaker, said "the world at large will benefit materially in the years to come from the victory in this war. I wish the Russians the same good fortune on the field of battle as our own."

Reds Press Reconstruction

Stalingrad Population Is 75,000 After Dwindling to 5,000

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP).—Tass, the Soviet official news agency, reported today that reconstruction work is well under way in reconquered territory.

Stalingrad, where the population dwindled to 5,000 at the start of the long siege which reduced much of that Volga city to rubble, now has reached a population of 75,000, Tass said. It said that villagers of the Voronezh area east of Kharkov were rebuilding with free government timber, and government loans.

Much of the destroyed industry is functioning again, Tass said, and added that peasants have been able to plant much of the farmlands with free seeds.

Eisenhower Honored

Edinburgh, Scotland, June 26 (AP). The British Legion, a war veterans' organization, offered a life membership today to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the American commander who led British, United States and French troops to triumph in North Africa.

JUN 27 1943

TO VOTE ON DE VALERA

Dublin, June 26 (A. P.).—Political observers said today that if the necessary preliminaries could be carried out in time, Parliament would probably convene on July 1 to nominate a Prime Minister, a post held by Eamon de Valera for eleven years.

Mr. de Valera, whose party lost a parliamentary majority in last Tuesday's election, said that the Parliament would assemble at the first practical moment. Although declining comment on the setback suffered by his Fianna Fail party, he pointed out that nomination of a Prime Minister would determine the Government to be in office and the policy to be followed.

William T. Cosgrave, leader of the Fine Gael party, has advocated a wartime coalition Government of all parties, but Mr. de Valera has said he would not participate in such a regime.

STOCKHOLM, June 26.—(AP) Six German submarine crews in Norway have mutinied and refused to reimbark in the undersea boats, it was reported in Norwegian circles here today.

Usually reliable sources were said to have relayed rumors that officers and men alike had jointly decided to mutiny, and that all were sent to a military prison in Oslo. The sources cannot be identified by name.

The report, capping a series of stories of discontent and weakening morale among German forces in Norway, recalled the mutiny of sailors of the German high sea fleet in October, 1918, in one of the major steps of the German collapse in World War One.

A considerable number of men and officers from submarines have been sent to Akershus prison in Oslo, now employed by the Germans as a military prison, the reports from Norway said.

The base where the reported disaffection occurred was not disclosed, but the Norwegian circles said it might be Trondheim, or in the Trondheim area, where the Nazis had based much of their fleet this spring to prey upon convoys moving to Soviet Rusia.

Norwegian sources with reliable connections with the efficient underground in their home country said that "recent reports from northern Norway say that remarkably many German warships are always lying in harbors for repairs of some small damage which they sustained only a short time after they put to sea. People (Norwegians) cannot help thinking that most of these damages were intentional to enable the marines to come ashore as soon as possible."

JUN 27 1943

30. 34 - 5419

U-Boat Mutiny By 6 Crews Reported

JUN 27 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Stockholm, June 26—Norwegian quarters said today rumors from several usually reliable sources reported that six German submarine crews recently mutinied in a port of northern Norway and refused to put to sea. All were declared sent to a military prison.

(Disaffection of naval men was one of the major causes of the collapse of German resistance in the first World War.)

This was the first report of mutiny among German naval forces stationed in Norway, but there have been frequent reports in past months of sagging morale among Nazi soldiers, some of whom are said to have been shot.

Officers Reported Involved

The refusal of the submarine crews to resume hazardous U-boat warfare was said to have been a joint decision of officers and men.

The reports said a "considerable number of submarine men and officers have arrived at Akershus Prison in Oslo, now being used as a military prison."

Base Not Identified

The submarine base at which the mutiny occurred was not named in the reports, but the largest German U-boat harbor in Northern Norway is at Trondheim, where Admiral Otto Ciliax, commander of German naval forces in Norway, recently warned that the Allies may invade the country "in a short time."

Norwegian sources, with reliable connections in Norway's efficient underground, added that "recent reports from northern Norway say that a remarkably large number of German warships are always lying in the harbors for repairs for some damage which they sustained only a short time after putting to sea.

Believe Damage Intentional

"The people (Norwegians) cannot help thinking that most of these damages are intentional to enable the sailors to come ashore as soon as possible."

The Germans shifted the bulk of their fleet to the Trondheim area last spring, it is reported, in order to harass Allied convoys moving to Russia. At the same time they moved much of their air force southward to aid in the defense of the continent.

The marine units are the Germans' best in Norway, and an extensive mutiny in their ranks might have widespread effects, Stockholm observers said.

Sir Archibald Sinclair Visits Malta's Airmen

Valletta, Malta, June 25 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, visited Malta yesterday and on behalf of the British Government extended thanks to Malta's air crews for their work in helping maintain the power that drove the Axis out of North Africa.

AMERICANS HONORED

Cairo, June 26 (A. P.).—Major James G. Curl of Columbus, Ohio, the fighter pilot who led the great assault against Axis transports when seventy-five Junkers 52s were shot down off Tunisia, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

"There is no doubt that Major Curl, by his brilliant leadership, was mainly responsible for an air action which was unsurpassed for its success in the destruction of enemy aircraft," the citation said.

The Legion of Merit has been awarded to Major-Gen. Robert W. Crawford, chief of the Services of Supply, Ninth United States Air Force, in recognition of his work in effecting rapid and adequate supply of American equipment for the Eighth Army and the Ninth Air Force.

Smuts Asserts Victory For Allies Is in Sight

He Adds 'Main Struggle' Is Still to Come

CAPETOWN, South Africa, June 26 (AP).—Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, asserted today that "victory, complete and unconditional, is in sight for us, but the main struggle still is to come this year and perhaps to be continued next year." He declared he was giving "the real truth on the war situation."

"The enemy has passed his zenith, but the Nazi and Fascist leaders are desperate men and will drive their people to fight with despair and courage before the final knockout is placed," he said.

"They'll fight for a stalemate and a compromise peace to get a breathing space for renewing the struggle for domination later," he

JAPANESE IN CHINA UNABLE TO ATTACK, SAYS GEN. CHEN

JUN 27 1943

Enemy Must Call in Fresh Troops for New Offensive.

ENSHIH, ON THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT, CHINA, June 26—(AP) Japanese forces in China proper are not strong enough to begin another offensive unless they draw reinforcements from Burma, the southwest Pacific, or the northern provinces, Gen. Chen Cheng, who turned back the recent Japanese thrust toward Chungking, declared today.

Whether the Japanese will weaken other fronts to renew the assault in China "remains to be seen," he said in an interview.

Up to now, Gen. Chen explained, the enemy has been able to pull together enough troops from various fronts within China itself to launch an offensive, but now the number that can be taken from garrison duty in occupied areas is limited.

One of Best Generals

Gen. Chen, 47 and one of China's best generals, was recalled from Yunnan province to halt the Japanese advance up the Yangtze in a threat to the Chinese capital. He is commander in chief of Chinese expeditionary forces facing Burma from both Yunnan and India.

Asserting that the Chinese "have fought nearly six years on morale," Gen. Chen declared that a "bigger air force and more heavy guns" are needed to push the Japanese out of China completely. He said one per cent of the United States' estimated airplane production of 84,000 planes a year "would be enough," but doubted China would get that number.

Japs Avoided Trap

He said the Chinese "didn't fulfill expectations completely" in the Yangtze defeat of the Japanese, whose casualties were placed officially at 40,000 troops. The strategy, he explained, was to draw the enemy farther into the mountains where they could more easily be trapped, but the Japanese retreated before they met the full strength of the Chinese armies.

With their present arms and equipment, he added, the Chinese are unable to recapture Ichang, Japanese-held stronghold on the Yangtze at the lower end of the river gorges. Ichang is a key to any Chinese advance on Hankow from the west, and a base for Japanese attacks in the Chungking direction.

China, Gen. Chen said, is fighting a hard enemy and poverty at the same time, but "we will never surrender and we firmly believe that the final victory is with us."

[By the Asso

Enshih, on the Upper Yangtze Front, China, June 26—Gen Chen. Cheng, the hero of the defense of the gateway to Chungking declared today that the Japanese, bloodily defeated in the battle of the upper Yangtze, were in no position to renew their attack unless they moved in reinforcements.

One of China's top generals, Chen was hastily recalled from Yunnan province by Generalissmo Chiang Kai-shek to turn back the recent enemy threat to the Chinese capital.

"The Japanese at present do not have enough troops in China to begin another offensive," the General said. "They would have to draw reinforcements from Burma, the Southwest Pacific or the northern provinces. Whether they will do this remains to be seen."

Chen explained that heretofore the Japanese had been able to concentrate troops from various fronts in China when planning large-scale attacks.

[Associated Press]

Questioned On Siberia

Asked his opinion of the possibility of a Japanese attack against the Russians in Siberia, Chen replied:

"It is hard to say. The Japanese are reckless, as was evidenced in their Pearl Harbor attack."

He said he had not been advised of any Allied plans for retaking Burma from the Japanese and again opening up the Burma Road supply route to Chungking.

Airplanes, Guns

"What is needed to drive the Japanese from China for all time?" The general was asked.

"We have fought nearly six years on morale," he replied. "From this campaign it is evident we need a bigger air force and more heavy guns.

BURMA WIDELY RAIDED

New Delhi, June 26 (A. P.).—American bombers flew through a break in the monsoon yesterday to attack Japanese targets in south and central Burma, a communique disclosed today.

Liberators were dispatched to the south, centering their fire on barracks and a train at Thanbyuzaya.

Medium bombers raided Mandalay again, destroying river shipping facilities. Railway facilities were bombed at Ywataung.

ALLIES HIT RABAUL AS JAPANESE MASS

20 Tons of Bombs Strike at New Britain Concentration of Shipping and 170 Planes

AIRCRAFT CARRIER AT BASE

JUN 27 1943

In New Guinea, Mitchells Give Lae a Heavy Beating, Causing Smoke to Cover Target

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Sunday, June 27 (AP)—Twenty tons of bombs were dropped yesterday by Allied raiders on Rabaul, New Britain, where concentrations of Japanese shipping and aircraft had been reported by reconnaissance fliers, the High Command announced.

The bombs were directed at the airdromes and docks. The reconnaissance fliers had reported spotting 170 bombers and fighters on the airdromes and that the shipping in the big harbor included an aircraft carrier.

The bomb tonnage brought to 196 the amount dropped in seven raids on Rabaul dating back to June 10.

On New Guinea, Mitchell medium bombers gave Lae on the Huon Gulf one of the heaviest poundings ever directed at that enemy base.

"Our medium units in concentrated attack upon the airdrome at midday bombed and strafed revetments, hangars, barracks, buildings and ground defenses," the noon communiqué said of the raid.

"Dense clouds of smoke over the target area prevented assessment of damage. Intense anti-aircraft fire was encountered. All our planes returned."

At Rabaul, the bombers attacked Vunakanau airdrome and installations in the harbor before dawn. Both incendiaries and high explosives rained down. Two of the big bombers were reported missing.

Northwest of Australia, medium bombers made a night raid on the airdromes at Penfui and Dili on Timor, starting fires.

On New Guinea above Lae, a four-engined Allied bomber attacked the building area of Finschhafen.

More Jap Planes Arrive.

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 26 (A. P.).—More and more Japanese planes are appearing on the airfields ringing Rabaul, New Britain, and there is considerable shipping, including a converted aircraft carrier, in its huge, horseshoe-shaped harbor, Allied reconnaissance flyers report.

Rabaul lies roughly 700 miles northwest of the Allied base on Guadalcanal in the Solomons and about 500 miles northeast of the ground front below Salamaua, New Guinea. In six raids recently, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombers have dropped 176 tons of bombs on Rabaul's airdromes of Lakunai, Rapopo and Vunakanau. Some of the resultant fires were reported to be burning planes.

Today it was disclosed at headquarters that Allied flyers on reconnaissance over Rabaul had counted 170 enemy bombers and fighters on its fields, a slight increase over previous reported totals.

Today's noon communique of Allied air activity was limited. Off Cape St. George, New Ireland, a single Beaufort bomber sighted three small enemy cargo ships escorted by a destroyer and scored a near miss, which sometimes is damaging, with its bombs.

In the vicinity of Madang, New Guinea, Mitchell medium bombers strafed Japanese-occupied villages.

JUN 27 1943

Husband Back From War Learns Wife Is Prisoner

Ship She Sailed On to Meet Him Is Victim of Japanese

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 26 (AP).—For months Mrs. Gabrielle Lyon waited in Australia with her baby for some word of her husband, Captain Ian Lyon, of the British Army, who had escaped from Malaya through Burma, finally reaching India. At last a cable came from him. It said: "Safe, well."

Within four days, Mrs. Lyon was aboard the steamship Nanking en route to India to join her husband, having resisted entreaties of friends, who urged her to wait in view of the danger on the seas. Some weeks later Captain Lyon arrived at the same hotel in Perth, Western Australia, at which his wife stayed before sailing on the Nanking.

He learned the Nanking had fallen victim to the Japanese and the survivors, presumably, had been interned.

Flyers Like the 'Third Strike'

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, June 18 (delayed) (AP).—The second most popular reading matter (mail from home still comes first) with the men in an American Air Force bombardment group on the north side of New Guinea is the only group newspaper on the island, "Third Strike."

U-BOAT ATTACKED

Rio de Janeiro June 26 (A. P.).—A Brazilian Air Force plane was reliably reported today to have attacked an Axis U-boat in the Atlantic sixty-five miles northeast of Rio de Janeiro.

The Brazilian Air Force already had scored eight sure successes against U-boats off the South American coasts in the present war.

The pilot in the present case reported a direct hit on the submarine and believed he sank it, but he lacked definite confirmation.

The search for the submarine followed an unsuccessful attack on a United Nations ship last Thursday when the ship messaged for aid and a number of planes flew to the scene. The Brazilian's attack was made in the same neighborhood.

JUN 27 1943

Mexican Students Resent Zoot Riots

Mexico City, June 26 (A. P.).—Hundreds of university students paraded through downtown streets yesterday shouting protests against alleged anti-Mexican discrimination in zoot suit incidents at Los Angeles.

The students dispersed quietly after Rodulfo Brito Foucher, rector of the University of Mexico, climbed atop an automobile and talked to them.

Bomber Explodes, Killing 4

WINDSOR, N. S., June 26 (AP).—Four British imperial flyers died today when their Hudson bomber exploded while in flight over Summerville, nine miles from Windsor. The plane was on a routine flight from an eastern base.

Goebbels's Wife Abroad

Air Raids Reported Delaying Her Return to Berlin

The wife of Nazi Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels is living "abroad" with her children and has decided to delay her return to Berlin because of the danger of air raids, the Moscow Radio declared Saturday, according to The Associated Press. The broadcast was recorded by the American Government's Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service.

Frau Goebbels, the Moscow broadcast said, quoting "authentic sources" at Bern, Switzerland, plans to pass the summer "and possibly the winter as well" in Spain, where Goebbels was said to have purchased a castle near Seville.

Allied Blow in Balkans Seen

British Eighth Army Reported Poised in Syria for Offensive.

JUN 27 1943

By Associated Press.

Axis invasion anxiety, while still centered chiefly on Italy and her island outposts, turned again to the Balkans today following Thursday's raid by American bombers on an airbase near Salonika, Greece, and German radio reports that the British Eighth Army is poised in Syria for action.

"There are signs that an Allied attack on the Balkans is imminent," said the German-controlled Vichy radio last night in a broadcast recorded by Reuters.

From within the Balkans themselves came reports of new defense measures. A Swiss telegraphic agency dispatch from Sofia said that Bulgarian police had arrested a number of persons and barricades were erected after suspicious persons were seen near the waterworks.

Discovery of a Bulgarian espionage agency and the arrest of five of its members was reported in dispatches from Budapest.

Gen. Count Waldemar Stillfried, military commentator for Transocean, German propaganda news service, said that he considered reports of the annihilation of 10,000 Serbian partisans in Montenegro as of considerable importance because the action removed a threat to Axis communications in case of an Allied Balkan invasion.

Raid to Knock Out Bases.

Even London observers entered the Balkan guessing game by pointing out that the most likely reason for air raids on Greece would be to knock out bases from which German planes might operate against an Allied invasion of the island stepping stones to Greece.

A mop-up of Crete and the Dodecanese Islands in the Eastern Mediterranean might be undertaken at virtually the same time as an invasion of Sicily and Sardinia to deploy Axis strength and win full and final control of the Mediterranean, the observers held.

Some London speculation, based on a study of the aerial onslaught and the stabilized Russian front, was that Mediterranean island outposts are on the 1943 Allied invasion program with an invasion leading to Berlin from the west unlikely until later.

Expect Blow in Norway.

German guesses on the invasion, meanwhile, ranged all the way to Norway, where a German admiral was reported to have told Nazi marines in a speech at Trondheim that the Allies would invade Norway "within a short time."

The Trondheim reports, which were received by Norwegians in Stockholm, did not identify the admiral but he was presumed to be Otto Ciliax, commander in chi - of German naval forces in Norway.

The one place on which both German and Italian speculation coincided, however, was Italy herself, where unoffiical London reports said the Nazis were massing about ten divisions—150,000 troops—to guard the Brenner Pass in case of an Italian collapse.

The newspaper Popolo di Roma was quoted in a Rome broadcast as saying editorially: "Today the Italian front is the most important and the most logical of the war between Europe and anti-Europe."

The Russian midday communique said today that about 1,000 Italian troops had been killed or wounded in recent fierce battles with Greek guerrillas in southern Macedonia. Rifles and supplies were captured by the Greek patriots, said the communique as brodcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor at London.

PLEDGES MADE TO PRESIDENT OF AID IN WAR

Murray Calls Legislators' Overriding President a 'Sneak Attack.'

GREEN ALSO IS INCENSED

A Republican Senator Holds That Upset Spells Doom for the Fourth Term.

Washington, June 26 (A. P.).—Presidents of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations renewed the no-strike pledges of their organizations today in letters to President Roosevelt criticizing congressional action in overriding the President's veto of the Connally-Smith anti-strike law.

William Green of the A. F. of L. assured the President that his group will do everything in its power to make the application of the law unnecessary.

Philip Murray, of the C. I. O., wrote that he was calling the international executive board of the C. I. O. into extraordinary session on Wednesday, July 7, to give 'mature and orderly consideration to the many perplexing problems which as you doubtless know labor will be confronted with as a result of the action of he Congress yesterday.

Will Stick to WLB.

Meanwhile the labor members of the War Labor Board said that individually there was no inclination to quit the agency as had been indicated they might do a week before the President vetoed the anti-strike bill.

One C. I. O. member of the board said: "We'll stick with the board." He referred to Mr. Murray's statement calling for continued support of the President despite the congressional action.

Mr. Green said in a letter delivered to the White House by an aid:

"I wish to express my sincere appreciation for your courage and statesmanship in vetoing the Connally-Smith bill.

"Labor and all its friends are inexpressibly shocked by the hasty and impetuous action of Congress in overriding your veto. By their procedure the members of Congress demonstrated they were moved by anger and resentment rather than by careful consideration of the facts.

"Unquestionably, as you pointed out in your veto messa[illegible] preventing of strikes in vi[illegible] industries will be rendere[illegible] difficult instead of more effect[illegible] by the enactment of this ill-considered law.

Committed to Non-Strike.

"Let me assure you, however, that the officers and members of the American Federation of Labor will do everything in their power to make application of this law unnecessary and to further the successful prosecution of the war.

"The American Federation of Labor and all of its affiliated unions stand committed to our no-strike pledge for the duration of the war. I am confident that they will live up to this pledge in the future just as they have in the past. In this way, the workers of America can render the Connally-Smith act inoperative and pave the way for its early repeal. In this way, the workers of America can best service their country and the cause of freedom and democracy."

Murray's Letter.

Mr. Murray praised the President's "statesmanlike attitude in placing your veto upon this vicious anti-labor measure."

"We know that your prime interest, like ours, is to win this war against barbarism and slavery and that in order to expedite the winning of the war it becomes necessary for all of labor to lend to you, our nation's leader, every possible degree of support," Mr. Murray wrote. "I am quite sure that every loyal worker, whether a member of organized labor or not, subscribes to this belief.

"You correctly stated the danger of strikes and stoppages as a result of the enactment of the thirty-day provision contained in Section 8. Because this is true it shall be our purpose to do everything possible to avert the obvious dangers arising out of it.

"In the meantime, let me again assure you of our wholesome desire to lend every possible degree of support to you and our country in this, one of the most trying periods of our nation's history."

In issuing his call to the executive board, a copy of which was dispatched to the President, Mr. Murray said:

"The past month has brought a number of important developments carrying grave threats to the firmness and strength of our home front in these critical [illegible]

[illegible]rges 'Sneak Attack.'

[illegible]ngress the President's [illegible]trol program has been [illegible] and representatives of [illegible] interests have various private [illegible] run rampant in onslaughts against the subsidy programs and the price rollback program.

"Yesterday, in a treacherous sneak attack upon the administration, Congress within minutes of the presidential veto rushed through a vote making the Smith-Connally bill law in the face of the President's warning that the bill would harm rather than help production.

"These developments are already taking their toll in terms of national confusion and discontent and in terms of the general morale of the people."

Sees Fourth Term's Doom.

The whirlwind enactment of the anti-strike bill over President Roosevelt's veto caused one Republican to assert that there would be no fourth term.

Elated at the result of Senate and House votes overriding the veto, Senator Wherry (R.-Neb.) told reporters:

"This is the first concrete evidence that there will be no fourth term."

Senator Butler (R.-Neb.) thought that the speed with which Congress overrode the veto ought to cool any ardor Mr. Roosevelt might have for a fourth term.

"You would think that now Mr. Roosevelt would be perfectly willing to let somebody else have the job," Senator Butler said. "I look upon the vote as an indication that Congress has reclaimed some of its powers and intends to reclaim more."

The President's veto of the measure also provoked sharp criticism from members of his own party, with Senator Byrd (D., Va.) asserting that the action was laden with politics.

"The veto was not the act of Franklin Roosevelt, Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy in time of a desperate war," Senator Byrd declared. "It was the act of Franklin Roosevelt, candidatee for re-election to a fourth term as President of the United States."

On the other hand, Senator Pepper (D., Fla.), who voted to override the veto in the Senate, said he thought Congress's action expressed only a bi-partisan determination to prevent further strikes in war industries such as the coal walkouts.

"This is a national issue and not a political issue," Senator Pepper declared. "Congress is determined to prevent strikes and if this bill doesn't do it, it will enact further and more drastic measures."

Senator Pepper said that while the President's veto obviously was pleasing to leaders of organized labor who demanded that such a course be taken, he felt that it ought not to be necessary for the President to demonstrate that he is labor's best friend.

Senator Pepper said that pressure from members of the armed forces and their relatives had a hand in congressional determination to take action on the strike question.

Senator Van Nuys (D.-Ind.), chairman of the conference committee which whipped the anti-strike bill into final form, expressed the opinion that the passage over the Presidential vete "demonstrated a reassertion of the independence of the legislative department of the Government."

"In my opinion," Senator Van Nuys said, "the members of Congress felt that injustice to the armed forces and the overwhelming majority of the American people called for passage of the legislation."

See Wildcat Walkouts.

Top labor leaders, who had condemned the measure, withheld comment temporarily, but the general tenor of opinion in labor circles was that the act is unrealistic and cannot cope with spontaneous, "wildcat" walkouts. The impulse was to have every union, immediately upon opening negotiations with an employer, give notice to the Government of a threat to war production and thereby obtain a strike vote in thirty days. The NLRB, charged with conducting such elections, probably would not be able to provide machinery to cope with a widespread campaign of that nature.

Another immediate impulse in labor circles was to quit the War Labor Board. The cooler heads thought that was the least likely development, although the act itself raised a question whether the labor members of the WLB could participate in certain cases. The bill disbars members from participating in any decision "in which such member has a direct interest as an officer, employee, or representative of either party to the dispute."

This might create a situation where A. F. of L. members could participate only where a C. I. O. union was involved, and vice versa. However, the board may interpret it to mean that a board member who also is a member of the Electrical Workers' Union, for instance, could not participate in reliable sources reported that six German submarine crews recently mutinied in a port of northern Norway and refused to put to sea.

JUN 27 1943

JUN 27 1943

30.24 - 5421

All were declared sent to a military prison.

This was the first report of mutiny among German naval forces stationed in Norway, but there have been frequent reports in past months of sagging morale among Nazi soldiers, some of whom are said to have been shot.

The refusal of the submarine crews to resume hazardous U-boat warfare was said to have been a joint decision of officers and men.

The reports said a "considerable number of submarine men and officers have arrived at Akershus Prison in Oslo, now being used as a military prison."

The submarine base at which the mutiny occurred was not named in the reports, but the largest German U-boat harbor in northern Norway is at Trondheim where Admiral Otto Ciliax, commander of German naval forces in Norway, recently warned that the Allies may invade the country "in a short time."

Norwegian sources, with reliable connections in Norway's efficient underground, added that recent reports from northern Norway say that a remarkably large number of German warships are always lying in the harbors for repairs for some damage which they sustained only a short time after putting to sea.

"The people (Norwegians) cannot help thinking that most of these damages are intentional to enable the sailors to come ashore as soon as possible."

The Germans shifted the bulk of their fleet to the Trondheim area last spring, it is reported, in order to harass Allied convoys moving to Russia. At the same

LABOR CHIEFS HIT ANTI-STRIKE BILL

Leaders Temper Bitterness with Renewal of 'No Strike' Pledge.

WASHINGTON, June 26—(AP) Congressional enactment of the war labor disputes bill over President Roosevelt's veto brought bitter words from labor spokesmen today—but also a renewal of the "no strike" pledge by heads of the A.F. L. and C.I.O.

It brought some confusion, too, to the affected government agencies which were not ready, pending further study of the measure, to say what steps they would have to take in shaping their organizations to administer it.

WLB Crisis Fades

The threat of an immediate crisis for the War Labor board through resignation of its labor members vanished. While this possibility had been suggested, prior to enactment of the bill, the labor members said individually today that they intended to stick by the board.

A question to be resolved, however, is the extent of the restrictions placed on them by the act's prohibition against a WLB member's taking part in consideration of a case in which he has an interest. It must be decided, for instance, whether this means an A. F.L. member may not consider any A.F.L. case or may consider an A. F.L. case if it does not affect his particular union.

JUN 27 1943

Wayne L. Morse, acting chairman of the WLB, made this statement:

"The War Labor board is proceeding to carry out its duties and obligations in accordance with existing congressional acts and executive orders pertaining to the board. The board has not had time as yet to examine its policies and procedures in light of the new law, but it is my judgment that the existing major policies and procedures of the board will be found to be entirely consistent with the act of Congress.

Reaffirm No Strike Pledge

"It is gratifying to note that many outstanding leaders of labor have reaffirmed their no strike pledge. I am satisfied that the board will continue to have the cooperation of responsible leaders of labor and industry in carrying out its labor relations stabilization program."

In the forefront of speculation here was whether the act might be applied in the coal controversy if any considerable number of miners continues the work stoppage next week.

The act forbids anyone from aiding or promoting a strike in a war plant or mine which has been taken over by the government, though it contains no barrier against an individual's stopping work of his own accord.

Thus it might be invoked against pickets in the coal fields or against anyone who publicly urged continuance of the work stoppages.

Some picketing was reported today when the strike spread to additional mines in Pennsylvania. Throughout the coal producing area, however, the situation appeared to be little changed from Friday with about half the 521,000 miners working.

Test Tomorrow

Monday morning was expected to provide the big test to whether normal operations could be restored.

Under the act, enforcement of the ban against aiding or promoting a strike falls on the Justice department. Violators are subject to fines of up to $5,000 or imprisonment of up to one year.

Presidents William Green of the A.F.L. and Philip Murray of the C.I.O. reiterated their no strike pledges in letters to President Roosevelt in which each also sharply criticized Congress.

Mr. Green declared that "labor and all its friends are inexpressibly shocked by the hasty and impetuous action of Congress in overriding your veto."

"By their procedure," he added, "the members of Congress demonstrated they were moved by anger and resentment rather than by careful consideration of the facts."

He went on to say the A.F.L. members would do "everything in their power to make application of this law unnecessary and to further the successful prosecution of the war."

Mr. Murray told the President that his veto message "correctly stated the danger of strikes and stoppages" arising from some provisions of the act.

"Because this is true," he told the President, "it shall be our purpose to do everything possible to avert the obvious dangers arising out of it."

Calls C.I.O. Board

Mr. Murray advised Mr. Roosevelt that he was calling the C.I.O. executive board into session July 7 to give "mature and orderly consideration to the many perplexing problems which as you doubtless know labor will be confronted with as a result of the action of the Congress."

Some other labor men were less restrained in their criticism of the legislators.

George L. Googe, southern vice president of the A.F.L., declared at Spartanburg, S. C., that 75 per cent of those voting to override the veto would be defeated in the next two years. He denounced the act itself as "hysterical legislation."

Thomas White, Sr., president and Walter J. Burke, secretary-treasurer, of the Wisconsin C.I.O. council, in a joint statement termed the act "not only anti-labor, but anti-war as well."

Thomas A. Murray, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, said it imposed "involuntary servitude on American workers."

Commenting on the other side of the issue, Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said in Washington:

"Congress is determined to prevent strikes and if this bill doesn't do it, it will enact further and more drastic measures."

VETO OVERRIDERS' DEFEAT PREDICTED

Spartanburg, S. C., June 26 (A. P.).—George L. Googe, southern vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, told the State Federation of Labor convention here that 75 per cent of the legislators who voted to override the presidential veto of the anti-strike bill would be defeated in the next two years.

Speaking to 300 delegates at a banquet last night, only a few hours after Congress overrode the veto, Mr. Googe said the Congressmen would be defeated "by labor and our friends—and by our enemies, too, when they realize how the damnable law will cut back on them."

He called the law "hysterical legislation" and asserted it would result in "Government ownership of private business."

Milwaukee, June 26 (A. P.).—A statement terming congressional overriding of President Roosevelt's veto of the Smith-Connally bill as "not only anti-labor but anti-war as well" was issued today by Thomas White Sr., president, and Walter J. Burke, secretary-treasurer, of the Wisconsin State Industrial Union Council (C. I. O.).

"Labor, and we speak specifically for the Wisconsin State Industrial Union Council and its 100,000 members, trusts that this action of Congress, which may well lower the morale of millions of war production workers in our land, is not a symbol of attacks to be launched by a Congress which seems to have gone wild . . . ," the statement said.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, an independent union said to have a membership of 194,000, declared today:

"With the passage of the Smith-Connally bill, labor's no-strike pledge loses point. One need not pledge when one is forced by law and decree. Labor substantially kept the pledge. Congress violated the spirit of it.

"Congress did not relieve labor of its obligations under the pledge. It spat on the pledge itself. What labor needs now to assist it to keep the no-strike pledge is a 'no-cause-for-strike pledge' by Congress and the war agencies."

BROWN'S PROGRAM MEETS DEFEAT BY VOTE OF 46 TO 29

Administration Suffers Second Major Setback in Two Days.

JUN 27 1943

DEBATE BRIEF

Senators Act Swiftly on Measure Previously Approved by House.

FOOD SUBSIDIES DEAD

Price Support for Oils, Fats, Transportation to Continue.

WASHINGTON, June 26 — (AP) The Senate joined the House today in repudiating OPA's food subsidy rollback, and voted besides to transfer future subsidy operations from the Office of Price Administration to the war food administrator, Chester C. Davis.

Thus the Administration suffered its second major setback in two days, the anti-subsidy action following Congress' overriding of President Roosevelt's veto of the anti-strike bill.

Shifts Authority to Davis

In no mood for extended debate, the Senate voted 46 to 29 to kill the rollback, which Price Administrator Prentiss Brown has said is essential to hold the line against inflation. It then swiftly adopted, without a record vote, an amendment by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) transferring subsidy authority to the food administrator.

The actions brought OPA operations to a fresh crisis. Mr. Brown has put the subsidy into effect on meat and butter and declared it necessary "to roll back the cost of living to the level to which we are committeed (Sept. 15, 1942) and to hold it there."

OPA also faces a financial crisis, the House having slashed 26 per cent from the $177,000,000 recommended for the agency's operations in the next fiscal year. Mr. Brown said this week that price control will be "crippled into uselessness" if the Senate agrees with the House on the money issue.

The Senate rollback decision came as it approved a bill extending for two years the life of the Commodity Credit Corp. Substituting its own version, allowing a $1,000,000,000 increase in the lending authority of the CCC, for a House bill, the Senate passed the measure on a voice vote and sent it to conferences to iron out differences between the two chambers.

The House had voted yesterday to eliminate rollback subsidies and had provided only $500,000,000 for the CCC, through which much of the government assistance to farmers is challenged.

Admits Program is Dead

While provisions of the two measures differ in language, acting Democratic Leader Hill (Ala) conceded that the price rollback program is dead, so far as Congress is concerned. A veto by President Roosevelt might keep the direct prohibition against such subsidies out of the law, but legislators pointed out that the agencies concerned still would have to find the money somewhere to finance such a program.

It took the Senate less than an hour today to decide that it wanted to eliminate not only the announced programs to cut the retail price of meat, butter and coffee by the payment of subsidies to processors, but also to prevent any future projects of that nature unless specifically approved by Congress.

Vote Is 39 to 37

First, it adopted 39 to 37 an amendment by Senator Clark (D-Mo) to eliminate the rollback subsidies, but to carry on with subsidies to encourage agricultural and mineral production and to make payments to offset increased wartime costs of transportation of such commodities as oil and coal.

Not satisfied with this, the Senate acted a few minutes later to supplant Senator Clark's amendment with one offered by Senator Aiken (R-Vt) also eliminating the rollback subsidies on meat, butter and coffee.

(Continued on Page Two)

The amendment would make good, however, on the government's promise to pay subsidies on these commodities from June 1 up to the date of enactment. It would permit the government to continue to make incentive payments on canning crops (such as tomatoes, corn, beans and peas), on specialty crops (peas and beans) and on potatoes, hemp and sugar.

The government's price support program on domestic vegetable oils and fats would be continued, as well as its payments which permit the sale of wheat for feeding purposes.

Senator Aiken said his amendment would permit the inauguration of any subsidy program to increase the production of other crops, if Congress approves such a move, adding:

"It requires orderly legislative procedure in procuring and expending public funds, in lieu of a blank check."

Some Programs Untouched

Aiken said the amendment would leave undisturbed the present programs subsidizing increased transportation costs or the production or importation of critical materials such as copper, lead and zinc, Nor, he said, would it "prohibit the carrying out to conclusion of presently committed legitimate subsidies for the purpose of increasing the necessary production of war-essential food products."

Adoption of the Aiken proposal was followed swiftly by voice-vote approval of the O'Mahoney amendment transferring subsidy powers from Mr. Brown to Mr. Davis.

Senator O'Mahoney said the effect would be to prevent rollback subsidies but to permit the payment of future subsidies to increase production if that becomes necessary to obtain needed food.

Denying that his proposal sets Mr. Davis up as a food "czar"—a move opposed by President Roosevelt—O'Mahoney said the amendment leaves intact all OPA's powers except those it now exercises in dealing with subsidies.

Thus, he said, OPA would control rationing and would continue to fix prices, but Mr. Davis would decide when and where to apply subsidies — always with the prior approval of Congress before any payments were made. And Senator O'Mahoney said his proposal provides that subsidies paid under Mr. Davis' authority go direct to farmers, instead of to processors, as do OPA's.

JUN 27 1943

ATTACKS ON KISKA ARE PRESSED ANEW BY ARMY BOMBERS

Japs, U. S. Forces Trade Aerial Blows in South Pacific Area.

JUN 27 1943

WASHINGTON, June 26 — (AP) Sporadic air raids by American and Japanese forces in the south Pacific were reported by the Navy today, while in the north Pacific bombers of the Aleutians command delivered three new attacks on Japanese installations at Kiska.

Due to poor visibility, results of the Kiska raids, which were made Thursday, could not be observed, a Navy communique said. The raiding forces consisted of Liberator heavy bombers and Mitchell and Ventura medium bombers.

That the action was made possible by modification of the fog and storms characteristic of the western Aleutians at this season was generally accepted as a fact here since Secretary Knox had said only a few days ago that weather alone was responsible for a let-up in the aerial campaign against the lone remaining position of the enemy in the American island chain.

Mopping up of Japanese stragglers on reconquered Attu island continued, the Navy communique saying that Army patrols had killed 15 more Japanese soldiers. The enemy known dead on Attu now totals more than 1,800 with only about two dozen reported captured.

U. S. Warship Bombed

The fighting in the Solomons included on Thursday a strafing attack by Navy Wildcat fighters against a Japanese barge in the vicinity of New Georgia island in the central Solomons and on Friday an unsuccessful attack against an American small warship by four Japanese twin-engine bombers.

Results of neither action were reported.

Additional information on the south Pacific fighting came from a Navy memorandum to the press reporting information which had been released earlier today in the south Pacific.

This showed that early Friday morning an "unknown number" of Japanese bombers assaulted the U. S. advance base in the Russell islands, northwest of Guadalcanal, but succeeded only in inflicting a few light wounds on personnel and damaging certain supply installations.

An Associated Press dispatch from the south Pacific reported that enemy planes dropped 16 bombs on an "advanced base" Friday morning and that while fuel stores were hit they burned only for a short time.

American planes were active Friday in attacks on Kahili and on Buka island in the northwestern Solomons and also on the Munda area of New Georgia island in the central Solomons.

JUN 27 1943

U. S. Pilots Raid Kiska Thrice

Army Patrols on Attu Still Killing Japs—Americans in Russell Islands Hurt.

Washington, June 26 (A. P.).—Bombers of the Aleutian Command, apparently taking advantage of a slight break in the weather, raided Japanese installations on Kiska Island three times on Thursday, the Navy reported today, while on conquered Attu Army patrols killed fifteen more enemy soldiers.

In the South Pacific, on the other hand, American and Japanese air forces exchanged blows, one result being that a few members of the American forces in the Russell Islands, northwest of Guadalcanal, were slightly wounded and some installations were damaged during an enemy raid early yesterday morning by an unknown number of bombers.

More than 1,800 Japanese soldiers have now been killed on Attu, and only about two dozen captured.

The statement concerning damage to the American installations and the wounding of personnel in the Russell Islands was contained in a memorandum which the Navy issued along with the communique. The memorandum said that the action had been announced in the South Pacific and was merely being duplicated here for the information of the press.

NAVY CASUALTIES

Washington, June 26 (A. P.).—The Navy announced today sixteen casualties in Navy forces, including two dead and fourteen missing. In addition, nine names previously listed as prisoners of war are now listed as dead. This brings to 23,318 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,662 dead, 4,732 wounded and 10,924 missing.

The casualties announced today (those listed are Navy and non-commissioned personnel unless otherwise specified) include:

NEW YORK.

Dead.

KING, WARREN RABELL, ensign; brother, Donald B. King, 37 Pell Place, New Rochelle.

Missing.

MORRIS, HAROLD; parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Morris, Suffolk avenue, Massapequa.

NEW JERSEY.

Missing.

NEIGHBORS, SIDNEY; mother, Mrs. Cora Neighbors, 318 North Front street, Plainfield.

ORLOFF, EDWARD ALOYSIUS; mother, Mrs. Bessie Orloff, 35 Water street, Hackensack.

JUN 27 1943

Shuttle Bombers May Blast Invasion Path

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 26—There are ominous portents for the Axis in the British experiment in round-trip shuttle bombing flights between England and North Africa.

It raises a question whether the whole weight of Allied air power in England and Africa may suddenly be concentrated to blast invasion bridgeheads through the western or southern walls of the Axis European fortress.

Doubles Axis Strain

That possibility must double the strain under which the Axis high command is laboring in deploying its defensive forces to guard three fronts simultaneously. It cannot hope to match the air power that could be thus massed virtually overnight. What happened to Pantelleria well could prove a mild foretaste of what might happen to any selected continental invasion bridgehead.

The shuttle-bombing experiment, if that is what it was, brought two enemy targets, Friedrichshafen, in southwestern Germany, and Spezia, in northwestern Italy, under fire. The big ships flew their bomb loads some 500 miles to the target in each case, then 700 miles more to Tunisia outward bound and to England on the return trip.

Possible Strategy

The direct airline flight from England to Tunisia across France would shorten the route by nearly 400 miles. That means it would be wholly practicable to shift a substantial portion of the Allied heavy bomber strength from England to Tunisia or from Tunisia to England for a combined operation at any time.

Supplementing the work of shorter range craft paving the way for invasion, the big ships could carry the attack far inshore beyond the beaches to prevent enemy reinforcements from coming up.

Whether that is contemplated by Allied leadership or not is uncertain. The shuttle bombing offered so many other advantages, including the fact that the round trip was carried through with no Allied losses, that it was more than justified on those grounds alone.

May Keep Losses Down

A substantial part of both British and American plane and personnel losses in recent raids on Germany have been incurred on the way home. Nazi fighter fleets apparently have hovered over the return route when they failed to intercept the bombers on their approach. That seems to be well established by the fact that the shuttle planes encountered little or no opposition when they kept on toward bases in Tunisia or England beyond their targets and did not turn back as the enemy had expected.

One immediate result must be greater dispersion of Nazi fighter strength. The defenders will never know hereafter when a bomber raid moves in from the west anywhere along the 1,200-mile pathway across the continent from England to Tunisia whether it will turn back after dropping its eggs or go on. That of itself should tend to keep Allied losses down.

JUN 27 1943

Half of Lost Bomber Crews Believed to Be Prisoners

Plane Losses Not Too High, Considering Value of Work, Says Gen. Johnson.

WASHINGTON, June 26. — (AP) Approximately 50 per cent of the bomber crews reported missing over Europe are assumed to be alive in enemy prison camps, Major General Davenport Johnson, commander of the Second Air force, estimated today.

He gave the estimate, which he described frankly as made without checking of records, at a press conference while telling of combat training given heavy bomber crews under his direction.

Bomber losses over Europe he said are "deplorable" but percentages are "not too high" considering the type and size of missions. "The Germans are concentrating everything they have against us," he continued. "They have a series of airdromes along where we go in."

Many of the officers and men who have participated in heavy bomber missions throughout the world now are back in the United States under Gen. Johnson's command to provide combat training for new crews constantly moving to the war fronts.

Every Big Radio Factory Busy On Radar

JUN 27 1943

[The first twenty sets of radar —radio "eyes" of the army and navy—went into the American fleet less than three years ago. Discovered and developed at the Naval Research Laboratory, radar has contributed to many an American triumph in this global war. The account of its coming-of-age in mass production is told in this final installment of John M. Hightower's story.]

By John M. Hightower

[Copyright, 1943, by the Associated Press]

Washington, June 26—Arrangements were made for mass production of radar in August, 1940, when Admiral Harold G. Bowen realized that the nation was faced with limited production facilities and war was threatening on every hand.

Bowen had lunch one day with Charles E. Wilson, then president of the General Electric Company, now vice-chairman of the War Production Board. The two men were good friends and Bowen felt he could be blunt about it.

"One Of Us Is A Fool"

"Charlie," he said, "one of us is a darn fool. Either I am a fool for visualizing such great possibilities for radar or else you are, for failing to get in on it. I've been laughed at for a long time, but I think it is a billion-dollar industry. Now I believe I can prove it to you."

Two weeks later Wilson sent twenty scientists from the General Electric laboratory at Schenectady to inspect the navy's radar equipment at the Naval Research Laboratory and, in the words of an official report, they were "most enthusiastic." Another two weeks and Wilson himself came to Washington for a demonstration.

Then Westinghouse

He was so impressed that he directed the head of General Electric's radio division to do whatever was necessary to enable General Electric to catch up with the naval laboratory's work. Subsequently General Electric got a large contract for naval radar.

In October, 1940, Bowen sold Westinghouse Electric Company on the radar program. Westinghouse reorganized its radio division and got a large navy contract.

While this work was going forward, a British technical mission showed up in the United States. The Britons conferred with navy men and it was then that the story of Britain's radio detection work first became known to our Government.

British Balked The Blitz

British development actually was the work of Sir Robert A. Watson-Watt, 51-year-old Scottish physicist, and his wife was his first assistant. His work was done in as great secrecy as that in this country.

Watson-Watt's equipment provided his country with the radio-wave wall around its coasts when the German air force tried to blitz England out of the war. Other equipment he made went into British night-fighter planes which helped greatly to wreck the Nazi aerial offensive.

The British had to work against time and their progress in some phases of radar work was much faster than that in this country. In consequence the first American fighter plane to fly on actual combat mission with radio detection used British equipment.

Germans Had It Early

While it is generally accepted as a fact today that both British and American radio detection equipment were and are superior to that of Germany and Japan, the Germans had sets in use early in the war. It is believed that the accuracy with which the German battleship Bismarck laid its first devastating salvo on the British cruiser Hood in May, 1941, resulted from the use of radio devices.

Allied authorities could not be sure, however, just how much the enemy knew about this equipment.

JUN 27 1943

30.24-5423

They therefore maintained secrecy about their own developments.

Bowen Coordinator

Once radar went into commercial production in the United States, Rear Admiral Bowen was designated coordinator of all phases of the navy's program. That was in October, 1940. By the beginning of 1941, General Electric, Westinghouse, Bell Telephone and RCA were doing research and manufacturing simultaneously. Today every manufacturer of any size in the American electronics industry is in the program.

Radar has progressed a long way. It has even exceeded the first great visions of Taylor and Young back in 1922.

MARINE AIR HERO WINS TOP AWARD

Col. Bauer Missing in Action Gets Congressional Medal of Honor.

WASHINGTON, June 26. — (AP) Lt. Col. Harold W. Bauer, Marine air hero who is listed as missing in action in the Solomon islands area, has been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for extraordinary achievement in battling the Japanese.

On one occasion the 34-year-old squadron commander engaged an entire squadron of enemy planes single handed and destroyed four of them before he was forced down by lack of fuel. Another time he downed four Japanese planes and damaged a fifth.

Colonel Bauer's wife, Mrs. Harriette Anne Bauer, lives at Coronado, Calif. The flier's hometown is North Platte, Neb.

Launches Eighth Submarine.

Portsmouth, N. H., June 26—(A. P.).—The submarine Sand Lance slid down the ways at the Portsmouth Navy Yard last night—the eighth undersea craft to be launched here this year.

REYNOLDS BACKS BONUS FOR MEN IN SERVICE

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP) Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the Senate Military committee called today for a bonus for the veterans of World War 2.

"When the boys come back," he said in a Senate speech, "they are going to ask for a bonus, they are going to deserve a bonus, and I am going to vote for that bonus.

"We're going to have to hospitalize the millions of boys who will be wounded or catch tropical diseases. In addition we're going to have to pension these men and pay them with pensions for 50 years to come."

Reynolds spoke after Senator Wheeler( D-Mont) had renewed his demands that fathers be deferred definitely from the draft and that increases in Army personnel be limited to the number transportable overseas. Wheeler said the Army's own statement on the number of men to be sent abroad showed that if not another man were inducted, 2,000,000 soldiers would be left in the United States at the end of 1944. Wheeler declared the induction of fathers under such circumstances would be "nonsensical."

786 ARRESTED BY FBI IN DRAFT DODGER CASES

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP) FBI agents in 40 cities seized 786 men on draft laws during the 24 hours ended at noon today.

Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said New York City had 161 arrests, the largest total at any of the field offices. Next in line were San Francisco, with 72; Los Angeles, 46, and Chicago, 31.

Mr. Hoover emphasized that there had been no mass arrests, and said that, as in the announcement on May 15 of 638 men taken into custody, each case had been investigated separately. Violations ranged from failure to report for induction to failure to give notice of change of address.

JAMAICA, BAHAMA NATIVES WORKING AMERICAN FARMS

Men Live in Barracks, Help Solve Critical Labor Shortage.

JUN 27 1943

BY SIGRID ARNE

PHILADELPHIA, June 26—(AP) The car swung in through a hedge to a rolling field dotted with small, neat, bunk houses. We heard a queer sound from a long building which looked like an Army mess hall. "Click. Clack. Clack. Click."

"Dominoes," explained McDonald, the FSA man who was driving. "They play dominoes with a fine fury."

We looked through the mess hall door. Negroes in sweaters and work pants hunched over tables slapping down dominoes as though their lives depended on it. Some wore fantastic hats. Wide brims and tall, conical crowns.

"Dominoes are the only recreation they have so far," said McDonald. "It's one of the problems."

These men were some of the 6,000 Jamaican and Bahaman Negro farm hands who have been brought into the United States in the past month to help save crops in the face of labor shortage.

Housed in Camps

They're housed mostly in farm security camps for migrant labor. This camp was near Bridgeton, N. J., where the men are working on tomatoes, asparagus, peas, beans—and later, on peaches and apples.

Other such groups are spotted now in New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, New York, Connecticut, Michigan and Idaho. There are 3,000 in the Philadelphia area.

It's planned to bring in a total of 15,000. But New York, alone, has just requested 5,000. So the figure may be revised upward.

However, the supply is there—in the Bahamas, 4,000, and at Jamaica, 50,000—men available for American farms.

The Jamaicans seem to be the preferred group. They drink very little. At home, they say, they drink a little rum. But, here, it's too expensive.

Need Ministers

They've been so insistent about religious services that FSA is beating the bushes for volunteer ministers to visit the camps.

The Jamaicans have been a little slow to learn. But once trained they work carefully, for 10 hours a day.

At home they worked on sugar cane and banana plantations, or in rum distilleries. Here, they had to shift to green vegetables: some of which they've never seen before. They still don't like to eat them.

The Jamaicans come from a Negro country. It's a British colony, a fact which lends to amusing situations when the Jersey farmer runs into his first Jamaican.

Many of them have clipped, British accents that are quite surprising coming from a field hand. I was talking to a Jamaican about recreation, and me, "we're rather fond of cricket, you know. But we're having extreme difficulty acquiring the I could have closed my eyes and thought I was in a Park avenue drawing room.

Both groups have come into the country under contracts between our government and the governments of Jamaica and the Bahamas.

First, all hands were given physical exams to prevent importation of disease.

Second, the labor is here only on temporary immigration visas, and they may work only on farms.

Third, our government had to guarantee minimum wages: 75 cents a day from the date of entry until they go to work; $3 a day minimum for three-quarters of the time they're here.

That should look good to them. They're accustomed to 50 and 60 cents a day at home.

They pay $1 a day for food at the FSA camps; 50 cents a week to sleep in an FSA bunk house, or 25 cents a week to sleep in an Army tent.

The Jamaicans must send home $1 a day. The Bahamans 75 cents. It's deducted from their pay by the farmer who employes them. The farmer turns over the deductions to FSA which transfers the money and records to the home governments.

Staunton Greets Tokyo Raid Hero

JUN 27 1943

Staunton, Va., June 26 (AP)—Staunton welcomed home yesterday her air hero, Lieut. Jacob E. (Jack) Manch, the only Virginian who flew with Jimmy Doolittle in the air raid on Tokio in April, 1942.

The six-foot-seven-inch flyer arrived here from Washington and was greeted at the train by his mother, Mayor William A. Grubert and thousands of persons living in this city and in the near-by counties. His father, Martin G. Manch, had joined the aviator earlier.

Lieutenant Manch was taken to his home in a horse-drawn box-buggy and last night there was a reception held for him at the Manse, the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson.

Madam Chiang Gets a Degree On Macon Visit

Wesleyan College Honors Her on Return, After 25 Years, at Chapel Service

MACON, Ga., June 26 (AP).—Mei-ling Soong came back today, twenty-five years later, to receive an honorary degree at Wesleyan College, Methodist institution she attended as a ten-year old girl.

China's sauve First Lady, Madam Chiang Kai-shek, had this middle Georgia war city agog, with war routine shaken off and many a citizen recalling little Mei-Ling "way back when."

In the chapel of old Wesleyan where she worshipped as a student, she received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Her sister Al-Ling (Friendly Life), now wife of Dr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Finance for China, and sister Ching-Ling (Happy Life) who married the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, received honorary degrees in absentia, Mei-ling (Beautiful Life), accepting them.

A long standing friend was selected to place upon Madam Chiang the hood signifying the degree, Mrs. W. N. Ainsworth, widow of Bishop Ainsworth, Methodist leader.

Mrs. Ainsworth recalled the vivid, sometimes mischievous personality of Mei-ling Soong, the child who romped with the Ainsworth children in their home when the bishop was Wesleyan president.

Once, Mrs. Ainsworth remembered, her daughter and Mei-ling quarreled and the little Chinese girl was pouting.

"I spoke to her about the beauty of forgiveness and asked if she was not ashamed to show such an ugly spirit. She answered quickly: 'Why, no, Mrs. Ainsworth, I rather enjoy it.'"

Classmates recalled her childhood enterprise, manifested when she and other girls established, printed and sold, at a penny a copy, a breezy campus newspaper, complete with a foreign news section, to make extra money for ice cream and other luxuries.

Mei-ling won her way to America at the age of ten by reminding her parents of a promise, made when she was ill, that she could have any wish granted when she recovered.

She came with her two sisters, one of them then a senior at Wesleyan and the other a freshman. The sisters received degrees in the southern school—the first chartered woman's institution ever to award a degree—but Mei-ling later went to Wellesley, near Boston, to be near her brother, T. V. Soong, now China's Foreign Minister.

HARTFORD MAJOR WINS SILVER STAR, SEVENTH AWARD

Ernest R. Manierre, 26, Was in Pearl Harbor Action, Other Battles.

HENDRICKS FIELD, Sebring, Fla., June 26—(AP) Major Ernest R. Manierre, 26, of Hartford, Conn., was decorated with the Silver Star and an Oak Leaf cluster, in lieu of another Distinguished Flying Cross, at this Army Air forces Flying Fortress school today.

The decorations, presented by Col. Carl B. McDaniel, at the direction of the President, brought to seven the total he has won since the attack on Pearl Harbor, where he was stationed on Dec. 7, 1941.

Major Manierre, a flying instructor and squadron commander here, was cited for the Silver Star for gallantry in action while participating in an air flight over Guadalcanal on Oct. 15, 1942. He led a flight of six bombers on a mission to bomb an enemy task force which was endeavoring to land troops and supplies in this area.

The young officer led his flight through heavy anti-aircraft fire from the enemy task force composed of four transports and eleven naval vessels. It was necessary to make two runs at their target through the face of anti-aircraft fire, in addition to being attacked by 12 Zero fighters, before bombs were released. One direct hit was scored on a transport and four Zeros were shot down by the flight, two of which were accounted for by Major Manierre and his crew.

Major Manierre received the Oak Leaf cluster for extraordinary achievement in the Solomon islands while participating, during the period from December 7, 1941, to April 14, 1942, in operational air flights totaling over 203 hours.

The previous decorations received by Major Manierre were the Air medal and three Oak Leaf clusters, and the Distinguished Flying Cross. The latter was awarded as the result of an aerial flight in the Solomons area last August, when his group scored four direct hits on a Japanese aircraft carrier. He won the others for his part in the battle of Midway and in the Solomon Islands. His bomber group also was cited for "outstanding performance of duty during the period from July 31 to November 30, 1942.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Manierre, Hartford, Conn. His wife is the former Patricia Balcombe, San Antonio, Tex., and they have one child, Ernest R., Jr., 2 1-2.

JUN 27 1943

What's Behind the War News

By GLENN BABB

Summer's first week-end finds the world still waiting for the curtain to rise on the main show, the anticipated titanic clashes of the armies and navies in the fateful campaign of 1943. Meantime, however, its attention was gripped by the blazing prologue in the skies, where the softening up of the Axis was carried forward at a new pitch of intensity and destructiveness. This pattern may continue for a few more weeks. On the other hand the setting of the stage is so near completion that any morning may see the Allied landing barges sweeping toward the enemy's coasts, probably in the Mediterranean.

On land and sea the pre-invasion lull still ruled but in the air the British and American air fleets had their most tremendous week of the war. The "neutralization" of the Ruhr, the heart of German war production, was virtually completed and the sapping of Italy's power and will to resist made good progress.

The lull aground emphasized the extent to which the initiative has passed from the Axis. The Allies rule the seas and the skies to such a degree that an Axis stroke in either element is out of the question. But both Germany and Japan still have the opportunity to launch great land offensives if they care to take the gamble.

But the bright June days, so favorable for this purpose, slipped by and both remained quiescent. The anniversary of Hitler's attack on Russia passed with his armies still immobilized along the whole length of the eastern front. The belief held in some quarters that Japan might strike a blow for both Germany and herself by attacking Serbia received no support. The Japanese continued to give ground in China. In the south and southwest Pacific Japan still was waiting for something, meanwhile suffering heavy attrition in the air.

Italy Awaits Invasion

Italy, with nothing left to do but await the dread day of invasion, did just that while the airfields, ports and communications centers of her islands and southern mainland shuddered under the daily blows of the American and British air forces.

With June almost gone it seemed the time was fast running out in which an Axis offensive could be expected. Wider acceptance was found for the suggestion that both in Europe and in the Pacific the enemy, realizing that his power to wage offensive warfare was virtually gone, was content to stand on the defensive, hoping for some miracle, military or political, which would give him a stalemate.

The war in the air therefore became the first front. Into the battle over western Germany for the moment the two great alliances were pouring a greater proportion of their military resources than into any other, with the Mediterranean a close second. The Britain-based squadrons of the R.A.F. and the U. S. Eighth Air force clashed grimly with the most formidable array of air defenses ever concentrated, brought to western Europe by Hitler in an effort to prevent the destruction of his war potential and and the will of his people to continue the struggle. The Allies scored tremendous successes, the enemy's cries alone showed he was badly hurt, but they also paid a stiff price.

184 Planes Lost

A week of attack cost the Allies 184 multi-engined bombers, many of them carrying ten or more men. The R.A.F., out every night, lost 147, the Americans 37. To show for this they had the crippling devastation of Krefeld, Muelheim, Wuppertal, Huls, Bochum and Gelsenkirchen in the Ruhr, the great Schneider arsenal at Le Creusot in France, the German "Radar" factory at Friedrichshafen, the Italian naval base of La Spezia. Reliable reports said between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 civilians already had been evacuated from the stricken Ruhr, above which the accustomed industrial haze from factory chimneys was reported many degrees lighter.

There was no doubt that Germany was sorely wounded in a vital spot. The reaction of Goebbels' propaganda reinforced this conclusion. It was a combined attempt to appeal to the soft-hearted in Allied countries by vivid accounts of civilian suffering and to the hatred in German hearts by stories of alleged destruction wrought by the American barbarians to the cultural monuments of the old world.

In the Mediterranean the Allies, ranged along the North African shore, obviously were well along with the job of softening up Sicily, and to a lesser extent Sardinia, for invasion. Naples and its industrial environs, on the nearby mainland, also were heavily blasted. On Sicily the week began and ended with shattering attacks on Messina, chief port for communications with the mainland. More than 100 Flying Fortresses blasted that city on Friday in the largest operation yet by these great planes in the Mediterranean theater. From end to end of Sicily airfields and ports were shattered and raked with gunfire. When the airfields are put out of commission the time for invasion is near. Sardinia got it too, especially Olbia in the northeast, raided twice, and a long list of airfields.

One new figure in the pattern of the Mediterranean war was a long-range raid Thursday by more than 50 American Liberators on the Greek port of Salonika, pointed reminder of the role of that city in the first World war. Then it was the base for the Allied armies that opened up the back door to central Europe. The Axis obviously believes it is slated again to be in the pathway of invasion. German and Italian broadcasts had much to say about Allied military moves around the eastern rim of the Mediterranean. The Allies did nothing to disturb the belief that big events are brewing in that area.

Russian Front Quiet

In the words of 14 successive Moscow communiques, there were no significant changes on the long Russian battle line. But Moscow took occasion of the second anniversary of Hitler's attack on the Soviet Union to remind the western Allies of the imperative necessity of a second front in Europe if Hitler Germany is to be destroyed. The Allied answer was to plough ahead with the Casablanca-Washington program which none doubted called for an invasion of the continent as soon as possible.

The aspect of the war in the south and southwest Pacific saw little change, although the Japanese air force continue to lose heavily in its few attempts to challenge Allied rule of the air. A feature of the week was a raid by American Liberators on Makassar on Celebes, involving a 2,000-mile roundtrip flight. Indications persisted that aggressive Allied action somewhere in the southwest Pacific was impending.

JUN 27 1943

The trend toward Allied victory in the battle of the Atlantic persisted. There was nothing to dispute the growing belief that the curve of Allied ship losses, declining sharply since March, would dip even lower in June. German propaganda prepared its people for this setback. There were unofficial reports of numerous killings of U-boats and plenty of evidence that the new methods and weapons used by the British, American and Canadian navies were making the U-boat service a suicidal one for German sailors.

To point this up came unconfirmed reports from Norwegian sources in Sweden that six German submarine crews mutinied recently in a port of northern Norway and refused to put to sea. This conforms so closely to the picture of the submarine service on the eve of the 1918 collapse that it should be taken with caution. But certainly the time is close when U-boat crews will be putting to sea with little hope of return. It was this situation in 1918 that broke the discipline of the German navy and led to the collapse of the Kaiser's empire.

ALL DAY THE NAZI RADIO BLARED EXAGGERATED ACCOUNTS OF RECENT AMERICAN LOSSES. IT BEGAN BY ASSERTING THAT 17 FLYING FORTRESSES WERE SHOT DOWN YESTERDAY, THEN RAISED THE NUMBER TO 26. BY NIGHTFALL ACCORDING TO BERLIN, THE ALLIES HAD LOST 55 PLANES OVER GERMANY IN THE PAST 24 HOURS. THE ALLIES ACKNOWLEDGED THE LOSS OF 47.

AMERICAN FLIERS DESCRIBED YESTERDAY'S FIGHTER OPPOSITION AS TERRIFIC, WITH FOCKE-WULF AND MESSERSCHMITT PILOTS PRESSING HOME THEIR ATTACKS WITH SUICIDAL FEROCITY.

JUN 27 1943

"THEY WOULD COME AT US TWO AND THREE ABREAST AND BARREL ROLL THROUGH OUR ENTIRE FORMATION WITH THEIR GUNS GOING LIKE HELL," ONE CREWMAN SAID.

THE U.S.FLIERS LOST 17 PLANES IN THEIR UNESCORTED SWEEP, BUT THEIR GUNNERS TOOK A HEAVY TOLL OF NAZI FIGHTERS. FORTRESSES FROM ONE STATION ALONE DESTROYED 24 ENEMY CRAFT, PROBABLY DESTROYED 14 MORE AND DAMAGED FIVE. U.S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS REPORTED THAT AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS HAD SHOT DOWN NEARLY 100 ENEMY FIGHTERS IN THEIR LAST TWO RAIDS ON THE REICH.

A COMMENTATOR FROM EIGHTH U.S. AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS SAID:

"THE PRIMARY TASK OF HEAVY BOMBERS OPERATING IN DAYLIGHT AGAINST WAR INDUSTRY TARGETS IS TO SLOW ENEMY ARMAMENT PRODUCTION, BUT ATTRITION AGAINST ENEMY FIGHTER DEFENSES, AN IMPORTANT SECONDARY CONSIDERATION, IS MOUNTING STEADILY."

AIR MARSHAL SIR TRAFFORD LEIGH-MALLORY, SPEAKING AT A RALLY IN BIRMINGHAM, DECLARED HE WAS CONVINCED THAT THE "GERMANS WILL NEVER BE ABLE TO CARRY OUT CONSISTENT INTENSIVE RAIDS OVER INDUSTRIAL AREAS OF THIS COUNTRY AGAIN DURING THIS WAR."

JUN 27 1943

JUN 27 1943

30.24- 5425

GREAT BRITAIN'S UNDERSECRETARY FOR AIR, CAPTAIN HAROLD BALFOUR, REPORTED THAT GERMAN INDUSTRIES HAVE BEEN ORDERED TO USE A LOWER GRADE OF STEEL THAN HERETOFORE--"DEFINITE PROOF THAT THE RAF'S BOMBING HAS THE DESIRED EFFECT."

THE POUNDING OF EUROPE APPARENTLY CONTINUED THROUGH THE DAY. SOUTHEAST COAST OBSERVERS REPORTED A LARGE FORMATION OF FORTRESSES RETURNING FROM NORTHERN FRANCE, AND FROM THE ENGLISH CLIFF TOPS BOMB BURSTS HAD BEEN OBSERVED IN THE VICINITY OF CAP GRIS NEZ.

ONE THUNDERBOLT OF AN AMERICAN SQUADRON WAS SEEN RETURNING WITH WHAT APPEARED TO BE AN ANTI-AIRCRAFT HOLE IN ITS WING BUT IT WAS UNDER PERFECT CONTROL.

JUN 27 1943

IN THE RUHR, WHERE THE BRITISH HEAVY BOMBERS CONCENTRATED POSSIBLY 1,500 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES THURSDAY NIGHT ON CHEMICAL AND TEXTILE TARGETS IN THE ELBERFELD SECTION OF THE AMALGAMATED CITY OF WUPPERTAL, THE POPULATION WAS REPORTED GETTING OUT FAST.

FROM BERN, SWITZERLAND, CAME INFORMATION FROM A RELIABLE SOURCE THAT AN ORGANIZED REMOVAL OF NON-ESSENTIAL WORKERS AND RESIDENTS FROM THE HEAVILY-BATTERED RUHR ALREADY HAD TAKEN BETWEEN 4,000,000 AND 5,000,000 PERSONS TO SAFER AREAS, WITH THE PROJECT STILL GOING ON.

THE AIR MINISTRY NEWS SERVICE REPORTED MEANWHILE THAT THE GERMANS HAD STRENGTHENED THEIR OUTER RING OF AIR DEFENSES ON THE NORTH SEA COAST, PRESUMABLY IN AN ATTEMPT TO KEEP RAIDERS AWAY FROM THE RUINS OF THE RUHR. THE EXPERIENCE OF THE AMERICAN BOMBERS YESTERDAY APPEARED TO CONFIRM THIS, MANY CREWS MEETING OPPOSITION AS SOON AS THEY REACHED THE COAST.

THE CALENDAR OF THE PAST WEEK'S MAJOR RAIDS CARRIED OUT BY BRITAIN-BASED ALLIED BOMBERS:

JUNE 19 (NIGHT)--RAF HEAVY BOMBERS DEVASTATED THE SCHNEIDER ARMAMENT WORKS AT LE CREUSOT, FRANCE.

JUNE 20(NIGHT)--GERMANY'S MAJOR AIR DETECTION DEVICE MANUFACTURING PLANT AT FRIEDRICHSHAFEN BLASTED BY RAF LANCASTERS ON OUTBOUND LEG OF SHUTTLE TRIP TO AFRICA.

JUNE 21 (NIGHT)--SOME 700 RAF PLANES RAIDED KREFELD, RUHR INDUSTRIAL CENTER.

JUN 27 1943

JUNE 22-AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES HIT SYNTHETIC RUBBER PLANT AT HULS BY DAYLIGHT IN THEIR FIRST VENTURE INTO RUHR AND ALSO RAIDED ANTWERP IN SIDE SWEEP; MUELHEIM IN THE RUHR BLASTED BY THE RAF AT NIGHT.

JUNE 23 (NIGHT)--LANCASTERS RAIDED NAVAL BASE AT LA SPEZIA, ITALY, ON THEIR RETURN TRIP FROM AFRICA RE-FUELING PINT. THE ROUND TRIP WAS COMPLETED WITHOUT LOSS.

JUNE 24 (NIGHT)--CHEMICAL AND TEXTILE PLANTS IN ELBERFELD SECTION OF WUPPERTAL BLASTED BY RAF IN ANOTHER BLOW AT THE RUHR.

JUNE 25--AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS STRUCK INTO NORTHWEST [illegible] REICH TARGETS AT NIGHT.

OTHER NEWCOMERS INCLUDE:

LIEUT.ETHEL LILLIAN WING, 34, MILWAUKEE, WIS., DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS.HENRY W.WING; LIEUT. SUSIE JANE THURMAN, 24, OF TERRE HAUTE, IND., DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS.RAY THURMAN AND LIEUT.KATHLEEN MARIE BERRY, 27, OF SAN FRANCISCO, DAUGHTER OF MRS.NORMA BERRY.

JUN 27 1943

IT ALSO WAS DISCLOSED THAT THE FIRST TWO WAAC OFFICERS TO ARRIVE I BRITAIN WERE CAPT.ZELMA HANSEN OF LOS ANGELES, AND LIEUT.DOROTHY SWART OF ELSA, TEX. THE NEXT ARRIVALS WERE CAPTAIN WILSON AND LIEUTENANT HERBERT, AND THEY WERE FOLLOWED BY A SMALL ADVANCE UNIT OF OFFICERS, NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

AT LEAST ONE OF THE NEW ARRIVALS KNOWS HOW TO HANDLE A GUN TO PERFECTION. LIEUTENANT THURMAN, WHO WAS A LATIN TEACHER AT PRAIRIE CREEK AND WOLCOTT, IND., BEFORE JOINING THE WAACS, IS A CRACK RIFLE SHOT AND HAS WON SEVERAL MEETS COMPETING WITH BOTH MEN AND WOMEN.

LIEUT.BERRY WAS WITH THE ARMY BEFORE JOINING THE WAACS AS SECRETARY IN A MEDICAL BRANCH IN A OVERSEAS SUPPLY DIVISION AT A WEST COAST EMBARKATION PO

JUN 27 1943

THE COMMUNIQUE ADDED THAT THE SCOUTS OBTAINED "IMPORTANT NFORMATION."

ON THE LENINGRAD FRONT SNIPERS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE KILLED 90 ERMAN SOLDIERS AND RUSSIAN ARTILLERYMEN WERE CREDITED WITH ESTROYING EIGHT BLOCKHOUSES AND SIX DUGOUTS.

ONE RUSSIAN BATTERY WEST OF ROSTOV WAS SAID TO HAVE WIPED OUT ABOUT A COMPANY OF GERMAN TROOPS IN THE PAST FIVE DAYS IN ADDITION TO DEMOLISHING FIVE DUGOUTS AND SILENCING TWO ENEMY ARTILLERY BATTERIES AND TWO MACHINEGUN NESTS.

DESPITE THE LACK OF NOTABLE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE GROUND FIGHTING, THE RUSSIAN ARMY NEWSPAPER RED STAR SAID THAT CHANGES MIGHT COME AT ANY HOUR AND WARNED ALL RUSSIANS TO BE ON GUARD.

THE SOVIET NOON COMMUNIQUE YESTERDAY SAID RUSSIAN TROOPS BROKE INTO FINNISH TRENCHES ON THE NORTHERN KARELIAN FRONT FRIDAY NIGHT AND WIPED OUT ABOUT A COMPANY OF ENEMY TROOPS.

THE MIDDAY BULLETIN TOLD OF TWO GERMAN THRUSTS, A RECONNOITERING ATTEMPT IN THE SEVSK AREA SOUTHWEST OF OREL AND AN ATTEMPT TO CROSS THE DONETS RIVER SOUTH OF BALAKLEYA, WHICH IT SAID WERE BEATEN OFF WITH HEAVY LOSSES.

LONDON, JUNE 26-(AP)-YUGOSLAV PATRIOT FORCES HAVE REPULSED A FIFTH BIG GERMAN OFFENSIVE, AND EIGHT NAZI AND SATELLITE DIVISION WHICH SUFFERED HEAVY LOSSES ARE RETREATING FROM MONTENEGRO AND TH NOVI-PAZAR AREA TOWARD HERZOGOVINA AND EASTERN BOSNIA, YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT SOURCES ANNOUNCED TODAY.

JUN 27 1943

THEY SAID THE PATRIOTS BROKE THROUGH THREE CORDONS OF AXIS TROOPS POSTED TO KEEP THEM PENNED UP IN THE MOUNTAINS AND REACHEI A RAIL LINE LINKING THE GARRISON TOWN OF SARAJEVO WITH BELGRADE.

ANKARA DISPATCHES QUOTED AN AUTHORITATIVE YUGOSLAV SOURCE THERE AS SAYING THAT GEN. DRAJA MIHAILOVIC, THE PATRIOT COMMANDER, IS LEADING A GRIM GUERRILLA BATTLE IN SOUTHEASTERN YUGOSLAVIA AT THE HEAD OF 50,000 TO 60,000 TROOPS.

THE GUERRILLAS HAVE BEEN ATTACKING RAIL COMMUNICATIONS OVER WHICI THE GERMANS MUST SEND SUPPLIES AND REINFORCEMENTS TO GREECE IN THE EVENT OF AN ALLIED INVASION AT THAT POINT.

THE GERMAN RADIO, IN A RECENT BROADCAST RECORDED BY ASSOCIATED PRESS, HAS ACKNOWLEDGED AXIS ATTEMPTS TO LIFT THE PRESSURE ON THE YUGOSLAV RAIL SYSTEM SO THAT IT WOULD BE FREE TO CARRY REINFORCEMENT TO THE BALKANS.

JUN 27 1943

30.24 - 5427

LONDON, JUNE 26-(AP)-THE PHYSICIANS OF OCCUPIED HOLLAND HAVE SENT A LETTER TO GERMAN HIGH COMMISSIONER ARTHUR SEYSS-INQUART SAYIN THAT THE DUTCH HAVE BECOME SO EMBITTERED BY GERMAN RULE THAT SOONER OR LATER THEY WILL BE MOVED TO "DESPERATE ACTS," THE DUTCH AGENCY ANETA REPORTED TONIGHT.

THE LETTER PROTESTED AGAINST THE NAZI LOOTING OF FOOD, WHICH IT SAID WAS LEADING TO A SERIOUS NUMBER OF DEATHS AND AGAINST THE LABO DRAFT WHICH WAS TERMED A VIOLATION OF THE HAGUE CONVENTION.

THE PHYSICIANS POINTED OUT THAT A HOLLANDER'S REFUSAL TO GO TO GERMANY WAS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE BECAUSE HE "THEN IS EXCLUDED FROM SHARING THE FOOD."

JUN 27 1943

"THE NETHERLANDS PEOPLE HAVE ENTERED A STAGE IN WHICH CONTINUED SILENCE IS DIFFICULT TO TOLERATE. AWARE OF LIVING AMIDST LAWLESS-NESS, A MEASURE OF EMBITTERMENT HAS ARISEN IN THEM WHICH SOONER OR LATER MUST LEAD TO DESPERATE ACTS."

BY LEO BRANHAM

A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, SUNDAY, JUNE 27-(AP)-"HARD LUCK KIDS" WHO SUFFERED HEAVY CASUALTIES IN EACH OF FIVE PREVI RAIDS DIDN'T LOSE A SINGLE SHIP OR SUFFER A SINGLE CASUALTY IN AN ASSAULT ON INDUSTRIAL TARGETS IN FRANCE YESTERDAY.

FLYING FORTRESS CREWS IN THIS STATION WHO LOST SIX BOMBERS IN FRIDAY'S RAID ON NORTHWESTERN GERMANY PARTICIPATED IN THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE'S DAYLIGHT ATTACK ON TARGETS IN FRANCE.

THEY SAID THEY ENCOUNTERED FEW ENEMY FIGHTERS AND LITTLE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE AS THEY THUNDERED THROUGH HEAVY CLOUD FORMATIONS TO BOMB THEIR TARGETS. FIGHTER ESCORTS MET THEM OVER FRANCE AND BROUGHT THEM HOME.

"IT WAS JUST A SUNDAY AFTERNOON RIDE," EXPLAINED MAJOR OATTIS E. PARKS OF ATLANTA, GA., SQUADRON LEADER AND PILOT OF THE FORTRESS "MADARSTRO CAMDA."

JUN 27 1943

THAT SUMMED UP THE GENERAL REACTION OF THE FLIERS HERE.

MOST CREWS SAID THAT THE CLOUD FORMATIONS THROUGH WHICH THEY DUMPED THEIR BOMBS PREVENTED OBSERVATION OF RESULTS BUT SERGEANT CHARLES J.KUKAWSKI, OF GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., BALL TURRET GUNNER ON THE "FDR'S RFD," PILOTED BY FIRST LIEUTENANT WILLIS C. CARLISLE OF HOUSTON, TEX., WAS ONE OF THE FEW WHO GOT A GOOD LOOK AT DAMAGE THROUGH THE RIFT IN THE CLOUDS FAR BELOW THE HIGH FLYING FORTRESSES.

"I SAW LOTS OF FIRES RAGING OVER BOTH TARGETS AS WE TURNED OFF TOWARD HOME," HE SAID, "WE REALLY SMACKED THOSE FACTORIES. I COULD SEE BOMBS DROPPED BY FORMATIONS BEHIND US STILL EXPLODING ALL OVER THE TARGET AREA.

KUKAWSKI WAS ELATED BECAUSE HE HAD SHOT DOWN HIS FIRST ENEMY FIGHTER, AN ME-109.

SERGEANT A.P. TYLER OF HOLLYWOOD, CALIF., TURRET GUNNER ON CARLISLE'S BOMBER, DESCRIBED THE RAID AS "THE SOFTEST WE'VE HAD SO FAR."

REPORTS INDICATED, HOWEVER, THE FORTRESS FORMATIONS FLYING BEHIND HIS GROUP MAY NOT HAVE HAD SUCH AN EASY TIME CREWS HERE SAID THAT ONLY 20 TO 30 FIGHTERS MADE HALF-HEARTED ATTEMPTS TO ATTACK THEM AND THEN CONCENTRATED ON BOMBER FORMATIONS BEHIND.

SERGEANT WILLIAM J. MOORE, OF PAWTUCKET, R.I., RADIO OPERATOR-GUNNER, SAID THAT HE FIRED ONLY THREE ROUNDS DURING THE ENTIRE RAID.

JUN 27 1943

LIEUTENANT COLONEL MAURICE A. PRESTON OF TULARE, CALIF., STATION COMMANDER WHO PILOTED THIS GROUP'S LEADING BOMBER, HAD AN UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE DROPPING HIS BOMBS ON BOTH TARGETS. PRESTON SAID THAT ALL BUT TWO BOMBS STUCK IN THE BOMB BAY WHEN THE BOMBARDIER TRIED TO UNLOAD THEM ON AN AIRPLANE FACTORY. PRESTON THEN FLEW TO AN INDUSTRIAL TARGET WHERE THE CREW MANAGED TO DUMP THE BOMBS. FIRST LIEUTENANT W. C. SIPES OF TUCSON, ARIZ., WAS PRESTON'S CO-PILOT.

JUN 27 1943

A103

THE FORTRESS "WEREWOLF," PILOTED BY FIRST LIEUTENANT MILTON D. WALLACE OF HOUSTON, TEX., MADE THE BOMB RUN WITH TWO MEN UNCONSCIOUS AS A RESULT OF THE FAILURE OF THE OXYGEN SYSTEM SUPPLYING WAIST GUNNER SERGEANT JOSEPH KATZ OF ST. LOUIS, MO., AND CALVIN G. NUSS, OF WILLIAMSPORT, PA.

DESCRIBING THE INCIDENT THE NAVIGATOR, SECOND LIEUTENANT JOSEPH A. FREID OF EAU CLAIRE, WIS., SAID: "NUSS WAS OUT FOR HALF AN HOUR AND KATZ FOR 10 MINUTES. I CARRIED EMERGENCY 'WALKAROUND' BOTTLES BACK THERE AND PLUGGED THEM INTO THEIR OXYGEN MASKS. THEY SOON REVIVED AND SUFFERED ONLY FROSTBITTEN HANDS AND FEET."

SECOND LIEUTENANT LEONARD D. BAXTER OF ALBANY, N.Y., A NAVIGATOR, SAID HE SHOT DOWN AN ME-109.

COL.CHARLES E.MERION, OF DETROIT, A GROUP COMMANDER WHO LED A UNIT INTO ACTION, SAID "WHEN WE REACHED THE TARGET AREA WE RAN INTO 10/10 CLOUDS, WHICH MEANS THEY WERE TOTAL.

"WE DID NOT DROP OUR BOMBS, FOLLOWING AN ARMY AIR FORCE POLICY OF NOT BOMBING INDISCRIMINATELY OVER FRANCE. WE SAW 30 TO 40 ENEMY FIGHTERS, BUT DIDN'T PRESS HOME THE ATTACK BY OUR GROUP."

LIEUT.CHARLES O.OHL, THE PILOT, OF SUMMIT HILL, PA., DECLARED "WE COULDN'T SEE A THING. WE DIDN'T DROP A SINGLE BOMB.

JUN 27 1943

STAFF SERGEANT SYLVESTER DUDECK, OF PHILADELPHIA, A VETERAN OF 34 RAIDS WITH THE RAF BEFORE TRANSFERRING TO THE U.S. AIR FORCES, SAID THAT IN HIS POSITION AS TAIL-GUNNER OF THE FORTRESS "DORIS MAE" HE SHOT DOWN TWO OUT OF THREE GERMAN FIGHTERS WHICH CAME IN ON THE PLANE'S TAIL.

TECHNICAL SERGEANT PHILIP E.SCHMIDBLATT, OF MADISON, IND., THE TOP TURRET GUNNER, CLAIMED A JUNKERS-88 WHICH HE SAW BLOW UP IN MID-AIR, AND STAFF SERGEANT ALVINE E.RENFRO, OF HAZLEHURST, (CQ) MISS., THE WAIST GUNNER, CLAIMED A MESSERSCHMITT-109.

TWO GUNNERS ON THE FORTRESS "INFERNO", PILOTED BY CAPT.RAYMOND P. KETTELSON, OF CHICAGO, EACH CLAIMED A GERMAN FIGHTER, AND WALTER T. PARKS, OF MARION, N.C., SAID HE BAGGED A MESSERSCHMITT-109.

LIEUT.EDWARD S.MC GLYNN, THE NAVIGATOR, FROM BOSTON, SAID HE SAW AT LEAST ONE, AND POSSIBLY TWO, ENEMY FIGHTERS SHOT DOWN BY THEIR OWN FLAK AS THEY CLOSED IN ON THE FORTRESS.

JUN 27 1943

30.24 — 5429

MADRID, JUNE 26-(AP)-SPANISH NEWSPAPERS PRINTED HEADLINES TODAY READING: "THE ITALIAN PRESS BELIEVES AN ALLIED LANDING IN ITALY IS IMMINENT."

ROME REPORTS CIRCULATED BY THE SPANISH OFFICIAL FOREIGN NEWS AGENCY EFE, AND THE GERMAN TRANSOCEAN AGENCY, SAID THAT INCREASING AIR ATTACKS ON ITALY, AND ALLIED NAVAL CONCENTRATIONS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN HAD LED THE ITALIAN PRESS TO CONSIDER THAT AN OFFENSIVE WAS NEAR.

JUN 27 1943

(A GENEVA DISPATCH BY THE RUSSIAN AGENCY TASS SAID THAT THE ITALIAN MINISTRY OF THE INTERIOR HAD ORDERED ALL POLITICAL PRISONERS IN THE SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL PROVINCES TRANSFERRED TO NORTHERN ITALY IN ANOTHER DEMONSTRATION OF INVASION JITTERS. ABOUT 3,000 PRISONERS ARE AFFECTED, SAID A MOSCOW BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR.

IT WAS AT TRONDHEIM THAT ADMIRAL OTTO CILIAX, COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF GERMAN NAVAL FORCES IN NORWAY, WAS REPORTED TO HAVE WARNED 2,000 NAZI MARINES THAT NORWAY WOULD BE INVADED "WITHIN A SHORT TIME."

THERE HAVE BEEN MANY REPORTS OF POOR MORALE AND ARRESTS AMONG GERMAN ARMY TROOPS IN NORWAY, AND RECENTLY GERMAN MARINES--THE BEST OF NAZI FORCES IN NORWAY--ALSO WERE PICTURED AS AFFECTED. OBSERVERS SAID ANY EXTENSIVE MUTINY IN THE RANKS OF MARINES WOULD HAVE WIDESPREAD EFFECTS.

(IN THE FIRST WORLD WAR, THE GERMAN HIGH SEA FLEET MUTINIED ON OCT. 29, 1918, WHEN THE ORDER WAS GIVEN TO PREPARE FOR SEA FOR A LAST RAID INTO THE ENGLISH CHANNEL. THERE WERE INCIDENTS AMONG OTHER UNITS. MOST OF THE CREWS OF DESTROYER AND SUBMARINE FLOTILLAS, HOWEVER, REMAINED LOYAL TO THE END.)

EDITORS: THE FOLLOWING VIVID ACCOUNT OF LIFE IN LENINGRAD AS THE CITY NEARS THE END OF ITS SECOND YEAR OF SIEGE WAS WRITTEN FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BY LIEUT. LEONID IVITCH, WAR CORRESPONDENT FOR THE SOVIET NAVY'S NEWSPAPER, RED FLEET, WHO HAS SPENT A YEAR IN THE BESIEGED CITY. IVITCH COVERED THE ODESSA AND MURMANSK FRONTS BEFORE GOING TO LENINGRAD, WHERE, FOR HEROISM DISPLAYED WHILE COVERING THE SIEGE, HE WAS AWARDED THE MEDAL CALLED "FOR THE DEFENSE OF LENINGRAD."

---

BY LIEUT. LEONID IVITCH,

JUN 27 1943

WAR CORRESPONDENT OF RED FLEET,

WRITTEN FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LENINGRAD, JUNE 25-(DELAYED)-(AP)-UNFORGETTABLY BEAUTIFUL ARE THE BUILDINGS OF LENINGRAD, SHARPLY OUTLINED AGAINST THE BLUE GRAY SKY.

HIGH ABOVE ITS SURROUNDINGS RISES THE THIN STRAIGHT SPIRE OF THE ADMIRALTY BUILDING. THE BEAUTIFUL CUPOLA OF THE ISAAKOVSKY MONASTERY DOMINATES DOZENS OF NEIGHBORING STRUCTURES.

THE PAVLOV FORTRESS CAN BE SEEN AND AT THE FOOT OF IT SLOWLY ROLL THE HEAVY, GRAY WAVES OF THE NEVA RIVER. STRAIGHT AS ARROWS ARE THE STREETS AND THE PROSPECTS OF THE CITY, WITH ITS ENORMOUSLY EXQUISITE PERSPECTIVE.

THE WHITE NIGHTS DESCEND OVER THE CITY--OVER THE BUILDINGS OF THE SENATE AND THE KAZAN CATHEDRAL; OVER THE MONUMENTAL STRUCTURES CREATED BY THE WORLD'S BEST ARCHITECTS LIKE RASTRELLI AND ROZZI, ZAKHAPOV AND GVARENGI. THE WHITE NIGHTS DESCEND OVER THE STREETS AND THE SQUARES OF THE CITY.

JUN 27 1943

THE ENEMY, FEROCIOUS, DULL AND RELENTLESS, IS NOT FAR OFF; SO CLOSE THAT HIS PRESENCE HERE AT THE GATES OF THE CITY CAN ALMOST BE PHYSICALLY FELT.

THE CITY, WHICH FOR NEARLY TWO YEARS BRAVELY REPULSED THE GERMAN HORDES; THE CITY, WHICH ALREADY HAS GROUND TO DEATH AT ITS GATES MORE THAN 400,000 GERMAN SOLDIERS, STANDS AS PREVIOUSLY--INVINCIBLE, PROUD AND UNCONQUERABLE.

JUN 27 1943

WAR AND LIFE ARE ONE AND THE SAME THING IN THIS THROBBING CITY. THE SUFFERINGS OF LAST YEAR'S WINTER ARE NOT YET FORGOTTEN, AS THEY WON'T BE FOR CENTURIES TO COME.

WHEN THE GERMAN ARMY SUCCEEDED IN BLOCKADING THE CITY, THE STANICAL HITLER HYSTERICALLY ANNOUNCED TO THE WORLD:

"LENINGRAD FORCES ARE AT THEIR KNEES. THIS CITY WILL RECEIVE NO MERCY. THIS CITY WILL PERISH."

TO THE AGONY OF BOMBING AND SHELLING WHICH THE CITY UNDERWENT WERE ADDED THE PANGS OF HUNGER. THE PEOPLE RECEIVED ONLY 125 GRAMS OF BREAD DAILY, BUT THEY REFUSED TO SURRENDER. STAGGERING FROM WEAKNESS, THEY CONTINUED TO WORK AT THEIR LATHES AND MACHINES. SHOCKINGLY THIN, PALE AND EMACIATED, THEY CONTINUED TO ERECT FORTIFICATIONS AT THE CITY'S WALLS UPON WHICH WERE BROKEN AND DISPERSED THE FEROCIOUS ATTACKS OF WELL FED AND PICKED S.S. TROOPS.

THE PEOPLE ARE FORTIFIED IN THESE DAYS AS ALWAYS IN THE WAR BY HEIR GREAT LOVE FOR THE CITY AND IMMEASURABLE HATRED FOR THE ENEMY. THINK THEY ARE THE MOST AUDACIOUS PATRIOTS IN ALL RUSSIA.

ONE OF MY FRIENDS THERE WAS AN OLD WORKER WHO SPENT HIS ENTIRE LIFE N ONE OF THE BIGGEST PLANTS IN LENINGRAD. DURING THE ARTILLERY HELLING HE DID NOT LEAVE THE SHOP BUT CONTINUED TO WORK AT AN NORMOUS LATHE. A SHELL HIT THE SHOP. THE OLD MAN WAS SEVERELY OUNDED. VASILY ANDREEV HIS NAME WAS. HE WAS LAID UP IN A HOSPITAL HREE MONTHS, RECUPERATED, THEN RETURNED TO WORK AS USUAL.

"FRIEND," I TOLD HIM, "YOUR HEALTH IS WANING. PERHAPS YOU SHOULD O TO THE REAR AND WORK IN ONE OF THE EVACUATED PLANTS."

JUN 27 1943

VASILY ANDREEV SLOWLY SHOOK HIS HEAD, LIFTED HIS EYEGLASSES TO HIS FOREHEAD AND ASKED WITH A SHRUG OF HIS SHOULDERS: "WHERE WOULD I GO? THIS IS MY CITY. THIS IS MY FACTORY--AND BESIDES IN ME ARE EIGHT SHRAPNEL SPLINTERS WHICH I GOT HERE. NO, I REMAIN WITH LENINGRAD."

AND SO HE DID REMAIN. I SAW HIM JUST THE OTHER DAY AT A JAZZ BAND CONCERT IN A CITY PARK. HE IS VERY MUCH ALIVE, WORKING AND HAPPY.

LENINGRAD IS A CITY RIGHT ON THE FRONT. IT CONTINUES TO THROB WITH LIFE AND STILL IS A LARGE CULTURAL CENTER. THEATERS ARE OVER-CROWDED. FROM THE FRONT LINES COME OFFICERS BUYING UP TICKETS FOR "THE ROAD TO NEW YORK," A RUSSIAN ADAPTATION OF AN AMERICAN PLAY.

DOZENS OF MOVIE THEATERS ARE OPERATING, SHOWING THE LATEST WAR PICTURES. CONCERT HALLS ARE JAM PACKED AND LENINGRADITES ANXIOUSLY ARE AWAITING THE ARRIVAL OF DMITRI SHOSTAKOVICH (THE COMPOSER). HE WILL CONDUCT IN PHILHARMONIC HALL. THEY ARE AWAITING, TOO, THE ARRIVAL OF PEOPLES ARTIST OF THE SOVIET UNION KACHALOV.

JUN 27 1943

JUN 27 1943

30.24 - 5431

BOOKSHOPS ARE CROWDED. PEOPLE GRAB UP THE LATEST EDITIONS. THE HALLS OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY, ONE OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST, ARE CROWDED WITH PEOPLE. THE LIBRARY CONTINUES AS USUAL. ONLY RECENTLY AT THE REQUEST OF A WASHINGTON LIBRARY, THE LENINGRAD LIBRARY SENT SEVERAL VOLUMES OF HISTORICAL WORKS OF RUSSIAN SCIENTISTS TO AMERICA.

SCIENTISTS, WRITERS AND POETS CARRY ON AS USUAL. FIVE PLAYS WRITTEN SINCE THE CITY WAS BLOCKADED ARE SHOWING AT LENINGRAD THEATERS NOW. THREE OF THE FIVE PLAYS ARE COMEDIES, EPITOMIZING THE INDOMITABLE OPTIMISM OF LENINGRAD PEOPLE AND THEIR FAITH IN ABSOLUTE VICTORY.

JUN 27 1943

THE WAR IS REFLECTED IN THE PLAYS--PARTICULARLY THE WAR IN LENINGRAD. PERFORMANCES ARE GIVEN IN OVERCROWDED THEATERS. STORMS OF CHEERS FROM THE AUDIENCES DEMONSTRATE HOW THE DRAMA TOUCHES THE MOST HIDDEN THOUGHTS OF LENINGRAD'S DEFENDERS.

THEY FEEL THEIR STRENGTH SO GREATLY THEY EVEN ALLOW THEMSELVES TO UGH AT THE ENEMY WHO IS SUFFOCATING IN IMPOTENT FURY BEFORE THE TY'S IMPERTURBABLE RESISTANCE.

MY FRIEND, DOCTOR OF MEDICINE KONSTANTIN RABINOVITCH, WHO HELD THE EDICAL CHAIR IN LENINGRAD UNIVERSITY FOR 25 YEARS, TOLD ME:

"YOU KNOW, I REALLY AM AMAZED AT THE TREMENDOUS DESIRE TO WRITE ISSERTATIONS FOR SCIENTIFIC DEGREES. I HAVE HAD TEN OR 12 PPLICATIONS. IT IS THE MOST INTERESTING THING. THE TOPICS ELECTED PROVE THE PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED WITH VERY SERIOUS PROBLEMS ND VERY PROGRESSIVE PROBLEMS. IT IS NOT EASY TO WORK AT PRESENT, OU KNOW."

30.24 - 5431

THE PROFESSOR TOLD ABOUT A GIRL STUDENT WHO CAME TO HIM WITH A REQUEST THAT HE SEND HER TO A CONSULTANT FOR A DISCUSSION OF ONE OF THE QUESTIONS IN HER DISSERTATION.

"LISTEN," THE PROFESSOR TOLD HER, "THIS WON'T BE EASY. YOUR THEME WILL REQUIRE AT LEAST A YEAR OR PERHAPS TWO."

THE GIRL ANSWERED:

"BUT IT IS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE."

JUN 27 1943

"BUT WILL YOU FIND TIME?" THE PROFESSOR ASKED.

THE GIRL REPLIED THAT SHE HAD ARRANGED A DAILY TIME SCHEDULE SO AS TO HAVE TIME TO WORK ON THE DISSERTATION, WORK IN A VEGETABLE GARDEN AND AT THE SAME TIME DO DUTY IN A LENINGRAD DEFENSE DETACHMENT. THE PROFESSOR THEN GAVE UP TRYING TO DISSUADE HER. INSTEAD, HE HIMSELF OFFERED TO BE HER CONSULTANT.

AS OF YORE, LIFE THROBS ALONG NEVSKY PROSPECT--LIFE THAT HAS BEEN PRAISED AND PICTURED BY THE GREATEST RUSSIAN WRITERS AND POETS. TRUE ITS APPEARANCE IS CHANGED SOMEWHAT. ALONG THIS, THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL PROSPECT, SEVERAL BUILDINGS HAVE BEEN DEMOLISHED BY BOMBINGS AND SHELLINGS. THE WINDOWS OF SHOPS ARE HIDDEN BY HIGH PILES OF SAND-FILLED BOXES.

TRUE, THE PREVIOUSLY CROWDED WIDE SIDEWALKS ARE NOT SO CROWDED NOW BUT THE SPIRIT OF NEVSKY PROSPECT REMAINS THE SAME. HERE AS PREVIOUSLY ON THE SUNNY SIDE OF THE STREET LENINGRADITES MEET AND GOSSIP.

JUN 27 1943

JUN 27 1943 JUN 27 1943

IN THE MORNING PEOPLE HURRY TO WORK. IN THE EVENING, WITH THEIR SHOVELS THEY HURRY TO THEIR GARDENS. YES, THE PROBLEM OF VEGETABLES AND VITAMINS IS NO LESS IMPORTANT THAN ALL OTHERS CONCERNING THE DEFENSE OF THE CITY.

THE PEOPLE OF LENINGRAD TACKLED THE VITAMIN PROBLEM WITH TYPICAL ENERGY. THEY DUG UP MARSOV SQUARE. THEY PLANTED NEAT ROWS OF VEGETABLES UNDERNEATH THE TREES IN THE SUMMER PARK WHERE PUSHKIN USE TO PROMENADE. THEY CAREFULLY LAID VEGETABLE BEDS ALONG THE EMBANKMENTS OF NUMEROUS CANALS BISECTING THE CITY.

THERE IS NO DOUBT THIS CITY WILL HOLD OUT. IT IS NOT ONLY CAPABLE OF SUPPLYING THE DEFENDERS WITH ARMS AND AMMUNITION PRODUCED IN NUMEROUS PLANTS WORKING AT FULL CAPACITY, BUT IT ALSO SUPPLIES THE DEFENDERS WITH EVERYTHING ELSE NECESSARY TO SUCCESSFUL BATTLE.

ALONG THE NEVSKY AS PREVIOUSLY, DOZENS OF COMMUNAL REPAIR SHOPS FUNCTION. ALONG THE NEVSKY AS BEFORE, YOU MAY DROP INTO ANTIQUE SHOPS AND BROWSE AMONG RARE OLD BOOKS AND PICTURES BY FAMOUS ARTISTS.

JUN 27 1943

YOU CAN STOP IN CONCERT HALLS AND LISTEN TO A CONCERT PRODUCTION OF "ANNA KARENINA."

STREET CARS RUN ALONG THE PROSPECT, WHICH WAS WITHOUT THEM IN THE GRIM WINTER OF 1941-42 WHEN THERE WAS NO CURRENT AVAILABLE. CUTE GIRL TRAFFIC COPS--WE CALL THEM MILITIA WOMEN--WITH DAZZLING WHITE GLOVES RAISE VEP.VKS TO HALT TRAFFIC FOV

GIRL TRAFFIC COPS--WE CALL THEM MILITIA WOMEN--WITH DAZZLING WHITE GLOVES RAISE THEIR BATONS TO HALT TRAFFIC FOR A MILITARY CONVOY.

ALONG THE PROSPECT, THEIR CATERPILLAR TREADS CLANKING NOISILY, CRAWL TANKS--HEADED FOR THE FRONT.

POSTERS ON THE WALLS CALL FOR "VIGILANCE, STAMINA, FIRMNESS." AT THE "LATEST NEWS" BULLETIN BOARDS PEOPLE CROWD AROUND TO READ COMMUNIQUES FROM THE BATTLEFRONTS OF THE WORLD. THEY KNOW THAT THE STATE OF AFFAIRS OF VHE GERMANS IS BECOMING WORSE DAILY. THEY READ WITH SATISFACTION OF THE BOMBINGS GERMANY AND ITALY ARE RECEIVING.

JUN 27 1943

POSTERS ON THE WALLS CALL FOR "VIGILANCE, STAMINA, FIRMNESS." AT THE "LATEST NEWS" BULLETIN BOARDS PEOPLE CROWD AROUND TO READ COMMUNIQUES FROM THE BATTLEFRONTS OF THE WORLD. THEY KNOW THAT THE STATE OF AFFAIRS OF THE GERMANS IS BECOMING WORSE DAILY. THEY READ WITH SATISFACTION OF THE BOMBINGS GERMANY AND ITALY ARE RECEIVING.

"OUR ALLIES ARE WORKING," SAID A BLOND YOUNG FIGHTER AS HE READ THE BULLETINS. HE EXCLAIMED "KHOROSHO," WHICH MEANS "SWELL" IN RUSSIAN.

"LATER ON ONE CAN EXPECT IT WILL BE EVEN BETTER," SAID A SMILING YOUTH.

OVER THE CITY THE AIR IS FILLED WITH THE ROAR OF AIRPLANE MOTORS. OUR PLANES ARE PATROLLING LENINGRAD DAY AND NIGHT, GUARDING THE AERIAL APPROACHES TO THE CITY.

THE TENSE RHYTHM OF LIFE IN THE FRONT-LINE CITY DOESN'T STOP FOR A SINGLE MINUTE. NOTHING CAN INTERFERE, NOTHING CAN MAKE THE

JUN 27 1943

30.24-5433

DEFENDERS FORGET THE HIGH DUTY RESTING ON THEM.

PEOPLE WHO DISTINGUISH THEMSELVES IN THE HEROIC DEFENSE OF THE CITY GET A MEDAL "FOR DEFENSE OF LENINGRAD." MY FRIEND, A GIRL ELECTRICIAN, GOT A MEDAL ON JUNE 24. I TELEPHONED, CONGRATULATED HER, AND INVITED HER TO A CONCERT.

"THANKS, MY DEAR FRIEND," SHE ANSWERED. "ALAS, I CAN'T ATTEND THE CONCERT. TODAY I'M ON DUTY IN THE AIR DEFENSE FORCE."

I SIGHED. WAR INDEED BRINGS MANY CHANGES IN LIFE.

JUN 27 1943

I WENT TO THE CONCERT ALONE. I SPENT A WONDERFUL EVENING LISTENING TO THE FASCINATING MUSIC OF TCHAIKOVSKY'S SIXTH SYMPHONY.

WHEN I EMERGED FROM THE CONCERT HALL THE ROAR OF AN ARTILLERY CANNONADE ROLLED IN FROM THE WEST. AND OVER THE CITY IN THE BLUE-GRAY SKY HUNDREDS OF BARRAGE BALLOONS WERE WAVING GENTLY IN THE WIND.

ANKARA, JUNE 25-(DELAYED)-(AP)-APPROXIMATELY 200 GERMAN SOLDIERS WERE KILLED OR INJURED RECENTLY WHEN TWO GERMAN MILITARY TRAINS COLLIDE ON THE ATHENS-SALONIKA LINE, A GREEK SOURCE SAID TODAY.

IT WAS REPORTED THAT NAZI MILITARY AUTHORITIES WERE SEEKING SABOTEURS WHO TAMPERED WITH THE SIGNAL SYSTEM.

ALGIERS, JUNE 26-(AP)-THE DE GAULLIST WEEKLY NEWSPAPER, COMBAT, APPEARED TODAY WITH A LARGE BLANK SPACE ON PAGE ONE WHERE THE LEAD EDITORIAL SHOULD HAVE BEEN.

FRENCH CENSORS DELETED THE EDITORIAL.

IT WAS UNDERSTOOD IN NEWSPAPER CIRCLES THAT THE EDITORIAL CRITICIZED A REPORTED BRITISH-AMERICAN DEMARCHE IN WHICH THE FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION WAS ASKED THAT GEN.HENRI GIRAUD BE RETAINED AS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF FRENCH NORTH AFRICAN FORCES.

30.24-5433

COMBAT URGED THE COMMITTEE TO ASSERT ITS AUTHORITY IN APPOINTING MEN AND DELEGATING THE EXTENT OF THEIR FUNCTIONS, THESE NEWSPAPER SOURCES SAID.

AN ADVANCED AIR BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE [illegible]-(AP)-WHEN MEDIUM MARAUDER BOMBERS TAKE OFF FROM THIS FIELD TO MAY "OFFICIAL VISITS TO THE ITALIAN ISLANDS AND MAINLAND, OFFICERS SWITCH THE RULES AROUND AND TAKE ORDERS FROM AN ENLISTED MAN.

THIS SINGULAR SOLDIER IS TECHNICAL SERGT. MARVIN E. FARGO, 217 REED ST., CLEARFIELD, PA.

JUN 27 1943

THE LEAD BOMBARDIER OF A SQUADRON USUALLY IS A CAPTAIN OR A LIEUTENANT WITH MONTHS OF TECHNICAL TRAINING, BUT FARGO'S "TARGET EYE" IS FAMOUS AMONG BOMBARDMENT GROUPS. HE HAS BEEN RUNNING THAT PART OF THE SHOW FOR A LONG TIME.

THE LEAD BOMBARDIER RIDES IN THE LEAD PLANE, USES THE NORDEN BOMB SIGHT AND FIGURES OUT THE RANGE, DEFLECTION AND OTHER THINGS. HE DIRECTS HIS PILOT--AN OFFICER--WHO IN TURN CONTROLS THE FORMATION.

WHEN THE LEAD BOMBARDIER OPENS HIS BOMB BAY, THE OTHERS FOLLOW. WHEN HE DROPS HIS LOAD, THE OTHERS DO TOO. A LARGE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACCURACY AND EFFICIENCY OF A BOMB RUN RESTS ON HIM.

FARGO HAS MADE 15 COMBAT MISSIONS AND HE HOLDS THE AIR MEDAL WITH TWO OAK LEAF CLUSTERS.

HE LEARNED HIS TRADE THE HARD WAY IN MONTHS OF PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE.

RECENTLY, HE APPLIED FOR THE RANK OF A FLIGHT OFFICER, BUT HE SAID TODAY HE WOULD RATHER STAY ON THE JOB THAN GO BACK TO AN OFFICERS' CANDIDATE SCHOOL IN THE UNITED STATES AND BECOME A LIEUTENANT.

JUN 27 1943

BESIDES 19 FIGHTERS SHOT DOWN IN THE MESSINA RAID, ONE BEAUFIGHTER SHOT DOWN AN ESCORTING HEINKEL IN THE ATTACK ON THE CONVOY OFF SARDINIA, AND OTHERS RAKED ONE OF THE DESTROYERS WITH CANNON FIRE.

AN OFFICIAL REPORT DESCRIBED THE ATTACK AS A "STRIKING INSTANCE OF THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE BEAUFIGHTER, WHICH HAS BEEN SUCH A POTENT COUNTER TO ENEMY NIGHT BOMBING RAIDS."

FORTRESS CREWMEN WERE IMPRESSED BY THE TERRIFIC FLAK, AS WELL AS BY THE FIGHTER OPPOSITION MASSED AT MESSINA.

JUN 27 1943

DESCRIBING THE GROUND FIRE, LIEUT. WILLIAM C.ROGERS, 208 NORTH THIRD ST., MOUNT VERNON, IA., SAID, "AT FIRST I THOUGHT THEY WERE CELEBRATING THE FOURTH OF JULY A WEEK EARLY. IT WAS PRETTY ROUGH."

STAFF SERGEANT ERNEST F.KLAPPROTH, 519 SHORT ST., INGLEWOOD, CALIF., SAID, "I COULD SEE OUR BOMBS BURSTING AND I'LL BET THOSE RAILROAD YARDS SUFFERED."

TECHNICAL SERGEANT ANDREW POCZIK, 310 NINMAN AVE., COLUMBUS, O., WHO SHOT DOWN A ME-109 FOR HIS SECOND VICTORY OF THE CAMPAIGN, ASSERTED "IT WAS THE TOUGHEST SCRAP I EVER HOPE TO BE IN. THE FIGHTERS WERE THICK AS GNATS IN THE SHADE."

-0-

OTHER VICTORIES OVER ATTACKING ENEMY FIGHTERS WERE CREDITED TO LIEUT. THOMAS H.GARRETT, 896 LINCOLN ST., ST. PAUL, MINN.; STAFF SERGEANT JAMES A.HAROLD, 106 PARK AVE., CRESSKILLE, N.J.; SERGT. HAROLD PENOYER, 5735 CASS AVE., DETROIT, MICH.; TECH. SERGT. DAVID O.FLEMING, 1405 SOUTH MILWAUKEE ST., JACKSON, MICH.; STAFF SERGT. BUEFORD W.LIPPOLT, 2840 UNIVERSITY AVE., MADISON, WIS.; LIEUT. PAUL A.SLED, 15732 FINN AVE., MADISON, WIS.; STAFF SERGT. EMITT M.CARRILLO OF LAS CRUCES, N.MEX.; TECHNICAL SERGT. MARKET MALL OF MEMPHIS, TENN.; STAFF SERGT. EDWARD P.MAY OF LA SALLE, COLO; STAFF SERGT. STEVE MALAGA OF PRINNEDALE, PA.; TECHNICAL SERGT. PAUL W. KRUEGER, 1601 INDIANA DRIVE, WHITTIER, CALIF., AND SERGT. JOHN R. SCWICTENBERG, 7037 RICE ST., CHICAGO.

"VERBOTEN" SIGNS AT THE ENTRANCE TO ARAB SECTIONS OF TUNISIAN TOWNS RETAKEN FROM THE NAZIS SHOWED THAT THE GERMAN MILITARY AUTHORITIES ALSO HAD THE SAME IDEA.

JUN 27 1943

ONE OF THE BIG OBJECTIVES OF DILLON AND THE MEN UNDER HIM IS TO REMOVE IN THE MINDS OF THE TROOPS THE STIGMA ATTACHED TO THE "M.P." ARM BAND.

THE PROVOST MARSHAL SAID THAT AS A RESULT OF HIS TRAINING AND SELECTING THE MILITARY POLICE WERE SHOWING A MUCH BETTER ATTITUDE TOWARD THE TROOPS AND TREATING THEM IN A MORE TOLERANT AND RESTRAINED WAY. THEN HE ADDED WITH A SIGH:

"THEY ARE TAKING A HELL OF A SIGHT MORE THAN THEY EVER DID AND I CAN'T SAY THAT THE ATTITUDE OF THE COMBAT TROOPS TOWARD THE M.P.'S HAS IMPROVED AS MUCH."

MOST OF THE GENERAL'S ARMY CAREER HAS BEEN SPENT IN THE JUDGE ADVOCATE'S OFFICE. HE TAUGHT LAW AT WEST POINT FROM 1939 TO 1941 AND WAS CHIEF OF MILITARY POLICE FOR THE ARMYWHEN HE WAS NAMED DEPUTY PROVOST MARSHAL IN WASHINGOON,D.C., MAY 22, 1942. HE TOOK COMMAND OF THE PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL'S TRAINING CENTER AT FORT CUSTER,MICH. ON DEC.16, 1942, AND CAME TO NORTH AFRICA AS PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL MORE THAN A MONTH AGO.

JUN 27 1943 JUN 27 1943

30.24-5435

ONE MILITARY POLICEMAN IS KNOWN TO THE PUBLIC CHIEFLY AS THE MAN WHO KEEPS THE OTHER TROOPS IN ORDER, BUT HE MAY BE CALLED UPON TO DO EVERYTHING FROM FRONTLINE FIGHTING TO DIRECTING MILITARY TRAFFIC OR STANDING AS SENTINEL BEFORE A HOUSE OF PROSTITUTION WHICH HAS BEEN DECLARED OFF LIMITS.

(Advance) New Delhi, June 26-(AP)-American bombers flew through a break in the monsoon yesterday to attack Japanese targets in south and central Burma, disclosed a communique said today. Liberators were dispatched to the rainy south, centering their fire on Barracks and a train at Thanbyuzaya. Clouds obscured results.

Medium bombers raided Mandalay again, destroying river shipping facilities. Railway facilities were bombed at Ywataung.

(End advance for use at 11 am EWT today saturday june 26)

JUN 27 1943

30.24—5435

"TALKING ABOUT THE AMOUNT NEEDED. I MAY SAY, IN A JOKING WAY, THAT, CONSIDERING THE ENORMOUS PRODUCING CAPACITY OF THE UNITED STATES, WE DON'T EXPECT TO GET ONE PER CENT (OF THAT PRODUCTION). WE WILL BE SATISFIED IF WE RECEIVE ONE-THOUSANDTH."

WHEN CORRESPONDENTS TOLD HIM THE ESTIMATED AIRPLANE PRODUCTION OF THE U.S. WAS ABOUT 84,000 PLANES A YEAR, HE CONCEDED THAT ONE-THOUSANDTH OF THAT NUMBER WOULDN'T WORK, BUT INSISTED THAT ONE PER CENT (860 PLANES) "WOULD BE ENOUGH." HE DOUBTED, THOUGH, THAT CHINA WOULD GET THAT MANY.

CHEN, 47, IS ONE OF THE YOUNGEST CHINESE GENERALS. HE IS SLIGHTLY BUILT BUT HOLDS HIMSELF VERY ERECT AND IS KNOWN AS A STRICT DISCIPLINARIAN.

"TODAY CHINA IS ENGAGED IN COMBATING A TOUGH ENEMY, AND AT THE SAME TIME IS ENGAGING THE FOE OF POVERTY," HE SAID. "IT IS NEARLY SI YEARS SINCE THIS WAR OF RESISTANCE TO JAPANESE AGGRESSION BEGAN. WE WILL NEVER SURRENDER AND WE FIRMLY BELIEVE THAT THE FINAL VICTORY IS WITH US."

JUN 27 1943

BY C.YATES MCDANIEL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, SUNDAY, JUNE 27-(AP)-LIBERATORS AND FLYING FORTRESS BOMBERS BLASTED RABAULN NEW BRITAIN, WITH 20 TONS OF BOMBS YESTERDAY ON THE STRENGTH OF REPORTS THAT THE JAPANESE HAD 170 PLANES AND CONSIDERABLE SHIPPING, INCLUDING A CONVERTED AIRCRAFT CARRIER, CONCENTRATED THERE.

IN THREE SUCCESSIVE WAVES THEY SWEPT OVER THE BASE IN A HIGH LEVE ATTACK BEFORE DAWN, ROARING THROUGH ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE SO INTENSE THAT LATER TWO OF THE AMERICAN-MANNED BOMBERS WERE REPORTED MISSING.

JUN 27 1943.

THEY UNLOADED THEIR INCENDIARIES AND HIGH EXPLOSIVE BOMBS ON ONE OF THREE RABAUL AIRDROMES AND ON THE DOCKS.

NETHERLANDS PILOTS FLEW THE MITCHELLS WHICH RAIDED TIMOR.

AMERICANS WERE AT THE CONTROLS OF THE MITCHELLS RAIDING LAE. IT WAS THE BIGGEST FORCEEVER USED IN THE NEW GUINEA AREA AND THE FIRES THEY STARTED LEFT THE AIRDROME AT LAE COMPLETETY BLANKETED IN SMOKE. LAE IS AN AIR BASE SOME 30 MILES ABOVE THE FRONT LINE OF AMERICAN AND AUSTRALIAN JUNGLE FIGHTERS AT MUBO.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 21-(DELAYED)-(AP)-FOUR OFFICERS AND SIX ENLISTED MEN, ALL OF WHOM MAN THE TRANSPORT PLANES WHICH CARRY MEN AND MATERIEL TO FORWARD POSITIONS IN NEW GUINEA HAVE BEENHAWARDED THE AIR MEDAL FOR MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT BY LIEUT. GEN. GEORGE C.KENNEY, COMMANDER OF THE ALLIES' SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AIR FORCES.

IN EACH CASE, ACCORDING TO THE ANNOUNCEMENT, THE RECIPIENT HAD MADE 25 OPERATIONAL FLIGHTS DURING A SPECIFIED PERIOD--FLIGHTS ON WHICH "HOSTILE CONTACT WAS PROBABLE AND EXPECTED," IN THE WORDS OF THE CITATION.

"THESE FLIGHTS," IT CONTINUED, "INVOLVED FLYING AT EXTREMELY LOW ALTITUDES OVER MOUNZAINOUS TERRAIN UNDER ADVERSE WEATHER CONDITIONS IN A TRANSPORT AIRPLANE, AND OFTEN NECESSITATED LANDING WITHIN A FEW MILES OF ENEMY BASES ON IMPROVED AIRFIELDS."

THE DECORATIONS WENT TO THE FOLLOWING:

LIEUTENANTS HUGH L. TURK, JR., 968 VIRGINIA AVE.) FOLLANSBEE, W.VA., FOR FLIGHTS FROM APRIL 1-24; JOHN A.MANN, (R.F.D.) WILSON, N.Y., JAN. 19-31; 2ND LIEUT. JOHN P.FAIRLEY, (2917 SEMINARY AVE.) RICHMOND, VA., DEC. 14, 1942, TO JAN. 5, 1943;

STAFF SGT. GILLMAN GILBERTSON, (CAMPBELL AVE.) WILLMAR, MINN., FEB. 28-APRIL 6; SGT. NATHAN D.PRINCE, WENHAM, MASS., OCT. 18, 1942, TO MARCH 25, 1943; SGT. JOHN E.PUTZMAN, (60 CHAMBERLIN ST.) NELLSVILLE (CORRECT) N.Y., MARCH 4-APRIL 23;

PFC LOUIS D.GARDINER, (1604 THE TERRACES) BALTIMORE, MD., MARCH 5-APRIL 29; PVT. JOHN V.BALLANTINE, (173 VERNON ST.) WORCESTER, MASS., FEB. 1-MARCH 11.

JUN 27 1943

JUN 27 1943

30.24 - 5437

30.24 - 5437

FOLO BUENOS AIRES, NEW GOVERNMENT PLANS INTERNAL CLEAN-UP

BEFORE AXIS BREAK, UNDER DASH.

--DASH--

BY CHARLES A.GUPTILL

JUN 27 1943

(ADVANCE) MONTEVIDEO--(AP)--THREE WEEKS AFTER THE OVERTHROW OF THE CASTILLO PRESIDENTIAL REGIME, THE AVERAGE ARGENTINE STILL REGARDS HIS NEW GOVERNMENT WITH MIXED FEELING.

POSSIBLY THE ONLY ARGENTINES WHO HAVE CLEARLY DEFINED THEIR ATTITUDE ARE THE COMMUNISTS.

ONE OF THE FIRST ACTS OF THE NEW RAMERIZ GOVERNMENT WAS TO CLOSE LA HORA, THEIR PRINCIPAL ORGAN, AND ROUND UP SEVERAL OF THEIR LEADERS.

IN ADDITION, THE GOVERNMENT REFUSED TO PERMIT VARIOUS PRO-ALLIED ORGANIZATIONS SUSPECTED OF COMMUNIST LEANINGS TO HOLD MEETINGS. THE COMMUNISTS KNOW THE MILITARY REGIME HAS NO SYMPATHY FOR THEM AND THE FEELING IS RECIPROCATED.

AT THE OTHER END OF THE POLITICAL SPECTRUM THE NATIONALISTS, ALTHOUGH PAINED OVER SOME OF THE NEW ADMINISTRATION'S PRO-DEMOCRATIC DECLARATIONS, ARE TAKING NO CHANCES ON ALIENATING THEMSELVES FROM IT. THE NATIONALIST ORGAN CABILDO TERMED THE REVOLUTION'S AIMS ITS OWN, WHILE THE PRO-AXIS PAMPERO HASTILY CONVERTED ITS PREVIOUS ENTHUSIASM FOR CASTILLO INTO CORDIAL ENDORSEMENT OF RAMERIZ.

THE PRO-DEMOCRATIC LIBERALS, WHO CONSTITUTE A VAST MAJORITY OF ARGENTINES, REMAIN HOPEFUL BUT HAVE THEIR FINGERS CROSSED.

FEW OF THEM WOULD SUBSCRIBE TO SOME OF THE HASTY FOREIGN JUDGMENTS--PROBABLY BASED UPON INCOMPLETE AND DISTORTED INFORMATION WHICH SEEPED THROUGH THE STRICT AND SOMETIMES CAPRICIOUS CENSORSHIP--THAT THE REVOLUTIONARY REGIME IS FRANKLY FASCIST. ON THE OTHER HAND, THEY STILL AWAIT A CLEARER DEFINITION OF POLICIES BEFORE SATISFYING THEMSELVES THAT THEIR MILITARY RULERS ARE THOROUGH DEMOCRATS.

JUN 27 1943

THIS ATTITUDE OF RESERVE, WHICH IS REFLECTED EVEN IN THE SUBDUED REACTION OF AUDIENCES TO NEWSREEL APPEARANCES OF THE REVOLUTIONARY LEADERS, IS DUE IN PART TO SEEMING CONTRADICTIONS IN THE GOVERNMENT'S INITIAL ACTS.

THE POLITICAL YEARNINGS OF THE AVERAGE ARGENTINE ARE WELL UNDERSTOOD. HE WANTS FREE ELECTIONS, A CLEAN GOVERNMENT, FREE PRESS AND FREE SPEECH, AND SOLIDARITY WITH THE DEMOCRACIES. HE GOT NONE OF THEM UNDER CASTILLO AND HAS BEEN PROMISED ALL OF THEM UNDER RAMIREZ. BUT HE CANNOT HELP NOTING CERTAIN MARGINAL DEVELOPMENTS WHICH HE FINDS DIFFICULT TO RECONCILE WITH THE AVOWED PRO-DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM.

ONE WAS THE SEIZURE OF ONE EDITION OF THE PRO-DEMOCRATIC DAILY CRITICA AFTER IT PUBLISHED AN EDITORIAL COMMENDING THE GOVERNMENT FOR STRIKING A BLOW AT AXIS ESPIONAGE BY CANCELLING CODE PRIVILEGES OF AXIS EMBASSIES. ANOTHER WAS THE 24-HOUR SUSPENSION OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE DAILY STANDARD FOR AN EDITORIAL PUBLISHED FOUR MONTHS AGO ATTACKING THE NAZI REGIME IN GERMANY. THE PENALTY HAD ORIGINALLY BEEN ORDERED BY CASTILLO AUTHORITIES BUT NEVER APPLIED.

THE LIBERALS ALSO LOOKED ASKANCE AT THE MANNER IN WHICH RAMIREZ PHRASED HIS PROMISE TO HOLD ELECTIONS IN A PREPARED STATEMENT

JUN 27 1943

DELIVERED AT HIS FIRST PRESS CONFERENCE. THE PRESIDENT SAID THE PEOPLE "WANT JUSTICE, WANT GOVERNMENT, NOT ELECTIONS." THERE ARE MANY WHO FEEL RAMIREZ FAILED TO INTERPRET PROPERLY THE POPULAR ZEAL FOR SUFFRAGE. STILL ANOTHER SOURCE OF MYSTIFICATION IS THE CONTINUED STATE OF SIEGE WHICH CASTILLO INVOKED TO SAVE THE NEUTRALITY POLICY FROM CRITICISM. LIBERAL ARGENTINES REASON THAT A LOGICAL COROLLARY OF DEMOCRATIC POLICIES AT HOME AND ABROAD WOULD BE TO FREE THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS FROM THE RESTRAINTS UNDER WHICH IT HAS LABORED FOR A YEAR AND A HALF.

JUN 27 1943

SOME EYEBROWS WERE RAISED, TOO, WHEN GENERAL BASILIO PERTINE, HOLDER OF THE GERMAN IRON CROSS AND AN AVOWED ADMIRER OF THE GERMAN MILITARY SYSTEM, AN OFFICER OF THREE BLACKLISTED GERMAN FIRMS, WAS APPOINTED MAYOR OF BUENOS AIRES. WHILE GIVING DUE CREDIT TO PERTINE'S ADMINISTRATIVE ABILITY AS DEMONSTRATED FOR MANY YEARS IN THE NATION'S SERVICE, INCLUDING BEING MILITARY ATTACHE IN BERLIN AND MINISTER OF WAR IN THE JUSTO GOVERNMENT, LIBERALS REGARD HIM AS A STRANGE BEDFELLOW FOR A GOVERNMENT DEDICATED TO DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES.

PERPLEXED THOUGH HE MAY BE AT THESE SEEMING ANOMALIES, THE AVERAGE ARGENTINE WAITS FOR EVENTS TO ORIENTATE HIS JUDGMENT. HE AGREES WITH THE GREAT PRO-DEMOCRATIC DAILY LA PRENSA THAT THE RAMERIZ REGIME CAN WIN HIS SUPPORT BY "SUITING ITS ACTION TO ITS WORDS." HE IS ENCOURAGED TO HOPE FOR THE BEST BY THE OPTIMISTIC STATEMENTS OF SUCH PRO-DEMOCRATIC LEADERS AS SOCIALIST SENATOR ALFRED PALACIOS AND THE RADICAL HONORIO PUEYRREDON FOLLOWING INTERVIEWS WITH RAMIREZ.

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 26-(AP)--CONSTANTINE OUMANSKY, FORMER SOVIET AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES AND NEW ENVOY TO MEXICO, SAID TODAY THAT A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE IS AWAITED BY THE SOVIET PEOPLE AND PRESS WITH "FRIENDLY INSISTENCE."

JUN 27 1943

IN HIS FIRST PUBLIC STATEMENT, ISSUED AT A PRESS INTERVIEW, HE EXPRESSED THE SOVIET ADMIRATION FOR "THE GLORIOUS DEEDS OF THE ANGLO-AMERICAN AIR FORCES WHICH HELP PREPARE THE WAY FOR INVASION" AND "PROFOUND GRATITUDE FOR THE MATERIAL AID GIVEN ON AN EVER GREATER SCALE BY THE UNITED STATES, GREAT BRITAIN AND OTHER COUNTRIES."

OUMANSKY WOULD NOT PROPHECY WHETHER GERMANY WOULD LAUNCH A SUMMER OFFENSIVE IN RUSSIA BUT ADDED THAT "GERMANY IS TODAY IN SUCH A STATE THAT SHE COULD NOT STAND AGAINST SIMULTANEOUS ATTACKS ON TWO CONTINENTAL FRONTS."

JUN 27 1943

REWR RO 1028P

JUN 27 1943

30.24-5439

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 26-(AP)-OTTO RUHLE, FORMER GERMAN SOCIALIST DEPUTY AND ONE OF THE TWO DEPUTIES TO VOTE AGAINST GERMANY GOING TO WAR IN 1914, WAS BURIED TODAY WITH HIS WIFE ALICE.

RUHLE, WHO WAS 69, DIED OF A HEART ATTACK THURSDAY. HIS WIFE WAS FOUND DEAD UNDER AN OPEN WINDOW IN THEIR HOME A FEW HOURS AFTER SHE HAD LEFT NOTES IN THE ROOM WHERE HER HUSBAND HAD DIED.

RUHLE BECAME A LEADER OF THE SPARTACIST MOVEMENT IN GERMANY FROM 1919 TO 1922. AS LEADER OF THE GERMAN COMMUNISTS, HE CONFERRED FREQUENTLY WITH LENIN. HE WAS EXILED TO CZECHOSLOVAKIA AND CAME TO MEXICO SIX YEARS AGO WITH HIS WIFE, A CZECH SOCIALIST.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 26-(AP)-DISCOVERY OF A GERMAN SPY RING CENTER NEAR VALENCA IN THE STATE OF BAHIA WAS ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY BY POLICE OF BAHIA TODAY.

JUN 27 1943

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE MEMBERS OF THE RING INCLUDED THREE TOWN OFFICIALS, A CANON AND FOUR GERMAN FRIARS. NO DETAILS OF THE RING'S ACTIVITIES WERE GIVEN.

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 26-(AP)-PRESIDENT HIGINIO MORINIGO OF PARAGUAY, FIFTH AMERICAN PRESIDENT TO VISIT MEXICO THIS YEAR, ARRIVED TODAY WITH A PARTY OF EIGHT OFFICIALS FOR A THREE-DAY STATE VISIT.

PRESIDENT AVILA CAMACHO WAS AT THE AIRPORT WITH FIVE OF HIS CABINET MINISTERS TO GREET THE PARAGUAYAN CHIEF EXECUTIVE, STOPPING HERE ON HIS RETURN FROM AN INSPECTION TRIP TO U.S.WAR INDUSTRIES.

JUN 27 1943

30.24-5439

By Joseph E. Dynan

JUN 27 1943

San Juan, Puerto Rico, June 26-(AP)-Four crew members of an air force transport [redacted] who survived a crash landing in the south American [redacted] jungles have reached a U.S. air base after a 20-day [redacted] trek during which they escaped starvation, suffocation, drowning in mud swamps and mosquito infection, the Antilles air command headquarters disclosed today.

The four are Lieut. William B. Robson of Corsicana, Tex., the pilot; Flight Officer Stanley T. Carter of Bemidji, Minn., co-pilot; Tech. Sergt. Arthur Rowlen of Jones, Okla., crew chief; and Corp. William J. Manley of Excanaba, Mich., radio operator.

[redacted] Robson, a graduate of Texas A. and M. colle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P.H. Robson of Corsicana. Carter is the son of Mrs. Albie Carter, route 1, Bemidji. Rowlen is the son of Mr T.L. Rowlen of Jones and Manley is the son of Anthony J. Manley of Excanaba.

JUN 27 1943

Off his course and fighting motor trouble, Robson picked a partially cleared opening in the jungle for a belly landing. But what appeared to be solid ground turned out to be a swamp and the plane slithered to a halt while its propellers dug into the soft mud.

JUN 27 1943

The plane buried its nose and threatened to bury the crew under a surge of slime.

The others were pinned beneath smashed instruments but Rowlen was able to crawl back and cut his way through the fuselage with an axe. Then he began chopping a hole near the nose to extricate the others. Because of the soft footing, he was forced to stop after each few strokes in order to pull himself out of the slime. After a half-hour's work, the others were freed.

Only slightly injured, the crew members stayed with the plane two days, living on emergency rations and rainwater while spreading parachutes and yellow liferafts over the plane in the hope of attracting rescue planes. But NO searching planes appeared.

The quartet waited in that area seven days, waiting for an injury to Manley's leg to heal. Meanwhile, they fashioned "snowshoes" with which to walk over the ooze.

After a four-day trek under 30-pound packs, the group reached a wide river where they spotted native dugout canoes floating downstream. Their shouts and waves attracted attention but the negroes only waved back and went on.

JUN 27 1943

The quartet remained at the edge of the river four days while their rations dropped to two squares of chocolate daily. Finally they built a crude raft and paddled to the center of the stream where the current carried them down to a native village.

Natives guided them to a Dutch army outpost, 30 miles away, from which they were flown to the American field, none the worse for wear.

JUN 27 1943

30.24 - 5441

MONTREAL, JUNE 26-(AP)-CAPT. A.A. MASSON OF LES FUSILIERS DE MONT ROYAL, WHO ESCAPED FROM A GERMAN INTERNMENT CAMP AFTER BEING TAKEN PRISONER AT DIEPPE IN AUGUST, 1942, SAID IN A COPYRIGHT INTERVIEW WITH THE MONTREAL STANDARD TODAY THAT "IF YOU CAN BELIEVE DR. PAUL SCHMIDT, NAZI FOREIGN PRESS CHIEF, GERMAN LEADERS KNOW THEY HAVE LOST THE WAR AND NOW ARE FIGHTING ONLY FOR WHAT THEY TERM AN HONORABLE PEACE."

CAPTAIN MASSON, NOW ON ACTIVE DUTY IN CANADA, SAID HE TALKED WITH SCHMIDT WHILE IN THE INTERNMENT CAMP AND ASKED HIM IF HE DID NOT REALIZE THAT "WITH AMERICA IN THE WAR AND THE GROWING MIGHT OF THE ALLIES YOU CANNOT WIN?"

JUN 27 1943

MASSON SAID SCHMIDT ANSWERED:

"WE CAME CLOSE TO LOSING THE WAR IN 1940 WHEN WE MISSED OUT BY NOT INVADING BRITAIN. WE DID NOT KNOW HOW THOROUGHLY FRANCE WAS DISORGANIZED. IF WE HAD KNOWN WE WOULD HAVE GONE ON AND THE WAR WOULD HAVE BEEN OVER A LONG TIME AGO.

"HOWEVER, WE MIGHT STILL WIN. STALINGRAD WILL FALL TO US WITHIN THE NEXT TWO WEEKS AND WE CAN THEN DEAL A DEATH BLOW TO RUSSIA.

"OUR AFRICAN ARMIES WILL GO ON FROM EL ALAMEIN AND TAKE ALL EGYPT FOR US AND OPEN THE DOOR TO INDIA. AMERICA IS STRONG BUT SHE IS TIED UP IN THE PACIFIC, AND BRITAIN WILL BE FINISHED BEFORE SUFFICIENT AID CAN REACH HER."

CAPTAIN MASSON SAID HE ASKED SCHMIDT WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF STALINGRAD HELD, AND ROMMEL SHOULD BE CHASED BACK IN AFRICA. HE SAID SCHMIDT REPLIED:

"IF THAT HAPPENS WE WILL HAVE LOST THE WAR AND WILL CONTINUE FIGHTING ONLY SO THAT WE MIGHT OBTAIN AN HONORABLE PEACE."

30.24 — 5441

NEW YORK, JUNE 26-(AP)-AN AGE-OLD FORM OF CHINESE RIVER TRANSPORTATION HAS BEEN BROUGHT INTO USE ONCE MORE TO BRING PETROLEUM PRODUCTS TO CHINA'S OIL-HUNGRY WAR MACHINE, THE CHUNGKING RADIO SAID TODAY IN A BROADCAST REPORTED TO THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION.

THE BROADCAST SAID THAT 31.5 METRIC TONS--168 BARRELS--OF OIL PRODUCTS HAD BEEN FREIGHTED INTO CHUNGKING FROM NORTHWEST CHINA ON THREE RAFTS FORMED OF 1,000 INFLATED GOATSKINS. JUN 27 1943

THE TRIP DOWN THE TREACHEROUS CHIALING RIVER MARKED "THE BEGINNING OF WHAT MIGHT BE THE STRANGEST OF ALL TRANSPORTATION LINES IN THIS WAR," THE BROADCAST SAID.

THE KANSU OIL COMPANY DEVISED THE SYSTEM, AND THE COMPANY'S GENERAL MANAGER WAS QUOTED AS SAYING THAT "GOATSKIN RAFT TRANSPORTATION FOR THIS RELATIVELY SMALL INITIAL CARGO RESULTED IN A SAVING OF MORE THAN $2,000 OVER THAT OF MOTOR TRANSPORT."

JAPANESE HEADQUARTERS. A TOKYO RADIO BROADCAST SAID TODAY, ASSERTED THAT 27 ALLIED PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN BY JAPANESE FIGHTERS IN THE SOLOMONS AREA IN THE FOUR DAYS JUNE 20, 21, 23, AND 25.

THE BROADCAST, WHICH WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID THE 27 WERE SHOT DOWN OUT OF A TOTAL OF 209 ALLIED PLANES MAKING UP THE ATTACKING FORCES.

THE JAPANESE REPORTS WERE NOT CONFIRMED BY ALLIED SOURCES.

JUN 27 1943

1943

BY MAX HILL

THERE IS SO MUCH LOOSE TALK NOW ABOUT SHORTAGES OF FOOD, AND OF THE COST OF VARIOUS PRODUCTS, THAT A COMPARISON WITH WHAT THE REST OF THE WORLD IS EATING MAY BE WORTH WHILE.

I AM CONVINCED AFTER SEVERAL PERSONAL SHOPPING TRIPS THAT THE FOOD SITUATION--AT LEAST IN NEW YORK--IS BEING EXAGGERATED. WE ARE NOT HUNGRY NOW, NOR ARE WE LIKELY TO BE HUNGRY IN THE FUTURE. IT IS QUITE OBVIOUS THAT WE MAY HAVE TO CHANGE SOME OF OUR FANCY EATING HABITS, BUT THAT IS ABOUT ALL.

JUN 27 1943

EVER SINCE I RETURNED FROM JAPAN IN THE EXCHANGE SHIP GRIPSHOLM IN THE AUTUMN OF 1942 I HAVE BEEN ASTONISHED AND MORE THAN A LITTLE WORRIED BY OUR WASTE OF FOOD. OUR GARBAGE PAILS CONTAIN ENOUGH SCRAPS TO FEED EITHER GERMANY OR ITALY OR JAPAN IN FAR BETTER FASHION THAN THEY EAT NOW.

THIS BRIEF STORY, PERHAPS, WILL ILLUSTRATE WHAT I MEAN. AFTER OUR ARRIVAL IN NEW YORK, I WENT IMMEDIATELY TO A LARGE HOTEL FOR A BREAKFAST OF BACON AND EGGS. I WAS SURE THE BACON, WHICH BEFORE THE WAR WE GOT ABOUT ONCE A MONTH I

FAST OF BACON AND EGGS. I WAS SURE THE BACON, WHICH BEFORE THE WAR WE GOT ABOUT ONCE A MONTH IN TOKYO, WOULDN'T TASTE LIKE FISH; THAT THE EGGS WOULD BE FRESH; THAT THE TOAST WOULD BE BUTTERED, AND THAT THE BREAD WOULDN'T BE GRAY AND DOUGHY FROM ADULTERANTS. THERE MIGHT EVEN BE JAM WITH SUGAR IN IT, AND A CUP OF COFF

I PLACED MY ORDER. MEANWHILE ONE OF THE WAITRESSES BUSIED HERSELF WITH A FRUIT SALAD FOR THE NOON MEAL. SHE OPENED A TWO-QUART CAN OF PEACHES, DELIBERATELY POURED ALL OF THE RICH SYRUP DOWN THE DRAIN AND THEN CHOPPED UP THE PEACHES.

IS THIS WHAT ANY REASONABLE PERSON WOULD CALL SHORTAGE?

AND AS FOR PRICES, WHAT WOULD YOU SAY SHOULD A MERCHANT DEMAND $5 FOR A MELON SOMETHING LIKE A CANTELOUPE, OR IF YOU HAD TO STAND IA

IN LINE FOU

JUN 27 1943

IN LINE FOUR HOURS EVERY DAY FOR A SKIMPY PORTION OF RATIONED RICE OR FISH? IN JAPAN, FOOD SHORTAGES ARE ACCEPTED AS AN INEVITABLE RESULT OF THE WAR.

I RECENTLY RETURNED FROM A TOUR THROUGH THE MIDWEST, AND NOWHERE DID I FIND AN AREA WHERE PEOPLE COULDN'T BUY MORE THAN THEY NEEDED TO EAT. WE HAD THICK, WELL-AGED STEAKS IN MILWAUKEE, CHICAGO AND MINNEAPOLIS, GOOD VEGETABLES AND DESERTS SO RICH I WAS UNABLE TO EAT THEM, EVEN AFTER BEING BACK IN THIS COUNTRY FOR NINE MONTHS.

MAYOR LAGUARDIA SUMMED THE SITUATION UP VERY WELL AFTER HIS RETURN YESTERDAY FROM WASHINGTON, WHERE HE HAD BEEN CONFERRING WITH OFFICIALS ON WAYS TO RELIEVE THE MEAT SHORTAGE IN NEW YORK. HE SAID:

"I HAVE BEEN PROMISED DIRECT ACTION. BUT I DON'T WANT ANYONE TO THINK THEY ARE GOING TO HAVE LUSCIOUS JUICY STEAKS ON THEIR TABLES SUNDAY." BUT HE VIRTUALLY PROMISED OTHER TYPES OF MEAT.

JUN 27 1943

3024-5443

WHAT WOULD OUR SOLDIERS IN AFRICA, ON ATTU, ON GUADALCANAL AND IN NEW GUINEA THINK OF SUCH AN UNBEARABLE HARDSHIP? OR THE HUNGRY MILLIONS IN OCCUPIED HOLLAND, WHERE THEY HAVE LESS THAN FIFTY PER CENT OF THE FOOD EATEN BEFORE THE WAR? OR A JAPANESE HOUSEWIFE WHO FOR YEARS HASN'T BEEN ABLE TO BUY EVEN THE USUAL ONE-THIRD PINT BOTTLE OF BLUE SKIM MILK FOR HER SON OR DAUGHTER?

LET US BE REALISTIC ABOUT THE WAR. WE CANNOT HAVE THE LUXURY AND EASE WE HAVE HAD IN THE PAST. THE AXIS IS FIGHTING AN ALL-OUT, 24-HOUR-A-DAY BATTLE AGAINST US. WE MUST DO THE SAME. TO SAY THE LEAST, WE WILL SUFFER LESS AND ENJOY MORE THAN ANY OTHER NATION IN THE WORLD.

JUN 27 1943

ONCE IN TOKYO, AN INFLUENTIAL MEMBER OF OUR DIPLOMATIC STAFF WAS TALKING WITH ME ABOUT CONDITIONS IN JAPAN AND THE UNITED STATES. HE WAS TRYING TO CONVINCE ME I SHOULD RETURN. I COULDN'T, OF COURSE, SINCE I HAD A JOB TO DO THERE.

FINALY HE SAID:

"LOOK, THE WORST OVER THERE IS GOING TO BE FAR BETTER THAN THE BEST OVER HERE."

THINK ABOUT SUCH THINGS THE NEXT TIME YOU ARE TEMPTED TO COMPLAIN WHEN YOU CAN'T BUY THE RIB ROAST YOU WANT, OR FIND POTATOES SCARCE.

Allied Bombers Pound Messina For Third Time in Day and Half, Rip Reich Eighth Straight Night

British Guided to Sicily Port by Fires Left by American Air Armada

Rome Hints Allies Mass for Invasion

MORGAN

Reports Landing Barges in Big Convoy, Tells of New Attack on Naples

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 27.—For the third time within thirty-six hours Allied bombers swept across the Mediterranean from Africa on Friday night to heap explosives on the battered port of Messina, military lifeline of the besieged Island of Sicily.

British heavy bombers of the Middle East Air Forces (probably American-built, four-engined Liberators) made the mighty aerial assault on the Italian city, drawn to their target by fires left raging only a few hours previously by an armada of more than 100 American Flying Fortresses from the North African command making the heaviest attack of the Mediterranean war. Royal Air Force Wellington bombers opened the offensive against Messina on Thursday night.

The latest blow at the vital railroad ferry terminal, through which the bulk of military supplies for Sicily from the Italian mainland must pass, was said by a Cairo communique to have started new fires near oil tanks and in the vicinity of Messina's main railway station. Not a bomber was lost in the foray.

Axis Awaits Blow at Italy

American flyers who participated in Friday's daylight Fortress raid said the entire city "seemed to erupt" under a downpour of bombs and expressed opinion that Messina's usefulness to the Axis was about ended.

The intensified bombing attack was accompanied by broad hints from German and Italian sources that Allied forces in the Mediterranean were massing for a great blow at Italy.

Today's Italian communique, broadcast by the Rome radio, declared that Axis torpedo planes attacked an Allied convoy in the straits between Sicily and Tunisia yesterday, torpedoing one vessel, sending an oil ship up in flames and damaging ten transports.

The German high command, apparently referring to the same engagement, said the Allied convoy was attacked persistently through Saturday and Saturday night by German and Italian bombers, which left a tanker on fire and eleven transports "heavily hit."

Landing Boats Reported

A German radio commentator declared that landing boats were included in the Allied convoy and said an escorting warship received a direct hit from a heavy bomb and that its anti-aircraft batteries were silenced.

There was no confirmation of such an engagement here, today's headquarters bulletin reporting only that two Axis aircraft were destroyed during patrol activities yesterday over the Mediterranean area.

(Leading Italian newspapers were reported from neutral Stockholm to be warning their readers that invasion is imminent. The editor of Il Messagero was said to have written that aerial attacks on Sicily and Sardinia were in the "transitional stage" before invasion and that "arms are to decide Italy's future now."

Big Convoys Reported

(Guido Baroni, editor of Il Popolo di Roma, wrote that invasion preparations were "almost finished" and that "it is no secret that big convoys are passing into the Mediterranean every day," a Stockholm dispatch reported.)

Today's Italian communique said Allied bombers attacked the suburbs of Naples last night and caused slight damage. There was no mention of such a raid in the Allied communique, but Allied headquarters sometimes allows a day to pass before detailing such engagements. An R.A.F. communique said its fighters operating from Malta destroyed a Messerschmitt 109 off Sicily yesterday.

Gen. De Gaulle Visits Tunis And Is Decorated By The Bey

JUN 28 1943

Fighting French Leader Made Member Of "Order Of Blood," Gets Enthusiastic Reception From People

[By the Associated Press]

Tunis, June 27—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, coming to Tunis from Algiers to review French troops and pay a formal call on the Bey of Tunis, Sidi Lamine, was cheered enthusiastically by the populace today.

Streets were bedecked with French flags and pennons with the Lorraine Cross, insignia of de Gaulle's organization. Packed masses of cheering people lined the streets through which he drove en route to the Bey's palace.

The Bey decorated de Gaulle with the rare Tunisian "order of blood," which symbolically makes the recipient a member of the Bey's family.

Urges France's Liberation

After viewing a parade of troops, de Gaulle went to the cathedral where he attended a mass conducted by the Archbishop of Carthage.

Later in a speech de Gaulle spoke of the sufferings of France and said there was a necessity for her speedy liberation.

"We must punish all those traitors who have thrown the motherland into this ordeal," he said.

Would Oust Axis Collaborators

Algiers, June 27 (AP)—A resolution demanding dismissal of French officials who collaborated openly with the Axis was issued today by the Republican Radical Socialist party.

The statement, a joint declaration by the party federations of Algiers, Oran and Constantine, urged the new French Committee of National Liberation to conform with the principles laid down by Gen. Charles de Gaulle in 1940 when he organized the original Free French movemnet.

It asserted the party federations "cannot accept, without failing in their patriotic duty, the fact that still holding responsible positions (in the government outside France) are some men who knowingly collaborated with the Axis powers. They would be failing in their duty to the oppressed French people if they even indulged in the complicity of silence."

De Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud are co-presidents of the committee.

TUNISIAN CAPITAL BEGINS RECOVERY

Waterfront Still Torn Up From Allied Bombings, but Other Areas Are Rebuilding

ITALIANS CAUSE TROUBLE

Many Who Fought for von Arnim Are Still in City, Mingling With Allied Soldiers

TUNIS, June 27 (AP)—This city, battered by the Allied aerial war until its liberation last month, has started on "the road back." With "business as usual" its unofficial slogan, the overcrowded capital of Tunisia is resuming more of a normal existence.

The waterfront remains torn up from months of precision bombing, but elsewhere the marks of damage have been removed and new construction is in progress. Piles of wrecked Axis planes, including everything from Messerschmitt-109's to a six-engined transport, attract sightseers to two airports near Tunis.

The first hectic days of freedom were supplanted by a more sober regime, and the French, British and American troops swarming the streets had to accept a 9:30 P. M. curfew.

Allied propaganda is effectively countering the old Axis blarings about submarine victories and the impregnable European fortress. But one of the big Allied headaches is caused by the 100,000 persons of Italian extraction estimated to live in the Tunis area.

Some men in this group, drafted by the Axis army, had only to take off their uniforms and return home when it was apparent that Col. Gen Jurgen von Arnim's cause was lost. Today they are free to mingle among Allied soldiers on leave and little can be done about it. Some Italians, however, are working actively in the Allied cause.

Housing difficulties are tremendous because of the thousands of refugees. Food prices are very high—10 francs, or 20 cents, for the smallest loaf of bread or cube of cheese—but farmers now are bringing in larger supplies.

Fortress Crew Sets Record In Africa

MORTON

A Flying Fortress Base in North Africa, June 27 (AP)—The American crew of a crippled Flying Fortress which fought through two groups of enemy fighters in last Friday's raid on Messina, Sicily, and made a forced landing was back at its own base today, substantiating claims of shooting down seven enemy aircraft—a record for the North African theater.

The four-engined plane was left at a coastal airport in Tunisia, damaged both by the shells of at least ten attacking planes and the landing.

Fired 5,000 Rounds

"I never expected to get back," Lieut. Frank Hunter, of Salt Lake City, the pilot, told his mates.

After fighting their way to and from the target, the planes started battling all over again off Trapani, fifty miles north of Sicily. In the two battles, all the gunners in Hunter's plane except one shot down enemy aircraft, staying with the guns until they had fired nearly 5,000 rounds of ammunition.

DSC Awarded Fighter Pilot Posthumously

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 27 (AP)—Second Lieutenant Harold L. Pederson, of Corvalis, Ore., a fighter pilot who died protecting a helpless squadron mate, was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross posthumously today.

His citation said:

"When he observed that a fellow pilot had bailed out, Lieutenant Pederson, in the face of superior enemy strength and heedless of his own safety, circled the falling man to protect him from enemy machine guns. His fellow pilot reached ground safely, but Lieutenant Pederson, whose plane was vulnerable to attacking enemy planes, was shot down and killed. His brave disregard for his own safety and the noble sacrifice for another are exemplary of the highest military traditions."

STRATEGIC POINTS IN FRANCE RAIDED IN DAY ASSAULTS

Airfields, Communications Lines, Radio Stations Pounded by British.

NAZI SHIPPING HIT

Three Escort Vessels, Supply Ship 'Probably Damaged' Off Dutch Coast.

MINES ARE LAID

JUN 28 1943

Night Raiders Drop Explosives in Enemy Waters.

AGNEW

LONDON, June 27—(AP) British bomber fleets roared over Hitler's European fortress for the eighth consecutive night last night to batter targets in west and northwest Germany, carrying the mightiest non-stop aerial offensive of the war into its second week, it was announced today.

Mosquito bombers and R.A.F. fighters pounded and strafed enemy air fields, radio stations and communications lines in France at the same time and rounded out the night's work by shooting down two German fighters near Paris.

Other planes continued the assaults by daylight today with large scale sweeps over northern France shortly after dawn. These raiders destroyed three enemy planes.

All British Planes Safe

The prey of two Messerschmitt-109s and a Focke Wulf-190 were shot from a group of 36 counted by Spitfire pilots over St. Omer. Wing Commander J. E. Johnson bagged his 19th plane in the sweep. No British plane was lost.

Coastal command Beaufighters, escorted by Spitfires, attacked southbound Nazi shipping off the Dutch coast during the afternoon and the Air ministry said they probably damaged three escort vessels and a supply ship.

An observer in one of the Beaufighters said heavy flak made accurate observation difficult but as the attackers turned away dense smoke was pouring from two of the armed escorts.

Another pilot said he opened up on two merchant ships with his cannons and then attacked both of them again with his machine-guns from a height of 100 feet.

Hit Every Enemy Fighter

The escorting Spitfire pilots reported they hit every enemy fighter seen near the convoy, downing two of them and damaging several others badly. One of the British planes failed to return.

The Nazi-controlled Vichy radio said in a night broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that "numerous squadrons of Anglo-American planes have been over France today" and declared the Allies used all types of planes from single seater fighters to four-engined Fortresses.

Meanwhile, it was a comparatively quiet day over Britain, although an unidentified plane prompted a brief daylight alert in the London area. One enemy plane was destroyed off the southeast coast in the forenoon to go with the day's bag of five enemy fighters in offensive operations.

The Air ministry said the night-flying planes also laid mines in enemy waters. This same phrase was used in the initial description of the action which breached the great Moehne and Eder dams May 16, but it generally refers to the dropping of floating explosives in ship channels and harbors.

The communique did not specify any of the targets attacked but said the entire night's operations were carried out with the loss of only one bomber.

The German radio reported that "a few enemy planes carried out harassing flights over western and northwestern Reich territory last night," but declared that "no bombs were dropped."

Another Berlin broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said American bombers attempted to attack Bremen in daylight yesterday but were beaten off and 26 of them shot down. It declared that most of the bombs fell in the North sea.

12 Planes Missing

London communiques mentioned no such attack, but said a large force of U. S. heavy bombers and supporting Thunderbolts attacked air fields and industrial targets in France. Five bombers and seven fighters failed to return.

Some of the bombers, including Flying Fortresses, could not identify their targets because of cloud formations and returned to base with their full bomb loads, the communique said.

Col. Charles E. Merion of Detroit, a group commander who said his unit ran into thick clouds, declared: "We did not drop our bombs, following an Army Air Force policy of not bombing indiscriminately over France."

Strong Fighter Opposition

Strong fighter opposition was encountered by some groups, which shot down a "considerable number" of enemy planes, but other returning fliers said they bumped into few German planes and little anti-aircraft fire.

The R.A.F. started its eight-night cycle of destruction June 19 with raids on Le Creusot and Ruhr and Rhineland targets. On successive nights the British heavies then pounded Friedrichshaven, Krefeld, and Mulheim in Germany, Spezia in Italy, the Elberfeld section of Wuppertal and Bochum in Germany.

In the battle of the Ruhr, the R.A.F. now has spread devastation in every town of more than 100,000 in the industrial valley except one—Muchen-Gladbach, west of Duesseldorf, which products iron, silk, bricks and boots.

The biggest four-engined bombers of the 8th U. S. Air Force also made three major daylight assaults during the past week—attacking Huls, northwest Germany, and factories in France.

Pilot, Copilot Wounded, Gunner Flies Fort Home

JUN 28 1943

22-Year-Old Sergeant Takes Controls As Lieutenant Stays Conscious To Instruct Him

GRANHAM [By the Associated Press]

A United States Bomber Station in England, June 27—Gunner Sergeant Clifford T. Erickson, of Fond du Lac, Wis., brought the crippled Fortress Dangerous Dan back from the crew's first raid over Nazi Europe June 11 after the pilot and copilot had been wounded seriously, it was disclosed today.

The 22-year-old sergeant probably could not have done it had not the pilot, First Lieutenant William J. Jones, 25, of North Middleton, Ky., struggled with pain and the unconsciousness which always threatened to envelop him to remain at his post and instruct Erickson in handling the unfamiliar controls.

Jaw Shattered

With his jaw shattered and a jagged six-inch wound spurting blood from his right shoulder, Jones told the sergeant how to bring the ship to its home field.

Jones has been recommended for the Distinguished Service Medal and Erickson for the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Dangerous Dan had ploughed through swarms of German fighters to drop bombs on Wilhelmshaven, where it was hit by enemy fire which knocked out one engine, destroyed the main hydraulic system and riddled the wings.

Cannon Shell

As Jones turned over the target, a 20-mm. cannon shell exploded in the pilot's compartment wounding the pilot and knocking out the co-pilot, Second Lieutenant W. Bersinger, 22, of Los Angeles. Bersinger suffered a fracture of his left arm and shell fragments cut his left shoulder and back.

Both were temporarily blinded by glass from the shattered windshield and oil spewing from the damaged engine.

The stricken bomber was knocked out of formation and dropped 700 feet below the "V" before Jones rallied, righted the plane and nosed her into another formation below.

Calls For Erickson

The navigator, Second Lieutenant Leonard Baxter, 26, of Walton, N. Y., dragged Bersinger down to a catwalk extending from the cockpit to the bomber nose. Second Lieutenant Albert C. Johnson, 24, of Bainbridge, Ga., administered first aid to Jones, who stuck to his pilot's chair and mumbled an order that brought Erickson from the top turret gun to the copilot's seat to take over the controls.

Gunners were blazing away all the while at enemy fighters which were pressing home a vicious attack. Occasionally, Baxter and Johnson turned from helping the pilots to man their guns.

Dangerous Dan was losing speed and altitude. It glided like a floundering bird from the protection of one formation to another as Fortresses passed them all the way back to England.

Coaches Sergeant

Jones, always on the verge of losing consciousness and partly blinded, coached Erickson as the sergeant struggled with the damaged controls.

JUN 28 1943

When the home field was reached Jones landed the bomber and then was lifted from the pilot's seat and taken to a hospital.

"It took plenty of nerve to do what Jones did," other flyers at his station commented today. "He knew that with Bersinger out, he had to remain conscious and land that plane. No one else could do it."

Jones and Bersinger are now recovering in an army hospital. Both expressed eagerness to rejoin the crew so they could "get the German so-and-so that got us."

Jones was a farmer before he joined the army. Bersinger was a publicity writer for the Columbia Broadcasting System in Hollywood.

Other members of the crew, none of whom was injured, are: Sergeants Donald B. Armstrong, 22, Excello, Ohio, radio operator-gunner; Charles T. Gray, 24, Hotchkiss, Colo., ball turret gunner; James P. Reid, 23, Bristol, Conn., left waist gunner; Charles R. Halsey, 37, Germantown, Ohio, right waist gunner; and Leonard D. Winter, 22, Humble, Texas, tail gunner.

The Fortress Dangerous Dan was crippled again, severely, during Friday's American assault on northwest Germany, but managed to get home on two engines after shooting down seven of 20 attacking German planes in a 23-minute battle. In that operation it was flown by Lieut. Lyster A. Brumley of Del Rio, Tex., the pilot, and Lieut. Floyd H. Jamerson, Carmi, Ill., co-pilot.

Sergeant Erickson, who brought the ship home after the June 11 attack, also was along on that raid, and was credited with shooting down one German plane. Sergeant Winter also knocked down an enemy fighter in the later operation.

3024-5445

30.24—5445

Allies Lose 238 Planes In Week, Take Heavy Toll

LONDON, June 27—(AP) The mighty Allied air offensive over western Europe and the Mediteranean during the week ending today cost 238 British and United States aircraft, but around 200 Axis planes were destroyed apart from the enormous damage caused by Allied bombs.

The losses were:

Over Britain: Axis, one; R.A.F., none.

Western Europe: Axis, 25 by R.A.F. and "nearly 100" by U. S. heavy bombers; R.A.F. 164, and U.S.A.A.F., 51.

North Africa: Axis, 68; Allies, 22.

Middle East: Axis, 23; Allies, one.

JUN 28 1943

GERMANS SHELL DOVER

Enemy Is Believed Testing New Weapons Near Calais

FOLKESTONE, England, June 27 (AP)—German long-range guns dropped seven or eight shells in the Dover area today, spacing them about fifteen minutes apart over a period of almost two hours.

Observers believe the Germans were testing new weapons emplaced near Calais. British coastal batteries did not reply.

REDS EXPLORE NAZI LINES IN OREL SECTOR

Reconnaissance Thrust At Base Spots Defenses For Artillery Fire

211 German Planes Destroyed In Week At Cost Of 74

[By the Associated Press]

London, Monday, June 28—Russian troops made a "reconnaissance in force" yesterday south of Orel, big German base and possible offensive springboard, Moscow announced early today in a communique which also said that Soviet airmen and gunners destroyed 211 German planes in the past week while losing seventy-four aircraft.

Russian planes bombed the railway junction at Orel and German airdromes on the night preceding the action, according to a Moscow radio report received by the Soviet monitor, apparently paving the way for Sunday's strong thrust.

Guns Turned On Defenses

In the reconnaissance stab the Russians explored the enemy's defenses and installations, setting them up for Soviet artillery fire which destroyed a German artillery battery, seven motor batteries and twenty-six machine guns, said the midnight bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Russian scouts also were active at other points along the strangely quiet eastern front, where Moscow dispatches estimated that the Germans have massed 230 divisions, or approximately 3,450,000 men. But there was as yet no hint from either side of any large-scale offensive operations.

On the front west of Moscow the Soviet communique said a German scouting force had been dispersed, and Soviet artillery had knocked out an enemy artillery battery and seven machine guns.

Counter Attacks Repulsed

Northwest of Moscow, on the so-called Kalinin front, which includes Velikie Luki, the communique said that 400 Germans were killed recently in the repulse of six counter-attacks aimed at regaining a populated place which the Russians had captured.

In the war of aerial attrition over Russia, the Soviet midnight communique said that a "large number of German planes also were destroyed or damaged in our raids on enemy airdromes" in addition to the 211 planes knocked down by Red fighter pilots and anti-aircraftmen.

Action On Finnish Front

Yesterday's noon bulletin told of renewed action on the dormant Finnish front when a Soviet ambush behind enemy lines resulted in the wiping out of an infantry company, and the seizure of booty and prisoners.

[The Finnish Sunday communique declared that Finnish troops had recaptured a strongpoint near Rukajaervi lost to the Russians Saturday, with 350 Soviet troops killed in the counter-attack. Small-scale Russian attacks were thrown back on the Karelian and Aunus isthmus, it added.]

The Russian cannon found the range of German troop concentrations south of Balakleya, on the Donets river front, around Kharkov, and wiped out another company, two tanks and three trucks, the official account said.

Reduce 14 Strong Points

The guns reduced fourteen strongpoints west of Rostov along the Sea of Azov, and fired intermittently at the foe on the central front approaching Smolensk.

In all about 450 Germans were reported killed, and eight enemy planes brought down, seven west of Rostov.

[The German communique said tank-supported Russian attacks near Velikie Luki were smashed by gunfire and in "embittered hand-to-hand fighting."]

POLES EAGER TO SEE ACTION, PREMIER SAYS

JUN 28 1943

Army In Middle East Is Spoiling For A Fight, Sikorski Asserts

Homeland Again Passing Through Veritable Hell, He Declares

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 27—Polish Premier Wladyslaw Sikorski asserted in a broadcast from Beirut heard here tonight that the Polish army in the Middle East is "spoiling for action."

Completing an inspection tour of the Polish army in the Levant states, Sikorski said:

"They are fired with a desire to measure themselves with the ancient enemy of Poland.

Fighting Ahead

"The resolute Polish soldier is well aware that the path to his country leads through fighting and that he will have to open it for himself with his blood. He yearns to start this struggle as soon as possible."

The British Ministry of Information heard the broadcast.

Referring to conditions inside Poland, Sikorski said the country was "passing again through a veritable hell. The deaths of hundreds of Poles bestially murdered in the last four weeks have created profound impressions.

Hour Of Retribution

"These crimes will not go unpunished. Germans wallowing in a sea of blood cannot count upon pity and noble sentiments of the Allies when the hour of retribution comes. Its instrument will be above all the Polish soldier."

The Premier said "I know that latest developments have created anxiety," adding, "I should like, therefore, to assure you that there will be no division of Europe into spheres against the will of interested parties."

MIHAILOVIC RETAINS POST

Chetniks Chief Again Minister Of War In New Yugoslav Cabinet

JUN 28 1943

Mimilos Trifunovic Is Called By King Peter As Prime Minister

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 27—Gen. Draja Mihailovic, the Yugoslav guerrilla leader, was reappointed Minister of War today in the new Yugoslav Cabinet formed by Mimilos Trifunovic, former Minister of Education.

King Peter asked Trifunovic one of the most important Serb politicians, to head a new government last week. Previously he had called on Jovan Banjanin, former Minister of Forestry and Mining, to attempt to form a Cabinet after Prof. Slobodan Yovanovitch resigned.

In the new government Trifunovic will be both Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior. He was a close collaborator of M. Pasic, the Serb Premier, during the first World War.

Mihailovic Busy In Field

Because of Mihailovic's inability to attend Cabinet sessions, Gen. Peter Zivkovitch was named acting Minister of War.

Milan Grol, president of the Serbian Democratic party, was named Minister of Foreign Affairs.

[An Ankara dispatch, quoting an authoritative Yugoslav source, said Mihailovic is leading 50,000 to 60,000 Chetniks in a fierce guerrilla battle in southern Yugoslavia, defying eight Axis divisions sent against them and continued to disrupt railway lines by which Germany would send reinforcements to Greece in event of an Allied landing there.]

King's Counsellor Resigns

King Peter accepted the resignation of Radojl Knezevic, Minister of the Yugoslav court, who had been the King's counsellor since Peter assumed royal functions in March, 1941.

No reason was announced for the resignation, but diplomatic sources said it was connected with the ministerial crisis which was settled by formation of the Trifunovic cabinet.

NAZI REGION CHIEF IN HOLLAND KILLED

Berlin Broadcast Reports Commissar's Death In "Accident" In France

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 27—The Berlin radio said tonight that Fritz Schmidt, regional chief of the National Socialist party in the Netherlands and commissar-general of the rebellious occupied Dutch territories, had "met with a fatal accident" while on an official tour through France.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said Adolf Hitler had ordered a party funeral for Schmidt, the fifth Nazi official—German or Dutch—in Holland to be killed in less than six months.

Dutch Nazi Previous Victim

The last previous fatality was Dr. Folkert E. Posthuma, a Dutch Nazi and secretary for agriculture in the German-controlled Dutch Cabinet, who was shot to death early this month.

Schmidt was a commissar-general for special services under Arthur Seyss-Inquart, German high commissioner in the Netherlands, and actively engaged in carrying out the conscription of Dutch workers for war industries in the Reich.

Last February Schmidt announced the dispatch of 15,000 Dutch laborers to German-occupied territories behind the present Russian front, and a month ago he announced that Dutch women must fill labor vacancies created in Holland by this mass movement of males.

Physicians Predict Revolt

The Dutch news agency Aneta reported last night that Netherlands physicians had sent a letter to Seyss-Inquar, warning him that the forced labor policies, accompanied by German food looting in Holland, would lead to "desperate acts" on the part of the Dutch.

Opposition to German authorities in the Netherlands has resulted in widespread strikes and sabotage since German occupation officials ordered all former members of the Netherland Army to register last April for removal to Germany to work in Nazi war plants.

Resistance to the Germans has increased in France recently. Yesterday the British radio said Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels had canceled a visit to Alsace because of reports that there was a plot to assassinate him. Robert Wagner, German governor of annexed Alsace, also was reported to have been intended as a victim in the same plot.

ANTONESCU'S NEPHEW IN ITALY FOR PARLEYS

Vice Premier of Rumania to Confer With Bastianini

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—The arrival in Rome of the Rumanian Vice Premier, Prof. Mihail Antonescu—whose country would be endangered even more than Italy in the event of an Allied invasion of the Balkans—was announced by the Vichy radio today in a broadcast recorded by The Associated Press.

An earlier Berlin broadcast said that Professor Antonescu would confer at Venice with Giuseppe Bastianini, Italian Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

Only last April, Professor Antonescu was reported in Swiss dispatches to be in disfavor with Germany because of suspected lukewarmness toward the Axis cause. These dispatches said that the Vice Premier, a nephew of Premier Ion Antonescu, was believed by the Axis to have considered favorably a Turkish proposal for a Balkan entente.

Leon Marchal Receives French Moroccan Post

London, June 27 (AP)—TheAlgiers radio announced today that Leon Marchal, former counselor of the French embassy in Washington, had been appointed secretary general of the French administration in Morocco.

Marchal resigned when Laval came to power in 1942 and joined the forces of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Fiji Islanders Pay Off In Materiel and Food

LONDON — (AP) The United States receives reciprocal aid from Fiji to the value of some $2,883,000 a year, the Colonial Office states.

Information from the colony shows that in four months United States forces on the islands have been provided with labor worth $183,000, transport worth $173,000, and timber worth $89,000. Eighty thousand pounds of bananas a month are being supplied, 40,000 pounds of pawpaws and 20,000 pounds of pineapples.

Among vegetables, the sweet potato is the favorite, with 100,000 pounds being supplied a month, together with 50,000 pounds of pumpkins and 40,000 pounds of green corn.

Items are paid for by the United Kingdom government and turned over to the American forces.

Hitler Youths Visit Spain

MADRID, June 27 (AP).—Forty-nine boys and girls, members of the Hitler youth movement, arrived here today for a visit under the joint sponsorship of the German Strength Through Joy organization and the Spanish Falange (Fascist party), Education and Leisure organization.

FRANCO POLICY DRAWS ATTACK IN NAZI PRESS

Toleration Of Allied Effort At Spanish Cooperation Assailed

JUN 28 1943

Talk Of Setting Up Monarchy Also Scored In Frankfurter Zeitung

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, June 27—The German newspaper Frankfurter Zeitung published an editorial broadside today against Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Spanish Government, declaring it was "doing hardly anything decisive" to check talk of a monarchial restoration, and also was tolerating Allied attempts to bring Spain "into active cooperation with the Western powers."

Significant Reaction

Spain is flooded with "the wildest rumors and promises," said the Madrid correspondent of the Nazi newspaper in a telephoned dispatch which was placed on the front page.

The Frankfurter Zeitung's significant reaction to the Spanish situation followed close upon the disclosure that twenty-eight Spanish monarchists had asked Franco to restore the throne to the late King Alfonso's son, Prince Juan.

The German correspondent declared that Spaniards appear to be relying upon Allied assurances given Spain when North Africa was occupied.

Recalls Civil War

"Attempts are being made to bring them into active cooperation with the western powers," he said.

Some Spaniards, he added, appeared to forget the civil war in which the Axis aided Franco and his Nationalists, thereby making it easy for the Allies "to fill empty heads with propaganda, false reports and speculation."

This propaganda, he asserted, was circulating throughout every class in Spain and was done "mostly under diplomatic protection."

The correspondent said religious and monarchial circles especially were receptive to "rumors about supposed arrests of Fascists, generals, and of a future liberal economic order."

Without disputing that a feeling exists that Spaniards are more pro-Allied today than ever before, the Nazi correspondent urged Spaniards to "examine their conscience and change their policy."

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, June 27—The Fascist press told Italians today that an invasion attack was "immediately imminent" because of increased Allied air attacks on Italian targets, and naval concentrations, including landing boats, in North African ports.

The Die Tat correspondent in Rome said the Fascists believed that a "Russian offensive and a landing attack by Anglo-Saxons will take place at the same time very soon."

Propaganda played its part in inspiring the most sensational articles in many days on the front pages of Italian newspapers. The aim, of course, was to awaken the entire country and mobilize its resources to meet the danger from the Mediterranean.

Acknowledges Damage

Popolo di Roma acknowledged "heavy material damage" in Italian cities undergoing air attacks, said this meant only one thing, "preparation for invasion," and declared that large units of the British and American fleets were in the Mediterranean, along with landing boats, and that British transports were pouring in war material to North Africa from Gibraltar.

Italian comments, in contrast to repeated German declarations, admitted the Allies might succeed in establishing a bridgehead on Italian soil. Popolo di Roma, however, declared that "nothing would be won thereby," since the Allies would "be unable to hold it any length of time."

New Defense, Berlin Claims

Bern, Switzerland, June 27 (AP)—Increased defense against Allied air attacks, especially daylight raids, was claimed by Berlin in press reports tonight which explained that the measures largely involved new formations of fighters.

Details were carefully withheld, but the Nazi press said the Friday attack on Bremen demonstrated the success of the new tactics when bombers failed to reach the target and turned back without dropping their bomb loads. The Allies have confirmed that some planes returned without attacking their objective in the past two days, and said the weather was the reason.

Dienst Aus Deutschland declared the effectiveness also "refutes calculations of the English and Americans that pendulum flights of the RAF over Germany to Africa would lead to a spreading weakening of the Axis air defense."

U-BOAT MUTINY EXPLAINED

Men Said to Have Rebelled Against Shortening of Leaves

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 27 (AP)—Two hundred German submarine crewmen from six crews who mutinied and refused to go to sea have been sent to Akershus Prison in Oslo, reports from the Norwegian capital said today.

Shorter leaves and more frequent tours of duty in Allied sea lanes, where anti-submarine devices are becoming ever more effective, were said to have been the cause of the mutiny, reported yesterday to have occurred at a Norwegian base.

Observers here said more frequent duty assignments would indicate a reduction in reserves of trained German U-boat crewmen.

Rising Guerrilla Action Reported In Baltic States

Stockholm, June 27 (AP)—Sabotage and murder of German troops is increasing in the Baltic States, where two years ago this month some residents greeted the Nazis with flowers and cheers as "liberators," reports from Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia said today.

Partisans waging guerrilla warfare behind the lines were declared to be well organized and excellently armed. These advices said there was no indication of the total number of Germans slain, but that the guerrilla bands were so strong that they occasionally took soldiers as hostages.

Compulsory labor service, the food shortage and the fact that medicines are largely reserved for Germans and their friends were reported contributing to the hostility of the natives.

U-BOATS REPORTED SET FOR INVASION

Said To Have Been Ordered To Return To German And Italian Bases

Ankara, June 27 (AP)—A large part of Germany's submarine forces has been ordered to return to German and Italian bases, according to a Balkan source familiar with German plans.

The U-boats have been called away from their hunting grounds in order to be on hand to attack Allied invasion fleets, this informant said. Submarines operating in the Atlantic were reported directed to German ports and those in the Mediterranean to Italian bases.

Yangtze Victory Inspires Chinese With New Spirit

JUN 28 1943

Confidence Reborn When From 80,000 To 100,000 Jap Attackers Were Hurled Back From Rice Bowl

A closeup of the Chinese soldier is provided by J. Reilly O'Sullivan, veteran AP war correspondent, in the following dispatch from the upper Yangtze front. Another, on the outlook at the battlefield, is to follow. O'Sullivan is one of a group of foreign war correspondents permitted recently to make the trip to the front from Chungking.

By J. REILLY O'SULLIVAN

Enshih, on the Upper Yangtze Front, June 27—A new fighting spirit flares in the hearts of the soldiers of free China.

It is born of the victory here on the fields of one of China's most vital battles by armies barring the gateway to Chungking.

They smashed and threw back from 80,000 to 100,000 Japanese attackers, removing a threat to the wartime capital and frustrating the enemy attempt to seize China's richest rice-growing area bordering Tung Ting lake.

This new confidence among the officers and men, who carried out Chiang Kai-shek's command to stand fast like the Russians at Leningrad, is apparent on every hand.

Enters Seventh Year Of War

Impoverished Free China enters the seventh year of war July 7.

Her losses have been tremendous in battle, in civilian casualties from bombing massacres, in rich territory and loot grabbed by the rapacious invader.

Yet her fighting men have developed a new punch.

That is evidenced by 40,000 casualties it is asserted were inflicted upon the enemy.

Troops Now Are Well Trained

There are several reasons, attested by officers and men alike. The reorganized troops in this area, a majority veterans of other campaigns, have been given intensive training, especially in mountain warfare.

They have learned to shoot with deadly accuracy.

They are told something of battle plans.

They are instructed in the principles of the national Government and what they are fighting for.

General Wu Explains

In an interview, Lieut. Gen. Wu Chin Wei explained the progress, the fighting strength and the heroism of the Chinese army this way:

"In previous campaigning, the Chinese always suffered heavy casualties. Many times they never saw the enemy when blasted by artillery and aircraft.

"In this campaign, however, there has been much of close-quarter fighting. Company commanders, for instance, fought in hand-to-hand struggles.

"Chinese troops have become good marksmen and have learned to withhold their fire until the enemy is in effective range. We found the fighting quality of the Japanese has deteriorated except that of the Japanese Thirteenth division. That also boosted the morale of the Chinese, who sought every opportunity to engage the enemy.

Troops Told Of Battle Plan

"The Chinese withdrawal in the early stages of the battle was entirely orderly. This time the soldiers knew of the pre-arranged plan to entice the enemy into the mountains where the trap was laid.

JUN 28 1943

"Many small units were left behind to fight rearguard actions. They also served a good purpose during our counterattack, destroying enemy communications and supplies and inflicting losses on the retreating Japs."

Talking to troops on the front and others moving up, one gets the impression that Chinese soldiers are competent and that they know it.

Take 35-year-old Sergt. Tung Chi Yuan, a "Sergeant York" type. He was lined up with a dozen other heroes as a group of foreign correspondents toiled up the mountain path to advanced regimental headquarters near Shihpai fortress.

Tung is credited with killing one hundred Japanese with a submachine gun when the enemy advanced up a ravine and tried to dislodge part of a Chinese battalion.

JAPS BURNED WOUNDED SAYS CHINESE LEADER

ON THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT, June 27—(AP) Gen. Wu Chin Wei, Chinese commander of the upper Yangtze river defenses, declared today that the Japanese rout in the recent battle for the Gateway to Chungking was so disordered that the enemy burned some of their wounded officers and men after first giving injections to render them unconscious," the general asserted. "This inhuman act was carried out on the battlefield where bodies of the dead also were cremated for shipment to Japan. Charred legs and arms left behind were so numerous they couldn't be counted."

The Japanese customarily removed their dead to a crematory near Ichang.

Chinese Repel Local Thrusts

CHUNGKING, June 27 (AP).—The Chinese high command said today that Chinese troops had beaten back a series of local Japanese thrusts in three provinces along the Yangtse River—Anhwei, Hupeh and Hunan. More than 300 of the invaders were declared to have been killed or wounded in the actions.

Goatskin Express Brings 31½ Tons Of Petroleum

Chungking, June 26 (Delayed) (AP)—The goatskin express floated into Chungking today carrying thirty-one-and-a-half tons of petroleum products from Shenshi.

Its arrival inaugurated the first large-scale modern use of one of China's most ancient forms of transport.

The express consisted of 1,000 inflated goatskins divided into three large rafts, which were dismantled and deflated on arrival, for return to the starting point by land.

The rafts were floated in on the Chialing, or Little river, which flows into the Yangtze here.

Cost $10,000 Cheaper

The oil consignment was carried at a cost of $10,000, American money, cheaper than by truck transport, it was estimated by the Kansu Oil Company, which used the rafts.

The new service is one of the strangest transportation lines of the Chinese-Japanese war, in which every form of transport has been used, from cargo leviathans of the air to rubber-tired cars and human pack caravans.

Drawing less than a foot of water, the rafts carried their 168 barrels of petroleum products through rapids and over rocks in the swift currents of the Chialing.

CHINESE WILL STUDY HERE

Miao, Yunnan Leader, Was One of Burma Road Founders

CHUNGKING, China, June 27 (AP)—Y. T. Miao, one of the principal founders of the Burma Road and a powerful figure in the politics of Yunnan Province, is on his way to the United States to study industrial and financial control.

Mr. Miao, a graduate of the University of Minnesota, is credited with being largely responsible for the industrialization of southwest

3024-5447

30.24 — 5447

China.

He conducted negotiations with the British that led to the construction of the Burma Road.

Jap Plan To Conscript Chinese Is Boomerang

On the Upper Yangtze Front, June 26 (Delayed, A.P.)—A Japanese attempt to use conscripted Chinese from the occupied areas against the armies of Free China is proving a boomerang.

During the fighting in this area, for instance, a Chinese conscript killed his wounded Japanese company commander, took an elaborate Japanese aerial map of the territory, crossed the lines and turned it over to the Chinese army.

The map was said to have disclosed the Japanese positions in great detail.

Gen. Chen Cheng reported that Chinese conscripts of the Two Hundred and Seventeenth Brigade of the Thirty-fourth Japanese Division killed a brigadier general and came over to the Chinese side.

"The enemy's design of killing Chinese by Chinese has been smashed completely," declared Chen.

U. S. Flyers Hit Railway Targets In Central Burma

JUN 28 1943

New Delhi, June 27 (AP)—United States medium bombers, roaring over North Central Burma, hammered railway targets near Shwebo, fifty miles northwest of Mandalay, yesterday, and RAF Blenheim bombers on another foray to the north struck Japanese positions at Indainggyi, near Kalemyo.

No Allied planes were lost.

A Tenth Air Force communique said the American flyers scored many hits on rolling stock, tracks and buildings above Shwebo, damaged engine sheds at Kanbalu and attacked two locomotives. Direct hits were scored with sixteen bombs dropped from 3,000 feet.

The Blenheims striking in Northwest Burma blasted targets in Indainggyi and trenches outside the town and followed the bombings with low-level machine-gun attacks, a British communique said.

Japanese Merchantman And Destroyer Attacked

Allied Headquarters In Australia, Monday, June 28 (AP)—A small Japanese merchantman, escorted by a destroyer, was damaged in the Solomon Sea, southwest of Buka Passage, by a Beaufort bomber that scored near misses on the merchantman and then strafed the decks of both ships from low altitude.

The action, announced in the noon communique, topped a day of light activity in which attacks were concentrated against enemy-held villages in the Markham-Ramu valley, Salamaua, the Mubo area of New Guinea and the town of Saumlaki in the Tanimbar Islands 300 miles north of Darwin.

Liberator bombers made a strong attack against Saumlaki, but weather prevented observation of results.

Jap Supply Route Swept

Mitchell bombers, in force, swept up and down the Markham-Ramu valley along which runs the Japanese supply route between Madang and Lae. They caused numerous fires and explosions, indicating they touched off Japanese supply buildings.

A daylight assault was made against Salamaua. The town and airdrome and ground installations were heavily strafed. "Considerable damage" was caused in the building area and the raiding Mitchells had their own way, since the Japanese didn't attempt interception.

In supporting action for our ground forces engaged in patrol action in the area around Mubo, A-20's strafed Japanese positions and supply tracks but rain prevented observation of results.

MacArthur Flyers Raid Convoy in Solomon Sea

Other Planes Blast Japanese Positions in New Guinea

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA June 28 (Monday) (AP).—Allied bombers have attacked and damaged an enemy merchant ship in a small convoy in the Solomon Sea, the High Command announced today.

In New Guinea, where sharp ground fighting was reported last week for the first time in several weeks, Allied attack planes bombed and machine-gunned Japanese positions.

Two-engined bombers, in low-altitude sweeps, attacked enemy-held villages at the headwaters of the Markham and Ramu Rivers, destroying buildings and causing many explosions and fires.

At Salamaua other medium bombers carried out a midday attack, bombing and machine-gunning the town and adjoining airdrome and enemy ground installations. A number of fires were started and damage was described as considerable, particularly in the building areas.

Four-engined bombers flew 300 miles north of Darwin and struck at the town of Saumlaki on Tanimbar Island after dark. Results were not observed because of unfavorable weather.

10 GET THE AIR MEDAL FOR VALOR IN PACIFIC

Oregon Officer Is Posthumously Decorated in Africa

JUN 28 1943

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 21 (Delayed) (AP)—Four officers and six enlisted men, all of whom man the transport planes which carry men and matériel to forward positions in New Guinea, have received the Air Medal for meritorious achievement from Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Allies' Southwest Pacific Air Forces.

In each case, according to the announcement, the recipient had made twenty-five operational flights during a specified period—flights on which "hostile contact was probable and expected," in the words of the citation.

"These flights," it continued, "involved flying at extremely low altitudes over mountainous terrain under adverse weather conditions in a transport airplane, and often necessitated landing within a few miles of enemy bases on improvised airfields."

Guadalcanal Artist in Trouble

GUADALCANAL, June 8 (Delayed) (AP)—Marine Sgt. Hugh Laidman, former New York City artist, came to Henderson Field recently to work on a series of water-color paintings of battle-scarred airplanes. The first plane he picked as a model was flown off and never came back. The second went aloft soon after Laidman completed the painting and developed stabilizer trouble. The artist chose a third plane. Just as he finished the painting, the plane exploded and burned.

RCAF ADOPTS LANDING KITS

Five New Types Of Equipment To Be Carried By Flyers Or In Planes

Crews Forced Down On Land Or Sea Will Have Food, Tools, Medicine

JUN 28 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Ottawa, June 27—The Royal Canadian Air Force has adopted five new types of emergency equipment to give airmen every chance for survival, whether they are forced down on land or sea, even in midwinter, air-force headquarters said tonight.

The equipment includes an emergency ration kit which all flyers must wear while in the air, a supplementary ration kit to be carried in aircraft, an emergency kit for winter flying, a dinghy kit of supplies for forced landings at sea, and a small emergency radio to send SOS messages.

Kit Worn Around Waist

The personal emergency kit, worn like a bandolier around the waist, contains a gun, eight chocolate bars, two packages of specially-prepared biscuits, matches, fishing lines, a mirror to signal aircraft from the ground, a medical kit, smoke generators, a whistle, a knife, a compass and chemical-heat tablets to generate fires.

The rations provide sufficient food for three days under normal working conditions.

The supplementary kit has such other additions as tobacco, a folding cook stove using solidified alcohol, a hand ax and tinned water Four men could live out of it for a week, or one man for twenty-eight days.

In The Winter Pack

Snowshoes, a sleeping bag and anti-glare eyeshields are included in the winter pack.

The dinghy kit includes yellow skull caps for the crew to wear to heighten visibility at sea.

Flyers Lost 49 Days

St. Johns, Newfoundland, June 27 (AP)—Missing forty-nine days after bailing out of an airplane, a Royal Canadian Air Force man and a member of the Newfoundland Rangers are safe in north Newfoundland, it was disclosed today. The plane disappeared May 8 carrying three RCAF men and the Ranger. No word has been received of the other members of the party.

Brazil To Help Avert French Guiana Famine

Rio de Janeiro, June 27 (AP)—Plans for the economic rehabilitation of French Guiana—close to a state of famine when it broke from the Vichy regime last March—have been worked out here between the colony's new Governor, Jean Rapenne, and Brazilian officials.

Part of the program was made known today as Rapenne announced he would leave tomorrow for Cayenne, capital of French Guiana. Rapenne, appointed by General Giraud, arrived in Rio June 16 at the invitation of the Brazilian Government.

One of the greatest problems solved during his Brazilian visit was arranging for the transportation of supplies from Brazil to Guiana. It was understood that the agreements reached with Brazil call not only for food but also for implements and other supplies needed to restore the colony's agricultural

SIX HEAVY RAIDS SMASH AT KISKA, CAMP AREAS HIT

Army, Navy Airmen Drop Bombs Among Jap Gun Emplacements.

SOLOMONS BASES LASHED

Four Principal Outposts Blasted, Large Fires Are Started.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP) Six battering raids on Kiska pointed strongly today to determination to immobilize the Japanese garrison there from the air, probably in preparation for an invasion by land troops.

Medium bombers—Army Mitchells and Navy Venturas—taking advantage of a break in the weather which had slowed operations in the Aleutians for several days, roared over the island in the half dozen assaults Friday afternoon.

With them sped Lightning fighter planes ready to beat off any attempted interception as the bombers dropped their loads. But the aerial resistance did not develop.

Bombs blasted into the Japanese camp area on the island—last enemy foothold in the American island chain. Other bombs struck among gun positions and probably put some Japanese anti-aircraft pieces out of action.

The raids followed by only a comparatively few hours three attacks by Liberator heavy and Mitchell and Ventura medium bombers carried out against Kiska Thursday. In those raids results of the bombings could not be ascertained because of fog and low hanging clouds over the rocky, hilly island.

Four Solomons Bases Hit

Other airmen meantime carried on their continuous round of smashing assaults on the Japanese in the Solomon islands area, blasting four principal enemy bases without the loss of a single United States plane.

Big Liberator bombers sent their bombs down on the enemy base on Ballale island in the Shortland island area of the Solomons. Several large fires were raging as they returned to their base.

At about the same time, the Navy reported, another group of Liberators roared out to batter Poporang island, about a mile southeast of Shortland island. That Japanese position last was attacked on April 21 when many fires were started by American bombs. Two fires set there were visible 40 miles away, the Navy reported.

Dauntless dive bombers and Avenger torpedo planes with Wildcat fighter escort carried the aerial attack again to Munda on New Georgia island. A similar group at the same time bombed Vila, an enemy base on Kolombangara island, also target of consistent bombing missions.

EISENHOWER'S FRENCH STAND BACKED BY U. S.

Washington Not To Permit Factionalism To Affect Army Plans

Full Support Is Seen Given Giraud In Dispute With De Gaulle

JUN 28 1943

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

[Associated Press Copyright]

Washington, June 27—With trans-Mediterranean military operations on a major scale closely impending, the Washington Government was revealed tonight as ready to back up General Eisenhower, Allied supreme commander in French Africa, to the limit in whatever steps he may find necessary to eliminate any threat to success created by the political controversy between Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud, heading rival French factions.

The writer can say this on the basis of unimpeachable authorities who cannot be quoted directly.

To Tolerate No Delay

In presenting a summary of the Government's policy toward the French political controversy in North Africa, these authorities were further able to state that the Washington Government expects General Eisenhower to tolerate in North Africa no de Gaullist or other French activities which would in any way:

1. Delay execution of projected Allied aggressive military operations in that theater.

2. Jeopardize Anglo-American—and French—vital supply lines in North and West Africa.

3. Undermine the morale of officers and men of the French forces commanded by General Giraud under General Eisenhower, or militate against their effective participation in the projected trans-Mediterranean operations.

To this end, although both General Eisenhower and Washington authorities are standing strictly aloof from French factional political wrangling precipitated by de Gaulle and his adherents, full British cooperation is assured, whatever the effect on de Gaulle's status or ambitions.

Must Not Imperil Americans

That was made plain today by one informant whose knowledge of the situation in French Africa and all of its complex ramifications cannot be questioned. This informant said:

"Regardless of British hopes for, or dissatisfaction with de Gaulle, the Allied commander in Africa must see that his (de Gaulle's) activities, or the activities of the dual headed and divided (French) military command, do not hazard the lives of American soldiers in Africa, or adversely effect our military operations against the common enemy.

"It is believed that General Eisenhower, who as supreme commander, must have complete control in the area of operations, will take such action as is necessary to safeguard our soldiers, protect our lines of communication in Africa, and advance the Allied operations against the enemy."

General Eisenhower is known by these authorities to be somewhat skeptical of the success of the compromise division of French military authority and spheres of jurisdiction worked out by the French committee of national liberation at Algiers in response to his insistence that Giraud retain command in North and West Africa and that the de Gaullist efforts to effect a political purge of officer personnel in the Giraud forces be dropped.

He has accepted it, at least tentatively and subject to future developments, and Washington and London are backing his authority to handle the problem confronting him on the basis of urgent military necessity.

Behind his acceptance—and formally communicated by Eisenhower to the French Committee of National Liberation — lies that mainspring of Allied policy making in French Africa at the moment. It is that the time element is of vital importance.

The Allied generalissimo made it clear also that he had no intention of intervening in French political wrangles or of trespassing on French sovereignty; but must be governed by the requirements of the military situation.

Situation Still Confused

In that connection the Washington informant said the political situation in French African territories remained "confused and difficult because of the continuing controversy" between Generals de Gaulle and Giraud and their "political adherents."

Elaborating on the existing situation in North Africa, as this Government views it, the informant added:

"This controversy developed into an effort to obtain complete control of French military forces and into a persistent effort on the part of General de Gaulle to replace with his own adherents officers of the (French) army, navy and air forces who were previously associated with the Vichy Government.

"It has been the consistent policy of the Allied nations to utilize the civil administration of the French colonies in so far as is permitted by military necessity, and to make every endeavor to maintain French sovereignty in Africa.

Security Must Control

"The French army and naval forces in Africa, under General Giraud, participated with courage and success in destroying or capturing the Axis army in Africa, and in consideration of the necessity for continuing important military operations from Africa as a base, military considerations, including security of the long supply lines, must control our relations with the French civil administrators.

"With American soldiers involved in a deadly struggle with Axis armies, it is inconceivable that the Allied powers should submit to any control by local administrators that might increase the danger of our troops or adversely effect our military effort.

"The civil Government of French Africa is now administered by a group of fourteen Frenchmen who called themselves the 'committee of national liberation.' Both General de Gaulle and General Giraud are members and the remainder of the committee is, presumably, composed of men equally divided in their allegiance to the two leaders.

"At present the military command is divided between Giraud and de Gaulle, the first exercising command of forces in North and West Africa, and the latter over all French forces in other territory under French control.

Giraud Held Essential

"This private political compromise adds serious complications to the safe military control of the areas of active operations, and the essential supply service.

"It is essential to the safety of the Allied armies that General Giraud, who has fought so successfully with us, should exercise absolute control under General Eisenhower of the French forces in Africa. This is absolutely necessary to the safety of our soldiers, many thousands of whom would have lost their lives had it not been for the heroic fighting French patriots under command of General Giraud.

"There are many indications that the controversial activities of this two-headed 'Committee of National Liberation' have already undermined the spirit of the French army. General Boisson, Governor of French West Africa, who has always been openly anti-German and who repelled General de Gaulle's feeble attempt to occupy the port of Dakar, is reported to have been forced to resign. It is also already reported that General Juin, chief of staff of the French army, intends to resign because of the activities of the committee.

Officers Become Uncertain

"Officers of all ranks have become uncertain as to their allegiance, and propaganda efforts are undermining the loyalty of some of the soldiers of all French armies.

"The British Government and the British public has of late shown considerable concern at de Gaulle's policy of gaining prestige by showing how rough he can be with both the British and the Americans. This is based on his shifting attitude toward the British to whom he owes such success as his Government has had since 1940.

"Specifically, in an interview given at Brazzaville in August, 1941 he attempted to cause a rift between Britain and the United States. He has endeavored to cause friction between the British and French in Syria. At one time he publicized himself as the one hope against Communism, and later as enjoying Communist support.

"Because of the fiction of Free Fighting French that has been built about his name, the British entertain a hope that he will soon settle down to loyal teamwork against the enemy and cease working for personal and group advantage.

French Opinion Sampled

It can be reported that information available to the Washington Government as to French public sentiment toward de Gaulle in anti-Nazi, anti-Vichy circles in France is said to show no wide adherence to de Gaulle himself.

It does show urgent French support of any movement for French liberation from Nazi and Vichy-collaborationist rule — and rising impatience with any political maneuvering that would tend to delay the hour of that liberation which the French know depends solely on Anglo-American armed power. This is cited as a factor in promoting this Government's doubt of de Gaulle and in shaping the policy toward him here stated.

It can be stated also that a survey made by this writer, following up his interview with the informant quoted at length in the foregoing, brought to light no disagreement among American observers—military and diplomatic—with the informant's estimate of the nature and effect of General de Gaulle's political activities at Algiers.

MOVE LIKELY WILL WIDEN F.D.R. RIFT

JUN 28 1943

Resolution Reserves Right To Reconvene Without White House Call

Procedure Would Permit Even Minority To Ask Solons Return

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 27—Leaders of both major parties propose to reserve to Congress the right to reconvene during the imminent summer recess without waiting for a call from the White House.

They disclosed today that a recess resolution, the terms of which include the right of the minority leaders, as well as those of the majority, to call Congress back, is ready for adoption before the lawmakers leave for a vacation scheduled to run to about September 13.

It was the first time that Congress ever contemplated a recess under those conditions.

Called Justifiable

Significantly, the resolution comes at a time when relations between President Roosevelt and the national Legislature are complicated by conflict over such matters as the War Disputes Act and subsidy payments.

House Majority Leader McCormack (Mass.), however, made a point of explaining that this "unusual but justifiable" procedure was necessary because of the war with its accompanying uncertainties.

Under normal procedure, Congress cannot reconvene during a recess unless recalled by the President or unless it has fixed by resolution a specific date for reconvening the next regular session.

But under the procedure decided upon by the leaders, the recessed Congress may go back into session at any time upon:

The call of Speaker Rayburn and Vice-President Wallace.

The request of the majority leaders in the two houses.

The request of the minority leaders.

The inclusion of the minority leaders in the list of those who may request recall of Congress was made at the behest of Senate Republican Leader McNary (Ore.) and House Republican leader Martin (Mass.), McNeary said.

Would Quit Next Saturday

While there is a general hope on the part of leaders of both parties to get Congress into recess by next Saturday, they are not at all certain that can be done. Speaker Rayburn said he thought it more likely that the recess would begin sometime after July 10.

Final approval of several annual appropriation bills, some of them the subject of controversy between the Senate and House, must be taken.

The Senate was ready for final action tomorrow on the biggest supply bill of all time, the $71,898,425,740 War Department allotment with no contest in sight.

NYA Funds In Dispute

A less peaceful prospect, however, faced the $1,100,000,000 Labor Department-Federal Security Administration bill, which also was ready for action in that branch. The principal contest appeared to center around the National Youth Administration, which the House had cut to $3,000,000 for liquidation by the end of this year. Senator Truman (D., Mo.), asserting that the depression-born agency was an essential for training war plant workers, sponsored a proposal to give it $47,800,000.

The $875,000,000 farm bill was back in conference before committeemen from the two houses in an effort to settle differences over the Farm Security Administration, crop insurance and soil-conservation payments.

The Office of Price Administration, the Office of War Information and other war agencies are starting a new fiscal year Thursday with their funds still awaiting Senate committee clearance as well as action on the floor in that branch.

MAJOR VICTORY WON BY U.S. GOODS IN NORTH AFRICA

Valuable Fighting Allies Obtained, Too, by Lend-Lease, Says Stettinius.

JUN 28 1943

WASHINGTON, June 27 — (AP) American goods have won a major victory of economics in North Africa as well as valuable fighting allies for the United Nations, Lend-Lease Administrator E. R. Stettinius, Jr., reported today.

And to add another cheering note, he indicated that the cost of civilian supplies would turn out to be negligible — a $40,000,000 outlay with $25,000,000 already repaid by French authorities and arrangements being made for repayment of the remainder in the near future.

The report recounted that when General Dwight D. Eisenhower led his British-American forces into North Africa he found the economy of the whole country virtually stagnant after two years of Axis looting, and the French and Arab population saturated with Axis propaganda.

Good-Will Essential

"From a purely military point of view," the report said, "it was important to win Arab good-will so that the natives would hinder Axis secret agents and paratroopers who might try to cut the Allies supply line to Tunisia by destroying bridges, railroad tracks and highways. Considerable civilian labor was needed also to augment military personnel in perfecting the Allied supply line. If the Arab natives proved unfriendly General Eisenhower would have been compelled to use additional divisions of troops in perfecting and guarding his tenuous supply line.

"Lack of imports and Axis siphoning of local goods had stripped the markets. Many shops were closed for lack of wares and those open had little to sell. Even people with plenty of money could buy practically nothing, and there was no incentive to work and earn money, to harvest and sell food crops, or carry on other normal business.

"A vital part of the Allied military program was the creation of a Fighting French ally. A reasonably contented civilian population was essential to the creation of this new French army, and a sound local economy was necessary to aid the military effort of the British and Americans."

Foodstuffs Hoarded

Local residents, the report said, had hoarded great quantities of wheat and other foodstuffs which would buy nothing. There was no incentive for the natives to produce phosphates, edible oils, and other strategic materials needed by the United Nations.

But "once cloth and flour and sugar and tea were available they were glad to take their stocks to market and exchange them for American merchandise," Mr. Stettinius reported.

The statement concluded:

"How well the civilian supply distribution worked out in accordance with General Eisenhower's plans is shown by the fact that the Arabs almost universally have become strongly pro-Allied. The vast majority of the Arabs have aided the Allied forces in every way possible. American troops themselves have proved superb ambassadors of good-will. They gave chewing gum and candy to Arab children throughout Morocco, Algiers, and Tunisia; made friends with the children and through them won the good-will of the parents x x x

Milk for Children

"Great appreciation has also been shown for free milk distributed each morning to the school children under the age of 14.

"That the Arabs are taking their foodstuffs to market to exchange for Lend-Lease goods is shown by the fact that no additional shipment of U. S. flour are now contemplated for North Africa, and it is believed that large surplus amounts of North African agricultural produce will rapidly be made available to the Allies in the invasion of the European continent."

3024-5449

MRS. LUCE RAPS 'FALSE SECURITY'

New Deal Reputation 'Dead on Home Front,' She Tells Wisconsin G.O.P.

JUN 28 1943

APPLETON, Wis., June 27—(AP) Rep. Clare Booth Luce (R-Conn), first woman to keynote a Wisconsin Republican convention, told delegates today that the New Deal reputation was dead on the home front and that President Roosevelt could only survive it by convincing the people that his foreign policy was sound.

She said that the Federal administration had offered only a false security and that Americans would demand a post war victory that would guarantee a "free and ever expanding economy."

Republicans have met the challenge in Wisconsin, Mrs. Luce asserted, and declared she was confident that they would do it nationally.

Mrs. Luce said the Roosevelt administration had established a "charity government."

"Charity is what you are given when you don't get justice. Then you get doles, handouts, WPAism, special subsidies and special benefits to the favored and special groups within the economy."

She declared that government bureaucracy had become "one of the most unpopular anti-radical systems that had ever been set up in the nation."

Want "Real Opportunity"

"Today what all Americans want from the cradle to the grave is real opportunity—not the New Deal's false security. Today, what all Americans will demand is a victory which, in a post war America governed by just men and just laws, will guarantee us the free and ever extending economy of which this greatest of nations is capable.

"This is the challenge to the Republican party and I believe that the 1944 Republican party will meet it. It will become the majority party in the nation as you are in this state already."

Mrs. Luce said that she understood there was some question in Wisconsin about the "isolationists" and the "interventionists."

"If an isolationist is or was a man who wanted to stay out of the war, then I am an isolationist and so, I believe, was everybody in the United States before Pearl Harbor.

Hits Lack of Policy

"If we Republicans are going to be smeared because we refuse to accept Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy, we had better discover quickly what it is we are being smeared for. We had better examine Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy closely and at once, because if the New Deal is re-elected this is the issue it will be re-elected on.

"The New Deal is dead, so far as his reputation on the home front goes. It can only survive if it can convince the people that his foreign policy is and was sound.

"This it cannot do because the New Dealers had no positive foreign policy and has none now except that it is borrowed temporarily from our British cousins. While that is better than nothing, it is still, for the United States, second best.

Assails "Philosophy of Charity"

"Let us once and for all face this fact. The same phiosophy of charity as government which has inspired the New Deal at home will inspire the New Deal abroad.

"WPA at home will become WPA abroad. Washington bureaucracy will become world bureaucracy and all will be run overseas with the same juggernaut inefficiency with which it has been run at home.

"Above all, I have said that the time has come for the Republican party to stop defending itself against the name 'isolationist'—by development of the strong realistic common sense American foreign policy which will then become the foundation of a world peace policy that all nations can embrace because they can understand it."

Three Training Planes Crash In Louisville; One Dies, 8 Hurt

JUN 28 1943

Craft Dive Into Front Yards Within Two-Block Area. Three Civilian Among The Injured

[By the Associated Press]

Louisville, Ky., June 27—Three light training planes from near-by Bowman Field, army air base plummetted into front yards in an exclusive residential section of East Louisville this afternoon, killing one flyer and injuring five other airmen and three civilians.

The small planes of the type used in training glider pilots at the glider combat school at Bowman Field all fell within an area of two blocks.

Dead And Injured

Authorities at the field listed the dead flyer as Private (first class) John E. Stilley, 19, Rural Route 2, Kansas City, Mo.

The injured were Flight Officer Roy R. Lewis, Los Angeles, fractured skull, fractured jaw and leg injuries, condition critical; Flight Officer John A. Werner, Medford, Wis., fractured ankle; and Flight Officer William J. Hargis, Tulsa, Okla.; Private (first class) Marvin Woods, address unavailable, and Private (first class) Franklin Wolf, address unavailable, all minor injuries.

Into Living Room

Police listed the injured civilians as Mrs. R. E. Smith, multiple cuts and bruises; Miss Virginia Smith, her daughter, cuts and bruises, and Mrs. Ernest Finch, Sheboygan, Wis., sister of Mrs. Smith, bruises.

The women were injured when one of the falling planes crashed into the living room of the Smiths' third-floor apartment and then dropped to the ground.

The triple crash, which attracted several thousand persons to the scene, was believed to have been caused by a sudden and brief rain and wind storm which hit only a small section of the city, witnesses said.

Many other planes from Bowman Field in the air at the time were not endangered. Bowman Field announced an investigation would be made.

3 FLIERS KILLED IN BOMBER CRASH

Four Army Airmen Parachute to Safety in Vermont.

RANDOLPH, Vt., June 27—(AP) Three Army fliers were killed and seven others parachuted to safety today when a four-engined bomber crashed into heavy-wooded Fish hill and burst into flames two and one-half miles south of Randolph village, the First Service command announced.

The plane carried a ten-man crew and was on a mission over Vermont, Army officials said. They reported the crash occurred in the afternoon and said that names of the casualties were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Residents of the little Vermont village said the huge plane circled the neighborhood several times, losing altitude rapidly, and that they saw four men parachute from the ship.

The bomber crashed on Fish hill at 1:25 p.m., the base commander at Grenier field, N. H., said, adding that the cause of the accident was unknown.

NINE KILLED IN CRASH OF BOMBER IN MAINE

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., June 27 — (AP) A military board of inquiry today was investigating the crash of a twin-engined army bomber which yesterday took the lives of the five U. S. Army airmen aboard and four civilian farm workers at Caribou, five miles north of the Army air base here.

Col. R. Baez, Jr., commanding officer at the air base, said the board's findings would not be available for several days because of the detail involved and the necessity for questioning a number of witnesses.

The bomber was piloted by First Lieutenant Bertrand M. Robertson of Greenville Junction, son-in-law of Carl Rasmussen, on whose farm the hurtling plane landed.

JUN 28 1943

War Prisoners To Dig

Nevada, Mo., June 27 (AP)—Camp Clark officials reported today 250 Italian prisoners of war have contracted to dig potatoes at Courtney and Atherton, Mo., where 1,000 acres and 1,200 acres, respectively, await harvest labor.

SINGLE MANAGER FOR FOOD OUTPUT URGED BY HOOVER

Inflation Cannot Be Stopped Without Responsible Head, He Declares.

NEW YORK, June 27 — (AP) Former President Herbert Hoover declared today that "inflation in food prices cannot be stopped unless we have a single responsible head over the inseparable functions of food production, distribution, prices, rations, government purchases, imports and exports."

Mr. Hoover, the nation's food administrator during the first World war, said in a formal statement that "if we are to end this food chaos and stop inflation in food prices," Congress should pass at once the bill by Rep. Hampton P. Fulmer (D-S.C.) to consolidate all Federal agencies dealing with food problems.

Bar to Inflation

His statement follows:

"If we are to end this food chaos and stop inflation of food prices, the Congress should pass at once the Fulmer bill, which provides for consolidation of the conflicting agencies into an adequate food administration. The House Agricultural committee, by vote of members of both parties, reported the bill favorably.

"Nor should the action of Congress be deterred by misunderstanding of its purpose. No responsible person has proposed a food 'czar,' nor an angel Gabriel. What large sections of the country and the House Agricultural committee have demanded is a food administrator, acting within laws passed by Congress and under the President. We need a manager, not a 'dictator.'

"Nor is this a proposal of 'inflation.' Inflation in food prices cannot be stopped unless we have a single responsible head over the inseparable functions of food production, distribution, prices, rations, government purchases, imports and exports.

Economic Sense Disregarded

"Today these agencies conflict. They disregard the existing laws and economic sense, and in the end they produce scarcity and higher prices. The consolidation of these functions under a competent administrator would check rising prices, should reduce the danger of inflation by assuring more production from the farmers, the abolition of profiteering black markets, local famines, wastes and stoppages; and would end the confusion in the distribution system.

"Nor does anybody propose to deprive the people of lower incomes of their full food, but in fact, to get food to them—which is not happening in our seaboard cities today. For instance, there is abundant cattle on the range and no meat.

"All this can be accomplished without subsidies and all the sins and faults that lie in them. The continuation of this administrative chaos threatens the food to our cities, the food to our armies, the food to our Allies and the relief of post-war famine—in fact, the whole war effort."

NEW U. S. AIR BASES IN CHINA

Jap Leaders Are Quoted By Berlin As Fearing Raids Are Coming

JUN 28 1943

They Are Said To Be In Southeast Coastal Province Of Fukien

[By the Associated Press]

New York, June 27—The United States Air Force has established new air bases in Fukien province—a southeastern coastal province in China—that Japanese military leaders believe "undoubtedly are to be used for attacks against Japan," the German radio declared today.

"The Japanese press in the last few days has repeatedly indicated the possibility of air attacks, asking the population to be ready" and "air-raid-precaution exercises are held in many cities," said the broadcast recorded by the Associated Press.

U. S. Air Force Increased

The radio said that the Fukien province bases were established after "the destruction of American air bases in Chekiang and Kiangsi provinces in the course of the Japanese air offensive beginning in May, 1942."

It declared that the "American air force in China has been increased, probably via India" in response to appeals from the Chungking Government.

New York, June 27 (AP)—The British radio broadcast a Spanish report today saying "the Italian fleet has left for an unknown destination." The report, recorded by the Columbia Broadcasting System, quoted the Spanish newspaper Arriba.

"In spite of the mystery which surrounded this departure, the correspondent thinks that the fleet is preparing for offensive operations," the British radio added.

2 Merchant Ships Sunk By U-Boat In West Atlantic

New York, June 27 (AP)—The navy announced last week the sinking of two ships with a possible loss of fifty-seven lives in the Western Atlantic area — the first announcement of Allied merchant ship losses in those waters in nineteen days.

One, a United Nations merchant vessel, went to the bottom of the Caribbean Sea with two casualties and the other, of similar type, and of United States registry, went down off the United States East Coast.

What's Behind The War News

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.

The next few weeks may show that a "Hitler's choice"—albeit a hard one for him—was largely responsible for the present lull in the battle of the Atlantic.

There is no question that new escort systems and long-range air patrol have sent U-boat killings up, but it is doubtful that they are more than partly responsible for unmolested convoys.

To Hitler, the battle of the Mediterranean is far more urgent. It seems almost axiomatic that, during the weeks when Atlantic conditions have been so much improved, the enemy has been deploying his U-boats for two purposes—reconnaissance and actual defense of his Mediterranean coastline.

He knows he is going to be struck, and that the 250,000 square miles of water between the Balearics, Africa, Sicily-Sardinia and Marseilles—possibly but not necessarily coupled with the English channel—probably will decide that 1,000-year fate of Germany of which he once spoke so confidently.

Hitler knows that the Rhone valley offers a far better road to Berlin than does the Italian mainland, and that the Allies may ignore his weakened and disillusioned Axis partner in favor of coming to grips with him directly.

In spite of all the talk, there is not a great deal he can do about in on land, over and above what he has done. Coastal fortification takes time—time which he cannot be sure will be available. And an overwhelming proportion of the German troops available for the defense of western Europe must be tied to the English channel—tied by a quarter-million Canadians made utterly bloodthirsty by long training under wraps, plus formidable British and American ground armies supported by air forces which probably run into the millions.

Mixed Air Opposition

German air forces are so engaged in Russia and northwestern Europe that Allied air forays over the Mediterranean recently have been met by scattered defense squadrons made up of mixed German and Italian planes of various types — a sure sign of squadrons thrown together from the very dregs of Axis reserves in the area.

That Hitler is holding an air force in reserve to meet invaders is a foregone conclusion, but the submarine appears by all odds to be his first line of defense.

Marseilles, Toulon and the Italian bases must be full of them, and they are cruising in and out past Gibraltar constantly.

That they are not being heard from in ship sinkings is due to the fact that, in such a period, reconnaissance without revealing position is more important.

Thrilling Saga

When the story of our own submarine reconnaissance is told after this war it will be just as enthralling as anything dreamed by Jules Verne. There is no reason to doubt that the developers of the U-boat as both a strategical and tactical weapon are making the most of it.

On this basis, the battle of the Atlantic would seem to be only in a lull and, despite improved defensive measures, really to be won only with the winning of the battle of the Ruhr, of Wilhelmshaven and of Brest.

MOST OF THE BOMBS FELL IN THE NORTH SEA

THE GERMAN CLAIMS WERE BELIED BY YESTERDA.'S ALLIED COMMUNIQUES WHICH SAID THAT NORTHERN FRANCE WAS THE TARGET FOR SATURDAY DAYLIGHT FORAYS. AT A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND IT WAS DECLARED THAT FEW ENEMY FIGHTERS AND LITTLE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WERE ENCOUNTERED AS TARGETS WERE SOUGHT IN A FOUR-PLY ATTACK IN FRANCE, WITH OBJECTIVES OBSCURED BY HEAVY CLOUDS.

EIGHTH AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS SAID A FEW GROUPS ENCOUNTERED STRONG FIGHTER OPPOSITION, HOWEVER, AND SHOT DOWN A CONSIDERABLE NUMBER.

SOME HIGH-LEVEL BOMBER FORMATIONS ENCOUNTERED SUCH THICK CLOUDS OVER FRANCE THEY COULD NOT IDENTIFY THEIR TARGETS AND RETURNED WITH THEIR BOMB RACKS STILL LOADED, IT WAS DECLARED.

COL.CHARLES E.MERION, OF DETROIT, ONE GROUP COMMANDER, SAID HIS UNIT RAN INTO TOTAL CLOUD FORMATIONS AND ADDED "WE DID NOT DROP OUR BOMBS, FOLLOWING AN ARMY AIR FORCE POLICY OF NOT BOMBING INDISCRIMINATELY OVER FRANCE."

JUN 28 1943

HE SAID THEY SPOTTED 30 TO 40 ENEMY FIGHTERS WHICH REFUSED TO PRESS THE ATTACK.

TWO ENEMY PLANES WERE DESTROYED OVER FRANCE DURING THE NIGHT AND A THIRD ENEMY CRAFT WAS SHOT DOWN BY BRITISH FIGHTERS OFF THE SOUTHEAST COAST OF ENGLAND THIS MORNING, THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED.

AERIAL

LONDON, JUNE 27-(AP)-THE GERMAN RADIO ASSERTED TODAY THAT AN AMERICAN AIR FORCE ATTEMPT TO BOMB BREMEN BY DAYLIGHT WAS BEATEN BACK YESTERDAY WITH 26 BOMBERS SHOT DOWN.

"THEY WERE WARDED OFF AND HAD TO JETTISON THEIR BOMBS," THE BROADCAST SAID. IT WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. IT DECLARED

LONDON, FIRST ADD SIKORSKI BROADCAST X X X BROADCAST.

"IN EXPRESSING MY DEEPEST TRIBUTE TO THE ATTITUDE OF THESE TROOPS AND MY FULL CONFIDENCE IN THEIR COMMANDERS, I HEREBY STATE THAT THE POLISH ARMY IN THE MIDDLE EAST WILL FULFILL ITS DUTY TOWARD THE MOTHER COUNTRY," SIKORSKI SAID.

"IN VIEW OF THESE REALITIES, HOW RIDICULOUS IS THE SLANDEROUS ENEMY PROPAGANDA WHICH DARES TO MAINTAIN THAT THE POLISH ARMY IN THE EAST HAD REBELLED, STHAT IT IS DISINTEGRATING FOR THE LACK OF ARMS, AND THAT IT DOES NOT WISH AT ALL TO FIGHT."

JUN 28 1943

IN AN APPARENT REFERENCE TO THE BREAK IN RELATIONS BETWEEN THE SOVIET UNION AND POLAND, SIKORSKI SAID: "DETERMINATION TO SMASH THE FIRST ENEMY OF MANKIND ABOVE EVERYTHING ELSE HAS NOT ONLY BEEN MAINTAINED BUT EVEN STRENGTHENED. IT HAS NOT BEEN WEAKENED IN THE LEAST BY RECENT REGRETTABLE EVENTS IN THE CAMP OF THE UNITED NATIONS."

THE SOVIET HAD ACCUSED SOME POLISH COMMANDERS OF STALLING IN SENDING THE ARMY TO THE FRONT. THE ARMY WAS FORMED IN RUSSIA FROM THE DEFEATED ARMY OF POLAND'S 1938 DEBACLE."

3024-5451

LONDON, JUNE 27-(AP)-QUEEN MARY WILL OPERATE HER OWN VICTORY FACTORY ON THE ESTATE WHERE SHE HAS LIVED SINCE EARLY IN THE WAR.

SHE WILL PERSONALLY SUPERVISE ASSEMBLING OF ELECTRICAL PARTS IN BUILDINGS CONVERTED FROM CARPENTERS' AND WHEELWRIGHTS' SHOPS. THE QUEEN DECIDED UPON THIS AS A FURTHER PERSONAL CONTRIBUTION TO WAR WORK AFTER VISITING DOZENS OF FACTORIES.

WHEN SHE DISCLOSED THE PLAN TO WOMEN OF A NEARBY VILLAGE, SEVERAL VOLUNTEERED TO HELP. MEMBERS OF THE QUEEN'S HOUSEHOLD ALSO PLAN TO PARTICIPATE.

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 28-(AP)-THE GERMAN-CONTROLLED PARIS RADI REPORTED TODAY THAT RAF BOMBERS WERE OVER THE CONTINENT AGAIN LAST NIGHT, BUT GAVE NO DETAILS. THSSMROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

JUN 28 1943

LONDON, JUNE 27-(AP)-THE GERMAN-CONTROLLED VICHY RADIO SAID TONIGHT THAT "NUMEROUS SQUADRONS OF ANGLO-AMERICAN PLANES HAVE BEEN OVER FRANCE TODAY." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS RECORDED THE BROADCAST.

THE RADIO ADDED THAT THE ALLIES USED ALL TYPES OF PLANES FROM SINGLE SEATER FIGHTERS TO FOUR-ENGINED FORTRESSES.

FA419PEW

LONDON, JUNE 27-(AP)-FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MONTHS AN AIR RAID WARNING SOUNDED IN LONDON IN DAYLIGHT EARLY TONIGHT BUT THE ALL-CLEAR CAME ALMOST IMMEDIATELY AFTERWARD.

AN UNIDENTIFIED PLANE IN THE LONDON AREA CAUSED THE ALERT.

FA504PEW

BY LEO BRANNUM

A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION [illegible]

3024—5451

ENGLAND, [illegible] SUNDAY, JUNE 27--(AP)--THE "HARD LUCK H'DS" WHO SUFFERED HEAVY CASUALTIES IN EACH OF THE FIVE PREVIOUS RAIDS DIDN'T LOSE A SINGLE SHIP OR SUFFER A SINGLE CASUALTY IN THE DOUBLE-BARRELLED ASSAULT ON INDUSTRIAL TARGETS IN FRANCE YESTERDAY.

FLYING FORTRESS CREWS IN THIS STATION WHO LOST FRIDAY'S SIX BOMBERS IN [illegible] RAID IN NORTHWESTERN GERMANY PARTICIPATED IN THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE'S FOUR-PRONGED DAYLIGHT ATTACK ON TARGETS IN FRANCE.

JUN 28 1943

THEY SAID THAT ENCOUNTERED FEW ENEMY FIGHTERS AND LITTLE ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNFIRE AS THEY THUNDERED THROUGH HEAVY CLOUD FORMATIONS TO BOMB THEIR TARGETS. FIGHTER ESCORT MET THEM OVER FRANCE AND BROUGHT THEM HOME.

"IT WAS JUST A SUNDAY AFTERNOON RIDE," EXPLAINED MAJOR SATTIS E. PARKS OF ATLANTA, GA., SQUADRON LEADER AND PILOT OF THE FORTRESS "MADAMSTRO CAMBA." THAT SUMED UP THE GENERAL REACTION OF THE FLIERS HERE.

MOST CREWS SAID THAT THE CLOUD FORMATIONS THROUGH WHICH THEY DUMPED THEIR BOMBS PREVENTED OBSERVATION OF RESULTS BUT SERGEANT CHARLES J. KUKANSKI, OF GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., BALL TURRET

GUNNER ON THE "FDR'S RFD" PILOTED BY FIRST LIEUTENANT ILLIS C. CARLISLE OF HOUSTON, TEX., WAS ONE OF THE FEW WHO GOT A GOOD LOOK AT DAMAGE THROUGH THE RIFT IN THE CLOUDS FAR BELOW THE HIGH FLYING FORTRESSES.

"I SAW LOTS OF FIRES RAGING OVER BOTH TARGETS AS WE TURNED OFF TOWARD HOME," HE SAID, "WE REALLY SMACKED THOSE FACTORIES. I COULD SEE BOMBS DROPPED BY FORMATIONS BEHIND US STILL EXPLODING ALL OVER THE TARGET AREA.

KUKAWSKI WAS ELATED BECAUSE HE HAD SHOT DOWN HIS FIRST ENEMY FIGHTER, AN ME-109.

JUN 28 1943

SERGEANT A.P. TYLER OF HOLLYWOOD, CALIF., TURRET GUNNER ON CARLISLE'S BOMBER, DESCRIBED THE RAID AS "THE SOFTEST WE'VE HAD SO FAR."

REPORTS INDICATED, HOWEVER, THE FORTRESS FORMATIONS FLYING BEHIND HIS GROUP MAY NOT HAVE HAD SUCH AN EASY TIME. CREWS HERE SAID THAT ONLY 20 TO 30 FIGHTERS MADE HALF-HEARTED ATTEMPTS TO ATTACK THEM AND THEN CONCENTRATED ON BOMBER FORMATIONS BEHIND.

SERGEANT WILLIAM J. MOORE, OF PAWTUCKET, R.I., RADIO OPERATOR-GUNNER, SAID THAT HE FIRED ONLY THREE ROUNDS DURING THE ENTIRE RAID.

LIEUTENANT COLONEL MAURICE A. PRESTON OF TULARE, CALIF., STATION COMMANDER WHO PILOTED THIS GROUP'S LEADING BOMBER, HAD AN UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE DROPPING HIS BOMBS ON BOTH TARGETS. PRESTON SAID THAT ALL BUT TWO BOMBS STUCK IN THE BOMB BAY WHEN THE BOMBARDIER TRIED TO UNLOAD THEM ON AN AIRPLANE FACTORY. PRESTON THEN FLEW TO AN INDUSTRIAL TARGET WHERE THE CREW MANAGED TO DUMP THE BOMBS.

JUN 28 1943

OF THE TUCSON, ARIZONA, WAS PRESTON'S CO-PILOT.

THE FORTRESS "VERMOLLION" PILOTED BY FIRST LIEUTENANT MILTON D. WALLACE OF HOUSTON, TEX., MADE THE BOMB RUN WITH TWO MEN UNCONSCIOUS AS A RESULT OF THE FAILURE OF THE OXYGEN SYSTEM SUPPLYING WAIST GUNNER SERGEANT JOSEPH NATZ OF ST. LOUIS, MO., AND CALVIN G. RUSS, OF WILLIAMSPORT, PA.,

3024-5453

30.24—5453

DESCRIBING THE INCIDENT THE NAVIGATOR, SECOND LIEUTENANT JOSEPH A. FRIED OF EAU CLAIRE, WIS., SAID: "NUSS WAS OUT FOR HALF AN HOUR AND [illegible] KATZ FOR 10 MINUTES. I CARRIED EMERGENCY 'WALKAROUND' BOTTLES BACK THERE AND PLUGGED THEM INTO THEIR OXYGEN MASKS. THEY SOON REVIVED AND SUFFERED ONLY FROSTBITTEN HANDS AND FEET."

SECOND LIEUTENANT LEONARD D. BAXTER OF ALBANY, A NAVIGATOR, SAID HE SHOT DOWN AN ME-109.

JUN 28 1943

COL. CHARLES E. MERION, OF DETROIT, A GROUP COMMANDER WHO LED A UNIT INTO ACTION, SAID "WHEN WE REACHED THE TARGET AREA WE RAN INTO 10/10 CLOUDS, WHICH MEANS THEY WERE TOTAL.

"WE DID NOT DROP OUR BOMBS, FOLLOWING AN ARMY AIR FORCE POLICY OF NOT BOMBING INDISCRIMINATELY OVER FRANCE. WE SAW 30 TO 40 ENEMY FIGHTERS, BUT DIDN'T PRESS HOME THE ATTACK BY OUR GROUP."

LIEUT. CHARLES O. OHL, THE PILOT, OF SUMMIT HILL, PA., DECLARED "WE COULDN'T SEE A THING. WE DIDN'T DROP A SINGLE BOMB.

STAFF SERGEANT SYLVESTER DUDECK, OF PHILADELPHIA, A VETERAN OF 34 RAIDS WITH THE RAF BEFORE TRANSFERRING TO THE U.S. AIR FORCES, SAID THAT IN HIS POSITION AS TAIL-GUNNER OF THE FORTRESS "DORIS MAE" HE SHOT DOWN TWO OR OUT OF THREE GERMAN FIGHTERS WHICH CAME IN ON THE PLANE'S TAIL.

TECHNICAL SERGEANT PHILIP E. SCHMIDBLATT, OF MADISON, IND., THE TOP TURRET GUNNER, CLAIMED A JUNKERS-88 WHICH HE SAW BLOW UP IN MID-AIR, AND STAFF SERGEANT ALVINE E. RENFRO, OF HAZELHURST, MISS., THE WAIST GUNNER, CLAIMED A MESSERSCHMITT-109.

TWO GUNNERS ON THE FORTRESS "INFERNO", PILOTED BY CAPT.

JUN 28 1943

RAYMOND P. KETTELSON, OF CHICAGO, EACH CLAIMED A GERMAN FIGHTER, AND WALTER T. PARKS, OF MARION, N.C., SAID HE BAGGED A MESSERSCHMITT-109.

LIEUT. EDWARD S. MC GLYNN, THE NAVIGATOR, FROM BOSTON, SAID HE SAW AT LEAST ONE, AND POSSIBLY TWO, ENEMY FIGHTERS SHOT DOWN BY THEIR OWN FLAK AS THEY CLOSED IN ON THE FORTRESS.

AIG LAP THRU SEPTEMBER 0009 208AEW

A BRITISH PORT, JUNE 27-(AP)-A CONTINGENT OF REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE CANADIAN ARMY HAS ARRIVED IN BRITAIN AND HAS BEEN DISPERSED TO CAMPS IN THE SOUTHERN PART OF THE COUNTRY, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY. IT INCLUDED OFFICERS AND MEN FOR MOST BRANCHES OF THE SERVICE.

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 27-(AP)-THE ROME CORRESPONDENT OF THE SWEDISH NEWSPAPER DAGENS NYHETER REPORTED TODAY THAT THE ITALIANS ARE BLASTING 130 NEW AIR RAID SHELTERS INTO A MOUNTAIN NEAR NAPLES WHICH ARE DESIGNED TO ACCOMMODATE 250,000 PEOPLE.

PS1220AEW

CAIRO, JUNE 27-(AP)-MESSINA, THE SICILIAN FERRY TERMINAL ACROSS THE NARROW STRAIT THAT SEPARATES THE HUGE ISLAND FROM THE TOE OF ITALY, WAS ATTACKED FRIDAY NIGHT IN ANOTHER OF A SERIES OF ALLIED RAIDS, A MIDDLE EAST COMMAND WAR BULLETIN ANNOUNCED TODAY. ~~IT WAS THE THIRD SUCCESSIVE ASSAULT ON THE CITY.~~

(NAPLES WAS REPORTED BY THE ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND COMMUNIQUE TO HAVE BEEN RAIDED AGAIN. BROADCAST FROM ROME AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOC ATED PRESS, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID ALLIED PLANES CAUSED SLIGHT DAMAGE AT THAT MAJOR SUPPLY PORT.

JUN 28 1943

(WITHOUT CONFIRMATION FROM ALLIED QUARTERS, THE COMMUNIQUE DECLARED AXIS TORPEDO PLANES TORPEDOED ONE SHIP, LEFT A TANKER IN FLAMES AND DAMAGED 10 TRANSPORT VESSELS IN AN ATTACK ON A CONVOY IN THE SICILIAN STRAITS.)

DN634AEW

ROYAL AIR FORCE BOMBERS ACCOMPLISHED THE NIGHT ATTACK, STARTING FIRES NEAR OIL TANKS AND THE MAIN RAILWAY STATION IN THE CITY WHICH BY DAYLIGHT FRIDAY HAD BEEN POUNDED BY MASSED SQUADRONS OF FLYING FORTRESSES STAGING THEIR BIGGEST ATTACK YET STAGED IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

"FROM THESE AND OTHER OPERATIONS ALL OF OUR AIRCRAFT RETURNED SAFELY," THE COMMUNIQUE DECLARED.

AP SPECIAL BUDGET FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, JUNE 27

- - -

STRANGE KEEPSAKES

FOUND BY CENSORS

IN SOLDIER PACKAGEES

- - -

HUMAN SKULL AND

HAND GRENADES

AMONG SOUVENIRS

JUN 28 1943

- - -

BY HAROLD V.BOYLE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 26-(AP)-A HUMAN SKULL ROLLED OUT ON THE TABLE.

THAT WAS THE MOST UNUSUAL MEMENTO FOUND BY BASE CENSORS HERE WHOSE JOB IT IS TO SEARCH FOR CONTRABAND AMONG THE THOUSAND PACKAGES A DAY WHICH AMERICAN SOUVENIR-LOVING SOLDIERS ARE MAILING BACK TO THE HOME FOLK.

"BUT WE FIND EVERYTHING IN THEM FROM HAND GRENADES TO AIRPLANE PARTS," SAID LIEUT.MYRON STRENBERG OF ISHPEMING, MICH., WHO THINKS HIS CIVILIAN TALENTS AS A FOREST RANGER ARE SOMEWHAT ODDLY EMPLOYED AS A PARCEL INSPECTOR IN THE MILITARY CENSORSHIP BRANCH.

THE SKULL WHICH SOME G.I.JOE WANTED TO MAIL BACK TO THE UNITED STATES FOR AN OBSCURE REASON KNOWN ONLY TO HIMSELF WAS TURNED OVER FOR ANALYSIS TO CAPT.GEORGE G.SIMPSON, CURATOR OF FOSSIL MAMMALS IN THE AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY.

"IT ISN'T OLD ENOUGH TO BE PREHISTORIC AND IT ISN'T YOUNG ENOUGH TO BE MIXED UP IN A 'MISSING PERSONS' CASE," WAS THE VERDICT OF THE RED BEARDED LITTLE ANTHROPOLOGIST. "IT COULD BE ANYTHING FROM

3024-5455

30.24— 5455

100 TO 1,000 YEARS OLD OR MORE. PERHAPS A ROMAN LEGIONAIRE."

THE SKULL WAS WRAPPED BACK UP AND SENT ON ITS WAY--PASSED BY THE CENSOR.

THAT PROBLEM WAS OUT OF THE ORDINARY. GENERALLY THE TASK OF THE BASE CENSORS IS TO SEE THAT NO PACKAGES ENROUTE TO THE STATES CONTAIN MILITARY MAPS, AMERICAN ARMY EQUIPMENT, OR CAPTURED ENEMY DOCUMENTS WHICH MIGHT BE OF INTEREST TO THE INTELLIGENCE BRANCH.

"WE GET A LOT OF GERMAN HELMETS, BAYONETS, MAUSER RIFLES AND LUGER PISTOLS," SAID LIEUTENANT STRENBERG. "UNDER THE ARTICLES OF WAR, THIS MATERIAL BELONGS TO THE GOVERNMENT, NOT TO THE INDIVIDUAL SOLDIER, BUT WE USUALLY PASS SUCH THINGS AS INSIGNIA FROM GERMAN UNIFORMS AND MEDALS WHICH A LOT OF OUR BOYS GET FROM PRISONERS IN EXCHANGE FOR CIGARETTES."

"IF EVERYTHING THEY MAILED WENT THROUGH THERE'D BE ENOUGH GERMAN EQUIPMENT BACK IN THE UNITED STATES TO EQUIP HALF OF HITLER'S ARMY," SAID LIEUT.JOHN R.KIBLER OF 1911 16TH ST., ALTOONA, PA., ANOTHER PACKAGE CENSOR. "WE'VE FOUND EVERYTHING BUT A JEEP AND AN 88 MILLIMETER GUN."

JUN 28 1943

"ONE GUY DID TRY TO SEND THROUGH A LIGHT GERMAN MACHINEGUN," SAID STRENBERG. "I DON'T KNOW WHAT HE PLANNED TO USE IT FOR AFTER THE WAR."

THE LARGEST SINGLE ARTICLE MAILED BACK WAS A BICYCLE SHIPPED HOME BY SOME THOUGHTFUL SOLDIER WHO HEARD OF THE GASOLINE RATIONING. ONE OFFICER, A LITTLE IRKED BY A LETTER FROM HIS WIFE COMPLAINING ABOUT THE FOOD AND COFFEE RATIONING PROGRAM, SENT HOME A CAN OF "C" RATIONS AND A SMALL TIN OF ARMY COFFEE ALONG WITH A NOTE TO THIS EFFECT:

"I KNOW YOU ARE SUFFERING AT HOME AND I'VE SAVED OUT THIS TO HELP YOU. I DON'T WANT YOU TO HAVE TO SACRIFICE TOO MUCH."

"THAT WAS JUST THE OLD NEEDLE," LAUGHED STRENBERG. "BUT THE BOYS AREN'T KIDDING WHEN THEY MAIL ORANGES AND LEMONS AND EVEN PACKAGES OF A HALF DOZEN EGGS TO ENGLAND. THEY'VE REALLY HAD TO TIGHTEN THEIR BELTS THERE."

JUN 28 1943

MOST OF THE PACKAGES, HOWEVER, MERELY CONTAIN TOURIST TYPE SOUVENIRS--SANDALS, LEATHER GOODS, POSTCARDS, ARAB BLANKETS AND CHEAP NATIVE JEWELRY. ABOUT ONE-THIRD OF THOSE EXAMINED CONTAIN VIOLATIONS BUT IN PERHAPS MOST CASES THE SENDER HAS NO CONSCIOUS INTENTION OF EVADING REGULATIONS.

THE SOLDIER FOR WHOM THE CENSORS HAVE NOTHING BUT ILL WILL IS THE ONE WHO STICKS IN MORTAR SHELLS, ROUNDS OF AMMUNITION, HAND GRENADES AND ANTI-PERSONNEL MINES. THESE LITTLE "SOUVENIRS" USUALLY HAVE THEIR POWDER CHARGE REMOVED BUT MOST STILL CONTAIN FUSES AND IN ANY CASE ARE HARDLY MATERIAL TO BE PUT IN A SHIP'S HOLD WHERE THEY WOULD CONSTITUTE A GREAT FIRE MENACE.

"SO FAR WE'VE HAD NO CASUALTIES FROM THIS TYPE OF MATERIAL," SAID STRENBERG. "BUT IF IT LOOKS AT ALL DOUBTFUL TO US WE CALL IN A DEMOLITION EXPERT."

A FEW SOLDIERS WITH A SURPLUS OF GOVERNMENT TROUSERS, SHOES OR SHIRTS TRY TO MAIL THEM BACK FOR POST-WAR WEAR. UNCLE SAM CHEERFULLY TAKES BACK THIS PROPERTY WHICH HE CAN USE TO BETTER ADVANTAGE IN CLOTHING OTHER NEPHEWS OVER HERE.

MILITARY PERSONNEL CAN SEND BACK EXEMPT FROM CUSTOMS DUTIES GIFTS VALUED AT $50 OR LESS. THEY ARE REQUIRED TO WRITE THE CONTENTS ON THE OUTSIDE OF THE PACKAGE AND SUCH GIFTS AS CHAMPAGNE,

BRANDY OR BENEDICTINE USUALLY CARRY SUCH INNOCENT LABELS AS "FRUIT JUICE" OR "SNAKEBITE REMEDY."

A SOLDIER VOTED BY THE CENSORS AS THE MOST HONEST MAN IN UNIFORM SUBMITTED A PACKAGE INSCRIBED:

"WOOLEN UNDERWEAR WRAPPED AROUND BOTTLES OF WINE." ANOTHER PARCEL BORE THE CRISP NOTATION: "LADY'S UNMENTIONABLES."

"THEY WERE," SAID STRENBERG, JUST AS BRIEFLY.

PACKAGED IN WITH GERMAN BELTS, SWASTIKAS, ITALIAN POSTCARDS AND OTHER SMALL FRY SOUVENIRS IS A CONSIDERABLE MASS OF POETRY TURNED OUT BY AMERICAN SOLDIERS WHO ARE THE MOST VERSE-WRITING ARMY IN HISTORY.

JUN 28 1943

"IT ISN'T CENSORABLE," SAID LIEUTENANT KIBLER, SHAKING HIS HEAD. "BUT IT'S GENERALLY PRETTY TERRIBLE STUFF."

CONSIDERABLE OTHER WRITTEN MATERIAL FOUND IN THE PACKAGES, USUALLY LETTERS, HAS TO BE CHECKED BY THE CENSORS AND THE ONLY ONE TO BAFFLE THEM SO FAR WAS WRITTEN BY A SIOUX INDIAN WHO WAS TOO MUCH FOR HIS "PALEFACE" READERS. HIS LETTER HAD TO BE SENT BACK TO AMERICA FOR CENSORING.

MANY SOLDIERS ARE PACKING UP THE LOVE LETTERS THEY HAVE RECEIVED THE LAST SIX MONTHS AND ARE SHIPPING THEM HOME FOR SAFE KEEPING. THESE HAVE TO BE GONE THROUGH, TOO, OF COURSE, AND THAT'S ONE REASON LIEUTENANTS STRENBERG AND KIBLER THINK THEIR JOBS SHOULD BE TURNED OVER TO THE WAACS SO THEY THEMSELVES CAN JOIN FIRST-LINE COMBAT UNITS.

"IT'S JUST A BORE TO US," SAID KIBLER. "BUT THINK OF ALL THE FUN THOSE WAACS WOULD HAVE GOIM

THOSE WAACS WOULD HAVE GOING THROUGH THOSE LOVE LETTERS."

(END AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR AMS)

BilAEW

FLYING FORTRESS BASE NORTH AFRICA (AP)

NURSING THE PLANE OVER THE WATER BACK TO AFRICA WITH ALL THE MOTORS GIVING HIM TROUBLE, THE PILOT "GREASED IN" WITH A BELLY LWNDING WHICH HIS MATES FOUND "SMOOTHER THAN RIDING A JEEP."

BESIDES HUNTER, THE CREW INCLUDED LIEUT. JOHN E.ANDREWS OF 5739 NASSAU ROAD, PHILADELPHIA, THE NAVIGATOR; LIEUT. ELMER L. KIRKENDALL OF 429 SOUTH ST., STEUBENVILLE, O., BOMBARDIER; STAFF SERGT. KENNETH EDWARD TITUS OF 7712 STATE ST., HUNTINGTON PARK, CALIF; STAFF SERGT. CLARELY ISHAM OF 44 CHARLOTTE ST., BURLINGTON, VT; STAFF SERGT. JOHN J.TENIS OF WATERBURY, CONN; SERGT. EUGENE L. CHANTLEY OF DRY CREEK, W.VA; STAFF SERGT. LEWIS WALKER OF 221 AMORY, JAMAICA PLAIN, MASS., AND TECH.SERGT. JAMES E.O'BRIEN OF 4244 ALDRICH AVE., SOUTH MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

JUN 28 1943

STANDING AT A BIG TABLE WITH THE COMMANDING OFFICER AND INTELLIGENCE OFFICERS, HUNTER UNFOLDED THE GROUP'S STORY, INTERSPERSED WITH ADDITIONS BY HIS COMRADES.

"NOTHING MUCH HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO MESSINA," HE SAID. "IT WAS JUST ROUTINE. BUT ABOUT TEN MINUTES FROM THE TARGET QUITE A GANG OF FIGHTERS JUMPED OUR FORMATION--SO MAYBE--AND WE HAD OUR HANDS FULL RIGHT AWAY.

"FIRST A 20-MILLIMETER SHELL HIT THE NOSE--RIGHT BETWEEN ANDREWS AND KIRKENDALL--AND WENT OUT THE OTHER SIDE OF THE SHIP."

KIRKENDALL INTERRUPTED:

"YES, I'LL SAY. IT TOOK THE SEAT OUT OF MY PANTS."

3024-5457

30.24—5457

"THEN ANOTHER SHELL HIT THE NO. 3 ENGINE AND I FEATHERED IT," HUNTER CONTINUED. "WHEN WE WENT IN FOR THE BOMB RUN ALL GUNS WERE GOING. THEY CONTINUED COMING AT US WHILE WE WERE DROPPING OUR BOMBS AND JUST AS WE WERE CLOSING THE DOORS FLAK CAUGHT THE BOMB BAY AND PIERCED THE WINGS. I'M TELLING YOU IT WAS HOT."

SERGEANT TITUS EXPLAINED HOW HE GOT THE FIRST OF TWO PLANES DURING THE BOMB RUN.

"IT WAS A MESSERSCHMITT-109 AND I CAUGHT HIM SQUARE," HE SAID. "THE PILOT BAILED OUT. WHEN WE WERE RIGHT OVER THE TARGET--JUST A SECOND OR TWO LATER--OUR BALL TURRET GUNNER GOT ANOTHER. I SAW HIM HIT THE WATER."

JUN 28 1943

HUNTER TOOK UP THE STORY AGAIN:

"I GOT BACK IN FORMATION WITH ONE ENGINE STILL SHUT OFF AND FLEW ALONG PRETTY WELL ON THE DECK. THE FIGHTERS DROPPED OFF BEHIND AND WE PUSHED UP THE COAST UNTIL WE WERE OFF TRAPANI ABOUT 50 MILES.

"THEN ABOUT TEN OR 15 FOCKE WULF-190S AND MESSERSCHMITT-109S CAME SWINGING DOWN, THROWING AERIAL BOMBS AT THE PLANES AHEAD AND LETTING US HAVE IT WITH CANNONS AND MACHINE-GUNS. THEY PUT FOUR EXPLOSIVE SHELLS INTO THE COCKPIT--ONE HIT UNDER MY SEAT."

ANDREWS PICKED UP THE STORY:

"THE RADIO OPERATOR CONTINUED FIRING AND TRYING TO MAKE THE RADIO WORK SO HE COULD TELL THE PLANES AHEAD OF OUR PLIGHT. HE GOT ONE PLANE--I SAW IT GO DOWN.

"THE BALL TURRET GUNNER ALSO WOULDN'T LEAVE HIS GUNS AND HE GOT A MESSERSCHMITT 109. SEVERAL OF US WATCHED IT GO INTO THE WATER."

(EDITOR'S NOTE: APPROXIMATELY 100 WORDS AT THIS POINT OF THE DISPATCH WERE DELAYED IN TRANSMISSION.)

KIRKENDALL PUT IN ANOTHER WORD:

"YES, 250 MILES OF WATER WITH THE LIFE RAFTS SHOT FULL OF HOLES AND MAE WEST VESTS RIPPED UP. THAT WOULD HAVE BEEN THE END OF IT."

BUT THE FORTRESS LIVED UP TO ITS REPUTATION AND SLID AHEAD, ANDREWS SPELLING OFF HUNTER AT THE CONTROLS--ALTHOUGH HE WASN'T A PILOT AND HAD VIRTUALLY NO "STICK TIME." THEY SETTLED DOWN AT THE FIRST AIRPORT THEY SIGHTED AND HUNTER, UNABLE TO USE THE FLAPS AND WHEELS, WENT IN FOR A BELLY LANDING.

JUN 28 1943

"IT WAS A BEAUTY," ANDREWS PIPED UP. "WE WERE SHOOTING OFF EMERGENCY FLARES LIKE A MACHINEGUN SO THEY'D COME OUT WITH A CRASH-WAGON AND EVERYTHING, BUT HUNTER SLID HER IN SMOOTHER THAN RIDING IN A JEEP. IT WAS THE BEST CRASH LANDING I EVER SAW OR HEARD OF. AND BEFORE WE COULD CATCH OUR BREATH THE BALL TURRET GUNNER CLIMBED UP THROUGH THE DOME AND ACROSS THE TOP OF THE PLANE TO THE COCKPIT TO HELP US GET OUT. WHAT A GUY."

THE CREWMEN ESTIMATED THEY HAD BEEN HIT BY AT LEAST TEN ATTACKING PLANES. TITUS, WITH TWO PLANES TO HIS CREDIT, THOUGHT HE COULD HAVE GOT MORE IF HE HAD NOT RUN OUT OF SHELLS. ISHAM, THE ONLY GUNNER WHO MISSED GETTING A FIGHTER, CALLED HIMSELF "PRETTY UNLUCKY."

"THEY SEEMED TO STAY AWAY FROM ME," HE SAID. "I CERTAINLY PASTED A FEW BUT COULDN'T GET THEM TO DROP."

ANDREWS, WITH 27 MISSIONS TO HIS CREDIT, AND HUNTER, WITH 25, ERE A LITTLE UPSET OVER ONE POSSIBLE RESULT OF THEIR EXPERIENCE.

"THEY'RE TRYING TO SEND US TO A REST CAMP," THE NAVIGATOR COMPLAINED, IS EYES TWINKLING. "CAN YOU TIE THAT?"

1943

87TH AFRICA (add)

MEANWHILE BELATED RETURNS BOOSTED TO 25 THE NUMBER OF ENEMY FIGHTERS DESTROYED BY FORTRESS GUNNERS DURING FRIDAY'S ATTACK ON MESSINA. TWO OF SIX ADDITIONAL VICTORIES ANNOUNCED WERE CREDITED TO TECH.SERGT.GENE W.ROYSE OF 2645 FAIRBANKS AVE., GARY, IND., WHO DESTROYED A PAIR OF FOCKE-WULF-190S.

AMONG OTHER SUCCESSFUL GUNNERS WERE SERGT.MARION A.ALLEY OF EAST ST.LOUIS, ILL., AND TECH.SGT.N.DUNCAN OF ELLINGTON, ME. ALLEY GOT A MESSERSCHMITT 109 AND DUNCAN A FOCKE WULF-190.

ONE FORTRESS CREW ALONE ACCOUNTED FOR SEVEN ENEMY SHIPS, WHICH WERE INCLUDED IN THE ORIGINAL 19 REPORTED DESTROYED.

JUN 28 1943

OF THIS STRAIGHT-SHOOTING CREW, STAFF SERGT. KENNETH E.TITUS OF 7712 STATE ST., HUNTINGTON PARK, CALIF., GOT A MESSERSCHMITT 110 AND A FOCKE WULF AND STAFF SERGT. JOHN J.TENIS OF WATERBURY, CONN., CLAIMED TWO ME-109S. ONE VICTORY EACH WAS CREDITED TO SERGT.EUGENE L. CANTLEY OF DRY CREEK, W.VA., STAFF SERGT.LEWIS WALKER OF 221 AMERY ST., JAMAICA PLAIN, MASS., AND TECH.SERGT.JAMES E.O'BRIEN OF 4244 ALDRICH AVE., SOUTH MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. ALL THE LATTER THREE PLANES WERE ME-109S.

XM1232PEW

NEW DELHI, INDIA, JUNE 27-(AP)-RAF BLENHEIM BOMBERS SMASHED YESTERDAY AT JAPANESE POSITIONS AT INDAINGGYI, NEAR KALEMYO, FILLING THE TARGET AREA AND THE TRENCH SYSTEM OUTSIDE THE NORTHWEST BURMA TOWN WITH EXPLOSIVES, A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

THE BOMBING WAS FOLLOWED BY A LOW-LEVEL MACHINE-GUN ATTACK, THE WAR BULLETIN SAID, AND ALL OF THE CRAFT RETURNED SAFELY TO THEIR BASE.

DN354AEW

Australia (add) xx airfields

THE DECORATIONS WENT TO THE FOLLOWING:

LIEUTENANTS HUGH L. TURK, JR., 968 VIRGINIA AVE.) FOLLANSBEE, W.VA., FOR FLIGHTS FROM APRIL 1-24; JOHN A.MANN, (R.F.D.) WILSON, N.Y., JAN. 19-31; 2ND LIEUT. JOHN P.FAIRLEY, (2917 SEMINARY AVE.) RICHMOND, VA., DEC. 14, 1942, TO JAN. 5, 1943;

STAFF SGT. GILLMAN GILBERTSON, (CAMPBELL AVE.) VILLNAR, MINN., FEB. 28-APRIL 6; SGT. NATHAN B.PRINCE, WENHAM, MASS., OCT. 18, 1942, TO MARCH 25, 1943; SGT. JOHN E.PUTZMAN, (60 CHAMBERLIN ST.) MELLSVILLE (CORRECT) N.Y., MARCH 4-APRIL 23;

PFC LOUIS B.GARDINER, (1604 THE TERRACES) BALTIMORE, MD., MARCH 5-APRIL 29; PVT. JOHN V.BALLANTINE, (173 VERNON ST.) WORCESTER, MASS., FEB. 1-MARCH 11.

SPECIAL SERVICES

OFFICERS BUILD UP

MORALE IN JUNGLES

---

PROVIDE MOVIES,

LIBRARIES AND

LATEST SONG HITS (500)

---

JUN 28 1943

BY VERN HAUGLAND

AN ADVANCED BASE SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 18 (DELAYED) (AP)-OUT IN THE FORWARD AREAS OF THIS JUNGLE WAR, WHERE THERE AREN'T ANY SODA FOUNTAINS, BEER HALLS OR WHITE WOMEN--OUT WHERE EVEN THE AMERICAN RED CROSS HASN'T THE FACILITIES TO OPERATE--THE ARMY'S SPECIAL SERVICES OFFICERS HAVE TAKEN OVER.

MANY OF THE OFFICERS ARE FORMER COLLEGE ATHLETES OR SPORTS DIRECTORS

3024-5459

30.24 — 5459

OR COACHES.

LIET.HAROLD M.PETERSON, OHIO STATE GRADUATE AND A FORMER SANDUSKY, OHIO, HIGH SCHOOL COACH, PERSONIFIES THEM.

WHEN THE FIGHTER GROUP TO WHICH HE IS ATTACHED WAS FLOWN ACROSS THE OWEN STANLEY MOUNTAINS AND INSTRUCTED TO CARVE ITS SQUADRON CAMPS OUT OF THE JUNGLE, PETERSON'S FIRST TASK WAS TO SET UP A CANTEEN WHERE THE MEN COULD BUY CANDY, SOAP AND OTHER SUPPLIES.

LIEUTENANT PETERSON LEARNED THE MEN HAD LITTLE FOR DIVERSION EXCEPT PLAYING CARDS, A FEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES. HE CALLED UPON ANOTHER SPECIAL SERVICE UNIT. SOON HE HAD ESTABLISHED LIBRARIES FOR EACH SQUADRON.

HE ARRANGED FOR FREQUENT SHOWINGS OF NEW MOTION PICTURES, AND PUT INTO OPERATION A RADIO STATION WHICH BROADCASTS ENTERTAINMENT BY MEN WITHIN THE GROUP AS WELL AS NEW POPULAR RECORDINGS. A PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM IS USED TO GET MEN UP--WITH SWING RECORDS--IN THE MORNING AND TO PROVIDE MUSIC AT MEAL TIMES. THE MEN KEEP UP WITH THE NEW TUNES IN THE STATES, AND ARE FROM SIX MONTHS TO A YEAR AHEAD OF AUSTRALIA ON THE NEW SONGS AND MOVIES.

AN ATHLETIC PROGRAM ARRANGED SO AS NOT TO REQUIRE TOO MUCH PHYSICAL EXERTION--NEW GUINEA IS HOT AND HUMID THE YEAR AROUND--HAS FLOURISHED MORE RAPIDLY THAN THE QUICK-GROWING JUNGLE ITSELF. VOLLEYBALL, TABLE TENNIS, BADMINTON AND SOFTBALL ARE FAVORITES. A BASEBALL LEAGUE IS IN FULL OPERATION.

OTTAWA, JUNE 27-(AP)-THREE UNITED STATES CONGRESSMEN ARRIVED HERE TODAY TO JOIN IN INFORMAL DISCUSSIONS WITH PARLIAMENTARY DELEGATES FROM THE UNITED KINGDOM, AUSTRALIA, NEW ZEALAND AND BERMUDA. THE CONFERENCES, IN WHICH CANADIAN MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT ALSO WILL TAKE PART, ARE AIMED AT "IMPROVED INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING."

THE ARRIVING CONGRESSMEN WERE REPRESENTATIVES SOL BLOOM (D-N.Y.); CHARLES A.EATON (R.-N.J.); AND JOHN M. VORYS (R-O). THEY JOINED SENATOR TOM CONNALLY (D-TEX), CHAIRMAN OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE; SENATOR WARREN AUSTIN (R-VT.) AND SENATOR H.H.BURTON (R-O).

THE THREE SENATORS ARRIVED HERE YESTERDAY AND SPENT THE WEEK-END AT THE SEIGNIORY CLUB, MONTEBELLOE, QUE., WITH MEMBERS OF THE EMPIRE PARLIAMENTARY DELEGATIONS, WHO HAVE BEEN IN OTTAWA FOR THE PAST FEW DAYS.

JUN 28 1943

AT THE SEIGNIORY CLUB LAST NIGHT, THE DOMINION OF CANADA BRANCH OF THE EMPIRE PARLIAMENTARY ASSOCIATION TENDERED THE DELEGATES A DINNER AT WHICH ARTHUR G.SLAGHT; CHAIRMAN OF THE CANADIAN GROUP AND LIBERAL MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT FOR PARRY SOUND, PRESIDED. SLAGHT WELCOMED THE DELEGATES, WITH A SPECIAL WORD FOR THE NEWLY-ARRIVED AMERICANS, AND SENATOR CONNALLY REPLIED.

THE UNITED STATES MEMBERS WILL RETURN TO WASHINGTON TUESDAY. THE CONGRESSMEN WERE TO HAVE ARRIVED YESTERDAY WITH THE SENATORIAL GROUP BUT THEY WERE DELAYED IN WASHINGTON BY CONGRESSIONAL DEBATE ON THE ANTI-STRIKE BILL.

MQ-TA1011PEW

THERE'S MUSIC AGAIN
IN LENINGRAD
- - -
WAR STILL IS CLOSE
BUT CITY'S HEART IS LIGHTER
- - -
U.S. SUPPLIES COMING THROUGH THIN
LIFELINE (300)

JUN 28 1943

- - -
BY EDDY GILMORE
ASSOCIATED PRESS RUSSIAN CORRESPONDENT

(UNDATED)-LENINGRAD RECEIVES A SLOW BUT STEADY TRICKLE OF AMERICAN GOODS THROUGH THE THIN LIFELINE THAT RUSSIA'S HEROIC CITY MAINTAINS WITH THE OUTSIDE WORLD.

ONE OF THE LAST RUSSIANS I TALKED TO BEFORE LEAVING THE SOVIET UNION THE OTHER DAY WAS A YOUNG RED ARMY SOLDIER ON LEAVE FROM THE LENINGRAD GARRISON THAT HAS THRILLED THE WORLD WITH ITS DEFENSE AGAINST THE LARGE GERMAN ARMY HAMMERING AT ITS FRONT AND BACK DOORS SINCE THE EARLY DAYS OF THE WAR.

OUR MEETING WAS STRICTLY AMERICAN. WE WERE ON A RAILWAY TRAIN AND LOOKING ONE ANOTHER UP AND DOWN LIKE TWO TRAVELLING SALESMEN WOULD LOOK ONE ANOTHER UP AND DOWN.

I TOOK A CIGARET FROM MY POCKET--AN AMERICAN CIGARET THAT MAJOR JOHN WALDRON, THE LEASE-LEND DOCTOR IN MOSCOW HAD GIVEN ME.

"AMERICAN CIGARET?" I ASKED, OFFERING HIM ONE.

THE RED ARMY MAN'S BROAD RUSSIAN FACE BEAMED.

"NO, THANK YOU," HE SAID, "I HAVE ONE."

"BUT NOT AN AMERICAN CIGARET" I ANSWERED.

"OH, YES, I HAVE," HE CAME BACK, "FOR I COME FROM LENINGRAD."

HE DIPPED INTO THE PROPER POCKET OF HIS BROWN JACKET AND PULLED OUT NOT ONE, BUT TWO PACKAGES OF AMERICAN CIGARETS.

"YOU TAKE ONE," HE SAID, "I'VE GOT MORE THAN YOU HAVE."

THEN IVAN IVANOVICH DUKOV AND I SAT THERE AND TALKED ABOUT LENINGRAD--THE GREAT CITY OF THE RUSSIAN NORTH. PETER THE GREAT'S CITY. THE BIRTHPLACE OF THE WORKERS REVOLUTION. THE CITY OF THE BEAUTIFUL WHITE NIGHTS WHICH, UNDER NAZIS GUNS AND BOMBS AND SOMETIMES MACHINE GUNS, HAS OFTEN BEEN A CITY OF ROARING FIRES, BLOOD, SORROWS, SACRIFICE AND HEROISM.

IVAN IVANOVICH MADE A POINT HERE.

JUN 28 1943

"NOT ONLY NIGHTS" HE SAID, "BUT DAYS TOO. THE HISTORY OF LENINGRAD WILL BE ONE OF THE GREAT HISTORIES OF THE CITIES OF THE WORLD. WHILE THE SOLDIERS HELD THE FRONT LINES, THE PEOPLE OF LENINGRAD HELD THE SECOND LINE--THE FACTORY LINE."

BETWEEN LONG DRAWS ON HIS AMERICAN CIGARETS, THE RED ARMY MAN TALKED:

"I HAVE SEEN DAYS," HE SAID, "WHEN THE LUFTWAFFE SENT WAVE AFTER WAVE OF BOMBERS AGAINST OUR CITY. THE PEOPLE WERE JUST GOING TO THE FACTORIES WHEN THE FIRST PLANES CAME. THEY DID NOT TURN BACK. THEY KEPT ON TO THE FACTORIES. AND AS THEY BEGAN WORKING MORE PLANES CAME. AND ALL DAY LONG PLANES CAME. AND ALL DAY LONG THE WORKERS WORKED. AND AT NIGHT WHEN THEY STARTED BACK FOR HOME THERE WERE MORE PLANES. AH, MY FRIEND, THERE WAS SO MUCH OF THIS."

HE TOLD HOW IT WAS WHEN FOOD GOT VERY LOW. HOW IT WAS WHEN THE FUEL RAN LOW AND BOMBINGS RAN HIGH AND SCHOOLS WENT UNDER GROUND. HOW STREET CAR RAILS WERE RIPPED UP TO BE MADE INTO BULLETS AND SHELLS. HOW ENEMY BOMBS AND SHELLS HIT CERTAIN BUILDINGS AND HOW THE BUILDINGS ROSE AGAIN TO CONTINUE TO PRODUCE.

IVAN IVANOVICH TOLD OF A WOMAN HE KNEW WHO LOST TWO SONS ON THE

3024-5461

FRONT BEFORE THE CITY. HER HUSBAND DIED IN A FACTORY FROM A GERMAN BOMB. AND SHE AND THE WIFE OF ANOTHER SON KEPT THE HOME FIRES BURNING--AMONG THE OTHER THINGS THE GERMANS WERE KEEPING BURNING.

LENINGRAD HOLDS A DEEP PLACE IN THE HEART OF EVERY CITIZEN OF THE SOVIET UNION. IT BEARS THE NAME OF THEIR BELOVED REVOLUTIONARY LEADER. IT IS A CITY WHICH ALWAYS HAS BEEN ASSOCIATED WITH RUSSIAN CULTURE. WITH MUSIC. WITH LETTERS.

JUN 28 1943

LENINGRAD LIFE--DESPITE THE GERMANS AT THE FRONT DOOR--IS NORMAL AGAIN, OR VERY NEAR NORMAL. THE THEATERS ARE OPEN. THE MOVIES SHOW CURRENT PICTURES. THE PEOPLE GO TO FOOTBALL GAMES. ONLY RECENTLY THE LENINGRAD TEAM BEGAN A TOUR THROUGH THE SOVIET UNION PLAYING OTHER CITIES.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE SUFFERED IN LENINGRAD--ESPECIALLY IN THE DAYS WHEN IT WAS BLOCKADED. BUT THE BLOCKADE HAS BEEN BROKEN, ALTHOUGH IT HAS NOT BEEN REMOVED.

IVAN IVANOVICH, OF THE LENINGRAD GARRISON, TALKED ABOUT SOME OF THE AMERICAN FOOD WHICH HAS REACHED CITY. HE CALLED OFF NAMES OF AMERICAN CANNED GOODS, NAMES THAT SEEMED MORE FAMILIAR TO HIM, IN FACT, THAN THEY DID TO ME.

"I DON'T MEAN WE HAVE BEEN LIVING ENTIRELY ON YOUR FOOD," HE SAID, "FOR THAT IS NOT RIGHT. YOU REMEMBER HOW THE PEASANTS AND COLLECTIVE FARMERS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE SOVIET UNION SENT US IN FOOD?"

THE RED ARMY MAN TOLD HOW THIS FOOD MOVED IN THROUGH THE LONG DARK NIGHTS OF WINTER. HOW RED ARMY MEN, AND CITIZENS OF LENINGRAD AND OTHER CITIES, BROUGHT IT IN UNDER THE GERMAN NOSES, BY SLEDGES, ON THEIR BACKS AND SHOULDERS. OVER THE ICE OF THE NEVA AND THE NEARBY LAKES.

"IT IS SO NICE TO AGAIN HEAR MUSIC IN THE STREETS OF LENINGRAD," SAID IVAN IVANOVICH. "WE HAVE MANY CONCERTS NOW. THE CONSERVATORY OPERATES AGAIN. PEOPLE PLAY MUSIC ON THE LONG SUMMER NIGHTS. OH, YES, IT IS SOMETIMES TO THE ACCOMPANIMENT OF THE AIR RAID SIREN, OR A SHELL BURST, BUT THERE IS MUSIC AGAIN. AND, IN MANY PLACES THERE IS LAIGHTER. IT IS HARD TO KEEP THE RUSSIAN FROM LAUGHING, EVEN THOUGH HE MAY BE HIDING MANY SORROWS."

30.24 -5461

IVAN IVANOVICH SAID HE WANTED TO MAKE ANOTHER POINT ABOUT LENINGRAD.

"IT IS THE MOST LITERARY CITY IN THE WORLD," HE SAID, FINALLY TAKING ONE OF MY AMERICAN CIGARETS.

"YOU MEAN MORE SO THAN NEW YORK, OR LONDON, OR THAN PARIS WAS?" I ASKED HIM.

"MUCH MORE SO," HE SAID, "FOR EVERY CITIZEN AND EVERY SOLDIER OF LENINGRAD IS A POTENTIAL AUTHOR. EVERYONE HAS A PERSONAL HISTORY. ONE FULL OF HIGH EXCITEMENT, LIFE AND DEATH."

IVAN SAID THAT SOMEDAY SOMEONE--A RUSSIAN--WOULD PUT THEM ALL TOGETHER.

"THAT," I TOLD HIM, "IS A BOOK I WANT TO READ."

JUN 28 1943

"THAT," HE SAID, "WILL BE A BOOK THAT EVERYONE WILL READ."

JR546AEW

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ITALIAN SENATOR COUNT EDUARDO PIOLA-CASSELLI ON SUNDAY DEMANDED THAT ALL CITIZENS OF THE UNITED NATIONS BE FORBIDDEN TO ENTER ITALY FOR 100 YEARS AFTER THE END OF THE WAR, ACCORDING TO A ROME DISPATCH BROADCAST BY THE BERLIN RADIO.

THIS PROHIBITION, SAID THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, "SHOULD BE A MORAL REPRISAL AGAINST THE TERRIBLE BOMBARDMENT OF ITALIAN CITIES."

COUNT PIOLA-CASSELLI IS A FORMER JUSTICE OF THE ITALIAN SUPREME COURT AND DELEGATE TO THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS ASSEMBLY.

PS1217AEW

NEW YORK S

MONDAY, JUNE 28-(AP)-THE BRITISH RADIO QUOTED AN OFFICIAL SWEDISH ANNOUNCEMENT TODAY THAT THE SWEDISH MOTORSHIP VENETSIA HAD BEEN TORPEDOED AND SUNK.

JUN 28 1943

THE SWEDISH ANNOUNCEMENT, IN A BROADCAST HEARD HERE BY CBS, DID NOT GIVE THE LOCATION OF THE SINKING, BUT IT WAS SAID THAT THE CREW, ALL OF WHOM WERE SAVED, WERE TAKEN TO RIO DE JANEIRO.

U.S. Planes Hit Nazi Sub Base At St. Nazaire

SECOND SQUADRON BLASTS AIRDROME USED BY GERMANS

Big Force of Flying Fortresses Carry Out Two Attacks on France.

SIX BOMBERS LOST

Gasoline, Ammunition Dumps Set Afire in Attack at Beaum[illegible]

R.A.F. HITS CONVOY

Two Axis Vessels Sur[illegible] Four Others Damaged [illegible] Channel.

LONDON, Tuesday, June 2[illegible]

(AP) American Flying Fortresses blasted the U-boat pens at St. Nazaire on the Bay of Biscay coast of France and an enemy airdrome at Beaumont-le-Roger in Normandy late yesterday and then R.A.F. bombers roared across the channel early this morning to carry the mightiest aerial onslaught of the war into its 11th day.

The daylight attacks on two targets described as "important" by the U. S. Army's European theater headquarters followed a forenoon blow at Axis shipping by light bombers of the R.A.F., which sank two German vessels, forced a third to be beached and inflicted serious damage on three others.

Airfield Set Ablaze

Making their first assault of the war on Beaumont-le-Roger, 30 miles southwest of Rouen, the four-engined heavyweights of the 8th U. S. Air force set huge fires on an airfield used by enemy fighter planes. It was the ninth American raid on the submarine lair at St. Nazaire.

The weather was described by the Eighth Air force headquarters as "designated for high-level precision bombings." Gasoline and ammunition dumps were believed set afire at Beaumont-le-Roger, which is rated as one of the largest fighter airdromes in France, and smoke could be seen rising from the field 100 miles away.

The U. S. communique issued this morning well after midnight, said six bombers failed to return for the double-barreled attack, the third blow at targets within Hitler's continental fortress by American fliers in four days.

The bulletin, which described the St. Nazaire raiders as a "large formation" and the attackers of Beaumont-le-Roger as a "strong force," said one of the fleets bumped into intense flak and some fighter opposition and destroyed a number of enemy planes.

Meet Light Opposition

At one base, however, fliers back from St. Nazaire reported the lightest fighter and anti-aircraft opposition ever encountered at that objective.

"Some Frenchman must have pulled the trigger on all those flak guns before we got there," said one Fortress pilot who reported seeing a heavy anti-aircraft barrage filling the air ahead of him although there were no planes there.

"They must have shot all their flak at groups ahead of us," said another flier, back from his fifth raid on St. Nazaire.

Instead of the usual enemy fighter formations of 50 to 100 planes, the group from one base said no more than 25 enemy craft came up to offer a challenge and it lasted only 15 minutes.

Supported By Fighters

U. S. Thunderbolts and R.A.F. Spitfires carried out supporting operations, rounding out a day which underscored the Allies' aim to step up the aerial bombardment of fortified Europe by 45 per cent before the end of July.

R.A.F. Typhoons struck at railway ground targets in Belgium during the afternoon and later other Typhoons with fighter escort attacked the air field at Morlaix, France. One plane failed to return.

Earlier in the day Typhoons and Hurricanes caught five of Hitler's coastal vessels off the Dutch coast and scattered them with the loss of one plane, knocked down by anti-aircraft fire.

The daylight assault followed the ninth consecutive night of offensive operations over the continent by R.A.F. bombers. This time, however, the heavyweights remained at home and squadrons of speedy Mosquitos ripped into enemy airports and railways deep in France.

Five Ships in Convoy

The Air ministry said the five ships in the Nazi convoy, sailing one behind the other, were attacked in waves and the last wave of Typhoons arrived in time to catch two additional vessels which appeared to be tugs attempting to aid the others.

Despite the intense flak, the first wave closed in to 500 or 600 yards with guns blazing. An explosion on one 800-ton ship was followed by yellow flames, apparently from ammunition, and the vessel was beached. A 600-ton ship was seen to sink in ten minutes and by the time the second wave of planes arrived another 600-ton craft had disappeared.

The two remaining vessels in the convoy were at a standstill when the last wave of planes arrived, but the two smaller craft ploughing to their assistance were raked with gunfire and one was left burning.

A German communique said that the convoy attack was carried out by 60 British bombers and fighters of which nine were shot down and that the ships reached their destination with only minor damage.

Rail Yards Bombed

In the night assaults, the Air ministry said, the Mosquitos scored hits on two railway yards, shot up locomotives and straddled R-boats off Cherbourg with bombs.

Meanwhile, official and unofficial sources pointed to impending new blows in the campaign to bomb the Axis out of the war.

At an American base in Britain, Maj. Gen. Henry F. Miller, head of the U. S. Army's 8th air force service command, declared that "we are definitely set for a great new flow of planes to this theater for the increased offensive against Germany."

"We have plenty of bombs, including 4,000-pounders," Gen. Miller said. "Our supplies are more than adequate. And we are ready to meet demands for a step-up by 45 per cent of the bomb load on Germany if called for."

This reference coincided with Washington reports that the Allies are planning a 45 per cent increase in the tonnage for the offensive by the end of next month.

At the same time, military observers here forecast a new series of air blows at Germany's strained railway system as a possible follow-up to the devastating bombardment of Germany's industrial Ruhr.

This suggestion came as Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering was reported being lured into risking any German air force reserves he may have been holding back in a desperate attempt to save the Ruhr from a knockout blow.

The Air ministry also announced today that 130 acres in the center of the German industrial city of Bochum were devastated in the R.A.F. raid on the night of June 12.

"Nine industrial establishments, three of them of the highest priority, were affected by the attack," the report said. "Seven hundred buildings have been destroyed or seriously damaged."

The photographs on which the report was based were taken before Bochum, fourth largest town in the Ruhr, was hit again June 25.

VESUVIUS GUIDES R.A.F. BOMBERS IN ATTACK ON NAPLES

JUN 29 1943

Block-Busters Smash Railroad Yards at Italy's Main Harbor.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 28 — (AP) R.A.F. Wellington bombers, using the red glow of Vesuvius as their beacon, raided Naples Saturday night in a swift and violent 15-minute attack that cascaded block-buster bombs on communications targets and set many fires leaping in that main Italian port.

Driving through powerful anti-aircraft fire, the Wellingtons were aided in their navigation by the reflection of Vesuvius' volcanic fire in the dark sky.

They first outlined their targets with incendiaries and then let go with two-ton bombs which threw up red and green flashes among the spreading flames in the freight yard area of the city.

Enemy opposition was officially described as heavy, and the bombers had to weave in and out of searchlight clusters grouped in the cone defense system.

However, in this raid and in coastal actions in defense of Allied shipping from prolonged Axis air attack the total Allied losses were two planes against eight Axis planes destroyed Saturday and Saturday night by R.A.F. coastal airforce fighters and naval gunfire.

FLYERS FIND DEFENSE LIGHT

St. Nazaire Raiders Report Opposition Less Than On Earlier Attack

By GLADWIN HILL

[Associated Press Correspondent]

At a United States Bomber Station in Britain, Tuesday, June 29—The Germans' newly touted anti-aircraft and fighter defenses wern't in evidence at St. Nazaire yesterday, flyers of the veteran "Boomerang Boys" group reported after coming back once more intact.

Experienced in four or five forays against the Nazi submarine base a few months ago—which was notorious for its heavy flak, and "big league" fighter oppositions—these crews appraised this attack as the easiest of any of them. Other crews apparently met more opposition, however.

Barrage In Empty Air

"Some Frenchmen must have pulled the trigger on all those flak guns before we got there," said Lieut. Sam Ellenberger, of Pennsylvania Furnace, Pa., pilot of the Fortress Sandman the Third.

Ellenberger wa wearing his "lucky" cream-colored sports cap that has seen him safely through four raids.

"There was a heavy barrage of flak ahead of us into the empty air—we couldn't see any ships in that area at all and I can't imagine what they were shooting at—but when we got there we didn't see a thing," Ellenberger said.

Only 25 Fighters

"They must have shot all their flak at groups ahead of us. It was nothing like before," said Lieut. Fred R. Gilbert, of Bellflower, Cal., pilot of the Fortress "Target For Tonight." He was on his fifth flight against St. Nazaire.

The force of enemy fighters assailed this section of the Fortress fleet for only about fifteen minutes after they had dropped their bombs. They numbered only twenty-five by the highest estimate, as contrasted to swarms of fifty to one hundred swooping "suicide" daredevils who zoomed up against much smaller American formations in previous raids.

1943

3024 - 5463

30.24 - 5463

"I didn't think we were going to be attacked at all," then eight queued up out there and came straight through the formation, but they didn't seem to be able to do much damage," Gilbert commented.

"The fighters weren't bad at all. They tried to pull a smoke screen on us—they had smoke pots going in the harbor."

Lieut. Robert Metcalf, of Sacramento, bombardier in the group's lead ship, described the attack this way: "The weather was nice and clear and you could see the target (submarine pens) very well. At least five of our bombs looked like they went right in there and I think I saw a direct hit on it."

U. S. BOMBERS HIT AIRFIELDS NEAR ATHENS

JUN 29 1943

Elevsis, Hassani Bases Raided By Liberators. None Are Lost

Leaflets With Message From Roosevelt Also Are Dropped

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, June 28—In a new attack on Axis-held Greece, American Liberator bombers of the Middle East Command have dropped tons of bombs on the Athens airdromes of Elevsis and Hassani, breaking through a heavy screen of enemy fighters and coming home without loss.

This raid, carried out yesterday, followed by three days a Liberator blow at the Greek port of Salonika, and it left the two airdromes greatly damaged.

The bombers also dropped thousands of leaflets in which President Roosevelt saluted the long struggle of the Greeks and expressed the hope that their liberation was not far off.

Direct Hits Scored

"At Elevsis," said a Ninth United States Air Force communique, "direct hits were scored on three large hangars, one of which caught fire while smoke was seen issuing from another. Other bombs burst on an intersection of runways and near the administrative buildings, and the whole surface of the airdrome appeared to be covered with bursts.

"At Hassani both hangars received direct hits and were left in flames. The entire airdrome surface and the western dispersal area were well covered by bursts, and five aircraft were seen burning on the ground south of the hangars.

"Other fires broke out northeast of the hangars in the northern half of the western dispersal area."

Seven Fighters Downed

Of the enemy planes that went up in vain efforts to protect the airdromes at least seven were destroyed in combat by United States bomber fire, and eight others were listed as probably destroyed.

Every enemy trick, including attempts to bomb the Liberators from Axis fighter-bombers, was tried.

[The attack on the center of the enemy's air power in the Athens area was accompanied by an announcement by General Eisenhower's headquarters that British Wellington bombers, driving in with Vesuvius' red glow as a beacon, had hit the main Italian port of Naples Saturday night in a concentrated fifteen-minute blockbuster attack.

[In these and other operations of the Northwest Africa Air Force—they included the destruction of eight enemy planes by Allied fire—two Allied planes were lost.

Gerbini Attacked

[The Malta command meanwhile announced in its communique today that British fighter-bombers had again attacked the Italian airdrome at Gerbini, Sicily.]

The Liberators in the Athens raid made their runs over the two outlying airfields in the face of very heavy numbers of enemy fighters.

Lieut. Robert H. Storz, of Omaha, Neb., whose bomber got at least two German planes and probably three others, declared it was "a slam-bang battle" in which his ship at one time during the engagement was pursued by at least fifteen enemy fighters.

Hangars Fired By Liberators Near Athens

By the Associated Press.

CAIRO, June 28.—Liberators of the 9th United States Air Force shattered Axis hangars, pitted runways and started fires at two airdromes near Athens yesterday in a powerful follow-up to last week's raid at Salonika which opened the trans-Mediterranean aerial offensive against German and Italian holdings in the Balkans, it was announced today.

High explosives were loosed effectively at the air fields of both Elevsis, 10 miles west of Athens, and Hassani, a short distance southeast of the capital, and Allied leaflets were showered over the entire area.

The leaflets carried a tribute from President Roosevelt to the fighting courage and spirit of the Greek people and expressed hope that the day of their deliverance was not too far away.

It also told the Greeks of the presentation on June 10 of an anti-submarine patrol ship, the PC-622, to the government-in-exile of King George II by the United States under lease-lend arrangements.

Despite savage efforts by defense forces to break up the raids, the four-engined bombers executed their missions and returned without a loss.

"At both targets our aircraft were attacked by large formations of enemy fighters and fighter-bombers, the latter making unsuccessful attempts at aerial bombing," said the 9th Air Force communique. "Seven enemy aircraft were destroyed, with eight others listed as probably destroyed."

Three Hangars Set Afire.

Three large hangars were hit and set afire at Elevsis. Other bombs burst on the runways and near administrative buildings and "the whole surface of the airdrome appeared to be covered with bursts," the bulletin said.

At Hassani, the story was the same. Hangars were left burning and the entire field and western dispersal area were covered with bursts. Five grounded planes were observed in flames. Other fires broke out northwest of the hangars in the western dispersal area, the bulletin added.

Follows Salonika.

The new attacks on Greece, a potential invasion route for Allied forces deployed in the Mediterranean basin, followed a massive 50-bomber raid Thursday on the Sedes airdrome at Salonika, second Greek port.

(Bombings of principal enemy air bases is a necessary preliminary to any ground offensive. The Germans in recent weeks have been reported increasing their ground and air strength in the Balkans, particularly in Greece.

(German propaganda agencies have been occupied increasingly with the possibility of an Allied incursion into the Balkans through Greece and the Vardar Valley—a route along which the Nazis, Italians and their satellites have been harassed continually by Greek and Yugoslav guerrillas, the latter under command of Gen. Draja Mihailovich.)

Long-range British fighters set afire a medium-sized transport north of Levkas Island off the Greek west coast, leaving smoke spurting 50 feet above it.

JUN 29 1943

400 Axis Ships Fall Victims to British Mines

70% of Total Is Credited to Mine-Laying Planes in the European Theater

LONDON, June 28 (AP).—Efficiency of aircraft in the delayed-action warfare of sea mines was underlined today in a joint announcement by the Admiralty and the Air Ministry that more than 400 Axis ships have been sunk or damaged by mines strewn in European waters, with at least 70 per cent of them falling victim to explosives sown by airplanes.

The complete text of the joint announcement follows:

"The Admiralty and the Air Ministry have had under review evidence gradually accumulated over a long period of the damage caused Axis shipping by mining.

"From the nature of things, this evidence cannot be up to date, but it is known that no less than 400 enemy warships, supply ships and small craft have been sunk or damaged by mines laid in European waters since the outbreak of hostilities, and it is considered that the true figure is appreciably higher.

"Surface craft, submarines and aircraft of the Bomber Command, of the Coastal Command and of the Fleet Air Arm have all contributed to this impressive and steadily growing total of enemy shipping casualtes by mining.

"It is probable that more than 70 per cent of these casualties are attributable to mines laid by aircraft of the Bomber Command, whose activities have been sustained at a very high rate during the last eighteen months and whose ability to reach areas inaccessible to other types of mine-layer renders them specially suited to operations of this nature.

Liner Gneisenau Mined

"Among recent successes by the Bomber Command was mining in the Baltic of the German liner Gneisenau, of 18,000 tons, whilst the tanker Eurosee, of 11,000 tons; the transport Wuri, of 7,000 tons, and the Consul Horn, of 8,400 tons, were destroyed by mines laid at earlier dates.

"Certain successes against U-boats are known; others are probable but very difficult to trace. In one case, however, an aircraft on patrol over the Bay of Biscay had the unusual experience of actually seeing a U-boat destroyed by a mine off Lorient.

"Offensive mine-laying operations by all types of craft, surface and air, have forced the enemy to close many of his ports from Oslo to Bayonne from time to time and have interrupted traffic in important waterways, such as the Kiel Canal.

"Both the battle cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau were damaged by mines laid by aircraft of the Bomber Command during their escape from Brest, in addition to damage they received by torpedo and bombing attacks from our light surface forces, naval aircraft and aircraft of the Royal Air Force.

Many Small Ships Destroyed

"Numbers of mines have been laid by naval forces within a few miles of the enemy coastline. These have been responsible for the sinking and damaging of many small warships and auxiliaries, together with numerous supply vessels, such as the Melilia, of 2,700 tons, and the Hogland, of 4,360 tons.

"Losses inflicted on the enemy by mining have already resulted in a marked reduction in his coastwise traffic. Thus these operations are contributing materially to the destruction of supply lines on which his armed forces depend in their attempt to hold down the occupied territories of the Allies.

"In addition to dislocating his already strained lines of supply, such operations also deplete the enemy's naval strength by forcing him to man and maintain a large fleet of mine sweepers.

"These outstanding successes continue to be made possible by the sustained efforts both of the crews who lay the mines and of the personnel who design, manufacture, assemble and supply them."

8th Air Force Ready for Vast Flow of Planes

JUN 29 1943

Bombs Are on Hand for 45% Step-Up in Pounding of Reich, Gen. Miller Says

AT AN AMERICAN AIR BASE IN BRITAIN, June 28 (AP).—Major General Henry E. Miller, head of the United States Army 8th Air Force service command, declared today: "We are definitely set for a great new flow of planes to this theater for the increased offensive against Germany."

"We have plenty of bombs, including 4,000-pounders," General Miller said at a press conference after he presented to four officers and one enlisted man the first awards for valor ever conferred on members of the 8th Air Force service command, whose job it is to keep the air force fighting.

"Our supplies are more than adequate.

"And we are ready to meet demands for a step-up by 45 per cent of the bomb load on Germany if called for."

This was a reference to reports from Washington that the Allies were planning a 45 per cent increase in the tonnage for the aerial offensive by the end of July.

Answering a question, General Miller said "it is possible" that even the 45 per cent increase would be exceeded eventually.

"At any rate, it is a pretty good mark to shoot at in thirty days," he said.

Nazi Party Official In Holland Killed On Tour of France

Fritz Schmidt Described As Fifth Victim in Less Than Six Months

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 28.—The Berlin radio said last night that Fritz Schmidt, regional chief of the National Socialist party in the Netherlands and commissar-general of the rebellious occupied Dutch territories, had "met with a fatal accident" while on an official tour through France.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said Adolf Hitler had ordered a party funeral for Schmidt, the fifth Nazi official—German or Dutch—in Holland to be killed in less than six months.

The last previous fatality was Dr. Folkert E. Posthuma, a Dutch Nazi and secretary for agriculture in the German-controlled Dutch cabinet, who was shot to death early this month.

Widespread Strikes.

Opposition to German authorities in Holland has resulted in widespread strikes and sabotage since German occupation officials ordered all former members of the Dutch Army to register last April for removal to Germany to work in Nazi war plants.

Similarly in France, where Schmidt met his "fatal accident," resistance to Nazi authority has been on a sharp increase recently. Only Saturday, the British radio said, German Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels had canceled an important visit to Alsace because of reports that there was a plot to assassinate him. Robert Wagner, German governor of annexed Alsace, also was reported to have been intended as a victim in the same plot.

(BBC, quoting a Vichy broadcast, said yesterday that special tribunals "are to be set up in France to deal with patriot resistance." The British broadcast, recorded in New York by CBS, said "this announcement followed reports of fresh patriot activity.")

Helped Conscript Dutch.

Schmidt was a commissar-general for special services under Arthur Seyss-Inquart, German high commissioner in the Netherlands, and actively engaged in carrying out the conscription of Dutch workers for war industries in the Reich.

Last February Schmidt announced the dispatch of 15,000 Dutch laborers to German-occupied territories behind the present Russian front, and a month ago he announced that Dutch women must fill labor vacancies created in Holland by this mass movement of males.

The Dutch news agency Aneta reported Saturday night that Netherlands physicians had sent a letter to Seyss-Inquart, warning him that the forced labor policies, accompanied by German food looting in Holland, would lead to "desperate acts" by the Dutch.

U. S. Battleships Reported In Mediterranean

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 28.—A Reuters report from Stockholm said today that United States battleships have reached the Mediterranean and joined the British battle fleet.

The report, quoting the Scandinavian Telegram Bureau, came a day after the Italian fleet was reported to have sailed into the open sea—perhaps for a fight, or perhaps for a safer refuge from Allied bombs pounded from two sides of the mainland. The Italian fleet sailing was reported also by Reuters, quoting an Algiers radio report credited to the Spanish newspaper Arriba.

Neither story had any official confirmation.

BRITISH CONVOY BOMBED, TWO SHIPS DESTROYED

LONDON, June 28—(AP) Reuters reported from Lisbon tonight that a British convoy heading south was attacked by German planes off Sagres, port at the extreme southwestern tip of Portugal.

Two ships in the convoy were sunk, Reuters said it was learned in Lisbon.

The location of the reported attack is along the route from Britain to North Africa.

SPECULATE ON INVASION

LONDON, June 28—(AP) Reuters said today that German reports reaching Stockholm asserted that a British-American invasion would start not later than this coming Saturday. There were no details on how this date was arrived at nor at what point or points the blow was expected.

Germans Shell Strait of Dover

LONDON, June 28 (AP)—German guns across the English Channel at Calais shelled the Dover Strait area tonight for the second successive night, shooting at intervals of fifteen minutes. The lively bombardment continued for nearly an hour.

FIVE EXECUTED IN BELGIUM

Accused of Mine Explosions and Resistance Plans

LONDON, June 28 (AP)—Three Belgians and a Frenchman have been executed on charges of cooperating in blowing up coal-mine buildings at Lambusart, in Hainaut Province, the Belgian Government in Exile said today. An explosion was said to have closed a large mine.

Another Belgian was reported to have been shot at Montigny-le-Tilleul on a charge of being a member of a secret organization planning sabotage. The Germans charged that the organization had collected arms and explosives and intended to use them against the occupation army.

Boisson Reported Out

LONDON, June 28 (AP)—Pierre Boisson has resigned as Governor General of French West Africa and the French Committee of National Liberation has accepted his resignation, Reuter reported today from Algiers.

JUN 29 1943

The report added that M. Boisson had been asked to remain in office until his successor could be appointed. M. Boisson's territory includes the strategic naval and air base of Dakar.

Soon after the American occupation of North Africa, M. Boisson joined the French forces headed by the late Admiral Jean François Darlan. With his territory he delivered a considerable French flotilla, including the battleship Richelieu.

King Peter 'One of the Boys'

LONDON, June 28 (AP).—Sergeant Sam Maravich, of Aliquippa, Pa., says King Peter II of Yugoslavia is "just one of the boys." And Sam knows. Sam dropped into a Yugoslav exhibition in an East Anglian town the other day. He was admiring a marble bust of Peter. A young fellow standing near by looked familiar, thought Sam. Sure—it was the King. So Sam and the King had a chat.

Daughter Born to Marie Jose

LONDON, June 28 (AP).—A fourth daughter has been born to Princess Marie Jose and Crown Prince Humbert of Italy, the Rome radio said tonight. The child was named Maria Isabella. The couple also have a son, Prince Victor Emmanuel, who would be in line for the Italian throne after his father.

JAPS BUILD RUBBER SHIP

LONDON, June 28—(AP) The Japanese have launched ships built entirely of rubber, a Paris radio report from Tokyo said today. No other description of the craft was given except that they have steam engines.

Pope Talks With British Envoy

LONDON, June 28 (AP).—The German radio broadcast a dispatch from Rome reporting that Pope Pius XII had talked for more than an hour today with Sir Francis Osborne, British minister to the Holy See.

Greek Minister in New Post

LONDON, June 28 (AP)—The Greek Office of Information announced today that Kyriakos Varvaressos had resigned as Minister of Finance in the Greek Government in exile to accept an appointment as Ambassador at Large on economic and financial matters in Britain and the United States. Prime Minister Emmanuel Tsouderos has taken over the finance portfolio.

De Valera Is Expected To Keep Prime Ministry

Opposition Parties Make No Move to Combine Majority

DUBLIN, June 29 (Tuesday) (AP).—Failure of the parties opposing Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail party to move toward combining their majority to form a new government was seen today as making it almost a certainty that De Valera would be re-elected Prime Minister when the Dail Eireann (Parliament) convenes July 1.

It was said that De Valera, whose government party lost its eleven-year-old majority in last Tuesday's election, probably would assert at the outset his intention to pursue his own policy.

He is opposed strongly to any coalition government, and while some quarters expected him to make ministerial changes, they said these would not be such as to include the other parties in the government.

Laborite Is Mayor of Dublin

DUBLIN, June 28 (AP).—Martin O'Sullivan, Laborite Alderman, was unanimously elected Lord Mayor of Dublin tonight. He is the first member of his party to hold that office.

Heavy Raids Convince Italian Press Allies Will Invade Soon

Attempts Made to Steel Civilian Population To Resist Attack

By the Associated Press.

BERN, June 28.—The Italian press, apparently certain that the increased tempo of Allied raids on Sicilian, Sardinian and Italian mainland cities is a signal that invasion is imminent, is stepping up its attempts to steel the civilian population for the blow.

Taking a sternly realistic slant, editors warned over the week end that every Italian would be expected to play a part in defense of the homeland, and one paper asserted that cities would be turned into "fortresses" which would be defended street by street.

"The soldiers will have cannon and the people guns and knives," declared this article. "Every one will fight—the rich and the poor, the industrialists, the workers, the women and the children."

Heavy Damage Acknowledged.

Certainty that invasion is near was voiced by Il Popolo di Roma, which acknowledged that "heavy material damage had been inflicted by the Allied air forces and added that these aerial attacks could mean only one thing, "preparation for invasion." It also reported new concentrations of invasion barges along the North African coast and said British transports were pouring war material into North Africa from Gibraltar.

Many papers took pains to spike rumors published abroad that Premier Mussolini relinquished part of his power to Carlo Scorza, secretary of the Fascist party who is now in charge of the administration of civil mobilization.

Articles emphasized that Mussolini had appeared Friday at a meeting of the Fascist directorate to give his approval to Scorza's program. Italian papers did not publish his speech lest it reveal military secrets, but asserted the Duce would lead an "inspired" nation in its resistance against invaders.

Italians were warned by the press that an Allied landing in Italy might be successfully carried out, but declared that a bridgehead on the Italian mainland, if won, would be of little value.

Says Allies Can't Hold.

"Nothing would be won thereby," Il Popolo di Roma said, "since the Allies would be unable to hold it any length of time."

The Rome press differed with German correspondents who expressed belief that the Allies contemplated nothing more than continued air bombardment of Italian objectives.

The Italians pointed to renewed urging from Soviet Russia for a second front and expressed the opinion that United States and Britain would respond to proddings from Moscow with an invasion of Italian islands and the mainland timed with a Russian offensive against Germany.

A number of papers warned that Italy might expect air raids on Rome, adding that "Romans and real Italian Fascists will give the necessary proofs of courage and firmness and disregard for death * * * if air gangsters with their powerful planes sweep over the imperial hill and churches which bear the names of the Apostles of Christ."

Veterans Of Fascist Party Stiffen Invasion Defenses

Members Of Duce's Street-Fighting Squadrons Named As New Provincial Leaders

JUN 29 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, June 28—Premier Mussolini's most trusted Fascist veterans, men who served him well in street fighting and wars the past twenty-odd years, have been given the job of preparing Italy for the second phase of her battle—invasion.

This became apparent today as the Rome press listed the names of sixteen new provincial secretaries named by Mussolini last week, including five for strategically vital Sicily and Sardinia. All of these men either are members of the squadristi, il Duce's old street fighting troopers, or are Fascists who won military honors. Most are both.

Sign Of Duce's Control

Foreign observers saw in this another indication of Mussolini's own supremacy in charting the battle he sees ahead, with Carlo Scorza, Fascist party secretary, as his "whip" for lashing both the party and the people into a mood for defense against the Allied threat.

The men Mussolini ousted from the provincial secretariats are of more recent vintage and milder character. The new secretaries are old-timers — the toughest and strongest in his party clique.

To the provinces of Catania, Syracuse and Trapani in bomb-blasted Sicily have come three squadristi, two of whom served as commanders of squadrons in Fascism's street-fighting days and all of whom were volunteers in one or more of the wars in which Italy has engaged in the past twenty years and winners of military decorations.

Aim Under Suspicion

The Fascist press, meanwhile, is shouting warnings of invasion so lustily that some foreign observers are wondering whether the regime is convinced the hour of trial is at hand or is using this propaganda in an effort to level differences of the people and the party, control the dissidents, check defeatism and soften the bitterness toward the Black Shirt hierarchy which is reported increasing under the hammering of Allied bombers.

The Fascist press, at the same time, is reviewing the social and economic efforts made by Fascism in more than twenty years, reiterating front-page articles on the "invincibility of Japan" and emphasizing the "nationalistic" character of the Italian war.

"No Italian can say: 'This is not my war; I did not want it'," said Senator Gentile in a speech given full-page display in the Italian press.

Party Purge Continues

The elimination of "unworthy" Fascists, thousands of whom have been arrested, is being continued by Scorza, who is replacing them in offices by members who have seen service at the war fronts.

In Rome, solidarity gatherings are held by Italians and the Japanese population in the capital. Mussolini's Popolo d'Italia carried a four-column front-page article under a Tokyo dateline, headed "Japan Is Invincible," while Roberto Farinacci's Regime Fascista gave front-page display to another Tokyo dispatch entitled "No Doubt of Victory Against Enemies of Tripartite."

The Fascists strove to put teeth in the total mobilization law, lax until now, the Government declaring the distribution of food and clothing cards would be dependent on the fulfillment of labor service.

NAZIS' DONETS STAB BLOCKED

Survivors Annihilated After Minefield Stops Attackers

Red Bombers Raid Rail Junction And Trains South Of Velikie Luki

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, June 29—A German attempt to cross the Donets river south of Izyum was frustrated yesterday by Russian troops who let the Nazi detachment stumbled into a minefield and then wiped out those who survived the explosions, the Soviet midnight communique said today.

The war bulletin, broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded here by the Soviet monitor, said the Rusians in this southern front action allowed the Germans to reach the left bank of the river although they were sighted during the crossing.

Meeting no resistance, the Nazis advanced rapidly, the communique said, and ran into the minefield, where several of them were killed. The others fled back to the river but the Russians cut off their retreat and "annihilated the detachment."

Rail Junction Raided

A Moscow announcement, broadcast in advance of the communique, said Russian bombers raided the northwestern front rail junction of Orsha, about 130 miles south of Velikie Luki, Sunday night, hitting troop concentrations, trains and suppjy dumps without losing a plane.

A Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press said German bombers and fighters attacked rail installations north of Rostov, damaging several stations and wrecking a supply train.

Berlin said aerial activity on both sides of the Russian front "was rather negligible Sunday on account of prevailing adverse weather conditions."

Ground Fighting Rises

A German broadcast of a Transocean news agency dispatch spoke of increased local ground fighting which it said resulted from increasing unrest over the lack of major events.

See story 2/2/43 35 Fld-1

See entry on her card.

The Russians said a company of enemy infantry which attempted to reconnoiter in force in the Lisichansk area of the Donets sector was routed by a bayonet charge after Soviet troops had pinned the Nazis down with rifle and machine-gun fire.

One German broadcast said Nazi planes dumped bombs on supply trains at the Soviet base of Abinskaya, about twenty-five miles northeast of Novorossisk, and at the railroad station at Bataisk, near Rostov, yesterday.

Capture Finnish Outpost

The Soviet noon communique said the Russians captured a Finnish strongpoint in hand-to-hand fighting on the Karelian Isthmus Sunday night, but told only of intermittent artillery exchanges elsewhere on the Russian front.

The Finnish Monday communique declared Russian scouts recently "killed unarmed citizens in two villages in the rear of the northern sector" of the Finnish front.

Russia's midnight bulletin gave considerable attention to Soviet guerrillas operating in the Leningrad region, who in ten days were said to have wiped out about a battalion of Germans, burned twelve trucks with military supplies, four cars and a tank and captured large quantities of arms, ammunition and food. During the same period, Moscow said, guerrillas derailed nine German trains, all carrying troops or supplies.

London, June 28 (AP)—Russian guerrillas have killed more than 300,000 Axis troops, including thirty generals, in the two years of war, Lieutenant General Ponamarenko, member of the central committee of the Communist party, said tonight on the Moscow radio. The Soviet monitor recorded the broadcast.

Finnish Strong Point Captured in Flare-up On Karelian Isthmus

Rest of Russian Front Quiet Except for Artillery Exchanges

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 28.—Red Army troops captured a Finnish strong point in hand-to-hand combat in a brief flare-up on the Karelian Isthmus last night, the Russian noon communique, broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet monitor, announced today.

Elsewhere on the Russian front it was quiet with intermittent exchanges of artillery fire resulting in the destruction of German machine-gun nests and blockhouses. Soviet airmen shot down three planes, the war bulletin said.

The attack on the Karelian front dislodged a Finnish detachment which had entrenched itself on a high point, it was declared. Russian troops drove out the Finns, killing 300 officers and men, the communique said, and then fought off a counterattack by the Finns.

JUN 29 1943

Finns Report Point Recaptured.

Last night's action completed a day of small-scale activity on the northern front. The Finnish Sunday communique reported that their troops had recaptured a Russian strongpoint near Rukajaervi which they had lost Saturday. Three hundred Soviet troops were killed in the engagement, the Finns asserted.

An earlier Soviet bulletin said a Red Army ambush behind Finnish lines resulted in the annihilation of a company of troops and the capture of some prisoners and war material.

The Finnish Monday communique charged that Red Army scouts recently "killed unarmed citizens in two villages in the rear of the northern sector" of the Finnish front and that a Finnish reconnaissance detachment in turn slew 30 of the Russians.

"The usual fighting activity is reported from the remaining sectors of the front," the Helsinki bulletin said.

211 Nazi Planes Destroyed.

The Russian midnight communique last night reported that in the seven days ending June 26 Red Army flyers and anti-aircraft batteries had destroyed 211 Nazi planes, as compared to a loss of 74 for the Red Army. The communique explained that these figures were exclusive of "a large number of planes * * * destroyed or damaged in our raids on enemy airdromes."

Following up a Red Air Force bombing of the railway junction at Orel and nearby airdromes, Russian troops probed into advanced German lines south of Orel in a reconnaissance in force and then their artillery smashed German gun emplacements in the sector, the Soviet midnight communique declared.

The communique also said Red Army units captured a populated place on the Kalinin front and repulsed six German counterattacks, killing 400 Germans.

NAZIS REMOVE RUSSIA UNITS, REPORT SAYS

50 Divisions Shifted To Meet Invasion Threat, It Is Asserted

JUN 29 1943

Underground Sources List 28 For France And 12 For Balkans

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 28—With Allied bombs sounding invasion threats from the coast of France to Greece, an unofficial soucre with underground contacts with the continent reported today without confirmation that Germany had ordered fifty divisions from the Russian front to the west.

Authoritative Russian quarters have indicated that any step forcing the withdrawal of as many as fifty Nazi divisions from the east would be a tremendous aid to the Soviets.

First Report Of Eastern Move

For many days German reinforcements have been reported streaming out of the Reich to stiffen the outer walls of the Axis' continental defenses, but today's underground report was the first suggestion of the pulling back of major numbers from the east.

The report did not claim that the transfer was completed or even that it had been entirely begun.

Prime Minister Churchill told Commons on June 8 there were 190 German and 28 satellite divisions on the Russian front and reliable quarters — apart from the underground source — estimated the number now had dropped to 180 German and 18 to 20 satellite divisions.

Ten Believed For Reserve

The alleged new distribution planned for the fifty divisions was said to be: Ten for the strategic reserve to be held for use where ever needed; fifteen for western France, four for southern France, and nine for northern France. Twelve were listed for the Balkans, partly replacing Italians sent home.

Until such transfers could be completed, informed sources estimated German strength now to be about 180 divisions in Russia, 40 in France and the Low Countries, 10 to 20 in the Balkans, 5 to 10 in Italy, 8 to 10 in Norway and Denmark, and 40 in reserve, or a total of 300. Maximum figures for Italy and the Balkans probably have not yet been reached, it was added.

10 Reported For Italy

The Germans were reported unofficially last week to have ordered ten divisions into northern Italy.

Such transfers—if true—coincided with the oft-told tale encouraged by Nazi propaganda itself that the Germans had abandoned hope of a summer offensive in Russia.

Early editions of London Tuesday morning newspapers played up a roundabout report from Swedish sources quoting Axis news dispatches that all of the larger towns in southern Italy had been evacuated of non-essential civilians in preparation for Allied landings believed imminent.

"The Front Of Nerves"

Invasion alarms and portents poured out so rapidly that one London newspaper began listing them merely under the heading "the front of nerves." Today's crop included:

The German-controlled Scandinavian telegram bureau said American battleships had joined the British Mediterranean fleet.

The Italian fleet has set sail, said the Algiers radio, quoting the Madrid newspaper Arriba.

The French Brazzaville radio said in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that the Italian fleet left port for shelter in harbors less exposed to Allied air attacks and not for any offensive operation.

The Italian press called invasion "immediately imminent," and the Rome radio declared that "a further increase of Allied air activity over Italy must be expected in the next few days."

3024-5465

30.24-5465

Once-Pe[illegible] Leningrad Called Proud ar[illegible] Inconquerable

Residents [illegible] City Most Audacious of Russia's Patriots, Correspondent Says

(The following account of life in Leningrad as the city nears the end of its second year of siege was written for the Associated Press by a war correspondent for the Soviet Navy's newspaper, Red Fleet, who has spent a year in the besieged city. He covered the Odessa and Murmansk fronts before going to Leningrad, where, for heroism displayed while covering the siege, he was awarded the medal called "For the Defense of Leningrad.")

By LT. LEONID IVITCH.

LENINGRAD, June 25 (Delayed).—Unforgettably beautiful are the buildings of Leningrad, sharply outlined against the blue-gray sky.

High above its surroundings rises the thin straight spire of the Admiralty Building. The beautiful cupola of the Isaakovsky Monastery dominates dozens of neighboring structures.

JUN 29 1943

The Pavlov fortress can be seen and at the foot of it slowly roll the heavy, gray waves of the Neva River. Straight as arrows are the streets and the prospects of the city, with its enormously exquisite perspective.

The white nights descend over the city—over the buildings of the Senate and the Kazan Cathedral; over the monumental structures created by the world's best architects like Rastrelli and Rozzi, Zakhapov and Gvarengi. The white nights descend over the streets and the squares of the city.

The enemy, ferocious, dull and relentless, is not far off; so close that his presence here at the gates of the city can almost be physically felt.

The city, which for nearly two years bravely repulsed the German hordes; the city, which already has ground to death at its gates more than 400,000 German soldiers, stands as previously—invincible, proud and unconquerable.

Sufferings Not Forgotten.

War and life are one and the same in this throbbing city. The sufferings of last year's winter are not yet forgotten, as they won't be for centuries to come.

When the German Army succeeded in blockading the city, Hitler hysterically announced to the world:

"Leningrad forces are at their knees. This city will receive no mercy. This city will perish."

To the agony of bombing and shelling which the city underwent were added the pangs of hunger. The people received only 15 grams of bread daily, but they refused to surrender. Staggering from weakness, they continued to work at their lathes and machines. Shockingly thin, pale and emaciated, they continued to erect fortifications at the city's walls on which were broken and dispersed the ferocious attacks of well-fed and picked S. S. troops.

The people are fortified in these days as always in the war by their great love for the city and immeasurable hatred for the enemy. I think they are the most audacious patriots in all Russia.

One of my friends there was an old worker who spent his entire life in one of the biggest plants in Leningrad. During the artillery shelling he did not leave the shop but continued to work at an enormous lathe. A shell hit the shop. The old man was severely wounded. Vasily Andreev his name was. He was laid up in a hospital three months, recuperated, then returned to work as usual.

"Friend," I told him, "Your health is waning. Perhaps you should go to the rear and work in one of the evacuated plants."

Refuses to Leave.

Vasily Andreev slowly shook his head, lifted his eyeglasses to his forehead and asked with a shrug of his shoulders: "Where would I go? This is my city. This is my factory—and besides in me are eight shrapnel splinters which I got here. No, I remain with Leningrad."

And so he did remain. I saw him just the other day at a jazz band concert in a city park. He is very much alive, working and happy.

Leningrad is a city right on the front. It continues to throb with life and still is a large cultural center. Theaters are overcrowded. From the front lines come officers buying up tickets for "The Road to New York," a Russian adaptation of an American play.

Dozens of movie theaters are operating, showing the latest war pictures. Concert halls are jam packed and Leningradites anxiously are awaiting the arrival of Dmitri Shostakovich (the composer). He will conduct in Philharmonic Hall. They are awaiting, too, the arrival of Peoples Artist of the Soviet Union Kachalov.

Bookshops are crowded. People grab up the latest editions. The halls of the public library, one of the world's largest, are crowded with people. The library continues as usual. Only recently at the request of a Washington library, the Leningrad library sent several volumes of historical works of Russian scientists to America.

Scientists, writers and poets carry on as usual. Five plays written since the city was blockaded are showing at Leningrad theaters now. Three of the five plays are comedies, epitomizing the indomitable optimism of Leningrad people and their faith in absolute victory.

War Reflected in Plays.

The war is reflected in the plays—particularly the war in Leningrad. Performances are given in overcrowded theaters. Storms of cheers from the audiences demonstrate how the drama touches the most hidden thoughts of Leningrad's defenders.

They feel their strength so greatly they even allow themselve to laugh at the enemy who is suffocating in impotent fury before the city's imperturbable resistance.

My friend, Doctor of Medicine Konstantin Rabinovitch, who held the medical chair in Leningrad University for 25 years, told me:

"You know, I really am amazed at the tremendous desire to write dissertations for scientific degrees. I have had 10 or 12 applications. It is the most interesting thing. The topics selected prove the people are interested with very serious problems and very progressive problems. It is not easy to work at present, you know."

The professor told about a girl student who came to him with a request that he send her to a consultant for a discussion of one of the questions in her dissertation.

"Listen," the professor told her, "this won't be easy. Your theme will require at least a year or perhaps two."

The girl answered:

"But it is of the utmost importance."

"But will you find time?" the professor asked.

The girl replied that she had arranged a daily time schedule so as to have time to work on the dissertation, work in a vegetable garden and at the same time do duty in a Leningrad defense detachment. The professor then gave up trying to dissuade her. Instead, he himself offered to be her consultant.

As of yore, life throbs along Nevsky Prospect—life that has been praised and pictured by the greatest Russian writers and poets. True, its appearance is changed somewhat. Along this, the world's most beautiful prospect, several buildings have been demolished by bombings and shellings. The windows of shops are hidden by high piles of sand-filled boxes.

Spirit Remains Same.

True, the previously crowded wide sidewalks are not so crowded now, but the spirit of Nevsky Prospect remains the same. Here as previously on the sunny side of the street, Leningradites meet and gossip.

In the morning people hurry to work. In the evening, with their shovels they hurry to their gardens. Yes, the problem of vegetables and vitamins is no less important than all others concerning the defense of the city.

The people of Leningrad tackled the vitamin problem with typical energy. They dug up Marsov Square. They planted neat rows of vegetables underneath the trees in the summer park where Pushkin used to promenade. They carefully laid vegetable beds along the embankments of numerous canals bisecting the city.

There is no doubt this city will hold out. It is not only capable of supplying the defenders with arms and ammunition produced in numerous plants working at full capacity, but it also supplies the defenders with everything else necessary to successful battle.

Along the Nevsky as previously, dozens of communal repair shops function. Along the Nevsky as before, you may drop into antique shops and browse among rare old books and pictures by famous artists.

You can stop in concert halls and listen to a concert production of "Anna Karenina."

Streetcars run along the Prospect, which was without them in the grim winter of 1941-2 when there was no current available. Girl traffic cops—we call them militia women—with dazzling white gloves raise their batons to halt traffic for a military convoy. Along the Prospect, their caterpillar treads clanking noisily, crawl tanks—headed for the front.

Posters on the walls call for "vigilance, stamina, firmness." At the "latest news" bulletin boards people crowd around to read communiques from the battlefronts of the world. They know that the state of affairs of the Germans is becoming worse daily. They read with satisfaction of the bombings Germany and Italy are receiving.

"Our allies are working," said a blond young fighter as he read the bulletins. He exclaimed "khorosho," which means "swell" in Russian.

"Later on one can expect it will be even better," said a smiling youth.

Over the city the air is filled with the roar of airplane motors. Our planes are patrolling Leningrad day and night, guarding the aerial approaches to the city.

The tense rhythm of life in the front-line city doesn't stop for a single minute. Nothing can interfere, nothing can make the defenders forget the high duty resting on them.

People who distinguish themselves in the heroic defense of the city get a medal "for defense of Leningrad." My friend, a girl electrician, got a medal on June 24. I telephoned, congratulated her, and invited her to a concert.

"Thanks, my dear friend," she answered. "Alas, I can't attend the concert. Today I'm on duty in the air defense force."

I sighed. War indeed brings many changes in life.

I went to the concert alone. I spent a wonderful evening listening to the fascinating music of Tchaikovsky's "Sixth Symphony."

When I emerged from the concert hall the roar of an artillery cannonade rolled in from the west. And over the city in the blue-gray sky hundreds of barrage balloons were waving gently in the wind.

SPEED-UP TO COME IN WAR IN PACIFIC, SAYS CHENNAULT

Japs to Suffer Heavy Blows Soon, U. S. General Declares.

JUN 29 1943

AT U. S. 14TH A.A.F. HEADQUARTERS IN CHINA, June 27—(Delayed)—(AP) The tempo of the war against Japan will be increased "within a reasonable time" in accordance with carefully prepared plans, Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault declared today.

"I anticipate that Japan will receive very heavy blows, if not decisive ones, within a reasonable time," he said.

In the first press conference he has granted since his return from the global war conversations in Washington last month, Gen Chennault said he was told there that "a considerable percentage of the total United States naval effort is being devoted constantly to the war in the Pacific."

Encouraged by Visit Home

"I was greatly encouraged by the attitude of the people and authorities back home," he said. "We aren't forgotten men out here by any means.

"The President and military leaders are carefully planning to use American resources and manpower in the true global sense. Due to careful planning and coordination of efforts with our Allies, certain priorities are necessary in the various theaters of combat.

"The war with Japan is certainly receiving the deepest consideration."

Gen. Chennault would not specify what he meant by a reasonable time, but he said he found that the American people and the authorities "are extremely war conscious, exerting tremendous efforts for the production of war materials and manpower for winning the war both in Europe and in the Asiatic theater."

Hampered by Weather

Reviewing American activities on the Chinese front during the past ten days, Gen. Chennault, who looked better than he has in months, said the 14th air force operations have been seriously hampered by unfavorable weather conditions. He said that the P-40s have been concentrating on freight trains, locomotives, trucks and steamrollers "because that type of equipment is the most difficult for the Japanese to replace."

Puffing happily on his pipe during the conference, Gen. Chennault smiled broadly as he told of pamphlets which were dropped by one of 25 Japanese fighter pilots when they attacked Lingling several weeks ago.

The pamphlets said, "Our respects to your men who have taken great pains in coming to China. We take pride to say, in fact we are the strongest and the best in the world. We express our desire as sportsmen to hold a decisive air battle with you in a fair and honorable manner. We then can best prove to you the spirit and ability of our air force."

Gen. Chennault quoted a recent Domei (official Japanese news agency) broadcast as saying, "The American fliers didn't accept our challenge for reasons which they gave as tactical."

The facts were, Gen. Chennault said, that the P-40s intercepted the enemy squadron, giving the Japanese odds of two to one in their favor. The pilot who tossed out the pamphlets was promptly shot down along with four of his companions. Four other planes were probably destroyed and the remaining Japanese fled. One P-40 suffered minor damage.

Of Early Blows at Japan

Predicts Possible Decisive Moves Within Reasonable Time

AT UNITED STATES FOURTEENTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS IN CHINA, June 27 (Delayed) (AP).—Major General Claire L. Chennault declared here today, at his first press conference since he returned from the recent conferences at Washington: "I anticipate that Japan will receive very heavy blows, if not decisive ones, within a reasonable time."

He declined to specify what he meant by a reasonable time, but said: "I was greatly encouraged by the attitude of the people and the authorities back home.

"We aren't forgotten men out here by any means," he said. "The President and military leaders are carefully planning to use American resources and manpower in the true global sense. Due to careful planning and co-ordination of efforts with our allies, certain priorities are necessary in the various theaters of combat. The war with Japan is certainly receiving the deepest consideration."

Chennault said he found that the American people and the authorities "are extremely war conscious, exerting tremendous efforts for the production of war materials and manpower for winning the war both in Europe and in the Asiatic theater."

American Bombers Hit Enemy Centers in Burma

And British Planes Strike at Japanese on Akyab Island

NEW DELHI, India, June 28 (AP).—American medium bombers ranged over central Burma yesterday, pounding at Japanese-controlled rail centers and industrial plants, a communique announced today. All the bombers returned safely.

At the same time, British fighters carried out offensive patrols and British bombers struck at Japanese troop quarters on Akyab Island, off western Burma. One British plane was lost.

RAF Bombers Attack Akyab Three Times

By the Associated Press.

NEW DELHI, June 28.—RAF bombers made three attacks yesterday on Akyab Island in Western Burma while fighters carried out offensive patrols over the Mayu Peninsula and the upper Chindwin River, a British communique announced today.

On Akyab Island, a village where Japanese troops are quartered was bombed twice, and a third attack was directed against a large enemy-occupied building in Akyab itself, the bulletin said.

The fighter sweeps were reported to have caused damage to enemy huts and supply sampans.

WAVELL LEAVES ARMY

NEW DELHI, Tuesday, June 29—(AP) Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, in a farewell order of the day to the army he has commanded, said today that India has become "immeasurably stronger" in the past two years after facing "greater perils from without than at any time in the last 200 years." The veteran trooper will become viceroy of India in the fall as Lord Wavell.

Chinese Hurl Foe Back

CHUNGKING, June 28 (AP).—Chinese troops have hurled back the Japanese against their positions northeast of Hangchow—between that enemy-occupied capital of Cheekiang Province and Shanghai, 100 miles to the northeast—and killed or wounded about 400 of the invaders, a communique announced today.

Operating near the China Sea coast, the Chinese sank three steam launches and ten junks and seized a quantity of military supplies, the communique said.

troops against their positions northeast of Hangchow—between that enemy-occupied capital of Chekiang province and Shanghai, a hundred miles to the northeast—and killed or wounded about 400 of the enemy.

The Chinese also sank three steam launches and ten junks off the east China coast, the communique said, adding that a quantity of military supplies was seized.

Chinese authorities reported that

Fresh Drive For Chungking By Japanese Is Predicted

Chinese See Possibility Of New Thrust As Spies Report Transfer Of Enemy Troops

JUN 29 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Chungking, June 28—The possibility of a fresh Japanese drive in western Hupeh, gateway to Chungking, was reported by Chinese military authorities today on the basis of intelligence information.

The three important Japanese bases of Nanking, Hauchow and Sinyang were believed to be the focal points of the new drive, with troops moving out in strength. There was also a transfer of enemy forces in central China around Hankow, Chinese spies reported to headquarters.

Military authorities said these movements "indicate another drive in western Hupeh might be in the offing." It was in this general region that the Chinese scored their greatest victory of the six-year war.

Forces Prepared

Chinese forces are prepared for any eventuality, the authorities declared. They explained the frequency of small-scale fighting between Tungting Lake and the Yangtze river by pointing out that the numerous rivulets which criss-cross the district makes major action by the attacking Chinese forces difficult.

It is for this reason, they said, that Shihshow, Hwajung and Owchihkow, three enemy strongholds which they need to clean up the district, are still in Japanese hands.

Three Launches Sunk

A high command communique announced today that Chinese forces have hurled back Japanese officers, suspecting two puppet divisions of planning to cross the Chekiang lines and join Chiang Kai-shek's national army, had dispersed one and transferred the other to another region, where it was placed under strict surveillance.

A Chinese refugee reaching free territory after escaping from Hainan Island, off the southeast coast of China opposite French Indo-China, said that Japanese control there is still limited to the coastal fringes and a few important inland points, even after four years of occupation.

Developed As Base

The Japanese, however, have converted the island into a "blood vessel" for the South Pacific, he said. They have developed it into a great naval and air base, making it a "cancer for the Allies" in future operations.

Coastal roads have been constructed, old harbors repaired, new harbors built and fortifications and airdromes added to the bastion, the informant said.

Puppet governments have been established in the occupied areas, the Chinese reported, and the inhabitants "are suffering under the double oppression of the Japanese and Chinese traitors." Despite their constant campaigns, however, the invaders have never succeeded in liquidating the Chinese guerrillas who had control of the vast interior of the island.

Two Jap Submarines Attacked; Offensive in Solomons Stepped Up

Enemy Undersea Craft Are Bombed in Widely Separated Pacific Areas

By the Associated Press.

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, June 28.—Two Japanese submarines were attacked from the air in widely separated parts of the South Pacific over the week end, and at the same time Army and Navy Air Forces stepped up offensive activities in the Solomon Islands.

South Pacific headquarters announced today that a Hudson Navy patrol bomber on reconnaissance spotted an enemy submarine Friday 200 miles southwest of Suva in the Fiji Islands, and dropped a depth charge on the undersea craft. Shortly afterward, the announcement said, a heavy oil slick appeared on the surface of the water. A search of the area for the enemy vessel or further evidence of its possible destruction is being continued.

Sub Makes Crash Dive.

Another Japanese submarine was bombed in the Southern Coral Sea yesterday afternoon, headquarters reported, and was last seen making a crash dive.

Aerial activity in the Solomons centered on Munda and Vila in the New Georgia group, Kahili and Ballale at the southern tip of Bougainville Island and Rekata on Santa Isabel. (The raids on Munda, Vila and Ballale were reported previously in a Navy communique issued yesterday at Washington.)

Munda and Vila were raided Saturday and yesterday. The heaviest blows fell at Munda, which caught 20 tons of bombs Saturday and 15 tons yesterday.

All Planes Return.

Kahili and Ballale were bombed once yesterday and Rekata twice. All the attacking planes returned from every one of the raids, headquarters announced.

The report said targets included runways, parked planes, gasoline dumps, supplies, bivouac areas and anti-aircraft gun positions. They were hit by Dauntless dive bombers and Avenger torpedo bombers escorted by Wildcat fighters and by Army and Navy Liberator heavy bombers.

3024- 5467

Japanese Submarines Bombed

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, June 28 (AP).—It was announced here today that a Hudson Navy patrol bomber on reconnaissance spotted an enemy submarine Friday 200 miles southwest of Suva in the Fiji Islands and dropped a depth charge. Soon afterward, the announcement said, a heavy oil slick appeared on the surface of the water. A search of the area for the enemy vessel or further evidence of its possible destruction is being continued.

Another Japanese submarine was bombed in the southern Coral Sea yesterday afternoon, headquarters reported, and was last seen making a crash dive.

Raid On Darwin Causes Slight Damage

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Tuesday, June 29—(AP) Eighteen Japanese planes raided Darwin, Australia, Monday, the High Command reported today, but only slight damage was caused and two of the raiders were shot down.

It was the 56th raid of the war on Darwin.

Nine bombers escorted by an equal number of Zeros took part in the attack which came at midday. No casualties were reported.

Two fighters and two bombers probably were destroyed in addition to the two definitely shot down, the communique said. One of our planes was missing.

On the Allied offensive side, heavy reconnaissance units bombed the airdrome at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and a four-engined bomber on night reconnaissance bombed the dispersal bays at Rapopo airdrome at Rabaul.

Other heavy bombers made a night raid on Laha airdrome, Amboina island, and on the building area on nearby Boeroe island.

Aerial operations were hampered by adverse weather conditions.

Allied Bomber Attacks Freighter and Destroyer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 28 (AP).—A Beaufort bomber on reconnaissance over the Solomon Islands attacked a freighter and its escorting destroyer southwest of Buka Passage yesterday and scored damaging near misses on the freighter.

After unloading its bombs, the Beaufort dropped down and machine-gunned both ships.

Buka passage separates the islands of Buka and Bougainville.

Four-engined bombers made a night raid on Saumlaki 300 miles north of Darwin but weather prevented observation of results.

In New Guinea Mitchell bombers raked the Japanese supply route between Lae and Madang. Many fires and explosions resulted.

Salamaua and its airdrome and ground installations there were bombed and strafed. The building areas suffered "considerable damage," the noon communique said. There was no interception.

Rain prevented the pilots from seeing the result of their attacks on Japanese positions in the Mubo area which, the communique said, were made in support of Allied ground forces.

Former Boy Glider Pilot Credited With Five Zeros

Murray Shubin Picked Them Off in Guadalcanal Battle

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, June 28 (AP).—A twenty-six-year-old fighter pilot from Pittsburgh, who has been an airman since he started flying gliders at the age of thirteen, was credited officially today with shooting down five Zeros and probably a sixth in the great air battle over Guadalcanal June 16. He is Second Lieutenant Murray Shubin.

Flying a twin-engined Lightning, he made his individual score—ninety-four Japanese planes in all were knocked out of the sky that day—in forty-five minutes, and, although bullets flew around him, his plane wasn't touched.

Shubin was leading a flight of four Lightnings that attacked ten to fifteen Zeros bringing up the rear of an enemy bomber formation.

JUN 29 1943

10 Jap Zeros Bluffed From Prey by Flyer With Guns Jammed

'Hard-Luck' Pilot Bled From Head Wound as He Defended U. S. Planes

By LEIF ERICKSON,
Associated Press War Correspondent.

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE.—First Lt. Jack A. Bade of Elk River, Minn., is an Army fighter pilot with such persistent hard luck that his squadron fellows nicknamed him "Trouble."

But Lt. Bade also has fortitude of a kind that helped bluff 10 Jap Zeros who had four American dive bombers at their mercy until the jinx-dogged Lt. Bade, bleeding from a head wound and with his P-40's guns jammed, single-handedly tackled the enemy fighters.

Unable to fire a shot, Lt. Bade dived at the 10 Zeros, turned head-on toward them and swung through the entire enemy formation. By his distracting passes and turns Lt. Bade so impressed the Japs that they turned and fled without knowing he couldn't fire at them.

Lt. Bade performed his bluffing exploit over the Shortland Islands June 5. After he and the four bombers returned safely to base Lt. Bade grinned and said to their crews:

"I'll bet you guys thought I was the poorest shooting pilot ever to fly a fighter."

Explained About Guns.

Then he explained to them his guns had been jammed.

Lt. Bade started the day with an element of 16 fighters from Guadalcanal to sweep the Shortland-Ballale area south of Bougainville as the prelude for a bomber attack.

Lt. Bade and his wingmen, Lt. Ralph J. Sooter, met four Zeros at 22,000 feet over the Shortlands. Lt. Sooter's plane was badly damaged. Lt. Bade's plane was riddled by 7.7 slugs from the Zero guns.

One bullet smashed through the fuselage just 2 inches from Lt. Bade's head. A fragment, either from the shell or the plane's canopy cover, gashed the pilot's head. Giddy and bleeding, Lt. Bade followed Lt. Sooter down to 4,000 feet to cover him if the Zeros should give chase. Lt. Sooter's plane went into a spin and he crash landed.

Lt. Bade discovered his guns were jammed. At the same time, he noted the four dive bombers running from the north with five Zeros and five float-type Zeros in pursuit. The bombers had no fighter cover.

Action Over 35 or 40 Miles.

Lt. Bade decided to try his bluffing act. His act worked. With some timely shooting from the bombers' guns, the 10 Zeros were driven off after a running action over 35 or 40 miles.

In a fighter action over the Russell Islands two days later, Lt. Bade shot down one and possibly two Zeros.

The young Minnesota flyer's adventures in trouble won him the Distinguished Flying Cross last February 13. In a raid on shipping at Bougainville he joined five other fighters as cover for six bombers in a 150-mile running fight with Japanese planes.

The Americans were outnumbered 10 to 1. They were under heavy anti-aircraft fire from ship and shore batteries. But they reached their target.

Lt. Bade's plane almost was blown from under him by an anti-aircraft burst. With his fragment-torn ship, Lt. Bade stayed in the fight and succeeded in knocking down one Zero.

Then he covered the bombers back to base.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 28 (AP)—Lieut. John A. Mann of Wilson, N. Y., and Sgt. John E. Putzman of Nellsville, N. Y., were among four officers and six enlisted men to receive the air medal for meritorious achievement. All man transports carrying troops and material to forward areas in New Guinea.

Brazil Imprisons Officer, Two Others as Nazi Spies

Also Sentences Reich Ex-Envoy, Naval Attache in Absentia

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 28 (AP).—An Army officer and two others accused of endangering the safety of Brazil by delivering shipping information to the Germans were sentenced to thirty years in prison today on charges of espionage.

Ten others, including Dr. Kurt Pruefer, the former German Ambassador, and the German naval attache, received twenty to twenty-five-year sentences although they had returned to Germany and were tried without a court appearance.

The principal defendant was Captain Tulio Regis Nacimento, a Brazilian artiller yofficer, who was accused of directing an information service for the enemy.

All the acts charged were committed before Brazil's entry into the war in August, 1942. It was charged that some of the information was delivered to the Nazis through Argentina.

Swedish Ship Sunk, Crew Saved

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 28 (AP).—The Swedish Legation announced today that the Swedish motorship Venetsia had been torpedoed and sunk, but that its crew of twenty-seven had been rescued after two days at sea and brought here in good condition last Thursday. The vessel plainly displayed flags, lights and other identification when attacked, the legation said.

Giraud Invited to Visit U. S. To Confer with Roosevelt

President Shows Approval of Eisenhower's Dealings with French General.

WASHINGTON, June 28 — (AP) President Roosevelt set the stamp of his personal approval today on General Dwight D. Eisenhower's handling of the problems stemming out of French wrangling in North Africa by permitting an announcement that he had invited General Henri Giraud to visit Washington when his military responsibilities permit.

In effect, also, the President's action tended promptly to confirm the authoritative summarization of American and Allied policy toward French factions in Africa outlined in Associated Press dispatches from Washington yesterday and today. The invitation to General Giraud appears a definite new American rebuff for General Charles de Gaulle, Giraud's aggressive rival for French military supremacy in the African operations theater.

Date Not Announced

The invitation was transmitted and Gen. Giraud's acceptance received through military, not diplomatic channels, a month ago. No date for the Giraud visit to Washington has been announced.

It is indicated, however, that the French leader will not leave his post while Allied invasion operations based on French Africa are pending or in progress. His presence and cooperation under Gen. Eisenhower in carrying out plans for aggressive military action against the Axis in continental Europe or its island outposts is deemed essential to success by the Allied commander and the Anglo-American High Command here and in London.

That was revealed when Gen. Eisenhower informed the French Committee for National Liberation at Algiers that he could not permit it to interfere with Gen. Giraud's absolute command of French army, navy and air forces in North and West Africa, or tolerate attempts to disrupt Gen. Giraud's officer corps. Gen. DeGaulle and his supporters on the French committee claiming to represent French sovereignty had sought to carry through a reorganization of Gen. Giraud's forces.

Compromise in Effect

The result was a compromise [illegible] the French committee effect. Under it Gen. [illegible] ained full French command un[illegible]er Gen. Eisenhower in French North and West Africa. De Gaulle was assigned to similar command of French territorial forces in other regions under French control.

An authoritative informant closely in touch with Anglo-American policy described this as a French "private political compromise" which added "serious complications" to the military situation in Africa. This informant, who cannot be quoted by name, said that the activities of Gen. De Gaulle and of the "two headed" French committee "have already undermined the spirit of the French army" and indicated that Gen. Eisenhower would be fully supported from Washington in dealing with the situation as military requirements demanded without regard to Gen. De Gaulle and his followers.

Transmission of the President's invitation to Gen. Giraud through military rather than diplomatic channels is a further indication of this policy. It was obviously designed to give it the nature of a strictly military and non-political recognition of Giraud's leadership in Africa.

It tended also to affirm Gen. Eisenhower's position that Gen. Giraud is the only high ranking French military figure in Africa with whom he can work successfully in pressing the attack on the Axis.

30.24- 5467

13 RAIDS SMASH AT KISKA ISLAND, BASES IN PACIFIC

Japanese Airfields Blasted in Widespread Areas by Army, Navy Planes.

WASHINGTON, June 28. — (AP) A sharp step-up in bombing raids throughout the Pacific sent American bombers roaring at Japanese bases in 13 battering attacks on Saturday, starting fires in camp areas and damaging airfields and anti-aircraft emplacements.

The brunt of the assault, the Navy reported today, was borne by Kiska, last foothold of the Japanese in the Aleutians, where heavy and medium bombers struck seven times in a single day. In the south Pacific, much-bombed Munda on New Georgia island was attacked twice while other bombers blasted Kahili, Rekata bay, Ballale island and Vila, all in the Solomon islands area.

Eight Fires Break Out

Bombs pounded down through the clouds and fog over Kiska to blast anti-aircraft emplacements, tear holes in the Japanese airfield runway and set eight fires roaring in the camp area.

Seven times Liberator heavy bombers and Mitchell and Ventura medium bombers swung over the base at the foot of rocky hills on the shore of the north Pacific island. Lightning and Warhawk fighters joined in the raids, strafing the camp area and the gun positions dug into the rocks.

The heavy series of raids in a single day boosted to 16 the number of times bombers and fighters have sped out from American bases in the Aleutians to attack Kiska in three consecutive days after a lull in bombing due to fog and low clouds shrouding the island chain.

Far south in the Solomons the Dauntless dive bombers and Avenger torpedo bomb teams carried on their battering assaults on Japanese bases. One such group lashed Vila on Kolombangara island. Their bomb loads blasted the runway at that enemy base and plunged into the camp area where barracks and supplies could have been damaged.

Runway Blasted

A similar group carried out one of the attacks on Munda, pock-marking the runway and tearing holes in the revetment area, smashing protection for grounded enemy planes.

Heavy bombers—Army and Navy versions of the Liberator—made the second raid on Munda, but results, the Navy said in a communique, were not observed. Their attacks were a part of a mission which took the bombers into action also against Kahili, enemy airbase on Bougainville island and Ballale island, a supply base.

In another raid, the Navy reported that Avenger bombers attacked Rekata bay on Santa Isabel island. Results there were not reported.

9 JAPANESE SHIPS BLASTED BY SUBS IN PACIFIC WATERS

Six Vessels Sunk, Three

Others Damaged by U. S. Raiders.

TRANSPORT TORPEDOED

Japs Raid Darwin, Cause Little Damage, Lose Two Planes.

WASHINGTON, June 28 — (AP) American submarines, battling to break the Japanese shipping lines in the Pacific, have sunk or damaged nine more vessels supplying the enemy's far flung bases.

In addition, the Navy reported today, an enemy destroyer and a mine layer have been sent to the bottom.

Six Sunk, Three Damaged

Of the nine supply ships, six were sunk and three damaged by torpedoes and shells. The destroyed ships included one large transport, which may have been carrying troops as well as supplies, three medium-sized cargo vessels, a small cargo vessel and a small schooner. Listed as damaged were a large transport and two more medium sized cargo vessels.

The new attacks raised to 269 the submarine's tally against Japanese craft. Of the total, Navy communiques have reported 190 sunk, 29 probably sunk and 50 damaged.

The Navy gave no indication of when or where the attacks occurred except that they were carried out by submarines patrolling in "Pacific and Far East" waters. This is in line with the Navy's policy of disclosing no information beyond the type of vessel sunk. However, in announcements of decorations of submarine officers for previous forays against enemy shipping it has been disclosed that submarines have operated within view of the Japanese shore line.

ATTACK ON JAPAN IS PROMISED SOON

Gen. McNarney Declares Allies Rapidly Approach Final Victory.

WASHINGTON, June 28 — (AP) Assurance that the United Nations are rapidly approaching final victory and a promise that war will be carried to Japan "in a most violent and destructive way" came today from Lieut. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff.

Disclosure of his statements to the Senate Appropriations committee, which recommended $71,500,000,000 for the War department during the coming fiscal year, was coincident with Presidential approval of a bill making $33,000,000,000 available to the Navy.

Gen. McNarney's optimistic forecast was accompanied by testimony of Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold that by next spring the Army air force will be the most powerful ever assembled by any nation and will have superiority in the air in every theater of warfare.

Outlining plans for construction of 74,000 combat planes during the fiscal year beginning next Thursday, including 36,000 bombers and 38,000 fighters, Gen. Arnold emphasized that by early next year the United States will have "superior forces, both in number and quality, against every enemy airforce which we will be opposing."

"The condition is therefore different from the last time I appeared before you when we were called upon to feed all eight different theaters in the four corners of the world, when we did not have the equipment, when we did not have the personnel and when every theater commander quite rightly thought his job was the biggest in the war," Gen. Arnold stated.

Victory Not Close

Testimony before the Senate committee, made public today as the Senate moved to pass the bill, showed that Senator Gurney (R-SD) had warned Gen. McNarney that there was a growing tendency among some persons to feel that "the war is going to be over on Thanksgiving day" and that his statement of "rapidly approaching" victory might lead them to believe they were "on the right track."

Gen. McNarney conceded that the word "rapidly" might be an over statement, but added:

Army Makes Progress

"In the training and equipping of our armies and getting them ready for combat, we have made enormous progress in the past year. We have now committed to act, in concert with other United Nations, a rather large force.

"Our operations in the Pacific have turned the tide of Japanese advance into a gradual withdrawal toward their home bases. x x x It is our intention to bring the war home to Japan in such a manner that the whole empire will feel its full impact in a most violent and destructive way.

"Our Allies are with us and we are united in our efforts to defeat the Axis. The combined chiefs of staff have well-defined plans to accomplish this end."

Both the Army and Navy appropriation bills are the largest ever proposed for either branch of the armed services and both contained large sums for war planes. The Navy bill carried $27,637,222,198 in direct appropriations and about $6,000,000,000 in contractural authority. One of the major items was $5,000,000,000 for an additional 27,000 Navy planes.

SUBSIDIES FAILING TO CURB INFLATION, SAYS HEAD OF WFA

Conflict of Authority on Policy Assailed in Letter to Roosevelt.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

President Defends Subsidy Plan, Declares No Other Was Offered.

JUN 29 1943

CONGRESS UPSET

Leaders Had Expected Davis to Be Appointed Food 'Czar' Soon.

WASHINGTON, June 28—(AP) Chester C. Davis, the man President Roosevelt drafted three months ago to solve the food problem, stepped out today, telling the President flatly that the program to combat inflation won't work in its present form.

Appointed to succeed Mr. Davis as war food administrator was Marvin Jones, former House member with an agricultural background. Mr. Jones was chairman of the recent International Food conference at Hot Springs, Va.

Exchange of Letters

The resignation of Mr. Davis, which capped weeks of turbulent debate in Congress and out about the subsidy system, was made public in an exchange of pointed letters between him and President Roosevelt.

In a letter dated June 16, Mr. Davis said that while he had responsibility over food, other persons were exercising authority "not only over broad food policy, but day-to-day actions." He also expressed belief that the President's program to use subsidies to hold down food costs to consumers won't be effective unless it is accompanied, as in England, "by current tax and savings programs that drain off excess buying power, and by tight control and management of the food supply."

Therefore, Mr. Davis asked to be relieved as soon as he had launched the 1944 food production program and a broad food educational program, which he estimated would be under way "before the middle of July."

Defends Subsidies

The President, in a letter defending the subsidy program, said "It would be unfair to you to insist that you remain in your position when you feel that, all things considered, you cannot wholeheartedly support a program to hold down the cost of living." He also said he did not think Mr. Davis should finally determine the 1944 food program, since his successor "would then be called upon to administer a program which he had no part in determining."

Thus, in effect, Mr. Davis served notice that he was resigning soon, had favored Mr. Davis for this proposed new post.

JUN 29 1943

Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) of the House Agriculture committee, author of a bill to create a food "czar", said "with this change in food administrators I feel it will be almost useless to pass legislation as contemplated by my bill."

The Fulmer bill, bearing bi-partisan support, would take food pricing and rationing powers from the Office of Price Administration and place them in the hands of the war food administrator, now having supervision over production and distribution. A similar measure has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich).

Plan Rested on Davis

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), ranking minority member of the House Banking committee, said "the whole scheme of transferring OPA powers to the War Food administration has been predicated on confidence in Chester Davis."

Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio), chairman of the Republican congressional food study committee, however, said Mr. Davis' resignation "justifies" a recommendation of food study committee to place all wartime powers in the hands of one man.

"Mr. Davis would have been an ideal food administrator," Rep Jenkins said.

Senator Vandenberg said he thought Mr. Davis' action demonstrated the necessity for Congress to pass the "czar" legislation.

"Davis' chief complaint seems to have been lack of authority," Senator Vandenberg said. "If the Fulmer bill could be passed, we might hope for Davis' return to a job which he is more qualified to fill than any man in America."

Senators Bankhead (D-Ala) and Aiken (R-Vt) said they were not surprised at Mr. Davis' action and Senator Russell (D-Ga) commented:

"While I have every respect for the ability of Marvin Jones, we can ill afford to spare men of the character and caliber of Chester Davis in these times of emergency."

Loss to Government

Senator Clark (D-Mo) termed Mr. Davis' resignation "a very great loss to the government and one that won't be filled by the appointment of Marvin Jones."

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said he considered Mr. Davis one of the best men in the country for the job and that he "regretted exceedingly" that he found it necessary to resign.

Chairman Steagall (D-Ala), House Banking committee chairman, said he was "sorry it happened because Chester Davis had the confidence of a great many people of this country."

Meanwhile, House supporters of President Roosevelt's subsidy plan of price rollbacks apparently adopted a delaying action against the Commodity Credit corporation extension bills, which embrace bans on the use of subsidies for such rollbacks.

Floor Battle Seen

House leaders decided against an attempt today to appoint members of a conference committee to compose differences in the Senate and House versions when it appeared a floor battle might be encountered. There was some discussion of bringing the matter up tomorrow under a special rule.

Earlier, Rep. Fulmer had announced he would seek to have the conferees write into the Community Credit bill provisions for creating a food czar, with complete jurisdiction over production, distribution, pricing and rationing.

Herbert Hoover, former President and food administrator during World war I, endorsed the all-powerful food administrator idea yesterday. President Roosevelt has frowned upon it.

Shortly after his resignation was announced at the White House, Mr. Davis called a press conference of newsmen assigned to the food administration to express what he termed his "mixed emotions" at leaving the food post.

"I had hoped," he said, "to have an opportunity to discuss the whole problem with the President. But that opportunity did not develop. It probably is just as well."

He had nothing to say about the contents of the President's letter replying to his resignation.

Mr. Davis was reluctant to discuss his short tenure as food administrator. He did say, however, that one of his greatest difficulties and disappointments was his "lack of opportunity to get at the nerve center where food policies were made." He added:

"There were a large number of participants in the formation of those policies, you know."

Explains Needs

He expressed belief that a successful war food program would have to emphasize three main points:

(1) The production of an abundance of food that can supply a well-balanced if limited diet. Such foods, he said, would include potatoes, dry beans and peas, green and yellow leafy vegetables, supplemented with foods in shorter supply, such as meats and milk.

(2) More effective governmental control and management of the food supply. He said price ceilings and general food orders in themselves were not sufficient to provide proper flow of foods. He suggested extension of the government meat board set up in Chicago to regulate distribution of meat among civilian, military and lend-lease uses.

(3) A broad education program on production, conservation and sharing of food.

Mr. Davis said he planned to spend a few days visiting relatives in North Carolina before returning to his home in St. Louis. He said he would resume his former post as president of the Federal Reserve bank at St. Louis "if they want me."

When he took the food administratorship in March, it was announced that he was taking a leave of absence from the banking position.

In St. Louis, William T. Nardin, chairman of the board of directors of the bank, said, "There is no question about Mr. Davis resuming the presidency of the bank. We want him back."

JUN 29 1943

and the President told him to quit now.

Mr. Davis did not mention names when he complained that other persons were exercising authority in the food field. Among those whose functions pertain to food are James F. Byrnes, war mobilization director; Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director, and the Office of Price Administration.

Mr. Davis, a St. Louis banker, was formerly director of the Agricultural Adjustment administration. His resignation came as Congress neared a final decision on legislation killing the Office of Price Administration's food price rollback program.

In his letter to Mr. Davis, President Roosevelt recalled that he had been directed by Congress to stabilize living costs along the levels of last Sept. 15 and had been authorized to carry out the program through any agency or department he chose.

Accordingly, Mr. Roosevelt said, he had created the Office of Economic Stabilization and empowered the director to settle any disputes arising between the food and price administrator.

Covers Other Items

Observing that stabilization extends to rent, clothing and wages as well as food, the President said:

"If we are to stabilize all prices, we must place the final responsibility in one official. I know of no better method of coordinating the work of the food administrator and the price administrator, although that method does require a willingness on the part of both administrators to accept the decisions of the stabilization director."

The chief executive said he agreed with Mr. Davis on the need of a tax and savings program to bolster price and rationing programs but he said he could not sit back and fail to push other measures, "such as limited consumers' subsidies," just because Congress has not provided the tax legislation he has requested.

"Of course you know," Mr. Roosevelt added, "that I also favor and have advocated such support programs and incentive payments to producers as will enable us to obtain the necessary war production."

No Other Program Offered

The President, referring to subsidies, said he had expressed favor only for limited payments to maintain farm prices and hold down consumer prices. He said he had stated his willingness to consider any other program that would accomplish these aims but "none has been offered me."

In Congress, where both houses have voted to kill the Office of Price Administration's program to rollback food prices through payments of subsidies to processors, Mr. Davis's resignation brought expressions of regret and chilled some—but not all—the enthusiasm for the creation of a food "czar" with full authority over all food problems. Many of the legislators

DIRECTOR OF MINES APPOINTED BY ICKES

Carl E. Newton, Railroad Head, Selected to Direct Coal Production.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(AP) Secretary of Interior Ickes announced tonight he had appointed Carl Elbridge Newton, 45-year-old president of the Chesapeake and Ohio

3024 - 5469

30.24 - 5469

Railroad company, as director of mine operations for the Federal government.

Secretary Ickes, as custodian of the mines which the government took over on May 1, designated Mr. Newton to head the organization charged with keeping coal production going until the labor crisis endangering it is past.

Mr. Newton, a Cleveland resident and onetime assistant U. S. district attorney in New York and special assistant state attorney general for New York, supervised the largest coal hauling carrier in the world as president of the Chesapeake and Ohio, Secretary Ickes said. The secretary added in a statement:

"Mr. Newton's appointment as director of mine operations represents the selection of an individual with a vital public interest in and knowledge of coal, free of any partisan connection with either operators or mine workers' organizations.

Drafted for Task

"He will be a full-time government worker, whose services are loaned by his railroad as a contribution to the war effort. I am delighted to have been able to draft him for this unprecedented and extremely difficult task."

Appointment of a director of mine operations underscored Secretary Ickes' statement to a congressional committee today that while he hoped government operation of the mines would be brief "I regret to say there is nothing that leads me to believe that this will be so."

Secretary Ickes has begun setting up an organization to exercise "active supervision" over management of the mines, which are still directed by the former private operators who now act as agents of the government.

He has named an eight-member committee composed of chiefs of mine owning companies to advise in development of a program to be applied to the soft coal industry. A similar setup has been projected for the anthracite industry later.

Mr. Newton will have a status independent of the solid fuels administration headed by Secretary Ickes, but will have the services of the solid fuels office at his command. He will be responsible directly to Secretary Ickes for mine operations. Secretary Ickes' office reported he was expected here tomorrow to start his new work.

Allied Planes And Subs Hamper Axis Shipping

Washington, June 28 (AP)—Allied bombers and submarines have "severely hampered," German and Italian shipping, the Board of Economic Warfare said today, but cautioned that this should not be interpreted to mean that the enemy is cracking because those two powers are not so dependent upon water-borne transport as Japan, Great Britain and the United States.

"It does mean, however," the board said, "that the European Axis powers are under increasing strain at a time when construction of new tonnage in the United States is proceeding in the greatest volume in history, and British yards are busily engaged."

The board said Axis shipyards on the Mediterranean were unable to meet their relatively low quotas for new tonnage, with shipyards in some areas severely bombed, and others filled beyond capacity with ships under repair.

33-Billion Naval Bill Is Signed by Roosevelt

Measure Carries Five-Billion Item for 27,000 Planes

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed today the largest naval appropriation bill in the nation's history, providing approximately $33,000,000,000 for the twelve monthe starting July 1.

The measure carried $27,637,222,198 in direct appropriations and approximately $6,000,000,000 in contractural authority, one of the major items being approximately $5,000,000,000 to provide the Navy an additional 27,000 planes.

The President also approved the $2,621,366,879 independent offices supply bill, which had been held up on Capitol Hill by a dispute over the National Resources Planning Board. As finally passed, the legislation called for abolition of the board Aug. 31.

Madam Chiang Ending Visit

Will Return to Chungking Soon; Won't Stop in London

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP).—Madam Chiang Kai-shek will return to Chungking soon, T. V. Soong, the Chinese Foreign Minister, said today. He added that she does not plan to visit London en route.

Mr. Soong called on Secretary of State Cordell Hull this morning for an exchange of views on the international situation and told reporters of Madam Chiang's plans.

Riot Emergency Curbs Are Lifted in Detroit

Federal Troops Will Remain; Death Toll Now 33

DETROIT, June 28 (AP).—All emergency restrictions in effect in Detroit since the race rioting of a week ago were lifted today by Governor Harry F. Kelly and military authorities. The United States Army troops that have been on riot duty, however, will remain in the city as a percautionary measure.

Amusement places and saloons are permitted to resume normal hours and bottled liquor again may be sold.

The only restrictions left on civilians, under the order, are that they shall not bear arms of any sort and shall not gather in public assemblies of a type which would "aggravate or incite" the situation. There has been no report of violence since the appearance of troops last Monday night.

The death today of Chester Chatman, forty - two - year - old Negro, raised the official police count of riot fatalities to thirty-three, with two other cases listed as possibly caused by the fighting.

Army Lists Six Dead In Crash in Louisiana

New York and New Jersey Flyers Among Victims

LAKE CHARLES, La., June 28 (AP).—Names of six men killed in the crash of two A-20 type planes about eight miles northwest of Merryville Friday afternoon were released today by the public relations office of the Lake Charles Army Air Field following notification of next of kin. The list follows:

Second Lieutenant Paul F. Curdy, pilot, twenty-eight, son of Roy D. Curdy, of Near Bremerton, Wash.

Second Lieutenant Howard J. Hildebrandt, pilot, son of John C. Hildebrandt, Philadelphia.

Second Lieutenant Vincent L. Jasiniski, of Monsey, N. Y., son of Vincent J. Jasiniski, Spring Valley, N. Y.

Staff Sergeant Richard L. Wentling, twenty-one, son of Mrs. Grace Hackman, Lititz, Pa.

Sergeant Lawrence E. Zelley, eighteen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zelley, Burlington, N. J.

Private Thomas F. Riley, twenty-three, son of Mrs. Mae Riley, 1102 Washington Street, Hoboken.

DESTROYER INGERSOLL IS LAUNCHED IN MAINE

BATH, Me., June 28 — (AP) Two members of a distinguished naval family, a rear admiral who served as chief of staff of the Atlantic fleet and his grandson, were honored today with the launching of the destroyer Ingersoll at the Bath Iron Works Corp. yard.

Miss Alice Jean Ingersoll of La-Porte, Ind., daughter of the late Rear Admiral Royal R. Ingersoll, and Mrs. Helen Earle Ingersoll of Norfolk, Va., widow of Lieut. Royal R. Ingersoll, his grandson, were co-sponsors of the fighting craft.

Lieut. Ingersoll was killed in action in World War I. He was the son of Admiral Royal E. Ingersoll, commander-in-chief, Atlantic fleet, whose flagship is the U.S.S. Constellation at Newport, R. I.

Both Rear Admiral and Lieut. Ingersoll were residents of La-Porte.

Admiral Ingersoll was present as the craft named for his father and son went down the ways.

2 Boats Transferred to Peru

MIAMI, Fla., June 28 (AP).—Two eighty-three-foot anti-submarine patrol boats—the first to be transferred under lend-lease terms to Peru at this port—were turned over to the South American republic's navy today. Captain E. W. Strother, of the United States Navy, made the official presentation, and Rear Admiral Enrique Labarthe, Peruvian Naval Attache at Washington, accepted.

NAZI SPY LEARNED SHIPPING DATA BY VISITING TAVERNS

FBI Calls Arrest a 'Lesson for American Public'

NEW YORK, June 28—(AP) Ernest Frederick Lehmitz, 57, whose arrest was termed a "lesson for the American public" by special FBI agent E. E. Conroy, pleaded guilty today before a U. S. commissioner to FBI charges that he had gathered important war information for the Nazi intelligence system while serving as an air raid warden.

Lehmitz, a naturalized U. S. citizen who Mr. Conroy said had been trained as a spy in Germany, pleaded guilty before U. S. Commissioner Martin C. Epstein in Brooklyn and was held in $50,000 bail for grand jury action. He cannot be sentenced by a U. S. commissioner and will be prosecuted under the wartime espionage act which provides a sentence of death or 30 years in prison for conviction.

Was Air Raid Warden

In disclosing details of Lehmitz's activities, Mr. Conroy said that the German native who had served as an air raid warden in Tompkinsville, Staten Island, "was known to have frequented bars and restaurants where members of the armed forces and defense workers gathered."

Mr. Conroy described Lehmitz's activities as follows:

Using invisible ink to pen his messages between the lines and on the reserve side of apparently innocuous letters to friends in various parts of Europe, Lehmitz transmitted war information of a confidential nature to known German espionage contacts.

His reports dealt with all types of national defense and even included brief comments on American public opinion which Mr. Conroy said was of paramount interest to Nazi intelligence.

Described Convoys

In one message he described a shipment of bomb sights by the American government. He also sent details of the construction and repair of ships at the Brooklyn Navy yard, the loading of freighters at Norfolk and Newport News, Va., and the type and number of tanks and guns being carried in a convoy. Another message included the number of ships in certain convoys, their destinations and a description of their cargoes.

He described air raid precautions here as "indescribable confusion." Sending much information concerning Allied invasion plans he wrote on one occasion, "place and time of the intended landing attempt not possible to confirm, whether the continent of Europe, from Great Britain or Spanish and Portuguese islands."

Mr. Conroy said Lehmitz was "known to have gone into as many as five or six taverns in a single day, each time listening carefully for any scrap of information which he might overhear from a merchant seaman or a defense worker.

"The lesson is that we must be on our guard against such specialized agents as Lehmitz whose highly trained minds can reconstruct the entire makeup of a convoy or troop movement from fragmentary information obtained at random but with a definite purpose in mind."

Mr. Conroy said that Lehmitz, who is married and childless, was born in Hamburg, Germany, first entered this country in 1908, and from 1913 until the United States entered the first World war served in the German consulate in New York. During the first World war he was classed as a "dangerous enemy alien," Mr. Conroy added.

INVASION DATE SET SATURDAY BY NAZIS

Prediction Broadcast By Berlin Does Not Name Point Where Attack Is Expected

JUN 29 1943

New York, June 28 (AP)—The Germans reached into their propaganda bag and set a new date—Saturday, July 3—for the anticipated Allied onslaught against the Axis.

This new invasion forecast was broadcast by the German radio and attributed to London reports reaching Stockholm, but there was no elaboration concerning the point or points at which the Germans expected the blow. The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

Earlier this month the Nazis set June 22 for the Allied attack.

Swedish Motorship Torpedoed and Sunk

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The British radio quoted an official Swedish announcement today that the Swedish motorship Venetsia had been torpedoed and sunk.

The Swedish announcement, in a broadcast heard here by CBS, did not give the location of the sinking, but it was said that the crew, all of whom were saved, were taken to Rio de Janeiro.

18,000 Wounded And Sick Leave Africa By Plane

New York, June 28 (AP)—Revelation that 18,000 sick and wounded men had been evacuated from the African war theater by airplanes of the United States army was made tonight by Brig. Gen. David N. W. Grant, air surgeon of the Army Air Forces.

General Grant, in a speech before the Advertising Federation of America, said that "some days we moved as many as 600 patients—that's three times as many patients as can be carried by a hospital train on any one trip."

Not all of the 18,000 men were Americans, he said. Many were British and French.

Commenting on what air power had done to aid military medicine, General Grant recalled the air forces once flew a complete 250-bed hospital from one African battlefield to another when the shifting of hospital facilities became urgently necessary.

The general attributed the low death rate among wounded men in this war to four factors, and said they ranked thus in importance: blood plasma, quick evacuation to medical treatment, sulfa drugs and surgery.

SULTAN RETURNS TO PALACE

NEW YORK, June 28 — (AP) Sidi Mohammed, the sultan of Morocco, has returned to his palace at Fez in a Flying Fortress after a three-day visit with the United States Fifth army, the Dakar radio said tonight in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications commission.

DEGAULLE'S BROTHER FLEES

NEW YORK, June 28 — (AP) CBS quoted a French-language broadcast of the British radio today as saying that a Parisian brother of Gen. Charles de Gaulle who was arrested recently by the Germans had escaped from custody.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

Those reports reaching London that the German High Command has ordered the removal of 50 divisions from the Russian theater to other fronts are calculated to encourage belief that Hitler has abandoned any plans for a 1943 offensive in the east. For that reason it would be wise to receive them with caution. They fit too well into the pattern of a possible German propaganda campaign to lull the Allies into belief that there is no urgency about the job of taking some of the burden off Russia or to encourage relaxation of the Red army's guard against a sudden German smash.

In brief the reports—credited to a source with underground connections in Europe—are that the German command proposes to send from Russia ten divisions to the strategic reserve, 15 to western France, nine to northern France, four to southern France and 12 to the Balkans. Such movement would reduce the German armies in Russia by about one-fourth, probably cut them well below the strength necessary for any aggressive action.

No matter whether any such wholesale shift of Hitler's land forces from east to west and south is under way or contemplated, there is no doubt that he is making a gigantic effort to make good the boasts of his propaganda machine about the impregnability of the European fortress.

The British and American air assault on the Ruhr already has compelled him to concentrate the best of his air forces in western Europe. The speed with which the final phase of the Tunisian campaign was carried through and the poor record compiled by his U-boats for April, May and June have forced him to prepare to meet invasion weeks, perhaps months, sooner than he had hoped would be necessary.

He knows it would be suicidal not to be ready to meet an assault any day now by the great Allied armies poised in North Africa and the Middle East and in the British isles.

Hence it is entirely logical to believe that the German command has shifted between 20 and 30 divisions into France in recent weeks. Whether these come from Russia or from the reserve pool within Germany itself, such a movement would mean a drastic reorientation of the strategic outlook. At this stage of the war, with a whole continent to defend, the strategic reserve must be maintained and any temporary drafts thereon would have to be replaced quickly. Such replacements probably could come now only from Russia, where the bulk of Hitler's armies have been held since 1941.

As to the riddle whether Germany has abandoned her 1943 offensive against Russia, the passing of each week makes an affirmative answer more reasonable. The eastern battle lines remain essentially as they have been since the Germans were halted on the Donets last March after their local comeback in the Ukraine and from neither side comes convincing evidence that any major attack is imminent.

Hitler may hope by remaining on the defensive in the east to encourage the Allies to withhold any blows that they may have prepared for delivery the moment the German armies are committed in the east. There are some indications of a German hope that time might work for the Axis in such a period of delay, producing political complications and divisions among the Allies, such as a repetition of last summer's friction over the question of a second front.

Be that as it may, the fact is that if the western Allies, by their pressure from the air and their evident preparation for invasion, compel Hitler to redispose his armies they already will have achieved the first objective of a second front, relieving Russia of some of the burden. The passing weeks are more likely to aid them than Hitler, giving greater opportunity for perfection of the preparations for the second and greater objective of the second front, the breaching of the European fortress itself from the south or west.

29 Years Ago Today

Sarajevo Incident Started World War

Austrian Archduke Shot By Serb Student After Bomb Missed Mark

By the Associated Press.

Twenty-nine years ago today in the Bosnian city of Sarajevo, near which Yugoslav guerrillas now are battling the Axis invaders, a young Serb nationalist assassinated Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria and his wife, Sophie, and touched off the World War.

It was a hot sunny day in the provincial capital when the heir-apparent to the throne of Austria-Hungary stepped off a special train, inspected a guard of honor drawn up to welcome him and entered an open car to drive to the town hall.

The archduke, a stiff and formal man, with large, up-pointed mustache, sat straight in the automobile although tired from a long tour of inspections and watching maneuvers of the Austrian Army. His wife, who had joined him only a short time previously, sat beside him dressed in the heavy clothes and thick veils of the motorist of the day.

Missed by Bomb.

As they neared the little river that still flows between high walls, the first attempt was made on their lives. A 20-year-old Serbian printer suddenly threw an awkwardly-aimed bomb that missed the archduke's automobile, wounding an aide who was following.

The procession continued and the angry archduke strode to the mayor who stod on the town hall steps in his Sunday best to greet the distinguished visitors.

"What is the good of speeches?" the Archduke growled. "I came to Sarajevo on a visit and I get bombs thrown at me. It is outrageous."

As a precaution, the route for the return trip to the station was changed. But the chauffeur of the royal automobile apparently misunderstood and started out on the previously planned route. He was told to change and as he halted and started to turn the vehicle around it came within the range of Gavrilo Princip, a Serb student.

Three Shots Fired.

The boy aimed a Browning revolver, with which he had been practicing for some days, and fired three times. The first shot hit the Archduke in the neck, the second hit him in the leg and the third hit his wife.

The assassination roused the Austrians against the Serbs at a time when ill-feeling between the two countries needed little prodding. Austria's ultimatum and attack on Serbia brought Russia into the war; Germany, acting under an alliance with Austria, declared war on Russia; France joined in through her alliance with Russia and Britain came in through alliances with Belgium and France.

WAR REPORTERS SERVE AT FRONT

JUN 29 1943

Casualties High Because Correspondents Go into Thick of Battle.

NEW YORK, June 28 — (AP) Casualties among American war correspondents are high because the men who gather the battle news "are getting into the thick of the fighting as never before."

And that is why Americans at home are getting so accurate a conception of the war's hardships and heroism, writes Harold Denny, New York Times correspondent, in the current issue of Look magazine. The article is entitled "War Correspondents Aren't Soldiers But They Do Die."

Among the 12 correspondents who have been killed, Denny listed Edward Henry Crockett of the Associated Press, in the torpedoing of a British war vessel in the Mediterranean, and Jack Singer, International News Service, who went down with the aircraft carrier Wasp.

Denny also cited Vern Haugland, the AP man decorated by General MacArthur, after spending 43 days in a New Guinea jungle; and Leo S. Disher of the United Press, wounded in the landing at Oran.

"The correspondent is in the army, but not of it," Denny wrote. "He wears an officer's uniform, but has no authority. A civilian, he is forbidden to carry arms, yet he is subject to military law and can be court-martialed for disobedience.

"When the battle is joined, he is in it. When the day's action is over, he umlimbers his portable and types his dispatch on any handy crate.

"His compensation is knowing his stories will help win the war by building morale at home."

THIRD LEAD AERIAL

LONDON, JUNE 28--(AP)--A LARGE FORCE OF UNITED STATES HEAVY BOMBERS ATTACKED TARGETS IN FRANCE LATE TODAY.

THE FIRST BRIEF ANNOUNCEMENT FROM HEADQUARTERS OF THE EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY DID NOT SPECIFY TARGETS AND GAVE NO DETAILS ON LOSSES AND AIR VICTORIES.

THE ACTION, PART OF A ROUND-THE-CLOCK AERIAL OFFENSIVE OF HEIGHTENING INTENSITY, FOLLOWED A MORNING SWEEP IN WHICH RAF SPITFIRES AND TYPHOONS SANK TWO GERMAN SHIPS, FORCED ANOTHER TO BEACH, AND STOPPED THREE OTHERS OFF THE DUTCH COAST.

JUN 29 1943

THE DRUM OF THE MULTI-ENGINED MACHINES CONTINUED FOR SEVERAL MINUTES AS THE BIG FORMATION HEADED TOWARD THE CONTINENT BETWEEN BOULOGNE AND CALAIS.

COASTAL WATCHERS SAID THE FORCE APPARENTLY HAD STRUCK DEEP INLAND BECAUSE NO BOMBS WERE HEARD ON THIS SIDE.

THE RAF EMPLOYED TYPHOONS AND HURRICANES AGAINST THE GERMAN CONVOY, FOUND SAILING IN A LINE, THE AIR MINISTRY SAID.

3124- 5471

30.24- 5471

THESE VESSELS WERE ATTACKED IN WAVES AND THE FINAL WAVE OF FLIERS ALSO ATTACKEDSHIPS, BELIEVED TO BE TUGS, TRYING TO AID THE CONVOY. ONE RAF PLANE WAS LOST, THE AIR MINISTRY ANNOUNCED, IN CONTRAST TO THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND'S CLAIM THAT NINE WERE SHOT DOWN. THE GERMANS ALSO ASSERTED THAT THE CONVOY SUFFERED ONLY MINOR DAMAGE.

HURTLING THROUGH INTENSE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE, FIGHTERS CLOSED IN TO 500 OR 600 YARDS WITH GUNS BLAZING IN THE INITIAL ATTACK ON THE CONVOY. AN EXPLOSION AND YELLOW FLAMES SUGGESTING AN AMMUNITION FIRE BURST OUT OF ONE 800-TON SHIP, WHICH WAS BEACHED, THE AIR MINISTRY SAID.

JUN 29 1943

ONE PILOT SAW A 600-TON SHIP SINK WITHIN TEN MINUTES. WHEN THE SECOND WAVE OF PLANES CAME OVER, ANOTHER 600-TON SHIP HAD DISAPPEARED.

OTHER TYPHOON BOMBERS ARRIVING LATER FOUND TWO MORE SHIPS WHICH LOOKED LIKE TUGS PLOUGHING TO THE ASSISTANCE OF THE REMAINING TWO VESSELS AT A STANDSTILL. ONE OF THESE POURED OUT SMOKE AFTER HITS WERE REGISTERED ALL OVER HER, IT WAS STATED.

IN THE BLOWS BY THE MOSQUITOS THE AIR MINISTRY SAID TWO RAILWAY YARDS WERE HIT, LOCOMOTIVES WERE RAKED WITH MACHINE-GUN FIRE AND R-BOATS OFF CHERBOURG WERE STRADDLED WITH BOMBS. xx

LONDON, JUNE 28-(AP)-THE RAF, DETERMINED TO CRIPPLE THE NAZIS' POWER TO MOVE RESERVES ALONG THE INVASION COASTLINE, SWITCHED BLOWS DURING THE NIGHT AND SENT SQUADRONS OF MOSQUITOS--THE FORCE'S FASTEST PLANE--DEEP INTO FRANCE TO HAMMER RAILWAYS AND AIRPORTS.

THE AIR MINISTRY REPORTED THAT TWO RAILWAY YARDS WERE HIT, LOCOMOTIVES WERE RAKED WITH MACHINE-GUN FIRE AND R-BOATS OFF CHERBOURG WERE STRADDLED WITH BOMBS.

THERE WERE NO INDICATIONS THAT BRI... PLANES WERE OVER GERMANY DURING THE NIGHT.

IT WAS THE FIRST TIME AFTER SEVEN CONSECUTIVE NIGHTLY ATTACKS AGAINST THE RUHR AND WESTERN GERMANY THAT THE RAF FAILED TO STRIKE AT WAR PLANTS IN GERMANY PROPER.

IT WAS THE NINTH NIGHT, HOWEVER, OF THE CURRENT ALLIED AERIAL OFFENSIVE AGAINST HITLER'S EUROPE.

THE WEEKEND ASSAULTS SLACKENED IN INTENSITY HOWEVER, FROM THE PUNISHING RAIDS LAST WEEK ON THE RUHR AND ON AIRPORTS AND RAILWAY TARGETS IN FRANCE.

JUN 29 1943

BAD WEATHER HAMPERED OPERATIONS SATURDAY. AMERICAN BOMBER CREWS RETURNED WITH BOMB RACKS STILL LOADED BECAUSE THEY COULD NOT SPOT THEIR OBJECTIVES THROUGH HEAVY CLOUD FORMATIONS.

COL. CHARLES E. MERION, OF DETROIT, COMMANDER OF A GROUP THAT TOOK PART IN A FOUR-PLY OPERATION OVER FRANCE SATURDAY, DECLARED ON HIS RETURN; "WE DID NOT DROP BOMBS, FOLLOWING AN ARMY AIR FORCE POLICY OF NOT BOMBING INDISCRIMINANTELY OVER FRANCE."

THE RAF FOLLOWED UP SATURDAY NIGHT WITH RAIDS ON UNSPECIFIED TARGETS IN WESTERN AND NORTHWESTERN GERMANY, AND ON OBJECTIVES IN FRANCE.

NAZI SHIPPING OFF THE DUTCH COAST WAS ATTACKED SUNDAY AFTERNOON AND THREE ESCORT VESSELS AND A SUPPLY SHIP WERE REPORTED PROBABLY DAMAGED. TWO ENEMY FIGHTER PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN AND SEVERAL OTHERS DAMAGED, WHILE ONE BRITISH PLANE FAILED TO RETURN, THE BRITISH SAID.

THE VICHY RADIO DECLARED NUMEROUS ALLIED PLANES, FROM SINGLE-

SEATER FIGHTERS TO FOUR-ENGINED FORTRESSES, WERE OVER FRANCE DURING THE DAY.

IN THE SATURDAY NIGHT MISSION, THE RAF ALSO LAID MINES IN ENEMY WATERS, IT WAS ANNOUNCED.

LONDON HAD A BRIEF DAYLIGHT ALERT EARLY TODAY AND ONE ENEMY PLANE WAS REPORTED DESTROYED OFF THE SOUTHEAST COAST. IN ALL OTHER SUNDAY OPERATIONS FIVE ENEMY FIGHTER PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN.

(THE GERMAN PRESS DECLARED NEW TYPES OF NAZI FIGHTER FORMATIONS WERE BEING EMPLOYED SUCCESSFULLY AGAINST THE AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES WHICH HAVE DEALT SUCH HEAVY BLOWS TO GOERING'S AIR FORCE. DISPATCHES TO BERN ASSERTED THAT 26 AMERICAN BOMBERS WERE SHOT DOWN WHEN AN ATTACK ON BREMEN WAS THWARTED FRIDAY. AN EIGHTH U.S.AIR FORCE COMMUNIQUE WHICH SAID NORTHWEST GERMAN TARGETS WERE ATTACKED FRIDAY IN HEAVY WEATHER ALSO ANNOUNCED 17 PLANES HAD BEEN LOST.)

THE CURRENT OFFENSIVE BEGAN JUNE 19 WITH AN RAF NIGHT RAID ON THE SCHNEIDER ARMAMENT WORKS AT LE CREUSOT, 170 MILES SOUTHEAST OF PARIS.

ONLY ONE TOWN OF MORE THAN 100,000--MUCHEN-GLADBACH, WEST OF DUESSELDORF--HAS ESCAPED DAMAGE FROM THE RAF'S BATTERING OF THE RUHR VALLEY.

JUN 29 1943

BOCHUM AND GELSENKIRCHEN WERE THE LAST TO GET A HEAVY LOAD OF EXPLOSIVES. THEY WERE ATTACKED BY THE RAF FRIDAY NIGHT.

BY JAMES F.KING

LONDON, JUNE 28-(AP)-A NEW SERIES OF AIR BLOWS AT GERMANY'S STRAINED RAILWAY SYSTEM WAS FORECAST BY MILITARY OBSERVERS TODAY AS A POSSIBLE FOLLOW-UP TO THE TERRIFIC BATTERING OF THE INDUSTRIAL RUHR IN THE ALLIES' CAMPAIGN OF STRATEGIC BOMBING TO SAP THE NAZIS' STRENGTH.

THIS PHASE OF THE AIR WAR WAS SUGGESTED EVEN AS REICHSMARSHAL HERMANN GOERING WAS REPORTED BEING LURED INTO RISKING THE GERMAN AIR FORCE RESERVES HE HAD BEEN CAREFULLY HUSBANDING IN A DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO WARD OFF A KNOCKOUT BLOW TO THE RUHR.

FACED WITH BEING FORCED TO MAKE A QUICK SHIFT OF TROOPS OVER LONG DISTANCES THAT SEPARATE THE RUSSIAN, ITALIAN AND CHANNEL FRONTS, THE GERMSNS ARE RELYING HEAVILY ON A RAIL LINK-UP WHICH ALREADY HAS BEEN UNDER HEAVY ATTACK.

THE GERMAN LINES ARE REGARDED BY MILITARY OBSERVERS AS BEING ESPECIALLY VULNERABLE FROM THE AIR. THE FULL EFFECT OF DAMAGE ALREADY INFLICTED UPON TRAINS AND REPAIR FACTORIES WILL TELL IN A DRAWN-OUT CAMPAIGN, AND COULD FORCE THE NAZIS TO DRAW IN DEFENSE LINES AROUND THE HITLER EUROPEAN "FORTRESS."

ALMOST DAILY AND NIGHTLY EXCURSIONS AGAINST AXIS COMMUNICATIONS ALONG THE INVASION COAST HAVE BEEN COSTING THE GERMANS BETWEEN 100 AND 150 LOCOMOTIVES MONTHLY, LONDON SOURCES HAVE ESTIMATED.

THE NAZIS HAVE MADE NO EFFORT TO CONCEAL THEY HAVE BEEN BADLY SHAKEN BY THE RUHR RAIDS.

JUN 29 1943

THE MOSCOW RADIO, IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR HERE, REPORTED THAT HEINRICH HIMMLER, THE GESTAPO CHIEFTAIN, HAD SENT A SPECIAL SS DIVISION TO THE DEVASTATED AREAS.

UNITS OF THIS DIVISION WERE REPORTED GIVEN UNLIMITED POWERS, INCLUDING THE PROCLAIMING OF A STATE OF EMERGENCY. THEY WERE REPORTED QUARTERED IN DORTMUND, ESSEN, BOCHUM, GELSENKIRCHEN AND DUISBURG, ALL OF WHICH HAVE BEEN POUNDED HEAVILY BY ALLIED BOMBERS.

THE MOSCOW RADIO ALSO DECLARED SS PATROLS GUARDING THE MOVEMENT OF COAL TRAINS AND BIG RUHR AND RHINELAND RAILWAY STATIONS HAVE BEEN

3324- 5473

30.24- 5473

CONSIDERABLY REINFORCED.

(EDITORS--IF DESIRED, THE ABOVE MAY BE USED AS AN ADD OR INSERT TO THE REGULAR BRITISH AERIAL STORY UNDER LONDON DATE.)

LONDON--SECOND ADD THIRD NIGHT LEAD AERIAL X X X OF JULY.

LIEUT.ROBERT LANGLOID OF APPLETON, WIS., TAILGUNNER ON THE FORTRESS "BLACK GHOST," IN WHICH COL.BUDD J.PEASELEE OF SALINAS, CALIF., WAS GROUP COMMANDER AND OBSERVER, SAID "AS WE TURNED AWAY FROM THE TARGET AN OPAQUE BLANKET OF SMOKE BILLOWED UP TOWARDS US" AT BEAUMONT-LE-ROGER.

LIEUT.CLYDE CARLSON OF MINNEAPOLIS, BOMBARDIER ON THE FORTRESS "BAD MONEY," SAID:

"THE BURST OF FLAME COVERED AN AREA OF A BIG CITY BLOCK. HANGARS AND BARRACKS MUST HAVE BEEN WIPED OUT BECAUSE THEY WERE BRACKETED WITH BOMBS."

RAF TYPHOONS, ETC., IN FOURTH GRAPH AS BEFORE.

JUN 29 1943

LONDON, JUNE 28-(AP)-U.S. ARMY ARTILLERY WILL BE REPAIRED IN A BRITISH GUN SHOP WITH TOMMIES AND AMERICAN SOLDIER EXPERTS WORKING SIDE BY SIDE UNDER A REVERSE LEND-LEASE AGREEMENT, BRIG. GEN. HENRY B.SAYLER, CHIEF OF ORDNANCE OF THE SERVICE OF SUPPLY, ANNOUNCED TODAY.

MAJOR THOMAS T.HOLME OF 914 FILLMOR ST., PHIL

MAJOR THOMAS T.HOLME OF 914 FILLMORE ST., PHILADELPHIA, PA., CHIEF OF WEAPONS MAINTENANCE, MADE THE ARRANGEMENTS FOR SHARING THE PLANT TO SAVE VITAL SHIPPING SPACE.

LONDON, JUNE 28-(AP)-THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY TONIGHT THAT "NOT LESS THAN" 400 AXIS WARSHIPS, SUPPLY SHIPS AND SMALL CRAFT HAVE BEEN SUNK OR DAMAGED BY MINES LAID IN EUROPEAN WATERS SINCE THE WAR BEGAN.

A JOINT COMMUNIQUE FROM THE ADMIRALTY AND THE AIR MINISTRY SAID THE TRUE FIGURE PROBABLY WAS CONSIDERABLY HIGHER THAN 400, SINCE THE NATURE OF MINING OPERATIONS OBSCURED MANY RESULTS.

THE STATEMENT SAID MORE THAN 70 PER CENT OF THE SHIPPING DAMAGED BY MINES WERE VICTIMS OF THE EXPLOSIVES LAID BY AIRCRAFT. OTHER MINES WERE PLANTED BY SURFACE SHIPS AND SUBMARINES.

JUN 29 1943

ONE OF THE RECENT SUCCESSES WAS THE PREVIOUSLY REPORTED SINKING OF THE 18,000-TON GERMAN LINER GNEISENAU, THE 11,000-TON TANKER EUROSEE, THE 7,000-TON TRANSPORT WURI AND THE 8,400-TON TRANSPORT CONSUL HORN, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID. IT LISTED ALSO THE MINING OF THE TRAIN FERRIES STARKE AND HALMO, OF 2,500 AND 1,600 TONS RESPECTIVELY.

"CERTAIN SUCCESSES AGAINST U-BOATS ARE KNOWN; OTHERS ARE PROBABLE BUT VERY DIFFICULT TO TRACE," THE STATEMENT SAID, "IN ONE CASE, HOWEVER, AN AIRCRAFT ON PATROL OVER THE BAY OF BISCAY HAD THE UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE OF ACTUALLY SEEING A U-BOAT DESTROYED BY A MINE OFF LORIENT."

THE COMMUNIQUE SAID MINING HAS FORCED THE ENEMY "TO CLOSE MANY OF HIS PORTS FROM OSLO (NORWAY) TO BAYONNE (FRANCE) FROM TIME TO TIME AND HAVE INTERRUPTED TRAFFIC IN IMPORTANT WATERWAYS SUCH AS THE KIEL CANAL.

"BOTH THE BATTLE CRUISERS SCHARNHORST AND GNEISENAU WERE DAMAGED BY MINES LAID BY AIRCRAFT OF THE BOMBER COMMAND DURING THEIR ESCAPE FROM BREST, IN ADDITION TO THE DAMAGE THEY RECEIVED BY TORPEDO AND BOMBING ATTACKS."

MANY MINES HAVE BEEN PLACED WITHIN A FEW MILES OF THE ENEMY'S COASTLINE. THE STATEMENT ATTRIBUTED TO SUCH OPERATIONS THE SINKING OF SUCH SUPPLY SHIPS AS THE 2700-TON MELILA AND THE 4,360 HOGLAND. THE MINES WERE DECLARED TO HAVE CUT DOWN THE ENEMY'S COASTAL SHIPPING MARKEDLY, "THUS CONTRIBUTING SERIOUSLY TO THE DESTRUCTION OF SUPPLY LINES ON WHICH HIS ARMED FORCES DEPEND IN THEIR ATTEMPT TO HOLD DOWN OCCUPIED TERRITORIES."

THE OPERATIONS WERE CREDITED WITH DEPLETING AXIS NAVAL STRENGTH, FORCING THE MAINTENANCE OF A LARGE FLEET OF MINE SWEEPERS.

LONDON, JUNE 28--(AP)---THE SWISS ARMY COMMAND WARNED

THE SWISS PEOPLE IN A RADIO BROADCAST TODAY AGAINST HANDLING

AND CARGO BOTTLES AND SACKS
INCENDIARY BALLOONS WHICH IT SAID HAD BEEN FOUND IN GREAT NUMBERS RECENTLY IN SWITZERLAND.

JUN 29 1943

(WHILE SUGGESTING THE WIDESPREAD APPLICATION OF A NEW TECHNIQUE IN AERIAL WARFARE, THE STATEMENT DID NOT MENTION THE ORIGIN OF THE BALLOONS. SWITZERLAND LIES BETWEEN GERMANY AND ITALY, HOWEVER, AND ADJACENT AXIS TERRITORY HAS BEEN SUBJECTED TO RAF AIR RAIDS RECENTLY. ALPINE AIR CURRENTS ALONE COULD HAVE BORNE THEM ACROSS THE FRONTIER TO SWITZERLAND'S NEUTRAL SOIL.)

"MOST DANGEROUS ARE THE BOTTLES, THE SIZE OF ORDINARY WATER BOTTLES AND FILLED WITH A YELLOW OR GREY LIQUID WHICH IS INFLAMMABLE WHEN IN CONTACT WITH AIR,"

SAID THE BROADCAST, WHICH WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

"THESE BOTTLES CAN BE FOUND SINGLY OR IN GROUPS IN FIELDS, WOODS, ETC., WITHOUT A BALLOON BEING NEAR. IF THE BOTTLES ARE BROKEN THE GROUND AROUND TO A DISTANCE OF ABOUT 10 METERS IS POISONED AND DANGEROUS FOR MEN AND ANIMALS. THE PLACE HAS TO BE ROPED OFF AND GUARDED."

THE SWISS BALLOON-BORNE SACKS WERE REPORTED FILLED WITH A DUST WHICH WAS IGNITED BY AN ELECTRICAL DEVICE WHENEVER THE BALLOON TOUCHED A TREE OR A BUILDING. THE BALLOON ITSELF WAS SAID TO BURN WITH AN EXPLOSION.

JUN 29 1943

THE BROADCAST SAID THE SWISS SHOULD NOTIFY POLICE OR MILITARY AUTHORITIES WHEN SUCH DEVICES WERE LOCATED.

London, June 28-(AP)-Election of deputies to the Supreme Soviet of the R.S.F.S.R., or RUSSIAN SOCIALIST FEDERATED SOVIET REPUBLIC, THE regional legislature of Russia proper, was postponed today because of the war.

The praesidium, or standing committee of the legislature, put off the election for a year, according to a Moscow broadcast, heard by the Soviet monitor, and prolongued the powers of the present council.

3024-5475

30.24 - 5475

London, June 28-(AP)-Britain alone is now producing more aircraft than Germany can furnish the Luftwaffe, Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin said in a speech today.

LONDON, JUNE 28-(AP)-JOVAN BANJANIN RESIGNED TODAY AS MINISTER OF MINES IN THE NEW YUGOSLAV CABINET OF PREMIER MIMILOS TRIFUNOVIC. HE GAVE NO REASON. BANJANIN TRIED UNSUCCESSFULLY TO FORM A NEW CABINET FOR THE EXILED GOVERNMENT LAST WEEK.

LONDON, JUNE 28-(AP)-ANETA, THE NETHERLANDS NEWS AGENCY, SAID TODAY IT HAD LEARNED THAT 150 JEWS DEPORTED FROM HOLLAND TO POLAND BY GERMAN AUTHORITIES HAD BEEN SHOT.

JUN 29 1943

LONDON, JUNE 28-(AP)-THREE CANADIAN ARMORED INFANTRY REGIMENTS WERE INCLUDED IN THE LATEST CONVOY TO BE ANNOUNCED AS REACHING BRITAIN. THERE WAS ALSO A LARGE NUMBER OF REINFORCEMENTS FOR VARIOUS UNITS.

LONDON, JUNE 28-(AP)-THE BRITISH BROADCASTING CORPORATION REPORTED TODAY THAT GREEK GUERRILLAS HAD ROUTED ITALIAN TROOPS WITH HEAVY CASUALTIES IN SHARP FIGHTING SOUTHWEST OF TRIKKALI IN NORTHERN THESSALY AND HAD BLOCKED THE VITALLY IMPORTANT SALONIKA-ATHENS RAILWAY.

THE BROADCAST SAID THE GUERRILLAS HAD WRECKED SEVERAL IMPORTANT BRIDGES ON THE RAILROAD AND THAT IT WOULD PROBABLY BE UNUSEABLE FOR A CONSIDERABLE TIME.

LONDON--THIRD ADD THIRD NIGHT LEAD AERIAL X X X WITH BOMBS."

LIEUT. W.B. KINNY OF BELMONT, OHIO, PILOT ON THE FORTRESS "DORIS MAE," SAID THE BOMBS "FELL LIKE HAILSTONES."

TWO FORTRESSES RAN INTO DIFFICULTY BEFORE REACHING FRANCE -- BUT THEY DIDN'T MISS THE SHOW.

THE BOMBERS, PILOTED BY LIEUT. SAM P. ATARIANO OF MODESTO, CALIF., AND LIEUT. JACOB C. JAMES OF DALIENT, OKLA., DEVELOPED OIL LEAKS, AND WERE BROUGHT BACK TO THEIR BASE.

THE [redacted] MEN JUMPED INTO OTHER FORTRESSES AND CAUGHT UP WITH THEIR SQUADRONS, AND TOOK PART IN THE RAID.

JUN 29 1943

RAF TYPHOONS X X X 4TH GRAF (INSERTED).

LONDON ---INSERT AFTER FIFTH GRAF RUSSIAN STARTING "AN EARLIER" X X X WAR MATERIEL.

THE FINNISH MONDAY COMMUNIQUE CHARGED THAT RED ARMY SCOUTS RECENTLY [redacted] "KILLED UNARMED [redacted] CITIZENS IN TWO VILLAGES IN THE REAR OF THE NORTHERN SECTOR" OF THE FINNISH FRONT AND THAT A FINNISH [redacted] RECONNAISSANCE DETACHMENT IN TURN SLEW 30 OF THE RUSSIANS,

"THE USUAL FIGHTING ACTIVITY IS REPORTED FROM THE REMAINING SECTORS OF THE FRONT," THE HELSINKI BULLETIN SAID.

THE RUSSIAN ETC X X X SIXTH GRAF.

Bomber station, Britain (CBA) x x 17.

"YES IT WAS A NICE DAY TODAY ALL AROUND," SOBERLY APPRAISED LIEUTENANT SAM R.JOHNSTONE, OF 525 DEWEY BLVD., SAN FRANCISCO, PILOT OF THE FORTRESS "LALA THIRD" WHO COMPLETED HIS NINETEENTH RAID.

THE "BOOMERANG BOYS" HAD SOME SUSPENSEFUL MOMENTS BEFORE THEY ASCERTAINED THAT ALL OF THE GROUP WERE SAFE. FIVE PLANES WERE MISSING WHEN THE FORMATION FIRST SOARED BACK OVER THE FIELD. THEN THREE STRAGGLERS CAME IN. THEN TWO TELEPHONE CALLS CHECKED OFF THE REMAINING TWO WHICH HAD LANDED AT OTHER FIELDS. THESE WERE SHIPS PILOTED BY LIEUTENANT JAMES STEVENSON, OF ALMOGORDO, N.M., WHOSE SHIP WENT DOWN IN THE CHANNEL DURING A RECENT RAID ON FRANCE, AND LIEUTENANT BENJAMIN HOPKINS, OF WASHINGTON, GA.

AMONG THE "GROUND BIRDS" WHO SWEATED OUT THE RETURNING PLANES WERE PUBLISHERS PAUL PATTERSON OF THE BALTIMORE SUN PAPERS AND JOHN S.KNIGHT OF THE DETROIT FREE PRESS AND OTHER U.S. NEWSPAPERS, AND MARK WATSON, BALTIMORE SUN MILITARY WRITER VISITING AMERICAN BASES. KNIGHT RECENTLY ARRIVED IN ENGLAND TO SERVE AS LIAISON OFFICER BETWEEN THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH CENSORSHIPS.

JUN 29 1943

"THERE WEREN'T ANY FIGHTERS TODAY--THEY KEPT OFF," SAID VETERAN BALL TURRET GUNNER PAUL KONABROCKI, FORMER NANTICOKE, PA., BARTENDER, COMPLETING HIS 23RD RAID ON THE FORTRESS "RIGOR MORTIS."

"I ONLY SHOT ABOUT 200 ROUNDS," SAID KONABROCKI. "THAT WAS MY FOURTH TIME OVER ST.NAZAIRE AND IT WAS THE EASIEST OF THEM ALL. IT WAS A GOOD DAY. I SAW BOMBS ALL AROUND THE TARGET."

IT WAS THE FIRST RAID FOR LIEUTENANT JAMES MONROE, OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS, THE SQUADRON ARMAMENT OFFICER, WHO FLEW AS A BOMBARDIER TO GET FIRSTHAND EXPERIENCE WITH GUNS IN ACTION AND TO SEE WHAT THE BOYS HE ARMS "ARE REALLY GOING UP AGAINST."

"IT'S A REAL EXPERIENCE--VERY INTERESTING," HE SAID. "WE ONLY GOT ABOUT SIX FIGHTER ATTACKS BUT THEY WERE RIGHT IN MY FACE. BUT THEY CAME BY SO FAST I DIDN'T GET MUCH SHOOTING IN."

HIS SHIP CAME THROUGH UNSCATHED, A FACT HE ATTRIBUTED IN PART TO A .30-CALIBER BULLET ON A CHAIN GIVEN HIM BY ONE OF HIS ARMAMENT MEN JUST BEFORE THE RAID. HE WORE IT AROUND HIS NECK.

"WE DIDN'T GET MANY FIGHTERS BUT ONE OF THEM CAME AS CLOSE AS I EVER SAW AN ENEMY AIRCRAFT," SAID LIEUTENANT WILLIAM CULLITY OF MANCHESTER, N.H., THE "SANDMAN THE THIRD'S" NAVIGATOR. "IT LOOKED FOR A MINUTE LIKE HE WAS GOING TO HIT OUR WING."

"YEAH," NAVIGATOR CARL H.DUCHREN OF ST.JOSEPH, MO., REMARKED DRYLY," THE GUY NEEDED A SHAVE. HE WAS SO CLOSE YOU COULD SEE HIS BEARD."

JUN 29 1943

"I THINK THE GUNNERS' SHOOTING MUST HAVE FUSSED THE ENEMY BECAUSE WE HAD 12 FIGHTER PASSES BUT THEY JUST MISSED EVERY TIME," SAID LIEUTENANT FLOYD TRUESDELL, FORMER ANCHORAGE, ALASKA, BULLDOZER OPERATOR, WHO PILOTED "EAGER EAGLE." THE SHIP FINISHED ITS 12TH SUCCESSIVE RAID WITHOUT MORE DAMAGE THAN A SMALL HOLE."

THE GROUP'S LEAD SHIP WAS PILOTED BY LIEUTENANT FRANK R.SPITZNAGEL, OF 1096 PARKSIDE, BUFFALO, N.Y., COMPLETING HIS 19TH RAID. THE CO-PILOT WAS LIEUTENANT DAVE COX, GREENSBORO, N.C., AND THE NAVIGATOR, LIEUTENANT KARL H.BRAUER, INDIANAPOLIS.

OTHER MEMBERS OF THE "LALA THIRD" CREW WERE BOMBARDIER, LIEUTENANT BERT WELLS, VAN BUREN, ARK.; NAVIGATOR, LIEUTENANT MARTIN LICURSI, HULBERTON, N.Y., AND TOP TURRET GUNNER, SERGEANT DONALD BAER, 224

3024-5477

30.24-5477

BELL AVE., ALTOONA, PA.

THE "SANDMAN THE THIRD" CREW ALSO INCLUDED THE CO-PILOT, LIEUTENANT WILIAO JDURIG,

THE "SANDMAN THE THIRD" CREW ALSO INCLUDED THE CO-PILOT, LIEUTENANT WILLIAM J.DURIG, HUBBARD, O., AND TOP TURRET GUNNER, SERGEANT HENRY S. MORGAN, SCRANTON, PA.

JUN 29 1943

OTHER MEMBERS OF LIEUTENANT HOPKINS' CREW WERE: LIEUTENANTS RICHARD E.HALLIDAY, OLIVIA, MINN., CO-PILOT; JOHN H.CARD, BROOKVILLE, MASS., NAVIGATOR; LEROY WHITTAKER, NILES, O., BOMBARDIER; SERGEANTS THOMAS SHAVER, HARMONY, N.C., FORMER CHICAGO BAND SINGER AND TOP TURRET GUNNER; EARL L.SELL, POTTSTOWN, PA., RADIO GUNNER; STEPHEN A. DORKO, STEUBENVILLE, O., BALL TURRET GUNNER; KINNETH T.TUCKER, ALBANY, N.Y., AND ANTHONY MARANDOLA, PHILADELPHIA, WAIST GUNNERS, AND DUANE LAWHEAD, EATON RAPIDS, MICH, TAIL GUNNER.

MEMBERS OF STEVENSON'S CREW INCLUDED: FLIGHT OFFICER CLINTON A. BUSH, KANSAS CITY, MO., CO-PILOT; LIEUTENANTS GEORGE F.MAGARDEN, MOBILE, ALA., NAVIGATOR, AND CLARENCE F.VEACH, SALINA, KAN., BOMBARDIER; SERGEANTS CLINTON BITTON, CHILLY (CQ), IDAHO, TOP TURRET GUNNER; CHARLES SCHREINER, DENVER, COLO., RADIO GUNNER; THOMAS THERRIEN, BROCTON, MASS., BALL TURRET GUNNER; JAMES MOORE AND PETER CATAZZO, OF CHICAGO; WAIST GUNNERS, AND A.J.POTTER, DALLAS, TEX., TAIL GUNNER.

HERE ARE SOME COMMENTS FROM OTHERS ON THE ST.NAZAIRE RAID:

STAFF SERGEANT DAVID O.BROWN, WILMINGTON, O.: "THE FLAK WAS THICK ENOUGH TO WALK ON."

CAPT.ALLEN TURNER, DALLAS, TEX.: IT LOOKED LIKE VESUVIUS IN ERUPTION."

SECOND LIEUTENANT ARTHUR PRICE, PORTLAND, ORE.: "I COULD SEE NOTHING BUT SMOKE AND BOMB BURSTS."

SECOND LIEUTENANT JOHN J.WAGNER, KOKOMO, IND., BOMBARDIER ON "THE RAIDER", SAID "IT WAS A REAL MILK RUN--WE COLLECTED MAIL AND GAVE OUT MILK ON THE RUN."

TECHNICAL SERGEANT JOHN L.ANDERSON, WALTHAM MASS., RADIOMAN, "IT LOOKED LIKE A LOT OF CONCRETE STIRRED UP."

JUN 29 1943

SECOND LIEUTENANT GEORGE LINDY, SEATTLE, WASH., BOMBARDIER ON "SLIGHTLY DANGEROUS," REPORTED "WE RAN INTO ABOUT FIVE PLANES HALF AN HOUR AFTER THE BOMB RUN BUT WE STAYED OUT OF RANGE."

"BOMBING BEAUTIFUL," SAID FIRST LIEUTENANT OTIS B.TILLERY, YORK, ALA., NAVIGATOR ON "SCARLET."

MAJOR THEODORE MILTON, WASHINGTON, D.C., A GROUP OPERATIONS OFFICER WHO PILOTED "AIN'T IT GRUESOME," SAID: "FIGHTERS, MOSTLY THE YELLOW NOSE BOYS, HIT US. HOWEVER I'M SURE WE GOT WHAT WE WERE GOING AFTER."

MAJOR JOHN L.SCOTT, SEATTLE, WASH., WHO FLEW WITH MILTON AS AN OBSERVER, SAID "WE BLASTED HELL OUT OF THAT PLACE."

FIRST LIEUTENANT HENRY WALLACE, CARTHAGE, MISS., GROUP BOMBARDIER, DECLARED: "THE GANG AHEAD OF US REALLY DID A SWELL JOB. I COULD SEE BOMBS MAKING A PATTERN RIGHT IN THE TARGET AREA."

STAFF SERGEANT ROGER H.MCDERMOTT, DETROIT, MICH., BALL TURRET GUNNER: "WEATHER PERFECT. YOU COULD EVEN MAKE OUT DETAILS ON THE GROUND."

MAJOR JOHN L.LAMBERT, BALTIMORE, MD., SQUADRON COMMANDER:

"THE TARGET STOOD OUT LIKE A SORE THUMB."

SECOND LIEUTENANT DOUGLAS L.SHEET, DETROIT BOMBARDIER OF "EL CONQUISTADOR" SAID "WE WERE LOW ENOUGH TO GRAB ALL FLAK."

STAFF SERGEANT LOUIS A.SKINNER, INDEPENDENCE, KAN., A WAIST GUNNER, SAID HE SHOT DOWN AN ENEMY FIGHTER. "I GOT A GOOD BEAD ON HIM AND LET HIM HAVE IT WITH A RAPID BURST. HE PULLED UP QUICKLY, FLIPPED OVER AND DOVE STRAIGHT DOWN UNTIL HE HIT THE WATER."

SECOND LIEUTENANT WILLIAM D.YISSINGER, WILLAMSTOWN, PA., NAVIGATOR ON "NOXALL," SAID: "NOT A THING BOTHERED US."

AT U.S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, ENGLAND, JUNE 28-(AP)-FOR GALLANTRY DURING ACTUAL COMBAT MISSIONS OVER AXIS EUROPE, THE SILVER STAR WAS CONFERRED TODAY UPON TWO AMERICAN BRIGADIER-GENERALS--NEWTON LONGFELLOW OF MINNEAPOLIS AND FRANK O.D.HUNTER OF SAVANNAH, GA.

THE AWARD WAS GIVEN TO LONGFELLOW FOR HIS DIRECTION OF THE HEAVY BOMBARDMENT EFFORTS OF THE EIGHTH BOMBER COMMAND WHICH HE HEADS AND FOR HIS DEMONSTRATION OF THE VALUE OF DAYLIGHT BOMBING RAIDS BY AMERICAN AIRCRAFT.

JUN 29 1943

HUNTER, COMMANDING THE EIGHTH FIGHTER COMMAND, RECEIVED THE MEDAL FOR HEROISM DURING A MISSION WHICH WAS ATTACKED HEAVILY BUT FROM WHICH HE RETURNED WITH OBSERVATIONS OF GREAT VALUE TO THE AIR FORCE.

LONGFELLOW'S CITATION READ:

"GENERAL LONGFELLOW DIRECTED THE HEAVY BOMBARDMENT EFFORT OF THE EIGHTH BOMBER COMMAND AND BRILLIANTLY DEMONSTRATED THE VALUE OF DAYLIGHT BOMBING MISSIONS CARRIED OUT BY AMERICAN BOMBERS DURING THE PERIOD FROM DEC. 1, 1942, TO JUNE 25, 1943.

"THESE MISSIONS WERE FLOWN IN THE FACE OF HEAVY OPPOSITION AND HAVE RESULTED IN SEVERE DAMAGE TO ENEMY AIRCRAFT AND GROUND INSTALLATIONS. FLYING AS COMMAND PILOT LEADING HIS FORMATION OVER ENEMY OCCUPIED EUROPE, HE DISPLAYED CONSPICUOUS GALLANTRY IN ACTION.

"THE SKILL, COURAGE AND LEADERSHIP DISPLAYED BY LONGFELLOW AT ALL TIMES HAS BEEN AN INSPIRATION TO ALL THE MEMBERS OF HIS COMMAND AND REFLECT THE HIGHEST CREDIT UPON HIMSELF AND THE ARMED FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES."

HUNTER'S CITATION SAID:

GENERAL HUNTER, WITH COMPLETE DISREGARD FOR HIS OWN SAFETY, FLEW IN A BOMBER PLANE ON A DAYLIGHT MISSION OVER ENEMY-OCCUPIED CONTINENTAL EUROPE JUNE 22, 1943. HUNTER FLEW ON THIS MISSION FOR THE PURPOSE OF DETERMINING METHODS OF COORDINATING THE EFFORTS OF HIS FIGHTER UNIT IN PROVIDING FIGHTER PROTECTION FOR HEAVY BOMBARDMENT AIRCRAFT EMPLOYED IN DAYLIGHT RAIDS, AND HIS OBSERVATIONS WERE OF GREAT VALUE TO THIS AIR FORCE.

"WHEN UNUSUALLY SEVERE ATTACKS BY ENEMY AIRCRAFT AND GROUND DEFENSES WERE ENCOUNTERED, HE DISPLAYED GREAT COURAGE AND PERSONAL GALLANTRY. THE COURAGE, CALMNESS AND DEVOTION TO DUTY DISPLAYED BY HUNTER ON THIS OCCASION REFLECT THE HIGHEST CREDIT TO THIS OFFICER AND THE ARMED FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES."

JUN 29 1943

A U.S. BOMBER BASE SOMEWHERE IN BRITAIN, JUNE 28-(AP)-THE FIRST AWARDS EVER PRESENTED TO ANY MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTH UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE SERVICE COMMAND IN THE EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS WERE MADE TODAY BY MAJOR GEN.HENRY J.F.MILLER, ITS COMMANDING GENERAL. INCLUDED IN THE AWARDS WERE ONE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS AND FOUR AIR MEDALS.

THE WINNER OF THE DFC WAS MAJOR ALLEN G.RUSSELL, 47, OF 11920

3024-5479

CHANDLER BOULEVARD, NORTH HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.

AIR MEDALS WERE AWARDED TO CAPTAIN JAMES D.BRIGGS, OF 313 ELEVENTH ST., GREAT FALLS, MONT.; FIRST LIEUT.CLARENCE P.GISEL, OF 628 WEST A ST., HUTCHINSON, KAS.; FIRST LIEUT.JOHN R.O'BRIEN, 828 RICHMOND ST., SCRANTON, PA., AND SERGT.BURTON A.DAVIS, OF 10 WEST FIRST ST., MOUNT MORRIS, ILL.

RUSSELL RECEIVED THE DFC FOR SAVING THREE DAMAGED BUT REPAIRABLE FLYING FORTRESSES AND RETURNING THEM TO COMBAT DUTY.

"WITH LESS THAN FOUR FEET OF CLEARANCE FROM TREES ON EACH WING TIP, RUSSELL, ACCOMPANIED BY ONE ENLISTED MAN, MADE THREE PERFECT CROSS-WIND TAKEOFFS WITHOUT FURTHER DAMAGE TO THE AIRPLANES," SAID RUSSELL'S CITATION AS READ BY MAJOR GEN.MILLER.

JUN 29 1943

RUSSELL'S FLYING PARTNER WAS SERGT.DAVIS, THE FIRST AND ONLY ENLISTED MAN IN THE SERVICE COMMAND EVER TO RECEIVE THE AIR MEDAL.

BRIGGS RECEIVED HIS AIR MEDAL FOR LEADING A FLIGHT OF UNARMED AIRCRAFT FROM GREAT BRITAIN TO NORTH AFRICA DURING THE EARLY STAGES OF THE ALLIED INVASION.

O'BRIEN WAS HONORED FOR ACTING AS NAVIGATOR AND LEADER OF A GROUP OF FIGHTER PLANES TO AFRICA. GISEL RECEIVED A SIMILAR CITATION. ALL FIVE MEN ARE MEMBERS OF THE FERRY AND TRANSPORT DIVISION OF THE SERVICE COMMAND.

DECLARING THAT THE SERVICE COMMAND IS "CONTRIBUTING RICHLY TO THE AERIAL OFFENSIVE" OF THE ALLIES, AND EXPRESSING THE HOPE THAT MORE OF ITS PERSONNEL WOULD RECEIVE DECORATIONS, MILLER SAID, "WE HAVE ABOUT FIVE TIMES MORE MEN IN OUR SERVICE COMMAND TODAY THAN WE HAD A YEAR AGO AT THIS TIME."

30.24-5479

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 28-(AP)--GERMAN MILITARY CIRCLES, AS REPORTED IN DISPATCHES FROM THE BERLIN CORRESPONDENT OF THE TODAY, SOCIAL DEMOKRATEN, HAVE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE "BOMB CARPETS" LAID BY AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS IN RAIDS OVER EUROPE ARE "TREMENDOUSLY EFFECTIVE," ESPECIALLY WHEN THE TARGET IS PRECISELY SIGHTED.

WHEN THE "CARPET", OR "PATTERN" AS THE AMERICANS TERM IT, IS LAID, THE BOMBS RAIN DOWN FROM AN ENTIRE SQUADRON OF PLANES AT ONCE, SMOTHERING THE [redacted] TARGET, THE GERMAN EXPERTS ADMITTED.

JUN 29 1943

THEY POINTED OUT, HOWEVER, THAT SUCH MASS BOMBING TACTICS FAIL WHEN THE LEAD BOMBARDIER FAILS TO JUDGE THE TARGET CORRECTLY. THEN, THEY ASSERT, THE BOMBS OF THE ENTIRE FORMATION MISS THEIR MARK.

THE GERMANS SAID THAT THE "BOMB CARPETS" OVER EUROPE WORK LIKE THIS: THE [redacted] FLYING FORTRESSES APPROACH THE TARGET AREA IN CLOSE FORMATION. WHEN THE LEAD BOMBARDIER GIVES THE SIGNAL ALL THE BOMBARDIERS IN THE FORMATION RELEASE THEIR BOMBS SIMULTANEOUSLY.

TIGHT FORMATION FLYING ALSO HELPS THE FORTRESS CREWS TO COMBAT THE HORDES OF NAZI FIGHTERS PLANES, [redacted] GERMAN SOURCES

SAID ~~THAT THE REASON THAT GERMAN FORTRESSES~~ FEWER WERE SHOT DOWN IN THE DAYTIME, DESPITE GOOD VISIBILITY, THAN AXIS FIGHTER PILOTS WERE ABLE TO BRING DOWN DURING THE RAF NIGHT RAIDS IS ~~THAT~~ IN THE NIGHT OPERATIONS THE RAF WAS UNABLE TO FLY IN CLOSE FORMATION, THUS PERMITTING THE GERMAN FIGHTER PILOTS TO WEAVE IN BETWEEN THE BOMBERS.

Stockholm, June 28-(AP)-~~Reports~~ Hannover newspapers arriving today said more than 100 G~~e~~rmans~~had~~ died there from ~~an~~ drinking methyl ~~wood~~ alcohol. The newspapers did not explain, but observers here suggested that the dead were victims of bad black market liquor which has been sold in quantity in Germany where spirits are scarce.

JUN 29 1943

PRECEDE LONDON

LISBON, JUNE 28-(AP)-TWO SHIPS WERE SUNK THIS AFTERNOON BY NAZI PLANES ATTACKING A BRITISH CONVOY OFF CAPE SAGRES AT THE SOUTHWESTERN TIP OF PORTUGAL, IT WAS REPORTED TONIGHT. THE CONVOY WAS SAID TO BE MOVING SOUTH.

LOCATION OF THE REPORTED ATTACK, ~~MADE BY STUKAS~~, IS ALONG THE ROUTE FROM BRITAIN TO NORTH AFRICA.

PRECEDE LONDON

LISBON, JUNE 28-(AP)-TWO SHIPS WERE SUNK THIS AFTERNOON BY NAZI DIVE-BOMBERS ATTACKING A BRITISH CONVOY OFF CAPE SAGRES AT THE SOUTHWESTERN TIP OF PORTUGAL, IT WAS REPORTED TONIGHT. THE CONVOY WAS SAID TO BE MOVING SOUTH.

THE LOCATION OF THE REPORTED ATTACK, IS ALONG THE ROUTE FROM BRITAIN TO NORTH AFRICA.

FIRST LEAD MEDITERRANEAN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 28-(AP)-WELLINGTON BOMBERS OF THE NORTH AFRICAN AIR FORCES DROPPED BOMBS IN THE DOCK AREA AND ON INDUSTRIAL PLANTS OF NAPLES IN AN ATTACK SATURDAY NIGHT, ALLIED HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

THE ITALIAN SUNDAY COMMUNIQUE PREVIOUSLY DISCLOSED THAT THE NAPLES AREA HAD BEEN THE OBJECTIVE OF A SATURDAY NIGHT RAID, AND ASSERTED THAT ONLY SLIGHT DAMAGE HAD BEEN DONE.

THE ALLIED COMMUNIQUE TODAY DID NOT INDICATE THE SIZE OF THE ATTACKING FORCE, THAT STRUCK THE STRATEGIC WEST COAST ITALIAN PORT OR THE AMOUNT OF DAMAGE.

SIX AXIS PLANES, ATTACKING ALLIED SHIPPING SATURDAY, WERE SHOT DOWN BY COASTAL AIR FORCE PLANES AND TWO MORE WERE BROUGHT DOWN BY NAVAL GUNFIRE, IT WAS ANNOUNCED.

JUN 29 1943

TWO ALLIED AIRCRAFT WERE SAID TO BE MISSING FROM ALL OF THE OPERATIONS.

3024-5481

30.24-5481

(THE ITALIAN MONDAY COMMUNIQUE, BROADCAST FROM ROME AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID ALLIED PLANES ATTACKED GERBINI, CATANIA PROVINCE, YESTERDAY AND CAUSED SOME CIVILIAN CASUALTIES.

REGGIO CALABRIA AND SEVERAL OTHER SMALLER LOCALITIES ON THE TOE OF THE ITALIAN BOOT WERE REPORTED RAIDED LAST NIGHT.

("ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENSES AT REGGIO CALABRIA SHOT DOWN TWO ENEMY PLANES," THE COMMUNIQUE SAID. "ANOTHER ENEMY PLANE WAS DESTROYED IN AN AIR BATTLE BY GERMAN FIGHTERS OVER THE SOUTH COAST OF SICILY."

(HARBOR INSTALLATIONS AND ALLIED SHIPPING AT BIZERTE WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN ATTACKED BY ITALIAN AERIAL FORMATIONS.)

THE ALLIED BOMBERS ROARED OVER RAVAGED MESSINA, THE NORTHEAST SICILY FERRY PORT, TO REACH NAPLES.

STRATEGIC SECTIONS OF MESSINA LAY IN RUINS AFTER THREE WHIPSAW AERIAL ASSAULTS BY ALLIED BOMBERS IN 36 HOURS, THE LATEST FRIDAY NIGHT.

JUN 29 1943

(THE ALGIERS RADIO, MEANTIME, IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY REUTERS, QUOTED THE MADRID NEWSPAPER ARRIBA AS SAYING THAT THE ITALIAN FLEET HAD LEFT ITS BASES TO CARRY OUT AN OFFENSIVE OPERATION.

(THE PARIS RADIO DECLARED TODAY THAT UNARMED GERMAN LANDING CRAFT HAD PASSED THROUGH THE BOSPHORUS FROM THE BLACK SEA, ENROUTE TO THE AEGEAN.

(THE PARIS BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID "THIS OBVIOUSLY SHOWS THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND IS TAKING SOME PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES IN THE GREEK ISLANDS AGAINST ANY ALLIED MOVE IN THAT SECTOR."

(A REUTER DISPATCH FROM ANKARA ALSO REPORTED THE MOVEMENT, STATING THAT FOUR GERMAN INVASION BARGES PASSED THROUGH THE TURKISH-CONTROLLED STRAIT, AS PERMITTED BY INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION.

(IT ALSO WAS REPORTED FROM THE INVASION ZONE THAT THE CONTINUED ALLIED POUNDING OF SICILY FROM THE AIR HAS CREATED AN ACUTE WATER SHORTAGE AND THAT THE ISLAND'S 4,000,000 INHABITANTS WOULD BE PUT ON WATER RATIONS. THE REPORTS WERE CARRIED IN DISPATCHES TO THE LONDON DAILY MAIL FROM MADRID.)

WITH THE RED GLOW OF VESUVIUS AS A GUIDING BEACON, RAF WELLINGTONS IN THEIR SATURDAY NIGHT RAID ON NAPLES CASCADED BLOCK BUSTING BOMBS ON COMMUNICATION TARGETS FOR 15 CONCENTRATED MINUTES. MANY FIRES SPRANG UP.

JUN 29 1943

THE RAIDERS BORED THROUGH HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT BARRAGES TO REACH THEIR RUBBLED OBJECTIVE, AFTER BEING HELPED IN THEIR NAVIGATION BY THE REFLECTION OF THE VOLCANIC FIRE IN THE DARK SKY.

INCENDIARIES FIRST WERE SPRINKLED AND THEN THE GREAT TWO-TON BOMBS STARTED SETTING BURSTS IN THE RAILROAD FREIGHT YARDS. ONE GREAT GREEN FLASH WAS SAID TO HAVE STARTED NUMEROUS FIRES NEARBY.

WIDESPREAD CLUSTERS OF SEARCHLIGHTS WERE GROUPED IN A DEFENSE LIKE THE GERMANS USE IN THE RUHR, AND THEY LIT THE SKY AS THE BOMBERS WENT IN IN WAVES. THE OPPOSITION WAS DESCRIBED OFFICIALLY AS "HEAVY."

THE DESTRUCTION OF A JUNKERS-88 WHICH HAD BEEN REPORTED YESTERDAY WAS CREDITED TO LIEUT. JOHN A. URBAN OF 153 BARTLETT AVE., PITTSFIELD, MASS. FLYING A LITHTNING, URBAN CHASED THE GERMAN MORE THAN 100 MILES. HE HIT ONE OF HIS ENEMY'S PROPELLERS WITH HIS FIRST BURST AND THEN CLOSED IN TO SHOOT AWAY THE ENTIRE TAIL ASSEMBLY. THE JUNKERS

DISINTEGRATED SO SUDDENLY THAT URBAN HAD TO SWERVE TO AVOID BEING HIT BY FRAGMENTS.

THE NAPLES RAID BROUGHT NEW DESTRUCTION TO THE BIG ITALIAN COMMUNICATIONS AND SUPPLY CENTER WHICH HAS BEEN ATTACKED PERIODICALLY BY DAY AND NIGHT FOR SEVERAL MONTHS.

THE WELLINGTONS ARE THE AFTER-DARK WORKHORSES OF THE NORTHWEST AFRICAN STRATEGIC AIR FORCE. DESPITE THE RECENT LULL IN ALLIED AIR ACTIVITY, THEY HAVE BEEN OPERATING ALMOST EVERY NIGHT.

DEFENDING ALLIED SHIPPING AGAINST A PROLONGED AIR ATTACK, RAF COASTAL AIR FORCE FIGHTERS SHOT DOWN SIX AXIS PLANES AND NAVAL GUNFIRE DOWNED TOW MORE SATURDAY, IT WAS ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY.

FROM THIS AND THE NAPLES RAID, TWO ALLIED PLANES WERE LOST.

AMERICAN FLIERS FROM NORTH AFRICAN BASES WHO TRAVELED IN THE ARMADA OF MORE THAN 100 FLYING FORTRESSES THAT ATTACKED MESSINA BY DAYLIGHT FRIDAY EXPRESSED THE OPINION THAT THE PORT'S USEFULNESS TO THE AXIS WAS ABOUT ENDED.

JUN 29 1943

THE DAYLIGHT ASSAULT, BY THE STRONGEST FORCE YET UNLEASHED AGAINST A SINGLE OBJECTIVE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, CAUSED FIRES WHICH GUIDED BRITISH HEAVY BOMBERS OF THE MIDDLE EAST COMMAND BACK OVER SICILY FRIDAY NIGHT TO SET NEW FIRES IN THE VICINITY OF MESSINA'S OIL TANKS AND ITS MAIN RAILWAY STATION.

RAF WELLINGTON BOMBERS LAUNCHED THE SERIES OF OBLITERATION RAIDS THURSDAY NIGHT.

BELATED REPORTS RAISED TO 25 THE NUMBER OF ENEMY FIGHTER PLANES DESTROYED BY FORTRESS GUNNERS DURING THE FRIDAY RAID.

ONE FORTRESS, CRIPPLED AS IT SMASHED ITS WAY THROUGH TWO GROUPS OF ENEMY FIGHTERS, MADE A FORCED LANDING AT ITS BASE AND CONFIRMED THAT IT SHOT DOWN SEVEN ENEMY PLANES, A RECORD FOR THE NORTH AFRICAN AREA.

THE PLANE WAS PILOTED BY LIEUT.FRANK HUNTER OF SALT LAKE CITY.

YESTERDAY'S ALLIED HEADQUARTERS COMMUNIQUE SAID ONLY THAT PATROLLING ACTIVITY CONTINUED SATURDAY, BUT AN ITALIAN WAR BULLETIN DECLARED THERE HAD BEEN SLIGHT DAMAGE SATURDAY NIGHT WHEN ALLIED BOMBERS ATTACKED THE SUBURBS OF NAPLES.

ALLIED COMMUNIQUES FREQUENTLY ALLOW A DAY TO PASS BEFORE REPORTING SPECIFIC ENGAGEMENTS.

THE ROLLING THUNDER OF THE HEAVY EXPLOSIVES DROPPED BY THE ALLIED PLANES ALONG THE INVASION PATH TO ITALY BROUGHT RUMBLING ECHOES FROM AXIS SOURCES THAT THE ALLIES HAD MASSED FOR THE KILL IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AND THAT ITALY WOULD FEEL THE FIRST BLOW.

JUN 29 1943

(KIRKE SIMPSON OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS SAID IN A COPYRIGHTED STORY FROM WASHINGTON LAST NIGHT THAT "TRANS-MEDITERRANEAN MILITARY OPERATIONS ON A MAJOR SCALE (ARE) CLOSELY IMPENDING" AND THAT "X X X THE TIME ELEMENT IS OF VITAL IMPORTANCE."

(SIMPSON SAID THAT HE HAD LEARNED GEN.DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER HAD BEEN GIVEN ASSURANCES HE WOULD BE SUPPORTED IN WHATEVER STEPS HE TOOK IN THE NORTH AFRICAN FRENCH POLITICAL SITUATION TO PROTECT THE SAFETY OF ALLIED TROOPS ON THE THRESHOLD OF INVASION.)

ITALIAN EDITORS, WARNING INVASION WAS NEAR, POINTED TO HEAVY ALLIED CONVOYS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AS ONE INDICATION.

THE SUNDAY ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE ASSERTED AXIS PLANES TORPEDOED ONE VESSEL, SET AFIRE A TANKER AND DAMAGED 10 TRANSPORTS IN THE SICILIAN STRAIT SATURDAY, AND THE GERMAN SUNDAY WAR BULLETIN SUBSTANTIALLY

30.24-5483

30.24-5483

SUPPORTED THE CLAIM.

A GERMAN RADIO COMMENTATOR DECLARED LANDING BOATS WERE INCLUDED IN THE CONVOY AND THAT AN ESCORTING WARSHIP WAS HIT BY A HEAVY BOMB.

(THE VICHY RADIO, IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY REUTERS, DECLARED TODAY THAT AXIS PLANES SANK A NUMBER OFLANDING CRAFT SUNDAY IN THE SICILIAN STRAIT.)

(THERE WAS NO ALLIED CONFIRMATION OF THE AXIS CLAIMS.)

BY THOBURN WIANT

U.S. HEAVY BOMBER HEADQUARTERS, JUNE 26-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THIS HEAVY BOMBER GROUP, COMMANDED BY HANDSOME 36-YEAR-OLD COL.EUGENE BEEBE OF MOSCOW, IDAHO, HAS BEEN ATTACKING THE JAPANESE LESS THAN TWO MONTHS BUT ALREADY HAS WON THE FOND ACCOLADE OF "LIBERATORS OF CHINA."

THE JAPANESE WILL LONG REMEMBER THE "LIBERATORS OF CHINA." JUN 29 1943 THEY RAIDED HAINAN ISLAND WHERE THE JAPANESE MAINTAIN A TRAINING AND SUPPLY CENTER FOR THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC; THEY SET FIRE TO CANTON, WHERE 1,800 JAPANESE WERE REPORTED KILLED IN FIRES THAT BLAZED THREE DAYS; THEY WERE IN THE THICK OF THE FIGHT AROUND ICHANG ALONG THE YANGTZE AND THEIR SUPPORT ENABLED CHINESE GROUND FORCES TO TURN DEFEAT INTO RESOUNDING VICTORY.

THE HEAVYWEIGHTS ALREADY HAVE DESTROYED 23 JAPANESE PLANES AND PROBABLY EIGHT OTHERS WITHOUT LOSS OF PLANES OR PERSONNEL.

IN ONE RAID ALONE, THE HEAVY BOMBERS DESTROYED 20 FOR CERTAIN AND FIVE MORE PROBABLES OF 50 ZEROS WHICH INTERCEPTED THEM NEAR ICHANG. THE TOTAL AMERICAN DAMAGE WAS TWO HOLES IN ONE PLANE.

A BOMBER PILOTED BY LIEUT.SAMUEL Y.SKOUSEN, 26, OF THATCHER, ARIZ., A FORMER MORMON MISSIONARY IN ARGENTINA, GOT FIVE ZEROS THAT DAY. SKOUSEN'S TOP TURRET GUNNER, SERGT.ARTHUR BENKO, 32, OF BISBEE, ARIZ., FORMER ARIZONA PISTOL SKEET CHAMPION, WAS THE FORMATION'S HIGH POINT MAN WITH FOUR CONFIRMED AND THREE PROBABLE VICTIMS.

THE "LIBERATORS OF CHINA" WEREORGANIZED IN TUCSON, ARIZ., LAST SEPTEMBER AND TRAINED IN WENDOVER, UTAH, AND PUEBLO, COLO. THEY FLEW THEIR OWN PLANES IN FORMATION TO CHINA AND STARTED RAIDING THE JAPANESE ON MAY 4.

"THE JAPS AREN'T NEARLY AS TOUGH AS WE THOUGHT THEY'D BE," SKOUSEN SAID. "THOSE WE ENCOUNTERED SEEMED WILLING TO FIGHT BUT LACKED ABILITY."

BEEBE, WHO PILOTED GENERAL HENRY H.ARNOLD FOR THREE AND ONE-HALF YEARS AND ALSO WAS THE GENERAL'S AIDE FOR A TIME, PERSONALLY LED THE HAINAN AND CANTON RAIDS. JUN 29 1943

HE NEVER ASKS HIS MEN TO DO ANYTHING HE WOULDN'T DO HIMSELF AND CONSEQUENTLY, IT WAS POINTED OUT, THEY'LL DO ANYTHING FOR HIM.

BEEBE, SIX FEET AND ONE INCH TALL AND 180 POUNDS IN WEIGHT, JOINED THE AIR CORPS IN 1928 AFTER GRADUATING FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO WHERE HE MAJORED IN ENGINEERING. HE NOT ONLY IS A COMMAND PILOT BUT IS QUALIFIED IN NAVIGATION, ARMAMENT AND ENGINEERING.

HIS WIFE AND EIGHT-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER ARE LIVING IN MOSCOW.

BEEBE ATTRIBUTES MUCH THE GROUP'S SUCCESS TO GROUP AND SQUADRON OFFICERS BUT SAID:

"I'M NOT AT ALL SURPRISED THAT THE GROUP'S DONE SO WELL IN SUCH A SHORT TIME. I EXPECTED THAT THE FIRST TIME I SAW THESE FELLOWS. I EXPECT EVEN BIGGER THINGS OF THEM IN THE FUTURE."

GROUP OFFICERS ARE LIEUT.COL.JAMES C.AVERILL, 32, OF BRATTLEBORO, VT., DEPUTY COMMANDER; MAJOR HORACE G.FOSTER, 27, OF SAN FRANCISCO, OPERATIONS; MAJOR WILLIAM DAVIS, 50, OF NEW YORK CITY; CAPT.JOHN IZYNKOWICZ, 25, OF WESTERLY, R.I., SUPPLIES; AND CAPT.JAMES E.MAHER, 22, OF MIAMI BEACH, FLA., ADJUTANT. MAHER JUST HAS BEEN PROMOTED FROM FIRST LIEUTENANT.

SQUADRON COMMANDERS ARE: MAJORS PAUL J.O'BRIEN, 25, OF SYRACUSE, N.Y.; WALTER S.BEAT, 25, OF ST.PETERFBURG, FLA.; HENRY G.BRADY, 25, OF COLUMBIA, S.C.; WILLIAM ELLSWORTH, 26, OF HUNTINGBURG, IND. ELLSWORTH JUST HAS BEEN PROMOTED FROM CAPTAIN.

(EDITOR'S NOTE--J.REILLY O'SULLIVAN, VETERAN ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT, PRESENTS A CLOSEUP OF THE CHINESE SOLDIER IN THE FOLLOWING DISPATCH FROM THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT, SINCE OF RECENT HARD FIGHTING IN WHICH THE JAPANESE SUFFERED A SHARP DEFEAT. O'SULLIVAN IS ONE OF A GROUP OF FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS PERMITTED RECENTLY TO MAKE A TRIP TO THE FRONT FROM CHUNGKING.)

JUN 29 1943

BY J.REILLY O'SULLIVAN

ENSHIH, ON THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT, JUNE 26-(DELAYED)-(AP)-GIVE HIM TWO POUNDS OF RICE A DAY AND FREE CHINA'S FIGHTING MAN KEEPS GOING.

HIS ENDURANCE IS INCREDIBLE. SOMETIMES HE HAS A FEW VEGETABLES TO SUPPLEMENT THE RICE DIET. MEAT ALMOST NEVER. TWO POUNDS OF RICE IS HIS DUE--FROM PRIVATE TO GENERAL.

A CHINESE PRIVATE RECEIVES EIGHT CHINESE DOLLARS MONTHLY--HALF WHAT I PAY FOR A PACKAGE OF CHINESE CIGARETTES. THE CHINESE SOLDIER DOESN'T SMOKE OFTEN. HIS ALLOWANCE FOR THE [illegible] VEGETABLES RUNS ABOUT A DOLLAR DAILY, DEPENDING ON THE LOCALITY.

HIS FAMILY RECEIVES A RICE RATION AND CLOTH FOR CLOTHES SEMI-ANNUALLY.

OFFICERS ARE A LITTLE BETTER OFF AS TO PAY. A FIRST LIEUTENANT GETS $94 MONTHLY AND THE RATE RISES $40 FOR EACH GRADE UP TO GENERAL.

A SOLDIER'S SUMMER UNIFORM CONSISTS OF A KHAKI BLOUSE, SHORTS, SANDALS, WRAPPED LEGGINGS AND A CAP OR STRAW HAT. HE DOESN'T HAVE A RAINCOAT OR A TENT. SOME UNIT LEADERS CARRY UMBRELLAS. BESIDES HIS WEAPONS AND AMMUNITION, A SOLDIER TOTES A PACK WEIGHING 40 POUNDS INCLUDING HIS RICE RATIONS. HE CAN CLIMB LIKE A MOUNTAIN GOAT AND IS TIRELESS ON A MARCH.

IN THE YANGTZE GORGES WHERE OUR TROOP SHIP TIED UP UNDER A TOWERING CLIFF DURING MIDDAY TO PREVENT ATTACK BY JAPANESE PLANES FROM NEARBY FIELDS, I RAN INTO A BATTALION WHICH LIEUTENANT COLONEL CHANG SZE LIANG HAD BROUGHT 300 MILES THROUGH LOFTY, BARELY PASSABLE MOUNTAINS. HIS MEN HAD SUFFERED SEVERE HARDSHIPS BUT NOT ONE WAS LEFT BEHIND ON THE MARCH.

JUN 29 1943

THE TROOPS WERE BUSILY CLEANING GUNS AND POLISHING EQUIPMENT BEFORE MOVING TO THE FRONT LINES.

"RAIN SOAKED US MOST OF THE TRIP," SAID CHANG. "MANY MEN WHO LOST OR WORE OUT THEIR SANDALS WALKED BAREFOOT. ON THE WORST DAY WE WALKED THROUGH 74 MOUNTAIN STREAMS BUT MADE 60 MILES. SOME DAYS IT WAS SO WET THE MEN WERE UNABLE TO PUT DOWN THEIR PACKS UNTIL WE REACHED NIGHT CAMP."

HE SAID THERE WERE NO DIFFICULTIES CONCERNING FOOD AS NINE SUPPLY STATIONS HAD BEEN ESTABLISHED ALONG THE ROUTE AND THE PEOPLE IN THE VILLAGES WERE HELPFUL TO THE WELL-DISCIPLINED TROOPS. HOWEVER, THERE WAS A SHORTAGE OF MEDICAL SUPPLIES AND MEDICAL OFFICERS HAD TO USE

3024-5485

30.24-5485

SUBTERFUGES IN DOSING MINOR SICKNESSES.

THE COLONEL, A GRADUATE OF THE CHINESE MILITARY ACADEMY AND STAFF COLLEGE, WAS DRESSED IN A NEAT FADED COTTON UNIFORM, MENDED IN SEVERAL PLACES. HE WORE CLOTH SANDALS AND NO SOCKS.

"THE VICTORY IN THE UPPER YANGTZE IS A VERY GOOD INDICATION OF THE SUCCESS THE ALLIES ARE APPROACHING," HE SAID. "THE JAPS THOUGHT THE CHINESE WERE WEAK BUT WE PROVED STRONGER THAN AT THE OUTBREAK OF HOSTILITIES NEARLY SIX YEARS AGO."

THE BATTALION WAS COMPOSED MOSTLY OF TALL NORTHERNERS WHO NORMALLY SUBSIST ON GRAIN. THE ARMY CONDITIONS THEM TO LIVE ON RICE WHEN NECESSARY. DURING THE GREAT FAMINE IN HONAN PROVINCE, THEIR RATIONS WERE CUT 10 PERCENT TO AID THE STARVING POPULATION.

ONE NON-COM DECLARED: "WE'RE NOT AFRAID OF THE JAPS AT ALL. THEIR MORALE HAS SLUMPED 60 PERCENT SINCE THE EARLY DAYS OF THE CHINA INVASION."

JUN 29 1943

AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN THE MORALE OF THE CHINESE SOLDIER IS THE WORK OF THE POLITICAL OFFICER ATTACHED TO EACH UNIT.

THIS OFFICER, WHO IS SORT OF AN EDUCATIONAL ADJUTANT WITHOUT AUTHORITY IN THE MILITARY DIRECTION, DRILLS THE TROOPS IN THE PRINCIPLES OF THE KUOMINTANG PARTY AND THE AIMS OF THE CHINESE REVOLUTION AS WELL AS IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL SUBJECTS.

CHANG SAID TWO-THIRDS OF HIS BATTALION NOW WAS ABLE TO READ AND WRITE.

ON THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT, JUNE 26-(DELAYED)-(AP)-JAPANESE DEAD AND WOUNDED IN THE UNSUCCESSFUL PUSH ALONG THE UPPER YANGTZE RIVER TOTALLED 30,000 BUT ONLY 20 OF THE ENEMY WERE TAKEN PRISONER, ACCORDING TO OFFICIAL CHINESE FIGURES.

ARMY OFFICIALS FAILED TO DISCLOSE THE NUMBER OF CHINESE CASUALTIES BUT GENERAL CHEN CHENG SAID THEY "WERE FAR LESS THAN THOSE OF THE ENEMY."

CHINESE OFFICERS EXPLAINED THAT THE SMALL NUMBER OF PRISONERS RESULTED FROM THE JAPANESE PRACTICE OF COMMITTING SUICIDE RATHER THAN SUBMIT TO CAPTURE.

"OCCASIONALLY A SINGLE JAPANESE SOLDIER WILL SURRENDER WHEN ALONE," ONE OFFICER SAID, "BUT IF SEVERAL ARE TOGETHER THEY DIE FIGHTING OR KILL THEMSELVES."

JAPANESE CASUALTIES WERE ESTIMATED AS BEING EQUALLY DIVIDED BETWEEN DEAD AND WOUNDED. LIEUTENANT GENERAL WU CHIH WEI EXPLAINED THAT USUALLY CASUALTIES WERE CALCULATED ON THE BASIS OF ONE DEAD TO EVERY TWO WOUNDED.

CHINESE SUCKED

JAPS INTO TRAP

---

INVADERS BUILD

DEFENSES NOW

ON YANGTZE (800)

---

JUN 29 1943

BY J.REILLY O'SULLIVAN

ON THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT JUNE 27-(DELAYZD)-(AP)-HERE BELOW THE MOUNTAIN-TOP CHINESE FRONT LINE COMMAND POINT, IN SIGHT OF JAPANESE-OCCUPIED ICHANG, RUN DEEP GREEN VALLEYS WHERE JAPANESE SHOCK TROOPS CRACKED LAST MONTH AT THE OUTER DEFENSES OF SHIHPAI FORTRESS AND FLED WITH THE GATEWAY TO CHUNGKING SLAMMED HARD IN THEIR FACES.

THE BATTLEFIELD IS QUIET NOW. ONLY OCCASIONAL PATROLS RAID BACK AND FORTH AT NIGHT FROM ADVANCED POSITIONS BARELY 300 YARDS APART.

ACROSS THE MUDDY YANGTZE IN THE DISTANCE IS THE CITY OF ICHANG, HELD BY THE JAPANESE SINCE ITS FALL IN 1940. ONE LARGE RIVER BOAT AND ONE FERRY NESTLE AT ITS WHARVES.

ITS TOO FAR TO OBSERVE ANY MOVEMENT IN THE CITY, ALTHOUGH ITS BUILDINGS ARE CLEARLY VISIBLE.

ICHANG, 650 MILES WEST OF SHANGHAI ON CENTRAL CHINA'S GREAT WATER-WAY, IS THE DEEPEST GAIN HELD BY THE ENEMY IN NEARLY SIX YEARS OF WAR. IT IS 460 MILES FROM CHUNGKING BY RIVER AND ABOUT 300 MILES BY AIR.

THE CITY LIES ON THE NORTH BANK OF THE YANGTZE, AT THE LOWER END OF AN "S" CURVE.

JUN 29 1943

TEN MILES UPSTREAM, NEAR THE HEAD OF THE "S," LIES SHIHPAI FORTRESS--A SERIES OF STRONG MOUNTAIN FORTIFICATIONS ON THE SOUTH BANK AT THE FOOT OF PRECIPITIOUS RIVER GORGES IN WHICH SLAUGHTER OR DROWNING AWAIT ANY FOE FOOLHARDY ENOUGH TO TRY TO FORCE THEM DIRECTLY.

REMNANTS OF THE JAPANESE FORCES HAVE NOW RETIRED TO THE NORTH OF THE RIVER, WHERE THEY ARE BUSILY ENGAGED IN BUILDING NEW DEFENSES AT TANGYANG AND KINGMEN, NORTHEAST OF ICHANG, WHERE THEY FEAR AN ATTACK FROM CHINESE FORCES NORTH OF THE YANGTZE.

ICHANG CAN NO LONGER DEPEND ON SUPPLIES BY RIVER, AS THE CHINESE HAVE RECAPTURED ITU AND OTHER POINTS DOWNSTREAM. THE ENEMY IS USING HIGHWAYS VIA TANGYANG.

BUT IMMEDIATELY ACROSS FROM ICHANG THE JAPS STILL CLING TO A BRIDGEHEAD TWO AND ONE-HALF MILES LONG AND A MILE DEEP ON A MOUNTAIN SPUR REARED BACK FROM THE RIVER AND FACING US.

IT IS FROM THAT HIGH NEST THAT THE JAPANESE ADVANCED ACROSS THE VALLEY AND ASSAILED THE FRONT LINE REGIMENT COMMANDED BY COL.YIN CHUNG YO, WHO STANDS WITH US ATOP HIS COMMAND POST. THERE'S A WINDOWED DUGOUT BELOW THAT HE USED DURING THE BATTLE.

"IN THIS SECTOR THE ENEMY ATTACKED AT DAWN WITH TWO COLUMNS OF 1,000 MEN EACH, BUT HE FAILED," SAID YIN. "ANOTHER 1,000 MEN WERE THROWN IN. BY NOON MOST OF THE ENEMY'S STRENGTH WAS DISSIPATED. THEY LOST VERY HEAVILY WHEN ONE OF OUR MORTAR UNITS OPENED FIRE.

"THE FIGHTING CONTINUED FOR 24 HOURS. ON THE SECOND DAY THE JAPANESE WERE TRYING TO TURN OUR RIGHT FLANK. ON THE THIRD DAY A JAPANESE COLUMN GOT PAST OUR RIGHT, WHICH WAS LEFT EXPOSED WHEN THE DIVISION ADJOINING US TOOK UP NEW POSITIONS. I THREW IN SOME RESERVES AND WE KNOCKED OFF SEVERAL HUNDRED JAPS. OUR RIGHT FRONT HELD FAST. THAT NIGHT ON ORDERS WE RETIRED TO SHIHPAI FORTRESS PROPER."

JUN 29 1943

YIN'S OUTFIT WITHDREW THROUGH A CANYON BEHIND THE SECOND LINE OF MOUNTAINS. THERE A REGIMENT COMMANDED BY COL.CHANG TAI SHIA THEN FOOTED IT TO THE FRONT LINE, REPULSED THE JAPS AND PUSHED THEM BACK TO THEIR ORIGINAL POSITIONS. THE JAPS SUFFERED ABOUT 500 CASUALTIES WHEN THE FORTRESS GUNS OPENED UP ON THEM, CHANG SAID.

YIN RELATED THAT WHEN TWO CHINESE PLATOONS WIPED OUT THE JAPANESE AND TRIED TO CAPTURE THE ONLY SURVIVING OFFICER, "HE WRESTLED TWO OF THEM, DRAGGING ALL THREE OVER A CLIFF TO THEIR DEATHS."

3024- 5487

30.24- 5487

SEVERAL GROUPS OF BURNED-OUT FARMHOUSES DOTTED THE BATTLEFIELD. OTHERS WERE NOT TOUCHED, THE JAPANESE APPARENTLY NOT HAVING TIME TO SET THEM ON FIRE. THE PEASANTS, WHO HAD FLED DURING THE FIGHTING, HAD RETURNED TO THEIR CORN PATCHES.

ON A STEEP MOUNTAIN PATH WE PASSED THE FRESH GRAVE OF ONE CHINESE SOLDIER, WHO WAS KILLED WHEN A JAPANESE PLANE DIVE-BOMBED AN ARTILLERY POSITION.

THE CHINESE SAID THE RETREATING JAPANESE OAYONETED THEIR MULES AND HORSES AND PUSHED THEM OVER THESSLIFFS.

JUN 29 1943

UNABLE TO SUSTAIN THEIR FRONTAL ATTACK ON THE FORTRESS, THE JAPANESE COLUMNS ATTEMPTED TO BY-

IT AND WERE LED ON BY THE CHINESE INTO THE MOUNTAINS TO THEPSOUTHWEST, WHERE THE DEFENDERS WERE PREPARED TO ANNIHILATE THEM. THE JAPANESE NEVER RETREATED BEFORE STICKING THEIR NECKS FULLY INTO THE TRAP THE CHINESE LAID FOR THEM ALTHOUGH THEY WERE ABLE TO SAVE LARGE NUMBERS OF THEIR TROOPS DESPITE THEIR DISORDERLY RETREAT.

AT THE DEEPEST PENETRATION THE FRONT FORMED AN ARC OF 30 MILES THROUGH THE MOUNTAINS SOUTHWEST OF SHIHPAI. THE ENTIRE LENGTH OF THE BATTLE LINE FROM THE UPPER YANGTZE TO TUNGTINK LAKE WAS ABOUT 300 MILES.

THE JAPANESE USED HEAVY GUNS TO PROTECT THEIR CROSSING OF THE YANGTZE BELOW ICHANG, BUT AS THE FIGHTING PROCEEDED THROUGH THE MOUNTAINS THEY WERE SUCCESSIVELY REDUCED TO FIELD ARTILLERY, THEN TO MOUNTAIN GUNS AND FINALLY TO TRENCH MORTARS AND LIGHT ARMS IN WHICH THE CHINESE MATCHED THEM.

WE WERE TOO LATE TO GET IN ON THE FIGHTING (THE FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS HAD ASKED TO BE SENT TO THE FRONT WHILE THE BATTLE WAS GOING ON, BUT THE GOVERNMENT DIDN'T SEE FIT TO GRANT THEIR REQUEST) AND ABOQT THE ONLY CONCRETE EVIDENCE OF THE ACTION THAT WE SAW WAS A STACK OF WAR BOOTY CAPTURED ON THE UPPER YANGTZE. IT WAS FROM ONLY ONE FRONT, BUT CONSTITUTED A SIZEABLE PILE--A SCORE OF JAPANESE BATTLE FLAGS, RIFLES, BAYONETS, STACKS OF STEEL HELMETS, CANTEENS, BINOCULARS, MORTARS AND WHAT NOT.

THE CHINESE HAD CAPTURED TWO JAPANESE HORSES, ONE BLACK AND ONE RED. THEY WERE BIG AND WELL BRED, MUCH LIKE TYPICAL AMERICAN SADDLE MOUNTS. I WOULD HAVE LIKED TO OWN THAT RED, WHICH THE GENERAL AGREED TO MOUNT FOR A PHOTOGRAPH. BUT TO SAVE MY NECK AND LIMBS I'LL RIDE THESE SHORT-LEGGED, STURDY CHINESE PONIES WHICH WILL PUT TO SHAME ANY "HIGH SCHOOL HORSE" BY NIMBLY WALKING UP AND DOWN A THOUSAND STONE STAIRS.

Chungking, June 28-(AP)-Japanese troop movements indicate the possibility of a new J[a]panese drive in Western Hupeh province, the gateway to Chungking, Chinese military authorities said today on the basis of intelligence reports.

JUN 29 1943

The invaders were declared moving anew from three important bases of Nanking, Hsuchow and Sinyang, and there was a transfer of enemy forces in central china around H[a]nkow, Chinese spies told headquarters.

Military authorities said these movements "indicate another

Japanese drive in western Hupeh might be in the offing."It was in this region that the Chinese recently scored their greatest victory of the six years war.

The Chinese said they were preparing to cope with a new offensive.

A Chinese reaching free territory after escaping from Hainan island, off southeast China opposite French Indo-China, said Japanese control there after four years occupation was limited to a coastal fringe and a few important points. The Japanese have converted the island into a "blood vessel," for the the south Pacific, he said. A great naval and air base has been established with is a "cancer for the allies," the informant said.

JUN 29 1943

The Japanese were said to have built coastal roads, repaired old harbors, build new ones, erected fortifications and constructed airdromes

CHINA AUG XX DAMAGE

THE GENERAL READ A LETTER FROM A CHINESE OFFICER WHICH SAID THAT LIEUT.THOMAS CLARK, 28,OF LIGONIER,PA.,"BEHAVED HIMSELF BRAVELY IN A BATTLE OVER KINGMEN,BUT OWING TO THE GREAT NUMBER OF ENEMIES THAT HE ENCOUNTERED HE WAS FORCED TO LAND AT (NAME OF PLACE CENSORED). AFTER THE HARDSHIPS OF TRAVELING FOR FOUR DAYS AND SWIMMING ACROSS THE YANGTZE RIVER AT OUR POSITION,SAFELY.HE REJOICED SO MUCH AT HIS ARRIVAL."

THE OFFICER ADDED THAT HE HONORED CLARK BY PRESENTING HIM WITH A CHINESE WAR BANNER.

NEW DELHI (AP)

"Although the dangers have not been entirely removed, they have been held in check and Indian soil has been preserved from enemy invasion," Wavell said, "India is now strong. If then, all continue with undaunted will to do their duty, there need be no more need to fear for India's safety. Great efforts still are needed to bring the war to a successful conclusion and to remove from Asia the threat of japanese domination."

JUNE 21-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE TELEPHONE HAS REPLACED THE NATIVE TOM-TOM AS THE SPEEDIEST MEANS OF COMMUNICATION IN NEW GUINEA, AND THE BOYS WHO DID THE REPLACEMENT JOB RECEIVED THE PRAISE OF GENERALS TONIGHT.

AT THE NEAREST NEW GUINEA EQUIVALENT OF A BANQUET, THE SIGNAL

3024-5489

BATTALION CONSTRUCTION COMPANY WHICH BUILT THE ARMY'S NETWORK OF TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH LINES ON THIS ISLAND RECEIVED THE OFFICIAL COMMENDATION OF LIEUT.GENERAL GEORGE C.KENNEY, COMMANDER OF THE FIFTH AIR FORCE.

THE GENERAL'S COMMENDATION PRAISED THE OFFICERS AND ENLISTED MEN OF THE COMPANY FOR "SPLENDID WORK ACCOMPLISHED UNDER EXTREMELY ADVERSE CONDITIONS FROM OCTOBER, 1942, TO MARCH, 1943, IN CONSTRUCTION AND INSTALLATION OF 95 MILES OF TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH LINES IN NEW GUINEA."

THE PROJECT ALSO INVOLVED THE CUTTING AND HAULING OF POLES OVER 22 MILES OF MOUNTAINOUS ROAD AND INSTALLATION OF THE POLES IN ROUGH JUNGLE TERRAIN AND FREQUENTLY IN STORMY WEATHER.

MAJOR GENERAL R.J.MARSHALL, COMMANDER OF SERVICES OF SUPPLY IN THIS AREA, AND TWO COLONELS ADDED EXPRESSIONS OF COMMENDATION AT THE BANQUET. THE CITATIONS OF VALUABLE SERVICE WENT TO THESE ENLISTED MEN AMONG OTHERS:

JUN 29 1943

FROM NEW YORK--CPL.JAMES E.PASSERO, 136 CURTIS ST., ROCHESTER; PFC ANTHONY DELIO, 250 NORTH NINTH ST., BROOKLYN; PVT.JOHN BIELSKY, 84 NEW ST., HEMPSTEAD, L.I.; PVT.JAMES A.DEMARCO, FARHAM; PVT.STANLEY M.ZARIERSKI, 139 SOUTH THIRD ST., BROOKLYN.

Jerusalem, June 28-(AP)-Sir James Grigg, British war secretary, was here from last Saturday until Sunday afternoon, it was announced today. Premier Wladislaw Sikorski also passed through Palestine.

30.24-5489

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 28--(AP)--A RESOLVE TO SPEED CONSTRUCTION OF THE LAST REMAINING LINK IN THE BOLIVIAN-BRAZILIAN RAILROAD CONNECTING THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC OCEANS WAS CONTAINED TODAY IN AN EXCHANGE OF NOTES AND LETTERS BETWEEN THE CHIEF EXECUTIVES OF THE TWO NATIONS.

ALSO SIGNED BY PRESIDENTS ENRIQUE PENARANDA OF BOLIVIA AND GETULIO VARGAS OF BRAZIL WERE A SERIES OF TREATIES PLEDGING CONTENENTAL FRATERNITY AND DESIGNED TO ACCOMPLISH CLOSER ECONOMIC COLLABORATION.

JUN 29 1943

A 680-KILOMETER STRETCH OF THE RAILROAD, BETWEEN SANTA CRUZ, BOLIVIA, AND CORUMBA, BRAZIL, HAS BEEN UNDER CONSTRUCTION SINCE 1939 BUT HAS BEEN DELAYED BECAUSE OF THE WARTIME LACK OF STEEL RAILS. ITS COMPLETION WOULD VASTLY PROMOTE TRADE BETWEEN BRAZIL AND BOLIVIA.

ONE OF THE PROMISES CONTAINED IN THE LETTERS WAS A PROMISE GIVING BOLIVIA "ENTREPOST" INSTALLATIONS AT THE BRAZILIAN PORT OF SANTOS PERMITTING FREE DEPOSIT FOR BOLIVIAN EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 28-(AP)-PLEDGES OF CONTINENTAL FRATERNITY AND SOLIDARITY WERE STRENGTHENED TONIGHT WHEN BOLIVIA AND BRAZIL SIGNED A SERIES OF TREATIES AND EXCHANGED LETTERS AND NOTES DESIGNED TO BRING ABOUT CLOSER ECONOMIC COLLABORATION.

THE PLEDGES WERE MADE IN PUBLIC SPEECHES BY PRESIDENTS ENRIQUE PENARANDA OF BOLIVIA AND GETULIO M VARGAS OF BRAZIL DURING A GOOD-WILL VISIT TO BRAZIL BY THE FORMER, WHO LEFT FOR HOME TONIGHT.

THE TREATIES DEALT WITH VARIOUS COMMERCIAL MATTERS BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES AND ARE RENEWABLE ANNUALLY. THEY CLIMAXED A GOODWILL VISIT BY PENARANDA TO BRAZIL. HE LEFT FOR BRAZIL IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE SIGNING.

JUN 29 1943

GUAYAQUIL, ECUADOR, JUNE 25-(AP)-A MESSAGE FROM PUERTO MANTA SAID TONIGHT THAT THE MOTOR SHIP SANTA MARIA ENROUTE FROM PANAMA WITH 120 PASSENGERS HAD LAST NIGHT SUNK IN THE SHARK-INFESTED WATER OFF CAPE PASADO 45 MILES NORTH OF MANTA.

NO DETAILS CONCERNING THE FATE OF THE PASSENGERS WERE AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY. THE AREA IS A DANGEROUS NAVIGATIONAL AREA.

#

BERMUDA, JUNE 28--(AP)--AUTOMOBILES APPEAR TO BE HERE TO STAY IN PRIVATE ON THIS BRITISH ISLAND COLONY WHERE BEFORE THE WAR/MOTOR CARS WERE PROHIBITED.

RECOMMENDANTIONS BY THE MOTOR TRANSPORT COMMISSION PRESENTED TO THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY TODAY HAD THIS TO SAY ON THE SUBJECT OF PRIVATE CARS: "WE BELIEVE THAT DIRECTLY THE PRESENT RESTRICTIONS IMPOSED BY THE WAR EMERGENCY HAVE BEEN LIFTED THE CONCESSION OF PRIVATE CAR OWNERSHIP CAN NO LONGER BE WITHHELD."

MOREOVER THE REPORT SUGGESTED THAT THE RULE OF THE ROAD BE CHANGED FROM LEFT TO RIGHT, A DEPARTURE FROM THE BRITISH CUSTOM.

JUN 29 1943

#

TORONTO, JUNE 28--(AP)--- PILOT OFFICER CLAUDE CORN, OF GREENVILLE, S.C., WAS DISCLOSED TONIGHT TO HAVEBEEN INJURED IN THE CRASH OF A PLANE HE WAS PILOTING AT BURLINGTON, ONT.

TWO CANADIANS FLYING WITH P.O. CORN ALSO WERE INJURED. ALL THREE ARE IN HAMILTON MILITARY HOSPITAL, THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE ANNOUNCED.

#

3024-5491

30.24-5491

NEW YORK, JUNE 28-(AP)-OPERATING BEHIND ENEMY LINES DURING RUSSIA'S TWO YEARS OF WAR WITH GERMANY, SOVIET GUERRILLAS "HAVE ANNIHILATED OVER 300,000 INVADERS, INCLUDING 30 GENERALS, 6,936 OFFICERS AND 1,520 AIRMEN," THE MOSCOW RADIO SAID TONIGHT.

JUN 29 1943

"DURING THE SAME PERIOD," SAID THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION, "NO FEWER THAN 3,000 TRAINS WERE WRECKED, 3,263 RAILWAY AND HIGHWAY BRIDGES DEMOLISHED, THOUSANDS OF MOTOR VEHICLES AND MANY HUNDREDS OF TANKS, ARMORED CARS AND AIRCRAFT GUNS WERE DESTROYED, AND 895 AMMUNITION AND FOOD DUMPS WERE BLOWN UP OR BURNED OUT."

THE ANNOUNCER, IDENTIFIED AS "COMRADE PONAMARENKO, A MEMBER OF THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY," SAID A STRONG UNDERGROUND PRESS FLOURISHED THROUGHOUT NAZI-OCCUPIED RUSSIAN TERRITORY AND THAT ALONG WITH DISTRICT AND REGIONAL PAPERS BEING PUBLISHED, LEAFLETS FOR VILLAGE POPULATIONS WERE BEING DISTRIBUTED BY ALMOST EVERY PARTISAN UNIT.

"THE PARTISAN MOVEMENT HAS DEVELOPED INTO A FORMIDABLE FORCE AND HAS BECOME ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT AGENTS FOR THE DESTRUCTION OF THE GERMAN FASCIST ARMY," HE ADDED.

UNDATED GERMAN SAVINGS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE GERMAN PEOPLE WERE ASKED YESTERDAY (MON) TO HAVE CONFIDENCE IN THE REICH'S WAR-TORN REICH'S FINANCIAL STRUCTURE AND AT THE SAME TIME THEY WERE TOLD THAT TALK OF MONEY BEING UNNECESSARY WAS "SILLY" IN A SPEECH BY NAZI ECONOMICS MINISTER WALTHER FUNK.

FUNK'S SPEECH AS BROADCAST BY THE BRITISH RADIO AND RECORDED BY CBS APPEARED TO BE AN APPEAL FOR INCREASED SAVINGS FROM THE POPULACE, ALREADY BURDENED BY THE COSTS OF ALMOST FOUR YEARS OF WAR.

A BERLIN BROADCAST OF COMMENT ON THE SPEECH BY A DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT GAVE THE IMPRESSION THAT FUNK HAD REPORTED DEPOSITS IN GERMAN SAVINGS BANKS AS "EXTRAORDINARILY INCREASED" ALTHOUGH IT WAS ACKNOWLEDGED THAT NEW DEPOSITS IN SOME CASES REPRESENTED CAPITAL

SET FREE BY THE CLOSING OF MANY BUSINESS ENTERPRISES NOT DIRECTLY SERVING THE WAR.

THE BRITISH BROADCAST DESCRIBED FUNK'S REMARKS IN PART THIS WAY:

"HE GAVE AN ASSURANCE THAT IF THEY'D SAVE MONEY NOW THE GERMAN STATE WOULD SEE TO IT THAT THEY WOULD GET FULL VALUE FOR THEIR SAVINGS AFTER THE WAR. THE GERMAN MINISTER OF ECONOMICS ALSO DEVOTED A LARGE PART OF HIS SPEECH TO ASSURING THE GERMAN MIDDLE CLASSES THAT THEY WERE NOT GOING TO BE WIPED OUT EVEN THOUGH THEIR BUSINESSES HAD BEEN CLOSED DOWN."

JUN 29 1943

FUNK WAS QUOTED AS SAYING THAT HALF OF GERMANY'S WAR EXPENDITURES WERE FINANCED OUT OF TAXATION AND THE OTHER HALF HAD TO COME FROM SAVINGS.

AN EARLIER BROADCAST DECLARED FUNK ATTACKED "SILLY TALK ABOUT MONEY BEINING UNNECESSARY, SAYING THAT THE BEST THING TO DO AGAINST IT WOULD BE TO TAKE AWAY THE MONEY FROM PEOPLE WHO TALKED THAT WAY."

AT ANOTHER POINT, THE BROADCAST SAID, FUNK DECLARED THAT BARTER TRADE HAD TO BE COMBATTED BECAUSE "IT UNDERMINES BELIEF IN THE WORTH OF MONEY."

NEW YORK, JUNE 28-(AP)-ASSERTING THAT PAUL JOSEF GOEBBELS "HAS NO CASTLES IN SPAIN," THE BERLIN RADIO DENIED TONIGHT A FOREIGN REPORT THAT THE NAZI PROPAGANDA MINISTER'S FAMILY HAD LEFT BERLIN AND TAKEN REFUGE IN SPAIN TO ESCAPE ALLIED BOMBS. THE GERMAN BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY NBC.

NEW YORK, JUNE 28--(AP)--A JAPANESE ARMY SPOKESMAN WARNED HIS PEOPLE TODAY THAT AMERICA AND BRITAIN HAD ADOPTED A POLICY OF BOMBING JAPAN AND THAT "THE ONE WHO HOLDS SUPREMACY IN THE AIR HAS BECOME THE VICTOR ON THE BATTLEFIELD."

THE SPOKESMAN, MAJOR GENERAL NAKAO YAHAGI, DECLARED THAT "WHEREVER THERE IS AIR SUPREMACY THERE IS CONSEQUENT SEA SUPREMACY". HIS SPEECH WAS BROADCAST FOR HOME CONSUMPTION WAS RECORDED BY U.S. GOVERNMENT MONITORS AS WAS A DIFFERENT VERSION BEAMED OVERSEAS.

JUN 29 1943

YAHAGI SPOKE IN KYOTO ON "THE PRESENT STATE OF THE PROSECUTION OF THE WAR" AND THE VERISON PUT OUT FOR FOREIGN CONSUMPTION ATTRIBUTED TO YAHAGI THE STATEMENT THAT "JAPAN HAS COMPLETED AND IS COMPLETING ALL NECESSARY PREPARATIONS" FOR THE OPENING PHASE OF A "MAJOR AND D CAMPAIGN."

3024-5493

30.24-5493

THE BROADCAST IN JAPAN QUOTED YAHAGI AS SAYING:

"IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC OCEAN AREA, SIMULTANEOUSLY WITH THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR, OUR FORCES DROVE OUT THE OPPRESSIVE POWER OF AMERICA, BRITAIN AND THE NETHERLANDS WITH A TREMENDOUS AND SPIRITED ENERGY, AND THOUGH OUR ENEMIES HAD MAIN BASES NEARBY IN THE REAR, THEY HAD NO FREE SCOPE TO MAKE USE OF THESE ESTABLISHMENTS.

"HOWEVER, THE ENEMY HAS ONLY RECENTLY BEGUN BARELY TO SHOW A RECOVERY FROM THE DEFEATS SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR AND HAS STARTED TO ATTEMPT TO RECOVER BASES BY AN ADVANCE TO LAND BASES, UTILIZING AUSTRALIA, NEARBY IN THE REAR, AS A STARTING POINT." #

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 29 1943

JAPAN HAS CONSOLIDATED ALL IMPORTANT AND STRATEGIC BASES CAPTURED IN EAST ASIA AND IS READY FOR THE NEXT "NEW PHASE OF THE WAR", ACCORDING TO DISPATCHES FROM TOKIO BROADCAST BY RADIO BERLIN AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

THE DISPATCHES QUOTED AN ADDRESS BY MAJOR GEN. NAKAO YAHAGI, HEAD OF THE PRESS DEPARTMENT OF THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL HEADQUARTERS TO A MASS MEETING IN KYOTO. DISCUSSING THE EVENTUAL ESTABLISHMENT OF A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE BY THE ALLIES, YAHAGI SAID THAT JAPAN HAS EVERY CONFIDENCE IN THE "SPLENDID GERMAN AND ITALIAN ARMIES", AND THAT IN THE ASIATIC SPHERE JAPAN IS PREPARED TO FACE AN EXPECTED INCREASE IN ENEMY PRESSURE. #

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PROFESSOR FREDERIC JOLIOT-CURIE, SON-IN-LAW OF THE LATE SCIENTIST, PIERRE CURIE, HAS BEEN NAMED A MEMBER OF THE FRENCH ACADEMY OF SCIENCES, THE BERLIN RADIO QUOTING A PARIS DISPATCH SAID LAST (MON) NIGHT. THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 29 1943

KNUT HAMSUN, NORWEGIAN WRITER AND NOBEL PRIZE WINNER, WHO IN 1940 URGED NORWEGIANS TO LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS HAS ARRIVED IN OSLO FROM A VISIT TO ADOLF HITLER'S HEADQUARTERS, A BERLIN BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS SAID TODAY.

XXXXXXXXX THE 83-YEAR-OLD AUTHOR, WHO ONCE RAN A HORSECAR IN CHICAGO, HAD BEEN ATTENDING AN AXIS-STAGED JOURNALISTS' CONFERENCE IN VIENNA, THE BROADCAST SAID, WHEN HITLER SENT HIS OWN PLANE TO BRING HIM TO HIS HEADQUARTERS. XXXXXXX THERE FOLLOWED A CONFERENCE WHICH LASTED FOR THREE-QUARTERS OF AN HOUR, ALTHOUGH IT WAS EMPHASIZED THAT NO POLITICAL QUESTIONS WERE DISCUSSED.

JUN 29 1943

HAMSUN, THE BROADCAST SAID, WAS WELCOMED ON HIS RETURN TO OSLO BY REICH COMMISSAR TERBOVEN, AND AND NAZI-CONTROLLED NORWEGIAN NEWSPAPERS "FRITTE FOLK" EMPHASIZED THAT LEADING GERMAN CIRCLES XXX ARE ATTACHING GREAT POLITICAL IMPORTANCE TO HAMSUN'S TRIP TO XX VIENNA. DURING THE PAST TWO WEEKS ACCORDING TO THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION HAMSUN WAS AWARDED THE NOBEL PRIZE IN 1921 FOR HIS NOVEL "THE GROWTH OF THE SOIL".

JUN 29 1943

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO).

- - -

BY MAX HILL

AN ENGLISHMAN WHO IS IN A POSITION TO SPEAK WITH AUTHORITY WROTE A SPECIAL ARTICLE FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WHICH WAS PUBLISHED YESTERDAY, AND IN WHICH HE SAID:

"THE PEOPLE (IN BRITAIN) KNOW THEY CAN EXPECT NO JOYRIDE TO BERLIN OR TOKYO."

THE AUTHOR IS W.J.HALEY, WHO IS JOINT MANAGING EDITOR OF THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN AND EVENING NEWS, AND A DIRECTOR OF PRESS ASSOCIATION OF GREAT BRITAIN AND OF REUTERS.

HALEY HAS JUST RETURNED TO ENGLAND FROM AN EXTENSIVE TRIP THROUGH THE SOUTH PACIFIC, AND THE MENACE THAT IS JAPAN NO LONGER IS A MYTH TO HIM.

JUN 29 1943

LET US HOPE IT WAS FROM KNOWLEDGE AND NOT SENTIMENT THAT HE SAID:

"CHURCHILL SPOKE FOR THE NATION WHEN HE PLEDGED THAT TOKYO MUST GO THE WAY OF BERLIN AND ROME."

IT IS TIME, ALSO, THAT AMERICA AWAKENED TO THE CRITICAL SITUATION IN THE PACIFIC. THE STATUS OF THE WAR IN THAT AREA CAN BE SUMMARIZED IN A FEW WORDS, AND I ONLY HOPE THE READERS OF THIS COLUMN WON'T BE TOO SHOCKED BY THE DEFINITELY OMINOUS FACTORS.

OUR GOVERNMENT IS AWARE OF THE DANGER, AS ARE THE RESPONSIBLE HEADS OF OUR ARMED FORCES. THEY KNOW OF THE LONG AND BITTER AND BLOODY BATTLES WHICH FACE US BEFORE THE JAPANESE BOW IN DEFEAT, AS THEY MUST IN THE END.

BUT A SPIRIT OF COMPLACENCY SEEMS TO PERMEATE THE ATTITUDE OF THE AVERAGE AMERICAN, ESPECIALLY THOSE WHO LIVE IN THE EAST AND MID-WEST.

30.24- 5495

30.24- 5495

I HAVE BEEN ASKED MANY TIMES WHY I DIDN'T SAY SO WHILE I WAS IN TOKYO--INSTEAD OF NOW--IF JAPAN WAS SO STRONG. WELL, THIS IS THE REASON. JAPAN DIDN'T FOOL US. SHE WASN'T STRONG. WE WERE WEAK AND WITH TYPICAL AMERICAN CONFIDENCE WE LOOKED ON JAPAN AS A PUSH-O ER.

NOW JAPAN IS STRONG. SHE HAD A CAREFULLY PLANNED PROGRAM OF ATTACK. IN NINETY DAYS SHE SEIZED A RICH AND VAST EMPIRE, AND SINCE THAT TIME SHE HAS DONE NOTHING BUT PREPARE FOR THE INEVITABLE ATTACK FROM THE UNITED NATIONS TO REGAIN IT.

JUN 30 1943

ANY ATTEMPT TO WREST THIS TERRITORY FROM HER WILL BE COSTLY IN BOTH MEN AND MATERIALS. JAPAN KNOWS THAT. NOW SHE CAN SIT BACK AND WAIT FOR A STALEMATE. SHE HAS ACCOMPLISHED HER OBJECTIVES IN THIS WAR, EVEN MORE THAN HITLER.

THIS IS NOT TO BE TAKEN AS CRITICISM OF OUR STRATEGY IN THE WAR. BUT THIS MUCH IS OBVIOUS. WE PLAYED INTO THE HANDS OF THE JAPANESE ONCE Y BELIEVING THE LIFEBLOOD OF THAT EMPIRE HAD BEEN DRAINED AWAY BY THE LONG CHINA AFFAIR.

NOW WE SAY, WITH THE SAME CONFIDENCE, THAT ONCE WE HAVE HITLER OUT OF THE WAY WE WILL TURN ON JAPAN AND--JUST AS EASY AS BLOWING OUT A CANDLE--WE WILL TAKE HER INTO CAMP.

NOTHING FITS BETTER INTO THE JAPANESE PROGRAM THAN OUR POLICY OF DEVOTING MOST OF OUR ATTENTION TO THE ATLANTIC. IT GIVES JAPAN TIME TO CONSOLIDATE AND EXPLOIT ALL OF HER VAST ORIENTAL PLUNDER.

PEARL HARBOR WAS NOT THE ONLY TRICK OF WHICH THE JAPANESE ARE CAPABLE. THEY HAVE GAMBLED FROM THE FIRST ON A STALEMATE, WHICH WOULD BE A VICTORY FOR THEM. LET US SUPPOSE THAT AFTER HITLER IS DEFEATED THAT THE MILITARISTS OSTENSIBLY ARE DISCREDITED, THAT A

JUN 30 1943

SUPPOSEDLY MILD CABINET OF BUSINESSMEN TAKES OVER.

THEY COULD--AND WOULD--SAY BLANDLY THAT THEY WERE THE RESPONSIBLE, RESPECTABLE FACTION IN JAPAN, THE PEOPLE WE COULD DEAL WITH IN SAFETY.

LET US NOT BE DUPED BY ANY SUCH RUSE, AND THE MANEUVER IS NOT ONLY LIKELY BUT PROBABLE. IT WOULD MEAN ANOTHER WAR IN THE PACIFIC WITHIN TWENTY YEARS. YET THERE IS A SMALL BUT POTENT MINORITY IN THIS COUNTRY WHICH WOULD ADVOCATE SUCH ACTION. I SAY, AS WAS WISELY SAID IN ANTIQUITY: BEWARE OF THE GREEKS WHO COME BEARING GIFTS.

THE JAPANESE HAVE YET TO BE DEFEATED IN ANY WAR. THEY MUST BE DEFEATED THIS TIME, INVADED AND THEIR MILITARISM DISCREDITED AT HOME AS WELL AS ABROAD BEFORE WE CAN CLAIM VICTORY IN THE PACIFIC.

IN JAPAN THE HOPE IS THAT A WAR-WEARY AMERICA WILL COMPROMISE WITH HER. THAT IS A DEVELOPMENT WE MUST GUARD AGAINST TO THE UTMOST.

R.A.F. Ravages Cologne, Nazis Bare Devastation; Fortresses Hit Leghorn

WAVES OF PLANES CROSS CHANNEL TO ATTACK GERMANY

Afternoon Raiders Carry Air Offensive Into 11th Consecutive Day.

U. S. PLANES IN R

R.A.F. Smashes Cologne, Hits U-Boat Center at Hamburg.

LONDON June 29 — (AP) Great fleets of British bombers battered the Rhineland industrial city of Cologne and the U-boat center of Hamburg last night to hit a new high in the devastation heaped upon Germany's war machine in a single month although June still has two nights to go.

Observers said the raid on Cologne was comparable with the previous heaviest attack on the Ruhr in which more than 2,000 tons of bombs were dropped.

Daylight Raiders Busy

Other waves of Allied planes roared over the channel late this afternoon, carrying the war's greatest sustained bombardment of fortified Europe through its 11th consecutive day.

Then, at 9 p. m. (3 p. m., Eastern War time) tonight, coastal watchers reported that a formation of heavy bombers which they identified as U. S. Flying Fortresses heading across the channel toward France.

R.A.F. fighters also renewed their "train-busting" operations over northern France by daylight and the Air ministry said one Canadian pilot riddled six locomotives while two fliers shot up five more between them.

JUN 30 1943

Watchers on the southeast coast of England, who reported the return of the daylight attackers after 45 minutes, said that they believed the force included heavy bombers but that accurate identification was impossible because of the height at which they flew.

Cologne Hard Hit

Cologne, target of the first 1,000-bomber raid that pulverized 600 acres in May, 1942, bore the brunt of the double-barreled night assault which cost the R.A.F. 25 four-engined planes.

It was the R.A.F.'s 13th heavy bombing operation of the month and was believed to have boosted the June bomb load well over the record of 12,000 tons dumped on Europe during May.

Each heavy assault is estimated to deliver around 1,500 tons. Nine such raids have been made on Ruhr targets alone this month, for a total of 13,500 tons. The R.A.F has lost 169 bombers in the record attacks this month. Weather kept the heavyweights on the ground until June 11.

The R.A.F. also laid mines in enemy waters last night in the delayed-action warfare that, according to an official announcement, already has sunk at least 400 Axis vessels.

Huge fires were spread throughout Cologne and, although clouds prevented an accurate assessment of the damage, the tone of German complaints about a "terror" attack indicated that it was equally as destructive as other R.A.F. saturation raids.

Cologne, third largest city in Germany, harbors a large assortment of war plants including chemical and dye works. Their importance is indicated by the fact that the city now has been raided 117 times.

Cathedral Damaged

Germany reported, without Allied confirmation, that the Cologne cathedral, which lifts its spires out of a cluster of railway, industrial and business targets, was hit by high explosives.

"Heavy bombs smashed through the roof of the cathedral and exploded inside the church, causing heavy devastation," said a Berlin broadcast heard in London.

The Daily Express reported from Stockholm that the famous Hohenzollern bridge spanning the Rhine at Cologne was hit in the raid.

The bridge, which is less than a quarter of a mile from the cathedral, carries important traffic between central and western Germany including trains and road convoys bringing food to the Rhine and the Ruhr.

Reports of the damage were varied, the dispatch said, one saying the bridge had collapsed, others that it was out of action temporarily but could be repaired.

Landmarks Destroyed

Other Berlin broadcasts said the city hall, the community building and Guerzenich hall, which dates back to the Hanseatic period, were "completely destroyed."

The British Air ministry said the Germans began an intensive effort to reconstruct the damaged industries of Cologne immediately after the 1,000-bomber attack last year.

Reconnaissance, it said, showed that the Germans "had not the slightest intention even up to a few months ago of moving industries from districts in and around the Ruhr." Even some of the smallest factories, workshops and administrative offices were said to have been rebuilt.

One returning pilot said he saw a concentration of red fires with smoke rising through the clouds at 12,000 feet.

Many of the crews reported a "terrific explosion" in the southern part of Cologne.

Nazi Defenses Fail

Stockholm dispatches said the Cologne raid blasted German hopes that new defensive measures in western Germany might force the Allies to slow up their aerial offensive.

The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm Tidningen had reported that after a 48-hour let-up in heavy attacks on the Reich, some sources had expressed hope that "the next few days and weeks will be the same and there will be a change in the bomb war."

The Germans had based their hopes for a relaxation of the bombings on stiffer anti-aircraft defenses and stronger fighter forces, the correspondent said.

British fighters also were active during the night, damaging a small supply ship and two escort craft in an attack on enemy shipping in the channel, and intruder patrols shot up railway targets in France.

Two British fighters sweeping over Northern France on offensive patrol today were reported authoritatively to have bagged six German planes—two Junkers 88s and four Henschel 126s.

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 29—A formation of large Allied bombers which coastal observers identified as United States Flying Fortresses swept across the Channel toward France at 9 o'clock tonight.

An hour earlier several other waves of Allied aircraft had crossed the Channel. Watchers along the coast said that there were heavy bombers in these formations also, and added that they possibly also had contained American craft.

Hamburg Also Hit; 25 Bombers Lost in Night Operations

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 29.—The RAF returned in great strength last night to Cologne, where 1,000 bombers had blasted 300 acres of destruction on May 30, 1942, and laid the pattern for the city-by-city razing of German war industry.

The assault, it was believed, may have delivered almost as great a bombload as in last year's attack because the RAF's latest planes carry a greater weight. Also many of the squadrons in the 1942 raid were medium bombers.

In a double-bladed attack, British heavy bombers also struck overnight at Hamburg, submarine building center, and continued the minelaying that official sources announced yesterday had caused the sinking of at least 400 Axis vessels since the war started.

Twenty-five bombers were listed as missing.

With this new blow, the R. A. F. was estimated to have set a new monthly record in June for the total bomb load dropped on Germany, surpassing the May top of 12,000 tons. Each heavy assault is estimated to deliver 1,500 tons, and so far this month there have been nine such raids upon the Ruhr alone, or a total of 13,500 tons of bombs.

Last night's attack marked the eighth assault on the Nazi home front in 10 days.

Fires Left at Cologne.

The RAF left fires leaping up toward overhanging clouds at Cologne, scene of the world's first 1,000-bomber raid. It was the 117th attack of the war on Cologne.

The German high command called the Cologne attack "another serious terror raid against residential quarters."

The German high command, in its regular communique broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press, asserted that "the Cologne Cathedral sucered heavy damage from explosive and incendiary bombs" and that Cologne's population "suffered losses."

It was the second raid of the month against the great Rhineland industrial center which the Nazis have been reported working avidly to restore. The 1942 raid was reported to have driven out 200,000 of the city's 800,000 population and wrecked 250 factories.

The German communique reported property damage in both Cologne and Hamburg and said 26 of the attacking bombers were shot down. Thickly populated parts of Cologne were said to have been destroyed as a result of a great number of explosive and incendiary bombs.

Hamburg Results Not Given.

The official British bulletin gave no results of the attack on Hamburg, last hit on March 3 and an air target nearly 100 times since the war began.

An enemy convoy of three merchant vessels, heavily escorted by E-boats, was attacked by the RAF during the night while attempting to pass through the Strait of Dover, the Air Ministry reported.

One vessel and at least two of the escort craft were said to have been damaged. All planes returned.

Typhoons went in first when the convoy was sighted hugging the coast between Gris Nez and Boulogne, flying through intense flak to press home the attack. Albacores then charged in with bombs and one pilot reported seeing explosions straddling a ship and its escort.

The attempt to pass the convoy up the Channel may have accounted for a gun duel across the straits which southcoast residents said was one of the fiercest of the war. British guns fired nearly a dozen salvos toward the French coast. The German guns on the other side replied and firing continued until early today.

Fortresses Raid France.

The twin foray by the British bombers followed up a two-way attack yesterday by strong formations of American Flying Fortresses on two enemy targets in Occupied France—the submarine yards at St. Nazaire and an enemy fighter airdrome at Beaumont-Le-Roger, 30 miles southwest of Rouen.

Such Allied air blows on the French homeland, the Nazi-controled Vichy radio declared today in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, have made more than 16,000 persons homeless. The report also said that deaths averaged 15 daily from June 25, 1940, to June 21, 1943.

Berlin asserted that 11 of the American four-engined planes were shot down during yesterday's attack. The United States 8th Air Force reported six missing.

The Americans flew in clear weather, described as "designed for high level precision bombing," and the official announcement said result were good. The flyers reported direct hits at St. Nazaire. Big fires were left at Beaumont-Le-Roger.

Britain itself enjoyed a raid-free night.

The fighter defenses and anti-aircraft concentrations which the Nazis were reported last week to have spread in new strength along western European coastal areas were very little in evidence at St. Nazaire. The Yanks reported some misdirected flak and counted only 25 fighters. They agreed it was the easiest of any of their nine jabs there.

The cloudless sky afforded a clear view of the submarine pens and Second Lt. Arthur Price of Portland, Oreg., said he "could see nothing but smoke and bomb bursts."

Heavy smoke was visible for 100 miles as the Fortress formation swept away from Beaumont-le-Roger, where gasoline and ammunition dumps were said to have been fired.

Lt. Robert Langloid of Appleton, Wis., saw a "blanket of smoke" billow up, and Lt. Clyde Carlson of Minneapolis declared: "The burst of flame covered an area of a big city block. Hangars and barracks must have been wiped out because they were bracketed with bombs."

Maj. Theodore Milton, Washington, D. C., a group operations officer who piloted Ain't It Gruesome, said: "Fighters, mostly the yellow nose boys, hit us. However, I'm sure we got what we were going after."

Two Axis Ships Sunk.

Earlier in the day British aircraft attacked an enemy convoy off the Dutch coast, sinking two ships, causing a third to be beached and seriously damaging three others. In the afternoon RAF Typhoons shot up railway targets in Belgium and an air field at Morlaix, France.

Two American brigadier generals —Newton Longfellow of Minneapolis and Frank O. D. Hunter of Savannah, Ga.—were decorated with the Silver Star yesterday for their part in developing the increasingly successful American share in the air offensive against Europe.

The award was given to Gen. Longfellow, commander of the 8th Bomber Command, for his efforts in demonstrating the value of daylight bombing. Gen Hunter, who heads the 8th Fighter Command, was rewarded for increasing the effectiveness of fighter protection for the big bombers.

Hopes of Respite Blasted

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 29 (AP)—Last night's RAF attack on Cologne blasted German hopes that intensive defensive measures taken in western Germany might force the Allies to slow up their aerial offensive on the Reich.

The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm Tidningen had reported that after forty-eight hours without any heavy bombing attacks on Germany, some circles had expressed the hope that "the next few days and weeks will be the same and there will be a change in the bomb war."

The correspondent said the Germans based their hopes for relaxation of the bombings on stiffer anti-aircraft defenses and stronger fighter forces.

LEGHORN HIT IN PORT AREA BY 100 FORTS

Harbor, Rail Yards, War Plants Fired—Dense Smoke Is Seen

Light Cruiser And Four Cargo Ships Bombed—No Planes Lost

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 29—Reaching far into northern Italy across the width of the Mediterranean, one hundred Flying Fortresses have dumped hundreds of tons of bombs upon the mainland port of Leghorn, spreading destruction in the harbor, railway yards and war plants and leaving the whole area covered by smoke so dense as to be impenetrable five hours after the attack.

This raid, thrown in yesterday without the loss of a single Fortress, hit an Italian light cruiser and four cargo ships and left one of Italy's refineries ablaze.

"Little opposition was encountered," it was officially stated today.

Damage Admitted

While the Italian high command in its broadcast communique was admitting "very great damage" in Leghorn, reconnaissance photographs showed a hit and two damaging misses on the cruiser, many hits on the port's oil tanks, railroad lines, bridges and storage depots.

The Italians reported that 175 persons were killed and 300 injured in the city.

Leghorn was attacked on May 28 by a fleet of Fortresses only slightly smaller than yesterday's force.

[A German DNB broadcast quoted the Giornale d'Italia as reporting that the main weight of the newest Fortress raid was concentrated on the center of Leghorn, an area described as "relatively unharmed" in the previous big attack.

Called More Violent

[The Axis broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press in London said the Monday attack was "even more violent" than the May 28 raid from which, the Italian newspaper reported, the city was gradually recovering.

["Roads leading to the railway station and near the station were especially hit," the newspaper was quoted as saying.]

Allied medium bombers and fighters also resumed raids on Sardinian airfields. In the whole of the day's operations twelve enemy planes were destroyed against two Allied craft lost.

Sicily Attacked

Sicily, too, was again under attack by fighter-bombers based on Malta. Factories and a railroad at Licata on the island were hit, as was the Comiso airdrome.

The Italian command told also of Messina, in the area of the Messina new attacks on Reggio Calabria and strait separating Sicily and Italy proper.

In Sardinia, Axis airfields in the Olbia-Venafiorita and Alghero-Fertilia districts, respectively in the northeast and northwest, were hit by medium bombers escorted by fighters, bombs falling on barracks and administrative buildings, hangars and dispersal areas.

Other enemy airdromes at Milis and Decimomannu to the south were hit.

Freight Yards Hit

British Wellingtons, which long have been carrying the weight of the Allied night attack, smashed the freight yards at San Giovanni in southern Italy in a raid over Sunday night.

During the day the Allied Mediterranean Air Command issued a statement declaring that by "false news of air victories and lies regarding their own losses" the Axis leaders were vainly trying to maintain Italian civilian morale and were in consequence losing the confidence of their own pilots.

"It is useless," said the statement, "for the Hun to attempt to persuade the natives of Sicily and Sardinia that our attacks are abortive. It is no good telling the poor citizen of Olbia, surrounded as he is with the charred remains of dock facilities and marshaling yards, that Sardinia still is intact. Nor would it be sensible to announce that last Friday's Fortress raid on Messina did little more than desecrate the residential area."

Five Ships Damaged In Heavy Pounding Of Italian Port

By the Associated Press.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 29.—One hundred Flying Fortresses, flying round-trip more than 1,100 miles, smashed the Northern Italian port of Leghorn with several hundred tons of bombs yesterday, damaging a light cruiser and four supply ships and creating havoc in oil tanks, railway yards and industrial plants.

The four-engined bombers hammered at the city for nine concentrated minutes, and returned home without loss, Allied headquarters announced.

They created such ruin that an official report said, "Five hours after the raid the entire port was still so heavily covered by smoke that accurate inspection of the damage was then impossible."

"Later, however," the report stated, "it was learned that all the storage tanks and an oil refinery were ablaze and that an inner 'inactive' light cruiser and four supply ships in the harbor were damaged.

Little opposition was encountered and all the fortresses returned safely."

(The Italians admitted "very great" damage at Leghorn and said 175 persons were killed and 300 injured.)

Sardinian Airfields Riddled.

Meanwhile, American medium bombers and fighters concentrated on airfields in Sarlinia, setting buildings ablaze and pounding dispersal areas, and RAF Wellingtons raided San Giovanni near the toe of the Italian mainland.

Fighter-bombers flying out of Malta scored hits on two factories and a railway at Licata, Sicily, a British communique said, and other planes started a fire at Comiso Airdrome.

Photographs of the Leghorn raid showed "one hit and two damaging misses on the cruiser, and picture interpreters also reported many hits on the oil tanks," the official report said. "Also hit by numerous bombs were the railroad lines leading to the marshalling yards and tracks east of the city, a bridge, sheds, a storage depot or two." Hits were scored near an iron foundry and torpedo factory.

Nearly 100 Fortresses raided Leghorn, 160 miles north of Rome, on May 28 in their longest combat flight from North African bases up to that time.

(Leghorn, which is the home of the Ansaldo shipyards, was said by London sources at the time of the May raid to be a possible base for the shore-bound Italian fleet.)

Heavy Opposition.

Medium bombers ranging over Sardinia encountered heavy enemy opposition both from the ground and in the air.

(New attacks on Reggio Calabria and Messina also were reported by the Italian high command, which said 14 were killed and 52 injured at Reggio Calabria and 4 killed and 4 injured at Messina.

(Rome asserted that 19 Allied planes were shot down yesterday, 7 of them at Leghorn.

(German bombers were said to have attacked Pantelleria harbor with "good success," but there was no Allied confirmation of an attack there.)

Only one enemy fighter was encountered by the Flying Fortresses, and it turned away without coming in range. The flak was slight to moderate, but the Italians put up a dense smoke screen over the target.

4 Axis Fighters Shot Down.

While speedy B-26 Marauders bombed Decimomannu airfield in Southern Sardinia their Warhawk escort shot down 4 out of 15 enemy fighters which attacked aggressively over the target and then followed the Allied formations 10 miles out to sea.

Two Warhawks broke off from the formation and went in low to strafe the radio station and locomotive works at Calasetta. Both targets were left burning.

A heavy cloud of dust obscured the Sardinian airfield of Alghero-Fertilia after American B-25 Mitchells bombed barracks, administration buildings, hangars and dispersal areas. P-38 Lightnings on scout duty shot down two Macchi 202s from among eight enemy fighters which attacked over the field and attempted to follow the bombers homeward.

Another formation of Mitchells raided Olbia-Venafiorita airfield in Northeast Sardinia, leaving hangars burning and a large fire near a road intersection and two fires on the field itself. One bomb hit an enemy plane taking off, causing it to crash into another plane on the ground destroying both.

This formation failed to encounter any enemy air opposition.

Milis Airfield Blasted.

At the same time a Marauder formation with a P-38 escort blasted at Milis Airfield, reporting that good bomb patterns covered the target. Lightnings shot down 5 out of 25 to 30 enemy interceptors.

The crewmen's report of very accurate bombing in the RAF Wellingtons' raid on San Giovanni the preceding night was confirmed by photographs. With the aid of flares the bomb aimers easily found the three main objectives—a ferry terminus, railway station and siding—all conveniently clustered along the water front.

One squadron commander reported defending searchlights and guns on both sides of the straits striving unsuccessfully to pick up the Wellingtons, which went in to bomb by the light of flares as well as fires left by the first planes to reach the targets. Many bursts were seen on and around the ferry terminus, and many blazes were growing as the bombers left.

Only two Allied planes were reported missing from the day's operations.

[The Italians admitted "very great" damage and said 175 persons were killed and 300 injured.]

Sardinia Also Attacked.

Meanwhile, American medium bombers and fighters concentrated on air fields in Sardinia, setting buildings ablaze and pounding dispersal areas, and R. A. F. Wellingtons raided San Giovanni near the toe of the Italian mainland. Medium bombers ranging over Sardinia encountered heavy enemy opposition both from the ground and in the air.

Fighter-bombers flying out of Malta scored hits on two factories and a railway at Licarta, Sicily, a British communique said, and other planes started a fire at Comiso Airdrome.

[New attacks upon Reggio Calabria and Messina also were reported by the Italian High Command.]

Airfields in the Olbia-Venafiorita district in northeast Sardinia were attacked by medium bombers. Mitchells, escorted by Lightnings, dropped explosives on the barracks, administrative buildings, hangars and dispersal areas in the Alghero-Fertilia district on the northwest coast. In other forays, Marauders, with an escort of Lightnings and Warhawks, attacked airfields at Milis and Decimomannu to the south. The Wellington night raiders dumped their load on the San Giovanni marshalling yards.

A dozen enemy aircraft were destroyed in the day's operations, the war bulletin said, and two Allied planes were listed as missing.

AXIS PLANES RAIDING SHIPS BEATEN OFF

JUN 30 1943

30.24-5497

Allied Aircraft Repel Four Mediterranean Daylight Raids

Six Enemy Bombers Shot Down, Two Of Them By Ack-Ack Fire

JUN 30 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 29—Allied aircraft have beaten off four daylight attacks and a succession of night raids on Allied shipping off the North African coast. The Allied planes shot down six enemy aircraft while ships' guns accounted for two more.

The pilots included Americans, British, French and one Norwegian.

A complete account of the persistent but unsuccessful enemy attacks against Allied ships, which were mentioned in yesterday's communique, was released today by the RAF.

Bombs Jettisoned

In the initial attempt, the account said, "A wave of enemy fighter-bombers flying at a great height approached, but on being challenged by American flown Spitfires the majority either jettisoned their bombs or released them when within the vicinity of the shipping without coming anywhere near the ships.

tra celebration for seven of the flyers, for they had a part in the squadron's first combat assignment, the bombing of Rouen, France, on September 5 last.

Some of the seven earned the right to return to the United States when they completed yesterday's flight. Others have a few more missions to go. The majority of the squadron's original personnel already have completed the required fifty missions and have gone home.

In eleven months the squadron has operated over western Europe, North Africa, Sicily, Sardinia, Pantelleria and Italy.

Almost Lost a Crew.

The nearest its record of all crew men returning alive came to being spoiled was in October, 1942, when a Flying Fortress piloted by Capt. Donald A. Swensen of Carpio, N. D., was forced down in the English Channel. The entire crew was saved, however, in one of the first air-sea rescue operations involving American flyers in the European theater. Capt. Swensen and his crew subsequently were invited to be guests of King George VI when he visited a fortress base.

The squadron's members encountered 775 enemy aircraft during their operations of which they destroyed thirty-four and damaged many others. The squadron never lost a plane or a man in training or transit flights from the United States to England and thence to Africa.

Seven Still in Squad.

The seven who were on the squadron's first raid at Rouen and who bombed Leghorn yesterday are Capt. E. M. Slack Jr., Marfa, Texas; Lieut. J. H. Maclean, Montclair, N. J.; Lieut. J. H. Biesel, Dallas, Texas; Sergt. Leonard Webb, Lewistown, Idaho; Technical Sergt. Robert Dobson of Madison, Wis., Sergt. James Gilbert of Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, and Staff Sergt. Leroy H. Bullis of St. Louis.

Sergt. Webb was disappointed slightly with the Leghorn mission, his fifteenth, because no enemy fighters appeared.

"It was just like a cross-country hop," he said, "just like my first one over France. If they keep on being like some we've had lately, I am not going to waste much sympathy on the boys left behind."

Sergt. Dobson was well pleased at Leghorn, however, because "the target was well covered. One explosion looked like an oil dump going up with plenty of thick black smoke."

Bomb Squadron Sets Record

Ends 100th Trip Without the Loss of Man—Some of Crew Earn Visit Home.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 29 (A. P.).—A squadron of Flying Fortresses sat down at home base yesterday after raiding Leghorn, completing 100 combat missions without the loss of a single man.

The brilliant record was made by the squadron commanded by Capt. Robert J. Duval, 24 years old, of Los Angeles, a former student of Los Angeles City College and an automobile racing driver. It was an occasion of ex-

Europe Hears Truth Over U.S. Radio in Africa

50,000-Watt Station Uses No Bombast and Tells Bad War News With the Good

By Noland Norgaard

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, (AP).—The United States is employing the most powerful radio transmitter in Africa to tell the people of Europe the plain and simple truth about the war in a calm, matter of fact manner.

The 50,000-watt medium wave transmitter—the United Nations Radio—which began operating June 14, broadcasts news daily in four languages—French, German, Italian and English—to Nazi-dominated Europe, and when the news is unfavorable from an allied standpoint there is no effort to hide the fact.

Determined to establish throughout enemy and occupied nations an unparalleled reputation for honesty, the big American station and its staff, recruited from the commercial radio and newspaper field, employs effectively a technique almost directly opposite to that of Axis radio propagandists.

Policy of Understatement

Here is the way it's done:

1. Allied victories are described in the simplest terms, with a policy of understatement rather than the exaggeration and bragging of Axis spokesmen.

2. Announcers avoid any attempt to excite the listener with bombastic utterances, and superlatives are seldom employed. They speak plainly and almost in a monotone.

3. There is a deliberate policy of telling the unfavorable as well as the favorable news. Every development of the American coal strike which threatened to curtail war production was given to the people of Europe the same as in the United States.

4. Axis leaders are never vilified by announcers; but, in the words of one of the station's officials, "we let them vilify themselves by recalling in connection with current news their claims of the past." As an example, a few nights ago the announcer reminded his listeners of Hitler's declaration two years ago that the war in the West was finished, and then told of the Anglo-American bombings which are curbing vital German war production.

Damage Not Exaggerated

5. Extreme care is used to avoid any extravagant claims of damage by air attacks on enemy-controlled areas or of other occurrences within enemy territory. This eliminates the danger of having listeners lose faith in the station's credibility because of scenes before them.

6. Editorializing on the news is minimized. Notable exceptions to this rule were broadcasts of warnings to the Italians to stay away from war factories, communications centers and other targets of Allied air attacks, and warnings to people of occupied countries to avoid premature demonstrations or actions which might cause them to face Nazi punishment.

Musical accompaniments and other trappings of the commercial radio are are dispensed with.

"We work on the theory that our audience listens with an eye on the door through which a policeman might come at any moment," an O. W. I. official explained. "Therefore, we strip the program to essentials which are easily understood and quickly grasped."

The station's signature tune is "Over There." That favorite of the first world war was chosen, an official said, "because it is already widely known in Europe and because every one who hears it a few times finds himself humming or whistling it. Hitler's cops surely cannot arrest every one who forgets himself for a moment and whistles a snatch of 'Over There.'"

JUN 30 1943

Part of the time the transmitter is devoted to rebroadcasts of British Broadcasting Corporation programs for the British forces and also other British programs for the Axis and occupied countries.

Allies Ready For Invasion, Axis Declares

LONDON, June 29.—(AP) The Mediterranean, where Allied fleets and forces were reported massed for an onslaught, was described as Europe's number one invasion front today by the Berlin radio.

The Paris radio said the extent of Allied concentrations indicated that an imminent blow would not be aimed at Italy alone.

The German DNB military commentator sought to pin on the Allies incendiary bombings employing the "inhumane use of phosphorous" although he did not mention the showers of phosphorous incendiaries dropped on London by the Luftwaffe during the blitz.

Hints Use of Gas

This reference to phosphorous suggested another step in what might be a German effort to justify the use of gas—against which they have been warned repeatedly by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

"The recently reported Anglo-American shipping movements through Gibraltar leave no doubt about the imminence of large-scale operations in the Mediterranean theater," said the Paris radio military commentator. "Although most of the enemy's propaganda efforts have been concentrated on Italy, it is hardly likely that the offensive will be directed against Italy alone."

In other broadcasts, all recorded by the Associated Press, the Italians talked of five possible Allied thrusts into southern Europe—through Italy, Spain, Turkey, Southern France or the Balkans—and the Germans repeated their unconfirmed report that United States warships had reinforced the British fleet at Gibraltar.

Italy Ready to Fight

While the Italians spoke of five possible invasion points, the Rome radio seemed convinced that Italy would not be overlooked but said "Everybody in Italy knows that Italy will fight now or never."

The DNB commentator said the Mediterranean "undoubtedly has become the theater of war of first importance x x x The enemies of the Axis probably here have almost reached the maximum concentration of their submarine and surface naval forces and their land and air forces."

The use of phosphorus, he continued, had led to such hatred among the Germans "that the impulse of this feeling for the acceleration of measures of retaliation would not be underestimated." He asserted that "squadrons of retaliation will have to speak a more decisive word."

Axis fears of invasion were voiced also by the Vichy radio which quoted a Rome commentary as saying Allied air attacks had been switched from towns in southern Italy to communications lines, junctions and harbors "in an attempt to disrupt traffic in southern Italy."

U. S. Is Key Factor

A German radio commentator said "It becomes increasingly evident that this war becomes more and more a war against the United States."

The commentator declared that the United States' manpower, industry and geographical situation gave her a "unique position" and added that "it rests entirely with her how far she wants to go in assisting her Allies. She is master of her resolutions. She herself can hardly be affected."

Another indication of Allied success in the nerve war was given by Dr. Otto Krieck, political analyst of the German radio, who said the "Anglo-Americans have changed fronts again." A fortnight ago, he said, the second front was imminent but "today terror has broken out and warfare has been replaced by murder," which was an apparent reference to massive bombing assaults on German cities.

Invasion July 3 Ruled Out

LONDON, June 29 (AP).—The Paris radio said today that "July 3, the date mentioned by the German radio for (Allied) invasion of the Continent, is out of the question, because July 3 is a Saturday and no Englishman will take anything seriously over a week end."

R.A.F. ROUTS ENEMY SHIPS IN CHANNEL

London, June 29 (A. P.).—An enemy convoy of three merchant vessels, heavily escorted by E-boats, was attacked by the R. A. F. during the night while attempting to pass through the Strait of Dover, the Air Ministry reported today.

One vessel and at least two of the escort craft were said to have been damaged. All planes returned.

Typhoons went in first when the convoy was sighted hugging the coast between Gris Nez and Boulogne, flying through intense flak to press home the attack. Albacores then charged in with bombs and one pilot reported seeing explosions straddling a ship and its escort.

The attempt to pass the convoy up the channel may have accounted for a gun duel across the straits which southcoast residents said was one of the fiercest of the war. British guns fired nearly a dozen salvos toward the French coast. The German guns on the other side replied and firing continued until early today.

Precision Held Perfect In St. Nazaire Bombing

London, June 29 (AP)—Flying Fortresses rendered a "perfect example of high-altitude precision bombing" yesterday from five miles above St. Nazaire, the German submarine base on the French coast, United States headquarters said tonight.

A statement said of photographs taken during the bombardment.:

"Bombs from almost every plane were bunched across the aiming point.

"Several hundred tons" of bombs were showered on installations at St. Nazaire and many direct hits were observed on two old locks and a new one the Germans had almost completed.

The locks are the only entrance to the submarine basin capable of sheltering twenty-five to thirty U-boats. The Germans had built a bomb-proof concrete roof over the new lock which the Fortresses struck.

U. S. BRITISH LOSS IS 1337 BOMBERS

London, June 29 (A. P.).—The great air offensives launched from England have cost 1,337 Allied bombers in the last six months, a compilation showed today. Of these 239 were American and 1,098 were British bombers.

YUGOSLAVS REPORT NAZIS DRIVEN BACK

London, June 29 (A. P.).—Yugoslav guerrilla forces in Herzegovina and Montenegro have absorbed a forty-day German offensive and have launched a counter-attack in which the Germans have been thrown back, Yugoslav Government - in - Exile sources said today.

Yugoslav patriots have cut the Sarajevo-Uzhitz railway between Stmbolcic and the bridge over the Drina River and forced the Germans to retire, both in Herzegovina and eastern Bosnia, informants who cannot be named said.

The Yugoslavs acknowledged the loss of 2,000 killed and wounded and described a German claim of having inflicted 12,000 casualties as highly inaccurate. The German losses were said to have evceeded those of the guerrillas.

Yugoslav forces in Slovenia were said to have wrecked a German armored train the past week. They also derailed troop trains and destroyed the underground works and machinery of the Zagorye coal mines, it was reported.

With Axis reports focusing attention on the Balkans as the locale for an Allied invasion of Europe, Radio Morocco reported that battles were developing in northern Greece between troops and Greek patriots.

7,500 Belgian Patriots Reported Shot To Date

London, June 29 (AP)—More than 7,500 Belgian patriots have been shot by the Germans since the occupation, the Belgian Government in exile said today, quoting the underground newspaper Linsoumis.

A Belgian Quisling, Henry Labro, chief of the Flemish National Socialist group at Schaerbeek, Brussels, has been killed by patriots, the Government said.

Attempt to Kill Georges Reported

London, June 29 (A. P.).—The unreliable German radio reported today that an attempt had been made on the life of Gen. Alphonse Georges, a member of the French Committee of National Liberation and formerly commander of French armies facing Germany, under Gen. Maurice Gamelin. There was no Allied confirmation of the report.

The Ministry of Information recorded the Nazi broadcast, which said that Gen. Georges was injured slightly when several shots were fired on him in his apartment by unknown persons."

TORPEDO MARKSMANSHIP

British Missile Fired Through Breakwater Hits Ship

LONDON, Wednesday, June 30 (AP)—A British submarine went into the harbor of Porto Torres, Sardinia, recently and hit a medium supply ship with a torpedo fired through an opening in the breakwater, the Admiralty disclosed today. The supply ship, half loaded, was cut in two by the explosion.

The commander of the submarine was Lieut. R. B. Lakin. Previously, while commanding the submarine Ursula, he had sailed blind for six days and nights in the Mediterranean after the periscope of his craft had been smashed by an enemy destroyer. Later he shelled an installation of olive oil storage tanks from a point within 150 yards of an Italian pier, and later a freight train on the Italian coast.

Poles Sink Axis Freighter

LONDON, June 29 (AP)—The Polish submarine Dzik, commissioned last December, sank a 4,000-ton freighter in the Messina Strait off Italy yesterday, Polish authorities announced. The Dzik claimed a 7,000-ton tanker a few weeks ago.

Luftwaffe, Busy at Home, Forgets to Raid Britain

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, June 29—Not a single German plane has been seen over Britain for five days.

There was an alert in London on Sunday, but it was a mistake, and the last nuisance raid of any size was on June 6 when fourteen eGrman planes attacked a coast town and one was shot down.

Observers suggested that Germany was mustering every available plane for defense against the mounting Allied air offensive.

British Typhoons Support Big U. S. Planes On Raids

Fast Fighter Bombers Expected To Be In Forefront When Allies Land In Europe

LEWIS HAWKINS

[By the Associated Press]

An RAF Base, Somewhere in England, Wednesday, June 30—The swift Typhoon plane has moved into the ranks of fighter-bombers and has already proved effective in support of United States heavy bombers, it was disclosed today as newsmen were given their first look at Britain's newest air invasion weapon.

RAF pilots are confident that the latest version of one of the world's fastest planes—which as a fighter has been largely responsible for trouncing German sneak raiders—will be at the forefront in close support of Allied landing armies in Europe.

Helps U. S. Bombers

They are convinced, too, that it will make the job of United States Fortresses and Liberators easier by blasting Nazi fighters on the ground to balk interceptions of the American heavyweights.

At a sacrifice of only ten to fifteen miles from top speed, which is in the neighborhood of 400 m. p. h., the Typhoon carries a 500-pound bomb under each wing and pilots are perfecting a bombing technique which has knocked out a large number of German fighters on airfields.

When its bombs are gone, the Typhoon reverts to its original role as a deadly fighter plane with a full supply of ammunition for the four 20-millimeter cannon in its wings.

Work In Close Liaison

Working in closest liaison with the USAAF, the Typhoon squadrons are bombed up and ready to go when the big Fortresses and Liberators penetrate France. Then, when the radio brings word of enemy fighter moves, the Typhoons streak across the Channel in a matter of minutes with Spitfire or Typhoon fighter escorts and plaster the fields where Nazi fighters are preparing to take the air to intercept the returning American heavy bombers.

A few days ago, while the Forts were over France, Typhoons of a unit headed by Squadron Leader Dennis Crowley-Milling caught Nazi fighters refueling on a French airfield and landed all their bombs among the enemy planes.

"One of the Jerries making a takeoff ran right into a burst and simply disintegrated," Crowley-Milling said. "And there were a good many German fighters who never got another chance at your boys that day."

Now rolling out by the hundreds, Typhoon fighter bombers are expected to form one of the main spearheads of the tactical air force and some squadrons are now living under canvas as self-contained units—as they will have to be when they move forward with the Allied armies in Europe.

'Exercise Hospital' Rebuilds American Battle Casualties

New Type of Medical Treatment Is Given Authority to Expand

By RUTH COWAN,
Associated Press Foreign Correspondent.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND.—The United States Army Medical Corps has started a program of rebuilding battle casualties and accident victims that hints at revolutionizing American military medicine.

Because it is in the initial stage and doctors are cautious, the officers in charge urged restraint in describing it, but they couldn't keep enthusiasm out of their voices.

The results include a gunner sergeant, the scar yet red on his thigh where he was wounded by a Nazi airman, with two other men tossing a 95-pound log up into the air and catching it; a red-headed private whose wrist was broken a few months ago scaling a 12-foot wall and a sergeant with his right forearm in a cast teaching a gym class.

Expansion Approved.

The project, which has received the military nod to expand, is so new that no name has yet been found to describe it. They just call it a rehabilitation center. It is housed in a hospital, but there is no smell of ether about. It has the air of something new in a physical training camp.

The center is the result of studies made by Brig. Gen. P. R. Hawley, chief surgeon in the European theater of operations, and Col. Rex Diveley, orthopedic consultant, of similar work done by the British.

Maj. Frank Stinchfield, orthopedic surgeon for rehabilitation, and Capt. Marcus J. Stewart, orthopedic surgeon, on duty at the center, outlined their objectives.

Actually the center is a link between the surgical care that sets a soldier's broken leg and his full use of it again.

Gap in Soldier's Status.

Capt. Stewart noted that Army regulations say a man is either a hospital case or well enough to be on duty. But realistically speaking, a man whose broken ankle has mended but is stiff is not ready for full military duty, nor is he still a hospital case.

A soldier with just such an ankle was exercising it in the remedial gymnasium. He sat on a table and, with a contraption attached to his foot, lifted a weight on a pulley. He does it for a certain period each day.

Another man with a stiff shoulder was exercising at a ship's wheel on the wall. There were rope exercises for weak backs. Men were relearning to "skin the cat" on bars. Others were riding exercise bikes to strengthen thigh muscles. Some equipment is homemade and devised to fit individual needs.

As Maj. Stinchfield explained the operation of the center, the patients are referred from station or general hospitals. From 15 to 18 per cent are battle casualties. In general they are victims of accidents.

Four Stages in Recovery.

On arrival they are examined by a medical man, a surgeon and an orthopedist, and graded into four classes. Class D can barely toddle. Class C can go on a 5-mile hike, do some exercises, but not run or jump. Class B can run and jump and Class A is about ready to return to duty.

"Most are in Class C when they arrive," said Maj. Stinchfield. "Once a week they are reclassified and graded either up or down."

This "getting back into the pink" course gets a man up at 6 a.m., and the program is mapped according to individual needs. In general, they get drill, military instruction to reawaken their interest in being a soldier and courses in physical training. Those who need it spend time in the remedial gym.

The first group of instructors was sent to a British training course. One, Sergt. David D. Gilbert, broke his wrist jumping off a truck going 25 miles an hour. He had already made 21 jumps, the number required, and got hurt when he did one for extra. But this has not kept him from teaching. He was out on the exercise ground, waving his arm, still in a cast, as he directed a gym team. He was enthusiastic about the work.

A trainee of whom the sergeant seemed especially proud was Sergt. Elmer Berger, 20, of Francisco, Ind., waist gunner on a Flying Fortress and the adopted son of Frank Bolin, shipyard worker at Evansville, Ind.

Returning from a mission over Bizerte last December, he was wounded in the thigh by a Nazi plane. Nine miles within the Allied lines the plane crashed. It was his fourth crash landing in 138.35 operational hours. He discarded his crutches March 25 and has been at the rehabilitation center a month, strengthening the thigh muscles. "I just made an 8-mile hike—ran 4 miles and walked 4," he said. "And only 11 out of 60 made it," added the sergeant.

As a demonstration of what could be done, Maj. Stinchfield and Capt. Stewart had seven trainees run an obstacle course that would be a credit to a commando.

Under instruction from Sergt. Marshall Collins, 19, they scaled a 12-foot wall, took several hurdles, jumped ditches of varying width, ran along a 2-by-4 fence rail, scrambled up a high net, leaped off a 10-foot embankment and, grasping a rope, swung across a 60-foot hole.

RHONE VALLEY REPORTED NAZI DEFENSE ZONE

Rommel And Africa Corps Troops Seen In Vicinity Of Lyon

JUN 30 1943

Bern Hears Italians Believe Invasion Fleet Is Off Sicily

BRUTTO

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, June 29—Axis nervousness increased today amid ever-growing reports of intense defensive preparations both in Italy and in France's central Rhone valley where Nazi Field Marshal Rommel was reported concentrating an estimated 350,000 troops as a barrier against Allied attempts to reach the German heart of Europe.

Italy expected the start of the battle at any hour, said the Gazette de Lausanne, adding that the Italians believed an Allied fleet was ready to attack the coasts of Sicily.

Nazi Troops Around Lyon

Around Lyon, on the Rhone river in France, each morning German troops wearing diverse uniforms, including some of Rommel's Africa Corps, are seen, said a Lyon dispatch to the Tribune de Geneve. Rommel himself was reported stationed in a chateau at Montdore, where he frequently is said to set out down the Rhone valley to inspect "vast aviation fields under construction."

Frenchmen going to work at dawn in that sector were reported attracted by "unending lines" of artillery and tanks, giving rise to an opinion among the population that a new compaign in France was in prospect, the dispatch said.

Uneasiness grew in Italy, said the Gazette de Lausanne, and certain fears were evident. The paper added that it was easily understood that the prospect of an Allied landing "covered by dozens of warships and thousands of planes, cannot bring comfort."

Picks Italy Instead Of Balkans

The neutral Swiss paper added that even the "most ferocious" Italian defenders were not able to deny that initial Allied successes were probable. The editor of the Frankfurter Zeitung, writing from Istanbul, predicted that Allied forces would strike at Italy and not at the Balkans.

Italy was pictured as no longer a land of lemon blossoms for tourists but as an embattled protrusion on the European southern shores, where everything was subordinated to the deployment of troops and where military traffic took precedence over all other. The country from Rome south was reported closed to all foreigners.

Battle Allied Propaganda

Meanwhile the Fascist press and radio worked feverishly to counteract Allied propaganda which Basel's National Zeitung said was effective "because of the deadly seriousness behind it."

The extent of Allied propaganda was demonstrated by Virginio Gayda, Fascist mouthpiece, who compared Italy to an obdurate donkey belabored not only by the cudgel of Allied bombings but also by the blandishments of carrots—leaflet appeals from President Roosevelt and General Dwight D. Eisenhower—in an effort to induce Italy to cease fighting and accept a separate peace.

German propaganda was effective only so long as it was backed by the blitz, said the National Zeitung, but now the Allies have a "decisive advantage since their reports are accompanied by facts, such as the taking of Tunis, Pantelleria and the smashing bombs in the Ruhr valley and on Southern Italy."

RED FLYERS POUND OREL

Set Fires In City As Troops Join Attack On Sector Where Nazis Mass

Shelling By Soviet Artillery Wrecks Train In Sevsk Area

[By the Associated Press]

London, Wednesday, June 30—Russian airmen, continuing their steady pounding of German rail centers and supply depots in the pivotal sector around Orel, attacked that important junction Monday night for the third time in a week, Moscow announced early today.

A special Soviet announcement, broadcast by the Moscow radio ahead of the regular midnight communique, said Red army bombers caused at least fifteen big fires and explosions in Orel and went on to blast enemy ammunition dumps at Karachev, forty miles to the west.

Bomb Caucasian Port

Other Russian planes were said to have attacked the Caucasian port of Taman on the southern shore of the Sea of Azov for the second consecutive night.

Soviet ground forces also joined in the offensive against enemy installations in the Orel sector, where the Germans are believed to have amassed some of their heaviest concentrations of troops and materiel of the entire Russian front.

The midnight communique, recorded here by the Soviet monitor, said Russian gunners shelled a train in the area of Sevsk, about ninety miles below Orel, wrecking several cars. A scouting party also penetrated German communication lines and killed a number of enemy troops, it was said.

Air Battles Near Leningrad

While the communique mentioned no aerial activity, Moscow dispatches quoted battle-front sources as saying violent air battles had taken place over the approaches to Leningrad, with the Germans losing "a big number of planes" in the last twenty-five days.

The midnight war bulletin reported intermittent exchanges of artillery fire on the Volkov front below Leningrad. Other artillery exchanges were reported on the central front west of Moscow.

The Russians carried out reconnaissance in force west of Rostov, where the communique said one Red army lieutenant destroyed an enemy mortar battery.

The noon communique reported an aerial battle over the Belgorod sector and said Soviet flyers shot down three of five German planes.

BIG AIR FIGHTS AT LENINGRAD

Red Guerrillas Derail Nazi Trains and Kill Troops.

Moscow, June 29 (A. P.).—Violent aerial battles are swirling over the approaches to Leningrad with the Germans having lost a big number of planes in the last twenty-five days, battlefront dispatches reported today.

German losses were so heavy that the Nazis have changed their tactics, increasing the fighter escort for bombers and varying the times of raids, it was said.

From the front farther north on the Rybachi (Fisher) Peninsula other dispatches pictured fighting complicated by weather and the fact that darkness never occurs.

People live in huts and caves and come out to watch aerial battles or listen to artillery duels or peer with field glasses at Allied ships battling their way into Murmansk. There the weather changes as many as ten times a day, with frequent heavy downpours. The short northern summer is about ended. Then comes worse weather.

30.24 - 5499

JUN 30 1943

Illness Confines Standley

MOSCOW, June 29 (AP).—Admiral William H. Standley, American Ambassador, was confined to his residence today with a stomach complaint. The ailment was not considered serious and it was expected he would return to his office in a few days.

Russia Hears Of Strike In Turin Plane Plants

Moscow, June 29 (AP)—Tass, official Soviet news agency, said tonight it had been reported reliably that a mass strike had flared at the Turin aircraft plants in Italy in protest against labor conditions, and had shifted to an anti-war demonstration.

The reports were quoted as saying the strikers demanded the release of workers of the Fiat works who were arrested last March in connection with a protest strike, and also demanded one month's wages as travel expenses promised by the Government as a result of evacuations.

It was said that some 65,000 workers were on strike.

200 Germans Killed By Soviet Infantry On Central Front

Red Airmen Shoot Down 3 of 5 Nazi Planes In Belgorod Area

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 29.—Small units of Russian infantry, engaged in reconnaissance on the Central front last night, killed 200 German troops and captured prisoners, the Russian noon communique broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet monitor announced today.

The war bulletin reported little other activity, however, at any point along the long Eastern front. In the Belgorod area, northeast of Kharkov, Soviet airmen engaged five German planes, shooting down three, the communique said. The midnight bulletin had announced that Soviet antiaircraft fire had destroyed three other Nazi planes.

In the Zhitomir region near Velikie Luki a guerrilla detachment mined a German troop train, wrecking the engine and eight cars, the bulletin said. German casualties were listed as 60 officers and men.

Guerrillas Active.

Guerrilla activities accounted for a large part of the action on the Russian front announced in the Soviet midnight communique. The bulletin said that in the Leningrad area in a 10-day period guerrillas had derailed nine German trains, destroying large quantities of war material and killing a large number of German troops.

Another Soviet broadcast yesterday said that in the two-year war period guerrillas have killed more than 300,000 Axis troops, including 30 generals.

The midnight communique also reported that a German detachment had retreated back across the northern Donets River south of Izyum yesterday after stumbling into a Soviet minefield during a feeler thrust.

Nazis Retreat Into Ambush.

The Axis troops were allowed to cross the river unmolested, the bulletin said, and when they met no resistance they began a rapid advance which was halted when they reached the mine field. Several Germans were killed by the explosions and the balance of the men retreated into a Soviet ambush.

In the Sumy area on the Kalimin front a Soviet officer and one soldier raided a German outpost strategically placed on a small hill killing one guard and capturing a Nazi corporal, the noon communique said. The bulletin said the raid was undertaken when it was observed that the outpost was left in the hands of only two men at meal times.

JUN 30 1943

Germans Said To Be Fitting Radio Locators To U-Boats

Stockholme Reports Nazi Hope That Apparatus Will Combat Allied Patrols

By EDWIN SHANKE
[Associated Press Correspondent]

Stockholm, June 29 — The Germans are believed to be fitting out their U-boats with radio-location apparatus in hopes of being better able to combat Allied air and sea patrols guarding the sealanes and to detect convoys, reliable sources said tonight.

The increased efficiency of the Allied defense has forced the Nazis to attempt to find counter-measures, the sources said, partly explaining the recent reduction of U-boat activity.

It is recalled that Nazi naval experts have been forecasting that Admiral Karl Koenitz, Nazi U-boat fleet commander, and his top submarine minds would be seeking the answer to Allied methods of protecting convoys.

To Improve Escape Chance

The detectors under discussion are expected to give the Nazi undersea raiders a better chance of escaping planes and escort vessels by earlier warning of their presence, it was said.

They added that at the same time such devices might enable submarines to pick up at limited distances merchant shipping of which German naval headquarters is not aware.

Main center for construction of the intricate radio-location apparatus, it was said, is at the Zeppelin city of Friedrichshafen, which the RAF blasted last week in its shuttle-bombing experiment with a view to putting out of commission the work so vital to Nazi U-boat warfare.

With the introduction of the locators, observers here expressed the opinion that the Nazis might drop their pack tactics of hunting Allied shipping because that method had proved so costly. One submarine flotilla recently returned to its base reportedly having suffered a twenty-three per cent. loss.

May Use Small Groups

The sources said that as an alternative the Germans might operate in groups of much smaller numbers or even send commanders out on their own again.

The Essener National Zeitung already has said that the U-boats had reduced their hunting while the Nazi admiralty was seeking to develop new attack methods.

Inception of the radio locators would mean that crews, or at least officers, would have to be trained in their use, adding to Doenitz's already considerable job of keeping his ranks well-trained and crews filled.

Doenitz is said to have shortened the periods of schooling for men selected from crews of laid-up capital ships. These men, already versed in seamanship, naturally can be drilled in the art of U-boat warfare more quickly than others.

New Plan Surprises Nazis

STOCKHOLM, June 29 (AP).—Reich Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's newspaper, the "National Zeitung," of Essen, said in copies received here today that the Allied use of aircraft carriers to protect convoys "came as a surprise to the Germans" and that the Nazis have been forced to alter their submarine tactics.

The newpaper said the German admiralty was attempting to devise new methods of attack and that this explained the reduction in U-boat activity.

"In a long war the superiority of big powers will alternate," the paper said. "German U-boat pack tactics were a surprise to the Allies. Then the use of airplane carriers came as a surprise for the Germans."

The paper gave no figures on June sinkings, but said that, prior to June, submarines had sunk 31,000,000 Allied tons.

[Navy Secretary Frank Knox said that "dozens" of new auxiliary aircraft carriers were in action and that many dozens more would be in operation by the end of the year.]

RESIGNATION IS ACCEPTED

Boisson Offer Is Agreed On By French Committee Without Discussion

New Action Is Regarded As Another Concession To General De Gaulle

[By the Associated Press]

Algiers, June 29—The French Committee of National Liberation today accepted the resignation of Pierre Boisson, who, as Governor General of French West Africa, repulsed a British-backed de Gaullist attack on Dakar in 1940, but subsequently joined his forces with the Allies after the African campaign began.

The action was regarded as another concession to Gen. Charles de Galle, who had placed Boisson high on his list of men he charged with subservience to Vichy.

The Fighting French leader was the first to emerge from today's committee session and persons near by noted that he was smiling broadly, an expression rarely seen on his stern face.

Proposed By Pleven

A moment later correspondents heard the reason when a brief announcement was made, stating that René Pleven, commissioner of colonies, had proposed that the committee accept Boisson's offer to resign. Reliable sources said the action was taken without discussion.

De Gaulle came to the meeting directly from an inspection tour among French troops in Tubisia.

A member of his party said officers and men with whom de Gaulle talked asked only one question: "When are we going to be fighting on the soil of France?"

The morale of the troops was described as "extremely high" and an informant said they are working in complete cooperation with both American and British forces.

Military Viewpoint

"They're looking at the situation from a purely military standpoint and they will fight regardless of how the committee divides the military leadership," he said.

The committee discussed Gen. Henri Giraud's forthcoming trip to Washington and agreed without discussion that de Gaulle should preside during his absence.

Giraud's mission reportedly will be confined to questions affecting American arms assistance for the French. No date for his departure was announced, but it was reported that he planned to return to North Africa after a brief stay in the United States.

BOISSON IS OUT

Algiers, June 29 (A. P.).—The French Committee of National Liberation announced today it had accepted the resignation of Pierre Boisson as Governor-General of French West Africa, which includes the base of Dakar.

Gen. Henri Giraud is tentatively scheduled to leave Algiers within a week to visit Washington. The committee was expected to set the definite day at its meeting today.

Gen. Giraud received his first invitation to Washington nearly two months ago and replied that he would prefer to come later, it was learned from good authority. He said the pressure of reorganizing French affairs and rearming French forces demanded his attention in Africa. When President Roosevelt repeated the invitation, he accepted.

CHINESE TROOPS BREAK INTO TOWN

Japs Suffer Severe Losses in Encircled Area.

CHUNGKING, June 29 — (AP) The vanguard of Chinese troops who have been slowly encircling Owchihkow (Lotus pond inlet), near the Yangtze river, have broken into the town, a Chinese High Command communique said today.

In the attack on the town, which is 40 miles south of Shasi, the Japanese "suffered severe losses and are showing signs of collapse," the communique said.

The Chinese were also reported to have retaken many strategic points in the suburbs of Hwajung, the only other county seat south of the Yangtze and west of Tungting lake still in Japanese hands. The Chinese are now vigorously attacking Hwajung, which is 16 miles southeast of Owchihkow.

Owchihkow, one of the towns which United States bombers have attacked in support of Chinese ground troops, was reported completely encircled five days ago.

JAPS TO EXTEND BURMA RAILROAD

New Delhi, June 29 (A. P.).—Japanese occupants of Burma have accumulated large stores of railroad equipment at Thanbyuzayat to extend the line to connect with a road from the Thailand capital of Bangkok, a United States communique disclosed today.

For the second day in a row, the Americans attacked the town south of Moulmein on June 26, sending twenty-four heavy bombers with a load of nineteen tons of bombs on a flight which entailed at least 1,200 miles round trip from the nearest base in India.

The communique announced extensive damage inflicted on warehouses, buildings, supplies and tracks. Three huge fires were reported, two attended by violent secondary explosions.

Thanbyuzayat has been a frequent target of the Tenth United States Air Force in recent weeks, but this was the first disclosure of the reason. All American planes and crews returned safely.

Akyab Attacked Again By RAF Bombers

By the Associated Press.

NEW DELHI, June 29.—RAF planes, in a series of forays over Western Burma, bombed the Japanese base at Akyab again yesterday, attacked an enemy camp at Myohaung and shot up traffic on the Irrawaddy and Kaladan Rivers, a British communique announced today.

Oil installations at Chauk also were attacked, the bulletin said.

The communique reported that a "good weight" of bombs was unloaded by Wellington bombers on Akyab, where a considerable number of enemy troops was said to be concentrated.

Mexico Awards Chiang Her Highest Decoration

By the Associated Press.

CHUNGKING, June 29. — Mexico's highest decoration—the Order of the Aztec Eagle—was conferred today on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek by the Mexican charge d'affaires, Alfonso Castro Valle, on behalf of President Avila Camacho.

In presenting the decoration, Castro Valle paid tribute to Gen. Chiang's "fight for the maintenance of China's sovereign rights and independence against one of the mightiest of the aggressor powers."

Castro Valle, the first Mexican diplomat to be stationed in Free China, arrived here March 31.

18 JAP AIR RAIDERS FOILED AT DARWIN

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 29 (A. P.).—Nine twin-engined Japanese bombers, escorted by nine Zeros, raided the Darwin area Monday noon but were turned back by Spitfires with a possible loss of six planes.

The raid caused slight damage and no casualties, the noon communique said.

The Spitfires, flown by British and Australian pilots, shot down two Zeros and probably destroyed two more and two bombers. One Spitfire was missing.

Consolidated Liberators fought their way through extremely heavy weather over the Banda Sea and bombed enemy airdromes on Amboina and Boeroe islands, some 600 miles northwest of Darwin. Effects of the bombing were not observed.

A Flying Fortress on reconnaissance bombed the Cape Gloucester, New Britain, airdrome, and another heavy reconnaissance plane bombed Rapopo airdrome at Rabaul.

Japanese New Guinea Bases Bombed Again

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Wednesday, June 30 (AP)—Allied planes bombed and strafed Salamaua and Lae, New Guinea, yesterday, the High Command announced in the noon communique.

A single four-engined bomber struck at the isthmus on which Salamaua is located, attacking buildings.

Attack planes were used against Lae. They dropped to low altitude to strafe enemy installations at Labu lagoon where the Japanese often attempt to hide their supply barges.

Over Dutch New Guinea, big Allied bombers on reconnaissance bombed and damaged the enemy's barracks in a midday attack.

Revised figures concerning Monday's raid by eighteen Japanese planes on Darwin raised from two to three the number of Zeros definitely shot down by the intercepting Spitfires. One Zero and two bombers were listed as probably destroyed.

The pilot of a Spitfire previously listed as missing was saved after his plane crashed into the bush.

OFFICERS WARNED BY EICHELBERGER

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 29 (A. P.).—Lieut.-Gen. Robert Eichelberger, speaking today before 400 American graduates of an officers' candidate school, warned them not to take the Japanese lightly because, he said, the Japanese are more implacable enemies than either the Germans or Italians.

"It will be a long time before you hear of the surrender of 100,000 Japs as you have heard about German and Italian troops," Gen. Eichelberger told the young officers after they had taken the graduation oath en masse at a camp in Australia.

"The enemy you are going to meet is one you can count on fighting to the last. You have read about soldiers in Allied armies accounting for hundreds of Japs, but I know one case where a lone Jap routed out of a foxhole was found to have killed thirty-two Allied soldiers before he lost his life."

Gen. Eichelberger, who commanded American ground forces in the fiercest of the New Guinea jungle affair, described the Japanese as wily, savage, courageous and well-trained soldiers whose fighting ability would make the Allies' task more difficult.

The job ahead, in the Southwest Pacific particularly, he said, required young men who had learned the principles of warfare as taught by men with first-hand experience in fighting the Japanese, such as the staff members of the Australian school.

1943

30.24-5501

30.24-5501

CANADIAN CHIEF REVEALS HEAVY SEA RAIDER LOSS

MacDonald Asserts Assault on Europe May Come at Any Moment.

SEES A CRISIS IN WAR NEAR

High Commissioner Says a Dead German Submarine Is Served Daily for Breakfast.

Ottawa, June 29 (A. P.).—Malcolm MacDonald, British High Commissioner to Canada, said today at least fourteen enemy submarines had been sunk in the last two weeks and predicted that the Allied assault on Europe would start very soon.

"We have had a dead submarine served up for breakfast every day for the past fortnight," Mr. MacDonald said.

[His statement was added evidence of Allied ascendency in the critical battle of the Atlantic, which Prime Minister Churchill said recently the Allies were winning. Recent reports from London have said submarines have been sunk at a rate of better than one a day for the past two months, a rate faster than the German ability to replace them.]

Great Crisis Near.

Mr. MacDonald told a press conference that the Allies obviously are approaching another great crisis of the war.

He said that there might be "comparatively small" assaults on Germany and German occupied territory, which should not be regarded immediately as the opening of a second front.

The commissioner said that the Allied anti-submarine efforts had been so successful in recent months that the tables had been turned completely on Axis U-boats in the north Atlantic. He said this condition was a necessary prelude to Allied assault on Europe. Another was the complete conquest of North Africa with its corrollary shortening of the sea route to the Middle East, he said.

Mr. MacDonald said that pleas for a second front were natural and expectable, but the decision was made not to act prematurely or until all reasonable efforts had been completed to make the assault succeed.

Drive Expected Soon.

"Now preparations are well along and it is unlikely that we will have to wait very long," the commissioner said.

The whole world is keyed up to a state of expectancy, he added, warning that it would be unwise but perhaps natural to accept any combined action against the European Continent as the opening of the drive for a second front.

It is entirely possible the Commissioner explained, that a number of attacks might occur before the moment of the real assault upon the enemy or enemy-occupied territory would come.

Mr. MacDonald attributed success in the anti-submarine war to improved and increased air protection, more cargo ships and escort vessels to convoy them, and to inventions aiding in locating the U-boats.

At the present stage, shipping losses are of much less vital importance than four months ago, he added.

Saying that he would not attach too much importance to reports of rebellion among German submarine crews, Mr. MacDonald declared it was known that officers and crews recently had not been showing the courage and skill that once was noticeable.

Allied assault on Axis territory in the very near future was predicted today by Malcolm MacDonald, Britain's high commissioner to Canada, who disclosed also that enemy U-boats had been knocked out at the rate of one a day for the last two weeks.

Preparations for the blow at Germany or German-held territory were well advanced, he told a press conference, and it was unlikely that "we will have to wait very long" before the effort to crush Hitler on land is launched. He suggested that comparatively small assaults might serve as a prelude to the opening of a full-fledged second front.

Great Crisis Near

The Allies "obviously are approaching another great crisis of the war," he said.

The promising picture of anti-submarine activity served to emphasize recent Allied reports that the Atlantic was becoming an increasing unhealthful field for U-boat operations. Recent London reports said submarines had been sunk at a rate of better than one a day for the past two months and MacDonald declared, "We have had a dead submarine served up for breakfast every day for the past fortnight."

Increased air protection, more cargo ships with escort vessels to protect them, and U-boat location devices were responsible for the gratifying improvement in shipping losses, the high commissioner said. He added that in a large measure the improved condition could be considered permanent.

Mr. MacDonald prefaced his remarks concerning a land offensive against Europe by saying that "the Allied powers were determined not to launch a second front campaign until preparations were complete." Those preparations are now "well along" he added.

14 U-BOATS SUNK IN PAST 2 WEEKS

Britain's Commissioner to Canada Reveals New Successes in Atlantic.

OTTAWA, June 29—(AP) An

JUN 30 1943

NAZI PRISONER RECAPTURED

MONTREAL, June 29 — (AP) Hugo Forster, escaped German prisoner of war, has been re-captured and is in the hands of police in Montreal, it was announced today. Forster, 36 a captain in the German navy, escaped yesterday from an eastern townships' internment camp.

2 Men Killed in Canada Blast

OTTAWA, June 29 (AP).—Two men were killed, twelve were badly burned and other less seriously burned when fire broke out today shortly after noon in the Defence Industries Ltd. cordite plant at Nobel, Ont., the Munitions Department announced.

JUN 30 1943

Light Japanese Naval Force In Central Solomons Raided

Attack Is Made At Night—Kiska And Little Kiska Are Also Bombed

JUN 30 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 29 — A night bombing attack on a small group of light Japanese naval vessels caught on the move in the central Solomon Islands was reported by the navy today along with new raids on enemy island installations in both the North and South Pacific.

The raids included six attacks against Japanese positions on Kiska Island, in the Aleutians chain, Sunday and one attack on Kiska and near-by Little Kiska Island Monday.

The Sunday forays resulted in hits on the main camp and the defensive installations at North Head and brought to twenty-two the number of raids against Kiska in a four-day period.

Bad Weather Monday

Apparently bad weather set in Monday and reduced the number of raids to the single attack. A navy communique said that weather prevented complete observation of results but that hits were reported on houses at Little Kiska. No American planes were lost either Sunday or Monday.

The communique described the air action against the naval force in these words: "During the night (Monday, Solomon Islands time) United States planes bombed a small Japanese naval disposition in the central Solomons area. Results were not observed."

Little significance was attached to the action here and no particular importance was seen in the presence of such enemy forces in the central Solomons, presumably in the Munda air base area. Some naval men said that the phrase "small Japanese naval disposition" might mean simply a cargo ship and destroyer or a group of motor torpedo boats.

Rekata Bay Raided

Earlier Monday a formation of Dauntless dive bombers, Avenger torpedo bombers and Wildcat fighters had raided Japanese positions at Rekata Bay on Santa Isabel Island. The communique said, however, that the bombing "created so much smoke and dust that observation of the results of the attack was difficult."

Shortly after the assault on Rekata Bay, which has served in the past as an enemy seaplane base, Dauntless and Avenger bombers with Wildcat escort attacked Munda, on the northwestern end of New Georgia Island, and started a number of fires among defense installations, in ammunition dumps and in the Japanese camp.

Munda has been heavily raided in the past with the result, in the opinion of naval experts here, that the Japanese have never been able to get it into effective operation as a base for air attacks on American positions in the Russell Islands and on Guadalcanal, approximately one hundred miles to the southeast.

JUN 30 1943

7 MORE RAIDS LASH KISKA FOE

Attacks on Japs in Pacific Mounting in Fury.

Washington, June 29 (A. P.).—Six more smashing aerial attacks were made against Jap installations on Kiska Island in the Aleutians Sunday, the Navy reported today, and yesterday Army planes followed up with a raid against that island and nearby Little Kiska.

In the South Pacific, meanwhile, a Navy communique reported, American planes bombed "a small Japanese naval disposition" in the central Solomons but did not observe results. The action appeared to be of little consequence on the basis of a naval spokesman's interpretation. He said that while he did not know the makeup of the enemy force it might have been only a small group such as a destroyer and cargo ship or a squadron of torpedo boats.

Sunday's raids on Kiska raised to twenty-two the number of separate air actions carried out over that enemy North Pacific outpost in a four-day period.

While there was no explanation for the decline in activity on Monday, it was assumed here that the weather had closed in again. The attacks against Kiska are regarded as pre-ihvasion, softening-up raids, preparing the way for the amphibious expedition that some day is expected to smash the last Japanese hold on the American island chain.

Little Kiska, a rocky outjutting about a half mile off the east coast of Kiska, is considered by Navy officers to be for all tactical purposes a part of the larger island. The raid on it, therefore, was carried out as part of the Kiska raid. So far this month bombers and fighters of the Aleutians command have raided Kiska forty-one times.

Japanese land and sea forces are being slammed with a mounting fury that may well mark the opening phases of a new campaign to drive the enemy farther back in the Pacific.

New Type of Air Attack Counteracts Kiska Fog

HEADQUARTERS, ALASKA DEFENSE COMMAND, June 29 (AP).—Japanese antiaircraft positions on Kiska Island are hard hit by a new type of attack, designed to counteract difficulties of bombing through the Aleutian overcast.

The plan, described by Army Air Force officers as not entirely new except as a mass proposition, makes use of the high speed and maneuverability of Lightning fighters, each of which is capable of carrying a sizable bomb load.

The converted fighters, able to make steeper dives than regular dive bombers, go down through the fog at high speed onto the heads of the Japanese, drop bombs and get away before the Jap gunners have a chance to do any effective repelling work.

Aerial observers reported the system heaped havoc on Kiska placements in the last couple of raids announced in the Navy Department communique and that several gun positions were hit and a number of fires started in the Kiska camp area.

OFFICIALS CLASH ON PURCHASE OF # STRATEGIC GOODS

Vice President Accuses RFC Head of Failing to Build Stockpiles.

RFC HEAD REPLIES

Denies Obstructing Program Started by Board of Economic Warfare.

ROOSEVELT SURPRISED

Simmering Feud Flares Into Open in Wallace's Statement to Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 29 — (AP) In a red hot quarrel, Vice President Wallace accused Secretary of Commerce Jones today of obstructing important phases of the economic warfare program. Secretary Jones snapped back that Mr. Wallace was guilty of "malice and misstatements" and called for a congressional investigation.

The head-on clash, climax to a long-smouldering feud, was virtually without precedent in view of the high places the two men occupy in the government and the sharpness of the language they used.

Biggest Clash in Administration

Coming a day after War Food Administrator Chester C. Davis resigned in disagreement with Administration policy, the incident confronted President Roosevelt with the biggest row yet to occur withing his official family.

Mr. Roosevelt said it took him by surprise. He had only read the headlines five minutes before, he told a press conference, and consequently could not comment on Mr. Wallace's charges. Asked if it did not violate his instructions of last August that agency heads should come to him with their differences, rather than air them publicly, the President repeated that he had not read the Wallace statement, but that he thought his suggestion of last August was a good one.

The row flared into the open suddenly.

1943

Statement to Senate

First, Mr. Wallace, in a statement to a Senate committee, accused Secretary Jones of "obstructionist tactics" of hamstringing work of the Board of Economic Warfare in importing strategic materials. Mr. Wallace, who heads the BEW, said Secretary Jones "failed dismally," in the period prior to and immediately after Pearl Harbor, to carry out instructions from Congress and the War Production board to build up reserves of strategic materials which this country must import.

Since the job of arranging for such imports was turned over to BEW on April 13, 1942, he said, Mr. Jones has "done much to harass the administrative employes of the board in their single-minded effort to help shorten this war by securing adequate stocks of strategic materials."

Jones Replies

Mr. Jones replied with this statement:

"The release given out by Mr. Wallace today is filled with malice and misstatements. He makes two serious charges:

"1. That RFC had failed in the purchase and stockpiling of strategic and critical materials. The facts are that not more than 10 per cent of our purchases and commitments for these materials have been initiated by BEW. RFC commitments for foreign purchases have been approximately $3,500,000,000 of which not more than 10 per cent was originated by BEW. We have actually received and paid for materials to the value of $1,600,000,000 of which less than 5 per cent can be credited to BEW initiative.

"2. That RFC and I have obstructed and delayed programs of development and procurement initiated by BEW. There has been no serious delay by us of any vital program.

"I will answer the statement in detail and be glad to have a committee of Congress fully investigate the facts."

Seeks Independent Fund

Mr. Wallace leveled his charges at Secretary Jones in asking that Congress make independent appropriations for the Board of Economic Warfare. This agency develops programs for purchase of strategic materials, but as presently set-up the money must be supplied by the Defense Supplies corporation, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, which is under Secretary Jones.

"We have recruited what we feel to be an extremely competent group of businessmen and technical engineers with foreign trade background to carry out our job of importing strategic materials," Mr. Wallace told the committee.

"I feel that they should be given adequate latitude for a job that is extremely difficult even under the best of conditions. They should be free from this hamstringing bureaucracy and backdoor complaining of Mr. Jones and his employes."

To Restrict Spending

There was no immediate indication of the committee's attitude toward the question of divorcing BEW's activities entirely from the RFC and its subsidiaries. However, members said a sub-committee decided during the day on a restriction prohibiting BEW spending "except under policies approved by a majority of the board and filed with the State department."

Some members, unwilling to be quoted by name, said there had been complaints that Milo Perkins, executive direct of the BEW, has dominated its activities.

Mr. Wallace accused Secretary Jones also of trying to mislead Congress into believing the RFC had supplied funds for administrative expenses of the BEW whereas Mr. Wallace said these were supplied independently.

On the subject of Secretary Jones' purchases of strategic materials, Mr. Wallace gave the committee a table which set forth that no contracts were executed, prior to BEW's assumption of responsibilitity, for imports or castor seeds, corundum (for grinding optical glass), palm oil used (used in manufacture of tin plate), flax fiber (for parachute webbing), tantalite (for radio tubes) or zirconium (for tracer ammunition).

Hits at RFC

"For the summer of 1940 until well past Dec. 7, 1941," Mr. Wallace declared, "the Reconstruction Finance corporation failed dismally, so far as the import field was concerned, to build the government stockpiles authorized and directed by the Congress nearly 18 months before Pearl Harbor.

"During this period, of course, private purchasing of imports continued on a somewhat increased scale due to better business, and the Reconstruction Finance corporation entered into various underwriting agreements with some countries under which we agreed to take surpluses if they were not bought privately. This seems to us to have been a timid, business-as-usual procedure; at least it was a 'far cry' from the aggressive government stockpiling which the Congress directed and authorized so that this nation might have a margin of security in its imported raw materials inventories."

When the President gave BEW the task of arranging imports, Mr. Wallace said, Secretary Jones "never fully accepted that authoritory."

Threw Obstacles in Path

"He and his personnel down the line," the vice president continued, "have thrown a great many obstacles in the way of our exercise of the powers given us to carry out our war-time assignments. Some of these obstructionist tactics have been minor and annoying and some have been of major consequence in this gigantic job of waging total war."

He went on to charge that Secretary Jones and Will Clayton, assistant Secretary of Commerce, "stalled for months" on a program for extensive planting of cinchona trees (source of quinine) in the western hemisphere. General Douglas MacArthur, he said, had dispatched two million seeds from the Philippines on one of the last planes to leave there.

Saw $125,000 Loss

It appeared possible, Mr. Wallace added, that this project might mean a $125,000 loss of RFC. He added:

"I do not like to assign motives, but it is difficult to escape the conclusion that a possible dollar loss held up this production project. Like many things in total war this project may, of course, prove to be an expensive undertaking in terms of dollars. It seems to us a wise investment in terms of saving lives, however."

RFC buyers in Brazil, Mr. Wallace said, had purchased 2,000 tons of quartz crystals for radio sets without checking whether they were of the quality needed. He said it developed that they were not and "the government lost between two and six million dollars."

Listing examples of what he called Secretary Jones' "tactics," Mr. Wallace said that in the past four months an RFC subsidiary, the Metal Reserve company:

Took four weeks to execute a group of three metal contracts drafted by the BEW and which the sellers had executed and returned within 10 days.

Held a copper contract for five weeks "because one letter had been left out of one unimportant word and because two minor clauses 'could have been more clearly stated.'

Wrote three letters to BEW complaining "because a form recital clause (without legal effect) referred to the BEW's 'direction' that the contract be entered into.

"Refused to sign a contract with a Nigerian tantalite producer before the producers signed it — even though the alternative meant a three-week delay in getting a new mine into production.

"Refused on a legal technicality to honor a directive authorizing the 'loan or rental' of equipment to the Brazilian government because of information from government representatives in Rio, received subsequent to our directive, that the equipment would be rented, and not loaned.

"Held a Brazilian tantalite contract for four weeks because it had been entered into without formal approval required by the Secretary of Commerce."

Roosevelt Says Press Stirs Up Officials' Rows

Blames Columnists and Reporters; Insists Home Front Is Doing Pretty Well

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP).—President Roosevelt expressed belief today that things are going along pretty well on the domestic front, and asserted that newspaper writers had stirred up some of the controversies among officials and agencies of his administration.

Asked to name specifically the "internecine affairs" started by newspaper men, he told reporters at his press conference that there were flocks of them.

Read any columnist, pretty nearly, and go back to the files, he added.

He went on with some blunt criticism of some newspapers, and contended at one point that reporters on occasion had to write under orders. In at least one instance, he said, the war effort was hurt. He said that was when several newspaper owners had published reports about the morals of the Waacs. Mr. Roosevelt said that was a shameful thing which hurt the war effort and caused a great many heart burnings. He termed it a deliberate newspaper job, not necessarily accomplished by reporters but on orders from the top. We all know that, he said, but it does not make it any less shameful.

Includes Radio Speakers

Answering another question he said he would include radio personalities in his discussion but not as high a percentage as newspaper men.

Asked whether he differentiated between reporters and columnists, he said he thought they did it themselves in their daily writings. Reporters, he said, are supposed to give news, but some have to color it or else are likely to lose their jobs. He knew of a lot of cases right in the room, he said, where reporters had to write in accordance with orders.

He described this as a tough situation and intolerable to many people, but he said the livelihood of some of them depends on taking orders.

The whole discussion was touched off when a reporter asked Mr. Roosevelt for a philosophical talk or background information on the thought that "we are doing okay on the foreign front but not too well on the domestic front."

Discusses Controversies

On the point of progress on the home front, Mr. Roosevelt suggested that reporters get out around the country and get their illustrations. He asked whether they did not think the war was running pretty well at home and whether we were not getting the stuff out pretty well.

His questioner said he was wondering about other things, such as controversies. Mr. Roosevelt asked who was encouraging them.

"Everybody," some one piped up in the rear of the room.

Nearly everybody in this room, Mr. Roosevelt added, and went on to his general discussion of the press.

Russian Subsidies To De Gaulle Denied

Washington, June 29 (AP)—Washington representatives of Gen. Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud issued a statement today denying reports that de Gaulle's organization had received subsidies from the Soviet Government. The declaration came at the first joint press conference the two factions have held since formation of the French Committee of Liberation to amalgamate their forces.

De Gaulle's spokesman was Jean Baube, of the Fighting French headquarters here; Giraud was represented by Francois Briere. They issued their statement, however, as "representatives of the French Committee of National Liberation," and announced they would hold press conferences in the future.

Agreements Denied

The statement denied that de Gaulle's French National Committee in London had ever signed any secret agreement with the Moscow Government or had at any time "received subsidies from that Government for its information services or any other services."

It was further stated that the establishment at Algiers of the French Committee of National Liberation had "created a new situation and the Soviet Government has not yet let it be known what recognition it will give to this new French committee."

It was recalled, however, that Joseph Stalin on June 27 had sent a friendly message to the committee in reply to a congratulatory cable to Moscow on the second anniversary of Russia s entry into the war.

Navy Casualty List Revised, Names Added

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP).—The Navy announced today twelve casualties not previously released, including two dead and ten missing. In addition, eleven men previously listed as prisoners of war now are reported dead. Another, whose status was changed from prisoner of war to dead, was not listed, the Navy said, because the next of kin resides in an occupied country.

This brings to 26,963 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since Dec. 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,698 dead, 4,732 wounded, 10,935 missing, and 3,598 prisoners of war.

The casualties announced today (those listed are Navy and non-commissioned personnel unless otherwise specified) included the following:

New Jersey

CAMPBELL, JOHN HUDSON, dead. (Reported prisoner May 4.) Mother, Mrs. Margaret Campbell, 109 Manning Avenue, Plainfield.

CLOVER, CHARLES FRANCIS, dead. (Reported prisoner April 15.) Brother, John Henry Clover, 416 Union Avenue, Paterson.

Connecticut

BOYAJI, CHARLES JAMES, missing. Father, James Nick Boyaji, 68 Liberty Street, Ansonia.

U. S. SHIP SENT DOWN

Washington, June 29 (A. P.).—The Navy announced today that a medium-sized United States merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the South Pacific late in April.

The sinking was the third from the Pacific reported by the Navy this year. Two American ships were sunk in that area in May, the Navy said ten days ago.

Survivors have been landed at San Francisco.

A resolution authorizing the Navy to condemn privately owned properties in the Elk Hills (Cal.) Petroleum Reserve was submitted today to the House Public Lands Committee by Representative O'Connor (D.-Mont.).

Requesting early consideration of the resolution, Mr. O'Connor told the committee while it was investigating the abrogated contract between the Navy and the Standard Oil Company of California for joint development of the reserve that Standard is continuing to withdraw Government oil.

"The purpose of this whole transaction," he declared, "is to conserve oil. If this is so, isn't it best for the Government to step in and take over by condemnation?"

The Under Secretary of Interior, Abe Fortas, told the committee that Interior Secretary Ickes concurs with him in the belief that there was no "improper conduct or unworthy motives" in the contract negotiations.

Mr. Fortas told the committee that he does not believe the Government should "enter into an agreement which assures to any one company the exclusive rights to purchase, process and dispose of the products of this field."

Referring to a clause by which the Navy could take payment in refined products of the Standard Oil Company at Standard's current market prices, Mr. Fortas said such an arrangement would prevent submission of competitive bids by other companies which in the past have "substantially" undersold Standard in their prices on products the Navy needed.

Meanwhile a jurisdictional dispute between the House Naval Committee and the Lands Committee concerning rights to investigate the Elk Hills transaction appeared near settlement, with the announcement that arrangements would be made for joint hearings and an exchange of information on the subject.

SUBMITS BILL ON ELK HILLS

O'Connor Seeks to Condemn Private-owned Lands.

Washington, June 29 (A. P.).—

U. S. SPENDING REACHES PEAK

Figures Reveal Past Fiscal Period, $80,000,000,000 Year, As Most Costly

JUN 30 1943

JUN 30 1943

1943

War Take For Next 12 Months May Be 25 Billions More Than Last

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 29—The Treasury was casting up balance sheets today on an $80,000,000,000 year—most costly fiscal period in the world's history—and making ready to go into really big business with two war bills alone calling for more money in the year beginning Thursday than was spent in the preceding twelve months.

A $71,500,000,000 War Department appropriation speeding to final passage in the Senate and a $33,000,000,000 naval fund bill signed yesterday by President Roosevelt outstrip by nearly $25,000,000,000 the sum the Government will have spent for all purposes at the close of the business year tomorrow night.

Spending Fell Short

Total actual spending during the year fell some $5,000,000,000 short of budget estimates. Direct war spending totaled $71,500,000,000, against estimates of $74,000,000,000.

The Treasury's income also fell below expectations—by nearly $1,000,000,000. The $22,000,000,000 in receipts, however, far exceeded the $12,800,000,000 collected during the preceding year.

Failure of many persons to pay income taxes in full on March 15—in anticipation of the pay-as-you-go system to be inaugurated Thursday—together with revenue lost through the induction of several million more men into the armed forces, were cited as reasons for the revenue drop.

In addition to actual war spending, the Government paid out some $2,100,000,000 for the operation of its corporations, such as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Commodity Credit Corporation against estimates of $5,041,000,000.

TREASON VERDICTS UPSET BY COURT, NEW TRIALS SET

Three Men Saved from Death, Wives from Prison Terms.

CHICAGO, June 29 — (AP) The first case of treason ever tried in Illinois collapsed today in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, where three judges ruled unanimously that there had been serious errors in the proceedings and trial.

Three men were saved from death in the electric chair by the appellate court's opinion. Their wives were spared from 25 years' imprisonment and $10,000 fines.

The defendants, all middle-aged Chicagoans who came to this country from Germany after the last war, were Hans and Erna Haupt, Otto and Kate Wergin, and Walter and Lucille Froehling.

Convicted in November

They were convicted of treason by a district court jury last Nov. 14, accused of sheltering and assisting the Haupts' 22-year-old son, Herbert, who was one of the eight Nazi saboteurs smuggled into the United States aboard submarines a year ago. Young Haupt and five fellow conspirators were executed in Washington last Aug. 8.

The conviction of his parents and their friends was reversed by the appellate court today and their cases remanded for new trials.

In appealing, the defendants raised 65 issues, but the court held that many of them could be disposed of as frivolous and without merit.

"There are a number, however, which raise serious questions concerning the validity of the proceedings and the trial," the appellate judges stated. "Most serious are the attack upon the indictment, the admission of statements procured from the defendants, the refusal of the court to allow a severance, and the court's charge to the jury."

Indictments Valid

After finding the indictment valid, the court turned its attention to 14 written statements "or confessions" which were introduced into evidence. "x x x We think there is no escape from the conclusion that the statements admitted in the instant case were improper under these recent holdings of the Supreme court," the judges said.

"At no time were any of the defendants advised by counsel or otherwise as to their legal rights or what rights they were being deprived of by the failure of the arresting officers (FBI agents) to immediately take them before a committing officer."

On the question of separate trials, the appellate court ruled that the district court erred in not granting them and added:

"If we indulge in the rather violent assumption that the verdict of guilty as to all defendants was not produced by passion and prejudice, it must have been the result of the inability of the jury to segregate from the mass of evidence introduced that relevant to individual defendants and properly limit it thereto. Such was the inevitable result, under the circumstances of this case, of a joint trial."

U. S. Attorney J. Albert Woll, who directed the prosecution, was preparing a motion for a rehearing which will be presented to the appellate court within the next 10 days.

JUN 30 1943

STEPHAN HANGING IS SET FOR FRIDAY

Detroit, June 29 (A. P.).—Sometime before dawn next Friday, barring a presidential reprieve, German-born Max Stephan, convicted traitor, will be hanged in the courtyard of the Federal correctional institution at Milan, Mich.

Stephan, who aided the flight of a Nazi flyer who escaped from a Canadian prison camp in April, 1942, has exhausted his avenues of appeal in the courts. Three times the United States Supreme Court has refused to review his case.

His hopes for a presidential reprieve were dimmed today as a Department of Justice representative arrived to complete the final arrangements for the hanging. Were the President to commute Stephan's death sentence he would act on a recommendation from Attorney-General Francis Biddle, who is head of the Department of Justice.

Workmen already are constructing the gallows which will be set up at Milan. Tentative plans today called for the execution to be early enough so all evidences of the hanging can be removed before the start of the regular prison day at 6 A. M.

It will be the second execution at the Milan institution. Five years ago Tony Chebatoris, convicted murderer and bank robber, was hanged there.

703 Polish Refugees To Settle in Mexico

Tucson, Ariz., June 29 (A. P.).—A group of 703 Polish refugees, nearing the end of a journey that has carried them more than halfway around the world, proceeded today in their twenty-car train to Mexico.

The group was brought together in Siberia when Germany and Russia partitioned Poland. They will be settled in a small village as yet undesignated, where they will operate their own farms.

JUN 30 1943

Submarine Victims Saved From Island In Pacific

Navy Armed Guard Crew Eats Eels, Snails, Shellfish On Uninhabited Land

[By the Associated Press]

San Francisco, June 29—Six days of "hell on water" were described today by five members of a navy armed-guard crew who saw a Japanese submarine torpedo their Liberty ship and send her to the bottom in a huge explosion.

The attack occurred late in April in the South Pacific. The men drifted for six days on a storming sea and then spent ten days on an uninhabited island where, with emergency rations gone, they lived on snails, eels and coconuts.

The five were Robert R. Turner, seaman first class, Alamo, Tenn.; Benjamin Candelaria, signalman, second class, Redlands, Cal.; Kenneth I. Bell, seaman first class, Nebraska City, Neb.; Arthur L. Alden, seaman first class, Kerrville, Texas, and Sam J. Surian, seaman first class, Biloxi, Miss.

7.15 A. M. Warning

It was 7.15 A. M., when Bell, on the port watch, heard the bow watch cry to the bridge "Torpedo wake approaching off the port bow!" Bell had time only to turn for a glance before the torpedo hit the heavily loaded vessel. The great explosion threw him to deck. It was pouring rain as it can only in the South Pacific. The men raced to their guns and stood by until the skipper ordered the ship abandoned.

The gun crew and the merchant crew split into three groups in two lifeboats and one raft. In one lifeboat twenty-three men, consisting of Lieut. (j. g.) B. E. Harkey, of Oklahoma City, the armed-guard officer, the five seamen interviewed here and members of the merchant crew crowded together for six miserable days and nights. They rigged a sail to take advantage of strong winds. When that failed they took turns rowing.

Couldn't Catch A Fish

"We were rationed to three and a half ounces of pemmican per man per day," said Bell. "Pemmican is a concentrated food made up of apples, raisins, coconuts and dextrose. It probably doesn't sound very good, but we couldn't catch a single fish and it was all we had to eat. It tasted mighty good to us."

High seas separated the three groups of men during the night and when dawn broke each group was alone on a vast heaving sea. "The next six days were hell on water," Bell commented.

Surian added "it was a mighty lonesome feeling and we all tried to keep our minds occupied with methods of attracting attention from a passing plane or ship."

And then, said Candelaria, after six days and nights, "when we had all begun to feel that there was no such thing as land," they sighted a small volcanic island. They found the island uninhabited. They gathered shellfish, snails, coconuts and what else they could find to eat. One day Alden trapped three baby pigs

On the tenth day a New Zealand patrol plane spotted them. The following day a rescue ship appeared on the horizon and dropped anchor off the island. Everyone of the twenty-three men swam to it.

Soviet Official Will Face Court Over Berle's Protest

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Chief of Police Charles Dullea asserted yesterday that Capt. Nicolai A. B. Habalov, Russian purchasing agent, will be prosecuted on charges of stealing a $995 fur coat, despite the intervention of the State Department in Washington.

Assistant District Attorney Harmon D. Skillin said he had talked by telephone with Assistant Secretary of State Adolph A. Berle, and that Mr. Berle asked dismissal of the case because of what he termed international complications.

However, Dullea announced, "We are putting the case in," declaring, "We feel there is enough evidence for a holding." And Municipal Judge Twain Michelsen said the hearing against the Soviet official will continue in his court Thursday.

Mr. Skillin said Mr. Berle told him the Soviet government planned to deal with the man in "its own way."

Habalov, an assistant purchasing agent for the Soviet Government Purchasing Commission, has pleaded innocent.

Rioting Swee 4 Greek Cities After U.S. Raids

Outbreak Is Inspired by Promise of Liberation; Scores Shot by Germans

By The Associated Press

Riots of serious proportions were reported last night to have occurred in Athens and three other Greek cities as a result of week-end American bombings during which the raiders dropped leaflets signed by President Roosevelt and expressing the hope that the Greeks' liberation was not far off.

A correspondent for the National Broadcasting Company reported from Ankara, Turkey, that the serious street disorders occurred at the Greek port of Salonica, target of an Allied air raid Friday, and at Larissa and Volos as well as at Athens, where near-by airfields were bombed Sunday. He said hundreds of Greeks were arrested and many were shot by Axis occupation troops.

The attack on two Athens airports, Elevsis and Hassani, was carried out with tons of explosives, leaving them badly damaged. At the same time, the leaflets, saluting the Greeks' heroic resistance, were scattered over the area.

"It is believed beyond doubt that these riots were the results of heartening American raids," the correspondent reported. "The Greeks saw in them a great opportunity and lost no time in striking a blow for themselves.

"Axis occupation troops went out to meet the demonstrators and arrested several hundred. Of the many hundreds of Greeks arrested, scores have already been shot and more probably will be shot."

Liberators from the 9th Air Force in the Middle East shattered hangars, pitted runways and started fires at the two airdromes in the Athens area in a powerful follow-up to the Salonica attack, which opened the trans-Mediterranean aerial offensive against German and Italian bases in the Balkans.

Goebbels ed

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP).—Asserting that Paul Joseph Goebbels "has no castles in Spain," the Berlin radio last night denied a foreign report that the Nazi propaganda minister's family had left Berlin and taken refuge in Spain to escape Allied bombs. The German broadcast was recorded by NBC.

Barney Ross To Get Silver Star Medal

New York, June 29 (AP)—Sergt. Barney Ross, a United States Marine Corps hero of Guadalcanal and former world lightweight boxing champion, will be awarded the Silver Star Medal for "conspicuous gallantry in action against the enemy," the Marine Corps announced today.

The presentation will be made July 4 during "A Tribute to America's Heroes" program over the Blue network.

Ross has been on indefinite hospital furlough for treatment of malaria.

NAZI SPY'S AIDE TRAPPED BY FBI, HELD FOR TRIAL

German-Educated Engineer Provided Data Sent to Reich by Lehmitz.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP) A small man with a goatee stood before a U. S. commissioner today and calmly admitted, with a slight trace of a foreign accent, that he had been part of the espionage system feeding the Nazi High Command with American war secrets.

The prisoner was Erwin Harry de Spretter, 53, a German-educated consulting engineer who was arrested as the accomplice of Ernest Frederick Lehmitz, 57, Staten Island victory gardener and air raid warden. Lehmitz entered a similar plea of guilty yesterday to violating the Wartime Espionage act.

1943

$50,000 Bail

U. S. Commissioner Martin C. Epstein held de Spretter in $50,000 bail for grand jury action as he did in the case of Lehmitz yesterday. If convicted on the charges, the men face penalties of from 30 years in prison to death.

E. E. Conroy, chief of the New York office of the FBI, said that de Spretter, also a Staten Island resident, had supplied Lehmitz with information concerning national defense plants.

De Spretter was a specialist in heat radiation and Allied engineering subjects and as a consultant to firms holding war contracts had access to information of great value to the Axis, Mr. Conroy said. This information he turned over to Lehmitz at secret meetings, the FBI chief said, and added to it his observations of ship movements in New York harbor and shipping preparations on the busy Staten Island waterfront.

Lehmitz forwarded de Spretter's data along with his own by writing in invisible ink between the typewritten lines of apparently innocent letters sent to "friends" in neutral countries, and the material was forwarded from Switzerland, Spain and Portugal to Germany, Mr. Conroy said.

Had Plane Specifications

On one occasion, the FBI said, de Spretter was able to furnish Lehmitz with detailed specifications and photographic drawings of the planes made by an aircraft manufacturing company which were contained in a confidential book it had published and for which he received $100.

Other information, pooled with that obtained by Lehmitz, relayed to the Nazis the movement of war and merchant ships, destinations and cargoes of convoys and troopships and shipbuilding progress, Mr. Conroy said.

There was a marked difference in the appearance of the men. Lehmitz, who the FBI said was trained in the Gestapo espionage school, dressed shabbily, worked as a porter in a waterfront restaurant and frequented bars and restaurants popular with sailors, army men and men of the merchant marine Although born in Germany, he was a U. S. citizen.

De Spretter, when he appeared in court, was well and expensively dressed. He received his degree in engineering at Heidelberg after studying in other German schools. Born in Uruguay, de Spretter was the son of a German father and a Spanish mother. He came to the United States in 1923, after serving in the German army in the last war, but never became a citizen.

JAPAN 'ANNOUNCES' A PLAN TO ATTACK

Says an All-Out Offensive Against Australia Will Start 'at Any Moment'

BOASTS ON DARWIN RAIDS

Enemy Claims 27 Out of 40 British Fighter Planes Were Destroyed in Attacks

The Japanese agency Domei, in a broadcast from Tokyo recorded in New York by The Associated Press yesterday, quoted Japanese military observers as asserting that Japan had completed her preparation of strategical bases from which an all-out offensive could be launched "at any moment" against Australia.

These observers, Domei said, in commenting upon a Japanese Imperial headquarters announcement that Japanese Army planes for the first time had participated in raids on Port Darwin on June 20 and June 22, declared that this meant that the war in the South Pacific was entering upon a new phase.

Heretofore, according to the Domei account, all attacks against the Australian continent by Japanese air forces had been carried out by naval units. Use of Army planes, it was said, indicated they had taken off from secret land bases established during the past three months.

Domei said Japanese Imperial Headquarters reported that the Japanese had destroyed twenty-seven out of a total of forty British fighter planes that engaged them in combat over Port Darwin on June 20. When a second attack was launched two days later, it was asserted, no opposition was encountered.

The Tokyo claims already have been discounted.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur on June 20 said that eight Japanese bombers and four fighters were shot down that day by Allied planes, with another bomber and another fighter possibly destroyed. Eight other enemy bombers and two fighters were damaged, he said. Allied losses were two planes. The Japanese attacked with twenty-eight bombers and twenty fighter planes as escorts.

Allied headquarters in Australia has made no mention of a second raid on Port Darwin last week, which Domei said took place on June 22. The two raids, the Japanese asserted, resulted in the complete destruction of the Port Darwin airfield.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

The R.A.F. and the Eighth United States Air force are setting a new record this month for tonnage of bombs dropped on Germany and as the totals rise there is a corresponding increase in the volume and bitterness of Berlin's anti-bombing propaganda. The nation that introduced to a horrified world the spectacle of cities destroyed by mass bombing now finds the spectacle appalling when the cities are German.

With time for another blockbuster raid remaining before the month runs out, London dispatches indicate that the R.A.F.'s June total will be at least 1,000 tons above the May record of 12,000 tons. It has also been a month of unprecedented activity for the Britain-based American bombers The cries of indignation and charges of savagery broadcast by Berlin are part of the proof that the Reich has been hurt badly.

It would be a mistake, however, to accept them at face value. Doctor Goebbels' propaganda office has a double purpose in spreading, magnifying and distorting the story of what has been done and is being done to the Ruhr and other centers of German war industry. Within Germany the effort is to steel the will to resist and arouse hatred against the British and Americans who have turned Germany's own weapon, the bomber plane, against her. At the same time the German radio is trying to arouse beyond Germany's borders a revulsion among the softer hearted of all lands, including America and Britain, against the use of this terrible instrument and the experiment to determine whether bombing alone can make a great power capitulate.

There is a very definite hope that an appeal to the humane instincts of Britons and Americans will be more effective in warding off the punishment than the thousands of fighter planes and anti-aircraft batteries with which Hitler has ringed the Ruhr.

For the Germans know that men like Air Marshal Harris and General Eaker, the British and American bomber commanders, are not boasting when they say that this thing has just begun, that there will be a steady rise in the power and destructiveness of the attacks and that the peak probably will not come until autumn. Gen. Eaker, speaking early in June, said the numbers of the Eighth air force would be doubled by autumn. American spokesmen in both Washington and London have said this week that the bomb load of Gen. Eaker's command would be increased in July by at least 45 per cent over June. The time is at hand of which Marshal Harris warned the Germans over a year ago, when "we and the Americans" will be over day after day and night after night.

Report Cathedral Hit

It is against this background that the latest German recriminations should be read, of which the one most calculated to gain attention is the assertion that Cologne's famous cathedral was gravely damaged (the High Command's version) or destroyed (according to the propaganda agency Transocean) in the R.A.F.'s heavy raid of Monday night. It would be tragic indeed if it proves true that total war has claimed as a casualty that glorious monument of a christian civilization on which Nazi Germany has tried to turn her back. But it was not the British that chose this form of warfare. And the cathedral stands less than 200 yards from Cologne's main railway station, less than a quarter mile from the Hohenzollern bridge over the Rhine, both legitimate military targets. It is a wonder it has not suffered before.

In the German outcry there is a sinister note, not entirely new but more insistent than ever before. Said one Transocean broadcast: "The expression 'reprisals air fleet' was heard for the first time during the past few days by Transocean's military correspondent in quarters doubtless well informed concerning the plans of the German High Command." What this "reprisals air fleet" might be is not disclosed but there is more than a hint here of a readiness to try the weapons of desperation. If it is gas, the Allies are well prepared. This threat coincides with the statement of Maj. Gen. William N. Porter, chief of the U. S. Chemical Warfare service, that the billion dollar appropriation his command is asking for the next 12 months would be enough to "maintain superiority in chemical warfare in the event it is initiated."

Latest Stalin Book Sets New Publication Record for Year

Five Million Copies Put Willkie's Best Seller, 'One World,' in Shade

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Joseph Stalin is an extremely busy man, so he probably hasn't given second thought to the fact that a book of his has set a publication record for 1943 that will be the envy of every author in the world.

Five million copies of the third edition of his war speeches and state papers have just rolled off the presses of the State Publishing House in Moscow, a current cable story discloses.

Until that item came in, Wendell Willkie held the 1943 publishing laurels, and, incidentally, an all-time record for speed in this country when 1,000,000 copies of "One World" were turned out in slightly over a month.

The fact is that runaway best sellers achieving astronomical sales figures have been coming up with fair frequency in recent years, and each new one manages to hit that magic million mark a bit earlier than its predecessor.

"Anthony" Started It.

"Anthony Adverse," Hervey Allen's long historical novel, started modern-day sales records.

"Anthony," as it was known in the trade, was published June 26, 1933. It immediately jumped into the big-seller class, although it was five years later that it finally passed a million in domestic sales.

Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind," another of those extremely long novels of the 30s, bettered "Anthony's" record by some years. Published June 30, 1936, it passed its first million eight months later, in February, 1937, and then went on to more than three million.

That looked like the last word until Wendell Willkie came up this season with the story of his warfront odyssey for an easy and sensational victory.

"One World" hit the bookstores—and the newsstands—on April 8 of this year. By May 25, it had gone over the million top and still is going strong.

Many other American books have sold more than a million copies, but no other in so short a time.

But if Mr. Willkie ever paused to glow over this fact, the news from Moscow of the five-million-copy Stalin edition should bring him down to earth.

And don't think that those five million books won't be read and reread and commented on from one end of the Soviet Union to the other.

Stalin Utterance Is Event.

How the Stalin speeches and public utterances get into book form has been told by Henry C. Cassidy, Associated Press chief of bureau in Moscow, now on leave in this country.

"When Stalin speaks," Mr. Cassidy says, "it is not an idle address to suit some passing occasion. It is a document, giving a definite directive to his people, repeated to them over and over again, and kept before them, not as a thing of the past, but as a current order.

"Before the war Stalin's speeches, articles and letters were collected periodically in volumes entitled 'Problem of Leninism.'

"During the war his utterances have been published textually in every Soviet periodical, and then taken, phrase by phrase, as the subject of editorials until a new statement is made. They are repeated constantly on the radio and are posted in public places.

"Translated into German, Italian, Hungarian, Rumanian and other languages of the Axis countries, they are dropped in enemy territory in leaflets, pamphlets and newspapers.

"Finally, they are assembled in the original Russian, and in English, French and other Allied languages, in book form."

Outside of the Bible, which has an average sale of a million copies a year in this country, and various textbooks and manuals, some of which show fantastic sales figures, the only American book to top the record of the latest Stalin volume is "In His Steps," a religious novel.

Published in 1896 by Charles M. Sheldon, a Kansas clergyman, it has sold eight million copies in this country and 23 million throughout the world. The three million of "Gone With the Wind," place it second in the novel field.

"Freckles," by Gene Stratton Porter, published in 1904, topped two million. American novels which bettered one million include "Ben Hur" (1880), by Gen. Lew Wallace; "Tom Sawyer" (1875) and "Huckleberry Finn" (1884), by Mark Twain; "The Virginian (1902), by Owen Wister, and books by Jack London, John Fox, jr., Harold Bell Wright and Edward Noyes Westcott.

But, if you really want some astonishing totals on book distribution you must go into the field of texts. The McGuffey eclectic readers, for instance, went out into the world 80,000,000 strong.

JUN 30 1943

LONDON, JUNE 29--(AP)--THE ROME RADIO ASSERTED TODAY THAT A STATE OF EMERGENCY HAD BEEN PROCLAIMED THROUGHOUT IRAQ.

THE REPORT, HEARD IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, WAS WITHOUT CONFIRMATION AND GAVE NO REASON FOR THE ALLEGED ACTION.

HOWEVER, IRAQ, WHICH JOINED THE WAR AGAINST THE AXIS LAST JANUARY, HAS FIGURED IN AXIS PROPAGANDA BROADCASTS FREQUENTLY, MOST RECENTLY IN

JUN 30 1943

JUN 30 1943

JUN 30 1943

1943

3024-5505

CONNECTION WITH THE TEMPORARY CLOSING OF THE TURKISH-SYRIAN BORDER.

IN THAT CONNECTION, THE GERMAN TRANSOCEAN AGENCY REPORTED IN AN ANKARA DISPATCH ON JUNE 17 THAT PREMIER GENERAL NURI PASHA ES SAID OF IRAQ HAD ISSUED AN ORDER OF THE DAY TO HIS TROOPS SAYING "THE HOUR OF DECISION AND ACTIVE SERVICE" WAS APPROACHING.

THE AGENCY ASSERTED THAT THIS ALLEGED ORDER, TOGETHER WITH THE TURKISH-SYRIAN BORDER CLOSING, INDICATED "THAT THE ANGLO-SAXONS IN THE NEAR FUTURE WILL LAUNCH A MILITARY ACTION FROM THE LEVANT." BERLIN ALSO FOUND A POSSIBLE EXPLANATION, HOWEVER, IN "AN INTENSIFIED WAR OF NERVES" ON THE PART OF THE ALLIES.

LONDON, JUNE 29-(AP)-ITALIAN RADIO SPEAKERS TALKED TODAY OF FIVE POSSIBLE ALLIED THRUSTS INTO SOUTHERN EUROPE AND THE GERMANS REPEATED AN ASSERTION THAT UNITED STATES WARSHIPS HADREINFORCED THE BRITISH FLEET AT GIBRALTAR.

THE AXIS FEARS OF INVASION WERE VOICED ALSO BY THE PUPPET VICHY RADIO WHICH QUOTED A ROME COMMENTARY AS SAYING ALLIED AIR ATTACKS HAD BEEN SWITCHED FROM TOWNS IN SOUTHERN ITALY TO COMMUNICATION LINES, JUNCTIONS AND HARBORS IN "IN AN ATTEMPT TO DISRUPT TRAFFIC IN SOUTHERN ITALY."

JUN 30 1943

THE MOST RECENT ATTACK ON LEGHORN "MUST BE SEEN IN THIS LIGHT," THE VICHY RADIO SAID. ALL THE BROADCASTS WERE RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. THE IMPLICATION WAS THAT BOMBING COMMUNICATIONS MEANT AN ASSAULT WAS NEAR.

JUN 30 1943

THE GERMANS SAID THEIR ITALIAN ALLIES WERE TALKING OF ALLIED ATTACKS THROUGH ITALY, SPAIN, TURKEY, SOUTHERN FRANCE OR THE BALKANS--ANOTHER INDICATION OF THE ENEMY'S CONFUSION ABOUT WHERE THE ALLIES WILL STRIKE.

JUN 30 1943

ANOTHER INDICATION OF ALLIED SUCCESS IN THE NERVE WAR WAS GIVEN BY DR. OTTO KRIECK, POLITICAL ANALYST OF THE GERMAN RADIO, WHO SAID THE "ANGLO-AMERICANS HAVE CHANGED FRONTS AGAIN."

"A FORTNIGHT AGO," HE SAID, "THE SECOND FRONT [illegible] WAS IMMINENT AND THE FINAL DECISION WAS ABOUT TO FALL. TODAY, TERROR HAS BROKEN OUT AND WARFARE HAS BEEN REPLACED BY MURDER." HE REFERRED TO MASSIVE BOMB ASSAULTS ON GERMAN CITIES.

THE PARIS RADIO COMMENTED THAT THE ARRIVAL OF U.S. NAVAL UNITS AT GIBRALTAR HAD INTRODUCED "A NEW FACTOR OF POSSIBLE SURPRISES" IN THE MEDITERRANEAN. IT QUOTED SPANISH MESSAGES AS SAYING A BRITISH AIRCRAFT

1943

CARRIER, TWO BATTLESHIPS AND SIX DESTROYED HAD ENTERED THE INLAND SEA FROM THE ROCK.

FROM INSIDE EUROPE, MORE NEWS LEAKED OUT OF BLOWS STRUCK AT THE GERMANS BEHIND BEHIND THE WALLS OF THE VAUNTED "EUROPEAN FORTRESS." THE MOSCOW RADIO REPORTED THAT FR NCH PATRIOTS WERE "INTENSIFYING THEIR STRUGGLE AGAINST THE GERMAN INVADER" AND HAD HELD UP TRAFFIC ON THE SOMME-AISNE CANAL FOR TWO MONTHS BY BLASTING A BRIDGE.

LONDON, JUNE 29-(AP)--RADIO ALGIERS, IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS SAID TODAY THAT MORE THAN 170,000 TONS OF SUPPLIES, VALUED AT $40,000,000, HAVE BEEN SENT TO NORTH AFRICA FROM THE UNITED STATES FOR DISTRIBUTION AMONG THE CIVILIAN POPULATION.

JUN 30 1943

JUN 30 1943

IN ADDITION TO THE CIVILIAN SUPPLIES, MILITARY EQUIPMENT FOR "HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF FRENCH SOLDIERS" HAS ALSO ARRIVED IN NORTH AFRICA, THE BROADCAST SAID.

LONDON, JUNE 29-(AP)--ONE BRITISH SUBMARINE MINE LAYER LAID ITS THOUSANDTH MINE IN AXIS WATERS RECENTLY, THE ADMIRALTY DISCLOSED TODAY IN REPORTING THE AWARD OF THE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER TO ITS

JUN 30 1943

JUN 30 1943

COMMANDER, LIEUT. COMMANDER WILLIAM NAPIER.

AT THE OUTBREAK OF THE WAR GREAT BRITAIN HAD SIX SUBMARINE MINELAYERS, EACH OF 1,500 TONS, WITH EIN THEIR MINELAYING CHUTES LOCATED IN THE STERN.

(ADVANCE)--LONDON, JUNE 29--THE UNITED NATIONS EDUCATION CONFERENCE HAS SUGGESTED THAT AN INTERNATIONAL EDUCATIONAL EXCHANGE BE ESTABLISHED IMMEDIATELY FOR THE INTERCHANGE OF TEACHERS AND STUDENTS AMONG THE VARIOUS NATIONS TO FOSTER BETTER UNDERSTANDING.

THE CONFERENCE WAS HELD RECENTLY, BUT THE SUGGESTIONS WERE NOT MADE PUBLIC UNTIL TODAY.

DELEGATES TO THE CONFERENCE, INCLUDING REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE UNITED STATES, RUSSIA, CHINA AND THE BRITISH DOMINIONS, AGREED THAT ENGLISH SHOULD BE TAUGHT AS AN AUXILIARY LANGUAGE IN OTHER

JUN 30 1943

1943

30.24 - 5507

COUNTRIES EXCEPT THE ENGLISH SPEAKING ONES, IN WHICH FRENCH WOULD BECOME THE AUXILIARY LANGUAGE.

JUN 30 1943

TO FACILITATE THE EXCHANGE OF TEACHERS AND STUDENTS THE CONFERENCE SUGGESTED THAT A GOVERNMENT SUBSIDIZED BODY BE SET UP IN EACH COUNTRY TO BE LINKED WITH THE WORLD EDUCATIONAL EXCHANGE.

LONDON, JUNE 29-(AP)-THE ROME RADIO REPORTED THAT ITALIAN POLICE AIDED BY SEMI-MILITARY GROUPS SWOOPED DOWN TODAY ON BLACK MARKETEERS IN WIDESPREAD RAIDS.

STOCKS OF CEREALS, VEGETABLES, FATS AND OTHER FOODSTUFFS WERE SEIZED AS WELL AS TEXTILES, BICYCLES AND HUNDREDS OF PAIRS OF SHOES. MACHINE OIL AND FUEL DESTINED FOR PUBLIC OR MILITARY INSTITUTIONS ALSO WAS TAKEN.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30-(AP)-MOBILE BAKERY UNITS THAT THE BRITISH HAVE TESTED UNDER COMBAT CONDITIONS ARE BEING TURNED OVER TO THE UNITED STATES ARMY FOR FIELD SERVICE UNDER REVERSE LEND-LEASE AGREEMENTS, THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY ANNOUNCED TODAY.

USING 14 TRUCKS AND EIGHT TRAILERS, 81 ENLISTED MEN AND TWO OFFICERS CAN PRODUCE A MAXIMUM OF 15,000 TWO-POUND LOAVES OF BREAD DAILY. THE UNIT CAN SET UP A COMPLETE INSTALLATION IN 10 HOURS.

UNITED STATES ARMY BAKERS ARE BEING INSTRUCTED IN GREAT BRITAIN BY BAKERY EXPERT MAJ. JOHN MACMANUS, OF HEMLOCK ROAD, YONKERS, N.Y., WHO FORMERLY WAS A VICE PRESIDENT IN CHARGE OF OPERATIONS OF A BAKERY

JUN 30 1943

30.24 - 5507

CHAIN.

HIS STAFF INCLUDES CAPTAINS GEORGE E.KIPP OF ST.LOUIS, MO.; GORDON P.WALLACE OF SPRINGFIELD, MASS. AND ROBERT B.LAW OF WAYNESBORO, GA.; LIEUT.EDWARD J.BYRNE OF BALTIMORE, MD.; AND SERGTS.JAMES H.BRUNER OF STUART, FLA.; CARLTON REGISTER OF MADISON, FLA.; AND PAUL P.TATE OF GREENVILLE, S.C.

JUN 30 1943

LONDON--FIRST ADD INVASION--WITH BERN X X X GERMAN CITIES.

AN ITALIAN COMMENTATOR ON THE ROME RADIO ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE UNITED NATIONS' "WAR OF NERVES" WAS EFFECTIVE, SAYING: "THE WAR HAS REACHED THE STAGE WHEN PEOPLE CAN NO LONGER BEAR THE SHORT LULLS WHICH OCCUR BETWEEN ONE BATTLE AND THE NEXT."

"IN THIS WAR IT OFTEN TAKES MORE MORAL STRENGTH TO BEAR ITS LULLS THAN TO SUSTAIN THE EFFORT OF COMBATANTS DURING BATTLES," HE ADDED.

ENGLAND (AP) XX EUROPE

SEVERAL MEMBERS OF HIS SQUADRON WERE PARTICULARLY HAPPY OVER THIS TYPE OF ATTACK BECAUSE THEY HAVE PLEASANT MEMORIES OF TRAINING DAYS IN THE UNITED STATES. AS FLYING OFFICER PARNELL GREEN SAID:

"IT MAKES US FEEL WE ARE RETURNING SOME GRAND HOSPITALITY BY HELPING YOUR CHAPS IN THEIR TOUGH WORK AGAINST NAZI FIGHTERS--AND THEN I'VE GOT A GIRL DOWN IN ARCADIA, FLORIDA, AND I LIKE TO THINK I'M GETTING IN SOME PUNCHES FOR HER, TOO."

GREEN SAID HE WAS GOING BACK TO SEE HER "AS SOON AS WE GET THIS WAR OVER."

NOW ROLLING OUT BY THE HUNDREDS, TYPHOON FIGHTER-BOMBERS ARE EXPECTED TO FORM ONE OF THE MAIN SPEARHEADS OF THE TACTICAL AIR FORCE

1943

AND SOME SQUADRONS ARE NOW LIVING UNDER CANVAS AS SELF-CONTAINED UNITS--AS THEY WILL HAVE TO BE WHEN THEY MOVE FORWARD WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES IN EUROPE.

DIVING AT A 50 TO 60-DEGREE ANGLE FROM SEVERAL THOUSAND FEET, THE PILOTS ARE GETTING WHAT THEIR SQUADRON LEADER CALLED "GREAT ACCURACY" WITHOUT THE ERRORS CAUSED BY BOMBS BOUNCING WHEN THE LOW-LEVEL TECHNIQUE OF ATTACK IS USED.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30-(AP)-NAZI "SOB" PROPAGANDA BROADCASTS ATTACKING THE ALLIES FOR THE ALLEGED BOMBING OF THE COLOGNE CATHEDRAL PROMPTED THE DAILY TELEGRAPH TO PRINT TODAY ON PAGE ONE UNDER THE HEAD "DAMAGED BRITISH CATHEDRALS" A LIST OF A FEW HIT BY THE GERMAN AIRFORCE.

JUN 30 1943

THEY INCLUDED ST.PAUL'S AND WESTMINSTER ABBEY IN LONDON, THE CATHEDRALS AT COVENTRY, NORWICH, EXETER, CANTERBURY AND LLANDAFF, AND THE ABBEY AT BATH--ALL FAMED FOR THEIR CENTURIES-OLD ARCHITECTURE.

LONDON, JUNE 29-(AP)-TWO RAF PILOTS, BACK IN COMBAT FLIGHT FOR THE FIRST TIME AFTER A LONG GROUNDING, ENCOUNTERED SIX GERMAN PLANES NEAR PARIS TODAY AND SHOT THEM ALL DOWN IN TEN MINUTES, THE AIR MINISTRY NEWS SERVICE DISCLOSED.

THE PILOTS, WHO FLEW AMERICAN-BUILT MUSTANGS, ARE THE ONE-ARMED SQUADRON LEADER, J.A.F.MACLACHLAN, JUST BACK FROM SPECIAL DUTIES IN THE UNITED STATES, AND FLIGHT LIEUT.A.G.PAGE, WHO WAS SHOT DOWN AND BADLY BURNED IN AUGUST, 1940, AND IS LEARNING TO FLY AND FIGHT AGAIN. IT WAS PAGE'S FIRST OPERATIONAL FLIGHT SINCE LEAVING THE HOSPITAL.

JUN 30 1943

THEY DOWNED FOUR HENSCHEL 126S AND TWO JUNKERS 88S IN THIS "ONE MORE CRACK AT JERRY" FOR WHICH THEY HAD BEGGED THEIR COMMANDERS.

LONDON, JUNE 29-(AP)-SIX GERMAN PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN THIS MORNING BY TWO BRITISH FIGHTERS SWEEPING OVER NORTHERN FRANCE ON OFFENSIVE PATROL, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY. THE NAZI VICTIMS WERE TWO JUNKERS 88S AND FOUR HENSCHEL 126S.

LONDON, JUNE 29-(AP)-THE GERMAN-CONTROLLED PARIS RADIO SAID TODAY THAT TWO BATTLESHIPS AND SIX DESTROYERS HAD SAILED FROM THE BRITISH BASE AT GIBRALTAR INTO THE MEDITERRANEAN FOR "FLEET MANEUVERS."

THE MINISTRY OF INFORMATION RECORDED THE BROADCAST. THE REPORT WAS NOT CONFIRMED FROM ANY OTHER SOURCE.

LONDON, JUNE 29-(AP)-THE BERLIN RADIO REPORTED TODAY THAT A GERMAN SUBMARINE HAD SUNK A BRITISH CRUISER AND TORPEDOED ANOTHER VESSEL IN ATTACKS ON A ROYAL NAVAL SQUADRON THE MEDITERRANEAN.

THE BROADCAST, RECORD BY REUTERS, WAS WITHOUT CONFIRMATION FROM ANY ALLIED SOURCES.

EARLIER A REUTERS DISPATCH FROM LISBON QUOTED PORTUGUESE SOURCES AS SAYING GERMAN PLANES HAD ATTACKED A SOUTHBOUND BRITISH CONVOY OFF THE SOUTHWESTERN TIP OF PORTUGAL AND SUNK TWO VESSELS. THIS REPORT ALSO WAS UNCONFIRMED HERE.

THE BERLIN RADIO SAID THAT THE TORPEDOED BRITISH CRUISER WAS OF THE FROBISHER CLASS, WHICH INCLUDES THE HAWKINS AND THE VINDICTIVE. THEIR TONNAGES RANGED FROM 9,100 TO 9,860.

BZ743AEW

JUN 30 1943

1943

3021-5509

30.24 - 5509

LONDON (ADD) XX STRUCK

"THEY CAN START BUILDING IT ALL OVER AGAIN," SAID FIRST LIEUT. SAM TURNER OF ORLANDO, FLA., PILOT OF THE BOMBER RUNCHY, "WE SIMPLY KNOCKED HELL OUT OF IT."

COL.ARCHIE J.OLD, JR., OF ATLANTA, TEX., GROUP COMMANDER, SAID "THERE WILL BE NO MORE MILK RUNS TO ST.NAZAIRE. THAT TARGET WAS HIT AND HIT PLENTY."

THE BOMBARDIER OF THE FORTRESS "HIGH LIFE," 2ND. LIEUT. H.D. BALL OF TOMAHAWK, WIS., COMMENTED "I SAW THE FIRST BATCH OF PLANES LAY THEIR PATTERN RIGHT ACROSS THE LOCK AREA. IT LOOKED MIGHTY GOOD TO ME."

JUN 30 1943

A RADIO OPERATOR ON HIS FIRST RAID, TECH. SEGT. ROBERT T. SHAFER, 20, OF WILLIAMSPORT, PA., ON THE BOMBER "WE AINT SCARED" SAID "I'M READY FOR MORE RAIDS. WHEN WE CAN MAKE A TARGET LOOK AS SICK AS WE DID TODAY, WELL, LET'S GET AT THEM."

NEARLY ALL THE CREWMEN REPORTED SMOKE DUST BILLOWING INTO THE AIR FOR HUNDREDS OF FEET.

"WE COULD SEE ROLLING PUFFS WHEN WE WERE MILES AWAY," SAID 1ST LIEUT. SAM F. WILDERSON OF BALTIMORE, MD.

LACK OF GERMAN FIGHTER OPPOSITION GAVE THE BOMBERS TIME FOR LONG, CAREFUL BOMB RUNS AND 1ST. LIEUT. WILLIAM S. WINNESHICK, 24, OF READING, PA., SAID "WE JUST COULDN'T MISS THE TARGET."

A TERSE COMMENT ON THE RAID WAS MADE BY 1ST. LIEUT. ROBERT B. MAHAN, 22, OF 179 MAYBROOK ROAD, ROCHESTER, N.Y., PILOT OF THE BOMBER "TEMPTATION."

JUN 30 1943

"THERE WERE NO FIGHTERS, THERE WAS INTENSE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE, BUT WE GOT OUR OBJECTIVE."

JUN 30 1943

SOME OF THE PILOTS TOLD OF THE HEAVY GERMAN FIRE AT ST.NAZAIRE, BUT HEADQUARTERS SAID IT DID LITTLE DAMAGE AND ONLY A COUPLE OF CREWMEN WERE INJURED.

STAFF SERGT. ORVILLE E.WILLIAMS, 24, OF AURORA, NEB., SAID "THE CONCUSSION OF THE FLAK (ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE) WAS SO CLOSE IT TIPPED OUR PLANE AND KNOCKED ME DOWN."

WILLIAMS WAS WAIST GUNNER ON THE "HELLIONS" PILOTED BY 1ST. LIEUT. FRANK L. SPINO OF GREENSBORO, PA.

THE RADIO OPERATOR OF THE "THUNDER MUG," TECH. SEGT. CHARLES E. PATRICK, 22, OF WILMETTE, ILL., WAS HIT ON THE LEG BY A PIECE OF ANTI-AIRCRAFT SHELL AND SENT REELING ACROSS THE RADIO ROOM, KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS BUT OTHERWISE UNHURT. HE SOON RECOVERED AND RESUMED HIS DUTIES.

JUN 30 1943

THE "THUNDER MUG" WAS PEPPERED WITH HOLES.

THE SHARPSHOOTING OF THE FORTRESS GUNNERS WAS PRAISED BY 1ST. LIEUT. ROBERT C. METCALFE OF SACRAMENTO, CALIF., WHO FLEW IN A BOMBER PILOTED BY 1ST LIEUT. F.R. SPITZNAGEL OF BUFFALO, N.Y.

"I'VE NEVER SEEN SUCH SHOOTING IN ALL MY LIFE," METCALFE SAID. "FOCKE-WULF 190S CAME IN ON OUR RIGHT, MESSERSCMITT 109S ON OUR LEFT. OUR TOP TURRET GUNNER, STAFF SGT. TIMOTHY RIORDAN OF BOSTON, MASS., SHOT THE PROPELLER WINGTIPS RIGHT OFF ONE OF THEM."

PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN DURING A SIMULTANEOUS ATTACK BY ANOTHER FORTRESS FORMATION ON A FOCKE-WULF 190 FIGHTER AIRDROME AT BEAUMONT-LE-ROGER SHOWED "HUNDREDS OF BOMB BUSTS" IN THE AREA AND IN

1943

THE WOODS WEST OF THE AIRDROME, A HEADQUARTERS STATEMENT SAID.

HIDDEN IN THE WOODS WERE FIGHTER PLANES, ADMINISTRATION BUILDINGS, HANGARS AND BARRACKS.

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND, JUNE 29-(AP)-- AMERICAN COLONELS, BRITISH CORPORALS AND SAILORS FROM BOTH NAVIES WENT BACK TO SCHOOL TOGETHER TODAY.

JUN 30 1943

THEY WERE AMONG XXX 50 OFFICERS AND MEN WHO ATTENDED THE FIRST COURSE ON ANGLO-AMERICAN UNDERATANDING XXX OFFERED BY XXX/GLASGOW UNIVERSITY.

JUN 30 1943

THE FIRST LESSON WAS ON THE ATLANTIC CHARTER, THREE CLAUSES OF WHICH WERE CHALKED ON THE CLASSROOM XXXXX BLACKBOARD.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 29-(AP)-THE GAZETTE DE LAUSANNE SAID TODAY THAT INTENSE PREPARATIONS ARE UNDER WAY IN ITALY FOR A BATTLE WHICH MAY START AT ANY HOUR, AND THAT THE ITALIANS BELIEVED AN ALLIED FLEET WAS READY TO ATTACK THE COASTS OF SICILY.

THE NEWSPAPER SAID THAT ITALIAN OPINION WAS UNEASY AND THAT CERTAIN FEARS WERE EVIDENT.

"IT IS EASILY UNDERSTOOD THAT A PROSPECTIVE ALLIED LANDING IN SICILY, REGGIO CALABRIA OR NAPLES OF ARMORED UNITS, COVERED BY DOZENS OF WARSHIPS AND THOUSANDS OF PLANES, CANNOT BRING COMFORT," THE GAZETTE ADDED.

THE NEUTRAL SWISS NEWSPAPER ADDED THAT "THE MOST FEROCIOUS DEFENDERS OF ITALIAN SOIL WERE NOT ABLE TO DENY OFFHAND THAT THE ALLIES AT LEAST AT THE BEGINNING OF AN ATTACK WOULD HAVE A GOOD CHANCE OF SUCCESS, INASMUCH AS IT IS IMPOSSIBLE THAT BEHIND EVERY KILOMETER OF ITALIAN COASTLINE THERE IS A DIVISION READY TO SPRING INTO ACTION."

FROM ISTANBUL, THE EDITOR OF THE FRANKFURT ZEITUNG WROTE:

"IT IS LIKELY THAT THE ALLIES WILL ATTACK ITALY AND NOT THE BALKANS. ITALY AND THE LARGER ISLANDS REMAIN THE MOST IMPORTANT DEFENSE TASK FOR THE AXIS IN THE SOUTH."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 29-(AP)-AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT BY THE ALLIED MEDITERRANEAN AIR COMMAND CHARGED TODAY THAT THE AXIS WAS DESPERATELY TRYING TO MAINTAIN MORALE IN HEAVILY-BOMBED ITALIAN TERRITORY BY "FALSE NEWS OF AIR VICTORIES" AND "LIES REGARDING XX THEIR OWN LOSSES."

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX "THE HEAVY STINGING AIR BLOWS DELIVERED AGAINST ITALIAN TERRITORY ARE LEAVING THEIR MARK," THE STATEMENT SAID.

"IT IS USELESS FOR THE HUN TO PERSUADE THE NATIVES OF SICILY AND SARDINIA THAT OUR ATTACKS ARE ABORTIVE. IT IS NO GOOD TELLING THE POOR CITIZEN OF OLBIA, SURROUNDED AS HE IS WITH THE CHARRED XXXXX REMAINS OF DOCK FACILITIES AND MARSHALLING

JUN 30 1943

1943

324-5511

30.24-5611

YARDS THAT SARDINIA STILL IS INTACT. NOR WOULD IT BE SENSIBLE TO ANNOUNCE THAT LAST FRIDAY'S FORTRESS RAID ON MESSINA DID LITTLE MORE THAN DESECREATE THE RESIDENTIAL AREA."

THE STATEMENT DECLARED THAT GERMAN AND ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE WRITERS AND PROPAGANDISTS COLLABORATED TO "CONSOLE" THE PUBLIC BY EXAGGERATED CLAIMS OF ALLIED LOSSES IN THE AIR OFFENSIVE.

JUN 30 1943

IT CITED AS PROOF THE AXIS COMMUNIQUES OF JUNE 25 ALLEGING THAT 33 XX BRITISH AND AMERICAN PLANES WERE DESTROYED ~~BERMUD~~ AGAINST NO AXIS LOSS, WHEN IN FACT THE ALLIES LOST NINE AND SHOT DOWN 28 ENEMY CRAFT.

"THE GERMANS AND ITALIANS EVERYWHERE WERE TOLD OF THIS GREAT AIR VICTORY, HOW THE ENEMY HAD HAD A HEAVY TOLL TAKEN OF THEIR FORCES WHEN THEY ATTACKED ~~UR~~ TARGETS IN SARDINIA," THE STATEMENT SAID.

"AND SO IT GOES ON. IN THE ENDEAVOR TO ~~[illegible]~~ SOP THE PUNISHED PUBLIC FALSE NEWS OF AIR VICTORIES IS ISSUED. LIES ARE TOLD REGARDING THEIR OWN LOSSES. THEY LOSE 20 AND SAY THEIR LOSSES WERE NIL. THE PUBLIC CANNOT CHECK. TO SOME EXTENT THEY ARE CONSOLED.

"BUT THE QUESTION ONE ASKS IS 'WHAT DO THE PILOTS THINK?' WHAT FAITH CAN THE GERMAN AND ITALIAN FLIERS HAVE IN THEIR OWN HIGH COMMAND? PILOTS GO OUT AND NEVER RETURN TO THEIR SQUADRONS. MEANWHILE THE AXIS RADIO BOOMS OUT THE NEWS OF VICTORIES NEVER ENJOYED AND LOSSES UNADMITTED. DOES THE SLIGHT CONSOLATION OFFERED IN THIS MANNER TO THE DISTRESSED PUBLIC COUNTERBALANCE THE SPREADING DISTRUST OF THEIR LEADERS WHICH WILL INEVITABLY SPREAD THROUGH THE AXIS ARMED FORCES?"

AN ALLIED AIR BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 29--(AP)--

THE FIRST ALL-AMERICAN MILITARY WEDDING IN NORTH AFRICA YESTERDAY UNITED COL. STANLEY J. DONOVAN, VETERAN ARMY FLIER OF PORTLAND, ME., AND MISS MARGARET ROBLEE, A RED CROSS WORKER, ~~JOINED~~ OF PROVIDENCE, R.I.

THE WEDDING WAS HELD AT 9 P.M. IN A LITTLE CATHOLIC

Blank

JUN 30 1943

1943

CHURCH NEAR XXXXXXXXXXX THE AIRDROME WHERE A GROUP OF FLYING FORTRESSES,

OF WHICH COL.DONOVAN IS COMMANDER,IS BASED.

THE BRIDE IS THE DAUGHTER OF DR.AND MRS.FRED HUSSEY,OF 120 BROWN ST.,PROVIDENCE.THE MAID OF HONOR WAS MISS MARY JEPP,OF CARMEL,CALIF.,A CO-WORKER IN THE RED CROSS.MRS.DONOVAN,WHO XXXXXXXX ATTENDED THE EDGEWOOD PARK JUNIOR COLLEGE IN BRIARCLIFF,NEW YORK,JOINED THE RED CROSS LAST DECEMBER AND CAME OVERSEAS IN JANUARY.SHE MET COL. DONOVAN IN MARCH.

JUN 30 1943

DONOVAN,WHO GRADUATED FROM WEST POINT IN 1934, ENTERED THE AIR CORPS AS A CADET OFFICER AT RANDOLF FIELD AND RECEIVED HIS WINGS IN 1936.HE SERVED AS AN INSTRUCTOR AT KELLY FIELD AND THEN WAS STATIONED IN THE PHILIPPINES UNTIL THE WAR.

WHEN HE WAS SENT TO GREAT BRITAIN AS AN INTELLIGENCE OFFICER.XXXX AFTER ARRIVING IN NORTH AFRICA WITH THE INVASION TROOPS HE LEFT HIS STAFF JOB TO ASSUME COMMAND OF HIS GROUP OF FLYING FORTRESSES.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA--- INSERT AFTER 6TH GRAF FIRST LEAD MEDITERRANEAN X X X ITALIAN MAINLAND.

JUN 30 1943

FIGHTER-BOMBERS FLYING OUT OF MALTA SCORED HITS ON TWO FACTORIES AND A RAILWAY AT LICATA SICILY, A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE SAID, AND OTHER PLANES STARTED A FIRE AT COMISO AIRDROME.

AFRICA (ADD)

ONE OF THE TWO MACCHIS SHOT DOWN BY WARHAWKS AT ALGHERO-FERTILIA WAS BAGGED BY LIEUT.EDWARD T.WATERS, HIGHLAND PARK, MICH. IT WAS HIS FIFTH VICTORY. LIEUT.WARD A.KUENTZEL, DELANO, CALIF., DESTROYED THE OTHER FOR HIS FOURTH VICTORY.

TWO LIGHTNING PILOTS, LIEUT.JOE MILLER OF 709 NORMAN BRIDGE ROAD, MONTGOMERY, ALA., AND LIEUT.LLOYD K.DEMOSS OF 516 EALZELL ST., SHREVEPORT, LA., EACH GOT TWO MESSERSCHMITT 109S IN FIGHTING OFF ENEMY PURSUITS IN THE RAID ON MILIS AIRDROME. A FIFTH VICTIM WAS CREDITED TO LIEUT.JERRY S.STIDHAM OF MELROSE ROUTE, ROSEBURG, OREGON.

ALGIERS--- SECOND ADD BOISSON X X X MILITARY & AFFAIRS.

JUN 30 1943

BOISSON, TALL, DEAF AND LAME WAR VETERAN WHOM GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE HAD PLACED ON HIS "BLACKLIST" FOR REMOVAL, SUBMITTED HIS RESIGNATION TO GIRAUD SOME TIME AGO, BUT ACTION WAS DELAYED DURING THE RECENT CRISIS BETWEEN THE TWO CO-PRESIDENTS OF THE COMMITTEE OVER THE MILITARY ISSUE.

JUN 30 1943

A COMMITTEE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID:

"ON THE PROPOSAL OF MONSIEUR (RENE) PLEVEN, COMMISSIONER OF COLONIES, THE COMMITEE HAS BEEN DECIDED TO ACCEPT THE REQUEST PRESENTED

1943

3024-5513

3024-5513

BY MONSIER BO PIERRE BOISSON, GOVERNOR GENERAL OF WEST AFRICA, TO BE REPLACED. THE NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL WILL BE NAMED SHORTLY."

JUN 30 1943

BOISSON, WHO DEFENDED DAKAR AGAINST DE GAULLIST AND BRITISH FORCES IN A BATTLE THREE YEARS AGO, AND EXPLAINED THAT HE WOULD HAVE DONE THE SAME AGAINST AN AXIS FORCE, GAINED CONSIDERABLE AMERICAN SUPPORT THIS YEAR BY HIS COOPERATION IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE DAKAR NAVAL BASE.

AFRICA 1 AOM x x ships

"WITHIN THE NEXT HOUR TWO FURTHER FORMATIONS OF FIGHTER-BOMBERS APPROACHED THE SHIPS AT A HIGH ALTITUDE, BUT ONLY A VERY FEW DIVED BEFORE DROPPING THEIR BOMBS," AND THE SHIPS AGAIN ESCAPED DAMAGE, WHILE ONE FOCKE-WULF 190 WAS SHOT DOWN AND ANOTHER DAMAGED, BOTH BY SPITFIRE PILOT LIEUT. ALBERT C. ADAMS, JR., OF KINGS COLLEGE, BRISTOL, TENN.

ADAMS REPORTED THAT THREE ME-109S AND TWO FOCKE-WULF 190S APPROACHED WHILE HIS SPITFIRE SECTION WAS PATROLLING OVER THE SHIPS. AFTER TWO BURSTS FROM HIS GUNS ONE OF THE FOCKE-WULFS EXPLODED ABOUT 50 YARDS ABOVE THE WATER AND DIVED INTO THE SEA.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, A SMALL FORCE OF ENEMY PLANES APPROACHED A NORTH AFRICAN PORT APPARENTLY INTENDING TO CREATE A DIVERSION AND DRAW THE ESCORTING ALLIED FIGHTER PLANES AWAY FROM THE SHIPS. THEY WERE INTERCEPTED BY FRENCH FLOWN SPITFIRES AND WARHAWKS AND FLED WITHOUT MAKING ANY ATTACK.

AT DUSK A FORCE OF ENEMY BOMBERS APPROACHED FROM THE EAST WHILE A BRITISH HURRICANE SQUADRON, WHICH HAS ALREADY DESTROYED MORE THAN 300 ENEMY AIRCRAFT, WAS PATROLLING OVER THE SHIPS.

THE HURRICANES ATTACKED AND DISPERSED THE ENEMY BOMBERS, SHOOTING DOWN ONE JU-88 PLANE AND DAMAGING A HEINKEL.

WHEN DARKNESS CAME THE ENEMY CHANGED HIS TACTICS, SENDING OVER A SUCCESSION OF SILEBOMBERS AT IVVVVVV

JUN 30 1943

WHEN DARKNESS CAME THE ENEMY CHANGED HIS TACTICS, SENDING OVER A SUCCESSION OF SINGLE BOMBERS AT INTERVALS BUT, THE REPORT SAID, "THESE LONE RAIDS WERE NO MORE SUCCESSFUL THAN THE OTHERS AND THEY COST THE ENEMY FOUR MORE AIRCRAFT DESTROYED."

PRECEDE NEW YORK

ANKARA, JUNE 29-(AP)-SERIOUS DISORDERS BROKE OUT IN ATHENS AND AT LEAST THREE OTHER GREEK CITIES SUNDAY FOLLOWING AMERICAN AIR RAIDS ON AXIS AIR BASES AT ATHENS AND SALONIKA, INFORMED BALKAN SOURCES REPORTED TODAY.

AXIS TROOPS WERE SAID TO HAVE ARRESTED HUNDREDS OF DEMONSTRATORS AND A NUMBER WERE REPORTED SHOT.

A GREEK SOURCE HERE SAID THE RIOTS UNDOUBTEDLY WERE CONNECTED WITH THE HEARTENING EFFECT OF THE AMERICAN AIR RAIDS.

OTHER REPORTS INDICATED THE GERMANS WERE STRENGTHENING THEIR FORCES IN THE SALONIKA REGION TO MEET THE THREAT OF A POSSIBLE INVASION THRUST AT THAT VITAL PORT. A GERMAN MOTORIZED DIVISION WAS REPORTED MOVING INTO THE AREA AND TAKING UP POSTS ALONG THE SALONIKA PENINSULA.

JUN 30 1943

JUN 30 1943

1943

ANKARA, JUNE 29-(AP)-A GERMAN NEWS AGENCY REPORT TODAY SAID THE RUMANIAN CABINET HAD DECIDED UPON PARTIAL EVACUATION OF BUCHAREST AS AN AIR RAID PRECAUTION.

ALL PERSONS WHO HAVE MOVED TO THE CAPITAL RECENTLY FROM THE PROVINCES WILL BE COMPELLED TO LEAVE, THE ADVICES SAID.

BY THOBURN WIANT

(ADVANCE) NEW DELHI, INDIA--(AP)--AMERICAN FORCES IN THE CHINA-BURMA-INDIA THEATER--AT THE END OF THE LONGEST AND MOST PRECARIOUS SUPPLY LINE THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN--NOW ARE GETTING MORE THAN HALF OF THEIR REQUIREMENTS FROM LOCAL SOURCES.

THIS WAS DISCLOSED BY COL.SAMUEL M.LANSING OF ATLANTIC BEACH, FLA., SERVICE FORCE CHIEF OF STAFF, WHO SAID, "WE ARE GRADUALLY APPROACHING OUR GOAL OF SAVING EVERY POSSIBLE INCH OF SHIPPING SPACE FOR MATERIEL ABSOLUTELY UNOBTAINABLE OUT HERE."

MOST OF THE SHIPS FROM AMERICA, LANSING SAID, "ARE GETTING THROUGH WITHOUT MISHAP."

NEARLY ALL OF THE FOOD REQUIRED BY THE AMERICANS NOW COMES FROM LOCAL SOURCES. INDIAN MILLS SUPPLY THE NECESSARY CLOTHING. INDIANS AND BRITISH PROVIDE HOUSING MATERIALS AND LABOR. SOME MEDICAL SUPPLIES ARE AVAILABLE LOCALLY.

ALL THIS HAS BEEN BROUGHT ABOUT IN SLIGHTLY MORE THAN A YEAR AND BY A STAFF OF EXPERTS HEADED BY MAJOR-GENERAL RAYMOND A.WHEELER OF WASHINGTON, 57-YEAR-OLD ILLINOIS NATIVE AND HOLDER OF THE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE MEDAL AND THE SILVER STAR.

WHEELER AND HIS RIGHT-HAND MAN, BRIG.-GEN.WILLIAM H.HOLCOMBE, ALSO OF WASHINGTON, HAD ONLY A SKELETON STAFF WHEN THEY STARTED SUPPLYING AMERICAN FORCES IN THIS THEATER AND SEEING THAT LEASE-LEND SUPPIES REACHED CHINA. NOW THE ORGANIZATION SPREADS CLEAR ACROSS INDIA AND INCLUDES THOUSANDS OF MEN. THEY SEE THAT EACH AMERICAN GETS AN AVERAGE OF 35 POUNDS OF SUPPLIES A DAY.

"TONNAGE OF SUPPLIES FROM THE STATES HAS BEEN INCREASING," COLONEL LANSING SAID, "AND WE EXPECT FURTHER INCREASES WITHIN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS."

A CAN OF BAKING POWDER DESTINED FOR CHINA TRAVELS 15,000 MILES BY SHIP, 1,500 BY RAIL, 800 BY RIVERBOAT, 500 BY AIR AND 700 BY MULE OR YAK TO FORWARD AREAS IN CHINA. THE COST OF SUCH A CAN IS ASTRONOMICAL BY THE TIME IT REACHES ITS DESTINATION, BUT COSTS DON'T MEAN MUCH NOW.

VETERAN ATTACK

SQUADRON HAS FEW LOSSES

---

IT STICKS TO

BULLET-SCARRED

3-YEAR-OLD CRAFT (750)

---

BY VERN HAUGLAND

AN ADVANCED BASE, NEW GUINEA, JUNE 21-(DELAYED)-(AP)-BASED UNDER THE VERY NOSES OF THE JAPANESE--SUBJECTED, IN FACT, TO A NCP AIR RAID EVERY NOW AND THEN--IS AMERICA'S MOST EXPERIENCED SQUADRON OF HAVOC A20 ATTACK PLANES.

SHORTLY AFTER PEARL HARBOR, THE SQUADRON LEFT THE STATES, BUT UNTIL ITS PLANES ARRIVED IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AREA LAST YEAR ITS PERSONNEL IN AUSTRALIA SERVED WITH OTHER OUTFITS.

AFTER A FEW MONTHS OF TRAINING, THE PLANES, OUTFITTED WITH .50

1943

3524- 5515

3024- 5516

CALIBER GUNS AND BOMB BAY TANKS, MADE THEIR FIRST SURPRISE ATTACK ON THE JAPANESE AT LAE, 175 MILES NORTH OF PORT MORESBY, LAST AUGUST 31.

JUN 30 1943

AND A REAL SURPRISE IT WAS, RECALLS CAPT.DONALD E.GOOD OF EUGENE, ORE., WHO, THEN A SECOND LIEUTENANT, WAS ONE OF THE PILOTS TAKING PART. THE JAPANESE HADN'T EXPERIENCED THIS TYPE OF INTENSIVE GROUND STRAFING AND LOW-LEVEL BOMBING BEFORE, AND THEY SCURRIED LIKE CHICKENS AT THE CRY OF A HAWK WHEN THE RAID STARTED. RADIO TOKYO ANNOUNCED THAT ONE OF THE ATTACKING PLANES CRASHED INTO THE SEA. ACTUALLY, THE CRIPPLED PLANE REACHED ITS BASE AND CONTINUED IN ACTION FOR A FULL SIX MONTHS MORE.

WHEN WAR BROKE OUT, THIS AVANNAH, GA., OUTFIT WAS THE FIRST TO GO OVERSEAS. ITS BOSTONS CAME OFF THE LINE EARLY IN 1940 AND HAVE NOW BEEN IN SERVICE THREE YEARS.

THERE HAVE BEEN NO REPLACEMENTS TO DATE. THE SQUADRON HAS LOST ONLY THREE PILOTS IN THE GREATER PART OF A YEAR OF FRONT-LINE ATTACK FLYING. ONLY ONE WAS LOST IN COMBAT. ONE CRASHED ON TAKEOFF, AND THE OTHER WAS LOST FLYING FROM AUSTRALIA TO NEW GUINEA.

BATTLE-SCARRED CACTUS DON, OLDEST SHIP IN THE SQUADRON, HAD BEEN ON 69 MISSIONS BY MAY 31, AND HAD CHALKED UP 562 HOURS OF COMBAT FLYING. OTHERS HAVE MORE THAN 500 COMBAT HOURS WHILE 400 HOURS IS NOT AN UNCOMMON FIGURE FOR THESE SHIPS.

THE BOSTONS REPEATEDLY HAVE ATTACKED LAE AND OTHER NEW GUINEA POINTS, AND SUCH BASES AS GASMATA AND CAPE GLOUCESTER IN NEW BRITAIN. THEY PARTICIPATED IN THE TASK OF PUSHING JAPANESE LAND FORCES BACK OVER THE OWEN STANLEY RANGE FROM WITHIN 30 MILES OF PORT MORESBY.

LAST SEPTEMBER 9 THEY DESTROYED 17 JAPANESE AIRCRAFT ON THE GROUND AT BUNA. THEIR SUPPORT OF GROUND TROOPS ALONG THE KOKODA TRAIL AND IN THE BUNA SECTOR WON THEM AN EXPRESSION OF THANKS FROM AUSTRALIAN INFANTRY AND A COMMENDATION FROM THE AUSTRALIAN GENERAL IN CHARGE OF ALLIED GROUND FORCES. THEY LEFT 250 JAPANESE BODIES IN ONE STRAFING AREA, A SECTION WHICH IT WOULD HAVE BEEN EXTREMELY COSTLY TO CLEAR OUT FROM THE GROUND.

IN THE BATTLE OF THE BISMARCK SEA IN MARCH THE SQUADRON'S PLANES SCORED 12 HITS ON SEVEN SHIPS FOR THE HIGH BOMBING AVERAGE OF 60 PER CENT.

JUN 30 1943

PROVING THAT THEY ALSO CAN SERVE AS FIGHTERS, THE BOSTONS HAVE SHOT DOWN TWO ZEROS IN AERIAL BATTLES. THEY CAUGHT 12 ENEMY PLANES ON THE GROUND AT LAE EARLY IN MAY, 1943. RECENTLY THEY HAVE JOINED B-25S IN NIGHT ATTACKS UPON BARGES AND OTHER ENEMY SHIPPING ALONG THE NORTHERN COAST OF NEW GUINEA.

JUN 30

EVERY PLANE IN THE SQUADRON HAS BEEN HOLED BY SHRAPNEL AND MACHINEGUN FIRE. NINE OUT OF 11 WERE SHOT UP IN A SINGLE RAID. THEY REPEATEDLY HAVE DEMONSTRATED ABILITY TO TAKE PUNISHMENT, YET RETURN SAFELY TO BASE. CAPTAIN GOOD HIMSELF ONCE RECEIVED TWO DIRECT HITS FROM ANTIAIRCRAFT FIRE OVER LAE, YET FLEW 80 MILES EASTWARD ALONG THE COAST TO MAKE A CRASH LANDING IN WATER AND COME ASHORE IN FRIENDLY TERRITORY.

EVERY PILOT BUT ONE IN THE SQUADRON HAS BEEN DECORATED. LEADING IN AWARDS IS LIEUT.EDMUND D.MONTAGANO OF CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, OHIO, FORMER SIGNER WITH SAMMY KAYE'S ORCHESTRA. HE

JUN 30 1943

1943

HAS RECEIVED FOUR MEDALS. THE ATTACK GROUP TO WHICH THE SQUADRON BELONGS HAS MORE THA[illegible]O MEDALS TO ITS CREDIT.

A FRONT-LINE ORGANIZATION, THE GROUP HAS HAD TO ADVANCE AS THE JAPANESE RETREATED. THIS HAS MEANT THE BUILDING OF NEW CAMPS, WHICH EACH MOVE CONTRIBUTING TO CONSTRUCTION EXPERIENCE UNTIL NOW THE BOYS CAN TURN A JUNGLE WILDERNESS INTO A LIVABLE CAMP IN REMARKABLY RAPID FASHION.

TO PROVIDE THE SQUADRON WITH FRESH FOODS FROM AUSTRALIA, SQUADRON MECHANICS BUILT A PLANE OUT OF SPARE PARTS FROM SIX WRECKED A20S AND OTHER MATERIAL IN NEW GUINEA'S WAR-MADE JUNK PILES. CHRISTENED "STEAK AND EGGS," THIS FLYING MESS-KIT MAKES REGULAR TRIPS TO THE MAINLAND.

JUN 30 1943

CAPTAIN GOOD SAID THAT PRINCIPAL CREDIT FOR THE FINE SHOWING OF A-20S IN THIS THEATER MUST GO TO THE MAINTENANCE SECTION.

"EACH CREW CHIEF AND MECHANIC CONSIDERS THE PLANE HE CARES FOR HIS OWN," SAID GOOD. "WHEN THE MOTORS PURR PROPERLY AT TAKEOFF, THEIR FACES LIGHT UP. THEY LISTEN CAREFULLY, AND WHEN SOMETHING DOESN'T SOUND JUST RIGHT, THEY FRET AND WORRY UNTIL THE SHIP GETS BACK AND THEY CAN WORK ON IT SOME MORE.

"WE HAVE MADE MORE SORTIES THAN ANY OTHER ATTACK SQUADRON, AND OUR PLANES HAVE SERVED WELL BEYOND THE NORMAL PERIOD. BUT THEY'RE STILL FLYING, AND THEY RUN MORE SMOOTHLY THAN THEY DID WHEN WE WERE IN THE STATES."

GOOD SAID THE HIGH WUALITY OF THE MAINTENANCE WORK WAS DUE IN GREAT PART TO THE MAINTENANCE CHIEF, CAPT.GARLAND J.ROBINSON OF HOUSTON, TEXAS. "HE'S FROM CHANUTE FIELD, AND IF ONE OF THE AIRLINES DOESN'T GRAB HIM UP AFTER THE WAR, THEY'LL OVERLOOK THE BEST MAN IN THE BUSINESS," GOOD ADDED.

JUN 30 1943

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY SGT.JOSEPH L.ALLI, 503 MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE, BUFFALO, NEW YORK, A MARINE CORPS COMBAT CORRESPONDENT, AND DISTRIBUTED BY HE ERRCIATED PRESS)

(WX

JUN 30 1943

CORRESPONDENT, AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

(WX)--SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JUNE 8-(DELAYED)-FOR TWO SEASONS, WHILE BOTH WERE STUDENTS AT DEAN ACADEMY IN FRANKLIN, MASSACHUSETTS, THE HUGE FORM OF JOHN T.BRICKLEY OF 646 WEST END AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY, BARRED RODNEY D.SADLER OF 4260 BELSEY ROAD, FLINT, MICHIGAN, FROM A REGULAR POSITION ON THE SCHOOL FOOTBALL TEAM.

TODAY, PRIVATE FIRST CLASS SADLER IS A SECOND STRING TACKLE ON A MARINE REGIMENT ELEVEN--STILL TRYING TO TAKE THE "VARSITY" ASSIGNMENT AWAY FROM HIS FRIENDLY RIVAL, PRIVATE FIRST CLASS JOHN T.BRICKLEY, U.S.M.C.

THE RIVALRY BETWEEN BRICKLEY (WEIGHT 240 POUNDS) AND SADLER (210) STARTED IN 1940 AT DEAN ACADEMY. BOTH PLAYED TACKLE POSITIONS, BUT SADLER HAD TO PLAY SECOND FIDDLE TO BRICKLEY MOST OF THE TIME.

IN THEIR REGIMENT'S OPENING CONTEST, BRICKLEY WAS ONE OF THE STARS; WATCHED MOST OF THE GAME FROM THE BENCH.

BRICKLEY COMES BY HIS FOOTBALL TALENT NATURALLY. HIS FATHER, THE FAMOUS CHARLES E.BRICKLEY, IS ONE OF HARVARD'S GRIDIRON IMMORTALS, HAVING DROPKICKED FIVE FIELD GOALS TO WHIP YALE, 15 TO 5, IN THE 1914 CLASSIC BETWEEN THE TWO COLLEGES.

BRICKLEY WAS A MEMBER OF THE BRONXVILLE (NEW YORK) HIGH SCHOOL

1943

3024-5517

ELEVEN FOR FOUR SEASONS AND TWICE WAS NAMED ON THE ALL-METROPOLITAN TEAMS. HE WAS ALSO SELECTED FOR THE WESTCHESTER COUNTY ALL-STAR ELEVEN IN 1939.

HE EXPECTS TO COMPLETE HIS EDUCATION AND PLAY COLLEGE FOOTBALL "AFTER WE WIN THE GAME WE'RE PLAYING NOW." HE ENLISTED JAN. 19, 1942.

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS SADLER IS THE SON OF MR. AND MRS.VERNON SADLER OF FLINT. HE WAS GRADUATED FROM FLINT CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL BEFORE ATTENDING BEAN ACADEMY. HE ENLISTED JANUARY 24, 1942.

BOTH MEN PARTICIPATED IN THE BATTLE OF GUADALCANAL.

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SGT. JIM G.LUCAS, U.S. MARINE CORPS, OF 25131 EAST 14TH PLACE, TULSA,OKLAHOMA, AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

(WX)--SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JULY 6-(DELAYED)-MARINE GUNNER MILTON W.FRANKEL, 30, OF 2912 1/2 WEST STAWSON STREET, LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA HAS BEEN COMPLIMENTED BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER AT THIS SOUTH PACIFIC BASE FOR HIS PART IN KEEPING OPEN AN AERIAL "BURMA ROAD" OF SUPPLIES TO HENDERSON FIELD DURING THE SOLOMON ISLANDS CAMPAIGN.

JUN 30 1943

REPEATEDLY, MARINE GUNNER FRANKEL RODE INTO GUADALCANAL IN A NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT PLANE, LOADED WITH HIGH EXPLOSIVES, BOMBS AND GASOLINE, HELPED TO UNLOAD IT ON HENDERSON'S BATTERED RUNWAYS UNDER FIRE, AND THEN TOOK OFF ON THE RETURN TRIP INTO HOSTILE SKIES WITH A LOAD OF BATTLE-WOUNDED MARINES FOR HOSPITALS OUT OF THE FIGHTING ZONE.

THE SAGA WRITTEN BY HIS SQUADRON, HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED

3024-5517

BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.HALSEY,JR., U.S.N., COMMANDER SOUTH PACIFIC AREA AND SOUTH PACIFIC FORCE, AS "AN EXAMPLE OF SKILL AND COURAGE."

COL.P.K.SMITH, COMMANDER OF A MARINE AIRCRAFT GROUP IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, SAID THAT GUNNER FRANKEL SHOWED "OUTSTANDING HEROISM IN THE LINE OF HIS PROFESSION WHILE SERVING AS FLIGHT MECHANIC OF NAVAL TRANSPORT AIRCRAFT WHILE OPERATING IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS AREA."

JUN 30 1943

MONTREAL, JUNE 29-(AP)-G.ELMER JOHNSTON, FEDERAL SHOE CONTROLLER, TOLD THE NATIONAL SHOE RETAILERS ASSOCIATION LAST NIGHT THAT THE SHOE LEATHER SHORTAGE WOULD BE RELIEVED SOON BY A SUBSTITUTE RATED 25 PER CENT BETTER THAN LEATHER.

JOHNSTON SAID THAT THE SUBSTITUTE WAS "VIMILYTEZ." HE DID NOT GIVE DETAILS. MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATION HAD EXPRESSED FEAR THAT THE LEATHER SHORTAGE WOULD LEAD TO SHOE RATIONING IN CANADA, AS IN THE UNITED STATES.

(ADVANCE)-OTTAWA, JUNE 29-(AP)-PRINCESS MARGRIET FRANCISCA, THIRD DAUGHTER OF CROWN PRINCESS JULIANA AND PRINCE BERNHARD OF THE NETHERLANDS, WAS BAPTIZED HERE TODAY IN A SIMPLE CEREMONY AT ST.ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE PRESENCE OF HER PARENTS AND HER GRANDMOTHER, QUEEN WILHELMINA.

THE CEREMONY WAS PERFORMED BY THE REV.WINFIELD BURGGRAAFF OF NEW YORK CITY, A CHAPLAIN IN THE DUTCH MERCHANT MARINE. IT WAS RECORDED BY THE CANADIAN BROADCASTING CORPORATION FOR BROADCAST LATER TO THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA AND BY THE UNITED STATES OFFICE OF WAR

JUN 30 1943

1943

INFORMATION FOR A SHORT WAVE TRANSMISSION TO HOLLAND.

PRINCESS MARGRIET WAS BORN JANUARY 19 AT CIVIC HOSPITAL IN OTTAWA.

QUEEN WILHELMINA ARRIVED IN CANADA EARLY IN JUNE FOR THE CEREMONY AND PRINCE BERNHARD ARRIVED HERE JUNE 22. TODAY'S CEREMONY ALSO MARKS HER FATHER'S 32ND BIRTHDAY.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 29-(AP)-A BRAZILIAN ARTILLERY CAPTAIN AND TWO OTHER DEFENDANTS WERE SENTENCED TO 30 YEARS IN PRISON HERE YESTERDAY AFTER CONVICTION OF ESPIONAGE.

JUN 30 1943

TEN OTHERS, INCLUDING THE FORMER GERMAN AMBASSADOR AND THE GERMAN NAVAL ATTACHE WHO WERE TRIED IN ABSENTIA, WERE SENTENCED TO TERMS OF 20 TO 25 YEARS. ALL OF THE DEFENDANTS WERE ACCUSED OF TRANSMITTING INFORMATION TO GERMANY PRIOR TO BRAZIL'S ENTRY INTO THE WAR LAST AUGUST BUT AFTER THE COUNTRY HAD SUSPENDED RELATIONS WITH BERLIN IN JANUARY, 1942.

THE BRAZILIAN OFFICER, CAPTAIN TULIO REGIS NASCIMENTO, ONCE ATTEMPTED TO VISIT AMERICAN MUNITIONS AND ARMS PLANTS THROUGH THE SPONSORSHIP OF THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ATTACHE'S OFFICE, IT WAS SAID.

TESTIMONY WAS INTRODUCED AT THE TRIAL TO SHOW THAT THE FORMER GERMAN AMBASSADOR, DR.KURT PRUEFER, FREQUENTLY HAD BEEN SEEN IN A SMALL PRIVATE PLANE FLYING SEAWARD FOR THE APPARENT PURPOSE OF GATHERING INFORMATION CONCERNING SHIPPING MOVEMENTS.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 29-(AP)-SEVENTEEN BRAZILIAN OFFICERS WERE NAMED TODAY TO SPEND TEN WEEKS IN THE NORTH AMERICAN ARMY AND AT THE SAME TIME IT WAS ANNOUNCED THAT JOAQUIM PEDRO SALGADO, JR., BRAZIL'S MINISTER OF AERONAUTICS AND DIRECTING HEAD OF THE BRAZILIAN AIRFORCE, WOULD LEAVE SOON FOR THE UNITED STATES.

JUN 30 1943

THE OFFICERS, RANGING IN GRADE FROM FIRST LIEUTENANT THROUGH COLONEL, REPRESENT ALL BRANCHES OF THE BRAZILIAN ARMY. THE ORDERS APPOINTING THEM WERE SIGNED BY THE WAR MINISTER, GENERAL EURICO GASPAR DUTRA.

THE BRAZILIAN AIRFORCE HAS ALREADY SUNK EIGHT AXIS U-BOATS IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC AND SALGADO'S VISIT IS EXPECTED TO LEAD TO EVEN CLOSER COLLABORATION IN THE WAR.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 28-(AP)-JOAQUIM PEDRO SALGADO, JR., BRAZIL'S MINISTER OF AERONAUTICS AND DIRECTING HEAD OF THE BRAZILIAN AIRFORCE, WILL LEAVE SOON FOR THE UNITED STATES.

JUN 30 1943

THE BRAZILIAN AIRFORCE HAS ALREADY SUNK EIGHT AXIS U-BOATS IN THE SOUTHATLANTIC AND SALGADO'S VISIT IS EXPECTED TO LEAD TO CLOSER COLLABORATION AND PERHAPS A MORE ACTIVE PART FOR BRAZIL IN THE WAR EFFORT.

MK DIENLS 11555 RO 538P

RIO (AP)

POLICE SAID THAT NASCIEMENTO TOLD THEM THAT PRUEFER, ON HIS DEPARTURE FOR GERMANY, HAD PLANNED TO LEAVE HIM IN CHARGE OF THE INFORMATION SERVICE IN BRAZIL.

AMONG THOSE SENTENCED TO 25 YEAR TERMS WERE WALTER BECKER, DESCRIBED AS A DIRECTOR OF THE SPY RING COOPERATING WITH THE NAZI

1943

3024 - 5519

JUN 30 1943

30-24 - 5519

EMBASSY, AND HANS EHLERT, SAID TO BE A FORMER MEMBER OF THE GERMAN DIPLOMATIC CORPS.

JUN 30 1943

FIVE WHO STOOD TRIAL WERE ACQUITTED.

BALBOA, CANAL ZONE, JUNE 29-(AP)-PRESIDENT HIGINIO MORINIGO ARRIVED HERE FROM MEXICO TODAY. HE WAS GREETED BY LIEUT.GEN.GEORGE BRETT, CARIBBEAN DEFENSE COMMANDER, REAR ADMIRAL CLIFFORD VAN HOOK, COMMANDANT OF THE PANAMA SEA FRONTIER, AND GLEN EDGERTON, CANAL ZONE GOVERNOR.

PARAMARIBO, SURINAM, JUNE 29-(AP)-THE NETHERLANDS NEWS AGENCY ANETA REPORTED TODAY THAT FRENCH GUIANA, WHICH BROKE WITH VICHY LAST MARCH, HAD BEGUN SENDING VOLUNTEER TROOPS TO THE FRONT.

IT SAID THE NEWS WAS DISCLOSED AFTER PUBLICATION IN A CAYENNE NEWSPAPER OF AN OFFICIAL DECLARATION BY JACQUES BOISSIER, CHIEF OF CABINET, EXPRESSING REGRET THAT "VOLUNTEERS WHO HAD SAILED SEVERAL WEEKS AGO FOR 'THE WAR FRONT' HAD BEEN UNABLE TO SAY FAREWELL TO FAMILY MEMBERS LIVING OUTSIDE CAYENNE." They were addressed by Governor Jean Rapenne.

THE NUMBER OF TROOPS AND THEIR DESTINATION WERE NOT DISCLOSED.

UNDATED ITALIAN MORALE

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 30 1943

THE GERMAN TRANSOCEAN CORRESPONDENT IN ROME REPORTED IN A DISPATCH BROADCAST BY THE BERLIN RADIO YESTERDAY (TUES) THAT A PURGE OF THE FASCIST PARTY WAS "WIDE OPEN" AND THAT THE "CASTOR OIL CURES" OF THE PARTY'S EARLY DAYS AGAIN WERE IN VOGUE.

COMMENTING ON MEASURES TAKEN TO DEFEND ITALY AGAINST WHAT HE TERMED THE ALLIED "WAR OF NERVES," THE TRANSOCEAN REPRESENTATIVE ATTRIBUTED TO "ROMANS" THE STATEMENT THAT ALONE OF THE PARTY STALWARTS IL DUCE REMAINED UNTOUCHED BY A GREAT "PURGE."

THE BERLIN BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, QUOTED THE TRANSOCEAN CORRESPONDENT:

"EVERYWHERE I WAS TOLD THAT THE MORALE OF THE ITALIAN PEOPLE WAS STRENGTHENED AFTER A FEW WEEKS' DURATION OF THIS (PURGE) ACTION."

HE SAID CARLO SCORZA, NEW SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE PARTY, WAS DIRECTING THE PURGE AND SAID HE WAS PREPARED TO FORGE THE PARTY INTO A "CUIRASS" TO SAFEGUARD THE ITALIAN PEOPLE AGAINST ATTACKS ON ITS MORALE.

UNDATED ITALIAN

Italy's meat ration will be reduced and Italians may have a meatless week once a month, the berlin radio reported today.

the broadcast, recorded by the associated press, said the amount of reduction in the ration was not announced, and added "as no meat was on sale in the last week in june, it is believed that the meatless week may become a permanent institution once a month."

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

GERMANY'S PROPAGANDA MACHINE WORKED OVERTIME YESTERDAY (TUES) IN A DESPERATE EFFORT TO CONVINCE THE WORLD THAT THE RAF'S AERIAL BOMBARDMENT OF COLOGNE MONDAY NIGHT WAS A "TERRORISTIC" ATTACK AND THAT THE COLOGNE CATHEDRAL HAD BEEN "DESTROYED"--OR AT LEAST "HEAVILY DAMAGED."

1943

AS USUAL, NAZI PROPAGANDA RESORTED TO WHAT HAS BECOME A STOCK REPERTOIRE OF ENUMERATING DESTRUCTION TO CHURCHES AND CIVIC BUILDINGS, BROADCASTING SO-CALLED EYEWITNESS REPORTS AND CITING PRESS COMMENT ON THE RAID.

THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND COMMUNIQUE, BROADCAST BY BERLIN AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID BOMBS CAUSED HEAVY DAMAGE TO THE CATHEDRAL. ANOTHER BERLIN BROADCAST SAID "HEAVY BOMBS SMASHED THROUGH THE ROOF OF THE CATHEDRAL AND EXPLODED INSIDE THE CHURCH, CAUSING HEAVY DEVASTATION."

THE TRANSOCEAN AGENCY WENT EVEN FURTHER, DECLARING THAT "THE CATHEDRAL AT COLOGNE WAS DESTROYED BY A BOMB HIT IN THE CENTRAL NAVE WHICH WRECKED THE WHOLE BUILDING."

THERE HAS BEEN NO CONFIRMATION FROM ANY ALLIED SOURCE THAT THE CATHEDRAL WAS AMONG THE BUILDINGS HIT.

BERLIN BROADCASTS FOR FOREIGN CONSUMPTION, RECORDED IN NEW YORK BY THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION, TRIED TO GET ACROSS THE POINT THAT THE GERMANS NEVER HAD DESTROYED "CULTURAL MONUMENTS." THE GERMAN BROADCASTS FAILED TO MENTION THAT THE COLOGNE CATHEDRAL LIES JUST A FEW YARDS FROM LARGE RAILWAY INSTALLATIONS AND AMIDST OTHER STRATEGIC INDUSTRIAL TARGETS.

JUN 30 1943

THE "TERROR" THEME ALSO WAS PLAYED UP FOR HOME CONSUMPTION. A BROADCAST OF A DNB DISPATCH SAID THE "HEAVY DAMAGE" TO THE CATHEDRAL WAS STRESSED IN "BANNER HEADLINES" IN THE ENTIRE GERMAN PRESS. THIS DISPATCH ALSO INDICATED THAT GERMAN NEWSPAPERS WERE STRESSING THE "HEAVY COST THAT BRITAIN, THROUGH HER SURPRISINGLY HIGH LOSSES, HAD TO PAY FOR HER TERROR ATTACKS."

THE NAZI PROPAGANDISTS ALSO TOLD THE GERMAN PEOPLE THAT DESPITE THE INTENSITY OF THE BOMBINGS THE RAIDS WOULD NOT ACHIEVE THEIR PURPOSES. ONE BROADCASTER DECLARED THAT THE ALLIES, WHO HE SAID HAD STARTED THE BOMBINGS TO BRING ABOUT "THE COMPLETE DESTRUCTION OF THE VERY BASIS OF LIFE IN THE WHOLE OF GERMANY," NOW REALIZED THAT "THEIR AIM CANNOT BE ACHIEVED."

JUN 30 1943

A BERLIN SHORT-WAVE BROADCAST TO PORTUGAL CLAIMED THAT THE RAIDS HAD NOT SERIOUSLY AFFECTED GERMANY'S WAR POTENTIAL.

"THE MACHINES ARE TURNING, THE HIGH OVENS ARE PRODUCING IRON, THE HAMMERS ARE FORGING STEEL, BUT WORKMEN NO LONGER SLEEP IN THEIR OWN BEDS," SAID THE BROADCAST.

OWI SAID THE TRANSOCEAN AGENCY, IN A WIRELESS TELEGRAPHIC-CODE DISPATCH FOR AMERICAN CONSUMPTION, TOLD ABOUT A "REPRISAL AIR FLEET," ATTRIBUTING THE STORY TO "QUARTERS WELL-INFORMED CONCERNING PLANS OF THE GERMAN SUPREME COMMAND."

"THE STRICTEST SECRECY PREVAILS AS TO WHAT IS BEING DONE IN GERMANY TO REALIZE THOSE ACTIONS WHICH HAVE ALREADY BEEN ANNOUNCED AND ESPECIALLY THOSE WHICH HAVE NOT BEEN ANNOUNCED," THE AGENCY SAID. "BUT IT NEVERTHELESS TRANSPIRED THAT CONSTRUCTION OF A REPRISAL AIR FLEET IS APPARENTLY MAKING CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS."

MEANWHILE, LIEUT.GEN.KURT DITTMAR, ONE OF THE TOP NAZI RADIO PROPAGANDISTS, USED THE RAID AS A SPRINGBOARD TO DECLARE THAT "THE WAR WE ARE FIGHTING HAS DEVELOPED MORE AND MORE INTO A WAR WITH THE UNITED STATES."

JUN 30 1943

1943

30-24-5521

30-24-5521

"THE UNITED STATES IS OUR REAL ENEMY," SAID DITTMAR IN A BROADCAST WHICH OWI SAID WAS BEAMED TO AFRICA.

DITTMAR DECLARED THAT THE "GEOGRAPHICAL ISOLATION" OF THE UNITED STATES WOULD ENABLE HER TO CARRY ON THE WAR EVEN FOLLOWING A "SERIOUS REPULSE." HE ADDED THAT THIS "ISOLATION" GAVE THE UNITED STATES "A DOMINANT PLACE" IN THE ALLIED COALITION AND LED TO THE "BRUTALIZATION OF WARFARE" SINCE THERE WAS NO FEAR OF REPRISAL.

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

JUN 30 1943

---

WHEN I CAME OUT OF THE FAR-NORTHERN MAINE WOODS LAST WEEK-END, AFTER BEING CUT OFF FROM NEWS DURING A FORTNIGHT'S FISHING VACATION IN THE WILDS, NATURALLY THE FIRST THING I DEMANDED WAS WHAT THE MAIN DEVELOPMENT OF THE WAR HAD BEEN DURING THAT PERIOD, AND THE QUICK ANSWER WAS:

"THE COAL MINERS ARE GOING BACK TO WORK."

CHARACTERIZATION OF A COAL MINING SITUATION AS THE BIGGEST CURRENT NEWS OF THE WAR HAD AN ODD RING IN THE EAR, BUT UNDOUBTEDLY THAT APPRAISAL WAS THE CORRECT ONE. CONTINUANCE OF THE COAL STOPPAGE WOULD REPRESENT A MAJOR DISASTER. WE HAVE BEEN TREADING DANGEROUSLY CLOSE TO THE EDGE OF A PRECIPICE.

THE TREND OF THE OPERATIONS IN ALL THEATERS NOW DEPENDS ON PRODUCTION AND TRANSPORTATION. INVASIONS HINGE ON THE AVAILABILITY OF EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES IN THE FIGHTING ZONES.

THE NEXT TWO MONTHS ARE LIKELY TO GO FAR TOWARDS DETERMINING THE LENGTH OF THE EUROPEAN CONFLICT. IF THE ALLIES HAVE THE STRIKING-POWER TO CARRY OUT PROJECTED OPERATIONS AND ESTABLISH THAT WESTERN FRONT THIS SUMMER, THE WAR WILL BE GREATLY SHORTENED. IF CESSATION OF PRODUCTION IN ANY VITAL LINE AT HOME RIGHT NOW SHOULD DEPRIVE THE WAR FRONTS OF SUPPLIES, THEN HITLER MIGHT GET THE YEAR'S RESPITE WHICH HE HAS BEEN HOPING FOR TO ENABLE HIM TO REPAIR HIS DAMAGED WAR-MACHINE AND GET SET FOR A DEFENSE CALCULATED TO PRODUCE A STALEMATE.

IN SHORT, AS THIS COLUMN HAS REMARKED PREVIOUSLY, THE BURDEN OF THIS WAR RESTS VERY LARGELY ON THE SHOULDERS OF THE CIVILIAN WORKERS AT HOME. WE CAN'T PASS THE BUCK TO THE SOLDIERS AT THE FRONT, BECAUSE THEY ARE HELPLESS WITHOUT EQUIPMENT. THIS IS ONE CASE WHERE THE CONGREGATION HAS TO DO ITS OWN LABORING AND PRAYING, AND NOT LEAVE EVERYTHING TO THE OVEROWKRED CLERGYMAN IN HIS PULPIT.

THE SECOND MOST IMPORTANT PIECE OF NEWS, AND ONE CLOSELY INTERLOCKING WITH THE FIRST, SEEMED TO BE STALIN'S RENEWED APPEAL FOR THE OPENING OF A WESTERN FRONT BY THE ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIES. THE SOVIET GENERALISSIMO IN HIS REPLY TO THE ALLIED MESSAGES ON THE ANNIVERSARY OF HITLER'S ATTACK ON RUSSIA DECLARED:

"VICTORY WILL COME ALL THE SOONER, OF THIS I HAVE NO DOUBT, THE SOONER WE STRIKE OUR JOINT UNITED BLOWS AGAINST THE ENEMY FROM EAST AND FROM WEST."

JUN 30 1943

AT THE SAME TIME MOSCOW ISSUED A COMMUNIQUE WHICH SAID THAT "EVERYTHING NOW DEPENDS UPON THE MANNER IN WHICH OUR ALLIES WILL EXPLOIT THE FAVORABLE SITUATION BY CREATING A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE, AS VICTORY OVER HITLERITE GERMANY IS IMPOSSIBLE WITHOUT A SECOND FRONT." THE COMMUNIQUE ADDED THAT TO "MISS THE OPPORTUNITY AFFORDED BY THE FAVORALE CONDITIONS NOW PREVAILING FOR THE OPENING

1943

BY THE FAVORABLE CONDITIONS NOW PREVAILING FOR THE OPENING OF A SECOND FRONT IN 1943" WOULD BE A SERIOUS SETBACK FOR THE ALLIED CAUSE.

THAT SUMMATION REPRESENTS THE VIEW AS I HAVE FOUND IT AMONG AMERICAN AND BRITISH MILITARY MEN, ALTHOUGH IT ISN'T YET CLEAR JUST HOW FAR THE ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIES MAY FIND IT FEASIBLE TO GO THIS SUMMER. IT CAN BE SAID THAT THERE STILL IS A POSSIBILITY OF A WHOLESALE INVASION OF THE CONTINENT THIS YEAR, IF THE ALLIES DON'T ENCOUNTER ANY BIG HITCH. BOTH HITLER AND MUSSOLINI ARE GETTING A POWERFUL SOFTENING UP, AND THE PROCESS IS INTENSIFYING.

JUN 30 1943

AS THINGS NOW STAND IT WOULDN'T BE SURPRISING TO SEE AN INVASION OF SICILY AND SARDINIA AT ANY MOMENT. THOSE PLUMS SEEM ABOUT RIPE FOR THE PLUCKING. WHETHER AN ASSAULT ON THE ITALIAN MAINLAND OR THE BALKANS WILL FOLLOW, REMAINS TO BE SEEN BUT BOTH ARE AMONG THE POSSIBILITIES.

WHAT STALIN IS GUNNING FOR, OF COURSE, IS AN INVASION OF FRANCE ACROSS THE ENGLISH CHANNEL, SO AS TO PLACE THE FUEHRER SQUARELY BETWEEN TWO GREAT ARMIES, AND HE IS VERY INSISTENT. THERE ARE NO INDICATIONS THUS FAR THAT THIS ISN'T IN THE CARDS. THE ANGLO-AMERICAN AIR FLEETS ARE DOING A MAGNIFICENT JOB OF SPADE WORK OVER WESTERN EUROPE, AND ANOTHER FEW WEEKS OF THIS MIGHT OPEN THE ROAD FOR A LANDING.

JUN 30 1943

BLANK

JUN 30 1943

1943

30.24 — 55.23

30.24 — 5523

MacArthur's Forces Land on 4 Pacific Islands, Battle on New Georgia for Munda Air Base

JUL - 1 1943

M'ARTHUR IS IN COMMAND OF TWIN OFFENSIVE WITH COOPERATION OF HALSEY

Allied Forces Seize Trobriand And Woodlark, Off New Guinea, As United States Combined Units Land On Rendova And New Georgia

JUL - 1 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Thursday, July 1—Allied land, naval and air forces, under the personal direction of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, have occupied the Trobriand and Woodlark island groups, between New Guinea and the Solomon Islands, and are attacking the neighboring New Georgia Islands and are engaging Japanese land forces near Salamaua, on New Guinea, it was announced today.

The occupation of the Trobriand and Woodlark groups was accomplished without opposition, apparently unknown to the enemy, a communique said. In the New Georgia group American forces have successfully landed on both New Georgia and Rendova islands and are engaging the enemy's defense, it added.

"All elements of ground, naval and air forces are being employed in the closest synchronization," the communique said.

[Announcement of these new landings expanded greatly on the score of the operations in the Southwest Pacific for it followed closely on an earlier navy announcement that American forces had landed on Rendova in the Solomons.]

Fighting was in progress at Nassau bay, a few miles from Salamaua, where American forces affected a landing shortly after midnight on the heels of concentrated bombing by attack planes and medium bombers.

Planes Strafe Jap Positions

The planes also carried out "strafing raids against enemy positions on the bay shore and along the Bitoi river," the communique said.

The communique made this report:

"In combined and coordinated operations, forces of the Southwest Pacific and South Pacific areas have advanced and expanded their bases of deployment by occupying Nassau bay on the north coast of New Guinea, the Trobriand and Woodlark Island groups and are attacking the New Georgia group (in the Solomons).

"Occupation of the torbriands and the woodlark area was successfully accomplished without opposition and apparently unbeknown to the enemy.

Reports New Georgia Landing

"In the New Georgia group, our forces have successfully landed on New Georgia and Rendova islands and are engaging the enemy's defenses.

"All elements, ground, naval and air, are being employed in the closest synchronization. Forces of the two areas are operating under their commanders, the entire movement being under direction of the Commander in chief of the Southwest Pacific area."

This coordination brings into action a plan arranged by General MacArthur and Admiral William F. Halsey whereby Halsey's South Pacific area would merge with MacArthur's southwest in one command during joint operations.

The operations took place during the last forty-eight hours.

Only 12 Miles From Salamaua

They placed United Nations troops only twelve miles south of Salamaua, and on the Tobriand, Woodlark and New Georgia groups which are between the existing Allied bases and Rabaul, anchor point of Japan's offensive defensive chains in the Southwest Pacific.

It was the first offensive operation since American occupation of islands in the southern Solomons last year and was carried out by perfectly-timed and coordinated thrusts.

The beachheads established on the new Georgia group are within artillery range of the Japanese air base at Munda.

275 Miles From Guadalcanal

The Trobriand group of islands and Woodlark Island lie off the southeastern tip of New Guinea at the northern end of the Coral Sea, The Trobriand Islands are approximately 275 miles west of Guadalcanal.

Salamaua, near which new landings were reported, is on the Huon Gulf of New Guinea in an area toward which jungle fighters have been infiltrating from the south to a point within twelve miles of that base, at Mubo.

Timed with the action was a heavy raid by Allied Fortresses and Liberators on Rabaul, New Britain, approximately 500 miles northwest of Rendova and 300 miles above Trobriand. There the Vunakanau and Lakunai airdromes were pounded by nearly twenty-three tons of high-explosive, fragmentation and incendiary bombs, which burst in the dispersal area. One fire started could be seen one hundred miles away.

Japs Try Raid On Darwin

One of the Allied raiders was lost as the Japanese threw up a heavy screen of anti-aircraft fire and sent up night fighters.

The Japanese tried another raid on Darwin, resulting in aerial dog fights in which six of their bombers and two of their fighters were lost as against six intercepting spit fires.

JUL - 1 1943

Planes Blast Rabaul

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, July 1 (Thursday) (AP).—Supporting the landing operations, Flying Fortresses and Liberators of Lieutenant General George C. Kenney's 5th Air Force pounded the Japanese airfields at Rabaul, New Britain, in five separate sorties through the night of June 29 and the morning of the 30th while strong units of Mitchell medium bombers blasted enemy installations around Salamaua.

The only Japanese reply reported to Allied forward moves was the fifty-seventh raid on Darwin, Australia, early yesterday morning. Twenty-seven bombers and from fifteen to twenty-one Zeros gave the base one of the heaviest poundings in many months. Six of the bombers and two fighters were shot down. Seven other enemy planes were damaged. Six of the Allies intercepting Spitfires were lost.

In the raid on Rabaul, which now has been pounded with 200 tons of bombs since June 10, nearly twenty-three tons were dropped on the Vunakanau and Lakunai airdromes. One resulting fire could be seen for 100 miles.

On the opposite end of New Britain three 1,000-ton Japanese cargo ships were caught in Dampier Strait by a single four-engined Allied bomber, which left one sinking. Another was so heavily damaged that she appeared to have been deserted.

The communique reported, without specifying the time, that a medium American cargo ship had been sunk and a smaller vessel damaged by torpedo attacks, presumably Japanese submarines, off the east coast of Australia.

Salamaua, near which new landings were reported, is on the Huon Gulf of New Guinea in an area toward which jungle fighters have been infiltrating from the south to a point within twelve miles of that base, at Mubo.

Salamaua and Lae, also on the Huon Gulf, are important Japanese air bases whose fall would put the Allies on the coast looking directly across Dampier Strait at enemy holdings on New Britain.

The beachheads established on the New Georgia group are within artillery range of the Japanese air base at Munda.

RABAUL IS SEEN AS OBJECTIVE OF NEW OFFENSIVE

Big Jap Base on New Britain Is Center of Jap Defenses in S. Pacific.

BATTLES SPREADING

Land, Naval and Air Forces Taking Part in Long-Awaited Drive.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—(AP) A great pincers movement designed to liquidate the Japanese in a vital area of the southwest Pacific was in progress tonight.

The outlines of the master strategic plan began to take shape as follows:

1. The headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur announced that the Allies have occupied Trobriand and Woodlark islands off the southeastern tip of New Guinea, and have landed near Salamaua,

JUL - 1 1943

1943

Japanese stronghold on the east coast of New Guinea. They are engaging Japanese forces near Salamaua and the whole action by land, naval and air forces is under the personal direction of General MacArthur.

Land on Rendova Island

2. The Navy department at Washington disclosed that American forces have landed on Rendova island in the enemy held central Solomons—some 400-500 miles east of New Guinea. The MacArthur communique announced extension of that action to the neighboring and larger New Georgia island, where American forces have landed and come to grips with the enemy.

Though the objectives of the far-flung attacks were of course not stated, they appeared pointed toward Rabaul on New Britain, which lies northeast of Salamaua and is the center of the whole Japanese defense positions in the south and southwest Pacific areas.

The aim would seem to be to drive on Rabaul from the southwest and southeast. If the campaign, which seemed to be a fully prepared general offensive involving all Allied forces in this general area succeeds, the Japanese defenses in a large section of the Pacific may be expected to collapse.

The enemy then undoubtedly would have to fall back on his great naval bastion of Truk, roughly a 1,000 miles to the north. But Truk too would then be in danger, as well as the supply lines through the China sea between Japan and the lands the Japanese have conquered in the southwest Pacific.

The word of the landing on Rendova was the first to be given to the world.

A 22-word navy communique reported the immensely important operation, which by some standards shaped up as the first thoroughly offensive campaign of the war against Japan. The communique said:

"On June 30, during the early morning, combined U. S. forces landed on Rendova island, New Georgia group. No details have been received."

The timing indicated that the action started about noon, June 29, Washington time. The Solomons are in an east longitude time zone, and run about 15 hours ahead of eastern war time.

Heavy Fighting Seen

Because of scanty official information it was not known whether the enemy had opposed the landings or engaged American troops as they drove into the island from the black sand beaches. But authorities considered it certain that heavy fighting would develop since the Japanese hold many strongly garrisoned positions in that section, about 2170 nautical miles northwest of Guadalcanal airfield.

The reaction of the Japanese fleet and air force was also regarded as a question of importance. The enemy used both ships and planes prodigally in futile efforts to defend Guadalcanal against American conquest. Similarly costly activities on his part in the defense of the central Solomons would further sharply reduce his sea and air striking power.

This in turn would make easier the job of pushing north and west from the central Solomons in the direction of Bougainville island and beyond that toward the main Japanese base at Rabaul on New Britain island.

Conquest of Rabaul would knock the keystone from the Japanese defense arch in the South Pacific and threaten both the enemy naval base at Truk and the supply lines through the China sea between Japan and the rich, conquered territories in the southwest Pacific.

Progress beyond the first step which now has been taken, may be relatively slow and expensive, requiring months to complete. The development of future moves will undoubtedly be modified by the Japanese reaction to Rendova, since the American high command normally employs a fluid strategy.

Munda Blasted

On the point that the thrust into Rendova marks the beginning of the big offensive, there was general agreement. The strategic location of the island is cited in this connection. American bombers have rendered Munda and nearby Vila virtually useless for the enemy's sea and air forces and little need was seen here to take Rendova merely as a means of outflanking them for defensive purposes.

In American hands, the Munda area would possess considerable value for offensive actions. It is only 360 nautical miles from Rabaul and about 125 miles from the Shortland island area, which embraces the well defended southeastern end of Bougainville island. American planes operating from Munda could furnish air cover for attacks anywhere in those regions.

Thus Halsey's South Pacific fighters appear to be advancing toward Rabaul along one arm of a pincers. The other arm stems northeastward from New Guinea in the command area of General Douglas MacArthur.

In an attack on Rabaul MacArthur and Halsey could join forces and plans for a junction probably were made several weeks ago when they conferred in the southwest Pacific.

Washington, June 30 (A. P.).—The strategic intent of the American move onto Rendova Island, except for its generally offensive nature in advancing American positions in the Solomons 110 miles northwest of the outpost in the Russell Islands, is not fully apparent.

Five Miles From Munda.

Rendova's most obvious military characteristic is that it lies only about five miles south of Munda where the Japanese late last year developed an air base. However, at the time the base was nearing completion it was brought under heavy American bombardment and has been regularly assaulted from the air since then so that Navy spokesmen have recently reported it was virtually useless to the enemy.

The American aim could be to take Munda for further Allied operations against either Bougainville, the main enemy-held island in the northwestern Solomons or against Rabaul which lies still further to the west.

Another possibility speculated on here was that the move against Rendova may have been of a screening or diversionary nature to obscure more important thrusts elsewhere. Still another possibility is that the High Command might be testing the extent of Japanese will to resist in the Solomons area. The Japanese fought furiously and lost heavily in their efforts to recapture Guadalcanal. Any American advance which forced them to undertake similar defensive and costly action would be profitable from the American point of view.

This is the second advance in the Solomons chain since American troops went into Guadalcanal last August 7. About the time the conquest of Guadalcanal in the southeastern Solomons was completed on February 9 of this year, American forces occupied without opposition the Russell Islands lying sixty miles northwest of Guadalcanal airfield.

The last previous American advance against Japan was begun on May 11 when United States Army forces moved into Attu Island at the western tip of the Aleutians chain in the North Pacific. Attu was mopped up in three weeks of constant fighting under conditions of terrible cold, snow and fog. Prior to the Attu campaign the Navy had announced the occupation of Funafuti in the Ellice Islands in the south central Pacific.

Rendova has figured only once before in Navy communiques. Last March a war bulletin reported that on March 27 American planes had bombed and strafed Japanese positions at Ugali on the northeast coast of Rendova, destroying one building and setting another afire. This was the only public information available here today as to the enemy installations on the island.

The fact that the landing was made in early morning indicated that American forces had approached the wooded volcanic and mountainous island under cover of darkness with the objective of attacking with complete surprise and there was some belief in authoritative quarters here that this surprise had been effective.

INVASION NEAR, CHURCHILL SAYS

JUL -1 1943

Prime Minister Sees Offensive Before Autumn; Sees U-Boats Curbed.

E. C. DANIEL

LONDON, June 30.—(AP) In a buoyant and cheering speech, Prime Minister Churchill today forecast thrusts this summer in the Mediterranean "and elsewhere," triumphantly reported a toll of 30-odd U-boats in May alone, and warned the Germans of an air offensive of ever greater wrath and destruction.

"Very probably there will be heavy fighting in the Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of Autumn fall," Britain's war leader and master phrase-maker told a victory-minded assembly in London's blitz-blackened Guildhall.

Churchill delivered a confident war review there after receiving the ancient capital's highest token of acclaim—the freedom of the city—and after a tour through streets of cheering citizens and soldiers of Allied nations.

And Churchill concerned himself earnestly with the Allied unity, declaring that upon British-American cooperation "depends more than upon any other factor the immediate future of the world," that "acting together we can help all nations safely into harbor and that if we divide all will toss and drift for a long time on dark and stormy seas."

Axis Must Surrender

His war analysis repeated the Allied demand for "unconditional surrender" of "the Nazi, Fascist and Japanese tyrannies," and again the prime minister promised that, should Japan still stand when Germany and Italy are toppled, "every man, every ship and every airplane in the King's service that can be moved to the Pacific" will be sent there to fight "as many years as are needed to make the Japanese in their turn submit or bite the dust."

Of invasion, he spoke only of the prediction of probable heavy fighting.

Of the submarine war, he declared that in May the Nazis made a determined effort to halt the Allied convoy bridge from the United States to Britain, but that this vital battle "ended in the total defeat of the U-boat attack."

"More than 30 U-boats were certainly destroyed in May," and since mid-May "scarcely a single merchant ship has been sunk in the whole of the North Atlantic," Churchill announced.

Because of this "we have had in June the best month we have ever known" in the war, he said, and shipyards of the United States, Britain and Canada have produced between "seven and 10 times as much as our losses from enemy action in the month of June."

"Bad patches" might still lie ahead, and "we must redouble our efforts and ingenuity" against submarines, he cautioned but—since U-boat warfare is held out to the Germans as their last great hope—these successes are bringing the Nazis "a somewhat raw and bleak outlook."

As to the air, Churchill disclosed that the R.A.F. alone has dropped 52,500 tons of bombs upon Germany in the first half of 1943, or 35 times the weight dropped by the Nazis upon Britain in the same period.

Promises More Bombs

"During the Summer our main attack has been upon the mainspring of German war industry — in the Ruhr—but as the nights become longer and as the United States Air Force becomes more numerous our strong arms will lengthen both by night and by day and there is no industrial or military target in Germany that will not receive as we deem necessary the utmost application of exterminating force," he declared.

Churchill praised the daylight blows by the U. S. Air Force as inflicting "grave injury on the sensitive nerve center" of German war production, and said the Allied attacks would follow German industry to small towns as big ones are "disposed of."

Russia "presently will contribute an additional quota to the total blitz," he added.

Warns Italy

Of Mussolini—who was urged earlier today by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in a speech in Commons to "accept the unconditional surrender terms offered to him"—Churchill said he and his people are suffering from the war of nerves.

"So far they have only been subjected to preliminary and discursive bombardments, but they already are speculating feverishly where the blow will fall and what will be its weight," he remarked.

The Allies do not intend to "relieve that anxiety" for Mussolini or for Hitler, whose worries over Allied invasion plans "may perhaps have led to the remarkable long delay of the opening of the promised German offensive against Russia," Churchill added.

Their anxieties "will grow from week to week and from month to month," he continued. He warned peoples of Allied nations against over-confidence, stressing the enormous difficulties of amphibious warfare.

Allied cooperation in war and in peace was emphasized by the prime minister.

He spoke of "the great republic of the United States whose power arouses no fear and whose preeminence excites no jealousy in British bosoms," adding:

"Upon the association and intimate alignment of the policy of the United States and the British commonwealth and empire depends more than upon any other factor the immediate future of the world.

"If they walk or, if need be, march together in harmony and in accordance with the moral and political conceptions to which the English-speaking peoples have given birth and which are frequently referred to in the Atlantic Charter, all will be well. If they fall apart and wander astray from the lines of their destiny there will be no end or measure to the miseries and confusion which would mark modern civilization."

Hails Unity With U. S.

Churchill told of friendship for Russia, of great hopes for China's future and of a revival of the "true greatness of France," in declaring that the United States and Britain must act together to secure peace and safety.

Expressing pride in the empire, Churchill declared "we seek no profit, we want no territory or aggrandizement. We expect no reward and we will accept no compromise." The empire is united, he said, adding he was "not at all ashamed of the word empire."

The prime minister defined conditional surrender to mean that the whole power of the Axis to resist "must be completely broken and that they must yield themselves absolutely to our justice and mercy. It also means that we must take all those far-sighted measures which are necessary to prevent the world from being again convulsed and wrecked and blackened by their calculated blows and ferocious aggression."

Churchill was roundly cheered both on his way to the Guildhall in a horse-drawn carriage, and when he entered the hall which had been fired by Nazi bombs in December, 1940. He received the tribute of the freedom of the city—represented by a plaque in a casket made from English oak saved from part of the hall's burned roof—from the lord mayor, Sir Samuel Joseph.

The lord mayor was robed in gold and black and the aldermen wore red, black, and ermined-lined robes. Churchill wore morning clothes. His wife and two daughters accompanied him, the latter in uniforms.

The Guildhall was crowded with celebrities, including Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, new viceroy of India.

Fighting Forecast In Mediterranean And Elsewhere

JUL -1 1943

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 30.—Prime Minister Churchill in a firm, confident speech declared today that "it is very probable there will be heavy fighting in the Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of autumn fall."

The Prime Minister promised the Germans that the mighty arms of the British and American Air Forces "will lengthen by night and by day," seeking out more industrial and military targets with "exterminating force," and when the major cities of Germany are disposed of "we will follow the war industry of the Reich to the smaller towns."

In the sea war, he disclosed that more than 30 submarines were certainly destroyed in May and that the destruction continues, with June "the best month we have ever known in the war."

Mr. Churchill said that Italy, as yet subjected only to "preliminary and discursive bombardments," already is wondering where the blow of invasion will fall, while Hitler's worry over those Allied plans for assault "may have led to the remarkable long delay of opening the promised German offensive Russia."

JUL -1 1943 ✓

1943

30,24—5525

"It is no part of our int relieve that anxiety," he rema

Speaks at Guildhall.

The Prime Minister spoke at the fire-blackened Guildhall in the heart of London after a ceremony at which he was honored with the "Freedom of the City of London" as the climax to a colorful parade through crowded streets.

He announced again that the Allies "demand from the Nazis and Fascists and Japanese tyrants unconditional surrender."

"By that, we mean that their willpower to resist must be completely broken and that they must yield themselves absolutely to our justice and mercy."

He said it also means that "We must take all those far-sighted measures which are necessary to prevent the world from again becoming convulsed, wrecked and blackened by their calculated blows and ferocious aggression.

Then he declared:

"Every man, every ship and every airplane in the King's service that can be moved to the Pacific will be sent there * * * for as many years as are needed to make the Japanese in their turn submit, or bite the dust."

JUL -1 1943

Warns of Hard Fight.

Though confidently predicting final triumph, Mr. Churchill, in a luncheon at the Lord Mayor's Mansion House later, said that "survival and victory are well within our grasp but hard and painful may be the process by which we shall arrive at a satisfactory conclusion."

Detailing the tremendous air punishment heaped on Germany, Mr. Churchill in his Guildhall speech disclosed the RAF alone in the first six months of this year has dropped 52,500 tons of bombs on Germany. He added that "in the whole first half of this year the enemy has discharged no more than 1,500 tons of bombs at a cost of 245 planes."

Referring to Russia, he said "never was there such a case of the biter bitten." He predicted that the weight of the Russian air attack would "presently contribute an additional quota to the total blitz."

He said that shipbuilding in the United States and Canada had reached a stage where the output of new ships "is somewhere between seven and ten times as much as our losses from enemy action in June."

The Prime Minister said that since the middle of May scarcely a single merchant ship had been sunk in the whole of the North Atlantic.

Battle of Ruhr to Spread Soon.

Standing in the glow of flickering arc lamps and in the center of a panoply of gold, blue and black robes, Mr. Churchill told his cheering listeners that the battle of the Ruhr soon would be spreading over all Germany.

"As the nights become longer and the United States Air Force becomes more numerous our strong arms will lengthen both by night and by day and there is no industry or military target in Germany that will not receive as we deem necessary the utmost application of the exterminating force.

"I have never indulged in shallow, fugitive optimism but I have thought it right to make this statement because I am sure it will not lead to the slightest complacency or relaxation of that awful force which now is being brought into action.

"This force will be remorselessly applied to the guilty nations and their wicked leaders who imagined their superiority of airpower would enable them to terrorize and subjugate first all Europe and afterwards the world."

In a speech the length and vigor of which surprised most every one on such a formal occasion, Mr. Churchill declared that "upon the association and intimate alignment policy" of the United States and Britain "depends more than upon any other factor the immediate future of the world."

Referring to the close association of the two countries, he said that the great power of the United States "aroused no fear" and its "pre-eminence excites no jealousy in British bosoms."

With thousands of admirers who seldom get a chance to cheer him in person lining the streets, Mr. Churchill was driven from the edge of the city of London to the Guildhall in one of the Lord Mayor's horse-drawn open carriages.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Churchill and their daughters, Sarah and Mary, both in military uniform.

The parade route was kept secret until a short time before the ceremony when street corner loudspeakers assembled the throngs.

The colorful procession went from Fleet Street up Ludgate Hill, reminiscent of historic celebrations honoring many of Britain's conquering heroes.

The cheering crowds soon aroused the famous Churchill smile.

A group of American soldiers snapped to attention as the carriage passed.

On arrival at the Guildhall—its walls still blackened from the Nazi fire raid of December, 1940—Mrs. Churchill inspected the guard of honor and then went inside to receive the tumultuous welcome of guests already assembled. A big cheer also was given Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, newly appointed Viceroy of India.

The freedom of the city was represented by a plaque encased in a casket made from English oak salvaged from a burned portion of the roof of the Guildhall.

Mr. Churchill received the honor from Sir Samuel Joseph, the lord mayor, robed in traditional gold and black. Seated around him were the aldermen wearing red, black and ermine-lined robes.

A clerk reading the order directing the presentation used the ancient formula, declaring that Mr. Churchill "did not desire the freedom of the city so that he might defraud the King."

JUL -1 1943

LONDON, June 30 (AP).—Following is the text of Prime Minister Churchill's speech today at the Guildhall banquet:

I am deeply grateful for the kindness with which I have been treated, not only here today on this to me outstanding occasion, but in the whole discharge of my responsibilities.

The strain of protracted war is hard and severe upon men at executive summit of great countries, however lightly care may seem to sit upon them. They have need of all the help and comfort their fellow workmen can give. I feel myself buoyed up by your good will here today and indeed I have felt uplifted through all these years by the consideration with which the British people have treated me even when serious mistakes have been made.

Always they have given a generous measure of trust and friendship and I have never felt hustled or barracked or rocketted in any of the decisions it is my duty to take in conjunction with my colleagues or in regard to the matters it is my task to submit to Parliament.

There is no doubt that this consideration shown to their leader by the British people, though far above his deserts, is a very real and practical help in the conduct of the war. It gives me confidence to go on.

People Truly United

Of all the wars we have ever waged in the long continuity of our history, there has never been one which more truly united the entire British people and the British races throughout the world than this present fearful struggle for the freedom and progress of mankind.

We entered it of our own free will without being directly assaulted. We entered it upon a conviction of purpose which was clearly comprehended by all classes and parties and by the whole mass of the people and we have persevered together through good and evil fortune without the slightest weakening of our will power or division of our strength.

We entered it ill prepared and almost unarmed. We entered it without counting the cost and upon a single stupendous impulse at the call of honor. We strove long, too long, for peace and suffered thereby, but from the moment when we gave our guaranty that we would not stand by idly and see Poland trampled down by domination we have never looked back, never flagged, never doubted, never flinched. We were sure of our duty and we have discharged and will discharge it without swerving or slackening to the end.

"We Seek No Profit"

We seek no profit, we want no territory or aggrandizement. We expect no reward and we will accept no compromise. It is on that footing that we wish to be judged, first in our own consciences and afterward by posterity.

It is even more remarkable that the unity which has existed and endured in this small, densely populated island should have extended with equal alacrity and steadfastness to all parts of our worldwide commonwealth and empire. Some people like the word commonwealth. Others, and I am one of them, are not at all ashamed of the word empire. But why should we not have both?

Wars come with great suddenness, and many of the deep, slow courses which lead to the explosion are often hidden from or only dimly comprehended by the masses of people even in the regions most directly affected. Time, distance, the decorum of diplomacy and a legitimate desire to preserve peace all impose their restraint upon public discussion and upon prior arrangement. Therefore I think the expression British Commonwealth and Empire may well be found the most convenient means to describe this unique association of races which was built up partly by conquest, largely by consent, but mostly unconsciously and without design, within all the embracing golden circle of the crown.

Dominions Not Obligated

The British people, taught by lessons they have learned in the past, have found the means to attach to the motherland vast self-governing dominions upon whom there rests no obligation other than that of sentiment and tradition to plunge into war by the side of the motherland. None of these dominions except Southern Ireland, which does not in its present dispensation accept dominion status, has ever failed to respond.

It is an overpowering influence and impulse that makes Canada and Australia, that makes New Zealanders and South Africans send their manhood across the ocean to fight and die. In each one of these countries with its long and varied history behind it this extraordinary spectacle is an outstanding example of the triumph of mind over matter and of the human heart over shortsighted self-interest.

In the vast subcontinent of India, which we trust will presently find full satisfaction within the British Commonwealth of Nations, martial races and many others have thronged to the imperial standard. More than 2,000,000 have joined the armed forces and have distinguished themselves in many cases during the fiercest conflicts with the Germans, Italians and Japanese. All the great countries engaged in this war count their armies by the millions but the Indian Army has a peculiar characteristic not found in the armies of Britain or the United States or Russia or France or in the armies of our foes in that it is entirely composed of volunteers. Not one has been conscripted or compelled.

Cites Colonial Volunteers

The same thing is broadly true throughout the great colonial empire. Many scores of thousands of troops from the immense tropical spaces or drawn from lonely islands nursed by the waves have come overseas. Many volunteers there were for whom we could not find arms. Many there are for whom we can not find opportunity. But I say that the universal ardor of our colonial empire to join in this awful conflict and continue in high temper through all its ups and downs is the first answer that I would make to those ignorant, envious voices who call into question the greatness of the work we are doing throughout the world and which we shall continue to do.

The time came when this loosely and variously knitted world-spread association, where so much was left unwritten and undefined, was confronted with the most searching test of all. The mother country, home of kingship, this famous island, seemed to enter the very jaws of death and destruction. Three years ago, all over the world, friend and foe alike, every one who had not an eye of faith might well have deemed our speedy ruin was at hand. Against the triumphant might of Hitler with the greedy Italian at his tail we stood alone with resources so slender that one shudders to enumerate them even now.

Then surely was the moment for the empire to break up, for each of its widely dispersed communities to seek safety on the winning side, for those who thought themselves oppressed to throw off their yoke and make better terms betimes with the conquering Nazi and Fascist power. Then was the time.

Bonds of Freedom

But what happened? It was proved that the bonds which unite us, though supple and elastic, are stronger than the tensest steel. It was proved that they were bonds of the free and thus could rise superior alike to the most tempting allurements of surrender and the harshest threat of doom.

In that dark, terrific and also glorious hour we received from all parts of his majesty's dominions, from the greatest to the smallest, from the strongest and from the weakest, from the most modern and the most simple, assurances that we would all go down or come through together.

You will forgive me if on this occasion to me so memorable here in the heart of mighty London I rejoice in the soundness of our institutions and proclaim my faith in our destiny.

But now I must speak of the great Republic of the United States, whose power arouses no fear and whose pre-eminence excites no jealousy in British bosoms.

Upon the association and intimate alignment of the policy of the United States and the British Commonwealth and Empire States, whose power arouses no other factor the immediate future of the world. If they walk or, if need be, march together in harmony and in accordance with the moral and political conceptions to which the English-speaking peoples have given birth and which are frequently referred to in the Atlantic Charter, all will be well. If they fall apart and wander astray from the lines of their destiny there will be no end or measure to the miseries and confusion which would mark modern civilization.

Seek No Selfish Combination

This is no rhetorical extravagance in genial sentiment for a festive occasion; it is hard, cold, vindictive truth. Yet there are many light and wayward spirits in both our countries who show themselves by word and action unmindful of this fundamental fact. It is a fact in no way derogatory to the mighty nation now fighting by our side or to any nation great or small making its way through the perils of the present age.

We seek no narrow or selfish combination. We presume not at all upon the lawful interests and characteristics of any ally or friendly state. We nourish the warmest feelings of fellowship toward the valiant Russian people, with whom we have made a twenty years' treaty of friendship and mutual aid. We foresee an expanding future for the long-enduring Republic of China. We look forward to a revival of the unity and true greatness of France. We have the loyal and faithful comradeship of all.

Nevertheless the tremendous and awe-inspiring fact stares the British and American democracies between the eyes that acting together we can help all nations safely into harbor and that if we divide, all will toss and drift for a long time on dark and stormy seas.

London's Resistance Praised

It is fitting in a singular manner to speak upon this theme of the fraternal association of Britain and the United States here amid the proud monuments and prouder ruins of the City of London, because nothing ever made warmer the feeling between the British and American peoples than the unflinching resistance of London to the formidable and prolonged assault of the enemy.

You have given me this casket which contains my title as freeman of the City of London. I have not always been wrong about the future of events and if you will permit me I shall inscribe some of these words within it as my testimony, because [illegible] would like to be held accountable for them in the years which I shall not see, the phrase: "London can take it."

And the proof of it that was given stirred every generous heart in the United States, and their illustrious chief, watching the whole scene of the world with eyes of experience and conviction, sustained by the Congress of the United States, came to our aid with the famous lend-lease act in the manner most serviceable to the great causes which were at stake.

Won U. S. Sympathy

There is no doubt that the sympathy of the United States for the cause of freedom and its thorough detestation of the Nazi creed and all the menace that it bears to American institutions had drawn the United States near the edge of the conflict when the foul Jap saw his chance to make his bid for Asiatic domination by striking his blow at Pearl Harbor.

JUL -1 1943

1943

Since then we and the Americans have waged war, sharing alike, taking the rough with the smooth, not as one people but certainly as though we were one army, one navy and one air force. So we shall continue like brothers, certainly until unconditional surrender and until our goals have been achieved and I trust until after all due measure has been taken so as to secure our safety in future years, safety from ill usage.

Should Hitler's Germany and Mussolini's Italy collapse under the flail of Soviet Russia and the not inconsiderable exertions of the British and American Armies in the Mediterranean and elsewhere, and should the war industries of Germany be blasted out of existence by British and American air power; should this victory be achieved before Japan has been laid low, I stand here to tell you today, as I told the Congress of the United States in your name, every man, every ship and every airplane in the King's service that can be moved to the Pacific will be sent and there maintained in action by the people of the British Commonwealth and Empire in priorities for as many years as are needed to make the Japanese in their turn submit or bite the dust.

Reviews Domestic Affairs

I will turn for the moment on this occasion from world events to our domestic affairs. Here it may justly be said that our slowly wrought British institutions have proved themselves even better adapted to this crisis than any we have known in the past. His Majesty has a national government composed of leading men of all parties officially authorized by their parties to serve the state and only the state at the present juncture.

On the home front I submit with diffidence and confidence that in the important spheres of finance, labor, agriculture and food and several others I can mention, efficient, vigorous and successful administration has been provided. This will bear comparison with what happened not only in the last war—which we also won—but has not been outclassed by what is happening in any other country or under any other system, democratic or totalitarian.

Our vast and influential newspaper press has known how to combine independence and liveliness with discretion and patriotism.

I rejoice that both houses of Parliament have preserved even in our most bitter period full authority and freedom. As an old House of Commons man I would add that if I am here today to receive as Prime Minister the honors which you pay me it is because and only because of the resolute, overwhelming and unwearying support I have received from the most famous and most vital of all parliamentary assemblies.

JUL -1 1943

Lauds Service by Monarchy

Of all our institutions there is none which has served us better in the hour of need than our ancient monarchy. All that we have is centered upon and embodied by the King and Queen, most dearly beloved and honored by all the country. We all welcome back here our gracious and gallant King from his visit to the victorious army in Africa. None rejoices on his return with more fervor than his minister who took the responsibility for advising him not to restrain his royal pleasure in a journey of this peculiar character.

The general progress of war is satisfactory. Two great battles were won by the Allies. Every one has heard of the Battle in Tunisia when 350,000 Germans or Italians were made captive or slain and of the immense quantities of war material and shipping which were captured or destroyed. We have rejoiced soberly but all the more profoundly at this signal military episode, which ranks with the magnificent Russian victory at Stalingrad and which takes its place in Britain with her most famous victories.

There was another, a no less notable battle which was fought in May in the Atlantic against U-boats. In May the German Admiralty made extreme exertions to prevent the movement to Great Britain of the enormous convoys of food and materials which are continuously received from the United States and which we must bring in safely if our war-making capacity is to be maintained. Long lines of U-boats were spread to meet these convoys and fifteen or twenty U-boats were concentrated in each attack.

To meet this the British and American and Canadian forces of the sea and air hurled their strength at the U-boats. The fighting took place mainly around the convoys and also over a wide expanse of ocean. It ended in the total defeat of the U-boat attack. More than thirty U-boats were certainly destroyed in the month of May, floundering in many cases with their crews in the dark depths of the sea. Staggered by these deadly losses the U-boats have recoiled to lick their wounds and mourn their dead.

Now as a result of the May victory and massacre of U-boats we have had in June the best month we have ever known in the whole forty-six of the war. The prodigious shipbuilding exertions of the United States and the considerable contribution of Britain and also Canada have produced an output of new ships which is somewhere between seven and ten times as much as our losses from enemy action in the month of June.

Since the middle of May scarcely a single merchant ship has been sunk in the whole of the North Atlantic. In June, also, although the convoys are not being seriously attacked at the present time, U-boat losses have been most solid and encouraging.

I give these facts purposely in a form which conveys the truth without giving precise or detailed information to circles wider than those with which we ourselves are concerned. There are two conclusions to be drawn from them. The first is that we must not assume that this great improvement will be maintained or that bad patches do not lie ahead. The second is that, although encouraged by the growing success of our methods, we must redouble our efforts and ingenuity.

Recalls Hitler's Air Boast

The disasters of the U-boats in May and June have a bearing on another phase of our offensive war. These two months have seen the heaviest discharge of bombs on the munitions and industrial war centers of Germany. Three years ago Hitler boasted he would rub out the cities of Britain. Certainly in the nine months before he abandoned his attack we suffered very heavy damage to our buildings and grievous hindrance to our life and work. More than 40,000 of our people were killed and 120,000 wounded. But now those who sowed the wind harvest the whirlwind.

In the first half of this year the R. A. F. alone has cast on Germany thirty-five times the tonnage of bombs which in that same six months of this year has been discharged on this island. In one single night—nay in one single hour—we had cast on Duesseldorf 2,000 tons of terrible explosive and incendiary bombs for a loss of thirty-eight aircraft, while in the whole first half of this same year the enemy had discharged on us no more than 1,500 tons of bombs at a cost of 245 aircraft.

In addition to this the United States air fleet in this country, already so powerful and growing with extreme rapidity, has by precision daylight bombing inflicted grave injury upon the most sensitive nerve center of the enemy's war production and American crews and pilots are continually performing feats of arms of the highest skill with dauntless audacity and devotion.

Vaster Raids Pledged

All these facts and tendencies, by no means unfavorable in their general character, must stimulate our joint exertion in the most intense degree and on an even vaster scale.

I have never indulged in shallow and fugitive optimism, but I have thought it right to make this statement because I am sure it will not lead to the slightest complacency or relaxation of the awful force which is now being brought into action.

This force will be remorselessly applied to the guilty nations and their wicked leaders who imagined that their superiority of air power would enable them to terrorize and subjugate first all of Europe and afterward the world. They will be applied and never was there such a case of the biter bitten.

During the summer our main attack has been upon the mainspring of German war industry —in the Ruhr—but as the nights become longer and as the United States air force becomes more numerous our strong arms will lengthen both by night and by day and there is no industrial or military target in Germany that will not receive as we deem necessary the utmost application of exterminating force. The war industry of Germany has already to some extent been dispersed in numerous smaller towns. When the cities are disposed of we will follow it there.

Presently the weight of the Russian air attack, now mainly absorbed by their long front line, will contribute an additional quota to the total blitz.

This is, I can quite well believe, the somber prospect for the German people and one which Doctor Goebbels certainly is justified in painting in the darkest hue.

But when we remind ourselves of the frightful tyrannies and cruelties with which the German armies, their gauleiters and subordinate tormentors are now afflicting almost all Europe; when we read of mass executions of Poles, Norwegians, Dutchmen, Czechoslovakians, Frenchmen, Yugoslavs and Greeks; when we see these ancient and honored countries of whose deeds and traditions Europe is heir, when we see them under this merciless alien yoke and when we see their patriots fighting with fierce desperation, we may feel sure we bear the sword of justice and we resolve to use that sword with the utmost severity to the fullest and to the end.

It is at this point that the heavy defeats recently sustained by the U-boats play their part in the general attack upon German morale. Apart from mysterious promises of revenge, one hope which Doctor Goebbels holds out to the German people is that though they suffer the extreme tribulation of air bombing, the U-boats on the ocean are inflicting equal or even more deadly injuries upon the British and American power to wage war. When that hope dies—and die it will—it will appear to the most dispassionate observer that a somewhat raw and bleak outlook is beginning to open itself before Hitler's accomplices and dupes. We must allow these corrective processes to take their course.

Cautions Against Overoptimism

Meantime, this is not a time for us to indulge in sanguine predictions. Rather should we remind ourselves of St. Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians: "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." I may, therefore, say that our affairs are in considerably better posture than they were some time ago, and that we intend to remain steadfast and unwearying in doing our duty and our best, whatever may betide.

I have still to speak of the war in the Mediterranean, about which there is so much talk at the present time. Mussolini's Italian Fascists, who are after all only a small privileged proportion of the real Italian nation, seem to be suffering from the war of nerves of which they and their German masters made so much use in former times. So far they have only been subjected to preliminary and discursive bombardments, but they already are speculating feverishly where the blow will fall and what will be its weight.

It is no part of our interest to relieve that anxiety. They may remember how they themselves struck at the Turks in Tripoli, at Abyssinia and Albania and how they fell upon the Greeks and set out to conquer Egypt. And they may look back regretfully to the day when they used to disturb the peace of the world and when it rested with them which weaker community could be struck down first. I can do nothing to help them resolve their fears, which, communicated to their allies, may perhaps have led to the remarkably long delay of the opening of the promised German offensive against Russia.

Heavy Fighting Before Fall

But I have some words of caution to say to our own people. First of all, great military operations are dominated by the risks and turns of the future. I know of no certainty in war and that is particularly true of amphibious war. Therefore any mood of overconfidence should be severely repressed.

Another point which should be comprehended is that all large and amphibious operations, especially if they require the co-operation of two or more countries, require long months of organization with refinements and complexities hitherto unknown. In war all impulses, impatient desires and sudden flashes of military instinct can not hasten the course of events.

I can not go further today than to say this—very probably there will be heavy fighting in the Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of autumn fall. For the rest we must leave the unhappy Italians and their German tempters and taskmasters anxieties which will grow from week to week and from month to month.

This, however, I will add. We United Nations demand from the Nazi, Fascist and Japanese tyrannies unconditional surrender. By that we mean that their whole power to resist must be completely broken and that they must yield themselves absolutely to our justice and mercy. It also means that we must take all those far-sighted measures which are necessary to prevent the world from being again convulsed and wrecked and blackened by their calculated blows and ferocious aggression.

It does not mean and it never can mean that we are to stain our victorious arms by inhumanity or by mere lust and vengeance or that we do not plan a world in which all branches of the human family may look forward to what the American Constitution finely calls "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

JUL -1 1943

CHURCHILL SLIPS ON U. S. HISTORY

London, June 30 (A. P.).—Prime Minister Churchill stubbed his toe over a point of American history in the very last sentence of the speech at the Guildhall today.

He ended with a reference "to what the American Constitution finely calls 'Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.'"

These words are from the Declaration of Independence, not the Constitution. One of Mr. Churchill's secretaries later termed the error "an oversight."

Nazi Commentators Stress Fate in Defeat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Berlin radio in a commentary mentioning Prime Minister Churchill's address yesterday declared that it was not fear, but full realization of the fate in store for the Axis powers in the event of their defeat, that "is raising to the utmost the will to resist and the will to win in the Axis countries."

"The Allies often enough have proclaimed what they plan to do to Germany in the event of an Allied victory," the broadcast asserted. "The fate of the Axis powers would be sure destruction."

The Nazi announcer said Mr. Churchill "maintained a complete silence about the great differences and tensions prevailing between various Allied nations," and continued:

"His statement that here was no jealousy between Britain and the United States was more than will be swallowed by competent observers. It was pointed out in Berlin political circles that unity amongst the so-called Allied nations was only to be brought about if the Anglo-Saxons gave in to Moscow's demands. This, of course, would mean subjugation of small nations to the Bolshevist regime.

"Germany and her allies are fully realizing the significance of the present situation. The Wilhelmstrasse in this connection points out that the war can never be more terrible than the fate threatening the conquered nations."

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5527

German war effort.

The German-controlled Vichy radio giving its version of the raid, said a town in northern France had been bombed during the night by Allied planes and reported that at least forty persons had been killed. The broadcast did not identify the town by name. Later the Nazi-operated Paris radio reported that several neighboring villages had been hit, with some resulting casualties among the civilian population.

Meanwhile three of six enemy vessels sighted off Dunkirk during the night were damaged by R. A. F. planes which pressed in for an attack at low altitude despite what pilots referred to as "an intense barrage of flak," the Air Ministry reported today.

Pilots on the channel patrol sighted a ship of between 1,500 and 2,000 tons, a tugboat and four E-boats which apparently had just left port and were heading toward Ostend.

Two planes leading the attack dived in and raked the merchant ship and escort with cannonfire and bombs, the Ministry said. The pilots were unable to observe the effect of the attack, however, because of the intensity of the defense. Other planes dived in later and reported hits on the merchant ship, the tugboat and one of the escort craft. One of the British planes was reported missing.

Raids Setting Records.

The United States communique did not specify the hour at which the raid on Le Mans was carried out, but observers on the British east coast reported that waves of planes which they identified as Flying Fortresses were seen heading eastward across the channel at about 9 o'clock last night.

While the United States bombers were carrying the current Allied aerial offensive into its eleventh successive day Great Britain enjoyed another raid-free night. Not a single German plane has now been seen over Great Britain for five days, though an alert was sounded in London Sunday by mistake. The last German raid of any size was on June 6 when Nazi planes attacked a town on the east coast.

The magnitude of the Allied

U. S. Forts Hit French Town

Bombers Carry Out Attack on Le Mans Without Loss of a Plane.

JUL -1 1943

London, June 30 (A. P.).—Flying through a heavy overcast and encountering weak enemy fighter opposition, a strong force of American heavy bombers attacked the railway and industrial center of Le Mans, France, last evening and returned without loss. It was the first time the United States Eighth Air Force had struck at this city, site of large airplane engine works which were bombed twice in March by the R. A. F.

The communique gave no results of the American raid, apparently because a solid cloud blanket made observation difficult. Many of the big bombers returned to their bases with all bombs on their racks rather than jettison them, it was reported.

The foray was the first since May 4, when the United States flyers raided Antwerp, that the American flyers had come back across the channel without loss of a plane.

Le Mans is the site of a monument to the memory of Wilbur Wright, who with his brother Orville built and flew the first practical airplane. They made some of their first European flights in the vicinity of LeMans. Wilbur died in 1912. His brother still is living.

Thunderbolts Escort Forts.

Squadrons of Thunderbolts, the newest and most heavily gunned American fighters, escorted the formations of Flying Fortresses, which carried out the attack and shot down at least two enemy fighters, a communique from headquarters of the United States Eighth Air Force said. The Fortresses also destroyed some enemy fighters, the bulletin said, but the number was not immediately disclosed. The communique said that opposition encountered by the raiders was "not too pronounced."

Le Mans, capital of the Sarthe Department, is situated on the Sarthe River, about 130 miles southwest of Paris, and in normal times has a population of about 80,000. It is the site of chemical industries vital to the

Raid by Fortresses Caps a Month Of Record Bombing of Nazi Plants

Americans Attack Le Mans, Airplane Engine and Chemical Center—Britain Enjoys Sixth Raidless Day

JUL -1 1943

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 30—Great Britain enjoyed her sixth day without sighting an enemy plane today, while Mustangs and Typhoons shot up twenty locomotives in sweeps over Northern France to cap a record month of aerial warfare in which the Royal Air Force alone dropped at least 13,500 tons of explosives on German targets.

American Flying Fortresses struck Le Mans, France, without loss at twilight Tuesday, and the RAF damaged three of the six German ships encountered by night off Dunkerque at a cost of one plane amid an array of heartening indications of mounting Allied superiority.

Allied planes continued to attack the French coastal area tonight. A formation of fighters was seen returning to England's southeast coast at a height of 20,000 feet after a number of heavy explosions had been heard for some time across Dover Strait.

Many of the Fortresses that flew to Le Mans, an airplane engine and chemical center 130 miles southwest of Paris, returned with their dangerous bomb cargoes. This was in line with a policy of not dropping their explosives unless targets are clearly visible.

The communiqué gave no results of the American raid, apparently because cloud layers made observation difficult.

Squadrons of United States Thunderbolt fighters, accompanying the bombers, shot down at least two enemy fighters. The Fortresses also destroyed a number of them, the communiqué said.

It was the first time Le Mans had been attacked by the Americans and the first occasion since the Antwerp raid on May 4 that the Eighth Air Force emerged without loss.

A Paris radio broadcast recorded by The Associated Press said forty-six persons were killed and thirty-six injured at "a locality in Normandy," presumably a reference to Le Mans.

During June the Eighth Air Force has lost eighty-two bombers in seven expeditions, compared with sixty-two heavy and ten medium bombers in nine raids in May. In view of the much larger number of planes involved in June, however, the losses were not considered excessive.

The number of German fighters they shot down during the month probably is between 200 and 250. The Americans also have increased greatly their bomb tonnage per raid.

June operations cost the RAF 269 planes, the highest month's total of the war. It brought to 1,098 the number of British aircraft lost in six months.

Capt. Harold H. Balfour, Under-Secretary of State for Air, emphasized the magnitude of the Allied aerial offensive. He told the House of Commons today that the RAF was now dropping bombs on Germany at three times the 1942 rate.

Approximately 37,500 tons had been dropped on Germany in the three months ended June 26, compared with approximately 12,000 tons loosed in the corresponding period for 1942, he said.

The Germans highlighted their defensive status by broadcasting for home consumption a U. S. Office of War Information report that 1,100 German fighter planes and 30,000 guns had been concentrated in the Ruhr.

Large segments of this industrial heart of Germany have been ruined by the RAF, which delivered nine major attacks against the area in June. It was reliably estimated that the RAF's deluge of 12,500 tons in May had been surpassed by at least 1,000 tons.

Britain's greatest bomber force of the war struck Duesseldorf on June 11. The month also was notable for Britain's inauguration of a "shuttle service" and the first penetration by American airmen of the Ruhr. In addition, an official statement said the United States Eighth Air Force had been doubled since March and would be redoubled by October.

British "shuttle" bombers struck Friedrichshafen in southwestern Germany, landed in Africa, reloaded, and bombed the Italian naval base of Spezia en route home, all without the loss of a plane.

The American invasion of the Ruhr was an attack June 22 on a large synthetic rubber factory at Huels. It was probably one of the best bombing jobs of the war.

In its campaign against German industrial centers the RAF hit Krefeld with more than 700 bombers. It struck Muelheim, Wuppertal, Oberhausen, Bochum and Cologne twice each. Monday night's attack on Cologne made that unhappy city a close contender with Essen as "the most-bombed city in the world."

The Schneider armament works at Le Creusot, France, also was hit in the RAF's spiral of devastation.

In all these attacks the RAF probably dropped an average of 1,500 tons of bombs, nearly twenty times as much as the nightly German average attained during a ninety-day blitz on London.

The unparalleled RAF force that struck Duesseldorf devastated almost 1,500 acres of that sprawling industrial city. The Air Ministry said flatly that the city was "in ruins" after that raid.

The following night, June 12, Bochum was battered. At least 700 buildings were ruined or seriously damaged in a 130-acre area. The RAF returned June 25 to finish the job and to plaster Gelsenkirchen.

Wuppertal was turned into a flaming skeleton the night of June 24. It was believed that half of the city was flattened in that saturation raid.

Damage in the 2,000-ton raid of May 23 was even greater than was first believed. although the city was described then as probably the most damaged in Germany, the Air Ministry news service announced today.

Examination of photographs of four small but important industrial areas not covered by earlier reconnaissance showed that four more concerns of the huge Hoesch steel works were destroyed, the announcement said. Two collieries also were found to have been heavily damaged and probably put out of production, and 400 additional business houses either destroyed or damaged.

The announcement said a big synthetic oil plant was hit and, "judging from photographs, appears to be no longer working." The Hoesch steel works lost some of its large rolling mills. Numerous other buildings, including a cement works, were destroyed or damaged, the news service said.

AMERICAN RAIDS STIR GREEKS TO RESIST NAZIS

Rioting in Salonika and Athens Follows Visit by U. S. Bombers.

JUL -1 1943

GERMANS RUSH TROOPS

Rommel Reported to Command 350,000 Soldiers in Rhone Valley for Defense.

London, June 30 (A. P.).—Seething hate of Axis occupation forces was reported today to have erupted into extensive and bloody riots in Athens and other Greek cities as the ever-present threat of an Allied invasion kept tension high throughout Europe.

Turkish dispatches said the street disorders started Sunday, and a Greek source in Ankara expressed the view they undoubtedly were touched off by the heartening effect of American air raids last week on airfields near Salonika and Athens.

The Axis took quick and ruthless counter-measures against the Greek rioters, an informed Balkan source reported. Hundreds of the demonstrators were said to have been arrested and many shot down. A number of others were believed scheduled for the firing squad.

This source said the demonstrations centered in Athens and Salonika, upon which American air raiders last week showered thousands of leaflets containing an encouraging message from President Roosevelt, and in Volos and Larisa, near the east coast.

Other reports to Ankara meanwhile said the Axis was preparing for an Allied thrust into the Balkans.

A German motorized division was said to be taking up posts along the Salonika Peninsula, and a German news agency reported that the Rumanian Cabinet had decided upon partial evacuation of Bucharest as an air raid precaution. All persons who have recently moved into the capital from the provinces will be forced to leave, this report said.

New strengthening of the Axis lines was reported too in southern Italy and its adjuoining stepping stone islands of Sicily and Sardinia, as well as in France, where Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was said to have concentrated some 350,000 troops in the Rhone Valley. In a Moscow broadcast heard by the Soviet monitor, the Russian news agency Tass reported that Italy has ordered mobilization of every able-bodied resident of Sicily because of the inevitability of Allied invasion and has suspended private telephone and telegraphic communications between the mainland and Sicily and Sardinia.

Unrest in Italy.

Unrest within Italy has become prevalent, Moscow reported, declaring approximately 65,000 workers had struck at twenty-five Turin factories demanding release of Fiat factory employees arrested in March for participating in a strike. The broadcast said that troops had taken over some plants.

The Nazi-controlled Paris radio, mentioning again that there is great naval activity in the Mediterranean, said: "Nobody believes any longer that Italy will be the sole target." The Germans apparently backed this view, for Tass said that they were continuing to clear the Belgian coast of every one who might aid invasion forces.

Bern dispatches quoted Lyon

JUL -1 1943

1943

advices to the Tribune de Geneve as authority for the report that Field Marshal Rommel has taken charge of the defenses in France. Rommel was declared to be stationed at Montdore, from where he is said to set out frequently down the Rhone Valley to inspect "vast aviation fields under construction."

Artillery on Move.

In the same area, "unending lines" of artillery and tanks were reported on the move.

The Fascists, trying to step up Italy's defenses, have been forced to resort to their old-time castor oil cure, the German transocean correspondent in Rome reported in a broadcast heard by the Associated Press. A purge of the Fascist party also is wide open, he said.

"The morale of the Italian people has been strengthened after a few weeks of this action," this correspondent declared.

---

A Berlin broadcast of a Rome dispatch, recorded by the Associated Press, declared that Italian newspapers today expressed the opinion that Italy is on the eve of being invaded. The same broadcast declared that according to the general opinion in Rome neither Germany nor the Soviet Union will begin an offensive in the east, and quoted Popolo di Roma as saying:

"There's no reason for the Axis attacking the Soviet Union again, and under the prevailing conditions the Axis Powers will attain their object, namely annihilation of enemy forces, much sooner than by running after the enemy into the desert or steppe."

AXIS SAYS ALLIES MASS FOR INVASION

Still Expects Attack Saturday —Gayda Now Finds Italy Faces Brutal War

JUL -1 1943

MINES SOWN IN DENMARK

Berlin Broadcasts an Italian View That Germans Will Not Attempt Offensive in Russia

LONDON, June 30 (AP)—Invasion jitters spurred to even greater intensity by a new and heavy British volley on the nerve war front racked the bomb-buffeted peoples of Europe tonight.

Axis propaganda outlets beat a steady refrain on the time and place of the expected onslaught. The Axis propagandists, already proved wrong on their June 22 invasion forecast, stuck stubbornly to their newest prediction that Saturday would see the beginning of the Allied attack.

"The date of July 3 for invasion of Europe is considered in London to be irrevocable," said a British Ministry of Information report on a Paris broadcast. "Large formations of Canadian and American forces are massing in British ports. Indian, New Zealand and Australian forces are massed in North Africa."

Gayda Now Finds War Brutal

Added to this were fresh reports carried in the Italian press that heavy naval concentrations were steaming eastward from Gibraltar. Virginio Gayda, a Fascist party editor-spokesman, wrote that already "war has come to Italy in its most brutal form."

The Fascisti, trying to step up Italy's defenses, have been forced to resort to their old-time castor oil cure, the German Transocean correspondent in Rome reported in a broadcast heard by The Associated Press. A purge of the Fascist party also is "wide open," he said.

"The morale of the Italian people has been strengthened after a few weeks of this action," this correspondent declared.

---

A broadcast from the Algiers radio recorded by The Associated Press reported that a train had been derailed and several German soldiers killed by patriots near Marseille. Reuter heard the same radio report that as soon as the first Allied soldier set foot in France the underground army would rise so mightily that "the Germans will find that every street and house in France will then become a death trap."

The more cautious side of the Allied picture was underscored by a high British military observer, who commended to the attention of correspondents an editorial in The Daily Mail that said, "We've entered another period of too much talk." It listed recent optimistic speeches of American and British officers which it declared were vague and overly rosy.

From the Danish Council of Information came a report that the German Army in Denmark had instructed local police how to behave in the event of an Allied invasion, adding that six belts of land mines had been sown along the beaches and inland on the western coast of Jutland.

Reports from inside that occupied country said that 122 men, about half of them Danes, had been killed by the accidental explosion of mines. Danes have been asked to abandon public works projects for other work in Denmark and Germany, these reports added.

The German agency D. N. B. quoted an Italian paper as saying:

"This year, perhaps this month, the fate of Italy for coming centuries will be decided."

Threat to Allies Suggested

And the agency's military correspondent commented:

"The Anglo-American opponent, whose concentrations in the Mediterranean have increased in the last weeks, offers a very worthwhile target against which it pays to hold back our own strength at first in order to employ it at a decisive moment with maximum force."

Another radio report heard by The Associated Press from Ankara, Turkey, said all signs of Allied concentrations indicated that Italy would be the first objective of the future Anglo-American attack against the European continent. Likewise the Vichy radio declared:

"Obviously the Mediterranean will shortly become the center of a gigantic battle."

A forecast that the Axis would not attempt another attack on the Soviet Union was broadcast by the Berlin radio, quoting the Italian newspaper Popolo di Roma. It said:

"Under prevailing conditions the Axis powers will attain their objective, namely, the annihilation of enemy forces—much sooner than by running after the enemy into the desert or steppe."

---

Signor Mussolini was to realize that the best thing he can do for his country is to accept the unconditional surrender terms offered to him."

Leaflets urging surrender have been dropped upon Italian cities by Allied planes in recent raids and unconditional surrender was set at the Casablanca conference as the peace terms for the Axis.

Mr. Eden told the cheering House that "we would not hesitate to bomb Rome to the best of our ability and as heavily as possible if the course of war should render such an action convenient and helpful."

Opening a civil defense debate, Ellen Wilkinson, Parliamentary Undersecretary of the Home Office, announced a sharp reduction in Britain's air raid defense forces in the face of threats by the Germans of reprisals.

"The Germans must hit back at us or else confess to the world that the Bomber Command can make a rubble of their vital industries while they are helpless to do more than defend themselves," she declared, adding that while Nazi threats of reprisals are for home consumption, "Hitler can still stage a very nasty raid if he wishes to do so. The price will be high."

Balancing this threat against the man power needs for an Allied offensive, she reported that the civil defense establishment had been cut one-third in the last twelve months, and a further cut of 12½ per cent is under way, but not in especially vulnerable areas. Britain at present has 5,000,000 fire guards and 30,000 instructors, she said.

The air raid warnings system is "vastly improved" and new and more powerful fire fighting equipment is being provided.

"Our air raids on Germany are so terrible that they stretch the German civil defense force to the utmost," she added.

Capt. Harold H. Balfour, under-Secretary of State for Air, earlier reported that the R. A. F. had tripled its rate of bomb discharge on Germany since this time in 1942, and a German radio broadcast reported by the Ministry of Information said 1,100 planes and 30,000 guns have been concentrated for the defense of the Ruhr.

When asked if the responsibility should not be placed squarely on Premier Mussolini for "not proclaiming Rome an open city in case any damage should be done to ancient monuments," Mr. Eden replied:

Idle chatter can be a tragic matter.

"I think the responsibility is clear enough. No one invited Signor Mussolini to attack France and no one invited him to send his bombers to bomb London."

Mr. Eden said that news dispatches on June 23 to the effect that if Rome were divested of military objectives it might be considered an open town resulted from "a misunderstanding of some remarks made off the record at a press conference" and that the Government's actual position was as he stated it today.

In suggesting that the principle of divesting towns of military objectives be considered "in the interests of common humanity" Mr. Eden said: "I think it would be in the interests of humanity if Signor Mussolini would realize that the best thing he can do for his country is to accept the unconditional surrender terms offered him."

Eden Urges Duce to Give Up

JUL -1 1943

Foreign Secretary Declares Britain Won't Discuss Sparing of Rome.

London, June 30 (A. P.).—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden called upon Mussolini today "to accept the unconditional surrender offered to him," and said Britain has not and does not intend to approach Italy regarding the question of bombing Rome.

Addressing Commons, Mr. Eden declared: "I think it would be in the interests of humanity if

Nazi Munitions Reported Being Made In Open Air

JUL -1 1943

London, June 30 (AP)—Prof. Albert Speer, Nazi minister of munitions, was reported by the German radio today to have acknowledged that German workers in some instances are manufacturing munitions in the open air and under "the most primitive conditions."

The disclosure of the shortage of factory space in Germany—believed caused by Allied bombing—was made by Speer at a meeting of the Nazi supreme armaments council. A broadcast of the speech was recorded by the Associated Press.

JUL -1 1943

BRITISH BATTLESHIPS REPORTED AT 'ROCK'

LONDON, June 30 — (AP) The British battleships Nelson and Rodney and the aircraft carrier Formidable as well as 12 British and two French destroyers were reported at Gibraltar today in a German overseas broadcast recorded by Reuters.

The report added that three British destroyers and one submarine left the harbor for the Mediterranean in the afternoon.

JUL -1 1943

New Nazi Troop Plane Is a Powered Glider

Merseburg-323 Is Slow and Cheaply Built, British Say

LONDON, July 1 (Thursday) (AP).—The Air Ministry disclosed today new details of Germany's six-engined, troop-carrying Merseburg-323 plane, which fell such an easy prey to Allied flyers in the Tunisian campaign.

The plane was thrown into the last phases of the battle for Tunisia in an attempt to rush troops and supplies to the army of Field Marshal Edwin Rommel. The plane is a powered glider with a wingspan of 181 feet and a length of 93 feet 4 inches. It can carry a three-ton truck, a light tank or as many as 100 soldiers.

The plane has a "caterpillar" landing-wheel arrangement of six rear main wheels and four smaller front wheels along each side of the fuselage to facilitate landing on rough terrain.

The Air Ministry said that cheapness of production seemed to be a main factor, for the plane is made chiefly of steel tubes and plywood and is covered with fabric.

Maximum speed is estimated at 170 miles an hour, with power

Norwegians Salvaged $92,000,000 In Gold

London, Thursday, July 1 (AP)—Norway saved a $92,000,000 gold reserve by sneaking it out from under th enoses of the Germans in ammunition trucks and fishing boats in the spring of 1940, it was revealed today.

The coup was made public when awards were announced for two British naval officers who helped rescue King Hookon and the gold just a step ahead of the invading Germans.

The gold, which has since been shipped to the United States, was moved under constant bombing of German planes, the Daily Telegraph disclosed in telling the story.

From a valut in east Norway it was shipped to Molde, 120 miles southwest of Trondmeim where it was placed in the cellar of a building. For five days the Germans raided the town—but the gold was untouched.

Nazis Jail 1,200 Deserters

LONDON, June 30 (AP).—Between 1,200 and 1,500 German deserters from the northern front are imprisoned in prison camps in Norway, the Norwegian telegraph agency said today. The practice of shooting deserters was abandoned by the Nazi high command when they became so numerous, the agency asserted.

Britain Removes Emergency Defense

London, June 30 (A. P.).—Great Britain is removing many of her emergency defenses, such as anti-tank ditches, barbed-wire barriers and road obstructions, which were hastily thrown up when invasion seemed imminent in 1940.

Lord Croft, Under-Secretary for warr, told the House of Lords today that Sir Bernard Padget, commander in chief of the home forces, had directed all commands to remove all obstructions which could be dispensed with "in view of the altered military situation."

WAVELL NOW A VISCOUNT

Viceroy of India Is Expected to Retain Family Name

LONDON, Thursday, July 1 (AP)—It was announced at 10 Downing Street today that King George had conferred a viscountcy on Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, as intended when he was appointed viceroy of India.

It is understood that the marshal will retain his family name and become Viscount Wavell.

British Find Bricks In Some Canned Meat

London, June 30 (A. P.).—Sir Robert Tasker complained in the House of Commons today that cases of meat imported from the United States at times contain bricks and that drainpipes had been found in cases of canned salmon.

William Mabane, parliamentary secretary for the Ministry of Food, replied that the quantity pilfered was negligible and could not be avoided.

1943

30.24—5529

Winant to Receive Honorary Degree

London, June 30 (A. P.).—The University of Birmingham will confer the degree of doctor of laws on United States Ambassador John G. Winant on July 3, it was announced today. Mr. Winant will review a parade in Birmingham on that day with the city's Lord Mayor.

DANISH SABOTEURS WRECK TRANSFORMER

STOCKHOLM, June 30 — (AP) Danish saboteurs have wrecked the transformer of the Aarhus Motor Co. works in Aarhus, in the eastern Jutland area of Denmark, dispatches from Copenhagen said today.

An undetermined number of persons were injured and windows of buildings throughout the neighborhood were shattered by the blast, the dispatches added.

Danish saboteurs, it was said, have been concentrating on vital, hard to replace targets such as transformers and other power installations.

Wuppertal Paralyzed

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 30 (AP)—Dispatches to the Goeteborg newspaper Handel och Sjofartstidning said today that the Elberfeld section of Wuppertal, blasted Thursday night by the RAF, was still without water, gas, electricity, or telephone service. Great fires were reported blazing more than twenty-four hours after the raid in the chemical and textile works there.

The Elberfeld railway station was reported badly damaged.

Attributing its information to German anti-Nazi circles, the Goeteborg newspaper said the commander of the Hitler Elite Guard division in the Bochum and Gelsenkirchen area had asked for reserves because of the danger of disorders growing out of the discontentment manifested by the population against the Nazi authorities. New detachments were rushed to the district, the newspaper said, increasing the number of Elite Guard men stationed there to at least 30,000.

REDS WIPE OUT NAZI COMPANY

Artillery Action Reported Blocking Attack In Leningrad Sector

Berlin Suggests Outbreak Of Fighting In Black Sea-Caucasus Area

JUL -1 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, Thursday, July 1—Massed Soviet artillery fire wiped out a company of attacking infantrymen yesterday in the Leningrad sector, Moscow announced early today, while the German radio suggested that the Black Sea-Caucasus front was stirring once more.

In the air the Red air force maintained a vigil over the long front, where Pravda said 211 German divisions were concentrated despite Allied invasion threats in the west. Nine German planes were declared shot down in the last twenty-four hours.

1,000 Killed By Air Attack

The midnight bulletin, recorded by the Soviet monitor, announced that 1,000 German troops were killed during a Soviet air attack on Pskov, near the Estonian border, June 23, when a German military headquarters, munition and fuel dumps and twelve parked planes were destroyed.

Yesterday's noon communique said Russian scouts had overwhelmed a strongly defended hill in the Kalinin sector below Leningrad, killing 200 Germans, and the midnight bulletin reported scattered fighting on the front west of Moscow and near Belgorod in the south.

Moscow dispatches tended to bear out German broadcasts that the Kuban area was on the verge of erupting again. They suggested that Russian airmen, by striking two nights in succession at Taman, on the Kerch strait opposite the Crimea, were attacking Germans moving fresh troops into the Caucasus.

Claims Gunboat Torpedoed

The German high command announced the torpedoing of a Russian gunboat and two ships aggregating 2,000 tons off Novorossisk in the Black Sea, and the destruction of a patrol ship by air bombs in the same area. The Nazi agency, Transocean, also broadcast a report later that eleven small Russian ships had been sunk by German planes along the Sea of Azov coast above the Black Sea.

Transocean declared that the purported torpedoings in the Black Sea marked the first appearance of German submarines in that sea, and said Berlin naval experts "decline to say anything concerning the opening of the new sphere of operations."

Another broadcast by the same agency was interpreted by observers as reflecting German concern over immediate Russian intentions in the Kuban. The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said the conquered Russian naval base of Sevastopol in the Crimea had been "turned into an Axis bulwark bristling with arms" to become the "well-secured western flank in the great Black Sea defense area whose eastern barrage wall is formed by the Kuban bridgehead."

Calls Crimea Key

It said Sevastopol had been "fully restored as a fortress because it had been realized that the Soviets still were keenly interested in the Crimea as a key to the Ukraine, a gate to Europe and a jumping board for the Dardanelles."

Both Berlin and Moscow said officially that no material battle changes had occurred on the Russian front, but Pravda challenged a report emanating from London underground sources that fifty German divisions had been ordered from the Soviet front to strengthen Axis defenses elsewhere in anticipation of Allied invasion blows.

"No German divisions have been shifted from the Russian front," said Pravda. The newspaper listed German strength in these categories: 211 divisions in Russia; 35 in France, Belgium and Holland, "and half of these divisions are of restricted battle capacity"; 10 divisions in the Balkans "also of limited battle capacity," and "not a single German division in Italy at the present time."

SOVIET PLANES ATTACK TAMAN

Nazis Believed to Be Rushing Fresh Troops There.

Moscow, June 30 (A. P.).—Russian bombers have attacked Nazi-held Taman on the Sea of Azov two nights in succession, and military observers here concluded that the Germans are moving fresh troops through that port for possible offensive action on the Taman Peninsula and in the Kuban delta.

Soviet aviation is being used extensively to upset German plans for an offensive all along the eastern front, and the fact that it now appears to be concentrating on Taman is considered significant. There has been only sporadic action in the Kuban for many weeks.

Taman is the last comparatively safe port left the Germans in this extreme southern end of the Russian front. Only two others remain on the peninsula—Anapa which is too dangerous to use and Novorossisk which is even more dangerous as it is under the fire of Russian guns.

Capture Nazi Hill.

London, June 30 (A. P.).—Russian reconnaissance groups captured a strongly defended hill in the Kalinin sector, killing 200 Germans, and smashed an enemy base in hand-to-hand fighting on the northwestern front, the Soviet noon communique received by Reuters announced today.

The war bulletin said that there were no major changes, however, on any of the fronts during the night, although minor actions by both infantry and artillery units resulted in damage and casualties at enemy installations.

RUSSIA DISPUTES NAZI TROOP SHIFT

Moscow, June 30 (A. P.).—The Communist newspaper Pravda asserted today that Germany has a total strength of 211 divisions on the Russian front and that no divisions have been shifted from that front to other theaters of operation by the Reich's High Command.

Pravda challenged a report emanating from London underground sources that fifty German divisions had been ordered from the Soviet front to bolster defenses elsewhere in Europe in anticipation of an Allied invasion of Europe.

Pravda declared "this report represents misinformation or a mistake on the part of people who take no cognizance of secret service reports."

According to Pravda the facts are as follows: On the Russian front there are 211 German divisions instead of 180, and "no German divisions have been shifted from the Russian front."

On the other fronts, according to Pravda, "there are ninety-one German divisions instead of 120." Pravda added: "There is not a single German division in Italy at the present time."

"In France, Belgium and Holland there are thirty-five divisions instead of forty," Pravda said, "and half of these divisions are of restricted battle capacity.

"Reports that there are forty German divisions in reserve are also untrue because, even counting all the reserve divisions in Germany and Austria, you would get a total of only twenty."

In the Balkans, Pravda said, there are only eight to ten German divisions. These, again, are also of limited battle capacity, Pravda asserted.

Rickenbacker at Red Front

MOSCOW, June 30 (AP).—Captain Edward V. Rickenbacker, who arrived here June 20 on a mission for Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of War, left today for a short visit to the Russian front. He expected to return to Moscow before departing homeward.

ALLIES RULE SEA FROM SUEZ TO GIBRALTAR

"Complete Air Umbrella" Over Sicily Straits, Official Report Says

JUL -1 1943

Island All But Isolated As Twin Raids Hit Messina And Reggio Calabria

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 30 — Striking from bases many hundreds of miles apart at targets separated by only six miles of water, British bombers from the North African and Middle East commands have struck heavily at the ferry connecting Sicily with the Italian mainland in an effort to destroy the island's communications and so substantially to isolate it in the event of invasion.

Announcements today from this headquarters and from Cairo told of great damage worked in these twin raids, delivered Monday night at a cost of two Allied planes.

Air Umbrella Over Straits

This continued hammering of the Messina strait was accompanied by a statement, jointly issued by the United States and British air forces, that the Allies had now thrown "a complete air umbrella" over the Straits of Sicily and that the whole stretch of the Mediterranean from Gibraltar to Suez thus was being opened to Allied shipping.

Alexandria, it was added, had now been brought "within little more than 3,000 miles of England by comparison with the 12,000-mile route around the Cape by which our Middle East forces had formerly to be supplied—an immense saving of time and shipping tonnage."

In Monday night's two-sided attack on the Messina strait, Wellington bombers from the Northwest Africa force poured a heavy weight of bombs on the ferry terminus and the railway yards at Messina itself while heavy bombers from the Middle East blasted at similar rail and ferry installations at Reggio Calabria, six miles across the water on the Italian mainland.

Fires and bomb bursts covered the whole area of the attack.

Malta Planes Join In

On the preceding night Wellingtons had attacked yet another vital ferry port on the strait—San Giovanni, which is directly opposite Messina.

The assault on Sicily was carried forward yesterday by fighter-bombers based on Malta. They repeatedly attacked the long-punished Italian airdrome at Comiso, destroying two Axis planes and damaging others and losing a single plane.

Middle East long-range fighters at the same time went out on forays over the west coast of Greece, shooting down an enemy plane and machine-gunning a railroad line.

The Italian communique broadcast by the Rome radio acknowledged Allied air attacks at Messina and localities along the Calabrian coast, claiming ten Allied planes shot down.

PLANE UMBRELLA OF ALLIES COVERS STRAIT OF SICILY

Mediterranean Shipping Is Open to Britain and U. S. From Gibraltar to Suez.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 30 (A. P.).—British bombers struck concerted blows at both ends of Sicily's vital railroad ferry to the Italian mainland Monday night. Heavyweights from the Middle East Command spread explosives on the mainland terminus at Reggio Calabria while two-engined Wellington's from Northwest Africa renewed the attack on battered Messina just across the two-mile strait.

Announcement of the double-barreled attack were accompanied by an official statement from United States and British air headquarters that a "complete air umbrella" now has been established over the Mediterranean between North Africa and Sicily, reopening the sea to Allied shipping.

JUL -1 1943

Aim to Isolate Sicily.

"Now the whole of the Mediterranean from Gibraltar to Suez will be open to our shipping," the statement said, "bringing Alexandria within little more than 3,000 miles of England by comparison with the 12,000-mile route around the Cape by which our Middle East forces formerly had to be supplied—and months of saving in time and shipping tonnage."

Monday night's onslaught by the R. A. F. clearly was designed to destroy Sicily's communication by ferry with the Italian mainland and virtually to isolate the big island in the event of invasion.

A communique of the Middle East Command said heavy bombers started a number of fires in Reggio Calabria and returned to their bases without loss.

The long-range Wellingtons operating from Northwest Africa dropped their bombs squarely on Messina's ferry terminal and railroad yards, a communique said, adding to the wreckage piled up by several days and nights of continuous assault on the city last week.

In daylight yesterday, the Middle East Command reported, long-range fighters swept across the eastern Mediterranean to attack enemy objectives in occupied Greece, shooting up a locomotive and destroying an Axis plane in combat.

Activities in this theater yesterday were limited to patrols. Two enemy planes attacking

JUL -1 1943

1943

Pantelleria were shot down by anti-aircraft gunners.

Two Allied planes were reported missing from the night and day operations.

CHINESE GAINING ALONG YANGTZE

JUL -1 1943

Chungking, June 30 (A. P.).—The Chinese Central News Agency reported today that a large section of Owchihkow (Lotus Pond inlet) on the upper Yangtze River front had been recaptured by Chinese forces.

The Chinese High Command announced last night that the Chinese had entered the city, inflicting severe losses on the Japanese, and in a communique today said further casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

The war bulletin also reported that the Chinese intercepted several thousand Japanese troops striking against Chinese positions in northeasternmost Kiangsu, the coastal province in which Shanghai is situated, and killed or wounded more than 1,000 of the invaders.

Down the coast from Shanghai, it also said that the Chinese raided an enemy-held town near Hangchow, in Chekiang province, killing a number of Japanese and seizing a large quantity of military supplies.

Last night's communique said the Japanese garrison at Owchihkow, forty miles south of Shasi, was showing signs of collapse. Owchihkow was encircled June 24, the Chinese reported.

last night.

Fighting for possession of Owchihkow was continuing, but the bulletin said the Japanese garrison was showing signs of collapse. The encirclement of the town, which is 40 miles south of Shasi, was reported completed June 24.

The communique also said a vigorous attack had been launched on Hwajung, 16 miles southeast of Owchihkow, and that many strategic points in the suburbs had been captured. Hwajung is the last county seat town west of Tungting Lake still in Japanese hands.

Aided by American Flyers.

Recapture of Owhihkow and Hwajung, if effected, would restore to the Chinese virtually the whole of their rice-producing area which the Japanese at one time seemed on the verge of capturing. Both points have been attacked by the American Air Force, acting in concert wth Chinese ground troops.

Chingsupai, northeast of Kungan, was recaptured by the Chinese last Saturday, the war bulletin said, and enemy troops counterattacked but were repulsed with heavy casualties.

Chinese forces scored successes Sunday in attacks on enemy positions between the Yangtze and Tungting Lake, headquarters said.

Chinese Rally Near Swatow.

The Chinese also were said to have made a comeback near Swatow, once-famous treaty port on the Kwangtung coast, where they regained several strategic points from the Japanese, who had launched a three-pointed drive against Chinese positions.

(The Berlin radio quoted Tokio dispatches today as saying the Chinese were employing about 10,000 troops in addition to local guerrilla forces in the action around Swatow. The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said 936 Chinese had been slain in that area in the last 10 days and declared the Japanese had occupied new positions about 35 miles northwest of Swatow.)

The Chinese said they likewise had successfully engaged two Japanese columns foraging near Canton, forcing one to retreat and capturing members of the other.

Owchihkow Entered In Chinese Drive; Hwajung Attacked

Capture of Two Cities Would Virtually Restore Hold on Rice Region

By the Associated Press.

CHUNGKING, June 30.—Chinese troops who have been enveloping Owchihkow (Lotus Pond inlet), on the Upper Yangtze River front, have entered the town after inflicting losses on defending Japanese troops, a Chinese communique announced

Lin Sen Has 'Slight Decline'

CHUNGKING, June 30 (AP).—The condition of Chinese President Lin Sen showed a "slight decline" today, his physicians reported, and he is conscious only part of the time. The aged President became ill on May 11. His condition was reported serious on May 30, but he subsequently rallied.

NAVAL CHIEF AT ORAN ORDERS RAID ON PAPER

De Gaullist Activities Said to Have Brought Action

ALGIERS, June 30 (AP)—Dissension between French military and civil authorities broke out today after reports that a newspaper at Oran had been raided last night on orders of the French naval commander there.

Information reaching here said that armed men had forcibly entered the offices of the Oran Republican, locked the doors, severed telephone wires and conducted a thorough search. Newspaper circles here said that the official charge was "many de Gaullist activities."

The publication of the paper was delayed several hours. Its editors telephoned protests to the French Committee of National Liberation here and an investigation was started this morning.

At a session of the committee, Gen. Georges Catroux, Governor General of Algeria, was reported to have protested the overlapping of authority between the civil and the military and to have said that his "hands had been consistently tied" by the French General Staff.

American Raiding Greece Spares His Inheritance

By The Associated Press.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 30—Briefing a bombing mission over Greek targets before his fellow-airmen of a United States Liberator squadron, Lieut. George Ponty of Los Angeles pointed to two small islands on the map and cautioned:

"Hold on to your bombs when you are over these chunks of real estate—they belong to me."

Lieutenant Ponty's grandfather, a Greek, willed the two islands to his American grandson.

On a recent mission against Grecian targets, Lieutenant Ponty was one of three pilots who paid a novel visit to their ancestral homeland. The others were Lieut. Homer Drakaulas of Boston and Capt. Nick J. Cladakis of New York.

U. S. Flyers Pound Burma

Mitchells Drop 9 Tons of Bombs on Kyaskse, South of Mandalay

NEW DELHI, India, June 30 (AP).—American Mitchell bombers dropped more than nine tons of bombs on Japanese installations at Kyauskse, Burma, yesterday, scoring hits on railroad yards and leaving smoke billowing 2,000 feet, a communique said today.

Kyaukse is twenty-five miles south of Mandalay, on the rail line to Rangoon. Hits were reported on storage buildings and rolling stock, with one large fire accompanied by a secondary explosion. Other formations bombed the docks at Mandalay, scoring hits among buildings, the announcement said. All planes and crews returned safely.

President Morinigo Reaches Balboa

Balboa, Canal Zone, June 30 (A. P.).—President Higinio Morinigo arrived here from Mexico today. He was greeted by Lieut.-Gen. George Brett, Caribbean Defense Commander; Rear Admiral Clifford Van Hook, commandant of the Panama sea frontier, and Glen Edgerton, Canal Zone Governor.

FEUD OF WALLACE AND JONES FLARES ANEW AT CAPITAL

Secretary of Commerce Accuses Vice President of 'Dastardly' Attack.

FOLLOWS PARLEY

New Blast Comes After They Confer with Byrnes at White House.

JUL -1 1943

WASHINGTON, June 30 — (AP) The capital's hottest controversy flared again tonight as Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones issued a new statement accusing Vice President Wallace of making a "dastardly" and "untrue" charge against the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which is under Jones' jurisdiction.

Earlier in the night, Wallace had said he had intended no reflection on Jones' "patriotism or his interest in the war effort" by accusing the RFC of hampering work of the Board of Economic Warfare.

Jones Renews Charge

Jones replied that "this dastardly charge (against the RFC) is as untrue as when he first made it."

Jones and Wallace, who is chairman of BEW, had been called to the White House during the day to explain their feud over imports of strategic materials and had conferred there for two hours with War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes.

Wallace then said he had agreed with Jones that "for the time being" the BEW would continue the present arrangement under which it draws funds for its activities from the RFC, but would later press Congress for direct appropriations. He added that Jones had made no objection to this decision. Jones declared sharply, however, that "Mr. Wallace was not authorized to speak for me."

Wallace's statement:

"I have talked with Mr. Jesse Jones. He and I have agreed for the time being to continue the present arrangement under which the Board of Economic Warfare is functioning. Preparatory to the Congress reconvening, the Board of Economic Warfare will initiate steps through the Budget Bureau which will result in a proposal to the Congress that there be made available to BEW the necessary program funds for the procurement and development of all imported strategic war materials under public purchase so that BEW may be completely independent of RFC. Mr. Jones did not object to this policy decision.

"I advised Mr. Jones that in my statement to the press I had no intention to reflect upon his patriotism or his interest in the war effort. I intended to assert that the delays in RFC in acting upon projects had delayed the war effort. I did not state or intend to create the impression that his personal motive was deliberately or intentionally to delay the war effort.

Cites "Strong' Differences"

"Our difficulties have had to do with strong differe[illegible] opinion with regard to the quantities of various products to be obtained at a given time and place. That there should be these differences of opinion may reflect upon the judgment of the individuals involved but such differences do not reflect upon the desire of the individuals to serve their country."

Jones' statement:

"Mr. Wallace in his statement tonight repeats that delays of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation have retarded the war effort. This dastardly charge is as untrue as when he first made it. As for the rest of his statement Mr. Wallace was not authorized to speak for me. I will continue to speak for myself and as previously stated I shall insist upon a congressional investigation."

Informed sources, unwilling to be quoted by name, described the conference in Byrnes' office as fairly friendly with Jones and Wallace talking with each other quite peaceably, though very frankly.

Crowd on Hand

While Wallace and Jones were in Byrnes' office, a crowd of more than 100 curiosity seekers gathered about the sentry-box guarding the approach to the White House. Few of them, however, saw the officials.

The feud between the two broke into the open Tuesday when Wallace, as chairman of the Board of Economic Warfare, made public a 28-page complaint against alleged obstruction of his agency's program by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which Jones supervises. Jones replied with a statement that the Wallace document was "full of malice and misstatement."

Wallace asked that Congress give the BEW a free hand and its own funds with which to import strategic materials. Without passing on that question, the Senate voted today to tighten restrictions on BEW spending by requiring a majority of the full Board of Economic Warfare, of which Jones is a member, to approve its programs. Formerly, the executive staff of the board acted fairly independently.

The House must yet pass on the restriction.

In addition to Wallace and Jones, members of the board are Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Secretary of War Stimson, Attorney General Biddle, Secretary of the Navy Knox, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., and Nelson A. Rockefeller, coordinator of Inter-American affairs. Milo Perkins is executive director.

Backers of the restriction complained that Perkins frequently acted without prior approval of the board.

Jones Praised in House

In a House speech, Rep. White (R., Idaho) warmly praised Jones.

"If there is any man in the government who has protected the interests of the American people, it is Jesse Jones," White said. "It may be all right to open the doors of the Treasury to our Allies in the fight for civilization, but when it comes to opening the Treasury with lend-lease money and removing all restrictions in dealing with the schemes of tricksters of other countries for profiteering at the expense of the United States, I say that the American people will be squarely behind Jesse Jones."

Some Republican legislators proposed a congressional investigation—which Jones had said he would welcome—but Democratic leaders indicated no disposition to urge an inquiry.

At a press conference before talking with Wallace and Jones, Byrnes said he had not known before it was issued of Wallace's statement attacking the Secretary of Commerce.

In it, Wallace asserted that the RFC had "failed dismally" to carry out congressional directives to stockpile rubber, quinine, and other war-vital materials which this country must import. And after this task was assigned to the Bew, Wallace declared, Jones adopted a policy of "obstructionist tactics" which hampered the board's work.

Jones replied that Wallace's statement was full of "malice and misstatements," that Bew was responsible for less than five per cent of imports of strategic materials, and that there has been no "serious delay" by the RFC to "any vital program."

Wallace's statement was made to the Senate Appropriations committee in requesting that the BEW be given full control over funds for purchase of strategic materials abroad. Under the present setup, BEW gets instructions from the War Production Board (in the case of metals, etc.) or from the War Food Administration (in the case of agricultural products) as to quantities and kinds of materials which should be imported. In turn, it locates the products and tells the RFC or the Commodity Credit Corporation to make the actual purchase.

Probe in Question

In view of the attitude of Democratic leaders, it appeared that any congressional inquiry might be an informal one by the Appropriations committee in considering Wallace's request, and probably conducted behind closed doors.

Rep. Wigglesworth (R., Mass.) announced, however, that he was introducing a resolution for a "thorough-going investigation," and Senator Danaher (R., Conn.) said he thought there should be an inquiry.

"Clearly," Danaher said, "the whole situation requires clarification with a prescription of functions and duties which will leave no room for doubt and give rise to no obstacle to the effective prosecution of the war."

In a House speech, Rep. Springer (R., Ind.) called the dispute "the usual case of a bureaucrat calling a bureaucrat a bureaucrat."

JUL -1 1943

Blank

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5531

Bill to Bar Subsidies Sent to White House

JUL -1 1943

Final Enactment Orders Meat, Butter 'Roll Back' Ended by August 1.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, June 30. — Congress, handing the Roosevelt administration another legislative setback, today forbade use of subsidies to push down retail food prices and ordered the meat-butter price "roll back" ended by Aug. 1.

The action was taken in the face of repeated declarations from high government officials, from President Roosevelt down, that without subsidies it would be extremely difficult if not impossible to hold the line against inflation.

Consequently, some legislators anticipated that the President may veto the ban which was incorporated in legislation extending the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation for two more years from midnight tonight and adding $750,000,000 to its present $2,650,000,000 lending powers.

However, the measure was approved in both Senate and House by far more than the two-thirds majority which would be necessary to override a veto. The House vote was 160 to 32, and the Senate vote, 62 to 13.

Speculate on Veto

Other legislators suggested that Mr. Roosevelt might be reluctant to disapprove the measure since this would halt the agency's lending programs to farmers and, for the time being at least, put it out of business.

As finally sent to the White House, the prohibition against use of subsidies to lower food prices represented a compromise between differing bills approved previously by the House and the Senate.

Less restrictive than the original House measure, it permits continued use of subsidies—up to $150,000,000—to meet increased transportation costs due to the war (now being paid on movement of oil to the East Coast and on coffee imports), and to promote production of critical metals and war essential foods. It also allows incentive payments on canning and specialty crops, price support for domestic vegetable oils, and fats, and payments for sale of wheat for feeding purposes.

However, no subsidies could be paid simply to reduce prices.

Before final passage, a provision prohibiting government agencies from deducting farm benefit payments in calculating agricultural price ceilings was stricken out.

Defends Subsidies

Shortly before final congressional action, Lou R. Maxon, deputy administrator of the Office of Price Administration, issued a statement saying that without subsidies OPA faced "an almost insurmountable task."

"I honestly cannot see any other answer to our present food problem than subsidies," he added.

In another eleventh-hour pronouncement on the subject, the War Labor Board had cautioned that its continued ability to hold down wages was dependent upon holding down the cost of living.

These arguments came into the congressional debate. Rep. Patman (D.-Tex.) told the House it was knocking down the administration's rollback program without providing any substitute to curb inflation, and that "this Congress looks like an inflationary congress. We're doing nothing to stop inflation."

Fish Asks Study

Agreeing with Patman, Rep. Fish (R.-N.Y.) said, "we are skating on thin ice," and he proposed that the House set-up a seven-member committee to study prices, rents, wages and all other phases of inflation, and to report back to the House following its Summer recess.

But Rep. Wolcott (R.-Mich.), ranking Republican member of the Banking committee, contended the only increase in the cost of living because of the legislation would be the difference between the rollback and actual prices of meat and butter.

The OPA figured the meat roll back averaged three cents a pound for all types, and said the butter roll back was five cents a pound. It estimated that costs to "roll back" these commodities and also coffee prices might eventually amount to about $400,000,000 a year.

Maxon said that in "normal times I might seriously question subsidies, but these are not normal times." He added:

"Subsidies would permit us to have an overall realistic, workable policy that would encourage the production, processing, and distribution of food by relieving the squeeze which arises from mounting wage costs over which we have no control—and poth of which are not too tightly controlled anywhere in government today.

"Remember you can not force people to produce, pack or sell at a loss. With subsidies properly operating, we could begin an enforcement drive that would wipe out black markets through the willing cooperation of everyone along the line.

"There are those who see distant economic dangers in subsidy, but the alternate dangers are not distant by a long shot—they are very real and very near. I think it's time to make a choice.

"We must choose between serious and sincere price control or inflation. It's time to quit kidding ourselves. Either we mean to have realistic price control or we don't."

SENATE APPROVES BIG WAR MEASURE

Final Approval Voted on 71 Billions to Press Drive Against Axis

JUL -1 1943

WASHINGTON, June 30 — (AP) The Senate completed congressional action today on a $71,500,000,000 War department appropriations bill providing funds for the next 12 months three times as large as the nation's cost of the first World war.

Termed the "decisive budget" for the war by military leaders, it supplies more than $50,000,000,000 for army aviation, including purchase of 99,740 new planes.

Action came on agreement to a conference report, reconciling minor differences between Senate and House, a short while after the House had voted its approval.

During hearings on this measure, Lieut. General Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, told the Senate Appropriations committee the United Nations are "rapidly approaching final victory" and that the Japanese Empire will feel the war's impact "in a most violent and destructive way."

SENATORS TO VISIT OUR FORCES ABROAD

Barkley Reluctantly Picks Five After Controversy Between Truman, Military Groups

PRESIDENT DISCUSSED TRIP

Party Will Not See Enough 'to Stick in Their Eye,' Comments Clark of Missouri

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Amid predictions that "they won't see enough to stick in their eye," five Senators received unofficial clearance from the Senate tonight for a trip around the globe in an Army bomber to visit American fighting forces in the battle zones and inspect their equipment.

Ending a backstage controversy lasting three months over the personnel of the inspection group, the Democratic leader, Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, told the Senate he had reluctantly picked the members after conferences with Gen. George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, Secretary of War Stimson and the minority leader, Charles L. McNary of Oregon.

Mr. Barkley named Senator Richard B. Russell, Democrat of Georgia, a dark horse, as chairman of the committee and split the other four places between the Truman War Investigating Committee and the Senate Military Affairs Committee, which had been battling for three months to carry off the coveted assignments.

Mr. Russell was named as a representative of the Appropriations Committee, with some Senate wags suggesting privately that his position would be that of umpire between the other groups. Other members are Senators Albert B. Chandler, Democrat of Kentucky, and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, representing the military group and Senators James M. Mead, Democrat of New York, and Ralph O. Brewster, Republicanof Maine, for the Truman committee. Senators Brewster and Russell also are members of the Naval Affairs Committee.

Before Senator Barkley could even announce the names, however, Senator Bennett Champ Clark, Democrat of Missouri, was on his feet with the assertion that no public good was going to be served by "a junketing trip by Senators or Congressmen or anybody else."

"I don't think the responsible military or naval commanders are going to let them see enough to stick in their eye," he declared.

Senator Clark asked who projected the idea of sending such an inspection committee in the first place, where they were going and Senator Scott W. Lucas, Democrat of Illinois, demanded to know who was going to pay for the trip.

"I won't vote for a single dime to finance this trip," he declared.

Mr. Barkley said the Army would take care of the finances, furnish the plane and decide when, where and how the members would go. He stressed the fact that the committee was not to interfere in any way with the military commanders abroad.

Mr. Barkley said that on March 23 President Roosevelt wrote him confidentially enclosing a letter from General Marshall relaying the Truman committee's request to investigate the North African front.

He said he once discussed the matter with the President, and meanwhile, the Military committee "became interested in a similar trip."

"I was not enthusiastic about the proposal," he declared, "and after discussing it with both committees, I withheld my approval."

He added the Chief of Staff and Secretary of War thought it "undesirable" to have "a series of committees traveling abroad," but that they could provide facilities for one.

Italy Will Welcome Invading Yanks

JUL -1 1943

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

WASHINGTON—When Italians hear that the Yanks are coming, fear for their own safety, anxiety for their future and relief at the prospect of peace probably will make a cocktail of their emotions.

R. G. Massock

That is the belief of those who observed the Italian people at first make a cocktail of their emotions.

But in the end they will welcome American troops as their liberators from the war and the fascist regime that thrust them into it against their will.

That is the belief of those who observed the Italian people at first hand up to Premier Mussolini's declaration of war against the United States. They admit that Italian sentiment may have changed some under the recent terrific air bombardments, but they doubt that there has been such a profound change of feeling that any propaganda-inspired animosity cannot eventually be dispelled.

Even to those of us who were interned in Italy, the Italians with whom we came in contact showed nothing but friendship. That was true even of the detectives who guarded us. Officials of the government and the police were uniformly courteous.

It is well known that the Italians have a particularly friendly feeling for Americans because so many Italians have settled and prospered in the United States, because tourists took millions of dollars into Italy and because Americans never tried to gain anything out of World War 1, in which they were allies of the Italians. And Italians, as a race, seem to like foreigners.

Italians now want to get out of the war. They have long been defeatists, feeling that they could never win with the Germans, even if there was a German victory—which few of them can expect now. They are believed to be fed up with Mussolini and fascism, whose foreign policy got them into the war. They made no effort to hide their dislike, fear and distrust of the Germans.

For this reason, the Italians are likely to welcome—eventually—any invading American troops. Not that they would scatter roses in the path of an invading army. There would be no joy in defeat.

There might be considerable bitterness toward Americans as a result of the bombardments. Neutral reports from Italy say fascist propaganda against the American fliers has had some effect on the people. Mussolini's radio hes harped on the story that American machine-gunned Italians in the street, that they dropped explosive pencils and lipsticks—booby traps against civilians.

It is feared here that this false propaganda may have turned many Italians against the Americans in the hysteria of air attacks and invasion alarms, but it is hardly conceivable to observers that the Italian people would resist the invaders, even though the army fought as long as it could hold out against a superior f-force.

JUL -1 1943

American broadcasts beamed to Italy have promised that she shall have a just place in the New Europe, with a government of the people's own choosing. The Germans took food from Italy. The Americans would bring food to that country. Those are considered psychological factors in retaining or winning back Italian sympathies.

Some have proposed that only American troops occupy Italy. Washington observers doubt that there will be any trouble if British, as well as American troops enter the country.

There has been ill-feeling among Italians toward the British in the past, stirred up partly by propaganda on the charge that Britain blocked Italian expansionist aspirations after World War I and at the time of the Ethiopian campaign.

Little actual popular resentment toward the British has been observed or reported, however. In this regard, the observers cite the British experience in Italian Eritrea, in Libya and on Pantelleria—all occupied by British troops. Reports received here say the Italians have been, for the most part, cooperative. There has been no reported friction. Some rabid Fascists were recalcitrant, but they were locked up.

The only headache experienced by the British came from the tendency of the Italians to queue up in front of military headquarters, particularly in Tripoli, to denounce their own countrymen. The British officers had to investigate every case. Where charges were sustained they acted on them. When the denunciation was found to be motivated by personal spite alone, as in many cases, the charge was dropped and the person bringing it rebuked.

ARMY FLIER JUMPS FROM 40,200 FEET

He Proves Oxygen Equipment Will Work Satisfactorily at Very High Altitudes

JUL -1 1943

HIS LEFT HAND IS FROZEN

Jerk of 'Chute Flips Off Glove at 50 Below as He Plunges to Set Up a New Record

1943

WASHINGTON, June 30—Lieut. Col. William Randolph Lovelace 2d, a surgeon and an expert on the Army Air Forces high altitude equipment, made a parachute jump from 40,200 feet, the highest on record in this country, to convince himself and everybody else that the emergency oxygen equipment supplied to Army airmen is all that laboratory tests indicate.

It was his first jump, and he said today at a press conference that it would be his last for awhile, although his only injury was the freezing of his left hand. The jerk of his 'chute as it opened flipped off his glove in a 50-below temperature.

Otherwise, Colonel Lovelace reported, he suffered no discomforts—the regulation clothing, including oxygen mask, goggles and helmet, protected even his face from the cold.

He jumped from an Army bomber near Euphrata, Wash., Thursday. The parachute opened automatically and the shock "blacked out" the flier. He regained consciousness at about 30,000 feet, and by the time he got down to 8,000 feet he was fully recovered.

He landed in a wheatfield and was picked up immediately and taken to the Euphrata air base hospital for treatment of his frozen hand.

For twenty-three minutes and fifty-one seconds he floated down, he said, "almost exactly what laboratory calculations said it would be."

JUL -1 1943

Mrs. Roosevelt Asserts Rumors Form Race Riots

Says End of Unreasoning Fear Would Lessen Danger

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt asserted today that the danger of race riots such as occurred recently in Detroit could be materially lessened if individuals would scotch inflammatory rumors and stop unreasoning fear.

The First Lady told her press conference that since the Detroit race riots she has received many letters and read editorials accusing her of having fomented the bloody street fights because of her good will attitude toward Negroes.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she felt that there must be both white and colored people of good will and common sense to prevent race riots.

She explained that she canceled a visit to Detroit this week because the scheduled inspection of child care projects was "not important enough to insist on doing it now when there was something else I wanted to do." She did not state what the "something else" was.

With no more press conferences scheduled for the summer, Mrs. Roosevelt said she expected to spend a good deal of time at Hyde Park and hoped to visit her daughter, Mrs. John Boettiger, in Seattle.

ENGINEER INDICTED AS GERMAN AGENT

Washington, June 30 (A. P.).—A Federal Grand Jury today indicted Carl Guenther Boshan Orgell, 43 years old, an engineer residing on Staten Island, New York city, on the charge of failing to disclose that he acted in behalf of the German Foreign Office and the Nazi party when he registered with the State Department as a foreign agent.

The charge was brought in Federal district court here and announced by the Justice Department, which said that Orgell had named the Volksbund Fuer Gas Deutschtum in Ausland as the foreign principal which he represented in this country and had described it as a 'private membership society whose activities were non-political and not of a propaganda nature," and had said further that it was engaged in "strictly private cultural activity."

The indictment charges, the department said, that the organization, known as V. D. A., was a propaganda agency for both the German Government and the Nazi party.

Federal investigators learned, the department said, that Orgell's activities included recruiting members for the organization and that these members then were sent propaganda material by German agencies.

NAVY CASUALTIES

PRISONERS OF JAPAN

TIRK, RICHARD ENOCH, ensign, 130 West 42d street, New York city.

Washington, June 30 (A. P.).—"For meritorious achievement during aerial combat while engaged on a search mission," the air medal has been awarded to Second Lieut. William J. Knapp, whose mother, Mrs. William J. Knapp Sr., resides at 30 East 42d street, New York city.

The official citation reads:

"For meritorious achievement while attached to a Marine aircraft group during aerial combat with Japanese forces in the Solomon Islands area in November, 1942. While engaged in a search mission on November 7, Second Lieut. Knapp daringly countered an attack by Japanese fighter planes and, by his skill and alert devotion to duty, shot down one enemy Zero with his fixed guns and then successfully completed his mission. Again, on November 13, he faced intense anti-aircraft fire to take part in an aggressive and vigorous attack on a Japanese battleship.

"His courageous conduct throughout these engagements was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service."

On Yale Football Team.

Lieut. Knapp, who has been missing since November 13, was a football player at Yale University, from which he was graduated in 1941. Born in Rye, N. Y., in 1919, he attended the Hill School in Pottstown, Pa., and later went to Yale. He was on the football team at Yale in 1939 and 1940, as right tackle, and was a member of the Fence Club and the Wolf's Head Society.

About a month after graduation he went into the naval flying service, and transferred to the Marines after he received his wings. He was sent overseas in August of last year.

Lieut. Knapp's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Knapp, have a home at 700 Steamboat Road, Greenwich.

Lieut. Knapp's wife, the former Miss Margaret Austin, of Santa Barbara, Cal., to whom she was married in July, 1942, lives in California. His brother, George O. Knapp 2d, is a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

ARMY CASUALTIES

Washington, June 30 (A. P.).—The War Department announced today the names of eighty-six United States soldiers wounded in action in the Aleutian, North African and Pacific areas, and of a number held prisoners of war by the Japanese. Soldiers in both groups from New York and New Jersey include the following with next of kin:

WOUNDED

In Aleutian Area.

NEW YORK.

OLDERS, JOHN J., private; wife, Mrs. Mary Olders, 322 Hollywood avenue, Bronx.

TALLIS, CEDRIC N., first lieutenant; brother, W. H. Tallis, 25 West 54th street, New York.

North African Area.

NEW YORK.

FARRELL, JOSEPH P., corporal; mother, Mrs. Mary Farrell, 438 Third avenue, New York.

LUX, GEORGE L., second lieutenant; father, Max F. Lux, 1128 Findlay avenue, New York.

PRISONER OF JAPAN

NEW JERSEY.

LEEHAN, EDWIN D., private; father, Patrick Leehan, 40 West 35th street, Bayonne.

AWARDS

Silver Star Medal

CHENOWETH, ROBERT J., corporal, 450 Summer avenue, Newark, N. J.

Air Medal.

KNAPP, WILLIAM J., second lieutenant, 30 East 42d street, New York City.

Additional Casualties Are Reported by Navy

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP).—The Navy announced today thirteen casualties, including five dead and eight missing. This brings to 26,975 the total of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since Dec. 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,709 dead, 4,732 wounded, 10,941 missing and 3,593 prisoners.

The casualties announced today include:

NEW YORK

Dead

CHEENEY, BARTHOLOMEW AMBROSE; reported prisoner May 14, 1943; sister, Mrs. Mildred Ann Woods, 1636 Brinkerhoff Avenue, Utica.

Missing

EFSTATHIOU, THOMAS; a marine; parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Efstathiou, 2112 Bryant Avenue, New York.

NEW JERSEY

Dead

KELLY, CHARLES RAYMOND; reported prisoner June 16, 1943; mother, Mrs. Grace D. Kelly, 648 East Second Street, Plainfield.

Missing

CERNEK, FRED ANDREW; mother, Mrs. Christina Cernek, 226 Eighth Street, Palisades Park.

CONNECTICUT

Missing

COTTON, CLARENCE; wife, Mrs. Anna E. Cotton, 360 Dixwell Avenue, New Haven.

KUHN TAKES LEAVE OF CLINTON PRISON

Dannemora, N. Y., June 30 (A. P.).—Fritz Kuhn, the former national leader of the German-American Bund, who was paroled June 18 by the New York Parole Board in custody of the Federal Government, left Clinton Prison today, presumably headed for internment.

He was accompanied by three agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. They traveled by automobile.

Clinton Prison authorities said they did not know Kuhn's destination, but the United States Department of Justice said recently he would be taken to Ellis Island and interned.

The 48-year-old former bund leader was sentenced to two and a half to five years following his conviction in November, 1939, of grand larceny and forgery involving bund funds.

His application for parole was denied in June, 1941, but the New York Parole Board announced early this month he would be paroled in custody of the Federal Government. The action followed denaturalization proceedings in which Kuhn and ten fellow former bundists were deprived of American citizenship.

Stephan Dies Tomorrow Unless White House Acts

Gallows Assembled for Dawn Execution in Treason Case

DETROIT, June 30 (AP).—Unless President Roosevelt grants an eleventh-hour commutation, fifty-two-year-old Max Stephan, convicted of treason for aiding the flight of a German flying officer from a Canadian prison camp, will die on the gallows before dawn Friday at the Milan (Mich.) Federal Correctional Institution.

Twice granted stays of execution by the United States Supreme Court in order that he might utilize all avenues of appeal, the German-born former owner of a Detroit restaurant has lived nearly eight months beyond the Nov. 13 date first set for the hanging. Three times the Supreme Court has refused to review the case, appealed from the Federal District Court, but Stephan's attorney, Nicholas Salowich, expressed the belief today that a Presidential reprieve would again postpone the execution.

Hope for clemency diminished, however, as workmen prepared the gallows. Plans provide for the completion of the hanging in time for evidences of the execution to be removed before the regular prison routine starts at 6 a. m. Friday.

Oberleutnant Hans Peter Krug, the Nazi officer whose flight from Canada Stephan was accused of assisting in April, 1942, was recaptured in San Antonio, Tex., and returned to Canada.

PLANE CRASH KILLS 10

Alamogordo, N. M., June 30 (A. P.).—Ten officers and men were killed and one man injured in the crash of a large Army bomber near the Alamagordo air base yesterday, the Public Relations Office disclosed today.

Lieut. Tom R. White, assistant public relations officer, said the ship was a routine training flight.

Staff Sergt. Jimmie V. Staffiera of Westville, N. J., was named as the injured crewman. His condition was not disclosed.

The dead included:

Tech. Sergt Franklin C. Houseman, Palatine, N. Y., ad Staff Sergt. Wilbur H. Zimmerman, Glendale, N. Y.

Knox Sees 3 to 4 Years' War

Says Time Is Near for Effectuating United Nations' Victory Strategy.

JUL -1 1943

Coronado, Cal., June 30 (A. P.).—Secretary of the Navy Knox believes that the time is approaching when the United Nations can put into effect the final strategy for victory, but it may take from three to four more years to crush the Axis.

Addressing a meeting of high ranking officers of the armed forces and officials of San Diego city and county, Mr. Knox paid tribute to the swift and efficient rearmament of the nation during the last eighteen months.

He was equally empratic in discussing the role the United States must play in the post war world.

He warned that despite the jittery state of mind of the Axis in Europe, Japan is strengthening herself in the Pacific.

"After six months of Japanese victories following Pearl Harbor," he said, "we now see Japan—and I say this with caution—digging in, determined to hold the possessions she already has acquired."

He asserted that the Japanese fleet has declined a couple of chances given it by American naval forces to come out and fight in recent months.

Admits Some Mistakes.

Conceding that errors have been made, he said:

"There will always be blundering under the pressure of war. But we've done something that never has been done before. We've equipped an army of 6,000,000 men and put into the air the greatest armada the world has ever seen. We also provided England with the beginning of a rearmament program after she lost nearly everything at Dunkirk.

"Now we can be confident of victory, though it may be costly and postponed."

Post-war participation in some sort of world organization will be necessary for the United States as a means of self-preservation, the Navy Secretary said.

"As soon as the conflict is over we're going to be assailed by the cry of isolationists who will want us to come home and stay out of a world organization," he declared.

"I think we realize now that we are living in a world with neighbors, and that we no longer are an island of prosperity in a world of poverty. Part of the defense of our liberty lies in helping others to be free."

The war will have been fought to no purpose, he said, unless it brings security and a stable world economy in its wake. There will be security, he added, if it is forced by those who demand it.

Knox Says Foe Will Feel Blow In Pacific Soon

Asserts Offensive Power Will Rest With Allies Until the War Is Won

LOS ANGELES, June 30 (AP).—Power to decide where the next blow will be struck in the Pacific "now rests with our side, and it will continue to rest with us for the duration," Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, asserted today.

He also predicted that the Germans and Italians will not be able to interrupt supply lines for "invasions" of Europe and that the Japanese will not have to wait long to learn about America's strategic decisions.

Addressing a rally inaugurating

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5533

a campaign to sell enough war bonds to buy a cruiser to be named the U. S. S. Los Angeles, Mr. Knox said:

"There is no branch of the Axis armed forces today—either to the east or the west of us—which cannot testify to the growing power of the United States and the United Nations.

"These Nazi and Italian forces were not able to cut or interrupt our supply lines to Africa, and they will not be able to halt the communications and supply lines which will lead to other invasions on European soil.

"In the Pacific, the Japanese are no longer in position to decide where the next blow will be struck.

U. S. Forces Growing Steadily

"Our forces in the Pacific, in all categories, are steadily being strengthened, and with very definite ends in view. I can promise you that the Japanese will not have to wait too long a time to learn about some of these decisions."

Earlier, at a press conference, Mr. Knox referred to the new American offensive in the central Solomons as the beginning of an attack on Munda Bay and surrounding enemy bases. He said he had heard only word of mouth accounts of the new operation, and, shown a newspaper bearing the Navy's disclosure earlier in the day, commented "that's interesting, isn't it?"

Mr. Knox declared the United States never has regarded the Pacific war as of importance secondary to the conflict in Europe.

He expressed himself as "tremendously pleased" with American weapons, asserting that there never have been ships so heavily armed as those combating the Axis, and that better planes than those of the United States do not exist.

Discussing strengthening of the American Navy, Mr. Knox said that in the year ending tomorrow, new construction of combatant ships will have increased by more than six times over the first year of the nation's new building program.

Cites Japanese Strength

"But that is not the entire story," he continued. "In the six months remaining in this year of 1943, we will complete more new combatant ships than we completed in the twelve months between July 1, 1942, and July 1, 1943. And we will go into 1944 still producing at top speed."

In an earlier address at Coronado, Mr. Knox warned that despite the Axis's "jittery state of mind" in Europe, Japan is strengthening herself in the Pacific. "After six months of Japanese victories following Pearl Harbor," he said, "we now see Japan—and I say this with caution—digging in determined to hold the possessions she already has acquired."

He asserted the Japanese fleet has declined a "couple of chances given it by American naval forces to come out and fight" in recent months.

MARTINIQUE SEEKS TERMS FROM U. S.

Admiral Robert Wants Envoy Sent To Island—Two Conditions Stipulated

JUL -1 1943

[By the Associated Press]

New York, June 30—Admiral Georges Robert, Vichy French High Commissioner of Martinique, has asked the United States Government to send an envoy "to fix the terms for a change of French authority" on the Caribbean island, the Martinique radio reported tonight in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission.

The broadcast declared that Robert had taken the step "to avoid bloodshed" and had made his request to the United States "under the double condition of their renewing the guarantee to maintain French sovereignty in these islands, and of the non-intervention of American forces."

The broadcast, in the French language, presented Robert's statement as a "communique to the population."

Reports Of Disorders

There have been several recent reports of disorders in Martinique.

The FCC text of the broadcast, which was marred by poor reception, follows:

"Communique to the population:

"In order to avoid bloodshed between the French and . . . the . . . I have asked the Government of the United States, under the double condition of their renewing the guarantee to maintain French sovereignty in these islands, and of the non-intervention of American forces, to send a plenipotentiary to fix the terms for a change of French authority.

". . . my duty to the people and the Marshal. . . .

"(Signed) Admiral Robert."

Relations Severed

Presumbly Robert's allusion to a change of French authority meant that he was willing to permit the island to divorce itself from Vichy and associate itself with the French National Committee of General Giraud and General de Gaulle which has been set up in North Africa.

Diplomatic relations between the United States and the French island were severed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull on April 30 and shortly after that Hull announced that the United States navy was keeping a close watch over the island.

French Guiana, a member of the French Antilles over which Robert governed, broke away from Vichy in March and now is headed by a commissioner appointed by Giraud. The other member of the Antilles group is the island of Guadaloupe.

New York, June 30 (AP)—The Berlin radio, in a special broadcast from Cologne tonight, said that four large British time bombs are known to be still buried in the Cologne Cathedral.

The broadcast, recorded by NBC, said "every precaution is being taken to minimize their damage when they do go off."

Sergt. Henry Crain, Writer, Missing in Fortress Action

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Staff Sergt. Henry Maurice Crain, 41, former newspaperman and author and the oldest gunner at the bomber base in England where he was stationed, was reported yesterday by the War Department as "missing in action."

A message to his wife, Miss Annie Laurie Williams, New York literary agent, said Sergt. Crain was missing since June 22. He was a radio operator and ball turret gunner on a Flying Fortress.

ARMS-BUILDING LETDOWN LAID TO GOOD NEWS

Forced To Send Training Weapons Overseas, Says Somervell

May Output $106,783,000 Below Month's $1,600,941,000 Quota

JUL -1 1943

[By the Associated Press]

New York, June 30—Lieut. Gen. Brehon Somervell, commanding general of the Army Service Forces, said in a magazine article released today that the army was so short of weapons and material that equipment used in training soldiers was being sent abroad for combat use.

Somervell, writing in Mill and Factory, a trade publication for industrial management, asserted that May output for the army's supply program was $106,783,000 under the month's quota of $1,600,941,000. He attributed the drop to a number of factors, including floods, labor shortages and turnover, work stoppage, but primarily to the "sedative" effect of good news from the battle fronts.

Cites Over-Confidence

"One of the most important causes was overconfidence on the part of some segments of industry, labor and the public—the growing, false and damaging impression that we've got the war won, that we can let up now in the intensity of our efforts and that we can now begin planning for early resumption of manufacture of non-essential consumer goods, which the war has denied us," the supply chief said.

"This is happening at a time when we are so short of weapons and materiel that we are having to take equipment being used to train our growing army in this country and send it abroad for combat use. This not only seriously impairs our training program, but affects the morale of the troops."

Early Reduction

Somervell said that the original 1943 military strategy, laid out by the combined chiefs of staff with the approval of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, called for war machinery, equipment and supplies costing $92,000,000,000. The War Production Board, he said, reported such a program was beyond the capacity of the nation and the estimate was revised to $75,000,000,000.

"Since our first and greatest need was for aircraft, cargo ships and navy combat vessels, the major part of the reduction in 1943 goals had to be absorbed by the army ground supply program," he said.

"This meant a twenty-five per cent. cut in the schedules the army had planned for the year — one fourth less equipment than the army had determined to be necessary to accomplish the tasks assigned to it."

Gains Through April

Under the program, steady scheduled increases in production were achieved through April, he said, but added that "even with this schedule met, the army will not be fully equipped until well into 1944."

Somervell said that "by far the greater part of the failure was due to the psychological letdown—the overconfidence that has swept the country with favorable news from the battle front."

Tokio Radio Reports 'Rights' in Shanghai Restored to Chinese

Agreement With Puppet Regime at Nanking Signed by Japanese

JUL -1 1943

By the Associated Press.

Signing of an agreement between the Japanese government and the puppet Chinese regime at Nanking whereby administrative rights in the former International Settlement at Shanghai have been "restored to the Chinese" was announced by the Tokio radio in a broadcast recorded today by the Associated Press.

The agreement was hailed by Japanese propagandists as "a major turning point in Chinese-Japanese relations." The agreement, the broadcast said, was signed in Nanking.

Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo, the broadcast said, declared in a special statement that the agreement was in conformity with Japan's Pacific war aims "to crush British-American ambitions of grasping hegemony in East Asia." The war, he added, has enabled Asiatics "to recover their inherent human rights."

"The very existence of international concessions in China has been one of the greatest obstacles to the renaissance in China, just as they have been a cancerous impediment to the construction of a Greater East Asia," Tojo said.

"The fact that these age-long evils are about to be eradicated by the concerted efforts of Japan and China is indeed deply significant, inasmuch as it will further promote development of the new relations between Japan and China • • • and will serve to clarify again the true nature of the reconstruction of Asia."

Under the terms of the agreement, the Chinese puppet government will assume control of the settlement August 18. It provides that "concrete matters" pertaining to the agreement shall be decided by "consultation" between Japanese and Chinese officials in the localities affected.

JAPAN PREDICTS DRIVE

Says Allies Have 2,200 Planes in Australian Sector

The Berlin radio broadcast yesterday a Tokyo dispatch asserting that Allied air forces in the South Pacific were making extensive preparations, which the Japanese interpreted as indicating plans for an offensive north of Australia. The broadcast was recorded in New York by The Associated Press.

It said that July and August provided the most favorable weather for air operations north of Australia and declared that the Allies had 2,000 airplanes concentrated by the end of April in the Australian sector, to which, it said, 200 were added during May.

"Another reason for expecting the Allies to make a third attempt at an offensive in the area north of Australia," it said, "is their failure to break through Japanese fortifications from India to Burma.

"It is believed here [Tokyo] that the Allies after occupying Attu themselves no longer deem the Aleutian area a promising base for further offensive operations."

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

The general pattern of the United Nations' Summer campaigns is now strongly indicated. The American landing on Rendova Island in the Central Solomons and Prime Minister Churchill's cryptic reference to heavy fighting in the Mediterranean set the seal on hints already gathering as to the direction of the Allies' next big moves.

The thrust into the Central Solomons, announced yesterday by the Navy, shows the general line of the South Pacific offensive for which the United States Navy and Army have been gathering striking power. It does not, however, disclose its further objectives and ultimate goals or whether it will reach as far as Rabaul, the chief Japanese base in the islands above Australia, or even beyond. All this doubtless depends on the quality of the enemy's counter-action.

One thing is certain. The offensive, of which the Rendova landing may be only a preliminary diversion, is calculated to make the Japanese stand and fight another of those devastating battles of attrition—in the air and on land and sea—such as they lost on Guadalcanal and New Guinea last Winter and thus far have avoided in the Aleutians. The enemy must fight such a battle or abandon prizes of great strategic importance.

As for the Mediterranean the pathways followed daily and nightly by the Allied air forces across the Mediterranean to Sicily, Sardinia, Southern Italy and more recently to Greece mark the routes by which mighty blows will be delivered by sea and land "before the leaves of Autumn fall," to quote Churchill's speech at the Guildhall.

Allies Gain at Sea

Meanwhile, with July at hand and the second quarter of 1943 ended—a period so critical in the battle of the Atlantic—the Allies are able to see in the results of that conflict a victory which Churchill ranked as "no less notable" than the triumph in Tunisia. This should be done, however, with due consideration to Churchill's warning that "we must not assume that this great improvement will be maintained or that bad patches do not lie ahead' 'and that "we must redouble our efforts and ingenuity."

"More than 30 U-boats were certainly destroyed in the month of May," Churchill said. The battle ended 'in the complete defeat of the U-boat attack." And although "the U-boats have recoiled to lick their wounds and mourn their dead" and the Allies convoys are not undergoing serious attacks at the present time, Hitler's submarine losses for June also "have been most solid and encouraging."

An indication of these "solid and encouraging" results was given Monday by Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner to Canada, who disclosed that 14 submarines had been destroyed in the last fortnight, indicating a continuation of the May rate of one a day. There is convincing evidence now that the pace of kills definitely has passed Germany's replacement capacity. Authoritative information reaching London put the May U-boat output at 23, and the curve is descending under the hammer blows of the British and American air forces on the factories and ports that make and assemble the submarines.

JUL -1 1943

1943

Cut U-boat Strength

This margin still is small but there is sound justification for believing that it will grow and that the effect, as the U-boat flotillas are whittled down, on the morale of the German Navy and German people will be tremendous. For, as Churchill pointed out, German leadership has tried to assuage the anguish of its people under the punishment from the air by the hope of great accomplishments by Admiral Doenitz' undersea fleet.

Against the waning fortunes of the U-boats is set the titanic record of the American shipbuilding industry, supplemented by the shipyards of Britain and Canada. The total output for June, Churchill disclosed, was between seven and ten times the Allies' shipping losses for the month. We know that the American output alone for May was 175 ships of 1,782,000 deadweight tons and it is a safe assumption that the British and Canadian contribution brought the total close to 2,000,000 tons.

The June figures probably will not be less. With losses of only one-tenth or one-seventh that figure, say 200,000 to 300,000 tons, the margin of gain is well above 1,500,000 tons for June and for three months now it has run well above 1,000,000 tons. In a year this means a gain in ship tonnage which, added to such factors as the reopening of the Mediterranean, means a tremendous addition to the war making capacity of the United Nations.

This whole shipping situation procably is much more favorable than the estimates on which the calculations of the Casablanca and Washington war councils were based and may make possible an advancement of the schedules there arranged for the successive blows against Hitler's beleaguered fortress.

PEOPLE HERE WITH ASTONISHMENT AND DISPLEASURE."

THE DISPATCH WAS WIDELY PUBLISHED IN BRITAIN. THE LONDON TIMES REFERRED TO SIMPSON AS "ONE OF THE MOST EXPERIENCED WRITERS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS." HIS DISPATCH WAS BASED ON INFORMATION FROM HIGHEST AUTHORITIES WHO COULD NOT BE QUOTED BY NAME. IT SAID:

"THE WASHINGTON GOVERNMENT WAS REVEALED TONIGHT AS READY TO BACK UP GENERAL EISENHOWER, ALLIED SUPREME COMMANDER IN FRENCH AFRICA, TO THE LIMIT IN WHATEVER STEPS HE MAY FIND NECESSARY TO ELIMINATE ANY THREAT TO SUCCESS CREATED BY THE POLITICAL CONTROVERSY BETWEEN GENERALS CHARLES DE GAULLE AND HENRI GIRAUD, HEADING RIVAL FRENCH FACTIONS."

JUL -1 1943

REFERRING TO HIS AUTHORITIES, SIMPSON CONTINUED:

"IN PRESENTING A SUMMARY OF THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY TOWARD THE FRENCH POLITICAL CONTROVERSY IN NORTH AFRICA, THESE AUTHORITIES WERE FURTHER ABLE TO STATE THAT THE WASHINGTON GOVERNMENT EXPECTS GENERAL EISENHOWER TO TOLERATE IN NORTH FRICA NO DE GAULLIST OR OTHER FRENCH ACTIVITIES WHICH WOULD IN ANY WAY:

"1. DELAY EXECUTION OF PROJECTED ALLIED AGGRESSIVE MILITARY OPERATIONS IN THAT THEATER.

"2. JEOPARDIZE ANGLO-AMERICAN--AND FRENCH-VITAL SUPPLY LINES IN NORTH AND WEST AFRICA.

"3. UNDERMINE THE MORALE OF OFFICERS AND MEN OF THE FRENCH FORCES COMMANDED BY GENERAL GIRAUD UNDER GENERAL EISENHOWER, OR MILITATE AGAINST THEIR EFFECTIVE PARTICIPATION IN THE PROJECTED TRANS-MEDITERRANEAN OPERATIONS."

JUL -1 1943

THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN SAID:

"THE MESSAGE SENT BY A COMMENTATOR OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS OF AMERICA ON THE SUBJECT OF THE TREATMENT OF THE LEADERS AT ALGIERS WILL BE READ BY MOST PEOPLE HERE WITH ASTONISHMENT AND DISPLEASURE.

"IT READS LIKE A GRATUITOUS INSULT TO DE GAULLE, TO THE COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION AND TO FRANCE. ITS TONE IS THAT OF REPROOF TO A NUMBER OF TIRESOME AND UNIMPORTANT PEOPLE ENGAGED IN TRIVIAL DISPUTES X X X."

THE FRENCH COMMITTEE INCLUDES MEN OF DISTINCTION WHO HAVE MADE "GOOD PROGRESS TOWARD A SETTLEMENT OF DIFFICULT AND COMPLICATED PROBLEMS," THE GUARDIAN SAID, ADDING:

"THEN SUDDENLY THE WORLD IS INFORMED THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF THE

JUL -1 1943

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)-THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN ASSERTED IN ITS MAIN EDITORIAL TODAY THAT A DISPATCH WRITTEN JUNE 27 BY KIRKE SIMPSON OF THE WASHINGTON STAFF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, DISCUSSING THE FRENCH POLITICAL SITUATION IN NORTH AFRICA "WILL BE READ BY MOST

JUL -1 1943

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24— 5535

UNITED STATES WANTS TO MAKEMIT KNOW THAT IT WILL STAND FOR NO NONSENSE FROM THESE FRACTIOUS INTRIGUERS, AND THAT THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT ENTIRELY AGREES WITH THAT ATTITUDE. FEW WILL BELIEVE THAT THE COMMENTATOR IS ENTITLED TO SPEAK FOR THE SERIOUS, OFFICIAL OPINION OF THE UNITED STATES. FEWER STILL WILL BELIEVE THAT THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH ITS PUBLICATION."

(ON THIS POINT THE SIMPSON DISPATCH SAID: "ALTHOUGH BOTH GENERAL EISENHOWER AND WASHINGTON AUTHORITIES ARE STANDING STRICTLY ALOOF FROM FRENCH FACTIONAL POLITICAL WRANGLING PRECIPITATED BY DE GAULLE AND HIS ADHERENTS, FULL BRITISH COOPERATION IS ASSURED, WHATEVER THE EFFECT ON DE GAULLE'S STATUS OR AMBITIONS. THAT WAS MADE PLAIN TODAY BY ONE INFORMANT WHOSE KNOWLEDGE OF THE SITUATION IN FRENCH AFRICA AND ALL OF ITS COMPLEX RAMIFICATIONS CAN NOT BE QUESTIONED.")

THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN CONTINUED: JUL -1 1943

"TO ACT AS IF FRANCE HAS FORFEITED HER RIGHT TO MANAGE HER OWN AFFAIRS, TO PUSH HER COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION ON ONE SIDE, AND TO TALK, AS THIS MESSAGE TALKS, OF IMPOSING AMERICAN DISCIPLINE ON FRENCH POLITICS, IS TO CHALLENGE THE SELF-RESPECT OF A GREAT, SENSITIVE PEOPLE. THAT POLICY IS AS SHORTSIGHTED AS IT IS UNJUST." A166

AN EDITORIAL IN THE YORKSHIRE POST SAID:

"THE RATHER CURIOUS STATEMENT ISSUED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS ON THE AUTHORITY OF ITS WASHINGTON COMMENTATOR X X X AMOUNTS TO A NOT OVER-POLITE HINT TO DE GAULLE THAT HE BETTER BEHAVE HIMSELF OR WASHINGTON WILL SEE THAT HE IS PUT IN HIS PLACE. X X X NOTHING WOULD DO MORE TO MAKE GIRAUD UNPOPULAR IN OCCUPIED FRANCE THAN ANY SUGGESTION THAT AMERICAN INFLUENCES ARE AIMING TO THRUST HIM UPON THE FRENCH PEOPLE AS THEIR LEADER AT DE GAULLE'S EXPENSE."

BY LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON —MAJ. GEN. IRA C. EAKER, COMMANDER OF THE U.S. EIGHTH ARMY AIR FORCE, SAID RECENTLY THE STEADY POUNDING OF GERMANY FROM THE AIR WAS INTENDED TO "DESTROY THE ENEMY'S WILL TO FIGHT AND REDUCE HIS MEANS TO FIGHT." JUL -1 1943

TODAY, THERE IS CONSIDERABLE EVIDENCE THAT GREAT PROGRESS IS BEING MADE ALONG BOTH LINES. AND THE EVIDENCE IS MOUNTING.

FURTHERMORE, THE OFFENSIVE IS NOT EXPECTED TO REACH FULL SCALE PROPORTIONS UNTIL LATE IN THE SUMMER, EAKER SAID.

OPINIONS FROM INFORMED CIRCLES BOIL DOWN TO [redacted] A GENERAL PREDICTION THAT LATE SUMMER WILL SEE THE AMERICANS STRIKING NIGHTLY AT THE ENEMY'S MEANS AND THE BRITISH DELIVERING MASSIVE BLOWS AT HIS WILL — WITH HIS PRODUCTION ALSO ON THE ALLIED GOAL POST.

ALL OF WHICH MEANS THAT (A) THE USAAF, OPERATING PRINCIPALLY BY DAY,

JUL -1 1943

1943

WILL HURL MEDIUM-SIZED AIR FLEETS AGAINST SCORES OF SMALL TARGETS TO CAUSE, BY PRECISION BOMBING, A MINIMUM OF CIVILIAN CASUALTIES WHILE DEALING TELLING BLOWS; AND (B) THE RAF, BY NIGHT, WILL CONTINUE TO SMASH CITIES WITH SATURATION, AREA BOMBING WHICH MOWS GREAT PATHS OF DESTRUCTION AND INEVITABLY MUST CAUSE HIGH CASUALTIES AMONG CIVILIANS.

THIS BASIC DIFFERENCE IS DICTATED ONLY BY THE WEAPONS AND TRAINING OF EACH FORCE, PLUS THE UNANIMOUS DESIRE TO CLEAN UP THE JOB FAST AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE COST IN HUMAN LIFE.

WHILE NEITHER FORCE LIKES TO KILL CIVILIANS, THE COMMANDERS ARE CONVINCED THAT NON-COMBATANTS MUST DIE, AND ANYTHING THAT WOULD WEAKEN THE BOMBING OFFENSIVE TO ANY DEGREE WOULD SHOW UP IN GREATER CASUALTIES AMONG UNITED NATIONS SOLDIERS IN THE INVASION.

JUL -1 1943

ANY WELL-INFORMED USAAF OFFICER, IF ASKED WHY AMERICA DID NOT USE HUNDREDS OF PLANES IN SINGLE RAIDS LIKE THE BRITISH, WOULD PROBABLY REPLY THAT "TO SATURATE DEFENSE BY SHEER WEIGHT OF NUMBERS YOU MUST PUT YOUR PLANES OVER A RELATIVELY LARGE AREA QUICKLY AND GET THEM OUT QUICKLY...THAT IS THE BEST TECHNIQUE AT NIGHT WHEN DARKNESS FORCES YOU TO POUR A GREAT WEIGHT OF EXPLOSIVES INTO AN AREA PERHAPS AS MUCH AS A MILE SQUARE IN ORDER TO ENSURE

GETTING HITS ON YOUR PRIMARY TARGETS."

"BUT IF WE WERE TO TURN TO AREA BOMBING IN ORDER TO SECURE THE DEFENSIVE ADVANTAGES OF SATURATION," HE WOULD SAY, "IT WOULD MEAN THAT WE WERE ABANDONING ONE OF OUR GREAT ASSETS — OUR PRECISION BOMBSIGHT AND OUR ABILITY TO USE IT."

HE WOULD SAY A RELATIVELY SMALL NUMBER — COMPARED WITH THE RAF FLEETS — OF U.S. FLYING FORTRESSES OR LIBERATORS COULD PRETTY WELL DESTROY ANY GIVEN TARGET WHILE PROTECTING ITSELF SUFFICIENTLY TO RETURN WITH FIVE PER CENT IN LOSSES, OR LESS, IF IT ISN'T GANGED BY AN EXCEPTIONALLY BIG FIGHTER FORCE.

"AND THAT'S WHERE WE'LL BE ABLE TO MAKE USE OF OUR NUMBERS AS OUR FORCE DROPS," HE WOULD SAY. "INSTEAD OF SENDING ONE OR TWO MEDIUM SIZED FORCES INTO THE SAME AREA WITH THE RISK THAT ONE MAY BE CAUGHT BY A HUGE CONCENTRATION — AS HAPPENED IN THE KIEL FORCE IN THE KIEL-BREMEN RAID OF JUNE 13 — WE'LL SEND THREE OR FOUR OR KEMR FIVE OR MORE SO THAT THE ENEMY WILL FIND IT IMPOSSIBLE TO

JUL -1 1943

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5537

CONCENTRATE HIS FIGHTERS ON ANY ONE WITHOUT LEAVING OTHER TARGETS IN THE AREA ALMOST UNDEFENDED. AND HE KNOWS WELL WHAT WE CAN DO TO HIS U-BOAT PENS, FACTORIES AND DOCKS IF HE HASN'T ENOUGH FIGHTERS AGAINST US."

RAF BOMBERS COULD NOT USE THIS TECHNIQUE. THEY LACK THE BOMBSIGHT AND TRAINING IN ITS USE. BESIDES, THE PRESENT BOMBER HASN'T THE FIREPOWER TO ALLOW IT TO OPERATE IN DAYTIME WITHOUT PROHIBITIVE LOSSES.

ON A RATIO BASIS, RAF NIGHT LOSSES USUALLY RUN HIGHER THAN USAAF DAY LOSSES.

JUL -1 1943

EXACT ESTIMATES ON EFFECTS OF BOMBINGS ON MORALE AND PRODUCTION ARE NOT POSSIBLE, BUT THE GERMANS, THEMSELVES, HAVE TESTIFIED ON THE FIRST SCORE AND UNDERGROUND REPORTS DRAW A HEARTENING PICTURE OF DECLINING OUTPUT.

NO ONE CLAIMS THE AIR WAR TO BE A SOLE INFLUENCE. THE NAVAL BLOCKADE, COSTLY DEFEATS FOR THE ENEMY AT STALINGRAD AND IN TUNISIA ARE INTERWOVEN WITH OTHER FACTORS. BUT, REGARDLESS OF EXACT CAUSES, THERE ARE THESE ESTABLISHED FACTS AND ESTIMATES;

JUL -1 1943

FIRST, GERMAN HOME PROPAGANDA DEPICTS [redacted] THE BOMB DAMAGE GRIMLY, TO AROUSE THE REICH TO GREATER EFFORTS; SECOND, DECLINING PRODUCTION MAY WELL BE DELAYING OR CURTAILING AN OFFENSIVE AGAINST RUSSIA; THIRD, TANK PRODUCTION

IS REPORTED LESS THAN HALF OF WHAT IT WAS AT PEAK, PLANE OUTPUT NOT MORE THAN 60 PER CENT, SUBMARINES FAR SHORT DESPITE TOP PRIORITIES.

THE NAZI PROPAGANDA MACHINE CLINGS TO HOPES OF CHECKING THE DOWNPOUR OF BOMBS BY SHINING NEUTRAL AND ALLIED PUBLIC OPINION, AND MEANTIME IS FEEDING THE GERMAN PEOPLE STARK WAR HORROR TO [redacted]. A RECENT NAZI BROADCAST SAID "EVEN SOLDIERS FROM THE EASTERN FRONT PASS THROUGH THESE (BOMBED) TOWNS IN SILENCE AND BOW TO THE UNIMAGINABLE SUFFERINGS AND SACRIFICES OF THESE PEOPLE."

JUL -1 1943

A FOREIGN SOURCE IN LONDON HAS DISCLOSED THAT REPORTS FROM UNDERGROUND CONTACTS GAVE GERMANY'S MAY PRODUCTION OF AIRPLANES AS ONLY 1,730 AS COMPARED WITH A MONTHLY PEAK OF ABOUT 2,500 IN 1941-42. THE FIGURE WAS BROKEN DOWN INTO 950 FIGHTERS AND 600 BOMBING TYPES, WITH BUT 70 FOUR-ENGINED CRAFT.

JUL -1 1943

1943

WITH 700 ESTIMATED FOR ITALY, THE EUROPEAN AXIS PLANE PRODUCTION WAS PUT AT LESS THAN 2,500. THE UNITED STATES ALONE PRODUCED 7,000 PLANES THAT MONTH.

IN GERMANY,
OTHER FIGURES SHOWED ONLY 600 TANKS BUILT, INCLUDING ABOUT 200 MARK SIXES, AS AGAINST A PEAK LEVEL OF SOME 1,500; AND ONLY 23 U-BOATS COMPLETED AS AGAINST A GOAL OF ONE OR MORE A DAY.

JUL -1 1943

THESE DECLINES HAVE ADDED SIGNIFICANCE AGAINST THE BACKGROUND OF GREAT EQUIPMENT LOSSES IN TUNISIA AND RUSSIA AND IN THE AIR WAR OVER EUROPE.

THERE HAVE BEEN ESTIMATES THAT THE AXIS ARMY OF 250,000 IN TUNISIA HAD TO BE NEARLY COMPLETELY RE-EQUIPPED THREE TIMES TO MAKE UP LOSSES. IN RUSSIA, BETWEEN NOVEMBER AND MARCH, MOSCOW REPORTED THE CAPTURE OR DESTRUCTION OF 20,000 GUNS AND 150,000 TRUCKS AND THE RUSSIANS CLAIMED THE DESTRUCTION OF MORE THAN 3,300 NAZI PLANES IN SIX WEEKS OF FIGHTING. AMERICAN AND BRITISH AIR FORCES OPERATING FROM BRITAIN SHOT DOWN MORE THAN 400 PLANES IN MAY.

THE CLOSING PHASES OF THE TUNISIAN FIGHT COST THE ENEMY MORE THAN 2,000 PLANES.

BEST ADVICES HERE INDICATE THAT OVER THE PAST FEW MONTHS THE GERMAN AIR FORCE'S REPLACEMENTS HAVE NOT EQUALLED ITS LOSSES AND THE FORCE, THEREFORE, IS BEING DESTROYED SLOWLY. OPERATIONAL RESERVES ONCE FIGURED AT AROUND 20,000 OR MORE PLANES OF ALL TYPES MAY NOW BE LESS THAN THAT, INCLUDING OBSOLETE TYPES OF SCANT BATTLE WORTH.

JUL -1 1943

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)--DAMAGE DONE TO THE GERMAN INDUSTRIAL CITY OF DORTMUND BY THE RAF'S ENEMY 2,000-TON RAID OF MAY 29 WAS EVEN GREATER THAN WAS FIRST BELIEVED, ALTHOUGH IT WAS DESCRIBED THEN AS PROBABLY THE MOST DAMAGED CITY IN GERMANY, THE AIR MINISTRY NEWS SERVICE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

JUL -1 1943

EXAMINATION OF PHOTOGRAPHS OF FOUR SMALL BUT IMPORTANT INDUSTRIAL AREAS IN DORTMUND NOT COVERED BY EARLIER RECONNAISSANCE SHOWED THAT FOUR MORE CONCERNS OF THE HUGE HOESCH STEEL WORKS WERE DESTROYED, THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID.

TWO COLLIERIES ALSO WERE FOUND TO HAVE BEEN HEAVILY DAMAGED AND PROBABLY PUT OUT OF PRODUCTION AND 400 ADDITIONAL BUSINESS HOUSES EITHER

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5539

DESTROYED OR DAMAGED.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID A BIG SNYTHETIC OIL PLANT WAS HIT AND "JUDGING FROM PHOTOGRAPHS, APPEARS TO BE NO LONGER WORKING." THE HOESCH STEEL WORKS LOST SOME OF ITS LARGE ROLLING MILLS, AND NUMEROUS OTHER BUILDINGS, INCLUDING A CEMENT WORKS, WERE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED, THE NEWS SERVICE SAID.

JUL -1 1943

(AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR AMS OF THURSDAY, JULY 1)

- - -

ALLIED AERIAL
BLOWS TO REACH
CRESCENDO LATER

- - -

NAZI PRODUCTION
IN MAY CUT TO
1,730 PLANES (900)

- - -

JUL -1 1943

JUL -1 1943

BY LEWIS HAWKINS

(ADVANCE) LONDON--(AP)--THE NAZI AIR FORCE, FACING A RISING CRESCRENDO OF ALLIED BOMBING ATTACKS WHICH ARE EXPECTED TO REACH THEIR PEAK IN LATE SUMMER, RECEIVED ONLY 1,730 NEW PLANES IN MAY, ACCORDING TO A RELIABLE SOURCE HERE WITH UNDERGROUND CONTACTS.

IN THE SAME TIME, 400 PLANES WERE LOST ON THE WESTERN AIR FRONT ALONE, NOT TO MENTION 1,700 DESTROYED IN THE LAST DAYS IN TUNISIA AND THOUSANDS CLAIMED BY THE RUSSIANS.

AND SO, WITH DWINDLING FORCES, THE LUFTWAFFE FACES WHAT MAJ.GEN. IRA EAKER, COMMANDER OF THE EIGHTH USAAF, DESCRIBED AS A CAMPAIGN TO "DESTROY THE ENEMY'S WILL TO FIGHT AND REDUCE HIS MEANS TO FIGHT."

HE SAID THE AIR OFFENSIVE WOULD NOT REACH FULL SCALE UNTIL LATE SUMMER, BUT THERE ALREADY IS MOUNTING EVIDENCE OF PROGRESS.

OPINIONS FROM INFORMED CIRCLES BOIL DOWN TO A GENERAL PREDICTION THAT LATE SUMMER WILL SEE THE AMERICANS STRI

JUL -1 1943

OPINIONS FROM INFORMED CIRCLES BOIL DOWN TO A GENERAL PREDICTION THAT LATE SUMMER WILL SEE THE AMERICANS STRIKING MIGHTILY AT THE ENEMY'S MEANS AND THE BRITISH DELIVERING MASSIVE BLOWS AT HIS WILL.

ALL OF WHICH MEANS THAT (A) THE USAAF, OPERATING PRINCIPALLY BY DAY, WILL HURL MEDIUM-SIZED AIR FLEETS AGAINST SCORES OF SMALL TARGETS TO CAUSE, BY RECISION BOMBING, A MINIMUM OF CIVILIAN CASUALTIES WHILE DEALING TELLING BLOWS; AND (B) THE RAF, BY NIGHT, WILL CONTINUE TO SMASH CITIES WITH SATURATION, AREA BOMBING WHICH MOWS GREAT PATHS OF DESTRUCTION AND INEVITABLY MUST CAUSE HIGH CASUALTIES AMONG CIVILIANS.

THIS BASIC ~~DIFFERENCE~~ DIFFERENCE IS DICTATED ONLY BY THE WEAPONS AND TRAINING OF EACH FORCE, PLUS THE UNANIMOUS DESIRE TO CLEAN UP THE JOB FAST AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE COST IN HUMAN LIFE.

WHILE NEITHER FORCE LIKES TO KILL CIVILIANS, THE COMMANDERS ARE CONVINCED THAT SOME CIVILIAN DEATHS ARE UNAVOIDABLE AND ANYTHING THAT WOULD WEAKEN THE BOMBING OFFENSIVE TO ANY DEGREE WOULD SHOW UP IN GREATER CASUALTIES AMONG UNITED NATIONS SOLDIERS IN THE INVASION.

JUL -1 1943

1943

" ANY WELL-INFORMED USAAF OFFICER, IF ASKED WHY AMERICA DOES NOT USE HUNDREDS OF PLANES IN SINGLE RAIDS LIKE THE BRITISH, WOULD PROBABLY REPLY THAT "TO SATURATE DEFENSE BY SHEER WEIGHT OF NUMBERS YOU MUST PUT YOUR PLANES OVER A RELATIVELY LARGE AREA QUICKLY AND GET THEM OUT QUICKLY....THAT IS THE BEST TECHNIQUE AT NIGHT WHEN DARKNESS FORCES YOU TO POUR A GREAT WEIGHT OF EXPLOSIVES INTO AN AREA PERHAPS AS MUCH AS A MILE SQUARE IN ORDER TO INSURE GETTING HITS ON YOUR PRIMARY TARGETS."

JUL -1 1943

"BUT IF WE WERE TO TURN TO AREA BOMBING IN ORDER TO SECURE THE DEFENSIVE ADVANTAGES OF SATURDAY," HE WOULD SAY, "IT WOULD MEAN THAT WE WERE ABANDONING ONE OF OUR GREAT ASSETS--OUR PRECISION BOMBSIGHT AND OUR ABILITY TO USE IT."

HE WOULD SAY A RELATIVELY SMALL NUMBER OF U.S.FLYING FORTRESSES OR LIBERATORS--COMPARED WITH THE BIG RAF FLEETS--COULD PRETTY WELL DESTROY ANY GIVEN TARGET WHILE PROTECTING ITSELF SUFFICIENTLY TO RETURN WITH FIVE PER CENT IN LOSSES, OR LESS, IF IT ISN'T "GANGED" BY AN EXCEPTIONALLY BIG FIGHTER FORCE.

"AND THAT'S WHERE WE'LL BE ABLE TO MAKE USE OF OUR NUMBERS AS OUR FORCE GROWS," HE WOULD SAY. "INSTEAD OF SENDING ONE OR TWO MEDIUM-SIZED FORCES INTO THE SAME AREA WITH THE RISK THAT ONE MAY BE CAUGHT BY A HUGE CONCENTRATION--AS HAPPENED IN THE KIEL FORCE IN THE KIEL-BREMEN RAID OF JUNE 13--WE'LL SEND THREE OR FOUR OR FIVE OR MORE SO THAT THE ENEMY WILL FIND IT IMPOSSIBLE TO CONCENTRATE HIS FIGHTERS ON ANY ONE WITHOUT LEAVING OTHER TARGETS IN THE AREA ALMOST UNDEFENDED. AND HEMKNOWS WELL WHAT WE CAN DO TO HIS U-BOAT PENS, FACTORIES AND DOCKS IF HE HASN'T ENOUGH FIGHTERS AGAINST US."

RAF BOMBERS COULD NOT USE THIS TECHNIQUE. THEY LACK THE BOMBSIGHT AND TRAINING IN ITS USE. BESIDES, THE PRESENT BRITISH BOMBER HASN'T THE FIREPOWER TO ALLOW IT TO OPERATE IN DAYTIME WITHOUT PROHIBITIVE LOSSES.

ON A RATIO BASIS, RAF NIGHT LOSSES USUALLY RUN HIGHER THAN USAAF DAY LOSSES.

JUL -1 1943

EXACT ESTIMATES ON EFFECTS OF BOMBINGS ON MORALE AND PRODUCTION ARE NOT POSSIBLE, BUT THE GERMANS, THEMSELVES, HAVE TESTIFIED ON THE FIRST SCORE AND UNDERGROUND REPORTS DRAW A HEARTENING PICTURE OF DECLINING OUTPUT.

NO ONE CLAIMS THE AIR WAR TO BE THE SOLE INFLUENCE. THE NAVAL BLOCKADE COSTLY DEFEATS FOR THE ENEMY AT STALINGRAD AND IN TUNISIA ARE INTERWOEVEN WITH OTHER FACTORS. BUT, REGARDLESS OF EXACT CAUSES, THERE ARE THESE ESTABLISHED FACTS AND ESTIMATES.

FIRST, GERMAN HOME PROPAGANDA DEPICTS THE BOMB DAMAGE GRIMLY, TO AROUSE THE REICH TO GREATER EFFORTS; SECOND, DECLINING PRODUCTION MAY WELL BE DELAYING OR CURTAILING AN OFFENSIVE AGAINST RUSSIA; THIRD, TANK PRODUCTION IS REPORTED LESS THAN HALF OF WHAT IT WAS AT PEAK, PLANE OUTPUT NOT MORE THAN 60 PER CENT, SUBMARINES FAR SHORT DESPITE TOP PRIORITIES.

JUL -1 1943

THE NAZI PROPAGANDA MACHINE CLINGS TO HOPES OF CHECKING THE DOWNPOUR OF BOMBS BY SWINING NEUTRAL AND ALLIED PUBLIC OPINION, AND MEANTIME IS FEEDING THE GERMAN PEOPLE STARK WAR HORROR. A RECENT NAZI BROADCAST SAID "EVEN SOLDIERS FROM THE EASTERN FRONT PASS THROUGH THESE (BOMBED) TOWNS IN SILENCE AND BOW TO THE UNIMAGINABLE SUFFERINGS AND SACRIFICES OF THESE PEOPLE."

THE FOREIGN SOURCE IN LONDON WHO GAVE GERMANY'S MAY PRODUCTION OF

JUL -1 1943

1943

AIRPLANES AS ONLY 1,730, SAID IT WAS AT A MONTHLY PEAK OF ABOUT 2,500 IN 1941-42. THE FIGURE WAS BROKEN DOWN INTO 950 FIGHTERS AND 600 BOMBING TYPES, WITH BUT 70-FOUR ENGINED CRAFT.

WITH 700 ESTIMATED FOR ITALY, THE EUROPEAN AXIS PLANE PRODUCTION WAS PUT AT LESS THAN 2,500. THE UNITED STATES ALONE PRODUCED 7,000 PLANES THAT MONTH. OTHER FIGURES SHOWED ONLY 600 TANKS BUILT IN GERMANY, INCLUDING ABOUT 200 MARK SIXES, AS AGAINST A PEAK LEVEL OF SOME 1,500; AND ONLY 23 U-BOATS COMPLETED AS AGAINST A GOAL OF ONE OR MORE A DAY.

JUL -1 1943

THESE DECLINES HAVE ADDED SIGNIFICANCE AGAINST THE BACKGROUND OF GREAT EQUIPMENT LOSSES IN TUNISIA AND RUSSIA AND IN THE AIR WAR OVER EUROPE.

THERE HAVE BEEN ESTIMATES THAT THE AXIS ARMY OF 250,000 IN TUNISIA HAD TO BE NEARLY COMPLETELY RE-EQUIPPED THREE TIMES TO MAKE UP LOSSES. IN RUSSIA, BETWEEN NOVEMBER AND MARCH, MOSCOW REPORTED THE CAPTURE OR DESTRUCTION OF 20,000 GUNS AND 150,000 TRUCKS AND THE RUSSIANS CLAIMED THE DESTRUCTION OF MORE THAN 3,300 NAZI PLANES IN SIX WEEKS OF FIGHTING. AMERICAN AND BRITISH AIR FORCES OPERATING FROM BRITAIN SHOT DOWN MORE THAN 400 PLANES IN MAY. THE CLOSING PHASES OF THE TUNISIAN FIGHT COST THE ENEMY MORE THAN 1,700 PLANES.

BEST ADVICES HERE INDICATE THAT OVER THE PAST FEW MONTHS THE GERMAN AIR FORCE'S REPLACEMENTS HAVE NOT EQUALLED ITS LOSSES AND THE FORCE, THEREFORE, IS BEING DESTROYED SLOWLY. OPERATIONAL RESERVES, ONCE FIGURED AT AROUND 20,000 OR MORE PLANES OF ALL TYPES, MAY NOW BE LESS THAN THAT, INCLUDING OBSOLETE TYPES OF SCANT BATTLE WORTH.

JUL -1 1943

(END AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR AMS OF THURSDAY, JULY 1--SENT JUNE 29)

30.24--5541

AERIAL SEPARATE

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)-ALLIED FLIERS ON OFFENSIVE PATROLS AGAINST AXIS TRANSPORTATION IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM TODAY SHOT UP MORE THAN 20 LOCOMOTIVES TO BOOST THE BAG TO WELL OVER 30 IN THE LAST 24 HOURS.

THE AIR MINISTRY COMMUNIQUE SAID MUSTANGS, TYPHOONS AND SPITFIRES PARTICIPATED IN THESE FORAYS, WHICH HAVE PLAYED HAVOC WITH CONTINENTAL TRANSPORT SERVICES.

JUL -1 1943

ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE "TRAINBUSTERS" WERE CREDITED WITH GETTING 19 OF THE "MORE THAN 20 LOCOMOTIVES" REPORTED IN A SUPPLEMENTARY

THE BULLETIN SAID THAT TWO CANADIAN FLIERS, FLIGHT OFFICER A. COLLINS OF RENFREW, ONT., AND FLIGHT OFFICER FRANK HANTON OF KENORA, ONT., A FORMER MINOR LEAGUE HOCKEY PROFESSIONAL, DAMAGED 14 OF THE LOCOMOTIVES IN 55 MINUTES.

"WE FOUND THE FIRST TRAIN A FEW MINUTES AFTER WE CROSSED THE COAST AND GAVE IT SEVERAL LONG BURSTS OF FIRE," COLLINS SAID. "THROUGHOUT THE SORTIES WE DIDN'T HAVE A SHOT FIRED AT US.

"MANY PEOPLE WERE WATCHING FROM THE FIELDS," HANTON SAID, "AND ONE OR TWO OF THEM WAVED."

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)--DEATH OF PRIVATE WILLIAM GROSSLANDS, NEGRO SOLDIER WHOSE HOME WAS IN GIBSON, N.C., AND WHO WAS INJURED IN A DISTURBANCE BETWEEN MILITARY POLICE AND A SMALL GROUP OF NEGRO SOLDIERS IN A TOWN IN NORTHWEST ENGLAND ON THE NIGHT OF JUNE 24, WAS REPORTED TODAY.

JUL -1 1943

1943

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)-- MAJOR DONALD BLAKESLEE OF FAIRPORT HARBOR, OHIO, NOW A SQUADRON COMMANDER WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY EIGHTH AIR FORCE, HAS BEEN AWARDED THE BRITISH DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS FOR COURAGE AND LEADERSHIP DISPLAYED WHILE SERVING WITH THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE.

JUL -1 1943

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)-FOR GREAT COURAGE AND SKILL DURING 25 MISSIONS OVER AXIS-HELD EUROPE, TECHNICAL SERGEANT DENIS KELEMEN OF CUMBERLAND, KY., 23-YEAR OLD GUNNER ON A FLYING FORTRESS, WAS AWARDED THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS TODAY. KELEMEN PREVIOUSLY WAS GIVEN THE AIR MEDAL WITH THREE OAK LEAF CLUSTERS.

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)-BRIG.GEN.DWIGHT H.MOHR, OF THE MARYLAND STATE GUARD, WHO HAS BEEN VISITING BRITISH HOME GUARD UNITS AS A GUEST OF THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT, SAID IN AN INTERVIEW TODAY HE WOULD RECOMMEND THAT THE CONTROL OF THE VARIOUS STATE GUARDS OF THE UNITED STATES BE TAKEN OVER BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT AND THAT COMPULSORY LIMITED TRAINING BE ADOPTED.

MOHR AND TWO OTHER OFFICERS OF THE MARYLAND STATE GUARD, LIEUT. COL.NELSON TAYMON AND MAJ.R.L.FITZSIMMONS, ALL OF BALTIMORE, HAVE JUST RETURNED FROM A WEEK'S VISIT TO THE VARIOUS HOME GUARD UNITS IN BRITAIN. MOHR SAID "WE HAVE NOTHING LIKE THIS IN AMERICA AND WE CERTAINLY HAVE LEARNED A LOT."

JUL -1 1943

MOHR, WHO WILL REPORT ON HIS TRIP TO THE NATIONAL GUARD BUREAU, SAID THE BRITISH HOME GUARDS ARE "VERY, VERY EFFICIENT, WELL TRAINED AND WELL EQUIPPED. I CAN'T SAY TOO MUCH FOR THEM."

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)-THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND, IN A COMMUNIQUE BROADCAST FROM BERLIN AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, REPORTED TODAY THAT NAZI SUBMARINES HAD SUNK EIGHT MERCHANT VESSELS TOTALING 49,000 TONS, A DESTROYER AND THREE SAILING SHIPS IN ATTACKS ON ALLIED SHIPPING IN THE ATLANTIC AND MEDITERRANEAN.

JUL -1 1943

(THE COMMUNIQUE DID NOT SPECIFY THE PERIOD IN WHICH THE REPORTED SINKINGS WERE ACCOMPLISHED AND COMPARISON WITH ALLIED REPORTS OF SHIPPING LOSSES THEREFORE WAS IMPOSSIBLE. THE GERMANS HAVE ACKNOWLEDGED, HOWEVER, THAT NEW ALLIED DEFENSIVE MEASURES HAVE MADE THE WORK OF NAZI SUBMARINES INCREASINGLY DIFFICULT.)

BY RICE YANNER

LONDON, JUNE 30-(AP)-CAPT.CHARLES T.LONDON OF LONG BEACH, CALIF., PILOT OF AN AMERICAN THUNDERBOLT FIGHTER, SHOT DOWN TWO MESSERSCHMITT -109 FIGHTERS WHILE HIS SQUADRON WAS ESCORTING A FLEET OF FLYING FORTRESSES IN YESTERDAY'S DAYLIGHT RAID ON LE MANS, FRANCE.

"A FORMATION OF MESSERSCHMITTS CAME IN ON THE BOMBERS," HE SAID TODAY. "I WENT AFTER THE FIRST ONE AND LET GO A BURST. PIECES FLEW OFF THE PLANE, SMOKE BILLOWED UP AND ONE OF THE WHEELS CAME DOWN, BUT SOMEHOW OR OTHER IT STAYED IN FORMATION.

"I CAME AROUND AND LET GO AGAIN AND THE SOMBSO JUST BLEW UP. THEN I DIVED UNDER THE FORTRESSES AND CAME UP ON THE TAIL OF ANOTHER MESSERSCHMITT. HE WASN'T MORE THAN 75 YARDS AWAY. I FIRED AND HE BLEW UP, TOO. AND THE BOMBERS GOT A THIRD ONE."

THE CREWS OF THE FORTRESSES WERE LAVISH IN THEIR PRAISE OF THE PROTECTION OFFERED BY THE THUNDERBOLTS.

"BABY, WERE THOSE FIGHTERS GOOD," EXCLAIMED STAFF SERGT. DANIEL

JUL -1 1943

1943

RANGOLD, A WAISTGUNNER OF GARFIELD, N.J. "THEY FLEW SO CLOSE TO US WE COULD ALMOST SHAKE HANDS WITH THEM."

CAPT. JOHN W. FORD OF CROCKETT, TEX., PILOT OF THE FORTRESS "OLD PUSS II," ADDED THAT HE SAW 15 OR 20 FOCKE-WULF-190S, BUT THAT THEY KEPT THEIR DISTANCE.

JUL -1 1943

SERGT. JOHN C. BENAYER OF CANTON, OHIO, WAISTGUNNER ON THE "ELUSIVE WITCH," SAID: "THOSE ESCORTING FIGHTERS WERE A PRETTY SIGHT--AS PRETTY AS ANYTHING I HAVE EVER SEEN IN ALL MY LIFE."

LONDON JUNE 30--(AP)--THREE OF SIX ENEMY VESSELS SIGHTED OFF DUNKERQUE DURING THE NIGHT WERE DAMAGED BY RAF PLANES WHICH PRESSED IN FOR AN ATTACK AT LOW ALTITUDE DESPITE WHAT PILOTS REFERRED TO AS "AN INTENSE BARRAGE OF FLAK," THE AIR MINISTRY REPORTED TODAY.

PILOTS ON THE CHANNEL PATROL SIGHTED A SHIP OF BETWEEN 1,500 AND 2,000 TONS, A TUGBOAT AND FOUR E-BOATS WHICH APPARENTLY HAD JUST LEFT PORT AND WERE HEADING TOWARD OSTEND.

TWO PLANES LEADING THE ATTACK DIVED IN AND RAKED THE MERCHANT SHIP AND ESCORT WITH CANNONFIRE AND BOMBS, THE MINISTRY SAID. THE PILOTS WERE UNABLE TO OBSERVE THE EFFECT OF THE ATTACK, HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF THE INTENSITY OF THE DEFENSE.

OTHER PLANES DIVED IN LATER AND REPORTED HITS ON THE MERCHANT SHIP, THE TUGBOAT AND ONE OF THE ESCORT CRAFT. ONE OF THE BRITISH PLANES WAS REPORTED MISSING.

JUL -1 1943

LONDON-1ST ADD RUSSIAN XXX TAKEN PRISONER.

THE RUSSIAN COMMUNIQUE MENTIONED ONLY A SINGLE AIR OPERATION. IT SAID THAT TWO SOVIET PILOTS IN THE BELGOROD SECTOR ENGAGED EIGHT GERMAN BOMBERS, SHOOTING DOWN TWO AND DISPERSING THE REMAINING SIX. TWO GERMAN PILOTS WHO BAILED OUT WERE REPORTED CAPTURED.

LAST NIGHT THE RUSSIANS SAID THE SOVIET AIRFORCE WAS CONTINUING TO 30.24—5543

HAMMER AT GERMAN RAIL CENTERS AND SUPPLY DEPOTS IN THE OREL AREA. A SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT BROADCAST FROM MOSCOW IN ADVANCE OF THE MIDNIGHT BULLETIN SAID SOVIET BOMBERS HAD CAUSED AT LEAST 15 FIRES AT OREL AND HAD CONTINUED ON TO BOMB MUNITIONS DUMPS AT KARACHEV 40 MILES TO THE WEST.

JUL -1 1943

(A BERLIN BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LAST NIGHT SAID THAT NAZI TROOPS HAD REPELLED "COMPARATIVELY STRONG" ATTACKS BY THE RED ARMY ON THE NORTHWESTERN FRONT SOUTH OF STARAYA RUSSA AND AROUND VELIKIE LUKI.

(GERMAN HEAVY INFANTRY WEAPONS, THE BROADCAST SAID, HAD BEEN EMPLOYED SUCCESSFULLY TO SMASH RUSSIAN ATTEMPTS TO REFORM LINES FOR FURTHER ATTACKS.

(THE GERMANS ALSO SAID THAT THEY HAD STOPPED SEVERAL RECONNAISSANCE THRUSTS AT THEIR KUBAN BRIDGEHEAD. THE RED ARMY USED AN ARTILLERY SMOKE SCREEN TO MASK ITS ADVANCES, BUT ATTEMPTS TO LAND RUSSIAN TROOPS IN THE GERMAN REAR WAS HALTED WITH A LOSS OF 11 LANDING BARGES, THE BROADCAST SAID.

(SINKING OF A 350-TON RUSSIAN MERCHANTMAN OFF NOVOROSSISK BY HEAVY ARTILLERY FIRE ALSO WAS REPORTED BY THE GERMAN RADIO.)

BY GLADWIN HILL

A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 30--(AP)--AMERICAN AIRFIELDS IN ENGLAND HAVE WITNESSED MANY AMAZING SCENES AS HEAVY BOMBERS HAVE ROARED BACK FROM RAIDS ON EUROPE SHOT UP, FALLING APART, SURVIVORS OF DOZENS OF HAIRBREADTH ESCAPES BUT FEW SCENES ARE MORE REMARKABLE THAN YESTERDAY'S RETURN OF THIS STATION'S GROUP

JUL -1 1943

1943

AND OTHER GROUPS FROM FRANCE.

AFTER HOURS OF PAINSTAKING PREPARATIONS THE BOYS TOOK OFF AND PENETRATED DEEP INTO FRANCE AND BATTLED THEIR WAY BACK BRINGING WITH THEM THE BOMBS THEY WERE UNABLE TO DROP BECAUSE OF A SOLID CLOUD BLANKET OVER EUROPE.

AS THEY ROARED BACK DOWN THE RUNWAY AND STEPPED OUT OF THE PLANES FEW APPEARED TO BE DISGRUNTLED AT THEIR DISAPPOINTMENT. THEIR FACES SHOWED SATISFACTION OF A JOB WELL DONE, IF NOT JUST THE WAY THEY WOULD HAVE LIKED IT AT LEAST AS WELL AS THEY COULD.

IT IS TOUGH TO BRING BACK BOMBS YOU'VE CARRIED HUNDREDS OF MILES AT THE RISK OF YOUR OWN LIFE. BUT IN DOING SO THEY AVOIDED KILLING POSSIBLY THOUSANDS OF INNOCENT CIVILIANS--WHICH MIGHT HAVE HAPPENED IF THEY HAD SALVOED THEIR BOMBS AT RANDOM THROUGH THE OVERCAST.

"WE GOT A BAD BREAK, BUT I DIDN'T MIND NOT DUMPING OUR BOMBS. IF WE HAD JUST DROPPED THEM INDISCRIMINATELY AND HIT SOME RESIDENTIAL SECTION IT WOULD HAVE BEEN TERRIBLE," SAID LIEUTENANT RUSSEL MAXWELL OF COLUMBIA, MO., CO-PILOT OF THE FLYING FORTRESS "HUSTLIN' SUE," A FORMER MACHINESHOP WORKER IN THE REMINGTON ARMS PLANT IN KANSAS CITY, MO.

JUL -1 1943

"TOUGH TRIP? I SUPPOSE IN ONE WAY BUT IT WAS A GOOD ONE COMPARED TO SOME I COULD THINK OF," LAUGHED MAXWELL.

LIEUTENANT ROY KELLY, (1303 WEST GRAY ST.,) HOUSTON, TEX., RECALLED "HUSTLIN' SUE'S" LAST TRIP TO BREMEN WHEN SHE CAME BACK WITH HER CONTROL CABLES AND ELEVATORS SHOT UP AND FOUR WOUNDED MEN ABOARD.

THE BOYS APPEARED UNANIMOUS IN ENDORSING THEIR INSTRUCTIONS THAT IF THE TARGET WAS INVISIBLE TO PURSUE THE DIFFICULT COURSE OF BRINGING THE BOMBS BACK HOME.

"WE DON'T WANT TO DROP THEM TO HURT PEOPLE OVER THERE. WE WANT TO HIT TARGETS--IF WE CAN'T HIT TARGETS, BRING 'EM BACK," SAID SERGEANT JOSEPH MIGLIORESI, (311 HENRY ST.,) NEW YORK CITY, "HUSTLIN' SUE'S" LEFT WAIST GUNNER.

JUL -1 1943

THEIR DARING WAS COMPENSATED FOR BY THE NEGLIBIEL FLAK AND LIGHT FIGHTER OPPOSITION. ONLY 15 OR 20 PLANES OVER A PERIOD OF ABOUT 15 MINUTES ATTACKED THE BOMBERS OF THIS ONE TIME "HARD LUCK" GROUP WHICH RETURNED INTACT.

"I SAW AT LEAST FIVE GERMAN FIGHTERS GOING DOWN IN SMOKE AND FLAMES--ABOUT HALF A DOZEN OF OUR SHIPS ALL CONCENTRATING THEIR FIRE ON THEM," SAID BALL TURRET GUNNER SERGEANT GEORGE FISHER (1710 MARQUIS ST.,) PITTSBURGH, PA., FORMER PRESSROOM WORKER ON THE PITTSBURGH POST GAZETTE. "HOPE I CAN GO BACK TO WORK THERE BEFORE LONG.

"IT WAS A QUIET DAY. I ONLY SHOT ABOUT 200 ROUNDS," SAID SERGEANT MARSHALL MCDANIEL, WANN, OKLA., RIGHT WAIST GUNNER ON THE FORTRESS "DEAL FASTER" WHO WAS MAKING HIS TENTH RAID.

"I SAW A GROUP OF ABOUT 50 GERMAN FIGHTERS QUITE AWAY OFF WHEN WE FIRST GOT INTO FRANCE BUT THEY DIDN'T ATTACK US. THEY TURNED OFF LIKE THEY WERE GOING AFTER SOMEBODY ELSE," SAID NAVIGATOR LIEUTENANT ALBERT SCHULSTAD, (4341 TWENTY-NINTH AVENUE SOUTH) MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., FORMER CONTROL TOWER OFFICER AT THE MINNEAPOLIS MUNICIPAL AIRPORT WHO WAS MAKING HIS TWENTY-FOURTH RAID.

IT WAS THE LAST RAID FOR CAPTAIN MARLEN REBER, YPSILANTI, MICH.,

JUL -1 1943

1943

PILOT OF THE FORTRESS "BIG OPERATOR II" AND HIS NAVIGATOR, LIEUTENANT LUTHER BERGEN OF BRIGHAM, UTAH. WHEN THEY GOT BACK ON THE GROUND THEIR HILARIOUS PALS PULLED OFF THEIR CLOTHES AND AFTER DULY REFITTING THEM WITH THEIR MAE WEST LIFEBELTS TOSSED THEM INTO THE WATER POOL.

"IT WAS THE FIRST TIME IN ALL THE RAIDS THAT I HAD USED THAT MAE WEST--THEN I COULDN'T MAKE IT WORK," LAUGHED REBER, A GRADUATE AND FORMER TEACHER AT THE YPSILANTI NORMAL SCHOOL. REBER MADE HIS LAST RAIDS IN THE "BIG OPERATOR II." HIS FIRST FIFTEEN WERE MADE IN THE FAMOUS FORTRESS "EAGER BEAVER" WHICH BEARS AN HONORARY DFC AND PURPLE HEART AND NEXT IN THE "BIG OPERATOR I" WHICH WENT DOWN AT BREMEN ONE DAY WHEN HE WASN'T ON BOARD.

JUL -1 1943

B61

REBER'S MOTHER, BROTHER AND TWO SISTERS ARE WORKING IN A MICHIGAN BOMBER PLANT AND HIS FATHER IS RUNNING SEVERAL FACTORIES MAKING SHOES FOR THE ARMY.

IF TRANSFERRED, HE IS NOW ELIGIBLE, REBER WOULD LIKE TO "GO OVER TO THE PACIFIC AND FIGHT JAPS--AND IF I CAN'T DO THAT I WOULD LIKE TO BE A FLYING INSTRUCTOR--AND WHEN THE ARMY GETS THROUGH WITH ME I WOULD JUST AS SOON GO BACK TO SCHOOL TEACHING," HE SAID.

OTHER MEMBERS OF THE "BIG OPERATOR II'S" CREW TODAY INCLUDED CO-PILOT FLIGHT OFFICER SAX K MOWERS, SEATTLE, WASH., AND BOMBARDIER CAPTAIN JOSEPH KOSAKOWSKI, RENO, NEV.

IT WAS ALSO THE LAST FLIGHT FOR SERGEANT RALEIGH KOLLOWAY, FREDERICKSBURG, VA., TOP TURRET GUNNER ON THE FORTRESS "GEEZIL" WHO ESCAPED A DUCKING. HE SAID THAT HE WOULD LIKE TO GO BACK TO THE

30.24—5545

UNITED STATES AND TRAIN AS A COMBAT PILOT SO THAT HE COULD GO "FIGHT JAPS."

BRISTOL, ENGLAND, JUNE 30-(AP)-THE MINISTRY OF AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION HAS AUTHORIZED THE BRISTOL AEROPLANE COMPANY TO BUILD AN AIRLINER FOR POST-WAR USE WHICH WOULD BE THE LARGEST EVER MADE, WITH A NON-STOP RANGE OF UP TO 5,000 MILES, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TONIGHT.

THE GIANT CRAFT WILL REQUIRE RUNWAYS AS LONG AS THREE MILES. IT WAS SAID.

JUL -1 1943

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 30-(AP)-FIFTEEN HUNDRED GERMAN DESERTERS ARE BEING HELD AT PRESENT IN NAZI CAMPS IN THE NORWEGIAN PROVINCE OF FINMARK AND "A LARGE CONTINGENT" OF OTHERS ARE BEING HELD IN THE ALTA AND BADDERN CAMPS IN THE KVAENANGEN DISTRICT, NORWEGIAN SOURCES SAID TODAY. THE SOURCES ADDED THAT THE PRISONERS WERE SENT TO NORWAY FROM THE FINNISH FRONT.

BERNE, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 30--(AP)--ITALY'S FORMER PROPAGANDA MINISTER, ALESSANDRO PAVOLINI, TOLD THE ITALIAN PEOPLE TODAY THAT AN ALLIED LANDING IN ITALY WAS "OBVIOUSLY" CAPABLE OF SUCCESS IN AN ARTICLE WHICH CONSTITUTED THE BIGGEST CONCESSION YET TO ISSUE FROM THE AXIS

JUL -1 1943

1943

RROGAGANDA MILL.

WRITING IN IL MESSAGERO HE OBSERVED THAT ALLIED TROOPS WERE EVERYWHERE AND DECLARED THAT THE MOST IMPORTANT JOB OF THE AXIS WAS TO "PREVENT A PENETRATION AFTER DEBARKMENT."

PAVOLINI OULTINED THIS PICTURE OF WHY HE BELIEVED A LANDING COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED: LARGE AMERICAN AND BRITISH FORCES IN ENGLAND, TWO ARMIES IN THE MIDDLE EAST--THAT IN FRENCH AFRICA WITH COMMANDO UNITS AND THAT CONCENTRATED IN EGYPT, "FRESH TROOPS STILL COMING INTO THE MEDITERRANEAN ZONE," LARGE NUMBERS OF LANDING UNITS A T GIBRALTAR AND BIG BASES IN NORTH AFRICA.

JUL -1 1943

WHEN THE INVASION STARTS, HE TOLD THE ITALIANS, "THE ANGLO-AMERICANS WILL ENTER THE STRUGGLE WITH ALL FORCES AT THEIR DISPOSITION TO OBTAIN RAPIDLY GOOD RESULTS."

FOREIGN OBSERVERS SAW IN THE ARTICLE BOTH A FRANK ADMISSION TO THE ITALIAN PEOPLE OF WHAT THEY COULD EXPECT--ENEMY LANDINGS WHICH THE AXIS HOPES TO BEAT BACK BUT ADMITS IT CANNOT PREVENT--PLUS FURTHER EXTENSION OF THE TREMENDOUS FASCIST PROPAGANDA EFFORT TO PROVOKE THE NATION BY FEAR, CRITICISM AND ADMONITIONS TO HEROISM INTO A MILITANT SPIRIT FOR THE HARD DAYS AHEAD.

ALTHOUGH A DIFFICULT OPERATION BUT CAPABLE OF SUCCESS, LANDING OF ALLIES IN PAVOLINI'S OPINION WOULD BE WITH COMMANDOS CONCENTRATED ON THE OCCUPATION BEACH WHILE PARACHUTISTS DROPPED INTO THE INTERIOR.

THIS CAN BE DONE, HE ACKNOWLEDGED. HE HELD OUT ONE HOPE FOR THE ITALIANS; THAT IT WOULD BE AN "ERROR" TO BELIEVE THE AXIS WAS MERELY PREPARING TO DEFEND ITSELF BECAUSE THE AXIS IS CONCENTRATING "NOT ONLY FOR DEFENSE BUT ALSO FOR ATTACK."

JUL -1 1943

bern, switzerland, june 30-(ap)-german newspapers launched bitter attacks on the allies for the bombardment of cologne today as the nazi elite corps laid down a policy of rationing housing on the same basis as food.

with new admissions that all were not pulling together on the questionin of opening their homes to bombed-out civilians, die schwarze korps, newspaper of the elite guard, declared that the air raids, in effect, constituted a "blockade."

they affect housing just as the sea war xxxxxxx blockades

JUL -1 1943

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5547

food, the newspaper said, and concluded that bombing primarily ~~xxxxxx~~ causes a housing shortage.

JUL -1 1943

the newspaper said that everyone agreed on the fairness of rationing food and the same treatment must be used with housing. those who are not bombed must share with those evacuated although "some time must elapse before the people will agree about it."

the newspaper campaign against the "deliberate terror raid" of cologne said a cloudy sky prevent accurate bombing but acknowledged that the"raf blanketed the center of the city" as well as hitting ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ "monuments and homes" with bombs, the national zeitung correspondent reported. "damage to ~~xx~~ living quarters was considerable."

a catholic news agency dispatch meanwhile disclosed a new pastoral letter by the archbishop of cologne saying "all this suffering is arising constantly everywhere. whoever wants to find an answer must search his conscience x x x. we must reckon with the fact that the terrible distress of war is the consequence of the sins of humanity, a punishment for the extensive falling away from god and his laws."

JUL -1 1943

the letter said that there was hardly ~~xx~~ a family which "doesn't bitterly feel the distress of war."

JUL -1 1943

the letter went on. "if god's wrath is to be appeased we must ask appeasement x x x . let us patiently in christian humility bear all suffering which the war places upon us and offer ~~them~~ it to god as expiation."

christiadns on their knees should try to make up for the "immense guilt which humanity today brings upon itself," the letter said and especially appealed to youth whose "innocent hands" raised in expiation permit "sooner to hope for the end to oppression."

JUL -1 1943

1943

FOLO LONDON

MADRID
KXXXNEA, JUNE 30-(AP)-K FIRE OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN BROKE OUT NEAR THE GIBRALTAR WHARF TODAY DESTROYING QUANTITIES OF INFLAMMABLE LIQUID REPORTED TO BE LUBRICATING OIL AND GASOLINE, DISPATCHES FROM LA LINEA SAID.

THE EIGHTH LARGE GROUP OF LAUNCHES WITH TANKS AND OTHER WAR MATERIAL LEFT FOR THE MEDITERRANEAN WHILE 25 MERCHANTMEN SAILED IN THE SAME DIRECTION ESCORTED BY TWO BATTLESHIPS, ONE PLANE CARRIER AND XHE 12 DESTROYERS. THE CONVOY WAS ALSO PROTECTED BY PLANES.

JUL -1 1943

MOSCOW, JUNE 30-(AP)-NOTES WERE EXCHANGED TODAY ON THE ESTABLISHMENT OF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN THEIR COUNTRIES BY IVAN M. MAISKY, RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR TO GREAT BRITAIN, AND BELATA AYELA GABRE, ETHIOPIAN MINISTER TO BRITAIN, TASS, OFFICIAL SOVIET NEWS AGENCY, REPORTED.

TASS SAID THE NOTES ALSO PROVIDED FOR AN EXCHANGE OF MINISTERS, ADDING:

"THIS ACT FORMS ONE MORE CONTRIBUTION TO THE CAUSE OF CONSOLIDATION OF THE FRONT OF THE UNITED NATIONS WAGING THE STRUGGLE AGAINST HITLERITE GERMANY AND HER ASSOCIATES."

JUL -1 1943

MOSCOW--INSERT AFTER THIRD GRAF RUSSIAN X X X IN THE SAME AREA. (OPENING BRACKET.)

(TRANSOCEAN, GERMAN PROPAGANDA AGENCY, SAID THE REPORTED TORPEDOING OF TWO 2,000-TON SHIPS MARKED THE FIRST APPEARANCE OF GERMAN SUBMARINES IN THE BLACK SEA. IT ADDED THAT NAVAL EXPERTS IN BERLIN "DECLINE TO SAY ANYTHING CONCERNING THE OPENING OF THE NEW SPHERE OF OPERATIONS OF SUBMARINES.")

TAMAN IS THE LAST X X X 4TH GRAPH.

AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 30-(AP)-ALTHOUGH NO WORD HAS BEEN RECEIVED OF THE CAPTURE OF CAPT. ROBERT E. L. GOAD, OF 601 NORTH CREEK ST., DRUMBRIGHT, OKLA., FLYING FORTRESS PILOT WHOSE PLANE WAS SHOT DOWN OVER ITALY ON MAY 25, HIS NAME HAS NOT YET BEEN PLACED ON THE OFFICIAL LIST OF DEAD AT HIS HOME STATION, IT WAS LEARNED TODAY.

JUL -1 1943

CAPT. GOAD'S PLANE CRASHED IN THE WATER AFTER BEING HIT BY FLAK IN A RAID ON THE FERRY TERMINAL BETWEEN MESSINA, SICILY, AND THE MAINLAND OF ITALY.

CREWS OF OTHER PLANES IN THE FLYING FORTRESS FORMATION SAW AT LEAST THREE MEN BAIL OUT FROM THE STRICKEN BOMBER AND THEY DROPPED RAFTS AND OTHER EMERGENCY EQUIPMENT. THEY WERE UNABLE TO IDENTIFY THE MEN WHO PARACHUTED FROM THE FALLING PLANE NOR WERE THEY ABLE TO SEE WHETHER THE MEN WERE ABLE TO REACH THE RAFTS AND EQUIPMENT.

CAPT. GOAD WAS ON HIS TWENTIETH MISSION WHEN HIS PLANE WAS HIT. HE HAD BEEN AWARDED THE AIR MEDAL, TWO OAK LEAF CLUSTERS AND HAD BEEN RECOMMENDED FOR TWO ADDITIONAL CLUSTERS, OFFICERS OF HIS UNIT SAID TODAY. HE WAS COMMISSIONED IN APRIL, 1941, AND SERVED AS AN INSTRUCTOR AT KELLY FIELD, TEXAS, BEFORE LEAVING FOR OVERSEAS DUTY AS OPERATIONS OFFICER OF HIS SQUADRON.

JUL -1 1943

DURING THE NORTH AFRICAN CAMPAIGN HE HAD LED MANY FORTRESS MISSIONS OVER TUNISIA AND HAD PARTICIPATED IN THE BOMBARDMENTS OF PALERMO, TRAPANI AND NAPLES BEFORE HE WAS SHOT DOWN.

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5549

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA--SECOND ADD MEDITERRANEAN (ORIG.) X X X LOST OVER LEGHORN).

JUL -1 1943

THE AERIAL UMBRELLA OVER THE SICILIAN STRAITS IS BEING MAINTAINED MAINLY BY VETERAN BRITISH SQUADRONS THAT HAVE HAD LONG EXPERIENCE IN GUARDING THE HAZARDOUS APPROACHES TO THE BRITISH ISLES, THE ALLIED STATEMENT SAID. AMERICAN FIGHTERS ALSO WERE CREDITED WITH HAVING DONE "EXCELLENT WORK" IN FREEING THE STRAITS OF ENEMY INTERFERENCE.

IN DETAILING THE WORK OF THE NEW COASTAL COMMAND, THE STATEMENT DECLARED THAT "A STEADY TOLL IS TAKEN OF PREYING U-BOATS."

EMPLOYED IN THE DAYLIGHT PROTECTIVE SERVICE ARE BRITISH SPITFIRE AND HURRICANE FIGHTERS AND AMERICAN WARHAWKS AND LIGHTNINGS, ALL EQUIPPED WITH SPECIAL GAS TANKS TO GIVE THEM GREATER ENDURANCE.

"THEY WHEEL AND CIRCLE FOR HOURS OVER THE MEDITERRANEAN SHIPPING," THE STATEMENT SAID. "THE AIR UMBRELLA IS NEVER WITHDRAWN FOR A DAY. AT NIGHT BRITISH BEAUFIGHTERS TAKE OVER THE TASK, AND EVEN AFTER THE SHIPS HAVE MADE PORT PATROLLING OVER THE HARBOR STILL GOES ON."

RECONNAISSANCE PLANES SENT OVER THE ITALIAN PORT OF LEGHORN YESTERDAY FOUND A REFINERY AND OIL STORAGE TANKS STILL BLAZING 24 HOURS AFTER THE TOWN'S INDUSTRIAL AREA WAS POUNDED BY A FLEET OF 100 AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES DURING DAYLIGHT ON MONDAY.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA--INSERT AFTER 6TH GRAF

FIRST LEAD MEDITERRANEAN X X X CITY LAST WEEK.

JUL -1 1943

FIGHTER-BOMBERS FROM MALTA JOINED THE ASSAULT ON SICILY YESTERDAY WITH REPEATED ATTACKS ON COMISO AIRDROME, IN THE COURSE OF WHICH TWO AXIS AIRCRAFT WERE DESTROYED AND OTHERS SERIOUSLY DAMAGED, AN RAF COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED. ONE ATTACKING PLANE WAS LOST.

IN DAYLIGHT YESTERDAY X X X 7TH GRAF.

BY GEORGE TUCKER

CAIRO, JUNE 29--(AP)--AN AMERICAN BOMBER WHICH

CHRISTENED IN CALIFORNIA A FEW WEEKS AGO ALREADY

ON AXIS TARGETS IN ITALY AND THE BALKANS.

THE B-24 ARRIVED FRESHLY PAINTED, WITH

BLACK LETTERS ACROSS ITS FUSELAGE, WHICH SPORTS

A YELLOW NOSE ABOUT TO DIVE OVER A BLACK AND

I WAS ON A DESERT LANDING FIELD A THOUSAND MILES FROM HERE WITH MAJOR

HARRY BOWERS OF ST. LOUIS, MO., WHEN THE SHIP CAME IN AND TAXIED TO ITS POSITION IN A BUSH. WE JUMPED INTO A JEEP WHICH BROUGHT US OUT TO MEET IT.

A YOUNG MAN GOT OUT AND INTRODUCED HIMSELF AS LIEUT. JAMES A. DEEDS

OF (8035 SEVENTH ST.) OAKLAND, CALIF.

"TELL ME," SAID DEEDS, WHO PILOTED THE PLANE, "DO THEY REALLY SEE GERMANS AROUND HERE?"

JUL -1 1943

JUL -1 1943

1943

"I GUESS THEY DO, SON," SAID THE MAJOR. "THEY COME HOME SOMETIMES [redacted] FULL OF BULLET HOLES."

[redacted] BOWERS MOTIONED TOWARD A FORMATION OF BOMBERS RETURNING FROM A RAID ON FERRY TERMINAL INSTALLATIONS AT MESSINA. THEY WERE SWINGING OUR WAY AND DROPPING [redacted]. BOWERS SAID:

"ASK THEM TO TELL YOU ABOUT IT. THEY OUGHT TO KNOW."

DEEDS STARED STEADILY AT THE FORMATION. HE KNEW THAT IN A FEW DAYS HE WOULD BE COMING BACK LIKE THAT. HE ASKED "HOW MANY WENT OUT ON THAT RAID, MAJOR?"

JUL -1 1943

BOWERS SAID HE THOUGHT THERE WERE ABOUT 40 AND DEEDS SHOT A QUICK LOOK AT THE INCOMING PLANES AND EXCLAIMED:

"GOOD GOD! AND ONLY NINE CAME BACK!"

"NO, SON," SAID THE MAJOR. "THAT'S ONLY THE FIRST FORMATION. THE OTHERS WILL BE ALONG SOON. THEY GET STRUNG OUT LIKE THAT SOMETIMES."

SOON, A SECOND FORMATION APPEARED -- THEN OTHERS, AND FINALLY, ALL THE PLANES THAT WENT OUT WERE BACK.

JUL -1 1943

DEEDS AND HIS COMPANIONS BOARDED A TRUCK THAT TOOK THEM TO REPORT TO THEIR NEW COMMANDING OFFICERS. BOWERS AND I WALKED TO ONE SHIP WHOSE GROUND CREW

WAS MAKING A CHECK. I WALKED AROUND HER AND SAW TWO SMALL HOLES IN THE FUSELAGE. ACK-ACK. I LOOKED CLOSELY AT THE SHIP AND SUDDENLY DISCOVERED A YELLOW CIRCLE AROUND HER INSIGNIA.

JUL -1 1943

NOTICING MY SURPRISE, BOWERS ASKED "DIDN'T YOU KNOW ABOUT THAT?"

"NO," I SAID. "NOBODY EVER TELLS ME ANYTHING SO HOW WOULD I KNOW?"

"THERE ARE HUNDREDS OF PLANES IN THIS DESERT AND THEY'VE ALL GOT IT," HE SAID, EXPLAINING THAT THE ORDER HAD COME ABOUT TWO WEEKS AGO AND THAT THE INSIGNIA ON EVERY AMERICAN PLANE IN THE MIDDLE EAST HAD BEEN CHANGED.

UNTIL THEN, OUR INSIGNIA HAD BEEN A BIG WHITE STAR ON ROUND FIELD BLUE. NOW ALL THE STARS ON THE WINGS AND FUSELAGE ARE INCLOSED BY A WIDE YELLOW BAND.

REASONS FOR THE CHANGE WERE GIVEN AS BETTER VISIBILITY AND SECURITY. SOMETIMES, IN THE PECULIAR LIGHT OF THE MEDITERRANEAN, [redacted] INSIGNIA HAVE BEEN

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5551

CONFUSED WITH GERMAN MARKINGS. THE YELLOW CIRCLE MAKES THINGS POSITIVE.

I WAS ASTOUNDED THAT I HADN'T NOTICED THE NEW INSIGNIA BEFORE -- THEY SCREAMED OUT LIKE CIRCUS POSTERS.

JUL -1 1943

"STICK AROUND A WHILE," SAID BOWERS, "AND I'LL TEACH YOU SOME OF THE FACTS OF LIFE ABOUT THIS WAR."

CAIRO, JUNE 30-(AP)-BRITISH HEAVY BOMBERS FROM EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN BASES ATTACKED THE ITALIAN MAINLAND FERRY TERMINUS AT REGGIO CALABRIA ON MONDAY NIGHT, STARTING A NUMBER OF FIRES, THE MIDDLE EAST AIR COMMAND ANNOUNCED TODAY.

IN DAYLIGHT YESTERDAY, LONG RANGE FIGHTER PLANES SHOT DOWN A CANT Z1007 OFF THE W WEST COAST OF GREECE, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, AND ALSO ATTACKED A TRAIN INLAND, DAMAGING THE ENGINE.

JUL -1 1943

ALL THE ALLIED PLANES RETURNED IN THESES OPERATIONS RETURNED SAFELY.

BY VERN HAUGLAND

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 21-(DELAYED)-(AP)-WHEN ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE BROUGHT DOWN A JAPANESE BOMBER NEAR PORT MORESBY THE NIGHT OF JUNE 17, A SEARCHLIGHT BATTERY MANNED BY SEVERAL MEN FROM CONNECTICUT WAS THE FIRST TO TELEPHONE IN THE "KILL."

WATCHERS IN THE MORESBY AREA DURING A MOONLIGHT RAID BY TWO ENEMY BOMBERS SAW ONE PLANE FALLING MORE AND MORE BEHIND THE OTHER AND EVIDENTLY LOSING SPEED, BUT WHEN IT DISAPPEARED THERE WAS NO PROOF THAT IT HAD NOT ESCAPED.

HOWEVER THE CONNECTICUT YANK

JUL -1 1943

HOWEVER THE CONNECTICUT YANKS, HEADED BY SERGEANT JOSEPH WITEK OF SEYMOUR SAW THE CRIPPLED BOMBER CRASH IN A REMOTE SWAMP AREA ABOUT 10 MILES FROM THEIR SEARCHLIGHT. SINCE IT FELL IN IMPENETRABLE TERRAIN, NO EFFORT WAS MADE TO REACH IT.

"WE SAW THE DAMAGED BOMBER, TRAILING FAR BEHIND ITS COMPANION, CATCH ON FIRE," SAID WITEK. "SHE WENT INTO A GENTLE DIVE ABOUT 20,000 YARDS FROM US, AND THEN, STREAMING FLAME, DIVED STRAIGHT DOWN.

"IT PLEASED US PARTICULARLY BECAUSE THE TWO BOMBERS DROPPED A STICK OF BOMBS IN THE BUSH UNCOMFORTABLY CLOSE TO OUR LIGHT ON THE WAY OVER AND DROPPED ANOTHER LOAD IN THE WATER ON THE SECOND RUN. THE SECOND STICK OF BOMBS SEEMED TO BE INTENDED FOR SHIPPING, BUT DIDN'T COME CLOSE TO ANYTHING--JUST MADE A BIG SPLASH.

"IT WAS THE SECOND JAP BOMBER WE'D SEEN GO DOWN FROM OUR OBSERVATION POST. ANTI-AIRCRAFT GOT THE OTHER ONE MAY 15. THE SHIP JUST EXPLODED IN THE AIR."

THE CREW WHICH MANS THIS SEARCHLIGHT HAS ITS CAMP BESIDE THE LIGHT, MANY MILES FROM PORT MORESBY OVER A ROAD SO ATROCIOUS THE MEN SELDOM DRIVE TO TOWN. IN FACT, WHEN IT RAINS THE ROAD BECOMES IMPASSABLE AND THEY CAN'T DRIVE TO TOWN.

THE MEN LIVE IN TENTS AMONG ROLLING HILLS OVERLOOKING A WIDE

JUL -1 1943

1943

SWEEP OF THE CORAL SEA ISOLATED FROM ARMY RECREATIONAL PROGRAMS.

THERE ARE A FEW MEN AROUND WHO DO NOT HAIL FROM THE NUTMEG STATE, SUCH AS CORP. VICTOR PRICE OF COLUMBIA, S.C., AND PFC. HAROLD ROGERS OF HAZELTON, PA.

JUL -1 1943

THE CONNECTICUT MEN, IN ADDITION TO SGT.WITEK ARE: SGT. TECHNICIAN WILLIAM ERDMAN OF GREENWICH.

CORPORAL TECHNICIANS--EDWARD BELANGER, HARTFORD; GEORGE VINCENT, NAUGATUCK; HENRY MAZUR, EAST HADDAM.

PRIVATES FIRST CLASS--CHARLES PACE, THOMPSONVILLE; WILLI M LEONARD, HARTFORD; ELMER HAUPTMAN, NEW BRITAIN.

PRIVATES--FRANCIS MONETTE, THOMPSONVILLE; ALEC WIKTORSKI, BEACON FALLS; FRANK KOSOWSKY, SHELTON; ROBERT KIRSCHMANN, MERIDEN; HARRY LOWE, FARMINGTON; JAMES MORIN, PUTNAM.

BY MURLIN SPENCER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, -(AP)-THE FLYING FORTRESS SIGHTED TWO JAPANESE WARSHIPS STEAMING ALONG IN THE KAVIENG HARBOR AREA, BUT HOW TO GET AT THEM WAS ANOTHER THING. THE WEATHER WASN'T RIGHT FOR HIGH LEVEL BOMBING.

JUL -1 1943

THERE WAS ONLY ONE THING TO DO, AND THE PILOT DID IT. HE TOOK HIS BIG FOUR-ENGINED CRAFT DOWN TO A LOW LEVEL, AND DISREGARDING THE DIRTY BLACK ANTI-AIRCRAFT BURSTS HE HELD HIS PLANE ON AN EVEN COURSE UNTIL HIS BOMBARDIER SHOUTED: "BOMBS AWAY."

HE LARGER OF THE TWO WARSHIPS SHUDDERED FROM THE IMPACT AND FLAMES SWIFTLY ENGULFED HER. SHE SANK WITHIN 15 MINUTES.

FOR "COURAGE, ABILITY AND EAGERNESS TO ATTACK THE ENEMY WHEREVER FOUND," LIEUT. GEN. GEORGE C. KENNEY, COMMANDER OF THE ALLIED AIR FORCES IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, WARDED THE AIR MEDAL TO THESE THREE MEN WHO HELPED CARRY OUT THE ATTACK LAST APRIL: FIRST LIEUT. CECIL C.METZ, BAINBRIDGE, IND.; SECOND LIEUT. MILTON HUPPERT, (43 LEXINGTON AVE.) JERSEY CITY, N.J., AND SGT. THEODORE A. SWIONTEK, (25 CENTER ST.) LACKAWANNA, N.Y.

JUL -1 1943

ELEVEN OTHER MEN WHO ACCOUNTED FOR FOUR OTHER JAPANESE SHIPS IN ATTACKS RANGING ALL THE WAY FROM THE BISMARCK SEA TO FAISI IN THE SOLOMONS WERE AWARDED AIR MEDALS FOR SKILL AND COURAGE IN COMBAT. THEY WERE:

SECOND LIEUT. JAMES C. MEADE, (2169 SOUTH SIXTH ST.) SPRINGFIELD, ILL.; STAFF SGT. ANDREW J. BUKOVAC, REPUBLIC, PA.; STAFF SGT. JOHN F.FRAZEE, SELBYSPORT, MD.; SECOND LIEUT. ROBERT L. SCHULTZ, (2637 DACEY AVE.) NORWOOD, O.; FIRST SGT. JOHN E. MORRILL (49 MONTCALM ST.) GLENS FALLS, N.Y.; STAFF SGT. GEORGE D.BROWNING, LORADO, W.VA., AND PFC. WILLIAMH. DONAHUE (31 PARK PLACE) BROOKLYN, N.Y.

BUKOVAC AND FRAZEE WERE CITED FOR THEIR PART IN THE BISMARCK SEA BATTLE LAST MARCH.

"THIS FLYING FORTRESS WAS ENGAGED IN AN ATTACK ON AN ENEMY CONVOY SIGHTED NEAR NEW GUINEA," THEIR CITATION READ. "CLOUD AND HAZE CONDITIONS MADE IT NECESSARY TO ATTACK AT A LOW ALTITUDE. IN THE FACE OF A HEAVY BARRAGE OF ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE, THIS CREW MADE A BOMBING RUN ON A CARGO BOAT WHICH STOPPED AND BURST INTO FLAMES WHEN TWO BOMBS BURST WITHIN A SHORT DISTANCE OF THE MESSEL. BEFORE LEAVING THE TARGET AREA IT WAS OBSERVED THAT THE ENEMY VESSEL WAS SUNK.

LIEUT. MEADE WAS NAVIGATOR ON A BOMBER MAKING AN ATTACK ON SHIPPING

JUL -1 1943 JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5553

IN RABAUL HARBOR OF NEW GUINEA LAST JANUARY. AN ENEMY CARGO VESSEL WAS STRUCK BY THREE DIRECT HITS FROM THE BOMBER IN THE FACE OF HEAVY ENEMY FIRE, AND WAS LEFT BURNING AND LISTING BADLY.

SCHULTZ, AND MORRILL ALSO WERE CITED FOR A BOMBING FLIGHT OVER RABAUL LAST JANUARY. THEIR PLANE SANK AN ENEMY CARGO VESSEL WITH A DIRECT BOMB HIT ON THE STERN, AND BEFORE RETURNING HOME SILENCED SEVERAL ANTI-AIRCRAFT POSITIONS.

JUL -1 1943

THE CITATION FOR BROWNING AND DONAHUE TOLD OF THEIR FLYING FORTRESS RAID ON ENEMY SHIPPING AT FAISI IN JANUARY IN WHICH THEY SANK AN ENEMY CARGO SHIP WITH A DIRECT HIT ON A LOW-LEVEL ATTACK.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 24-(DELAYED)-(AP)-A BOMBER PILOT WHO FLEW HIS CRIPPLED FLYING FORTRESS THROUGH INTENSE ANTIAIRCRAFT FIRE TO BOMB A JAPANESE AIRPORT AND SHOT DOWN TWO ZEROS ON THE WAY OUT WAS AWARDED THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS TODAY.

ONE OF THE MOTORS ON THE FORTRESS PILOTED BY FIRST LIEUT. JOHN R.GLYER (2310 BAYNERD BLVD.) WILMINGTON, DEL., STOPPED BEFORE HE REACHED THE TARGET AREA OVER RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, LAST APRIL. HE ELECTED TO CARRY ON AND HIS BOMBS DAMAGED ONE OF THE KEY ENEMY AIRFIELDS.

THE FORTRESS WAS FURTHER DAMAGED BY ANTIAIRCRAFT FIRE. FIVE ZEROS FLEW IN FOR THE KILL BUT GLYER'S GUNNERS SHOT DOWN TWO. THE OTHER THREE ZEROS FLED.

JUL -1 1943

LIEUT.GEN.GEORGE C.KENNEY, COMMANDER OF ALLIED AIR FORCES IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, AWARDED THE DFC TO NINE OTHER AMERICAN AIRMEN.

THEY INCLUDED CAPT. VERNON D.HARKER, JR., (306 FIRST CABIN COURT) AKRON, OHIO; 2ND LIEUT. JOHN M.STURGEON, (1305 VERSAILLES RD.) LEXINGTON, KY.; AND 2ND LIEUT. HAMILTON C.CHISHOLM, (5821 NICOLLET AVE.) MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. DECORATED FOR "OUTSTANDING COURAGE, ABILITY AND DEVOTION TO DUTY" DURING MORE THAN 200 HOURS OF LONG RANGE BOMBING FLIGHTS.

CAPT. JOSEPH R.MCWHIRT (710 OGLETHORPE ST., N.W.) WASHINGTON, D.C., AND STAFF SGT. EDWARD D.CONNOR, JR., WASHINGTON, D.C., WERE DECORATED FOR MORE THAN 50 BOMBING AND STRAFING ATTACKS ON JAPANESE AIRDROMES AND INSTALLATIONS IN THE NEW GUINEA AREA.

JUL -1 1943

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA-(AP)-SEVEN CREW MEMBERS OF A FLYING FORTRESS WHO DESTROYED TWO JAPANESE FIGHTER PLANES AND COMPLETED A BOMBING MISSION AFTER ONE ENGINE CEASED TO FUNCTION, HAVE BEEN AWARDED THE AIR MEDAL FOR MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT.

THE CITATION BY LIEUT. GEN.GEORGE C.KENNEY, COMMANDER OF THE ALLIED AIR FORCES IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, SAID THE FORTRESS CONTINUED ITS FLIGHT IN THE FACE OF ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WHICH DAMAGED THE SHIP, TO DROP BOMBS ON AN ENEMY AIRDROME AT RABAUL LAST APRIL.

THE AIR MEDAL WENT TO 1ST LIEUT. JOHN W.LYLE, JR., RICHBURG, S.C.; TECH SGT. JAMES H.BECK, POLO, ILL., TECH SGT. STEWART M.BLOOMFIELD, (40-21 48TH ST.) LONG ISLAND CITY, N.Y., STAFF SGT. THOMAS R.SMITH, (276 MIDWOOD ST.) BROOKLYN, N.Y., AND STAFF SGT. PAUL C.DERBY, JR., LITCHFIELD, CONN.

JUL -1 1943

FOR SINKING A JAPANESE TRANSPORT ATTEMPTING TO RUN THE ALLIED BLOCKADE OF NORTHERN NEW GUINEA, KENNEY AWARDED THE AIR MEDAL TO EIGHT OFFICERS AND MEN OF ANOTHER FLYING FORTRESS. THE ENEMY VESSEL

JUL -1 1943

1943

WAS SUNK NEAR FINSCHHAFEN HARBOR IN JANUARY. CITED WERE:

CAPT.JOSHUA H.BARNES, PARIS, KY.; 1ST LIEUT.LEAMAN C.WHITE, (5348 PAGE ST.) ST.LOUIS; 2ND LIEUT.JOHN R.WILLIAMS, (2049 ALTA AVE.) LOUISVILLE, KY., STAFF SGT.FRANK M.LEONARD, TURTLE CREEK, PA.; SGT.GERARD GREGOIRE, (39 PUTNAM HEIGHTS) HARTFORD, CONN.; PVT.MILTON MELMAN, (153 N.CATHERINE ST.) MIDDLETOWN, PA.

JUL -1 1943

MELBOURNE,JUNE 30-(AP)-FURTHER SCANT DETAILS OF AN ALL-RUBBER SHIP BUILT BY THE JAPANESE IN THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES WERE CONTAINED IN A BROADCAST BY THE JAPANESE-CONTROLLED BANDANG RADIO, PICKED UP BY N.E.I. MONITORS HERE.

"A LARGE FREIGHTER, MADE ENTIRELY OF RAW RUBBER, HAS BEEN UNDER CONSTRUCTION IN JAVA SINCE FEBRUARY AND WILL SOON SAIL FOR JAPAN, CARRYING RAW MATERIAL," THE BROADCAST SAID, ADDING ODDLY THAT "FACTORIES WILL BE ABLE TO USE THE SHIP ITSELF AS A RUBBER SOURCE."

BY WILLIAM F.BONI

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA,JUNE 29-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE TWIN-ENGINED MITCHELL BOMBER, A BULLET-RIDDLED RUBBER LIFERAFT JAMMED INTO THE RIGHT SIDE OF ITS STABILIZER, STAGGERED DOWN THE METAL-STRIPPED RUNWAY AND CAME TO A STOP. A CRASH WAGON AND AMBULANCE WERE WAITING.

THE CO-PILOT'S WINDOW ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF THE COCKPIT SLID BACK. A ROUND, CLOSE-CROPPED HEAD POPPED OUT AND LOOKED DOWN AT DOC BROWN, THE UNIT'S FLIGHT SURGEON, SITTING IN THE CAB OF HIS AMBULANCE.

JUL -1 1943

"EVERYTHING'S GOING TO BE ALL RIGHT, DOC," SAID SECOND LIEUT. CARL M.DENLINGER OF (2732 WHITTIER) DAYTON,OHIO. "JUST THROW A LITTLE DIRT IN MY FACE. I CAN'T WAIT TO SEE WHAT IT FEELS LIKE."

THUS ENDED THE FIRST MISSION, AND AN EPIC ONE, FOR DENLINGER, FOR THE PILOT, SECOND LIEUT.JACK W.SNYDER OF BREWSTER,OHIO, AND FOR THEIR FOUR CREWMATES IN THE ARMY B25.

SNYDER AND THE OTHERS WERE BRIEFED FOR THE MISSION ALMOST AS SOON AS THEY AROSE YESTERDAY MORNING. THEIR PLANE TOOK OFF AS PART OF A SIZEABLE FORMATION OF B25S.

JUL -1 1943

OVER THE TARGET AREA, A FREAK ACCIDENT CAUSED THE LIFERAFT, ATOP THE PLANE AMIDSHIPS, TO COME ADRIFT. DRIVEN BACK THROUGH THE AIR BY THE SLIPSTREAM, IT CRASHED INTO THE STABILIZER -- THE LONG HORIZONTAL FIN SET INTO THE TAIL OF THE FUSELAGE -- AND IN THE PROCESS, TOOK ALONG THREE AERIAL WIRES WHICH TANGLED THEMSELVES AROUND THE RAFT AS IT BECAME WEDGED INTO THE STABILIZER.

THE PLANO IMMEDIATELY WAS THROTTLED DOWN TO BELOW 150 MILES AN HOUR ONLY A FEW HUNDRED FEET ABOVE A VALLEY. THE BOYS WERE 200 MILES FROM HOME.

WITH THE RAFT ON THE STABILIZER, THE PLANE'S NOSE KEPT RISING. MUCH AS THEY TRIED, SNYDER AND DENLINGER WERE UNABLE TO PUSH THE CONTROLS FORWARD BY HAND. ONCE THE PLANE ROSE SO STEEPLY IT STALLED AND BEGAN TO SIDESLIP. THE LADS THOUGHT THEY WERE GONERS FOR SURE. THEY CAUGHT HER JUST IN TIME.

"WE FIGURED THERE WAS NO USE TRYING TO FIGHT THE CONTROLS BY HAND, SO THE TWO OF US SAT BACK, PUT BOTH FEET ON THE CONTROLS AND SHOVED FOR ALL WE WERE WORTH," SNYDER SAID.

"EVEN SO, SHE STILL KEPT GETTING HER NOSE UP UNTIL SHE WOULD

JUL -1 1943

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5555

REACH THE POINT WHERE STEADY PRESSURE NO LONGER WAS ENOUGH. WE WOULD HAVE TO LIFT OUR FEET OFF FOR A MOMENT, THEN KICK THE STICK AS HARD AS WE WERE ABLE IN THAT CRAMPED POSITION."

FOR 30 MINUTES THEY FLEW THAT WAY, CONCERNED ONLY WITH KEEPING THE NOSE DOWN AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE. OCCASIONALLY SNYDER WOULD TAKE ONE FOOT OFF THE STICK TO TOUCH THE RUDDER CONTROLS AND BRING THE SHIP BACK ON AN EVEN KEEL.

JUL -1 1943

BEHIND THEM, MEANWHILE, THE ENLISTED MEN WERE DOING ALL THEY COULD TO WORK THE RAFT FREE. THE ENGINEER, STAFF SGT. HYMAN PROSTEN OF (2980 SEVENTH STREET) BROOKLYN, N.Y., HUNG OUT THE SMALL REAR WINDOW UNTIL ITS SHARP METAL EDGE CUT ACROSS HIS THIGHS AND THE SLIPSTREAM THREATENED TO BLOW HIS BODY BACK TOWARD THE TAIL.

FROM THERE HE TRIED TO HACK THE AERIAL WIRES LOOSE WITH A MACHETE, BUT THEY REMAINED ALWAYS JUST BEYOND HIS REACH ALTHOUGH HE STRETCHED AS FAR AS HE COULD. ALL THE OTHERS COULD DO WAS RETAIN A HOLD ON PROSTEN'S ANKLES.

SECOND LIEUT. JAMES H. WALLACE OF (1938 WOODBANE STREET) RIDGEWOOD, N.Y., THE BOMBARDIER AND NAVIGATOR, SUGGESTED THEY TRY WITH MACHINE GUNS TO DEFLATE THE RAFT, WHICH HAD BEEN BLOWN UP BY ITS OWN CARBON DIOXIDE TUBES. BUT THE GUNNER, STAFF SGT. JOHN O. HUDDLETON OF (63 THIRD STREET) DECATUR, ALA., FOUND IT IMPOSSIBLE TO DEFLECT THE GUNS THAT FAR.

"HUDDLETON WAS A BIG HELP, TOO," SNYDER ADDED. "WHEN HE SAID 'I DON'T MIND GETTING SHOT FULL OF HOLES BUT I WOULD SURE HATE LIKE HELL TO GO DOWN ON A ROUTINE MISSION WITHOUT EVER HAVING ANY CHANCE AT COMBAT,' I GUESS WE ALL FELT BETTER."

JUL -1 1943

BUT EVEN DEFLATING THE RAFT WITH PISTOL SHOTS DIDN'T HELP A GREAT DEAL. THE GAS WENT OUT OF THE BOAT, BUT THE WIND WOULD BELLOW IT AGAIN, AND THERE WAS NOT THE SLIGHTEST SIGN IT WAS GOING TO BE DISLODGED FROM THE STABILIZER.

JUL -1 1943

BY THIS TIME SNYDER AND DENLINGER HAD MANAGED TO POINT THE PLANE'S NOSE FOR HOME. THEY PICKED THEIR WAY THROUGH GAPS BETWEEN THE MOUNTAINS, LOOKING AT EACH OTHER DESPAIRINGLY BUT HOPING FOR THE BEST EACH TIME A PEAK BOBBED UP WHICH THEY COULDN'T GET AROUND.

AS THE PLANE PASSED OVER THE MOUNTAINS ITS FLYING SPEED FELL TO WITHIN A FEW MILES OF THE STALLING SPEED AND REMAINED THERE THE ENTIRE 200 MILES BACK TO BASE. THE VIBRATION AT THE SHIP'S AFTER END WAS SO SEVERE THAT THE LADS DISCOVERED AFTER LANDING THAT THE STABILIZER HAD BEGUN TO WORK LOOSE FROM THE FUSELAGE.

SOMEHOW -- DON'T ASK THEM HOW -- THEY BROUGHT HER HOME. "AND SET HER DOWN, DON'T FORGET THAT," ADDED SNYDER.

THE PILOT RUBBED HIS LEGS RUEFULLY. THAT SEEMED TO REMIND DENLINGER, AND HE TENTATIVELY FLEXED HIS KNEES, THEN WINCED. THEY STILL WERE ACHING FROM THAT HALF-HOUR WITH FEET BRACED AND LEGS PUSHING ON THE CONTROLS.

"ANYWAY," SAID SNYDER, "ALL OUR STUFF HIT THE TARGET AREA -- WE ALMOST DID, TOO."

CHUNGKING, THURSDAY, JULY 1-(AP)-A FLEET OF JAPANESE WARSHIPS WAS SIGHTED STEAMING SOUTHWARD OFF FOOCHOW, FUKIEN PROVINCE, MONDAY AND TUESDAY, THE CHINESE CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY REPORTED TODAY. FOOCHOW IS IN SOUTHEASTERN CHINA.

THE DESTINATION OF THE VESSELS WAS NOT KNOWN, IT ADDED.

JUL -1 1943

1943

CHUNGKING--FIRST ADD CHINESE X X X OF THE OTHER.

A CHINESE GOVERNMENT SPOKESMAN SAID TODAY THAT CHINA WOULD BEGIN THE SEVENTH YEAR OF THE WAR JULY 7 "WITH CALMNESS AND IN GOOD SPIRITS" AND EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE THAT ANY NEW ATTEMPT BY THE JAPANESE TO CRUSH THE COUNTRY WOULD END IN "ANOTHER FIASCO."

CHINA'S CONFIDENCE, HE SAID, WAS BASED ON "FOREKNOWLEDGE OF THE ULTIMATE VICTORY OF CHINA'S ALLIES AND ON THE INCREASING STRENGTH OF CHINA HERSELF."

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE ~~XXXXX~~ 30-(AP)-BRAZIL TODAY BEGAN ACCEPTANCE OF VOLUNTEERS INTO ITS ARMY WHICH HAD HERETOFORE BEEN COMPOSED ONLY OF DRAFTEES IN WHAT X OBSERVERS SAW AS A MOVE TOWARD AN EVENTUAL EXPEDITIONARY FORCE FOR EUROPE.

JUL -1 1943

SINGLE YOUTHS OVER 21 AND UNDER 26 YEARS OF AGE, WITHOUT DEPENDENTS AND WITH AT LEAST A YEAR MILITARY ~~XXX~~ TRAINING MAY VOLUNTEER FOR DUTY WITH LINE UNITS. REGULAR MOBILIZATION WILL CONTINUE AS USUAL.

"THE ARMY NEEDS MEN WITHOUT TIES", GENERAL EURICO GASPAR DUTRA, MINISTER OF WAR, SAID TODAY. "THE ARMY NEEDS MEN IN THE FRONT -INES."

JUL -1 1943

NEWSPAPER EDITORIALS AND BOLD FRONT PAGE HEADLINES ECHOED THE NATION'S GROWING EXCITEMENT. O JORNAL, LISTING BRAZIL'S REASONS FOR FIGHTING SAID AXIS SUBMARINES "CAME INTO OUR WATERS AND WITH A BARBARIC FERITUDE KILLED 700 BRAZILIANS."

PANAMA, PANAMA, JUNE 30-(AP)-A. O. MEYER OF HOMESTEAD, OKLA., WAS NAMED CHIEF OF THE POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENT IN THE CANAL ZONE TODAY.

JUL -1 1943

MEYER, A MEMBER OF THE ZONE POLICE DEPARTMENT FOR 28 YEARS, SUCCEEDS GUY JOHNSON OF BALTIMORE, WHO RETIRED AFTER 26 YEARS.

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 30-(AP)-RAMON RAMOS CASELLAS, SECRETARY OF THE PUERTO RICAN SUGAR PRODUCERS ASSOCIATION, ANNOUNCED TODAY ALL BUT SIX OF THE ISLAND'S SUGAR MILLS HAD CONTRACTED TO DELIVER THEIR OUTPUT FROM THE 1942-43 CROP TO THE U.S. COMMODITY CREDIT CORP.

THE PRICE AGREED UPON WAS THE SAME AS LAST YEAR'S $3.46 A HUNDRED POUNDS, EQUAL TO $3.74 AT NEW YORK AFTER FREIGHT CHARGES ASSUMED BY THE CCC.

NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN CCC REPRESENTATIVES AND FOUR OF THE LARGER MILLS WERE CONTINUING IN WASHINGTON, IT WAS REPORTED, WHILE ONE OF THE OTHER MILLS WAS EXPECTED TO SIGN A CONTRACT SOON. THE SIXTH MILL SELLS ITS OUTPUT LOCALLY.

IN ALL, 28 AGREEMENTS REACHED COVER ABOUT 550,000 TONS OF THE 750,000 TO BE CONTRACTED. THE CROP CURRENTLY BEING HARVESTED WAS ESTIMATED AT 1,030,000 TONS.

JUL -1 1943

1943

30.24—5557

OTTAWA, JUNE 30-(AP)-ANGUS MAC DONALD, CANADIAN NAVY MINISTER, DECLARED TODAY "OUR MERCHANT SHIPBUILDING HAS REACHED A POINT WHERE IT IS INCONCEIVABLE THAT THE ENEMY COULD EVER SINK AS MANY SHIPS AS ARE BEING BUILT."

JUL -1 1943

APPEARING BEFORE THE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE, CONSIDERING WAR APPROPRIATIONS FOR 1943-44, MAC DONALD SAID "FROM READING THE REPORTS ONE HAS THE FEELING THAT OUR MEN ARE ON TOP AND ARE BEATING THE GERMANS," AND CONTINUED;

"WE SANKCONSIDERABLY MORE SUBMARINES IN THE FIRST HALF OF 1943 THAN WE DID IN THE FIRST HALF OF 1942 AND THE SUBMARINES DID NOT DO AS MUCH DAMAGE TO SHIPPING."

WHILE THERE IS NO GENERAL SHORTAGE OF NAVY RECRUITS THERE IS SOME DIFFICULTY IN OBTAINING QUALIFIED MEN FOR MECHANICAL TRADES, MAC DONALD SAID, ADDING THAT SOME 4,000 FORMER SEA CADETS WERE SERVING WITH THE NAVY, THEIR EARLIER TRAINING PROVING VALUABLE.

OTTAWA, JUNE 30--(AP)--- SGT. FREDERICK WILSON RALPH, WHOSE

JUL -1 1943

FATHER, ROBERT RALPH, LIVES AT THE KNOLL, FAYETTEVILLE, N.Y., WAS LISTED BY THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE TONIGHT AS MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS.

OTTAWA, JUNE 30--(AP)--- SGT. RALPH MATTHEW COSTELLO, WHOSE WIFE LIVES AT 228 SOUTH MAIN BLVD., GREEN BAY, WIS., WAS LISTED BY THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE TONIGHT AS MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS.

JUL -1 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SIX MONTHS OF LABOR SERVICE FOR THE NAZIS HAS BEEN MADE A REQUIREMENT FOR ADMISSION TO BELGIAN UNIVERSITIES, BERLIN REPORTED TODAY IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. JUL -1 1943

THE BROADCAST SAID STUDENTS NEXT FALL MUST PRESENT A CERTIFICATE SHOWING THEY COMPLETED SUCH WORK FROM MAY TO OCTOBER THIS YEAR.

undated nicholas horthy, jr.

JUL -1 1943

by the associated press

nicholas horthy, jr., son of the hungarian regent, was reported by the rome radio today recovering from severe injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

JUL -1 1943

1943

the broadcast of a budapest dispatch, recorded by the associated press, said herthy's car upset on the highway between kenders and szolnok when he swerved to avoid hitting a young girl. the dispatch said herthy suffered a broken shoulder bone and that surgeons who operated on him reported ~~hm~~ his condition ~~gnsky~~ favorable.

JUL -1 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

RED CROSS TRAINS EACH CARRYING 400 PERSONS ARE BEING USED TO EVACUATE MOTHERS, CHILDREN AND OLD PERSONS FROM THE BOMB-RUINED RUHR DISTRICT OF GERMANY, A GERMAN RADIO BROADCAST SAID YESTERDAY (WED).

THE TRAINS, FORMERLY USED TO TRANSPORT LIGHTLY WOUNDED HOME FROM THE FIELD, CARRY THE EVACUEES WITH THEIR LUGGAGE "TO REMOTE SAFE DISTRICTS OF THE REICH" UNDER THE CARE OF ARMY MEDICAL ATTENDANTS AND NURSES OF THE NATIONAL SOCIALIST WELFARE ORGANIZATION, THE BROADCAST SAID.

JUL -1 1943

UNDATED SIBERIAN

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE BERLIN RADIO IN A TOKYO DISPATCH REPORTED TODAY THAT GENERAL MAXIME BURAKEV HAD BEEN APPOINTED COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE SOVIET FAR EASTERN ARMY IN SUCCESSION TO GEN.J.P.APANASENKO.

THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID GEN. APANASENKO "AS PREVIOUSLY ANNOUNCED HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED TO OTHER DUTIES WITHOUT ANY FURTHER DETAILS BEING MADE KNOWN."

IT IDENTIFIED GEN.BURAKEV AS FORMERLY SOVIET MILITARY ATTACHE IN BERLIN.

JUL -1 1943

LEAD MACKENZIE'S WAR TODAY

- - -

BRITAIN GAVE MUSSOLINI FAIR AND HONEST WARNING TODAY THAT THE ALLIES ARE ABOUT TO LOOSE ALL HELL ON ITALY AND ADVISED HIM TO GET FROM UNDER BY UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

THIS AS I SEE IT IS THE PURPORT OF THE STATEMENTS BY PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL AND FOREIGN MINISTER ANTHONY EDEN. IT WILL BE CLEAR TO THE HARRIED, SAGGING-JOWLED DUCE THAT THESE AREN'T EMPTY WORDS OF PROPAGANDA, FOR THE STORM CLOUDS ALREADY ARE BLACK OVER ITALY AND THE LIGHTNING IS TEARING AT THE UNHAPPY PENINSULA.

CHURCHILL'S MATTER OF FACT STATEMENT THAT "IT IS VERY PROBABLE THERE WILL BE HEAVY FIGHTING IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AND ELSEWHERE BEFORE THE LEAVES OF AUTUMN FALL" EMPHASIZES WHAT ALREADY IS FAIRLY OBVIOUS. HOWEVER, GRIM INDEED IS HIS TIP THAT THE ITALIANS "HAVE ONLY BEEN SUBJECTED TO THE PRELIMINARY AND DISCURSIVE BOMBARDMENTS."

THERE CAN BE LITTLE DOUBT THAT FOREIGN SECRETARY EDEN IN CALLING

JUL -1 1943

1943

ON MUSSOLINI TO SURRENDER WAS SUPPLEMENTING THE SPEECH OF HIS CHIEF. I THINK WE CAN SAY THAT THESE TWO STATEMENTS GO BEYOND THE WAR OF NERVES, AND ARE CALCULATED TO GIVE THE ITALIAN PEOPLE--AGAINST WHOM THE ALLIES HOLD NO SUCH ANIMOSITY AS THEY DO TOWARDS THE NAZIS--A CHANCE TO ESCAPE THE TERRIBLE CONSEQUENCES OF CONTINUING RESISTANCE.

MEANTIME THE ANGLO-AMERICAN AIR FORCES ARE INTENSIFYING THEIR ONSLAUGHT AGAINST THE AXIS. THE UNPRECEDENTED HAMMERING, ETC PICKING UP 1ST GRAF OF PREVIOUS

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

---

JUL -1 1943

THE UNPRECEDENTED HAMMERING WHICH THE ALLIED AIR FLEETS ARE ADMINISTERING TO THE ENEMY IN BLAZING A TRAIL TO VICTORY--A HISTORIC EXPERIMENT WHICH MAY DETERMINE HOW FAR AIR POWER CAN GO IN WINNING A WAR ON ITS OWN--IS BRINGING ME NUMEROUS INQUIRIES ABOUT THE AERIAL FIGHTING ARM, AND AMONG THEM ARE TWO TIMELY QUESTIONS FROM PROMINENT NEWSPAPER EDITORS:

THE FIRST QUERY RELATES TO AMERICAN WARPLANE LOSSES AND ASKS WHAT PERCENTAGE OF OUR CRAFT ARE SHOT DOWN BY ENEMY PLANES AND WHAT PERCENTAGE BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE FROM THE GROUND. WELL, THERE ARE SOME HIGHLY INTERESTING FACTS WRAPPED UP IN THIS INQUIRY, BUT THERE ALSO IS CONSIDERABLE DYNAMITE FROM THE STANDPOINT OF THE CENSOR.

PERCENTAGE FIGURES ON AMERICAN PLANE LOSSES ARE RESTRICTED, BECAUSE THEY WOULD LEND THEMSELVES READILY TO COMPUTATION OF TOTAL STRENGTH OF THE AIR FORCE. HOWEVER, IT CAN BE SAID THAT THE RATIO OF OUR PLANE LOSSES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD IS ONE ARMY PLANE TO SOMEWHAT BETTER THAN THREE ENEMY PLANES. IN ADDITION TO THIS OVER-ALL SCORE, SEPARATE RECORDS SHOW THAT IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC THEATER ARMY FLYERS HAVE DESTROYED BETTER THAN FIVE ENEMY PLANES FOR EACH AMERICAN PLANE LOST.

30.24—5559

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE TO BREAK DOWN OUR PLANE LOSSES INTO THOSE DESTROYED BY ENEMY PLANES AND BY ENEMY ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS, BECAUSE FLAK FROM THE GROUND GUNS CAN CRIPPLE A PLANE, AFTER WHICH FIGHTERS CAN SHOOT IT DOWN, LEAVING IT A MATTER OF GUESSWORK AS TO WHICH TYPE OF OPPOSITION CAUSED THE LOSS. EVEN OUR ARMY AIRFORCE DOESN'T ATTEMPT TO DETERMINE THIS POINT.

JUL -1 1943

THE SECOND INQUIRY POINTS TO THE FREQUENT REPORTS FROM ABROAD THAT BRITISH PURSUIT PLANES--THAT IS, FIGHTER PLANES--HAVE ESCORTED AMERICAN BOMBERS IN RAIDS ON THE CONTINENT. MY CORRESPONDENT SAYS THIS IS CALCULATED TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT OUR ARMY IS WITHOUT FIGHTER PLANES, AND ASKS WHAT THE TRUTH IS.

THERE ARE SEVERAL REASONS WHY ARMY FIGHTERS AREN'T MENTIONED MORE FREQUENTLY IN DESPATCHES FROM EUROPE, BUT NONE IS BASED ON LACK OF SUCH PLANES. INDEED, SOME OF OUR ARMY FIGHTERS, NOTABLY THE P-38 AND THE NEW P-47, ARE CONSIDERED BY MANY PILOTS AS THE BEST OF THEIR KIND IN THE WORLD.

ONE REASON WHY WE HAVEN'T HEARD MORE ABOUT AMERICAN FIGHTERS FROM EUROPE IS THAT BRITAIN IN ITS DEFENSIVE WAR HAD FOR YEARS BEEN BUILDING FIGHTERS, WHICH ARE ESSENTIALLY DEFENSIVE WAR-CRAFT, AND HAD GREAT NUMBERS OF SUCH PLANES IN ENGLAND. THIS MADE IT UNNECESSARY FOR OUR ARMY TO CONCENTRATE ON FIGHTERS THERE AND WE DEVOTED OUR ENERGY TO OFFENSIVE PLANES--THE BOMBERS.

ANOTHER PERTINENT REASON IS THAT OUR BOMBERS, NOTABLY THE FLYING FORTRESSES, HAVE GREAT FIGHTER POWER AND CAN OPERATE ON BOMBING MISSIONS WITHOUT FIGHTER PROTECTION. THESE GIANTS HAVE A SCORE OF BETTER THAN SEVEN OR EIGHT ENEMY PLANES SHOT DOWN FOR EACH FORTRESS

JUL -1 1943

1943

LOST.

AS TO THE FIGHTERS THEMSELVES, THEY HAVE DESTROYED BETTER THAN FOUR ENEMY SHIPS FOR EACH ARMY PLANE LOST IN ACTUAL COMBAT. THE P-38 WHICH, ALTHOUGH DESIGNED FOR HIGHER ALTITUDE WORK, CAN WORK AT ANY HEIGHT, HAS PROVED TO BE WELL BEYOND EXPECTATIONS IN BATTLE IN NORTH AFRICA, THE MIDDLE EAST, ALGERIA AND THE PACIFIC THEATERS.

PILOTS FLYING THE LIGHTNINGS IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC HAVE SAID THAT THEY CAN KNOCK DOWN JAP ZEROS "LIKE SITTING DUCKS." FREQUENTLY A SINGLE LIGHTNING HAS GONE AFTER A FLIGHT OF ZEROS, SHOT DOWN THREE OR MORE, AND RETURNED UNDAMAGED. THE LIGHTNINGS ALSO ARE EXTREMELY HUSKY, AND HAVE RAMMED ZEROS, TEARING THE ENEMY PLANES TO PIECES WHILE REMAINING CAPABLE OF FLYING THEMSELVES.

THE ARMY ALSO HAS THE WARHAWK P-40, WHICH HAS PROVED ITSELF IN COMBAT; THE P-51 MUSTANGS WHICH ARE HIGHLY PRAISED BY THE BRITISH, AND THE P-39 BELL AIRCOBRAS, WHICH HAVE SEEN SERVICE PRINCIPALLY IN RUSSIA AT THE HANDS OF RUSSIAN PILOTS WHO PRAISE THEM HIGHLY FOR STRAFING AND LOW-LEVEL BOMBING. OFFICIALLY RUSSIA HAS REPORTED THE P-39S' SCORE OVER GERMAN PLANES AS THREE TO ONE. JUL -1 1943

AND JUST GETTING INTO ACTION IS THE NEWEST OF ARMY FIGHTERS--THE P-47 THUNDERBOLT. IF THIS COMES UP TO EXPECTATIONS IT WILL BE THE TOP PLANE IN AERIAL COMBAT. IT HASN'T BEEN IN ACTION FREQUENTLY ENOUGH YET TO PERMIT OF EVALUATION OF ITS CAPABILITIES, BUT IT DOES HAVE HIGHER SPEED THAN ANYTHING IN THE AIR, AND AN ALMOST UNLIMITED ALTITUDE.

RENDOVA, HEAVY GUNS SHELL JAP AIR BASE AT MUNDA

JUL -2 1943

101 ENEMY PLANES DOWNED IN BATTLE IN SOUTH PACIFIC

U. S. Forces Consolidate Newly-Won Positions, Hold Air Supremacy.

CASUALTIES LIGHT

MacArthur Reveals Nassau Bay Landings Achieved Without Loss.

JUL -2 1943

RABAUL BOMBED

Big Allied Raiders Blast Airports, Hold Foe's Aircraft on Ground.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Friday, July 2—(AP) Americans have speedily completed conquest of Rendova island in the central Solomons, turned shore batteries on the nearby Japanese air base at Munda and destroyed 101 enemy planes which tried to break up the Solomon landings, the High. Command announced today.

While everywhere the ground fighters received ample support from strafing and bombing planes, participants in the growing south and southwest Pacific offensive against the Japanese consolidated positions, including those newly established near Salamaua, New Guinea.

U. S. Casualties Light

A spokesman for General Douglas MacArthur said our casualties were light throughout the entire area although we had some landing boats damaged in treacherous waters around the Solomons. In the landing at Nassau bay just below Salamaua, probably the most difficult from an amphibious standpoint, there was not a single casualty.

In a story of speedy conquest, the communique today reported that United States forces which landed on Rendova June 30 completed their operation shortly after midday by destroying the small but tenacious Japanese garrison.

Allies Rule in Air

The Allied aerial activity was most impressive.

Bombers struck at Rabaul, New Britain, from which the Japanese might parry the Allied thrusts and other planes rained death on enemy forces opposing the landings near Salamaua, New Guinea.

Complete occupation of Rendova would constitute a speedy action. Landings were made only Wednesday on that island which not only puts Allied forces within easy range of Munda but also within fighter range of Rabaul itself.

Australians Land at Nassau Bay

Australians who landed at Nassau bay, less than 15 miles below Salamaua were reported attacking the Japanese in that sector which is just across Dampier strait from New Britain.

In the ground fighting, Allied patrols killed at least 26 Japanese and wounded many others at Malolo and Orodubi in the Salamaua sector.

Over Rabaul, which felt the impact of nearly 23 tons of bombs Wednesday, nearly 25 tons were dropped yesterday on its three airdromes, Lakunai, Vunakanau and Rapopo.

At Nassau bay, "Our ground forces are consolidating their positions along the bay according to plan," the noon communique said.

"Attacking planes in close support bombed and strafed enemy defenses at Duali from low altitude."

Two hours after the Rendova landing forces had debarked from their ships "our shore batteries opened fire on Munda" the communique disclosed.

"The enemy counter-attacked throughout the day with medium and dive bomber, torpedo planes and fighters.

"Latest advices do not indicate the total number involved in the action but 101 enemy planes were destroyed in air combat and by anti-aircraft fire. Seventeen of our planes are missing."

(Reports from Washington had placed the number of attacking planes at 101 with 65 downed either by anti-aircraft or fighter opposi-

AMERICAN TROOPS OCCUPY ALL OF

JUL -2 1943

Retakes on Roll #5

30.24- 4661
4731
4987
5143
5181
5183
5419

30.24 - 4661

30.24 - 4661

Besides the American dead, 58 men are missing and 1,135 were wounded to bring total casualties to 1,535.

There were no reports of Japanese wounded, and only eleven Nipponese were taken prisoners. The total of Japanese dead also does not take into account the numerous enemy soldiers who were killed by bombs dropped from American planes or naval shells hurled onto the island in the initial phases of the camapign.

Total Not Known

The exact total of enemy dead may never be known, for the men killed early in the campaign all were cremated or buried before American troops learned their number.

For the 342 American deaths, the United States gained an island that, although tiny in area and lacking in most vegetation, is of major strategic importance. It can serve as a weather station to guide naval and air forces in the North Pacific, as the source of renewed attacks on Kiska, or to control supply lanes to Kiska.

But, more important, is the possibility that completion of the Attu airfield, started by the Japanese, will permit American planes to raid the enemy's territory. Most logical of the points of aerial assault would be the Japanese naval base at Paramushiro. That big base—the largest the Japanese have in the North Pacific—is only 630 nautical miles west of Attu, at the northern end of the Kurile island chain in which Japan itself is located.

UNION PRESIDENT DENOUNCES WLB AS STRIKE CAUSE

Recommends That Men Return to Work as Ickes Demands Action.

LABOR BOARD TRIUMPHS

Wage Controversy Reverts to Agency for Decision on Travel

MINERS TO GET L...

Will Receive Large Vacation Check, Some Equipment Without Cost.

JUN - 5 1943

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(AP) John L. Lewis yielded to the government today and called off the coal strike, effective next Monday, the deadline set by President Roosevelt.

The end came suddenly as the government marshalled its powers to terminate the 500,000-man walkout threatening to paralyze war production. Told bluntly by Secretary Ickes that "I expect that you will direct the members of the United Mine Workers to return to work," Mr. Lewis sent this reply:

Lewis Sends Reply

"I have your letter of June 4.

"I have no power to direct. I shall, however, recommend to the policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America that it direct the mine workers to return to work on Monday, June 7."

A short time later he made the recommendation and the policy committee unanimously adopted it.

Mr. Lewis did not let the occasion pass, however, without another denunciation of the War Labor board, which he has refused to recognize during the long wage dispute. In a speech to the policy committee, Mr. Lewis accused the board of adopting a "piously arrogant" attitude, and of issuing "unlawful directives."

Attacks WLB Members

"These little strutting men of the WLB have sought to place upon the miners the responsibility for this work stoppage, which rests actually on their own smug shoulders," he said.

With today's fast-moving developments, there was ended for the government a tense period of crisis which set in yesterday when President Roosevelt, as wartime commander-in-chief, issued an order directing the miners to return to work on Monday.

It marked the end, too, of a personal struggle between the President and Mr. Lewis, one-time political allies turned enemies, and a major triumph for the President's War Labor board which had demanded a policy of "getting tough" with Mr. Lewis rather than making any concessions.

With the end of the strike, the wage controversy will revert to the War Labor board which presumably will determine then whether to order a resumption of negotiations on portal-to-portal pay.

Bargaining between the mine owners and the United Mine Workers was underway on this issue when the work stoppage began last Monday midnight with expiration of a temporary agreement under which coal was being mined.

Although there seemed to be some indications that an agreement on the issue was not far off, the WLB ordered negotiations halted and announced that it would not approve any agreement reached under "strike coercion." It took the adamant attitude that no concessions should be granted while a strike continued. Otherwise, it held, the government's whole policy of settling wartime labor disputes without work stoppages would break down.

Strike Stirs Congress

Mr. Lewis finally gave in at the end of a day in which the cry was heard in Congress that he should be jailed, and the government maneuvered to place strong pressure on him to call off the strike.

Among the latter moves was a press conference statement by President Roosevelt that the draft law would come into operation against any recalcitrant strikers who have been deferred from service with the armed forces because of their occupation, and House passage of legislation providing fines and prison sentences for any one instigating or aiding a strike in a government-operated war facility.

Then, Secretary Ickes, as Federal boss of the mines, dispatched this message to the miners' chieftain:

"As operator of the coal mines on behalf of the United States government, I expect that you will direct the members of the United Mine Workers of America to return to work on Monday, June 7."

It was in reply to this that Mr. Lewis disclosed he was ready to bow to the government. In addition to sending his reply to Secretary Ickes, he also had copies distributed to reporters.

In his speech to the U.M.W. policy committee, Mr. Lewis said negotiations for a solution of the crisis were proceeding favorably under Secretary Ickes when the WLB stepped in.

"Fearful lest a solution be reached under auspices not compatible with the self importance of the WLB, that body on Wednesday maliciously commanded that these negotiations cease forthwith," he said.

Attacks Labor Board

"Thereby this jealous and vindictive body again demonstrated that its members place their own vanity above the national interest. This piously arrogant attitude is consistent with their earlier unlawful directives forbidding collective bargaining negotiations except under their capricious auspices, which directives were primarily responsible for the present crisis."

"The operators," he added, "have taken full and collusive advantage of these maneuvers, likewise placing their selfish interests above existing legislation and the national good.

"The mines, however, are closed. The nation needs coal. By malicious propaganda, these little strutting men of the WLB have sought to place upon the miners the responsibility for this stoppage, which rests actually on their own smug shoulders.

"Notwithstanding these abusive tactics, the miners and their leaders, as patriotic Americans, placed the law and the national interest above their own ungranted and long deferred claims for justice and equity."

Referring to Secretary Ickes, he said: JUN - 5 1943

"The solid fuels administrator is a duly constituted agent of the government, and we desire to cooperate with him. The operators, by their collusion with the War Labor board and by other unworthy and obstructive tactics, have forfeited their prerogatives of remaining masters in their own house.

"We have the assurance of the President that as soon as the mine workers return, the disposition of the dispute will forthwith proceed. We interpret this to mean that collective bargaining will proceed forthwith, with the operators acting in good faith to achieve a solution forthwith.

Demands Justice, Equity

"We shall demand and expect that justice and equity will be granted to the miners by the lawfully constituted agencies of our government, in due course."

The assertion that Mr. Lewis should be jailed came from Senator Eastland (D-Miss) during a flurry of Senate debate in which Senator Byrd (D-Va) declared that "dissolution here at home" and a "national disaster" might follow if Mr. Lewis successfully defied the government.

"I think John L. Lewis' wrong is 100 times worse than crimes for which death is the penalty," Senator Eastland shouted.

The House, meantime, by vote of 231 to 141, approved the measure providing for prison sentences and fines for persons instigating or leading strikes in government-operated plants. The bill, which now goes to the Senate for action on amendments, also prohibits use of union funds to support a strike or to aid in a political campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt discussed the draft law and strikes after a reporter asked at his press conference whether troops would be sent to the mine fields Monday.

As to the use of troops, he preferred not to comment, he said, because he hoped the miners would return to work. Then he volunteered that a good deal had been written about the possible induction of strikers into the Army.

There is nothing startling or new about that situation, he added, explaining it in this manner:

The rule is simple and applies to all, not only the miners. It simply is that where a man has been deferred from induction into the armed services because of his occupation he normally remains deferred so long as he continues to work at that job. But if he quits work, the reason for his deferment ends and he is liable for induction.

Miners to Get More Pay

After Mr. Lewis advised he was recommending that the miners go back to work, Secretary Ickes issued a statement giving the miners a "guarantee that the mines will be operated so as to safeguard the (Union) rights of the workers."

He also told them that a $30 boost in vacation allowances—from $20 to $50—would be awaiting them, and that changes in working conditions ordered by the War Labor board would be effective. The WLB ordered the boost in vacation pay, and also directed that the mine owners supply certain equipment which the miners heretofore have paid for. This change will save the miners 8 to 15 cents a day.

Coal men estimated the shutdown would cost the nation 10,000,000 tons of fuel. It already has resulted in some restriction of production including the closing of a blast furnace at Birmingham, Ala.

WLB DIRECTS MILK DELIVERY ORDERS OBEYED

Telegram to Union Leaders Says Drivers' Stand Is Form of Strike.

JUN - 5 1943

Washington, June 4 (A. P.).—The War Labor Board declared today refusal of milk drivers in New York city to comply with orders of the Office of Defense Transportation is "a form of strike" which violates labor's no-strike pledge, and ordered milk deliveries continued without interruption.

Wayne L. Morse, public member of the board, sent this telegram to officials of the A. F. of L. Brotherhood of Teamsters there:

"The board regards the present refusal of the milk drivers in New York city to comply with the directions of their employers in so far as such directions are based upon existing orders of the ODT, as a form of strike in violation of labor's war time no-strike pledge to the nation.

"Accordingly, the drivers are directed to comply with the existing orders of the ODT unless or until such orders are modified. Pending a final solution of the current labor dispute by the War Labor Board, the milk distributors are directed to make no layoffs.

"The War Labor Board yesterday held a preliminary conference with officials of the ODT and other interested Government agencies and is appointing a division of the board to confer immediately with such agencies, and if necessary with the War Mobilization Board, with a view to eliminating any injustices found to exist in the present situation.

"In accordance with its established policies, the board will continue its efforts to settle the existing labor dispute only while milk deliveries continue without interruption because of the dispute."

The telegram was addressed to Michael J. Cashal, vice-president of the teamsters; Fenton G. Hibbets, Thomas O'Leary, William Egelking, Lawrence McGinley and Fred Conrad, all local union presidents in New York city Newark, N. J., and Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Mayor Expects Compliance.

Mayor La Guardia, a few minutes after he had promised that drastic action in the milk tieup was under way, announced that he would take immediate steps to see to it that the War Labor Board order that milk deliveries be made without interruption was obeyed.

After taking time to digest the WLB order, the Mayor made the following statement:

"I expect compliance by both sides. As I interpret the order, it means first, deliveries must be made in accordance wtih the Government order. Second, employees must comply. No slowdowns or no refusal to deliver and no layoff. I construe it to mean what it says. No man will be laid off and the status quo on employment will continue until the final report of the committee designated in the order.

"I assured Washington I will give full and complete co-operation in enforcement of the order. This means delivery of milk and protection of the men against layoffs."

This statement by the Mayor followed by several hours the charge by the Milk Dealers Association that refusal of the union to permit double deliveries of milk to retail stores today was "sabotage of the war effort."

At the very moment the Mayor was taking action, the police reported their first case of violence in the milk case and that resulted in a full case of bottled milk being dumped into a Harlem gutter.

The action took place in front of the Muller Dairies, Inc., 470 West 128th street, where an unidentified Harlem dealer, tired of listening to the pleas of mothers for milk, went to get some milk in his own car. He was toting a case of milk to his car with a Muller employee behind him with another case when he heard a shout, turned around and saw two or three men taking the Muller employee's case away from him. In a moment the milk was running down the gutter.

It was said that the assault was by men who had been picketing a nearby milk distributor. They fled before police arrived, and at Muller's it was said they did not know the retailer who had come for the milk.

Menace to Health

Dr. Ernest L. Stebbins Commissioner, said that constitutes a health menace and declared that if it went beyond today the Board of Health will have to take action to restore distribution for the benefit of th: city's children.

Meanwhile, mothers with babies in their arms were in many instances going from store to store in a vain effort to get milk needed by infants and small children. The Mayor had promised action after a conference with Michael J. Cashal, head of the drivers union. Mr. Cashal declined to discuss what took place in his talk with the Mayor, but placed full blame for the situation on the milk dealers who, he charged, were doing everything within their power to aggravate the drivers and at the same time hiding behind the Government.

Edward O. Mather, director of the milk dealers association, said the union had been engaging in "a clear conspiracy to violate the law" and characterized their action as "ruthless and callous maneuvers by power - drunk union leadership" and called on the Department of Justice to take immediate action against the union.

Mayor Did Talking.

The Mayor said that he did all the talking in his conference with Mr. Cashal.

"The situation is not as good as it was yesterday," he added. 'Frankly, I don't like it.

Told that the milk association wanted the Department of Justice to take action, the Mayor said that was not the way to settle the matter.

Mr. Cashal said that he was at home last night and therefore did not know what might have happened among the drivers during the night. He insisted, however, that the union had not sent out any flying squads or otherwise been guilty of any violence.

"I think I am entitled to a little rest once in a while," he said in explanation of his being home when the city was in the midst of a milk crisis growing out of action by his union.

He repeated that the milk association was responsible for everything that had happened and that labor was entitled to disagree with a Government regulation—that such disagreement did not constitute fighting the Government.

Store Deliveries Cut.

It was difficult to determine how much milk was delivered to retail stores, but Mr. Mather said that "practically none" was delivered and that the union had sent out flying squads to all plants and distributing stations to prevent trucks already loaded from moving. Not only have the drivers refused to take out double loads of milk, but they have suddenly refused to follow a custom of long standing — that of picking up empty bottles and cases.

This represents another clear violation of ODT orders which state that companies may not send out empty trucks for the specific purpose of picking up empties.

"This is clearly an attempt by the union in its program to break down the ODT order to force the milk companies to violate the expressed terms of the order," Mr. Mather said. "The milk companies must comply and have been complying with the ODT order. The union, in its fight with the Government, has not only interfered with such changes in distribution as would have to be made if the companies are to distribute the necessary milk while complying, but have this morning recklessly interfered with the normal operation of wholesale distribution."

Mr. Mather warned that this union action made it likely that 3,000,000 quarts of milk now available for distribution may have to be dumped.

No Sunday Deliveries.

Tomorrow both retail, or door-to-door, and wholesale deliveries are scheduled under the ODT gasoline curtailment order, but on Sunday neither type of delivery is to be made. Thus, if double supplies are not given to homes and stores tomorrow, there will be little, if any, milk available on Sunday.

Mr. Cashal said today that the union officials might not be able to control its men if they were docked for the off days under the new schedule. They have been reporting for work every day.

Meanwhile opposition to the half-cent a quart decrease in the price of delivered milk brought opposition from three quarters. The decrease, announced yesterday and effective Monday, was ordered by the Office of Price Administration with the explanation that it was made possible by the savings in labor costs under the skip-a-day schedule.

Mr. Cashal said the drivers resented the price decrease because "it comes out of their hides," explaining that the only savings which the milk companies could affect would be by dismissal of a large number of drivers.

RIGID LABOR CURBS ADOPTED IN HOUSE

JUN - 5 1943

Amended Connally Bill Could Bring Prison Term for Strike Leader.

WASHINGTON, June 4—(AP) The House carved out today a powerful cudgel with which to deal with wartime strikes.

By a record vote of 231 to 141 it returned to the Senate the vastly-amended Connally bill under which union leaders could be sent to prison for a year for instigating or directing a strike or using union funds to further a work interruption in a government-operated industry.

One hundred Democrats and 131 Republicans voted for the bill. Against it were 89 Democrats, 48 Republicans and four minor party representatives.

Faces Fight in Conference

The Senate, in passing the original Connally bill May 5, had demonstrated opposition to such stiff legislation, and indications were the measure would be buffeted around in conference between the two branches before a compromise could be worked out.

Salient provisions of the House Measure include these:

No strike could be called under any circumstances in a government-seized plant, but the right of an individual to stop work would not be interfered with.

In a war industry not under government operation, a strike could be called only after 30 days' notice and a secret ballot of workers involved, with the Labor department supervising the voting.

Labor unions would be required to file annually a statement showing their financial and membership status.

Unions would be prohibited from making political contributions in elections for Federal offices.

Property seized by the government as a result of labor difficulties would have to be returned to private ownership not later than 60 days after the cause for seizure was removed.

Board Powers Increased

The National War Labor board would have power to take jurisdiction in any labor dispute, except those already covered by the Railway Labor act, could compel parties to come before it (a power it does not have now) could order maintenance of the status quo for 60 days, and could issue a closed shop or maintenance of union membership order.

Individuals striking in violation of the 30-day notice and secret ballot sections would lose for one year their status under the National Labor Relations act and their protection under the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction act; so would union officers.

The section with the "teeth" in it provides for a $5,000 fine and a year imprisonment for anyone instigating or directing a strike in a government-operated industry.

Announcement of John L. Lewis' decision to urge striking miners to return to work had not been made when the House voted, and it was expected a strong attempt would be made to remove this section from the bill in conference.

As finally passed, the bill embodied major provisions of the bill of Senator Connally (D-Tex) passed by the Senate, and a substitute drafted by the House Military committee. The committee substitute contained major provisions of the bill of Rep. Smith (D-Va) which the House passed Dec. 3, 1941, and which the Senate shelved.

As it left the House, though, the bill bore the name of a Republican, Rep. Harness of Indiana. Rep. Harness had offered a substitute which in turn was amended by Rep. Smith to restore the measure to a reasonable likeness of the Connally-Military committee bill.

The only new language written in was the ban drafted by Rep. Harness against political contributions and an amendment by Rep. Gwynne (R-Iowa) prohibiting a member of the War Labor board from sitting in a case in which he had a direct interest.

GEN. BRADLEY TO GAIN RANK

President Nominates Leader In Bizerte Campaign To Be Lieutenant General

13 Others Named For Advancement For Conspicuous Service

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 4—Maj. Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, who commanded the American troops in the campaign in northern Tunisia which brought the fall of Bizerte, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be a lieutenant general. His permanent rank is lieutenant colonel in the infantry.

Bradley's name led a list of fourteen officers promoted for "conspicuous leadership during the recent Tunisian campaign," a War Department announcement said.

Played Outstanding Parts

"Each of the officers played an outstanding part in bringing that operation to a successful conclusion, and their advancement will permit their assignments to positions in which their demonstrated ability may be used to best advantage," the announcement added.

Those to be promoted to major general:

BRIG. GEN. STAFFORD L. IRWIN, a native of Fort Monroe, Va., who commanded the artillery of the Ninth Infantry Division.

BRIG. GEN. JOHN K. CANNON, of Salt Lake City, deputy commander of the Northwest African Tactical Air Force.

BRIG. GEN. LOWELL W. ROOKS, of Seattle, in charge of the operations division of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's staff.

The following colonels are to be promoted to brigadier general:

FRANK U. GREER, infantry, of Falls Church, Va.

RAY A. DUNN, A. C., Long Beach, Cal.

MAURICE ROSE, cavalry, Denver.

REESE M. HOWELL, F. A., Salt Lake City.

EDWIN H. RANDLE, infantry, Decatur, Ill.

CARLYLE H. RIDEOUR, A. C., Pasadena, Cal.

ELBERT L. FORD, ordnance, Milford, Conn.

ROBERT V. MARAIST, F. A., St. Mart Insville, La.

EDWARD P. CURTIS, A. C., Rochester, N. Y.

ROBERT I. STACK, infantry, Schenectady, N. Y.

Bradley, who took over the command of the Second Corps from Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., when the type of operations shifted from armored warfare to one principally of ground troops, is a former commandant of West Point and of the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Georgia.

ASSISTANT

Born At Clark, Mo.

He was born at Clark, Mo., February 12, 1893, and was a member of the 1915 class at West Point.

After commanding the Infantry School he was appointed in February, 1942, as commander of the Eighty-second Division, transferring later to the Twenty-eighth Division. He went to North Africa in February.

Bradley's wife and daughter live at West Point.

CATALINA PLANE BLEW UP U-BOAT

JUN - 5 1943

Washington, June 4 (A. P.).—A Navy Catalina patrol plane swooped down on a surfaced U-boat in the South Atlantic and blew it in two before the sunbathing crew could get into action.

The Navy in telling of the incident yesterday gave no indication, however, of the probable nature of several objects which looked like long cylindrical tanks, that floated up after the submarine had been blown out of the water by exploding depth charges. The attack occurred several months ago.

The submarine was spotted by Aviation Machinist's Mate Billie Goodell of Bessemer, Ala. The plane's pilot, Lieut. (j.g.) William R. Ford of Crescent City, Fla., reached the submarine so quickly, the Navy said, that the raider's crew was unaware of the plane's approach until too late to act.

Ten New Jersey Men Among 214 Wounded

Washington, June 4 (A. P.).—Ten New Jersey men were among 214 United States soldiers listed as wounded in action on four fronts by the War Department yesterday. All the New Jersey men were listed as wounded in the North African theater. They were:

BUDISHIN, STEVEN, private; Nick Budishin, brother, 85 19th avenue, Newark.
CHAMBERS, EDWARD W. Jr., corporal; Mrs. Edward Chambers Jr., wife, 103 First street, Perth Amboy.
ERICKSON, EDWARD D., private; Mrs. Emma Dooling, aunt, 446 Railroad avenue, South Amboy.
FLACK, AUGUSTINE A., private; Mrs. Nellie Flack, mother, 124 Polonia avenue, Elizabeth.
FORTUNA, EDWARD J., private; Mrs. Mary Fortuna, mother, 42 Fourth street, Elizabeth.
GOTTHELF, DANIEL J., private; Mrs. Helen Gotthelf, mother, 184 Griffith street, Jersey City.
MOHOROWSKI, PETER, private first class; Mrs. Caroline F. Mohorowski, wife, 835 Martin street, Elizabeth.
RYAN, JOHN J. Jr., sergeant; Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan, mother, 827 Myrtle street, Elizabeth.
VEYHL, WALTER, private first class; Mrs. Minnie Veyhl, mother, 434 50th street, West New York.
WALLACE, JOHN W., corporal; Mrs. Marietta A. Wallace, mother, 215 Montclair avenue, Montclair.

1,530,000 IN NAVY

WASHINGTON, June 4—(AP) Secretary Knox said today that the Navy now has 1,400,000 enlisted men and approximately 130,000 officers. Marine strength, he said, totals between 250,000 and 275,000, while Coast Guard strength has grown to 180,000.

JUN - 5 1943

HONOR HORNET FLYERS

Washington, June 4 (A. P.).—Decoration of all members of the famous torpedo squadron eight which roared out from the U. S. S. Hornet to battle a Japanese task force in the battle of Midway was announced by the Navy today.

All planes in the unit, which was given a group citation by President Roosevelt were shot down. The pilots, all listed as missing, include: Ensign Harold J. Ellison of Buffalo, and Ensign Henry R. Kenyon Jr., of 115 Overlook street, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Among the radio men gunners, all listed as missing, who were awarded the Distinguished Flying Vross, was George A. Field of Buffalo.

REYNOLDS FOR WAR AIMS DECLARATION

Washington, June 4 (A. P.).—Senator Reynolds (D.-N. C.), chairman of the Senate Military Committee, called today for an early determination by President Roosevelt of Russian and British post-war demands in conquered territories.

In a lengthy speech to the Senate, Mr. Reynolds suggested a-

ING, A LETTER FROM JOSEPH STALIN ON RUSSIA'S POST-WAR AIMS.

"THE AWARD," CASSIDY SAID IN ACCEPTING IT, "SHOULD HAVE GONE TO JOE, WHO WROTE THE LETTER."

OTHER NEWSPAPERMEN TO RECEIVE AWARDS FROM THE CLUB INCLUDED:

VERN HAUGLAND, CHARLES MC MURTRY AND THE LATE E.H.CROCKETT OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS; DREW MIDDLETON OF THE NEW YORK TIMES, KEITH WHEELER OF THE CHICAGO TIMES, AND BOB MILLER OF THE UNITED PRESS; LEO S.DISHER, UNITED PRESS; HENRY GORRELL, UNITED PRESS; JOHN HERSEY, TIME; MERRILL MUELLER, NEWSWEEK AND NBC, AND GEORGE LAIT, INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

JUN -6 1943

POSTHUMOUS MEDALS WERE AWARDED TO BYRON DARNTON OF THE NEW YORK TIMES, JACK SINGER OF INS, EUGENE PETROV OF THE NORTH AMERICAN NEWSPAPER ALLIANCE AND DON BELL OF THE NATIONAL BROADCASTING SERVICE.

AMONG THOSE WINNING ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS WERE:

SYLVIA PORTER OF THE NEW YORK POST AND MRS.VIRGINIA SCOTT OF THE GREAT FALLS,MONT., LEADER, FIRST TWO WOMEN TO BE CITED BY THE HEADLINERS' CLUB; WILLIAM K.HUTCHINSON AND JACK VINCENT OF INS; BILL HENRY, LOS ANGELES TIMES; ERNIE PYLE, SCRIPPS-HOWARD NEWSPAPERS; VAUGHN SHOEMAKER, CHICAGO DAILY NEWS; ROBERT L.MOONEY, PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER; CHARLES COLLINGWOOD, COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM, AND AL BRICK OF FOX MOVIETONE NEWS.

THE ST.LOUIS STAR TIMES WAS HONORED FOR OUTSTANDING PUBLIC SERVICE AND CITATIONS WERE GIVEN TO TWO STAFF MEMBERS, JULIUS M.KLEIN AND RALPH O'LEARY.

30.24-4731

30.24-4731

Army Airmen Hit Kiska 5 Times

JAP DESTROYER SUNK, 15 PLANES SMASHED IN RAID

Allied Airmen Set Cargo Vessel, Corvette Ablaze in Solomons.

KISKA IS POUNDED

Gun Emplacements, Buildings Hit During Five U.S. Attacks.

WASHINGTON, June 6. — (AP) Raiding Japanese shipping off enemy-held Bougainville island in the Solomons, American fliers beat off heavy fighter plane opposition, sank a destroyer and left a cargo ship and corvette blazing in the sea.

The Navy, announcing this today, said dive bombers, torpedo bombers and fighters joined in the raid and the furious air battle which developed when enemy planes flew out in an unsuccessful effort to avert the attack.

Warhawk, Corsair and Lightning fighters, together with gunners on bomber planes, accounted for at least 15 of what the Navy described as a "large force of Japanese Zero fighters." Three other enemy fighter planes were damaged. Four U. S. planes are missing.

Several Bombs Hit Warship

While the air battle raged, Dauntless dive bombers and Avenger torpedo planes struck hard at the shipping. Several of the biggest bombs carried by the planes struck on the destroyer. It "undoubtedly sank," the Navy communique reported.

Other bombs hit the cargo ship, which might have been carrying supplies to enemy bases on Bougainville, and the corvette, setting them afire. The corvette, not described, was the first craft of that type reported in action under a Japanese flag. It was assumed that it was similar to the speedy and deadly craft given that name by the United Nations, resembling a small-version destroyer.

Only a few hours before the assault on the enemy shipping, other bombers had flown out to pound Kahili again. In that raid on an enemy base near Buin on the southern tip of Bougainville island, Army Flying Fortresses were employed. Results of their attack were not reported.

JUN -7 1943

Kiska Blasted Again

In the North Pacific, aerial raids were resumed upon Kiska, principal base established by the Japanese in the Aleutians. Liberator heavy bombers and the new Ventura medium bombers joined in five assaults there.

Bombs struck squarely in some gun emplacements while others blasted buildings erected by the enemy on Kiska. Lightning and Warhawk fighter planes accompanied the bombers, but there was no report of any enemy opposition.

The assaults on Kiska were interpreted by some observers as a renewal of an aerial drive to soften the Japanese base made vulnerable by capture of the enemy positions on Attu to the west in the Aleutians. In event it should be determined to invade Kiska and drive out the Japanese—as was done on Attu—the bombing raids would aid in weakening defenses.

---Quincy Flier Downs Foe

BY RELMAN MORIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 6 (AP)—Spearheaded by the largest formations of Flying Fortresses ever sent from Africa, Allied air and naval forces struck new and damaging blows yesterday at Pantelleria, Sardinia and Sicily and loosed a cascade of battleship-busting bombs on Mussolini's anti-invasion fleet in its hideaway harbor at La Spezia, headquarters announcements said today.

JUN—7 1943

TRIPLE ASSAULT

British warships poured a new weight of hot steel into the battered coastal defenses of Pantelleria at dawn Saturday in the fifth naval bombardment of that eight-mile-long, four-mile-wide stepping stone isle in seven days. Pantelleria shore guns again failed to inflict casualties or damage on the attacking force.

Following this up yesterday, Mitchells, Lightnings and Warhawks made a triple assault on that island.

The official box score of the 1400-mile round trip of the fortresses to La Spezia yesterday was not yet in.

It was the largest four-engined bomber raid ever carried out from Africa, however, and the preliminary reports showed these results: A large number of 2000-pound armor-piercing missiles scattered in the midst of three of Italy's largest battleships, huge harbor areas blasted and rent and consumed in fire, a merchant ship ex-

U. S. Navy Flyers Sink Destroyer And Down 15 Zeros in Solomons;

JUN -7 1943

JUN -7 1943

NEW AIR AND SEA POUNDING OF AXIS

JUN -7 1943

British Fleet Shells Pantelleria as Planes Hit Sardinia and Sicily

JUN -7 1943

1943

ploded, and a large barge sunk.

Over 100 Forts in Raid

Well over 100 Flying Fortresses evidently participated in the bombardment. The biggest previous raids by the "Forts" based in Africa were on March 31, when about 100 of them blasted concentrations of small vessels at Cagliari in Sardinia, possibly spoiling Axis plans for an evacuation of German and Italian forces from Tunisia; on April 10 when 100 attacked La Maddalena in Sardinia, sinking the 10,000-ton cruiser Trieste and damaging the 10,000-ton Gorizia, and on May 30, when more than 100 attacked Naples.

Dispatches from the Fortress base last night by Associated Press correspondent Harold V. Boyle, which gave the first news of the raid, said the 35,000-ton battleships Littorio, Vittorio Veneto and Roma—perhaps half the backbone of the Italian battle fleet—were damaged by hits and near misses of armor-piercing bombs, and a heavy cruiser was hit.

Southern Sardinia came in for a double attack, with Lightnings sweeping over the airdrome at Monserrato and Marauders working over shipping at Porto Ponte Di Romano, where they hit a 500-foot motor ship and other targets.

Over in a Flash

Two lightning pilots attacking Monserrato each knocked down Messerschmitt 109's as they raced in over the target. They were Lieutenant Arthur C. Franke of Cary, Ill., and Second Lieutenant William W. Whalen, 4321 Eighth street, Seattle, Wash.

Another participant in that operation, Captain George A. Rush, 3838 Harrison street, Kansas City, Mo., said, "We fooled 'em today. We came in from the sea, skipped over the hills and then headed straight for Monserrato. Just as we came over the hills we formed a company front and picked the target. I landed one right on one of the hangars. It was all over in a flash."

While one force of Lightnings was raking Monserrato, another dumped salvoes on the nearby landing field at Cape Terra. Hits were seen among approximately a dozen aircraft on the ground, as well as buildings.

The only serious fighter opposition encountered in all these operations was over Pantelleria where Messerschmitts and Focke-Wulf 190's attempted to ward off the recurring blows. They failed and lost four planes.

Smoke Blots Out Area.

The communication from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters said only that "hits were observed in the dock area, among warships and other shipping. There were large explosions and many fires."

Airmen on the expedition said there was no doubt the harbor and ships in it took a pasting, but fire and smoke blotted out the whole area from view so quickly that accurate observation was impossible, and it has been necessary to wait for later aerial reconnaissance to establish the results.

It was the longest raid yet made from northwest Africa and Lieut. H. A. West, navigator, of Tuckahoe, N. Y., said "we could see Genoa" as the Fortresses roared over their target.

Spezia, 50 miles southeast of Genoa, came in for its first attack of the war April 18, when a destroyer was sunk, but that assault was by the RAF based in Britain.

The Italian communication, received here in a broadcast, asserted that damage was small but described the air bombardment of Pantelleria as repeated and violent.

The raid demonstrated the "blanket coverage" that Allied air power is able to extend over all Italy from north and south. Previously the Fortresses had hit Leghorn, 40 miles south of Spezia, in their farthest north blow.

Surprise Italian Defenders.

The armada apparently took the Italian defenders by surprise with their long over-water flight and only three fighters were seen to oppose the swarm of bombers. The anti-aircraft guns, too, appeared to be erratic and not up to usual strength. Although they flew without fighter escort all the Fortresses came home safely, despite an Italian claim of shooting one down.

The RAF's heavy four-engined bombers from the Middle East delivered the sole blow against Sicily, attacking the harbor at Catania Friday night.

JUN - 7 1943

Although the Axis' aerial losses at Pantelleria were known to be great and although the land installations there have been battered daily for the last few weeks, the strategic importance of the volcanic little isle is such that it continued to drain the enemy's resources in the Mediterranean area.

In the full 24 hours of operation, the Allies in northwest Africa lost only three planes to the Axis' six. The Italians declared the Allies had lost 10 planes in the forays.

Aegean Area Raided

The Desert Air Force lost an additional plane, however, in raids which took in Levkas island off the west coast of Greece and Stampalia island in the Aegean as well as Catania in Sicily.

These long-range fighters destroyed two sailing vessels in the harbor of Stampalia, Italian island in the Dodecanese group northeast of Crete, and damaged a tug and dredger off Levkas island, south of Corfu.

De Gaulle Calls A 4th Republic Goal of French

At Mass Meeting in Algiers, He Says Nation Will Free Self, Fight as Allies' Equal

DE LUCE

By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, June 6.—General Charles de Gaulle, addressing a morning mass meeting of his political adherents at a theater here today accused Marshal Henri Petain, Vichy chief of staff, of being an "evangel of decadence," and asserted that "the instinct of the French people guides them to a fourth republic."

"France does not ask to be liberated by others, even by her best friends—she does not want gifts," he said. "We intend to win liberty ourselves, with the aid of others."

Two thousand listeners, including twenty-six Communist members of the French Chamber of Deputies, soldiers of the Fighting French, several Catholic priests, red-fezzed Moslems and one Arab sheik in a flowing robe applauded De Gaulle's brief speech.

Asking the crowd to give an ovation to the French Committee of National Liberation which he has formed with General Henri Honore Giraud, De Gaulle said: "We are making this unity for the glory of the republic and the republican regime. We are fighting on to victory as the equals of our allies."

The meeting was organized by the De Gaullist "Groupe Combat," which flourished under cover at Algiers for more than three months after the Allied landings in North Africa in November.

Before De Gaulle and Giraud reached an agreement last week, Vice-Admiral Emile Muselier, Giraud's deputy in charge of maintaining order at Algiers, had refused to permit today's meeting. Later, however, he was overruled by Giraud.

De Gaulle implied in his speech that the "Groupe Combat" would continue in existence as a political instrument of the Fighting French movement in North Africa.

Many wept when Rene Capitan, local head of the "Groupe Combat," mentioned in his introductory speech that the son of a Communist Deputy named Moquet, who was sitting on the stage with De Gaulle, had been shot by the Germans for resistance in France.

Andre Philip, one of De Gaulle's appointees to the National Liberation Committee, introduced De Gaulle to the audience as "the symbol of our spiritual restoration."

The crowd hissed and booed at every reference by the three speakers to Petain and the "traitor band" at Vichy.

JUN - 7 1943

Hails R. A. F. in Tunisia

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 6 (AP).—No campaign of the future will overshadow the victory won in North Africa, Prime Minister Churchill told 3,000 cheering Allied troops assembled in the ancient amphitheater at Carthage during his recent Tunisian trip, it was disclosed officially today.

This campaign makes a long step toward peace, home and honor, the Prime Minister declared.

To Allied airmen at one of the bases wrenched from the Axis Churchill commented: "Remember we had Corporal Hitler all the time to help us. This self-made and self-unmade man has added sauce to the goose you've caught, killed and eaten."

Churchill expressed an opinion that the R. A. F. not only had stemmed the tide but carried forward the British 1st and 8th Armies. But, he added jocularly, while the R. A. F. might think it did everything, the army and navy still had a part to play.

He forecast that after the war the Allies would use air power to build up a better world and not to crush small nations as Hitler did.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden spoke briefly, saying: "The first thing a Foreign Secretary must learn to do is obey the Prime Minister. I tried another method once, but it didn't work."

At this point Churchill applauded enthusiastically.

Paying tribute to the R. A. F. for winning the battle of Britain without which there would have been no good tidings now, Eden said a new chapter was about to open—not the least perhaps but no none knew that.

'ADEQUATE' PLANS LAID BY ALLIES, SAYS STILWELL

TUCKER

Far Eastern Commander of U. S. Troops Arrives in Cairo on Way to China.

CAIRO, June 6 — (AP) Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell reached Cairo en route to China today and declared:

"You may be sure that plans laid in Washington are entirely adequate and I believe their scope will satisfy all who cry out for strong, aggressive and immediate action."

The commanding general of U. S. forces in China, India and Burma attended the recent Washington conferences of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill. He came here from London, where he talked with Lieut. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, U. S. commander in the European theater of operations. In his globe-girdling trip from and back to China, the general is talking with other United States commanders in the interest of coordinating the Allied war effort.

He expressed optimism and complete satisfaction and events within his own theater, where he is chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as well as American commander.

"I am certain of one thing—as time goes on, we shall have more and more reason to be proud of our great ally, China," Gen. Stilwell said.

JUN - 7 1943

He conferred here with Major Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commanding U. S. forces in the Middle East. Gen. Stilwell was accompanied by Brig. Gen. William D. Olds, chief of staff of the Tenth U. S. Air Force, and Col. Frank D. Merrill, operations officer.

Sicily Harbor Is Bombed

CAIRO, June 6 (AP). — Heavy bombers of the Midle East Air Command attacked the harbor at Catania, on the east coast of Sicily, in a long operational sweep Friday night, an Allied communique said today. The war bulletin did not offer any details of the attack. Catania has been one of the most frequently bombed Sicilian coastal cities.

Plane Booty in Tunisia Grows

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 6 (AP).—An additional seventy-five abandoned or wrecked Axis aircraft have been found in the Tunis, Bizerte and Cape Bon areas, making a total of 633 such planes discovered in northeastern Tunisia since the campaign ended, it was announced today. Most of the new discoveries were fighter planes and more than forty-five of them were German types.

MARSHALL HINTED AS INVASION HEAD

British Journal Publishes Report, Quoting High Allied Sources.

LONDON, Monday, June 7—(AP) Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. Army chief-of-staff, may lead the Allied invasion of Europe, The Daily Herald said tonight, speculating that he might transfer his staff officers to the Mediterranean or European theater of operations and remain out of the United States for the duration of the war.

The newspaper, quoting American and British military circles as the source of its information, predicted a reorganization of the Allied command preceding any sea or air invasion across the Mediterranean and went on:

"It is possible that the ultimate lineup may be Gen. George C. Marshall as supreme commander-in-chief, with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gen. Sir Harold Alexander bracketed as his immediate lieutenants. Everybody expects General Montgomery will again lead the British Eighth army.

British Would Lead in North

"It is confidently believed that an American will command any Allied offensive in the Mediterranean, while a British general might direct any invasion in northern Europe—that is, an invasion via northern or western France, Belgium, Holland, Norway or Denmark."

The Daily Express called General Marshall a "weighty addition" to the recent North African conferences headed by Prime Minister Churchill and commented that his presence was "deeply significant—more so that General Marshall should have been instructed to accompany Mr. Churchill from Washington. x x x It seems evident that their presence with Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, British chief-of-state, was to set the seal on tactical plans now being put into operation by General Eisenhower and his chiefs."

No Talk, Only Action

The newspaper said the conference was summed up in London as "putting the finishing touches to the United Nations' summer campaign. Now there will be no more talk, only action." It predicted that American troops—particularly Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth army—will play a far larger role than in the past.

The Express cautioned that a Mediterranean invasion may be delayed until the Allied command is certain the Italian naval units are so damaged by bombing that they will be unable to leave port for a considerable period.

Submarines Hit 8 Axis Ships in Offshore Raids

JUN - 7 1943

British Craft Hug Italian Coast, Sink Six Vessels and Bombard Airfield

LONDON, June 6 (AP).—British submarines operating off the shores of Monte Carlo and into or near Italian ports on the mainland, Corsica and Sardinia, have sunk six enemy ships, severely damaged another and probably torpedoed an eighth, the Admiralty announced tonight.

JUN - 7 1943

One skipper surfaced his craft off Calvi in northern Corsica and bombarded an enemy airfield.

Ships sunk were one large and two small supply vessels, an unspecified small ship, a medium tanker and an anti-submarine naval auxiliary.

When the Calvi airfield was attacked Italian shore batteries replied ineffectively. The commander then took his craft into the Strait of Bonifacio sea, between Corsica and Sardinia, where he sank two small supply ships.

Later, the submarine found the anti-submarine naval auxiliary lying at anchor in the entrance of Augusta Harbor in Sicily and drove a torpedo into her side. This was reported "followed by a heavy explosion as the vessel blew up."

The tanker was sunk near Monte Carlo, in the Gulf of Genoa. In the same area two torpedo hits were "probably scored on a large supply ship which was proceeding under strong escort," the Admiralty said. Countermeasures prevented the submarine from observing final results, the Admiralty said.

A large supply ship was torpedoed in Catania Bay, Sicily, "and when last seen was stopped and down by the stern."

Yet another submarine "engaged in harassing the enemy's coastwise shipping torpedoed and sank a supply vessel of large size near the Gulf of Policastro in southwest Italy," the communique said. A small ship was sunk by gunfire in that area.

CHANNEL SHIPPING POUNDED BY R.A.F.

Axis Rail Transport Hit on Continent; Nazis Attack Town.

LONDON, June 6 — (AP) The R. A. F. hammered channel ship-

1943

3024-4887

GAINED BY REDS

JUN 12 1943

Nazis Attack Near Rostov and Bomb Yaroslavl.

McGAFFIN

Moscow, June 11 (A. P.).—The Russian Air Force has established supremacy in the Kuban Valley after two months of violent mass aerial combat over the Axis western Caucasus bridgehead, dispatches from the front said today. This fact was declared to account for the comparative lull in fighting in that area.

A dispatch to the newspaper Izvestia said that since the end of May the Russian Stormovik bombers have been able to punish German troops on the battlefield at will, without loss to themselves.

The Soviet midnight communique told of a German lunge yesterday with hundreds of tank and plane-supported troops against the Russian lines between Rostov and Taganrog. A temporary German gain was pushed back by a Red Army counter-attack that cost the Germans 300 men, five tanks and two planes, it was announced.

This is in the area along the northern shore of the Sea of Azov.

The Russian communique told of heavy losses inflicted again on Nazi troops dug in before Smolensk and in the Sevsk region, northeast of Kursk.

The Russians announced that Soviet bombers blew up a German troop train and supply depots in the Lisichansk region after infantry and artillery smashed back another German thrust probing the Soviet Donets River defenses in that sector.

The Moscow radio told of a German raid on Yaroslavl, in which it said houses were destroyed, and declared that in the exchange of air assaults large forces of Russian bombers attacked five German airdromes Wednesday night.

Soviet Glider Pioneer Dies

Moscow, June 11 (AP)—Lieut. Col. Dmitry Koshitz, Soviet glider pioneer, died on active duty, it was announced today. Koshitz had been in aviation since 1924 and was one of the first to experiment with trains of gliders towed by transports.

Molotov Voices Reds' Appreciation For Help

McGAFFIN

Moscow, June 11 (AP)—Vyacheslav Molotov, Soviet Foreign Affairs Commissar, stressed the appreciation of the Russian people for lend-lease supplies at a luncheon today for American Ambassador Admiral William H. Standley, honoring the first anniversary of the signing of the American-Russian agreement.

Molotov said the Russians were "fully cognizant" of American aid and stressed the importance of post-war relations among Russia, America and England.

In response, Standley said "the determination behind the lend-lease agreement is more important even than the aid it made available to Russia.

"In addition to strengthening the bonds of good will, the agreement shows the United States intends to mobilize all possible resources and is determined to apply them in the struggle to establish a world in which man can live without fear."

Chinese Report Renewed Gains Around Ichang

JUN 12 1943

Also Capture Town Near Hankow; Thanks Given to U. S. Pilots for Help

CHUNGKING, June 11 (AP).—New Chinese successes were reported today in fighting northeast of Ichang and northwest of Hankow as authorities officially thanked American Army flyers for helping turn the Japanese drive on the upper Yangtse into a rout last week.

Field dispatches said Chinese troops had occupied Wangchiachang, northeast of the Japanese base at Ichang, after an all-night clash in which 300 enemy troops were killed and many others, including a regimental commander, wounded.

The Chinese also were reported to have broken into Yingshan, an important town about ninety miles northwest of Hankow, between the Han River and the Hankow-Peiping railway, inflicting heavy casualties in street fighting.

Bitter fighting was reported in progress north of Tungting Lake, where the Japanese counter-attacked two days ago after receiving reinforcements.

American flyers who disrupted Japanese troop movements, destroyed his supply columns and blasted his gun positions to help make the recent great Chinese victory possible, were entertained by Chinese authorities at Yengyang, in Hunan Province.

Central News reported that fierce aerial dogfights raged over Hengyang on Thursday as the Japanese attempted to blast the city with thirty planes, but offered no details.

Indications were that the Japanese might be preparing to launch a fresh drive on the upper Yangtse. Transports laden with munitions and other war supplies were reported moving up the river and returning downstream with wounded Japanese from the west Hupeh front. Dispatches said a Japanese counter - attack from Owchihkow, on the south of the Yangtse north of Tungting Lake, had been repulsed and that Chinese forces were trying to retake the city. The Chinese were said to have begun a "successful counter-offensive" in the Kinhwa sector, one column having entered the suburbs of Tungyang, thirty-five miles northwest of Kinhwa.

Japanese bombers were reported to have bombed Kienow in northern Fukien Province on Wednesday, evidently considering that city a potential base for bombing operations against Japan.

ALLIES POUND 2 JAP BASES

JUN 12 1943

Leave Koepang Mass Of Flames In Liberators' Extensive Raid

19 Tons Of Bombs Dropped In Two-Hour Attack On Rabaul Fields

YARBROUGH

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Saturday, June 12— Heavy bombers of the Fifth Air Force struck unusually heavy blows in two directions yesterday, turning Timor's capital, Koepang, into "a mass of flames" with forty-two tons of bombs and hitting two Rabaul airdromes with more than nineteen tons in a two-hour attack.

Fifteen Liberators participated in the Koepang raid, the most extensive ever made on that island 400 miles northwest of Darwin, Australia.

Power House Destroyed

The big bombers went in shortly after noon. They destroyed the power house, burned up gasoline and oil dumps and wrought "widespread destruction" along the water front, said the Allied high command communique, adding:

"Departing aircraft reported the town a mass of flames." The Japanese sent up eight Zeros to intercept, but three of them were shot down and another was listed as probably destroyed. Not a single Liberator was missing.

The biggest previous raid on Koepang was on February 1 when a group of Beaufighters destroyed nine Zeros and four bombers in a strafing attack.

Grounded Planes Explode

Liberators also made the Rabaul raid, hitting the Vunakanau and Rapopo airdromes. They followed up the damage caused the previous night when nearly forty tons of bombs were dropped. Fires and explosions were observed among grounded aircraft, along the runways and in dispersal areas.

Improving weather permitted greater air offensive over the entire area and other places raided were Dili in Timor, Babo in Dutch New Guinea, Gasmata on New Britain Island and Salamaua and Madang on New Guinea.

Some of our medium bombers hit Babo for the eighth time since May 4 and started numerous small fires which were judged to be burning planes. They also started fires in a barracks area near a seaplane base.

Rabaul Bombed by U. S. Flyers

JUN 12 1943

Airdromes Hit by Aerial-bursting Missiles and Opposition Is Small.

DEAN SCHEDLER

Somewhere in New Guinea, June 10 (Delayed)—(A.P.)—Lieut.-Gen. George C. Kenney's Liberators and Flying Fortresses roared through Japanese anti-aircraft fire and a barrage of searchlights before dawn today to drop forty tons of bombs on airdromes at Rabaul, New Britain, during a three-hour raid.

Bombs of all sites from small fragmentation to 1,000-pounders rocked the Lakunai airdrome dispersal area, starting fires which pilots reported were from burning planes.

First Lieut. James Murphy, of Roundup, Mont., drove one Fortress over the target, chalking up his forty-fifth mission. The falling 1,000 pounds from his bomber helped him celebrate his twenty-fourth birthday.

Twenty searchlights nailed Jim's plane while the anti-aircraft gunners banged away. But experience told behind that wheel; Jim brought his plane home, just a little disappointed that the Japs didn't turn on four more lights to make him a birthday candlestick.

[Friday's communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said all the bombers got back safely.]

From medium altitude plane piloted by First Lieut. Charles Downer of Alhambra, Cal., dropped bombs which lit five yellow fires, one a large orange-colored blaze.

Devastating Bombs Used.

His bombardier, First Lieut. Lewis Jedlicka of Cicero, Ill., was chagrined because a piece of shrapnel ruined his "office."

A large fragment tore through the glass, but no one was hurt.

Aerial bursting bombs, which the Japanese radio at Tokio has spoken of numerous times as being particularly devastating, were used again with telling results.

At least eleven fires in one dispersal area were started by a bomber piloted by First Lieut. William Gowdy of Cincinnati, Ohio. The fires burned for half an hour, swelling from vivid yellow to orange.

The last man over the target, just before daybreak, was First Lieut. Ramos Picard of Walla Walla, Wash. He said smoke drifted skyward as far up as 7,000 feet. Some fires along the sides of the runway still were burning.

Anti-aircraft fire left its mark here and there on two planes out of the large formations, but no one else had as hair-raising an experience as that of Technical Sergt. Joe Sitzman of Greeley, Colo.

Riding in the ball turret on the lookout for possible night fighters, Sergt. Sitzman was left with nothing between him and the Japanese but his safety belt when an ack-ack fragment neatly snapped the hinge from the door. Joe wasted no time scrambling into the plane.

At Gen. MacArthur's headquarters a spokesman said that one wave of Liberators and three of Fortresses struck at Lakunai airdrome on the eastern side of Simpson Harbor, encountering only three enemy night fighters which easily were driven off. Single Fortresses attacked the Vunakanau and Rapopo airdromes. [illegible] ny as nineteen fires were [illegible] ed and some could be s[illegible] y miles away.

Gets New Zealand Post

WELLINGTON, N. Z., June 11 (AP).—W. Perry, a member of the Legislative Council and president of the New Zealand Returned Services Association, was appointed Minister of the Armed Forces and War Co-ordination today to succeed Joseph G. Coates, who died May 27.

38 JAP PLANES DOWNED IN WEEK IN SOLOMONS AREA

JUN 12 1943

American Airmen Outscore Enemy by Better Than 5-1 in Two Battles.

[illegible]ANCED SOUTH PACI- [illegible] June 10 — (Delayed) — (AP) American war planes shot down a total of 38 Japanese planes in two air battles over the Solomon islands this week, outscoring the enemy by better than five to one. American losses numbered only seven planes.

South Pacific headquarters reported today a recapitulation showed 23 Japanese planes were shot down Tuesday when American fighters intercepted a force of 40 to 50 Zeros and enemy divers over the Russell islands, now developed as the northernmost American base in the Solomons.

(A Navy department communique issued June 8 announced that U. S. planes shot down 19 Zeros over the Russell islands at a cost of seven American planes.)

Four U. S. Fliers Saved

A headquarters spokesman said the original bag of 19 enemy planes was increased to 23 and that four of the seven American pilots shot down were rescued later.

[illegible]e spokesman also reported that one of the Zeros brought down was destroyed by ramming. He said that the American plane which had rammed the enemy was lost and that the action probably was a case in which there was nothing much else to do.

In a raid against Japanese shipping off Bougainville island in the northwestern Solomons Sunday, 15 intercepting enemy fighters were shot down and six more were damaged, with all American planes returning safely to base. An enemy destroyer was sent to the bottom in this action.

(Navy communique 402 issued in Washington June 6 disclosed the sinking of the Japanese destroyer and the destruction of 15 enemy planes.)

Jersey Sailor Is Honored

ABOARD A SUBMARINE IN THE PACIFIC, June 11 (AP).—A silver star decoration was awarded yesterday to Chief Electrician's Mate A. S. Habien, of Ridgeway, N. J., for gallantry in "courageously and skillfully . . . sinking an important amount of Japanese shipping."

Admiral Silva Killed by Auto

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 11 (AP).—Admiral Jose Machado de Castro e Silva, seventy-seven years old, a Justice of the Supreme Military Tribunal, was killed last night by an automobile as he was crossing a street. He toured the United States in May, 1941, with other Latin-American navy leaders. He was the chief of the Navy General Staff here.

JUN 12 1943

JUN 12 1943

1943

CUBAN NAVY SINKS ENEMY SUBMARINE

Axis Vessel Is Destroyed In Atlantic Off Northern Coast Of Island

[By the Associated Press]

Havana, July 11 — Cuba announced officially tonight that a patrol vessel of the Cuban subchaser fleet had sunk an enemy submarine in battle off the Cuban north coast, in the Atlantic, a few days ago.

The announcement, made through War Minister Aristides Soca de Quesada, was the first official claim that the Cuban navy had scored in its patrol activities around the 2,000-mile coast line of the republic.

The navy recently obtained ten submarine chasers from the United States Government for use in the West Indies waters.

The announcement of the submarine sinking was made after a conference of President Fulgencio Batista and the chiefs of the navy, army and national police in the Presidential palace.

Authorized By President

President Batista himself authorized the publication of the announcement.

Without identifying the location or giving the date of the action, the War Minister said a Cuban patrol vessel made contact with the submarine off the coast.

The submarine attacked, and the naval craft counter-attacked "with complete success," he said, sinking the submarine.

No further details were given.

Cuba was among the first American republics to declare war on the Axis after Pearl Harbor.

Action Follows At Once After New President Barred Radio To Coded Messages Of Axis

Mc Enry JUN 12 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Buenos Aires, June 11—The United States and Britain recognized today the new Argentine Government, thus joining other warring powers and neutral nations.

Formal notice of the United States' and Britain's recognition came soon after the announcement of a decree barring the transmission of outgoing coded messages which had been permitted under the overthrown Castillo regime.

The Japanese followed up the formal recognition yesterday by Germany and Italy when Ambassador Baron Shu Tomii called at the Foreign Office today.

Storni And Armour Confer

Vice-Admiral Segundo Storni, Foreign Minister, described his half-hour meeting with United States Ambassador Norman Armour as cordial. The talk came shortly after notification of United States recognition. It was Storni's second successive daily press conference attended by American journalists.

"I have reached the conclusion," Storni said, "that we are on the road which will bring the closest collaboration between our two countries and the continent in general." He then added, "I am convinced that step by step our country will move toward its rightful position."

Other Recognizing Nations

The countries notifying the Argentine Government of approval today included Mexico, Canada, Hungary, Sweden, Poland, Bulgaria, Colombia, Venezuela, Nicaragua, Ecuador, Greece, the Netherlands and the Dominican Republic.

Word of the United States recognition was delivered to Foreign Under Secretary Roberto Gache by Edward L. Reed, counselor of the United States Embassy. When Reed arrived at Gache's office the anteroom was filled with diplomatic representatives awaiting their turn to deliver similar messages to the new government. Ambassador Amour's brief recognition read:

"I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your excellency's communication dated June 8, 1943, informing me that General Pedro Ramirez has assumed the provisional Presidency of the nation and has designated Rear Admiral Sabah Sueyro to perform the duties of Vice-President and as ministers of the several Government departments officials whose names you are so good as to enumerate."

Radio Rule Hits Axis Only

The ban on coded messages, announced last night, was worded in a manner which applies equally to all nations, but in actual practice affects only the Axis nations, Germany, Italy and Japan.

Under a previous agreement with the Government of deposed President Ramon S. Castillo, the Axis countries were permitted to radio a daily quota of one hundred coded words.

It was pointed out that the ban effectively cuts off the last legal method of secret transmission to the Axis homelands. Cable transmission still remains open to all but the Axis, since such facilities have long been denied them by the United Nations which control the operating companies.

Ramirez Explains Ban

The Axis may still use the radio for messages written in open language but United Nations' observers agreed that the ban on code will reduce the possibility of the Axis transmitting word of United States ship movements and other information of military value.

President Ramirez explained that the decree had been issued "in view of the adhesion of the Argentine Government to Resolution 40 of the third reunion of the American republics (the Rio de Janeiro conference of January, 1942) in accordance with the necessities of continental security."

The resolution cited in the decree held that it was necessary to apply means to control and impede communications which "might place in danger the security of the American states and the continent in general."

The decree becomes effective immediately upon notification of the Axis embassies.

U. S. And Britain Recognize Ramirez Argentine Regime

JUN 12 1943

ITALIAN PEOPLE ARE TOLD DUCE IS BETRAYER

President Pledges Them Free Choice of Own Non-Fascist Regime.

DECLARES THEY WANT PEACE

But Stipulates That Mussolini and Nazis Must First Be Thrown Out.

JUN 12 1943

Washington, June 11 (A. P.). — President Roosevelt declared today that the surrender of Pantelleria was very good news, and at the same time indirectly but strongly, he appealed to Italy to get out of the war.

He told a press conference that the Allies could assure the Italian people an opportunity to choose the kind of non-Nazi, non-Fascist government they wish after Fascism has been put down and the Germans have been driven from their territory.

It is the hope and the intention of the United Nations, Mr. Roosevelt said, that Italy be restored to nationhood and take her place as a respected member of the European family of nations.

Says Duce Betrayed Italy.

The President made it obvious that he considered Mussolini and his aids, rather than the Italian people, responsible for Italy's position in the war. He said that the present Anglo-American campaign against Italy was the inevitable result of the ruthless course Mussolini had followed in the last few years. In forming a military alliance with Germany, Mr. Roosevelt declared, Mussolini betrayed his own country in a struggle for personal power and aggrandizement.

Mussolini's acts were not those of the Italian people, he went on to say, but a succession of acts committed by his personal Fascist regime. The people of the country are largely devoted to peace, President Roosevelt said.

Mussolini's whole policy was illustrated, he continued, by his declaration of war against France and Britain. Harking back to the day three years ago yesterday when Italy took this step, the President recalled that he had described it then as a stab in the back.

The Allies, he said, have no choice but to pursue the war against Italy and Mussolini until they have achieved complete victory.

Only when the Germans have been driven out and Fascism is abolished will the good judgment of the Italian people make itself evident, he said.

Apparently Without Any Dead.

The President had received word this morning direct from Gen. Eisenhower, that Pantelleria had raised the white flag of surrender. Apparently the surrender came because of a lack of water on the island, he said, and thought it worth pointing out that the island had been taken, apparently without any loss of life. He added, however, that he did not know whether a landing had been made before the capitulation.

The Italians called Pantelleria their Rock of Gibraltar, he said, and had done a great deal of boasting about it and about how it dominated the Mediterranean Narrows. Now, he said, it is in British and American hands.

He went on, then, to discuss Mussolini, Italy and the possibilities for setting up a non-Fascist government after the victory, referring to notes which he had started to write out, he said, some time ago. Now seems to be an opportune time, he added, to say something through the press [illegible] adio to the people of Italy, [illegible] to remind them that the attacks on them were the result of the course of action Mussolini had chosen.

Views of Capitol Hill.

Congressional leaders meanwhile expressed the hope that the surrender of Pantelleria is an indication that Italy itself may be so softened by bombings that it will collapse without the necessity of an invasion.

Senator Thomas (D.-Utah), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that he was gratified by news of the island's capitulation and hoped the Italians were thus indicating their desire to get out of the war.

"If we have to invade from the toe of the boot, we will face immense difficulties," he declared. "Not even Hannibal could accomplish an invasion from that side, even though he held Sicily."

Senator Gurney (R.-S. D.), a member of the Military Affairs Committee, said that the seizure of Pantelleria would be of inestimable value to the Allies in improving their shipping situation in the Mediterranean. "That shows that we can take them by air," he declared.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, the chairman of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, greeted the news of the surrender as most gratifying, and expressed the view that the victory "is certain to be followed by further and larger successes."

ISLAND'S CAPTURE IS FIRST BREACH IN AXTS FORTRESS

JUN 12 1943

Fatal Wound to Italian War Morale Also Seen.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP) The first Allied breach in the walls of the Axis fortress of Europe has been made with surrender of Italy's tiny mid-Mediterranean "Gibraltar", the island of Pantelleria. With its fall, too, may be disclosed a fatal wound to Italian war morale.

Pantelleria fell on the first day of the fourth year of Italy's unhappy war partnership with Nazi Germany. It fell without frontal amphibious assault, succumbing to a fury of air attacks supplemented by relatively light weight naval bombardment. That itself is significant, a foretaste of what is in store for the Axis in Europe and in Asia as Allied air and sea power swiftly swells to gargantuan proportions.

Allied Casualties Slight

The Allied casualty cost was negligible. The cost to the Axis is still to be computed—more in terms of shaken Italian public war morale than in losses of men or equipment or even the tactical and strategic military effects of this new Italian disaster.

The island unquestionably will be of far greater military use to the Allies than it could have been to Italy if it could have been long held. It brings the Allied attack from Africa almost half-way across the Sicilian straits. As a refueling stop for short range planes and as a base for submarines to consolidate more completely the already established Allied sea and air control of the central Mediterranean narrows for free use in the vigorous and aggressive prosecution of the war on all global fronts it has sound military values.

Sicilian Straits Barred

Pantelleria in Allied hands renders Italian fleet use of the Sicilian straits impossible. Enemy shipping cannot conceivably move either way, even by hugging the Italian shore line, except at prohibitive risk of destruction by bomb or torpedo or shell fire.

That might prove highly important strategically as the pattern of the next Allied moves unfolds. Mussolini is reported to have been husbanding what is left of his once imposing fleet to meet the invasion threats. He now has lost use of the Sicilian passage to concentrate naval power east or west as developments of Allied attack strategy dictated.

The Straits of Messina, between Sicily and the toe of the Italian mainland boot, afford an inside passage between the eastern and western Mediterranean. It is a narrow, difficult passage for big ships. But a greater peril than the navigation terrors of Scylla and Charybdis of classical legend now hover over that Italian moat. Allied bombers already have been busy with it to cut the main supply line for Sicily and Sardinia. There is little doubt that they will haunt it day and night and sow its tide-ripped length with mines to keep the eastern and western wings of Italian sea power apart.

These are practical military

JUN 12 1943

1943

30.24 - 5143

30.24 - 5143

The resolution also declared that the Atlantic Charter and the Four Freedoms should be incorporated in a special colonial charter. It added that colonial status should be abolished and "genuine partnerships" realized between the colonies and Britain.

"Should Be No Color Bar"

Noel Baker, a member of Parliament, giving the indorsement of the party's executive committee to the resolution, said it would establish the principle that "government of backward peoples is a trust exercised by a ruling nation for the world at large."

"The executive committee agrees with Mr. Sumner Welles that there should be no color bar," he declared.

BRITONS GET MORE BUTTER—IN 1946

London, June 18 (A. P.)—Lord Woolton, the Food Minister, asked by a housewife at an Edinburgh gathering today when the British butter ration of two ounces weekly would be increased, responded:

"You'll get more butter—probably in 1946."

JUN 19 1943

2,000 NAZIS SLAIN IN FIERCE BATTLES ALONG OREL FRONT

Numerous German Counter-attacks Hurled Back by Red Troops.

LONDON, Saturday, June 19. — (AP) Russia announced early today that Soviet forces had killed more than 2,000 German troops in hurling back numerous enemy counterattacks this week in the vital Orel sector, where the Nazis were reported using semi-trained reservists and rear-line troops.

In one area, northwest of Mtsensk, the Germans "drew forward reserves" yesterday but "showed no activity," said the Moscow midnight communique recorded here by the Soviet monitor.

2,000 Nazis Slain

"In a few days of fighting in this sector the Germans lost over 2,000 in killed alone," the bulletin said.

"Our troops burned or disabled 17 enemy tanks and destroyed 12 guns, 18 mortars including three six-barrel mortars, and over 40 machine-guns."

The communique said the Russians shot down 15 German planes during this fighting and captured prisoners and some material.

Nazi Airdrome Raided

A special Soviet announcement also said that Russian bombers raided a German airdrome near Leningrad yesterday and followed up their Thursday night attack on an airfield in the Donets basin with a daylight raid on the same field yesterday.

The communique said that Soviet air units Thursday destroyed or damaged about ten trucks carrying troops and supplies, blew up several ammunition dumps, smashed one train and partly wiped out a company of German infantry.

On the front west of Moscow, Red army troops were reported to have killed about 200 Germans yesterday in addition to destroying six machineguns, a mortar battery and an ammunition dump.

Three German planes were downed in air combats over the Belgorod area, where the communique said Soviet snipers and scouts were active. Artillery and mortar units of both sides exchanged fire west of Rostov, with the Russians dispersing about two companies of enemy infantry and destroying several German guns.

Red army troops on the Volkhov front southeast of Leningrad killed about 150 Germans and knocked out several field pieces and machineguns.

In the Minsk area, Russian guerrillas were reported to have wrecked three German troop trains, destroying 56 cars carrying troops and equipment and killing many of the enemy soldiers.

Front line dispatches reported earlier that the Nazis were using semi-trained reservists and rear-line units in their desperate thrusts to regain lost positions northwest of Mtsensk, 40 miles above Orel.

Reds Punish Nazis Near Orel

Enemy Is Said to Use Semi-trained Reservists —Air Fight Near Leningrad.

Moscow, June 18 (A. P.)—German efforts to recapture lost positions northwest of Mtsensk, above the Russian battlefront hinge at Orel, have been smashed and the Red Army has inflicted heavy losses on semi-trained Nazi reservists and rear-line troops thrown into the struggle, front line dispatches said today.

The Soviet midnight communique said that several German attacks in the area were repulsed yesterday and that enemy man power and equipment were cut.

The dispatches from the front quoted one German prisoner as admitting that his division was composed entirely of reservists because all of the highly trained regular troops had been killed.

The bulletin told of heavy punishment dealt to Mogilev, a German-held river and rail base on the Upper Dnieper, in a recent air raid.

A special Moscow broadcast declared long-range Russian bombers, continuing the offensive to smash Nazi war supplies, set a hundred big fires in raids on German airdromes Wednesday night.

Both the Germans and the Russians have said that the other side intended to begin the summer offensive in the Orel region.

The German radio said that Nazi bombers ranged eastward last night to attack Soviet concentrations at Astrakhan and to bomb armament plants on the lower Volga River. Astrakhan is on the Caspian Sea at the mouth of the Volga River, 225 miles southeast of Stalingrad. The Germans said four Soviet freighters totaling 11,000 tons were sunk, another medium-sized freighter was damaged and extensive fires were left burning in the attacks on the armament plants.

Planes Combat Near Leningrad.

London, June 18 (A. P.).—Russian Army artillery and mortar batteries smashed two companies of German infantry on the Leningrad front and seven Nazi bombers were brought down in aerial combat and by anti-aircraft fire on the city's approaches last night, the Russian noon communique announced today.

Nineteen German blockhouses and observation posts also were destroyed in the Leningrad area by Russian gunfire, the war bulletin at Moscow broadcast.

Clashes between reconnaissance parties were reported all along the line. One Red Army unit was credited with destruction of about a company of Germans in the Sevsk area, west of Kursk. It was in this region that the Berlin radio said the Russians were massing troops for another offensive, a claim not borne out by any Russian announcement.

Nazis Suffer Heavily.

Two German planes were brought down in the Sevsk sector and one Russian pilot destroyed fourteen Nazi supply trucks in the campaign to cut down the German stores on the Russian front, the noon bulletin said.

The midnight communique said that that despite fresh troops thrown into the attack, the Germans northwest of Mtsensk have been unable to regain lost positions and have suffered heavily in man power and material losses.

This action is in the area around Orel, the battlefront hinge where each side has asserted the other has offensives in the making.

Under The Nazis

JUN 19 1943

Maginot Line Going

Stockholm, June 18 (AP)—A Berlin dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported today that the Germans are rapidly completing demolition of the Maginot Line in France to make more land available for cultivation. Approximately 1,000 concrete barriers are being removed daily from the broad fortified zone, the dispatch said.

Previously the Nazis were reported to have removed much of the armament from the Maginot Line, transferring it to their new fortifications of the French coast.

II

Baltic Opposition

Stockholm, June 18 (AP)—Opposition to German occupation authorities in the Baltic countries has increased to such an extent that the Nazis have been forced to restrict all travel, the Svenska Dagbladet reported today.

The paper said the Germans had established rigid guards over all Baltic frontiers, even limiting traffic between Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia in a hunt for partisans and for persons who have evaded compulsory labor service.

German authorities were reported to be halting persons on the streets to examine their passports and papers. Many workers were said to have fled to the forests, causing serious disruptions in industry.

U. S. Warships at Gibraltar

MADRID, June 18 (AP). — Dispatches from La Linea, which is near Gibraltar, said today that three American destroyers had joined a British fleet of two airplane carriers, two battleships and twelve destroyers already in Gibraltar's harbor.

King Sees Fortifications

MADRID, June 18 (AP).—Dispatches from La Linea said today King George VI had arrived at Gibraltar by plane, following his inspection of allied forces in North Africa.

The dispatches said that King George was greeted upon his arrival by Lieutenant General F. N. M. Macfarlane, military governor of Gibraltar, and that they and other military and naval officers immediately inspected fortifications and garrison quarters deep in the rock.

TWO AIRPORTS HIT IN RAIDS ON SICILY

124 Tons of Bombs Hurled at Italian Bases of Comiso, Biscari.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 18.—(AP) American Liberator bombers of the Middle East command have smashed again at Italian Sicily in the campaign to destroy the last of its air cover, dropping 125 tons of exploding steel on the airdromes of Comiso and Biscari to follow up another heavy night attack by British Wellingtons on the home Italian port of Naples.

The Liberators, estimated in Cairo dispatches at about 50, were escorted by R.A.F. Spitfires based on Malta, and all Allied planes from these and the operations against Naples returned safely.

Hangar, Workshops Destroyed

At Comiso, a hangar was destroyed and workshops, dispersal areas and the runway were covered with explosions. At Biscari, only a few miles away, many hits were scored. Several grounded enemy planes were believed destroyed at both fields. The Spitfires destroyed an Italian interceptor plane.

The Biscari-Comiso raids were thrown in yesterday; the Wellington attack on Naples was delivered the previous night.

Of this latter raid, the communique, from Allied headquarters said only that the Naples docks were attacked. Two enemy planes were destroyed last night in operations in this theater.

An Axis sailing vessel in the Aegean sea was reported damaged by R.A.F. long-range fighters in the continuing patrol of those waters.

The French High Command, in its first communique since the conquest of Tunisia, announced that a French submarine had sunk a 5,000-ton Axis cargo ship in the Mediterranean.

It also disclosed that the French had been supplied by the British with Spitfire planes. This was made known in an official report that French pilots flew 140 individual flights in both Warhawks and Spitfires to protect debarking British troops during the occupation of Pantelleria.

Allied Flyers Hit Sicilian Bases And Naples

(By the Associated Press)

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 18—United States Liberators flew from Middle East bases to bomb the Sicilian airdromes at Comiso and Biscari by daylight yesterday after a night attack by Wellingtons of the northwest African air force on the Naples docks, it was announced today.

(Nearly fifty Liberators, protected by Malta-based Spitfires during the attacks, dropped 125 tons of explosives on the two airdromes, a Cairo dispatch said. The British fighters destroyed a Macchi 202. Large columns of black smoke arose as the raiders headed home.

Runway Blasted

(Workshops, disperal areas, a hangar and the runway of the Comiso field were covered by explosive bursts, a Cairo communique said. At Biscari, which lies a few miles from Comiso near the southeastern corner of the invasion-threatened island, attacks were concentrated on the northeast and northwest corners of the airdrome.)

Cannon and machine-gun fire from RAF long-range fighters was reported to have damaged an Axis sailing vessel in the Aegean.

Naples Docks Attacked

The RAF Wellingtons dropped several two-ton blockbusters along the Naples waterfront and showered other explosives on the docks and railway yards of that Italian supply port before dawn yesterday.

Official sources gave no information on the results of the Naples raid, but said one bomber fired 200 rounds in driving off an enemy night fighter which attempted to intercept it. Heavy explosives had last been dropped on the Naples docks and industrial area by Wellington squadrons the night of June 1.

RAF Coastal Airforce Beaufighters shot down two Axis planes off the Algerian coast last night.

No Allied Craft Lost

Bad weather over the target areas halted the heavy daylight operations of Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's United States bombers for the second successive day and only patrolling and reconnaissance flights were reported.

Communiques said that neither the Middle East nor the Northwest African air forces lost a plane.

(The Italian high command, without reference to Naples, said

JUN 19 1943

1943

"enemy aviation yesterday directed attacks against localities of Sicily and Calabria and against small centers in the Vesuvius area, among which was Pompei. There was limited damage."

South Of Naples

(The communique, broadcast by the Rome radio, was recorded by the Associated Press. The modern town of Pompei lies on a railway twenty-five miles south of Naples.

(German airmen were reported by the Italians to have bombed harbor installations of Djidjelli, 150 miles east of Algiers. The communique declared a Spitfire raider was shot down near Comiso, Sicily.)

U. S. AIR FORCE SMASHES HARD AT FOE IN SICILY

125 Tons of Bombs Fall on Airfields in Big Daylight Attack.

JUN 19 1943

NAPLES BATTERED BY R. A. F.

Italians Report Villages in Vesuvius Area Are Under Assault.

Cairo, June 18 (A. P.).—Nearly fifty United States Liberator bombers smashed by daylight yesterday at the airdromes of Comiso and Biscari, Sicily, dropping 125 tons of bombs, it was announced today.

A United States communique said that they scored hits on runways, hangars and dispersal areas.

All the aircraft, which flew with a protective cover of Spitfires operating from Malta, returned safely. The fighters destroyed one Macchi 202.

Several enemy planes on the ground at both airdromes were reported destroyed.

At Comiso a hangar was destroyed. Fires and large explosions resulted from the Biscari attack, with long columns of black smoke rising when the raiders headed home.

Praises Spitfire Cover.

Major Robert Hoover of Dallas, Tex., who led the formation against Comiso, paid tribute to excellent Spitfire cover which, he said, probably was responsible for the lack of enemy fighter opposition there.

"The Spitfires gave us perfect cover," he said. "I saw two Messerschmitt 109s lurking in the distance waiting to make an attack. When they saw the Spits they peeled off and went home."

These fields, two of many with which the Axis has ringed invasion-threatened Sicily, are located within a few miles of each other near the southeastern corner of the Italian island.

Direct hits were scored on the hangar at the northern end of the Comiso Field, a Middle East air communique said, and dispersals were covered by bomb bursts. Hits also were observed on workshops in the southern end and on an eastern runway.

The air-borne explosives were concentrated on the northeast and northwest corners of the Biscari Field, the bulletin said.

At the same time, Royal Air Force long-range fighters made another sally over the Ægean

R. A. F. Bombs Naples.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 18 (A. P.).—Wellington bombers, striking from bases in Northwest Africa, hammered the Italian port of Naples Wednesday night as the Allies continued to carry the war to Germany's junior partner, an allied communique announced today

The Wellingtons, which frequently lug block busters, were reported to have blasted the Naples docks. In the most recent big-scale assault on that port Wellingtons dumped 4,000- and 2,000-pound bombs on the docks and industrial area the night of June 1.

The war bulletin said no aircraft were lost by the Royal Air Force in these operations and that two enemy planes were destroyed last night.

Vesuvius Area Mentioned.

The Italian High Command, without reference to Naples, said:

"Enemy aviation yesterday directed attacks against localities of Sicily and Calabria and against small centers in the Vesuvius area, among which was Pompei. There was limited damage."

The communique, broadcast by the Rome radio, was recorded by the Associated Press. The modern town of Pompei lies on a railway, twenty-five miles south of Naples.

OWN BOMB MENACES 4

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 18 (A. P.).—Lieut.-Col. John D. Stevenson, 28 years old, and three fighter bomber pilots under his command, narrowly escaped death today when a bomb accidentally dropped from his ship as they were skimming over the Metiterranean.

They were returning from Pantelleria. Col. Stevenson, who lives in Laramie, Wyoming, had tripped his bomb release. Although he did not know it, only one of the bombs dropped. ,The other suddenly fell into the sea beneath his formation of four planes on their way back when they were only 150 feet above the Mediterranean.

Fighting-French Anniversary

JUN 19 1943

Algiers, June 18 (AP)—In its first war communique since the Allied conquest of Tunisia, the French high command announced today that a French submarine had sunk a 5,000-ton enemy cargo vessel in the Mediterranean.

[By the Associated Press]

Algiers, June 18—"Our country hears the cannon of her liberators approaching," Gen. Charles de Gaulle declared tonight in a speech for broadcast to the French marking the third anniversary of the birth of Fighting France.

Three years after he announced that Fighting France would surmount disaster and continue to victory, he said "our aims are the vanquishing of the enemy, liberation of territory and national rejuvenation by democracy and liberty."

He said that "events of the war have given proof day after day of English heroism, Russian valor and American power."

Earlier 30,000 cheering French crowded midtown Algiers as de Gaulle placed a wreath on the tall monument to the war dead.

COMPROMISE PLAN MAY MEND BREACH IN FRENCH SET-UP

Separate National Defense Committee to Be Named at Algiers.

ALGIERS, June 18—(AP) Signs of a compromise partitioning French military power among followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud developed today as the Committee of National Liberation arranged to hold a second plenary session Monday.

In a speech for broadcast to France marking the third anniversary of the Fighting French, Gen. de Gaulle said tonight that "union of the French, provided it is achieved by the French themselves and in the way the French people desire it, is a reinforcement for the United Nations and a guarantee for cooperation among the Allies today and the building of peace tomorrow."

Advanced as Compromise

The newest solution to the leaders' political problems was advanced by "moderates" of the 13-man Committee of National Liberation, which now has become the supreme governing authority in the overseas empire, and was reported acceptable in most respects to the co-presidents, Gen. de Gaulle and Gen. Giraud.

As made known in political circles, the plan calls for the appointment of a separate Committee of National Defense which will include Gen. de Gaulle as defense commissioner, Gen. Giraud as commander in chief, Jean Monnet as commissioner of armament and supply, Andre Philip as commissioner of interior and resistance in France, and either Gen. Alphonse Georges or Gen. Georges Catroux.

The Committee of National Defense, under the current scheme, would have a sub-committee composed of Gen. de Gaulle and the chiefs of staff of the army, navy and air force. This group would undertake the actual work of reorganizing and remodeling French armed forces, subject to approval by the Committee of National Defense.

Juin to Get Post

Observers believed it was almost certain that the Giraud factor would be able to place Gen. Alphonse Juin, fresh from successes in Tunisia, as army chief of staff while the de Gaullists made a strong case for General Bouscat as air chief of staff. Admiral Ernest Michelier now is the highest ranking French naval officer in North Africa but it was reported that another would be named to represent the navy on the sub-committee.

Difficulties attending the establishment of the full Committee of National Liberation in power yesterday seemed almost forgotten today as both sides engaged in friendly informal discussions. Gen. de Gaulle personally participated in the third anniversary celebration of his momentous creation of Fighting France.

"Our country hears the cannon of her liberators approaching," he declared in his broadcast speech. "The events of the war have given proof day after day of English heroism, Russian valor and American power."

"Our aims," he said, "are the vanquishing of the enemy, liberation of territory and national rejuvenation by democracy and liberty.

"Victory will be in vain if all the people who wish to take part in it are not closely linked, one with another like soldiers in ranks.

Empire Liberated

"We see at this moment the empire liberated from Algiers to Tananarive, Tunis to Brazzaville, Dakar to Djibouti and Rabat to Noumea, where our soldiers, sailors and aviators are gathering their efforts for national resistance."

Earlier in the day, Gen. de Gaulle laid a wreath at the tall sculptured monument to the war dead amid the cheers of 30,000 Frenchmen who crowded midtown Algiers.

The enthusiastic cries of de Gaullists far back in the huge throng packing Memorial square near the waterfront almost drowned out the singing of the Marseillaise which ended the ceremony. A scheduled one minute of silence was observed only by those close to the honor guard of native troops surrounding the monument. Confetti showered from buildings along the Rue Michelet as Gen. de Gaulle drove off in a limousine.

Spellman Arrives in Uganda

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, June 18 (AP)—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, Catholic military vicar for the United States armed forces, has reached Uganda in his tour of United States military establishments and plans to go from there to South Africa by way of Madagascar, a Reuter dispatch said today.

U. S. PLANES RAID BURMA ROAD TOWN

Bomb Japanese Barracks and Installations at Lashio, Northeast of Mandalay

RAF ALSO ON ATTACKS

Enemy Said to Have Slain 5,000 Civilians and 5,000 Wounded Chinese in Tungting Town

NEW DELHI, India, June 18 (AP)—Liberators of the Tenth United States Air Force dumped ten tons of bombs yesterday on Japanese barracks and installations at Lashio, railhead of the Burma Road 130 miles northeast of Mandalay, it was announced today. Considerable damage was reported in a communiqué.

The Lashio raid followed a fire-setting attack on railroad yards and buildings at Mandalay by heavy bombers Wednesday, American headquarters announced.

Blenheim bombers raided the Japanese Burma base at Indainggyi yesterday morning while others attacked Buthedaung, a British communiqué said today.

At the same time Mohawks bombed and machine-gunned targets in the upper Chindwin district. The announcement said that at Indainggyi all bombs were seen to fall in the target area but clouds prevented observation of results. The operations were carried out without loss.

Chungking, June 18—Chinese troops, credited with killing or wounding 40,000 Japanese in pushing the invaders back from the Hunan rice bowl, were reported today to have completed the encirclement of Owchihkow, ninety miles southeast of the Japanese base at Ichang.

Owchihkow is one of the last important Japanese-held strongholds west of Yochow and south of the Yangtze.

Yanks Bomb City

American planes, which bombed the city Tuesday in support of ground forces, further paved the way for the success of the ground action, dispatches said.

Chinese headquarters reported that a Japanese three-columned drive, started last Monday against Chinese positions near the coastal port of Swatow in Kwangtung province, had been "intercepted." An enemy column which began moving in Yunnan province on June 8 was reported to have been halted.

100,000 Men Used

A Chinese army spokesman announced that the Japanese threw an army of 100,000 into the forty-day battle of the Yangtze valley above and below Ichang and added "less than two thirds of the entire Japanese force managed to escape from the Chinese trap."

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced yesterday that United States planes raided warehouses in the Japanese base at Owlchihkow Tuesday and that an outnumbered American force destroyed six Japanese planes and probably destroyed three others in a battle Monday southwest of Nanchang.

One Chinese force now is fighting on the outskirts of Owchihkow and other Chinese units have struck east of that city to hamper Japanese communications on the Canton-Hankow railway, Chinese headquarters said.

Surveyors Captured

Chinese sources reported that two Japanese marine surveyors were captured by Chinese authori-

JUN 19 1943

American Bombers Hit Enemy-Held City

[By the Associated Press]

JUN 19 1943

1943

30-24- 5181

30.24- 5181

In another announcement, Robert Patterson, undersecretary of war, said industry failed by 5 1-2 per cent to meet production needs of the Army ground forces in May.

If this situation continues, he said, "our overseas troops will suffer from shortages of critical equipment." He deplored, too, strikes in industry and what he said had been some diversion of management talent to "civilian non-essentials."

Alabama Mines Close

The mine walkouts began first in Alabama almost immediately after word of the WLB decision was received yesterday, and quickly spread to some Pennsylvania mines.

By noon today, all the larger soft coal producing states were affected to some extent.

Luther Harr, U. S. bituminous coal consumers' counsel, (a Federal office) appealed to the miners to continue working. In an open letter, he told them:

"As coal consumers' counsel, representing the millions of bituminous coal consumers in this country, I urge you to continue producing the coal so necessary for the successful prosecution of the war on the fighting and home fronts.

"I ask this further contribution on your part because you are the men who kept the people of this nation warm last winter, enabled railroads to do their big job, and provided the coal by which war plants turned out needed planes, tanks, guns and ammunition.

"I refuse to believe you want women and children to suffer from cold next winter. This job of keeping homes, schools and hospitals warm is not an easy one. There's no glamor to your work. Neither are there awards—or many pats on the back. However, the job starts with you. Solid coal at the face is of no use to a man's home 100 miles away. You must drill it and shoot it, load it and bring it out to the tipple.

"It's your duty to stay on the job in this emergency. The people are depending on you. I know you will not let them down."

To Resume Conference.

Washington, June 19 (A. P.).—The United Mine Workers and the soft coal operators returned to the conference table today to seek a basis for averting another tie-up of the nation's mines with the expiration of the working truce tomorrow midnight.

An informed source said the miners and the operators have not necessarily agreed to resume collective bargaining on the merits of the demands of the miners, but would "see what can be done about the War Labor Board order."

John L. Lewis, president, and the U. M. W. policy committee faced another crucial decision as the deadline of their no-strike truce neared.

Their travel pay demands rejected by the War Labor Board, the truce runs out tomorrow midnight.

The policy committee meeting, originally scheduled for 11 A. M. was postponed to 4 P. M. by Mr. Lewis, presumably to give him more time to consult with lieutenants on the implications of the WLB order referring the miners portal-to-portal pay claim to the Wage and Hour Administrator, the Federal Courts, or collective bargaining as the U. M. W. leadership chooses.

Mr. Lewis went into session in the forenoon with his district presidents, but a spokesman said a statement of any kind is unlikely in advance of the full policy meeting.

A delegation of six miners from Logan county, West Virginia, came to Washington with a request for admission to the White House to present their case. U. M. W. headquarters telephoned Marvin McIntyre, presidential secretary, who agreed to see the group.

---

...INGTON, June 19. — (AP) Undersecretary of War Patterson and War Production board officials agreed today that the United States needs accelerated war production, but differed on the meaning of recent output figures.

Mr. Patterson, criticizing both labor and management for "overconfidence and complacency," declared that production of supplies for the Army ground forces fell 5 1-2 per cent below actual needs in May, or 3 1-2 per cent under April's output.

A WPB spokesman replied that overall arms production went up an estimated 2 per cent last month, and ground forces production is only about a sixth of the total. Concurring with Mr. Patterson's assertion that a great acceleration must be achieved if the nation is to exploit its military victories, he observed that it is erroneous to suppose the entire war production effort has suffered a relapse.

WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson declined comment on Mr. Patterson's press conference statement, but a WPB official talked to reporters. He said the Army ground forces program—which includes tanks, artillery, small arms and ammunition, signal equipment and other items—is only about one-sixth of the total war program, and happens to be the area in which the le... d...

"cut backs" in production were ordered.

As a whole, production for May, on the basis of tentative figures, appears to be up about two per cent over the previous month, he asserted. This includes not only weapons and supplies for the ground forces, but also the Navy, the Air forces, Maritime commission, and Lend-Lease. The spokesman noted that in some cases production had been cut back so that May production schedules were deliberately held beneath the actual output in April.

Recent WPB production reports have emphasized that the program is reaching the point where successive increases are harder and harder to achieve. Manufacture of artillery, WPB said, hit a greater volume in April than is scheduled for any month this year or next.

Mr. Patterson declared:

"Management and labor must deliver the supplies on schedule and as planned, or the opportunity to exploit military successes will be lost."

He asserted that production of all materials, except aircraft and radio equipment for ground forces, declined 3 1-2 per cent in May. Schedules called for an increase of two per cent in dollar volume to a total of $1,582,000,000 for the ground forces as compared with April production, he said.

Mr. Patterson remarked, however, that aircraft manufacture increased 40 per cent in May compared with January, to a total of 7,000 Army and Navy planes.

He said production lapses mean that men in training camps will be denied needed equipment so that shipments may be maintained to men overseas or about to move to fighting fronts.

"If the situation continues," he added, "even our overseas troops will suffer from shortages of critical equipment x x x The Army will not even have its basic equipment by the end of the year if this condition continues."

To permit a shortage to develop even temporarily into a "too little and too late" situation, Mr. Patterson declared, "will cost thousands of lives tomorrow.

"The Army supply schedule, to which all our military plans for defeating the Axis are geared, calls for a continued increase throughout all of 1943. This rate must be maintained if we are to reach our goal."

Mr. Patterson blamed over confidence inspired by the Tunisian victory and successful bombing raids over Europe, and said:

"The Tunisian victory means a speed up in our already crowded timetable of military operations. The steadily increasing rate of production called for by the 1943 Army production schedule must be maintained if that time-table is to be met.

"Failure to appreciate the gravity of our situation and the need for continued increased efforts to meet our continually increasing needs is evident by the coal strike, the Akron strikes and other stoppages in war and related industries, and by the tendency of certain manufacturers to divert too much time, thought and energy to the design and development of competitive civilian non-essentials."

Questioned about the effect of decreased production of war supplies upon inductions, he said the Army's size might vary over a year, but that was not tied to the supply program. He said that equipment demands cover troops of other nations as well as the United States.

Mr. Patterson also announced cancellation of 206 leases for hotels used by the Army air forces to house soldiers in technical training courses. He said the hotels originally saved at least five months in putting the training program into operation, but that the movement of men to overseas bases, vacating Army facilities here, has reached the point where the air forces technical training command can be relocated at Army posts. The Army is planning to sell Chicago's Mammoth Stevens hotel.

JUN 20 1943

ARMY TO END LEASES OF 206 HOTELS IN JULY

Lessening of Needs Leads to Vacating of Civilian Properties.

OVERSEAS MOVEMENT CAUSE

Conventional Barracks Will Soon Be Sufficient for Air Forces—Hospitals to Be Kept.

Washingon, June 19 (A. P.).—The War Department announced today that leases on 206 hotels now used by the Technical Training Command of the Army Air Forces will be canceled, effective in the middle of July.

It was explained that the tapering off of the program for temporary use of hotels and other civilian property was made possible by the movement of many air units overseas, which vacated quarters in which technical training units now can be housed.

"In the course of the next few months it will be possible, without the construction of any new facilities for the purpose, to house large numbers of air forces personnel in conventional barracks," the department said. It added that the surrender of 206 of the 434 hotels now used by the air forces will decrease the Army's annual rental bill by $4,600,000.

The general program of cancellation of leases, the department said, will not affect hotels which have been converted to military hospitals.

Miami Beach Favored Spot.

It was added that for the present "it is planned to continue occupancy of the greater part of the leased hotels at Miami Beach, Fla., which has been found to be the best adapted for air forces purposes of the hotel centers that were occupied." At Miami Beach 109 of 325 leases are being canceled now, the department said. At Atlantic City another major center of hotel occupancy by the Army, thirty-five of forty-seven leases now effective are being canceled. Leased properties in Chicago, Grand Rapids, Mich., St. Petersburg, Fla., and surrounding area, and Boca Raton, Fla., with the exception of hospitals will be returned to their owners, the department said.

The Stevens Hotel in Chicago, the only one purchased outright by the War Department will be vacated on August 15. The department said that several inquiries had been received from prospective purchasers of the hotel and it was expected that the property would be sold soon.

The schedule of withdrawal of personnel of the hotels, the department said, "will be governed by military necessity. In order to reduce as far as possible disruption of training schedules the movement of administrative and instruction staffs will be carried out by groups as each class completes its work at a particular station."

The department also announced that "at an early date" headquarters of the Technical Training Command, now located at Southern Pines, N. C., will be moved to one of the regular air forces stations.

Notices of termination of leases of the 206 hotels which are to be given up at this time have been mailed to the hotel owners, the department said.

Dates for Vacating.

Under-Secretary of War Patterson, discussing the concellation of leases at a press conference, said the hotels to be returned to private use in Miami Beach would be vacated at dates ranging from July 5 through August, those at St. Petersburg, Fla., July and early August, and Boca Raton, Fla., in September.

Asked if the cancellations indidated that some other hotel leases may be dropped, he said that it was impossible to determine that at present except that leases on buildings used for hospitals would be continued.

Mr. Patterson explained that if a slack should develop in Army housing, making Army facilities available, that space probably would be filled up with men now quartered in hotels.

Stevens Hotel's Problem.

Although it was reported here that Mrs. Maria L. Kramer, operator of the Maria Kramer hotel chain, had offered the Government $7,500,000 for the Stevens Hotel in Chicago, hotel men both here and in the Mid-West metropolis expressed grave doubt that the world's largest hostelry could be made ready for civilian use before the war is over.

This is due to the fact that the Army, when it took over the hotel, sold practically all the furnishings at auction to widely scattered buyers. Because of wartime restrictions it is virtually impossible for any civilian organization to purchase hotel equipment or furnishings today. So it would appear that any buyer would have an empty building on his hands.

The Kramer hotel chain operates the Lincoln and Edison hotels in New York city. Mrs. Kramer's bid is $1,500,000 more than the Army paid for the 3,000-room Stevens. John L. Horgan, general manager of the Kramer chain, said that the offer of $7,500,000 was for a completely equipped hotel, and explained that if the deal goes through, the Army will have to obtain the necessary priorities on furniture, &c. It was estimated that it would cost $3,500,000 to $4,500,000 to furnish the Stevens.

It was said that the difficulties of refurnishing the hotel caused the Statler Hotel chain to turn down an offer to buy it, although Chicago at the present time is experiencing an acute shortage of hotel accommodations. It was understood that the Army not only disposed of the bulk of the room furnishings of the Stevens but also of much of the kitchen equipment and silverware. The Stevens and the nearby 1,000-room Congress Hotel were converted by the Army into training schools for radio technicians.

The largest hotel in the world, the Stevens was built at a cost of $28,000,000. During the depression years many of its floors were closed for lack of business.

JUN 20 1943

Hotel Men Pessimistic.

Atlantic City, June 19 (A. P.).—The job of converting hotels back to resort business—after a year's occupancy by Army Air Forces trainees—was viewed with pessimism today by city officials, hotelmen and business people.

The War Department's cancellation of leases for thirty-seven hotels here brought only one hopeful statement, that from Paul Arnswalde, owner of the Shelburne, one of the city's oldest and most modern hostelries.

"People are anxious to visit here if they can get proper accommodations," Mr. Arnswalde said, in announcing that his hotel would resume business August 1. "I don't know what the rest of the hotelmen are going to do, but my place will open in first-class condition."

Other hotelmen pointed to rehabilitation projects now necessary, priority restrictions and unavailable personnel. They said they couldn't see how they could ready their places in time for this summer's tourist trade.

City Commissioners William F. Casey, Joseph Altman and William F. Cuthbert agreed the conversion would prove an insurmountable task this season.

Mr. Casey said since the hotels were turned over at the height of last season to the Army and are now turned back at the height of this season "we lose two whole seasons of business in one year."

Mr. Altman said the Army's evacuation would prove a "bad blow to small business of the city, while Mr. Cuthbert declared: "We had hoped the Army would remain until the close of the summer. But this is war and we'll just have to make the best of it and go out and fight for more!

Davis Threatens to Quit OWI Job After House Kills Home Front Fund

JUN 20 1943

Director Says If Senate Approves Deletion Navy Has Next Call on His Services— Sees Whole Office Endangered.

Washington, June 19 (A. P.).—Elmer Davis said today that he will quit his job as director of the Office of War Information if its domestic branch is abolished. The House voted yesterday to abolish the branch.

"If the Senate concurs with the opinion of the House there will be no OWI, and that is that," the director told an informal press conference. He added that it would "also be the end of me as director." He continued:

"This was a combination overseas and domestic job that I was called down to do. If the Senate concurs in the House view that job is ended. It will be the job of somebody else to take care of whatever they choose to do in foreign information."

Mr. Davis replied also to accusations made by Representative Starnes (D.-Ala) who told the House yesterday that this country needed no Paul Joseph Goebbels or Virginio Gayda.

Describes Differences.

"There is quite a difference between me and Goebbels, as Mr. Starnes would discover if he read the order by which President Roosevelt created OWI, or followed our activities," Mr. Davis remarked. "For one thing, Dr. Goebbels doesn't have to go to the Reichstag for his appropriation."

The House vote was 218 to 114 to erase from the war agencies appropriation bill the $5,500,000 item for the OWI's home front operations.

He (Davis) said that Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.) had agreed to let the OWI be heard by the Senate Appropriations Committee in defense of the domestic appropriation before it acts on the OWI consultation.

He said that Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.) had agreed to let the OWI be heard by the Senate Appropriations Committee in defense of the domestic appropriation before it acts on the OWI budget.

Navy Has Next Call.

Mr. Davis told questioners that it would cost a great deal more if every Government agency maintained a full information division, particularly in the field, whereas the OWI's field service handles the information job for all Government offices in each city. Some arrangement also would have to be made, he said, to furnish the overseas branch, or its successor, with domestic news, a job now handled largely by the domestic branch.

Director Davis is a reserve officer in the Navy, and it was indicated he would offer himself to the Navy if the OWI folds up.

"The Navy has next call on me," he said.

The director said he wouldn't attempt to estimate how much politics was contained in the House action and would not attempt to analyze the motives behind the House vote.

"Our $8,800,000 budget was what we thought we would need for next year," he said, "we did not pad that budget."

The request was reduced to $5,500,000 and then eliminated by the House.

The action does not impair the OWI's foreign propaganda program, for which the House approved $28,972,504.

Republicans voted almost solidly for Mr. Starnes's motion to scuttle the domestic bureau. The lineup was 160 Republicans, fifty-five Democrats and three minor party members for the motion, and 108 Democrats, five Republicans and one minor party member against it.

Sees Socialistic Tinge.

Mr. Starnes referred to Mr. Davis as an American Labor party member and said the OWI had a distinct socialistic tinge.

Republicans have charged on the House floor, during the past four months, that the OWI issued fourth term propaganda, which was promptly denied.

Representative Murphy (D.-Pa.) told the House before it voted last night that "the real purpose here is to snipe at the Commander in Chief." Republicans shouted "No!" tand they laughed when he suggested it would do Congressmen an awful lot of good to read some of OWI's pamphlets.

Representative Cannon (D.-Mo.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, said that the action would wipe out all wartime co-ordination of news releases for the radio and the press and eliminate the motion picture program.

The OWI employs approximately 1,500 persons in its domestic bureau and around 3,000 in the overseas branch.

The current appropriation expires June 30.

Better Strategy In Asia Seen

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 19—Strengthening of the war strategy in Asia was expected today to follow the appointment of Britain's new two-man team in India, Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell as viceroy and Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck as commander in chief.

Wavell's appointment and his replacement by Auchinleck as commander of the forces in India was interpreted as a step in a more active war plan worked out by Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt in Washington last month.

Wavell At Parley

Marshal Wavell was present at the Washington conferences. He, therefore, assumes his new post with a full knowledge of what the United Nations intend to do in Asia. It is assumed here that Churchill informed the President of the impending change at that time.

But it was also assumed here that the British would count more on General Auchinleck for the military leadership in the Indian area, coordinating the staff and field work with the strategy making, which has been said to be Wavell's forte.

Aid To Burma Drive Seen

With Lieut. Gen. Joseph C. Stilwell, commander of United States forces in the Asiatic Theater, cooperating, it appeared that India might become an outstanding base for air attacks on Japanese-occupied territory and an eventual offensive to regain Burma.

The monsoon rains, which last until October, preclude the invasion of Burma, however, until next fall.

Expulsion of the Japanese from Burma also would relieve India of some of her food problem. Burma formerly sent about 9,000,000,000 pounds of rice a year to India, supplying more than eight per cent. of that subcontinent's food supply. The loss of that source of rice has been felt severely among the Indians.

JAPAN SAID TO SEIZE SHIPS

Moscow Reported Incensed by Loss of U. S. Supplies

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Constantine Brown, writing in The Washington Evening Star, said today the Japanese Navy's North Pacific patrol had captured a number of merchant ships flying the Soviet flag on the route between the United States and Siberian ports.

As a result, he wrote, relations between Tokyo and Moscow have become more strained.

There was no comment on the report in government quarters. Some observers said, however, that the seizure of the ships was possible, since they understood the German Government had been pressing Japan to halt the flow of lend-lease supplies to Russia over the North Pacific lanes.

JUN 20 1943

Powerful Amphibious Force Organized by Army, Navy

American Unit Formed t Spearhead Invasion of Enemy Lands.

WASHINGTON, June 19—(AP) Organization of a powerful Army-Navy amphibious force which probably would spearhead American troops in any major invasion of Hitler's Europe was announced today by the Navy department.

A statement which described the formation and training of the outfit that now numbers untold thousands of soldiers and bluejackets declared it was "ready to carry out with speed, precision and perfect co-ordination the most difficult of military assignments—a landing on a fortified hostile shore."

Some Units in Action

Some units of the force already have been in service in the Pacific. The operation against Attu island was initiated by those units under the direct, personal supervision of Rear Admiral Francis W. Rockwell, commander amphibious force, Pacific fleet. Admiral Rockwell's counterpart in the Atlantic is Rear Admiral Alan G. Kirk.

The Navy said that one of the objectives of the training programs directed by Admiral Kirk and Admiral Rockwell was to eliminate differences in Army and Navy practices and terminology so completely "that there will be no misunderstanding in an actual operation."

There was no mention in the official statement of the part which the Marines will play in amphibious operations in connection with the special Army-Navy force. Amphibian operations are the essence of Marine training. Absence of the leathernecks from the special corps gave rise to speculation that the new force probably was designed for operations in which the Army would be heavily engaged after the landings were made.

The Army, therefore, would be able to carry through from start to finish. The bluejacket part of the amphibious force probably would be primarily concerned with handling boats and setting up beach defenses and facilities.

Thousands Trained

"Under the training courses of the amphibious forces," the Navy said, "thousands of naval officers and men have learned to take the newly-designed landing boats, ships and amphibious craft through heavy surf safely to selected beaches; and thousands of toughened Army troops have learned to swarm ashore from the landing craft and race for the beach to establish the spearhead of an Allied invasion.

"On the Atlantic coast, for instance, working together in the closest co-operation, especially-selected Army and Navy units are going through an arduous training program, acquiring the high skill needed for joint land, sea and air operations, studying the lessons of the British Commando raids and of our own landings in the Solomons, North Africa and the Aleutians."

Four-Part Program

Training for amphibious warfare falls into four parts: The indoctrination of commanding officers in the strategy, tactics and techniques of joint operations; training of the many specialists needed to carry out a landing operation; basic training in the use of the highly-specialized amphibious equipment; and advanced training—joint exercises of all the units in the force in landing operations under simulated battle conditions.

Naval officers who are assigned to the "amphibs" are selected from the fleet and from the midshipmen's school on the basis of outstanding records in service or in the classroom, and for excellent physical conditions. Enlisted men are picked from "boot camps" and specialists' schools by the same method.

The Army selects units already trained in the infantry or the armored forces, and assigns them to the amphibious force. The enlisted men are given a tough conditioning course and then receive basic amphibious training.

Army officers go to another base, where, with Navy officers, they learn amphibious operations, study strategy and tactics, and the methods of liaison between the many organizations involved.

In another school, the Army transport quartermasters study loading of the cargo vessels and transports.

With basic training completed, the force goes into advanced training as a unit. A convoy sails for a practice landing beach where landings are made under simulated battle conditions.

Forecasts New Drive.

Washington, June 19 (A. P.).—Secretary of the Navy Knox went out of his way to dispel today any ideas the public may have that the U-boat is licked simply because Atlantic sinkings have fallen off sharply. In fact, he virtually forecast a new Axis submarine offensive in the Atlantic.

Progress in the Allied anti-submarine campaign at present is "very satisfactory," he told a press conference yesterday, but he hastened to add that "realistically we know they are going to do something."

"I would say," he declared, "that the lull in fighting out there now must indicate some change in the plans of the Germans."

Far North Oil Field Will Supply Alaska

WASHINGTON, June 19—(AP) An oil field less than 100 miles below the Arctic circle in northwest territory will help supply gasoline and fuel oil needs of the Army and Navy in Alaska and Canada.

The War department disclosed this today, breaking a silence which has surrounded work on the field since its inception a year ago.

A single well had been pumping oil at Norman Wells more than 20 years before development of the field as a military project was started by U. S. engineers under an agreement with the Canadian government, which retains ownership of the "Canol project."

The department said a pipeline will move the oil from the Norman Wells field near Fort Norman some 600 miles westward to a refinery at Whitehorse on the Alaska highway. There it will be converted into gasoline of high octane content for airplanes operating out of Alaskan bases and into fuel oil for naval craft in the Alaskan area.

JUN 20 1943

JUN 20 1943

1943

30.24-5183

30.24-5183

NAVY ANNOUNCES FIFTY CASUALTIES

Washington, June 19 (A. P.).—The Navy announced today fifty casualties, including two dead and forty-eight missing.

This brings to 22,110 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,448, 4,725 wounded and 10,937 missing.

The casualties announced today (those listed are Navy and non-commissioned personnel unless otherwise specified):

NEW YORK.

CACCIATO, DIEGO JR., missing; father, Diego Cacciato Sr., 65 East Fourth street.

EASTMAN, ALTON GEORGE HARLEN, missing; mother, Mrs. Laura Corrie Eastman, Cuba.

LUCAS, JOSEPH BENJAMIN JR., missing; father, Joseph B. Lucas Sr., 213 Maiden Lane, Port Jefferson.

PALCICH, STANLEY HENRY, ensign, missing; wife, Mrs. Bonnie Mae Fletcher Palcich, 38 West 71st street.

RANGER, JAMES ALBERT, missing; father, Albert Charles Ranger, 202 West Margulies street, Syracuse.

SMOROL, PAUL PETER, missing; mother, Mrs. Barbara Smorol, 119 Nelson street, Syracuse.

SAYS FIRST LADY WONT MAKE TOUR

Hyde Park, June 19 (A. P.).—Miss Malvina Thompson, secretary to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, denied today reports that the President's wife is planning to tour South America this summer.

At the Roosevelt estate, where she said the First Lady is making a "periodic visit" of a few days, Miss Thompson asserted, in answer to a query, that Mrs. Roosevelt is not going to South America. Mrs. Roosevelt could not be reached personally for comment.

The tour was reported from Washington yesterday, with the Office of the Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs said to be working on plans for Mrs. Roosevelt's appearance in Latin America.

2 SURVIVORS TELL OF CUTTER'S LOSS

Skipper with Them Disappears Before Rescuers Arrive.

JUN 20 1943

BOSTON, June 19 — (AP) Two mid-western sailors—sole survivors of the sinking of the Coast Guard cutter Escanaba—tonight told graphic stories of their rescue after a violent explosion sent the ship down in the north Atlantic with a loss of 58 lives.

The first accounts from anyone in the cutter's crew since the sinking were given in an interview after they had been landed at an east coast port.

Boatswain's Mate Second Class Melvin A. Baldwin, 21, of Staples, Minn., was at the Escanaba's wheel and was "blown upward and hit the overhead of the wheelhouse."

"I staggered out the door and was washed overboard," he said. "I don't know how long it took."

Seaman First Class Raymond F. O'Malley, Jr., 23, of Chicago, was below.

"I reached the main deck and started for Number One gun and the ship went down from under me," he said.

Both clung to a strongback, a 38 foot log used to keep lifeboats from bumping against the ship's side.

They saw their skipper, Lieutenant Commander Carl U. Peterson of Newton, Mass., near them in the water and later he joined them on the log.

Baldwin and O'Malley lost consciousness as they clung to the strongback and were revived after they were taken onto the deck of the Coast Guard vessel Raritan.

They never knew what happened to the commander or to Ensign Daniel C. Davis and Seaman First Class George W. Gmeiner, who were clinging to the same strongback.

U. S. Urged to Pile Up Arms for 'The Next War'

Hotchkiss Tells Rensselaer Polytechnic Alumni of Plan

TROY, N. Y., June 19 (AP).—Americans should prepare immediately after this war to defend themselves in "the next war," William O. Hotchkiss, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, declared today.

"The only security for our country is that it be so strong and well prepared that it will be a long time before any other nation or combination of nations will be able to acquire the strength to attack us," he said in an address at the annual meeting of the R. P. I. Alumni Association.

Mr. Hotchkiss urged that the United States start immediately after the present war to accumulate adequate stock-piles of essential, non-deteriorating war materials. He suggested that these be accumulated in "periods of slack industrial demand and correspondingly low prices."

Such a plan, he conceded, "would give the government body in charge a powerful leverage, which, in the hands of men of unwise motives, coud be used for harmful purposes, or for favoritism. But the need is so urgent that the weight of argument seems overwhelmingly on the side of laying in the supplies."

Mr. Hotchkiss urged the alumni to help convince Americans of what he termed the "necessity of making ready to defend ourselves in the next war and of not being fooled again."

JUN 20 1943

Easy Life for Enemy Prisoners Fails to End All Their Complaints

By WILLARD YARBROUGH

CROSSVILLE, Tenn., June 19—(AP) Life inside the Crossville internment camp is an easy one for more than a thousand German and Italian prisoners of war.

High atop this potato-growing Cumberland plateau, Axis officers and enlisted men are confined to an extended stockade system which in itself provides the major bone of contention.

The Germans, who complained at home about the absence of lebensraum, want larger living space. The officers want enlarged quarters and recreational grounds and their underlings would like some woods to walk in.

Italians Happy

The Italians, who figure they won't be here very much longer anyway, don't seem to care particularly. They grin and talk and sing. Sometimes they play soccer or volleyball.

At the stockade post exchange prisoners may obtain virtually the same clothing, cigarettes, soft drinks, candies, do-dads and 3.2 beer as the 400 American guards on duty may purchase at their canteen.

The Italians buy all the 3.2 beer possible, but go in for hair oils and tonics in an eccentric sort of way. The Germans, who don't mix with their Italian comrades, buy sports clothing, 3.2 beer and cigarettes. The Italians think the American cigarette is too strong, prefer ersatz variety from back home. The Germans, or at least the officers, smoke German brands brought over by the Red Cross.

The food is the same for the Axis as the Americans. And it's good food, balanced, and containing meat menus that would make the American housewife's mouth water.

Italian Generals Held

The Italian generals—there are two dozen here—are more particular about their dress than the German officers. One Italian captain was attired in khaki coat and knee-length blue trousers, the same he wore on the North African desert. The Germans go about in most anything, sports wear, a towel draped about their loins, a pair of shorts.

The ranking German officer, a lieutenant-colonel, who came to the United States after his tank command days ended in Africa, was stretched out on his cot in the hot barracks. His feet were bandaged, suffering from athlete's foot contacted because he didn't have time to change his shoes once during his four weeks' retreat in Tunisia.

The colonel is reported to have complained to the camp commander, "we need a swimming pool here."

"American and British prisoners in Germany and Italy receive ideal treatment. They live in hotels and have swimming pools. British officers have an entire village near Berlin and live like kings.

"We want more living space and living quarters. The treatment by American officers here is perfect, but we don't have room to stretch out in."

Gets $40 Monthly

The colonel draws $40 a month from the U. S. government, paid in post exchange tickets—no cash. His executive officer, a Nazi captain, receives $30, as do others of his rank and majors. Lieutenants get $20.

German and Italian enlisted men receive $3 monthly and may work on camp roads and projects at 80 cents per day. A good many German enlisted men are growing vegetables in the camp's garden. But they'll consume most of the food on their own tables.

The officers don't turn their hands in the way of work and complain about the scarcity of valets—who somehow prefer to work at 80 cents a day rather than salute their confined superiors and take orders for nothing.

The Germans play soccer-football; dislike the American gridiron sport. They want to engage the Italians in a soccer game and the command officer, Col. F. T. Addington of the U. S. Army, said arrangements were being made to accommodate them.

Hitler's ex-supermen prefer the rugged type of sport. They bat a large oval ball, about the size of the American basketball, with their wrists in volley-ball games—and nurce sore arms for a week as a result. They practice on discus tossing, play solitaire, and study.

Germans More Serious

Considerably more serious and reserved than the Italians, the Germans are learning to master the English language.

Magazines and newspapers go like hot cakes at the P.X., but both Nazis and Fascists apparently don't like anything they read in them, and one prisoner is reported to have said, "The Americans print too much propaganda," adding that Goebbels was the best propagandist in the world today.

The Italians sing opera in open fields. The younger men of Il Duce laugh and jabber like a group of schoolboys. The officers stand about with scowls written on their faces.

The prisoners, who complain to the camp commander when things aren't just what they think they should be, will be treated to shows henceforth, their first movie being shown this week.

Col. Addington, who gripes because he said he trained a combat unit not long ago and got left behind when it went overseas, prescribes disciplinary action when necessary. This colonel's as tough as a General Sherman tank.

Action includes taking away post exchange rights for days and this is a blow to any prisoner, since each lives from day to day for his visit to the canteen to purchase American-made goods.

They write two letters and a postcard a week, complain because they don't receive any more mail. Some think America is a great and beautiful country; others can't wait to get back to German and Italy to reenter their armies.

The prisoners talk about the war. Those here longest are thought to believe it is a lost cause. Those just arrived think the Axis will win, but admit it will be a long war.

TEXANS LAUNCH SECOND HOUSTON

JUN 20 1943

New Cruiser Replaces Warship Lost in Java Sea Battle.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 19—(AP) Texans leaned over the platform rail and watched the cruiser Houston as she took to water today at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company plant. Above her bow, beautifully blistery with foamy champagne, billowed red, white and blue banners against a cloudless sky. The Navy band was playing "Anchors Aweigh."

"There she goes," someone said in a typical Texas drawl. He added: "God bless her."

The cruiser Houston not only received her name today as a naval ship which soon will be commissioned for fighting duty. The Houston received a faith to keep with the cruiser Houston which died in battle with the Japanese in the Java sea, with the men who died heroes serving her guns, and with the people of Texas who put up more than $12,000,000 to provide her. One thousand volunteers joined the Navy in a body at Houston to replace the crew of the lost ship.

Texans high in government circles came down from Washington to join the visiting Texas delegation, headed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

Tall, white-haired Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones, for all his years in Washington considered by Houstonians as their own, told the group on the launching platform that the first cruiser Houston made a good will trip to Japan.

"Houston No. Two will also make a good will tour—for the world. She will go to Japan and the Japs will remember her," Secretary Jones said.

He stood on the platform with Senator Tom Connally and Rep. Albert Thomas, both of Houston. Mrs. Claude B. Hammill, wife of an oil operator, who served as chairman of the Houston cruiser drive, was the sponsor who swung the bottle of champagne against the bow to start the vessel down the ways into the James river.

Namesake Welcomes Memphis Belle Home

Girl Greets Flying Fortress Back From Europe Raids

MEMPHIS, June 19 (AP).—A slim, hazel-eyed Memphis belle welcomed today her Flying Fortress namesake back from twenty-five bombing raids over Hitler's Europe — and received from her fiance-pilot a kiss.

"Hey, darling, gee," said Captain Robert K. Morgan to Margaret Polk, the girl he left behind nine months ago to fly twenty-five raids in the four-engined bomber that knocked eighty enemy fighters out of the sky, probably destroyed five more and damaged at least eight others.

Army and city dignitaries stood in the background as Captain Morgan grasped his sweetheart in a firm embrace and smothered her with one kiss after another. She blushed prettily under a healthy tan and smiled full approval.

Captain Morgan, of Asheville, N. C., led his crew to a hangar where Mayor Walter Chandler and other high officials welcomed them.

"She is an awfully good ship," Captain Morgan said of the plane which, the Army said, "has been hit by every type of anti-aircraft missile the Nazi had to offer" and yet came home with her ten-men crew intact.

It is the first combat bomber to be retired from active service and flown back to the United

1943

Dies Hears Japs Got Dam Data

JUN 20 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Parker, Ariz., June 19—Testimony that Japanese engineers, shortly before Pearl Harbor, were given technical data on the $200,000,000 Colorado river aqueduct that furnishes water to Southern California, has been given to a Dies Subcommittee.

Ralph F. Stringfellow, specia agent for the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California who gave the testimony, also told the subcommittee that 350 pounds of dynamite and 100 caps, enough, he said, to blow up Parker dam at the aqueduct source, were stolen from the vicinity of the dam.

Visited Regularly

The special agent told the probers, who conducted a hearing yesterday during investigation of the nearby Poston (Ariz.) relocation center, where some 15,000 Japanese are located, that parties of Japanese engineers visited various parts of the aqueduct system regularly every few months up to shortly before Pearl Harbor and were given technical information.

He was asked if the 350 pounds of dynamite that was stolen was sufficient to destroy the dam.

"With proper placing of 350 pounds of dynamite I can blow Parker dam up. I could set it up and set if off with one cap."

Also Have Maps

Stringfellow testified that the Japanese have maps showing every part of the dam and aqueduct. "I saw the maps they had," he declared. "They were given maps and made maps of it all."

He added that shortly before Pearl Harbor Japanese were caught in a boat on Lake Havasu, at the intake of Parker Dam, measuring the depth of the water, speed of the current and width of the river.

He testified that six months before Pearl Harbor he apprehended a Japanese in a truck near the dam with seven cameras. He said the Japanese exposed all his film.

Lays Wreck To Japs

Stringfellow stated he believed the wreck of a train at Earp, Ariz., a year ago, which was carrying flyers from Phoenix, "was sabotage and came out of the Jap camp."

Acting Counsel James H. Stedman for the committee read some documents of the War Relocation Administration which, he declared, showed the intent of the WRA to relocate Japanese without publicity.

"Improper Subject"

One of the documents, dated October 23, 1942, stated: "Negotiations for individual employment of evacuees is not a proper subject of press releases or of public announcement and requests should be referred in all cases to the prospective employer for reply."

Stedman read another document, dated October 1 last, which stated: "It is the policy of WRA to reestablish as many of the evacuees as possible outside of relocation centers. Obviously, we shall have to proceed slowly and without fanfare or publicity for many months to come."

SURVIVORS FIGHT SHARKS FOR FOOD DROPPED BY PLANE

Two Ships Torpedoed by Jap Submarines in South Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—(AP) Survivors of a United States merchant vessel, one of two vessels torpedoed somewhere in the south Pacific by a Japanese submarine, today related how they had to fight sharks which attacked boxes of food dropped by rescuing planes.

Two men were killed and four were injured when the ship was attacked about 3:30 a. m.

George Pirie, 28, Oakland, Calif., a radio operator on one ship stuck to his key until the water floated him off the vessel.

Sighted by Planes

He said that rescue planes soon spotted the survivors in their three lifeboats and two liferafts.

"The planes dropped us boxes of food," he related. "But we had to bat the sharks over the heads with oars to keep them from chewing into the boxes."

Other crew members told how the first torpedo had dislodged the radio antenna, and how Pirie fixed the wires, although all lights were out, and flashed word for aid.

He was nearly up to his knees in water before he could give the ship's position. Then he had to swim for his life.

Survivors Picked Up

Airplanes arrived three hours later and finally an armed vessel reached the survivors nine hours after the torpedoing.

Paul Hetter, 31, San Francisco, second assistant engineer, was credited by the crew with saving many lives by rushing to the engine room and opening the door so the men could escape.

Crew members related how Pirie, after sending the radio message, suddenly remembered a large suitcase he had in his quarters.

In it he kept his seaman's papers and many odds and ends. He wanted the suitcase so he swam about 300 yards, tugging it along in the water.

When rescuers got Pirie aboard, they also dragged along the suitcase. The next day several members of the rescued crew got headaches.

"I'll fix you guys up," Pirie remarked. He opened the suitcase, took out a bottle of aspirin tablets and passed it around. When it finally was returned to him it was empty.

JUN 20 1943

WAVELL, HOWEVER, IS EXPECTED TO CONTINUE THE FIRM BRITISH POLICY WHICH HOLDS THAT THE WAR EFFORT COMES FIRST.

AN AUTHORITATIVE BRITISH COMMENTATOR DESCRIBED WAVELL AS "A LIBERAL IN THE HIGHEST SENSE OF THE WORD" WHO WOULD CONTINUE THE BRITISH INDIAN POLICY WITHOUT CHANGE.

THIS COMMENTATOR SAID "GANDHI CAN BE RELEASED AT ANY TIME IF HE PROMISES TO BEHAVE, AND IT WOULDN'T BE SURPRISING IF WAVELL RELEASED HIM ON THESE TERMS."

WAVELL'S NEW JOB OF RULING 400,000,000 INDIANS IS ONE THAT LORD LINLITHGOW HAS HELD FOR A RECORD SEVEN YEARS, A PERIOD IN WHICH GANDHI CARRIED ON A CEASELESS CAMPAIGN FOR INDIAN INDEPENDENCE.

WAVELL, A TOUGH 60-YEAR-OLD SOLDIER WHO WON THE FIRST ALLIED LAND VICTORY IN THIS WAR, IS RECKONED ONE OF THE FEW MEN WHO HAVE A GOOD CHANCE OF SMOOTHING OUT INDIA'S MANY DOMESTIC PROBLEMS. HE IS CREDITED WITH A THOROUGH KNOWLEDGE OF THAT LAND.

TALL, ERECT AND A FORCEFUL TALKER, HE IS A SOLDIER WHOSE CAREER DATES FROM 1901. HE WAS WOUNDED AND LOST THE SIGHT OF ONE EYE IN FRANCE DURING THE FIRST WORLD WAR.

WAVELL GAINED SUDDEN ACCLAIM AS A MILITARY STRATEGIST WHEN HE LED HIS VASTLY OUTNUMBERED BRITISH AND AUSTRALIAN TROOPS IN A BOLD INVASION OF ITALIAN CIRENAICA IN 1941 WHILE HE WAS MIDDLE EAST COMMANDER. IN 60 DAYS HIS ARMY OF THE NILE ROUTED THE ITALIANS THROUGH 500 MILES OF COUNTRY ALMOST DEVOID OF WATER AND FOOD.

JUN 20 1943

WHEN HE FINALLY CALLED A HALT, ITALY'S NORTH AFRICAN ARMY WAS CRUSHED AND 140,000 OF HER TROOPS WERE PRISONERS.

THE BRITISH FORCES, HOWEVER, WERE DEPLETED FOR THE GREEK CAMPAIGN, IN WHICH GREECE AND CRETE WERE LOST, AND THE AXIS STAGED A COMEBACK

JUN 20 1943

1943

30. 14 - 5419

U-Boat Mutiny By 6 Crews Reported

JUN 27 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Stockholm, June 26—Norwegian quarters said today rumors from several usually reliable sources reported that six German submarine crews recently mutinied in a port of northern Norway and refused to put to sea. All were declared sent to a military prison.

(Disaffection of naval men was one of the major causes of the collapse of German resistance in the first World War.)

This was the first report of mutiny among German naval forces stationed in Norway, but there have been frequent reports in past months of sagging morale among Nazi soldiers, some of whom are said to have been shot.

Officers Reported Involved

The refusal of the submarine crews to resume hazardous U-boat warfare was said to have been a joint decision of officers and men.

The reports said a "considerable number of submarine men and officers have arrived at Akershus Prison in Oslo, now being used as a military prison."

Base Not Identified

The submarine base at which the mutiny occurred was not named in the reports, but the largest German U-boat harbor in Northern Norway is at Trondheim, where Admiral Otto Ciliax, commander of German naval forces in Norway, recently warned that the Allies may invade the country "in a short time."

Norwegian sources, with reliable connections in Norway's efficient underground, added that "recent reports from northern Norway say that a remarkably large number of German warships are always lying in the harbors for repairs for some damage which they sustained only a short time after putting to sea.

Believe Damage Intentional

"The people (Norwegians) cannot help thinking that most of these damages are intentional to enable the sailors to come ashore as soon as possible."

The Germans shifted the bulk of their fleet to the Trondheim area last spring, it is reported, in order to harass Allied convoys moving to Russia. At the same time they moved much of their air force southward to aid in the defense of the continent.

The marine units are the Germans' best in Norway, and an extensive mutiny in their ranks might have widespread effects, Stockholm observers said.

Sir Archibald Sinclair Visits Malta's Airmen

Valletta, Malta, June 25 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, visited Malta yesterday and on behalf of the British Government extended thanks to Malta's air crews for their work in helping maintain the power that drove the Axis out of North Africa.

AMERICANS HONORED

Cairo, June 26 (A. P.).—Major James G. Curl of Columbus, Ohio, the fighter pilot who led the great assault against Axis transports when seventy-five Junkers 52s were shot down off Tunisia, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

"There is no doubt that Major Curl, by his brilliant leadership, was mainly responsible for an air action which was unsurpassed for its success in the destruction of enemy aircraft," the citation said.

The Legion of Merit has been awarded to Major-Gen. Robert W. Crawford, chief of the Services of Supply, Ninth United States Air Force, in recognition of his work in effecting rapid and adequate supply of American equipment for the Eighth Army and the Ninth Air Force.

Smuts Asserts Victory For Allies Is in Sight

He Adds 'Main Struggle' Is Still to Come

CAPETOWN, South Africa, June 26 (AP).—Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, asserted today that "victory, complete and unconditional, is in sight for us, but the main struggle still is to come this year and perhaps to be continued next year." He declared he was giving "the real truth on the war situation."

"The enemy has passed his zenith, but the Nazi and Fascist leaders are desperate men and will drive their people to fight with despair and courage before the final knockout is placed," he said.

"They'll fight for a stalemate and a compromise peace to get a breathing space for renewing the struggle for domination later," he

JAPANESE IN CHINA UNABLE TO ATTACK, SAYS GEN. CHEN

JUN 27 1943

Enemy Must Call in Fresh Troops for New Offensive.

ENSHIH, ON THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT, CHINA, June 26—(AP) Japanese forces in China proper are not strong enough to begin another offensive unless they draw reinforcements from Burma, the southwest Pacific, or the northern provinces, Gen. Chen Cheng, who turned back the recent Japanese thrust toward Chungking, declared today.

Whether the Japanese will weaken other fronts to renew the assault in China "remains to be seen," he said in an interview.

Up to now, Gen. Chen explained, the enemy has been able to pull together enough troops from various fronts within China itself to launch an offensive, but now the number that can be taken from garrison duty in occupied areas is limited.

One of Best Generals

Gen. Chen, 47 and one of China's best generals, was recalled from Yunnan province to halt the Japanese advance up the Yangtze in a threat to the Chinese capital. He is commander in chief of Chinese expeditionary forces facing Burma from both Yunnan and India.

Asserting that the Chinese "have fought nearly six years on morale," Gen. Chen declared that a "bigger air force and more heavy guns" are needed to push the Japanese out of China completely. He said one per cent of the United States' estimated airplane production of 84,000 planes a year "would be enough," but doubted China would get that number.

Japs Avoided Trap

He said the Chinese "didn't fulfill expectations completely" in the Yangtze defeat of the Japanese, whose casualties were placed officially at 40,000 troops. The strategy, he explained, was to draw the enemy farther into the mountains where they could more easily be trapped, but the Japanese retreated before they met the full strength of the Chinese armies.

With their present arms and equipment, he added, the Chinese are unable to recapture Ichang, Japanese-held stronghold on the Yangtze at the lower end of the river gorges. Ichang is a key to any Chinese advance on Hankow from the west, and a base for Japanese attacks in the Chungking direction.

China, Gen. Chen said, is fighting a hard enemy and poverty at the same time, but "we will never surrender and we firmly believe that the final victory is with us."

[By the Associated Press]

Enshih, on the Upper Yangtze Front, China, June 26—Gen Chen. Cheng, the hero of the defense of the gateway to Chungking declared today that the Japanese, bloodily defeated in the battle of the upper Yangtze, were in no position to renew their attack unless they moved in reinforcements.

One of China's top generals, Chen was hastily recalled from Yunnan province by Generalissmo Chiang Kai-shek to turn back the recent enemy threat to the Chinese capital.

"The Japanese at present do not have enough troops in China to begin another offensive," the General said. "They would have to draw reinforcements from Burma, the Southwest Pacific or the northern provinces. Whether they will do this remains to be seen."

Chen explained that heretofore the Japanese had been able to concentrate troops from various fronts in China when planning large-scale attacks.

[Associated Press]

Questioned On Siberia

Asked his opinion of the possibility of a Japanese attack against the Russians in Siberia, Chen replied:

"It is hard to say. The Japanese are reckless, as was evidenced in their Pearl Harbor attack."

He said he had not been advised of any Allied plans for retaking Burma from the Japanese and again opening up the Burma Road supply route to Chungking.

Airplanes, Guns

"What is needed to drive the Japanese from China for all time?" The general was asked.

"We have fought nearly six years on morale," he replied. "From this campaign it is evident we need a bigger air force and more heavy guns.

BURMA WIDELY RAIDED

New Delhi, June 26 (A. P.).—American bombers flew through a break in the monsoon yesterday to attack Japanese targets in south and central Burma, a communique disclosed today.

Liberators were dispatched to the south, centering their fire on barracks and a train at Thanbyuzaya.

Medium bombers raided Mandalay again, destroying river shipping facilities. Railway facilities were bombed at Ywataung.

ALLIES HIT RABAUL AS JAPANESE MASS

20 Tons of Bombs Strike at New Britain Concentration of Shipping and 170 Planes

AIRCRAFT CARRIER AT BASE

JUN 27 1943

In New Guinea, Mitchells Give Lae a Heavy Beating, Causing Smoke to Cover Target

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Sunday, June 27 (AP)—Twenty tons of bombs were dropped yesterday by Allied raiders on Rabaul, New Britain, where concentrations of Japanese shipping and aircraft had been reported by reconnaissance fliers, the High Command announced.

The bombs were directed at the airdromes and docks. The reconnaissance fliers had reported spotting 170 bombers and fighters on the airdromes and that the shipping in the big harbor included an aircraft carrier.

The bomb tonnage brought to 196 the amount dropped in seven raids on Rabaul dating back to June 10.

On New Guinea, Mitchell medium bombers gave Lae on the Huon Gulf one of the heaviest poundings ever directed at that enemy base.

"Our medium units in concentrated attack upon the airdrome at midday bombed and strafed revetments, hangars, barracks, buildings and ground defenses," the noon communiqué said of the raid.

"Dense clouds of smoke over the target area prevented assessment of damage. Intense anti-aircraft fire was encountered. All our planes returned."

At Rabaul, the bombers attacked Vunakanau airdrome and installations in the harbor before dawn. Both incendiaries and high explosives rained down. Two of the big bombers were reported missing.

Northwest of Australia, medium bombers made a night raid on the airdromes at Penfui and Dili on Timor, starting fires.

On New Guinea above Lae, a four-engined Allied bomber attacked the building area of Finschhafen.

More Jap Planes Arrive.

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 26 (A. P.).—More and more Japanese planes are appearing on the airfields ringing Rabaul, New Britain, and there is considerable shipping, including a converted aircraft carrier, in its huge, horseshoe-shaped harbor, Allied reconnaissance flyers report.

Rabaul lies roughly 700 miles northwest of the Allied base on Guadalcanal in the Solomons and about 500 miles northeast of the ground front below Salamaua, New Guinea. In six raids recently, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombers have dropped 176 tons of bombs on Rabaul's airdromes of Lakunai, Rapopo and Vunakanau. Some of the resultant fires were reported to be burning planes.

Today it was disclosed at headquarters that Allied flyers on reconnaissance over Rabaul had counted 170 enemy bombers and fighters on its fields, a slight increase over previous reported totals.

Today's noon communique of Allied air activity was limited. Off Cape St. George, New Ireland, a single Beaufort bomber sighted three small enemy cargo ships escorted by a destroyer and scored a near miss, which sometimes is damaging, with its bombs.

In the vicinity of Madang, New Guinea, Mitchell medium bombers strafed Japanese-occupied villages.

JUN 27 1943

Husband Back From War Learns Wife Is Prisoner

Ship She Sailed On to Meet Him Is Victim of Japanese

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 26 (AP).—For months Mrs. Gabrielle Lyon waited in Australia with her baby for some word of her husband, Captain Ian Lyon, of the British Army, who had escaped from Malaya through Burma, finally reaching India. At last a cable came from him. It said: "Safe, well."

Within four days, Mrs. Lyon was aboard the steamship Nanking en route to India to join her husband, having resisted entreaties of friends, who urged her to wait in view of the danger on the seas. Some weeks later Captain Lyon arrived at the same hotel in Perth, Western Australia, at which his wife stayed before sailing on the Nanking.

He learned the Nanking had fallen victim to the Japanese and the survivors, presumably, had been interned.

Flyers Like the 'Third Strike'

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, June 18 (delayed) (AP).—The second most popular reading matter (mail from home still comes first) with the men in an American Air Force bombardment group on the north side of New Guinea is the only group newspaper on the island, "Third Strike."

U-BOAT ATTACKED

Rio de Janeiro June 26 (A. P.).—A Brazilian Air Force plane was reliably reported today to have attacked an Axis U-boat in the Atlantic sixty-five miles northeast of Rio de Janeiro.

The Brazilian Air Force already had scored eight sure successes against U-boats off the South American coasts in the present war.

The pilot in the present case reported a direct hit on the submarine and believed he sank it, but he lacked definite confirmation.

The search for the submarine followed an unsuccessful attack on a United Nations ship last Thursday when the ship messaged for aid and a number of planes flew to the scene. The Brazilian's attack was made in the same neighborhood.

JUN 27 1943

1943

Mexican Students Resent Zoot Riots

Mexico City, June 26 (A. P.).—Hundreds of university students paraded through downtown streets yesterday shouting protests against alleged anti-Mexican discrimination in zoot suit incidents at Los Angeles.

The students dispersed quietly after Rodulfo Brito Foucher, rector of the University of Mexico, climbed atop an automobile and talked to them.

Bomber Explodes, Killing 4

WINDSOR, N. S., June 26 (AP).—Four British imperial flyers died today when their Hudson bomber exploded while in flight over Summerville, nine miles from Windsor. The plane was on a routine flight from an eastern base.

Goebbels's Wife Abroad

Air Raids Reported Delaying Her Return to Berlin

The wife of Nazi Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels is living "abroad" with her children and has decided to delay her return to Berlin because of the danger of air raids, the Moscow Radio declared Saturday, according to The Associated Press. The broadcast was recorded by the American Government's Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service.

Frau Goebbels, the Moscow broadcast said, quoting "authentic sources" at Bern, Switzerland, plans to pass the summer "and possibly the winter as well" in Spain, where Goebbels was said to have purchased a castle near Seville.

Allied Blow in Balkans Seen

British Eighth Army Reported Poised in Syria for Offensive.

JUN 27 1943

By Associated Press.

Axis invasion anxiety, while still centered chiefly on Italy and her island outposts, turned again to the Balkans today following Thursday's raid by American bombers on an airbase near Salonika, Greece, and German radio reports that the British Eighth Army is poised in Syria for action.

"There are signs that an Allied attack on the Balkans is imminent," said the German-controlled Vichy radio last night in a broadcast recorded by Reuters.

From within the Balkans themselves came reports of new defense measures. A Swiss telegraphic agency dispatch from Sofia said that Bulgarian police had arrested a number of persons and barricades were erected after suspicious persons were seen near the waterworks.

Discovery of a Bulgarian espionage agency and the arrest of five of its members was reported in dispatches from Budapest.

Gen. Count Waldemar Stillfried, military commentator for Transocean, German propaganda news service, said that he considered reports of the annihilation of 10,000 Serbian partisans in Montenegro as of considerable importance because the action removed a threat to Axis communications in case of an Allied Balkan invasion.

Raid to Knock Out Bases.

Even London observers entered the Balkan guessing game by pointing out that the most likely reason for air raids on Greece would be to knock out bases from which German planes might operate against an Allied invasion of the island stepping stones to Greece.

A mop-up of Crete and the Dodecanese Islands in the Eastern Mediterranean might be undertaken at virtually the same time as an invasion of Sicily and Sardinia to deploy Axis strength and win full and final control of the Mediterranean, the observers held.

Some London speculation, based on a study of the aerial onslaught and the stabilized Russian front, was that Mediterranean island outposts are on the 1943 Allied invasion program with an invasion leading to Berlin from the west unlikely until later.

Expect Blow in Norway.

German guesses on the invasion, meanwhile, ranged all the way to Norway, where a German admiral was reported to have told Nazi marines in a speech at Trondheim that the Allies would invade Norway "within a short time."

The Trondheim reports, which were received by Norwegians in Stockholm, did not identify the admiral but he was presumed to be Otto Ciliax, commander in chi - of German naval forces in Norway.

The one place on which both German and Italian speculation coincided, however, was Italy herself, where unoffiical London reports said the Nazis were massing about ten divisions—150,000 troops—to guard the Brenner Pass in case of an Italian collapse.

The newspaper Popolo di Roma was quoted in a Rome broadcast as saying editorially: "Today the Italian front is the most important and the most logical of the war between Europe and anti-Europe."

The Russian midday communique said today that about 1,000 Italian troops had been killed or wounded in recent fierce battles with Greek guerrillas in southern Macedonia. Rifles and supplies were captured by the Greek patriots, said the communique as brodcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor at London.

PLEDGES MADE TO PRESIDENT OF AID IN WAR

Murray Calls Legislators' Overriding President a 'Sneak Attack.'

GREEN ALSO IS INCENSED

A Republican Senator Holds That Upset Spells Doom for the Fourth Term.

Washington, June 26 (A. P.).—Presidents of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations renewed the no-strike pledges of their organizations today in letters to President Roosevelt criticizing congressional action in overriding the President's veto of the Connally-Smith anti-strike law.

William Green of the A. F. of L. assured the President that his group will do everything in its power to make the application of the law unnecessary.

Philip Murray, of the C. I. O., wrote that he was calling the international executive board of the C. I. O. into extraordinary session on Wednesday, July 7, to give 'mature and orderly consideration to the many perplexing problems which as you doubtless know labor will be confronted with as a result of the action of the Congress yesterday.

Will Stick to WLB.

Meanwhile the labor members of the War Labor Board said that individually there was no inclination to quit the agency as had been indicated they might do a week before the President vetoed the anti-strike bill.

One C. I. O. member of the board said: "We'll stick with the board." He referred to Mr. Murray's statement calling for continued support of the President despite the congressional action.

Mr. Green said in a letter delivered to the White House by an aid:

"I wish to express my sincere appreciation for your courage and statesmanship in vetoing the Connally-Smith bill.

"Labor and all its friends are inexpressibly shocked by the hasty and impetuous action of Congress in overriding your veto. By their procedure the members of Congress demonstrated they were moved by anger and resentment rather than by careful consideration of the facts.

"Unquestionably, as you pointed out in your veto messa preventing of strikes in vi industries will be rendere difficult instead of more effect by the enactment of this ill-considered law.

Committed to Non-Strike.

"Let me assure you, however, that the officers and members of the American Federation of Labor will do everything in their power to make application of this law unnecessary and to further the successful prosecution of the war.

"The American Federation of Labor and all of its affiliated unions stand committed to our no-strike pledge for the duration of the war. I am confident that they will live up to this pledge in the future just as they have in the past. In this way, the workers of America can render the Connally-Smith act inoperative and pave the way for its early repeal. In this way, the workers of America can best service their country and the cause of freedom and democracy."

Murray's Letter.

Mr. Murray praised the President's "statesmanlike attitude in placing your veto upon this vicious anti-labor measure."

"We know that your prime interest, like ours, is to win this war against barbarism and slavery and that in order to expedite the winning of the war it becomes necessary for all of labor to lend to you, our nation's leader, every possible degree of support," Mr. Murray wrote. "I am quite sure that every loyal worker, whether a member of organized labor or not, subscribes to this belief.

"You correctly stated the danger of strikes and stoppages as a result of the enactment of the thirty-day provision contained in Section 8. Because this is true it shall be our purpose to do everything possible to avert the obvious dangers arising out of it.

"In the meantime, let me again assure you of our wholesome desire to lend every possible degree of support to you and our country in this, one of the most trying periods of our nation's history."

In issuing his call to the executive board, a copy of which was dispatched to the President, Mr. Murray said:

"The past month has brought a number of important developments carrying grave threats to the firmness and strength of our home front in these critical times.

...rges 'Sneak Attack.'

...ongress the President's ...trol program has been ...d and representatives of ... interests have run rampant in onslaughts against the subsidy programs and the price rollback program.

"Yesterday, in a treacherous sneak attack upon the administration, Congress within minutes of the presidential veto rushed through a vote making the Smith-Connally bill law in the face of the President's warning that the bill would harm rather than help production.

"These developments are already taking their toll in terms of national confusion and discontent and in terms of the general morale of the people."

Sees Fourth Term's Doom.

The whirlwind enactment of the anti-strike bill over President Roosevelt's veto caused one Republican to assert that there would be no fourth term.

Elated at the result of Senate and House votes overriding the veto, Senator Wherry (R.-Neb.) told reporters:

"This is the first concrete evidence that there will be no fourth term."

Senator Butler (R.-Neb.) thought that the speed with which Congress overrode the veto ought to cool any ardor Mr. Roosevelt might have for a fourth term.

"You would think that now Mr. Roosevelt would be perfectly willing to let somebody else have the job," Senator Butler said. "I look upon the vote as an indication that Congress has reclaimed some of its powers and intends to reclaim more."

The President's veto of the measure also provoked sharp criticism from members of his own party, with Senator Byrd (D., Va.) asserting that the action was laden with politics.

"The veto was not the act of Franklin Roosevelt, Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy in time of a desperate war," Senator Byrd declared. "It was the act of Franklin Roosevelt, candidatee for re-election to a fourth term as President of the United States."

On the other hand, Senator Pepper (D., Fla.), who voted to override the veto in the Senate, said he thought Congress's action expressed only a bi-partisan determination to prevent further strikes in war industries such as the coal walkouts.

"This is a national issue and not a political issue," Senator Pepper declared. "Congress is determined to prevent strikes and if this bill doesn't do it, it will enact further and more drastic measures."

Senator Pepper said that while the President's veto obviously was pleasing to leaders of organized labor who demanded that such a course be taken, he felt that it ought not to be necessary for the President to demonstrate that he is labor's best friend.

Senator Pepper said that pressure from members of the armed forces and their relatives had a hand in congressional determination to take action on the strike question.

Senator Van Nuys (D.-Ind.), chairman of the conference committee which whipped the anti-strike bill into final form, expressed the opinion that the passage over the Presidential veto "demonstrated a reassertion of the independence of the legislative department of the Government."

"In my opinion," Senator Van Nuys said, "the members of Congress felt that injustice to the armed forces and the overwhelming majority of the American people called for passage of the legislation."

See Wildcat Walkouts.

Top labor leaders, who had condemned the measure, withheld comment temporarily, but the general tenor of opinion in labor circles was that the act is unrealistic and cannot cope with spontaneous, "wildcat" walkouts. The impulse was to have every union, immediately upon opening negotiations with an employer, give notice to the Government of a threat to war production and thereby obtain a strike vote in thirty days. The NLRB, charged with conducting such elections, probably would not be able to provide machinery to cope with a widespread campaign of that nature.

Another immediate impulse in labor circles was to quit the War Labor Board. The cooler heads thought that was the least likely development, although the act itself raised a question whether the labor members of the WLB could participate in certain cases. The bill disbars members from participating in any decision "in which such member has a direct interest as an officer, employee, or representative of either party to the dispute."

This might create a situation where A. F. of L. members could participate only where a C. I. O. union was involved, and vice versa. However, the board may interpret it to mean that a board member who also is a member of the Electrical Workers' Union, for instance, could not participate in

JUN 27 1943

JUN 27 1943